

PREMIER ASQUITH INTRODUCES IRISH HOME RULE BILL

BRITISH COMMONS CROWDED WHEN THIRD LIBERAL MEASURE FOR DUBLIN HOUSE PRESENTED

Supreme Authority to Rest With Imperial Parliament, While Ireland Gets Real Autonomy in Regard to Irish Concerns.

THE MEASURE IS THE FIRST STEP IN A LARGE SCHEME OF DEVOLUTION

Matters Relating to the Army and Navy To Be Under Control of Imperial House—Stirring Ovation Given the Premier By Liberals and Nationalists.

[Canadian Press.]

London, April 11.—The Irish home rule bill, the third effort made by Liberal Governments of the United Kingdom in a quarter of a century to settle the quarrel between Great Britain and Ireland, was introduced in the House of Commons this afternoon by Premier Asquith.

The official title of the bill is "The Government of Ireland bill." Britishers have been becoming inured to political upheavals in recent years, so that the crowded chamber which Mr. Asquith faced when he nailed up the home rule flag today was a special tribute to the historic importance attached to the occasion.

The galleries set apart for members of the diplomatic corps, for the peers and for the public, were filled to their utmost capacity, while every seat in the body of the House was occupied, and an overflow of members stood in the gangways.

CHEERS FOR PREMIER.

Premier Asquith was greeted with a prolonged volley of cheers from the Nationalists and Liberals when he rose to speak.

He took up the narrative of home rule from the point at which the late William Ewart Gladstone left off nineteen years ago, pointing out that through all the political changes, and through peace and war, the insistence and persistence of the Irish demand for home rule had remained constant.

ULSTER CAN'T VETO.

The vote of Ireland, he said, was preponderantly in favor of home rule, and the right of a relatively small minority in Ulster to veto the will of the vast majority of the Irish people could not be admitted.

He had always presented the case of home rule for Ireland as the first step in a larger scheme of devolution. The separate concerns of the different parts of the United Kingdom could, he said, never be treated adequately until they had been handed over to their special representatives.

IMPERIAL HOUSE SUPREME.

The cardinal principle of the present home rule bill was, said the Premier, the supreme authority of the Imperial Parliament, while at the same time real autonomy is conferred on Ireland in regard to Irish concerns. The bill provides for the establishment of an Irish Parliament consisting of a Senate and a House of Commons, with power to make laws for peace, order and good government in Ireland.

THE CONSTABULARY.

The Irish constabulary is to be automatically transferred to the Irish Government after six years, and power is given by the bill to the Irish Parliament to demand the transfer of the old age pensions and insurance act to its control on giving a year's notice to the Imperial Government.

The Irish Parliament is debarré from altering the home rule bill or the power to appeal to the privy council.

RELIGIOUS EQUALITY.

Provision is made for the protection of religious equality in Ireland, and stipulating that the Irish Parliament cannot make laws, directly or indirectly, to establish or to endow any religion, or to prohibit the free exercise thereof, or to give a preference or privilege to any religion, or to make any religious ceremony a condition of validity of any marriage.

The lord lieutenant of Ireland is to have the power to vote or suspend any bill on the instruction of the imperial executive.

Any question regarding the interpretation of the home rule bill is to be settled by appeal to the judicial committee of the privy council.

MAKE-UP OF HOUSES.

The Irish Senate is to consist of 40 members, and the House of Representatives of 164, of which Ulster is to have 59 and the universities 2.

The Senate is to be composed of nominated members. In the first instance, the imperial executive is to control the nominations with a view to assuring the representation of the minority.

In case of disagreement the two Houses are to sit in joint session.

The lord lieutenant is to be head of the executive. There will be no religious bar, and he will hold office for a fixed term.

The authority of the executive is to be co-extensive with that of the Irish Parliament. The 164 representatives are to be elected by the existing constituencies, but no constituency is to have less than 27,000 population.

COLLECTION OF TAXES.

The collection of all taxes is to remain in the imperial service, and they will be paid into the imperial exchequer, which is to pay over to the Irish executive an amount equivalent to the expenditure on Irish services at the time of the passing of the act.

An additional sum of $250,000 yearly till it is reduced to one million, and this will diminish by $250,000 yearly till it is reduced to one million.

FINANCIAL POWERS.

The postal services are to be handed over to Ireland. The Irish Parliament is to have power to reduce or to discontinue the imperial taxes, excepting the income tax and the stamp and estate duties. It will also have power to alter the excise duties, but except in the case of beer and spirits, it is debarré from adding to the customs duties anything which will give a greater increase than ten per cent.

The Irish representation at Westminster is to be 42 members, one for every one hundred thousand of the population.

CARSON DENOUNCES.

Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Irish Unionist party, and member for Dublin University, denounced the Government's proposals as ridiculous and fantastic, and declared that the safeguards in the bill were delusions. If the Government passed the measure, Sir Edward declared, it would have no power on earth to resist the further demands of the Irish Nationalists.

EARLIER DISPATCHES.

London, April 11.—When the police who have charge of the Houses of Parliament opened the door of the members' entrance to the House of Commons at exactly 8 o'clock this morning, no fewer than 20 members were waiting on the threshold in order to secure seats for the opening of the

FARMER'S HORSE KILLED IN RUNAWAY

Mr. William Moore, of West Nissouri, in Bad Accident at London Junction.

DRAGGED UNDER WAGON

Driver Carried Along in Wreck Until Team Broke Away from the Vehicle.

William Moore, of the 4th concession, West Nissouri, had a narrow escape from death in a runaway at London Junction about noon today. He was badly shaken up and bruised, but will be around in a day or two. One of his fine team of horses was killed by colliding with a telegraph post. This horse figured in a runaway five years ago, it is said, when Mr. Moore's father was killed.

Mr. Moore had been in the city with a load of produce, and was driving home. He crossed the Grand Trunk track, and meeting a friend was chatting with him. A street car came up behind the rig, and the horses becoming frightened, plunged wildly.

The wagon was upset with Mr. Moore underneath. He was dragged fully 100 yards, when finally the horses broke away from the vehicle.

One Horse Killed. A number of spectators rushed to his assistance, and the man was lifted from underneath the wrecked wagon. He was taken into a neighbor's house and Dr. Schaefer summoned.

In the meantime the horses continued on the gallop to the crossing near the property formerly occupied by the Canadian Packing Company. There they swerved and one of them ran headlong into a telegraph pole, breaking its neck. The other was captured.

"Mr. Moore is not seriously hurt," Dr. Schaefer informed The Advertiser. "His arm is out and he is bruised, but there are no bones broken and no sign of internal injury. He is able to sit up, and declares that he will go home this afternoon. The man had a very narrow escape."

Five years ago the horse that was killed ran away in Nissouri Township, throwing Mr. Moore's father out of the rig, breaking his neck.

Since that time it has attempted to run away several times, but did little damage until today.

NO TRUTH IN REPORT THAT POPE WAS DEAD

Dispatch From Rome Denies Rumor That Originated at Spanish Capital.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, April 11.—4:27 p.m.—There is no truth in the report circulated throughout the world, based on a telegram from Madrid, that the Pope is dead.

Early today a report was given out at Madrid declaring that the Papal Nuncioature, at the Spanish capital, had received a private dispatch announcing the death of his holiness. In view of the pontiff's recent indisposition there was some credence given the rumor at first.

ROWELL'S POLICY BEARS FRUIT WHITNEY IS FORCED TO ACT

Local Temperance People Are Pleased With Results Up To Date.

The results of Mr. N. W. Rowell's "Banish the Bar" campaign are being made manifest daily, the latest being a number of amendments to the liquor license act by Sir James Whitney. The temperance people of the city are thankful for any restrictions whatever on the trade, as they will lead eventually to the complete curtailment of the traffic. "We are glad to be recognized," said Fred J. H. Bowman. "Some of the amendments that preventing workingmen from cashing their pay checks. That will do much to protect the families of these unfortunate men. We are glad for any step in advance, because it brings us closer to our aim—the abolition of the bar-room, in fact, the total abolition of the liquor traffic. To get what we want, the temperance party will have to be independent, and go after the men who make the laws."

SOWING WILL SOON COMMENCE IN THE COUNTY OF MIDDLESEX

Frost Is Almost All Out of the Ground and Fields Are Drying Up.

Sowing will be commenced in Middlesex County next week, if the weather continues fine.

The warm days of the past week have worked wonders in the country. The snow has completely disappeared, with the exception of a drift here and there. The frost is coming out of the ground rapidly, and the ground is drying up. It will be ready for working in a very few days. The roads are drying very fast.

"We will soon be ready for the land," said a Westminster man. "The roads have dried up well, and the frost has come out of the ground very quickly, much faster than we anticipated. Of course, some of the low-lying land is still quite wet, but by the time we get through with the high land, it will be ready, provided, of course, we have no setbacks. Seeding will not be very late."

We are getting busy in the north portion of the county," said a Williams man. "There are some drifts, but the snow otherwise has disappeared. The land in many instances will be ready before we are."

In London Township conditions are most favorable, and the other municipalities are almost as well advanced. It is expected that much of the spring grain will be in the ground by May 1.

HIGH COURT JUDGES MUST REGARD PRIOR DECISIONS

If Decision Deemed Wrong May Refer to Court of Appeal.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, April 11.—Judges of the high court are prevented hereafter from disregarding prior known decisions of other judges without the concurrence of the judge who gave the decision. This is a provision in the statute law amendment bill just introduced by Hon. J. J. Foy in the Legislature, and it is to amend the discretion act. If a judge deems the decision previously given to be wrong and of sufficient importance to be considered by a higher court, he may refer the case before him to a divisional court or the court of appeal.

No divisional court is allowed to disregard previous decisions either.

Provision is also made in the statute law amendment bill that no debtor called before a court on a judgment summons can be committed to jail for debt, where it is shown that security has been given for the debt, or where interest or commission exceeding 5 per cent, has been paid.

Chatham Man Is Appointed to Look After the Estate of R. G. Coatsworth.

PROPERTY IN BUFFALO

Patient Left the Institution Here Last October, and Has Not Been Seen Since.

Buffalo, April 11.—The Buffalo Commercial says tonight: "Caleb Sidney Coatsworth, of Chatham, Ont., has been appointed by Justice MacIntyre, of Buffalo, as committee of the person and property of his missing brother, Robert G. Coatsworth, who escaped from an asylum at London, Ont., on Oct. 28 last, and has not been seen since. The missing man owns property here valued at about $12,000."

The asylum authorities informed The Advertiser today that Robert G. Coatsworth left that institution in October, 1911. He had been an inmate for nearly four years, and was regarded as a model patient. He was sane in many things, and while at the institution worked with the carpenters. Last October he disappeared, and though a search was made for him, he has never been seen or heard from since. He was well able to take care of himself, and it is thought that he has secured work on some farm.

MARCH TROOPS TO GODERICH

Commanders of District Are Securing the Opinions of the Officers.

WILL LONDON GET CAMP?

According to Feeling in Some Quarters the Annual Drill of the Militia Will Not Occur Here.

The commanders of the different regiments in this district acting under instructions from Ottawa, are sending circular letters to the officers of the various corps sounding them on the advisability of having their men march from their base to Goderich for camp this summer.

In this city this fact has rather dampened the hopes of those who have been working to have the camp brought back to London, but there are some who are still willing to believe that the Department of Militia will make a change and drill the troops here as in former years.

The scheme, as outlined to the officers, for the big march, is to have the different bodies equipped as for war, with full supplies of all sorts, and then have regiments from all directions in Western Ontario converge upon Goderich.

Of course, the plan would work even better here, and it may be that the name of Goderich used in this connection has no special significance.

