Mr. McQueen A few days ago the Editor of THE TRIand Mr. Robinson, and was sworn in before Hanington gave notice of motion that be Government lay before the House of Judge Allen. the Government lay before the House ac Co., and while there Mr. Emery, of the counts of all monies paid for travelling and other expenses of members of the Executive from November 1st, 1870, to this date. Gillespie moved that all papers in con-nection with River du Loup Railway be laid before the House from 1st Nov, 1870, to date. the Prince of Wales during his visit to the to date. Upper Provinces ! The hard birch Willis commenced his want of confidence speech twenty minutes past twelve. He said he aided the Government when the said he aided the Government when cutting off saw, where it was cut into they had in hand the School Bill last ses-lengths, then passed to another circular they had in hand the School Bin has see sion, and gave them his cordial support. But when that bill had become law and become firmly secured, he thought that where they received a smooth surface and where they received a smooth surface and where they received a smooth surface and when the Government lost the confidence of the country on other grounds he could intended for the posts, rollers, bannisters, not forther give them his support. etc., were then taken to the lathes and not firther give them his support. Though the Opposition did not oppose the passage of the address, it was not an evidence of weakness, but according to the usage of the Imperial and Dominion evidence of the imperial and Dominion bench where they were "dowelled" and Parliaments. He said that he would assail the Gov-ernment for their dilatoriness in enforcing whole time actually occupied in work on the School Law; that from May to November of last year nothing was done; and when the Province was districted it was done in such a negligeut manner that it has given different hands and six separate machines; such a negligent manner that it has given rise to general complaints; that in St. John the arrangements have been so bad that though the Trustees have worked day and though the Trustees have worked have night everything relating to school busi-tinct pieces of wood were turned or ma night everything retaining to the state. In every chined for it ; ketches were put on and a other Town in the Province the same state quantity of glue placed in each hole,-and the bedstead disposed of in what was equal of affairs exist. of affairs exist. The Government only discovered late in the season that the then Superintendent of Schools was unable to work out the law and had to go abroad to secure one, but he the manner before described with the rough would give him the credit of being a most material; the pine block, say 15 inches efficient officer. Even though they had to go out of the dountry for a man he thought it a hard-hin thet energing of this Province had ship that operatives of this Province had the work taken from them and all the wood seat chairs, was obtained in the printing and books for the use of schools twinkling of an eye. It was then taken to had to be procured from Nova Scotia when the jig saw, where it received shape, and several printing establishments in St. was then passed along to the Variety John could easily have supplied all the Moulder, where it received its neat size and books that were wanted. had its edges rounded :- thence it was books that were wanted. He accused the members of the Govern-ment of taking no interest in enforcing the School law, and said the districts in the Province are now in total ignorance of the requirements of the law; and if the Govern-is in going on fruitless delegations, it would have been better for the Province. He charged them with inefficiency in the the matter of Better Terms; that last Session, in pursuance of the action of the Legisla-ture, delegates were appointed to confer with the Dominion Ministers and try to get better terms for New Brunswick, and that instead of the Province depending on the Provincial Secretary, they had to secure the aid of a non-official member.
