HAMPTON

Hampton, July 21.—The dry weather has given place to frequent showers, which although a benefit to crops, is a hindrance to haying.

Miss Ethel Hall from Massachusetts is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. George Gaskill.

Saturday evening last the ladies of Hampton gave a bean social, when $14.00 was raised towards the church fund.

The work on the meeting house is nearing completion and judging from the opinion of all those interested the job is giving perfect satisfaction.

Mr. J. B. Templeman has his new barn completed and painted in good shape, with a never-failing supply of water carried in pipes to his stable.

The Sea Side House is enjoying a large patronage this summer, showing that people endorse the efforts of Mrs. Farnsworth to make every one feel at home.

The new bungalow being built for Mr. Fowler is about ready for occupancy. The Hicks Brothers are masons, and their foreman and men attend to business.

Mr. Fred Risteen and bride arrived home on a visit to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Risteen, last week. As Fred has been absent four years, his many friends were all pleased to see him.

We claim to have a pupil in our school, who has made the steadiest attendance of any scholar we know of not having missed an hour in two years' attendance. She is the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. Henry Chute.

That it pays to attend to business is proven by the salmon, mackerel and line fish taken by Mr. Lewis Saban. He is well up to two hundred salmon, besides several hundred mackerel. His weir will net him, if conditions are favorable the rest of the season, at least $500.

On Thursday evening of last week there would have been a drowning accident if it had not been for the prompt efforts of Mr. Goodwin, foreman for Hicks Brothers, and Curtis Foster of this place. Two young boys had taken a small skiff and gone out in the bay, when the skiff began leaking. Just at that time Messrs. Foster and Goodwin, who were out enjoying a little fishing, happened to notice the boat of the boys, when Foster told the lads to pull for shore. By this time they were so frightened that all they could do was yell. Mr. Foster, knowing the coast well, pulled his anchor and made for the boys, arriving just in time as the boat was going from under them. The efforts of Foster and Goodwin alone saved the lads from a watery grave.

PARADISE

Paradise, July 21.—Mrs. Charles Hines of Lynn, is spending her vacation with her sister, Mrs. C. S. Covert.

Miss Claire Goodspeed has gone to Texas, where she will teach the ensuing year.

The Misses Beatrice, Mabel and Muriel Elliott are spending a week at Port Lorne.

Mrs. Whitney and son, of Bew York, are guests of her sister, Mrs. J. H. Balcom.

Rev. J. H. Balcom occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church on Sunday evening.

Mrs. A. Dunn of Cambridge, Kings County, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. E. L. Balcom.

Mr. Albert Potter of Clementsvale, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Milledge Daniels.

The Misses Ethel Balcom, Nellie Adams and Pearl Gillis spent last week at Port Lorne at one of the Misses E. & E. Marshall's cottages.

Mr. Leslie Porter came from Yarmouth in his automobile on Saturday, and is spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Phinney, where Mrs. Porter and son are also guests.

Mrs. H. W. Longley went to Granville Centre on Friday. On her return on Saturday she was accompanied by her daughter Eleanor, who has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Henry Calnek.

The "Light Bearers" Mission Band met on Sunday morning. Helen Pearson and Neal Balcom were made life members. A lesson on Bolivia was conducted by Mrs. H. A. Longley and her Sunday school class of young men.

Recent Hotel arrivals.—J. H. Whitman, Annapolis; I. J. Whitman, Toronto; Mrs. F. B. Bishop, Master Ronald Bishop, Lawrencetown; J. Yeomans, Annapolis; W. S. Sanders, Halifax; E. Gates, Middleton; Chas. Merry, Albany; Mr. and Mrs. Maybrey Foster and son, Parrsboro; Mrs. W. H. Whitman, Clarence; J. McNeil, Melvern Square; I. H. Miller, Hamilton, Bermuda; Joseph Joyce, Greenfield; Owen Campbell, Colchester County; T. McCormick, Kentville; Mrs. E. A. Merry, New Albany.

THIS WEEK FORTY YEARS AGO

(Copied from Monitor July, 1873.)

A social gathering at Belleisle cheese factory was attended by about one hundred and fifty. Mr. Gray, the foreman, demonstrated cheese making. About two tons of milk is received daily at this factory and eighteen to twenty tons of cheese is to be made during the season. Nine such factories are in operation in Annapolis County this year.

Two cruises showed in Bridgetown this week, one July 23rd and another July 24th.

Hon. A. G. Archibald appointed Lieut. Governor of Nova Scotia.

Died, at Granville, July 14, after two years' sickness, Phineas Phinney, age sixty-seven years.

A correspondent finds fault with the Berwick camp meeting, calling it "an American institution that we could have done without," and believing that "such an embargo should have been laid on it to have kept it out of Nova Scotia."

Mr. Burton Neely of Bridgetown had the misfortune to break his leg while mowing in his father's field, by one wheel of the machine going in the ditch, throwing him off.

Small Apple Crop in Ontario

Toronto, Ont., July 15.—Less than half a crop of apples throughout the province is about the best P. W. Hodggets, director of the fruit branch of the department of agriculture, can promise the apple-eating people of Ontario this fall.

Second expert report of the condition of the various fruit crops in the Niagara district has been received by Mr. Hodggets, and this places the apple's yield at forty-five per cent. That will hold pretty much all over the province from reports coming in to us from the different associations, he stated yesterday.

Montréal, July 15.—The apple crop of Eastern townships will be a complete failure this season. There are sections where the apple trees were not ruined, but taken as a whole the season will be the worst experienced in many years. The frosts of June had a good deal to do with blighting the trees, but the worst destruction was brought about by the ravages of the caterpillars. In the great majority of cases owners of orchards did not realize until it was too late the damage was being done to the trees by these pests. In orchards where care was taken to spray and kill the caterpillars, the crop will not be wholly lost. It is the worst season experienced by orchard owners in many years. All other kinds of fruit will be much below the average crop. Late frosts following a warm spell is the cause of so much damage to the smaller fruit bushes.

Boston and Yarmouth Steamship Service

The Boston and Yarmouth Steamship Company, which is under the management of the Eastern Steamship Corporation, has opened up a new era in steamship travel between Boston and Yarmouth in the introduction of the steamer North Star.

The steamer North Star, which is performing the daily service with the Prince Arthur, was built in 1901, is constructed of steel, is representative of the best in modern coastwise ships and is the largest vessel ever operated between Boston and Yarmouth. She is provided with spacious saloons, many comfortable and well ventilated staterooms and berths; a commodious and attractive observation dining room on her upper forward deck, and will doubtless prove a most popular vessel on the Yarmouth Line Route.

"North Star" leaves Boston Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday, returning leaves Yarmouth Monday, Wednesday and Friday. "Prince Arthur" leaves Boston Monday, Wednesday and Friday, returning leaves Yarmouth Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

AMENDMENT TO THE FRUIT MARKS ACT

The Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner has just issued a circular giving the recent amendments to the Inspection and Sale Act with the new regulations. The amendments chiefly concern imported fruit.

Hereafter the words "Packed by" must precede the name and address of the packer as marked on any closed package of fruit intended for sale.

A new section is added empowering the Governor in Council to make regulations regarding the branding, marking, and inspection of imported fruit. Persons violating such regulations are liable to a fine of not more than fifty dollars and costs or, in default of payment, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one month. The packages of fruit not properly marked may be confiscated.

