WEDNESDAY EV'G. MARCH 26, 1873

Town and County News.
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 2ND.—Remember that this is the date on which the Guelph Easter Fair Cattle Show will be held. A large number of buyers will be present, and a good day's business is looked forward to.

Spring Goods.—Our Merchants are receiving their spring goods rapidly, and already the shelves in the stores are becoming well filled with the new designs. Wednesday next, being Easter Fair Day, will be a day of great business.

CONESTOGA FAT CATTLE MARKET.—The spring market will be held on Monday next, March 31st, when a large number of well-bred and well-fed cattle will be offered for sale. As this is the last market of the season it is expected that all the fat stock of the neighborhood will be disposed of without reserve.

THE FAVORITES.—It will be pleasing to many to learn that the Original New Orleans Minstrels are to favor us with two of their pleasing and unique entertainments on Saturday and Monday evenings. The negro delineations in W. G. Goodman and Frank West, and the singing of the famous Prima Donna, Mand Stanley, are a sufficient guarantee for crowded houses.

THE SCHOOL LAW.—Part second of the school law, official regulations and decisions of the Superior Courts, relating to township, County, city, town and incorporated Village, municipal councils, town and village public school boards, arbitrations and awards, public school inspectors, &c., also the acts relating to Roman Catholic and Protestant and Colored Separate Schools, with a copious index. Mailed to any address from Anderson's Bookstore, Guelph, for 75 cents.

EVENING ENTERTAINMENT.—On the evening of the 20th inst. an Exhibition was held in the School House No. 5, Pilkington, at a meeting convened by W. W. Price, who gave a few excellent songs, which elicited much praise. At the close, the teacher, Mr. McMillan, was presented with a handsome writing desk and flattery address, by the pupils, to which he replied in a few appropriate remarks, after which the audience departed, highly pleased with the evening's performance.

Local and Other Items.
Rev. Mr. Davis, on leaving Trinity Church, Ailsa Craig, for the parish of Wingham, was presented on Monday, 24th inst., by his congregation with an address and a purse of $250.

The United States Senate yesterday passed a resolution contemplating a Spanish Republic upon the passage of the Porto Rico Abolition of Slavery Bill.

The Prince of Serbia has proclaimed his country independent of Turkish authority, and refuses to pay tribute to the Sultan. The payment is to be enforced by the presence of Turkish troops.

One ticket agent in Ottawa on Tuesday sold tickets to the amount of $850 to persons emigrating from that vicinity to Manitoba and British Columbia.

A STEAMER, which has arrived at Galveston, states that on the 17th inst., a large ship was seen on fire at sea, and burned to the water's edge. No person was seen upon or near her.

ENTERTAINING.—A Kansas liquor-dealer takes up his business cards in the pews of the churches, and also inserts them in the hymn-books and other localities where they will catch the eyes of the people.

DOUBLE TRACKS.—Should the Bill introduced by Mr. Scott, of Grey, providing for making double tracks on snow roads, become law, the lieges in this part of Canada will rejoice. Much trouble, delay, and annoyance will be saved by the passing of the bill. We notice that it has passed its third reading.

MAJESTIC PRESENT.—The Montreal Times says that the Rev. Pro. McMillan, of the Presbyterian College of that city, was a few days ago presented with the sum of six hundred dollars, by a few friends of the College as a slight acknowledgment of his great exertions on its behalf and the marked success that resulted therefrom.

HIGH SCHOOL INSPECTOR.—In consequence of the death of the Rev. J. G. D. Mackenzie, M. A. the Council of Public Instruction, at a meeting held on the 20th inst., appointed Mr. J. M. Buchanan, M. A. head master of the Hamilton Collegiate Institute, to the office of Inspector of High Schools.

HOMESICKLY IMPULSED DOWN.—A fire broke out on Tuesday morning at half-past seven o'clock in the wooden wing of the House of Industry, Kingston, and from the want of water and the difficulty of removing some of the aged inmates, it was destroyed. The fire appears to have originated from the carelessness of some of the inmates smoking. The loss is about $500. No insurance.

SAD CASE OF SUICIDE.—An old man named Charles Pilgrim, living near Treveon, Ont., committed suicide on Tuesday night by cutting his throat with a razor. When found by his wife he was quite dead. An inquest was held, when a verdict was returned that deceased committed suicide during a fit of temporary insanity.

The wind blows a gale from the North East, at least 8 inches of snow have fallen and there is no abatement of the tempest. Street railway travel is entirely suspended on some of the routes, and on others four horses to each car are necessary. Railroad trains are delayed in every direction.

