

The Weekly Observer. HILLSBORO, N. B., June 13, 1889.

Observations. Unfortunate St. John.

The rum party has been successful in electing its candidate for Mayor, Mr. Barker's majority being about 680. Rum and gamblers are our commercial capital's two greatest curses.

Canada's Debt and Revenue.

The net debt of Canada decreased $67,000 during the past month. The revenue for the eleven months ending June first was $34,250,000 and the expenditure $29,500,000. And all this under a wicked, wasteful, corrupt Tory rule.

Searched by Fire.

The entire business portion of Seattle, Washington Territory, has been swept away by a burst of flames. About 64 acres were burned over and hundreds of people were rendered homeless and penniless. The loss of property is enormous, being millions of dollars. Timely assistance is being rendered the unfortunate citizens.

Acadmic College.

The closing exercises at the Wolfville institutions were held last week and proved very interesting. The Academic year was pronounced a very successful one. The number of students enrolled in the college was 120, the largest in its history. In the Academy 73 and in the Seminary 55 students were enrolled. The graduating class numbered 16, five being from New Brunswick. In the Seminary were 4 graduates in the classical course, 2 in the musical and 1 in the literary.

Dominion Election.

As the Dominion voters' lists are now being revised we publish the qualification required of a voter. Under the Dominion Act every British subject over 21 years of age who has been earning an income in Canada from labor or investment of not less than $300 for the previous twelve months, is entitled to be put on the list. Further, every son of a property owner, living with his father or mother, is entitled to registration, provided the property owned by his parent is of sufficient value to qualify both father and son or sons at $300 each. Personal application to have a name put on the list has of course to be made.

Information Wanted.

Hon. Mr. Tupper, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, evidently knows where to apply when he wants information or advice. He has issued circulars to all Dominion representatives and newspaper editors in the maritime provinces, requesting their opinions as to the best mode of distributing the fishery bounty. We presume our "representatives" are included merely out of compliment to the editors as their opinions would be of little value compared with the editors' views. Of course we could tell just what to do with the bounty but, then, we cannot afford to interest government without suitable compensation.

Helps for Thought and Action.

A Series of Letters Addressed to the Young by Rev. A. Thomson, Rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of St. James, N. S., and Published in the Amherst Gazette in the Year 1869.

LETTER VI. Temperance.

MY DEAR YOUNG FRIENDS:—I write to you at this time on the subject of Temperance. It is the great foundation of your peace, prosperity, and usefulness in the world. Temperance is reckoned by moral philosophers as one of the four Cardinal Virtues. It very deservedly occupies a prominent place in Christian ethics, and, in its great and growing importance, demands the serious attention of all right-thinking statesmen and philanthropists. In discussing this matter we will endeavor to use great plainness of speech; for, in an affair that affects the character, usefulness, and immortal destiny of man, we have no disposition to bedizen the sacred form of simple truth with tinsel or artificial flowers, or to palm upon your judgments glitter for gold. When we see, as we do every day, men undermining their health, beclouding their reason, corrupting their morals, inflaming their passions, and posting rapidly to a death of infamy and crime, we very naturally ask the cause, and anxiously enquire whether or not we can find a remedy. I believe that a large proportion of the crime committed and for which men and women are imprisoned in the penitentiaries of the world, may be traced to intemperance as the cause; and the remedy for this, under God, is patent to all the world, and consists in Total Abstinence.

By Total Abstinence I mean the act or practice of voluntarily refraining from the use of fermented liquors except for medicinal, medicinal, or sacramental purposes.

On the truth contained in this definition of temperance, as a basis, I am willing and prepared to appear in the defence. I am not now going to discuss with you the rights of free thought and action in the premises, any farther than to remind you that man has a right to free thought and action, but not to the injury of himself or his fellow creatures. Prudence, or a just regard to our own good upon the whole, should induce us carefully to examine the claims of temperance. And prudence in the management of public affairs should lead political economists to give this matter more than a passing thought.

Are you disturbed at night and broken up by pain of cutting teeth? If so, you need a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Sore Gums Remedy. It is the best remedy for sore gums, and will cure you in a few days. It is sold by all druggists.

of evil habits. To protect ourselves from the insidious example of wine-bibbers, and the pestilent practices that so much subvert the best interests of society, we must be thoroughly prepared to treat them with an emphatic negative.

Armed with this talisman we may fearlessly take the field. It will protect our head, and heel; and, like Fitz James' blade, answer the double purpose of sword and shield. Intemperance is the parent of vice, and saps the foundations of a nation's strength, and makes it sink in the day or battle. Classic Greece, Imperial Rome, mighty Babylon, and many other of the nations of antiquity, crumbled into the dust, because of their pride, luxury, and intemperance.

