Botha's Men Are Good Runners!

Boers Keep Well Ahead of Their Pursuers.

Gronje's Successor Knew When to Skedaddle—Boer Transport Train Reaches Kroonstad—Considerable Rear Guard Fighting—Col. Otter Slightly Wounded—Gen. French at Thabanchu—Gen. Hunter's Division Sent to Kimberley.

London, Saturday, April 28—4:35 a.m. In Commandant-General Louis Botha the Boers appear to have found a capable successor to Joubert. As the result of his insight and quick decision it may be assumed now that the retreating commandos have gotten safely away with the transport. It is true that Lord Roberts' dispatch leaves much unsaid as to the whereabouts of other forces than those of Gen. French and Gen. Rundle. Nothing is said about the troops of Gens. Brabant, Fole-Carew, Hart and Chermide, but the indications from Allwal North show that several small commandos are still hovering in the vicinity of Springfield, causing a certain amount of danger, and the advice from Dewetsdorp, outlining the duties of Gen. Chermide, justify the conclusion that it will still be necessary to employ considerable body of troops to keep the Free State free of Boers.

SHOWING THEIR BACKS.
The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Daily Telegraph under Thursday's date, says: "The Boers who retreated from Dewetsdorp keep well ahead of Gen. French's cavalry. Unless the enemy should make a stand at Kroonstad, Lord Roberts will rapidly cross the Vaal River."

The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Daily Chronicle, telegraphing Thursday, says: "The latest reports show that the Boers passed east of Thabanchu when going north. A prisoner reports that a commando which doubled back on the pursuing British, is now making its way west in the direction of Leeuw Kop."

KNOW WHEN TO RUN.
The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Times, telegraphing Thursday, says: "There appears to be little chance of inflicting effective punishment on the retreating Boers. Commandant Gen. Louis Botha, who arrived at Dewetsdorp Monday, realized the situation at once, and ordered the immediate withdrawal of the Boers, both from there and from Vepener."

From Roberts.

FRENCH AT THABANCHU.
London, April 27—11:12 p.m.—The war office has issued the following from Lord Roberts, dated Bloemfontein, April 27:
"Gen. French reached Thabanchu this morning with cavalry. He met Gen. Ian Hamilton and Gen. Smith-Dorrien's brigade there.
"The enemy were still holding the eastern outlet of the town, wherefrom Gen. French and Gen. Hamilton were proceeding to turn their out. The enemy's division was eight miles south of Thabanchu last evening."

CASUALTIES.
"Additional casualties thus far are reported: Ian Hamilton's Mounted Infantry—Lieut. Barry and Hill, wounded, both of Marshall's Horse, the former severely, the latter slightly.
"A patrol from Bethulia came across a body of the enemy on Smithfield road, April 25. Private King of the Prince Alfred Guards, was killed, and two of the Royal Scots Service Corps were taken prisoners.
"The Yeomanry cavalry, under Gen. Brabant, after reconnoitering as far as Vepener, returned to Dewetsdorp this morning."

London, April 28.—The significance of Gen. Hunter's division going to Kimberley, where mounted troops are also arriving daily, is now said to be a serious attempt to deal with the strong Boer forces on the Vaal River, now threatening to retake Barkly and then an endeavor to relieve Mafeking. It will be borne in mind that Gen. Hunter paid a hurried visit to Lord Roberts at Bloemfontein.

A temporary railway bridge has just been completed at Bethulia, where hitherto railway trucks had been transferred over the wagon bridge. This will greatly facilitate getting stores up to Bloemfontein.

BOERS REACHED KROONSTAD.
Other Bloemfontein dispatches throw interesting points of light upon the situation. One special says: "Seven hundred and fifty wagons of Boer transport train have reached Kroonstad from the south. Only light wagons have been left behind. The Boers have organized a specially mounted corps for foraging and other work requiring special mobility."

Another dispatch says that before the Boers were driven from Dewetsdorp about 1,000 of them had been slowly retreating towards Ladybrand, where large supplies are stored and immense corn fields are ready for harvesting.

It is reported at Allwal North that there are 300 Boers at Bosman's Kop, in the Smithfield district, 100 at Smithfield, 400 with two guns and a Maxim at Gryn's Kop, and 200 with two guns at Kletter Drift, Caledon River.

REAR GUARD FIGHTING.
The Daily Chronicle has the following from Vaal Bank, dated Wednesday, April 25: "For two days the Boers have been fighting a series of rear guard actions. Crossing the Mudders here, and hotly pursued by Gen. Alderson, they got into the kopjes southeast of the crossing and narrowly missed being captured by Gen. Rundle, who was coming from that direction, but on sighting his advance they turned eastward and slipped away between Gen. Alderson and Gen. Rundle."

A prisoner, just captured, asserts that President Steyn was present during Monday's fighting at Slangfontein, east of Leeuw Kop. He had shaved his beard, so that he was not easily recognizable.

PROSPECT FOR A GENERAL ADVANCE.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Morning Post, telegraphing Thursday, says: "Most satisfactory progress has been made in the accumulation of stores during the present week, supply park now presenting a respectable appearance. The prospect of a general advance are more favorable."

The Canadians.

WIN NEW HONORS.
The Montreal Star has a special cable from Richmond Smith, its correspondent with the first Canadian contingent, stating that in the engagement at Israel's Poort on Thursday, in which the Canadians again covered themselves with glory, Col. Otter was slightly wounded. The other casualties were practically nil. The correspondent says: "I regret to have to state that Lieut. Col. W. D. Otter, the commandant of the Royal Canadian Regiment, was wounded in the engagement yesterday (Thursday), when the Boers were driven out of their position here. The fight was a smart one while Col. Otter and Gen. Ian Hamilton's division, including part of the Canadian Mounted Rifles and the whole of the Royal Canadian Regiment, accomplished the task set it with complete success. The Canadians again won the heartiest encomiums from the commanding general for their plucky conduct under fire. Our casualties among the rank and file were practically nil. Col. Otter's wound is not serious, and no evil effects are anticipated."

CANADIANS DID WELL.
London, April 27.—A dispatch from Lord Roberts, dated Bloemfontein, April 27, gives Gen. Ian Hamilton's report of the British casualties at Israel's Poort, April 25. Gen. Hamilton reports that the Canadians and Marshall's Horse did particularly good service.
All the dispatches in the London papers credit the Canadians with doing particularly well in the action at Israel's Poort on Wednesday.

London, April 28.—The Lady Smith correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "The Boers are preparing to spend the winter in Natal. They are bringing their stock from the high veldt into Natal for winter grazing, and they are demanding that the Kaffirs pay the hut tax to them instead of the Natal government. They also declare that unless the Kaffirs work for them they (the Kaffirs) must remove south of Sunday's River."

The Lady Smith correspondent of the Standard says: "The strength of the Boers in the Biggarsberg district is believed to be between 5,000 and 8,000. They are commanded by Gen. Lucas Meyer, and are well supplied with artillery."

A BLOODTHIRSTY QUEEN.
Lorenzo Marquez, April 28.—Swazi runners report that the recent visit to the Queen of Swaziland by Sir Ivis Ashmead-Bartlett has not checked the killing. The Swazi queen has placed the former king's brother on the throne, a boy of 13. She argues that as she will have to answer for the death of Sebugau, she may as well continue killing, and she has given the chiefs permission to kill whom they please through the whole of Swaziland.

The commandos ordered to the front are obeying reluctantly. One burgher who has escaped injury in a number of battles admits that the Boers have fired on the Red Cross frequently. The sending of Gen. Cronje to St. Helena has greatly enraged the Boers, who are said to be more than ever determined to fight to the death.

CHARGED WITH HIGH TREASON.
The Pretoria correspondent of the Daily News says: "On Monday Gen. Prinsloo, late commandant of Bloemfontein, was sentenced to life imprisonment, with hard labor, for high treason. Erasmus de Klerk was sentenced to two years' imprisonment, with hard labor, for guiding the British from Petrusburg to Bloemfontein."

WORKMEN SUSPECTED.
The Lorenzo Marquez correspondent of the Times says: "The Beggie four years ago was under the direct management of representatives of the Creusot firm, and many of the workmen had been trained at Le Creusot. Nothing is yet publicly known as to the cause of the explosion, but it is significant that it was predicted. About twenty of the workmen have been arrested, and the others have been prohibited from leaving the country."

KILLING HOME AGAIN.
London, April 28.—The steamer Tantalion, Capt. Wm. H. Richards, Kip-Hing and Sir John Devillers, chief justice of Cape Colony, has arrived at Southampton from Cape Town.

The Daily Express says: "We learn that the sudden return of Mr. Cecil Rhodes to the Cape was due to his receipt of news of a great find of copper in Northern Rhodesia."

GOLDWIN SMITH ON THE WAR.
Dr. Goldwin Smith, interviewed by the New York Herald, gives his opinion that the time will come when there will be as few defenders of the present war in Britain as there are now of the Crimean war of 1854-55. He says: "Excitement is increased by the near sight of the fighting through the electric telegraph. There are masses of the population to whom this is simply a new kind of gin. The Tory party, of course, is for war, the connection of which with political reaction it cannot fail to see. So are the Europeanized Americans. So is the political state church. To know the real judgment of the nation we must wait for a calmer hour. I am told on exceptionally good authority that there is not a little silent opposition, and some of it in unexpected quarters." While thus taking his stand against the war, Dr. Smith gives credit to the British generals and soldiers, saying: "The generals were distinguished men. The British soldier has shown his wonted vigor; Canadian and Australian have fought gallantly at his side. Our military administration seems to have really done well, and put in the field with striking rapidity an unexpected amount of force. But, besides the difficulties of the country, we have encountered in our enemy a moral force on which we did not reckon, and which escaped the discernment of Cecil Rhodes."

BUGLE BLASTS.
The German government has, says a Berlin dispatch, formally demanded satisfaction for a number of outrages lately committed at Melbourne upon residents supposed to be friendly to the Boers.

A Dewetsdorp dispatch, dated Thursday, says: Gen. French's and Gen. Rundle's forces left today, going in different directions. The Boers remain to search for arms and to restore order. A dispatch from Kimberley says energetic fever is so rampant there that the city officials are urging the military authorities to remove the camps from the town and discontinue the use of public buildings as hospitals, with the view of better safeguarding public health.

All advices indicate that the United States consul, Mr. Adelbert Hay, has won a diplomatic success. He is pursuing an impartial, determined policy, and has succeeded in gradually ameliorating the condition of the British prisoners at Pretoria, including the colonials.

THE GOSSIP OF OLD LONDON

St. Patrick to Have a Place in the Prayer-Book.

Agitation for the Right of Hibernians to Wear the Kilt—Lord Roberts' Sympathetic Nature—The Rev. Dr. Parker Follows in Sheldon's Steps.

[Special Cable Letter to The Advertiser.]

London, April 28.—Through the Queen has returned to England and her visit to Ireland is now a matter of history, the latest fad, which began by the universal wearing of the shamrock, shows no abatement. The Lower House of the York Convocation, composed of clergy and laymen of the Church of England's northern diocese, has adopted resolutions to put St. Patrick upon the pages of the prayerbook, from which he was unaccountably missing. St. Andrew is there, but Erin's patron saint was omitted when the reformers re-edited the Liturgy.

KILTS FOR IRISHMEN.
Another feature is the agitation in England over Irishmen's right to wear kilts. From this question, Hon. William Gibson, son of Baron Ashbourne, lord chancellor of Ireland, has been lecturing to large audiences in London, denouncing the Government's general association with Scotchmen. He makes an impassioned plea for the divine right of Hibernians to wear kilts. Mr. Gibson is a learned man, who resides in England. In consonance with the plan, which had not a ghost of a chance of succeeding five years ago may now become a successful and popular medium.

