Canada Formally Protests Against Status at Great Labor Congress

HEARST GIVES BASIS TO ENACT MOTHERS' ALLOWANCES BILL

Responsibility Now on Farmers' Government to Pass Measure.

Sir William Hearst, altho being precluded from implementing his promise made during the elections of introducing a mothers' pensions act, has all the necessary material for legislation to leave to his successors. This, he made public yesterday afternoon, and it now rests with the forthcoming administration as to whether legislative enactment is made. A draft bill, the premier stated, had already been under consideration by the cabinet.

Dr. W. A. Riddell, superintendent of trades and labor, was appointed by the government as a commissioner in January last to make an exhaustive investigation of the subject. He submitted a report which is dated March 24 last, and his main findings and recommendations follow:

Cost of the Scheme.
The estimated annual cost of a mothers' allowance act in Ontario, based on statistics of the Canadian Registration Board, of pension commissioners and the report of the inspector of public charities for Ontario, is $1,078,440. This amount allows for a full development of the scheme for all families of widows with needy children.

The total number of widows with children in Ontario is 16,048. The children number 31,223. The basis on which Dr. Riddell recommends allowances should be made available for mothers of children is: That the mother must have conjugal status, and be either a widow, the wife of an inmate of a provincial hospital for the insane, or the wife of a man who is permanently incapacitated, and also that the mother must be a guardian of her children. As regards children, he recommends that allowances be available only to families of two or more children, that the children shall be under 14 years of age, and that the children shall be under the immediate care of their mothers.

Conditions of Allowances.
Dr. Riddell enumerates a number of conditions which should be met, before the allowances are paid. These are: That the father shall have been a British subject; that the mother and children were actually resident in Canada at the time of the death or incapacitation of the father; that the mother and children were actually resident in Canada for a period of three years prior to the application for an allowance; that the mother and children were actually resident in Ontario at the time of application.

CALL FOR CONVENTION

Saskatchewan G.W.V.A. Request an Emergency Meeting of Veterans' Delegates.

Regina, Sask., Oct. 29.—The Saskatchewan command of the G.W.V.A. sent a message to C. G. MacNeil, national secretary, today, asking for the calling of an emergency convention from all Canada to meet in Ottawa as quickly as possible to discuss the late developments regarding re-establishment and to outline the policy that would be followed by the organization as a result of the unsatisfactory report of the parliamentary committee.

STRIKE CANNOT BE AVOIDED SAYS CONFERENCE OF MINERS

Statement Declares Representatives Are Ready to Meet Operators to Negotiate Fair Basis of Wages.

Indianapolis, Oct. 29.—That a strike of bituminous miners "cannot be avoided," was the outstanding feature of a statement made late today by the conference of United Mine Workers officials. Blame for the situation was laid at the door of the operators because "they had refused to negotiate a wage agreement notwithstanding the fact that the mine workers' representatives had urged and besought them to do so."

The miners' statement claims that will be exercising constitutional rights in striking. The statement also sets forth that the union officials gave profound consideration to the statement of President Wilson as it appeared in the newspapers and added that no communication on that subject had been received from the federal administration.

The statement adds: "The mine workers are but exercising the right guaranteed by the constitution which cannot be taken away by the representatives of the government when they quit work unless their grievances are adjusted. The

ALL MUNICIPALITIES ENDORSE SIR ADAM AS HYDRO COMMISSIONER

At Wildly Enthusiastic Meeting Beck Decides to Accept Seat in Legislature With Continuance in Charge of Hydro Development.

"I accept the resolution to find me a seat in the legislature. I feel I should accept it. I leave my future, so far as my work is concerned, in the hands of the municipalities and the people of Ontario. I leave myself in your hands and will abide by your decision."

These words the concluding words of a rousing speech by Sir Adam Beck yesterday afternoon before some 300 representatives of Hydro municipalities, called together in the city hall to consider the situation resultant from the late election. The meeting was one of the largest ever held in the council chamber. What T. J. Hannigan, secretary of the Municipal Hydro Association, was speaking he said he had asked Sir Adam to come to the meeting and he replied, "I have nothing to say."

At this remark the delegates with almost one voice shouted "Bring him here."

Mr. Hannigan promised to see what could be done in the matter and some half hour afterwards the Hydro president walked into the council chamber. Sir Adam had any doubt in his mind as to the nature of his reception it must have been dispelled in double quick time. No sooner was his familiar figure seen in the doorway than all the delegates rose from their seats and shouted and cheered until they were tired and wound up the demonstration by singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Adam said that after a consultation with his Hydro friends of the municipalities he decided to cut adrift from political parties and run as an independent candidate representing the Hydro commission. He thought as of an independent member he would be of more use to Hydro in that capacity than if linked to the fortunes of a political party, more especially in view of the present unsettled conditions of the country. Before the elections he had stated that if defeated he would feel it his duty to resign as chairman of the Hydro, and that was where he stood today. (No, no.) At present he could not resign his position as there was no government to go to. When defeated at the election he felt his services to Hydro were finished but the resolution in question proposed to pass told him they thought he might yet be of some service to them. (Cheers.) If a man had the confidence of those he served, he could have no confidence in himself. In referring to the work ac-

TIME OPPORTUNE FOR NEW DRIVER

"I have nothing to say," remarked Sir William Hearst to The World last night when asked if he had any comment to make on the selection of Mr. Drury by the U. F. O.

Last night's important political development will, of course now clear the way for the Ontario premier and his colleagues to give up the reins of government and this course may be taken within the next few days. There is indeed, no good reason for their continuing in office much longer.

Another meeting of the cabinet was held yesterday at which all the ministers except Hon. E. W. McCarthy, the provincial treasurer, were present. Such gatherings have been the order almost daily since the elections sealed the fate of the government last Monday week, and the business slate is now said to be fairly clean. Nothing is, of course, being initiated, and it should be a comparatively simple matter for the old administration to get out and the new ministry to assume control.

EIGHT CASES SEIZED

Eight cases of whiskey were seized yesterday by Plainclothesmen Penneck in the Grand Trunk freight sheds. The whiskey had been consigned to Stewart and Price, Toronto street. The seized goods were removed by the police to Court street station.

Canada Should Forbid the Waste

On no account should the United States government, thru lack of title, be allowed to dismantle its munition buildings at Laclede that cost four millions of dollars. The Canadian government can, under the War Measures Act, forbid it. Better still, let the U. S. government offer to sell to the Canadian government the buildings at Laclede. The seized goods, the new owner could then expropriate the land on which they are erected. Or, Uncle Sam present our government with the buildings rather than commit the crime of tearing them down. If for nothing else these great big strong buildings would be splendid storehouses for our military equipment, now scattered all over in a lot of inflammable ones.

The United States government will not be well advised by its special corps of military officers now here trying to salvage the investment if they do not suggest a conference with the Canadian government.

CROSSES TO MOTHERS OF HEROES WHO FELL

Victoria, B.C., Oct. 29.—Major-General Newburn, minister of militia, speaking at a reunion of 16th Battalion members here last night, announced that a silver cross, hung from a purple ribbon, would be given to every mother who had lost a boy at the front. Eight war memorials are to be erected to the memory of the Canadians who fell overseas. One of them would take the form of a hall of records, while the others would be the memorials commemorating the fallen.

CANADA DEMANDS RIGHT TO A PLACE ON GOVERNING BODY

Files Formal Protest Against Composition of International Labor Office.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Canada has filed a formal protest against the proposed composition of the governing body of the international labor office to be established under the league of nations. The point at issue is regarded by the Canadian delegation here as of the greatest moment. It involves the right of Canada by reason of her industrial importance, to name one of the members of the governing body rather than to take her choice of election as one of the nations of lesser importance, from the industrial point of view.

The international labor office, which will be controlled by the governing body, forms part of the permanent organization created to further application of the labor principles embodied in the peace treaty. Its governing body is to consist of twenty-four members. Twelve will represent the governments; six will be elected by employers' delegates to the international labor conference; six by workers' delegates to the conference. Of the twelve government representatives, eight will be nominated by the members of the conference which are of "chief industrial importance." The remaining four will be nominated by the industrial nations as a whole.

The issue arises over which eight nations are "industrial importance," and therefore empowered to name a representative on the governing body. The organizing committee of the labor conference has reported in favor of the following:

Canada's Protest
United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Switzerland, Spain. If German delegates are admitted to the conference, Germany by reason of her industrial importance is entitled to a seat on the governing body and Spain, being at the end of the list, will cease to be numbered among the eight. The position in Canada is that she should rank as one of the eight "nations of chief industrial importance" and to that end has deposited a protest with the league of nations on the grounds (1) of population, (2) of relative industrial importance.

The council of the league of nations has taken up the matter. However, shortly, Canada's protest will be one of the first questions for adjudication.

THE LEASIDE MUNITIONS PLANT.

