PROBES OPENS IN BOAT TRAGEDY

Fight Is Launched To Save "Key of the River" For City

ST. THOMAS STUNNED BY PARK DISASTER

Eighth Victim of Drowning Accident At Pinafore Is Recovered
This Morning—Child Victims Are Prepared For Burial—
Owner of Ill-Fated Craft Tells of Efforts To Save the Passengers.

INQUEST IS OPENED BY CORONER EWIN

St. Thomas, July 7.—After a night of grief and anxiety spent by a large number of citizens at the scene of last night's appalling tragedy at Pinafore park, this city awoke this morning to a full realization of the extent of the disaster. Heavy clouds and drizzling rain were symbolical of the state of mind into which the whole community has been plunged.

At two undertaking parlors of Messrs. Williams and Towers pathetic scenes were witnessed as the bodies of the tiny victims, recovered last night, were prepared for burial.

Under white sheets, which all too plainly revealed the outlines of little forms which looked pathetically small on the slabs on which they were laid out, lay children who yesterday morning were the embodiment of youth and health.

Beautiful in life, they were even more lovely in death, with long, dark eyelashes closed forever upon cheeks like driven snow, and tiny, folded hands, resembling the work of some master sculptor in white marble.

Last Body Recovered.

With the recovery of the body of Ronald Smith about 3 o'clock this morning, the work of the searchers, which continued all night, and was not rewarded by the discovery of any more bodies until about 11 o'clock this morning, when the remains of little Jean Murray were brought to the surface at a considerable distance nearer shore than the bodies recovered last night.

At 11:30, Coroner Dr. D. L. Ewin opened an inquest at the police station into the death of Mrs. Thomas Watt. The jury men, after viewing the remains, journeyed out to the park and inspected the ill-fated pleasure craft, after which they adjourned to meet on Monday evening next at 8 o'clock.

Meanwhile, police under direction of Chief Armstrong, are busy interviewing eye-witnesses and survivors of the accident in an effort to bring out all possible evidence regarding the disaster. The names of the jurors are: L. O. Pearson (foreman), H. E. Stansell, G. R. Rinn, John Lyle, P. M. Egan, R. R. Doherty, C. C. Harton, and W. R. Doherty. According to a statement made to the coroner's jury by William Stoner, operator of the sloop boat, the craft did not tip forward, as reported, but went over sideways, catapulting every one of the occupants clear of the boat. The story of yesterday relative to his view of the mishap and his efforts to save the passengers. He succeeded in bringing two to safety and stated that he might have saved two others had he not been alone in the boat.

"I did all that any man could do single handed," he stated. He explained that he had constructed the craft himself late last month, having gotten the idea from a New York friend who was visiting him. The two rowboats were fastened together at their bow ends by two timbers, and on this platform had been erected and box-like slides put

VICTIMS IN SHOCKING ST. THOMAS TRAGEDY.
Above are the eight persons who were drowned last night in Pinafore Lake, St. Thomas, when the swan boat, in which they were making the last pleasure trip of the evening, capsized. The top picture of the boat was made by flashlight shortly after the tragedy occurred and shows it still half filled with water. The eight victims are, from left to right, in the upper row: Edith Robertson, aged 8; Mrs. Thomas Watts and her little nephew, Roland Smith; Jean Robertson, aged 12; and in the lower row: Alfred Sutherland, aged 5; Jean Murray, aged 7; 5-year-old Murray Barnes, and Frances Vidler, aged 9. All of the eight lived in St. Thomas.

4 ALDERMEN FIGHT PLAN OF PRIVATE INTERESTS

Riverside Property Must Be Saved For Larger Civic Scheme, They State.

P. U. C. UP IN ARMS

Whole Project, Including Sulphur Springs, To Come Before Special Council Session.

A fight was launched today to save the "key" to the Thames.

A new project has been started for early construction of a new Springbank dam. This, with plans for a riverside drive and a civic dock near the foot of Dundas street and public utilities demands for new water supplies form ammunition for the defence of the city's rights. At least four aldermen, together with members of the public utilities commission, are seeking to save the title to riverside property for the city.

Plans of private interests to secure riverside property, the "key" to the city's entrance to the Thames, were flayed by aldermen and members of the public utilities commission today.

A meeting of the city council has been called for Friday and the whole river project will be opened up.

Private interests are seeking control of riverside property along the south branch of the river near Dundas street. An offer has been made to the city and will be considered at a special meeting of the council this week. Today signatures of nine members of the council had been secured to an agreement of sale, an agreement which must go before the council for ratification.

Names of Aldermen Smith, Linne, Ashton, Kibbourne, Cliff, Carwell, McKay and Dolg, together with that of Mayor Wenige, are authoritatively stated to have been secured.

Pastor Saves Lives.
"Several owe their lives to the daring of Rev. C. M. C. Halliwell, of St. Luke's church. He was on shore when the tragedy occurred, but he was one of the first to swim to the spot where the children went down. Time after time he dived and brought up an unconscious body. All of them were rescued. "Ernie Cox was another who swam out to the rescue. He managed to save Merle Sutherland, sister of Alfred Sutherland, who was drowned. Kenneth Corkfoot also played a big part in the rescue work."

SIR ADAM CHALLENGES ATTITUDE OF WENIGE ON RAILWAY FRANCHISE

Calls On Council and Public To Rally To Maintenance of City's Rights.

CHANCE FOR LOW FARE

Has Assurance of Legislature's Support in Cause of City.

With the vigor of the Beck who first fought through the hydro issue in London nearly twenty years ago Sir Adam Beck this afternoon issued a statement in which he challenges the attitude of Mayor Wenige on the London street railway franchise and calls upon the members of the council and the public generally to rally to a battle for the maintenance of the city's rights.

Mayor Is Scored.

"We have a mayor in London today," declared Sir Adam, "whose consummate gall is colossal, an open and avowed enemy of public ownership, whose every act in this railway question, in my humble opinion, has been antagonistic to the interests of the people of London and in the best interests of the company."

"Now he suggests that the city council should not appeal from the decision of the Ontario railway and municipal board in the face of the advice of the city solicitor and best available counsel in Toronto, who tell us that the Ontario board is wrong and can be reversed. The mayor suggests a new franchise for the company; a company that has never in its history, and especially during this railway struggle, made any pretence to keep its obligations. The fallacy of proposing a further agreement with such a crowd is beyond my conception. Let this buffoonery cease. The vital interests of the people of London are at stake."

He said that the council should stand fast for the rights of the people. It is within the power of the council of Ontario to do it, and I am the member of that legislature for the city of London.

Counts on Council.

"I hope that the council will not lend its support to this avowed enemy of public ownership, and that there will be no let up in our fight in the court of appeals."

The proposal of Mayor Wenige that the city council and people of London should capitulate to the street railway in the matter of fares and service and grant a new 15-year franchise to the company at the five-cent rate promises to bring a sharp division at the next meeting of the council.

His worship's opposition to an appeal by the city from the decision of the Ontario railway and municipal board is a matter of much interest and surprise, in view of the fact that City Solicitor T. G. Meredith, K.C., has given it as his opinion that the judgment is not sound and that the judgment is not sound and that the judgment is not sound.

MINE PICKETS ACQUITTED ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT

Canadian Press Despatch.

Edmonton, Alta., April 7.—Assault charges against five striking miners were laid in the provincial police court yesterday. Two of the pickets, who were alleged to have assaulted a non-union miner, were dismissed while the cases of the other three were adjourned until Wednesday.

MRS. DUFFIN DIES AT HOME OF DAUGHTER IN STRATHROY

Special to The Advertiser.

Strathroy, July 6.—Mrs. Margaret Emma Duffin, wife of Charles Duffin of Toronto, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) G. T. Watts, United Church parsonage, early this morning. Funeral is being held this afternoon, with interment in Toronto.

Speeding Motorist Pays Fine With 1,500 Coppers

"Say it with coppers," was the slogan of a young speeder caught on the Springfield drive Sunday, when he appeared in county court before Magistrate Hawshaw today.

Apparently the young man found it necessary to dig down deep into the family bag of spare coppers for he arrived at court laden down with 1,500 one-cent pieces.

The fine amounted to $14.75 with costs added and the clink of coppers made sweet music in the courtroom for over 15 minutes as the youth solemnly and carefully counted out the coppers one at a time.

"I hope the speeders don't get this habit," commented the court. "We will need a five-ton truck to cart the stuff to the bank if this keeps up."

SIR ADAM BECK, who today made an important statement, challenging the attitude of Mayor Wenige on the street railway issue.

TRUSTEES FAVOR TWO SCHOOLS

Plan Will Be Advocated At Next Meeting of Board.

Measures to provide new high school buildings in both London South and London East will be taken at the next meeting of the board of education, according to plans under way today. Chairman Lawraon and his conferees would use money set aside for a new east college as a sufficient sum for buildings in both the east and south districts.

Plans will be gone into thoroughly, with the expectation that saving in the cost of a new east end site and present construction costs will make a two-school scheme feasible.

Money Could Be Used.

"There are several phases of the two-school plan which appeal to me," comments Rev. R. D. Mess, "though I cannot say that I can wholly support it until we have gone into the plan thoroughly."

According to Trustee Mess, money available for an east end college could very well, legally, be used for the construction of two schools. "I can't speak for Chairman Lawraon, of course, but I know that he wants the matter fully considered," Trustee Mess points out. "Looking into the matter as it is now, I would think it cheaper to build two buildings of the same type than one at a time."

Costs Are Lower.

Trustee Mess points out that building costs are not as high now as they have been, or as they may yet be, and the time is opportune now from an economical standpoint. He has information which would indicate that two buildings of the same type could be put up much cheaper than the $10,000 a room schedule which formerly held.

The problem of providing winter work is also assisting the two-school scheme. Trustee Mess and others are not wholly in favor of Chairman Lawraon's scheme, but they are ready to fully investigate the matter as soon as possible.

WILL NOT REBUILD TARA HOTEL DURING THIS YEAR

Special to The Advertiser.

