The new Opera House vaudeville programme for tonight offers five high class acts, including the Cheyenne Minstrels in a variety of variety, with songs, comedy, dancing, lariat swinging and imitations; Buehler Pearl, distinctive entertainer; Alexander and Mack in "A Piece of Aristocracy"; Gruet, Krammer and Gruet, in a snappy comedy and musical skit; "Circus Days in Dixie"; and Ernest, Canada's premier danseuse and a well known cartoonist in a novel sketch, "Studio Fancies"; and the serial drama "Pieris of Thunder Mountain." Tonight at 7.30 and 9, tomorrow afternoon at 2.30.

THIS MAY INCLUDE FORT HOWE, ST JOHN

(Sackville Tribune.) Readers of the Tribune will be interested in the announcement in another column of the Tribune, that the historic spot of Fort Cumberland is to be preserved. We are informed on good authority that certain reconstructive and decorative work will be carried out in the near future. It appears that the Dominion government has appointed an honorary board as advisory to officials in the department of interior, to preserve the military works, where the remains of any still exist, and to make them with monuments containing suitable inscriptions. A survey is to be made of the old trails, portages, Indian forts and encampments, roads, highways, mail routes, the first mills, factories and many other features of the commencement of the industrial life of the people. These are to be mapped by provinces. From enquiry, we learn the board has recommended certain reconstructive and decorative work at Fort Cumberland, repairs at the old barracks at Windsor and preservative measures at Louisbourg, and that the government has appropriated the first instalment of money for these purposes.

URGE JUVENILE COURT

The matter of establishing a juvenile court for the city of St. John was considered at an enthusiastic meeting in the Board of Trade rooms last night. The city commissioners will be asked to make a grant towards its establishment with an adequate probation system. Twelve of the city's most influential social organizations are behind this movement and steps will be taken to secure the active co-operation of others interested in social welfare work. At the meeting last night, which was presided over by A. R. Crookshank, for three years at the head of the committee since its inception, steps were taken towards organization for a more aggressive campaign. Mr. Crookshank was appointed permanent chairman and Rev. George Scott, secretary. Several important resolutions were passed and communications will be sent to the various clergymen of the city requesting them to make reference to the subject of child welfare work and the need for a juvenile court in the community. Suggestions were made as to the manner of conducting the campaign and it is likely that a public meeting will be called at an early date when the whole matter will be placed before the public for discussion and endorsement. It is confidently expected that the juvenile court when established will completely justify the efforts made to secure it and greatly aid in the efficient administration of justice in the city.

BOOTS, PENNY A PAIR

(London Mail.) More than 500,000 pairs of army boots were offered for sale by the disposal board at the White City yesterday. They included army boots in every stage of wear—Canadian, Australian, German, Russian, and British. The boots were sold at 10s. 6d. per pair, and Grade 4 boots fetched 4d. a pair for a lot of 20,000. German boots made 6d. for Grade 4 and 2d. for Grade 5. For three days German boots and Wellington boots with wooden soles 1s. was paid.

IF THEY SHOULD.

It would be impossible to continue our government if the railroad workers could one day, by stopping traffic, force the government to buy the railroads, and a month later the bankers by striking, closing their doors and creating a panic could make the government sell them again, and after that the doctors could demand state subsidies on pain of leaving us subject to the ravages of epidemics and the terrible suffering of the untended sick and dying.—World's Work.

A Timely Warning.

Mirrors in Street Cars.

No longer will the weary street car conductor rasp out: "Move forward, please." No more will he vainly admonish his patrons not to crowd the doorway or engulf the platform.

Officials of the company say they believe that mirrors installed on side seats at the front end of the cars will accomplish what no conductor has yet been able to do—get the patrons forward. The mirrors will be detachable for use on cases that reverse on return trips, or otherwise arranged so they will not be at the rear of the car.

His belief in the power of the mirror in handling street car patrons was asserted by Glenn Marston, of New York, consulting specialist in railway work, who has been in New Orleans two weeks studying the local system, at the invitation of its officers, with a view to providing better service for its patrons.

"Human beings gravitate toward a mirror whenever opportunity offers," Mr. Marston explained, "and I refer to the male sex as well as to the female. And it is not because they are vain. Everyone does it, and does it unconsciously. The idea already has been put into practice in this country, and I have suggested its trial here."—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

AN ERROR

Through inadvertence an injustice was done to Mrs. Kenneth Raymond by an item in the published report on the 4th inst., in connection with the evidence of F. S. Thomas, which attributed to him a statement with respect to what the husband of Mrs. Raymond said to him over the telephone. Mr. Thomas did not testify as stated; the statement attributed to him not appearing in the record of his testimony. An erroneous impression was therefore given by the item referred to.

