BALDWIN AND PAINCARE TO MEET

MUNICIPAL UNION PASS RESOLUTIONS

Members Urge New Loan to Meet Needs of Cities and Towns.

RAILWAY CASE UP

New Highway Between St. Leonards and Campbellton is Boosted.

(Special to Times.)
Campbellton, Aug. 23.—The Union of New Brunswick Municipalities this morning adopted resolutions as follows:

The New Brunswick Government would be justified in making further loan from the Dominion to meet the needs of the towns and cities;

That as the hay crop of the northern counties is almost a complete failure, the railroad authorities be urged to reduce freight rates on hay and feed for the farmers;

That the Government be urged to take over one trunk road through each incorporated town and make it part of the public highways of the province;

That the Union urge the Dominion Government to reduce freight rates as asked by members of Parliament and route Canadian trade over Canadian rails and through Canadian ports.

Inver Dr. Anglin.
That the county councils be asked to invite Dr. Anglin to address them on the Provincial Hospital during the year 1923-24;

That the Provincial Government be asked to repeal the bastardy act and erect an act similar to that of Ontario respecting the children of unmarried parents;

That the union urge the Government to appoint as soon as possible a commission to promote development of our undeveloped resources and see that our raw products such as pulpwood and hardwood be made into finished product before being exported;

That the Government be asked to build a highway between Campbellton and St. Leonards, where 10,000 settlers are in need of this means of communication, which would also greatly increase tourist traffic;

That the Federal Government be asked to make thorough investigation of the cancelling two years ago of twenty salmon net fishing licenses at Campbellton and that any wrong which may be found be redressed.

Policeman Takes Son To Hospital

Toronto, Aug. 23.—Policeman Charles A. Rees, police ambulance driver, had the unusual and distressing experience of being summoned to take his own son, shot by burglars to the hospital early today.

Alfred Rees, the son, was shot four times by burglars during a struggle in his garage, one and a half miles east of the city limits. Rees, although hit four times by the bullets from the bandits guns, fired in return three shots, which went wild.

Clamor For Cash From Home Bank

Toronto, Aug. 23.—Nine days before the Home Bank closed its doors, says the Globe, a number of depositors at the Cannington branch began to clamor for their money.

Two inspectors were rushed up from the head office in this city with enough currency to meet all demands.

RUMANIA GETS BIG LEGACY.

$5,500,000 Left by Jew for Cultural and Charitable Purposes.

Bucharest, Aug. 23.—(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)—A bequest of 1,000,000 lei (about $5,500,000) left by Jacques Elias, a Jewish millionaire, for Rumanian cultural and charitable purposes has been formally handed over to the Rumanian Academy, and the distribution of the fund will be started in October.

None of the heirs appealed against the will.

BETROTHED

Miss Juliette Crosby, daughter of Oscar T. Crosby, assistant secretary of the treasury under Wilson, will marry Arthur Horriblow, Jr., a playwright, at the home of her parents at Warrenton, Va., Sept. 1.

MILLION LOST AS DAM BREAKS

Cloudburst Forces Walls of River Shed to Crash in Colorado.

Publico, Colo., Aug. 23.—Damage estimated at possibly one million dollars was caused by the breaking of the Ashtabaga River dam near Fowler, Colo., 28 miles south of here yesterday, when a cloudburst Tuesday night in the river's water shed.

A huge wall of water from the broken dam has demolished railroad and automobile traffic and all wire communication in the flooded area is broken. No verification of reports that La Junta, Colo., was under water could be had and telephone company officials could not state definitely whether the water had reached the exchanges or washed down the poles.

Measure reports received here early today indicated that the rushing water swept the houses, livestock and other property with it down the valley. Warnings had been sent out, however, before telephone lines were put out of commission and it is believed that most of the residents in the valley escaped to higher ground before the floods descended upon them.

STRIKE FORESEEN

Bituminous Miners Are Expected to Join Hard Coal Workers in U. S.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Possibility of a sympathetic strike by the bituminous miners of the U. S. if the hard coal miners quit is foreseen in some quarters, which would also greatly increase tourist traffic.

Government officials take the view there will be no sympathetic strike and are laying their plans in expectation of an ample soft coal supply.

The railroad brotherhoods have advised the president that they will not strike in sympathy. Should the soft coal miners quit to aid the hard coal men, an extremely grave situation would result.

More Immigrants Arrive at Quebec

Quebec, Aug. 23.—Scottish and Irish immigrants to the number of 711 arrived here today on the S. S. Marloch. This contingent is expected to be the last of the harvesters from the other side. An immigrant, Jos. Huddell, of Moira, County Down, died on the trip and was buried at sea.

BUS OPERATOR RECEIVES UNSIGNED DEATH THREAT

New York, Aug. 23.—Louis Kaufman, bus operator in Brooklyn, living at 355 Bedford avenue, showed to District Attorney Dodd a postal card he had received bearing the unsigned message: "We see that you are making a squeal about graft. If you go further we will kill you."

Kaufman had been summoned to explain to the District Attorney the charge he made in Traffic Court last Wednesday that he had been compelled to pay $20 a week to police for protection. He declared he had been misquoted, stating he never gave the police a dollar, although presents, mainly cigars, that he handed around did cost him $20 a week.

MONEY IS SEIZED.

Duesseldorf, Aug. 23.—The French authorities are reported to have made several large seizures of money yesterday. At Bochum forty-five billion marks were confiscated, at Beckinghausen, twelve billion, and at Dortmund, six billion, and at Dorstfeld, six hundred million.

GRANDMA IS FOE TO RUM MEN IN U. S.

Grandmother Maud Joe is Elected Deputy Sheriff of Aroostook Co.

EXPERT RIFLE SHOT

She Plans to Go Gunning for Rum-Runners from New Brunswick.

Macwahoc, Me., Aug. 23.—The one time gentle art of rum-running along the New Brunswick-Boston route is scheduled to become a lot rougher and tougher from now on and for the future, according to the new laid plans of Grandmother Maud Joe, inn keeper, garage owner, tax collector, stove proprietor, school committee "man," dancing teacher and veteran constable of Macwahoc Plantation, now recently appointed a deputy sheriff of Aroostook county.

Mrs. Joe is proficient possessor of a 30-30 Winchester rifle which has furnished her back-woods parlor with a rifle, in her opinion, is a stronger contraband liquor by the hundred cases along the old Military Road, Bushy-brook through the north Maine wilderness.

She's a "middle-aged soft-voiced woman, but she's firm in her opinion and there's "too much hand-to-hand stuff in the handling of them bootleggers." A rifle, in her opinion, is a stronger contraband liquor by the hundred cases along the old Military Road, Bushy-brook through the north Maine wilderness.

Similar measures have been taken in metal and textile and other plants at various places, where it is stated some five million persons have been locked out.

In addition to wage disputes one of the main causes for locking out the workers is that the employers allege that they have been coming to work but doing nothing.

Ocean Bed Near Surface, They Say

London, Aug. 23.—Officers of the Eastern Telegraph Company ship which is repairing a broken cable between St. Helena and Cape Town, report that the ocean bed has risen to within three-quarters of a mile of the surface at a point where the chart showed the depth to be three miles.

The soundings for the chart were taken in 1899, the year in which the cable was laid. The discovery suggests that there has been a recent submarine convulsion.

DECLARE LOCKOUT IN GERMAN MINES

Reason Given Is Failure of Employees to Accept the Wage Agreement.

Duesseldorf, Aug. 23.—A lockout has been declared by the owners of seven of the largest mines in the Ruhr and also in a number of state mines, according to the German newspapers.

The reason for the lockouts was the failure of the employees to come to a wage agreement. It is estimated that at least 200,000 workers in the Essen district are affected.

Similar measures have been taken in metal and textile and other plants at various places, where it is stated some five million persons have been locked out.

In addition to wage disputes one of the main causes for locking out the workers is that the employers allege that they have been coming to work but doing nothing.

TATTOO CATTLE

Great Britain Changes Method if Dealers Do Not Want To Brand.