In virtue of this amendment new regulations have been passed and were published in the Canada Gazette of June 23, 1913. According to these regulations every importer of fruit must have all grade marks found on closed packages containing imported fruit erased or obliterated when such marks are not in accordance with the Act or the new regulations. This must be done when the packages are being taken from the railway car, steamship or other conveyance in which they have been brought into Canada. The importer must place on the end of such packages the proper grade marks, the correct name of the variety of fruit, and his own name and address.

Copies of the circular may be obtained, free of charge, from the Publication Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, or from any Dominion Fruit Inspector.

A BOOM TOWN.

Nearly four solid pages of the Saskatoon Phoenix, says the Ottawa Free Press, are taken up with an advertisement of "sale of lands for taxes" in that city. In other words there are about 3000 lots in that city for sale because the present owners cannot afford to pay the taxes, or don't think it worth while doing so. Saskatoon is one of the boom towns of the West, the future of which has been painted in the most glowing terms. Doubtless much money has been made in western land investments. Doubtless, also there is much good property there. But it is equally true that thousands, if not tens of thousands of eastern people, who have put their money in western lands, will never realize a cent upon their investments.

OPPORTUNITY!

The old adage—that the time to buy is when other people want to sell—has a very pointed application to the conservative investor in this particular time.

Circumstances, which when carefully analyzed are found not to have in the remotest degree an adverse bearing on intrinsic value, are making it possible for him to acquire Municipal Debentures of the soundest type on a basis of extraordinarily high income return.

Illustrative of the opportunity may be cited the 5 p. c. Debenture of the Town of Amherst—a municipal security of higher character and reputation. $25,000 of these we now offer at par to yield a full FIVE PER CENT.

If such an attractive offering interests YOU, send for the special circular we have lately published. It contains full details of this issue and the town's excellent financial position. Just ask for "the Amherst circular."

MONDAY EVENING'S CONCERT

The concert and dramatic entertainment under the auspices of St. James church, took place on Monday evening at the Primrose Theatre. The curtain rolled up at sharp eight o'clock, which is always appreciated by an audience. A full house greeted the appearance of the quartette in the first number on the programme. The "Three Chasers" as sung by Messrs. Harlan Phinney, F. V. Young, R. W. W. Purdy and Rev. E. Underwood, was a choice selection. The voices blended well and the melody received a fine encore. A cornet duet followed. Messrs. Arthur Dodge and LeMotte Ruggles know how to handle a cornet. This selection, "The Serenade" was a rich treat. The pretty phrasing and beauty tones were well rendered by these two artists. Mr. F. R. Beckwith, gave two well selected solos, and was in fine voice. A fine piano duet entitled "The Spinning Song" was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Chadwick and Miss Manners. This and a second selection by these ladies deserves more than a passing notice. The delicate technique and clever fingering of these performers was most charming. The first tones of "When the Heart was Young," from the finely trained voice of Mrs. H. Ruggles at once commanded attention. Mrs. Ruggles was in perfect voice on Monday night, and it is easy to say that her audience was charmed with her stage presence and the ready manner in which she can command one of the best voices in this province. A storm of applause followed the last note. A reading by Mrs. D. G. Harlow on "How Deacon Tubman and Parson Whitney kept New Year's" followed. It was a fine selection, and the reader had it well in hand. It is very pleasing to a listener to have a reader speak distinctly and with force. Mrs. Harlow has this virtue to perfection. The closing solo and chorus by the quartette was a happy rendition of a Southern melody.

Mrs. Chadwick, Mrs. A. R. Bishop and Mrs. F. R. Beckwith played the accompaniments for the various numbers.

A funny farce entitled "Old Gooseberry" was presented as part two. Mr. LeMotte Ruggles taking the lead part. Not at all easy, but he did it well. He was well sustained by his colored maid, Mr. Albert Burrs. Matty's snapping white eyes and round white mouth made the children in the audience cry for fear. We call that good acting. A thread of love ran through the piece and the lead part taken care of by Mr. Arthur Dodge, as the charming daughter of "Old Gooseberry." Mr. Gordon Brown was the accepted lover and played a difficult part without hesitation. Mr. Paul Longmire took the role of the gamekeeper. All of the parts were well staged and created a lot of fun.

The whole entertainment was pleasing and carried out without a hitch. Great credit is due to the man behind the scenes, who so nicely arranged the programme.

This program will be given with some changes in part one, in Phinney's Hall, Lawrencetown, this (Wednesday) evening for the benefit of the Recreation Hall Fund.

Mr. Charles C. Bath a Successful Insurance Man

The American Insurance Company's Bulletin for July, has the following paragraph in reference to a former Bridgetown boy:—

"The Bulletin presents with this issue a cut of the North Philadelphia Staff, Manager C. C. Bath. Mr. Bath entered the service of the Company June 3, 1912, as manager of the North Philadelphia District, which at that time consisted of four agencies. Through Mr. Bath's energy and ability to attract men and lead them on to victory, he has doubled his debit and gathered around him a staff of men who are leading the Company's field with no competitors. This district has made an increase of 1,000 policies for the first half of 1913, and is laying plans for an increase of 2,000 additional policies by December 31st. The Bath plan also includes establishing an agency staff of twenty-five active men. There are no dromes in North Philadelphia. Every man reports at the office at eight o'clock and is a loyal, enthusiastic American booster. The writing capacity of this staff is now 1,000 applications a month; and Messrs. H. Robert and H. Bortman, the old guard members, have nearly doubled their incomes under the Bath management."

OBITUARY

MRS. JOHN SLOCUM.

After a lingering illness of two months, Mrs. John Slocum passed away July 16th, at her home in Port George, at the age of forty-four years. Besides her husband she leaves one daughter and one son to mourn the loss of a loving mother. The services at the house were conducted by Mr. Bleakney, assisted by Rev. Mr. Armistage of Lawrencetown. The remains were interred at Port George cemetery. The service at the church was largely attended and was also conducted by Mr. Bleakney, who gave a splendid address, lasting his remarks on 1st Cor. 15:55. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

MRS. ALPHEUS MARSHALL.

In the passing away, on the 8th inst, of this estimable lady, Bear River loses one of its oldest and most respected citizens. For some years affliction has confined her almost wholly to her home. But, those who knew her in the days of her health remember her as always active, always cheerful, deeply interested in her own family and household, and at the same time respondent to every call for assistance in the church and in the community. Her surviving brother and sisters, and her two daughters and son have the sincere sympathy of a very many friends.

MRS. ALBERT WALKER.

Mrs. Albert Walker of Upper Granville, passed away at her home on the 9th inst., and her remains were interred by the side of those of her husband, in the cemetery at Granville Centre, on the 11th inst. She was a devoted mother, a kind and hospitable neighbor, and the large number who attended the funeral services testified plainly to the high esteem in which she was held. She was the daughter of the late Robert Longley, and is survived by one sister, Mrs. Andrew Walker, and one brother, Mr. Israel Longley. She leaves a daughter, Miss Charlotte, and two sons, who did all they could to minister to her in her great affliction.

MRS. JAMES RICHARD NICHOL.

The death occurred on Friday, July 11, of Mrs. J. R. Nichol at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Norman Ruggles of Weymouth, with whom she resided a number of years. Mrs. Nichol was the last surviving member of an old Weymouth family, her brothers having been Colin C. Campbell, Archibald Campbell, and John Campbell, M. P. She is also pre-deceased by a number of half-brothers and sisters, among them being the Rev. W. H. Snyder, of Mahone Bay and Mrs. A. B. Piper of Bridgetown. Mrs. Nichol was married twice, her first husband being Leslie Jones of Weymouth, the father of Mrs. Ruggles, who was her only child.

