

HELPFUL ADVICE GIVEN IN HIGH SCHOOL CLOSING

their hands the torch would fall when he and others now bearing the executive burdens of the city, will have passed away or become unaided. His Worship said that one-half the taxes of this city are devoted to the upkeep of the public schools.

After the flag salutation and the singing of the National Anthem the graduating class was snapped by the moving picture machine in the great plot in front of the Admiral Beatty Hotel.

AT ST. VINCENT'S.

Kindly advice to the 23 graduates from St. Vincent's High School was given at the closing exercises, held this forenoon in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, by Rev. Rev. Dr. A. LeBlanc, Bishop of Saint John. His Lordship trusted that the young women who were about to enter upon a new life would always show a good example, continue to study, read good books and not useless novels, be good cooks, and be grateful to the State and teachers who had done so much for them.

MODESTY IN DRESS.

Bishop LeBlanc remarked that some of the graduates would probably enter the office of business houses. "If you do," said His Lordship, "do not go there to attract the attention of men, but dress modestly and not as if you were going to a ball room." In this regard His Lordship said he was in favor of young women in business houses wearing a regulation uniform, similar to that of the nurses in hospitals, which he considered beautiful and appropriate. He also advised the girls to remain in Canada and to be true to the ideals in which they had been so well and carefully instructed.

MANY GATHERED.

The auditorium, including the gallery, was filled with relatives and friends of the happy graduates, and the program presented was a very high order, the young women showing in the declamations and playlet presented that they had had efficient preparation and instruction.

DIPLOMAS PRESENTED.

The diplomas were presented to the graduates by Dr. S. A. Worrell, superintendent of the city schools. He heartily congratulated the class on its excellent showing and wished the young women every success in the new life which lay before them.

WINTER STREET

In the Winter Street School no formal closing exercises were held today for the school as a whole, but several of the classes gave short programs of songs and recitations in their own classes. The assembly hall will not seat more than half of the pupils and the boys and girls of grades 7 and 8 assembled there for the presentation of the I. O. D. E. history prize in Grade 8. The prizes were presented by Mrs. Norman Gregory, regent of the Royal Arms Chapter, and the second to Miss Mary O'Brien, who is also the leader for the year in their respective classes.

Kelly, who was attired in blonde silk with shoes, stockings and hat to match. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The groom was dressed in a tuxedo. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. E. Styles.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Finley motored to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Clarence Ball, Fairville, where a buffet luncheon was served.

Parker, daughter of Mrs. Emeline E. Parker, of Chamcook, and William Alexander McKinnis, of St. Andrews. The bride, who was given in marriage by T. T. Odell, looked charming in a costume of powder blue georgette combined with printed georgette in pastel shades, and wore a sand hat trimmed with blue. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. ADVISES H A L T IN SELLING OF STOCK

Utilities Chairman Trueman Sends Letter to British Canadian Packing Co.

Notice has been sent to the British Canadian Packing Co. by Mr. Trueman, chairman of the New Brunswick Board of Public Utilities, stating that their certificate to sell stock had expired, and advising them to cease selling. The chairman said this morning that no further certificate would be issued until after the report of the auditor, A. E. Cox, had been received.

Mr. Trueman said this morning that in his letter to the company he pointed out that the authority granted by the board, under the act, was only for a period of twelve months. That when the original application for authority to sell $250,000 was before the board and it had been decided to grant the authority, the company had asked that the first certificate be for $100,000, on the understanding that it could later be increased to $250,000, on paying the fees and complying with the regulations. That when the authority was increased to $250,000, it was not to be extended, nor could it be extended under the resolution of the board, and therefore the supplementary certificate purporting to read for a year was a clerical error.

In closing the letter he said it seemed to him that any sale of stock after May 27, 1926, was illegal, but certainly any sale of stock after the date of this notice would be illegal.

Louis Donovan is to Have Charge of Six Men Making Trip

Several local amateur boxers will probably make a trip to Newcastle to give some boxing exhibitions in connection with the Old Home celebration next week. Harry Gagey and Willie Logan are to appear there in a sculling race it was announced recently. Six local boxers will probably make the trip in charge of Louis Donovan, former Maritime featherweight champion.

Louis Donovan said this morning that he expected that there would be probably three bouts between Saint John boxers as well as one or two more by Newcastle men. There will be one "all between" between Gerald Donovan, New Brunswick flyweight champion, and John Lifford, N. B. 100 lb. champion. Another contest between Pat Whipple, Maritime champion and Harry Lunn, N. B. champion. The third bout will be between David McNulty, Maritime and N. B. champion, and Reg. Harber, colored lightweight champion of the Maritimes.

Louis said this morning that Dr. Jack Redfern was arranging the bouts from Newcastle.

ON ROCK OR SAND?

School closing again! Then the holidays and another term after that, except for those who are emerging from the crystalline to spread their wings. The upward surge of the lower grades is interesting to those who have personal interest in any child the grade that occupies is the only one worth considering—but the climax of each school year leads on and on to the last effort which is to send the young man or woman out into the world's sea to the seats of more advanced education.

Yesterday we asked, where will these be four or five years hence? Today it may be permitted to ask what they will be? It depends on what degree of real education they have absorbed along with the more material training. Have they deep implanted in them the qualities that make for contentment, a life of service whatever be their circumstances, a pride in achievement, an enjoyment of that deep lasting happiness in art, music and literature bequeathed to us from the ages; or are they only fit to snatch at dollars for work grudgingly given and buy what transitory pleasures anybody can obtain for cash? Are they hitherto plants to be in the sun or shrivel at the first frost, or are they ready to face the tempests of the world and use without abuse the good things life has to offer them?

On the answers to these and like questions rests all prophecy of their path through life. Whether they be Canadian born, or from the Old Country, or from other lands, like the young Roumanian who leads the graduating class of St. Vincent's, we wish them all good fortune. They have probably been preached to more than enough, but one piece of advice we will add; live to serve, cultivate a sense of proportion and keep smiling.

MUNDELEIN.

What can be said of the wonderful demonstration of religious fervor at Mundelein more descriptive than the words of the despatch? "Like a great tide, ever gathering momentum, the waves of human emotion swept upon Mundelein forty miles west of Chicago through every available channel of movement, until the seminary grounds and its outlying territory became a vast city of nearly a million souls dedicated to a faith nineteen centuries old. Read on and realize if possible the solemn adoration of the Host, and whether one regard the consecrated water as Our Lord's body in fact or in symbol, the devotion of that multitude of pilgrims must strike a sympathetic chord, arouse a desire to declare the Christian's faith.

That mighty climax in which the princes of the Catholic Church joined with the humblest pilgrim blots out all that has gone before and dazzles the mind's eye beyond hope of retaining impressions of what may follow. Nevertheless all must have detected the motif running like a clear melody throughout the Congress, an expression of understanding and tolerance of non-Catholic. Christendom. Perhaps a League of Churches may be formed in the not too distant future, and from that what misunderstanding might be removed, what unions might result it is impossible to predict.