LIBERAL PROBE OF DR. PYNE CHOKED OFF IN COMMITTEE

The Minister of Education Keeps Committee Waiting and the Chairman Promptly Finds Meeting Cannot be Legally Held While the House Is in Session.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, April 11.—It became quite apparent in the public accounts committee of the Legislature this morning that Mr. J. C. Elliott, chief Opposition critic, will not be allowed to probe Hon. Dr. Pyne, minister of education, regarding bilingual schools at will. Dr. Pyne was summoned to appear before the committee at 10 o'clock, and did not put in an appearance till a few minutes to 11, and Mr. Elliott's first question to him was answered curtly. His next question was ruled out of order by Chairman C. H. Ferguson, and further inquiry was absolutely cut off by the announcement that the Legislature was in session, and the committee had no right to sit while the House was on.

Those Letters.

Hon. Dr. Pyne was asked by Mr. Elliott to explain certain letters written by him, stating that the children of the French ratepayers must be attended to with regard to certain regulations.

Dr. Pyne said that the letter would speak for itself, if Mr. Elliott could read, and Chairman Ferguson ruled that the Minister of Education need not answer, as "there was the letter and there were the regulations filed as exhibits." They would speak for themselves.

Mr. Elliott tried to pursue his point, but Mr. Elliott drew attention to the fact that the House was now in session, and the committee could not legally continue. Mr. Elliott moved that the committee sit again at one o'clock, when the House adjourned, but the chairman decided that he would not sit at 1 p.m., and adjourned to 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Mr. Elliott said it was quite apparent that the committee intended to choke off the inquiry.

The committee had waited for nearly an hour for Dr. Pyne to come, and if the same delay were occasioned tomorrow it might be impossible for him to get the information he was seeking.

"Well," said Mr. G. Ferguson, "you have undertaken to put in correspondence, and regulations, as exhibits, and that should satisfy. You can't examine witness on exhibits that have been put in. They will speak for themselves."

SHOULD CONSIDER COUNTY'S OFFER

Many People Believe the City Should Not Hastily Reject It.

MEANS MUCH TO CITY

A Free Site in a Good Locality and $100,000 Toward the Building—Ald. Coles Opposed.

There will be a meeting of the city hall committee this evening at 7:15 o'clock to discuss the question of joint buildings. The proposition made by the county council on Tuesday has been received, and will be dealt with.

The opinion of the committee has changed but little from that expressed on Wednesday, and those in touch with the situation have given up hope that it will be entertained. The aldermen are quite opposed to the 80 and 20 proposition, and it is not likely that any other will be made the county.

A recommendation will be made to build a city hall on a site to be selected later. From present indications, there are two locations in the running—the property occupied by the Bank of Montreal and the Merchants' Bank on Richmond street, and the corner of Waterloo and Dundas streets.

Both these have many supporters, and it is expected that one of them will be finally selected by the city hall committee.

An Imposing Structure. The building will be an imposing one, costing about $300,000. It will be necessary to secure additional debentures, as the sum of $175,000 only is available for the building.

"We will meet and discuss the situation," said Ald. Coles, chairman of the committee. "I am quite positive that we will paddle our own canoe." Considerable influence is being brought upon the aldermen, however, to have them seriously consider the proposition made by the county. It is pointed out that the city will secure a site, worth from $100,000 to $150,000 for nothing, and in addition a grant of $100,000 towards the building. This, it is claimed, should not be idly refused, but accepted.

CITY COUNCIL NOW HAS NO SAY IN REGARD TO LOCAL PARKS

City of London Bill, Finally Passed, Makes the Point Clear.

The city of London bill has been finally passed, and copies of it have been received by City Clerk Baker. According to the bill, the water commissioners now have control of the parks of the city. It was the impression some time ago, that the city council would have to pass a bylaw to officially hand them over to the commissioners, but the act plainly states that when it becomes operative, the commissioners have control of the parks. A bylaw was being made ready for Monday night next, but it will not be necessary now to do so.

Absolute Control. "The commissioners are absolutely in control at this time," explained Mayor Graham. "We have nothing more to do with the parks, other than raise the money necessary for them. The commissioners will prepare an estimate of the cost of maintenance, limited to one-half a mill each year, and we will pass the amount for them. This item will not figure in either the

TRIPLE ALLIANCE HAS BEEN RENEWED

As Result of Kaiser's Visit to Austrian and Italian Kings.

ITALY UNDER CRITICISM

German Press Says Combination Must Be Maintained Against England and France.

[Canadian Press.] New York, April 11.—A cable from Berlin says:

It may be stated on high official authority that an "understanding" in principle, which insures the prolongation of "Bismarck's masterpiece," the triple alliance, for another term of years, has now been arrived at between the German, Austro-Hungarian and Italian governments.

There is reason to believe that this understanding is of comparatively recent date and that the Kaiser's meeting with the King of Italy in March was not definitely decided upon until the four partners between the allied governments had led to the result mentioned.

Italy "Disloyal." While the statements of the powers in the triple alliance since the last renewal have never ceased to extol its virtues, their utterances have been regarded in Germany as more or less in the nature of "disloyalty" in recent years in favor of France and England, especially during the Balkan and Moroccan crisis.

The view repeatedly found expression that the alliance for all reliable purposes had become a purely German-Austrian affair. Many astute politicians doubted whether it would survive the Tripolitan war, in which Germany's sympathy had been so outspokenly on the side of her ally's enemy.

The current number of a prominent review, the Sueddeutsche Monatshefte, under the title "The Renewal of the Triple Alliance," contains a characteristically savage attack on the value of the Italian partnership.

In responsible Italian quarters such polemics as "Spectator" Germany indulges in the Monatshefte are described as "utterly futile" inasmuch as the renewal of the alliance is already practically a fait accompli.

The Post, commenting on the Monatshefte's article, declares that Germany must impose as a condition for Italy's continued membership of the alliance the strengthening of her armaments, especially at sea. "In order that she may be more independent of English and French guns."

waterworks or electrical departments' expenditure, being a separate item altogether. We will raise the money for them."

The other items are unchanged, and are the same as some time ago. Some argument was started at the city hall today, as to whether or not the West London embankment was under the jurisdiction of the water commissioners. It was claimed in certain quarters that it was a portion of the parks and boulevards of the city.

City Engineer Wright declared that there was nothing in that contention, as the embankment was neither a park nor a boulevard.

GREAT HORSE TRADE SHOWS
HOW LAND IS BACK TO PASTURAGE

More Than a Carload a Week Are Shipped Away—
Mayor Would Like to Bring American Farmers In.

[By Arthur C. Bowman, Advertiser Commissioner.]

Seaford, April 10.—Seaford, the centre of one of the best agricultural districts in Northwestern Ontario, is another one of those towns whose surrounding acres, half-depopulated by the rush to the West, are awaiting the coming of the advance guard of the back-to-the-land movement. For miles about this energetic northern town there stretches a belt of the finest general agricultural land in the Dominion. Yet, with land selling at values much lower than in other communities where the productivity of the soil is actually less, there are many farms now used only for grazing lands which formerly produced heavy crops of grain.

Hundred-acre farms, with magnificent houses and buildings, bring from $60 to $75 per acre, and in some places bare land, the best in the province, can be bought for as low as $40 or $50.

Ask any resident where the trouble lies and he will tell you.

Young Men Won't Stay.

"Young men won't stay on the farms. We cannot get the help we need to properly cultivate our fields." Businessmen whose daily occupations bring them in touch with the farming community say that while most farmers around Seaford are making a good living they are not getting anything like the fullest possible returns from their land. Ask them why, and they say: "Lack of labor and lack of intensive methods of farming."

"I have often thought," said Mayor C. J. Greig, who has resided in Seaford for more than twenty years, "that if a deputation could be formed to visit the crack farming States of Ohio, Illinois and Indiana, and could induce some of the farmers over there to come over and look at the land which we have right here in Huron County, there would be such a rush to this section that the population would soon be doubled. Some of the land which is now selling at from $60 to $75 would be worth $200 per acre. All this land needs is intensive cultivation to bring out the best of its resources."

Help Need of District.

"At present there are not enough men on the land to farm it properly. Where a man has 100 acres and is fortunate enough to be able to get help to work it he makes more money than his neighbor with perhaps twice the acreage, who is forced to let a portion of his farm lie idle. If some of our young men who go away could only be induced to put the same brain power and energy which they exhibit in other fields to work right here at home the profitable results both to themselves and to the county would be simply incalculable. With our fertile soil, which is level and easily worked, without being low or marshy, there is scarcely a bit of waste land for miles around. The farms are crying for men to make this district the real garden of Ontario."

"There is no better place in Ontario for the city man who wants to get back to the land than this very district," said Mr. George M. Chesney, a cattle dealer of many years' experience in Seaford and vicinity. "The great attraction here for such men is to be found in the fact that land prices are so low in proportion to actual values. Fine farms can often be bought for prices that are but little better than the worth of the buildings on the land and unimproved land can be bought at correspondingly low figures."

The Finest Horses.

"The man who is willing to learn and who will put his best efforts, plus good common sense, has everything in his favor. He can get cheaply some of the best agricultural land in the province, and besides producing good crops he can do as hundreds of other farmers in this vicinity are doing today, raise a good colt or two every year at a handsome profit. The sweet, strong grass of Huron County pastures, coupled with intelligent breeding, produces the finest draft horses in Canada. In fact, this section has always been noted for its good horses, and the importance of the horse business is increasing every year. Cattle, too, do well here, and there are many persons who make money by feeding stockers for the market, growing their feed on their own farms. We can grow as good corn, wheat, oats and barley as can be found anywhere."

Meanwhile, even handicapped as it is by lack of labor and the draining away of its young men, this particular portion of Huron County is not doing so badly.

The Trade in Horseflesh.

Statistics compiled by Collector of Customs F. G. Neelin show among other things that 59 carloads of horses were shipped during the past year from Seaford alone—better than a carload a week. And these were good horses, a conservative estimate placing their average value at $300 each. Figuring 15 horses to the car, though many cars can carry 18, the average value per carload would amount to $4,500. For the year then, the amount of money paid for horses at Seaford would amount to $265,500. This estimate probably falls somewhat below the actual figure, as there are many instances where exceptionally good teams have sold for $750 and $800. There were also shipped 400 carloads of hay and 355 carloads of cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry, as well as 7 carloads of hides.

Although it was a very poor year for apples, 10,000 barrels of this fruit were sent out of the county, from this town, at an average price of from $1 to $1.50 per barrel. A small percentage of this fruit, which came from sprayed, carefully-cultivated orchards, brought much higher prices. The growing sugar beet industry contributed 30 carloads of beets to swell the total, and there were 100 tons of creamery products.

So it appears that the optimists who are predicting a great future for Huron County have something besides mere "hot air" on which to base their predictions.

HURON SURVIVORS RAISING STOCK

Farmers Left in the Vicinity of Seaford Use Land for Pasturage.

PROFITS ARE EXTENSIVE

One Man Feeds Stockers With Good Results—The Horse Industry.

[By The Advertiser Commissioner.]
Seaford, April 10.—Many Seaford farmers are finding good money in the raising of fattened cattle for market. The large farms with big pasture areas which are a consequence of depopulation of population through western emigration lend themselves very well to stock farming, and the heavy loam produces grass rich in substance and nutritive value on which cattle thrive as it is impossible for them to do on lighter soils.