Tara, July 6.—John Rudolph, owner of the block on Main street, Tara, which was destroyed by the fire broke out at early hour on the morning of Tuesday, June 30, has definitely decided not to rebuild the block this year according to a statement given out tonight. It appears very doubtful at present whether the ruined block will ever be restored unless the site is purchased by some other person for the above purpose. Tara therefore will likely be without a hotel for some time.

Parliament Must Decide Before Steps Are Taken To Change Canadian Flag

Minister of National Defence Speaks To Set Fears at Rest.

MISAPPREHENSION

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, July 6.—Until the whole matter of a Canadian flag is discussed in parliament, and a decision reached, no further steps will be taken in the matter, said Hon. E. M. MacDonald, minister of national defence, today, in discussing what he stated to be "considerable misapprehension in the matter of the flag."

At present all merchant vessels in Canada fly the Red ensign with the badge of the dominion on the fly, and the blue ensign with the badge of the dominion is flown on all government owned vessels.

In British Columbia Mr. MacDonald pointed a well known organization named the United Sons of Canada, had offered a substantial award for the winner of a competition to produce a Canadian flag, and on the order papers of the House of Commons last session a resolution in the name of A. R. MacMaster, dealt with the subject.

The minister of defence explained that the position of the government was that there should be no change until Parliament had made a decision in the matter.

LAW OF CANADA TO BE RESPECTED,

Russian Colonists in B. C. Decide To Mend Their Ways.

Canadian Press Despatch. Victoria, July 6.—Peter Veregin the younger, recently elected ruler of British Columbia Doukhobors will usher in among the Russian colonists a policy of rigid compliance with Canadian laws, according to word received here by Hon. J. D. MacLean, minister of education, from Brilliant, following receipt of letters there from Veregin himself. Veregin is expected to arrive in British Columbia this month from Russia.

The Doukhobors held a big mass meeting in Brilliant a few days ago, when an almost unanimous decision was reached to respect Canadian institutions in future.

CLUES IN ROBBERY PROVE BLIND ROAD

High Constable Wharton Still Has Hopes of Early Arrests.

The cool young man who calmly robbed the Thorncliffe branch of the Bank of Montreal of $7,000, last Friday afternoon, is still at large. Clues which pointed to his early capture were run down by High Constable Wharton, yesterday.

The chief of the county police returned to London at 1:45 this morning and informed The Advertiser that yesterday's results had been disappointing. There was, however, still more than a hint that the bank bandit and his accomplice, the driver of the car in which he made his escape, would land in the cells shortly.

HAIG GREET'S "TOMMY" WHO WAS ON HIS STAFF

Earl Presents Hero To Lady Haig On Visit To Kenora.

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, Man., July 6.—A British "Tommy" who served on Field Marshal Earl Haig's staff in France, was greeted by the famous field marshal at Kenora during the weekend.

Albert Blackburn, who enlisted in 1914 at his native city, Manchester, England, when 17 years old, was the "Tommy." He was a chauffeur at General Headquarters at Montreal, France, and driver for General Ford, officer of Field Marshal Haig's staff.

Dressed in his working clothes, Blackburn walked quietly up to the British Army leader, and introduced himself, and the earl presented him to Lady Haig, saying: "This is one of my boys."

AT THE THEATRES

LOEW'S THEATRE

The Manicure Girl.

If one likes Bebe Daniels one should not fail to see her in her latest starring motion picture, "The Manicure Girl," showing at Loew's for the first half of the week.

Miss Daniels gives the finest performance of her career in a picture that is first, last, and foremost a comedy. As Maria Maretti she is by far the most popular manicurist in the Curzon hotel, and naturally she has a good time. There is heart appeal plentifully sprinkled throughout every reel.

Edmund Burns and Hale Hamilton have the leading male roles in the picture, the other stars being Dorothy Cumming, Charlotte Walker and Mary Foy.

The Our Gang comedy pictures are getting better and better. The latest offering of the youngsters is "Every Man for Himself," and it alone is worth the price of admission. Pathe news rounds out the picture program.

Mike, Ivey & Co head three good vaudeville offerings. The pretty Mike Ivey is a toe dancer of distinct merit, she and her partner making a distinct hit. The pianist of the company rendered two piano selections that won the approval of the audience.

Jim and Betty Page in comedy and song went over well. Their final number, a laughing song, drew them a well-deserved encore.

Arnold and Florence opened the bill with equilibristic feats that were excellent. They also injected a whole lot of comedy into their act.

CAPITOL THEATRE

The Talker.

An imposing array of film favorites forms the cast of "The Talker," the first National picture running at the Capitol theatre for the first half of the week.

In the feature roles are Anne Q. Nilsson, as beautiful and as gorgeously costumed as ever, and Lewis Stone, as polished and as immaculate as ever. In lesser roles are seen Shirley Mason, Ian Keith, Tully Marshall and other almost equally well known. Thus the picture, by reason of the personnel of the cast itself, is sufficient guarantee of good screen entertainment.

In addition to the big photoplay, there are the regular up-to-the-minute Pathe news views and Larry Senon, comedy actor, in a funny one, "The Cloudhopper." Perhaps the most interesting parts of the Pathe news reel are the review of the troops by King George and Marshal Foch on the occasion of his majesty's birthday, and the manoeuvres of 18 planes in the British air naval force.

The story of "The Talker" is from Marion Fairfax's stage hit of the same name, and while it unfolds a rapid succession of tense love scenes, finds its basis in the prosaic figure of a woman who hates housework and likes to talk. She is one of those ultra-modern women who believe in the freedom of their sex. Miss Nilsson as the talking wife, and Stone, in the role of the silent, or rather silenced, husband, find ideal scope for excellent portrayals.

It is an interesting note that Alfred E. Green, director of "The Talker," which is essentially a picture of domestic life, has chosen practically all his players from married people.

COUNSEL ADVISES TO DROP CHARGES

Believes Nothing To Be Gained in Proceedings Against Bank Directors.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, July 6.—The Star today says: "There is nothing to be gained by proceeding against the Home Bank directors under the conspiracy charges against them under the criminal code. This is the opinion of D. L. McCarthy, K.C., crown counsel, in the cases against the Home Bank officers and directors, in his letter to the attorney-general, following the decision of the first divisional court in quashing all convictions against the directors, obtained by prosecution under the bank act."

"He also advises all the charges against M. J. Haney, a former president of the defunct bank, be dropped."

"In view of the decision of the appeal court he does not see how convictions can be obtained in any of the above cases."

"Attorney-General Nickle today refused to comment on the McCarthy letter. 'I will have an announcement tomorrow or the next day as to whether or not we will proceed with the conspiracy charges,' he asserted. 'In the meantime there is nothing to be said.'"

ROBBERS RAID CLUBHOUSE AND ESCAPE WITH $19,700

Associated Press Despatch. Cincinnati, July 6.—After they had bound three watchmen and two porters at the Cincinnati zoological garden this morning, seven robbers raided the clubhouse, blew open the safe, piled the loot from another safe and escaped with approximately $19,700 in money and checks.

ONTARIO TO GET SUPPLY OF SERUM

Province Is To Obtain Some of First Output From Laboratory.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, July 6.—The Ontario Department of Health is to get one of the first consignments of the Spaulinger tuberculosis serum to be sent out from the laboratories at Geneva, Hon. Dr. Forbes Godfrey announced today when he returned to his office at the parliament buildings after his trip to Europe. Dr. Godfrey is confident that the serum will produce splendid results. It requires four years to mature a supply of the serum.

"Many striking cases of recovery through this serum have been recorded," said Dr. Godfrey. "Spaulinger showed me his experimental animals and if, as I believe, he has a partial bovine vaccine which will immunize the cattle herds of our dominion, it will be readily seen what it means in the prevention of animal tuberculosis."

LIGHTNING BOLT STRIKES FARMER

Egremont Township Man Killed During Severe Electrical Storm.

Special to The Advertiser. Carleton Place, July 6.—James Farrell, aged 65, a well-known farmer of the second concession of Egremont township, was struck by lightning and instantly killed while returning from work in a field on his farm, one and a half miles south of Holstein, during a severe electrical storm about 6 o'clock this evening.

Three horses, which he was driving at the time, were all instantly killed. Mr. Farrell's body was found a short time later with the horses lying dead around him. There were no marks on the victim's body, but the hair on the back of his head was singed by the lightning.

The late Mr. Farrell was well and favorably known throughout the district, where he had resided for many years. He was a married man and leaves a widow and large grown-up family.

INCURABLES' HOME ASKS CITY GRANT

New Wing Could Relieve Congestion of Patients at Victoria Hospital.

The women's Christian association of this city is erecting a large wing to the east of the Victoria home for incurables, Grand avenue, with a view to accommodating a much larger number of patients. In order to help finance the project the association waited on the city council recently, asking for a grant.

Miss Christine McIntosh, secretary of the association, pointed out that the new wing would relieve the congestion at Victoria hospital, where a large number of incurables are kept at the expense of the city. The overhead at the Victoria home was not so great and economy would thus be effected.

Recently the Hon. Lincoln Goldie and Sir Adam Beck visited the home and were greatly impressed with the work which is being carried there. The association benefited by the will of the late Mrs. E. J. Cannell of Toronto, recently probated, $1,000 going to the Victoria home for incurables and $1,000 to the home for aged people.

Modern Man Has Fashion Fads Too

Discards Once Popular Wrist Watch.

There are something like 5,000,000 wrist watches in old London which nobody wants. About three years ago every man in three wore a wrist watch. Now not one in twenty does. One of the reasons for this is that they are easily lost when removed for washing, and moreover, with the very long and very tight shirt cuffs that are now worn they are extremely uncomfortable.

Smart young men now wear the thinnest of platinum watches, worn in a vest pocket, with the finest of platinum chains. Some of the watches are no thicker than a dollar piece, and some are set with jewels.

BRINGS NEW IDEAS OF GIRL GUIDING

Provincial Commissioner Mrs. E. B. Smith Returns England.

MRS. E. B. SMITH, provincial commissioner of Girl Guiding, who returned home from England this week with many new ideas about Guiding.

