This suggestion was unfortunately not carried.

I have always found you a real sympathizer with the aspirations of organized workers, and each session you have rendered me valuable assistance in promoting their welfare. In the session before last, you introduced amendments to the Lemieux Act at my request, and those amendments were subsequently, in substance, made law in a bill introduced by Hon. Mr. King. For several sessions you have had before the house a bill to make election day a public holiday, to do away with the election deposit and to lengthen the hours for voting so as to give workingmen a chance to exercise their franchise. These are but a few of the instances where you have shown your activity on their behalf. I do not agree with you politically, Here he was confronted by two girls who identified him as a man who had stolen a purse from them. Accordingly, the man the police arrested last night was remanded for a couple of days until the police can locate the other man.

CONVENTIONAL ENDING OF TRIAL COURTSHIP.

What is strangely advertised as "Trial courtship" has just been ended in an Illinois town. "And the end was a wedding. The young man flew or swam, or pos sibly walked, over from Pennsylvania and took up his abode at the home of the young woman "and watched her methods of keeping house, sampled her cooking and studied her ways to find out if she would make him a good wife. At the same time she tried his disposition, tested his patience and observed his manners." He observed that she was neat; that she behaved beautifully toward her mother; that every meal was well cooked. For her part, she noted that he was mild as a dove and noted that he was mild as a dove and patient as a ticket agent. "Once she purposely delayed a meal to see whether he would become nervous or uncasy when things went wrong, but he is a pretty poor sample of virtue that only smiled and said supper would won't last three days.

Parkdale Cricket Club.
Parkdale C.C. defeated St. James in a two-innings game last week by nine wick, ets and forty runs. Calway (22, 20) was top scorer in both innings for the winners. Button batted and bowled well, and Saxton more than completed his 100 wickels for the season. For St. James, the fast balla of Ellis were very effective, and the slow ones of Cassis took wickets. Once more the Grace Church cricketers went, down to defeat before their old fivals from Parkdale. Both sides were short, but keen. Dr. Bennett (31) and Maroney (21) were the chief contributors to Parkdale's 78, and Marsden (17) and Boddington (13) to the losers' 44. Munroe (three, for 47) and Cakebread (three for 25) did some effective bowling. For once in a season, Bill. Marsden's trundling didn't come off, but Paris' did, to the time of five for 19.

When you examine the Walpole you will immediately see its superiority and advantage over all so-called hoof pads or bar shoes.

Made of high grade rubber—reinforced with tempered spring steel plate—the most resilient heel or hoof protection possible.

Possesses every feature of a bar shoe—yet much lighter. The spring steel plate takes the place of the old-fashioned bar—furnishes a larger bearing surface for the frog. Then it protects the heel—the one great advantage.

You know how quickly all other sc-called pads become floppy when subjected to water, snow or slush, allowing the hoof to settle into the pad and bear on the corn or tender spots, thus couldn't have the settle into the pad and bear on the corn or tender spots,

This spring steel plate coming next to the hoof with an even, firm pressure, overcomes this fault and positively relieves all soreness, tenderness, bruises or corns.

The Walpole affords the horseshoer an opportunity to regulate not only the frog, but sole and wall pressure to suit every individual foot. The rubber is unexcelled for its holding qualities on ice or wet surfaces—wood, stone or

George Jackson, the Boston Nationals' heavy hitting left fielder, learned to swat by using a log for a bat and to catch by throwing a ball against a barn, so that he could get it on the rebound. That was near Blum. Texas, his home. None of the boys Jackson knew played ball. He manufactured a ball of strings, got a log, and showed the street urchins how to pitch to him. One day he went to town from the farm and learned that two teams played there every Saturday. He asked for a charce and got it, together with car fare, Jackson hit so hard and ran the bases so swiftly that the Blum Club decided to pay him a regular salary, 3/3 a week. He soon got a raise to $5, and was happy. The Dallas Club signed him in 1908 and then farmed him to the Lake Charlest team in the Gulf League. He was recalled, however, batting 271 for Dallas in 1909 and 239 in 1910. Then the young Texan was sold to the Memphis Club, from which the Boston Nationals bought him two months ago. He is a natural hitter, but his fielding can be improved.

Eddie Durnan, who returned on Sat urday from Rainy River, where he easily defeated Jack Hackett on Thursday for a $2000 purse, was paid over his money last night. He was well pleased with the form he showed, and anxious to make another match with anyone for a similar stake. Durnan says it is quite likely he will row Dick Arnst for the world's champion-ship, possibly on Toronto Bay, next July for $2500 a side, and is prepared to offer the New Zealander liberal expenses and half the steamboat money.