Nearly every farmer raises a few steers for the market while devoting most of his time to other branches of agriculture, and there are many who make a specialty of feeding stockers, devoting their land which is not used for pasture to the production of ensilage and other cattle feed. As an example of what can be done along this line, the following actual instance is given. A man bought 75 stockers at less than five cents a pound. During the feeding season they each gained from 250 to 300 pounds and were sold at seven cents. An estimated gain of about $40 per steer, less the cost of feed, which, as raised on the farm, is difficult to estimate. Figuring it at 50 per cent of the profit, there would still be $20 clear for each steer, or a total profit of $1,500.

Horse raising is equally profitable. A horse dealer estimated for The Advertiser that counting in the values of the light farm work which can be done by the animal after it is two years old, it should not cost more than $100 to raise a colt which can be sold at four years for from $300 to $400. Many farmers find it profitable to market a horse or two every year.

Another large and growing industry which is more or less consequent upon conditions brought about by the trek to the West, is flax culture. Much old pasture land, so infested by grubs as to be almost useless for other crops, has been put into flax, which is planted and harvested by the flax mill; the farmer receiving a rental of $10 per acre for the use of his land. After a few years of this treatment, the grubs, which appear to have no effect on the tough, fibrous flax roots give up the struggle, and the land is again ready for other crops.

GOOD GOING UNIVERSAL

Best Horses and Best Roads to Drive

Citizens.

[By The Advertiser Commissioner.]
Seaford, April 10.—Good roads form not the least attraction which Huron County holds out to the stranger with- in her gates. After wallowing through some of the seas of mud which disfigure certain of the best sections of Western Ontario, a drive over the splendid gravel highways in this district is, indeed, a treat.

It is the boast of Huron County that she has the best horses in the province and the best roads to drive them on. There have always been good horses in Huron County, thanks to the wisdom of early settlers, and some years ago, the county, already ahead of many of its neighbors in the matter of roads, raised on its own responsibility something like $250,000 for highway improvement. Ever since then the concessions and side roads have been well kept up and the good results of this policy are apparent to anyone who had occasion to visit this county. Of course, every road is not like a city pavement, and there are occasional stretches of bad going, but, all in all, "Huron County" can be pointed out as an example to less progressive districts in the matter of highway regulation.

ASSOCIATION COMMENDS THE ADVERTISER'S WORK

West Lorne Industrial Society Declares That Good Results Are in Evidence—An Inspiration to Those in the District

Mr. Hugh A. Carmichael, corresponding secretary of the West Lorne Industrial Association, writes as follows:
"At the regular meeting of the West Lorne Industrial Association on Friday evening last, I was instructed to advise you that a hearty vote of thanks was tendered The London Advertiser for the very able articles and write-up on this section in and around West Lorne which you published in connection with your 'Stay in Ontario' campaign."
"We are pleased to say that good results are already in evidence, several parties being here from quite a distance to look over our land, and their verdict in every instance has been that we have little idea of the great opportunities right at our doors. Good results are bound to follow, both from the inspiration given to those already looking for great future, largely from the publicity given by your valuable journal, and others interested in the good work."

"You are to be commended on your activity in forwarding the interest of this grand old Western Ontario."

Appreciation From the West.

A financial man of Winnipeg has written to one of the directors of The Advertiser in regard to the articles on "Stay in Ontario." He has the following to say:

"The necessity is put upon me to extend my appreciation of the work The Advertiser is doing in the exploitation of Western Ontario. This is the best thing in that section that I have seen in years, and I only hope that other sections of Old Ontario will take up the slogan that The Advertiser has adopted—'Stay in Ontario.'"

"In its enterprise and public spirit, The Advertiser looks almost like a Western paper to me. I think that the press out here has had a great deal to do with the development of the West, and The Advertiser is certainly keeping pace with the times."

"The appreciation of the local papers on both sides of politics must be gratifying to you, and to the directorate of The Advertiser. I have been reading the letters with a great deal of interest, and I certainly hope that The Advertiser will keep on in the good work."

INGERSOLL TO HAVE BUSY BUILDING YEAR

Much New Work Is Already
Under Way and More
Is Planned.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ingersoll, April 11.—Much spring work has already been undertaken in the town, and the indications point to considerable activity in the building line. While Ingersoll has not experienced any big boom during recent years, substantial progress is reflected in the many extensions to the already large and busy factories and the fine residences that have been erected. Several buildings are already under construction, and the summer will likely be a busy one for mechanics.

At the regular meeting of Court of Canadian Order of Foresters, Mr. W. J. Kirbyson, who has disposed of the Ingersoll steam laundry, and will try his hand at farming, was made the recipient of a handsome gold watch suitably inscribed. The timepiece was presented in view of Mr. Kirbyson's intended departure, and in view of his faithful services as a member of the court. During the years that he has been identified with the order he has occupied all the chairs, and rendered valuable assistance in the affairs generally. Mr. Kirbyson will be greatly missed, not only in fraternal circles, but by the members of the Ingersoll Gun Club and scores of other friends. Property owners are busily engaged these days cleaning up their premises, and it is gratifying to note that in most instances they do not wait until the threatening placards issued by the medical health officer have been displayed. In all work pertaining to the sanitary condition of the town the citizens have shown a considerable spirit of co-operation, and statistics show that the health of Ingersoll is always good.

Chairman Neff, of the board of education, and F. G. Walley, representing the county council, are in Toronto attending the convention of the Ontario Educational Association.

Mrs. S. King has returned, after spending Easter with friends in London.

Mr. Wm. Fluke, of New York, an Ingersoll old boy, was in town yesterday.

These Umbrellas Are Worth Coming for, Even Through the Rain 35 Dozen Men's and Women's, Special Sale, 95c

Let us hope for a fine day for tomorrow that all may prepare for the April showers while these bargains last. A clearing lot from a manufacturer of 35 dozen, including Men's and Women's Umbrellas, which are so-called seconds, being slightly imperfect in weave. We bought them at less than half regular value. The frames, which are the most important part of the umbrella from a standpoint of serviceableness, are all perfect, strong paragon make, with no imperfections whatever. The imperfections, where such can be found, are very slight, and amount only to imperfections in weave. There is not a hole or broken edge in a single umbrella, and if we did not mention the fact, not one in ten would ever find the slightest defect, and we are satisfied that the wearing qualities are not in the slightest degree impaired. The coverings are of silk mixed taffeta, some taped and hemmed edges, on strong paragon frames, with great assortment of handles, in director, horn, boxwood crooks, mission wood and Congo wood crooks, both men's and women's styles.

35 dozen in the lot, to be cleared Friday and Saturday, while they last, each..... 98c

Every woman should have a suitable Dress Form. The difficulties encountered in home dress-making without one of these are too well known to need any comment. The problem of fitting oneself is difficult and generally unsatisfactory, and it is not always convenient to have some one else to take your place, whereas with a suitable dress form always at hand in correct shape and size, the best results possible with the least amount of work can easily be obtained.

In trimming, making over or repairing a dress, on one of these forms you can readily get at every part of it, and observe the effect as you proceed, which saves much ripping and doing over at the expense of much time and patience.

A Hall-Borchert Dress Form will more than pay for itself in one season. After using one you will wonder how you ever got along without it, and we are satisfied you will never want to be without it. You will be surprised how easy your dressmaking will be.

THE BIG PROBLEM

Toronto Trying To Solve High Cost of Living Riddle.

Toronto, April 10.—Another hour was devoted by the board of trade conference committee to the topic of "High Cost of Living" at the weekly luncheon today.

Several new and cogent explanations of prevalent price levels were adduced by the speculators, and almost as many solutions of the problems were presented. A special committee was formed to "take the matter under advisement" and draft a report embodying specific recommendations for submission to the Governments and other authorities.

Some of the remedies suggested were good roads, a parcels post, business methods on the farm, development of radials, specialization in farming, and an increased supply of agricultural labor.

LONDON, THURSDAY, APRIL 11.

BRITISH LORDS AS ONTARIO FARMERS.

Lord Somers and Lord Hyde are to experiment in truck farming in Ontario County, near Pickering, having purchased 200 acres.

Particularly for this kind of farming, and for Britishers with capital, small or large, this province offers greater inducements than the West. An Englishman will find the social and physical surroundings, and the methods of agriculture, more familiar here than in the prairie provinces, and he will have more of the amenities to which he has been accustomed at home. This is a province of mixed farming, with a growing need of more intensive forms of cultivation. The neglected opportunities in this district are being realized by the more progressive Ontario farmers, and seized by Americans attracted by the low price of land. This great field has been almost overlooked by British immigration, but for British farmers of some means there is nothing in Canada to rival it. Conditions are so much like those they have left that they have not to begin to learn their business anew, as in the West, and the break with the old country is not so severe. There is, of course, no room here for the British land system, in which a tenant carries the landlord on his back, and the tenant farmer himself wishes to rank as a "gentleman," and not soil his hands. The occupying farmer in Canada must be a working farmer. Lord Somers and Lord Hyde will discover this if they do not already know it. It is to be hoped they are not starting out with "lord of the manor" notions, as their experiment may have an important bearing upon British immigration. If they succeed they will doubtless interest other moneyed Britishers in Ontario agriculture.

"SYNDICALISM."

The British people are hearing this word often now, and may hear it often. It is not unknown in the United States, where Syndicalists run the strike of woolen workers at Lawrence, Mass. In France, Syndicalism is absorbing the old trade unionism and overshadowing Socialism. It is French in origin, a product of the temper and conditions of the Latin people. Its creed is revolutionary, the doctrine of class war in its extreme form. Its leaders profess to have lost faith in political action. In France and Italy the workers have failed utterly to capture the political machinery. Labor leaders who have entered Parliament are suspected by their own class of yielding to the blandishments of the aristocracy or the bourgeoisie. In Great Britain, the measure of success won by the Labor party has been to some extent a safety valve, though in the rank and file of organized labor there is a tendency to look upon the old trades union machinery and leadership as too conservative. In Germany, Socialism, not Syndicalism, has captured the working classes.

The Syndicalists ignore the state altogether as a class-made, class-controlled institution, and propose to make a direct war upon capital, their supreme weapon being the general strike. For this there must be organization upon trade union lines, but on a broader scale. The workers are to be banded together, not in relatively small unions, but in large groups. For instance, all workers connected with transportation would be united in one body, instead of being divided into several, so that they would be able to paralyze the whole transportation system of a country at one blow, force out the private owners, capture the property, and operate it for the benefit of the laborers themselves. Other industries would be attacked by the same methods. By a series of shocks the Syndicalists hope to overthrow the walls of capitalism, and enter the citadel. Syndicalism differs from state socialism in this particular. The Socialists would have the state own the instruments of production, and control and direct all industries. The Syndicalists believe that industries should be controlled by those who work them; not by a board of directors, or by the Government, but by the laborers themselves.

The leader of the English Syndicalists, Tom Mann, is now under arrest for urging soldiers to disobey any command to shoot at strikers, but it cannot be said that the new idea has yet taken a serious hold on the mind of the British working class. Certainly it had nothing to do with the coal strike; the miners had no notion of getting control of the mines. Syndicalism is alien to the British temper, as revolutionary violence has always been. The British workman will continue to make use of the trade unions and the political machine, though he may grumble at both, and he is more likely to embrace Socialism than Syndicalism if he goes to extremes.

MR. LAUGHTON'S STUMP SPEECH.