THE SITUATION IN FRANCE.

There appears to be at last an earnest desire on the part of the French people to rid France of the political influences to which that sorely distressed country's financial ills are directly traceable. The various parties and blocs which make up the French Parliament have as usual been playing politics rather than trying to save France and their Parliament is so constituted that alliances of different blocs make it impossible for the Government to put through constructive legislation. The left numbering about 280 deputies and known as the "Cartel des Gauches" has held the balance of power in the Chamber of Deputies since May, 1924 and has influenced the policy of each succeeding government, resulting in much harmful legislation. As a consequence capital has been frightened out of France.

The French system of taxation has suffered most from this cause, so that today taxation is very inequitably distributed. Peasants and workmen escape almost entirely while 70 per cent. of the taxes come from a very small proportion of the citizens. For instance, we are informed that districts in the south and west with an aggregate population of 18,000,000 pay only 210,000,000 francs while the district of the Nord with a population of 1,760,000 pays 212,000,000 francs.

Lack of confidence, largely caused by the inequitable taxation and by the wild socialist schemes that are proposed, is causing industrialists to retrench rather than expand and the consequent export of capital from the country has made it impossible to stabilize French currency.

The appointment of the committee that was to ration France and have a free hand in the making of recommendations, which, it was felt would be acted upon, raised new hope, but political interference makes of it merely a consultative body whose weight will hardly have the necessary salutary effect.

The ability of the French people to emerge from a difficult situation at the blackest hour probably will be the means of pulling them triumphantly through this crisis and it is hardly probable that the franc will go the way of the mark although observers tell us there doubtless will be still further depreciation.

Provided the French people have learned the folly of hampering themselves at the present time with socialistic influences and if their Parliament will replace the present top-sliced electoral system, it would seem that France's salvation lies in a new election. This may result in the return of a Parliament able and willing to meet the situation with a broad statesmanlike vision rather than the narrow politically advantageous viewpoint which has characterized past parliaments of recent years.

Those torpedo-shaped tanks to contain whisky, buoyed by air for towing and found in a rum schooner may be the germ of a really effective smuggling device. The towing part seems crude, however. Why not use real torpedoes with whisky instead of explosive and stand off shore to fire them as necessary? As for the "concentrate which makes a kind of whisky when diluted"—"kind of" is probably right.

Only a woman would have dared to blame mother's bad language for the daughter's loose speech. A Miss Morrison said: "For years we have made allowance for father's strong language, but now another is nearly as bad and he is having a serious effect on the girl's speech among themselves. This is all a part of the so-called greater freedom." Oaths are usually meaningless. They may be foolish, but seldom harmful. A Presbyterian divine recently declared that he "shared the wish expressed by another clergyman that someone would compose a form of sound words suitable for the use of a pious man in circumstances of extreme provocation." Most of us have experienced the relief afforded by an occasional violent expletive and if it helps our daughters to let off steam—why let them. The Italian idea is worthy of note however. Cursing and swearing is now a crime in Italy because it spoils the beauty of the Italian language.

Odds and Ends

In County Donegal

(Alice Fleming in Boston Transcript.)
What, did you say, was my sister saying?

"No luck comes where the eyes are green."

Take that folly an' turn it stravin', Green is the luckiest color seen.

Isn't grass green for the eyes to rest in?

Aren't the trees of the same sweet hue?

Mind you this, when she starts her jestin', I'd love you less if your eyes were blue!

What was my little brother shouting?

"Hair that 'ud match our red cow's tail."

I'll be with him an' stop his floutin'.

With a kind little word from the tip of a tail.

You, with your hair where the sunshine ranges,

Like the autumn light on the beechen track.

Is it me would be wantin' changes?

I'd love you less if your hair was black!

What was my poor old mother creakin' in?

"Never a cow and hen but few."

Widows, Cuthie, is sore provokin'.

'Tis often all that they've left to do.

She, with her lame back, there to do knittin'.

Angry with pain, and sad to be old—

Mind you this, when she starts her jestin', I'd love you less were you hung with gold!

The Only Way.

Dr. Brisbane Elliott, the Cincinnati therapist, said at a banquet:

"Pure water is the best therapeutic agent. The Japanese know this and drink gallons daily. Result? They are the healthiest people on earth."

"Our people," he went on, shyly, "water in bulk and there's no way to make them drink it unless—"

And Dr. Elliott chuckled.

—Unless we prohibit it."

Just Fun

HE SAYS: "And on a cold night like that she pulls all the covers up over herself, leaving me to freeze to death."

She says: "And with the thermometer below zero, I wake up shivering in the middle of the night and every last stitch of cover on him. If I catch pneumonia, there's him to thank."

DINNER STORIES

THE sailor approached the officer at the gate with a knowing leer.

"Say, skipper," said he, "if I bring off a few little souvenirs tomorrow will it be all right? I'll make it all right with you."

"Sure," said the officer "what time will it be? I want to be here myself to see you through."

"Make it two o'clock," said the sailor.

The next day at that hour alone came the sailor, glancing furtively from side to side. As he approached the gate the customs officer and two huskies jumped him and searched him. Not an atom of dutiable stuff could they find.

"No," said the sailor, "I was taking it out yesterday when we met."

A SCOTCH subaltern was one day on guard with his friend fell off a precipice and was killed. The subaltern, however, made no mention of the accident in his guard report, but left the addendum, "No one extraordinary since guard mounting," standing without explanation. Some hours after the general demanded an explanation.

"What do you mean, sir, by reporting 'No one extraordinary since guard mounting'?" when a fellow officer has fallen down a precipice four hundred feet deep and been killed?

"General," said the lieutenant, "I don't think there's anything extraordinary in that. If he had fallen down a precipice four hundred feet and been killed, that would have been something like."

"WHY is Jinks so sad?" one male gossip asked of another who knew the subject of the inquiry.

"Reason enough, I should say. He was in the park this morning, and saw a woman going into a faint. He nearly caught her in his arms, and—"

"Was robbed by her, eh? Old stuff, that."

"You're wrong, old man. Not that sort of a case. She proved to be a millionaire's daughter."

"Then what is he so blue about?"

