BAD PATCH OF ECZEMA ON CHIN

In Rash, Itched and Burned, Cuticura Healed.

"I had a very bad patch of eczema on my chin. It broke out in a rash and was very troublesome, itching and burning a great deal. I lost my rest at night on account of the irritation, and my face was disfigured for the time. I tried many different remedies without success. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment, which brought relief right away, and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, it was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Mary Campbell, Big Pond Centre, Nova Scotia.

Lady Wyvernes' Daughter.

CHAPTER XVI.

So time passed on, and day by day the wish and longing for some break in her life's monotony grew stronger. The time was to come, and did come, when she looked back to those quiet days with envy and regret. When she would have given beauty and talent, ah, even life itself, to have been once more a dreamy, innocent child. But no change came; winter and summer, spring and autumn, succeeded each other, and found life the same at Serrano.

"Seventeen years old to-day," said Inez, one bright morning. "I am seventeen; in ten years more I shall be twenty-seven, and the best part of my life will be over. If something does not happen soon, I shall run away, and make a life for myself."

Little did Madame Monteleone know the bitter, rebellious thoughts of which the proud, beautiful face she watched with growing hope gave no trace. "You have not been idle, Inez," she said one day, with some complacency, to her grandchild. "You play and sing well; you speak French and Italian fluently. All accomplishments are useful."

"I know something more than that," replied Inez, triumphantly. "I have taught myself English; I can read every English book in the library; I should be able to speak it in a short time if I went to England."

A wistful, sad look came over Madame Monteleone's face. "It will be useless, my child," she said. "You will never leave Spain. You will never see England. There is something for you to do here, a life's task to accomplish."

These few words, "You will never see England," sounded like a death-knell to the bright hopes and fancies upon which the young girl had lived. She made no reply, but the expression of determination that fell upon that young face might have alarmed Madame Monteleone, had she seen it, and caused her to fear for her plans.

Already a change was coming; but a dark cloud that had hung so heavily

WANTS TO HELP OTHER WOMEN

Grateful for Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ont.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for backache and for weak and dreary feelings caused by my condition. Sometimes I felt so bad that I couldn't get out of bed. My neighbor told me of your medicine and I read about it in the Toronto Telegram and thought I would take it. I got very good results. It built me up and I have told several friends what it has done for me. You may use this testimonial as it may be of help to some one who has suffered as I have."—Mrs. J. Lee, 25 Harvie Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Mrs. Lee is willing to write to any girl or woman suffering from such troubles, and answer any questions they may like to ask.

Women suffering from female troubles causing backache, irregularities, pains, bearing-down feelings and weakness should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Not only is the worth of this splendid medicine shown by such cases as this, but for nearly fifty years letters like this have been received from thousands of women.

ly over her, the gloomy monotony of the girl's life was breaking.

Madame Monteleone, while ascending the stairs, slipped and fell. At first the little household were dreadfully alarmed, and believed, when they saw their lady's still, white face, that she was dead. But, when the servants raised her and laid her upon the bed, they found she still breathed.

In her haste a physician was summoned from Seville. For many long, dreary weeks the poor lady lay between life and death. She recovered at last, but it was to find herself a helpless cripple, and to hear the sad sentence pronounced by the doctor that she would not be able to move without assistance.

When the first shock was over, Madame Monteleone pondered seriously as to what step she would take with regard to her young grandchild. Common sense and reason told her that she ought to write to Lord Lynne and ask him to take his daughter; but the treasured idea of her life clung to her still, and she could not renounce it. "Something will happen," she said to herself. "I may recover. Doctors are not infallible. In any case, I will keep Inez with me. If she goes to England, she will marry an Englishman, as her mother did; and then farewell forever to the race of Monteleone!" so nothing was written to Lord Lynne, and he never heard either of the accident or the illness of his daughter's guardian.

Inez found greater liberty and freedom than she had ever enjoyed before. Madame Monteleone never left her room. She was too nervous to bear any noise or much conversation. For one hour every morning Inez read to her, and received her instructions as to how the day was to be employed. So many hours were to be given to music, so many to reading, and so many to household employments. The music Inez never missed; it was the one solitary pleasure of her life. When that was over, the rest of the day was all her own. She did not spend it now as she had been obliged to do when Madame Monteleone's quick eyes were upon her, in studying in one of those dull little rooms that looked upon the courtyard. Caterina always sat in Madame's room, and Juanita, who was cook and housekeeper, felt too sorry for the young girl ever to control or betray her movements. So, when the music was ended, and old Caterina safe up-stairs, Inez wandered in the grounds of Serrano. The boundary of them was the high road that led to Seville, and the poor child gratified some of her longings by watching the people who passed. Sometimes it would be one of the heroes of her dreams, a cavalier riding at full speed. Carriages, ladies, country people, all and everything had an interest for her. They belonged to a new world, they were part and parcel of that gay world of which she had read and dreamed, but which she had never seen.

Some who passed by noted the beautiful, wistful face, half hidden by the leaves of the myrtle-trees, and wondered who the lovely, high-bred girl could be, what she was doing, why she gazed, day after day, with such longing eyes, upon the road that led to Seville. It was some little break, some change in the almost unendurable monotony. When the evening shadows began to fall, Inez hastened home. No one but Juanita ever saw her enter the house, or knew of the long hours she spent in the grounds.

They were not very extensive, those grounds of Serrano. Time had been when hill, valley, and stream, all belonged to the Monteleones. The broad, fertile lands had been sold or forfeited, and little remained of the once large estate; but that little was picturesque and pleasant. The gardens were gorgeous with flowers and fruit. Long groves of orange-trees ran by the little stream that found its way into the river near Seville. Large myrtles lent their shade trees, whose rich and luxurious perfume loaded the air, grew like they would. The grounds were not cultivated; they were beautiful in their rich and luxuriant wildness. The boundary that separated the high road from the grounds was a very frail one—a line of small flowering shrubs. By the shrubs, day after day, there might have been seen a graceful girlish figure, walking slowly with dreamy, wistful eyes gazing on the high road.

One evening—ah, to the last day of her life every detail of it was vivid and clear to Inez Lynne—she was walking as usual in the ground. For years afterward she remembered how the sun shone and the flowers bloomed, how the birds sang and the deep blue sky seemed to smile upon her. Her beautiful, restless face was turned to the long road that led to the city, when she heard the sound of a horse galloping quickly. Looking back, she saw a horseman vainly trying to restrain his steed. It had taken fright, and seemed anxious only to throw its rider and make its escape. For many minutes the young girl watched that encounter. Her face grew white with fear, for the horse appeared quite unmanageable; but she could not help admiring the ease and bravery of its rider. Through all that terrible contest he never once lost his nerve or his self-possession. His courage and calmness won the victory at last, and the trembling steed recognized a master's hand.

The cavalier was obliged to dismount, for in the struggle the plumed hat had fallen from his head, and the silver-mounted riding-whip lay upon the ground. As he raised them he caught sight of the beautiful face watching him so intently. A cry of surprise fell from his lips, and he gazed in bewilderment, doubting whether it was a vision or reality. But when he saw the rich crimson flush that covered the face, and the dark eyes drooping under his gaze, he knew that it was a beautiful reality which had so greatly startled him. Raising his hat, he bowed profoundly to the young girl, and galloped away. She had seen his face distinctly; it was dark and handsome; but had the poor motherless child been older, she would have distrusted at one glance those false lips and those deep piercing eyes. As it was, she saw but the beauty of the first face that had ever looked admiringly upon her. She remembered the thick, dark curls upon the broad sunburnt brow, the dark moustache that concealed the treacherous lips, the deep dark eyes that had gazed so ardently upon her. He belonged to the gay world. Perhaps even then, she thought, he might be hastening to see some lovely lady who would smile upon him and call him her knight. How handsome, how brave, how courteous he was! That night, when Inez dreamed her dreams, she had a real hero for them; and he lost nothing from her vivid, graceful fancy.

Star Aviators Differ Widely In Personality.