Damon-Wanamaker.

Friends read with interest of the wedding of Miss Gladys Wanamaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wanamaker of 888 Haymarket square, which took place on last Tuesday evening at half past eight o'clock at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. A. Laurence Tedford, pastor of the Tabernacle church. The groom is Frank Damon of St. Stephen, who went overseas with the 65th Battalion and fought with the 14th and was three times wounded. The bride was prettily attired in blue and was attended by her sister, Miss Mabel Wanamaker, who was becomingly gowned in brown. Wm. Gibbon supported the groom. After the ceremony a dainty wedding supper followed at the home of the bride and groom at 105 Thorne avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Damon have the best wishes of many friends for a happy life as testified by the number of handsome presents received.

Annual Meeting of Association For Tuberculosis Prevention

REPORT ON DISPENSARY

Hon. Dr. Roberts Quoted as Looking to Time When Province Would Have Four Such Hospitals as That at East St. John

The annual meeting of the Association for Prevention of Tuberculosis was held this afternoon in the Board of Trade rooms, Joseph A. Likely, the president, presiding.

The Year Reviewed.

The annual report of the association was as follows: The executive of the St. John Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis beg to present their annual report of work done from November 1, 1918, to November 1, 1919. Since the last annual meeting the resignation of the secretary, Miss Sidney Smith, has been gratefully accepted. Miss Sadler was appointed to fill her place.

The dispensary at 74 Carleton street has been open 172 days during the year—sixty-two days for children and 110 for adults; this is Monday and Wednesday at 2.30 for adults, and Friday at 2.30 for children. Dr. Logie, the dispensary physician, and the nurse are in attendance at these times.

In addition to this Dr. Farris holds a clinic on the third Thursday of each month, and anyone seeking admission notice to the St. John County Hospital, or to the River Glade Sanitarium may be examined free of charge by making application through the nurse, Miss Brophy, at the dispensary, telephone Main 2121-11.

Dr. Abrahamson has also examined sputum coming through the dispensary, and anyone seeking the dispensary applicants at the dispensary X-ray examination at cost price when necessary. Also the city is paying for patients who are unable to afford expense themselves—if such applications come through the dispensary.

Fewer Patients.

During the year 181 patients were examined by Dr. Farris, and 217 by Dr. Logie; there was also a smaller number of attendances at the dispensary—418 as against 607 last year; 222 adults and 196 children. Each of them was examined; some were sent to River Glade, some to the St. John County Hospital, others were treated at the dispensary and visited by the nurse, and a number were discharged as not tubercular or cured. Two hundred and thirty-eight prescriptions were filled.

When a patient is discharged he comes to the dispensary for some time after for observation.

Seven patients have been sent to River Glade, two of which paid their own expenses; two were paid for partly by themselves and partly by the city, and one was paid for partly by the patient and partly by King's county.

Two patients named are on a waiting list for River Glade. Forty-two patients were transferred to the County Hospital. At the beginning of the year we had 183 patients and there were 190 new patients; thirty-six were discharged and eight died.

It is felt by the doctors that the dispensary is not treating as many patients as it should, and this because the public is not cognizant of the advantages to be obtained; therefore a publicity committee has recently been formed; Dr. Farris, Dr. Mabel Hanington and Mrs. M. B. Edwards.

Dr. M. Hanington, the medical inspector for schools, strongly urges educational propaganda; and thousands of copies of the pamphlet entitled "What Tuberculosis is" have been issued by the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, have been procured for distribution in the schools.

Four Hospitals.

Dr. Farris is making an effort to have all anti-tuberculosis societies and the school teachers visit the St. John County Hospital. The clergy of the city have already done so. One of the regular meetings of the board was held at the hospital and the Hon. W. F. Roberts, minister of health, addressed the meeting, saying it was an institution of which St. John has a right to be proud. He looked forward by the time you should have four such hospitals in the province, which number he considered would be adequate for its needs. The members of the board were conducted on the building and found its X-ray plant especially interesting.

We are fortunate in still having Miss Brophy as nurse. During the year she made 1,000 visits. But needs have increased to such an extent that a second nurse is necessary. This is considered one of the most important branches of the work and it is strongly felt by the doctors that if we could afford another nurse who would follow up county hospital cases and see that proper food and rest were obtained, its value of the work done could be doubled. With this end in view, the association appealed to the women's societies during the year; a committee has also waited on the board of health to see if a sum sufficient to cover half the salary of a second nurse could be included in its estimates of expenditure for next year. Both of these schemes have met with satisfactory response and the sum of $200 having been received from the women's societies.