London, Aug. 23.—Canadian cattle coming to this country may be tattooed instead of branded, according to a statement issued by the Ministry of Agriculture here yesterday.

The tattooing may be on the left ear of an animal in the form of the capital letter "C." This operation, it is stated, is a simple one and practically painless.

The substitution of the tattooing for the branding method for the identification of imported cattle from Canada is due to the protest made by the Canadian Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Strong protests were sent out from Montreal from cattle dealers as well as from the society against branding of cattle as a cruel operation.

The British Ministry of Agriculture points out in its statement that the regulations under the Importation of Animals Act of 1922 require the indelible marking of cattle which come from Canada.

Heavy Damage To Crop In Province

Fredrickton, Aug. 23.—Damage which will run up into many thousands of dollars and which will be all the more severely felt because the crop had not been expected to be any too large was done to the apple orchards in New Brunswick by yesterday's abnormally severe gales.

Trees have been stripped of almost all the fruit they were bearing in some instances and orchards along the St. John River and elsewhere throughout the province are today covered with apples blown from the trees and now upon the ground in an unripened condition which makes them practically valueless.

DANGLES BABE FROM WINDOW; POLICEMAN RESCUES LITTLE ONE

New York, Aug. 23.—Joseph Vintolo, who lives on the second floor of the house at 181 Bay street, Jersey City, became exasperated with his eight-months old son and decided to give it to the air. He held the weeping infant out of a front window by one leg.

Citizens in the street below, alerted in amazement. Patrolman Corriegan looked up and saw the man's arm protruding from the window with the baby dangling from it. He rushed up the stairs to Vintolo's apartment. Onlookers below saw the blue-clad arm of the policeman reach out the window, grasp the child and draw it to safety. Vintolo, who the police say had been drinking, was sent to Jersey City Hospital to get sober before arraignment.

DEMPSEY IS SHORT OF SPARRERS

Champion May Have to Ease Up in Plans for Big Bout.

FIRPO IS ACTIVE

Kearns is Scouring Country to Get Men to Face Title Holder.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Jack Dempsey today faces the prospect of slackening his training in preparation for his fifteen round bout with Luis Firpo at New York, Sept. 14, due to lack of sparring partners.

Two heavyweights in camp—George Godfrey, a 225 pound negro, and Jack Burke, of Pittsburgh—are still suffering from the six weeks training siege they went through while the champion was preparing for his fight with Tommy Gibbons at Shelby, Mont. Dempsey plans to exercise caution with them so they will be in condition to withstand battering during the final two weeks of training.

Billy Wells, British welterweight champion, left last night. He has a bruised left hand and probably will be unable to face Dempsey, for at least two weeks. Wells contemplates sailing for home because of the illness of his youngest child. He has been away from England for almost a month campaigning in U. S. rings.

Is Among Missing.
Jules Rioux, the French Canadian lumberman, who decided a ring future would be more attractive than felling trees, also is among the missing. Rioux returned to Montreal, satisfied that Dempsey hits as hard as a falling giant of the forest.

Jack Kearns, manager of the heavy-weight champion, plans to augment the sparring staff before next week. Jack Renault, a Canadian heavyweight, who helped Dempsey defeat Georges Carpentier, may be prevailed upon to come into camp.

The training camp in which the heavy-weight champion has installed himself, is the place occupied by Frank Moran, the Pittsburgh heavyweight, who this time he was considered a championship possibility. The two cottages in which Dempsey and his staff live are on the shore of Saratoga Lake, within fifty feet of the water edge.

Dempsey, with the help of a negro animal in the form of the capital letter "C." This operation, it is stated, is a simple one and practically painless.

The substitution of the tattooing for the branding method for the identification of imported cattle from Canada is due to the protest made by the Canadian Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Brussels, Aug. 23.—The Belgian reply to the British reparations note will be sent to Paris tomorrow evening and will be forwarded to London on Monday, it was announced today.

London, Aug. 23.—Sheffield and Birmingham manufacturers have declined to accept large orders from the Russian Government for engineering tools to be used in connection with forestry undertakings unless the Soviet Government pays before the goods are despatched.

After the Walkers, Too

If the sign won't stop walkers from crossing the streets like chickens, the traffic cop will. In Los Angeles, one of the jay-walkers cities in America, the warnings are backed up by the stern words of the copper, as here shown, and even the most daring pedestrian is deterred by the crosswalks.

PREMIERS TO CONFER ON RUHR CRISIS

British Leader Receives the French Note on Reparations Question.

DOCUMENT STUDIED

Ministers Will Not Discuss Reply Until All Have Read It.

(Canadian Press.)
London, Aug. 23.—Recognizing the futility of a further exchange of lengthy notes on the reparations issue, Premier Baldwin has decided to meet Premier Poincare upon the former's return from his vacation at Aix Les Bains, it became known today.

The British Premier will not formally ask his French colleague for an appointment, but will make known quietly through second parties his readiness to discuss the whole reparations problem in the light of the French Premier's latest note.

France Is Ready.
The British Premier feels that in France he should profit by the suggestion contained at the end of M. Poincare's note that France was ready to discuss the indemnity problem verbally. It is thought possible Lord Curzon, the secretary of foreign affairs may participate in the conference, since he plans to remain for some time at Bagnolles, where he is at present recuperating.

Both Aix Les Bains and Bagnolles are within easy train distances of Paris and both the vacation and the conference could readily stop off for a few days at the French capital on their way to London and have a personal talk with Premier Poincare.

It is felt there is no immediate need of such a verbal exchange of views and in fact that it would be preferable to postpone it until the British government experts charged with the study of reparations questions have carefully examined all the claims of the French note and presented their findings to the cabinet.

The meeting, therefore, in all likelihood will take place after Mr. Baldwin has had his vacation and has considered and matured judgment of the cabinet before him.

Mr. Baldwin leaves Saturday for Aix Les Bains, France, where he is likely to give full consideration to the latest communication from the French government. Before returning to England the Premier may meet Marquis Curzon, the foreign secretary, who is staying at Bagnolles, Normandy. It is suggested that he may also visit Premier Poincare, coming home by way of Paris.

In the meantime, no definite developments in the situation are expected and it is not supposed that the British cabinet will convene until Mr. Baldwin returns. However, the Premier is likely to confer with those of his colleagues who are in London before he leaves for Aix Les Bains.

Most of the morning newspapers felt that Premier Poincare's note has not changed the situation.

Sails With Bride To Claim Seat

New York, Aug. 23.—Professor Charles E. Fallow, 39 years old, a former professor at Columbia University, sailed with his bride yesterday to claim his seat in the British House of Lords as seventh Viscount Exmouth. Both will renounce their U. S. citizenship.

The new peeress was Miss Mabel Gray, of this city, daughter of the late Richard Gray, general traffic manager of the Southern Pacific Railway in California.

The new viscount came into the title on the death in Washington last February of his father, Henry Edward Fallow.

Salmon Angling Season Is Extended In Certain Districts

Fredrickton, Aug. 23.—The Department of Lands and Mines advised today that the salmon angling season had been extended for New Brunswick, with the exception of the Restigouche district, by the Federal Department of Marine and Fisheries, until September 30. In the Restigouche district the season will end as formerly, on September 15.

Agitation for an extension of the salmon angling season originated with several fishing clubs in New Brunswick and with unattached sportsmen who contended that a mistake had been made when the season was reduced so as to close on September 15 instead of September 30, and that New Brunswick was losing the benefits of having many non-resident fishermen visit the province in the month of September. It was also contended that the best portion of the fly fishing season in some districts had been cut off.

They came to grief however, when Huber, who was on an upper branch, lost his hold and fell, bringing his companion to the ground with him. Huber suffered a fractured right elbow and Rosowalk a fractured pelvis.

FISHER AND BEAVERBROOK

But for the pressure of domestic politics, which restricts their public utterances on international affairs, many American leaders would endorse the declaration of Professor Irving Fisher of Yale, that isolation as regards Europe is not possible for the United States even if it were desirable. Unrestrained by political considerations Professor Fisher tells his fellow-countrymen that they stand today at the parting of the ways, that they must choose between building up the biggest armed force of all on land and sea, or joining with the rest of the world in a league of disarmament.

