

A BOTTLE OF OIL.

Wishing to take the night train at the small station of B... and having nothing to employ my attention about the village...

Before I was intrusted with the slight duties of this almost deserted office of a few sections, who had in charge several miles of track upon our road...

So, taking turns at that duty, we started from Summit at an early hour, and were arrived at the "half way house" about ten minutes ahead of the train.

As I said before, the men from each section having patrolled fifteen miles of track, most of a little abatement beside the track, just large enough to hold a small car...

When I recovered, a moment sufficed to tell the story, and, proceeding slowly, we soon came to the scene of the trouble.

Three Barman were laid out to suffer death by being asphyxiated, and lying flat on their backs, as if they were dead.

As they worked, they dismissed the claim, and let the men go. I was in the train when I heard of the accident.

Twenty minutes! What could I hope to do to save the train in my condition, with so short a time?

THE TIMES, ACADIA MINES, SATURDAY, MAY 26.

THE LONDONDERY TIMES

ISSUED EVERY SATURDAY. SUBSCRIPTION $1.00 PER YEAR. J. W. MORRISON, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

SATURDAY, MAY 26, 1888.

The "Guardian" of this week makes reference to an article which appeared in last week's TIMES, warning us to be more careful else our municipalities may become too frequent for the public palate. We fail to see where we have offered any apology. We suppose the passage of the "Guardian" alludes to the one in which we state "that we regret exceedingly if any injustice has been done Mr. Crowe. We also maintained that unlawful weights, etc., are used in this place. There was no reference made to Mr. Crowe, and if the cap did not fit him he was very foolish to wear it. We never doubted for a moment that Mr. Crowe was not giving just weight, in fact every person dealing with him, felt quite satisfied, nevertheless a court of justice would or could not uphold the weights he was using, and our first article was published in justice to the merchants and business men of Acadia Mines, who are compelled to use weights and measures prescribed by law. We do not doubt Mr. Crowe's honesty, but if every man is to regulate his own weights and measures what a pretty mess and confusion it would cause? Mr. "Guardian" I also notice in your same issue something greatly at variance with the truth which you will refer to again, and trust you will be good enough to retract the statements and make ample apology to the party aggrieved.

Our health inspector is again setting his annual feet of inspection which, by all accounts, is by no means a pleasant one. Our health inspector has done much the past few years to place our town in a good sanitary condition, and for which he receives very little remuneration; but in many cases is abused while performing his duty faithfully and fearlessly. This is not as it should be. The people of Acadia Mines should be wise to their own interests. What was the state and condition of our town previous to the health inspector's appointment was it not a hot bed of disease? That literally means diphtheria, which literally swept so many of our loved ones out of existence, fever raging and disease of all kinds most prevalent, and it was not until determined an immediate action was taken in this matter that we were freed from the ravages of so many most fatal and prevalent forms of disease.

Our health inspector told us that he has been in places this week that fit for any human being to tread much less live. It is to the interest of every person residing in this place to see that their places are properly cleaned and kept so, also to see that their neighbors do likewise. One place of filth is sufficient to breed the most fatal malarial, and with the state and condition of this place at present, would result most disastrously to the younger portion of our population. We trust that the citizens will look at this matter in the proper light, and give up hoping abuse on the man who is discharging his duty faithfully, but on the contrary render him every assistance possible to make his unpleasant and arduous task as easy as possible.

There was keen competition in awarding the contract for iron pipe wanted by the city of Halifax. The contract was finally awarded to James Hill, whose bid was $200 higher than the Londonder Iron Co.'s, the companies tender being the lowest, with the exception of a Scotch firm. Evidently the city has an overpowering treasury, and are only awaiting opportunity to dispose of their surplus cash.

The men referred to in our last issue as being discharged from the mines last week on their own accord, and were not discharged as stated.

Notice.—By request of some of our leading citizens a public meeting will be held on Friday evening, June 1st, in Temperance Hall, to consider the advisability of naming the streets of this town. All persons interested in this desirable object will please give their attention. Other matters of importance will also be considered.

J. B. GILLIS, Town Clerk. Acadia Mines, May 26th, 1888.

On Saturday, May 19th, the remains of Mrs. O'Brien, of Rockport, were laid to rest in the old burial ground at Port-au-Pique, beside the grave of her husband, whose body was buried more than 40 years ago. The deceased lady was more than 90 years old, and although a native of Port-au-Pique, had lived with her son, Dr. O'Brien, for many years past at Rockport, Mass. The funeral party arrived at L'Anse-au-Loup on Friday evening, and on Saturday afternoon the interment took place at Port-au-Pique. According to the files of the English Church, the Rev. John Parkinson, rector of Acadia Mines, officiating.