Dayton, May 28.—(A.P.)—Lieutenants Oakley Kelley and John A. MacReady, regarded as the country's premier aviators since they battered the world's endurance record and made the first successful non-stop transcontinental flight, owe their success as a flying team as much to their contrasting personalities as to their admitted superiority as pilots, in the opinion of aviators at McCook Field here, the home station of the men. They predict that the ability of the two men to work together in trying situations will bring further aerial honors to the United States Army.

Kelley's enthusiastic and impulsive nature gives the combination the necessary "punch," while MacReady, more staid and quiet, furnishes the "balance" which is a necessary element in carrying through many difficult situations, according to the belief of those who have observed the men working and flying together during the past two years.

A striking illustration of the divergent characteristics of the two fliers is given by Lieut. Harold R. Harris who, in a speedy plane overtook the pair as they passed over Dayton in their recent transcontinental flight. Harris, getting a late take-off, pursued the big ship for some miles before overtaking it. As he came abreast, he says, the man in the cockpit carelessly threw up an arm. "That's MacReady," Harris says he decided as he observed the action. For a moment the second passenger of the T2 did not appear. Then from the depths of the fuselage a bundle of blankets suddenly appeared and was waved frantically in the wind. "That was easy," said Harris. "I knew it was Kelley, without giving a second glance."

Credit for the working out of the transcontinental flight plan is given almost entirely to Kelley by his brother aviators. As chief of maintenance of planes and engines at the mammoth flying centre, Kelley in the face of the ridicule, opposition and statements that the air service had no ship which had even a chance of flying across the continent, has worked, talked and lived on the plans plane from the coast last fall only to be forced down at Indianapolis through a mishap. Undaunted, Kelley, aided by Lieut. E. W. Dykeman, an expert in the engineering department of the field, continued his work on the plane and after further improvements had been made Kelley, in company with MacReady, realized the ambition he has held for almost two years.

McCook Field aviators say that one of the best testimonials to the flying ability of Kelley and MacReady, is the fact that neither has had a serious mishap during more than five years of air service. Both have been fliers since 1917.

Both Kelley and MacReady originally were Californians and both received their training at Rockwell Field at San Diego. Kelley's family, however, now reside at Grove City, Pennsylvania. Neither is married.

MacReady has had a picturesque career. Graduated from the University of California, he was admitted to the bar and subsequently became a rancher, a justice of the peace in a small mining community, and early in the war entered the air service where he has remained ever since. He has earned a reputation as a boxer in the service.

Kelley, somewhat younger, entered the service after completing his schooling.

Extreme Flood Conditions in Alberta Disrupt C.P.R. System

100 Men Fighting Fires in Ontario—Russians Seize Japanese Fishing Vessel—50 Newfoundlanders Refused Admission Into Canada.

WINNIPEG, June 1. The trans-continental railway in Alberta and bush fires in Ontario, reported to local offices of the C.P.R. today. All the rivers and streams on the east slope of the Rocky Mountains are impassable between the West Pass and Fernie, and between Coleman and Frank. Between Crow's Nest Pass have been closed until flood conditions improve. Between Crowfoot and Tower, the main line has been washed out in twenty places.

WEST FIRES IN ONTARIO. Toronto, June 1. Forest fires which have been breaking all along the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway and Algoma have seriously hampered communication both by rail and between Eastern and Western Canada. Two thousand men of the Department of Lands and Forests are fighting fires in New Ontario.

FORCED TO TAKE TO THE LAKE. PORT ARTHUR, Ont., June 1. At Graham, on the Canadian National line, one hundred and four miles west of Port Arthur, the people this morning were forced to take to the lake in boats for safety when the flames got right into the vicinity. Later the wind changed and relieved the situation. Reports of light showers and falling temperatures which indicated more rain are being received from various parts of the fire threatened district and thereby the outlook becomes decidedly encouraging.

FIRE SITUATION BECOMES MORE SERIOUS. PORT ARTHUR, Ont., June 1. The forest fire situation in Northern Ontario, which during the past few days had been confined to isolated spots, particularly White River, took on a much broader aspect today with several sections reporting flames travelling slowly but relentlessly.

HOUSE OF COMMONS HAS THIRD WOMAN MEMBER. LONDON, June 1. Mabel Russell, actress, wife of Captain Milton Phillipson, was returned in the bye-election to-day as Member of the Commons for Borwick-on-Tweed, Division of Northumberland. Running on the Conservative ticket she polled a six thousand majority over her nearest rival and her total was three thousand greater than the combined vote of the two oppositions. She will be the third woman in the House of Commons.

RUSSIANS SEIZE JAP FISHING VESSEL. TOKYO, June 1. The Russian authorities of the Soviet Administration in Siberia have seized a Japanese fishing vessel and imprisoned the crew of seventy-two for operating within the seven mile limit.

YOUTHFUL BANDIT BURIED. NORTH BAY, Ont., June 1. Leo Rogers, youthful bandit and slayer of two police officers, was buried in unconsecrated ground next to the Catholic Cemetery here to-day, and at the request of the family and on the advice of Bishop Scottard, an officer of the Children's Aid read the funeral service. About two hundred attended at Roger's house.

FOREST PROTECTION DISCUSSED. OTTAWA, June 1. Need for a definite policy of forest protection was urged in the House to-day. Hon. M. P. Graham pressed for a policy for Canada regardless of that of other people. If something is not done Canada's forests would be only a memory. Hon. R. J. Manion, Conservative, Fort William, asked if it was the intention of the Government to bring down legislation prohibiting the export of pulp wood from privately owned lands. Hon. Charles Stewart said that strong representations in favor of and opposing such legislation had been made. The Government was discussing the matter. Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen said there was no excuse for continuing to permit the exportation of raw wood. As to reprisals by the United States he was not afraid of them. There was nothing that would not bring as much injury to them as to us.

POINCARÉ GETS ANOTHER CONFIDENCE VOTE. PARIS, June 1. The Government received a majority of one hundred and sixty-two on a test vote in the Chamber of Deputies to-day after interrogations on the recent Royalist activities in which Socialists were beaten by street gangs.

CANADIANS TO BUILD RAILWAY IN CHINA. VANCOUVER, June 1. The Northern Construction Company of this city has confirmed the report that they have secured a contract to build twelve hundred miles of railway in South China for President Sun Yat Sen at a cost of between twenty-five and thirty-five million dollars. On account of the constant warfare rampant in China the commencement date of construction is problematical.

Engagement of Com. MacKenzie-Grieve. The engagement is announced in our "Court and Personal" column to-day of Commander Kenneth MacKenzie-Grieve, A.F.C., R.N., who acted as navigator in the memorable Atlantic flight made by the late Mr. Harry Hawker, in May, 1913. It will be recalled that the two aviators attempted to fly from Newfoundland to Great Britain for the Daily Mail prize of £10,000. Misfortune befell them, and after several days of vain search at sea, they were given up as lost, but a Danish steamer picked them up, and, after being transferred to H.M. destroyer Woolston, they were landed safely at Thurso—London Times.

leasily hitler and thither in such volume as to threaten most serious results should they be unchecked. The great need is rain and lots of it.

RIVER OVERFLOWS BANKS. CALGARY, Alta., June 1. Elbow River has overflowed its banks in the city, and residents along the river are leaving their homes. At least two bridges may go down at any moment. With rivers and small streams running wild following the heavy rain of the last few days great havoc has been caused in Southern Alberta districts, during the past 24 hours. Serious conditions prevail at MacLeod and Okotoks, where residents have been forced to abandon their homes. Several houses were washed away at MacLeod and it was necessary for the police to make a number of rescues during the day. Old Man River is a mile wide at MacLeod and the lower part of the town is inundated.

50 TURNED BACK. NORTH SYDNEY, June 1. Fifty of the one hundred and eleven passengers arriving here to-day from Newfoundland by the steamer Kyle were turned back by the Canadian Immigration authorities. A majority of the rejected came in search of work but had no definite prospects.