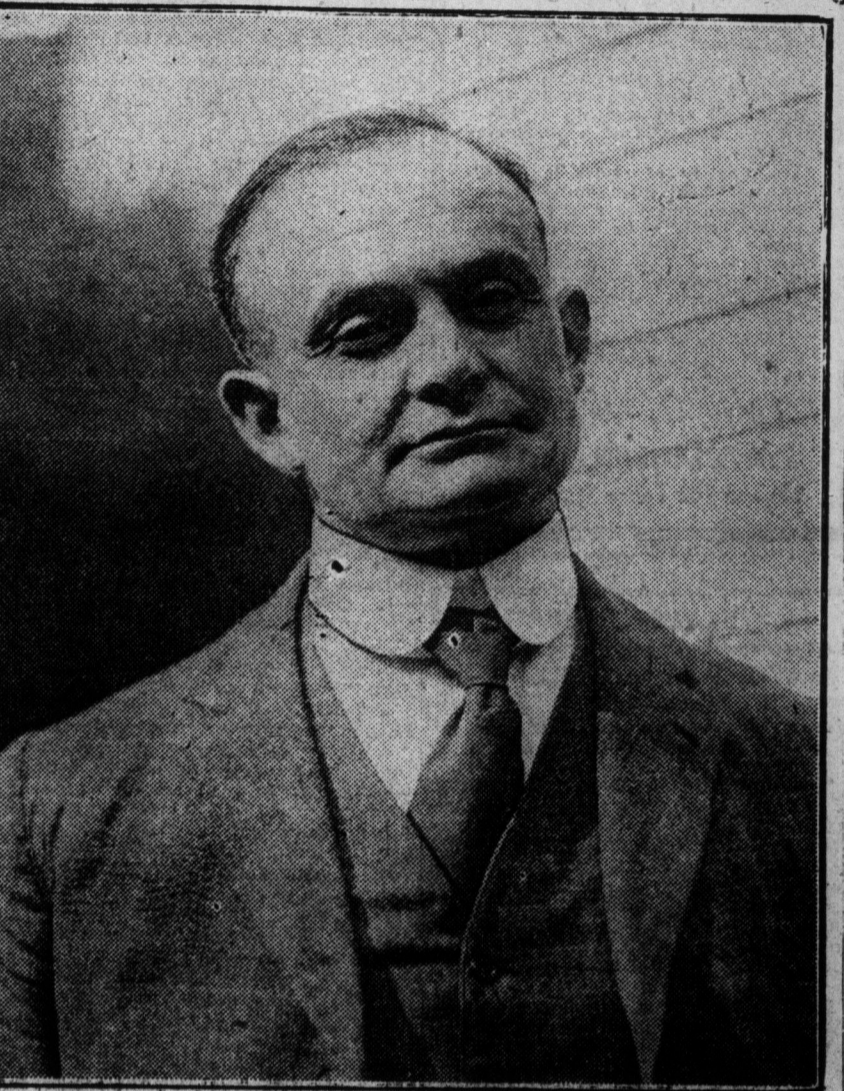

Speaking of the proposed wrecking of the munitions buildings at Leaside, Mayor Church said: "As the plant is outside the municipality, it is not possible for the city to do anything in the matter. However, I shall immediately draw the attention of the industrial commissioner to it. All city munitions buildings have been taken over and are now being used for other purposes, thus providing work for hundreds of citizens."

Mr. Yeomans, the industrial commissioner, assured The World that he would take steps, as soon as the case was officially handed over to him, to have placed several factories outside the city limits which could not be otherwise accommodated, and when this matter is given to me I think that I shall be able to make some satisfactory arrangements."

COST OF JELICICO'S MISSION.

London, Oct. 29.—The first lord of the admiralty states that the cost of Admiral Jellicoe's mission to the dominions is estimated at $9,225 pounds sterling.

SIMCOE COUNTY FARMER IS THE UNANIMOUS CHOICE AS ONTARIO'S NEXT PREMIER

ERNEST C. DRURY
The man who the United Farmers of Ontario have picked on to lead their parliamentary party, and who, in a very short time, will be prime minister of Ontario.

New Leader of United Farmers Tells Where His Party Stands

E. C. Drury, newly elected leader of the U. F. O., spoke as follows: In accepting the position to which you have elected me, I feel keenly sensible of the honor which you have conferred upon me, and also of the great responsibilities which accompany that honor. The position is unique in the political history of the province, and so far as I am personally concerned, is not one which I should have chosen, as I realize that the bed upon which you have placed me is likely to have more thorns than feathers in it. I do not, however, entertain any fears regarding the situation. It is true we may be lacking in experience, but the situation is not one which calls for the fine arts of the politician. It is true that in a sense we represent the farming community, and in all truth, that section of the people has been in great need for many years of a greater voice in the legislatures of the province and of the country, a voice which it is our duty adequately to supply. But in a very real sense we represent not alone the forty per cent. of the people who are on the farms, but also the great bulk of the common people of all classes, the people who are desirous of good government, of stability, efficiency and economy, and of the fair and equal enforcement of law. Our success, therefore, depends, not on political manoeuvring, but on the breadth and fairness of our policy, and on our adherence to the high ideals of democracy and public service which have made this movement a vital thing in the life of the nation. May we not hope that before long this movement, which has had its birth in one particular class, may expand and broaden till it shall become, not merely a farmers' party, but in a very real sense a people's party.

Against Special Privilege.

It is too early to speak of our legislative program. We have not yet been called on to form a government, and it would be unwise to anticipate. We can, however, lay down certain broad principles which must and should govern us in the matter. Our war, in the past, has been waged on special privilege. We are not at this time going to abandon the principles of justice and fair play, which have actuated us in the past. If we are called to power we must stand for no class legislation of whatever kind. Our legislative program must be framed for the benefit of every just and honest and legitimate interest in the province. If, in the carrying out of such a program, the unjust and dishonest interests get in the way, so much the worse for the latter.

If called to power, one of our first administrative duties must be fearlessly and effectively to enforce the will of the people as expressed in the recent prohibition referendum. With that mandate I am personally in thorough accord and sympathy. We must see to it that it has effective enforcement. It may be that it will be found that there are loop-holes or defects in the law which render it difficult to enforce. If so, it will be our duty to correct them.

Will Attack High Cost of Living.

The people look to us to make an honest attempt to solve a problem which bears heavily on all, and which, as wages and prices of farm produce decline, may become an intolerable burden—the high cost of living. The solution of that problem, in its entirety, may not be within the power of the provincial legislature, but it will be our duty to thoroughly investigate the conditions surrounding distribution, and if we find that prices are unduly inflated as the result of obstructions or combinations in restraint of trade, to vigorously enforce such laws as will make these impossible.

We are here as the result of a widespread conviction, not only on the part of the farmers, but on the part of urban dwellers also, that the two old parties have failed to achieve their ostensible purpose, that, namely, of government of the people, by the people and for the people. And my hope is that, with your loyal support, we may be able to advance the cause of true democracy. Thus and thus only will our existence be ultimately justified.

I thank you again for the confidence you have bestowed upon me, which, in all humility, I shall try to merit.

E. C. Drury Elected—Expects to Form Stable and Progressive Government in a Short Time—Goes Back to His Farm to Prepare for Busy Days in Toronto.

E. C. Drury, Barrie, was the choice as leader of the U.F.O. caucus late yesterday afternoon.

It was 10.30 last night when the caucus sang "God Save the King" and the members began to leave the offices on East King street, where they had been in session all day.

The newly-elected leader then issued a general statement to the public and a word for The World. He said: "I candidly appreciate the journalism of The World and its fairness to all parties and to the public. I say this to The World, that my outlook is exceedingly bright. I have every hope of building up a working majority in the legislature and of carrying on a stable, honest and progressive administration."

Mr. Drury leaves for his farm today. He said: "I have to get the farm in shape while waiting to hear the call that today's work implies."

It was learned last night that the Hearst government may not leave the parliament buildings for two weeks. In that time Mr. Drury will hold no meetings.

For Dominion Organization.
The U.F.O., however, will not be idle. At the next agrarian event of national importance affecting the political situation is the meeting of the Canadian Council of Agriculture at Winnipeg on Nov. 11. The political question will be discussed and action taken of "Dominion-wide interest."

In the interval also organization in Ontario will proceed apace. A county convention for South West will be held on Nov. 3 and a convention for Middlesex on Nov. 25.

Mr. Drury, immediately following his election, had three seats offered to him by U. F. O. members-elect, but is likely to choose Centre Simcoe.

The Whitsun, in North York, waits upon the issue of the new writ for the federal seat. There is talk that one of Sir William Hearst's fallen followers, Major Hart, may take up the gauntlet against President Halbert, the U.F.O. candidate.

No Portfolios Arranged.

Nothing was said at yesterday's caucus touching the new distribution of portfolios in Queen's Park. Mr. Drury has not himself considered the possibility of his taking a portfolio. There is nothing more than gossip about the appointment of a minister of labor.

U. F. O. and Labor.
Significant seemed to attach to the text of the following resolution which was passed before the caucus broke up: "but one of the members-elect said there was no intention of implying by his phrasing an organic union of U. F. O. and Labor but only a co-operative union."

Moved by P. Heenan, member-elect for Kenora, seconded by Roy D. Hughes, treasurer of the Independent Labor party, the resolution was:

"As representative of the workers from the most westerly point in this province, I take great pleasure in moving that this joint resolution be heartily endorsed. E. C. Drury as the leader of the Farmer-Labor party, and that we have full confidence in him."

Mr. Drury's election was unanimous, and the following who were nominated withdrew from the ballot: Peter Smith, South West; Andrew Hick, Earl D. Huron; R. H. Grant, Carleton; Beniah Bowman, Manitoulin; J. J. Morrison, Toronto; R. W. E. Burnaby, Richmond Hill; Manning Doherty, Peel; Joseph Cridland, South Norfolk; W. I. Johnston, South Lanark; Earl Biggar, Brantford.

Simcoe County Man.
E. C. Drury, of Barrie, in favor of whom other members of the U. F. O., including J. J. Morrison, the secretary, asked that their names be withdrawn from the ballot for the leadership of the party in the legislature, is a Simcoe county man. He was born at Crown Hill January 22, 1878. His family represents the front line of settlers in Simcoe county. His great grandfather, one hundred years ago, emigrated from Warwickshire and located at Crown Hill upon a hundred-acre farm. The Drury family, in addition to the inheritance of soil, has absorbed the traditions of representative public service. The homestead was handed down from sire to son, and enlarged a generation back when Hon. Charles Drury, first minister of agriculture for Ontario, was the freeholder of Crown Hill. The homestead is now 250 acres, and driving towards it on election night in company with a representative of The World E. C. Drury, not knowing then how the elections had gone, made the remark that political life offered no real compensation to the man whose thoughts were of the land.