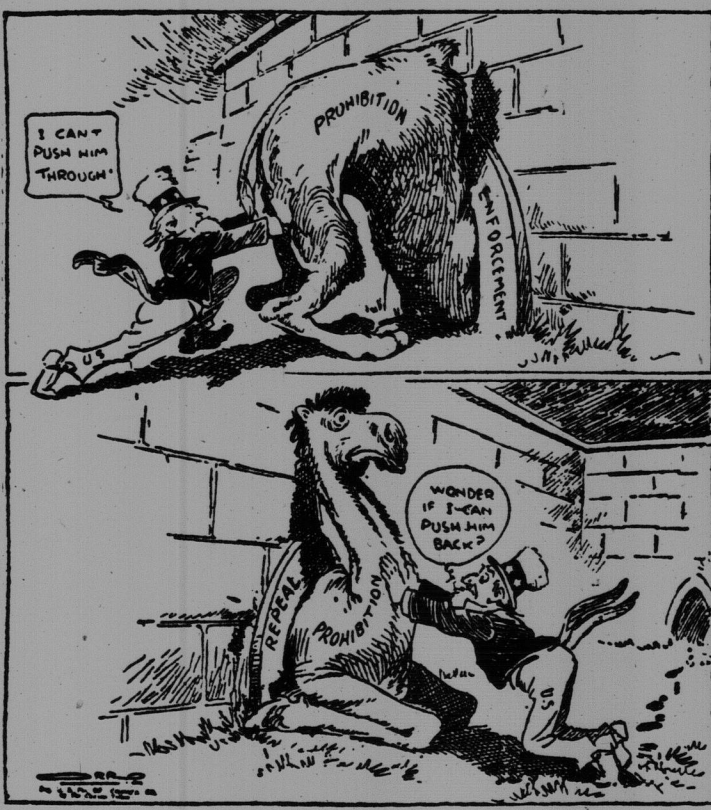

"Well, he didn't catch her."

THE MARITIME PROVINCES.

Ottawa Journal.

Nova Scotia and New Brunswick have gained more rapidly in population in the past twenty years than the adjoining states of Maine and New Hampshire. Nova Scotia has gained more in proportion than Maine, notwithstanding the exceptional impulse which Maine has been getting from her seaside resorts and hunting and fishing propaganda. The Journal has given the statistics repeatedly. The cold fact is that owing to geographical and climatic reasons, and attractive industrial and agricultural conditions elsewhere, the whole northeast quarter of North America, on both sides of the international border, has been inevitably more or less comparatively slow in progress; that our side of the border is no worse off than the other, and would likely be a great deal worse but for Confederation.

POEMS I LOVE

"Come, Sleep," by Sir Philip Sidney

THE series of sonnets known as "Astrophel and Stella" by this old English poet form an enchanting chain that binds two lovers. I am of those who prefer to believe that Sidney was sincere when he wrote these exquisite poems. I know that doubt has been expressed as to his high feelings when he addressed himself in rhyme to the Stella of the sonnets; but even if the soldier-statesman-poet was not in earnest, we have the group of incomparable poems, and that is enough for me.

Come, Sleep! O Sleep, the certain knot of peace,

The poor man's wealth, the prisoner's release,

With shield of proof, shield me from out the press

Of those fierce darts Despair at me doth throw.

O make in me those civil wars to cease

Will good tribute pay if thou dost so.

Take thou of me, smooth pillows, sweetest bed,

A chamber deaf to noise and blind to light,

A voy gadland, and a weary head; And if these things, as being thine in right,

Move, with thy heavy grace, thou shalt in me

Livelier than elsewhere, Stella's image see.

Queer Quirks of Nature

THE BATTLE OF PARASITES AND PESTS.

By ARTHUR N. PACK.

Aphids or plant lice are among the most common and by no means the least injurious of our insect pests.

To understand why they so suddenly appear by myriads it is necessary to learn something of their life history.

Scientists who have studied the group tell us that many of them hatch in spring from eggs that have lain in wait for months in some protected place.

The individuals hatching from these winter eggs are all females and possess the power to bring forth living young without fecundation, and these can continue the process.

So naturally, with new generations coming in bark and other situations, the tribe soon overruns the nearby plants. So far the insects have been produced, and these are able to travel to other food plants.

After a time both males and females are found among the broods, and these produce eggs which are deposited in cracks in bark and other situations, there to winter and provide for the continuation of the process.

Methods of reproduction, one would think that the aphids would soon possess the earth, and so they would if it were not for their natural enemies.

Of special interest are the relations between ants and aphids. The latter secrete a sweet liquid called honeydew, of which the ants are very fond.

Certain ants, in order to insure a supply of this substance, maintain herds of aphids, just as we keep cows.

CHOICE OF WORDS

Shakespeare's plays contain fifteen thousand different words. Milton's words half that number. These were writers of prolific thought and phrase, yet even they did not make heavy draught upon the store of nouns, pronouns, verbs, adverbs, and adjectives in the English language. For there are a hundred thousand of them in all.

"I'll gladly pay the grocer, and believe me it's enough. But, frankly, I leave no air, as to helpin' eat the stuff. The feed that she's preparin' may be nice 'n' all of that, but I prefer an air in the outdoors. Where's my hat?"

"Of course you know the answer to what's goin' on tonight—the reason why yours truly much prefers to fade from sight. The neighbor 'girls' are comin' and a bridge game's in the air, so father's goin' bumm'n' cause he's just not wanted there."

NICE PROGRAMS AND PRIZE AWARDS MARK CLOSING OF SCHOOLS

NEARLY TWO HUNDRED FINISH COURSE IN CITY AT THIS TERM

Excellent Exercises Mark Closing Day in City's Institutions of Learning—High Marks Reported in Some of Announcements Made

TODAY is one of the big days in the life of the 9,000 school children of the city and one they have been eagerly looking forward to for some weeks now, as it marks the ending of the school year and the beginning of the nine weeks of summer vacation. For nearly 200 pupils it marks the ending of the school life and they put away their books to enter the larger school of experience and play their part in the game of life in the work-a-day world. Bright sunshine graced the day.

Special programs had been prepared in all the schools and also there were presentations of I. O. D. E. prizes in several buildings. Some of the schools, including St. Vincent's Boys' High, St. Peter's Boys' and the New Albert, held their closing exercises last night. Programs follow in detail.

St. Vincent's High

His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc, in addressing the graduates at St. Vincent's boys' high school closing exercises in St. Vincent's auditorium last night, strongly urged them to continue their studies, although their school course was completed, and urged them also to remain to carry on a life work in Canada.

The large auditorium was filled to capacity and the pupils carried out the very fine program under the direction of the principal of the school, J. Harrington. His Lordship presented the honor certificates and Dr. S. A. Worrell, superintendent of the city schools, presented the certificates for the graduates.

The formal address to the graduates was given by E. J. Henneberry and a splendid exhortation to the boys to carry out in their lives the high ideals which had been instilled in their days of training. Dr. J. K. Higgins, a member of the Board of School Trustees, also spoke and gave the graduates much wise counsel. Eli Tokach, the class leader, was valedictorian.

The program was as follows: Selection—Orchestra. Chorus—O Canada. Essay on New Brunswick—Leo Hogan. Chorus—Our School. Selection—Orchestra. Presentation of diplomas. Chorus—Canada. Valedictorian—Eli Tokach. Presentation of honor certificates. Address to graduates—E. J. Henneberry. Class prophecy—C. Britt. Chorus—Hiking song. Selection—Orchestra. God Save the King.