Portland, March 25.—An accident on the Grand Trunk Railway occurred near West Bethel, and was caused by collision between a freight and a tie train. Both engines and several cars were wrecked. Capt. Nathan Walker in charge of the tie train was seriously injured and several others badly bruised.

Brigade Camps.
To the Editor of The Mercury.
Sir.—A report appeared in one of the morning journals that there was some idea of abandoning the annual camps, owing, I suppose, to their expense, for no one can deny but that the principle is the right one. We can never expect to have an army unless periodically exercised in more than battalion and company drill. The country is not so fertile in money as long as it is judiciously laid out. If they are done away with it will be a crushing blow to volunteering, as every captain will tell you. First do away with some of the unnecessary members of the Staff at Ottawa and elsewhere, place working men in responsible positions, and make effective hangers on, do away with that snobbish piece of business, the "Guards" or "Household Troops"; it is an insult to the men who have done good and loyal service in times of danger, yes, to the more than by loyalty it is unfair to grant special privileges for the sake of mere show; we all dearly love our Queen, and honor the traditions and ceremonies of the land we have left, they have a character, a significance, but it is a step in the wrong direction to drag into this country of stern realities, the glitter and tinsel of European courts; it is only the small end of the wedge, and the sooner it is dismissed the better. If the necessary ceremonial in Canada require military parades, let those who have worked for years against all the difficulties with which the Volunteers are early progress was followed—I say let the genuine working troops perform this duty and form the body-guard of our Governor—on such occasions the honor belongs to them. You can then believe in some reality, rather than the mere exhibition of the tailor's handiwork.

In furtherance of my desire to see the camps continued I shall quote a few remarks bearing upon the subject, and spoken by the Imperial Minister of War, Mr. Cardwell, in introducing on the 23rd of last month the Army Estimates:

"I believe this system of exercising large bodies of men together to be of great advantage upon the old system, and to tend largely to increase the usefulness of the force. No one who witnessed the sights will ever forget the magnificent effect of the splendid scene at the Autumn manoeuvres of 1872."

"Both in the eyes of the private soldier and in those of the public, it is as an individual or as a nation, by showing that you are conscious of your own responsibility, and that you respect your own position."

The above quoted remarks are brief, but most suitable to the point, and I sincerely trust that the Government here will look through the same spectacles.

Guelph, Mar. 22, '73. A VOLUNTEER.

Fire at Strathroy.
Special to The Mercury.
Strathroy, March 25.—A fire occurred here last night about half past eleven, destroying the building of the Western Hotel, kept by W. Munro, and owned by Jno. Seaton of Eford. The wind was blowing a gale at the time, and it was only by great exertions on the part of the firemen that the Hotel was saved. Two horses and a cow were burned in the fire. Supposed to be incendiary. Partly insured.

Chancery Court.
This Court opened here on Monday, and closed to-day at noon. The Hon. the Chancellor presiding. There were only three cases heard. The Court was the first held on the circuit, this year and was the shortest we have had for years.

O'DONNELL vs. BLACK.—Bill filed to perform contract. A lot of land, in the township of Eramosa, was sold by public auction, the defendant being the highest bidder. Plaintiff proved that the defendant did not intend to buy. Bill dismissed with costs. Mr. Boyd, of the firm of Blake, Kerr & Boyd, assisted by Mr. Wardell, appeared for deft. Mr. T. Moss, Q. C., for the plff.

FINLAYSON vs. DULMER.—Bill filed for a cancellation of patent from the Crown. Judgment reserved. Mr. W. C. Kerr for plff. Mr. T. Moss, Q. C., and W. H. Bowly, for deft.

INGOLSBY vs. INGOLSBY.—Bill filed to set aside a will. Peter Ingolsby made a will in favor of his son, the defendant, giving him fifty acres of land. Plaintiff filed to prove that defendant's father was insane at the time the will was made. It was proved that before and after the execution of the will defendant's father was insane. The Court reserved judgment as to whether he was insane at the time the will was executed. Mr. T. Moss, Q. C., and Mr. D. S. Scott, for plff. Mr. Fleming, of Morphy & Fleming, for defendant.

A Good Sale.—Mr. Henry Hatch, land, loan and general agent here, sold a market garden and nursery, comprising eleven and three quarters acres of land, adjoining the residence of Judge McDonald, about one mile from Guelph, for $1,800 cash. The purchaser, Mr. Alex. Witton, of Toronto, will use the land for the same purpose as heretofore. The sale was made on Tuesday of this week. With a fraction of $150 an acre is a good figure for the land.

Ontario Legislature.