Another ideal advantage, still to be striven for, is the establishment of a day camp.

The ladies, one of whom is appointed each month to supervise the dispensary, have been untiring in their work. They have looked into needy cases and by providing or soliciting financial aid have enabled patients to rest or go to a hospital. The Ladies' Society gave bed socks and slippers to the children of the St. John County Hospital and sent to patients at Christmas and milk and eggs were distributed at Easter.

A most useful fund for milk and eggs has received two generous donations through the year, one from the St. John Ambulance Association and the other was anonymous.

In conclusion, the executive begs to thank the following: The city commissioners for the use of the dispensary rooms and also for voting the necessary funds for patients recommended by our society to go to the hospital. The committee of the General Public Hospital for luncheon for our nurse; the St. John press for printing reports from time to time, and all those who have contributed during the year to the support of the association.

Submitted on behalf of the executive, E. M. SAMUEL, J. O. S. LIKELY, Secretary, President.

Winter Quarters For the Bulbs

When the end of the season comes and hard frosts threaten, it is necessary to dig up the dahlias, gladioli, and all the tender bulbs and take them into the cellar for the winter's rest. While dahlias of the round, old-fashioned type ("chub-faced" dahlias, Maeterlinck called them), were the only kinds commonly grown, but little difficulty was found in wintering them. The newer and more refined varieties, delicate somewhat more careful treatment. Indeed, some kinds are not easily carried over the winter by expert growers. Most dahlias, though, will go through the winter fairly well if they are properly dug and stored. Digging is properly dug any time after the frosts have cut down the tops. Cut them close to the ground, as it will prove a nuisance to have a long stalk attached. Commercial growers often use a double knife with long stout handles, but a sickle will prove satisfactory in the home garden. Have it sharp, though, both to save yourself unnecessary exertion and to make a smooth, clean cut.

In digging the roots, exercise special care not to injure the necks on which the buds for next year will come. To grasp the stalk and pull up the roots by main force is a most unwise plan. It is better to use a spade, working it into the ground all around the clump, far enough away so that you will not cut into the tubers. Then you can push the spade under the clump and lift it out. There is a decided advantage in having assistance with this work, as in many other garden operations.

After the clumps have been dug, leave them in the sun for several hours, so that they will dry out to some extent. Spread under a remarkably large amount of moisture, especially in a wet season, such as growers in New England have experienced this year. When you pack the tubers away, it will be found a good plan to put the stumps downward, so that what moisture remains can drain out of the stalks. While the excess of earth may be shaken from the roots, do not go so far as some gardeners have done and wash the tubers. As a matter of fact, there seems to be some measure of that in sympathy with Whistler. Him, of course, we placed far above Raphael, because Whistler had said that he was the smart young man of his period.

One rainy day Whistler was sitting in my dining room poring over a large volume of Raphael's cartoons. After spending two hours with them, he came to the conclusion that Raphael did not count. But he was pleased; he said, to have had the opportunity of placing the smart young man of his day. Rembrandt recognized to a certain extent, because Whistler had heard that he had had his god days. Also, however, he had remarked that Rembrandt reveled in gummy pigment and treacherous tones; so Rembrandt, in our opinion, did not occupy much of a position. Canaletto and Velasquez we placed high, very high, but not, of course, on the same plane with Whistler. The only master with whom we could compare our own was Hokusai, the Japanese painter.—From "Whistler as I Knew Him," by Mortimer Menpes.

store them in the same way as gladioli corns. Tritomas, the brilliant flowers of which have won them the name of Red Hot Pokers, are only doubtfully hardy in cold countries, and it often is best to dig them up and store them in the cellar during the winter, although this is a plan which does not occur to the average amateur.

MUST RALLY TO MAKE VICTORY LOAN SUCCESS

Only Few Days Left and Long
Way to go—Great Meeting
Tonight

With but a few days remaining to the objective, the committees in charge of the work of the Victory Loan are a bit anxious. They fear that New Brunswick may fall behind in history that is so important a matter for the welfare of Canada, a matter almost as important as supplying men when the war was on, the city must try to buy, if even for only small amounts, and that those who have bought what they could easily afford, must buy again.

The activities of the city canvassers yesterday were devoted towards getting

SORENESS, PAIN, ACHING JOINTS

It never disappoints—six gold medal awards.

Waiting the Word from You

The last week or two before Christmas is always a very unsatisfactory time to do your shopping, because—this year more than usual—we shall have an unprecedented demand on all our Catalogue lines.