GIFTS FOR THE SICK.
The Beloved Violets.
Violets are always a particular delight to those who love them—and show me the woman who does not set special store by a bunch of violets with their never-fading reminiscence of courtship days.
A friend of mine has a standing order with a florist according to which the latter sends, when flowers are ordered, a box containing a fascinating profusion of whatever flowers are then in season, lavish and correspondingly expensive, but delightful to receive.
Plants, especially if they have plenty of buds on them, and bulbs almost ready to blossom are even more of a joy than cut flowers because they supply action as well as beauty, something to watch and take an interest in, a bonanza in the creeping hours of convalescence.
Books and magazines, when the patient has reached the stage when he can enjoy them, are often very welcome. But if you get books or magazines be sure the print is good. Eyes suffer from the general weakness.
A Letter a Real Gift.
A letter full of pleasant talk and friendly gossip is a gift any convalescent loves to receive. It gives him something to think about in the hours he has to spend on his back.
A basket of fruit may be made as attractive as flowers and has an advantage over them needless to mention.
Any pretty accessory for invalidism, such as bed jacket or slippers, may be a more welcome gift than an expensive box of flowers, especially when others are sending flowers.
And if you live near at hand you are in a position to please the patient mightily at small outlay. Take in something dainty from your own kitchen. In the best of hospitals the food grows tiresome, and the average convalescent's heart is very close to his stomach.

Cheerful and Durable.
Something cheerful and lasting would be my suggestion.
A bunch of vari-colored carnations, gay, spicily rather than sickly sweet, and exceedingly durable.
If it is spring a cluster of daffodils or jonquils, the sunshine flowers. A beautiful bouquet was sent me not so long ago made of jonquils, set off by two or three blue irises. The irises hovered above the jonquils like big blue butterflies.
Sweet peas, with their infinite variety of color, are always delightful.
In the fall the little many-colored chrysanthemums are a joy forever—or at least for six or seven days, if you take care of them.

Our Dumb Animals.
REPORT OF CHIEF AGENT S.P.A. WEEK ENDING JUNE 1st.
Attended to the landing of 105 head cattle, 12 horses and 50 sheep and a number of pigs from the "Canadian Sapper." Saw them all watered and fed. One had to be taken to a slaughter house on a sloven; it was very much bruised. Quite a number of bulls' heads were fastened in the dogs' instead of a ring. This to my mind should not be allowed. Notified importers to have this cruelty stopped. There have been too many pigs placed in the crates. I have acquainted the agent, who has taken this matter up with the shippers. I am very grateful to Mr. Edward Kennedy of Furness Withy Co. premises and those under him for the interest he takes in looking after the dumb animals there. I've attended the different sales and would like to warn purchasers, of pigs, particularly, that they must be taken out of crates immediately and not kept without food any longer than six hours, as the fine for the same is $25. This section of the Act will be strictly enforced in future. At the request of Mr. Purcell, the impounder, who is attending to the Dog Licenses, I humbly put to death one on Mullock Street and one on Howley Ave. Received a phone message from a lady on Ronnie's Mill Road about a dog that keeps barking during the night. The owner is out of town, but the caretaker sees that the animal is properly attended to, is housed at night time, but is unable to prevent its barking. Quite a number of teamsters have been cautioned. I might say that any teamsters caught riding on loads over hills will be summoned in future. All messages received. Phone 655.

THE DEATH OF A PIG.
Over against the fact that approximately 60,000,000 pigs are killed annually in this country—all of them, with rarest exception, by the knife driven into their throat—put this statement by the celebrated English physiologist, Sir Benjamin Ward Richardson: "To them (pigs) is commonly given a severe degree of physical pain. When they are killed by the knife alone they die by a hemorrhage that may extend with persistent consciousness over three or four minutes of time." One has but to think of the sum total of this unnecessary suffering to understand the demand of humane societies that it cease.
Of course, each pig suffers only his three minutes, but the suffering of 60,000,000 pigs means every year 342 years of wholly needless pain.
Who wonders that we have called the treatment of our food animals in the slaughter houses of the United States, "The Great Cruelty"?

It May Not Be The Cow's Fault That The Milk Supply Has Fallen Off.

If the milk runs short, we are apt to blame the cow, when possibly it is not in the least the cow's fault. The cause is probably deficiency in the food supplies. This matter is well worth looking into. For example, some time ago, some feeding tests were made on a farm with four sets of cows. The local Analytical Chemist reported that "the cows fed on Molassine Meal increased in weight and the butter fats increased from 3.06 to 5.2. There was also a large increase in the amounts of nitrogen in the manure, and in this and every other respect the analysis came out better on cows fed on Molassine Meal than those on other food stuffs." The experimenter also reported that after the first week's feeding on Molassine Meal, "the quantity of milk sent to London increased by 33 gallons, and the second week to 40 gallons. At the end of the test they weighed the cows and found that the live weight was more than before the tests with Molassine Meal was made." If your dealer does not stock it write to Evidence of British Democracy.

LONDON, May 13th. (Associated Press)—The members of Britain's Royal Family already have appeared in the movies, the Prince of Wales and Viscount Lascelles; Princess Alice, aunt of King George, recently used Radio to broadcast an address to British women on the adoption of babies, and even the King and Queen are not immune to the modern trend, for they will soon make patriotic speeches into phonograph and the records in large numbers will be distributed to the children of the country.
King George has a radio receiving set in his private apartments, and some enthusiasts predict it will not be long before he establishes a royal sending station to gain intimate and cordial contact with his people.

S.S. MAPLEDOWN RUNS AMUCK.

MONTREAL, June 2. The coal barge Mapledown was run down by the S.S. Mapledown in the harbor yesterday and sank immediately. Six men were thrown into the water, but were picked up. The Mapledown sustained some slight damage to her bows, but was later able to resume her voyage to St. John's.

R.E.S. CO. REFUSE EMPLOYEES DEMANDS.

SYDNEY, June 2. The British Empire Steel Corporation yesterday, declared itself unable to meet the demands of employees for a twenty per cent. wage increase and refused on principle to adopt the check-off system, which would amount to a recognition of the Steel Workers' Union. During the interview a committee informed Mr. Bischoff they had taken a strike vote and there was found to be large majority in favor of a walk out.

LORD ROBERT CECIL'S PLEA FOR LEAGUE.

Lord Robert Cecil last night, made an eloquent plea to the United States before the English Speaking Union to join the League of Nations. He declared he had found widespread sentiment throughout the United States in favour of the League, and he sounded the warning that in many parts of the world, were symptoms developing that were profoundly disquieting. He surprised his audience by telling them there were more armed men in Europe than before the war. He affirmed that the tendency of most larger countries was toward greater military equipment. "There seems to be a conviction during the last few months that, force, violence and bloodshed again are coming into favor, as an instrument for settling international disputes," Lord Robert said.

Inter-Club Billiards.

C. E. I. NOW LEADING BY 213 POINTS.

Last night's billiard games resulted in two victories for the C.E.I. and increased their lead to 213 points. In the first game Winsor (C.E.I.) defeated Mercer (Guards) in an uphill game by a margin of 41 points. At one stage of the game Mercer was leading by 71 points. Winsor cut down the lead and finished first by playing very fine billiards in the last hundred. The breaks were:— Winsor (300)—18, 10, 11, 10, 18—87.
Mercer (259)—16, 10, 11, 10—47.

The second game was won by Hooky (C.E.I.) over Wyatt (Guards) by a margin of 88 points. Hooky took the lead from the start and gradually increased his score as the game progressed. The breaks were:— Hooky (300)—10, 25, 13, 11, 11, 14—84.
Wyatt (212)—19, 10—29.

The players in to-night's games are E. Churchill (C.E.I.) vs E. White (Guards) at 7.30 and L. G. Harant (C.E.I.) vs A. H. Thomas (Guards) at 8. The two final games of the series will be played on Monday night.