E. C. Drury's record, however, is one of keen interest in the concerns of the Ontario farmer. He is an A. C. man of the class of 1900, and in 1908 was deputed to go before the Liberal tariff commission as representative of the Farmers' Association of Ontario. He was "Master of the Grange" for three years, and in 1910 attended the first session of the Canadian Council of Agriculture at Prince Albert. He was chosen first secretary of that association.

Mr. Drury was one of the organizers of the monster deputation of farmers to Ottawa urging the government to take up reciprocity. Later he was one of the organizers of the U. F. O., and is now the vice-president of its co-operative trading department.

Last session he was chosen by the U. F. O. deputation to debate the good roads question with Hon. G. S. Hearn and Hon. Finlay Macdonald, and put both representatives of the government at a disadvantage in presenting the farmers' standpoint. Mr. Drury is happily married and has five children.

His Strong Tariff Views.

The premier-designate of Ontario is well known to hold strong tariff views. His latest expression of these was before the recent U. F. O. convention, when he put forward the following statement of the farmers' standpoint: "We may claim without undue egotism that the farmers are the backbone of Canada, that they are bound to this country by ties that bind no other class to it; that they are bound in many cases by a hundred years of education in the one place and that this country is our fatherland. We are the class whose homes are in the country and who, because of love of home, love our country."

He put the following proposition in political economy to the convention: "That to produce commodities for ourselves which we can more cheaply buy abroad must necessarily result in diverting capital and labor from profitable industry to unprofitable, as well as burdening profitable industry with the cost of the commodities produced."

A Fighting Leader.

His personal attitude he expressed in the following words: "I might as well say I am a crank on the tariff. I have been fighting those fellows for the last thirteen years. During that time I have suffered somewhat personally. I have had hard knocks, and I think I have been able to give some hard knocks—thanks be for that. This question is at the present time a very live question. It is a question which has now to be fought to the finish. It is not a question of the farmers' seeking; we have laid it aside during the war, but while the war was on our opponents, the manufacturers and the Industrial Reconstruction Association have brought it forward and made it a propaganda, and we must meet it fairly and squarely, and solve the tariff question (hear, hear). In discussing this question we must remember that we are asking for the farmers of Canada, but I am going to show that unless we get fair play, not only we, but the country as a whole, will suffer."

The closing words of the address are also interesting on the present occasion.

"The time has come for the farmers to take up the thread of their lives again. We have been too busy winning the war to keep tabs on the important questions which need discussion now. You know, as practical farmers, what keeps us from being up to the very last notch in machinery. It is because we have not the money to pay for it. (Hear, hear.) If a tractor cost $400 instead of $900, twice as many people would buy them. (Hear, hear and applause.)"

And this brings me to a very brief thought on another of the economic problems of reconstruction, the reinstatement of our returned soldiers in civil life. Very many of them have signified their desire to farm, or to live in no place where they will do more good in the rebuilding of the country than in its rural life. I think the return of the soldiers to the soil would be a grand thing for Canada. I think the communities in Ontario would welcome an infusion of them. I would like to see the scheme carried out that is in my mind, to have them teach our schools. I believe it would tone up our life immensely, for we need a different viewpoint.

Mr. Dowry's wish was to enter the federal parliament but the wish of the U. F. O. and particularly the decision of J. J. Morrison has changed the current of his career which becomes now one of the most interesting in Canada.

EARLSCOURT FAVORS PARK PURCHASE

Mayor Promises to Push Matter of Royce Property Without Delay.

"It is my intention to push the matter of the Royce property sale without delay, as I promised your deputation when it waited on the board of control," said Mayor Church over the phone yesterday, and added that the Royce property has been ordered expropriated. There seems to be a tangible, as Lieut.-Col. Royce is reported to have said, nothing has reached him in reference to the Royce estate.

Fifty of the leading Earlscourt business men and merchants formed a deputation to the city hall and were introduced by Ald. Brook Sykes, George Hirdman and Donald MacGregor. The board, after a few minutes' discussion, decided that the Royce property should be purchased, and a resolution to this effect was passed before the deputation withdrew. Earlscourt says it must have the park, and will start a big and noisy campaign until it gets it. The Mayor's office has said that it is in favor of a new park for this district.

NEW STORES BUILDING.

Four new stores just completed on the north side of St. Clair have all been rented at $200 per month, while the new stores east of Dufferin are being rented at $125.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Hilda and Edith Young, sisters of the bride. Elmer Smith acted as best man. The church was crowded with relatives and friends of the young couple. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the residence of the bride's parents, and the bride and bridegroom left for their honeymoon for western Ontario.

"OVER THE TOP" GOES WHILE DOMINION IN VICTORY LOAN RACE

Large Corporations Take the Lead in Creating Atmosphere Giving Encouragement to Smaller Buyers—Toronto Hard on Leader's Heels.

Forging ahead with the surety of the race that never knew defeat, the Victory Loan activities of yesterday thruout the Dominion went "over the top" in every direction, showing results, heavy and specific, to be ahead of those of last year. Large corporations, such as the Canada Steamships Lines, the Canadian National Railway, and the Canadian Pacific, are showing splendid lead and creating an atmosphere and environment that gives encouragement to smaller buyers.

"Toronto's canvassers are 'putting it over' with marked success, and the third day of the collection was equally as good as its predecessors. The small investors are coming to the front in remarkable fashion, while many who subscribed largely on other occasions are doubling their purchases for the third loan. The canvassers are working early and late. For instance, in the district there are 27,000 places of call listed. This particular division is over the Don, and next week Chairman S. B. Playfair promises to have some surprise east enders. Mr. Playfair is eminently satisfied with the progress of the loan to date. He met the board of directors yesterday with an agreeable shock, and has a member raised his original investment from $5000 to ten times that amount.

Funny Experiences.

The eloquent meet with many funny experiences in the course of their daily grind. One canvasser, a returned man, by the way, in Chairman A. H. H. division, had booked one individual for $200 and was trying to induce him to take more, when the latter finally said: "I will not take $100 for every ribbon you can show." The veteran signed him up for $500 or $200 more.

Canvasser Harrison of Chairman Major O. Harrison, division, had a "rag and bones" merchant, who asked him if he had anything to sell. "No, but I have an anticlimax," Mr. Harrison had "written up" the "old clo'es" man for $1500 worth of bonds.

Canvasser Reynolds of the same district had a somewhat similar experience, landing a humble cobbler for $2000, when he had no more than $50 or $100 at the outside.

A Captain's Triumph.

"Captain" Joe Lawson of district "B" personally induced a transaction whereby an industry in his division increased its subscription from $5400 last year to $23,000, representing 100 factories, and 1000 employees and qualifying for seven crowns, which is a record.

Rapid progress is being made with the Victory Loan in the factories and industrial plants of the city and yesterday afternoon seven more institutions were added to the honor roll as follows:

P. C. of P. C. of Employees	Payroll
Lever Bros.	79
Palmolive Oil	10
Dunlop Tire	80
E. L. Ruddy Co.	75
Norwich Union Fire	11
Insurance	75
Soren	10
Litho Print Ltd.	25

Third on List.

Rolph-Clark-Stone Limited, whose representatives met Saturday afternoon at headquarters, but decided not to wait and left to return Sunday afternoon to find that they were third on the list, got their revenge yesterday when they returned with a new list of subscriptions and received four crests, the greatest number yet granted to any firm in Ontario. The new subscription brings the total for the firm up to $4 per cent. of the staff and 17.7 per cent. of the payroll. The company employs 352 people, including 100 girls.

An Encouraging Feature.

"It is indeed a most encouraging feature to hear from so many of our canvassers of the large number of small subscribers for the second loan who are renewing subscriptions to the extent of their resources for the present season. Even so, the Victory Loan had accomplished nothing more than this it has more than justified itself by the spirit of thrift and saving which it has instilled into the community."

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by flat-till, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis or ulcer. Excessive acid also combines with food ferments and acids, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck-Brown's Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) which is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive and takes the form of a pleasant and effective. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing ailment can usually be successfully treated at home by Sir Adam's medicine. In many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmit (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmit is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure, but to clear the middle ear of excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form of distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.

WHY "VICTORY" LOAN?

Why is this called a "Victory" Loan? "It is almost a year since the armistice was signed" we say, bolstered up by a happy inexperience of previous wars and what war entails. Eleven months ago we did not dream that by September of this year we should have had to spend a further $210,000,000 on real war account. That was so, however. All the expense of returning the soldiers and replacing them in civil life was brought to our doornet by war. The money for that purpose was borrowed on short loan. It has now to be repaid. But this is more—this "Victory" Loan of ours. It is our Canadian determination to rise victorious over obstacles to our immediate progress in the Dominion. Apart from the military item, naturally the chief expense, boldly taken, was providing $39,000,000 for European credits. This has been amply justified by results. Only by this means has it been possible for the produce of Canadian farm, field and forest, and the products of Canadian factories and workshop to be marketed where money was so scarce and yet the need so great. This, too, was "Victory"—victory over unknown and unanticipated business conditions. With these facts in mind there need be no hesitation in accepting the apt naming of the Loan. And all who take up a bond share in a patriotic act, something done for the common good, that is in rightful succession to the unfinished deeds which Canada's soldiers did—like King Arthur's knights—"to be the fair beginning of a time." Is not this Victory?

FIND WERNER HORN GUILTY OF CHARGE

Jury Says He is Guilty of Dynamiting the International Bridge.