Mrs. Nichol had a bright, active mind and an attractive personality, and her circle of friends was large, extending through Digby and Annapolis Counties. For several years she has been confined to her home by ill health and the infirmities of age, tenderly cared for by her daughter, who has the sympathy of many friends in her sad loss.

HUGH M. IRVINE.

(Morning Chronicle, July 15th)
There passed away on Saturday morning, one of Granville Ferry's most respected citizens, in the person of Hugh M. Irvine, aged sixty-nine years. Mr. Irvine had been in failing health for a considerable time, but even his most intimate friends did not imagine that the end was so near, as he was able to be around to within a few days of his death. The deceased had been a Justice of the Peace for a long period of years, and Postmaster at Granville Ferry for thirty-eight years as well as keeping a general store and in all his public relations gave universal satisfaction. In private life he was distinguished by a kindly courtesy which won for him hosts of friends. The deceased was an active worker in religious and philanthropic work, in the church, Sunday School and Temperance organizations and if there is any idealism in the term Christian gentleman, he exemplified it by his life and example, which cannot fail to have a beneficial effect in the community and with all who came within the range of his influence. Mr. Irvine was the son of John Irvine, of St. John. A widow and three sons survive him. Mrs. Irvine is a daughter of the late David Mills, and the sons are John A., William and Alton D. Mills, all in the West. The funeral took place today, Annapolis Royal, Louis A. F. and A. M., of which the deceased was a member attending in a body.

WILLIAM HUGH MACKENZIE.

In the death of Mr. William Hugh MacKenzie which occurred at five o'clock yesterday morning, Bridgetown loses one of its most prominent citizens and the founder of its largest industry—the Larrigan Factory. Mr. MacKenzie came to Bridgetown from Pictou County twenty-nine years ago, and bought a farm at Granville. In 1892 he joined W. E. Crowe in partnership under the name of MacKenzie, Crowe & Co. A tannery and larrigan factory was soon started. From a small beginning the products of this factory now cover the Dominion.

The deceased has been in failing health the past few years, and although not actively engaged in business, he retained the office of president of the firm until his death.

In 1905 his second son, Arnold B., became a member of the firm and is its present manager. He is survived by three sons, William, who resides in Saskatchewan, Arnold B., and Harry, who resides here. His wife pre-deceased him some five years ago. Mr. MacKenzie was one of the charter members of Crescent Lodge, I. O. O. F.

Presentation to Mrs. O. N. Chipman

The Woman's Missionary Aid Society of Pitt Street Baptist church met last night at the home of Mrs. J. W. Weeks, Rigby Road. The meeting was of a social character and during the evening Mrs. O. N. Chipman, president of the Society, was presented with a beautiful gold ring set with sapphires and pearls as a token of the esteem and affection of the members of the Society, and an address expressing sincere regret at her departure, and wishing her every success in her new home.

Rev. Mr. Chipman has resigned from the pastorate of the church and leaves next Thursday with Mrs. Chipman and family for Hampton, N. B., his new charge.

It is predicted by those in position to know, that at the Mock Court Trial at the Court House, tomorrow evening, from the opening of the court until the close of the case, the audience will be kept keyed up to the point of convulsions by the unique proceedings.

FIND TIGHT SKIRT DELAYS TRAFFIC

Pittsburg, Pa., June 25.—Traffic policemen and railroad officials of this city are agitated in their condemnation of the tight skirt. They say it endangers the safety of the wearer and is causing a great delay in crossing streets and boarding cars.

"The most trouble given by the tight skirts," said a traffic policeman today, "is the difficulty women have trying to step aboard cars. Sometimes the conductors lean down and pull the women up the step. Of course the time thus consumed all counts up if you figure the seconds lost at each corner by the hundreds of cars."

Other traffic policemen expressed the same views, although they made haste to say they were not officially opposed to the tight skirt, but when asked if the cars did not lose time they admitted such was the fact.

"I think an order against the tight skirts should be issued as a safety measure," said a railroad official. "For years the railroads have tried to impress the fact on women that tight skirts cause the greatest number of accidents in terminals."

CARPENTERS ARE HAVING VERY HARD TIME IN THE WEST.

(Montreal Witness)
Men in the building trades in Western Canada are having a hard time this summer through the tying up of a great deal of building by the financial stringency, according to Mr. Arthur Mastel, a member of the general executive of the United Brotherhood of the Carpenters of America, who has just returned from an extended trip through Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

All through these provinces, he says, one can see large buildings that have been started and then left standing before they are half erected. The men are in straits for lack of work in their busy season. Mr. Mastel met some Montreal men in the West, who had been attracted by the high wages. Many are returning to Montreal after spending what money they had, while others who are without money have to take any kind of work they can get to keep them from starving. Mr. Mastel advises no carpenters to go west just now.

Dysentery is always serious and often a dangerous disease, but it can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has cured it even when malignant and epidemic. For sale by all dealers.

It is estimated that at least a tenth of the total agricultural products of the United States is annually destroyed by injurious insects. It is estimated that $200,000,000 is a conservative approximation of the loss sustained each year.

Loafer Colony Dwell in Strangely Primitive Shacks

What might be taken as a grotesque attempt at a solution of Montreal's notorious housing problem, and also what is in reality a little summer resort that is not reported in the newspapers in the news from the scores of watering places to which city people hie away, is to be seen by anyone who ventures along the dusty smoky Bickerdike pier that runs down into the harbor, and thinks to look over the edge of the earthen embankment on the south side.

THEIR ONLY HABITATION.

Here he will see no less than nine human habitations which look for all the world like play houses built by boys in their holidays, but each of which is the dwelling place of one or more men—the only roof which they can look upon as "home" and to which they can come for shelter. As to size and style of architecture there is more variety than one would really think possible. Some of these dwellings are only big enough to allow one man to crawl in and lie down. One, at least, is not more than three feet high and seven feet long. It reminds one a great deal more of the hole or den of a beast of the field than of the abode of a human being. The largest, however, will allow an ordinary-sized man to stand upright and it is six or seven feet square.

The material used in the various structures includes everything to be found in the neighborhood that could be pressed into service—just the same as in a bird's nest—the feathered architect uses whatever will aid the purpose. The walls are formed of old doors, boards, heavy pieces of broken lumber, old railway ties, large pieces of tin and corrugated iron, old rags and pieces of canvas. The roofs are mostly of large pieces of tin and corrugated iron roofing material, well weighted down with large stones or pieces of metal.

LIGHT CAMP FIRES.

Near these primitive-looking shacks are to be seen the fire places where the occupants do what cooking they find necessary. The fire places are simply formed with a cluster of big stones and sometimes a piece of tin put up on one side as a guard. The question of water supply does not seem to figure in the troubles of these people at all, judging from the number of old black bottles that are strewn around.

LOAVES, TINS AND BOTTLES.

In the evening the men can be seen returning to their wretched looking hovels with loaves of bread and tins of canned food-stuffs of different kinds, besides such bottles as they can afford to buy or can otherwise secure. In the mornings they are seen down at the water's edge performing something in the nature of their old-time ablutions, and also washing their shirts, socks and underclothes when they have any.

Confirmed loafers and vagrants is the reputation of these men, and they undoubtedly earn it. They are to be seen loitering about at various hours of the day, though they disappear at times to return again in the evening or during the night. How they get any money to obtain what supplies they bring "home" no one knows unless they do a little spasmodic work around the docks or elsewhere and thus make an odd dollar or two.

Some of the men evidently have some education, for newspapers have been brought to their habitations. In one of the huts, too, the occupants have had enough regard for their health and comfort to lay a floor composed of eight or nine old railway ties.