To those who regard the League of Nations as something necessary for Europe alone he replies that the League is not only desirable but essential to the whole world and to the United States in particular. Those who favor isolation must presently recognize that any such policy is only a delusion and a snare, he insists, for isolation is not and cannot be real but only amounts to "a refusal to recognize that the world has become one vast neighborhood." There is only one safe American policy, is the view he presses, to avoid arming the United States on an unparalleled scale by combining in disarmament with the rest of the world. France and Germany long before the war, and he forecasts such a race on the part of all the great nations unless they come to the only agreement which will avoid that making such a race look unnecessary and foolish by carrying out the good example set by the naval limitations treaty.

The Fisher view has been put forward in Great Britain and elsewhere on many occasions, and there is in London and in Paris as well a feeling that the United States must ultimately join the Allied Powers in safeguarding world peace. It is curious under the circumstances to note that Lord Beaverbrook just now has been commending the American plan of getting out of Europe and staying out. He advises Great Britain to carry out the American example in the matter of isolation. He says only Europe can pacify Europe, and that by abstaining from any form of intervention Britain will "escape the peril of a fresh war which is certainly being fought." That view finds some support undoubtedly, but it overlooks the awkward fact that if Great Britain suffers now from something like economic collapse on the Continent it would suffer to a much greater extent should another war produce "confusion twice confounded."

When it comes to really trying to make London's flesh creep it takes a Harnsworth, and that Harnsworth who is now Lord Rothermere makes a good job of it in his published appeal to the United Kingdom to save the Entente. He paints a wonderful picture of Britain's peril and helplessness under certain circumstances. If the Entente falls he sees Britain compelled to resort to an outbreak of hostilities, describing London as the greatest and most vulnerable target in the world. As for separate action against Germany, Rothermere says Britain is scarcely more able to take that course than the Principality of Monaco. Worse yet, he declares London helpless against air attack on a large scale and says it can be bombarded by "any Continental nation" which wants to use long-range guns from the French or Belgian coasts, the reference obviously being to France throughout. Something like this has been said more soberly and less directly in the House of Commons but Rothermere draws the picture in the most startling colors for the purpose of enlisting popular support against any action by the government likely to precipitate the disappearance of the Entente.

Perhaps one result of all this is to stiffen the French attitude by showing the extent to which opinion is divided in Great Britain. Even sensational discussion of the worst possibilities may have its uses in strengthening the feeling among a civilized people that a peaceful solution must be discovered, and that every possibility to that end must be exhausted. The latest French note reveals the situation as at least far from hopeless, and while danger and prolonged tension have their dangers the better fact is that further discussion may produce an acceptable compromise.

Depositors at one of the Home Bank's branches were clamoring for their money, and got it, nine days before the suspension, says a Toronto despatch. That conditions were desperate must have been known to the officials a long time before the crash. The investigation will evidently make necessary a closer relation between the federal Department of Finance and all of the banks. Ottawa should surely have up-to-date information regarding such conditions.

THE WEATHER MAN.

There is nothing to warrant the idea that the coming winter is going to be unusually long or severe, according to Canada's chief weather man, Sir Frederick Stupart, director of the Meteorological Service. The ordinary weather prophet deals with conditions a long way in advance, the safer plan, as he says the time comes to check up his statements they are likely to be forgotten. But Sir Frederick is bolder, speaking as he does at the fag end of a cold summer. He sees no indication of early or severe frosts, and he argues from the past records that a severe winter and a late spring ordinarily indicate a milder winter next time. An abnormally cool or short summer is likely—but only likely—to be followed by a winter less severe than the preceding one.

As there has not been any noticeable change in the average temperature for some two million years Sir Frederick tells Canadians that even if the sun should be slowly losing heat there is no reason to fear that the weather is going to become appreciably colder year by year. Says he: "There is no doubt that cold winter storms should be prompt and thorough. The precautions must be constant and vigorous if the public is to have protection. All wires within reach after a storm should be regarded as deadly on general principles."

OLD CRY.
(Harold Vidal in N. Y. Sun.)
There's something about an island town that you can't forget. When the windows are lighter after the twilight goes I was born in such a town and it haunts me yet. Whenever a wind blows— I was born in an island town where the sea is always above the quay. I never hear a city wind go by like a shout. But I want to go to sea.

My father was an islander and I would be going back to an island and not stay here. I know a reach where a wind is always moving. A harbor full of small craft and a green weir.

There's something about an island town that you can't put by; I was born in such a town, I never hear men talking of the sea, but the old, old cry of the sea comes back and I want the sea again.

Letters To The Editor
THE MARTELLO TOWER.
To the Editor of "The Times."
Sir—The writer was showing the points of interest in our city to some American friends the other day and amongst others we visited the historic Martello Tower, but I regret to say that our pleasure was somewhat marred by the dirty condition inside. It seems to me that the Tourist Association or our civic authorities should see that this place is kept in better shape, as undoubtedly it is being visited by many of our visiting friends from across the border.

ST. JOHN AUTO IS FOUND IN BANGOR
An automobile, the property of Mrs. A. J. Harris, 22 Wright street, stolen from her garage last Thursday, has been located in Bangor, and three young St. John men placed in custody, according to a telegram received by the chief of police from Bangor yesterday. Detective Biddler, the and Plainclothesman Kilpatrick, left last night to bring back the car and the three men.

Nelson's Ship to Be Memorial

Ceremonies attending the beginning of the restoration of H. M. S. Victory, Nelson's flagship, were recently conducted in Portsmouth dockyard. The gallant old ship now is to be safeguarded and venerated by England for all time, to serve as a national memorial and token of the heritage that "expects every man to do his duty." She looks somewhat battered outwardly in her white and black lines, but considering her 138 years—she was launched May 7, 1759—she still is in good heart, says the Kansas City Star. All her beam timber is intact, and below water line she is almost exactly the same as she was when Nelson was in command. She still has twelve of the guns she fired at Trafalgar—eight on the middle deck and four on the lower deck. The cockpit still is virtually the same as it was when Nelson gave his last orders. It was again brought forward for commission, and it was on record that no fewer than six admirals applied for her as their flagship, and she was her prestige and her high quality under sail. In 1825 she became the flagship at Portsmouth, where she had come within four miles of the enemy. "Looking out toward the sea the scene was awfully grand, as a sailing ship of the British navy could wish for," says an account of the scene as she sailed north and south for five long miles, almost at right angles across our course, lay the 38 men of war of the Franco-Spanish fleet, with masts and rigging, heading, with maitainpaula shivering, leading a point or so off the land. The noonday gun fired, and the British ships, and all looked as fresh as paint could make them.

The present Lord Howe, a descendant of the renowned Admiral Lord Howe, who flew his flag in the Victory 140 years ago as commander-in-chief of the channel fleet, gave a short address at the ceremony. Flying the now famous signal "England expects that every man of the British fleet should be ready to do his duty," the Victory entered the battle of Trafalgar Bay, October 21, 1805. By 11 o'clock in the morning the British fleet was within four miles of the enemy. "Looking out toward the sea the scene was awfully grand, as a sailing ship of the British navy could wish for," says an account of the scene as she sailed north and south for five long miles, almost at right angles across our course, lay the 38 men of war of the Franco-Spanish fleet, with masts and rigging, heading, with maitainpaula shivering, leading a point or so off the land. The noonday gun fired, and the British ships, and all looked as fresh as paint could make them.

At a hundred years hence, Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz foretells, electricity will be doing the workday tasks of the world. In the scientists' Utopia mankind will be freed of drudgery. The vast engines of production will be operated by push buttons and switches. Nelson's life will be emulated by the daily grind. The workers will work but four hours a day and two hundred days a year. Science seems capable of all wonders. It may liberate mankind from toil. Our instinct is to shake hands with posterity, congratulating the coming generations on emancipation from labor. The promise of a universal unlimited leisure answers a craving that has never been gratified well in the history of the world. But when electricity has done away with the drudgery of the world, care-free mortals do to fill their empty hours? For Satan finds some mischief still For idle hands to do.