Mrs. E. B. Smith, provincial girl guide commissioner, has returned to the city after spending the past seven weeks abroad. While in England Mrs. Smith gleaned many new ideas with regard to girl guiding. She brings back with her an interesting letter from Lady Clarendon, a district commissioner there, who lives in Ontario when she is Lady Hyde. Lady Clarendon, who has a warm spot in her heart for Canadians, has sent back a message full of inspiration.

Mrs. Smith, who returned on S. S. Empress of Scotland, met many of the interesting members of a British party of journalists on their way to Australia to attend the imperial press conference there. All had a good word to say for guiding. Indeed, in the old girl guiding has come to be considered a great educational force in the land, and the people greet new companies with enthusiasm wherever they are springing up.

The provincial commissioner has brought back with her many new ideas for raising funds for local companies and for carrying on successful girl guide camps. Her trip proved a pleasant one and a profitable one as guiding in Ontario is concerned.

The Unappreciated Husband Whose Wife Has the Movie Complex—Does a Girl of 17 Know Her Heart.

Dear Miss Dix—I am a young man. Three years ago I married a girl of 17, who was very poor. She was working in a store and trying to support herself and two younger sisters on $15 a week. I shouldered all of her responsibilities, took her sisters to live with us, have educated them and have indulged my wife in every possible way. But no matter what I give her, I cannot satisfy her. She is cold and indifferent to me, gets the blues and won't speak to me for a week at a time.

She is very pretty, and feels that she should be in the movies. I adore my wife, and the way she treats me breaks my heart. What can I do?

LONESOME.

Answer: I am afraid your case is a very desperate one. Evidently your wife is one of the self-centered women, without appreciation, or gratitude, who care only for themselves, and against their hard hearts a man's love and tenderness beats as vainly as a summer sea on a granite rock.

One would think, under the circumstances, that your wife would look upon you as a knight errant who had rescued her and her little sisters from the dragon of poverty that was about to devour them, and that you would shine a very hero in her eyes. On the contrary, she sees you only as an ordinary businessman, and she has already forgotten how hungry she used to be.

Hard, cold, selfish to the bone, self-centered, never doing anything for any one else—never appreciating what is done for them—their only redeeming quality a pretty face—there are plenty of such women. And the thing that other women never understand is why men love this type of woman so often, and break their hearts over her.

She isn't worth it. She isn't worth a man's working himself to death to provide luxuries, because she will never even say "thank you" for them. And she will never be satisfied no matter what a man gives her, for she is like the daughters of the horse leech, always crying "more, more."

There is only one cure for the woman who has the movie complex, and who believes that she could back Mary Pickford and Norma Talmadge off the screen. Let her go and try it. Buy her a ticket to Hollywood, but tell her when she gets there she will have to shift for herself. There will be no more money from home. For the delusion that you have got a face that screens well there is no other cure equal to washing dishes in a cafeteria.

If I had a discontented, sulky wife, who thought herself a wasted beauty, who thought herself a waste of money, I would rather she would be glooming around Hollywood than deploring at home with her blues. DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—Do you think a girl of 17 knows her own heart enough to marry? Is her affection temporary or permanent? Is her intelligence sufficiently advanced to enable her to make a choice of a husband? Please answer this with all the knowledge you have on the subject. TWO BOYS.

Answer: A pound of experience is worth a ton of theory on any subject, and I feel that I have some very definite information on this subject gleaned from innumerable women who have married at 17, and who have repented in bitterness and tears.

During the year I get thousands of letters from women who married at 17, and who write me that at 25 they are miserable because they have outgrown this calf love and find themselves tied to men to whom they are indifferent, or whom they hate.

Often they have found the men who are their real mates, the men whom they would have chosen for husbands if they had waited until they were grown and mature. Often they have degenerated into peevish, discontented, fretful women who are bored with life because they have missed their playtime, and who resent the burden of taking care of husband and children.

No girl of 17 knows her own heart. She is a child with a child's rickety fancy that is fired by the newest plaything. Her affection is temporary. She is crazy about one boy one week, and wild about another one the next week. Her taste changes continually. She forgets the boy that she thought she loved with an undying passion the minute a better-looking chap with a newer dance step comes along, or one with a slicker line of jolly.

No girl of 17 has a sufficiently developed intelligence to fit her to pick out a husband. The law doesn't permit her to make any binding contract at that age. She has to get her parents' consent, and it is a shame that any father and mother will be a part to a silly little girl jeopardizing her whole life's happiness by marrying at 17.

LEAMINGTON HAS CLEVER PIANIST

Miss Muriel Gidley Has Won Several Important Honors.

Leamington, July 6.—Miss Muriel Gidley, pupil of the Craig studio of Leamington, was a successful candidate in the recent Toronto conservatory of music examinations, having passed her (A. T. C. M.) piano with first-class honors, and has qualified for the degree of associate of the Toronto conservatory of music, passing the necessary theory requirements, taking first-class honors in each grade.

Miss Gidley has made a very enviable record and has done all her work in Leamington. In February, 1924, she passed her junior school piano with honors and took first-class honors in the elementary theory examination, since which time she has passed the following theoretical and practical examinations, taking first-class honors in every grade: Primary harmony, rudiments, junior history, harmony, counterpoint, senior form, intermediate school piano, junior and intermediate sight-singing, primary pipe-organ, junior pipe-organ, and intermediate pipe-organ, winning the Dominion of Canada silver medals in the two latter pipe-organ examinations for years 1923 and 1924.

SUMMER DISHES

Duchess Cream.
One cup tapioca, 1 cup boiling water, 2 egg whites, 3 oranges, 2 cups sugar, 1 cup crushed or shredded pineapple.
The recipe may be divided, as it takes the quantities given to serve a club of twenty. Soak the tapioca in cold water overnight. (If the instantaneous variety is used, the soaking is not necessary.) In the morning place it in the upper part of the double boiler, add the boiling water and cook over hot water until it is quite clear, adding more water if necessary. Remove it from the fire and allow it to cool slightly, beating constantly. Beat the egg whites in a separate bowl until stiff, then mix them with the sugar and the pineapple from which all juice has been drained. Add the tapioca and egg mixture to this and set it in a cold place to chill. Serve in sherbet glasses, each portion topped with a spoonful of sweetened whipped cream.

WOMAN SPEAKS WELL OF JAPAN

Miss Margaret Armstrong Gives Address at Union W. M. S. Anniversary.

Special to The Advertiser.
Union, July 7.—The W. M. S. anniversary on Sunday morning was a notable occasion. Miss Margaret Armstrong, of Toyama, Japan, gave a very interesting and inspiring address. She emphasized the application of the principles of international brotherhood in our attitude to Japan, which she stated was in advance of many nations in complying with the conditions of the peace conference, in disarmament of battleships and in modifications of conscription. She said that 85 per cent of the student body was opposed to war. There was also a strong temperance sentiment. These advanced ideas attributed to Christianity. A number of art illustrations were given, showing the influence and advance of Christian religion.

Rev. Mr. Moss of Sparta led in prayer. Miss Vivian Olde, president of the mission circle, read the lesson and the offering was taken by Misses Lillian Clarke and Helen McPhail. Sacred solos were rendered by Mrs. Orville Burgess and Miss Vera Vanvalder.

Miss Armstrong, who is home on her third furlough, and who is returning to her field of work in Japan, will give an address on "Child Life and the Women of Japan," at the picnic on Thursday on the lawn of Mrs. Rock Bailey's home.

JURY WILL ENDEAVOR TO PLACE THE BLAME

Last Body Is Recovered From Ruins of Boston Building.

Associated Press Despatch.
Boston, July 7.—The task of placing the blame for the collapse of the Pickwick club building last Saturday on a gay crowd of revelers, with a loss of 43 lives, assumed chief importance today when definite assurance had been received from the wreckers that the ruins had yielded the last of the dead.

The Suffolk county grand jury spent 15 hours examining the scene of the disaster and questioning witnesses, some of them survivors, and adjourning shortly before midnight last night only to resume the probe early today.

Down in the Chinatown district where the night life centered about the ill-fated club, the task of the jury was made more difficult by the fact that the bodies of those who were killed were being buried today. They remembered William "Toots" Murray, against whom indictments were brought in connection with the Rhode Island gas bomb incident in the Rhode Island legislature a year ago.

Over at station No. 4 they were raising a purse for the relatives of Lieutenant-Inspector "Benny" Alexander, who died while waiting for the man he was trailing to visit his accustomed haunt, and for the family of Patrolman Paul Halloran, detailed to guard the club.

LUGGAGE IS NOW FORTUNE'S FREAK

To Avoid Losing Travelling Accessories, Use New Ensemble Idea.

By AILEEN LAMONT.

New York, July 7.—The vacation season has turned the thoughts of many toward new luggage. The latest freak of fortune is along the ensemble idea. That is trunks, bags, suitcases, hat boxes and jewel cases follow the same general lines as to color and material and all are marked with a distinctive design or band of color which enables the owner to pick them out of an indiscriminate heap on the platform without difficulty.

Corset and garter manufacturers are complaining bitterly over the prices of crude rubber for the elastic parts of the form molders are growing constantly, while those thin enough to go without corsets are buying dozens of pairs of garters. In size the corsets seldom run above forty, but as to style they are made for everybody from eight to eighty.

The modern belle may not have rings on her fingers and bells on her toes, but she sometimes has jewels on her shoes. One of the latest examples of footwear arriving from England is a black satin slipper with one strap, which is bordered about the toe with a band of turquoise set in silver.

One expects to see revers on a coat, but now Paris is placing them on skirts as well. One of the latest coats is of printed chiffon with broad white revers at the shoulders extending to the waist, where the coat is fastened by a large flower ornament. A second series of revers flares from the ornament down to the hem.

INSTRUCTIONS AWAITED ON HEADLIGHT STATUTE

County Officers Are Ready To Enforce Law As Soon As Informed.

High Constable Wharton and members of the county police will strictly enforce the glaring headlight law the minute specific instructions are received from the department of highways, Toronto.