A special programme will be given by some of the leading talent of the city in the S. A. Hall, Adelaide Street, on Wednesday, June 6th, at 8 p.m. Lady Allardyce accompanied by Miss Allardyce, will be present and will address the "Life Saving Guards."—June 2, f

MILDRED "ACTS" LIKE EVERYTHING.

Mildred Davis does unquestionably the best work of her three years, with Harold Lloyd, as "The Girl," in "Dr. Jack," which Lloyd has just completed as one of the six pictures he will produce for the Pathe under his new contract.

For three years Mildred has been going through the Lloyd pictures as a sweet little girl, pretty and everything. But in "Dr. Jack," she gets an opportunity to show just how capable an actress she really is. Lloyd's entire "play" towards Mildred, who, as "the sick-little-well-girl," is bound to win the sympathy of any audience, from all accounts.

Miss Davis' entire film career virtually has been passed on the Hal Roach lot. She had appeared in but two or three other pictures prior to the time she received a call from Lloyd as his leading woman. That was exactly three years ago this Fall, and she has remained with the Company ever since.

Hal Roach always has contended that Miss Davis would make a great dramatic actress. The opportunity was presented itself to her. His opinion is well borne out in "Dr. Jack," as will be made quite evident when Pathe releases this production.

Was Unconscious for Seven Months.

KNOCKED DOWN BY AUTO IN NOVEMBER, VICTIM DIED MAY 24TH.

A pathological case of wide interest to the medical profession and to the public generally was revealed in Montreal on May 25th, when Napoleon Bessette, 57 years of age, of 420 Lafontaine Park, was reported to have died in the course of the night, after remaining seven months in a state of absolute unconsciousness.

On November 5, 1922, Bessette was knocked down at the corner of Marie-Anne and Delorimier Streets by an automobile driven by Stanislas Levalme, of 300 Goin Boulevard. He was taken unconscious to the hospital where he remained a month, after which he was removed to his house, where he died on May 24th without having ever gained consciousness for one moment.

BOYS' English Tweed SUITS

Manly Looking Suits in Youthful Models

Just arrived by S.S. Digby, and they're fully up to our expectations in Materials, Tailoring, Style and Value.

Boys of to-day want just as much style in their clothes as Dad or big brother. They are not satisfied with "JUST CLOTHES," neither were we when we selected such good-looking models for their inspection. Truly here are suitable Suits, suitably priced.

One glance is sufficient to impress you of their serviceability and fitness for that boy of yours.

BOYS' RUGBY SUITS

Three Garment Suits, to fit chaps from 10 to 16 years, manly style, and they look good in Light and Dark Greys as well as some nifty Brown Heather mixtures.

13.50 to 17.00

BOYS' SUFFOLK SUITS
A very becoming style for boys from 11 to 15 years, belted and pleated and showing a mock vest. Your choice of pretty Brown and Light and Dark Greys. Excellent values here.
$8.25 to $11.00

BOYS' Pinch Back SUITS
A style that the boys particularly like, looks good on the youthful figure, from 12 to 15 years. Shades of assorted Greys and Browns, finished with patch pockets.
$9.20 to $14.00

YOUTHS' LONG PANTS SUITS
Neatly tailored Suits for those chaps who are donning their first long pants; 3-piece Suits, fitting from 15 to 18 years. Suits we are proud to handle, and offering values unmatchable to-day.
15.00 to 19.00

BOYS' TWEED PANTS
All open knee style, lined and unlined, in good wear-resisting English Tweeds, fitting 5 to 15 years. Mostly Greys—and grey suits the season.

The King's Birthday

To-morrow, June 3rd, will be the anniversary of the birthday of King George V., and we, with the citizens of our Empire, who are proud to be his subjects, will wish him many happy returns of the day. During the Great World War our King by his devotion to duty, simple tastes and good example set a standard which brought forth the admiration of the whole world. In England the time has been anxious. There have been great doings and changes in the political world and great unrest in the industrial world. The times are changing, but we believe the Empire will adjust herself to the change, now as in the past, with satisfaction to all her members. With a constitutional monarch on the throne, who has an watchful eye for the times and a keen sympathy for his people, the change, which we believe is pending, should be brought about without that friction which has marked great changes in other countries. With confidence in the future, and trust in the great influence of our beloved monarch, we join in the millions of good wishes which will be extended to his Majesty to-morrow.

Cause of the Delay.

The delay in the formation of the Executive of the Government and making the permanent appointments to all the Departments has been caused, it is said by the refusal of certain duly elected members with constitutions behind them, to be set aside in order that other gentlemen who were not elected may receive the appointments, including seats in the already over-manned Legislative Council. We have it on good authority that the slate presented to his Excellency over a week ago, contained the names of no less than four individuals for the Executive Council who represented no constituencies, and that his Excellency refused to endorse it. Constitutional usage has been strained before, but this attempt is carrying it to the breaking point and making a mockery of Responsible Government. From what we have heard of his Excellency Sir Wm. Allardice, we have confidence that he will not be a consenting party to such a violation of the Constitution, and as far as his prerogative allows him he will use it to the end that common political decency will be preserved, and that the rights which the people of Newfoundland are entitled to under the charter of Responsible Government will be safeguarded. The Prime Minister may be a clever man and a wily politician who has grown bold and confident by bamboozling others, but we do not think that he will succeed in pulling the wool over the eyes of a man of such intellectual calibre and administrative ability as Sir William Allardice is known to possess. He holds the balance for the sixty thousand electors who did not vote for the Government as well as for the 65,000 who did, and being the trusted vice-gerent of his Majesty the King, whose birthday we celebrate to-morrow, we, his loyal subjects, look to him to uphold the constitutional rights that our forefathers strove so hard and so long to gain. There is a limit to "political expediency," and if the laxity is allowed to go further there will be no respect for what has been always regarded as sacred in our political life, because all decency, all dignity and honor will have departed from it. The whole country is interested in this question. Some may be satisfied to let the Premier debase the constitution to any limit under the cry of "political expediency," but the people in general are looking to his Excellency to preserve what is left of decent constitutional usage and tradition.

Free Fish Entry.

Hon. Mr. Fielding, the veteran Finance Minister of Canada, we notice by a recent report in Canadian papers on his new tariff proposals, has suggested that overtures be made with the United States Government with a view to a measure of Reciprocity in regard to certain products of both nations. It is thought the proposed new regulations against United States vessels prohibiting them from entering Canadian ports, except through causes of distress, were made with a view to having a definite and mutual basis to work on, as the United States Government had already a prohibitory law in force against Canadian vessels, such as is now proposed by Canada. One of the principal articles of commerce that the Government at Ottawa desires to have the duty removed from is fish of all kinds that is produced in the Maritime Provinces, beyond what is required for home consumption. As the same prohibitive fish duties that affect Canada on her fishery products apply to Newfoundland, it is pertinent to consider whether a similar movement for some measure of reciprocity with Uncle Sam that would allow our salt bulk and pickled fish and our barrelled herring to enter the United States free of duty be taken up. The question is more vital to us just now than to Canada, which has her half a dozen other great natural resources, while we have mainly our fishery products to depend on. If Canada succeeds in making Hon. Mr. Fielding's proposal a practical realization, while we have to continue paying a duty of about $2 per barrel on salted herring and a cent and a quarter per 100 lbs. on pickled fish, we shall be practically shut out from doing any fish trade in the U. S. markets, and it is easy to see that this will place us in an unfortunate position, as the Canadian fish exporters will be able to undersell us in the U. S. market. We commend the serious and early consideration of this vital subject to the consideration of the Government so that if a new fish treaty should be made by Ottawa with the United States, Newfoundland may not be left out in the cold. Statistics of our pork, beef, sugar, feeds, etc., imported annually from the States should help as a lever in having the fish duties removed. It would pay to let one or two of those commodities in free rather than have our herring and salt bulk and pickled codfish discriminated against by favored treatment to Canadian products of the same kind.