March 25.
Attorney-General Mowat moved that the House go into Committee on the Municipal Loan Fund resolutions. He expressed the satisfaction he felt at the manner in which the measure had been received by the country, and claimed, that while it could not be expected to be free from inequalities, it was on the whole a just and equitable settlement of a most difficult and complicated question. They had to consider of this great amount of indebtedness, first, what they could enforce by way of payment; secondly, what it was just to enforce; and, lastly, what compensation could be offered to indebted municipalities against the large measure of relief accorded to others. He laid down in the most express terms that no municipality had any moral claim to relief, and urged the House to keep this principle steadily in view during its deliberations. He hoped the new settlement that was proposed, would, to some extent, correct the demoralization occasioned by the errors of past administration. He then adverted to the effect of the Act of 1859, enacting a five cent assessment basis, and the Act of 1866, which enacted the two cent limitation, as having established a basis on which to found the new scheme of re-adjustment. He urged that nothing could be so fair and practical as the adoption of the municipalities' own assessment, and declared that to undertake a new valuation by Government would be impossible. He proceeded to explain how the policy of siding railways had introduced a new element into the consideration of this subject, and discussed the policy of the railway allowances embraced in the resolutions. He showed the difficulty of putting gravel roads and other purely local improvements in the same category as railroads, and then proceeded to announce the intention of the Government to take powers—where they deemed it desirable—to sell the debentures, and to hand over the proceeds to the municipalities with the balance in cash. He concluded by pointing out certain provisions made in the interest of the township of Hope, the town of Goderich, and the town of Berlin. There might still, he remarked, be some inaccuracies in the schedules to be rectified; but they represented, in all material respects, the arrangements that it was proposed finally to carry into effect.

After two or three members had asked questions on points of detail, Mr. Wood (Victoria), at great length, criticised the scheme. His argument was directed to showing that the distribution of the surplus was greatly in favor of the older municipalities and unfair to the newer districts.

Mr. Rykert complained that the information given to the House was not sufficiently full to justify their adopting so elaborate a measure.

The debate was cut short by the six o'clock recess.

In the evening the High School will read a second time. The House then took up and discussed the estimates. The discussion of the votes occupied the remainder of the evening.

News From Ottawa.
Special to The Mercury.
Ottawa, 26.

It was stated that by the vote of the House on Monday, the time of the issue of the Speaker's warrant for the appointment of Election Committees was to be late, and that, consequently, none of the election petitions can be tried.

There is a rumor that the Government will introduce a Bill to enable the cases to be tried by the Senate.

Blak arrived in town last night.

Sub-committees on printing met this morning, and listened to a statement by Mr. Taylor, the contractor for printing, in reply to the charges made by the Hon. the Clerk, to the Committee, that the work had been unnecessarily delayed.

After a long discussion the Committee altered the report so as to convey no censure on the contractor.

Guelph Evening Mercury

WEDNESDAY EVG. MARCH 26, 1873.

While we Upper Canadians are sitting under our own vine and fig tree, none daring to molest us, and believing that the whole machinery of the Dominion is working so harmoniously as to advance the interests of our people, we have little idea of the amount of real treachery in the camp. For over half a century did the people of Ontario complain of French domination, and justly so. Happily the consummation of Confederation prevented an outbreak which might have ended very seriously. There is a point beyond which endurance ceases to be a virtue, and this point has been reached in regard to the affairs of Manitoba. If the open disloyalty of the half-breeds is not summarily checked the British flag will once more be trampled under the feet of such men as Riel, and others of his ilk, and mob law will rule for a second time. We have to thank Sir George E. Cartier and his crew for all the troubles of the Red River country. He and his colleagues, backed up by sympathising Lower Canadians, having failed in their long continued attempt to compel Upper Canadians to acknowledge them as lord and master, they eagerly and hopefully turned their attention to Manitoba, determined that that country should acknowledge and be ruled by the French element. Riel, a red-handed villain, whose actions during the trouble, brought about from the source already indicated, were of the most disloyal nature, and whose trampling of the British flag in the dust is known to Canadians generally, has not only escaped hanging, but is permitted to sit as a jurymen in the very town where the blood of the murdered man Scott is crying for vengeance upon his head. It is a disgrace to law and order to permit this shedder of man's blood to pollute loyal people with his presence. It is a disgrace to the authorities of the Dominion to permit such a state of things to exist: but to expect anything but mob law to rule at Manitoba, under existing circumstances, is to anticipate a crop of wheat where no seed has been sown.