"Glaring headlights are every bit as much of a menace to safe driving as speeders," declared the high constable. "It is a well known fact that a great many lights are out of focus but I cannot see why motorists should be summoned to court when there is no place in the city of London as far as I know, where car owners can take their autos to have the lights tested. It would be manifestly unfair to have them to court when they have no place to take their cars to have matters remedied."

"I understand that one garage proprietor is taking steps to have a platform built on which cars can be tested at a normal fee and this is a step in the right direction."

"Glaring lights are extra dangerous on narrow country roads," said Magistrate Hawkshaw. "On the wider highways it is possible to avoid the lights to some extent. The big trouble is the focus and the sooner the present state of affairs is remedied, the better."

The magistrate stated that he had received reports of drivers with spot lights on their cars, turning them full on passing cars, blinding the drivers.

"The first case of this kind that comes before me will be dealt with most severely," declared the county magistrate. "Spotlights that are stationary are a help. They keep the drivers from getting into the ditch at their right. This type is the only one that is legal."

Mystery of 25 Years Solved By Troublesome Conscience

Canadian Press Despatch.
Regina, July 6.—Twenty-five years ago the Stinson hardware store and several other business establishments in the town of Manor, Sask., were destroyed by a mysterious fire. Sunday a 70-year-old man walked into the office of the chief of police of Medicine Hat and confessed to a charge of arson. He was Stinson, the owner of the hardware store.

"My conscience has been troubling me since my wife died three years ago," he said, proceeding to detail that in the year 1900 he had collected a bundle of wood chips and scattered them around his store, finally setting them alight and fleeing to his home a few blocks away. He collected a $1,000 insurance claim.

Stinson has been brought back to Weyburn, Sask., where he will be charged with arson.

DR. ZAVITZ ANNOUNCES NEW VARIETY OF OATS

Professor at O. A. C. Declares "No. 44" Will Show Sensational Results.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Regina, Sask., July 7.—Experiments carried on over a period of seven years at the Ontario agricultural college, Guelph, Ont., have terminated successfully in the production of a new variety of oats known as "O. A. C. No. 44," it was announced by Dr. C. A. Zavitz, professor of field husbandry at the college, and president of the Canadian registered seed growers' association, who was on a visit in Regina yesterday. The new oats have been received for registration by the association. It has given an average yield per acre, over seven years at the college, of 64 bushels as against the average of 54 bushels of the old variety. Dr. Zavitz said that he gave the figure of the results on the experimental patches on the college ground or on the 84 farms it "would seem sensational."

CROP CONDITIONS ARE GOOD ALL OVER SASKATCHEWAN

Canadian Press Despatch.
Regina, July 7.—Crop conditions are very satisfactory all over the province. The wheat is possibly a week earlier than the average, most of it coming into the short blade and some already heading out, according to telegraphic reports received yesterday by the Saskatchewan department of agriculture. While there is in most places sufficient moisture for immediate needs, hot weather and winds have tended to dry out the land, and more rain will be welcome in July.

During the last week word has reached the department that a disease believed to be root rot is present in the wheat in some districts. The outbreak, however, seems to be pretty well confined to some of the older settled districts. Outcrops are rapidly disappearing.

ENGLISHMEN GAY PLAN PICNIC DAY

Rousing Time Scheduled—Long List of Attractions On Land and Water.

Friendly rivalry between the English, Irish and Scotch in their annual picnics and celebrations has become one of the traditions of Port Stanley. In the working out of which the general public takes the keenest interest.

Each of the three parent branches of the stock of the British Isles has its numerous representation in London and Western Ontario, but the Englishmen doubtless hold first place in the number of those who were actually born in the old land. For some years the English picnic was not very strenuously developed, but in recent years it has been vigorously fostered.

For weeks the Englishmen of London have been at work on their plans, and as a result they promise that the people of the district will see on Saturday next at Port Stanley the finest summer amusement program they have ever known.

There is always one outstanding difference about the annual English picnic. The Englishman, whose national life has been as much upon the seas as on the water, knows how to make the most of the facilities for fun afforded by Lake Erie. Surprises are promised on every hand, surprises and thrills, with an admixture of laughter and an extra concoction of extraordinary prizes for the winners. There will be English sports on land and water, English music, English games, a mammoth baby show and a raft of other features.

The London & Port Stanley Railway is co-operating with the committee to insure success. A special train service will be provided, and despite the added attractions there will be no advance in the regular fares.

Englishmen's organizations in all parts of Western Ontario have been invited to make the picnic their picnic.

The outstanding merit of the beach movies shown this season at the L. & P. S. beach theatre has an exemplification in the bill which opened last evening before an immensely pleased audience, and which will be presented again tonight—Mary Pickford in the Spanish romance, "Rosita," and a musical fantasy, "Cinderella."

Here they find Mary in her glorious heritage of vital, alluring womanhood, her beautiful curls piled high in an empire period coiffure, gowned in the most gorgeous Spanish costumes, capricious, intriguing, flirting, a new Mary you have never known before. "Rosita" is a stirring melodrama filled with scenes of intense emotion.

Wednesday and Thursday the season's movies will be interrupted while the theatre is handed over to the musical production, "Cinderella," a musical fantasy, in which a brilliant cast of soloists will be supported by a splendid chorus and a symphony orchestra of 30 pieces. The proceeds will be devoted to the building of a Christ church, Port Stanley.

We Have a Country Here.

Some time ago The Advertiser referred to the character of some of the Sunday school papers from United States that are used in London schools. No one cares to be dogmatic in such matters, but it is a plain fact that they are edited for United States children. At all times they take advantage of calendar dates to speak of loyalty to United States; the heroes around which the stories for boys are spun are all U. S. men. For instance, here is one extract from a recent issue:

"It is not an indication that you are unsophisticated if your blood quickens at the sight of the flag, and a lump comes into your throat when you hear the band play The Star-Spangled Banner."

"The young American who reads of the hardships of the early settlers, of the train of events which led to the establishment of a separate government, and of those years of struggle and sacrifice following, and is not thrilled by the thought that he is of the blood of these heroes, is suffering from moral anemia."

Now that is very excellent advice for the youth of United States, but we submit that we have national airs in this country and we have traditions that surround the building of the dominion and its system of responsible government that would furnish just as fine examples of national vision and just as splendid instances of a desire to make personal sacrifice for the accomplishment of a worthy purpose.

Other stories in this paper, the Boys' World, tell of the exploits of U. S. airmen; an entire page is given over to "Celebrating the Fourth"; two columns of the next page gives the origin of historical names such as "Liberty Bell," "United States Flag," "Uncle Sam," and about an inch and a half at the bottom to "John Bull and the British Lion."

The last page starts off with a story, "With the Protectors of Our Nation." It is all taken from the doings of the American navy, with the exception of the story of the bravery of a Confederate soldier at Gettysburg. The paper is planned, written and edited for United States consumption. There are papers published in Canada that for the purposes of Canadian schools are much better, and they give more space to the preparation of the Sunday school lesson. They should be more widely patronized.

Leave Us Alone.

Dr. Guy Manning of San Francisco, considered somewhat of an authority on several matters, says people are lazy. He starts in with the housewife and claims that she has so many labor-saving devices that she doesn't know the meaning of hard work.

Turning from her, he goes after the men, declaring that they are downright lazy. They will wait five minutes for an elevator rather than walk up a couple of flights of stairs; they will take a street car rather than walk a few blocks, and so on.

And after all what business is it of Dr. Guy Manning or any one else if people have these habits? If a woman keeping house finds it easier to have an electric washer in operation than to scrub the knuckles off her hands on a washboard, who is going to say that she's wrong? If some other devices make work easier and enable her to get through an hour or so sooner, who's going to sit in judgment and say it shouldn't be done?

As for a man and an elevator, what's the elevator there for? Has some person to go tagging around after him all day and tell him when to walk and when to ride?

Some person always seems to be ready to take on the task of scolding the rest of us for what we do or don't do, and the way we do it or don't do it. Why can't these critics and regulators leave us alone?

The Young Man is Lonely.

A young man who signs himself "A Lonely Boy" writes to The Advertiser with the request that his letter be forwarded to Dorothy Dix.

This young man is within four months of being twenty-three years of age; he has been in Canada three years, coming here from London, England. When he came here, according to his own statement, he wanted to succeed, but he adds "I have been making a fool of myself; I have not stayed at any work for long; I leave one job and go to another, and I have been doing that right from Halifax to London. I always wanted to be free, to be my own master and all the rest of that, but the real point of my letter is that I am really the loneliest young man in this country and I don't know how to get out of that state. How can I get into good company so that perhaps I can form the acquaintance of a young lady of about my own age. I want decent friends who will be decent to me and to whom I can be decent, but I don't know how to go about it."

The reader may smile at this letter and say the young man is approaching the stage where he thinks he should pick out a girl with the idea of getting married. If that is the case, more power to him, and may he have the good judgment to make a fine choice, because he is right now at the point where a great deal of his after-life depends on how he goes about this important task.

But there is something else in this young man's letter. We don't know him, never saw him or heard of him before, but when he says he's lonely—the loneliest man in the country—he gets right on a very human basis, and there are many others who know just what he means.

If you have never had the sensation of being lonely you have missed something, because without having had that very real sensation it is not possible to thoroughly appreciate friendships, home and all the rest of it.

After all a young man of twenty-three wants and needs friends because by instinct human beings want and long for companionship. There must be many more who have never come forward to state their case, but they probably feel very much the same as this young man who has broken the silence because he wants to find a solution for his problem. He's not asking very much either—simply wants a chance to meet some decent people so he'll feel at home in this country.

Do you ever put yourself out to look up such cases? Most people have their own circle of friends, their own family connections; they can go to other people's homes and be welcome, or they can entertain friends in their own home. Yes, there are a dozen ways they can turn to keep on meeting old friends and making new ones. But what of this chap who is a stranger here? Perhaps he works all day, and when that's done goes to his room or boarding-house. If he wants to he can go downtown, attend a moving-picture show, or on Sunday, if he is so disposed, he can go to church.