Mr. John H. Laughton, of Parkhill, president of the Ontario Educational Association, seems to regard that distinguished post as a party appointment. His presidential address was a stump speech, which might have been written by Dr. Pyne. Against the consensus of teachers' opinion, he advised the Government "to continue getting rid of model schools." He repeated Sir James Whitney's assertion that there were no bilingual schools—and Dr. Merchant among his auditors! On this question his remarks were needlessly offensive to French-Canadians. "Why is there no English-German school? Because the German doesn't break the law!" He implied in this that the French were law-breakers in having bilingual schools, a plea that even the Government dares not enter in its own defense. Having exhibited himself as a servile apologist for a blundering education department, Mr. Laughton took a fling at the churches, advising them to spend in home mission work the money they are sending to China, concluding with this admonition:

"We are troubled in the schools with the home and the church. The home doesn't want to do anything. They want us to teach morals and sex hygiene, and a lot of other things, and I say we can't do it. Neither church nor home can foist it on the schools."

Altogether, Mr. Laughton's address was in bad taste, and must have been mortifying to everybody but Dr. Pyne and himself. The teachers may safely disclaim responsibility, as Mr. Laughton is the appointee of the trustees' section of the association. The majority of the trustees were probably not aware of Mr. Laughton's record of keen political activity in North Middlesex, or, at any rate, they had no notion that he would carry his propensity into a sphere where partisanship is supposed to be abjured.

This is a day that Gladstone should have lived to see.

Kipling's latest ode, reeking with an un-Christian spirit, is nailed to a text from Isaiah. This is adding blasphemy to bigotry.

The Canadian Senate, for presuming to amend Government bills, is threatened by Canadians who applauded the House of Lords for destroying Government measures, and who went over its loss of its veto powers.

"Our local Liberal contemporary says this journal approves Bourassa's naval policy, and that Bourassa and Laurier are at one in the matter. Then is everybody satisfied at last?"—Free Press.

Try again. You may strike the truth of the matter if you keep on.

School Inspector Froats told the Ontario Educational Association that Ontario needs 1,400 teachers immediately, and from 500 to 800 more annually than the present yearly output. But the department shut off a large part of the supply by abolishing the model schools.

We are told that the course of certain Conservatives in subscribing funds for Mr. Sutherland's defence of his seat "is strongly resented by friends of Mr. Neely." It would be more to the point to ask why so many Conservatives prefer Mr. Sutherland to Mr. Neely. The latter was defeated by Conservatives, and he should take the hint and stay where they left him—at home.

Half a dozen members of the House of Commons have been already slated for Government jobs, two having been already appointed. Such appointments are permissible and not necessarily immoral, and they are made in Great Britain as in Canada. The practice was not abused by the Laurier Government, but it was indiscriminately attacked by the Opposition. A change from one side of the House to the other brings many other changes in its train.

THE UNTREATABLE BAR.

A. D. 1912.

[A few words from Alaska Bill on a sap-search with Bun Chalmers.]

To approach to a bar
Whar the treatin' is barred
Is a kind of a jar,
Sort of sudden and hard
On the nerves of a gent from Alaska,
Who comes in for to moisten a pard.

The bell boy he snickers
And laughs in his "smoot"
At me axin a horn
Till upwards of three
'Cause the bar of the ranch is built hornless—
But he paused when I motioned to shoot.

He called me a Sir—
And did straight intimate,
That though he was trapped
He knewed of a gate,
And he thereupon showed us a parlor,
Adorned with a mantel and grate.

And he begged us a most
With the tears in his eyes
To choose our own serpent,
And mention the size
And he'd bring the same up in a jiffy—
Which, considerin' our weapons, was wise.

So we put in a time,
Whil h was pleasant and free,
And the bell boy was busy
Till upwards of three
(I refer to the time in the mornin').
Which was soothin' to Chalmers and me.

So now, brother pals,
You can set up the kegs,
In a reasonable way
Without tirlin' your legs,
You ain't got to glue to no counter,
As stiff as a settin' of eggs.

So I cert'nly claim
That Jim Whitney is white,
And whenever he fishes
Them fishes'll bite,
And those is Bun Chalmers' opinion,
And we're stickin' that solemn and TIGHT.

Yours'n, ALASKA BILL.

Do not let us imagine that an ending of this coal strike will enable us to settle down comfortably to a long era of industrial peace. No such thing. SIGNS OF SPRING.

When the ash pile fills the cellar
And the tin can fills the yard,
When a feller's sort of lazy,
And the work comes mighty hard;
When the wife starts in to hintin'
That housecleanin' time is near,
And the library starts to hanker
For the annual book order,
When the ball teams get to startin'
For the good old sunny south,
And the robin comes a-hoppin'
With his breakfast in his mouth;
When the old sun starts to shinin'
Upon both sides of the street,
And the newly-painted autos
Come out lookin' trim and neat;
When the overcoats get heavy
And are hard to lug around,
And a feller gets to longin'
For a sight of real old ground;
When the canned goods all grow
tasteless,
And the pancakes grow passe,
And the good old soapstone griddle
Is hung up out of the way;
When the deer bark's empty
And the sanderkraut is all gone
And a feller starts to dig around
On new seed for his lawn;
When the wife is plantin' gardens
And the tomatoes start to sing,
It is purty middlin' certain
That it's gettin' on toward spring.

OUR DAILY BRIDGE.

[Chicago Tribune.]
"Give us this day our daily bridge" might be the prayer of too many American women who could find something better to pray for and to do.

The bridge habit—for money, of course—has become so prevalent that it deserves to be outlawed without gloves. Among our only leisure class—namely, that of the women whose means raise them above the necessity of housework or self-support—the bridge game has become one of the most important of daily functions. Very few duties, probably no pleasures, take precedence over it. It absorbs time and strength, and in some cases ill-spends it. It is a waste of intelligence, education, and opportunity waste hours upon it. If an American woman in the twentieth century possessed of leisure and literacy, devotes her after hours to playing bridge, she is either the victim of a vicious habit and needs a cure, or has a poverty-stricken conception of life.

SHELburne ODDFELLOWS WELCOME GRAND MASTER

Dufferin Degree Team Was Present on Occasion of Official Visit.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Shelburne, April 11.—At the last regular meeting of the local Oddfellows, Grand Master S. A. Popplestone, of Blyth, was present, and the lodge of instruction held here annually was conducted by Bro. Colgan, D. D. G. M., of Dufferin district.

The lodge opened at 10:30 a.m., and closed at 12 o'clock to await the arrival of the train carrying the brothers of Orangeville and Grand Valley. Sharply at 1 o'clock the lodge was called to order, and Dufferin degree team of Dufferin, under the leadership of Captain Todd, degree master, was called to take the chairs, and put on the initiatory degree, and five candidates were led from darkness to light. The work of the degrees was also exemplified by Dufferin lodge, and fourteen candidates were made acquainted with the teachings of friendship, love and truth.

The grand master made quite a brilliant address, dealing with the past, present and future of the order. He also presented to the district a district deputy grand master's collar from Harry Hooper, of Toronto.

Addresses were delivered by Bro. Maudsley and Bro. Ennis, Bros. Thos. Cornett, who has been ill for some months, was present. The lodge closed to accompany the grand master to the train. The procession, about two hundred and fifty strong, was marshalled by the bandmaster with the band in the lead.

Young Man Found Murdered in Saskatchewan Bush.

[Canadian Press.]

Melville, Sask., April 11.—The body of an unknown young man, obviously murdered, was found in the bush north of here yesterday. He had been shot and stabbed to death. His body was dressed, but all clues to his identity had been removed. His shoes showed Slater store, St. Paul, and were new. He was apparently about 20 years old.

CAUGHT A BAD COLD.

DEVELOPED BRONCHITIS. SHE COULD HARDLY SPEAK.

Bronchitis begins with a tightness across the chest, difficulty of breathing, hoarseness, and there is a dry, harsh, coughy cough.

After a few days mucous begins to be raised. This is at first white, but later of a greenish or yellow color, and is occasionally streaked with blood.

Cure the first symptoms of bronchitis by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and thus prevent it becoming chronic and perhaps turning to consumption.

Mrs. Edward Travers, Campbellton, N.B., writes: "I thought it my duty to write and let you know what your wonderful medicine has done for me. I caught a very bad cold which developed into bronchitis. I was so choked up I could hardly breathe. I tried many medicines but they did me no good, and I had almost given up in despair. A friend advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle and felt much better, and by the time I had taken four I was completely cured, and I can assure you I cannot say too much in its praise, as it is all you claim for it, and more."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25 cents. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

OPIUM SMUGGLERS IN RACE WITH POLICE

An Exciting Motor Boat Contest at Niagara Falls.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Tonawanda, N. Y., April 11.—An exciting race between two motor boats through dangerous ice floes in the Upper Niagara River and the recovery of several hundred dollars' worth of contraband opium from the river-bed, resulted early today from information furnished to the police here by a Grand Island farmer.

The message said a motor boat without lights had just crossed from the Canadian shore and was lying off Goose Island, apparently awaiting a signal from the American side. The signal the boat received was probably a warning, for the moment a police boat put out there was a splash, and the motor boat in the river started down-stream at full speed. There was a sharp race to mid-river, but the pursuit had to be abandoned because of the danger of colliding with ice floes.

From the river-bed where the strange craft had anchored, the officers secured two forty-pound tins of opium. Probably more will be recovered on further search.

RIDOUT STREET PEOPLE VEXED WITH COUNCIL

Residents of South Side Want a Pavement at Once.

Residents of Ridout street, in South London, are taking strong objection to the decision of the members of the board of works that no more permanent pavements be laid until some scheme is sanctioned by the people for the disposal of storm water.

It is claimed that petitions have been signed almost unanimously for permanent pavements along about ten blocks on Ridout street south, and that the bylaw was passed last year for the main arteries used by the farmers coming into London, should be completed with ready.

The street railway company will have to pay one-third of the cost of the pavement on Ridout street south, so the expenditure is really not so great as it would be on other thoroughfares. Ridout street is now in a fearful condition, and any effort to improve matters, especially on one of the main arteries used by the farmers coming into London, should be completed with ready.

The Chances Against You

Unfortunately nervous diseases do not right themselves, and the wasting process which has brought you to this condition keeps right on until there is a complete breakdown.

FLOWERS AND GARDENING

The Sweet Pea.

One of the most deservedly popular flowers of the day is the sweet pea. It is a favorite because of its beauty, its fragrance, its great freedom of bloom, and its usefulness for cutting. No garden can afford to be without it, if there is space enough to accommodate it.

Many persons fail with it because they do not understand some of its requirements. It is a plant that likes to have its roots deep in the soil, where they will be cool in hot weather, and on this account shallow planting almost always results in failure. It is also a plant that likes to get well to growing before warm weather sets in; hence the necessity of planting it early in the season.

In order to secure coolness for its roots, it is advisable to cultivate it on the trench system. This consists in digging a trench about six inches deep and sowing the seeds in it. This should be done as soon as the ground is in working condition in spring. Sow the seeds thickly—no more than an inch apart. Cover with about an inch of soil, which should be tramped down firmly. When the young plants have grown to be about three inches tall throw out from the trench, and continue to do this until the surface is level. In this way we get the roots of the plant down deep enough in the soil to insure coolness and moisture for them during the hot weather season.

The vines must have good support. Common brush suits them better than anything else, but it is not an easy thing for the city gardener to get. Some persons who can get it object to the looks of it. But I would advise the use of it if possible, and trust to the plants to do the rest of the work.

A good substitute for brush is coarse meshed wire netting. As soon as the plants begin to bloom begin to cut from them. The more you cut the more they will have for cutting prevents the production of seed, and the plants, in their effort to perpetuate their kind will keep on making an effort to do this and the first step in the process is the production of flower. If care is taken to remove the blossoms as soon as they begin to fade, the plants will continue to bloom until frost comes, but if seed is allowed to ripen, you will have but few flowers during the latter part of the season.