NORTH WATERLOO BRIBERY CHARGES.
Berlin, Ont., April 27.—The North Waterloo bribery trial, commenced here this afternoon. Justices Rose and McMahon on the bench. After the provincial election in North Waterloo in 1898, John R. Eden and J. Esseler, of Berlin; J. M. Scully, of Waterloo, and Dr. Roberts, of New Germany, were reported for bribery and corrupt practices. Their lordships dismissed the charges against Esseler, and reserved their decision in the case of Roberts and Michael Schell.

A Toronto Merchant Bears Important News to His Fellow Citizens.
Toronto, April 28.—Here is a letter we hope every one of our readers will peruse. "I am 39 years old. Have been troubled for four years with what I thought was rheumatism—stiffness in the muscles of my legs, later in the arms. Soon the stiffness changed to soreness. Went to Hot Springs, and came back a little better. Was a moderate drinker, but quit liquor altogether, and carefully regulated my diet. One day I got wet, and then the trouble was worse than ever. Had to lay off for three weeks. Have had similar attacks at intervals ever since, each one worse than its predecessor. Had headache, pain in the small of my back, urine dark, scanty and scalding. Began using Dr. Arnold's English Tonic Pills a short time ago, and am already wonderfully improved. Feel confident they will cure me, and I shall give them the chance and report. I have not felt so well for years as I have since I began using your pills."

GEN. ROBERTS' KINDNESS.
According to the stories reaching London, Lord Roberts' great kindness and sympathy have been finding many outlets. During the wait at Bloemfontein he has visited every man in the hospital, carrying with him many little comforts. Going up to one of the wounded, he asked cheerily: "Can I do anything for you?" receiving the reply, "Yes, I'd like you to keep my name out of the casualty list." This man's name did not appear, and his anxiety that his relatives should not be alarmed was appeased.

Another, a dying officer, Lord Roberts comforted by promising to watch over the future of his only child. With such incidents current, it is scarcely surprising that the nation adores its little general, and, as a whole, abstains from the casual killing of any dog. If Gen. Buller had water inactivated, as Lord Roberts has at Bloem-

Too Little Blood

That is what makes men and women look pale, sallow and languid. That is what makes them drag along, always tired, never hungry, unable to digest their food, breathless and palpitating at the heart after slight exertion, so that it is a trouble to go up stairs. They are "Anæmic," doctors tell them; and that is Greek for having "too little blood." Are you like that? Are your gums pale instead of being scarlet? Pull down your eyelid—Is the lining of it blood-shot and pale? That is where "too little blood" shows.

More anæmic and weak people have been made strong, energetic, cheerful men and women by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People than by any other means. They are the finest Tonic in the world; they have cured more people than any other medicine, but you must get the genuine—substitutes are worse than useless, they are dangerous.

In package like this—Always printed RED.

If your dealer does not keep them, send the price, 50 cents a box or $2.50 for six boxes, to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, and get the genuine by return mail.

David R. McKay, the well-known baker, of Stellarton, N. S., writes—"I cannot say too much in praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was very badly run down; could not work and could not sleep at night. My appetite was poor and I was losing flesh. I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and was surprised at the rapidity with which they built me up. In a few weeks my weight increased from 130 to 149 pounds. My appetite returned, I could sleep well, and could do my work without feeling tired."

The Greatest Labor-Saving Device of the 19th Century. "PERFECTION"

"I always dread the ironing days."
"A tired woman said."
"And if I don't soon get relief I'm sure that I'll be dead."

Two little girls were puzzled one day To know what they would do To iron Dolly's dresses out, So that they'd look like new.

Mamma, however, surprised them; She'd been the day before And bought a "Perfection" Gas Iron And brought it from the store.

The little "Tots" were delighted; "It's just the thing," said they; "It's not a bit of trouble To iron with it all day."

No more sweltering over stoves; The old way's a thing of the past. So simple a child can use it— Relief has come at last.

How It Gives More Speed

When you ride a narrow-tread Stearns Roadster you get an almost perpendicular pressure on the pedals. That gives you the greatest possible results for the effort put forth.

The greater the effective pedal-pressure, the greater the speed. Prove it on a Stearns A. or C.

Price, $50. Locally guaranteed.

Felt Washers That Protect

In ordinary types of bearings, the felt washers for "dust protection" (?) are between moving parts, and actually catch more grit and grind it into the bearing than would get into "unprotected" bearings.

In the E. & D. the only entrance for dust is at the axle of four-point bearings. The felt washer does not move. It is protected by a shield on the outside. Inside there is another shield against the washer. To reach the bearings the dust has to pass diagonally through 1/4 inch of felt. It cannot.

E. & D. four-point bearings are oiled once a season. When the season is over the bearings are unworn. The oil is still clear.

Ride the locally guaranteed E. & D.

It was decided to adjourn the meeting until next Wednesday night at eight o'clock, when other teams are asked to have representatives present.

SUNDAY BALL—PLAYERS ACQUITTED.

Elmira, N. Y., April 27.—The eighteen baseball players, members of the Elmira Atlantic League and Binghamton State League teams, who were arrested last Sunday at the conclusion of the first inning of an exhibition game on the charge of violating the state law by playing Sunday baseball, were tried and acquitted today. This was a test case. The jury was out only three minutes.

OFFICERS OF THE FOREST CLUB.

The annual meeting of those interested in baseball was held at Forest in the Franklin House, the other evening, with a good attendance of players present. Mayor Morris occupied the chair, and other guests were elected as follows: Honorary president, W. C. Boddy; honorary vice-president, M. A. Smith; chaplain, Rev. James Barber; president, W. Dangers From the Cold and Blustery Spring.

[From New York Herald.]

"The present fall of temperature over a large area of country, and the probability of its continuance for some time, is very likely to affect the public health by the increase of all such troubles as commence with the 'ordinary cold.' In this connection we cannot lose sight of the fact that grip is still prevailing, and although it has been on the wane there is a threat in the present cold wave of a revival of the former malignancy of the scourge.

We can hardly congratulate ourselves that the danger from pneumonia is likely to be less with the incoming and inclement spring than it was in the months gone by. It goes without saying, then, that we cannot take too many precautions."

Dr. Humphreys' Specific "Seventy-seven" ("77") restores the checked circulation (indicated by a sudden chill), the first sign of taking Cold; starts the blood coursing through the veins and so "breaks up" the Cold. Manual of all diseases, especially about children, sent free.

Sings the poet. But Spring brings in its train other and less desirable things than the beauties of nature. One of these is an impaired condition of the blood and digestive organs. The best remedy for this condition is judicious dieting, and for this purpose there are no foods in the world equal to our Granose and Granola. They give health, strength and stamina to the body and make pure, rich blood. It is the duty of every person to try these foods and note the consequent improvement in health. A well-known Michigan physician writes:

To whom it may concern,—This is to certify that I have had experience both personal and in my professional practice with the food preparations manufactured by the Battle Creek Sanitarium Health Food Co. I know them to be thoroughly good goods, and can especially recommend their Granose and Granola as being very fine, palatable, and health-giving products.

Buy Your Piano Direct From the Manufacturer

It needs no argument to show that the closer the consumer gets to the manufacturer the more favorable will be the price to him.

Every effort in the present day, more than at any other time, is to get away from the middle-man's profit and let the consumer have the advantage of buying at first hand.

This is your advantage in buying a Heintzman & Co. Piano. You go direct to the manufacturer and deal direct with him.

No other argument is necessary unless it is the important supplementary fact that when you buy a Heintzman & Co. Piano you get the finest in piano making in Canada. To quote the words of Albani: "The Heintzman & Co. Piano excels any Piano I have ever used."

The Transvaal Up to Date.

The famous Mr. Dooley, discussing the position of President Kruger, says with regard to the franchise question that if he had been in Oom Paul's place, fighting for his political life, he would have given them the votes, but would have kept the country to himself. This remark, with its suggestion of ballot-stuffing and other election tricks, is quite American in its tone. It is meant as a comic comment upon the great controversy out of which there has since come so much toll and bloodshed; but when we turn from this statement to the facts of the case, we find that Mr. Kruger had nothing to learn in the way of trickery, even from the most unscrupulous of American politicians. There seems to have been nothing in the way of cunning that the Boer leader did not know; but he certainly did not know how to treat men who were, most of them, men of honor, notwithstanding the fact that they had been driven into an unsuccessful rebellion; men who laid down their arms on the understanding that there was to be a new start, a policy of "forgive and forget." Men who were tricked into pleading guilty upon what they were given to believe was a mere formal charge, and were then sentenced to death, and had to pay dearly for their lives. These men may surely be excused if they regard Kruger, Leyds & Co. as a set of unscrupulous scoundrels, who are unfit to have any power over decent men.

Indeed, the Transvaal Government seems to have combined the methods of the old despots with the lowest tricks of democracy. Mr. Fitzpatrick states that at the presidential election of 1893, the result was: Kruger, 7,881; Joubert, 7,006. "Objections were lodged by Gen. Joubert, but deprived of the services of Mr. Eselen in the First Raad, and overruled by the fierce determination of his opponent, the general, finding himself in for a struggle, lost heart, as usual, and collapsed." This is in harmony with what Mr. Fitzpatrick and others say as to the character of the two men. "Mr. Joubert, 'Slim (sly) Piet,' as he is called, possessing a considerable share of the real Afrikaner cunning, is yet no match for his rival in diplomacy, and has none of this grit and courage." In spite of the figures given above, Mr. Fitzpatrick maintains that Mr. Kruger was not elected.

There were two stages in the election, one at the polls, and another in the Volksraad, where objections may be made, and a committee of investigation appointed. At the first stage "dead and absent men rolled up freely to vote for the Krugerite candidate." This was the kind of thing that obtained in the first stage. Then as to the second, we are told that "three properly elected members of the Volksraad were 'jockeyed' out of their seats because they were known to have leanings towards Gen. Joubert."

This, be it understood, was the performance of the Boers among themselves. There were no European capitalists or outcast Englishmen in the business. Whatever else it shows, one thing is clear, that is, that if the Transvaal did not possess the free life of a real republic, it had all the tricks of the basest politics.

The Good and Bad Books.

Mr. Augustine Birrell recently gave a clever address in the city of Edinburgh on the question, "Is it possible to tell a good book from a bad one?" This seems to be an easy question, but it turns out to be not so easy as it seems. No doubt there are books which can offend by pronounced very good or very bad; but we are warned by the mistakes of those that have gone before that this judging of books is a ticklish business. And yet it is more important than ever, as there are so many books rushed from the press, while the vigor of advertising is unabated. This is a subject upon which there is a great temptation to say smart, cynical, cutting things. The lecturer, who is himself a critic of some repute, tells us that he is not going to try very hard to be witty. There was once the time, he confesses, when he had strong ambitions in that direction, but the wear and tear of life in the House of Commons and elsewhere has weakened that craving.

However, the essay contains many witty things, and such things are all the better when they have something of a spontaneous character. Not the least of these is the lecturer's apology for platform wit. He thinks the desire to say funny things and provoke a laugh springs from the pity which is akin to love. According to Mr. Birrell, of speakers there are a few who teach, a few who rouse and inspire, but the great body of speakers bore the people; and there comes in the kindness of the man who by witty remarks at least keeps them awake. We do not think that Mr. Birrell would be capable of boring an audience, but the question is, what does he teach us on this great question of judging books in this, our bookish age? He says many smart things, and is very cutting at the expense of the "shilling shockers," which debase the public taste, and enrich the conscienceless writer, but we can see that there is no royal road to the acquiring of a correct literary taste. We must make ourselves familiar with the great masterpieces of literature, which have stood the test of time, and belong now to the common heritage of humanity. Though a man may not be able to read Greek, Latin or Italian, he can today be familiar with some of the great classics. These come to him in his mother tongue, with much of their original power. The only way to learn to despise and discard the bad is to learn to appreciate the good. This is no swift or royal road. It is the old, common way. Along this way the noblest souls travel as they learn to appreciate and love the noblest works of their fellow-men.