Supposing you met him, what would you do? If he told you he was a stranger here, and even admitted that he was lonely, would you see to it that he found friends? Would you ask him to come to your own home, and do your best to see that he had a chance of overcoming his feeling of loneliness? We don't do enough of that sort of business; we probably take it for granted that there are plenty of organizations here that will attend to such cases and let it go at that. There's a very real and a very human work to be done here, for this young man probably speaks for hundreds of others who are in the same position.

Making His Way.

Mr. Rupert Davies, who edited the Thameville Herald for some time, leaving there about six years ago to take over the Renfrew Mercury, has purchased the Kingston Daily Whig, one of the best-known dailies in Eastern Ontario. Mr. Davies has made steady and substantial progress in the newspaper field, and his success is due to his own ability to work hard and give the people the sort of paper they want to read.

Rupert Davies' experience is proof that it is possible to succeed in Canada. He came from Wales when quite a young boy and was apprenticed to the printing trade at the office of the Brantford Expositor, and there he got a good knowledge of all branches of the business.

His first newspaper venture was with the Thameville Herald, and it is no family secret that his capital when he started there was largely made up of his ability to work hard and turn out a paper that impressed the community with the fact that he meant business. When the Renfrew Mercury, a much larger business, came on the market Mr. Davies tackled that with the same spirit and he made it a journalistic and business success. His next step is into the daily field as owner of the Kingston Whig. Although still a young man, he has given ample evidence that it is possible to succeed right here in Ontario.

Note and Comment.

There's many a smart young man around today who's not as big as his pants.

United States made $78,000,000 worth of corsets last year, which looks like a tremendous waist of money.

An autoist in Woodstock was not certain how much gas he had in his tank, so he lit a match to see and found there were 237 gallons there.

Manitoba government made $70,000 out of three spring horse races. Any move to repeal such a source of revenue would be met with a chorus of neigh, neigh.

Cleveland woman, after being scolded by her husband for wearing short skirts, tried to poison herself. An exceptional case, as most women would have cut them shorter.

Can't help but admire the nerve of the young fellow who at any time is never more than two jumps ahead of the ball, but who has secured reservation at a $25 per week summer hotel.

Prisoners at Chatham jail were kept for 11½ cents per day, as against 10 3/5 cents during the previous quarter. Still it must be admitted that keeping body and soul together at 11½ cents a day, in spite of the high cost of cream puffs and asparagus tips, is no mean trick in itself.

Western Canada looks for a wheat yield of 350,000,000 bushels, and indications are that it will bring a good price. Here's hoping that bona prospects are correct, and that the men who actually do the work and grow the wheat get the last cent out of it.

If the traffic committee want no left turns at the corner of Dundas and Richmond, why not have a plain readable sign on the right side of each street just before the intersection? The present signs are at the far side of the intersection and printed in a zig-zag way that is not readable.

The resignation of Rev. R. J. Bowen as secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society in Western Ontario on account of poor health is a matter of regret. It was surely no desire of Mr. Bowen or of the people in this district that he should cease his activities. It is very doubtful if there is a man in Canada who knows the dominion as thoroughly as Mr. Bowen, or who is as capable of telling an audience of its remotest corners from the Yukon to Labrador. The society is fortunate in having secured so capable a successor in the person of Rev. John Garbutt, who has many qualities that will be valuable to the carrying on of this important work.

Cullin' Hens

An expert comes around once more and looks the hens square in the eye, and says if they don't do their stuff they'll figure in a chicken pie.

Poultry culling demonstrations are being held at several points in the county.

This age in which we're livin' now it calls for nothin' but a high powered man, if he don't square on all fours they'll drop him in the garbage can. For competition's fierce just now and we are out to grab and grab, to see if we can't gather in the things some other fellow had.

Of course the speckled hen about knows nothin' of efficient ways, if she feels like as though she should she sits upon the nest and lays.

Then next day if she wants to scratch and loaf around an hour or two, she doesn't know as how in that she's doin' a thing she shouldn't do. That speckled hen, she visits with the other hens, and sings a song with them in turn, is mighty pleased if now and then she stakes a fat and wiggly worm.

She doesn't know that all the time they're countin' up the eggs she lays, and keepin' track of what she does and how she spends her idle days. Nor does she know that eggs mean cash to pay in part the county tax, nor that if she don't get to work they'll swat her with the family axe.

So unaware of systems new, or of the customs of the day, she lives a happy sort of life a-layin' when she wants to lay.

Yet I'm in favor of the plan these experts have who's comin' by, who gaze upon a speckled hen and look her calmly in the eye, and figure out if she should live or mark the date for her to die, decidin' if she stays a hen or comes out as a chicken pie.

For I have got a speckled hen a-livin' on the lot with me, some weeks she lays a single egg, the next she'll cackle over three.

And I have argued with that bird and spoke to her as best I know, explainin' how that she should go and lay the best that she could do. I've took the axe out there as well and stood it up where she could see, a token that the speckled hen could get no sympathy from me.

I'd like to meet those expert men and sit and talk with them a spell, to see if they was up to much or had great gobs of truth to tell. I'd have a slogan on the coop, a short one only, "Lay or Kill," and if that hen she don't perform I'll get another one that will—ARK.

To the Editor

Oxford Is Conservative.

So That Is the Reason Why Earl of Oxford Was Turned Back from Occupying the Position of Chancellor.

Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir.—The defeat of the Earl of Oxford and Asquith in the recent contest for the chancellorship of the University of Oxford looks at first blush like a wondrous insult to a venerable statesman. The new earl's attachment to his university is well known, and his tactics in remaining in the running in the face of Conservative opposition indicate his eagerness for the post. But, though the defeat, following closely on a series of political defeats, may seem to make him a veritable man of defeats, it would be wrong to regard the action of the university as a slight or insult to one of her most honored sons. The election of the chancellor is purely a matter of party politics.

Oxford would not deserve the reputation of being the home of lost causes and forgotten loyalties if it were not Conservative. Nothing is so unwelcome in Oxford as change and certain forms of improvement. There, amidst the last lingering surroundings of the middle ages, Conservatism finds a safe and favorable shelter. Liberalism in all its forms is anathema, and not only the new Earl of Oxford, but Mr. Gladstone and Sir Gilbert Murray have found their loved Liberal ideas fatal to their preferment by the university.

The election of Viscount Cave should bring no discredit upon either the university or the Earl of Oxford. The chancellorship has long been a Conservative preserve which could not be yielded up to a Liberal, even of the eminence of the Earl of Oxford. Viscount Cave, who as lord chancellor now leads the Conservative party in the house of lords, may be trusted to allow Oxford to retain the even tenor of her way. The election has no personal significance.

WEDDINGS

KELLY—JOHNSON.

The home of Mrs. Amelia Johnson on Horton street was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when Miss Florence Mabel Johnson, daughter of Mrs. A. Johnson and the late Mr. Alfred Johnson, was united in marriage to Mr. James Kelly, of this city.

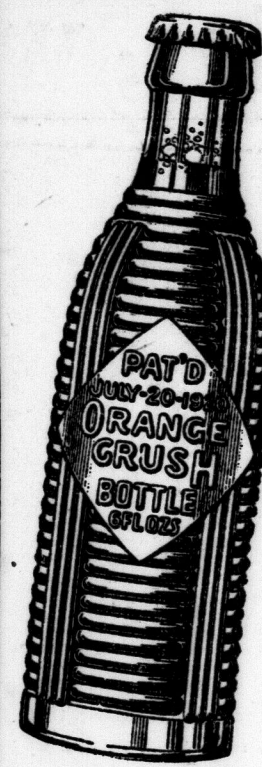

Rev. George T. Watts, of Stratford, former pastor of the Wellington United church, performed the ceremony in the drawing-room, which was beautifully decorated with ferns and roses.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Charles Cox, was lovely in her wedding gown of white georgette, with trimmings of silver and pearls. She wore a bandeau of orange blossoms and her bouquet was a shower of Ophelia roses, valley lilies and ferns.

Mrs. Charles Cox, sister of the bride, played the wedding music.

Following the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served in buffet style. The bride's table was prettily decorated in pink and white, and the bride's mother, in a gown of black and white georgette with corsage of mauve sweet peas, presided over it.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Kelly left by motor for their new home in Detroit, the latter travelling in a smart ensemble suit of black georgette over printed crepe, with hat and slippers to match. She also wore the gift of the groom, an Isabella fox fur. The

LATE FALL LIKELY TO BRING FEDERAL VOTE, SAYS ELLIOTT

West Middlesex Liberal Standard-Bearer Finds Optimism At Ottawa.

PLANS FOR RIDING

The Liberal star is exceedingly bright in federal circles at the present time, and the confidence of the Canadian people in the King government is monthly growing stronger, according to J. C. Elliott, K.C., candidate in West Middlesex, who has returned from a business trip to Ottawa.

While at the capital, Mr. Elliott conversed with the premier and several of the cabinet ministers. All are worn out from the trying sessions of recent weeks, he says, but in talking with each he was impressed with the spirit of public concern which predominated.

The date of the next federal election is still undecided, Mr. Elliott stated, but a governmental opinion gives the probable time as late in the fall.

On Thursday the West Middlesex Liberal association will complete the organization for provincial election purposes. The rally will be held at the Mount Brydges town hall, and will be addressed by W. E. N. Sinclair, Ontario Liberal leader, Mr. Elliott and other prominent men of the district.

Elections of new officers for the provincial branch will be held. J. G. Bice is the present president, and W. D. Moss is secretary.

TUG-OF-WAR DEFISSED AGAIN

Middlesex and Elgin To Stage Contest For Diamond-Studded Belt.

"They'll no beat Zorra," a battle cry that has lived fervently since that famous Western Ontario team took the world's tug-of-war championship at the big fair of 1922, is again officially sounded. Zorra has challenged Middlesex and Elgin to a sudden death contest of strength, and the struggle will be one of the many features of the annual Scotch picnic to be held at Port Stanley on Wednesday, July 22.