Most persons buy packages of seed in which all colors are mixed. The result is brilliant so far as variety of color goes, but it is never satisfactory to one who has a keen eye for color harmony, for among plants grown from mixed seeds there will be many that will not harmonize. This is particularly true of the reds and blues. Pleasing as they are when grown by themselves, they introduce a discordant note into the color scheme. It is allowed to place among the pinks and lavenders and other delicate colors.

I would, therefore, always advise purchasing seed in which each color is by itself. But if you are fond of a variety of colors, try the pure white, the pale pink, the delicate lavender and the soft yellow, and you will have the most harmonious in combination and enough contrast to bring out each color well. Confine your selection to these colors this season, and I will venture the prediction that you will be so well pleased with the result that you will never use mixed seed again.

If the aphids attacks your plants early in the season, procure the tobacco extract sold by all seedmen under the name of Nicotinic acid and apply it promptly and keep up its use until not an aphid is to be seen. If the red spider attacks them, as it will be likely to do if the season is hot and dry, fight it with clear water, applying the sprayer liberally and often. Nicotinic acid should also be applied with the sprayer, throwing the liquid well up against the under side of the foliage. Watch your plants, and when the first indications of insect attacks are seen give them immediate attention. It is a comparatively easy matter to check the enemy when it is just trying to establish itself on your plants, but it is not so easy a matter to rout it after it has been allowed to entrench itself.

In cutting sweet peas give the flowers as long stems as possible. Never crowd them into vase and bowl. Just bunch them loosely in the hand, and then drop them loosely into whatever is to hold them, give it a shake, and lo, your flowers will have arranged themselves to perfection.

ATTENDING A REHEARSAL

"THE GOSSIP" HEARS LINES THAT ARE NOT IN THE PLAY.

Any one who has taken part in an amateur play will remember the weariness of attending the practices, and the difficulty of acquiring just the right inflection in their lines. It is fortunate that the tedium of the practice hour is usually relieved by social intercourse and friendly criticism. There is a personal element about an amateur play that is absent in a professional performance. Frequently players are known more or less to the audience, and the proceeds of the performance are often devoted to a cause near to the hearts of the entertainers and the entertained.

The Gossip had the pleasure the other afternoon of attending the final rehearsal of an amateur play, and after stumbling through a harp-like room, up and down some steep narrow stairs, at last descended herself in a seat in the auditorium. That little trip behind the curtain was quite a revelation. When one has thought of an opera house as being comprised of the auditorium, the orchestra, and the stage, it is somewhat of a surprise to discover that there is, back of the stage, huge rooms for storing scenery, many odd little dressing-rooms, and a staff of well-trained stage-hands, without whom no play could run properly.

Scattered here and there in the opera house were friends of the actors, and we all anxiously awaited the raising of the curtain. Evidently confusion and excitement reigned behind the scenes. Incautious "stage whispers" floated down from time to time to the front row, where the Gossip was seated.

Here are some instances quoted from memory: (Male Voice)—"By Jove, I'll break my neck on that harp as sure as guns!" (Feminine Voice)—"I wish they'd put some rugs on the floor; my heels make so much noise."

Second Feminine Voice—"Which door do I go out at?"

Second Masculine Voice (evidently the stage manager)—"Now, don't forget to speak up loudly."

First Feminine Voice—"Oh, dear, I'm so nervous."

General Chorus of Voices—"Oh, dear, I'm so nervous."

Stage Manager (peremptorily)—"Now clear the stage everybody; we must begin."

There was the sound of hastening feet, amid solemn silence the footlights came on, the curtain slid up, and the rehearsal commenced. Now, of course, I must not describe the play. I only hope my readers will see it for hearsal.

One could not but wonder if the youthful actors and actresses gave a thought, as they interpreted their parts, to some of the stars who have appeared before the same footlights and trod the same boards as themselves. Margaret Anglin, Maude Adams, Robert Brierley, Billie Burke, Harry Lauder, and a host of others have appeared here within the last year. Perhaps in some way the spirit of these wonderful stage people will hover about and inspire the cleverest group of young folks who are entering heart and soul into their sketch in aid of a most worthy institution. Who can tell? Anyway, the writer extends her best wishes.

Dear Miss Grey: How can I get rid of circles under my eyes?

READER.—A.—First consult a reliable physician about your health. If there is nothing wrong, then proceed to sleep all you can, try massage, bathe the face and eyes several times daily with cold water. Keep the bowels well regulated, drink water freely, live out of doors as much as possible, and, above all, don't worry.

Thanking a Man.

Dear Miss Grey: Should a girl thank a young man for holding a door open for her, whether she knows him or not, while she passes through?

BLUR EYES.—A.—Yes. If she does not know him, a slight bow and a "Thank you" is sufficient.

He's Fifteen Years Older.

Dear Miss Grey: I do you think it wrong for a girl to marry a man fifteen years her senior? I love each other? 2. Do you consider it bad form for a girl to receive bits of jewelry from a boy friend, such as a brooch or beauty pins? 3. Is it wrong for second cousins to marry? 4. What will make the eyelashes and eyebrows long and thick? Thanking you in advance.

THELMA.—A.—1. Such a marriage would not be at all wrong, but the difference in their ages might cause uneasiness later on.

2. I may be old-fashioned, but I believe it to be wiser not to accept any expensive presents of this nature.

3. Not wrong, legally, but many persons object to a union between cousins.

4. Not wrong if your parents approve.

4. Rubbing every night with cocoa butter or plain vaseline, will help. Be careful not to get any grease into the eyes as it will irritate them.

A Peculiar Village.

Dear Miss Grey: Kindly answer the following questions: 1. Would a kimono waist be all right to put on in the afternoon in quite a large village, taking care of a sick lady? 2. Is it right for girls quite young to visit the home of her fellow when there are no girls, and him to fetch her home? 3. It is right for a young girl to write and correspond with an old bachelor when he is old enough to be one's father? Thanking you for your trouble.

"CURLY HEAD."

A.—1. Quite suitable.

2. Yes, if their mothers give consent.

3. Not unless she is well acquainted with his mother.

4. Not wrong if your parents approve.

Nona is Worried.

Dear Miss Grey: Could you please tell me what will remove milk stains from a pale blue raw silk dress? Do you think dry cleaning would help? Please let me know, as soon as possible, as I feel worried about it. Thanking you kindly.

NONA.—A.—This method is usually effective for removing milk stains. Place a piece of clean blotting paper underneath the stain, then saturate the silk with benzine, lay another piece of paper on top and press with a flat-iron. The grease will be dissolved by the solvent and absorbed by the paper.

Place in moderate oven and bake thirty minutes; turn out and serve hot, with the fruit sauce thickened slightly with corn starch.

Jacket and skirt of contrasting materials may produce a very snappy style, especially if the skirt be white and the jacket and collar be faced with the same. Such a costume was attractively developed by combining these two designs, the slightly fitted jacket being of navy blue French serge and the skirt of white, the latter being used for the collar. The skirt is a smart four-piece model, with an applied back panel which hangs free at the lower part. There is a seam at the centre-front which may be straight, or with striped material this seam may be bias so that the stripes meet diagonally.

Borders on wash goods are destined to have as great vogue as they are enjoying on silks and all sorts of transparencies. And for all classes of these goods the immense diversity in the styles, colors, figures and arrangement of the borders prevents the least suggestion of sameness. There is the very narrow two-inch border in different colors on a solid color, or on white silk or voile, and next it may be seen as a fifteen-inch border, or one even wider. This last permits the border to be used in most unusual ways, and the effect is easily copied in two materials; for instance, plain taffeta or foulard with an added border of plaid or stripes, and white or colored linen combined with all-over eyelet embroidery. Marquisette and voile show a wonderful combination of embroidered stripes alternating with stripes of fine insertion. Colored and white dress linen have stripes. Other borders on cotton voile and crepe are in ratine or Turkish towel-like effect, and some of these have fringed edges.

Every woman positively needs at least one long coat, and she will find several useful if made for different purposes. For instance a tweed motor or travelling coat, another of black satin or taffeta for street or evening and one of pongee or other lightweight silk for a dust coat.

It is a long time since cotton has been such a fashionable material, and never before has it been seen in so many beautiful weaves and colors. This is true of the cheap materials as well as the very expensive kinds. The great vogue of all kinds of hand-wrought needle-craft is accountable for the touches of embroidery to be seen on frocks made in the home sewing-room. With a good reliable pattern the work of making these simple gowns goes so quickly that a woman is glad to add the hand-work which bespeaks individuality and distinguishes her gowning.

White serge is immensely popular, both for one-piece tailored dresses and for coat suits. In the majority of cases there is the touch of black, which gives a smart finish to a smart costume.

Through every department of dress the one-piece frock is in universal favor, from the ball gown to the simple morning dress of lawn for gingham. The serge street dress has lost none of its vogue, and is immensely smart with some striking contrast such as white cloth or linen collar and cuffs. In the majority of instances there is a yoke and collar of plain net or of very fine point d'esprit. Linen and taffeta are made on lines similar to serge, though linen may have hand embroidery in small or great quantities, combined with Irish, cluny or flax lace. Satin and taffeta are more simply developed as a general thing, though there is always a dainty touch in the way of yoke and under-sleeves. White serge and mohair dresses are trimmed with black velvet, black satin, or with wide silk braid, either black or white. The diversity of borders, some of which are very wide, has led to the use of contrasting material, such as plaid or stripes in place of borders.

NORTHERN ROADS WERE DAMAGED BY FLOODS

All Around Durham Big Washouts Make Night Driving Very Dangerous.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Durham, April 10.—While the Saugeneed did considerable damage on its recent wild run, the smaller streams in the township gave it a close chase in the matter of inconveniencing the public. At present night driving is really dangerous on account of the washouts on the roads around here, and many farmers report damage done to fences and water in stables and root houses.

Beyond the collapse of the steel bridge on Lambton street, and a few flooded cellars, Durham escaped injury. The middle of the month will start for the West. Possibly eight or ten families from this town alone leave on April 22. The latest to join the throng is one of our liverymen, John Whittaker, who is auctioning off all his horses and equipment on April 18.

The license board for South Grey meets here on April 15. Though not under local option, Glenelg Township's only hotel, situated in Dornock, ten miles south of here, has not yet applied for a license for 1912-13. In all South Grey the only applications come from Hanover, where there are four hotels. Normanby Township, five, and Neustadt village with three licenses. With the exception of Glenelg, all the other places are under local option.

EXETER MAN'S DEATH CAUSED BY LOW BRIDGE

Jury at Thorold Investigated Recent Accident to G. T. R. Brakeman Harry N. Boon.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Thorold, April 11.—The inquest into the death of Harry N. Boon, formerly of Exeter, who was killed on the Grand Trunk here recently, was concluded last evening under Coroner Herod, and the following verdict returned:

"That Harry N. Boon came to his death on April 2, while acting as brakeman on the G. T. R., by striking his head on the overhead bridge, approaching lock 24, new Welland Canal, and that we consider the bridge too low for the safety of the brakemen, and also consider that the 'tell-tales' before approaching the bridge are not sufficient warning for the safety of the brakemen. On visiting the scene of the accident on the morning following, we found the 'tell-tales' in improper condition, twisted and one missing, and are of the opinion that some action should be taken to make the bridge in question less dangerous."

CHILDREN AFFECTED BY Mother's Food and Drink.

Many babies have been launched into life with constitutions weakened by disease taken with their mothers' milk. Mothers cannot be too careful as to the food they use while nursing their babies.

The experience of a Kansas City mother is a case in point:

"I was a great coffee drinker from a child, and thought I could not do without it. But I found, at last, it was doing me harm." (Tea is equally harmful because it contains caffeine—the same drug found in coffee.)

