DOCTORS IN FREE HOSPITALS IN VIENNA SAID TO EXPERIMENT WITH HUMAN BEINGS.

AN ENGLISH FIRM GOT THE MONEY POISON OF DECOMPOSING CORPSE

And Then Failed to Deliver the Goods—Now Uncle Sam Wants That Money Back.

London, Jan. 25.—The Vienna correspondent of The Morning Leader says: "It has been discovered that the physicians in the free hospitals of Vienna systematically experiment upon their patients, especially new-born children, women who are enfeebled and persons who are dying. In one case a doctor injected the bacilli of an infectious disease from a decomposing corpse into 33 women and three new-born children. In another case a youth who was on the high road to recovery was inoculated with the bacilli of typhoid fever. Many patients have been tortured with poisonous germs and many men have been inoculated with contagious diseases. One doctor, who had received an unlimited number of healthy children from a foundling hospital for experimental purposes, excused himself on the ground that they were cheaper than animals."

A BILL FOR "GOOD ROADS" To Be Introduced at the Coming Session—Bicyclists and Others Are Clamoring.

It is said that one of the bills to be presented at the coming session of the Ontario House will be a "Good Roads" bill to provide a grant towards the maintenance of the main roads, providing government supervision, leaving the townships to look after their own. With this will be included the suggestion that the Government advance money on debentures to the municipalities, in order that the work may be entered on simultaneously. This would be right in line with the bicyclists' movement.

REGARDING THE COMING IRISH UNIVERSITY BILL.

QUEEN'S COLLEGE, BELFAST

To Be Made a Teaching University, According to the Proposal.

Another University to Be Created at Dublin—Belfast Institution Will Be Protestant and the One at Dublin Roman Catholic—Both Will Be Subject to the Usual Tests and Scholarships From the Public Funds Will Be Open to Persons of All Creeds.

London, Jan. 25.—The Right Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, Government leader in the House of Commons, and member for East Lothian and Rose-shire, in a letter to a constituent, forecasts the character of the coming Irish University bill.

The measure will propose to raise Queen's College at Belfast to the status of a teaching University and to create another University at Dublin. Both will be on identical lines, except that the first governing body at Belfast will be Protestant, while the governing at Dublin will be Roman Catholic. Both institutions will be rigidly subject to the test acts. At scholarships and the fellowships from the public funds will be open to persons of all creeds, and no public endowment will be given for chairs of philosophy, theology or modern history. The number of clerical governors will be strictly limited.

Mr. Balfour cautions Roman Catholics who are not satisfied with this bill to be useless to agitate further.

HAS DROPPED THE GAZETTE.

Publication of Dr. Chinquy's Conclusion Did Not Please Some People in Montreal.

Montreal, Jan. 25.—(Special.)—There was quite a ripple of excitement in newspaper circles to-day, when it became known about the Mr. Richard White, managing director of The Gazette newspaper, had received a communication from the Archbishop of Montreal, relating to the publication of the Rev. Dr. Chinquy's sermon on faith. It was at first reported that the Gazette had been threatened with episcopal censure on a large scale, but subsequently it was ascertained that the letter was not quite so serious as all that. Mr. Bruchet simply wrote Mr. White to drop the matter, and the Archbishop's censure of the Rev. Dr. Chinquy's sermon was not published.

E. T. HARGROVE MARRIED.

Former Head of the Theosophical Society Weds His Successor's Daughter.

It is announced by The New York Sun that Ernest Temple Hargrove, President of the American Theosophical Society until Sept. 15, 1897, and one of the theosophical teachers around the world, has been married to Miss Amy M. T. Verwarden, daughter of E. August Neresheimer, President of the American Theosophical Society, of New York. Mr. Hargrove, who visited Toronto two years ago and is well known here, is a son of J. Sidney Hargrove of London and Yorkshire, and a direct descendant of Sir William Hargrove, who held Gibraltar against the Spaniards in 1704. Mr. Hargrove has called for Southampton, England, in the St. Louis, and after visiting the bridegroom's parents, will make a trip around the world.

The Premier and "The Jay."