Fredrickton, N. B., Oct. 29.—Werner Horn was found guilty today on the charge that he dynamited the Canadian end of the International Bridge at St. Croix, N.B., on Feb. 2, 1918. The jury was out only 13 minutes. Horn, who conducted his own defense, said he was a German officer, and was acting under orders of the German government in war time. The judge in charging the jury, said he regretted that Horn was not represented by counsel so that a full presentation of his line of defense might have been made. After the receipt of the verdict, after which Horn appeared unconcerned, he was remanded to jail for sentence.

Claim of Horn Horn claimed that as his country was at war with Great Britain, he was not amenable to civil law. It was the same plea virtually that he made four years ago in the United States court in Boston when he was convicted of illegal transportation of dynamite in interstate commerce. Deputy Sheriff George W. Ross of Vanceboro, Maine, who was one of the witnesses for the crown, testified that Horn remarked after his arrest that he had tried to get back to Germany from the United States when the war began but could not get pas-

Four men, all Polacks, walked into Shulham's room at 11 o'clock last night, and, when he protested, shot him dead. Thereupon the other roomers joined in the fight. One of the bandits ordered a roomer to hand over $1000. In the fight that ensued a roomer was knifed and the four bandits escaped with the money before the police arrived.

STOP SUGAR EXPORTS Order by Federal Commission—Asks Consumers to Be Careful.

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—No more licenses for export of sugar from Canada are being issued and old contracts, which called for the shipment of sugar to the United States, have been cancelled by the Canadian Trade Commission, it was learned this morning. Export of sugar along the border points, which has been permitted to some extent in the past, has also been stopped despite the many hundreds of requests for sugar being received by the trade commission. Montreal, Oct. 29.—Lloyd Harris, head of the Canadian trade mission in London, has returned from London. He said he would hand in his report to the premier. In the meantime the offices of the mission are still retained in London under direction of one of the staff. Answering an enquiry as to whether it was not a fact that some Canadian manufacturers had failed to fill their contracts and had thereby to that extent prejudiced Canadian trade in Great Britain, Lloyd Harris said unfortunately that was so in one or two instances. "One thing Canadian manufacturers and merchants must learn is this strict honor in trade," he said.

C.G.W.V.A. ADVISORY COMMITTEE RESIGNS

Letter to Hon. J. A. Calder Says Action is a Protest to Government.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Oct. 29.—Hon. J. A. Calder, chairman of the reparations committee of the cabinet, has received the letter of resignation of the advisory committee of the G.W.V.A. It was in the form of a letter to G. C. MacNeill, secretary, G.W.V.A., and transmitted by him to the minister.

"Dear Sir and Comrade: When the armistice was signed, the government of this country found itself without any policy of repatriation. The Great War Veterans' Association was invited to nominate three of its members to advise the government with regard to the point of view of the returned men. They entered upon their duties in December, 1918.

"There was no intention on their part to act as a buffer, and, consequently, they busied themselves to place before the representatives of the people recommendations which they deemed would be satisfactory to the returned citizens and to the country at large, always keeping in view the one principle that the welfare of the ex-soldier and the country are one."

Statesmanship Lacking. After enumerating the recommendations made to the reparations committee, the letter says: "To our regret and disappointment, the greater part of these recommendations have been ignored or only partially considered. Had these matters been dealt with in a statesmanlike manner, the present parliamentary committee would have been unnecessary and the unrest among returned men—the direct result of inaction and half-coordinated measures—would have been prevented.

"Even after the parliamentary committee met and the facts had been presented to them, its recommendations are apparently such that they are so constituted to regard them as unsatisfactory, and we are, therefore, placing our resignations in your hands once more as a protest against inadequate measures for re-establishing the man from the battlefields of Europe.

"(Signed) William D. Tait, R. B. Maxwell, David Loughnan."

NO INTENTION OF AMALGAMATING.

Dominion Secretary H. Montgomery of the Grand Army of Canada denied yesterday that the G.A.C. and the U.V.L. were going to amalgamate, as stated by J. H. Flynn to the board of control on Wednesday. "No arrangements to amalgamate have ever been made," he said, adding that he did not think that there would be any.

TO DISCUSS RE-ESTABLISHMENT.

Scarboro branch of the G.W.V.A. will hold their general meeting on Friday, Oct. 31, in the St. Nicholas Church, Kingston road, when the report of the parliamentary committee on the re-establishment of soldiers will be fully discussed.

ANNOUNCE FINDINGS REGARDING BONUSES

Federal Committee Gives Its Reasons for Rejecting Gratuity Plans.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Oct. 29.—In declining to accede to the gratuity proposals of John Harry Flynn, and in giving a negative answer to the request of the Great War Veterans' Association for money grants to ex-members of the forces, based upon length and plain of service, the special committee of parliament which dealt with the matter in its report, says:

"Parliament freely and unambiguously made provisions for the payment of gratuities to every returned man to tide him over from the three to six months after his return. It is now ascertained that the total cost of those gratuities will approximate $153,000,000, which, at five per cent, involves an annual interest charge of $7,650,000. No other comments are made in the report, 'has treated its returned soldiers so generously in this respect.'"

The report deals with monies advanced for land settlement, the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment, and proceeds:

Self-Reliance as Reason. "Frequently however, the opinion was expressed in parliament that the greatest care should be taken to avoid any action that would tend to deprive the soldier from his self-reliance and self-respect. It was thought to be against the best interests of the soldiers themselves that they should rely upon the aid of the state in the period following discharge. Your committee concur in these views.

Total Expenditure $314,568,726. From the evidence adduced and from official statements submitted by the several departments concerned, the committee finds that the total expenditure for pensions and various forms of re-establishment work to March 31, 1920, will amount approximately to $314,568,726, including any part of the cost of demobilization.

This latter figure does not include a sum of approximately $20,000,000, which must be expended annually on pensions.

The total amount expended or to be hereafter expended for re-establishment work now carried on amounts to $491,540,623.50, together with $30,000,000 annually for pensions. If from these figures are deducted amounts paid for pensions and expenditures and loans under the soldier settlement act, there remains a total of $263,004,124.76 for other classes of benefits.

Question of Gratuities. The financial position of Canada is next considered and the opinion is expressed that there is little likelihood of the Dominion being able to borrow the large sums needed to carry out the proposals.

On this report says: "An attempt to borrow several hundred millions of dollars in addition to the amount to be raised by the coming Victory Loan would demoralize the market for our securities, greatly injure the Dominion in Canada and abroad, and undoubtedly prejudice the successful notation of the Victory Loan itself."

Annual Interest. Proceeding, the report asserts that the annual interest charges of $5,500,000 would have to be added to each $100,000 of the proposed commitments. "Your committee is of the opinion that sufficient difficulty will be experienced by parliament in devising ways and means to meet the annual interest charges payable on the public debt already created, or which must be created to meet existing commitments."

The report continues: "The argument has been advanced that if the war had continued for another year or two, the hundreds of millions required for war purposes would have been raised in some way, and that for this reason there should be no difficulty in raising whatever is required to meet the suggestions now put forward. Your committee cannot agree with this line of reasoning. Immediately following the closing of the war Canada had to provide not only for war expenditures, but for reconstruction and re-establishment expenditures as well. It is the combination and culmination of this huge expenditure with the other year or eighteen months which makes it impossible in a country such as Canada to raise further large sums in the near future."

Making Germany Pay. "It has further been suggested that the large sums of money proposed for re-establishment purposes should be charged up against Canada's share of the indemnity to be paid by Germany. Your committee are of the opinion that the suggestion is not practicable for several reasons. In the first place, this proposal would not find the money which is said to be immediately and urgently required.

Oppose Flynn Scheme. The committee is opposed to a bond flotation such as suggested by the Flynn scheme, saying: "The securities market would be flooded and the credit of the country would be paralyzed."

A considerable portion of the findings is taken up by a discussion of taxation plans. The committee sees no objection to a tax on unearned increment, but as it cannot be retroactive it would be necessary to make a complete inventory of all lands held by private owners showing their present values.

Confiscating Capital. The final section of the committee's findings deal with the proposal to confiscate capital. The report continues: "Nobody can deny the fact that during the war—and more especially during the last two or three years—very considerable apparent and real wealth was amassed by the nation as a whole. More than that it must be admitted that such wealth should be

VETERAN CIRCLES HIGHLY INCENSED

Storm of Disapproval Caused by Rejection of Gratuity Demands.

The rejection of further gratuities for returned soldiers by the parliamentary committee on soldiers' civil re-establishment has caused a storm of disapproval in local veterans' circles. Emergency meetings have been called for early next week and prompt action to bring pressure to bear on members of parliament has been taken throughout the province.

Vice-President Sam Stalford of the Dominion command of the G.W.V.A. stated yesterday that if the government were to add $50,000,000 to the proposed expenditure of $35,000,000 suggested by the committee, and devote it to the bonus proposition, there could be enough to pay every man an immediate grant of $500. The balance of the amount called for by the G.W.V.A. plan could be paid in any one of fourteen ways outlined by the association, which would not involve immediate expenditure on the part of the government. He added that the question of what the country could actually pay was not properly investigated by the committee, and the whole G.W.V.A. scheme, worked out in such careful detail, was simply brushed aside.

Complete Farce. President S. J. Brown of the Grand Army of Canada, declared that the investigation had been a complete farce and that it was sheer camouflage through. "However, it is exactly what was to be expected from the present government," he said. "There is going to be a great deal of dissatisfaction on the part of the returned men," said W. E. Tunney, provincial secretary of the G.W.V.A. "But, setting aside the gratuity question, we at least looked for a recommendation for a further increase in pensions and for a much wider extension of the system of vocational training. The report is not the solution of the big problem, but it is one halting step along a long, long road."