"For years I had been troubled with dizziness, spots before my eyes and pain in my heart, to which was added, two years later, a chronic sour stomach."

"The baby was born seven months ago, and almost from the beginning, she too, suffered from sour stomach. She was taking it from me!"

"In my distress I consulted a friend of more experience and she told me to quit coffee; that coffee did not make good milk. I have since ascertained that it really dries up the milk."

"So I quit coffee and tried tea and at last cocoa. But they did not agree with me. Then I turned to Postum with the happiest results. It proved to be the very thing I needed. It not only agreed perfectly with baby and myself, but it increased the flow of my milk."

"My husband then quit coffee and used Postum and quickly got well of the dyspepsia with which he had been troubled. I no longer suffer from dizziness, blind spells, pain in my heart or sour stomach."

"Now, we all drink Postum from my husband to my seven months' old baby. It has proved to be the best hot drink we have ever used. We would not give up Postum for the best coffee we ever drank." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

Quebec Milk Shippers Have a Grievance Against Ontario Shippers.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Montreal, April 11.—The Quebec milk shippers have a grievance against the Ontario shippers who send milk to Montreal. According to the Quebec laws, all dairies have to be inspected by the inspectors of the municipalities in which they sell milk. MANY SPORTSOPENING GAMES OF 1912 BASEBALL SEASON
WILL BE PLAYED IN THE BIG LEAGUES TODAY

Both the American and National Leagues Will Begin Proceedings—Weather Is Perfect In All the Cities and Record Opening Day Crowds Expected—Sporting Experts Busy Doping Out Results.

TODAY'S GAMES

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
Detroit at Cleveland.
Boston at New York.
Washington at Philadelphia.
St. Louis at Chicago.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
New York at Brooklyn.
Philadelphia at Boston.
Chicago at Cincinnati.
Pittsburgh at St. Louis.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, April 11.—The baseball season of 1912 opens in New York today, with contests scheduled in both New York and Brooklyn, at American League Park, the New York Yankees cross bats with the Boston Red Sox, while the New York Giants, champions of National League, open the season with the Superbas in Washington Park, Brooklyn. A cloudless sky during the forenoon and a temperature that hovered around the fifty mark gives promise of the usual large opening day attendance.

Mayor Gaynor will toss out the first ball in the game between the Giants and Brooklyn. Supreme Court Justice McCall will throw the first ball at American League Park. For an hour and a half before the game opens there, at 3:30 o'clock, a brass band will entertain the fans with popular airs. The game between the Giants and Brooklyn is scheduled to begin at 4 o'clock.

HOW IT IS DOPED OUT.

What sporting experts think of the chances of the various teams in the opening day is indicated in a betting circle by a syndicate of bookmakers here. The prices offered are as follows:

American League—Philadelphia 7 to 5, Detroit 5 to 2, Boston 7 to 2, New York 10 to 1, Cleveland 15 to 1, Chicago 20 to 1, Washington 50 to 1, St. Louis 100 to 1, National League—New York 2 to 1, Philadelphia 3 to 1, Chicago 7 to 2, Pittsburgh 4 to 1, St. Louis 15 to 1, Cincinnati 25 to 1, Brooklyn 50 to 1, Boston 100 to 1.

It is said that betting on baseball will be largely increased this year on account of the decadence of horse racing. There will be no opening for bookmakers at the ball parks, but poolrooms, hotels and cafes in most of the big cities will offer plenty of opportunities for those who wish to place bets.

Detectives Engaged.

All the major league clubs have engaged private detectives, who will patrol the grandstands and box seats in an effort to eliminate even private betting. Unusual vigilance is to be exercised in Pittsburgh and Boston, where the baseball bettor has become a veritable pest. The National Baseball Commission has also requested the postal authorities to look after professional pool sellers and bookmakers.

Athletics Present

Crippled Line-Up
Against Senators

Philadelphia, Pa., April 11.—Fine weather favors the opening of the American League baseball championship season at Shibe Park this afternoon, when the world's champions meet the Washington team. There will be the usual opening day formalities, band concert, raising of the American flag, and the throwing out of the first ball by Mayor Blankenburg. The pennants, emblematic of the winning of the American League and world's championships, will be unfurled on different days later in the season.

The Athletics may take the field with two of their stars missing. Baker has a slightly wrenched back, and Lord a bruised wrist. Each team will send a star pitcher into the box.

Cleveland in

Opening Game

Cleveland, O., April 11.—With the thermometer registering 45 degrees this morning, and the weather forecast reading: "Fair and warmer," the American flag, and the throwing out of the first ball by Mayor Blankenburg. The pennants, emblematic of the winning of the American League and world's championships, will be unfurled on different days later in the season.

Both teams in today's contest offer many new faces in their line-ups. Cleveland probably presents the most radical changes, with two outfielders and a first baseman new to the big leagues. In addition Cleveland's manager, Harry Davis, is serving his first season as a major league pilot.

Watch For The Advertiser Bulletin Board Tonight

Sixteen big league ball clubs will clash in different cities in the States today. In the past London fans have always learned the results by means of The Advertiser's bulletin board, which is hung out in front of The Advertiser every evening as soon as the games are completed. This year The Advertiser will make the bulletin board service bigger and brighter than ever, to use a circus poster phrase. The results of the opening games today will be posted on The Advertiser board shortly after 6 o'clock this evening, and the service will continue until after the world's series in the fall. The National and American Leagues open today, the International League opens in a week, and the Canadian League opens in a month. The Advertiser will post the results of the games in each league on the board every evening, and the account of the games will be found on the sporting page the following day. Watch for The Advertiser bulletin board each evening.

organized Boston Nationals, under the leadership of "Johnny" Kling, and the Philadelphia Quakers, headed by Charles Dooin. The playing park at the south end grounds has been transformed, and everything was in readiness for the initial contest.

President Thomas J. Lynch, of the National League, has accepted an invitation to be present at the game, and Mayor Fitzgerald agreed to throw the first ball.

Cardinals Open With
Pirates at St. Louis;
Harmon Will Pitch

St. Louis, April 11.—Pittsburg meets St. Louis here today in the first game of the local season. The St. Louis team will begin the season with the same line-up that showed great promise last year. Pitcher Sallee, who was not with the team the latter part of last season, now has charge of the younger pitchers, and Sallee has given his promise to Manager Bresnahan that he will pitch winning ball. Harmon is slated to pitch the opening game for the local team.

Reds and Cubs Are Trained to Minute
For Opening Clash

Cincinnati, April 11.—With fair weather, it is predicted that the largest crowd that ever witnessed a baseball game in this city will be in attendance at League Park today, to see Cincinnati and Chicago begin the National League season. This is made possible by an enormous grandstand, which was built during the last winter.

With the exception of their leader, Hank O'Day, erstwhile umpire, the Cincinnati team will present practically the same front with which they ended the season last year, while little change will be seen in the Chicago team. Last reports indicate that both teams are in good condition and trained to the minute.

Ed. Walsh Opposes
Pelty in White Sox
Opener at Chicago

Chicago, April 10.—Pitcher Edward Walsh and Catcher Billy Sullivan, veteran battery mates, were selected tonight by Manager Callahan to oppose St. Louis in the opening game of the American League season here tomorrow. Manager Wallace, of St. Louis, plans to use Pitcher Pelty and Catcher Stephens.

Three recruits will appear in the Chicago lineup. Rath will play second base, Weaver shortstop and Mattick right field in place of Matt McIntyre, who has failed to sign a contract. Fair weather is forecast, which is expected to bring a record-breaking crowd. Mayor Carter H. Harrison has promised to pitch the first ball.

ZBYSZKO WINS AGAIN.

[Canadian Press.]

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 11.—Zbyszko, the Polish wrestler, won in straight falls from Ivan Romanoff, won in straight falls from the first fall Russian, here, last night, the first fall in 29 minutes and 15 seconds, with an arm lock and clutch hold; and the second in 14 minutes and 54 seconds, with a crotch and body hold.

TORONTO CONTINUES TO WIN BALL GAMES

Manager Kelley Will Sell Pitcher and Catcher to Tri-State Clubs.

Norfolk, Va., April 10.—After today's game with the Norfolk team of the Virginia League, which Toronto won by 10 to 4, Manager Kelley made the first cut in his pitching staff, announcing that Theodore Cather would be offered to some of the Tri-State League clubs. Cather has not shown up to warrant his being tried out further. In addition he is possessed of an appearance of indifference such as characterized the work of Joe Delehanty.

Fielding features were supplied by McConnell and O'Hara. McConnell went back into short right field, and made a dizzy catch off Dodge in the third.

O'Hara relieved Jordan at first base in the sixth, and took all kinds of throws, and batted like a veteran first-sacker. Tim and Bill are dubbed the sore-legged twins, and are dividing the work at the first corner to enable their crippled limbs to improve.

Lester Backman pitched the first five innings, and held the local batters to two hits and two runs. Fischer dropped a third strike, and made a wild heave to Jordan, else only one run would have been scored. Backman was inclined to wildness, but made the ball work nicely, and is about ready to open the season if called upon.

Dick Rudolph twirled the last four innings, and sent the batters back to the bench in order in the sixth, seventh and ninth. In the eighth they reached him for three singles, which earned a run for Norfolk. The locals' other run came home in the fifth when Holly boosted a batter from the first man up, and the batter scored on two infield outs off slow-hit balls.

Canadian League Gossip

WANT DRAPER BADLY.

Ottawa Journal: The first offer to buy the release of a player to be made by the new Ottawa Baseball Club came in today from the Richmond (Virginia) Club, the offer being made for big Harry Draper, the Petersburg pitcher. They propose to give him with a cash bonus thrown in for the southpaw, which is some tribute to Frank Shaughnessy's ability to pick a ball player. As the Ottawas purchased him for 500 from men, there is no chance of any terms being made with the Richmond people. Draper is a southpaw of ability, and has a spitball that will keep the Canadian League teams guessing when he comes on the mound against them. As the Richmond club are in a Class B league, the Virginia league, this helps to show just what kind of ball players are coming north to play with the Ottawas in the initial season.

Draper is now at Wichita, Va., but will be in Chatham on the 29th to report. Robert Anderson wants to come up and play with the Ottawas, and has asked for a contract. On looking at Robert's record it was found that he had played ball in the minor leagues for some time back, and that he would hardly stack up to Frank Shaughnessy's idea of a young ball player.

YES, HOW ABOUT IT?

Ottawa Journal: When a Peterboro fan wrote in to one of the papers in that town suggesting that the ball club be called the "Yankers," he hit a spot that is somewhat tender to many of the Canadian rooters. Of course, the game is an American one, and it is natural that it should be played in the States more than in Canada, also that the best players should come from the country where they play the most baseball. But the league like the Canadian League would make a hit with a large number of the ball fans if they would look around Canada for men and give at least a percentage of them a trial before going outside. The Ottawas announce themselves willing to give any Canadian a try-out at Chatham. How about the other seven clubs in the circuit?

Ottawa Journal: So London will have Bowmen, who used to catch for the great and only "Matty," at the helm this season, also behind the bat when they need a utility catcher. And just a few short weeks ago some of the teams in the league were raising a howl that Frank Shaughnessy was out signing up a big league team and that he intended to exceed the salary limit.

Peterboro is getting right down to business. The thriving little electric city has the makings of a good ball team, and they seem to be giving Manager Tempin all kinds of support. "Old Folks" now claims to have the team pretty well signed up and is ready to open the season.

No applications in yet for the peanut privileges out at Lansdowne Park. Time that the local club get busy and hunted up someone, even if they have to go to Tripoli. Baseball without peanuts! Gadzooks! "This is unthinkable."