Premier Greenway is in town a sphinx to reporters. But, whatever his business may be, he is certainly mixing it with pleasure. Coming from the midst of the wild and woolly Provincials at Winnipeg, he appreciated "A Jay in New York" as only a gentleman so circumstanced could appreciate it, last night.

Cold Dip Coming.

Meteorological Office, Toronto, Jan. 25.—(p.m.)—The low area which was over the Middle Atlantic States last night developed into a more pronounced storm, and heavy rain and gales have occurred in the Maritime Provinces. Another low area, which had moved very quickly from the Northwest Territory, is now centred in Minnesota, and an important high area, accompanied by a cold wave, is spreading eastward in its rear.

Probabilities.

Lower Lakes—Strong winds and rains, shifting to northwesterly and comparatively mild at first, followed by a change to decidedly colder weather; light local snowfalls.

Upper St. Lawrence—Rising temperature and light snow to-day, followed to-morrow by heavy rains and a change to decidedly colder weather.

Lower St. Lawrence and Gulf-Fair, followed by snow at night, and a change to colder weather.

MME. PATTI'S WEDDING

The Little Town of Brecon in South Wales Was All Aflutter Over the Event.

THE SERVICE WAS VERY BRIEF... Sir George Faudel Phillips, Ex-Lord Mayor of London, Gave the Aged Bride Away.

London, Jan. 25.—Adelina Patti, the singer, was married this morning at Brecon, Wales, to Baron Cederstrom, director of the Health Grmanship Co., here. Madame Patti took a train from Craik Nos. her residence to Brecon, which was prettily decorated for the occasion. The bride and groom were met by the five brides and the police, headed by the town banner and the mace bearers, escorted the wedding party, in five laudous, to the Roman Catholic church, which had been specially decorated. Sir George Faudel Phillips, former Lord Mayor of London, gave Patti away. The service was very short.

Madame Patti was married in a travelling dress of dove-colored satin, embroidered with steel, with a bodice of pale grey, and trimmed with many orchids. Her traveling cap, which matched her dress, was ornamented with a design of true love knots.

The procession to the church and returning to the station passed under several triumphal arches, bearing inscriptions in honor of the bride. The streets were crowded with invited guests. The wedding party will reach London late this afternoon. The bride and groom will start tomorrow for the south of France, where they will spend the honeymoon.

Adelina Patti, the widow of Nicolai, died on Jan. 18, 1898, was born in Madrid on Feb. 19, 1845. She was first married in 1868 to a Russian nobleman, and was married to Nicolai in 1888. She is the daughter of Saviour Patti, a well-known tenor, and was born in New York in November, 1850, and at the Italian Opera, in London, in May, 1880.

Baron Olof Rudolf Cederstrom was born in Sweden. He is a member of the Swedish Club, and was director of his own health gymnastic institute in London.

ONE PASSENGER, ONE SEAT,

Is the Rule on Street Cars Which the Board of Control Will Now Attempt to Enforce.

MR. KEATING JOLLIES THE BOARD,

But the Question of Overcrowding Will Now Be Taken Up in Dead Earnest.

The Board of Control, to their credit, he it said, swam on the popular wave yesterday, and dealt with the street car overcrowding question in a manner unqualified and uncompromising. They have declared for one passenger, one seat, and have directed, as a result of their deliberations,

That the City Engineer be instructed to report to this board the number of cars required for each street car route throughout the city, and the intervals at which such cars should run in order to provide proper accommodation for the citizens desiring to use the cars.

The Engineer's Order. To get at this, the Engineer is to station men at central street railway corners to count the passengers at congested hours, and to regulate the traffic in accordance.

The report is to be in such a shape that after next Council meeting the company will have been ordered to put on more cars. Keating Manager and Keating Engineer.

Manager Keating, by letter from the Mayor, tried to steer the Controllers from the straight and narrow way. He wrote as follows:

I see by the newspapers that attention is again being devoted to the City Hall case, and I desire to draw your attention to the fact that this company is as much opposed to the practice as any of the riders can be.