The Burgeo Recount.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir.—The interest shown by the public in the Burgeo recount and the "Mail's" inaccurate reports of the proceedings, seem to justify a brief explanation of some points concerning it. The Reporter for the "Mail" is evidently not a lawyer, and his reports are compounded of about equal parts of malice and ignorance. The Election Act says that polling at a general election shall take place all over the Colony on one and the same day. May 3rd last was fixed by proclamation for the polling this year. There is a provision in the Act that a Deputy Returning Officer may in certain events defer a poll for two days. In Burgeo district, all the polling east of St. John's (about 600 ballots) took place on May 2nd, and each Deputy in these eastern stations certified to this fact when he returned his ballot box. Acting on the advice of the Department of Justice, the Returning Officer mixed all the ballots polled on the 7th with those polled on the 3rd, counted them all and returned Mr. Small as elected, with a majority of 37. The official return to the writ commanding that a poll be held on May 3rd, that Mr. Small was elected in conformity with the writ, is therefore, obviously false. Both the letter and the spirit of the Election Act were violated. The Returning Officer, I think, should have counted only the ballots marked on the 3rd of May, and made a special return as to the facts concerning the other. A recount is a device of the Election Act for the purpose of having the ballots counted by a Judge of the Supreme Court with greater accuracy it is supposed, than by a Returning Officer. The recounting Judge is a sort of super-returning officer, with precisely the same powers. Now the most important point raised in the Burgeo recount was this, that the ballots not marked on the day proclaimed for polling (or on either of the two following days to which polling could be adjourned by a Deputy) ought not to be considered as "ballots used at the election," within the meaning of the Election Act, but as so much waste paper, as though they had been wilfully "stuffed" (as the phrase is) into the ballot boxes. I put the point in this manner to the Judge. "These ballots marked on May 7th have no more right to be counted than if the ballot boxes had been unlawfully opened, the proper contents abstracted, and these put into their places. They were there unlawfully and it matters not what is the nature of the unlawful act. The Returning Officer had before him then counting the certificates of the Deputy commanding officer was on shore at 11 a.m. and paid an official visit to his Excellency Sir Wm. Allardice. At noon a salute was fired and a speech was made from the ship's rigging in honor of the King's Birthday. It is interesting to note that the ship will remain in port. The Admiral ship H. M. S. Calcutta is expected to pay a visit here during July month.

Returned From Wreck.

ALL CARGO WASHED OUT OF MARVALE. S. S. Cabot arrived in port last night, having in tow two lifeboats belonging to the wrecked liner Marvale. According to the report of Diver Squires, who made an examination of the wreck on Wednesday last, practically all the cargo and baggage has been washed out of the ship. The hatches are all off and there is a hole in the port side sufficiently large for a man to walk in or out through. The bottom of the ship is also badly holed. As yet there can be learned very little of the wrecked goods was washed ashore. The divers from the Strathcona located the Purser's safe and made an effort to secure the luggage, but they only succeeded in getting two valises of no value. Capt. Lewis of the ill-fated liner is now on board the Strathcona at Trepassey.

Unique Means of Transportation.

WATER NEARLY REACHES WINDOWS OF TRAIN. The passengers who arrived in the city by to-day's express, tell of the unique way in which the train was moved across the flooded area, at Sandy Pond. On arrival of the press at Sandy Pond it was seen that the train could not be gotten over the flooded area with the engine still in front of the train, owing to the depth of water. The engine was therefore uncoupled and switched. Next a string of flat cars with the engine pushing them was coupled up behind the express and pushed the train partly across the flooded area without the engine having to go over the flooded part. The water nearly reached the floor of the cars and at times splashed on the windows of the pullmans. On the other side of the miniature lake, an engine with another string of flat cars was pushed out into the water until the train was reached. It was then a simple matter of coupling up and going ahead. A ferry across the flooded area provided quite a bit of excitement for the passengers.

Only a few tickets left in C.L.A. Election Sweep, and there are some 24 Prizes amongst these few. Now is your chance!

Warship in Port.

H. M. S. WISTARIA ARRIVES FROM MONTREAL. H. M. S. Wistaria arrived in port at 8 a.m. from Montreal, having left the latter port on Monday last. The commanding officer was on shore at 11 a.m. and paid an official visit to his Excellency Sir Wm. Allardice. At noon a salute was fired and a speech was made from the ship's rigging in honor of the King's Birthday. It is interesting to note that the ship will remain in port. The Admiral ship H. M. S. Calcutta is expected to pay a visit here during July month.

Fresh Codfish.

A few fresh codfish from nearby settlements were offered for sale in the city to-day and found ready purchasers. As yet no boats are fishing from this port, although the fish are outside waiting to be caught. During the week a few fish were taken by the fishermen of the Battery from their salmon nets which they have set in Blackhead Bay.

GARDEN PARTY.—Tor's Cove Garden Party will take place on Sunday, July 15th. June2.1i

Train Notes.

Thursday's west-bound express left St. George's at 6.30 a.m. The incoming express with the Kyle's mails and passengers reached the city at 9.50 a.m. The local Carbonar train arrived at 1 p.m. The Trepassey train arrived at 2.30 p.m. The cross country express will leave the depot at 1 p.m. to-morrow. An east-bound express with the Kyle's mails and passengers left the Western Terminus at 8 p.m., and is due in the city late to-morrow evening. All trains are now through the watery part of the track at Sandy Pond Crossing. The water is gradually decreasing each day.

Shipping.

S. S. Silvia will get away for Halifax and New York about 5 o'clock this evening. S. S. Sable I. is due to leave Halifax to-day for this port.

ADVERTISE IN THE EVENING TELEGRAM

Subsidies on Salted Fish.

RECEIVED BY THE BOARD OF TRADE FROM HIGH COMMISSIONER.

... Please publish the enclosed correspondence between the High Commissioner for Newfoundland and the Newfoundland Board of Trade and oblige.

Yours truly,
Ernest A. Payne,
Secretary.

High Commissioner's Office,
55 Victoria Street,
Westminister, S.W.1.,
May 11, 1923.

... reference to the correspondence has passed between this and your Department on the subject of the subsidies paid by the Government on Codfish taken from Newfoundland waters, I have the honour to enclose some further information in respect of the 4th April last when the particulars were given as to the subsidies paid in France on the Codfish imported to that country; there were certain points which needed some further explanation, and consequently additional enquiries have been made and the answers (as per memorandum attached) were submitted for your consideration.

... reply has now been received from the French Government which matters in doubt are referred to me that this additional information as to the system operated by the French Government in connection with Salted Codfish in Newfoundland waters may be of interest to you.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
Your obedient servant,
(Sgd.) VICTOR GORDON,
Secretary, Board of Trade,
St. John's, Nfld.

... From Letter Dated 25th of April, 1923 From the High Commissioner for Newfoundland to H. B. French Consul, Bordeaux.

... Suppose a cargo of Codfish is landed in the Banks of Newfoundland by a French crew in a French vessel and then exported to France from bottom to Italy, what bounties are payable (a) to the owner of the vessel; (b) to the members of the crew? Is there any subsidy or bounty paid to the Exporter in France other than the above?

... fishing vessels allowed to take all their supplies, equipment and provisions for the fishing voyage, from France, in bond? Generally, what exemptions from duty (if any) or other privileges are allowed by the French Government in connection with the Codfish industry?

... Can you define International Coasting Trade and the limits thereof?

... Questions in H. C.'s Letter of 25th April, 1923. — I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter of April 25th and to the subsidies paid by the French Government on Codfish in Newfoundland waters.

... It is impossible to state that it is impossible to obtain officially in Bordeaux information you desire. This information could only be secured in Paris, and, however, made private enquiries from a firm engaged in the industry, and though I cannot guarantee accuracy I believe the following information to be correct:—

... A cargo of dried cod is sent from Newfoundland to France in a French vessel by any other destination than France, the owner of the vessel received the following bounty: (a) For countries outside the International Coasting Trade limits, 20 francs (less 20 per cent.) per 100 kilos, and (b) For countries within the International Coasting Trade limits, 10 francs (less 20 per cent.) per 100 kilos.