Capt. R. O. Hawtrey of the Army and Navy Veterans, declared that the granting of a large sum to be distributed by the Patriotic Association was emphatically wrong in principle and was nothing but the doling out of charity to those who were willing to demean themselves by applying for it. He added that the scheme would encourage the class of men who did not want to work and who were not prepared to make an effort to help themselves.

"With the rejection of the G.W.V.A. scheme, which we endorsed," said Capt. C. Wake, president of his Majesty's Army and Navy Veterans, "the only thing the returned soldier can do now is to fight the issue at the polls."

DEMobilIZATION DEPOT CLOSING.

District Depot No. 3 will be demobilized on Friday, October 31, with the exception of hospital and casualty sections, which will be removed to headquarters, 140 College street, and administered by Lieut.-Col. Goodwin Gibson, Jun. The dispersal station I. is closed and C.E.F. personnel, reporting from overseas, will be demobilized at the point of disembarkation.

BATTALION SECURE CHARTER.

An organization meeting of the 58th Battalion was held on Wednesday night in the St. James' Parish Hall when it was announced that the association had secured a provincial charter as a soldiers' association. Col. E. A. MacFarlane, D.S.O., was elected president and Sergt. G. T. Bell secretary-treasurer.

ALL VETERANS INVITED.

The Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, Toronto unit, are giving an entertainment at St. James' parish hall at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, Oct. 30, to which they invite all veterans and friends of veterans. Ladies will especially be welcome. The admission is free.

CITY MUST RETRENCH

Otherwise Will Not Be Able to Purchase Toronto Street Railway.

The mayor is on the retrenchment road and says unless the spending committees of the council hold their hands the city will not be able to take over the Toronto Street Railway in 1921. The following expenditures, totalling fifteen and a half millions, are some of the obligations undertaken by the city: New livestock arena—One million. Additional Exhibition grounds—two millions. New schools and sites—One million and a half. New court house—One million and a half to two millions. Hydro bylaw—One million. Parks—One million. Bylaw to provide additional cars and equipment in advance of 1921—$2,500,000. Harbor improvements—Two millions.

KNOCKED BY BICYCLE.

William H. Lang, 290 West Richmond street, had his arm broken last night when he was knocked down by a bicycle at Queen and John streets. Lang is 50 years of age. He was removed in the police ambulance to the Western Hospital. The man on the bicycle did not go to the assistance of the injured man, but mounted his bicycle and rode off. The police are looking for him.

taxed for the purpose of meeting war burdens.

"Before adopting any such law," says the report, "parliament would be forced to consider its effect on the country as a whole. Whether we like it or do not we cannot overlook the fact that but an imaginary line separates us from a densely populated, highly industrialized country to the south. Any action taken by Canada that would place our industries at a disadvantage would have an immediate effect on industrial development and subsequently on employment.

"For the reasons above referred to, your committee has no hesitation in saying that it would be against the best interests of Canada to provide for the raising of revenues as suggested by this proposal."

ONTARIO EMPLOYMENT SERVICE.

The trades and labor branch of the Ontario government reports that in the past week its public employment bureaus have received an applications for work from 1002 soldiers and 1822 civilians. During the week they have placed in positions 717 soldiers and 1018 civilians. The demand for workers is largest in general laboring and lumbering.

The situation in the women's department remains largely unchanged. Applications for commercial positions number 94, of whom 20 were placed. There are large numbers of good openings for women and girls in factories, especially in the manufacture of food, metal, paper and textiles.

COMMEMORATIVE OF OUR 66TH YEAR OF SUCCESSFUL MERCHANDISING

The Toronto World

FOUNDED 1820. A morning newspaper published every day in the year by The World Newspaper Company of Toronto, Limited.

The New Leader!

Mr. Drury has been elected leader of the new United Farmers party, and no doubt in due time he will be recommended by Sir William Hearst to the lieutenant-governor, and called to the task of forming a government for this province of Ontario.

The people of Ontario, as far as we can judge, desire to meet Mr. Drury and his party in a spirit of fair play. They do so in consideration of the official statement given out by the United Farmers in caucus last week, when they said that:

In the formation of a cabinet full consideration will be given to the various interests of the province.

It is quite true that this might be construed as a vague generality, but in the meantime we prefer to interpret it to the people of Ontario as a whole.

Mr. Drury himself is entitled to the respect of the people since he has gained the allegiance of his own party. He has a difficult task ahead of him, as no doubt he appreciates. It will be none the easier because the old party politicians and their partisan adherents are unable to look with friendship on the efforts of those whose platform, if it means anything, means the disappearance of the old order of things.

The presence of Mr. Drury in his new position is evidence, however, that the people are not alarmed by such a possibility. Mr. Drury has a mandate which his judgment and discretion alone need circumscribe. He will be wise to be bold, but not too bold.

A Permanent Hydro Commission.

Yesterday's meeting in the city hall of the delegates of the Hydro-electric Union of the Municipalities of Western Ontario was a natural expression of the feeling of the people in the presence of the new situation that has arisen thru the disappearance of the Hearst government and the emergence of a new party in the political world.

The efforts made under the old government to bring the Hydro-electric system under the political domination of the party in power occasioned severe alarm to the municipalities and to the Hydro Commission. This was apparent from the stand taken by the chairman, Sir Adam Beck himself, in declining to support the late government, and previously, in refusing to acquiesce in having the Hydro Commission as a department of the government, and in declining to accept a portfolio as minister of power, both of which would have drawn the Hydro movement into politics.

The popularity of this policy has always been evident, and Sir Adam Beck owes a good deal of his strength in the country to his loyalty to the principle.

Yesterday's meeting arose naturally out of the desire to have this principle established, and the Hydro Commission made permanent. At present Sir Adam may be dismissed on a day's notice. The municipalities desire to have assurance of greater continuity in the management of this important business. They adopted a resolution asking for the appointment of a permanent, or approximately permanent commission, with Sir Adam Beck as its head, and one member representative of the municipalities.

The Windsor radial project has been suspended until assurance of such stability in the management has been secured.

The general feeling is that the investments made and the interests at stake are entirely too large to be entrusted to the charge of any body whose precarious tenure of office depended on political vicissitudes.

The United Farmers have included in their platform a strong endorsement of the Hydro policies, and there is little doubt of their general friendliness to the commission's work. We believe the people of Ontario will accept it as a token of the wisdom and good judgment of the United Farmers if they take the earliest opportunity, when their government is formed, of placing the Hydro-electric Commission in as independent a position as the municipalities desire to have it, and ensuring for the projects now in hand the fullest opportunities and assistance for their realization.

Toronto as a Great Port.

Such occasions as the annual tour of inspection of the new harbor works by the harbor commissioners, accompanied as they were yesterday by the city council, city hall officials, and members of the press, afford an opportunity for estimating the progress being made in the gigantic task that was undertaken on the eve, almost of the war, and might have been suspended in less energetic hands by that tragedy. The commissioners preferred to go forward, even at some risk, than to halt with indubitable loss, and they have been abundantly justified. The reclamation of Ashbridge's Bay, and the erection of large industrial buildings there during the war is a spectacular tribute to their judgment.

It was pointed out by Mr. Home Smith that the possible period of transition between completion and self-sustaining activity had not intervened, but the demand for manufacturing accommodation had been so large that the great enterprise was now practically carrying itself, and at the end of next year would be meeting all its liabilities in full.

Apart from the great area reclaimed in the east end, and the acres of huge buildings, there are many striking features of the development, with which the citizens should be familiar. The immense bascule bridge at Cherry street, the broad thoroughfare Commissioner street, with its street railway, the vast turning basin with all its concrete wharfs, and the endless acreage spreading to the lake on which parks and boulevards are marked out for the future, are all achievements of an impressive character.

In the west end the ship building yards are still active. A large steamer for a Norway firm is being completed at present, and the very fact that ships are being built in Canada for Norway is perhaps as striking as the location of the vast Baldwin works for the manufacture of tin plate in the eastern area.

The concrete breakwater is progressing rapidly in the west end, and will stretch four miles from Bathurst street to the Humber. Within this a protected lagoon will lengthen the bathing season by many weeks and afford opportunities for all sorts of boating and canoeing. In the park area west of Sunnyside the completed plans of the commissioners will bring Toronto into rivalry with Atlantic City, and the "board walk" has already been laid for a long stretch.

Mr. Cousins, the chief engineer of the commission, supplied some interesting facts to yesterday's company in speaking of the present and future traffic of the port of Toronto. The Baldwin Corporation expect to ship to all parts of the world. On the completion of the new Welland Canal ocean vessels of 8000 or 9000 tons will be regular visitors at Toronto. A comparison of the value of goods entered for home consumption at various ports for the year ending March 31, 1918, shows Toronto first with $214,844,773 and Montreal second with $197,152,520. There are in Toronto 2176 manufacturers, including 112 factories, established by American capital. No city of its size anywhere offers so large a manufacturing area so near the business centre as the new harbor developments do. Another attraction is the cheap electric power available, averaging from $10 to $17 per horsepower, while the cheapest artificial gas in Canada can be procured also.

What is important to the ordinary citizen to know as the summing up of the whole matter is that the harbor commission has given Toronto the distinction of being one of the great ports of the world.

Quebec is Ripening Fast.

Some commentators, who marvel at the rural political revolution, as shown in the Ontario provincial and Monday's Dominion fights, suggest that Quebec has so far felt nothing of the new tide that is running in Canadian hearts.

But, the Quebec has no counter-part to U.F.O. militancy, it is much farther ahead than is generally supposed. There are nearly eight hundred farmers' co-operative societies in the province, and Le Comptoir Co-Operatif de Montreal, a sort of clearing house for their business, is increasing its turnover at a rapidly accelerating speed. The Young Farm Women are also organizing strongly. It will be Quebec next.