You may remember that some two or three years ago the City Council passed a resolution limiting the number of passengers to be carried inside of closed cars to 50 per cent, above their seating capacity, and in open cars to their seating capacity. When I had the honor to hold the position of City Engineer, I frequently advocated the advisability of adopting some measures for enforcing this regulation, and suggested that the services of the police should be called into requisition in assisting the officials of the Railway Company in the enforcement of this law.

On the 4th of January, 1898, a joint report was made by the City Engineer and myself upon the subject of preventing overcrowding on the platforms of the cars, in which it was also suggested that the services of the police would be required.

I can assure you that the company would be pleased if any reasonable and effective method could be devised which would have the effect of preventing the overcrowding of cars, but you must be aware that if instructions were given to our officials to eject passengers when they are overcrowded, it would lead to very serious troubles and breaches of the peace, unless the passengers were convinced that passengers had the support of the city authorities in preventing overcrowding.

I should be glad to meet you and discuss this matter with you at any time you may appoint, but I cannot do so unless you are to be served by the frequent attacks made upon this company for allowing a state of affairs to exist which they have not the power to prevent.

It has frequently been suggested that by putting on extra cars overcrowding would be stopped. This, however, is not the case, as I have frequently stated. It is not possible to put on extra cars when an extra car immediately following the overcrowded car is not half full.

You will, therefore, see that this course would not remedy the trouble, as the practice of a great many people is to crowd on to the first car which comes along, and nothing will stop them, unless they are obliged by some means to keep off.

The Board Saw the Game. But the board, though pleased to see Mr. Keating's clever complacency, saw his point. The Mayor, it is true, ventured the suggestion that "the public are to blame," but Aid. Burns said so, and so did his other colleagues.

The Controller compared Toronto with Broadway, New York, and said that the thoroughfare, where there was no overcrowding, because the people could see other cars coming, and did not rush for the first one.

"Yes," acquiesced Aid. Lynd; "if the people knew another car was coming in the minute they would wait for it rather than be crowded."

Aid. Lynd is the man who first initiated here the final motion urging that the Engineer find out what accommodation was necessary, and order the company to put it on. In this way, if they refuse, it would establish a legal case for the city to act upon.

"Unlike the Mayor, who wanted to get on past refusals, he would 'let the dead past bury its dead.' Entirely correct evidence of the company's dereliction was determined upon.

Aid. Woods translated the Keating letter to mean an effort to forestall any move the board might in its determination attempt. He contended the man who is the rider under the 50 per cent, surplus of 'standards' quite gratulations, being, as was this arrangement, a drink of his own delusion. It was Aid. Woods who insisted that the Engineer should post his men at such corners as King and Yonge, Queen and Yonge, and College and Yonge, to count heads. Then they could proceed according to Aid. Lynd's advice, and order a better service.

What Constitutes a Car Full? Then the question arose as to what should constitute a comfortable car full. Aid. Lynd believed that the general law applying to public carriers, that every person was entitled to a seat, should apply here. Aid. Woods was glad to note his conversion from the ticket-punching idea. "What an absurdity it is," said Aid. Burns, "for Mr. Keating to ask us to have the police put people off overcrowded cars!"

The idea was condemned as conducive to creating rows. It was also agreed that the city, by section 38 of the agreement, could not be the Mayor's confessed that "the simplest thing to do is to make them put on more cars."

City Solicitor Caswell was consulted. He advised that the company be ordered to comply with requirements, and, if they refused, that they be sued.

The Mayor: Then, what evidence would you submit?
Mr. Caswell: None. Simply say they have not carried out our orders.
The Mayor: Then, the only objection to putting on more cars would be the congestion of cars it would cause?

Deputy Engineer Fellows pointed out that the board would be to be rearranged, because it would be impossible on congested streets to have a car on one line following another closely. And you have all on schedule time.
"But," said Aid. Lynd, "that's the company's business."
"Let them run up Church or York-street more, for instance," suggested Aid. Burns.
Upon a return to the point of stationing men to count, Aid. Hallam put that they should be reliable men. The Mayor asked his meaning.
"Don't ask pointed questions!" was the only reply.
Then, said the Mayor, "we instruct the Engineer to report to us the cars necessary to an adequate service, and we report it on to Council."