Broadly speaking, it may be easy to tell a useful, inspiring book from one that is weak, pretentious or hurtful; it is much more difficult to recognize the permanent elements of nobleness and mark the book which is likely to live long beyond the present hour. There is great danger in this rushing age of being too much taken up with the temporary, the mere babble of the moment, the rumor and gossip of the day. If the life of the nation is to be sound as well as civilized, there must be a love of good literature, for in good literature the highest life is reflected, and interpreted, and it is a great comfort to know that our young people have within easy reach much that is noblest in thought and beautiful in expression in the past life of the world, so that in this sense they may be "the heirs of all the ages in the foremost files of time."

United States Immigration.

The New York World says: "The arrival of the Ivernia with over seven hundred immigrants would be an epoch-making event in any other country. Here it is merely an incident. All Finland is coming over as soon as it can secure passage. There is no abatement in the immigration from Italy or from Russian Poland, and the news from the Pacific coast is that the Japanese are coming over in shiploads, a thousand at a time. The invasion of New England by the French-Canadians and by the Portuguese is an old story. So large an admixture from such widely-separated nations and races will add to the composite character of our future population, but this country long ago demonstrated its capacity for the absorption of the increase by immigration. Fifty years ago, when our population was only 23,191,000, we received in the five years from 1849 to 1854 inclusive, an accession of 2,214,000 immigrants. In the five years from 1880 to 1884 inclusive, the immigrants numbered just 8,000,000, our population then being 60,000,000. The immigration for the four fiscal years ending with last July was only a trifle over a million and a quarter; for the first eight months of the present year the figures are 255,495. If the spring rush should bring the total up to 2,000,000 it would still give us a smaller total for the five years than during the previous periods of greatest immigration of twenty and fifty years ago."

The United States is thus swiftly augmenting its vast population, so swiftly that many of its citizens are crossing over into Canada to get more elbow room and better available land. It means that food consumption, especially of wheat, is in the United States overtaking food production. It means that Canada's food-producing acres are likely to grow not less but more valuable as the years pass.

BENNET BURLEIGH

Talks About Dissatisfaction and Discipline—Kitchener the Mystery Man—Fighting Mac.

[Correspondence Associated Press.]
London, April 28.—Mr. Bennett Burleigh, writing to the Daily Telegraph, records the intense dissatisfaction caused among certain sections of officers by Lord Roberts' considerate treatment of their late foes in the Free State.
Mentioning the strict discipline imposed upon the British force, Mr. Burleigh says: "A Canadian appropriated a chicken from a farmyard. I know thousands of officers and others who have done the same thing and nothing has been said of it. The poor Canadian came before a court-martial and was sentenced to 60 days' hard labor for his offense. It makes the stomachs of many ordinary reputable soldiers holding her majesty's commissions turn to think they have escaped censure, and have just escaped 'plucked' chickens. I am told the Canadian colonel, in addressing his men, found no complaint with the sentence, which somebody once said might have been hanging."

Mr. Burleigh adds this reference to Lord Kitchener: "The great mystery man of this war game is undoubtedly Lord Kitchener of Khartoum. His energy, ubiquity and genius are beyond doubt. But where is he? I wish I knew, for where he is there is matter to write about worthy of public attention."

Stories of "Fighting Mac" are always eagerly read in England, and Mr. Burleigh's latest anecdote of the well-known Scotch general is as follows: "One of the incidents that have reached me of the Paardeberg fight is that Major-General Macdonald and his brigade were sent to the front to make reconnaissance, got away from the showers of Boer bullets fired at very short range. The general received his wound through the ankle and foot some time after, when in a relatively safe position, as he dismounted from his horse. That day Capt. Wigham had three horses shot, and had he not dismounted, the shell which killed one must surely have finished him. Gen. Macdonald had his wound dressed in the hospital, and followed his brigade, though he had to do so wheeled in a low dog-cart. He has all but recovered now, and has resumed active command."

"When the Essex, Buffs and Welsh were pressing the Boers, including the Johannesburg police contingent, at Driefontein, the usual white flag trick was played by the enemy. Despite repeated injunctions to the contrary, several of our officers and men stood up, and were instantly saluted by a storm of Mauser bullets. An officer and two or three privates were hit, but a big fellow in the Buffs sprang forward over the twenty yards or so that separated him from the enemy and bayoneted the man who had held up the white flag, driving the steel through the Boer's throat and killing him on the spot."

SUBSTANTIAL SYMPATHY

For Sufferers by the Great Conflagration.

Corporation and Individuals Contribute Liberally—Messages From the Queen and Colonial Secretary Chamberlain.

Ottawa, April 27.—The fire is completely burned out and all efforts are now directed to relieving the distressed.

Among those who have subscribed so far are the following: Dominion Government, for immediate use, $10,000; city of Ottawa, for immediate use, $10,000; Ontario Government, $25,000; Bank of Montreal, $10,000; Hon. Geo. A. Drummond, Montreal, $1,000; Ottawa board of trade, $500; Bank of Ottawa, $5,000; his excellency the governor-general, $1,000; Hon. Wm. Muloch, $500; citizen fund, $1,500; Journal fund, $1,000; Sir Wilfrid Laurier, $100; Hon. R. W. Scott, $100; George H. Perry, $500. The Dominion has also promised $30,000, which makes $156,000, and contributions are coming in from all quarters.

At a mass meeting of citizens it was decided to instruct the city council to ask the Ontario Legislature for leave to borrow $100,000 by issuing debentures to aid sufferers from the fire in Ottawa and Hull.

AGGREGATE LOSSES.
It is quite impossible at this stage to form any accurate estimate of the money loss by the fire. It is variously estimated to be from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000.

The approximate losses are: E. B. Eddy Company, $2,000,000; McKay Milling Company, $350,000; Hull Lumber Company, $750,000; J. R. Booth, $2,000,000; Bronson's Lumber Company and allied companies, $750,000; Dominion Carbide Company, $100,000; J. Oliver & Sons Company, $150,000; Chaudiere Machine and Foundry Company, $75,000; Baldwin Machine and Foundry Company, $100,000; C. P. R. freight sheds and station, $100,000; Victoria Brewery, $50,000; Ottawa Brewer, $35,000; $7,500,000.

INSURANCE LOSSES.
Insurance aggregating about $2,000,000 is carried by five or six leading agents in Ottawa in the big concerns that were wiped out. Mr. Robert Stewart carries about $250,000, divided among the Canadian National and National companies. W. H. Black carries upward of $450,000, including $200,000 in the Guardian, $60,000 in the London and $200,000 in the Royal. Pennock & Masson, in the Atlas, Hartford, Scottish Union and Canadian, stand to lose $250,000. C. A. Douglas has $200,000 divided almost equally between the London and Lancashire and the Queen companies. Culbert & Sons have over $250,000 of insurance in the Phoenix of Hartford, Phoenix of Brooklyn, Norwich Union, British American and Lancashire. Defar & Bethune carry $225,000 in the Manchester, Law Union and Crown, American and Connecticut. The Canadian Insurance Company of Montreal, losses $175,000. Manager A. B. Powell, of the Ottawa Insurance Company, states that their loss will be about $15,000. The Ottawa Electric Company's loss is computed at $200,000, and of the street railway company $150,000.

Toronto, April 27.—So far as can be learned the losses of the home companies with head offices here, and the foreign companies, whose chief Canadian offices are in Toronto, in the great Hull-Ottawa fire, are: Western, $150,000; British American, $110,000; Lancashire, $150,000; Manchester, $100,000; London and Lancashire, $110,000; Norwich Union, $100,000; Mercantile, $20,000; Sun of London, $57,000. This totals up to $787,000 as an estimate at present, but the managers of all the companies say the figures are liable to correction. Some of the companies which have head offices in Montreal will lose much more heavily. The North British and Mercantile had $400,000 of insurance in the burned district, but this was reduced by reinsurance to $220,000.

MESSAGES OF SYMPATHY.
Ottawa, April 28.—The governor-general has received the following telegram from the secretary of state for the colonies:

"To His Excellency the Governor-General:
General:
I have received with the deepest concern your message reporting the disastrous fire at Ottawa. I am sure the people of the Empire will be glad to have an opportunity of contributing to the relief of the misery and devastation caused to their fellow-subjects in Canada by the

PIMPLES CURED BY CUTICURA SOAP

The most effective skin purifying and beautifying soap in the world, as well as purest and sweetest for toilet, bath, and nursery. It is the only preventive of pimples, blackheads, red, rough, and oily skin, red, rough hands with shapeless nails, dry, thin, and falling hair, and simple blemishes. It is so because it strikes at the cause of most complexional disfigurements, viz., THE CLOGGED, IRRITATED, INFLAMED, OVERWORKED, OR SLUGGISH PORE.

My face was covered with a pimply, raw, itchy skin. After using CUTICURA SOAP for six weeks my skin made a remarkable change, all the pimples went away, my skin getting as soft as velvet.

H. CHROME, 223 Monroe St., Chicago, Ill.
I was troubled with pimples, especially on the chin and forehead. I tried several home remedies, but they proved to be of no value. I decided to use CUTICURA SOAP, and in six weeks I was entirely rid of them.

HENRY P. DAHLKE, 6111 So. Paulina St., Chicago, Ill.

My face was covered with pimples and blackheads. Some were bearded, and others would be full of white matter. The blackheads would be all over my face. I spent about ten dollars for soaps, medicines, etc., but they never did me any good. I tried CUTICURA SOAP, and in only three weeks I cured my face.

calamities, and I propose to ask the lord mayor to open a fund for this purpose.

(Signed), CHAMBERLAIN.
"To His Excellency the Governor-General," London, April 27, 1900.

General:
"Her Majesty has heard with deep regret of the great fire at Ottawa, and has commended me to desire you to convey to the sufferers and to the people in Canada an expression of heartfelt sympathy in the calamity which has befallen them. She trusts that there has been no loss of life, and would be glad to have any further particulars you can furnish."

(Signed), CHAMBERLAIN.
Mayor Maybury, of Detroit, telegraphed the mayor of Ottawa, extending sympathy, and asking whether the people of Detroit can be of assistance in aiding the homeless and destitute.

Montreal city council met to discuss what step the city should take to assist the sufferers from the Hull-Ottawa fire. As the city charter forbids all grants for such objects, the council was precluded from taking any action, but the finance committee was instructed to consider what steps might be taken. A sympathetic resolution was passed, and the mayor was authorized to call a public meeting of citizens to establish a relief fund.

The Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific trains, which left for Ottawa, carried several carloads of food and provisions for the sufferers. A subscription list was opened at Quebec, and in less than two hours over $1,500 was subscribed.

TORONTO IS LIBERAL.

At Toronto a relief committee, with Henry O'Brien, Q.C., as chairman, worked all afternoon until late at night, receiving and classifying citizens' donations of all kinds, which poured in rapidly. Mr. O'Brien left at night on the P. R. express in charge of supplies, which filled two cars. The largest donation was that of T. Eaton & Co., which, besides contributing $1,000 in cash, sent $1,000 worth of cutlery and crockery, 1,000 tins of condensed beef, 1,000 pounds of bread, two barrels each of tea and coffee, and many other articles of diet for 1,000 people. The gifts in cash to various funds last night amounted to about $12,000. Donors of $1,000 were Senator Corb, the Massey-Harris Company, the North American Life Insurance Company, Gooderham & Worts, and the Eaton Company. The city council and board of trade will take action at once.