THE GRADUATES

The graduates were Eli Tokach, Leo Hogan, Douglas Eastham, Don Gillis, Harold Peterson, Cyril Britt, Kenneth Brown, David Fitzpatrick, Owen Kennedy, Edward Fitzgerald, Fred Coughlan, Maurice McCourt, Bertram Richardson, Wilfred Clarke, William McCarron, Gordon McNamee, Cyril Stevens, John Chandler, James Douglass and Leo Pye.

The spacious auditorium was filled to capacity and the graduates were accorded very hearty applause. The graduates of 1926 are to be the guests of the graduates of 1925 at a dinner at the Clifton House this evening. The class of 1925 was the first graduating from the boys' high school.

New Albert

The large auditorium of the New Albert School was filled to capacity last night when the parents and friends of the pupils attended a musical festival presented by the pupils under the direction of Prof. J. F. Browne and heartily enjoyed every minute of an exceptionally fine program. Palms, ferns and spring flowers in profusion were used in the very effective decoration of the hall and the work of the household science and manual training departments of the school which was on exhibition was very greatly admired.

During the evening Lieut.-Col. N. P. McLeod, M. C., presented the Medal of Honor to Norval Melvin, captain of the New Albert Cadet Corps, congratulating the corps on having won that trophy for the third successive year. A previous cadet trophy is now in the possession of the school, having been won on three successive years. Pleading incidents in the evening were two presentations. Miss Harriet A. Smith, the principal, presented to Mr. Browne, on behalf of the pupils and staff, a suitably engraved gold everlast pencil and Miss R. Fenton, on behalf of the girls, who had had special gymnasium training out of school hours, presented a handsomely bound book of Canadian poetry to their teacher, Miss Edna Shaw.

Manual Training

Among the articles of the manual training exhibit were a tea wagon made by Douglas Stann and a bench made by Morton Taylor. These two pieces won for their makers the prizes which were donated by E. R. W. Ingraham. All of the articles shown were very well made and they included two table lamps, piano benches, a library table, jardiniere stands, book-cases, and several other pieces. The household science department exhibit included twenty of the dresses and many other dainty garments, among them very pretty kimonoes, which were made by the pupils during the last term. Prizes in this department were donated by J. A. Gregory and were won by Beatrice Ramsay of the New Albert school, and Gerald Buckley, of St. Patrick's school. An exhibit of canning by this department was also very fine and much admired.

AN INTERNAL BATH HIGHLY RECOMMENDED

A prominent physician made the remark recently that if people were half as particular in regard to internal cleanliness as they are about external appearance three quarters of our ordinary ailments would be eliminated. This medical man said people did not stop to think of the importance of keeping the system just as clean as one is careful to keep hands, face and body. The result is that the intestinal tract becomes clogged and waste material which should leave the body daily stays there for an indefinite period doing a harm few people realize. So many ill are traceable to these clogging poisons! An internal bath sounds novel, but it is much easier to take than any other kind! A spoonful of Sal Lihofex before breakfast (or any other meal), dissolved in a glass of tepid water acts as a gentle cleanser of the bowels—provides a soothing internal bath that rids the body of dangerous toxic poisons and gives one that feeling of freshness, vigor and well-being. A further advantage of the internal bath lies in the fact that a healthy body ensures an alert and active mind which makes for greater efficiency and happiness in one's daily work.

E., on behalf of the chapter, presented prizes of nicely-bound books to the pupils of Grade 7 who had attained highest marks in British history. In Miss Briggs' Grade 7 the first prize went to Frederick Jackson, average 94%, and second prize to Ellen Seely, average 91. In Miss Dougherty's Grade 7, Harry Arbo won the first 90%; Walter Treacartin, 90.3.

Answering the Man Who Searched in Vain for One Unselfish Woman—Silencing the Tactless Husband Who Sings to Wife No. 2 the Praises of Wife No. 1—Must a Poor Young Man Give an Engagement Ring?

DEAR MISS DIX—For years I have tried in this big city to discover somewhere in its labyrinthine streets one single unselfish woman, one woman whose goodness exceeded her unfathomable conceit. But I have failed and have become a confirmed woman hater, one who sees all women as parasites. Their rats into the substance of a man's earnings, just for their own selfish pleasures. Reducing by the employment in offices and shops the wage scale of the young man who is to strive for their future home and happiness. Spending every cent of their plundered wages to satisfy their conceited taste for clothing of questionable modesty and for cosmetics hideous in their unattractiveness. Unmindful of their purpose in life, untutored in the arts of the home, their silly heads as empty of anything worthwhile as their hearts are of the true comradeship that made men in the olden days proud to love, honor and respect them. I maintain that women are parasites, unselfish of men's respect. Am I right?

ANSWER: Wrong. Absolutely and teetotally wrong. You are judging all women by some inferior specimen of the sex that you have happened to meet, which is as unfair a thing as it would be to say that there are no good apples because you have happened to get a rotten one.

You say that you have searched the city in vain, hunting for an unselfish woman. Why, I can point them out to you by the thousands where, if you want to see one of the commonest and also one of the most beautiful of the species, take a look at the next mother that you see going down the street pushing a perambulator with one hand and holding on to a toddling little child with the other.

The woman will be poorly dressed, and there will be many brown-paper parcels in the foot of the baby carriage, for she will have been shopping around at the cash-and-carry groceries and at cut-rate butcher shops, trying to make one dollar do the work of five in feeding her hungry family.

There won't be anything mysterious looking about the woman, but nevertheless she is a shining marvel of unselfishness. For she has offered herself up body and soul on the altar of her home. She works harder than any slave making her husband and children comfortable and taking care of them. She spends sleepless nights nursing them when they are sick. She sits what is left of her night nursing them when they are sick. She wears the poorest clothes. She stays at home when they go to school. She does without everything that it is possible to do without, that her girls may be well dressed and her boys go to college.

And not one but thousands and thousands of women give these daily and hourly exhibitions of unselfishness right before your eyes.

You complain in one breath of women being parasites and in the next of their earning their own living, so pray, what is a poor girl to do? She has to live, and if no man will support her she must support herself, and isn't it a far finer thing for her to earn her bread and butter honestly than for her to graft it? And don't you really think that a woman has the same right to life, liberty and the pursuit of a good job as a man has?

And don't forget this, that every self-supporting woman sets her brother free to marry, which he could not do if he had a lot of helpless sisters hanging around his neck.

So take a fairer look at your sister woman, Mr. Disgusted. There are women who are silly and frivolous and gold diggers, just as there are plenty of men who are brainless and worthless loafers.