The board concurred, and it was so. Controller Burns proposed with Aid. Hallam a repeal of the Keating as City Engineer's arrangement whereby a comfortable number of passengers were placed at a 50 per cent, surplus over the seating capacity.

One Fare, One Seat. The board affirmed the right of every passenger to a seat, and the Engineer is to work on this basis.
Aid. Lynd qualified a little, observing that a few might be allowed on to stand, if they wished.
Aid. Hallam: Don't you want every man to get a seat?
Aid. Lynd: You can't help a few standing.
Aid. Hallam: Oh, you're going to compromise.
The Mayor: John, don't confuse the board.
Here the report was drawn up as agreed upon, and the board adjourned.

DEATH OF MR. HOMER DIXON

An Aged Citizen Who Was Greatly Honored Passed Away Yesterday Morning.

LATE CONSUL FOR THE NETHERLANDS.
Interesting Family History—Sketch of the Career of the Deceased—His Varied Interests.

A large circle of friends and many citizens will learn with regret of the death of Mr. Benjamin Homer Dixon, which occurred at his residence, 14 Walmer-road, yesterday morning. For two years he had been in failing health, and the end was not unexpected. Deceased was born at Amsterdam, Holland, March 10, 1819, and thus had nearly completed four score years.

He had been a resident of Toronto for more than forty years, and no one was more highly respected in the varied circles in which he moved. For many years Mr. Dixon resided at "The Homewood," on Wellesley-crescent, at the termination of Homewood-house, which was noted as the first brick residence in that portion of the city.

Deceased was of Scotch descent, the family name being Dickson; but his grandfather, Thomas Dickson, altered the spelling to Dixon, before he removed to the Netherlands, in 1788. There he invested in real estate, which, when the French revolution broke out, became untenantable. When the French invaded the country he was imprisoned, and he died in 1824, aged 85. His only son, Thomas Dixon, was born in 1781. During the first French Revolution he was confined to the guillotine, and twice imprisoned. In 1810, he visited the United States, and in 1818, married, in Boston, Mary, the daughter of Benjamin F. Homer. He returned to Holland, where he was made Knight of the Order of the Netherlands Lion of Gold in 1820. He afterwards returned to England, and in 1840, the younger of his sons, Fitz Eugene, married the daughter of Hon. George M. Dallas, Vice President of the United States. A daughter married the late William H. Boulton, M.P., of the Grand Duchy of Tuscany, and, secondly, Prof. Goodwin Smith of this city.

Thirty-Three Years Consul-General. The deceased Mr. Dixon was created a Knight of the Netherlands Lion in 1838, and appointed Consul-General of the Netherlands for Canada in 1840. He continued in this office in 1850, on account of declining health and advancing years, on which occasion, in recognition of his services, he received from the Queen Dowager Regent of the Netherlands the honorary title of Consul-General of the Netherlands.

Mr. Dixon was three times married: first, in 1818, to Miss Kate McCall Macnamara, daughter of the Chief Justice; secondly, in 1824, to Miss Anne, daughter of Hon. Charles Howard, daughter of the late Mr. W. B. Howard, by whom he had a family of three sons and three daughters. One daughter, Elizabeth, married the late Mr. G. K. Kirkpatrick, ex-Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario. One daughter, Anne, died at three months of age. The second wife of Mr. Dixon died in September, 1841, and two years later, he married Miss Elizabeth Mand Carston, daughter of the late Mr. George Carston, partner in the firm of Carston, Hays, and Carston, of London. By this marriage there was one daughter.

A Devout Evangelical. The deceased was a member of the Church of England, of most pronounced evangelical views. For many years he was a communicant at St. Peter's Church. In the days of the bitter controversy between the High and Low Church parties in Toronto, Mr. Dixon took a very decided stand for the latter. He was secretary of the Church Association for a number of years. He has published, in addition to other works, "The Bible and its History," "The Scriptures and Mistakes and Errors, with Reference to Paganism." This work, which is of very high grade, is published by the Toronto Bible Society. He was a constant writer on religious topics, being the author of several treatises against the "Liturgy of the Book of Common Prayer," and the "Romanizing tendency of High Churchism."