An interminable diet of "movies," baseball and other forms of recreation that attract the multitude would savor. Pure idleness is not for this latitude. The American temperament would hardly find delight in perpetual idleness.

The fact is that Dr. Steinmetz will not be forcing a notion if he insists on it. He has optimistic fancies. He imagines that his released labor will "follow their natural bent," which he supposes to include desire for the highest forms of study and self-expression. He seems to think everybody is longing to lead the intellectual life.

It would be gross cruelty to deprive such a thinker as Dr. Steinmetz of his inventive occupation. Likewise, it would be no kindness to take away from millions the routine of labor which employs energy that they would be at a loss to know what to spend their money on. A more equivalent hard work has never been discovered, nor are electrical wizards likely to sit upon it in many hundreds of years.

A LOAFER'S PARADISE.

Nelson Prays for Victory.
As the flagship rolled slowly down on the enemy, Nelson knelt in his cabin, appealing to God for help and writing "God with us" on the flag. The whole ship replied in haste with seeming satisfaction, "That will do, Pasco; make it explicit."

The sight of Collingwood, friend of his youth, leading the line of the fleet into action in the Royal Sovereign drew from Nelson a cry of admiration. When the Victory passed astern of the French Bucentaure and was engaged with it and the Redoubtable he walked up and down on the Victory's quarter deck by the side of his flag-captain, T. M. Hardy. As they turned a muzzet shot from the top of the Redoubtable struck Nelson on the upper breast and plunging downward broke his spine.

He lingered a few hours in the cockpit of the ship, the darkness relieved only by the light of lanterns, the cockpit filled with men groaning or raving in pain. The shock of the broadsides shook the vessel's frame and extended a moan from the dying admiral. When Captain Hardy came to report the progress of the battle Nelson's inherent love for complete victory drew from him the declaration that nothing less than twenty prizes would satisfy him. Buried in St. Paul's Cathedral.

Drifting off after a terrific broadside from the Victory he acted for the day. Then the Victory, giving no heed to the hot fire from the French Neptune as she forged ahead, discharged her starboard broadside into the Redoubtable, which, putting her helm hard a-port, she then proceeded to ram, swinging close alongside and, grappling fast. Thus they fought it out, the Frenchmen with musketry from their top guns, and Douglas with her broadside guns, and the rest of the story all the world knows.

Nelson's body was carried home on the Victory and it lies in St. Paul's Cathedral. As every American who has visited London knows, Nelson is commemorated by the monument in Trafalgar Square with a colossal statue, the base being surrounded by the famous Lansdowne lions.

VIENNA CONVENTION BARS RUSSIAN FACTORY WORKERS
Of the forty-eight delegates, representing 1,056,107 workers in chemical plants and paper mills in twelve national organizations in European countries, who gathered in Vienna recently at the second convention of the International Association of Factory Workers' Union only one voted against a resolution barring the Russian Chemical Workers' Union from admission to the International, says a report of the convention printed in the Arbeiter-Zeitung. The resolution, drawn by R. Stenius of Amsterdam, general secretary of the International, informed the two representatives sent by the Russians that if their organization really wanted to unite with the factory workers of other countries it would be necessary for it to sever its connection with the Red Trade Union International and ask affiliation with the International Federation of Trade Unions.

STILL HUNT UNDER WAY FOR THIEF OF SAINTS' BONDS
When the Abbey of St. Martin, in Paris, was transformed into the library of the Conservatoire des Arts et Metiers, the bones of the saint were taken to the Church of St. Nicholas des Champs, in the Rue St. Martin. There they were enclosed in a coffin with a glass panel which was hung on the high altar of the church for veneration. The day being designated to St. Martin, who is the patron saint not only of the recovered city of Metz but also of all France.

It is doubtful whether the relic will be replaced in its usual place when the next eleventh of November comes around, for, on the morning of July 19 the sacristan, on opening the doors at 6 o'clock, noticed that the place on the wall where the coffin had hung was vacant. Neither coffin nor the few bones that it contained had any intrinsic value. The police found plenty of finger prints to work on; the thief whoever he may be, has been proved by the absence of duplicates in the police archives, to have no criminal record.

Party of English Women Under League of Empire Auspices.
(Montreal Gazette.)
Among the passengers arriving on the Canadian National Railway's train from Quebec last night was a party of English public school teachers, who have come to Canada under the auspices of the League of Empire, which is associated with the Imperial Union of Teachers. The object of this association is an interchange of school teachers among the Dominions of the Empire.

The members of the party are: Miss Lord, Manchester, who is going to Fanny Sound, Ont.; Miss Dora M. Jones, Birmingham, who goes to Calgary; Miss A. Gray, Bedford Park, London, who goes to Winnipeg; Miss Beryl Tomes, Kingston-on-Thames, who is going to Regina; Miss E. S. King, Leyton, London, who is going to Vancouver. They are to start their duties in Canada around September 4th, and will remain till school closing next summer.

COURT IS LIKE CAFETERIA; PRISONERS SET SENTENCES

Youngstown, O., Cafeteria style justice! Police Judge Joseph L. Heffernan has originated it here. He permits prisoners to sentence themselves and their fellow offenders, too. And why? Well, he's said "Good morning, judge" no less than a dozen times himself. He knows how it goes with the "serving brother."

Some folks don't put much stock in all this talk of environment being the influencing factor in crime. Heffernan does.

Gets New View.

That's why he lets the men from the line-up take his place. He wants to know how they treat their fellows in misfortune.

The experiment has proved successful. These prisoner-judges have been sent to their fellow offenders. And they've judiciously upheld the law.

Ask one of our local judges if he would let a prisoner sit in his place at trials. He'd probably think a long time before answering.

Yet one judge is doing this very thing—and successfully too—at Youngstown, Ohio.

Judge Heffernan, who edited the paper in France during the war, "Stars and Stripes," official A. E. F. says we need to get the other fellow's viewpoint. This is his method.

When sentences are necessary, they recommend them. Then the court officially imposes them.

"We're too much inclined to classify offenders as outcasts," Heffernan says. "We view them as stigmatized beings, apart from and antagonistic to society. They're not. Society ought to have a sympathetic interest in them. "Maybe I feel this more than some judges, because I've been in jail 12 times myself. My offenses, thank goodness, were minor ones, such as train riding. But in some sections of the country that's a high crime.

Sees Mercy Need.

"But did any judge ever say to me: 'My boy, what is that hidden impulse that takes you away from a good home and a loving mother to roam over the face of the earth?'"

"Not one. I was an offender, simply because I did not choose to stay in a rut a less adventurous society prescribed for me.

"When a man appears before me, I always ask him about himself, his home and his family, but above all about his work. What does he do for a living? That gives me a line on him. "So far I have found few whose work I did not understand. I have worked in the steel mills, in railroad and con-

TAKING CENSUS OF GAME.

Many States Also Are Inventorying Wild Life Resources. (New York Times.)

Many of the States, through their game commissions, are taking their annual census of game birds, but some of the States are going further and estimating the quantities of game left in the covers. This is following the plan of business concerns in taking inventories, and it is predicted by those who are in close touch with the situation that it will not be long before all of the States will have a much better idea than at present of their wild life resources. While discussing the situation recently, one who has made an exhaustive study of the matter said:—

"No State can intelligently work to build up its game supply unless it has a reasonably accurate idea of its resources. The day has long since passed when any game commission will knowingly permit the shooters of the State to encroach upon the capital asset of breeding animals or birds. It is folly to permit the game to be killed faster than it increases.

"It is a comparatively simple matter of bookkeeping to determine the amount of game killed each year after the State has passed a law requiring a sworn statement by each hunter of the amount of game he takes each season. In many places a hunter cannot get a license now until he has made his report for the preceding year.

"We must frankly admit, however, that it is difficult to get even approximately accurate figures of the live game remaining in the State after the termination of a shooting season. This problem has been handled in various ways. For example, some of the States have had their game wardens compile figures as to the number of the different kinds of game in their respective districts. We believe that game protective associations could aid game commissions by appointing committees from their members who would cover certain specified areas and report each year estimates of the game in such areas. It is a plan well worth trying. The results could be partially checked by the report of the number of game killed the following year.