"Prevention is the best medicine." You can prevent sickness and cure that tired feeling and all blood humors by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Fire in Philadelphia, in McCausland's paper mill factory, caused a loss of $250,000.

THERE is not a more dangerous class of disorders than those which affect the breathing organs. Nullify this danger with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—a pulmonary acknowledged efficacy. It cures soreness and lameness when applied externally, as well as swelled neck and crick in the back, and, as an inward specific, possesses most substantial results.

Two members of a theatrical troupe now playing in New Haven, Conn., were drowned in Lake Whitney Thursday morning. The victims are J. W. Cardownie, a Scottish dancer, and Vivian Clemes, one of the "Clerise Sisters," musical sketch artists. They were canoeing and the craft upset. Ethel Clemes was rescued.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Expeller is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

Latest Probabilities.

Toronto, April 28—10 a.m.—Weather probabilities for the next 24 hours in the lower lakes region: Light to moderate winds; fine and warm today and on Sunday.

LATE LOCAL ITEMS

—Warden Murray is in the city.

—M. C. R. Detective Heenan, of St. Thomas, is in the city.

—The water in the river continues to fall, and is now very low.

—Miss Aggie Casey, city, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. T. H. Gray, Stanley street, St. Thomas.

—The G. S. Petrol left Owen Sound for Lake Erie on Thursday, and will most likely be in Port Stanley on Sunday.

—A new timetable goes into effect on the M. C. R. tomorrow afternoon. No changes are made affecting the local lines.

—Rev. Morgan Wood concludes his ministry in Bond Street Congregational Church, Toronto, tomorrow, and begins his pastorate in the Plymouth Church, Cleveland, Ohio, the first Sunday in May.

—James Nixon, of Westminster township, has been summoned to appear before Squire Smyth, on Tuesday, to answer to a charge of keeping a vicious dog. The animal attacked James Chalmers.

—Hon. David Mills was seized with a fainting fit at his office in Ottawa yesterday, but was reported much better last night. A dispatch received this afternoon says Mr. Mills is in an improved condition.

—Mr. Frank Gibson, West London, formerly of the R. Green Manufacturing Company, left on Friday for Hamilton, where he has secured a position in the W. B. Sanford Manufacturing Company.

—In the case of Cullen vs. McGregor, which was referred to the local master from the assizes, the master has handed down judgment, finding that the plaintiff is entitled to receive from defendant the sum of $345.

—A typographical error in yesterday's issue, in referring to Mr. Falconer's reception last night, made it appear that invitations had been issued, whereas the sentence should have read: "No invitations have been issued."

—Arthur Harrison Milligan, died last night at the residence of his mother, Mrs. Annie Milligan, Beaufort street, London, West, in his 22nd year. The funeral will take place to Woodland Cemetery at 3 p.m. tomorrow. Rev. G. B. Sage will officiate.

—The local police have been notified to be on the lookout for a pair of bay horses and a top buggy which was stolen from Detroit. The thief is described as being 5 feet 8 inches in height, with a sandy mustache. A reward of $50 will be paid for the recovery of the property and the conviction of the thief.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Valentine, relief of the late Thomas Valentine, died of heart failure this morning at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Macdonald, Wharfedale road. She had reached the advanced age of 81 years, and was an old resident of the region where the interment takes place. The funeral will be private, the remains being taken to Ferguson by G. T. R. train at 8:10 a.m. Monday.

—Port Huron Times: Members of the Academy of Medicine here presented a fine, wheeled litter to the proprietors of St. John's Hospital. It has been a thing much needed in taking patients to and from the operating room, and was given by the members of the academy in recognition of the efficient manner in which Misses Whately and Sterns have labored to give a good hospital service.

—At the juvenile police court this morning in East. End youth was charged with throwing stones at a street car. The evidence was scarcely strong enough for conviction, and he was given the benefit of the doubt. Police Magistrate Love expressed himself strongly as being opposed to these acts, and threatened that all persons found guilty of stone-throwing would be severely dealt with by him.

—Mr. E. de la Hooke has received one of the invitations now being issued by the Lehigh Valley Railway to the leading ticket agents of America, to attend the annual complimentary excursion, which will be given on May 14, and will last until the 17th. The invitations are very neatly gotten up, showing the plan of the route, the places to be visited and the time they will have to spend in each place. The trip is from Buffalo to New York and returning, stopping off at all the principal places, keepers, meals and every accommodation are to be given by the company.

—Mr. Arthur Beal, son of C. J. Beal, Prospect avenue, who for several years was assistant secretary of Dundas Center Methodist Sunday school, left this morning for St. John, N.B., where he has secured a lucrative position with S. Arscott, of that city. Before leaving Mr. Beal was made the recipient of a handsome present by his fellow-officers in the Sunday school, accompanied by an address, expressing their regret at his departure, and wishing him every success in his new home. The employees of C. S. Hyman &amp; Co., in whose office he had been employed, also presented him with a tangible expression of their good will. Mr. Beal was very popular among his associates and will be much missed.

—HIGH COURT.

A sitting of the high court of justice was held this morning before Mr. Justice R. M. Meredith. The only case heard was that of Hodgins vs. Andrews, re Frances Hynes. A motion for the allowance of substitutional service. Judgment was reserved. Deliberation for motion; Esmer, contra. On Monday a further sitting of the court will be held at 10:30 before Chief Justice Meredith, when two more cases will be heard.

The Railways.

The traffic returns of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the week ended April 21, 1900, amounted to $575,000, as compared with $502,000 for the corresponding week of last year.

Grand Trunk Railway earnings, April 15 to 21, 1900, $424,839; same week in 1899, $382,148; increase in 1900, $42,691. Chicago and Grand Trunk earnings omitted.

Judge Lacombe, of the United States circuit court, has appointed Henry V. Gay of New York, receiver of the New York and Ottawa Railroad Company. The New York and Ottawa Railroad Company operates a railway extending from the upper lake in Franklin county to Alton, in the same county, to the shore of the St. Lawrence River, and in Canada extends from Ottawa to Cornwall. It is claimed that their operating expenses have exceeded their revenue, and that the railway and unsecured debt has accumulated, so that the railway cannot pay the debt due to complainant Alton T. Enos, of Englewood, N. J.

Doyle's Liniment.

The Greatest Known Remedy for the Relief and Cure of RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, BRUISES, HEMORRHOIDS, SWELLINGS, SORE THROAT, SORENESS OF THE CHEST OR BACK, or wherever a LINIMENT is required. It also cures the worst case of PILLS.

I met with an accident in the G. T. R. yards, and nearly broke my ankle. It was sprained so badly I had great difficulty in getting home. I got a bottle of Doyle's Liniment, and after thoroughly rubbing for about five days was able to resume my work. There is no other remedy on the market equal to it for sprains.

PAID UP. None but those who have become flustered and know what a depressed, miserable feeling it is. All strength has gone, and dependency has taken hold of the sufferers. They feel as though there was nothing to live for. There, however, is a cure—one box of Parnele's Vegetable Pills will do wonders in restoring health and strength. Mandrake and Dandelion are two of the articles entering into the composition of Parnele's Vegetable Pills.

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs, and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me. I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

A BUSY FACTORY.

Never Closes Its Doors, Day or Night.

The famous "white city," as the pure food factories of the Postum Cereal Co., Limited, of Battle Creek, Mich., are called, never shut down, day or night. The great ovens once heated up are kept going, as are the grinding mills, blending machines, mixing machines, and the entire plant, the day laborers, men and women, are replaced at six o'clock in the evening by a night force.

The name "white city" was given by the citizens of the location, owing to the color of the numerous factory buildings which are painted pure white, with very dark bronze green trimmings.

The utmost cleanliness is observed throughout, and the appetizing odors from the foods in preparation, permeate the air in all directions.

Their products, Grape-Nuts breakfast food and Postum Cereal Food Coffee, go all over the world to the breakfast tables of the well-to-do Japanese and Chinese, and to the high-caste Brahmins of India, to the Emperor of Germany, to royalty in Italy, to Great Britain, South America, and they are found in practically all of the best homes in America.

By scientific selection of the certain parts of grains which supply Phosphate of Potash and other important elements for quickly rebuilding the most delicate parts of the human body (brain and nerve centers), and making up therefrom a most delicious food, Grape-Nuts, and a breakfast food, drink Postum Cereal Coffee, this firm has become known as the foremost producers of Health Foods in the world, and their name affixed to a package of food is sufficient evidence of its purity and excellence.

A Talk About Feet and Shoes

In the course of a conversation this morning with Mr. F. A. Brown, of the BARGAIN SHOE STORE, 143 Dundas Street, the following remarks which he made struck us as being very much to the point and well worthy of careful consideration.

He said, "Many people have to give up taking beneficial exercise owing to the condition of their feet. A healthy condition of the feet is an essential to perfect general health. The beginning of a great deal of ill health and unhappiness can often be traced to the wearing of uncomfortable shoes. To obtain health and comfort, however, for the feet is by no means necessary to wear ugly shoes. The foot is a very important organ, and the feet are the basis of our health and our happiness. All my stock is new and made in accordance with special orders. Our Modish New York $4.50 shoes for men and $3.75 shoes for women are far superior to any such footwear I ever saw before in London at prices, yes, 25 per cent higher. Every day those shoes are securing for me permanent customers. Our men's 'working' shoes and our boys' and girls' 'school' boots, from $1 up, are extra fine value."

qualify as instructors for cadet corps, will be held at No. 2 regimental depot, Royal Canadian Regiment, Toronto, commencing on July 3 next. Orders have been issued to officers commanding units of the army medical corps to make an inspection and return of all the ammunition kept in reserve by the rural and city corps throughout the country.

Last night in the city hall a benefit concert was tendered by his many friends to Sandy Drennan, the well-known comedian. Mr. J. R. Mitchell, who presided, introduced the following programme: Piano solo by Mr. Frank Gruber; character songs by Sandy Drennan; club singing, Mr. A. Howlett and Mr. W. J. Judges; Highland Fling, Miss Florence Small; selections, London Guitars and Auto-harp Club; guitar solo, Mr. Minor; recitation, Miss A. Howlett; song, Mr. J. O'Neil; character sketch, Messrs. Drennan and W. J. Element, and musical specialties by Prof. Goldberg, which were the most interesting feature of the programme.

LIQENSE COMMISSIONERS.

The board of license commissioners for the city met last night and considered a number of applications for licenses. Nothing definite was done, the board adjourning till Monday evening next.

RED CROSS SOCIETY MEETING.