POLICE WAR ON THEM.

Similar colonies have existed in the same place for several summers back, in spite of the efforts of the police. Last year the latter cleared some eighty-five men out of such poor excuses for dwelling places during the season, and periodic raids are still made and the shacks thrown down. They are soon resurrected and inhabited again however. Familiarity with the police has probably taken away the awe which they may formerly have had for them.

CAVE MAN BRAVED WINTER.

Last year one man stayed in his hovel all through the winter, or rather he burrowed from the shack back into the earthen embankment and established himself in an underground cave. In the mornings he would be seen washing his face in the snow. Fortunately it was not a severe winter.

The housing problem in Montreal is admittedly a serious one, but the police are right in holding that to allow these men to live in such a way is only to encourage a class of idle loafers, who should seek steady work and thus secure the means to live in a respectable manner.

LATE CROP REPORTS.

Ottawa, July 14.—Reports received from correspondents at the end of June enable the Census and Statistics Office to issue finally revised estimates of the areas sown to spring crops this year and also estimates of the areas devoted to the later sown cereals and hoed crops. With regard to wheat the reports are entirely confirmatory of those issued a month ago, and the area under wheat in Canada is therefore finally placed at 9,816,300 acres or 57,900 acres more than in 1912. The area in spring wheat is 8,990,500 acres or 13,100 acres more than in 1912 and the area to be harvested of fall wheat remains at 825,800 acres. Oats are estimated to occupy 9,546,400 acres in increase of 429,500 acres, barley 1,430,800 acres, an increase of 15,600 acres, rye 127,200 acres, a decrease of 8,910 acres, and hay and clover 7,621,600 acres, a decrease of 12,000 acres.

The averages under the later sown cereals and hoed crops are estimated to be as follows: Buckwheat 363,600, flaxseed 1,288,600, corn for husking 290,800, beans 53,850, potatoes 467,800 turpigs, etc., 215,900, sugar beets 19,250 and corn for fodder 277,990. These are increases in the case of potatoes, turpigs, etc., sugar beets and corn for fodder but decreases in the case of the other crops.

For the three Northwest provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta the total wheat area is finally estimated at 9,913,300 acres, as compared with 8,961,800 acres last year; that of oats at 5,305,800 acres compared with 4,913,900 acres and that of barley at 857,700 acres compared with 809,909 acres—these differences representing increases of 52,000 acres for wheat, 391,900 acres for oats and 47,800 acres for barley, or 491,700 acres for the three crops.

During June the crops throughout Canada maintained generally the favourable average of a month ago. On June 30 the condition, expressed in percentage of the usual standard of 100, taken as representing the promise of a full crop, was as follows: Fall wheat 81.46, spring wheat 87.80, oats 87.71, barley 88.39, rye 85.95, peas 87.43, mixed grains 87.12, hay and clover 71.52, alfalfa 77.23 and pasture 82.31. By provinces the condition is between 80 and 90 for the Maritime Provinces, Quebec, Ontario and Manitoba. In Saskatchewan and Alberta the outlook at the end of June appeared to be especially promising, as the condition was above 90 in all cases excepting fall wheat, the condition of which in Alberta was 76.27.

Estimates of the numbers of farm live stock in Canada at June 30 are given as follows: Horses 2,535,000, milch cows 3,064,900, other cattle 3,380,400, sheep 2,418,400, swine 3,254,400. These represent increases over the estimates published last year for all descriptions except "other cattle." The estimates are based upon the final figures of the Census of 1911 for all the provinces except Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia; so that the totals are still subject to final revision upon completion of the census results. The condition of all classes of live stock was reported as especially favourable on June 30, being 100 or above for horses, milch cows, sheep and swine and 97 for cattle other than milch cows.

Half Million Dollars Raised For Endowment of Joint Theological College

The permanent federation of the four theological colleges in Montreal is now an assured fact. Today the announcement was made that a sum of just over half a million dollars had been raised for the provision of a central building, and for endowments, and the work of putting the whole co-operative scheme on a permanent basis will now be proceeded with immediately.

Four days' canvass last week by the members of the joint Board of Governors, and a committee of laymen resulted in the sum of $526,250 being subscribed, and when the announcement was made at a luncheon at the Montreal Club today, there was great enthusiasm.

"I consider this a wonderful testimony by laymen to the office of the Christian ministry," said Mr. Wm. Birks, the chairman of the Board of Governors. "We are apt to speak of the present day as the day of materialism, but here are laymen of our city putting up their hard cash to ensure that the ideals which have made the race shall not be lost sight of. This has been a laymen's movement from beginning to end. Our desire has been put to the training of ministers on a par with the training of doctors and scientific men, and we feel that a great forward movement in Christianity in this land of ours will be the result."

When the federation of the colleges was first proposed, the principals stated that they would only consider the matter if some common building for classrooms were provided. To this the laymen agreed on condition that permanent success could be assured.

Soon after the joint scheme had been put into operation last fall, Dr. James Douglas stated that he looked upon this as the most interesting and promising event in the history of education in Canada for a generation, and he offered $100,000 towards putting the scheme on a permanent basis providing the remainder of the necessary money could be raised. This was followed by Lord Strathcona, who offered a similar amount on similar conditions.

The Board of Governors gave the matter full consideration. It was agreed that $500,000 was needed. They realized that it would be out of the question to go before the community with an appeal for funds, so soon after the McGill campaign, to which the public gave so generously. They desired also not to interfere in any way with the effort soon to be made for the hospitals.

Under these circumstances it was decided that the committee and the Board should undertake the work privately, by canvassing one or two hundred of the leading citizens. This they did, and in four days the full $50,000 with some surplus, was raised. Some members of the committee, themselves contributed most generously, while one of the first of the local capitalists to be approached put up $25,000.

The fund thus secured will be used for the following purposes:—

1. Not more than two-fifths will be used in securing a central building for classrooms.
2. Endowments will be established from which additions can be made to the salaries of the present professors whom the joint board recognizes, and thus strong men can be held and secured.
3. Definite means for securing a strong type of candidate for the office of the ministry.
4. A special course of lectures by distinguished men.
5. One or two travelling scholarships.
6. A combined theological library, well developed, instead of the present four weak ones.

It was stated at the luncheon today that one of the leading church authorities had declared that in the Western Diocese of Canada, where there were from seventy-five to one hundred clergymen, not three of them were Canadians, while many of the present students in the theological colleges in Canada were Old Country boys.

"Canada," said the speaker, "is largely turning out its own doctors, lawyers and engineers, but is importing its clergy. This is an effort to train Canadians in the same proportion for the important office of the ministry."

The following constitutes the Board and Committee who have carried the campaign to a successful issue:— Board of Governors: Mr. W. M. Birks, chairman; Principals E. Munson Hill, E. I. Resford, John Seringer and James Smyth; J. W. Ross, honorable secretary; Geo. E. Drummond, vice-chairman; A. McA. Murphy, honorable treasurer; the Rev. Hugh Podley, D. D., Charles Gurd, W. B. Lighthall, K. C., T. B. Macaulay, the Rev. A. P. Sbatford, M. A. L. Col. John Carson, Geo. G. Foster, K. C., Lansing Lewis, the Rev. R. Bruce Taylor, D. D., David Morice, Wm. Yule, the Rev. W. R. Young, D. D., Wm. Hanson, C. C. Holland, G. F. Johnson and J. W. McConnell.

The leaders in the campaign were Mr. W. M. Birks and Mr. J. W. Ross.