'T WAS HOT GAME.

Stuebenville, O.—Thirteen proved unlucky for 12 of that number of colored laborers shooting craps at the La Belle Iron Works.

Twelve were ranged on one side of the table. The thirteenth stood on the other side, rolling the cubes.

One of the 12 grabbed for the stakes. No. 13 pulled a pistol.

As it flashed, the dozen sat quickly to "duck" the gun. All rose hurriedly and required hospital and tailoring treatment. They had sat on a scorching hot fuel pipe.

OH, MARY! HER HORN SPECS SHOOK LONDON; WILL ALL FOLLOW ROYAL STYLE?

quivering crowds that cluster in the shadow of the late Queen Victoria's monument—shuddering at the thought if she only knew!—and keep watch for the spread of the horn-rimmed spectacle. Here in London it has been repeatedly declared that in whatever other respect British conservatism might give ground before the pressure of comfortable but outlandish American devices, the true-born Briton would never be caught dead in those "ugly spectacles." London took one look at George Harvey's horn-holed eyes and cried: "Never!"

Now the irreconcilable sea cricket giving way to baseball, lemon squash to soda water, and "Heal! Heal!" to "Atta boy!" Everything from flowers to actresses is American.

BOYS KILLED BY HYDRO CURRENT

Gregory Hammond Picked Up Live Wire; Statement by Commission.

The first fatality due to the current of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission from Musquash, occurred yesterday afternoon at five o'clock at Epworth Park, when Gregory Hammond, fifteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hammond, of West St. John, was electrocuted, dying instantly. He picked up a primary wire, which had been blown down by the heavy wind.

How It Happened. This story is that the lad, with a boy companion had been to the shop of J. G. Kirtley, at Pandemic, for a loaf of bread. On the way back to Epworth Park the boys saw a wire lying across a stump of a tree with the wood smouldering. The Hammond boy picked up the wire to remove it and received the full force of the current, which was said to be at a potential of 4,000 volts. He had his right hand badly burned and a deep burn also was made in his left leg. He died immediately.

Companion Attempts Rescue. His companion went to his rescue and with a stick moved the wire, but in attempting to move the body he also received a severe shock. He recovered sufficiently to secure help. A trained nurse who was summoned to the vicinity was soon on the spot but found that nothing could be done for the unfortunate boy.

When the mother of the boy was told of the tragedy she was overcome with grief and opiated but he was administered to quiet her. She inquired this evening.

D. W. McKenzie, the coroner, was notified. He went up to the scene of the accident and made an investigation. A jury was selected and viewed the body and the site of the accident. The inquest will be held this evening at Epworth Park.

Permission was given for the removal of the body and it was brought to St. John for the undertaking room of N. W. Brennan. Arrangements for the funeral will be made later.

The community was shocked by the news of the accident, which is the first fatality recorded as resulting from the Musquash electric current. It was said last evening that the wire which was the cause of the accident had been blown down by the gale which swept the country yesterday.

Power Commission Statement. S. R. Weston, Acting Chief Engineer of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, said this morning he regretted the fatality. He said the wire had been down but a short time before the lad picked it up. So far as he knew, there had been no report of trouble on the line until after the accident. When notified the trouble was remedied.

Asked if customers on the line would use the power during the day Mr. Weston said he did not think there were any ranges installed, and it was uncertain about the current.

Regarding a representative at the inquest, Mr. Weston said the ordinary 2,200 volt distributing line used for carrying current to the customers.

MUNICIPALITIES FOR CHEAP POWER

Pass Resolution at Campbellton—St. John Men Among Officers.

Campbellton, N. B., Aug. 23.—Features of today's session of the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities, were an address by Dr. Anglin, superintendent of the Provincial Hospital, on the issue, and recommendations of the committee on hydro-electricity. Dr. Anglin was highly commended for his address and invited to read it before the municipal council in the province.

Dr. Kierstead, for the committee on hydro, presented the following report: "That the water powers of this province should remain part of the public domain to be developed and managed by the province."

We believe in the policy of developing only such water powers as will pay the full cost of development and operation, and at the same time permit a charge for the power which will make its use commercially profitable for the consumer.

That it is the province of the Government to determine, after expert investigation what water powers of this province should be developed and managed by the province.

The following officers were elected: President, Mayor of St. John; Vice-President, Mayor of Campbellton; Secretary, J. King Kelley, Fall River; Treasurer, J. T. O'Brien, Fairville; Mayor Greaham, Newcastle; John Thornton, St. John; A. C. Belliveau, Hampton; Gordon C. Grant, Hawshaw; C. B. Keith, Moncton; Joseph A. Cain, Fredericton; C. C. Poirier, Caraquet; Thomas Murray, Sackville; W. R. Crowhurst, Moncton; E. H. Allen, Maryville; Commissioner Wigmore, St. John; J. W. Niles, Andover; and Hon. J. E. Michaud, Edmundston.

The following was the list of speakers at tonight's banquet: Mayor McKay, Judge McLatchy, Councillor O'Brien, Fairville; Dr. Murray, Campbellton; Professor Bigelow, David Champoux, Campbellton; Commissioner Thornton, Moncton; Commissioner Wigmore, H. A. Carr, town solicitor; Councillor Allen, Maryville; A. T. LeBlanc, Campbellton; Councillor Campbell, President Joseph Duncan, Sackville Board of Trade; J. King Kelley, A. M. Belding, D. Stewart, M. P. P., Dr. L. G. Pinaut, chairman Board of Health; Dr. W. C. Kierstead, and Councillor J. T. Meresseau, Chatham. Mayor McKay presided.

The affair was very successful and greatly enjoyed by the visiting delegates who expressed their high appreciation of the courtesies extended to them by Campbellton.

A banquet will be tendered Premier Veniot on Thursday, Aug. 30, under the auspices of the Liberal committee at St. Leonard, N. B. The banquet will be held at the Cyr Hotel and guests are expected from all over the province. The following day the premier will be present at the opening of the new school at Edmundston.

SUMMER COMPLAINT CRAMPS AND DIARRHOEA

There is no other kind of disease that comes on so quickly and with so little warning as an attack of bowel trouble. One may retire at night, in the best of health, and before morning be awakened by terrific cramps and pains in the bowels, followed by diarrhoea, dysentery, summer complaint or bowel trouble in one form or another.

At this season of the year, when bowel troubles are so prevalent, we would advise the prevention of always having on hand a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry so that you will be ready for any and all contingencies. You will find that a few doses of this valuable remedy, taken promptly, will be the means of preventing a great deal of unnecessary suffering, and many a time save life.

Mrs. W. H. Judd, 174 Catherine St., St. John, N. B., writes: "Last summer I had a very bad attack of summer complaint, cramps and diarrhoea. I tried many different remedies but they did not seem to help me. I heard of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so I decided to try it. I only took a few doses, and in a short time I was better."

FOR THE ORPHANS. A whole box of pears, a fine big bunch of bananas, and some candy lizdas were received by the children in the British at West Orphan's Home recently. The very last of the bananas vanished inside one of the children yesterday. All these good things came as the gifts of other children and were secured through money raised by little friends of the orphanage. Several days ago Helen Ryan, of 107 Broad street, and Dorothy Cox, of 192 British street, brought $7.96 to the Home asking that it be spent to buy fruit for the children. More recently five little girls came to present $8 which they also wanted to be spent on fruit for the children. The five children were Myrtle and Kathleen Long, Genevieve Chisholm, Ethel Coulting and Roberta Bean, and they too had earned the money just to give it to the orphans. The kindness of the city children and their thought for the orphans has brought sincere pleasure and gratitude.

The Value of Charcoal

How People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty. Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when properly prepared and taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose. Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal effectively clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic. It is pleasant to take and does not produce any of the effects of other purgatives. It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it cleanses the mouth and throat from the poison of carthar.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges; they are composed of the finest quality of willow charcoal powdered to extreme fineness, then compressed in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being sweetened to be smooth and palatable.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a most improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

Many physicians advise Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges to patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat. They are also believed to greatly benefit the liver. These lozenges cost but thirty cents a box at drug stores, and you get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets.