At a meeting of the Red Cross Society, held in the city hall yesterday, the committee on entertainments reported that several of the city's leading organists had volunteered to assist in a grand organ recital to be given in the First Methodist Church on Tuesday evening, May 1. Mrs. Macdonald, of Hamilton; Mrs. Lutton, of New York; Mr. H. R. Macdonald, and Mr. Newton Large will also assist. There will be no expense whatever in connection with the entertainment, all the artists having kindly given their services, and all advertisements, tickets and programmes having been furnished free of cost. The city clergy-men will be asked to announce the recital in their churches on Sunday. A large amount of work is still on hand, already cut out ready to be finished by Thursday, May 3. It may be had at the Children's Aid rooms in the city hall, from 10 to 12 o'clock, and from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Mlle. Trebelli's Concert

The size of the audience at the Auditorium last night, on the occasion of Mlle. Antoinette Trebelli's concert, must have been a keen disappointment to the management and the artists taking part. What the audience lacked in numbers, however, it amply made up in enthusiastic appreciation, as was evidenced by the numerous encores, which were generously responded to. Mlle. Trebelli's voice, which is of a rare soprano, is too well known in London to require extended mention. Suffice it to say that her purity, fullness and richness of tone, her clear enunciation and her marvelous execution all stamp her as an artist of exceptional natural gifts and excellent method. The ease and grace of her delivery completely won her hearers. Mlle. Trebelli's first and most difficult number was the scene and air, "The King of Thibet," and "Jewel Song" from Gounod's "Faust," in which the flexibility and range of her voice were made apparent. In response to an encore she gave Tosti's lovely "Spring." She next rendered a triple group of songs, Haydn's "Maiden Song," Horn's "I've Been Roaming," and Lee's "Away, Away." Her charming rendering of the aria, "Bel Raggio," from Rossini's "Semiramide," elicited a hearty encore, to which she responded with Kjerulf's song, "O to Remember," with her own accompaniment. Her last number on the programme was Eckert's delicious "Echo Song," but the audience would not be denied an encore, and her response was one of the most enjoyable numbers of the evening. It was Auber's "Laughing Song," and so naturally it was rendered that the laughing proved infectious. The artists assisting Mlle. Trebelli were Mr. W. J. A. Carnahan, of Toronto, and Herr Afford Hofmann, cellist. Herr Hofmann's selections were marked by the execution and feeling of a true musician, and the exceptionally fine instrument which he used was an important contributory factor to the effects which he achieved. His "Serenade Orientale," by Popper, was exquisite in its dreamy sensuousness. His other numbers were Bohm's "Air Pathétique," Von Goen's "Scherzo," and Dunkler's fantastic "Caprice Hongroise," in which the pizzicato passages were especially pleasing. As encores he gave a "Berceuse" by Godard, and a "Valse" by Czibulka. Mr. Carnahan, who is recognized as one of Canada's finest baritone voices, was in excellent voice. He opened the programme with Rossini's "Largo al Factotum," from "The Barber of Seville," in which his voice

CUT IT DOWN

Reichstag Objects to Kaiser's Naval Programme.

Her Majesty Queen Victoria at Home Again—Denmark to Have a New Cabinet—The Prince of Wales is Grateful.

Berlin, April 28.—The budget committee of the reichstag adopted, by a vote of 20 to 8, a motion of the Centrists granting the battleships asked for by the government, but eliminating the provision for an increase of the foreign service fleet, and reducing the increase demanded for the reserve fleet. The Centrists proposals adopted provide that the fighting fleet shall consist of two flagships, four squadrons of eight battleships each, eight large and 21 small cruisers, four foreign service, a fleet of three large and ten small cruisers, for the reserve four battleships and three large and four small cruisers, and that the appropriation for the necessary supplies shall be included annually in the estimates.

NEW DANISH CABINET.
Copenhagen, April 28.—King Christian has accepted the resignation of the Hørring cabinet and appointed a new Rightist ministry. The premier and minister of foreign affairs is H. De Schreder, vice-president of the landsting.

HOME AGAIN.
London, April 28.—Her majesty left Chester yesterday amidst loud cheering and the singing of the National Anthem by some 4,000 children, who had been mustered on the platform. Greetings of a similar character were given wherever the train made a stop. The Queen arrived at Windsor Castle at 5:25 p.m.

Lord Rosebery, proposing the health of the Queen last evening at the banquet of the City Liberal Club to the Australian delegates, said: "Never before in the course of her reign has the Queen exerted herself so much as she has during the last few months. Never before has she borne so great a stress and strain, owing to the varying events of the war in South Africa and therefore she has never before received so marked a degree of evidence of the gratitude and loyalty of her subjects."

In the course of a speech on the "Commonwealth of Australia," Lord Rosebery referred to the Canadian commonwealth and to the widespread sympathy of the people of Great Britain for the people of Ottawa in their present distress.

WALES IS GRATEFUL.
London, April 28.—The Prince of Wales acknowledges the sympathy and congratulations from all parts of the world on his recent escape from assassination, in a letter, just made public, as follows: "I have been deeply touched by the numerous expressions of sympathy and goodwill which have been sent me upon the occasion of the providential escape of the Princess of Wales and myself from the danger we have lately passed through, from every quarter of the globe. From the Queen's subjects throughout the world, as well as from the representatives and inhabitants of foreign countries, have these manifestations proceeded, and on my return to this country I received a welcome so spontaneous and hearty that I felt I was the recipient of the most gratifying tribute of genuine goodwill. Such a proof of kind and generous feeling is, naturally, most highly prized by me and will be forever cherished in my memory. (Signed) Albert Edward."

SYMPATHY FOR FIRE SUFFERERS.
London, April 28.—The newspapers are unanimous in the opinion that it is the duty of Great Britain to assist promptly and substantially in relieving the losses incurred by the Ottawa fire. The St. James' Gazette voices the general view, as follows: "At any time such a disaster to Canada would have appeared irretrievably the sympathies of Englishmen, and the present conditions strengthen the obligations. We have plenty on our hands with the South African war and the Indian famine, but we shall not be backward in doing all we can for our Canadian brothers till the bottom dollar is reached."

ENGLISH SYMPATHY.
London, April 28.—The morning papers all publish sympathetic articles, with references to the Ottawa fire. The journals express a belief that it was due to pro-Boer sympathizers among Fenians, but the Westminster Gazette and other pro-Boer journals doubt this. The editorial comments are most kindly. It is said that the lord mayor of London will open a relief fund. Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, in the course of an interview, admitted his inability to see how a fire in Hull could spread to Ottawa. He said he personally had no suspicion of foul play, and he thought it quite possible that the fire might have broken out simultaneously. Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain has received a cablegram from the Earl of Minto, governor-general of Canada, stating that great desolation is expected as a result of the great fire at Hull and Ottawa.

CABLE NOTES.
German anti-Jewish riots are reported from Konitz, Balzenburg, Preichia, Vaudsburg, Czerck and Welle.

Many famine sufferers are reported dying from cholera in a big relief camp at Godra, near Bombay, India.

German Chancellor Von Hohenlohe is reported to have forbidden steamship companies to make further importations of meat into Germany.

Emperor William has empowered the Prussian minister of education to forbid hereafter the use of Latin in all university and faculty degrees, stating as a reason the importance of a "more general use of the German tongue."

London newspapers announce that a syndicate of northern capitalists is reported to be about to erect on the banks of the River Tees the largest armor-plate works in the United Kingdom.

THE LEGISLATURE

Finishes Its Business and Will Proceed on Monday.

Toronto, April 27.—The members of the legislature put in a busy day today. The house opened at 11 o'clock and sat right through.

The premier moved that the sum of $25,000 be granted out of the consolidated revenues of the province to the relief of the sufferers in the recent disastrous fire in the cities of Hull and Ottawa.

Mr. Powell, as representative of Ottawa, thanked the premier and the house for the very generous and prompt contribution to the relief of the homeless ones in his native city. He said that Ottawa had always been a charitable city, and had never withheld her hand when relief was needed by others. The people would appreciate the action of the Ontario Legislature, and he believed that all the people of the province would approve the action.

Mr. Whitney said, in the presence of the appalling catastrophe, all question of amendment should be abandoned. He heartily agreed to the proposition of the government.

An amendment to the Toronto bill was moved by Mr. Marter and carried, permitting the city to pass a debenture bylaw for extending aid to the sufferers by fire at Hull and Ottawa.

Discussion on the bill granting 7,400 acres of land per mile to the Algoma Central Railway was resumed. It was opposed in strong terms by half a dozen members of the opposition.

Mr. Davis defended the bill at some length, showing that the land would be of no value without the construction of the railway.

While the house was waiting for the members to be called in for division, somebody called upon Capt. Robson (East Middlesex) for a song. The genial and gallant gentleman immediately responded with "Soldiers of the Queen," the members joining in the chorus and Mr. Davis's beating time.

The government's mines bill also received its third reading.

The agreement with the Nipigon Pulp and Manufacturing Company (Limited) was carried on a division of 43 to 26. The Blouin River pulp agreement carried on the same division.

Dr. Pyne, on the third reading of the assessment amendment act, moved that plants, gas, electric light, water-works, telephone and other companies be assessed at a valuation equal to the cost of replacing it by other plant material.

Premier Ross pointed out that the assessment commission would deal with the whole matter. The effect of passing this amendment might, in fact, effect millions of money in the year.

The amendment was lost, 43 to 26.

On the premier's motion the bill respecting the supplementary revenues of Ontario was passed.

When the railway subsidies came up for ratification Mr. Whitney moved that the amounts to be granted should be in the way of loans. This was defeated on a vote of 42 to 29, and the bill was then adopted.

On the third reading of the attorney-general's election bill, Mr. Whitney moved to abolish the numbered ballot, but the amendment was voted down.

Mr. Whitney then moved that the ballot of a voter who could not mark his own should be marked for him openly in the polling room, and not in a separate compartment. This also was lost.

Mr. Marter moved an amendment obliging the voter to put his own ballot into the box instead of handing it to the deputy returning officer to deposit.

The bill in its entirety then passed.

Mr. Wardell tried to get his alien labor bill reconsidered, but it was moved out of order.

Mr. Whitney made an appropriate reference to the death of Sir John Hagerty.

Premier Ross concurred in the sentiments expressed by the honorable leader of the opposition.

Mr. Little's motion to appoint a committee on agriculture and colonization was lost.

The house concluded business at 8:30 by the singing of the National Anthem and great cheering.

Prorogation will take place Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

MISSION WORK

Interesting Topics Discussed at the Meeting of the Ecumenical Council.

New York, April 27.—The ecumenical conference resumed at Carnegie Hall today at 10 o'clock, the hall being crowded, and there was not standing room left. At this meeting the general topic was "Self-Support by Mission Churches." The following papers were read and given minutes' discussion by the delegates: "Present Status of Mission Churches," by W. R. Lambuth, D.D., M.D., secretary of missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church South; "Object Lessons in New Fields," by the Rev. Dr. H. G. Underwood, of Corea; and "Adjustment in Old Fields," by the Rev. D. S. Spencer, of Japan. Then Robert E. Speer, secretary of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions, read the paper prepared by Rev. H. G. Underwood, of Corea, "The Object Lesson in the New Field."

In the afternoon five sectional meetings were held. At the Church of the

RUBBER-NECK JOE

Gets Sewn Up—The Freak Makes the Doctor Nervous.

New York, April 28.—Joseph Cramer, of 214 East One Hundred and Eighty street, walked into Harlem Hospital, suffering from a lacerated right arm. He refused to tell how he had received the wound, but wanted it sewn up. One of the surgeons got a needle and got to work. The first time he inserted the point in Cramer's arm the patient groaned, and putting his hand up to his face, pulled out the flesh until he had stretched it fully a foot. Then he let it go back with a snap.

"My lord," said the doctor, dropping his needle. "Who are you?"

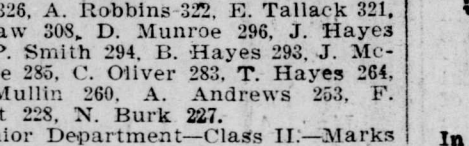

"I'm known both as 'Rubberneck Joe' and 'Indisputable Joe,'" replied the man. "I've been with every circus and in every museum in the country. Don't mind me. Every time you hurt me I'm going to pull myself out like that. It distracts my attention from the pain."

Cramer did as he promised and was a source of great amusement to the other surgeons, while the doctor was putting ten stitches in the wound.

"I'm glad that's over," said the doctor when he had finished. "I was more nervous than the patient."

The Greatest Labor-Saving Device of the 19th Century.

"A man works from sun to sun, But a woman's work is never done."

In the year of 1885 it occurred to Mr. Thomas Cross Edwards, of Chatham, Ont., that it was possible to dispense with the drudgery of ironing clothes, particularly in hot weather, by the old system of heating irons on a hot stove, thereby being compelled to contend with the heat of the rooms, which seemed to be the most objectionable feature of housekeeping, and that by so doing he would confer a great benefit upon humanity.