Suppose every man in any given community, claims and exercises his right to drink, until reason is dethroned, and all the evil passions of unregenerate humanity riot in wild confusion, would not such a community be a Bedlam on a grand scale, yea, even dumber than Bedlam? I hold, therefore, that every drunkard is a criminal at the bar of reason, of decency, and of God. He is not only a moral blot on the body politic, but he is a positive curse in whatever place he plants himself. He is a disgrace to his community, a stain on the name of his country, and a blot on the name of his race. He is a positive duty of every man to educate something to adorn and bless society; but the poor inebriate fritters away his time, wastes all his talents, and so, with a darkening downward career, he plants a curse on the soil he treads. Believing that a tree is known by its fruit, and that the fruits of intemperance are evil, and that, consequently, I wish to set before you the following facts, so that, as a just jury, you may join issue with me in trying the panel at the bar.

First: Intemperance is a great waste of time, whose waves carry us forward to the shores of an eternal world, is frittered; health, without which wealth is of no honor as nothing, is undervalued; property, of which man at best is but a steward, is squandered; and the mind—the standard of the man—is reduced to the gibbering of a dipsomaniac.

Second: Intemperance forms bad alliances. Birds of a feather flock together. The habit of drinking partakes of the social character, and thus it fosters a custom of one degrading to both head and heart; for it brings a man into the fellowship of the immoral, and conducts to an untimely, dishonored grave, as steadily as the poised and true magnetic needle does to the north.

Third: Intemperance is a very costly quest. With brains in use, and sometimes probed itself even in the pulpit; showed its hydra head on the magisterial bench; swept its foul breath through the dwelling places of man; and rode roughshod over the claims of mercy and the fairest prospects.

Fourth: Intemperance is a gigantic evil. As a city missionary I have had ample opportunities of contemplating the results of this ungodly tree. Nearly nine-tenths of all the prisoners in the great jail of Glasgow are there, either directly or indirectly, because of the power and prevalence of strong drink. It provides subjects to garish that terrible instrument of justice—the gibbet—and sends forth its swarms to the hulks and to the penal colony.

Fifth: Intemperance is no respecter of persons. If its evils were confined solely to the male portion of the human race there might be found in it some redeeming feature; but, alas, it has invaded the ranks of the fair sex, and brought many of them low, even to the dust. O what a melancholy sight to behold a woman, once of the fairest form, the light of joy sparkling in her eyes, and the grace of beauty radiant in her stately steps, pass through life a rotary to strong drink, descending gradually in the mental, moral, and physical scale, till she sinks into premature grave, dishonored and unloved. But if the evils of time were the only ones that grow upon this tree of death we might feel less concern. It has a fearful power to alienate friends, and, therefore, taking it for granted that you believe in a future state, I ask—what is the poor drunkard's future prospect? To leave the path of intemperance never leads. He that judges righteously has said, "Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, shall inherit the kingdom of God."

These are some of the evils of intemperance; but these point out as clearly as if written by a sunbeam, that temperance is a good cause, calculated to honor God, and to pour showers of blessings on humanity. Ministers of religion, how long have you wept over this sore evil, as you saw it sweeping away, as by a pestilence, some of the most promising of your flock. Help the laborers in the temperance field, and thousands yet unborn will rise up to call you blessed. Members of the church, you are now rejoicing in the hope of glorious immortality; but do not, I beseech you, assist those that bid the fatal chain around the head and heart of wine's votary. Young men, I say unto you, arise, and fight your conscientious manhood, and outstand against this evil till the banner of victory is sung in every place. Go forward, and if you should have to bite the dust, it is in a noble cause. Press on; for by consistent, persistent, and christian effort, soon the melancholy minors that now mar our earth's meadows will cease, and the hosannas of an enfranchised race be heard in every land. "Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his color in the cup, when it moveth his right; at the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder."

Cyclone at Granville, N. S.

A wonderful thing occurred in Granville yesterday. About 12 o'clock Stephen Wade noticed a singular looking cloud advancing with the greatest rapidity from the south west. His barn was in its path and surmising that the force of the wind was something fearful, he rushed to the structure and got out some cattle and a very few seconds later the barn was struck and levelled to the ground. Continuing its course it struck and levelled a barn belonging to Obadiah Troop, a building 120 feet long; it then topped over and turned around a wood shed belonging to Capt. Goodwin, unroofed all the buildings, and did a good deal of mischief to another party whose name we did not hear. Fences, big apple trees, willow trees, everything in its path, went down before its destructive force. The cyclone's path was about 20 rods wide, and it travelled from south west to north east.—Byington Monitor.

Alma Notes.