The diamond-studded belt, symbolizing the great victory of '22, will be on exhibition at the picnic, and it is also planned to award a diamond-studded medal, won by the West Elgin sports team at the world's fair, to Port Stanley on July 22, that all may realize the glory of other years.

Arranged under the auspices of the London and Elgin Caledonian societies, this tug-of-war picnic is heralded as the peak of summer outdoor sports. W. A. McPherson is the present champion and John Stuart is secretary.

The heavy cable which was used last year in the towing events will be replaced by a lighter one to give men of varying weight a chance to win prizes. Mr. O'Neill of Ridgeway is the present champion.

As an instance of old country interest in the progress of Caledonian games in Canada, the sports committee announces that the Scotch Pipers' association of Inverness, Scotland, has offered a medal for a competition among juvenile pipers. The Northern Meetings of Inverness will present a pair of pipes for winners, yet to be named, and prizes will also be given from the Caledonian society of London, England.

The pipe band contest, always an outstanding feature of the picnic, is surrounded with added interest this year as Ingersoll has but to win again to keep the Advertiser cup.

With a view to creating an interesting competition in the sports events, the sports committee invites all high school students of the two counties to take part in the races, jumps and other contests.

An unusually attractive program of dance contests is being arranged by Sergt. McDonald.

U. S. GOVT. MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL DENIED

Wyoming Judge's Decision Will Come Before the Appellate Court.

Associated Press Despatch.
Cheyenne, Wyoming, July 7.—Adjudication of the controversy between the government and Harry F. Sinclair over the possession of Teapot Dome reached its second stage today following action of Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy in which he denied the government's motion for a new trial entered the decree dismissing the suit, and continued the receivership proceedings.

Thus the way was made clear for taking the case to the United States court of appeals, which will pass on the decision.

Judge Kennedy held that the lease and all negotiated connected with it were valid and that there was no fraud in the dealings between Sinclair and former secretary of the interior, Albert B. Fall, who arranged the contracts for the government.

Government Counsel Owen B. Roberts and Alton Pomeroy petitioned Judge Kennedy yesterday to grant a retrial of the case on the grounds that further evidence was available which support of the government's charges of collusion and fraud.

Group No. 1.—Girls or boys from 8 to 10 years.

Group No. 2.—Girls or boys from 10 to 12 years.

Group No. 3.—Girls or boys from 12 to 14 years.

Playgrounds To Send Team For British Trip Trials

Final Tests Thursday at Queen's Park Open To All Girls.

UNCOVER TALENT

The London city playgrounds will be represented at next Saturday's meet in Toronto, which will decide the make-up of a girls' track team to be sent to England to compete at the famous Stamford Bridge games. Chief Supervisor Goodman announced last night.

The first local trials will be staged at Queen's park at 5:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon and Supervisor Goodman has issued an invitation to girls not at the playgrounds age to compete so that the team that goes down to the Queen's may be the best that the city can produce on such short notice.

Supervisor Goodman, who, assisted by Ken Hunter, head of the city's playgrounds, has been working on the team since the summer of 1924, has been able to uncover a number of girls who can do the various sprints in fast time, and the local man believes that there are three or four fine prospects who should make a splendid showing at the British meet.

Track athletics for girls has slumped here since the summer of 1924, but the Manufacturers' A. A. meet, but most of the events on which the trials will be based are on the playground program, so that all headway is not being lost. Several of the best performances turned in at the big British meet of recent years have been by girls of playground age, and if the London team is not augmented by older girls, the local representatives should have a very good chance.

It should be noted that any rate the move of the Playground association will insure London being represented, and it should be a stimulus to competition this summer.

The events on which tests will be based here are: 100-yard run, 200-yard run, 100-yard hurdles, 800-yard run, running high jump, 100-yard dash, 100-yard broad jump, junior discus, javelin throw, 660-yard relay.

MAJOR LEAGUE RACE TIGHTENS

Holiday Double-Header Results Most Extraordinary in Game History.

By JOHN E. FOSTER. New York, July 6.—There is an old saying in the major league baseball that the teams that pass July 4 on top will finish the season in the lead. Were that saying to prove true this year, both leagues would have 1925 champions teams which had passed most of the period up to July 4 more or less down in the ruck—Washington in the American league and Pittsburgh in the National.

But there is a lot of fighting to be done before either of these relatively new leaders of this season can lay anything like a sure claim to the title.

The results of the fourth of July doubleheaders were perhaps the most extraordinary in the history of the game. In the National league, every club that won the first game also won the second. In the American it was a stalemate all the way around, with every team winning and losing one.

The biggest event of the day in the minds of most of the residents of Greater New York at least, was the double victory of the Brooklyn Robins over their bitter foe, the Giants. The Brooklyn, by that show of strength, did something to rehabilitate themselves with the fans of that section, and incidentally put a big crimp in the immediate chances of the Giants. There is no longer any idea in National league circles that the Giants are going to have a run away for the pennant. The question is whether they can nose out a victory.

Just as the National league at large produced an event of more importance than that double thrashing of the Giants. That was the injury to Hornsby which put him out of the fight for St. Louis at a time when he was needed as never before. St. Louis was not only making inroads into the first division, but was beginning to show signs of being able to overhaul both Brooklyn and New York. Whether it can do it with Hornsby out of the game is doubtful. The injury to Hornsby which put him out of the fight for St. Louis at a time when he was needed as never before. Sykes, of 114 Brock street, west, Oshawa, was quite badly cut about the head and otherwise injured, while his wife and his brother Geoffrey were slightly injured as well as badly shaken up in an auto accident about 3 o'clock this afternoon on the provincial highway about nine miles west of here near D'Clutes gulley. The party was on the way to Vancouver from Oshawa. A car travelling in front of them, driven by Miss Evelyn Shepley of Amherstburg, accompanied by her father and mother, suddenly stopped to take a roadway to the lake. Sykes had to take to the side of the road to avoid hitting her car. At this point weeds hid the end of a culvert, which he ran into. The occupants of the car were thrown out and the car wrecked.

Bert Sykes was cut by broken glass from the windshield and injured in the back. Geoffrey's leg was cut and his chest bruised. Miss Shepley brought the injured to town, and their wounds were dressed by Dr. A. R. Hanks. It will likely be a few days before they will return to Oshawa. Bert Sykes is under medical care. They will postpone their trip west for some weeks.

FIVE PEOPLE UNHURT AS CAR IS OVERTURNED

Special to The Advertiser.
Delaware, July 6.—On the road leading from the second concession, Lobo, a party in Ford sedan lost control of the car. The result was an overturned car at the foot of the hill. There were three ladies, a baby and a gentleman in the car. Fortunately none were hurt, although all received a bad shaking up.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Hamilton, July 6.—A sentence of three years was imposed today on Walter T. Lewis, found guilty on Saturday of forging his mother's name to nine checks.

Family Has Home Over Century

Saxtons of Elgin Are Erecting New House.

Special to The Advertiser.
Aylmer, July 6.—John Saxton is erecting a new brick house upon his farm on the first concession, and has had the following inscribed on the corner-stones: "This has been the Saxton home since A.D. 1821." The Saxton family are among the oldest settlers on Nova Scotia street, and are perhaps the only ones to continue residence on the original farm for more than a century.

THORNDAL UNITED CHURCH HOLDS GARDEN PARTY

Special to The Advertiser.
Thorndale, July 6.—The annual garden party of the Thorndale United church of Canada was held on the parsonage grounds on Friday evening. The Salvation Army band of St. Marys was in attendance. The Rev. Mr. Sterling acted as chairman. The program consisted of readings by Miss M. Duffin and Miss E. Logan, vocal music by the Mills brothers of Branton, violin music by the Boys' Orchestra of Thorndale, vocal solo by Mr. C. Brock, addresses by Rev. A. C. Cummer and Rev. R. Connor.

FRENCH COMMAND IS TRANSFERRED

Council of War Decides On New General For Moroccan Front.

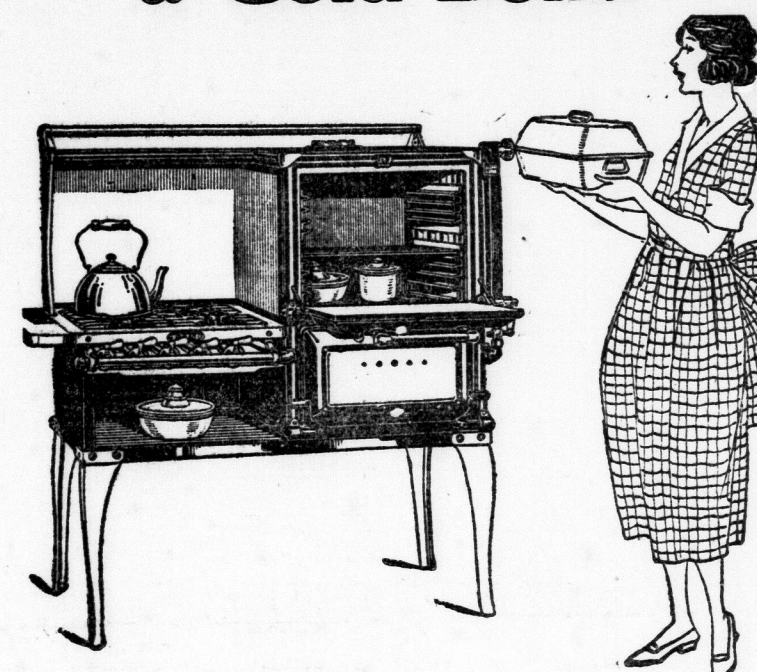

Associated Press Despatch.
Paris, July 6.—Supreme command of the French forces opposing the Rifians in Morocco is to be taken from Marshal Lyautey, the governor-general, and entrusted to a general who will leave France immediately for the front. This decision which is subject to ratification by the cabinet today was reached at a council of war held last night under the chairmanship of M. Painleve, the premier and war minister. The step is being taken, it is explained, to allow Marshal Lyautey freedom for carrying out his administrative and political duties. The man selected for the post is understood to be General Guillaumat, the commander-in-chief of the allied operations in the Balkans during the world war. Despatches from Fez yesterday represented the situation in a highly pessimistic light with wholesale defections of hitherto friendly tribesmen and an insufficiency of French troops to hold the long line against Abd-el-Krim's drives in the direction of Fez and Taza.