Durnan was not surprised to read that W. H. Fogwell of New Zealand was beaten in England by Ernest Barry. The race was for the championship of England. The New Zealander held the lead for a third of the distance, when Barry forged to the front and won easily by three and a last lengths.

Young Sherman Makes Best Score 75, With Hilton of England One Streke Behind.

RYE, N.Y., Sept. 11.—The sun had disappeared behind the Westchester Hills when the last of the 170 starters in to-day's 18-hole qualifying round for the 17th amateur golf championships holed out on the final green and it was discovered that only those having cards of 84 or better could contiue to-morrow. As there were 60 players who made $3 or better the 10 who scored $4 for the round will play off to-morrow for the round will play off to-morrow for the remaining four places, for only $4 players can compete in the final medal round of the 18 holes to-morrow foremoon. The best $2 scores for the $6 holes will then be taken for the first round of each play in the afternoon.

Thomas M. Sherman of Utica, a son of Vice-President Sherman, carried off the honors of the day by making the 18 holes in 75 strokes. This was one stroke better than was shown by the cards of H. H. Hilton, the British champion; W. C. Evwnes, ir., of Plitsburg, the American Title-holder; Chas. Evans, ir., of Chicago; Robert A. Gardner, also of Chicago, and Yale and A. H. Raett of the Crescent Athletic Club. There were a dozen others who bettered the eighty mark, and in this number appeared J. Douglas Brown of the Munray Field Club of Edinburgh. Scotland, who in 1907 was the Irish champion. Brown is regarded to-night as a dark horse, and has been coupled with Hilton in the betting on the possibility of the Havemeyer Cup going to Great Britain. Hilton was easily the golfing magnet of the day, and drew after him a gallery of more than a hundred. The greater part of this crowd left him at the 16th green, however, in order to watch Chic Evans, who was then on his outward journey. George S. Lyon of Toronto, who was one of those who had to play in the driving rain, qualified with a card of 84.

OF TRAVEL.

Travel, in the younger sort, is a part of education; in the eider, a part of experience. He that traveleth into a country before he hath some entrance into the language, goeth to school, and not to travel. That young men travel under some tulor or grave servant, I allow well; so that he be such a one that hath the language, and hath been in the country before; whereby he may be able to tell them what things are worthy to be seen in the country where they go, what acquaintance they are to seek, what excreises or discipline the place yielded. For else young men shall go hooded, and look abroad little. It is a strange thing, that in sea voyages, where there is nothing to be seen but sky and sea, men should make diaries; but in land travel, wherein so much is to be observed, for the most part they omit it; as if chance were fitter to be registered than observation. West Toronto, first took the platform addressing his hearers on the trade agreement. The farmer was the man to benefit from the agreement, he stated, and the interests of the farmer should be advanced as he was the backbone of the nation.

N. W. Rowell, K.C., also dealt with the matter from the standpoint of the supposed benefits accruing to the farmer. Referring to Canada's large export trade with the United States last year, he declared that as business is soing to be done any way it might as well be done in a feeling of friend-liness, rather than hostility. This was the whole meaning of the pact. He absolutely decried every suggestion of annexation.

Mr. Shaw spoke briefly. He regretted that the electors in North Toronto did not understand reciprocity. He believed the pact would be a boon to the country, but he thought that Canadian industries still needed protection.

But we are under absolutely no obligation to them; why should we do any sharing-up? Let us conserve and fully develop our own resources that our country may continue to progress and may experience even greater prosperity in the future."

For a United Canada.

'I am proud, happy and anxious to speak from the platforms of this province for the candidates of the Conservative party," declared Sir James Whitney in opening a vigorous onslaught on the paot and its supporters. "These candidates are fighting a campaign having as its purpose something of no less significance than the preservation of Canadian national ideals and Canadian national existence.

Sir James vigorously attacked reciprocity as an anti-imperial measure. President Taft and his following have plainly shown, declared the premier, that annexation was one of the main objects with which they negotiated a treaty with Canada.

Well, then, the reason we did not press for a royal commission was that we knew how vindictive and spiteful the G. T. R. officials have been in the past. A Pertinent Query.

Mr. Murdock was asked why some of the men had not yet received their strike pay, and Mr. Berry rose to remark that he thought a question of that nature should be discussed in the different organizations and not in public. This rather upset a young man present, who reminded Mr. Berry that free and full discussion of the strike question had been promised, "and," he concluded, "if you don't want to discuss it, close the meetins."