Capt. O. Martin has opened a store of general merchandise in the shop on the premises that he recently purchased from the executor of the estate of the late Robert Wright.

Mr. Martin has a crew of men in the woods getting timber for a three masted schooner the keel of which will be laid soon.

Capt. H. S. Chambers of Dorchester has purchased one half of the three masted schooner being built at Water-side by W. S. Starratt.

The building of a new draw in the Salmon River bridge was sold to day as public sale by Great Road Com., A. Martin. The job was bid in by Chas. Derry of Albert for $345.

Some of the writers in your paper and the Maple Leaf think that Alma ought to be thanked for so energetic a man as A. E. Kilian has charge of the A. S. B. There has been so many false promises, drawbacks, wranglings and contentions in the past, that any innovations do not now elate us. But if some one would come along with about $2500 and pay up the unpaid wages, board bills, and supplies and land damages of last summer and assume a genuine smile would be seen upon the countenances of many.

Miss Eliza Cleveland who has been in Victoria B. C. for over two years returned home last Thursday. Miss C. came here to spend the summer with her mother who has been in poor health for some time. Eliza's many friends are giving her a hearty "welcome home" and think the summer months far too short a time for her to remain in her native village.

Rev. A. E. Layton is giving her a hearty "welcome home" and think the summer months far too short a time for her to remain in her native village.

Albert Notes.

Times are quiet as usual in our fair village. One of the chief amusements being base ball in which a large majority of our male population participate.

W. A. Fillmore J. P. of Amherst, was in town this week.

There has been a large catch of trout in the Hopewell Mill Co's pond this spring, the majority of fish weighing from 1 1/2 to 2 lbs. each.

Maunig M. Tingley, A. H. McLane of Albert, and C. H. Carnwath of Riverside, returned home last week from the St. John Business College where they spent five months of hard study and passed a successful examination, coming out under flying colours, as Albert County boys always do.

Mr. D. N. Baldwin moved into his newly purchased house on Maple St. last week, and E. M. Tingley, of Riverside, moved into the house vacated by Mr. Baldwin.

It is strange to think that a resident who takes so much interest in the welfare of the youth and young men of Albert will keep and advertise fine crackers for sale, and will sell to the youngest person in the village, if he or she only have the ten cents, knowing that they will go out on the streets or platform and break the laws of the county by scolding women and horses with the purchased articles.

Hopewell Lodge is to have a picnic to the Cape Rocks on June 27. Aurora Lodge of New Horton and Golden Rule Division of Hopewell Hill are invited to participate in the festivities of the day.

Any of the females of Albert, young or old, wishing a nice fitting dress or maquet can have the same by bringing the material to Mrs. C. W. Derry & Co., the best dress-makers in the county.

Albert, June 12, 1889.

Notes from the Miramichi.

"And that is so rare as a day in June Then if ever, some perfect day; Then Heaven tries the earth if it be in tune, And ever it softly her warm ear lays, Whether we walk, or whether we listen, We hear his music, or see it glisten, Every clod feels a stir of might, An instant within it that reaches and treads, And ever it sprays the seed that breeds, And there's a never a leaf but a blade to mean."

After finishing toll and many accidents both to building and machinery the Maritime Pulp Factory has commenced operations. The last length of pipe has been laid and the powerful suction pump is daily at work drawing twelve hundred gallons of water from the river every minute. Thousands of dollars were spent in boring wells but a sufficient supply of water could not be obtained as recourse was had to the river. The river water being salt every gallon has to be filtered before it can be used in the factory. It is worthy of note that although an American engineer had the contract to put in the pumping machine a Canadian had to finish it.

The great excitement of the past week was the temperance lectures of John W. Nicolls Esq. The editor of the "Advocate" advocates high license and as Mr. Nicolls challenged anyone to appear on the platform and give one single sound argument in favor of it the public naturally expected the editor to accept. Instead of his surprise when he (instead of facing Mr. Nicolls in many forms) wrote a long editorial criticizing the lecturer and his sayings and basely insulting the W. C. T. U. (under whose auspices Mr. Nicolls is here). Last Saturday evening Mr. Nicolls took up the last week's editorial in the "Advocate" and in the most gentlemanly terms demolished the factious arguments of Smith.

The steamer "Alorax" which lately loaded deals for Wm. Richards Esq. at Newcastle took the largest cargo ever shipped from that place. Although the steamer only registered 1387 tons she took the enormous cargo of 662 standard.

Newcastle is preparing for a grand celebration on Dominion Day. Many attractions will be offered and to anyone who likes to enjoy a really good time and at the same time to view the most enchanting scenery and the finest river in N. B., I would say "come north."