The Secret of Good Health

When Nature requires assistance, she will not be slow in conveying to you an intimation of the fact. Decline of energy, inability to sleep well, headache, biliousness, constipation, a general sluggishness of mind and body and any sign of digestive "unrest" should impel you to seek the aid of a reliable medicine without delay. There is no better—no surer—no safer—than this proven remedy.

DRECO Greatly Helps Mrs. C. F. Jones—Husband Says She is Like a New Woman Since Taking This Splendid Herbal Remedy.

Dreco is growing daily in popularity because of its certain action on the digestive organs. Its powers are great to relieve constipation, dizziness, headache, gas in the stomach, belching, bloating, backache and other distressing symptoms, all of which are traceable to poor digestion. Many people enthusiastically testify to the results obtained from Dreco as, for instance, Mr. C. F. Jones, of 188 Mecklenburg Street, St. John, N. B., who says, on behalf of Mrs. Jones: "Dreco has made my wife feel like a new woman. Before she used Dreco she was terribly run down in health and was feeling very sick. She had stomach trouble and indigestion of the worst kind. Everything she ate seemed to make her sick and she was losing weight. She read about Dreco and on her third bottle now. She can eat almost anything and is rapidly gaining weight. Dreco certainly is a wonderful tonic!" Dreco is made from roots, herbs, bark and leaves of established medicinal value, and does not contain mercury, opium, or any habit-forming drug. It aids the stomach to digest the food; corrects constipation and purifies the blood. Dreco is pleasant to take and prompts to act. It is a splendid spring tonic and regulator.

Dreco is being specially introduced in St. John by Ross Drug Co., 100 King Street. It is also sold by Moore's Drug Store, 105 Prince Edward Street, and F. W. Munro, 327 Main Street. It is also sold in Fairville by T. H. Wilson, in West St. John by Watson's Dispensary, and by a good druggist everywhere.

Sweden, determined to check auto speeders, passes a national law making it compulsory for all autos to be equipped with speedometers that will make a record showing how fast the car has been run. No arguments with the traffic cop then. Unfortunately, after passing the law, the Swedish Highway discolors no such speedometer has been invented. We'll have such devices in America eventually. Also, as auto approach the saturation point, we'll have to gear cars down more than, say, 20 miles an hour.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE MONEY AND STOCK MARKETS TODAY

NEW YORK EXPERT VIEW CHEERFUL

Price Gives Statement on the Stock Market Situation.

(McDougall & Cowans.) New York, Aug. 23.—Today the antrache situation and the European complications are factors upon which interest is centered, but these two shall pass in due course as others have done, and their places will be filled by complications which cannot be visualized, but America is in a very different position today from what she has ever been before. As the credit center of the world, with her influence supported by every people, with her vast security holdings bought back in recent years from foreign holders, she stands today at least in the strongest financial position of any nation. So, despite the complications which are unquestionably disturbing, there is ground for the attitude of mind of the friend of the late Dr. Johnson, who said that although he tried to be philosophical, however cheerfulness would break through from time to time, and certainly the security market in the last few weeks, despite the influences which threaten it, has reflected a very strong technical position.

NEWS NOTES OF STOCK INTEREST

(McDougall & Cowans.) New York, Aug. 23.—Bank of England rate unchanged at 4 per cent. Shipping Board will renew in New York today negotiations for sale of 18 trade routes now operated by Government vessels. N. Y. Airbrake in seven months ended July 31, reports net profit $1,722,010. July shipments approx. made $700,000. Block of Piggley Wiggley stocks of 1,500 sold at auction for a share. U. S. Crude Oil production in week ended August 18, averaged 2,250,450 bbl. daily against 2,231,250 previous week. Berlin Government plans to seize funds of $100,000,000 by voluntary contribution of forcibly levied, will speed up exports to maximum and curtail imports. California and Arizona Mining declares regular quarterly dividend. Washington's first move in anticipation of stock strike is calling conference of governors of states affected in New York Tuesday. Southern California reduces gasoline two cents in Southern California and one cent elsewhere in California. Chairman Gary of U. S. Steel says it will be about three months before effect of elimination of 12 hour day on steel costs production can be determined. This company can determine price change for time being. Company already looking rail business for shipment next year. Trade exports estimated for 200,000 tons rails booked for 1924 shipment.

OPINIONS ON THE STOCK MARKET

(McDougall & Cowans.) Block Market.—The market will not run away. Only buy on dips and let go on strong spurs. "Continue to buy better class of rails and selected industrials on all little recessions." "The strength in steel will no doubt be reflected in higher prices throughout the general list." "Fincham"—Do not ignore profits in the speculative leaders which have been very strong. "Borrowing demand for stocks indicates short account still extended."

MONTREAL COMMENT.

(McDougall & Cowans.) Montreal, Aug. 23.—St. Lawrence was the most discouraging factor yesterday. The stock, under what looked like forced selling, was offered down to 50% at the opening. It underwent a further decline to the new low of 40%, then rallied to 40% at the close. At the close no stock was offered. The company's fiscal year comes to a close on the 31st instant, and some took yesterday's weakness to reflect the result of operations during that period. There should be no occasion for shareholders to worry on this score, despite the admittedly poor business of the twelve months' period just coming to a close, for it is inconceivable that in 1918, 1919, 1920 and 1921 a sum amounting to several times the annual common dividend required was paid out in bonuses, without providing for at least one year of business depression, such as is inevitable to any industry, and which to an industry so firmly seated fundamentally as this one, should hold out few terrors.

MORNING STOCK LETTER.

New York, Aug. 23.—We rather look for more selling early today, with the market turning upward again before the end of the week. The market remains in a very strong position, and we expect higher prices and would accumulate stocks on a recession. Among those stocks which are likely to snap back after selling we would include Baldwin, Lima, A. L. O., American Brake Shoe and Foundry, on which there may be further favorable dividend action, Mack Truck and White Motor, S. H. S. Pac, Pere Marq, and Reading. While the anthracite coal agreement played a part in the recession, the selling seemed to be based more on the international position of the market than on any outside development. The old saying is "Don't sell the market on strike news." LIVINGSTON & CO.

SAY TWO DISTRIBUTION SYSTEMS ON SAME SIDE OF STREET BAD PRACTICE

Engineer and Manager of Power Company on Stand Today.

When the hearing in the injunction case of the New Brunswick Power Co. vs. the City of St. John was continued this morning before Mr. Justice White, five witnesses—R. J. Cochrane, J. D. Bowles, Robert Turner, Cowan Knorr and M. A. Pooler—were on the stand. Messrs. Bowles and Pooler expressed their belief that it was not safe to erect two distribution systems on the same side of a street, one either above or below the other, and that the system being erected by the city was causing interference with that of the power company. The witness testified that he had personal knowledge of one death from shock from a 110 volt line and knew of another where it was said death was caused by a shock from a 10 volt wire.

TRUTH OUTSPRINGS FICTION AGAIN.

Modern novels are sometimes strange and fantastic things, but not yet have they disproved the old adage that truth is stranger than fiction. The backwater bank at Beauville, the costliest of the costly French built resorts, has been broken by the eminent French sportsman, James Hennessy, and a Britisher named Pulcinella. If a novelist dared introduce such characters into his tale, he would have to let plot run down every few pages to explain how it happened that his Frenchman was named Hennessy and his Britisher, Pulcinella. But he would not dare do it. The novelist can never be as realistic and as reckless as life.

THREE HUNDRED AT BANQUET TABLES AS ST. PETER'S Y. M. A. CELEBRATES

Enjoy Reminiscences by Founder; Urged to Keep Up Work.

A banquet held last evening by St. Peter's Y. M. A. in honor of their founder, Rev. Joseph Borgmann, C. S. R., who for eighteen years was also their spiritual advisor, was one of the most elaborate and successful ever held in the history of the association.