"We are here to discuss the strike and not strike pay," rejoined Mr. Berry

Well, that's part of the question, persisted the irresponsible information-seeker, but Mr. Berry stuck to his guns; "strike pay is not a matter for a public meeting."

"Mr. Murdock told an audience in Berlin a few days ago that the whole fabric of the strike consisted of 4000 men. I don't see it in that way," said Mr. Lennox. "The men asked certain concessions from the Grand Trunk Railway Co., and I believe the men were in the right, for this reason, that the company was prepared to give the men better wages when they went on strike, and if they were prepared to do it then it was sufficient evidence that they were not paying the men proper wages in the first place. The government pretended to be helpless in the matter of settling the strike. But they were not helpless; they could have made the company settle in a few hours if they had wanted to. The Grand Trunk is entirely dependent upon the government in matters of very great importance, but the government were working with the railway company.

Telling Men How to Make Money

The Advertising Agent of Today

Advertising advisers, in the year 1911, must be more than most men

This business, called advertising, really involves the whole science of making money.

There isn't a step from the factory to the home which the advertising sponsor dares to overlook.

And the qualified man should know every maneuver evolved in all business

Mere advertising today, without all the accessories, is simply inexcusable folly.

The reasonable way to learn these things is through other men's experi-

One can hardly conceive of a selling idea which somebody hasn't worked out to the finish.

Your problems have all been solved somewhere. Your possible pitfalls have all been discovered. And there isn't a road to merchandising success which somebody hasn't traveled.

There lies the value of qualified advisers. A value that amounts to necessity. Their lives have been lived in a vortex of experiments utterly unknown to you. They have learned what you need to know.

For instance, Lord & Thomas. We have been the advisers of a thousand concerns, al! 'caders in their lines. We know all of their problems, and how they were solved. We know all their successes, and to what they were due. We know their mistakes, and how you can avoid them.

A single piece of advice, founded on this experience, has, again and again, won a fortune.

All this has resolved itself into a science, called Strategy in Advertising. It is the digested result of a myriad clever maneuvers.

It points the best way—the quickest. surest, cheapest way-to accomplish each selling purpose.

Citizen. LIBERAL DRUMMER ON PACT.

Editor Toronto World: I have been a Liberal for years, but cannot vote for reciprocity, and I am glad to inform you that I have met very many travelers who will vote and work hard against it. I am open for conviction, but I have so far falled to find an argument in favor of it which will hold water. If a man were in doubt as to the possibility of Canada invading the American market with any of her products, just get a copy of the statistics, or an ordinary school geography of a recent publication will give you the facts. By what mode of reasoning can a man with brains figure out (on many articles) that while under the present tariff we are importing three, four and five times the amount we are expecting, yet under free trade we are going to reverse the figures, or even have a chance of reducing the imports or increasing the exports, when we are selling all we have to sell and are opening our doors to a market ten times larger, and, consequently, producing more, I sincerely hope that the electorate of Canada are not so foolishly partisan as to let unscrupulous politicians take away all their reasoning partisan as to let unscrupulous politi-cians take away all their reasoning powers. I have recently been in the States, and the fact that they are so anxious for reciprocity is enough to make a sober Canadian ask the reason why. Surely no man will say the Americans want reciprocity for our benefit. Just take a little trip into the eastern states, or even the middle states, and tell us as a farmer or a working man if you would be willing to exchange conditions. I would like to see every man and woman so anxious about the welfare of his country that they would spend two cents and get In return from the bureau of labor a copy of imports and exports. If the Canadian bureau will not send you one, write to the bureau at Washington.

Undoubtedly the Jewish voter can be swayed by sentiment, altho this is contrary to the general idea that the economic issues of the question now before him would overwhelm all other considerations of the campaign. Both candidates have for a long time given a great deal of attention to the voters among the so-called foreign section of their riding. But their at-tentions have been given in different ways and along distinctly separate lines. Mr. Bristol has spent much time in aiding the people of his constituency in the way of helping them to rise above their present conditions and in securing public improvements, while Ald. Maguire has interested himself in their social life, has mixed with them in the little things of dally life. The Liberal candidate has attempted to appeal to them sentimentally. But as A. P. house at No 82 were damaged by falling bricks.

When the crowds were anxious to reach home shortly after 5.30 clock last evening, the rain came down in torrents and flooded the street to such an extent that walking was out of the question, especially for the women folk. Flashes of lightnins lit the sky every half moment, causing one or two fires and cut the electric current off, stopping the cars for half an hour and giving the working masses a good ducking, besides leaving business houses in total darkness.