BAPTISTS, UNIONISTS HOLD JOINT SERVICES

Aylmer Congregations Unite For Summer Months—Special Music.

Special to The Advertiser.
Aylmer, July 6.—Very large congregations attended the union services in St. Paul's United church last Sunday. The Baptist and United church congregations are uniting in worship in St. Paul's church for the month of July, and Rev. J. S. LaFlair, pastor of the Baptist church, is in charge. He preached two very able sermons, which were attentively listened to. His morning subject was, "The Gospel of Inclusion," and in the evening his theme was, "Troubled Sleep." At the evening service the congregations enjoyed a real musical treat. Will H. Star, tenor of Aylmer, and his cousin, Miss Margaret Lee of Toronto, sang duet, "Whispering Hope," and Miss Lee sang a solo, "Alone With God." At the morning service in Trinity church, Mr. Star and Miss Lee sang the same numbers.

When a New Gas Range Pays Better Than a Gold Bond

Gas Ranges From $20.00 Up

Extravagance often masquerades as Economy. Many women, thinking they are saving money, continue to use old gas ranges that rob the pocketbook every day because they waste gas and food. If they exchanged their old gas-wasting range for a new one, with Complete Oven Control, the yearly saving in operating cost would be more than the income from any gold bond they could buy at the same price. Be thrifty—save money—enjoy carefree cooking by ordering a New Range on our Free Installation Monthly Payment Plan.

ACTS FIRST-CLASS
Acrobats and Equestriennes Give Performance Never Equaled Here.

Wholesome buffoonery is making history. All down the years clowndom has laughed, cried and jostled itself into the hearts of men and the pages of history. The clown is assured of a very real place for his mimicry by posterity. Clowndom is great, an age-old institution, but new and greater heights have been sought and attained.
Yesterday more than 20,000 folks were entertained in London by the combined circus of Barnum and Ringling. The unprecedented performance of the world's greatest show went great far, gripping new converts as well as old. The big-top performances scored an immense triumph, such as has seldom been witnessed in this district.

Clowndom is passing through an era of glorious indecision. The clown as an individual no longer holds the center of the spotlight. The single, spangled and belled jester, the singing clown, is no longer the attraction. Today the fashion is a maze of marvelous mimics, thrown upon the sawdust stage in such numbers and with such rapidity that the subconscious mind is crammed with evidence of hilarious farce and wholesome drollery. Eyes and wits drink up great masses of entertaining trickery. A vast store of amusement is provided, not only for a single performance, but to buoy up jaded spirits for days to come.

New Type of Clown.
Not only has the ensemble effect displaced the individual, but the fashion in clowndom itself marches on, undecided to be sure, but it marches on somewhere. Today's clown is neither French nor old English, nor a replica of the early jester in America.
He is all that and more. He is a new type of buffoon which the American circus is developing. Sometimes he wears the grotesque face of a clown of the French circus rings, sometimes he imitates animals and folk, but he is a new clown, going some place, to some new uncertain fashion, center, with an entertaining indecision that is gaining him multitudes of new friends.

Barnum's and Ringling's great circus, with its trained denizens of the jungle and the forest providing new thrills.
Daring aerial feats, splendid animal acts, new clown stunts, provided in his big act, included many of the world's best-known performers. May Wirth, bareback rider; Mlle. Letzler, premiere aerial star; Mujares, ineptid slack wire performer, and others, were amongst the most popular.

Miss Mayme Young, a member of the committee under Rev. W. R. McIntosh, D.D., King street United Church, who is in charge of the school on behalf of the education council, gave some instruction to the supervisors and volunteer teachers who will take charge at the Egerton street school.

The churches from which pupils will attend the Bible school last week at the Egerton street Baptist church center are: St. James' Anglican church, 1000 Dundas street; St. David's Anglican church, 1000 Dundas street; St. Paul's Anglican church, 1000 Dundas street; and the Egerton street Baptist church itself.

FOUR SCOUT TROOPS IN CAMP AT PORT BRUCE
Camping on the same spot where they pitched their tents last year, more than 200 Roman Catholic boys are enjoying a two weeks' vacation at Port Bruce. The London contingent is in charge of Brother Silvin.
"The great success of the camp last year was recognized," said the growing proportions of the camp it was necessary to provide for a greater number of boys this year. There are four troops from London. Other places sending quotas are Stratford and Simcoe.
The boys of Windsor division will camp on Lake St. Clair.

GROGERS' OUTING TO BE BEST ON THEIR HISTORY
Fifteen grand prizes will be one of the many attractions to make this year's grocers' picnic to be held on Wednesday, July 15, the most elaborate outing in the history of local retailers. The general committee announced today that all those carrying railroad tickets to Port Stanley will be eligible for the wards.
Two softball games are also planned. In the morning the north side of Dundas street will clash with the south side for the ward championship, and in the afternoon the grocers' girls will meet the fast Gorman-Eckert team.

SPEED OFFICER KNOCKED INTO DITCH BY AUTO

Was Drawing Up To Assist Stranded Motorist When Hit.

Special to The Advertiser.
Ingersoll, July 6.—Yesterday afternoon, near Thamesford, Highway Traffic Officer Lucas of this town was knocked into the ditch, along with his motorcycle, and although the machine was badly damaged, the officer was not seriously injured. The officer drew up when signalled by a stranded tourist, and his motorcycle was struck by a car that was close behind.

DR. PRENDERGAST PAINTS DARK PICTURE OF VIENNA
A dark picture of Vienna is painted by Dr. Prendergast, son of Principal W. Prendergast of the London Normal school, in a letter to his friends.
"I think structurally, Vienna is the finest city I have ever seen," writes Dr. Prendergast. "But it is a city of ghosts." The writer goes on to tell of the big business establishments that are without sign of activity, the deserted streets, and the general dislocation that marks after-war depression. Only restaurants and hotels are there sign of life, and this is contributed by foreigners.

BEATTIE FAMILY HOLDS FIRST ANNUAL PICNIC
From Detroit, Kintore, Regina, Lakeland and other points more than 40 members of the Beattie family met at Springbank Saturday afternoon to hold their first annual picnic.
During the day the various softball games were played and sports were held. The captains of the ball teams were R. E. Beattie and Cecil Walker.

BRICK WORK UNDER WAY AT ST. PETER'S PLANT
The brick work above the ground level on the new central heating plant of St. Peter's cathedral is now well under way. The red brick facing will be used with cement blocks on the inside. The boilers have been installed in a roomy basement.
A large hole has been made in the rear of the cathedral foundation, where the heating pipes will enter the edifice.

Digger the Badger Confesses He Is a Member of the Weasel Family

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Peter Rabbit, sitting in the bramble-tangle on the edge of the Old Pasture, with Digger the Badger sitting at his feet, could hardly believe at the thing he had wanted for so long was now really his. It was the opportunity to ask Digger the Badger about himself. He had said that a long time he had wanted to ask him questions, and now Digger had told him that he never would have a chance.

"Is it true, Mr. Badger, that you are a Weasel?" was Peter's first question.

Digger grinned. "I suppose that in way it is," said he. "You don't look it," said Peter. "If I had been asked to guess and had had a thousand guesses, I never would have guessed that you are a Weasel. You are so broad and fat, and Shadon, the Weasel, is so slim and long, that it is hard to believe you are truly related."

Digger chuckled. "I must confess," said he, "that Cousin Shadow and I don't look much alike. Nevertheless, I am a member of the Weasel family, although I have nothing to do with any of the other members of it."

"Then that means that you are related to Billy Mink and Little Joe Otter," said Peter.

Digger nodded. "Yes," said he, "and to Jimmy Skunk and Spite the Marten and Pekon the Fisher and Glutton the Wolverine. We are quite a family when you come to name us over. I must agree that there isn't much family resemblance between some of us. What more is on your mind, Peter?"

"Is it true," asked Peter, "that you came from the Far West?"

Once again Digger nodded. "It is quite true, Peter," said he. "I am told that the Badgers used to be rather widely distributed, but we're at home now only in the Far West. My, what wouldn't I give to be out there now!" Digger gave a long sigh. It was a homesick sounding kind of a sigh.

"If you feel that way about it, what do you leave there for?" asked Peter bluntly.

"I didn't leave there because I wanted to," replied Digger. "I left there because I couldn't help it. I was taken away from there. I was only a youngster then, not half grown, but I remember it just as if it were yesterday."

"Is it true, Mr. Badger, that you are a weasel?" was Peter's first question.

terday, Peter Rabbit, never be foolish enough to think you know all there is to know. Any one who is foolish enough to think that is heading straight for trouble. I thought I knew all there was to know, but all the time I didn't know enough to know how little I did know. Do you know what I mean?"