Therefore, feeling that it was possible to construct an iron which might be heated from the interior, having a top and bottom surface, the top surface of which would be constantly heating while the bottom one was being used, and then by a mechanical construction to have it reverse within its own handle. In April of the same year the Dominion Government granted to him letters patent upon a reversible and iron heated from the interior by means of an alcohol burner, which burner got its supply from a reservoir attached to the handle at the rear end of the iron. After placing this iron upon the market in a small way, he discovered that a perfect, practical working iron was just what was wanted. Therefore he decided to study all the requirements of the people, for family, laundry, and the manufacture of clothing, and if possible to meet and satisfy their needs, and to do it in an economical manner.

The wood alcohol burner proved to be a better system of heating than any other that had been tried up to that time, from the fact that it did away with all the objectionable features, such as soot, dirt, or offensive smells. Mr. Edwards was constantly studying how to complete and perfect his invention. He succeeded in 1895 in procuring letters patent from the United States Government on an improvement on his Canadian patent, which improved irons were heated by means of a gas burner, which might be connected to any gas fixture by means of a rubber tube, thereby supplying fuel constantly to the iron and heating it through the interior by means of a burner having a perfect combustion of the gas or by means of an alcohol burner, both of which are shown in the accompanying illustrations. He decided to introduce these improved irons in the United States, and forthwith placed them on the market through the medium of John Wanamaker's famous Philadelphia store. In the summer of 1895 he consigned a large number of these irons, with both burners, to Wanamaker, and started a demonstration of their utility in the store, by putting in two ladies to demonstrate and operate them, one using the iron with the gas and the other with the alcohol burner. And notwithstanding the fact that all goods sold in Wanamaker's store are subject to return if not perfectly satisfactory, the reputation of these irons had to be built upon their utility, and in any case they did not prove to the satisfaction of the users they were to be returned to Wanamaker, and from him to Mr. Edwards. In the face of these rules and beginning in this way, this "Perfection" gas iron business has grown from a few hundred irons first placed as above described, to an enormous demand at the present time in the United States, which demand the present season will at least require an output of 3,000 irons per week.

AT RONDEAU

Provincial Park Becoming Popular as a Summer Resort.

Rangers at Algonquin National Park Doing Excellent Work—Have Captured Numerous Poachers—The Preserves Well Stocked.

Ranger Isaac Gardiner, caretaker of the Rondeau Provincial Park, has submitted the following report to the commissioner of crown lands at Toronto: "It is five years since this park opened as a provincial park. Since that time it has become very popular as a summer resort, although it has two very serious drawbacks. One is the poor road between the town line of Howard and Harwich and the park, which is only one and a half miles. For that distance the passengers of heavily loaded vehicles must get out and walk. The second is the fact that horses coming long distances find it all they can do to draw the empty carriages. The second great need is for a public house to accommodate those from a distance who would like to stay there a week or two in the month. It is inconsistent with its purpose that a spot like Rondeau Park, which nature has made one of the most beautiful spots in Ontario, should be held back when a small amount of money would make it all that could be desired. Another thing very much needed is a telephone from Morpeth, which is only six miles away. The wire from Ridgeway to Morpeth has been in operation for many years. For the last two years the campers have been urging to have the wire extended to the park. It would save the government horses many long trips, and would be a great convenience to the public who resort here, and would be much better than a postoffice for this place.

"We have 73 Mongolian and English pheasants inclosed so that they cannot get away into the bush. However, several did escape before we got them into the covered inclosures. They all look strong and healthy. During the last three years we have allowed about 200 to escape to the bush, hoping they would live there through the winter and multiply rapidly. We know that some of the pheasants that escaped in the bush, and have hatched their young there the following spring. I saw several of their young last June, but where they have over 3,000 acres to run in, the greater part of which is exceedingly dense with underbrush, it would be hard to say how many there might be there now. They have a great many enemies to contend with, such as foxes, raccoons, skunks, weasels and even snakes, which swallow the little ones. The hawks and owls are also very destructive to the game fowl. We succeeded in shooting and trapping about 40 hawks and traps, and the native quail, partridge and black squirrels are getting very numerous since shooting has been prohibited in the park."

G. W. Bartlett, superintendent of the Algonquin National Park, presents the following interesting statement:

"As superintendent of the Algonquin National Park of Ontario, I respectfully beg to hand you the following report for the year 1899, hoping that by having read the same you will feel satisfied that considerable progress has been made in the purposes for which the park was established. The park consists of nine ranges, one constable at Canoe Lake and myself. The duties of the rangers are many and very arduous, especially during the trapping season, when each pair of rangers has to cover a large area of unbroken forest, during the summer and fall with canoe and tump strap, and in the winter months with snowshoe and sled. From June 1st to Sept. 1st there is no trapping done, and the rangers are employed in building shelter houses, cleaning out portages, improving grounds at headquarters (Cache Lake), making and repairing canoes, etc. During the past year we have made five new canoes, seven pairs of snow-

PATIENTLY BORE DISGRACE

A Sad Letter from a Lady Whose Husband Was Dissipated—Now She Cured Him.

"I had for years patiently borne the disgrace, suffering, misery and privations due to my husband's drinking habits. Hearing of your marvelous remedy for the cure of drunkenness, which I could give my husband secretly, I decided to try it. I procured a package and mixed it in his food and coffee, and, as the remedy was odorless and tasteless, he did not know what it was that so quickly relieved his craving for liquor. He soon began to pick up flesh, his appetite for solid food returned, he stuck to his work regularly, and we now have a happy home. After he was completely cured I told him of the deception I had practised on him, when he acknowledged that it had been his saving, as he had not the resolution to break off of his own accord. I heartily advise all women afflicted as I was to give your remedy a trial."

shoes, built a Page wire inclosure for the deer, and done a good deal of clearing up at the headquarters. We have built two new shelter houses, one on the lake and one on Manitou Lake, and repaired some others. Portages were cut out as follows: From headquarters to Cranberry Lake, and from Joe Lake to Lake Manitou on the north end of the park. The boundary has been carefully blazed. From Ragged Lake east to the southeast corner, thence north across the townships of Preston, Dickson, Anglin and part of Peacock, to Trout Lake; also from Trout Lake across the townships of Wilkes and Pentland to Crooked Lake. We have also got our winter's supply of wood up at headquarters, and several sleds, each ready for winter use.

GAME AND FUR-BEARING ANIMALS.

During the trapping season the rangers travel in pairs, taking with them sufficient provisions for two or three months. These have to be forwarded by canoe during the open season and carried with tump strap across the portages, and in winter by sleds, which the rangers draw after them. Our boldest trappers come in from Haliburton, and I am pleased to be able to report the capture of three of the worst of these who are now serving sentences in Parry Sound jail. One was fined $50 and costs, which was paid by the lumberman in whose employ the party was. I do not think in some instances we get the support from the lumbermen we should. If foremen insisted upon their men observing the law it would to a great extent do away with trapping from the camps. The fur-bearing animals are now scarce, but a skillful trapper can in a few days secure a lot of valuable fur, a fact which, of course, increases the temptation to run the risk of being caught by the rangers. Our force is not sufficient to patrol the park, and it should be patrolled, but I have no hesitation in saying that my rangers have done excellent work during the past year, and that a number of intending visitors have sought other grounds, finding the park rangers aware of their presence near the borders of the park. Rangers Sawyer and Ross took two prisoners from the north end of the park for Mattawa for trial. These parties were fined $5 each; and here I should like to state that it seems impossible to get a fine imposed on hunters and trappers encroaching on the park that is sufficient to make any impression on others. It is very discouraging to a ranger after following trappers for days and succeeding in capturing them, to see them allowed to go with a fine of $5. This matter, I think, should have the consideration of the department.

"We are annoyed a good deal with moose hunters coming in from the Mattawa and Bonnechere. The season is not deep enough yet this season for this, but I hope during this year to be able to make an example of some of them. Moose are getting very numerous in the park, a fact to which a visitor of this season bears testimony."

I had a visit during the past summer from Chief Big Canoe, after whom Canoe Lake is named. He having trapped there some 40 years ago, I gave him permission to visit all his old trapping grounds, and on his return he told me with delight that he found beaver everywhere. As a proof of this fact, and to show you how rapidly the most interesting and valuable animals are increasing, I might state that out of the 100 lakes shown on the map of Algonquin Park, 89 are known to have beaver families on them, and there are innumerable little lakes, creeks and rivers that contain beaver. The commission of 1893 state in their report that the area of water in the park is 106,393 acres. We find, however, that there are a great number of lakes not shown on the map. On the north end, in the townships of Pentland, Osler and Biggar, the rangers have located twenty lakes not hitherto laid down. These are the beaver, Ranger Sawyer, who trapped for years over this section before it became a park, states that the beaver have more than trebled in number since the park was established. Otter, fisher, marten and mink are also very numerous.

"Red deer are to be found everywhere, and so indifferent to the presence of man have they become that the tourist has no difficulty in obtaining photographs of them in their native home, the forest and marsh. At headquarters we have two does, a fawn raised last season and a yearling. These are kept in a large inclosure, and they are a great attraction to passengers on the Canada Atlantic Railway. Our does are both with fawn, providing that there is no difficulty in breeding them when in captivity."

"I have been instructed by the department to secure a pair of caribou, and have arranged with Mr. Cormier, of Aymer, Quebec, for a pair to be delivered this winter. I hope to be able to breed them at headquarters, and after a time to allow them to roam at will through the park. I feel confident of success with the caribou, and should like very much to have a pair of elk. There is no doubt elk at one time inhabited this section of country, and I believe could be again induced to breed and remain here."

"The wolf, the red deer's greatest enemy, is very numerous this year, and I have had poison put out in large quantities, in some cases having a deer shot and the whole carcass poisoned in this way. I hope to destroy a large number of these pests before deep snow comes, the time when they do the greatest damage among the deer."

"As no doubt you are aware, the lakes of the park are well stocked with trout of the finest quality, as are the brooks with speckled trout. Some of our lakes also have burbot, catfish, eels and whitefish. During the past season some 500 very fine black bass, from one to four pounds in weight, were brought from Parry Sound and put into Cache, White and Source Lakes. These were procured before the spawning season and successfully carried to their destination in a tank car supplied by the Canada Atlantic Railway, the general manager, Mr. Chamberlain, as well as the other officials, taking a great interest in the experiment and doing all in their power to insure its success. I should like to see one of the lakes stocked with pickerel. This, I believe, could also be done successfully in the same way. Of the bass, some 500 odd, I do not think a dozen were lost, and I look for good results from this venture."

Questions Answered.

APPIN.—Is it lawful to spear pike in ditches, government drains and small streams? Ans.—The statute law does not prohibit the spearing of pike, but regulations may do so. Apply to S. T. Bastedo, deputy commissioner of fisheries, Toronto.

MANDAMUN.—In December all parties interested received notice to open a ditch north from blind line; each party to do a certain portion; remove fence along that part, place earth where fence stood, rebuild fence, and all to be completed by Feb. 3, 1900. All parties removed the fence along their respective drains, but on account of political or sectarian bias, and with due regard to historical proportions and to both sides of controverted issues, we know of no publication equal to current history. The contents of each monthly number contain news of the world during the preceding month, illustrated with an abundance of authentic maps, portraits, and views, and biographical sketches. In the April number most prominent space is given to the South African War, the Reciprocity Treaties, the American Colonial Problem, including the Cuban, Puerto Rican, Philippine, Hawaiian and Samoan questions; the general relations of the powers of Europe, the Open Door in China, and the Political Outlook in the Orient, the coming Presidential campaign, Currency Reform, the Work of Congress, Business, and Industrial Developments, Kentucky Gubernatorial Contest, Canadian Affairs, Newfoundland Fisheries, Isthmian Canal Question, Progress of Science and Invention, Musical and Dramatic Productions, Religious Issues, etc. (Boston, Mass.; Current History Co.; $1.50 a year; single numbers, 15 cents; 3 months' trial subscription, 25 cents.)