At the head table Father Borgmann occupied the seat of honor, while sitting with him were Rev. Father Hogan, rector of St. Peter's church and the present spiritual advisor of the association, and Rev. Fathers Hill, McElrath, McCullough, O'Hara, McCormick and Wojciechowski, also Brother Norbert and Brother Eugene, the latter recently appointed to St. Peter's parish from St. Patrick's church in Quebec.

Former presidents sat at the heads of the tables. The hymn "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name" was sung, and then the corps of fair waitresses, comprising mothers, daughters and sisters of members served the tempting meal.

Between courses old-time songs were sung with a zest that denoted the spirit of good fellowship that prevailed. The hall was artistically decorated, the society's colors, green and white, predominating. The frosting on the cake, the ice cream and even the side dishes were arranged with an artistic touch setting forth the association's colors.

President A. Codre, after a hearty welcome to all, named John G. Burke, the first president of the Y. M. A., as toast master. The latter, proposing a toast to the church, coupled with it the name of Rev. Father Hogan, who spoke briefly but feelingly, and eloquently brought home to all the important part the church plays in their lives.

"Our Distinguished Guest" was spoken by William Shea, who briefly dealt with the work of the founder of the Y. M. A.

Father Borgmann arose amid prolonged applause and humorous manner characterized his remarks as being "Another speech from the throne." He prefaced his remarks with "Twenty-five steps with silver lining lead to the throne of glory," and then carried his audience back to the days of the Christian Brothers through whose efforts the St. Joseph's F. M. A. and St. Aloysius societies were formed. He told facts, unknown to many present, and with his gift of oratory held his audience deeply interested. He said the societies around the body, mind and soul of the youths and he eulogized the endeavors of the Christian Brothers in this regard. He portrayed the effects of this training on the members; some following their early teachings developing into leading lights in various spheres of life, while others, lured on by ambition, lost sight of the training and eventually drifted to the sea of infidelity and through the loss of religious principles became a menace to society.

The speaker then told of the founding of St. Aloysius Society and in 1898 the organization and the changing of the name to St. Peter's. He traced the growth, recounted occasions when storm clouds had arisen, and said the members should thank God for all the graces He had showered down on them and he congratulated them on the success accomplished.

Urges Carrying On. Father Borgmann thanked all for the kindness shown him at the anniversary, which was a demonstration of appreciation of his work. He urged them to start anew and prepare for the golden anniversary of the Y. M. A. and to follow the direction of those who placed over them.

A toast to St. Aloysius Society was responded to by John McGowan. To St. Peter's Y. M. A. by Frank J. Casey, to Father Hogan by Joseph Gallagher, to athletics by Harry Dever and to "our parish" by Dr. D. J. Maher.

THREE NEW MARKS SET.

Fly and Bait Casters Set World's Records at National Tourney.

Denver, Col., Aug. 22.—Three world records were broken by fly and bait casters competing in the national tournament being held by the National Association of Scientific Angling Clubs in the pool of the sunken gardens here.

G. G. Chitt of Chicago established a world record in the accuracy fly contest when he made a perfect score of 100. The previous record was 99-14-15. William Stanley of Chicago won the one-half ounce accuracy bait competition, setting a new record of 98-14-15. Fred Arbogast of Akron, Ohio, with an average cast of 237-4-3 feet with the one-half ounce distance bait, shattered the record of 230 feet 10 inches, made by him last year at Cleveland. His longest cast, 284 feet, was the greatest ever made in a tournament, according to officials.

THE PRICE OF GASOLINE.

(Ottawa Journal.) Gasoline has been selling as low as five cents per gallon in the United States, as the result of wholly extraordinary and more or less local conditions. The Governor of South Dakota bought 160,000 gallons, and put it on the home market at 16 cents per gallon. This led to a price war between big interests and small throughout the western and south-western States, and at some points in Oklahoma the market rate was reached.

Back of this episode lies the fact that a tremendous surplus of crude petroleum has been accumulated. During a single week in July, that accumulation proceeded at the rate of over half a million barrels per day. At the same time a 15 per cent. saving has been developed in the cost of manufacture.

The price of gasoline in Canada has not changed. In making a comparison, however, it should be remembered that our standard gallon is about 25 per cent. larger than the American. As we are dependent on the United States for the bulk of our supply, the cost of transportation comes in as an important factor. Viewing the matter from all angles, however, the hope seems warranted that motor fuel will be cheaper. The 380,000,000 gallons of surplus across the line cannot be kept off the market indefinitely.

To Be Sure. Shopper: "What color have you in window blinds?" Clerk: "Window blinds are all shades ma'am."—Lemon Punch.

FIND MAN'S BODY IN AN OLD HOUSE

Check Clue to Identity; May Clear Up Brooklyn Mystery.

Nyack, N. Y., Aug. 22.—The Rockland County authorities are confronted with a mystery with the discovery of the body of a well dressed man, about 40 years old, in a ramshackle house on the west side of Rockland Lake, the property of the Palisade Park Commission. The man, apparently, had been dead for about a week. His body was found lying on a beam under the roof of the two-and-a-half story frame structure by campers who, however, means abundance in the camp and joy at the domestic hearth. When the first saloon of the season has been caught the Kwakiutl fisherman carries it to the chief of the tribe, who delivers it to his squaw. Taking it from him she says to the fish, "Who has brought you here to make us happy? We are thankful to your chief for sending you."

The following day one of the camping party, going to the house where the body was discovered found a check for $2.00 lying on a table. Here is a check in payment for same.

The check, Sheriff Brown said, was signed Alexander P. Achimore, and it was said last night, has been missing from his Brooklyn home for several weeks. The Sheriff said he was made by relatives of the "Alexander P. Achimore," who signed the check, to find the man. A letter was forwarded to the campers, asking for information as to the whereabouts of Achimore, but since the campers were unable to furnish the desired information, Sheriff Brown said tonight that neither of the families whose names he declined to reveal, were able to remember the address of the supposed Brooklyn relatives of "Achimore" as the letter had been torn up and scattered soon after its receipt.

When the body was found today the Sheriff and the County Physician went to the Interstate Park Reservation and examined the body. In one of the pockets of the dead man's coat they discovered a letter addressed to Alexander P. Achimore from the Seventh Regiment. The letter, the Sheriff said, did not indicate whether Achimore was a member of the regiment, but it was assumed he was.

The Sheriff also found a checkbook of the Title Guaranty and Trust Company with one blank missing, the check stub relating to this blank having been drawn. On this stub had been written the telephone number "Stuyvesant 4983."

It was learned that the two families living on the premises went there the first part of June, but went away over a period of two weeks beginning a fortnight ago. In their stead there lived in the place a family of ten persons, including a woman 84 years old.

They left last week, saying they could no longer live in the place because of stagnant odors. The Seventh Regiment is in camp at Peekskill. Sheriff Brown, who communicated with officers of the regiment last night, was unable to learn whether an Alexander P. Achimore was a member of the regiment. It was explained that the regiment rolls were not available and that the information probably would not be obtained for the Sheriff until some time today.

Rockland Lake is eight miles from Nyack. The house where the body was found is in a secluded section, apart from the ten of Rockland Lake.

No Alexander P. Achimore was to be found in the latest issue of the New York City Directory. The telephone number found on the check book proved to be that of the United Electric Light & Power Company, with offices at 180 East Fifteenth street.

WHERE SALMON IS KING.

Kwakiutl Indians Depend on It for Prosperity.

What the "cricket on the hearth" is to the English housewife, so is the salmon to the Kwakiutl Indians of British Columbia, an index of prosperity, happiness and content. Sir J. Fraser, the noted ethnologist, who has lived among this tribe for many years, says that "a failure of the salmon for a single season means famine and desolation, silence in the village and sad hearts about the fire. Salmon in plenty, however, means abundance in the camp and joy at the domestic hearth."

When the first saloon of the season has been caught the Kwakiutl fisherman carries it to the chief of the tribe, who delivers it to his squaw. Taking it from him she says to the fish, "Who has brought you here to make us happy? We are thankful to your chief for sending you."

The salmon is then cooked before all.

of the silent tribesmen, who are squatted about the campfire, and eaten with solemn rites and ceremonies. The feast ended, the natives, all of whom have been served with a small portion each, retire to their tents, believing that the "first catch" is already enjoying a happy afterlife in the "salmon country."