Only one position remains to be decided upon to complete the Superbas' infield and outfield. Shortstop is the position. Wheat, Northern and Moran in the outfield is settled, with Daubert at first, Downs at second, and Smith at third. Rielly and Tooley are fighting it out for short.

ROYAL PRIZES FOR
OLYMPIC WINNERS

Cups Are Given By European Rulers For New Events.

THE STADIUM DESCRIBED

Room for 25,000 Spectators in the Arena—Keen International Rivalry in the Contests.

London, April 11.—The programme for the Stockholm Olympic games, June 29 to July 22, contains ten new events for which cups have been presented by the King of Sweden, the Czar, the Kaiser, the Emperor of Austria, the King of Italy, Count Goza Andassy, Countess de Casa Miranda, the city of Budapest and Baron Pierre de Conberth, president of the International Olympic committee.

The Stockholm stadium is constructed of gray violet Swedish brick and undressed granite. It has accommodation for 25,000 spectators, and has cost $250,000. It is built in the shape of a horseshoe magnet.

The arena is open to the sky. The two arms of the building rest against a rocky slope at the north, being built into the hill by two watch towers, behind which lie the administrative buildings on the flanks of the sloping background. Under the amphitheatre are the royal foyer, the dressing rooms, shower baths, promenade, arcades, etc.

The arena contains a football field, places for the jumping and throwing competitions, with, round all these, a track the inner circumference of which measures 383 meters. During the winter the arena can be used as a skating rink.

The composition of the building is a modern, independent organic development of early medieval Swedish architecture. Round the southern end runs an outer open arcade looking toward the park. Its centreforce is crowned by granite blocks intended for sculptured figures, a cyclotron of thirty erect figures in life size.

The eight sidewalks are flanked in pairs by similar blocks. On the great eastern tower there is an immense block of black hammered iron, with two granite figures representing the horse and rider of human beings belonging to northern mythology, Ask and Embla.

There are altogether twenty competitions for challenge cups, divided as follows: Athletics, 4; wrestling, 1; horse riding, 5; modern pentathlon (duel pistol shooting, swimming, fencing, riding, and cross-country race), 1; rowing, 1; swimming, 1; shooting, 1; yachting, 1.

Keen international rivalry is assured in all these varied contests. Great Britain furnishes the holders of four (association football, rowing, yachting and swimming); the United States, two (marathon race and throwing the discus); Canada, one (shooting); Hungary, one (wrestling); Italy, one (gymnastics); and France, one (fencing, team competition, epee).

The ten new competitions are the pentathlon, decathlon, fencing (epee), competition, sabre, military horse-riding, prize riding, prize jumping for individual and teams, the best aggregate national result in the horse-riding classes, modern pentathlon, and ladies' high diving.

YOUNG FIGHTER INJURED.

C., last night, John Goldberg, aged 21 years, fell into a coma, and was removed to the Flower Hospital in a serious condition. It was believed that he is suffering either from a fractured skull or a blood clot on the brain.

Ed A. Freer has a 3-year-old pacer at Birmingham that he is going to put for the Michigan breeders' stake. Word from E. J. Goyt, of Williamson is to the effect that he will have a starter in one of the 3-year-old Michigan stakes in the fall.

WRESTLING MATCH
WAS REALLY A FIGHT

Frenchman and Italian Have Fierce Struggle at Montreal.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, April 11.—The lovers of those biting, scratching and mauling competitions that the matches at Sohier Park have degenerated into this season, when last night John Percell, the Italian heavyweight, met Ray-Casseaux, the French grappler. The two struggled for three-quarters of an hour, the Italian using his teeth and nails to great advantage on Casseaux, who looked at the conclusion of the melee as if he had been trying to take a fall out of a wild cat.

The Frenchman also contributed some rough stuff to the evening's performance by pulling a large piece of Percell's ear off and poking his finger in the Italian's optic several times. The two men got absolutely beyond control on one occasion, and stood up for several moments and exchanged haymakers that fortunately were wild, or it would have been the duty of the Montreal scribes to write up the obituary notices of the wrestlers. Percell at another time, after receiving an artistic jab in the eye from Casseaux, staggered around in a blind fashion and finally put the referee on the mat and had applied a fine two of these waters lying off to the Chilean coast, and a vessel's course had been picked upon it from Juan Fernandez to Valparaiso. This did not particularly interest me, and my thought drifted away to the woman waiting impatiently for my return to the cabin. What a distressing situation for one of Lady Darlington's birth and refinement! And yet with what dignity and manner had she met the unexpected! It was plain to be seen that there was a heart of courage, not easily broken under adversity. Beneath the pride of her words and actions I had caught glimpses of the true woman. I left the cabin, yet she would rally again, and greet me with the same calm insistence which was the heritage of her nature and breeding.

MISSION PROBLEMS OF THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Conference Urges That the Pastors Be Paid Better Salaries.

Toronto, April 11.—For the purpose of dealing more fully with mission problems the Baptist missionaries of Ontario and Quebec are holding a conference in Jarvis Street Baptist Church, Toronto, today. The conference, which is the largest ever held by the denomination, is on account of lack of time difficult problems have sometimes received little attention. The generosity of three prominent Baptists in the city has made possible the present conference.

Yesterday was the opening day of the conference. Various topics were discussed until 4:30 o'clock, when the question of "Pastors' Salaries" came up. The discussion was scheduled to cease at 5:10 o'clock, but it grew so interesting that it continued until nearly 6 o'clock. Rev. James McEwen, Renfrew, opened the discussion.

It was pointed out that it paid a congregation to keep its minister free from financial embarrassment, as he then would be in a position to give his best services to the church. Rev. Dr. Norton, who presided, said that missionaries' salaries had advanced 40 per cent. in the last seven years.

Crippled and aged, Rev. D. Reddick, the missionary hero of Kenora, was presented to the conference in the morning. Mr. Reddick undertook to lift an $8,000 mortgage from the church at Kenora, which the congregation was very small. He succeeded, but only at the cost of his health. A fervent prayer on his behalf was offered by Rev. Dr. Lang, of Kingston.

The speakers at the day session and their subjects were: Rev. Thomas Watson, Iona Station, "The Pastor as an Example to His Flock"; Rev. W. H. Baker, Montreal, "Rev. G. A. W. W. Charlesworth, Parkhill, "Church Work"; Rev. T. T. Shields, "The Pastor's Leadership in the Church's Finances"; and Rev. James McEwen, Renfrew, "Pastors' Salaries."

At the evening session, when Rev. E. E. Shields, of Steelton, and Rev. Dr. Trotter, of McMaster, gave addresses on "The Evangelistic Message and What It Involves," emphasized two points, first that the minister must have a divine call, and second, that he must preach the message founded upon sound doctrine. Taking for his subject, "The Place of Doctrine in the Pulpit," Dr. Trotter enlarged upon Mr. Shields' remarks as to doctrine.

Quebec, April 10.—The chaplain of the Salvation Army at Quebec, has written the municipal authorities asking for police protection when parades in the city streets are held. This request was referred to the police commission. The Salvation Army had to cease its parades in Quebec streets some days ago owing to the hostility shown by the population.

"Ten years ago my kidney trouble started. I suffered dreadful pains in my spine and around my waist, my back feeling as if hot irons were running through it. I couldn't sleep, had no appetite, was pale, thin and very nervous. Cruel headaches and dizziness added to my burden. I had used Dr. Hamilton's Pills did I get any relief. They proved capital and helped me immediately. Eight boxes made me well, and now I do my own housework, feel and look the picture of health."

There was nothing else to do, and I followed him down the bridge steps to the main deck. The chart house had its single door opening aft, and was a small, plainly-built structure painted a dingy gray, with two narrow windows on either side, and just enough space within to contain a deal table, locker and three rude benches. I sat down upon one of these, filled and lighted my pipe, and waited in silence, gazing idly at the chart pinned flat on the table. It was a map

A GREAT ASSET

Publicity Commissioner Henderson Dilated Upon his Merits Last Night.

WHAT SHOULD BE DONE

Elevator and Docks Are Required—West London Boosters Heard Enthusiastic Address.

Multitudinous opportunities for the further upbuilding of London through the improvement of the city's line, the London and Port Stanley Railway, were declared by the publicity commissioner J. Grant Henderson, who last evening met the members of the West London Boosters' Association for the first time since taking up industrial work in London.

The road to the lake is one of the greatest assets that a city could possibly hope for in the race for industries, declared Mr. Henderson, for by the expenditure of a little money an advantage of 15 cents a ton on coal from Pittsburgh, and 12 cents a ton from other districts, all of which would figure large with a big manufacturer.

Mr. Henderson also took occasion to point out the wisdom of taking action at this time to secure a municipal square.

Referring to the data published in the Advertiser concerning the erection of buildings at the Port Stanley site as suggested by Mr. R. K. Cowan, Mr. Henderson declared that he was greatly pleased with the idea, and that the master in chancery is plainly a man of "broad aesthetic vision."

The commissioner again repeated that he has no interest in where the new city hall should be located, but that he is of the opinion that the municipal square idea should be adopted without hesitation, and most magnificent buildings erected. "Let the people of twenty-five and fifty years hence pay their share, and they will be glad to do it," he contended.

Factory Sites.
Mr. Henderson again requested that persons having knowledge of a possible factory site or of floor space, furnish him with information. Land owners must, however, be reasonable in their demands, he said, for the greatest injury may be done by giving the land to a poor manufacturer.

The members of the Boosters' Association are now resting more easily since the spring session has given the city no interest in where the new city hall should be located, but that he is of the opinion that the municipal square idea should be adopted without hesitation, and most magnificent buildings erected.

It is pointed out, however, that something must be done to strengthen the spots weakened by the swollen stream, and the matter of proper improvement will not be abandoned now that the danger is gone.

It has now been demonstrated that the danger was quite real and not imaginary, and for that reason strong efforts will be put forth to have some action taken to prevent a recurrence.

The River Drive.
Ald. Coles' scheme to beautify the river drive along top of the embankment, is meeting with much favor, and at last night's meeting was given the endorsement of the publicity commissioner, who is taking an active interest in the general improvement of the city.

Mr. John M. Parsons, of the Real Estate Owners' Association, who with Mr. William Scarrow and other delegates attended the West London meeting, advised that the entire breakwater be made a public dump for earth, ashes and trash.

The present embankment is sufficiently high to meet any contingency if the Springbank dam is looked after and the logs removed in times of danger, so the West Londoners believe.

It was also asserted that the danger increased at a fearful rate during the past week, as the water ceased rising and gradually fell away.

A Factory District.
The possibility of making a factory district in West London, such as the North End, was called to the attention of Mr. Henderson. It was pointed out that the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railways west of the city, are a comparatively short distance apart, and an intercepting line, constructed between the two would provide many excellent factory sites that could be obtained at very reasonable prices.

FIRE IN MINE PLANT

Nipissing Mine at Cobalt Suffers Loss of Equipment.

Cobalt, April 10.—Fire originating in the furnace hole of the Nipissing sampling plant destroyed the building and the plant this afternoon. The fire started about 5 o'clock, and when discovered had made considerable headway. The big water pressure was brought to bear by aid of the new hydraulic giant that the Nipissing has installed for prospecting the surface of the hill on their property.

Five streams playing on the building failed to check the flames, and the whole structure was gutted. The wind blew in a direction away from the mill, which adjoins the sampling plant, and the mill was consequently saved. There was considerable silver ore plant at the time the fire started, but this was stored in the vault, and will be saved. The Cobalt volunteer brigade rendered valuable assistance to the mine fire brigade in checking the flames.