... The members of the crew receive bounty—only the owner of the vessel engaged in fishing. Fishing vessels may take all equipment, provisions, etc., for the voyage in bond from France, but not from the French West Indies.

... The privileges indicated in (1) and (2) are the only ones granted to the members of the International Coasting Trade in the term applied in the voyage with the limits of 30° South to 75° East longitude, and 15° North to 30° East longitude, and includes therefore the Mediterranean, Black Sea, Morocco, Iceland, the Baltic, etc.

Just Folks.

BY EDGAR A. GUEST.

FRIENDSHIP.
How shall we place a value on a friend,
Or say one smile is fairer than its kin?
Must love be leveled ere we let it in,
And while we fawn the hand which comes to lend?
Should we for joy on pride alone depend?
Is friendship fashioned from the outer skin,
Or something warm and rich which glows within?
And is there that in love which should offend?
No, I would take the friendly hand in mine
Though it be black with toll and rough and coarse
And proudly count that proffered friendship fine
And hold it dear, regardless of its source.
Who would be friend to me has welcome here
No matter in what garb he may appear,
Clogs—though sweetly—the air of the Given Farewell Party.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Star of the Sea, together with several gentlemen members of the Society, gave a farewell party last night to Miss Nance Farrell, who is leaving by the Silvia to-day for New York. Mr. M. F. Rolls, on behalf of the Ladies' Auxiliary expressed the regret of all at her departure, and extended best wishes for her future success from the many friends. The singing of "Auld Lang Syne," brought the pleasing function to a close.

In the Supreme Court of Newfoundland.

In the matter of the "Quelling of Titles Act, 1921" and in the matter of this piece or parcel of land situate at Heart's Content, in the Electoral District of Trinity, now in the occupation of John G. Wilcox, of Heart's Content, Telegrapher, tenant of The Western Union Telegraph Company.

Notice is hereby given to all parties that The Western Union Telegraph Co., of New York, has made application to the Honourable Mr. Justice Kent, a Judge of the Supreme Court, to have their title to ALL THAT piece or parcel of land situate near the Main Brook of Heart's Content, and bounded as follows: on the North by vacant land, measuring thereby forty-three feet, on the East by a public pathway, measuring thereby sixty feet, on the South by land of Ambrose Cunby, measuring thereby one hundred and four feet, and on the West by a four foot pathway, measuring thereby eighty-five feet six inches, the same being more particularly described in a diagram thereunto annexed to the conveyance of the said land from Aaron Cunby, of Heart's Content, Administrator of the estate of William Cunby, to John G. Wilcox, and registered in Volume 72, Folio 433 of the Registry of Deeds for Newfoundland, and subsequently conveyed by the said John G. Wilcox to your petitioners by conveyance dated the 29th day of March, 1921, and registered in Volume 72, Folio 525 of the Registry of Deeds for Newfoundland and its Dependencies; of which they claim to be the owners, investigated, and for a declaration that they are absolute owners thereof in fee simple in possession by their tenant, John G. Wilcox, except as against His Majesty and the said Judge having ordered the notice of the said application to be published as required by the above named Act.

All parties having claims adverse to the said title claimed by the said Western Union Telegraph Company shall file in the Registry of the Supreme Court, at St. John's, particulars of such adverse claim, and serve the same, together with an affidavit verifying the same, on the undersigned Solicitor for the petitioners on or before the 20th day of June, 1923, after which no party having any such claim shall be permitted to file the same or to be heard except by special leave of the Court, and subject to such conditions as the Court may deem just. All such adverse claims shall then be investigated in such manner as the said Judge shall direct.

ALFRED B. MORINE, K.C.,
Solicitor for the Petitioners.
Dated at St. John's this 30th day of May, 1923.

Last Two Gun Men Dead

"LONE STAR," INDIAN FIGHTER, NEVER BEATEN "ON DRAW" WAS KILLED IN OMAHA ELEVATOR ACCIDENT.

Fighting, smiling, gray-haired old "Lone Star," Fred M. Hans, Indian fighter, frontier scout and possibly the last of the real two-gun "cross-arm draw" experts, met death at Omaha, Neb., with his "boots on." But death did not come on the field of battle where he has so often faced it not on the wings of a bullet. He was crushed to death in an elevator shaft of the Omaha World-Herald plant, where he was night watchman.

Lone Star was caught by the elevator when he attempted to move the control lever from the outside and the lift suddenly shot upward.

Lone Star began his career as plainsman at the age of sixteen, when he left home to search for a brother kidnapped by Sioux Indians. He broke into fame first in 1878 in the "hole-in-the-wall" country, Powder River, Wyoming, when, single handed he shot and killed "Shackster," Jim and his two fellow bandits. It was Lone Star's hammer fanning that won the unequal fight.

The Indians dubbed him We-Chach-Po-Wan, Ce-La, which translated, means Lone Star.

Other high spots of Hans' life were, shot and killed two stage coach bandits, April 12, 1877, near Valentine, Neb.; shot five Indians in battle of Little Missouri, near Black Hills, Aug. 21, 1877, saving the lives of a party of twenty prospectors; killed eleven Indians with twelve shots, using both guns, hammer fanning, in the battle of Wounded Knee, S.D., in 1892; killed bandit, Ainsworth, Neb., in 1878; shot and killed bandit at Fremont, Neb., in 1897; was official War Department investigator of Custer massacre, and followed Sitting Bull 500 miles on horseback, inducing him and his band to return to the reservation; was present at "Sitting Bull's" death; was Chief Scout Master for Gen. Phil Sheridan for six years; was Chief Special Agent of the North-western Railroad for years.

In all, Hans was credited with having killed eight white men and twenty Indians.

"I was never beaten on the draw," he often declared.

Until a month ago Hans wore a scalplock, eighteen inches long which he kept curled under a skull cap as he sat around in the Herald editorial rooms at night often displaying his skill with his two guns to reporters and visitors.

"No one is after it now," he explained when he ordered his locks cut off.

He Tried Them and Now Feels Fine.

SO SAYS MR. J. T. RICE, AFTER TAKING DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Ontario Man suffered with a bad back and rheumatism and received great benefit from Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Collingswood, Ont., June 1—(Special)—"I cannot praise them enough." This enthusiastic statement is made by Mr. J. T. Rice, a well known resident of this place.

"I suffered with backache and rheumatism and was unable to work or stoop. I could not sleep and was always tired and nervous. I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. Two boxes completely relieved me of my trouble, and now I feel fine."

Mr. Rice's troubles were caused by the kidneys. That's why he got such prompt and complete relief from Dodd's Kidney Pills, for they act only on the kidneys.

You will find that Dodd's Kidney Pills will relieve kidney trouble, no matter where or in what form it is found. Give them a trial.

To Establish Shrine in Memory of Mark Twain.

FLORIDA, Mo., May 31.—(A.P.)—The plan to establish a Mark Twain Memorial Park here, where the humorist was born, has met with an encouraging response, according to officers of the Mark Twain State Memorial Park Association, which is fostering the movement.

The executive committee has set August as "Mark Twain Month," and the first week in September as "Mark Twain Week." All lovers of the famous humorist should read at least one of his books in August, the committee declared, the heads of the schools will be asked to have some sort of memorial program on one day in "Mark Twain Week."

M. A. Violette, owner of the home here in which Mark Twain was born, has promised to donate the house and its old-time curios to the association.

Mark Twain was born November 30th, 1835, and in his autobiography he humorously speaks of Florida as having "two streets, each a couple of hundred yards long, the rest of the avenues mere lanes, with rail fences and corn fields on either side." Florida, however, has grown into a neat little town, with all the usual business institutions.

The majority of members of the association are editors of newspapers in Missouri.

There are 4 grades of roofing felt selling in Newfoundland, "BARRETT'S" is guaranteed the highest grade.

"Barrett's" 1, 2 and 3-ply felts have been in use in Newfoundland for more than 50 years.