But there are also tender, unselfish, wise, good women, just as there are men made in the image of God. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a college woman, a good musician, and have inherited considerable money from my father. A short time ago I married a widower much older than I am. He does nothing but talk of his first wife and sing her praises to me, her wonderful cooking and beautiful figure. She weighed 200, whereas I weigh only 105. Also he tells me what wonderful presents he made her, diamonds and jewelry he gave her, but he has never purchased me even an engagement ring. As a matter of fact, he did give me the engagement ring, but he told me that he had given it to his first wife, who had lost it. He said that he had given it to his first wife, who had lost it. He said that he had given it to his first wife, who had lost it.

Do you not think I married a senseless fool instead of a man? SUSAN.

ANSWER: You certainly have, Susan. Any man who ever mentions his first wife to his second wife at all has so little intelligence that he should not be allowed out in public without a keeper. His rightful abiding place is a home for the incurably Posh-Minded.

It is incredible that any man could be so dumb as not to know intuitively that a second wife is inevitably jealous of the first wife's youth and his romance. He may be better to her than he was to his first wife. He may be kinder, more generous, more considerate, but there is always that little unacknowledged pang because she wasn't the first choice, and what she is getting is warmed-over love and rehearsed affections.

Surely it does seem as if a man with any sense of the fitness of things should know without being told how his second wife is bound to feel about his first wife, and he might at least preserve a decent silence concerning her estimable qualities.

But, strangely enough, when a widower goes-a-courting his line is always to tell a woman how much she reminds him of his dear departed Maria, as if there could be a woman alive or dead that any woman who loved a man wouldn't rather resemble than his first wife.

If your husband is one of these stupid blunderers who is always throwing his first wife's biscuits in your teeth, Susan, the only thing you can do is to follow the example of a woman I once knew who was situated just as you are.

Her husband also discoursed loud and long about what a woman of virtue his wife was, and in the midst of one of these eulogies wife No. 2 burst into loud sobs. "What are you crying about?" asked her husband.

"Oh," wailed wife No. 2, "I am crying because your first wife died! Nobody in the world could regret her death as much as I do." And that held him for a while. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—Considering that I am a poor young man, paying for land, will it be all right for me to marry the girl I love without giving her a diamond and to have a very simple wedding? JOHN.

ANSWER: Not only eminently proper, but in good taste. A diamond ring is not necessary to make a marriage legal and binding. In fact, more marriages stick without diamonds than do with them, and many a man who couldn't give his wife a diamond the size of a pinpoint when he married her has decked her out in tiaras and stomachers by the time they celebrated their silver wedding.

Luxurious Garments Meet Extraordinary Demands

By MME. LISBETH
LUXURIOUS garments for extraordinary occasions may be found in the showings at all the smart shops and at the establishments of leading dress-makers. Rich, colorful materials, trimmings of embroidery and feathers, lace and flowers, make these costumes and, donning them, the lady feels herself the fairy princess indeed.

Above are three of these fascinating garments for three different occasions. At the left, Jane Winton, movie star, wraps herself in a voluminous and elaborate negligee of lace material trimmed with ostrich. It is not the robe one would choose to wear if one had to prepare one's own breakfast, but would be a queenly garment to lounge about in if one was a guest in a palatial home. If one were visiting one's rich relatives, for instance.

Another feather-trimmed garment is worn by Fatsy Ruth Miller (center). It is an evening wrap and is edged at the hem with wide, heavy lace and the feathers form a deep collar finish to the wrap. A beaded frock simply made is worn under the wrap and the tulle is also an interesting part of the costume.

The cost me for serving afternoon tea is often unique and varied in character. The negligee type of pajama has been worn for this hour, but flowing gowns are more general. The tea gown pictured (right) is an intriguing one of lace. It has hem length sleeves, very wide and loose, and side drapes of the lace fall to the floor. A spray of flowers is posed on the left shoulder and falls down the front of the gown almost to the waist.

While on the subject of unusual things it might be mentioned that the style tendencies for fall in the jewelry line are favoring crystal, according to a recently returned-from-Europe buyer. Crystals developed in all forms, necklaces, brooches, earrings and bracelets will be featured alone, and in combination with black, the rondelle types introducing a touch of color, especially in brooches.

Long necklaces composed of medium-sized pearls also will be important. Pink and cream are accented tints. Earrings, especially button types, and short pendants, are gaining in favor.

Slave bracelets in which carnelian and chrysoprase cabochons lead, will maintain their prestige, and smart men wearing those of one and one-half inch width in the opinion of this buyer. Ingenuity in the shapes of the links and in the method of decoration will introduce new ideas in their development.

Tuna Fish Scramble—Break tuna fish into fine bits, add two tablespoons of milk (canned milk will do), a tablespoonful of butter, pepper, and salt to taste and a chopped onion. Have ready a frying pan with about two tablespoons of hot bacon grease. Break into this eight eggs and stir in the tuna fish. Serve on toast or bread. If you prefer salmon to tuna fish it may be substituted, and if you do not wish either tuna fish or salmon cut up several onions and serve as onion scramble. Chopped parsley is an agreeable addition to any of these scrambles.

Hamburg Steak—Make balls of chopped beef, seasoning with onion, pepper and salt, and binding together with bread crumbs and egg. Drop into a mixture of tomato, chopped green pepper and onion and cook until done. At least one-half hour, according to the size of the meat balls.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

THE MONEY AND THE BASKET TREE

"We forgot to ask those queer creatures if they had seen anything of Inco and Flops," said Nancy when she and Nick had gotten their breath.

"Oh, well!" said Nick. "I'm sure they were not there anyway. Inco never would make up with rubber bathtub toys or Christmas tree duds."

At this both the pink tickets stretched up out of the pockets and said: "They weren't there anyway. We told you not to go there."

"But the goats butted us over the wall and we couldn't help it," said Nancy. "Were you going to take us?"

But before either of the pink tickets had time to say a word, Nick grabbed Nancy's arm. "Look!" he cried. "Somebody has lost a lot of pennies."

"And nickels and dimes," declared Nancy dropping on her knees and starting to pick them up as fast as she could.

"And quarters!" shouted Nick. "And half dollars! And here's a whole dollar! This must be Captain Kidd's treasure!"

"I can't hold any more," said Nancy. "My pockets are full and both my hands. I wish I had a basket!"

She began to look around for something to hold her money, and what should she spy but a tree full of ten-cent baskets.

Without a word she walked over and picked two, then she came back and handed one to Nick.

"Hurrah!" shouted Nick. "Won't we be rich, Nancy! I'm going to buy the candy store, and the toy store and the movies. And maybe I'll buy an automobile!"

It was true! The money, basket and everything had disappeared.

BATHURST, June 24.—The Bathurst High School closing exercises took place at the Opera House this afternoon. The spacious building was taxed to capacity. J. L. Ryan, chairman of the Board of School Trustees, presided. The exercises were presided over by N. A. Landry, K.C., and S. B. Bond, also occupied seats on the platform. The chairman made feeling reference to the regrettable serious illness of Jas. J. Power, the secretary of the board, and also referred to the fact that the new Grammar school will be opened for the coming term, and reminded the audience that Bathurst had been praised for the very high quality of the paper manufactured here, also for its high grade lumber, but greater than all these was the school.