Close the Grand Trunk Deal.

What parliament must do is to close up the Grand Trunk deal and let the operating officials of the Canadian National Railways start in to consolidate the several systems, cut out all unnecessary lines and services, and start in to earn all work costs. Give the people a chance to patronize and help their own railways and telegraphs. That's the first thing.

Every day's delay hurts the country, hurts the railways, calls for a waste of public money that should stop at once.

As for the reported opposition in the senate, the government certainly owes it to itself and to its policy of a system of national railways to fill up all the vacancies in the upper chamber, and if necessary strengthen its position in any constitutional way at its disposal.

Hearst and Lucas Deny Positions Filled Since Elections

Sir William Hearst and Hon. L. B. Lucas yesterday denied the statement made by Hartley Dewart to the effect that certain appointments had been made by the government since the provincial elections.

"The appointments of Messrs. Bayly, Middleton and McElroy, to which Mr. Dewart refers, were both made and approved by the lieutenant-governor-in-council before October 20," the premier declared. "Publication in The Official Gazette is not obligatory, altho it is done in most cases."

A RISING SEA

The Premier Designate

It is to be the Hon. E. C. Drury, premier-designate, leading the United Farmers-Labor coalition, with J. J. Morrison, a refuser of the post, because he would rather continue to shepherd the U. F. O. than try to steer the provincial mare with the U. F. O. in the saddle.

Mr. Morrison was wise in his decision. The premier-designate is fortunate in his opportunity. It is a vast opportunity; and in meeting it there will be abundant scope for doing the thing gracefully as there is in wearing a wreath of brambles.

Mr. Drury is an altogether presentable man, as to character, ability and record. Thirty-one years ago his father became the first Ontario minister of agriculture. He lost his portfolio with this seat. The idea of governmental place, therefore, is not foreign to E. C.'s mentality. He will not feel like a sailor on horseback; and a dress suit he will not despise. He may not be a divine appointed premier, but scores of infinitely inferior men have become federal and provincial cabinet ministers, and his intellectual equipment is more notable than that of Mr. Norris at the time he became premier of Manitoba.

Mr. Norris has made good, without getting one little bit of swelled head. Mr. Drury will not be puffed up, for he has a lively sense of responsibility, and plenty of that spirit which puts public service before personal renown. A likeable, earnest man in all his ways, and even those who will today be most anxious for his future will wish him exceeding well in the great adventure.

Mr. Drury has always regarded Parliament Hill as more certainly his sphere than Queen's Park. That in itself is a good sign, because it shows that his mind has run to the larger things. He has seen the farmer's political problem as primarily a tariff problem. He works like a nailer on his own excellent place in Simcoe county, and he has during all his manhood delved incessantly into every aspect of the tariff question, from the point of view of a producer who found many things he must buy protected from competition, and everything he had to sell exposed to the merciless chances of free trade.

So we may have a free trade premier of the most protectionist province—the province which established the Borden anti-reciprocity government against a combined majority of the eight other provinces. In 1917 Ontario gave a majority of 49 against the Tariff-Fixing pact, and Borden's net majority was only 48.

As Captain Smith of The Farmers' Sun says, Mr. Drury talks tariff when he is in company, he thinks tariff when he paces the lonely furrow, and he dreams tariff upon his pillow. Last December he addressed the U. F. O. convention on the tariff, having a great time himself, and giving a great time also to the agrarian host that filled Convocation Hall.

His position is very like that of Mr. Crerar, late minister of agriculture in the Union government. While he is always charmingly civil to the manufacturer, he cannot abide the manufacturer's economic creed. He thinks it quite possible for a very human being to hate the sin and love the sinner.

Mr. Drury has the oratorical temperament and the literary gift. He speaks fluently, in a pleasant, clear, strong, masterful voice, and occasionally touches off a humorous spark. His diction is very good. He is not turgid, as dear old Sir James was, nor volubly obvious, as Sir William is.

If he is like other men made one as great as they, Mr. Drury has two characteristics of eminence which may bring him peculiar fame. Like Lord Morley, he suffers a good deal of reaction after his considerable speeches. Like Lloyd George, he is not a model correspondent, tho not on the avowed principle that if

MOONLIGHT AND MONEY

HOUSEWORK

CHAPTER 22. It took only a few days to get such possessions as they had in place. The attic of furniture which Louise had optimistically felt would more than fill their house, turned out to be pitifully inadequate.

"We'll put all the best things in the living room," Louise had decreed while Harry stood by, his coat off and his sleeves rolled up, ready to obey her orders. "Then we'll fix up our room with the best of the bedroom furniture and what's left will go into the guest room. Probably we shouldn't need the guest room until people come home again in the fall." She added this cheerfully.

But even so, there were great barren spaces in the house, when everything had been moved to points where it showed off best. Yet Louise showed great cleverness in making a little go a long way. All the wedding presents were on display, their new expensiveness contrasting oddly with the battered appearance of the various chairs and tables. Harry's comment was brief and to the point on the evening they finished getting things in order. He simply said: "They fight awfully, don't they?"

Louise looked thoughtfully around. Certainly the magnificent Chinese lamp did look curious on the marble-top table which had been her mother's. The candelabra a girl friend had given her were perfect on the mantel over the fireplace, but the battered sofa with the carved culices and the stuffing coming thru the horse hair cover, looked strangely out of place. A wonderful Oriental rug looked at home on the floor, but the cheap oak chairs screamed their incongruity. Upholsters it was even worse. The various dainty knick-knacks always to be found among wedding presents, made the great walnut bed and bureau unbearably clumsy. A rich cover of blue satin embroidered with Chinese flowers showed up the iron bed in the guest room as tawdry. There was nothing left to do in the dining room, nothing for the sunny room Louise had once dubbed the nursery, nothing but the bed in the guest room. But Louise was not discouraged yet.

"We'll get things slowly," she told Harry as they sat by the open window and looked out into the soft darkness of the summer night. "This place was meant to hold wonderful old pieces of carved oak, Jacobean and Elizabethan styles. We must get a Flemish oak dowry chest for that long wall in the living room, and some antique sconces to go above it. "Oh yes," agreed Harry absently. He wondered how much all this would cost.

"And a long, massive library table to go back of the couch, too, so we can have the lamp behind us and the fireplace in front when we sit and read on winter evenings." Louise had always liked planning. Her voice was musical with happiness now, as she went on: "Of course when we buy some good cushions for the window seats and some English chintzes for curtains it won't look so bare."

"But, sweetheart," Harry ventured to protest, "we can't do all that now. We simply haven't got the money. You sound frightfully expensive."

Louise was suddenly sober. "Not even cushions and curtains?" she asked. "They wouldn't be much."

"Well, not now," Harry was weakening. It was hard to deny this enthusiastic little wife anything, but he felt sure she must be made to understand how very economical they must be.

Louise was thinking busily. Carol had been over that afternoon, and they had a delightful visit. Carol had raved over the place. Louise had showed off her kitchen—the one completely furnished room, thanks to the kitchen shower—and they had tea and cakes in the breakfast nook, the wedding gifts making the service of it perfect.

"A duck of a place," Carol had enthused. "Of course, you'll get your real furnishing in, and chuck all these"—with a breezy wave of her hand at the old-fashioned pieces, "I know a wonderful antique store that goes in for English pieces. I'll take you there. I suppose I shant know this place next time. I'm coming again before I go away. Oh, yes, I'm going to Newport, this summer. Where shall you go?"

Louise did not want to go away anywhere. She was perfectly happy where she was. Her ambition was indeed modest; she simply wanted to show new curtains and cushions when Carol returned in a week.

Not to do so would be a confession of poverty.

GROUP HONORS FOR VARSITY THIRDS

Nose Out U.T.S. in Junior Intercollegiate Local Group - Rugby Gossip.

In a junior inter-collegiate final staged yesterday on the back campus to decide a group winner, Varsity III played a tie game with U. T. S. but as the grounds were figured on a point basis, managed to win their group by one point.

Right from the start Varsity took the initiative and commenced to break through the U. T. S. lines for the first few minutes of play. However, they were unable to score a touch, but managed to kick a goal. Varsity then proceeded to picket and shortly after this they dropped a field goal. U. T. S. tried hard, but their best they could produce was a goal.

Score: Varsity 4, U. T. S. 1. In the second quarter U. T. S. started a comeback and had Varsity on their five and ten-yard line frequently. However, they lacked the final punch necessary to score a touch, but their good work was producing only minutes, while they held Varsity scoresless.

Score: Varsity 4, U. T. S. 3. After the rest of the teams played faster football and furnished the spectators with plenty of excitement, Varsity scored the only point in this frame of play.

Score: Varsity 5, U. T. S. 2. U. T. S. entered a final period with the determination to win the old game or bust, and how near they came to succeeding is indicated by the score. They went at Varsity tooth, hammer and tongs, and never quit until they were made in the last three minutes of two rounds.

Plays, Pictures and Music

"Love for Sale." Seats will be placed on sale this morning at the Royal Alexandra Theatre for next week's attraction, Kitty Gordon, the international beauty, in "Love for Sale," a romantic comedy with music, which marks the return of the famous singing comedienne to the regular stage in a memorable production of beauty and many striking features. The play, by Will Johnston, author of the sensational success, "Take It From Me," and Jack Wilson, is equally galvanic with surprising thrills and rich in spontaneous fun. The production also marks the professional debut of Miss Gordon's lovely daughter, Vera Beresford, the presence of Jack Wilson as chief fun-maker, and the brilliant assistance of Margaret Severin in her beautiful and beguiling symbolic act, "The Dance of Speculation."