The best roof known in America is a "Barrett" roof, "Barrett's" felt ONLY is used in putting on a "Barrett" Roof. Ask any Architect.

"Barrett" 1, 2 and 3-ply felts are really made of felt saturated with genuine coal tar—the 2 and 3-ply felts have a layer of coal tar pitch between each ply.

"Barrett's" felts are made to give good wear, therefore they cost more than roofings made of paper saturated with diluted asphalt.

If you use "Barrett's" felt instead of common felt, a new roof covering for your house may cost you $2.00 more for the whole roof.

Roofs covered with "Barrett's" felt are secure, the extra cost of one or two dollars (for the entire roof) is money well spent.

Which felt do you intend to use?

Architects, Builders and Contractors prefer "Barrett's" Felt.

See With Skin.

DOCTORS SAY MAN READS WITH CHEEK, IN EXPERIMENT HELD IN FRANCE—COULD TELL COLORS.

PARIS, France.—M. Louis Farkoulle, whose claims have proved the existence in the human epidermis of elementary organs of sight, two years ago, has lately resumed his experiments.

In the "Humanite," recently, M. Georges Chaigneviere summarizes the most recent results obtained, which have been authenticated by a number of doctors and other well-known men.

One of the cases described is that of a subject who, at the second trial, was able to "see" letters, at the third to distinguish white from pale gray and orange from ochre, and at the end of a later sitting to read two couplets, making two mistakes which he corrected himself.

During the experiments the eyelids were fastened down with adhesive plaster and the eyes covered with a thick bandage cut to fit and fixed with elastic bands.

The characters to be deciphered were placed in a photographic frame under glass, which made it impossible to touch them.

They were placed in the frame by an assistant, who held his hands behind his back, and they were presented to the subject without anyone in the room being able to see the glass surface.

Certain areas of the skin are apparently more active than others. In the case under notice most success was obtained with the right cheekbone, the forehead and the fingers.

Sees America as Winner of 1924 Paris Olympic.

ROME, May 10. (A. P.)—With an army of 300,000 athletes from which to choose the 1924 American Olympic team, the United States is in the most formidable position of all the competing countries and looks like the sure winner of the Paris Olympiad next year, according to General Sherrill, the old Yale star and originator of the "crouch start," who is spending a few days in Rome after the meeting of the International Olympic Committee.

"We hate to boast," said General Sherrill, "but we seem to have the best collection of athletes in the whole world, and there is no reason why we should not walk away with the honors. Just taking the colleges and universities alone, they present a formidable array of athletic possibilities.

"For the sprints, I think Paddock can be depended upon to take the prize from all comers," the General continued. "Then there is that wonder, Genadin, for the broad jump. Nothing will be able to touch him. Young Weismuller in swimming will carry off all that he will be required to do.

"Both the army and navy are sending strong teams. In rifle work, they will make all the rest hump. Then in fencing and rowing, they are going to show up well. We also will have our team of winter sports, which will enter the events at Chamoni, France next January. In the equestrian games, the American Remount association is interesting itself and will send a strong representation.

Flying Boat Weighs 9 Tons.

Southampton, England, May 12.—(A.P.)—The new flying boat "Valentia," has a span of 112 feet, is fitted with two 650 horse-power engines, weighs 9 tons in flying trim, and has an estimated speed of 110 miles an hour.

NOT HIS WIFE'S—
NOT HIS DAUGHTER'S—
BUT HIS—A MAN'S HOME!

Frederick Osborn had won his way to wealth and power in the commercial world by sheer strength of character. His way in the affairs of business had always been the successful way. It was hard for him to understand that the successful conduct of a home called for entirely different methods.

He had fought to make his home—and just as valiantly he fought to protect it.

THE WORLD'S PRESS.

PASSING OF THE HOME.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: It seems the "Home, Sweet Home" era lasted from 1813 to 1923. After that, fate.

DELIGHTS OF SUSPENSE.

London Times: It is the life and puts that give life its real zest: the painful progress towards certainty rather than the complete and finished certainty itself.

FOR THE PUBLIC WELFARE.

New York Evening Post: Prohibition is the greatest public welfare law that has been placed on the statute books since the abolition of slavery. To do anything to weaken it would be to take a step backward.

BRING UP THE CHILD.

London Morning Post: Far too much attention is given by our sentimental Solons to the weak and the depraved. We ought to concentrate our attention on the bringing up of strong men, and women who do not need a Customs House officer, a medical committee, or a prohibition law to protect them from self-indulgence and its consequences.

THE NATION'S REPROACH.

London Daily Telegraph: The most urgent cry comes from those who are existing in one or two rooms, and their hopes, as well as those of all who are suffering in any way from the shortage of houses, not excluding the middle-classes, rests on the maintenance of the economic stability of the great body of taxpayers and ratepayers who are anxious to play their part, even at a heavy cost, in curing a grievous social sore.

SMUGGLERS' ARTIFICES.

Manchester Guardian: The dodge by which American smugglers transfer ships to foreign flags can and should be checked. The British Government promised some months ago to regard with suspicion any such transfer that was unaccompanied by a certificate from the United States Shipping Board, and, if the owner proved to be fictitious, to forfeit the ship. We hope this policy is being actively and sincerely pursued, for, unlike the proposal of the Supreme Court, it is one that would have the common approval of the maritime nations who stand to gain by freedom on the seas and to lose by piracy.

POSTIE UP-TO-DATE.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: Leaving military and naval considerations out of account, airplanes have so far found their largest usefulness in the despatch of mail. This utility has come about so quickly and on the whole with so little ostentation that the public scarcely realizes what is already being done and what greater triumphs are at hand. The announcement by Postmaster-General New that beginning in July or August there will be continuous non-stop service between New York and San Francisco emphasizes anew the strides made in the development of this comparatively new utility. The plan is to have the mail leave New York just before noon, arriving at Chicago at sunset. There a fresh pilot will take the mail and start immediately through the night, his way directed by flaming beacons, and reach Cheyenne, Wyo., at day-break. Here a third pilot waits, takes the mail and before the day ends drops it in the city at the Golden Gate. Twenty-eight hours is to be the scheduled time of flight.

Fads and Fashions. Metal and chenille embroidery almost cover the crown of a small hat of light blue taffeta. Two-tone effects are favored in novelty gloves. Braiding and pleatings are used as trimmings. A plaid-trimmed velveteen coat is worn with a plaid skirt with beige-pleated panels back and front. Tangerine is a smart-color for the sleeveless golf sweater of silk or wool, with a checked vest effect. Paris favors off-the-face shapes in hats, with small crowns and narrow brims, slightly rolled in front. For sports, one may have a straw hat trimmed with flowers or one of English leather with an embroidered veil. With an embroidered veil to it, an orchid is worn a plaid skirt of voile in matching shades. A wedding gown of silver fringed ornament of crystal and rhinestones.

Many London Swindlers.

THRIVE ON TIMID VICTIMS. London, May 15.—(A.P.)—Swindling has taken the place of violence as the most prevalent type of crime, says Sir Leonard Dunning, Inspector of Constabulary for England.

"Crimes of violence have steadily decreased for years" says Sir Leonard in a report. "Modern crime is clothed and educated, because the criminal of to-day knows that it is far safer and more profitable to swindle hundreds than to rob one by knocking him in the head."

It has been stated that there are hundreds of professional criminals in England whom the police are powerless to arrest. Many of these people derive very large incomes by trading upon the credulity of a certain section of wealthy people. In the vast majority of cases the criminals are never prosecuted either because of the difficulty of proving the fraud against them or because the people victimized do not want publicity.

The London spring social season is the "open sesame" for the English "raffes," and they lose no opportunity of adding to their incomes through the credulity of the wealthy. One of the most popular means during the last few years has been for the criminal to gain entrance to various social affairs and make it a point of being seen in the company of well-known people. Then they proceed to organize entertainments, beg donations for Vigil in Churchyard.