The chairman expressed regret at the departure of Principal D. R. Bishop, and noted the improvement in the result of the examinations during his principality here.

N. A. Landry, K.C., presented the diplomas to the graduation class, congratulating them on the success they had achieved.

Roe J. McKenna, B.A., LL.B., delivered the address to the graduates and advised them to seek success, not to imagine that making money was the great aim in life but rather to aim to make the world a little better because of having lived in it.

The valedictory was read in English and in French, in English by Miss A. Schofield, and in French by Wilfred Luce.

TREAT IS GIVEN AT COUNTY HOSPITAL

Nice Entertainment Provided by Knights of Pythias and St. Mary's Band

The patients at the Saint John County Hospital last night enjoyed a rare treat when through the kindness of the Knights of Pythias they were taken out of doors for a picnic and then had the pleasure of a very fine dinner.

The band, arrayed in the very smart new uniforms and looking very natty, provided an excellent program of music.

The flag was flown from the hospital flagstaff and the whole occasion was a real gala event in the hospital history.

The weather did its part and the whole affair was eminently successful. The Knights of Pythias arranged two such picnics last year but the one held last evening was even more of a top-notch and will be long remembered by the patients. Hearty thanks were extended to the knights and to St. Mary's Band.

Canada Depends On People With Vision, Is Claim

Woman M.L.A., Addressing Institute in Alberta, Urges All-Canada Propaganda

CALGARY, June 24.—"It all depends on the spirit and broad outlook of the people of Canada whether we are to be a nation or a mob," declared Mrs. Nellie McClung, M. L. A., in addressing the convention of the Alberta Women's Institutes.

"What we need in Canada is men and women who will not think of sectional interests, but will view our problems from the standpoint of the good of all Canada. Our first business is to create an atmosphere where problems can be solved. We don't want uniformity of thought, but harmony of action, unselfish, understanding hearts that will realize the serious situation which Canada is faced with, and put sectional interests and differences aside for the common good."

The convenor of education, Mrs. W. C. Short, stressed the importance of regular school attendance, and urged the mothers to take as their slogan "Every child at school every day if possible."

It had been estimated it cost $59.27 a year to educate a child if all the children of school age attended classes regularly, but the present rate of attendance brought the cost up to $81.20 per child, making the indifference of mothers, who do not fully realize the importance of education for their children, a tax on the public, she said.

THE GIRL GRADUATE

(B. G. Mewelling.)
I want to write a verse or two about a girl I know
Who was so scared she wouldn't grade
She had to study so
She did not fail, she made the mark
And then had none to spare.

May we her praises sing?
She joins us now and let us sing
In highest exultation
For Friday, June the twenty-fifth
Is High School Graduation.

THE GIRL GRADUATE

(B. G. Mewelling.)
I want to write a verse or two about a girl I know
Who was so scared she wouldn't grade
She had to study so
She did not fail, she made the mark
And then had none to spare.
They say she's happy as a lark
May we her praises sing?
She joins us now and let us sing
In highest exultation
For Friday, June the twenty-fifth
Is High School Graduation.

Marshall Spring Mattress
GUARANTEED FOR FIVE YEARS

Complete muscular relaxation essential for healthful sleep

At "rising time" comes the test as to whether your night's sleep has given you the renewed vigor and vitality so necessary to the busy activities of this modern age.

If certain muscles of the body remain tense for lack of resting support no amount of sleep will renew their energy. For instance—if the muscles enclosing the vital abdominal organs are allowed to sag and assume unnatural positions due to improper mattress support, they are under a strain, and cannot relax. Sleep therefore, doesn't rest this part of the body as well or healthfully as it would if proper support relieved the strain and allowed the tense muscles to relax.

The Marshall Spring Mattress, built with many hundreds of highly resilient, independently working springs, fits the natural contour of the body, giving even, gentle support to every muscle. This kind of body support ensures true muscular relaxation and health-building sleep. It is this Marshall principle of new sleeping comfort that is changing the sleeping habits of generations.

C. G. S. STEAMER TO SABLE ISLAND

Will Be Sent to Take Off Crew of the American Fishing Schooner

HALIFAX, June 24—The Canadian government steamer Arammore, now on duty in Cape Breton waters, will be sent to Sable Island next week for the detention of public health, Dr. G. E. Henderson, Professor of Pharmacy and Pharmacology at the University of Toronto, today warned the doctors attending the Canadian Medical Association Convention here.

In the medical profession, Dr. Henderson declared, the public health is a matter of public health, and to recognize that a great many medicinal substances can be used only by experts. Yet many new remedies were being extensively advertised and even used in random fashion by the profession before they have been tested sufficiently to lay a firm foundation for their use. In consequence, enormous sums of money were wasted annually to the detriment of the country's health.

OFFER ACCEPTED

The Canadian Department of Marine and Fisheries through their local agent, C. H. Harvey, today communicated with the United States Consul here and offered to send the Arammore to Sable Island for the detention of the crew of the American fishing schooner Falmouth, which reached there safely yesterday after abandoning their first-swept vessel about 28 miles northwest by west of the island.

GIANTS AND SENATORS START UPWARD CLIMB IN PENNANT RACE

TEAMS CAPTURE DOUBLE-HEADER EACH YESTERDAY

Pittsburg and Cincinnati Still Struggle for Lead in National

NEW YORK, June 25.—July, the month that furnishes baseball champions, is rushing on, with the New York Yankees far in the van in the American League, and the Pittsburgh Pirates and Cincinnati Reds fighting tooth and nail for honors in the National.

More, often than otherwise, it has proved true that the teams leading on July 1 have captured the much prized pennants. But there have been exceptions, perhaps the most notable of which was the great Boston Braves drive of 1914, which took them from last place at the opening of July to a world championship in October.

Washington in the American, and New York in the National, two teams selected as favorites before the season started, are down in the second division, but yesterday they started drives which may mean something.

GIANTS WIN TEN GAMES

The Giants captured a double header by slugging the offerings of Philadelphia pitchers to every corner of the Polo Grounds. The scores were 12 to 7 and 7 to 2.

Pittsburg's haste to catch a train out of St. Louis perhaps cost the Cardinals first place, for the Cardinals hammered over three runs to tie the count in the eighth, and the game ended with the ninth, 3 to 3, by agreement.

Washington's double victory was at the expense of the Philadelphia Athletics, 6 to 3 and 3 to 1, the second game being called in the sixth on account of rain.

The Yanks, with only six hits, carried the Boston Red Sox to 11 innings before admitting defeat, 6 to 5.