Joseph M. Gaites, who presents Kitty Gordon in this delightful, romantic musical play, declares that in the chorus of beautiful girls with whom he has surrounded his stars he has achieved the almost unbelievable theatrical feat of introducing an ensemble entirely composed of "natural girls" instead of the artificial, sophisticated and "over-trained type" of professional corymbes.

Manager Lawrence Solman, with considerable enterprise, has secured for a run of one week at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, opening Monday evening, November 10, the Gaiety English Opera Company, in splendid revivals of the standard French and English comic operas.

Thurston, the Magician. The sale of seats opens today for Thurston, the famous magician, who will be the attraction at the Princess Theatre next week, with the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees. The engagement promises a new program of magic by what is unquestionably the only show of its kind on earth. Thurston needs no introduction to lovers of this time-honored style of amusement. He has been distinctly in a class by himself for thirteen years. The offerings which he has made during these years in this field of amusement are pointed to with pride, and should stand as a guarantee of what may be expected from him this season.

Thurston returns to Toronto after an absence of two years, following his successful season of eight weeks at the Globe Theatre, New York. Originally booked for two weeks, Mr. Dillingham, manager of The Globe, after witnessing the magician's performance, appealed to him to extend his engagement six more weeks.

Dumbells' Engagement Extended. The famous Canadian soldier entertainment organization, known in France as "The Dumbells" has made such a decided hit here at the Grand Theatre that the engagement has been extended another week, in order to give the people at home an idea of the really wonderful theatricals which were staged in France by and for our boys, the members of this company, all soldier-actors, having served an average of sixteen months on active service before being chosen by Captain M. W. Plunkett for service in the entertainment corps.

The Dumbells gave over five hundred performances in France, many of them immediately behind the front lines, where bursting shells played an important part in the "fighting effects." For this tour they are offering their original overseas revue, "Biff, Bing, Bang," which is staged as nearly as possible in the manner in which it was given over there, excepting the matter of bursting shells, poison gas and cooties. During the second week matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

Shea's Vaudeville. Next week at Shea's an all feature act bill has been booked, headed by Alice Lloyd, the English comedienne. It is three years since Alice Lloyd has been in America. Miss Lloyd might in all truth be called "America's favorite comedienne," because there are few stars who have gained the same enormous popularity here that has Alice Lloyd. Tom Devaney and several of his shipmates, all of whom have seen service "over there," are bringing that portion of the ship where gods make merry, to the stage in the "Jazzland Naval Overture." Williams and Wofus make buffonery a high art, or rather Herbert Williams does, as he is an eccentric comedian par excellence, and his partner, Hilda Wofus, his capable foil. Since "School Days," Dave Roth, whose specialty is "Versatility," offers jangling, a grand piano and a personality. The Rinaldo brothers are athletes par excellence, and their Roman art presents them in a series of artistic poses. The El Rey Sisters, dancers on roller skates, complete the show.

Probably no musical instrument has attained such vogue as that of the piano accordion, and one of the foremost exponents of this type of music will head the bill at Shea's Hippodrome next week in the person of Pietro. The feature picture on the program is one of Pathé's newest presentations, namely, Mae Murray, in "Twin Ponds." Sam Lovett & Co. will offer a hodge-podge of mirth and melody, entitled "The End of the World." Larimer, Hudson & Co. are novelty cyclists who have reduced their work to an art. Frances and Eldon are variety artists who depend on no particular line to amuse and entertain. They sing, dance and exchange crisp comedy patter in rapid-fire fashion. The Horsimer Trio of strong men toss huge weights as if they were handling toy balloons. Edith Danforth, singing comedienne, with new songs and stories; the new $100,000 Harold Lloyd comedy, "Bumping Into Broadway," and a Pollard one-rod comedy round-up an excellent bill.

At Loew's Next Week. An old-fashioned game of "forfeits" starts the complications in Will Rogers', the former star of the Zeisfeld Follies, latest picture, "Almost a Husband," which will be shown at Loew's Yonge Street Theatre and Winter Garden next week. His clever wit and unaffected acting of the town school teacher make this production a living bit of that quaint river town of long ago, immortalized by Ople Reed in "Old Ebenezer." The Imperial Pekinese Sextette who, before the Chinese revolution, were the emperor's court entertainers, top-line the vaudeville. They introduce an exceptional novelty in some boomerang hurling, rare feats in balancing, clever feats of equilibrium, and a few exceptional illusions. Suspended from a wire by the queue of the head one of the Collectals makes a daring slide from the balcony to the stage. Other vaudeville features embrace: Jack Reddy, in character studies from life; Edward Farrell and Co., in a comedy farce, "Suspicious of Hubby"; Mahoney and Rogers in "A Seashore Flirtation"; Grace Leonard, a smart comedienne, and Frank Brown, "The Jazz Boy of the Xylophone. Loew's British-Canadian Weekly, and the "Mutt and Jeff" cartoons will also be shown.

Victory Belles at Gayety. "Frolloques Ala Mode," is the title of a lively musical farce in which the Victory Belles company appear next week at the Gayety Theatre, beginning with the matinee Monday afternoon. The plot if one can say there is one, has to do with a burlesque revue in two acts, ten scenes and a prolog and comprises many big novelties, showing the complete construction of a burlesque show in full view of the audience. Eddie Dale has charge of the comedy in the revue, while Franz-Marie Texas, the dashing prima donna, is given a splendid opportunity to display her beautiful gowns and also to render some classic numbers. Vivian Lawrence, the sunbeam soubrette, also plays an important part in the entertainment. Others of importance are Jeanette Brown, Bert Lester, Fred Reese, Lloyd and Clark. There is a beautiful chorus of twenty maidens.

The Strand Attraction. Great crowds are being attracted to the Strand Theatre by the wonderful Canadian photodrama, "Back to God's Country," showing there for the entirety of this week. It is literally true to say there has never before been a picture like "Back to God's Country." It is a made-in-Canada film and the cast is Canadian, headed by a native-born star, Neil Shipman. No drama was ever produced so far north; many of the scenes having been filmed in the Arctic, with the thermometer more than 50 degrees below zero. The story itself is also unique in its introduction of wild animals. Sixteen different kinds of these play a part in the story, and the manner in which their lives are interwoven with those of the human characters is portrayed as only James Oliver Curwood, the famous author of the drama, could succeed in doing.

"One of the scenes never matched on the screen is a tremendous battle between the savage and powerful Wapi with an entire team of dogs driven by the villain. And among the weird happenings which make the picture so different to others is a midnight dance of Eskimos on a ship frozen in the northern ice. There are many such scenes, and they are real, not imaginative settings.

"Back to God's Country" is showing at 12, 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10.

"The Miracle Man" at Regent. "The Miracle Man" is to remain at the Regent Theatre for another week. George Loane Tucker's great production has made an indelible impression upon all who have seen it and today there is more talk about "The Miracle Man" than any other picture that has ever been seen in Toronto. The story is thrilling in the extreme, and so touching a human in its appeal that it fairly rivets one's eyes upon the screen. "The Miracle Man" stands out prominently in this year's big picture stories and can be best appreciated by viewing it. The performances start at 11.15 a.m., 1, 3, 5, 7.15 and 9.15. As many as can are advised to attend the early performances.

"Mickey" at Madison. The greatest photoplay in the world, "Mickey," with Mabel Normand in the title role, will be presented at the Madison Theatre today and for the balance of this week. For excitement, adventure, humor, heart interest and pathos, "Mickey" is in a class by itself, unapproached and unapproachable. It is the screen's supreme and sublime achievement.

At the Allen. In "The Girl From Outside," Rex Beach's pulsing story of the girl six men loved, Allen Theatre patrons will have a chance to see some interesting acting. Clara Horton as June, the girl who on her way to Nome loses her father on the boat, is protected by a boy thug who saves her at first sight. The boy is later shot by a gambler. The "Kid," who has made the supreme sacrifice for the welfare of the girl, and so paved the way for her marriage to another, is splendidly acted by Cullen Landis. Clara Horton, as the girl, unfolds possibilities as an emotional actress of unguessed powers. Leung Chow, as the Chinese chef of the thugs, is one of the surprises of the picture. His performance is sincere, sympathetic and powerful.

TOMORROW'S CONCERT. By the Four Great Singers from the Metropolitan Opera.

A magnificent concert will be that given by the quartet of vocalists from the Metropolitan Opera House on Friday evening in Massey Hall. The program consists of solos, duets, trio and two quartets, and the singers will be Alda, Lazzari, Kingston and Chalmers. Wherever they have given these concerts during the past week immense audiences have listened spellbound, and their success has been enormous. Massey Hall should be crowded to hear this combination of great musicians.

Removal of Poles Question May Go to Privy Council

At the next meeting of the city council the mayor will move a resolution to give the Toronto Electric Light Company notice to remove their poles from the city streets. Manager R. J. Fleming of the Niagara Power Company, evidently thinking something was in the wind yesterday, sent a letter to the mayor reminding him that the Niagara Power Company had acquired all the assets of the Toronto Electric Light Company, and were, in law and fact, owners of the entire plant, and contends they have a perfect right to keep the poles on the streets. It is expected the dispute will be carried to the privy council.

PRISONS INSPECTOR HOTLY CRITICIZED

John B. Laidlaw Attacks Administration of Refuges by Dr. MacKay.

In the course of an address given at the 6th annual meeting of the Industrial Refuges, the Aged Men's and Aged Women's Homes, John B. Laidlaw, who presided, attacked the administration of Dr. A. MacKay, successor to Dr. Bruce Smith, inspector of prisons. Referring to the decrease in the number of inmates in the refuges, the president said that Dr. MacKay had not given the refuges the requisite support.

"During the past 18 months not only have no inmates been sent by Dr. MacKay, but he has ordered the release of thirteen of the inmates. In some cases these girls have completely disappeared; in some cases we know what has happened to them, and in some few cases they have come back begging to be taken in."