The Kwakiutl are not the only American Indians who have their pet animal token. The rattlesnake has long been revered by the Hopis of the Southwest as a propitiator of the rain god, and a recourse to rescue their famished crops from the desert sun.

Thousands of tourists have witnessed the snake dance of the Hopi Indians, but few perhaps have been able to interpret it in more than a general way.

By noticing the figure the rattlesnake describes as it glides over the sand these tribesmen early detected the similarity between the writhing serpent and a bolt of lightning. Observation was followed by deduction, the result being that the Hopis believe now that the snake has some subtle communication with the god of rain.

Direct application for water in the past had failed and for over three centuries the rattlesnake has been the professional intercessor for this tribe. The date of the snake dance is not finally fixed, so whether or not it is the tribes weather man who assembles the dancers at an opportune moment, the fact remains that rarely has the rain god been unkind after his reptilian agent gets to work.

FREDERICTONS WIN AND LOSE

Defeat Vets, But are Easily Defeated by the St. Peters Nines.

Two games were played in the Two I League here yesterday, one in the afternoon between Fredericton and the G. W. V. A. nine and the other in the evening between St. Peter's and the Capital Nine. The former was won by Fredericton 4 to 2 and the latter by St. Peter's 9 to 0.

In the afternoon a good brand of ball was played despite the fact that weather conditions were more ideal for football than baseball. Paynter for the Capital boys, while touched for nine hits kept them pretty well scattered. Tippetts allowed only six hits, but walked six men and this and cost by errors were responsible for his defeat. Owing to the late arrival of the Fredericton boys from Moncton and some dispute between the managers, the game did not start until after 4 o'clock.

In the evening the game went only six and a half innings and developed into a listless and uninteresting contest. St. Peter's played well, but Fredericton's was hummerous. The box score and summaries of the games follow:—

GOOD REPORTS ON WESTERN BOXER

Say Groff Clean Worker and No Staller—Fans Keen for Monday Bout.

Fight fans throughout the city are considerably interested in the Monday night bout at the Arena when Billy Groff, of Dryden, Ontario, stacks up against "Nedder" Healey, of Halifax, Maritime welterweight champion, in the feature bout and Joe Irvine meets Johnny McIntyre, former welter champion, in the main preliminary. "Who is Groff and what kind of a fighter is he?" appears to be the main question. Two well known Canadian boxing authorities have gone on record that he is clean and is no staller and it is known that the local promoters stand for no stalling or fooling the fans who pay their good money to see a good fight. With these assurances as a basis, coupled with the fact that McIntyre and Irvine are bound to put up a red-hot fight the local promoters are expecting a record crowd.

IN ST. JOHN ON EMPIRE MISSION

J. S. McKinnon Talks Imperial Exhibition With Business Men.

Business men, chiefly heads of industries, met J. S. McKinnon, director of Canadian industrial exhibits at the British Empire Exhibition, this afternoon in the Board of Trade rooms to take up the matter of exhibits by local industries at the exhibition in London, England, from April to October, 1924.

Mr. McKinnon is a former president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. He handed over to the Board of Trade a report of his office to W. Shives Fisher of St. John, of whom he spoke in glowing terms when seen this morning by a reporter for The Times.

At the request of the Canadian Government, he said, he undertook his present work. He has resigned as a director of the Canadian National Exhibition, but had been made an honorary director.

Results Hoped For.

The Canadian Government, Mr. McKinnon said, was much interested in the British Empire Exhibition. Three things were hoped for,—that it would bring capital into the country, that it would bring in settlers and that it would increase the export business of Canada. It was not purely a show; it was a sales undertaking. One firm in British Columbia had taken space and intended to erect a model cottage made from British Columbia woods. It was estimated that the cost of manufacture and erection would be $10,000 and the firm figured it was good advertising.

The Canadian exhibits, he said, would be in a building now under process of erection by the Canadian Government, which will cost about $1,000,000. It will include every branch of Canadian manufacturing. A stadium in front would seat 125,000 people. There was considerable friendly rivalry among the departments and colonies over the buildings which would house their exhibits.

Mr. McKinnon is booking space now and expects to have everything in that direction finished in five weeks. The C. P. R. and C. N. R. are erecting a building at other end of the Government building. The building is situated in Wembley Park, London, and the Canadian exhibits will be under the care of the Department of Trade and Commerce.

Main exhibits will be those respecting agriculture, railways, lakes, water power and such national assets. Speaking of the water power of the Dominion and of New Brunswick, the Government, he said, would pay the cost of transportation advertising, the charge for space for the seven months of the exhibition and most of the other expenses. Mr. McKinnon arrived in the city last evening from Fredericton, New Brunswick, where he had been in touch with Provincial Governments and premiers all across Canada and had received very hearty support. This morning he received a telegram from Premier Veniot requesting him to communicate with Hon. D. W. Mercer, Minister of Agriculture. Perhaps Game Show.

In connection with the Empire Exhibition there is heard in St. John a proposal to have a New Brunswick exhibit prepared and sent across.

Harry Allen, president of the N. B. Guides Association, was here yesterday, and when asked about this said a wonderful showing could be made, and he would be glad to co-operate.

DUFFERIN PROPERTY IS TAKEN OVER

S. Allan Thomas of Thomas, Armstrong & Bell, who are handling the matter of the new hotel to be built on the site of the present Dufferin Hotel, at King Square, said today that the Dufferin property had been taken over today and the lease transferred.

He said that the present tenants will remain until the first of the new year.

CLOSE TO MILLION

The money received up to noon today by the city chamberlain was very close to the million dollar mark, more than $150,000 of which came in during the morning. It is expected when the office closes tonight there will have been at least as much as last year taken in.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram" said the reporter to Mr. Hiram Hourigan, "what will you show at the Exhibition next week?"

"Me?" said Hiram. "You just keep an eye on the prize list."

"I wouldn't brag, if I were you," said the reporter. "You haven't seen what the other people are going to exhibit."

"What?" said Hiram. "I ain't worryin' about them. Even if I didn't get a prize out of my stuff 'ud still be the best in the place."

"Hiram," said the reporter, "I am going to get a delegation to ask you to move to St. John."

"What fer?" demanded Hiram. "Because you have faith in yourself and what you can do," said the reporter. "We are looking for men of your sort."

"Faith," quoth Hiram. "won't do without work. Now there was Darius Green an' his tyin' machine. He had faith to jump off of the roof of the barn—but the works of the machine wasn't all there an' Darius flopped. Now you fellows here in St. John has got to get some more wharves—an' grain conveyors—an' a breakwater—an' that hote—an' get after the tourists—an' do a hull lot of things. When you do—other fellows that has faith 'll come in on the run an' climb right onto the band-wagon—yes, sir."

TREE FALLS ON C. P. R. ENGINE

Second Later and Wreck on New Brunswick Line Likely.

Passengers on the C. P. R. train running between Edmundston and St. Stephen report a thrilling experience yesterday about noon. The train, which operated on the Edmundston and St. Stephen line, was proceeding to St. Stephen when the high wind uprooted a large tree just outside the right of way and flung it across the track. It struck the top of the locomotive, part of the top of the tree was snapped off and the remaining branches scraped along the side of the cars breaking many windows. Some passengers sustained minor injuries from flying glass. Had the tree fallen a second sooner it might have occasioned a wreck.

GIGGEY TO ROW AGAINST BELYEA

One of the feature events of the Maritime rowing championships at Millidgeville on August 28 will be the Ross Memorial trophy competition. This has been battled for twice and Harry Giggey won both times. He will defend it this season and will be pitted against Grenville McCavour who is developing into one of the most promising young rowers in the city. Giggey is also the intermediate champion of the Maritime Provinces and will appear for the first time in the senior championship race as the chief opponent to Milton Belyea. The result of this race will be watched with keen interest as many friends of Giggey are confident that he will make Hilton travel fast. The list of entries is being prepared today. Other arrangements for the big meet are also being made today and from all indications the championships should be successful and keenly contested.