A MEETING of the Acadia Cricket Club was held in the Acadia Mines Store on last Monday evening at which the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

- Mr. Sutcliffe, President; Mr. Blair, Vice-president; Mr. Blair, Captain; Mr. Leffly, Vice-captain; Mr. Geo. Romans, Sec'y; Messrs. Boutelle, Gordon, Jones, and Atkins, managing committee; Mr. Chas. Thomas, excelsior.

The concert which took place last Saturday evening, under the auspices of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, was a decided success, somewhere in the vicinity of $50 being realized. It reflects great credit upon Prof. Esau and those who took part. The rendering of the piece "Contralto in Arms" being exceptionally fine, and well worthy special notice. The singing was good throughout, Miss Chisholm still upheld her reputation as an educationist. Miss Bertha Henderson all the piano and Mr. David Williams with the violin brought showers of applause from the audience for the excellent manner in which they filled their part of the programme. The Acadia Mines Brass Band rendered some very choice selections outside the hall, which no doubt in a great measure accounts for the financial success of the concert.

A CHANCE FOR OUR SPORTS.—During the past six weeks I have at intervals patiently listened to many fish stories, related by some of our local sporting men. Some of them—the stories I mean—I thought were a little mixed, however, as I am perhaps not a very good judge of the manner in which a fish story should be spun. I will inaugurate a scheme which may tend to instruction, not only for the public but also for the sportsmen. I will offer for competition in a fishing match a suitable prize, which shall be awarded to the gentleman who shall catch the greatest number of trout within a certain number of hours on the following dates: June 9th, June 23rd, and July 7th, fishing to take place on Sutherland's Lake, and with flies only, no bait allowed. The participants shall leave the wharf at 3 o'clock in the morning, a certain number in each scow, which can be arranged previously. No tackle to be adjusted until after scow leave the wharf. Competitors will arrange for their own captain or pilot for scows. Two judges will accompany each scow, and a referee will be appointed if necessary. Send in your entries to the undersigned before the 5th of June, and those interested should organize companies and build scows, and make the series of fishing boats a success. EDWARD WALSH.

LOCAL & OTHER MATTERS.

A very and substantial falling is being placed around the Baptist Church, which will add greatly to its already neat appearance.

The Y. M. C. Association meets every Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m., in the Baptist church. Everybody is cordially invited.

Mr. MORRIS' piano, which was so badly damaged last week, has been sent to Halifax for repairs. It has been impossible to ascertain the full extent of damage it received.

Accidents.—Wm. Brodie and George Lunnie received painful injuries on Thursday while at work in the pipe foundry. The former having his foot crushed by the falling of a heavy plank. The latter receiving a severe gash on the head by the falling of a brick.

We were shown two very fine walking sticks, which were cut by and sent from the farm of I. D. Cook, Esq., late of this place and now in California. They were a branch cut from a green orange tree, and has not yet lost its fragrant smell. Messrs. G. H. Lawrence and John McInnis were the lucky recipients.

The shop lately occupied by Messrs. Peppard & McDonald, druggists, is undergoing a thorough repair, and is to be occupied by Mr. N. J. Mills, watchmaker and jeweller. Mr. Mills has removed his family from Pictou and intends taking up his abode with us. He is acknowledged to be one of the best jewelers in the Province, and we wish him the fullest success.

OBITUARY.—It is with deep feeling and sincere regret that we are compelled to announce the sudden death of one of our oldest and most respected residents, Mr. Angus McEachren, Jr., after a brief illness, lasting only a couple of days, passed away on Sunday evening last, leaving a sorrowing wife and five small children to mourn their loss. Mr. McEachren was a good, loyal citizen, beloved and respected by all—a kind, affectionate husband and father, genial and obliging disposition, open-hearted, always ready and willing to extend a helping hand to those in need. His funeral will be the largest ever seen in this place, he being a member of the Knights of Labor. They turned out in a body to pay their last tribute of respect to a true and departed brother. The Times extends its sincere sympathy to the bereaved and sorrowing wife and family in their sad hour of affliction.

SCHOOL REPORT.—It will be seen by the following report that our schools have been in a very healthy condition during the past term, the principals' department having an exceptionally high average.