A name very prominent among the opponents of Home Rule for Ireland is that of Sir Edward Carson.
It is he who has most urged upon Ulster armed resistance to the Home Rule measure. And yet when charges were formulated against Sir Rufus Isaacs, Mr. Herbert Samuel and David Lloyd George, members of the British Cabinet, and foremost in advocacy of the obnoxious measure, to the surprise of the British public, these accused members chose Sir Edward Carson and Mr. F. E. Smith, another Conservative member, as their lawyers in the case.

Could these bitter parliamentary opponents be expected to look with unprejudiced eyes upon the conduct of the accused, and could the accused expect fair play at the hands of such bitter political opponents? These are questions which have been troubling many of the British people, and have been answered in different ways.

It is, however, greatly to the credit of both professions, the parliamentary and the legal, that men highly sensitive to their honor, and conscientious of integrity, could willingly put their case in the hands of men with whom they were politically speaking, at sword points, and that the latter, accepting their briefs, could virtually say to them, you can trust us that our investigation of the case will not be influenced by any personal political considerations.

Such things make apparent the high sense of honor and rectitude entertained by and for the British bar, and help as to a nobler view of our fellowmen, even though, in many respects, their opinions and actions may be diametrically opposed to our own.

—We are in receipt of a paper on The Housing Problem, read to a large audience in the Technical College, Halifax, on June 6th, by Mr.
G. Trafford Hewitt. This is a subject which is interesting philantrop-ists in every land. The immigration into Canada of so many families from different parts of Europe, large numbers of whom are disposed to congregate in the cities, makes this problem one of special importance to Canadians at the present time.

There can be no doubt that there are slum districts in some of our cities which rival in squalor and filth anything to be seen in the home land and make it almost impossible for these occupying them to live clean and wholesome lives and bring up their families with habits and tastes essential to good citizenship.

Mr. Hewitt purposes to visit several of our principal towns to speak upon this subject, and upon the method of town planning for convenience and beauty. He is also interested in an effort to bring English capital into the province to be invested in our various industries.

HYMENEAL

NEAVES—HALL.

A very pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs.
William C. Hall of St. Croix, at nine o'clock Wednesday morning, July 16, when their daughter, Miss Bessie A.
Hall, was united in marriage to Mr.
Ralph H. Neaves of Port Lorne.

The bride, who wore a gown of white silk, with bridal veil and carried a huge bouquet of white roses, entered the room on the arm of her father, accompanied by the strain of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and the ceremony which was performed beneath an arch of evergreen and roses by the Rev. Mr. Whitman in the presence of many friends and relatives, was most impressive.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with roses and ferns and a table filled with gifts showed the high esteem with which the young couple were held.

After the ceremony and congratulations a wedding breakfast was served and in the midst of much merriment the bride appeared in a pretty gray brocade travelling suit with the groom and started on an extended wedding trip through Nova Scotia.

KINLEY—WHITE.

(Bridford Weekly Journal)

"Happy is the bride the sun shines on." The happiness in plenty awaits the bride of Tuesday, June 24. The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Sherman White, Ogunquit, Maine, was the scene of a very pretty simple wedding, when their older daughter, Helen May, was united in marriage to Rev. Farrar Stewart Kinley, pastor of the Christian church of this place. The ceremony which was at nine o'clock, was performed by Rev.
Zebulon Knight of South Berwick, and the double ring service was used.
The bridal couple who were unattended, stood beneath a wedding bell of daisies hung in an arch of daisies and ferns. These flowers were also very effective elsewhere in the room and in those adjoining and the whole plan of decoration carried out by the loving hands of the bride's family, made a beautiful setting for the quiet home wedding, only immediate relatives being present. The bride was very pretty in a beautiful gown of white messaline, with trimmings of lace and hair ornament of silk lilies of the valley. She also carried a bouquet of these flowers. Directly after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served, and later the couple started on their wedding trip which extends to the White Mountains and which will occupy about ten days.
The bride was attired in a very handsome travelling gown. Many gifts were received, which goes to show the esteem in which the young people were held. Congratulations among them was the May basket given by the pupils of Mrs. Kinley's school, which contained a beautiful piece of silver.
Mr. Kinley is a graduate of Newton Theological school, and directly after his graduation, three years ago this month, commenced his present here.
He has been very successful and is well liked by the people of the village. Mrs. Kinley has always been one of the most popular of Ogunquit's younger set. She is a graduate of Wells high school and has been very popular among the town's public schools teachers. Both Mr. and Mrs.
Kinley's many friends wish them unalloyed happiness and prosperity in every walk of their new life.

(The groom is a son of the Rev.
R. B. Kinley, formerly of Paradise, and is well and favorably known in this County.—Ed. Monitor.)

CROWE—DAUPHINEE.

(Halifax Chronicle, July 17.)

The West End Baptist church was the scene of a pretty wedding at one o'clock yesterday afternoon, when William Arthur Crowe and Hattie Hilda, daughter of Mr. Norman Dauphinee were united in the bonds of holy matrimony by the Rev. A. T.
Dykeman.

The church was very tastefully decorated with plants and ferns for the occasion. The service was fully choral, the choir of the church being present. The ceremony took place in the presence of a large number of friends of the principals who are both very popular young people in the West End, and the auditorium of the church was crowded when as the choir sang "The Voice that Breathed o'er Eden" the bridal party entered the church. The bride, who walked up the aisle on the arm of her father, looked very winsome and charming in a beautiful gown of white silk crepe de chene over white satin. She wore the conventional bridal veil with orange blossoms and carried a bou-quet of white roses. She was attended by Miss Eva Crowe, sister of the groom, who also looked charming in pink silk with hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

After the signing of the registers the

Uncles Tom's Cabin

Leon Washburn's Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Company will be seen at the Primrose Theatre Wednesday night, July 30th in the everlasting favorite drama, "Uncle Tom's Cabin".
It will be remembered that in this beautiful play there are moments of the greatest intensity. The Company engaged for the presentation has been selected with great care, and an adequate scenic equipment and electrical effects will furnish an admirable back ground for the excellent performance.

LOCAL AND SPECIAL

The Canadian Pharmaceutical Association will meet in Toronto, Aug. 28th and 29th.

Rev. M. F. McCutcheon of the Brussels Street church, St. John, will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist church next Sunday morning and evening.

Rev. Dwight Little has accepted a call to the Baptist church at New Ross, Lunenburg County. This church is to be congratulated on having secured so able and efficient a pastor as Mr. Little.

The meat market of Mr. Thos. Mack was broken into on Monday night, and the cash register rifled. The burglar was very considerate, in that he only took part of the money in the register.

Tomorrow, Thursday, July 24, the Bridgetown High School Base Ball team will play a double header at the old driving park grounds. They play both Muddleton and Digby the first game beginning at 1.30.

The Monitor, had a pleasant call yesterday from Dr. T. A. Crocker of Middleton. The doctor and his son are enjoying a drive to the western part of the County, and will visit Fort Wade before returning home.

The Fishermen's Regatta and the annual sports of the Nova Scotia Guides' Association will be held at Digby on Aug. 19th and 20th. A splendid program for both events has been arranged. The Yarmouth Band will be in attendance.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN."

Leon Washburn's Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Company is scoring new triumphs this season in everybody's favorite play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin." This fine attraction is booked at the Primrose Theatre for Wednesday night, July 30.

Messrs. J. H. Hicks & Sons have contracted to supply the frame and building finish for the Keelville Arena which will require 100,000 feet of lumber. They are also being kept busy at their factory in supplying building finish for residences in Kings County and for the Baptist church at Port Greville.