STRANGE CHARGE MADE AGAINST RECTOR—MAN AND WOMAN HID BEHIND TREE.

The Rev. Charles Hairy Barton, Rector of Harbledown, near Canterbury, England, who is over eighty years of age, was sent for trial at the East Kent Quarter Sessions for alleged malicious damage to a monument at Harbledown churchyard. Two witnesses—Miss Elsie Petyter and Mr. Donovan Buckland stated that while concealed behind a tree, between 6.30 and 7 p.m., they saw the rector tap a monument with a hammer.

Afterwards he walked over to a monument, erected in memory of Mr. Clout, and smashed off a sundial. He picked up the sundial and threw it away among some graves. He was muttering to himself while he did it.

When seen by police officers he denied that he had damaged the sundial. Shown the statement by Miss Petyter, he said: "If not my word as a clergyman as good as hers."

Strong Denial. He gave permission for his house to be searched, and said to the Superintendent: "If you find it in my house I will give you a thousand pounds."

In his evidence the Rector said he was in Canterbury at the time of the alleged offence. He went to see the film "From Manger to Cross," at the Theatre Royal, and afterwards wandered about the streets meditating on what he had seen until 7.30. He declared emphatically that he had never damaged the monument or used a hammer in the way described.

He was allowed bail in his own recognizance of £25.

Scene of Dempsey-Gibbons Go Named for Railroad Builder.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 1.—(A.P.)—The town of Shelby, Montana, where the heavyweight championship battle between Jack Dempsey and Tom Gibbons is to be staged July 4, is named after one of the pioneer transcontinental railroad builders of America, Peter Paul Shelby, father of Mrs. F. J. Scholdt, Cleveland Heights.

Mr. Shelby was one of those actively engaged in the pioneer construction of the Union Pacific railroad. Upon the completion of that road he was made general traffic manager and remained with the Union Pacific for about 25 years. During that time he made a trip of 700 miles northward by sleigh to ascertain if it were worth while to build a branch line to Montana. As a result of his report, the branch was built.

Mr. Shelby afterwards became vice-president of the Great Northern railroad under the late James J. Hill and aided in building that trunk line. It was while serving in that capacity that the town of Shelby, through which the Great Northern passes, was named for him.

CHAPTER XXII.
(I. C. MORRIS.)

JERSEY SHIPS.

There were no more worth while in the sixties, there was of necessity a fleet of sailing ships. The beauty of the Spanish schooners; but not all that came could boast of speed. This applies to the ships of the Channel for the majority of those of the Jersey fleet was quite small at that time consisted of brig and bark, all of white painted ports. Those of the May month, when they were usually anchored in the fishing vessels along with oil, and go back to the Greenock, sometimes to Dunkirk in France, and to Quebec for timber. These were large carriers, and have been built so as to carry the greatest possible amount of cargo. They were locally spoken of as "brigs," and they were of the class to themselves. It was not until the late eighties that the bows and broad sterns attracted attention; and one of the things which presented the appearance of a modern ship, more so than any other, was the witly built of those which were built by the yards off in lengths; such as a bark, and such a length of course that was only a bark. But so clumsy were the vessels and so bluff were they that it seemed a wonder that they could have been built at all. They were quite strong, and not only was the hull lashed both fore and aft, but the masts, of the usual rake customary in those days, were not only lashed to the fore yard, but the masts seemed to be lashed to the older shipping of the time, when spritsails were carried across the bows, and a sail was carried beneath the bowsprit.

St. John's Will Have Up-to-Date Optical Plant.

Mr. C. D. Sleater, the eye specialist, has recently returned to the city from Toronto. During his visit he took a post graduate course at the Royal College of Science, and is now fully conversant with the most recent advances in the Science of Optics. While in Toronto, Mr. Sleater was closely associated with Mr. Percy Hermant, the President and General Manager of the Imperial Optical Co., which is one of the biggest optical houses in Canada to-day. During an interview with Mr. Hermant, arrangements were practically finalized for the establishing of a grinding plant in Newfoundland with the endeavor to reduce the high cost of glasses to the consumer. Mr. Hermant who is now on the way from England to Canada, wirelessed Mr. Sleater via Cape Race yesterday morning apprising him that he contemplates visiting Newfoundland shortly after his return home, and will make all the necessary arrangements for the establishment of a mechanical plant in Newfoundland.

Wedding Bells.

WAKELEY-EDWARDS.
A very pretty wedding took place at St. Thomas's Church at 10.30 a.m. to-day, when Mr. R. Alan Edwards was united in the Holy Bonds of Matrimony to Miss Elizabeth (Lily) Wakeley, daughter of Mr. Thomas Wakeley, Haystack. The full church choir was in attendance and received the bride-to-be at the door of the church. As she was led to the Altar, Mr. Herbert Sterling, choir conductor, rendered Handel's stirring Wedding March. The bride, in a beautiful costume with rose and fawn hat, wore musk furs and carried a bouquet of carnations sweet peas and fern, with ribbon trailers. Miss Annie Wakeley, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, wore a salmon pink dress, with black lace hat, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. Wm. D. Edwards, brother of the groom, was father of the bride. The groom was ably supported by Mr. Irving Parsons. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. G. O. Lightbourn and during the service charming music was rendered by the choir. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the West End Restaurant when the usual toasts were honored and congratulatory speeches given. Subsequently the bride and groom, they were straight, and in more curved; but in most cases they were neatly carved. But the workmanship was very excellent, and was cleverly done; and while the tiller itself was quaint and old-fashioned, the workmanship which it presented showed expert skill, and excellent taste. We sometimes read in old-time shipping of the helmsman being struck by the tiller, and being injured or killed, or knocked overboard. Such stories tell, how in accident, the ships would be immediately lost control of, and the sails taken aback, when, unless the ship were very readily brought to, it meant dismasting and wreckage. To look at the modern ships with their wheels, and all the appliances of science, and then remember the old time tiller, is to see a world of difference. The jaudy brigs were bluff and plain and clumsy, but of their class, and in their day, they filled out their part in the annals of commerce, and then gave way to the better conditions which are now enjoyed. So great is the difference in shipping to-day, and so advanced are the methods of shipping, that it is almost impossible for one who has not seen the old time shipping, to really understand their style or their quaint appearance.

MAYO-HOLLETT.

Quite recently the Methodist Church at Collin's Cove was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Mr. James Mayo was united in Holy Matrimony to Miss Jessie Hollett. The groom was very ably supported by Mr. Richard Strong while Miss Beatrice Sampson acted as Bridesmaid. The bride looked charming in a sate-blue georgette costume with hat to match and carried a bouquet of forget-me-nots. After the ceremony the party drove to the groom's house when a sumptuous repast had been prepared. Mr. P. M. Coady in his usual jovial manner toasted the health of the bride and groom, to which the groom responded. During supper the wedding march was very creditably rendered by our popular violinist, Mr. Charles Butler, Jr., accompanied by Miss Minnie Mayo. After supper J. D. Bishop presided at the organ while songs were sung by Messrs. A. E. Day, H. R. Winter, John Penney, Sr., and Wm. Penney. The hit of the evening was Mr. William Penney's song, "Will you love me when the silver threads are shining 'mongst the gold." The presents were numerous and costly testifying to the esteem in which the couple is held. The happy couple left the following day for the Hotel de Ploco Mortier, where the honeymoon was spent, taking with them the good wishes of a host of friends. The Correspondent wishes Mr. and Mrs. Mayo bon voyage on the matrimonial sea.

Brown has an acquaintance who ordinarily is as peaceable inclined as a dish of string beans. Occasionally, however, he exhibits signs of homicidal mania. "This is his latest: 'I just want to live long enough,'" he said grimly as he spat at a crack. "to buy a 5-ton truck, put a cow-catcher on the front, and then slam into some of these laundry and dry cleaner wagons that back out from the curb without looking behind or giving a darn whether you are coming along, and also to pulverize some of the young boons who drive about the streets at night with their car lights out."