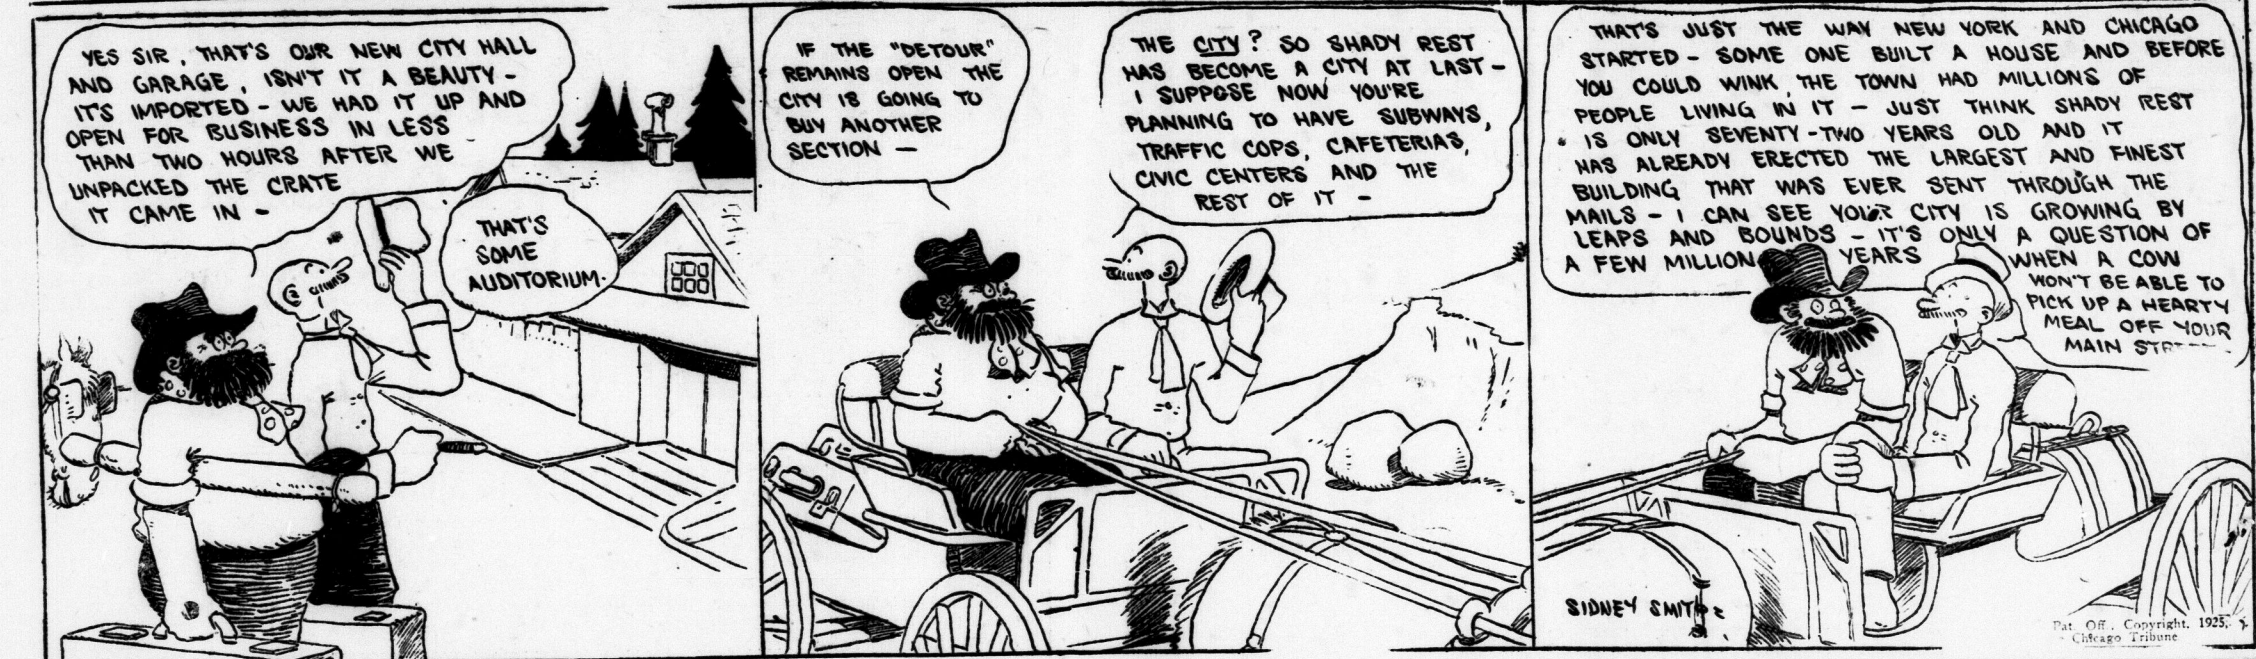

"But I have all night in which to listen," pleaded Peter.

And so Digger the Badger finally promised to tell Peter the story of how he came to the Green Meadows and the Old Pasture.

DROP PLANE IDEA FOR POLE FLIGHT

Amundsen's Crew Anxious To Join Next Trip To the Arctic.

Associated Press Despatch.

Oso, July 6.—The lure of the Arctic has taken a firm hold on the men who accompanied Capt. Roald Amundsen on his recent attempt to reach the North Pole by aeroplane. All of them are anxious to join the next trip, but they declared it should not be made with aeroplanes, which, they held, proved definitely that they were unsuitable and dangerous under Polar conditions.

Capt. Amundsen displayed unwillingness to talk about the prospects of reach the Pole by seaplane, asserting that a great deal of close study was needed to determine the best type of aircraft with which to accomplish his great dream of a trans-Polar flight.

Karl Feuchter, one of the mechanicians, is alone in devotion to the plane. He pins his faith to the flying machine for exploration purposes, even though landing facilities for such craft do not exist in the Arctic. He admits that planes used in the future must be much higher powered than those used in the expedition from which the men have just returned.

THRONGS ATTEND FUNERAL OF FLAVELLE AT LINDSAY

Canadian Press Despatch.

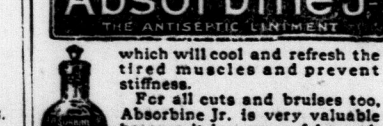

Lindsay, July 6.—The funeral of the late J. D. Flavelle took place this afternoon from his residence here, and was attended by throngs of citizens of the town, and friends from distant points.

Flags were at half-mast, and the stores and business houses closed their doors for the afternoon out of respect to the merchant prince who had fallen.

The service, which was very impressive, was conducted by Rev. H. W. McIntosh and Rev. T. E. Holling, of Lindsay. Representatives were in attendance from the Ontario Legion, the Twenty club, of which Mr. Flavelle was a charter member, and several curling clubs, with which he was connected.

Quebec, July 6.—Two miracles are reported to have taken place at Ste. Anne de Beaupre during the week just ended. Miss Mary McKenney, eighteen years of age, of Detroit,

Mich., who had suffered from birth from a displaced hip, is reported to have been cured after she had spent a day in prayer at the shrine of Ste. Anne.

The girl, according to the story told by her companions, had prayed in the Basilica chapel during the greater part of the day and had later assisted at the evening office. Upon leaving that she went to the shrine where the relics of Ste. Anne are and had only been there a few minutes when she sank to her knees for the first time in her life. At the same moment she uttered a cry that she was cured. Her injury had prevented her kneeling before.

On Saturday a young French-Canadian from the New England states, Romeo Blodreau, of Bladeford, Maine, is reported to have been cured of a pedal infirmity. For many years he had walked with the aid of a pair of crutches, but after rising from mass on Saturday he found it unnecessary to use these.

WOODSTOCK MAN KILLED BY AUTO

Robert McCaffrey, Aged 73, Hit Outside Home—Dies in Few Hours.

Special to The Advertiser.

Woodstock, July 6.—Robert McCaffrey, aged 73, was killed by being struck by an auto within a few yards of his home on Centre street last night. The car was driven by Ray Robinson of this city. According to witnesses, McCaffrey stepped in front of the oncoming car, and despite the efforts of Robinson to avoid an accident the car struck the aged man and the front wheels passed over him. He died within a few hours of the accident from internal injuries. Robinson was not held by the police. An inquest will be held on Friday.

Robert McCaffrey was one of the best known of Woodstock's citizens. He was born in Patterson, Ontario, but came to Woodstock in 1880 with the Patterson Company, builders of the Sain Wagon Company plant. He was employed for a number of years with the Hay Company plant here. He is survived by his widow, three daughters and two sons, Will McCaffrey of this city and Elery McCaffrey of the C. P. R. staff here. One sister and one brother also survive.

HISTORICAL PAGEANT IS HELD AT CALGARY

Fiftieth Anniversary of Coming of R. N. W. P. To Alberta Celebrated.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Calgary, July 6.—With aeroplanes of the forestry patrol soaring over their heads, thousands of persons were massed in the streets of Calgary to see the great historical pageant celebrating the 50th anniversary of the coming of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police to Alberta.

The floats, on a more ambitious scale than in any previous year, were escorted by hundreds of Indians in their war-paint, with cowboys and chuck wagons. A feature of the parade was a team of young buffalo hitched to a wagon and driven like oxen. The pageant and industrial parade were more than five miles in length.

poison into the water, for he drank the glassful and left the ice cream.
He then walked over to J. F. Daly's stepped into a sedan car that was parked there.

An hour or so later, R. B. Holmes, surprised to see a man sitting in the car apparently asleep. He tried to awaken him, but was shocked to dis-

Mr. Brown was married last Wed-

No reason can be assigned for the

It is a strange coincidence that Michael Fletcher, of McKillop, committed suicide in the same way last Monday, this being the second sui-

PACT WITH INDIES SIGNED BY CANADA

Full Text of Treaty Has Been Cabled To Colonial Office.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, July 6.—The Canada-West Indies trade agreement was signed at midnight tonight in the office of the prime minister by Hon.
J. A. Robb, Hon. T. A. Low, Hon.
George P. Graham and Hon. J. E.
Sinclair, on behalf of Canada, and representatives of the various colonial governments of the islands of the West Indies.

Under the new agreement increased tariff preferences and better steamship services are to be mutually granted. New steamship services, which are to convey the products of the colonies direct to Canadian ports without trans-shipment, are mentioned in the agreement.

The full text of the treaty has been cabled to the colonial office in London tonight, and will be announced simultaneously in Canada and the West Indies on Wednesday. The agreement comes into effect on a date to be mutually agreed upon.
The increased tariff preferences to Canada are mainly on agricultural products, fish, lumber and articles of which the produce of the land form a basic part, such as flour, dairy products, meats, boots and shoes and cordage. These preferences are planned so that they will be mutually beneficial without discriminating against any group of producers.
Canada grants the West Indies and other colonies preferential treatment on tropical fruits, bananas, cocoa, sugar and other products. The West Indies and other colonies grant to Canada substantial increases on such products as butter, cheese, lard, apples, potatoes, meats, confectionery, cement, lumber, boots and shoes, flour and cordage.

Our fitters are experts, $1.50 to $10.00. We have trusses to fit
all needs.