Chicago gained a game on the Yanks and at the same time secured its hold on second place by beating the Indians 9 to 6.

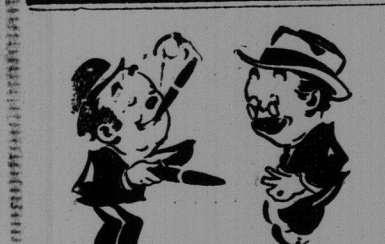

LENGLEN REFUSES TO QUIT TOURNEY

Is Suffering From Rheumatism But Will Complete Matches She Says

LONDON, June 25.—Suzanne Lenglen announced through Jean Borotra, her fellow countryman, this morning, that she intended to continue play in the Wimbledon lawn tennis tournament. Borotra said, however, that she would need two or three days rest afterward.

Friends of Suzanne Lenglen say that her physician has diagnosed the ailment from which she has been suffering for several days, as rheumatism. It is asserted that she had a fainting spell after the double match at Wimbledon yesterday, in which she and Mlle. Didi Vlasto were handily defeated by Miss Mary Browne and Miss Elizabeth Ryan, and that after she left Wimbledon she consulted a London specialist and later was compelled to take to bed.

Talking to a reporter of the Daily Sketch after yesterday's match, the French girl said: "I am not very well. Every stroke I made today was agony. The pain was terrible from the tips of my fingers to the top of my head. It was all I could do to go on. I felt that I was not giving Mlle. Vlasto the support to which she was entitled. I was the weak link. I was beaten in every way."

Maritime Champions Rally In Closing Innings To Defeat Rivals

Nick Altrock, Washington Comedian, Was Star Hurler In Majors Twenty Years Ago

IT DOESN'T always pay to be too serious in sport. Take the case of our old friend Nick Altrock, for instance.

Back in 1906, smiling Nick, rated one of the very best southpaws in the majors, received in the neighborhood of $4000 for his services.

Today, Nick Altrock as a member of the team of baseball comedians of Altrock and Schacht, receives much in excess of that amount.

When Altrock's arm went back on him, he turned from the serious profession of winning ball games as a pitcher to clowning, and got away with it.

Fortunate in possessing a keen sense of humor, Nick was even able to get a laugh out of his passing from the game as an active player.

Like most big leaguers, Nick took a whirl at the minors, before he was willing to admit that he was through.

Taking a berth with a club in the American Association, he pitched with varying success. Some days he was very good and on others very bad.

"Mostly bad," says Nick.

In a certain game in which the opposition made so many runs that the official scorer was forced to summon help to keep the figures straight, Nick decided he was through and made known his intention of quitting the game for all time.

The manager of the club, fond of Nick, tried his best to have him reconsider his decision to retire.

WHY HE QUIT

"If you can give me one good reason for quitting, I will accept your resignation," he told Altrock.

"That's easy," replied Nick, "the data are simply too big; I can't throw that little ball past them."

Altrock, always a smart pitcher, made plenty of trouble for the umpires, despite the fact he seldom protested a ruling.

Like Walter Johnson, Nick was content to let the umpire do the umpiring while he took care of the pitching. It was Nick's near-balk movement that caused all the woe for the arbiters.

Altrock is generally given credit for originating a most deceptive move to

Baseball 'DUNDEE PROVES TOO STRONG FOR WALKER

Scores Technical Kays Over Former Welter Champion in Eighth Round

NEW YORK, June 25.—Joe Dundee, of Boston, removed the last obstacles in his way to a fight for the welterweight championship tonight when he scored a technical knockout over Mickey Walker, of Elizabeth, N. J., former champion in the eighth round of a scheduled ten rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Referee Eddie Forbes stopped the contest after two minutes and fifty-three seconds of fighting in the eighth round when an injured eye made it impossible for Walker to continue.

Except for the damaged eye Walker was uninjured and protested Forbes' action in stopping the match, but Dundee was far out in front in the matter of points. Newspapersmen gave Walker an edge in the opening round but thereafter every round went to the Boston boy.

Dr. Walker, the state athletic commission's physician said he believed Mickey ruptured a blood vessel in his eye. Walker came in at 146 pounds, one pound over the welterweight limit. Dundee claimed Walker's 800 weight guarantee as result of the excess weight. Dundee scaled 143½.

PRELIMINARIES

In a preliminary to the Walker-Dundee bout, Benny Bass, Philadelphia featherweight, knocked out Ed Kennedy, New Orleans in the seventh round.

Harry Cook, negro lightweight, Buffalo, scored a decision over Boots Allen, Jacksonville, Fla.

Dannie Touchdown, Miami, knocked out Jack Monro, in the fourth round.

Vincent Dundee, brother of Joe Dundee, scored a victory on points over Carl Courtney, Oklahoma, in the opening four rounder.

TRAP SHOOTING

Some excellent shooting was done last evening at the traps. Glen Fall in a regular competition, J. W. Andrews with 45 out of a possible 50 led the field. Next Thursday the members of the club will try some snipe shooting. The scores last evening were: J. W. Andrews, 45; M. J. Siney, 40; W. E. McIntyre, 38; E. Dickie, 36; and William Babcock 14 out of a possible 25.

MARTELOS WIN FROM CRESCENTS IN SOUTH END

Saint Johns Drive Hannah From Box But Lose Game

Close contests featured both senior baseball games played last evening. In the City League on the East End grounds the Water Department, Maritime champions, rallied strongly in the closing innings and temporarily shook off the Saint Johns who had been making menacing motions at the top position in the league ladder. The final score was 4 to 3. The Martellos in the South End League defeated the Crescents 6 to 4.

The Saint Johns started scoring in the initial frame and also registered once more in the third and fourth sessions. This gave the Saints a three run margin as Lloyd Stirling was blanking the Watermen. He continued steadily until the sixth when a hit, a sacrifice and Hazelwood's error gave the champions their first run. They also secured another in the seventh.

The league leaders came back desperately in the eighth and clinched the game when Eddie Snodgrass crashed out a double scoring Armstrong and Latham.

Hannah started hurling for the Watermen but he was derided in the fourth after he had yielded five hits.

In the South End the Martellos pounded Richardson, the Crescents' twister hard and annexed the contest 6 to 4. The Crescents scored twice in the first but the Martellos tied the score in the third and then took the lead in the fifth and never afterwards in danger. The hitting of Gorman for the Crescents and F. Rourke for the Martellos and Griffin's unassisted double play were features.

INDEPENDENTS TO BRING FAST U.S. TEAMS HERE

Local Teams to Play Four League Games Each Week

Baseball fans will have the opportunity of seeing some fast outside teams here this summer as the Independent Amateurs are arranging to have several teams from across the border to play here during the season according to the announcement made by Joe Dever. He said that two or possibly three teams will form the league and four games a week will be played when no outside teams are available, two of these being on Saturday.