The congregation of St. Andrews (Presbyterian) Church, Uxbridge, are very fastidious in the choice of a pastor for, although upwards of 25 have filed the pulpits since it became vacant, a choice has not yet been made.

To Make Your Town Prosper

Talk about it. Write about it. Beautify the streets. Patronize the merchants. Be friendly to everybody. Advertise in its newspapers. Elect good men to all the offices. Don't grumble about hard times. Keep your sidewalks in good repair. Avoid gossip about your neighbors. Do your trading with your home merchants. Sell all you can and buy all you can at home. If you are rich, invest something; employ somebody, be a "trustee." If you do not think of any good word don't say anything about it. Remember that every dollar invested in permanent improvement is so much on interest.

HOSPITAL REMEDIES.

What are they? The growth of intelligence in medical matters has given rise to a demand for a class of genuine, reliable medicine. The opportunity of the ignorant quack, who grew rich cunning everything out of a single bottle has passed. To supply satisfactorily this demand this list of remedies has been created. They are the best of their kind, and are the most famous medical practitioners of the day, gathered from the hospitals of London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna. Prescriptions which cost the patients of these specialists from $25 to $100 are here offered prepared and ready for use at the nominal price of one dollar each. Not one of them is a cure all; each one has only the reasonable power of curing a single disease, and each one is certain to suffer from Catarrh, Disordered Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Liver and Kidney Complaints, Fever and Ague, Neuralgia, Female Weakness, Leucorrhoea or Nervous Debility should send many free descriptive catalogues to Hospital Remedy Co., 303 1/2 West King St., Toronto, Canada. If your druggist does not keep these remedies remit price and we will send direct.

Compulsory Supper to H. F. McLatchy.

Tempting Food, Elegant Speeches, Entertaining Stories and Humorous Songs.

Last Thursday evening a number of the friends of H. F. McLatchy Esq., entertained that gentleman at a supper at the "Beatty House" Hillsboro, on the night of his departure for Campbellton.

After an invigorating repast prepared in Mr. Ward's best style, Dr. Lewis was called to the chair when he began "How the reason and feast of soul" began. After the usual remarks had been drunk in pure cold water, the toast of the evening, our host, was proposed by the chairman, who referred in flattering terms to Mr. McLatchy, expressing regret that he was about to leave Hillsboro and wishing his every success in his chosen field of labor.

Mr. McLatchy replied in a felicitous manner expressing his gratitude for the token of friendship and esteem tendered him, avowing continued interest in the welfare of this fair village and his native county, etc., etc.

A toast to the medical profession was responded to by the chairman; to the bar by W. A. Bray Esq.; to the farming industry by John T. Steves Esq.; to the Albert Railway by J. Gillis Jones Esq.; to our educational institutions by Rev. J. M. Steves Esq.; and to the ladies by Miss Duffy Esq., all the speakers surprising their listeners with their witty, wise and eloquent addresses. Songs, music, stories, etc., added to the enjoyment and all present spent a delightful evening.

After the supper was over, the thought of their speedy separation from their jovial friends.

Dr. Marven and Randall, J. A. Beatty Esq., and J. N. Wells who were unavoidably absent, sent regrets and best wishes for the departing guests who will be missed by the community.

Mr. McLatchy will be in partnership with a lawyer at Campbellton.

THE WEEKLY OBSERVER AND THE Canadian Agriculturist AND HOME MAGAZINE

without a rival in Canada, and unsurpassed in America, for the Stock Raiser, Dairyman, or Fruit Grower.

We are enabled, by special arrangement, to offer that splendid publication, the Canadian Agriculturist, clubbed with this Journal for the small sum of $1.25 a Year.

(Subscriptions may be commenced at any time.) The Canadian Agriculturist is a large 36-page Journal, neatly illustrated, and printed in a first-class manner. In amount and practical value of contents, in extent and value of correspondence, in quality of paper, style of publication, it occupies the FIRST RANK. It is believed to have no superior in either of the three chief divisions of FARM CROPS AND PROCESSES, HORTICULTURE AND FRUIT-GROWING, LIVESTOCK AND DAIRYING.

while it also includes all minor departments of rural interest, such as the Poultry Yard, Bee Keeping, Greenhouse and Grapery, Veterinary Recipes, Farm Questions and Answers, Fireweed Reading, and Domestic Economy. Its Market Reports will be unusually complete, and special attention will be paid to the state of the crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions.—When to Buy and When to Sell. It is liberally illustrated, and is intended to supply, in a constantly increasing degree, and in the best style of a term, a Live Agricultural Newspaper.

Although the Canadian Agriculturist is larger than any of its contemporaries (its size being from 30 to 36 pages monthly, according to circumstances), the terms are $1 a Year, strictly in advance.