Mr. Dixon was a director of the Evangelical Churchman Publishing Company, and president of the Deerpark Sanitarium. He was a liberal supporter of many institutions, charities, and societies, and in his removal the poor have lost a good friend, genial and cheerful to the last. He has passed in a good old age, and his life of activity in which, at the call of duty, he had found delight for so many years.

At the request of the family the funeral will be strictly private.

Architect Must Hustle.
The Market Improvement Association Executive Committee met yesterday afternoon to stiffen the Council's back, and to make assurance doubly sure that the bylaw would be kept afloat. They resolved as follows: "That the Executive Committee of this association impress on the City Council the necessity of such prompt action as will protect the health of the Market by-law, so that there will be no possibility of the expressed will of the people being defeated by the lapse of time; and that the association desires to place its name on the list of petitioners for the proposed amendment, so long as it is qualified, and has given proof of its ability to push the work to an economical conclusion."

A New Gas Company.
Peter McIntyre, Edward McManis (father-in-law of J. F. Eby, if they get encouragement from the Fire and Light Committee, will form a gas company, and will attempt to make gas from crude petroleum. All this is said in the notice of suspension of the by-law for 20 years.

The committee yesterday approved of gas for the Island for 20 years, and offered to the Board of Control. The company proposes to sell at a maximum of $1.50 per 100 feet.

Dunn After Sheppard.
Aid. Dunn is after ex-chairman Sheppard. He had passed a resolution for report as to the number of horses possessed by the Fire Department during 1898, with names of parties selling, and cost of same, also showing the number disposed of, to whom and price received.

Factories Want Fire Hall.
The Toronto Carpet Company and a dozen other factory companies memorialized the committee for a new fire hall south of King-street, and between Dufferin-street and Strachan-avenue. The committee will visit the district on Monday.

In spite of the objections of the Rolston Laundry Company, the fire hall was to be on the east side of the street, at the intersection of King-street and the old crossing at Greenwood-avenue, was referred to the secretary.

Will Be Faulkner's Land.
A conference was held yesterday afternoon between Commissioner Fleming and Mr. Faulkner, regarding the proposed extension of the latter's property. Mr. Faulkner agreed to sell his property to the city for $100,000, the only condition being that Mrs. Macdonnell's property should also be incorporated. It was stated that the city will take up or reject the Sunnyside Ordinance award. It was understood at the conference that the commission would recommend the purchase of the Faulkner property on these conditions.

Fell Dead at Chatham.
Chatham, Ont., Jan. 25.—Jerry McCarthy, a wire-fence maker, while talking to a friend on King-street this afternoon, dropped dead without a moment's warning, and without uttering a sound. A physician, who was passing, was struck by the falling man, and upon making an examination, found life extinct. No inquest will be held.

Death in the Air.

The chief cause of consumption is the poisonous matter expectorated by consumptives. The germ is never in the breath of the patient, nor in the exhalations or excretions from the body, except when the bowels have become affected, when it may be found in the stools. Consumption is in the air, and its deadly germs find lodgment in the weak and irritated membranes of the lungs. This explains why consumption is associated with coughs, colds and sore throats.

JAMES CROWELL, of Plainsville, Pa., writes to S. C. Wells Company of Le Roy, N. Y., the proprietors of the Shiloh remedy: "My two brothers were taken down with bronchitis and inflammation of the lungs, and doctors seemed to be of no use. We were induced to try Shiloh's Cough and Consumption Cure, and found that it gave immediate relief, curing them within a very short time. Shiloh's Consumption Cure is sold by all druggists on a guarantee that the purchase money will be refunded in case of failure. 25c., 50c. and $1 a bottle in Canada and the United States. In England, 1s. 2d., 2s. 3d. and 4s. 6d."

Seed Values. [107]
The material in Cottam Seed costs twice as much as that in inferior brands. But birdkeepers pay no more for Cottam than for others. As a nutritious bird food Cottam has no equal. This accounts for its enormous sale.

NOTICE. We give this notice to all who have purchased Cottam Seed, and who have not yet received their money, to send their money to the following address: JAMES CROWELL, of Plainsville, Pa., writes to S.