We have been permitted to copy the following extract from a letter received the other day from a resident of some years in Manitoba, and who feels strongly that the country is being injured by its present rulers. His statements bear the impress of truth, and may be relied on. We commend its careful perusal to all lovers of their country:—

Don't you think of coming up here, you have got to be what you expect the present Government to carry out. You almost assured to say that I am living under the shadow of the "Union Jack." It is not a bit like it. There is a lot of people here who are not in favour of the Government. The whole thing is a farce. I would not believe in the Government if this is the way they are going to allow things to go on. They are nothing else but a lot of regular conspirators against the British Crown. Most of the present Parliament are a regular drunkard lot. At times they cannot sit in session, some of the members being so drunk and noisy that no one can speak. The present police force has been thinned out of all its English, or Canadian, and French, or Lower Canadian, are taking their places the same way the Volunteers.

The Imperial Guarantee for the Pacific Railway.

Among the despatches lately issued from the Colonial Office is one dated June, 1872, in which the Secretary, Lord Kimberley, on behalf of his Government, conveys to the Canadian Government their thanks for the prompt manner in which the measure approving of the Washington Treaty was carried through the Canadian Parliament. The document further goes on to state that in September last Lord Kimberley, who had then succeeded Lord Lytton, submitted a minute of Council, respecting an Imperial guarantee for the Canadian and Pacific Railway Bill, and proposing that the guarantee of £2,500,000 which Her Majesty's Government had agreed to recommend to Parliament should be increased to £1,000,000 on condition that the present guaranteed loan of £1,000,000 for fortifications be abandoned, and also the promise on the part of Her Majesty's Government to supply armaments. Lord Kimberley says that his Government "fully recognise the necessity of providing safe and rapid means of communication through British territory between the older Provinces of the Dominion and the vast region which has been brought under the control of the Canadian Government by the incorporation with the Dominion of British Columbia and the country formerly governed by the Hudson's Bay Company, and also the urgency in the interests of commerce of improving the Canadian canals; and although they hold it a salutary rule, not to be lightly departed from, that this country should not incur contingent liabilities for expenditure which naturally falls upon that part of the Empire which is to reap the direct benefit of the outlay, they are willing, looking to the peculiar position of the Dominion and the heavy responsibilities recently thrown upon it, greater, probably than were ever before undertaken by a Colonial Government, to make an exception in this case. They will therefore be prepared, when the time arrives for the proposal of the guarantee of the loan of £2,500,000, to insert in the bill a clause transferring the guarantee of £1,000,000 for fortifications to a loan for the same purposes as those for which the loan of £2,500,000 is to be applied."

ENTERTAINMENT AT GEORGETOWN.—It was the good fortune of your correspondent to be present at a public entertainment given by the students of the Georgetown Academy, on the evening of Friday the 21st. The programme, which was a lengthy one, consisted of speeches, recitations, readings, dialogues and musical and instrumental. One of the leading features was a political nomination and election. The candidates nominated were Hon. E. Blake and Sir John A. Macdonald, personated by two of the students. The contest was a keen one, and resulted in a victory for the Reform candidate. Miss Brydon, of Paisley Block, being present, kindly assisted, giving a number of songs in a decidedly taking style. Mr. Dunn, of Georgetown, is also deserving of special notice for his rendering of several songs, particularly one entitled "Old boy, who cut your hair?" Among the speakers Mr. Hartwell, one of the students, excellently bringing down the house. The audience was large and select and evinced considerable interest in the proceedings. Altogether the affair reflected great credit on the students of the Academy and on their principle, Mr. Fair, whom they all appear to hold in lively esteem.—Com.

ANNABEL

THE TEMPTATION.

CHAPTER XI.
A FAR JOURNEY RESOLVED ON—A PEEP BEHIND THE SCENES—"THE TEMPTATION" APPROACHES.

"Not, however, for the cause you so falsely allege," she cried. "Grief and sorrow alone prompted her silence, but had she dreamed of anything so shameful as this she would have opened afresh every wound in her lacerated heart, to secure her honour and memory against this stain. Alas, she could imagine nothing so wicked, and passed to the grave leaving me in ignorance of this important point. But the task is now laid on me to discover the truth—not that I may secure the wealth which she will give me for that I count as nothing, but to keep the good name of my parents from being tarnished by the foul slander which has been breathed against them. Rock-stone and all else I can renounce without a thought, but I cannot enjoy a moment's rest till the time and place of the marriage are discovered. You smile, sir, and your smile would indicate that my labour and efforts will be in vain, that I have no clue to follow, no means to adopt, and cannot have, because no marriage ever took place. But I have hope in one direction. By a special providence, as I now consider it, my mother once told me that my father had a dear and intimate friend, who was present at the marriage, and who received a copy of the certificate.