WINGHAM.—Can my farm be bequeathed to an heir, so as to give him full title and privileges of selling, without passing through the surrogate court? If so, please outline of course to be pursued to elude said court. If you devise the farm by a will to the heir, he might hold the property without proving the will in the surrogate court, but in the event of his desiring to sell, the purchaser might insist upon the will being proved, either in the court, or informally, at possibly greater expense than would have been incurred by proving the will within a year of the death of the testator. In place of a will a deed might be drawn up in favor of the heir, giving him the farm after the death of the owner, subject to the condition that the owner had not conveyed the farm to other persons by a subsequent deed.

As a concise summary of the world's news, coming once a month, covering the whole field lucidly and judiciously, divested of non-essentials, aiming only to record the history of the world without political or sectarian bias, and with due regard to historical proportions and to both sides of controverted issues, we know of no publication equal to current history. "International Law and the Peace Conference" is the title of an article by James Vickery in Appleton's Popular Science Monthly for May. The author points out the gradual growth of the introduction of humane methods in warfare from the time of Grotius; that the recent conference was a logical outcome of this evolution, and not at all due primarily to any individual or government, and then shows that, despite the ridicule which has been heaped on its work, the new rules and regulations are a distinct advance over previous methods and are bound to lead to further improvements.

Healthy Womanhood.

WHY shouldn't a woman enjoy life? Why shouldn't she be strong and vigorous, as an all-wise Providence intended?

Yes, but those aching backs—ah! that's it—those aching backs. What a lot of misery and discouragement they bring into the world! But they shouldn't be aching; they wouldn't be if the kidneys did their duty.

Kidneys are such delicate little organs that when they get out of order the poisons they ought to take out of the blood are left in and carried all through the system.

Backaches, headaches, pains in the limbs, and a hundred other ills follow as naturally as night follows day.

But there's a cure—a perfectly sure, reliable cure—

Doan's Kidney Pills

They've been curing people in Canada for years; curing every form of Kidney trouble, from the simplest backache down to the last stages of Bright's disease.

MRS. A. BEAM, Cochrane, Alberta, writes, "I took doctors' medicine for backache and kidney trouble, and receiving no benefit I started using Doan's Kidney Pills. After two days' treatment I was surprised to find myself beginning to improve, and the improvement continued so rapidly that by the time the box was finished the pain was entirely gone and has never returned. "My husband is now taking the pills for kidney complaint, and says he is deriving great benefit from them. We both think there is no medicine equal to Doan's Kidney Pills."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50c a box, 3 boxes for $1.25, all druggists. THE DOAN KIDNEY PILL CO., Toronto.

MRS. GEO. LEIGH, Brockville, Ont., says: "I cannot speak too highly of Doan's Kidney Pills. My back was so bad that I could not straighten up without suffering great pain. I used one box of the pills and the result was simply marvelous. It took every bit of the pain out of my back so that now I can do my own housework without the slightest inconvenience. I trust this account of my experience with this remedy may be of benefit to other sufferers in directing them to a means of cure."

She—I wouldn't marry the best man in the world. He—Why, I haven't asked you to, have I?

When Women Get Together

What do they talk about? Their ill-health? They tell about their aches and pains, describe their symptoms in detail, endeavoring to prove their special trouble the most trying and dangerous. Why do they do that? Because they are women.

Many a woman has never known a really healthy hour, yet on her feet and accomplished her daily duties, thinking sacrifice really meritorious. Ninety-nine times out of a hundred these women become chronic dyspeptics. You can tell that by their lack-lustre eyes, spiritless movements and sallow complexions.

Dyspepsia is the forerunner of many fatal disorders; it always precedes consumption! If you are wise, you will take some invigorating herbarial preparation such as Karl's Clover Root Tea, which has been in use for nearly fifty years, and has never been known to fail in curing all bowel and liver troubles. It gently stimulates the whole digestive system, so that your food is perfectly assimilated and converted into pure, rich blood, which keeps the nervous system of the body healthy and the muscles firm and strong. Your back-aches, headaches and sleeplessness will all vanish under the influence of this grand remedy, Karl's Clover Root Tea.

Ask your druggist for it, or write to S. C. Wells & Co., 52 Colburn Street, Toronto, Ont., and they will send a sample package free of charge, and a full bottle for $1.00. Sold throughout the United States and Canada at 50c and 60c, and in England at 1s. 6d., 2s. 6d.

THE TRIUMPH OF TRUE LOVE

And the fancy came to him, what would his home be like if that face was ever by his fireside? And when he asked himself that question, the good doctor knew that he must be in love.

The discovery filled him with dismay. What should he do?—how was he to act? How could he possibly tell her he cared for her, and wished to make her his wife?

Then came a difficulty still greater. What would the world say if he married the governess, whose society was courted by all the people of note in the county? Would they receive her as his wife? The time came when even that question became of no moment compared to his great love. Who was like her? Of all the high-born ladies he knew there was not one to compare with her.

All irresolution died away at last. The doctor sat this June evening in his dining-room, fully resolved to ask Mrs. Rivers to marry him. But how was he to do it? Surely it would not be expected that he, a clergyman, should kneel to a woman, and make an infamia dig. How did people generally make love? He must try his fate, and do the best he could. So, while the sweet evening air thrilled with the song of nightingales, and the flowers yielded their sweetest perfume, Dr. Hearne went forth to woo.

He found her in the little orchard back of the cottage. Some of the fruit was ripe, and she was busy gathering it. She looked up with surprise at the sound of the doctor's voice. It was a most unusual hour for him to call. She placed her little basket on the ground, and went forward to meet him.

How sweet the air of that orchard was, laden with the fragrance of cherry and apple blossom. How fair and sad she looked, standing under the shadow of rippling foliage!

"Have I startled you, Mrs. Rivers?" he asked. "I wanted to speak to you. Can you spare me a few minutes?"

"I can spare you all the time you wish," she replied. "Will you go into the cottage, Dr. Hearne?"

"No," he answered, with a touch of sentiment not common with him. "We will remain here, if you please. I never saw an evening so pleasant."

She sat down upon the small garden chair, and the doctor's courage slightly faltered as he looked at the sad drooping face near him.

"Mrs. Rivers," he said suddenly, "I am an honest man, and plain words will suit me best."

Why did she look up at him with that startled cry? She thought discovery had come at last!

"Plain words," continued the doctor, "I have never cared for any woman in all my life, and I find to my great surprise, that I have fallen in love with you."

She looked up at him with such wondering eyes, he was quite disconcerted. Plainly enough, she did not even understand him.

"I love you," he continued, "and I pray you to become my wife."

She looked at him again with something like bewilderment, and in her eyes.

"Your wife!" she repeated helplessly. "Your wife, Dr. Hearne?"

"Yes," he said gently, "and if you will consent, I will promise to do my best to make you happy. I will do all in my power."

"You ask me to be your wife!" she cried.

"Yes," he interrupted. "You are the fairest and best of all living women, and I will try to deserve the great honor you do me."

She was looking up at him in a helpless, despairing, bewildering way that astonished him. Suddenly she rose from her seat, and sunk upon his knees; she clasped her hands and cried aloud—

"Heaven pardon me for my most wicked sin!"

The doctor was astonished.

"My dear Mrs. Rivers," he cried, "this is most extraordinary. You have done no harm; indeed you have done no wrong. I could not help loving you."

But she was looking at him with eyes that saw him not. Again from the white lips rose the prayer—

"Heaven pardon me for my most wicked sin!"

Dr. Hearne was most terribly distressed. Of all extraordinary ways of receiving an offer of marriage, this was surely one of the strangest. He did not know what was usual on such occasions; surely it was not this. He was distressed; he would have given anything if she would not have looked at him in such a way.

"I fear that I have grieved you," he said gently, "I did not intend it."

"No," she cried hurriedly. "It is my fault—all my fault. Dr. Hearne, take all your love from me; I can never accept it. Bury the thought of ever making me your wife; something stronger than death stands between us."

"You refuse me, then?" said the doctor.

"Yes," she said in great distress. "I pray you never think of such a thing again—never name it."

"Nothing," he said, would alter your decision?" he persisted.

"No," she cried; "nothing!"

"We may still continue friends," he said. "Just as though nothing of the kind had happened?"

"The best of friends," she said gently.

Then Dr. Hearne went away.

She saw it all now—the whole train of consequences that might arise from the great moral wrong she had been guilty of.

All that night, from the depths of a broken heart, went up to Heaven the cry—

"Heaven pardon me for my most wicked sin!"

Envy is a weak word to describe the jealous anger and gnawing, bitter hatred that filled the heart of Lady Beatrice for the heir of Selwyn. Her own boy was a beautiful child, fair of face, noble and generous of disposition; slightly inclined to be tyrannical and imperious, yet loving and gentle when his little fits of anger were over. He resembled his father even more than Rupert did.

The pity of it, as my lady often said, "that I descended from a noble line on my mother's side, as well as his father's; that he, who resembled so closely the master of Selwyn, should not be his heir!"

She detested this interloper, this grandson of a country attorney, this son of a plebeian mother. She hated him with all the scorn of a passionate, proud soul. Had little Lance never been born, she would have tolerated Rupert; but, side by side with her love for her own child, grew her intense and angry hate for him. She was obliged most carefully to conceal it. Lord Selwyn would never have permitted from anyone living the least unkindness to Violante's son. She could find no pretext for venting any anger upon him. Rupert dearly loved his little brother, and Lance was never so happy as when with him.

A conversation that Lady Beatrice overheard one morning between Lord Selwyn and Rupert did not lessen her dislike.

"Papa," said the boy, "Mr. Vernon, my tutor, says that Selwyn is an entailed estate. Is it true?"

"It has always been so," replied his lordship, "from the time of the first Selwyn until now, and it must be so until the end."

"It is very unfair," cried the boy, "while a warm, sunny, rose-colored day, 'You love Lance quite as much as you love me, do you not, papa?'"

Lord Selwyn looked at the boy before he replied; looked at Violante's sunny eyes and sweet lips, feeling that if he had a preference it was most certainly for Violante's son; but he replied quite gravely:

"Certainly, why do you ask me?"

"Because it seems so unfair," Rupert continued; "at some, I hope far distant day, I am to have a title and all the Selwyn estates for my own, while little Lance will have none of anything. I say again, it is not fair, papa. Why do you not divide it between us? Why should I have all because I am the eldest, and Lance nothing because he is the youngest? Even Mrs. Rivers says such a law is unjust."

His lordship laughed with some amusement at the boy's earnest gravity.

"So Mrs. Rivers is your authority for this attempt at rebellion against fortune, Rupert?" he said.

"No," I told Mrs. Rivers what Mr. Vernon said. I told her how pretty our Lance is, and what a little prince he looks; then I asked her if it were not a cruel law, and she said yes. Why can you not make us both equal, papa? I am quite willing."

"I cannot, Rupert," was the grave reply. "You are too young to understand the law of entail. To you it seems unjust—to me it seems the only method of preserving noble families from extinction and ruin."

Light and Shade.

The impecunious young man has hit upon a scheme. He sends his girl newspapers filled with tales of people that were killed by eating ice cream.

Mrs. Briske—Johnny, did the doctor call while I was out?

Little Johnny (stopping his play)—Yes, m. He felt my pulse and looked at my tongue, and shook his head, and said it was a very serious case, and he left this paper and said he'd call again before night.