Secretary's Report.
The secretary's report stated that there were 55 inmates in the refuges, 103 in the aged women's home and 47 in the men's home. The report also emphasized the point that the refuges was not a place of restraint nor a prison where a girl was made to suffer for her sins.

Figures from the treasurer's report showed that total receipts at the refuges were $24,481.55; balance on hand, $16,924; total receipts at the women's home, $24,720.92; with a deficit of $3245.23; total receipts for men's home, $11,939.58, a deficit of $2082.01 remaining. In moving the adoption of the report, Dr. Brittain said it was necessary to take a strong hand in the matter of protecting the community by proper protection for the feeble-minded. Dr. Pratt spoke along similar lines, attributing complaints against the juvenile court to the starvation policy of the city in regard to its machinery.

York County Rich Enough To Provide Own Schools
The question of public and high school accommodation in the city for children residing in the township of the county of York is under the consideration of the board of control.

Reverting to this question the mayor said yesterday:
"A rich county such as York should be able to look after its own school population. There is no liability on the part of the city to take into the high schools those who live in townships."

RURAL TEACHERS' PAY
Local Boards Thrust Ontario Respond to Stimulus Offers by Special Grants.
At the last session of the legislature the sum of $250,000 was voted as additional amount for rural schools. It was to be used specifically for the increasing of rural teachers' salaries on the understanding that the local trustee boards would on their part make corresponding increases.

Hon. Dr. Cody, minister of education, has just received a letter from Inspector Cole of North Oxford, reporting on the increases that have been made this fall since the sending out of the special grants. The inspector accompanied the grants by a letter on the subject of increased salaries. He reports that 12 boards have received increases ranging from $25 to $200. The salaries run from $700 to $1000. This report would indicate that the local boards are promptly responding to the stimulus offered by the special grants.

KITTY GORDON SAYS WORK IS TRUE ROAD TO FULL HAPPINESS
Noted Actress Expounds Sound Doctrine in Letter to Her Daughter.
Dear Vera: I suppose you'll get married some time. I hope you will, and I hope you get a fine young man with enough money to support you comfortably.
But my dear daughter, I haven't any of the old-time ideas about the home being the only place for a woman. No one could expect me to have that attitude towards life and marriage when I have made a success by my own activities outside my home.
I think it would be splendid if your future husband had plenty of money, so much money that you never need to worry or think about money matters. But you may fall in love with a man who is simply making his way in the world, and who can't afford to support you in luxury.
In the event of such a thing happening I don't want your young romance to be a failure. I want you to be able to have no terrors over the possible loss of your husband's money, or his death leaving you alone and helpless in the world. Therefore, my dear, I advise you to begin right now to train yourself in some line of activity in which you can support yourself in case of necessity.
You have done some work in motion pictures, Vera, and you screen well. If you really enjoy acting—if you have a deep, abiding love for the stage or the screen, go in for more heavily. Learn all the technical tricks of the trade. I'll show you how to register emotions and all that sort of stuff. If you decide that acting is the occupation in which you'll be the happiest, learn the technique of it so thoroughly that you never have to depend on me to land a position, but can get it thru your own sheer ability.
If you feel that you want to write stories or articles, learn that profession. Study it carefully. Know what you're doing and how you're doing it. Don't make a success of it. Don't be content with mediocrity. If you feel inclined to teach, learn that profession. Or if you want to go into office work, become a good stenographer. You know I know stenography thoroughly and find it a big help to me.
My dear, dear, whatever you go in for, take up so that you can always feel yourself capable of making your own way in the world—go in for it

LECTURER REVIEWS HISTORY OF ACTING
H. Charlesworth Says "Personation," Not "Personality," is True Art.
Special to The Toronto World.
St. Catharines, Oct. 29.—Hector Charlesworth, assistant editor of The Toronto Saturday Night, spoke before a large assemblage of the Women's Canadian Club at the Welland House here tonight on the subject of "Personation and Personality." In a rapid review of the history of acting on the English speaking stage he showed that it was the history of a long line of exceptional and interesting personalities. Nevertheless, he held that it was an error, fraught with evil consequences both to the drama and to public taste, to make personality the sole test. Personality, the true interpretation of character, and the emotions and ideas that spring from character was of equal or greater importance. It brought in art, which crowning intuition, instinct and magnetism, the gifts of personality, gave birth to true and beautiful acting.

Farmer Mulcted in $1,010 for Importing 10,000 Bottles of Whiskey.
David Crawford pleaded guilty in the county court yesterday morning to a charge of selling whiskey and was fined the maximum penalty amounting to $1,010. I was so completely down and out that I could not do anything, could scarcely dress myself. I had the doctor and took other medicine but without getting better until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and his Golden Medical Discovery. It was only necessary for me to take about three bottles when I was completely restored to health and strength and I have been in better health than I ever was before. I have had no use for medicine since, but should I need it I would take these same remedies, knowing them to be excellent."—MRS. HARRY KNIGHT, Jessie St.

OWES HER LIFE
St. Saskatchewan, Alta.—"It is with great pleasure that I write the following and I hope it will help the many sufferers who do not know the good Dr. Pierce's medicine would do them if they would try them. In regard to my condition, I will say that I suffered from childhood from a very weak back; I had the misfortune of having spinal meningitis when I was one year old and until I was 13 I did not see a well day, but a very kind lady told my mother about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and she got a bottle to try it. It did me so much good that mother got me 6 bottles. Recently I happened with a car accident and hurt my back badly. My doctor gave me up and said I would not live, but I still stick to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and to my surprise in three weeks I was out of bed and better. I owe my life to it and nothing else, and shall never be without it. If any sufferer wishes to write I will answer with pleasure."—MRS. NOEL BARTHOLOMEW.

FINED MAXIMUM
Farmer Mulcted in $1,010 for Importing 10,000 Bottles of Whiskey.
David Crawford pleaded guilty in the county court yesterday morning to a charge of selling whiskey and was fined the maximum penalty amounting to $1,010. Crawford, a farmer at Scarborough Junction, was arrested last week when the police seized 10,000 bottles of whiskey on his farm. William Ritchie, who used his truck to assist Crawford in hauling a carload of whiskey from a railway siding to the farmhouse, was allowed to go after being scored by Magistrate Branton. Crawford was known to have supplied a number of "liquor dives" in Toronto, and it was said that he had

NEW YORK MARKET GIVEN FRESH CHILL

Coal Strike Outlook and Flurry in Money Cause Stocks to React.

New York, Oct. 29.—The favorable quarterly report of the U. S. Steel Corporation was the foremost influence during the early and intermediate stages of today's stock market.

These were offset in the later dealings, however, by another flurry in money and the news that the United mine workers had refused to rescind their strike order.

The vagaries of the money market were reflected in an opening rate of 9 per cent, that quotation prevailing until the final hour, when 12 per cent was demanded from which a drop to 4 1/2 per cent occurred, the final rate being 5 per cent.

Steels and equipments were the most active features of the session, but they were overshadowed by the heavy selling of oil, shippings and sugar shares, in which several new records and sensational gains were made.

Texas Company led all others at a gain of 31 points to 246 losing only a point at the close. Cuban-American and South Porto Rico Sugar scored extreme advances of 25 and 20 points respectively and United Fruit made a vigorous start of 19 points, with 7 for Atlantic Gulf.

Republic advanced more than 800 shares of stock were traded in there, the price advancing to a high record, 73. In Toronto a similar advance was noted at this time, representing a four-point advance.

Atlantic Sugar was the only stock in the list, yielding a net gain of 1 1/2 points, while the rest of the list, ruled firm around 28. MacKay advanced half a point to 80, but elsewhere moderate declines were largely the order.

Liberty issues were the only exception to the easier trend of the bond market, the 5's again mounting to 101, total sales (par value) aggregated $12,250,000.

Old U. S. coupon 4's declined 1/4 on sale. Others were unchanged on call.

N. S. CAR'S OFFER Hamilton, Oct. 29.—A special meeting of the shareholders of the National Steel Car Company has been called to consider a new plan of reorganization.

General Motors, Continental and several of the tobacco issues had their periods of strength but popular miscellaneous specialties were dull or heavy.

Sales amounted to 1,475,000 shares. Liberty issues were the only exception to the easier trend of the bond market.

The reorganization scheme calls for a new company which will take over 19,000 shares of its stock and allow the shareholders of National Steel Car to receive the settlement results on its French orders.

The new company is to pay into its treasury $1,250,000 cash.

Trading Continues Quiet on the Toronto Market—War Loans Are Steady.

There was little in the course of prices on the Toronto exchange yesterday to suggest on the one hand that the public is keen to buy stocks at present levels or, on the other, that holders in general are disposed to unload.

However, the sudden slackening of the demand for stocks is causing some uneasiness among pools which, having had to acquire considerable lines of certain issues in the process of building up fancy prices therefor, are now facing the problem of getting rid of them without causing a severe break.

GOVERNMENT PLAYS TRUMP IN NAMING G. T. R. ARBITRATOR

Appoint Sir Walter Cassels—Government Takes Chance in Senate.

Special to the Toronto World. Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 29.—Hon. Arthur Meighen, on behalf of the government, played a trump card in the house of commons this afternoon, when the Grand Trunk bill was under discussion.

The bill as presented to the house provided for one arbitrator being appointed by the government and another by the Grand Trunk, and the two were to select a third, or if they could not agree, the third arbitrator would be chosen from among the superior court judges of Canada by Sir Louis Davies and Sir Walter Cassels.

The Opposition were inclined to be gloomy as to who the third and most important arbitrator might be. However, it is now certain that the government will get a fair deal and the Grand Trunk bill will probably pass the house tomorrow or Friday at the latest and be sent to the senate.