"Ha!" cried Hayes, startled into the exclamation by the unexpected announcement, while great interest was manifested by all the rest.

"And where is this friend now?" exclaimed Philip, in sudden excitement.

The question caused a shadow to come over Annabel's indignant face.

"Alas, Philip, I cannot tell," she replied in a sad tone. "I know not if he even be alive. He went abroad many years ago, when I was quite a child, and father or mother never heard of him again."

Philip's countenance assumed a dejected aspect for this threatened to dash the hope that had arisen. But a glance of satisfaction shot across the sharp face of Bernard Hayes, taking the place of the alarmed look which had shown itself there.

"Do you not even know the man's name?" asked Mr. Langton.

"Yes, I remember his name, for it was a peculiar one. He was called Jerry Just."

"Jerry Just!" shouted Philip, with a great bound of excitement. "Did you say Jerry Just?"

"Oh Philip," cried Annabel, regarding with amazement her lover's wild vehemence of manner, "you surely cannot know him?"

"Did he go to America—tell me, did he go to America?"

"Yes—to America."

"That will do. I know him by report as the most daring and successful trapper that ever sent furs to Jansen's agent at Montreal. Yorke depended on him more than any other man for supplies. He wrote me so repeatedly."

"Then Yorke can communicate with him and get the certificate he holds," exclaimed Mr. Langton, whose excitement had risen nearly as high as Philip's. "My dear girl, it is all right yet."

"This was year's ago," added Philip, "and before Jansen's bankruptcy Yorke had lost connection with Jerry. I fancied at the time that the agent had not been doing fair to him, that he found it out, and sent his furs to another house. Yorke, of course, gave no hint of this, but I found out he was an unprincipled fellow, and was capable of a trick of the kind."

"Who? Jerry?"

"No, Yorke. He swindled Jansen to a large extent. Jerry, so far as I could make out, was an honest, straightforward man. Yorke gave out that he was restless and given to wandering, and had gone off to another part of the country. This was how he accounted for his losing him; but I had always a suspicion of something else being the cause. At all events we got no more of his furs nor did I hear of him again."

"But he must be traced, he must be found," said the merchant.

"How can you do it, burst out Hayes, whose paleness and alarm had returned.

"Like enough he is dead by this time. Men who follow his employment never live long."

"That is possible, but it is also possible that he is still alive, and if not his papers may be secured. You are quite sure, my dear, that he got a certificate of the marriage?"

"I cannot doubt it," answered Annabel. "My mother told me he had, and she could not be mistaken."

"Of course, she could not; and we must leave no stone unturned to discover him. Even though he may have lost the certificate, he was present at the marriage, and can tell where it took place. That is all that is wanted. Now then Weston how are we to go about this all important matter? What would you advise?"

"My resolution is taken," answered Philip, in a tone of quiet decision. "I shall go to America."

"You—Philip—to America!" said Annabel, in utter astonishment.

"The very thing that occurred to me," exclaimed Mr. Langton. "Our agency there wants looking after at any rate. You told me so a week ago, and I fully agree with you. By going out you can accomplish both objects—you seek for the man Jerry Just, and you get the department better organized. The idea is a capital one."

"The cursed fool he will ruin us all!" muttered Bernard Hayes, through his set teeth, as, with ghastly face, he threw aside into a window to avoid observation. No one noticed the motion but Mrs. Langton, who cast a look after him, significant of as bitter feelings as stung in his own bosom.

PETRIE'S NEW DRUG STORE. Nearly opposite the Old Stand. NOW OPEN.

Mr. PETRIE takes this opportunity to thank the Public for their large and liberal support during the seven years he has been in business in Guelph.

The New Store is the one formerly occupied by Mr. H. Berry, and lately by Mr. J. R. Fort, as a Confectionery Store. The store has been enlarged and refitted, making it a much more desirable place of business than the old stand.

Having secured the new store for a term of Ten Years, I hope, with the assistance of the Public, to prevent in the future as I have done during the past seven years, any monopoly in the Drug Trade of Guelph.

I have removed my stock to the new store, where business will only be conducted in future.

By conducting my business in the future in the same upright principle as in the past, I trust to receive a continuance of your generous support.

I am, yours very truly, A. B. PETRIE.

WARRANTED FOR SIX YEARS; TUNING ATTENDED TO PROMPTLY. WEST MARKET SQUARE, GUELPH, ONT. JOSEPH F. RAINER, Proprietor, Guelph, Dec. 14, 1872. dw