Mr. Wm. Ruffee sent to the Monitor office this week two heads of lettuce that we doubt can be beaten for size. They were each twenty-five inches across and well rounded out. Mr. Ruffee's garden is always, from year to year, among the best to be seen in Bridgetown.

An address under the auspices of the Clarence W. M. A. S. will be given in the church on Sunday evening, July 27, by Mrs. W. McPherson, of Lawrenceton. Subject, "The Taj Mahal or Temple of Love," of which all have heard but few gave heed the privilege of visiting. The speaker is well known and an address of unusual interest is anticipated. Silver collection for Home Missions.

Halifax Herald:—William M. Ford, a native of Berwick, died on board the steamer Prince Arthur, about seven o'clock Friday night, while on the voyage from Boston. He had just been talking to a number of fellow passengers and had informed them that he was called from where he was employed, Plymouth, Mass., to go home to see his mother, who was supposed to be dying. When he got through talking he remarked, "I feel queer myself." He was helped to a berth and Captain Kinney was called, but on the captain's arrival he was dead.

The Mock Court Trial

Full List of Characters and Other Interesting Particulars.

Since the announcement was made in these columns that a big Mock Court Trial was to be held under the auspices of Riverside Cemetery, in the Court House, tomorrow evening, July 24, there has been great curiosity to know "who" of which all have heard but few gave heed the privilege of visiting. The speaker is well known and an address of unusual interest is anticipated. Silver collection for Home Missions.

His honor the Judge will be H. Ruggles, Esq.; Clerk, Chas. R. Chipman, Esq.; Court Officer, George Gill; Court Crier, Geo. Gill; Plaintiff's Attorney, Col. A. W. Newton of Worcester, Mass.; Defendant's Attorney, B. W. Roscoe, Esq.

The broken-hearted plaintiff in this highly interesting breach of promise suit will be Annie Hicks, and the luckless defendant is H. B. Hicks. The witness will be, Miss Jennie Vroom, Miss Annie Chute, Dr. M. E. Armstrong, C. B. Longmire and W. A. Warren.

The jury to be empanelled, if the lawyers do not kill each other before the trial begins, will be as follows:—A. L. Woodrow, A. F. Little, J. W. Salter, J. E. Lloyd, J. W. Peters, W. R. Longmire, B. D. Nelly, W. D. Leckie, Mayor Freeman, F. E. Bath, J. W. Beckwith and E. A. Hicks.

Altogether, this Mock Court Trial promises to be one of the events of the season, both in the interest attached to it and in the crowd that will attend.

The Liquor Question

in its relation to the Drug Store has ever been "a bone of contention" with us. We hardly knew what was fair and best to all concerned. Some time ago we decided to eliminate all liquors permanently. In view of subsequent events, we think it best at this time to make this information public.

OUT goes all our SPRING AND SUMMER SHOES for Men, Women and Children at a great sacrifice. The reason for the big cut in prices is a logical and sensible one. We are only prudent in pushing out our present lines of shoes before the fall and winter shoes put in their appearance. To carry stock over means not only to hamper the new styles but it means also much dormant capital and loss from change of fashion. Note the Clearance Sale prices and take advantage of this opportunity.

SMUGGLING CHINESE INTO THE UNITED STATES.

Edmonton, Alta., July 21.—Dandegon passes in the Rocky Mountains are being used to smuggle Chinese from the province of British Columbia into the states of Washington, Idaho and Montana, according to A. T. Lunney, connected with the immigration department of the state of Washington, who was in Edmonton on official business a few days ago. These passes, he said, are wild and unrefined and offer every facility for smugglers to outfit the customs officials. Now, however, that Chinese are taken in automobiles and landed within walking distance of a remote railway station on the American side at a certain price per head. The traffic was flourishing a few years ago, he continued, but was finally broken up. Now, however, the smugglers appear to have found a new means of continuing their work, and as a result many orientals are coming into the states.

A Talk With the Travellers' Aid

"I should like to warn every mother not to allow her daughter to come to the city without friends to meet her or to go to, nor without sufficient money."

This was the message of the deaconess who acts as Travellers' Aid at the Union Station, Toronto. She had been busy meeting trains, asking questions and giving directions when I asked her if she could spare me a few moments to tell me about her work. Later, when I expressed the fear that I was keeping her too long, she said: "Well, perhaps this will accomplish more good than half an hour downstairs. Your message will reach thousands, whereas I can help only one or two at a time."

She is a fine-looking woman, this deaconess, the plain blue bonnet over the softly-arranged brown hair being extremely becoming, and the heavy grey coat of rough cloth over her blue suit looking comfortable and businesslike. Then, too, her face was kind and sensible and invited confidence.

"Do you really find that many Canadian girls come to the city not knowing any place to go?" I asked her.

"Oh, yes, great numbers of them, but in most cases it is my impression that they are running away from home, either from hard work or a cross step-mother, or some other unpleasantness, imagined or real. Most of these, I find, come to meet young men."

"Not long ago a young girl got off the train here and looked around expectantly, then stood in the downstairs waiting room. I asked her if she was waiting for someone, but she did not seem very communicative, so I left her for a while. I saw, however, that she was getting pretty anxious, so I approached her again and found that her young man was to have met her and she was to have gone to his rooming house. I tried to persuade her to go up to the Y. W. C. A. and telephone him from there, but she would not. Finally she telephoned him from the station, and after a long while he came and she went away with him. My idea of it was that she had run away from home, but I could not interfere further."

"Another young girl came a four-hour journey to see her young man off to the west. The young man failed to appear and after she had waited several hours I persuaded her to go back from where she came, though she was very reluctant to do so."

"You do not really see much of the white slave traffic, do you?" I asked.

"No, I do not," the deaconess answered. "I see many girls surrounded by dangers, but I meet very few actual cases of white slave traffic. Those people know the Union Station is so well watched that they get off at lesser stations."

"Most of the trouble in that way, too, is on the trains. A man and a girl came in from the train one day, the man carrying the girl's grip. I would never have supposed anything else but that they were brother and sister, or husband and wife, had not an American woman behind them held up her hands to attract my attention and whispered: "They never saw each other till on the train. I sat behind them." Thanks to this good woman's warning, I seized a moment when the man was consulting an official about something, and asked the girl why she allowed a perfect stranger to carry her valise. She was not pleased at my interference, but I talked to her pretty straight. She had intended going to Eaton's with him for dinner and she didn't know what she was going to do after that. I gave her my opinion of that line of conduct and by the time the man turned around I had her prepared to tell him that she wouldn't go with him, that she was going to the Y. W. S. A. The man, you may be sure, was vexed and he went away with his head and hat in the air. But he wasn't much. I wouldn't have trusted him."

"A train conductor I know, who is interested in this work, does a great deal of good on the trains. He sees such a lot of this kind of thing. He told me a case the last time I saw him. A man, one of the regular travellers, had come in the car, and instead of taking any one of a score of other empty seats, he chose the one right next to a young girl. First he handed her a magazine, then a daily paper, then he talked a little to her, then he asked if he might sit with her. It was a long journey and before four or five hours were gone he was trying to hold her hand. A little while later the man went out to the smoker, and the conductor being suspicious of him, came and asked the girl what he had been saying to her. The girl answered that he had been coaxing her to get off at a junction a little farther on and go up to S— with him instead of going to her own destination. The conductor proceeded to give her such a solemn warning that it broke up that man's little plan definitely."

That story proves how careful girls ought to be about talking to strangers.

"You ought really to be of greater service to immigrants than to our own Canadian girls, who, though strange to the city, are not so to Canadian customs," I suggested.