The thunderstorm did considerable damage to the lower apartments of some of the Toronto dwellings. A few windows left open to allow fresh air to enter acted as an entrance for the cellars and made things more than unpleasant for the immates, and especially these who did not make the discovery until sufficient water in which to float a canoe had uninvitedly entered.

Trouble was again encountered with the sewers in the vicinity of St. Clairavenue, where the soil is very sandy, and takes but little to shift it. This amorning men were sent out from the sewers department in the city hall to investigate the havoc of the storm in the northern section of the city, and to make the necessary repairs.

Mining Market Is Irregular But General Tone is Easier

Further Decline in Porcupines Led by Dome Extension-West Dome Off 45 Points-Timiskaming Scores Advance. PRICE OF SILVER.

Monday Evening, Sept. 11.
The commencement of a new week did not bring in any perceptible change of tone on the local mining exchanges, the market to-day moving along in much the same manner as has been in evidence since the beginning of the penth.

much the same manner as has been in evidence since the beginning of the menth.

Viewed broadly, the market was, if anything, a little weaker than its usual went. Prices in a number of instances underwent declines, and, so far as Dome Extension was concerned, these were decidedly drastic.

The idea is gaining ground on the street that there is something in relation to Dome Extension of which the market is not apprised. Selling of the most responsible nature was in evidence to-day, and, while it was clear to close students of the situation that this was due to entirely natural causes, there was considerable apprehension arrong holders on account of the insistence of the liquidation.

Dome Extension at the opening of the market was quested at 63 a loss of the market was quested at 63 a loss of the market was quested at 63 a loss of the market was quested at 63 a loss of the market was guested at 63 a loss of the market was guested at 63 a loss of the liquidation.

Dome Extension at the opening of the market was quoted at 63, a loss of half a point from last week's close, and during the day the shares lost an a snare below the lowest price touched last week.

Brokers affiliated with insiders in Dome Extension attribute the present weakness in the shares to the liquidation of a big holding, and the standing from under of the big interests, who are not disposed to hold up the market on realizing of this nature.

There was a further bulge in Porcupine Central, the shares selling as high as $1.20 just at the close. On the morning board the stock got up ten points above par, but later was carried back to $7 cm profit-taking. Short covering was sponsible for the advance during the afternoon.

There was little doing elsewhere in the list, but the numerous small decilines could only be taken as indicative of the idea that the undertone was still unsettled.

tive of the idea that the undertone was still unsettled.

A slump of 45 points in West Dome was the feature of the larger issues. There was no news to account for the big decline, other than the rumor that a big account was being cleared up, and the shares sacrificed.

A 2½ point advance in Timiskaming based on the dividend declaration was the only feature of the Cobalts, which held in the main unchanged from last week.

THE PRESENT OFFERING

In the six months or more which have elapsed since Porcupine Central and Porcupine Northern were publicly floated, remarkable developments have been of almost daily occurrence in Porcupine, and valuations have been established which six months ago were hopes rather than realizations. Nevertheless today Porcupine Southern Mining Company is being brought out along the same conservative lines as its predecessors. Through Porcupine Southern Mines, Ltd., an Ontario corporation, it virtually owns fourteen claims (560 acres) and has under option two additional claims (80 acres) favorably located in the centre of active operations.

These claims have the further advantage of being so scattered that important developments can occur hardly anywhere in the heart of Porcupine without benediting one or another of them.

The following letter speaks for itself:

Cotton Gossip.

Erickson Perkins & Co. had the following:
Selling was more general to-day and prices eased. Heavier receipts, freer of ferings of actual and a declining spot basis were responsible for the change in sentiment. The trade outlook, as far as the home situation is concerned, continue on a large scale, but business for November and beyond is extremely light. Despite continued deterioration reports, the local feeling is that the crop is progressing well and that, with a late fall, the large yield is promised. The market is still confronted with the weight of actual and we see no reason to change our previous advice to buy only one weak spits. for turns.

May Be a Factor.

J. S. Bache & Co., the well-known brokers, give a careful and instructive summary of the causes of the prevailing unrest in the world of finance. Commenting on the purely American status of affairs, Mr. Bache says in part:

When enterprise stops and no one will undertake anything new, and each one, railroad manager, manufacturer, builder, refuses to buy one single thing not absolutely necessary to keep things going—slowly at that—it, means that there is a lack of confidence in the future.

Nearly everyone admits this lack of confidence, but there are a number of theories as to what has caused it. In-