Joe declared emphatically this morning that the teams were Independent amateur and not professional. He declared that the contests would all be played on St. Peter's Park with the first contests on July 1. He said that all players were ordered to report for practice tonight.

Besides the St. Peter's, Tommy Coughlan is signing up players for a team and a third team, in the embryo, is said to have intermediate players here in view. The personnel of the St. Peter's will include such well known local pro ball tossers as Joe Dever, Melrose runner, in which the latter accepts an invitation to compete in the Sydney Marathon, July 12. John C. Miles has already announced his intention of entering the event.

Mr. Dever said last night that the St. Peter's ball park had been obtained for this season's use. Last night the St. Peter's had a hard workout there. Tonight and tomorrow afternoon, general practices of all three teams will be held on these grounds. Mr. Dever further said that he was already in communication with several American barnstorming teams desirous of showing their wares here. On July 1, the St. Peter's expect to have an outside pro aggregation here for a double header. When no visiting ball teams are in the city, the Independents plan to stage four games a week with a double header on Saturday accounting for two of them.

PARK STATEMENT

The following was received by The Times-Star today:
"The management of St. Peter's Baseball Park wishes most emphatically to deny the statement credited to Joe Dever in The Telegraph-Journal to the effect that there will be a professional baseball on St. Peter's Park this coming summer."

GOOD CHANCES TO GET HORSE SETTLERS HERE

More Publicity for New Brunswick There Is Required

K. SMITH RETURNS FROM NATIVE LAND

Pejeboscot Co. Forest Engineer Speaks Well of Prospect

That possibilities of a considerable immigration of Norwegians to New Brunswick are fairly good, if the resources of the province are given the proper publicity in the Kingdom of Norway, is the opinion of Kaare Smith of Trondhjem, who arrived here today after spending a vacation at his old home. Mr. Smith, who is forest engineer on the staff of the Pejeboscot Paper Co., which owns large tracts along the Great Salmon River, Saint John county, is at the Victoria hotel.

MANY WOULD COME

Mr. Smith said that general conditions in Norway were gradually improving and that the propaganda work of the Moscow Soviets, although it probably had much to do with industrial troubles in Norway in the past, was not seriously affecting the country. Nevertheless a large number of Norwegians, mainly small farmers and woodmen, were anxious to cross the ocean. In the last 20 or 30 years, and even long before, many Norwegians settled in the United States, particularly in Minnesota, a state largely controlled by them and their descendants. It is a natural, therefore, said Mr. Smith, for the tide of Norwegian immigration to flow in the direction of the republic. Now, however, the quota regulation of the U. S. immigration department prevent many settlers from going to that country.

INTEREST IN CANADA

At the present time many Norwegians were interested in Canada as their possible future home, and considerable colonization work has been undertaken by the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways, which systems, however, were urging people, he said, to settle in western Canada.

DID BOOSTING WORK

Before Mr. Smith left on his vacation he had a talk with Hon. James A. Murray, New Brunswick superintendent of immigration, and as a result he has done much to boost New Brunswick better known among his countrymen. Mr. Smith found that Norwegians, except those who had been in the Maritime Provinces on vessels, knew practically nothing about eastern Canada and little about the west. He was becoming better known in Norway now, through the publicity work he carried on by the railways. Mr. Smith considered that New Brunswick was more suited to Norwegian small farmers and woodmen than the west, inasmuch as this province resembled several sections of Norway. At the present time there was a Norwegian colony in Canmore, Alberta. Mr. Smith said that taxes were very high in his country, amounting in many cases to 20 and 25 per cent of income. He is an ardent admirer of Canada, particularly of New Brunswick, and expressed his pleasure at returning. Mr. Smith is a graduate of the Norwegian College of Agriculture and is well versed in the immigration law, which he is assisting. He made a report today to Hon. Mr. Murray of conditions in his old land.

BOARD OF APPEALS CONCLUDES HERE

Cases of 24 Soldiers Heard Since Sessions Began Last Monday

After hearing 24 cases since its opening session here last Monday, the Board of Appeals of Canada, which considers grievances of returned soldiers, adjourned early this afternoon, the members leaving later in the day for Ottawa. Decisions on the New Brunswick cases heard in Saint John will be given after the adjournment has been passed upon at the capital. The board hears appeals from decisions of the Board of Pensions and the Board of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment. It had been sitting at Halifax and other places in Nova Scotia before coming to Saint John.

The cases heard here this forenoon were those of Isaac Kierstead, F. L. Morris and J. E. M. Hatfield. Two other appeals were put over to allow the presentation of new evidence, which will probably be submitted at a session in Saint John next September. During the presentation of the evidence this week the cases of the ex-soldiers have been ably handled by Alexander I. Machum, secretary of the Great War Veterans of this city.

The members of the board are: A. Bedingfield, C. B. Reilly, K. C. Dr. B. L. Wickwire and Dr. H. A. Bowie.

SPARKS' CIRCUS IS COMING TO CITY

Advance Guard Arrives For Attraction to be Here Early in July

The delight of children and grown ups alike—a circus—is coming to Saint John early next month. It was announced this morning by a member of the advance guard of the show who arrived here in Sparks' circus special train in charge of M. Randolph. The car carries a large crew of billposters, banner men and lithographers who will soon illustrate the surrounding country with a pictorial display announcing the circus and its features.

Harry Mack, publicity man for Sparks' Circus, said this morning that the show had one of the largest collections of trained wild animals in the world. Among the special features he mentioned were: Steve Baty's fighting African lions; Frank Voske's group of nine tigers, including Prince, the Princeton University mascot; Sparks' seals; Madame Harlette and her seven leopards; a group of Alaskan polar bears, performing in the same arena with Great Danes; and Jack Costello's equestrian baboons.

There are three herds of elephants, he said, two of which are worked by lady trainers, while the third group consists of baby elephants. Of course there are the acrobats who cause original new laugh provoking "stunts" for the amusement of the crowds. There will also be the usual street parade in the morning.

TALK IS EXPENSIVE

Costs Elmer Thomas $4 Before Magistrate Henderson in Horse Case

It seemed that too much talk cost Elmer Thomas $4 in the Police Court this morning when he appeared before Magistrate Henderson to answer a report that he had permitted four horses to run at large in Edward street. The report was made by Policeman Gibbs, who said that last week the fire department had to be called out to extricate some of the horses from a C. P. R. trestle and these horses also had done damage to the lawn of a house in Alexander street.

Thomas said that he did not know that Edward street was a street and said he had a man watching the horses but that the time of the report being made he was home to dinner. The magistrate pointed out that a fine of $2 for each horse could be assessed, the policeman seemed willing that a warning should suffice. He indignantly remarked that one of the horses was a "kicker," which brought a denial from the owner. Other statements made by the policeman were denied and the magistrate said that as the officer had been trying to make things easy for Thomas and latter wanted to deny everything, he would impose a fine and struck a penalty of $4.