The exact location of the Nipissing sampling plant shows that the loss will not be higher than $5,000, all covered by insurance. A great deal of the plant is not insured, and the work of tearing down the ruins started. The management states that the plant will be running again inside of a week.

DEAD MAN CALLED.
Quebec, April 10.—The name of a dead man was called this morning at the opening of the criminal court here. The party, a man named Ernest Deschamps, was accused of making false statements in the marine department pay roll. When his name was called the clerk of the court, M. L. Laferte, attorney for Deschamps, appeared for the latter and declared that his client having died in December last could not appear. He had to produce the doctor's and burial certificates.

SPRING MEETINGS ARE CONCLUDED

The Congregational Churches
Wound Up Sessions in London Last Night.

THE CURSE OF LIQUOR

Owing to the Number of Foreigners
Coming Into the Country the Traffic
Was Declared To Be a National Menace.

At yesterday afternoon's session of the spring meetings of the Western Association of Congregational Churches, a discussion on "The Model Constitution" was led by Rev. W. T. Gunn, of Toronto. Mr. Gunn said that the model constitution was the present constitution of the Western Association, remodelled so much that it could hardly be recognized. After some discussion the matter was finally left to the executive committee, and they will present their views on the question at the fall meeting of the association, when the matter will be decided.

The Social Outlook.
The feature of the afternoon was the address of Rev. W. E. Gilroy, of Hamilton, "The Social Outlook; Where Are We Going?" The awakening to democracy is the main factor in men's lives, said the speaker, in opening his address. "Democracy is not as common as it is thought to be. In the British Parliament, where the Commons is supposed to run affairs, it is the cabinet that really governs. In industrial life the managers of large manufacturing concerns have far more power than the public think they have, as the most important question in a man's life is his livelihood, his views naturally concur with those of his employers. The speaker cited a case that happened in Hamilton, where men were refused work with one firm because of the agreement that firm had with the previous employers of the men.

Weakness of Unions.
The weakness of trades unionism is that some of the leaders of the labor men have been dishonest, and so killed the respect of the men for their leaders, although most of the officers of the different unions have sacrificed their time and money for the cause, and are good citizens.
He said that one could not foretell the political history of a country, as there were many circumstances where a man would change his view of life entirely, and so upset all calculations. The speaker said: "We may not be drifting towards Socialism, but we are drifting towards public control. Public control will come before public ownership and socialism."

A National Menace.
In reference to the large number of foreigners who are entering this country, the liquor traffic becomes a great national menace. These newcomers settled down in the poorer sections of the different cities, and owing to their nature, the liquor easily excites and causes the large number of murders and assaults in the larger cities.
The great need of today is the need of leadership and this leadership must be within the church and have some of the ideals of the church.
The evening session which brought the spring meeting to a close, was addressed by Rev. Edwin Hobbs on "The Truce of God," and Rev. G. A. McKenzie, of this city, on "Mountain Springs and Tebbin Streams."

A WELL-KNOWN CHICKEN MAN

Poultry Review Has Interesting
Article on the Life of William McNeil.

WON VERY MANY PRIZES

"Cleaned Up" $1,360 at the World's Fair in St. Louis—Knows All About the Business.

Mr. H. B. Donovan, editor of the Canadian Poultry Review, in a series of articles in that magazine on "Canadian Judges" deals with Mr. William McNeil, of this city, one of the oldest and most widely-known in the business. It is an interesting sketch of this famous Londoner, and will be appreciated by the readers of The Advertiser. It is as follows:

In beginning a brief biography of leading prominent Canadian judges, we give Mr. William McNeil, one of our oldest and probably the most experienced fancier in Canada, pride of place. As we said in last issue, if Mr. Sharp, Butterfield, were now in active work, we would give him the priority. The editor of the Review has known Mr. McNeil for about thirty years. We have often fought it out in the show room and when we won no one was quicker to congratulate us than "Uncle Billy," especially from such a keen competitor as the subject of our sketch. We have never forgotten it, though, probably the incident, being one of many, has escaped Mr. McNeil's memory.
As long as we have known him, Mr. McNeil has been active in the up-building of the poultry business in Canada, and not from one side only, but in all its various branches. He believes that in helping others he helps himself, and that in helping himself he helps others. This is the kind of mutual interest that we want more of.

When a boy, and by the way, he was born in the County Armagh, he was very fond of hunting and shooting and always kept a dog or ferrets. The poultry fever struck him while he was with the game-keeper at Lord Lurgan's demesne, County Armagh, Ireland. It was accidental, while employed at Lord O'Neill's castle in the County of Antrim. He says himself that, like all wild Irishmen, he got married while very young, and in 1867, soon after his marriage, he and his good wife came to Canada with a determination to secure a reasonable amount of this world's goods. We are revealing no secret when we say that this resolution has been fulfilled. Mr. McNeil, through hard work, thrift, and that readiness to turn a dollar into two dollars, has become independent of further toil and turmoil. But he is too young yet, and too active, to give up the fight.

The Beginning.
His first introduction into poultry circles in Canada he describes as follows:
"The first spring I was in this country I got a setting of Golden Spangled Hamburg eggs from the late Colonel John Peters, and bred them. I might say, even down to about two years ago. The first fall I was here I got the position of superintendent of poultry at the Western Fair, London, and also that for the provincial show. I held these positions for fourteen years, travelling all over the province to the different cities, and in that time I got to be pretty well a professional breeder, and raised and sold some of the best exhibition birds. The first bird I showed in the United States was at the Centennial in Philadelphia. I won a medal there for the best Silver Polish, and from that date I was an exhibitor. I went in very largely to breed and show them. I was at the first poultry show held in Madison Square Gardens, New York, and showed there very successfully for quite a few years, winning more prizes than any other breeder there. I have been showing at Boston, Mass., ever since it opened, always winning more prizes than any other breeder. I showed four times at Kansas City, Missouri, in 1892-3-4-5. In 1892 I won a piano for the largest collection there. In 1893-4 another piano for the largest collection, and in 1895 I won $150 of a special for the largest exhibit. In each of these years my prize money amounted to between eight and nine hundred dollars. At the World's Fair in Chicago, I won more prizes than any other three exhibitors, and at the Pan-American at Buffalo, N. Y., also won more prizes than any other breeder."

A Big Win.
"At the World's Fair, St. Louis, I won more money than any other breeder, $1,360 in cash. I have showed at Buffalo, Detroit, and all the large shows on this side of the line, and have been very successful. In all my time as an exhibitor I have never entered a protest; and have never had a word with a judge only with the best of good feeling. I have tried to make it pleasant for the secretary and management of the show, and I think that is why I have got along so well and have been so successful, for no matter what I asked for I could always get it. I have handled a great number of varieties of poultry, but have never tried to originate any new variety. I always tried to make existing breeds a little better and keep them up to the standard. I have bred all the Asiatic varieties very successfully, also all Polands and Hamburgs. I bred White and Brown Leghorns, Black, Buff, White Cochins, Bantams, Golden and Silver Sebrights, Black Tailed and White Japanese, Black and White Rose Comb, Polish Bantams and Silkies. I have raised most of all my stock with hens, but have raised better birds with the incubators than with the hens. I bought four brooders last year, and raised my chicks that way. I like it best; there is less trouble with a brooder than with fussy hens."
For several years now Mr. McNeil's valuable services have been in request at some of our largest shows. In fact, he has been called on to judge much more frequently than he has any desire to act. His extensive experience has given him a splendid all-round knowledge, and after all it takes a breeder and exhibitor, one who has to know the good and the bad points, to give intelligent decisions. The condition in which he put down some of the rarer varieties, White Cochins for instance, was an object lesson for exhibitors of that time, and in fact, for any time.

A Particular Pet.
If Mr. McNeil had a particular pet it was the Poultry Association of Ontario, since developed into those two immense bodies, the Western Ontario Poultry Association. He has held office in more associations and clubs than we could number, and has acted

Testing of Eyes

It is not a matter of guess-work, nor is it a matter of trying on pairs of ready-made glasses. It is a science governed by principles which none but a person who has studied the anatomy of the eye can understand.

No guesswork in the Shadow Testing Method. This wonderful new method of shadow testing does away with prolonged strain of testing with lenses or asking questions. This is the first time it has been demonstrated in London by these specialists or anyone else.

STRATHROY CHURCH HAD A PROSPEROUS YEAR

St. John's Congregation Reduced Its Debt From $2,000 to $700.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Strathroy, April 10.—The congregation of St. John's Anglican Church faces the new year with a cheerful outlook, and the record since last Easter is very encouraging. The new vestry and supplied choir, with the debt on the church reduced from $2,000 to $700, the parish house free from all debt, with a new piano for the Sunday school, with a new library of nearly 200 volumes, and sectional bookcases, all show a satisfactory advance.
The vestry assembled at 8 p.m., with the rector, Rev. Rural Dean Robinson, in the chair, and Mr. R. F. Richardson, vestry clerk, recorded the minutes. The report of the wardens, read by Mr. George Weeks, people's warden, showed a balance of $67 in the treasury.
The rector read his annual report, showing 16 infants baptized and 2 adults; 9 marriages, and 17 burials. The latter is the largest number recorded. Eleven different clergymen had taken service during the year, among them two bishops, Qu'Appelle and Huron. The Lenten services were well attended. The average attendance of the congregation markedly increased; 109 communicants attended the Easter administration of the sacrament.
Mr. George Weeks was re-elected people's warden. Mr. James Sadleir, having asked to retire after years of faithful service, retired from the position of rector's warden. The rector, Mr. R. J. Avery and Dr. A. S. Thompson all paid tributes to Mr. Sadleir's good work. The rector appointed Mr. F. L. E. Evans, editor of the Age, his warden for the year.
Mr. Sadleir, superintendent of the Sunday school, presented his annual report.
The following were elected for the year:
Sidesmen—Dr. A. S. Thompson, Messrs. Dampier, A. Stevenson, Endacott, J. Wright, Jervis, Maine, Bixal, Avery, M. Rapley, and F. J. Wright.
Select Vestry—Messrs. Sadleir, Kinder, Avery, Pincombe, C. Wright, H. S. Rapley and Dr. Thompson.
Auditors—Messrs. M. Rapley and Kinder.
Vestry Clerk—Mr. R. F. Richardson.
Treasurer—Mr. H. S. Rapley.
Votes of thanks were given to the choir, organist, choir leader, Sunday school organist, Working Society and Ladies' Society.
The vestry adjourned for two weeks. At the congregational meeting which

Owing to an error in information received from the fire hall, it was stated that a fire on Wednesday morning was at Samuel Leff's junk warehouse, at 30 Maitland street, when as a matter of fact it was at Gootson Bros' place, at 30 Maitland street. The buildings are only a block apart, and the confusion arose from that fact.

WORK COMMENCED ON CATHOLIC CHURCH

It is Hoped to Have It Ready by Christmas.

Work has been begun on the new St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church on the corner of Cheapside and Maitland streets, and it is hoped to have it completed by Christmas.

It is understood a separate school will also be started close to the church within a few days, and this will be used in place of St. Nicholas' school, which will be closed. The new structure will be of brick and stone, will comprise four rooms, and will be a modern school in all respects.

The church when completed will cost close to $40,000.

DOCK WAS DAMAGED

An Ice Jam Moved Whole Structure at Leamington Three Feet.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Leamington, April 10.—The movement of the ice in the lake has done much damage to the dock here. The weight of the enormous ice jam, while it has left the cribs intact, has driven the entire dock to the east almost three feet, and tilted it over so that the town was without light. It will be of little use until repaired, and it will be a costly piece of work to make it as it was.