"Yes, I am able to help a good many British girls. Last week a boy of nineteen and his sister of twenty-two came in on the midnight train and sat in the station all night. They were fresh from England and had enough money only to do them a day or two. In the morning the girl bought a paper and looked up the advertisements and went out and got a place in a hotel. She told me the place didn't suit her at all, but that she felt she must get work at once and they wanted her to come right back with her things and start at once. I knew it was an exceedingly dangerous place for her to go, and besides that she was so worried about being separated from her brother, so I told them I would get them a place together, so I took them uptown and did so; then I took them to my own home and gave them food and a few hours' sleep and then procured a good board for them. They were well-bred if they were poor and I understand how it is in England that parents train their children carefully and educate them well, but have to part with them, not giving them sufficient to keep them in the new country. There is not work enough for them in England."

"Another day I noticed a girl from Scotland, also obviously of good parentage, standing waiting and waiting, looking weak and tired. I found out she had not a cent and had had nothing to eat since the day before. She was to have met her brother, but he did not come. I took her to the Y. W. C. A., telephoned her brother in B—, who came after her and took her home."

Even from these few incidents, and the deaconess could have related many similar ones, the daily happenings of her work at the station, it may be judged how necessary and how valuable to our country is this position of Travellers' Aid. And to the kindness of Travellers' Aid many a mother owes the well-being of her daughter. Mothers should do their share in the work of education, however, and warn their daughters not to speak to strangers, either men or women, and instruct them what to do if they should find themselves in a strange city alone. There is great need for such instruction, but, failing it, any girl who reads this may know to ask assistance from the deaconess at the station. Her badge and uniform are her guarantee—Rose Rambler.

ONE OFFICER WALKED THE PLANK.

Ottawa, July 16.—One officer has been promptly "allowed to retire" from connection with the defence of Canada, as a result of Hon. Col. Sam Hughes' investigation in regard to the bibulous tendencies of a few of the Minister's guests at the now famous Halifax garrison banquet of Friday last. It is understood that several other officers have expressed regrets for indulging in liquor at the Minister's "dry canteen" banquet. The incident will now probably be quietly closed. Col. Hughes believes that there is little further necessary for rubbing in the moral of his strictures in regard to intemperance and idleness on the part of a small percentage of the officers who draw pay from the Militia Department.

SUFFERED TERRIBLY WITH HAY FEVER

Until "Fruit-a-tives" Completely Cured Her

MRS. HENRY KEMP. CORNWALL CENTRE, ONT., NOVEMBER 27th, 1911.

"I was a martyr to Hay Fever for probably fifteen years and I suffered terribly at times. I consulted many physicians and took their treatment—and I tried every remedy I heard of as good for Hay Fever. But nothing did me any good. Then I tried "Fruit-a-tives" and this remedy cured me completely. I am now well, and I wish to say to every sufferer from Hay Fever—"Try Fruit-a-tives". This fruit medicine cured me when every other treatment failed and I believe it is a perfect cure for this dreadful disease."

HOW MARK TWAIN PROVED IT.

When Mark Twain was living in Hartford, Connecticut, where Dr. Doane, now Bishop of Albany, was rector of an Episcopal church, he went to hear one of the clergyman's best sermons. After it was over Mark approached the Doctor and said politely:

"I have enjoyed your sermon this morning. I welcomed it as I would an old friend. I have a book at home in my library that contains every word of it."

"Why, that can't be, Mr. Clemens' replied the rector."

"All the same, it is so," said Twain.

"Well, I certainly should like to see that book," rejoined the rector with dignity.

"All right," replied Mark, "you shall have it," and the next morning Doctor Doane received with Mark Twain's compliments a dictionary.

JULY A BIG MONTH FOR MACKEREL.

It is asserted by reputable authorities that Nova Scotia will see more mackerel the present year than for nearly a decade past. The mackerel are moving in a remarkably unusual manner this month, in that there is a large run of the smaller species following direct on the trail of the large fish that moved north three weeks ago to the spawning grounds in the St. Lawrence Gulf. Conditions therefore, are identical with those of 1905 and warrant the belief that the younger mackerel will be in range of the fishermen throughout July. Formerly July was the month when the big run passed up, but in late years the migration has occurred four weeks earlier.

The pursuit of mackerel is entirely too limited and thousands of dollars are lost annually by their characteristic elusiveness. Nothing is heard of them until they appear off the coast of the United States in March and start in a northerly direction. They return in the autumn, but none know to what destination. The chief purpose of the big fish is to go to the gulf to spawn. Gradually the fishermen along the coast of North America are learning more of the mackerel but very slowly. Formerly they were only met in May, but latterly vessels cruise south from Gloucester and find fish in March. This has been the most outstanding feature in the history of progressive mackerel fishing.

THE GENERAL BOOTH MEMORIAL HOSPITAL.

Early next summer the Salvation Army expects to begin the erection of its big General Booth Memorial Hospital, at the corner of Outremont avenue and St. Just street, Outremont. Had it not been for the building of the Training College in Toronto this season, the work of constructing the memorial to the founder of the Salvation Army would have been under way now. The site is one of the finest in the city and was purchased last winter.—Montreal Witness.

CANADA BARRED FROM DAKOTA FAIRS.

Canadian exhibits are excluded from the fairs of North Dakota.

"The finest compliment that could be paid to us," said J. Bruce Walker, Commissioner of Immigration, upon receipt of advice to that effect.

Communicating this decision to Winnipeg exhibitors, the Secretary of the North Dakota Fair Association states the reason, which is the fear that local exhibitors will be discouraged because of the good showing made by Canadian exhibits.

EVERYDAY PHRASES.

Most of Them Had Their Origin in a Casual Incident or Remark.

"What is a popular phrase?" someone once asked. "Something we all repeat like parrots, without knowing its real original meaning," was the reply of the cynic; and to a certain extent he was right. How many of us, for instance, can tell how these common phrases "tuff-hunters" and "fools' paradise" arose? We have an idea that the former refers to the persona who seeks the society and apes the manners of the "Upper Ten"; for the fool who shuts his eyes to threatening troubles and dangers, satisfied with the enjoyment of the moment.

As a matter of fact, the latter phrase originated in the theological argument that there is a place for fools just outside paradise, while the term "tuff-hunting" took its rise at the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge, where at one time the young nobleman wore a peculiarly-formed cap with a tuft which presumably attracted hangers-on.

Many other curious stories of the origin of popular phrases are given in "Everyday Phrases Explained" (Pearson). It is related that "Hobson's choice" arose from the fact that Hobson, a noted carrier in Cambridge, would only let out his horses and coaches for hire in rotation, refusing to allow his customers to choose, a customer being compelled to take the horse nearest the door. Thus it became customary, when anything was forced upon one, to say "Hobson's choice."

"Eating humble pie" is a phrase which really arose from the corruption of the word "ambles" or "numbles," the coarser parts of a deer killed in hunting, which, when made into a pie, were formerly reserved for the lower hunt servants; while "cooking his goose" is a phrase which originated when the King of Sweden, on approaching a hostile town, excited the contempt of the inhabitants by the smallness of his army. To express this they hung out a goose for him to shoot at, whereupon the king set fire to the town to "cook their goose."

Long ago unscrupulous people used to take a cat bird in a bag to market, where they tried to sell it for a pig. If, however, a purchaser opened the bag before buying, the cat, of course, jumped out, displaying the fraud. Hence the term "letting the cat out of the bag."