Mrs. Briske—Gracious me! It wasn't you I sent him to see; it was the baby.

—TR-Bits.

Miss Angelica—I suppose you have been going out a great deal lately, Mr. McP.

Mr. McP.—No, I have only been to one dinner in two weeks.

Miss A.—Dear me! You must be hungry.

On one of the northern lines there was an old gentleman who had travelled between the same stations for years, and was consequently known by all the porters at the stations.

As he used a "season" he very seldom carried his ticket. One day an inspector, who was new to the district, was examining all tickets. Going up to the old gentleman, he said:

"Ticket, sir, please?"

"My face is my ticket," was the reply.

"Well," said the inspector, baring a brawny arm, "my orders are to punch all tickets."—London Answer.

AROUND THE LAMP.

A straw will make an impression on the virgin snow, but let the snow remain but a short time and a horse's hoof can hardly penetrate it. So it is with the youthful mind. A trifling word may make an impression on it, but after a few years the most powerful appeals may cease to influence it. Think of this, you who have the training of the infant mind.

THE BLOSSOM.

Only a little shriveled seed—It might be flower or grass or weed; Only a box of earth on the edge Of a narrow, dusty window ledge; Only a few scant summer showers. Only a few clear, shining hours—That was all. Yet God could make Out of these, for a sick child's sake, A blossom wonder as fair and sweet As ever broke at angel's feet.

Only a life of barren pain, Wet with sorrowful tears of rain; Warm sometimes by a wandering gleam Of joy that seemed but a happy dream. A life as common and brown and bare As the box of earth in the window there; Yet it bore at last the precious bloom Of a perfect soul in a narrow room—Pure as the snowy leaves that fold Over the flower's heart of gold.

—Dr. Henry Van Dyke.

FEMININE FANCIES.

White—especially lace or tulle or chiffon—has a delightful way of putting fresh lights and soft lines into the face. Old ladies do not wear it enough, says the New York Press.

Narrow black velvet ribbon is much seen upon thin organdie, where it appears along the edges of narrow ruffles. The effect is very pretty when several rows are sewn around an accordion-pleated blouse.

Children's clothes are to be trimmed with heavy cream lace and insertion. Little boleros of the lace will be worn with wash silk waists. Narrow velvet ribbons also will be utilized in trimming their clothes.

The hydrangea tints are to be seen in everything: those soft blues and lavenders combined in ribbons, silks and other fabrics. The flowers themselves are on the hats, and in one of them they are in two close rows on either side of the head, globe feather-like, in a way that is reminiscent of every other winter hat that has been seen this year.

Quantities of tulle are used this season, both in gowns and hats. Big bows of tulle are worn at the neck and tulle ruffles are put here and there on dressy gowns that are covered completely with the airy stuff. A simple straw turban with a billowy twist of tulle about it and a cluster of flowers put at one side is a fashionable and acceptable bit of headgear even in Paris, where elaborate millinery is usually the rule.

Not every woman would like or would look well in an Empire wedding gown, but the gowns themselves are charming. One has a puffed yoke and sleeves, while from under the arms two broad pieces of lace are brought and fastened a little to the left of the bust, the ends hanging in soft folds to the lower edge of the skirt. This gown is finished without a collar at the throat, the top of the puffed yoke fitting snugly, with a cord set in.

WHAT THE QUEEN HAS SEEN.

Queen Victoria during her lifetime has seen the entire world transformed. On the day of her birth, May 24, 1819, the first steamboat which ever crossed the Atlantic or any other ocean started from Savannah to Liverpool, making the voyage in 26 days. The same distance is now made in less than six. She was 6 years of age when the first railway train started to carry passengers. She was 18 years of age, and had just ascended the throne, when the Morse system of telegraphy was first patented. Thirty-nine years of her life had passed when the first cable was laid under the Atlantic. Fifty-six years of it expired before the first telephone went into practical operation. At the time of her birth the tramp of Bonaparte's armies had just ceased to shake the world, and Bonaparte himself was a prisoner on a British island in the South Atlantic. She has seen every throne in England vacated many times. She has seen her own country transformed politically from an oligarchy, in which only one out of 50 of the population was permitted to vote, into a democracy in which the voters number one out of six of the inhabitants.—Answers.

LITTLE ECONOMICAL HINTS.

If an ink stain gets on your frock, remove it at once with salts of lemon, if the color will not run.

Paine's Celery Compound Strengthens the Tired.

When the stomach, liver and kidneys are tired and without nerve energy, the body is poorly nourished and suffers lassitude and pain. Paine's Celery Compound is a medicine compounded to restore nerve energy; to strengthen the stomach, liver and kidneys. Read this testimonial.

MRS. H. HARBOUR, Winnipeg, Man., writes:

"I thank you for the great work done by your wonderful medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. A month ago I was very sick and happened to see one of your books, in which I read of others being cured. I concluded to try Paine's Celery Compound myself, and I now thank God for the wonders it accomplished for me. I was suffering from kidney trouble, heart disease and general weakness, and some days was not able to stand without experiencing great pain; my appetite was also very poor. Since I used Paine's Celery Compound I am able to get about the house and work, and can now eat anything put before me. I trust my testimony may lead many to try your valuable remedy."

PRUNE JELLY.

Make a syrup with a pint of water and six ounces of sugar; add the juice of an orange and the grated peel of a lemon. Wash a pound of prunes in boiling water and then stew them in the syrup until they are quite tender. Take them out and, after removing the stones, pass them through a sieve. Add an ounce of gelatine which has been soaked in a little cold water to the syrup. When it is dissolved, pour in a few drops of carmine and strain through muslin. Mix the sieved prunes and the syrup together, and when nearly cold pour into a mold which has been rinsed with cold water. Serve the jelly surrounded by custard or cream.

HOW CANNED MEATS ARE TESTED.

Among the most incomprehensible proceedings to be observed within the vast area of Woolwich reserve depot are the doings of a small party of officials, one of whom appears to do nothing all day long but sit at a table and tap on the top of tin canisters with a couple of bits of stick something after the manner of child beating on the upturned end of his drum. The tins are passed before him about as fast as he can tap them, and absolutely nothing seems to come of the game. To the unlightened onlooker it is quite unintelligible. The tins contain meat, and before they are passed into store it is, of course, important to examine the condition of what is enclosed, and this, in fact, is the way it is done. The trained ear of the expert examiner can tell whether the meat is in a wholesome or a putrid condition by the sound emitted when rapped with the stick, just as the examiner of railway carriage wheels is supposed to be able to tell whether the wheel he taps with his hammer is cracked or not. The rapidity with which the business is gone through and the seeming inattention of the performer with the sticks and his total indifference to all sorts of noises about him render the procedure a very curious one to watch. The test is said to be practically infallible.—London (England) News.

FASHIONABLE COLORS.

Green will be a fashionable color this spring, and charming springlike effects can be created by using its varying tones. Even hats will be made of green straw.

Other fashionable colors are a pale old blue called Corot, an old-fashioned lavender revived as De Neuville, a deep straw named Toubet and a bluet lighter than the regulation color.

Diaphanous materials will be extensively employed in combination with braids, flowers and foliage.

Tulles and chiffons will be much used, especially to veil flowers; laces are also seen. Ornaments of cut steel, jet, rhine stone or pearl give a touch of distinction to nearly every example of fashionable millinery.

A PERFECT CUP OF TEA.

"A perfect cup of tea can never be made in a tin teapot," says a demonstrator for a tea house. "Scald the earthen teapot the first thing you do. Measure out the tea, allowing a half-teaspoonful for each cup of boiling water. Have fresh water that has come to a boil for the first time. Put the tea in a cloth strainer and pour on the bubbling, boiling water. Cover closely with a tea cosy, and let the tea brew on the back of the range, or at the table, from three to five minutes. If the tea is to stand for some time remove the strainer with the tea leaves, else the fragrant aroma is wasted and the tannin extracted."

A SEAL'S MATERNAL INSTINCT.

A mother seal followed for 80 miles from Anacapa Island, Cal., a sloop on which was her captured baby, moaning and howling piteously all the while. At the wharf at Santa Barbara the mother seal, tied in a sack, was left on the deck. The mother continued to call, and the young one responded by tumbling overboard, sack and all. Instantly the sharp teeth of the mother tore the sack open, and, rejoicing, the seals disappeared from view.—Unity.

JENNY LIND.

A pretty story of Jenny Lind is told in the Court Circular. A veteran musician, who has recently died, wrote once to a friend that he had heard Jenny Lind in a most unexpected way. "I was then," he said, "clerk in a music publishing house. One day a well-dressed, quiet little woman entered and asked me to show her some music of a classical nature. We struck up quite a conversation in the course of which I asked her if she had heard the great Jenny Lind, who was then the talk of the town. She laughed and said: 'Oh, yes, I have heard her. Have you?' I told her that I had not had the pleasure, and that I had very little prospect of hearing her, the price of admission was so high. She laughed again, and then handed me a song she had picked out, and asked me to play the accompaniment for her while she tried it. She sang so beautifully that I played like one in a dream. When she had finished she thanked me, and with a rare smile said: 'You cannot say now that you have never heard Jenny Lind.' She thanked me again, and left me quite dumfounded."

The Poets.

The Day of Peace.

[From the Bismarck Tribune.]
What of the day, my brother?
What of the day of peace?
When the clashing sword turns the green sward
And the dull, dread noises cease—
The clarion call of bugles,
The shriek of the angry shell—
What of the light that shall pierce the night
Of battle—is it well?
What of the dead, my brother?
What of the dead and dumb?
Who shall pay at the judgment day
When the Messenger shall come,
Come in the light and glory,
Come in the fire and flame,
Whose the stain of the blood and
Whose the pain?
My brother—whose the blame?
What of the grief, my brother?
What of the grief and woe?
What of the tears shed o'er these
These stricken hearts brought low?
Low in the day of terror,
Low in the night of gloom,
Whose the weight of this curse of Hate?
Whose the pain of doom?
What of the blood, my brother?
What of the blood that flows
In a crimson stream where the lances
Team?
And the bugle blows and blows?
Whose the souls that shudder,
Shudder and start and cry,
When the battles' cost by God engrossed
In blood on the brazen sky?
Hasten the day, my brother,
Hasten the day of peace,
When men not slain for greed of gain
And the dull, dread noises cease!
When shall shriek no longer,
When hatred slinks away,
The breath of God, the blood-stained
Sod
Make clean—and Peace shall stay!

While Baby's Sleeping.

The restless hands so keen for play,
Lie clenched and do not stir;
Her breath so light it scarce would
Sway
A web of gossamer.
Her baby voice that coos and crows,
In sweetest cadence keeping,
Is hushed; the house no music knows
While baby's sleeping.
Her sunny eyes that, when they rise,
Dawn daytimes of delight,
Behind their fringing canopies
Have set, and it is night.
Five little toes the cover shows
Beyond its edge just peeping,
Fair as a pink five-petaled rose
While baby's sleeping.
See! on the pillow here I've found
Golconda's treasure now—
The golden curls that cluster round
My darling's cheek and brow.
Her lips just parted in a smile,
Some pretty secret keeping;
An angel whispers to her, while
My baby's sleeping.
—John L. Heaton.

MISSED BULLETS TO MEET A WORSE FATE.

Better to Take Life's Chances on a Battlefield Than With a Diseased Heart
—Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart Gives Relief in 30 Minutes.

A man may pass through all the dangers of war and come through without a scar, only to find that disease has laid hold of him and he has an enemy more ruthless to fight. It was this way with a well-known American officer in the recent war. Heart disease developed, and he says in writing: "My ailments were palpitation, fluttering and pain about my heart. I used two bottles of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. I feel like a new man and would not flinch at facing another campaign. It's a wonderful heart specific." For sale by C. McCallum & Co.