"Going to the dogs" comes from the East, where dogs are scavengers of the streets, and become so unclean as to be unfit to touch; while the expression "Tell it to the marines" is used to show disbelief in the truth of a story, arose from the fact that when the marines first went aboard they were naturally rather "tetch" concerning nautical affairs, and someone who related a very tall yarn was told to "tell it to the marines" the idea being that they could be more easily gulled.

It is a curious fact that the phrase, "Bald as a badger," owes its origin to authors of the past who had no exact knowledge of natural history, and who, because the forehead of a badger is covered with smooth, white hairs, came to the conclusion that it was bald.

COOKERY POINTS.

ICED CHOCOLATES.

There are various ways of preparing iced chocolate, but this method permits all the labor of preparation to be done hours in advance of serving time. Scrape or grate a quarter of a pound of unsweetened chocolate and put into a porcelain lined or aluminum saucepan with three-quarters of a cupful of sugar and one cupful of boiling water. Stir and cook steadily until a smooth, shiny paste is formed, but take care it does not burn. Add one and a half pints of boiling water and let boil slowly until a syrup is formed, then remove from the fire every few minutes until cool. Flavor with vanilla and a suggestion of cinnamon, pour into a preserve jar, seal tight and stand in the refrigerator. When ready to serve add three-quarters of a cupful of rich cream and beat with an egg, whip until light. Half fill the glasses with crushed ice, up with the syrup and top with a teaspoonful of whipped cream.

NUT SHINGLES.

Nut shingles are sure to be well received. Cream together one-quarter cupful each of butter, lard and boiling water, then mix in one-half cupful of molasses into which has been stirred one teaspoonful of soda. To one-half cupful of brown sugar and one-half tablespoonful of ginger, a little grated nutmeg and clove and a pinch of salt and add all this to the other ingredients. This amount will require about three cupfuls of flour. The mixture should be chilled and then rolled very thin and cut into strips about three inches long and one inch wide. Spread chopped nuts over these and bake in a good oven. The baking requires only ten minutes or so.

RASPBERRY SHERBERT.

Place in a bowl one-half pound granulated sugar, one quart lukewarm water. Squeeze in the juice of three lemons the grated rind of one and the white of an egg. Press through a cheese-cloth into a bowl one half pint preserved raspberries, add two drops carmine coloring and one tablespoon Swiss kirschwasser and add the mixture to the water lemon juice, thoroughly mix with a silver spoon for five minutes. Strain through a small ice cream freezer. Pack around with a liberal amount of ice and salt and let the mixture stand until well frozen. Serve immediately.

POINTS FOR MOTHERS

It is almost time to lay away materials for the "rainy day closet," a device intended for the alleviation of the care of mothers. Interest is now centering in school, playthings are tossed aside for the more serious business of life, but they should not be tossed so far that they cannot be found again in case of need. Into the "rainy day closet" should go the toys from which the interest has temporarily departed, together with the accumulation of summer magazines, to be cut out and pasted in scrapbooks later, and specimens of rocks and shells brought home from the seashore. This closet should contain story books for children of all ages, riddle books, old picture postcards, old paper napkins, costing almost nothing, with the assistance of pins, will make the grandest kind of fancy costumes and with their aid all kinds of dramatic performances are possible. Paper for making flowers, clay for moulding purposes, bits of pretty wall paper for covering boxes should find their way to this treasure house.

Envelopes from which the used stamps are to be cut will afford some boy amusement. All the odds and ends of lead pencils and crayons can go into the closet and some day find a use. There are sure to be "out in" days, many of them, when all this apparent trash will be welcomed. In families where "the rainy day closet" has become an institution the room is kept carefully locked, so that its opening on rainy days or sick days is looked upon as an event of great importance. The articles are carefully arranged on shelves or in drawers, and an older sister, or even an "old maid aunt"—for such there still be—is appointed custodian. Among the rules and regulations one to the effect that no one must ask for a new article to play with inside an hour, though articles may be amicably interchanged among the group of little folks who have been cut off by the weather from their customary amusements.

A FOXY SCHEME.

"Tommy, if you'll saw some wood I'll tell you what I'll do."
"What's that, dad?"
"I'll let you have the sawdust to play circus with."

"I admire everything that is beautiful," he said.
"You mustn't say such things to me," she replied. "We have only known each other a little while."

Willie and his little sister were visiting at a mountain resort, where they heard a great deal of talk of the fine view. One day the sister fell over the edge of the piazza, and Willie ran screaming to his mother: "Oh, mamma! Come quick! Bessie has fallen into the view."

Little Brother (who had just been given some candy): "If I were you I shouldn't take sister yachting this afternoon."

Ardent Suitor—"Why do you say that?"
Little Brother: "Well, I heard her tell mother this morning that she feared she'd have to throw you over."

Some country youths were visiting London. They went into the British Museum and saw a mummy, over which hung a card on which was printed: "B. C. 87."

They were mystified, and one said: "What do you make of that, Sam?"
"Well, said Sam, "I should say it was the number of the motor car that killed him."

The president of a small college was visiting the little town that had been his former home and had been asked to address an audience of his former neighbors. In order to assure them that his care had not caused him to put on airs he began his address thus:

"My dear friends—I won't call you ladies and gentlemen—I know you too well to say that."

"Jane," said Bobby at the breakfast table, "did Mr. Julius take any of the umbrellas or hats from the rack when he went home last night?"
"Why, of course not, Bobby," laughed Jane, "why should he?"
"That's just what I'd like to know," said Bobby, "because when he went out I heard him say: 'I'm going to steal just one, and—why what's the matter, Jane?'"

An old lady was searching in the dim bric-a-brac shop for something odd to take home with her. Finally she noticed a quaint figure, the head and shoulders of which appeared above the counter at the farthest end of the room. She turned to the clerk and said: "What's that queer old Japanese idol over there worth?"
The clerk answered in a subdued tone: "About fifty thousand dollars, ma'am. That's the proprietor."

"Children," said the teacher, instructing the class in composition, "you should not attempt any flights of fancy; simply be yourselves and write what is in you. Do not imitate any other person's writings nor draw inspiration from outside sources."
As a result of this advice one bright lad turned in the following: "We should not attempt any flights of fancy, but write what is in us. In me there is my stomach, lungs, heart liver, two apples, one piece of pie, one stick of lemon candy and my dinner."

A WAY THEY HAVE.

"Mrs. Avroo came for a visit to her sister's home, and her little niece, Charlotte, was delighted to see her.
"What became of the black kitten that you had when I was here before, dear?" asked Mrs. Whit.
"Why, don't you know?" asked Charlotte, much surprised.
"I haven't heard a word," replied the aunt. "Was he poisoned?"
"No, ma'am," said Charlotte.
"Drowned?"
"Oh, no."
"Stolen?"
"No, ma'am."
"Hurt in any way?"
"No, ma'am."
"Well," said Mrs. Whit. "I can't guess dear. What became of him?"
"He grew into a cat," said Charlotte.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

are not a new and untried remedy—our grandfathers used them. Half a century ago, before Confederation, they were on sale in nearly every drug or general store in the Canada of that day, and were the recognized cure in thousands of homes for Constipation, Indigestion, Biliousness, Rheumatism and Kidney and Liver Troubles. To-day they are just as effective, just as reliable as ever, and nothing better has yet been devised.

No Summer Vacation
We would greatly enjoy one, but as many of our students come from long distances, and are anxious to be ready for situations as soon as possible our classes will be continued without interruption. Then, St. John's cool summer weather makes study during the warmest months just as pleasant as at any other time.
Students can enter at any time.
Send for our Catalogue.