To avoid the disappointment of finding certain articles "sold out," we are making special arrangements to receive what we will call "Deposit Orders."

You can make your gift selections in November, give us all your instructions as to everything in readiness for the Armistice Day celebration, when they expect to have a grand rally of all citizens and feel confident that the enthusiasm aroused will greatly help St. John to go over the top, thus celebrating the armistice in the best possible way by subscribing the quota to the country's loan.

All arrangements have been completed for the meeting in the Imperial Theatre, and besides the speakers who already have been announced, Mrs. G. A. Kurling will speak on behalf of the women's societies and F. A. Campbell, president of the Trades and Labor Council, has been invited to speak on behalf of labor.

The G. W. V. A. stand will be in attendance, and before the meeting will march through the streets of the city and play many of the selections which they helped to cheer many of the boys during the war.

The Rotarians are on the job and have asked that the two front rows in the theatre be reserved for their members, so they probably will be heard from this evening.

Fredericton Raises $260,000.

A meeting of the business men similar to the meeting held here a few days ago was held in Fredericton yesterday, at which $260,000 was raised. The Fredericton committee has $200,000 more in hand which will serve to swell the provincial returns considerably.

$75,000 in Moncton.

Another meeting of the same type was held in Moncton last night, with the net result that the sum of $75,000 was added to the total for the booming railway city.

Another County Wins Flag.

Upper Gloucester have also gone over their objective of $300,000 by $600, so that three counties have secured flags, Madawaska, Charlotte and Upper Gloucester.

RECENT DEATHS

Peter C. Cormier.
Moncton, Nov. 10.—Peter C. Cormier, merchant of Harcourt, died in Moncton this morning, aged fifty-three years. His body was taken to Harcourt today for interment.

Mrs. Jane Mooney.
Many will learn with regret of the death of Mrs. Jane Mooney, widow of Patrick Mooney, which occurred at her home at Gaspeaux Station Nov. 7. Mrs. Mooney was a woman of beautiful character and had a large circle of friends who will long remember her kind words and good deeds. Her hidden sufferings were borne uncomplainingly through many years. She leaves one son, John of Gaspeaux Station. The funeral took place on Sunday from St. Columba's church, Fredericton Junction.

THE CHINESE WEDDING

(By Miss See Me Tsung.)

The Chinese wedding, according to the old customs, is a very interesting ceremony. Although each province has some distinct features, yet generally the custom is more or less the same. The description of a wedding given here takes place in well-to-do families, and still holds in the interior of China.

A lucky date is selected by the parents of the groom and sent to the parents of the bride before anything can be arranged. If it is agreeable to both sides they begin to make preparations for the special occasion. When the appointed day comes near both families send out the announcements together with the invitation. These invitations are sheets of red paper about five by eight inches in size, on which are printed in Chinese and English the names of the bride and groom, the date and time of the wedding, and the names of the bride's and groom's parents. They are in red envelopes of the same size. When the relatives and friends get them they prepare for the occasion by such things as silver and gold ornaments, beautiful silks, and gold ornaments. As for the groom, his friends do not give him things like these, but present to him large red satin scrolls four by six feet in size, on the centre of which is a great character meaning "double happiness." These scrolls are used to hang on the walls of the big hall where the marriage ceremony is to be held.

Usually three days before the wedding day the bride's parents invite all of their friends and relations to dinner and at the same time they show the bride's trousseau, ornaments, jewelry, and bedding. A bride is supposed to have eight trunks of clothes at least, eight or ten different kinds of furniture, such as silk and cotton ones. She must have sufficient clothing of every kind for each season to last three years. Silver, gold, and other ornaments, and different kinds of embroideries with other decorative things she always has. Then the beautiful jewel-encrusted rings and earrings are given to her. When the guests have finished seeing the things a feast is served at which the bride and groom are seated at the head of the table. On the next day the bride's things are carried to the groom's home. The long bright colored procession passing along the street is a pretty sight.

The Bride's Farewell

The night before the wedding day a farewell dinner is given to the bride at which only the members of her family are present. Before the dinner comes the bride and every body drinks a toast to the bride. The groom's family also invites people to their home and lets them see the beautifully decorated bridal chamber. These guests usually stay for dinner.

On the wedding day there are many guests in both of the homes. They come to the morning and their hearty greetings. The groom's family sends the bride a chair accompanied by a hand to the bride's home. Everything connected with the ceremony has a symbolic and fortunate meaning, so even the hour when the bride leaves the groom's home and the hour when the bride enters it to go to the groom's home are carefully selected. The band plays continuously as the chair arrives. By noon the bride is already dressed in red silk heavily embroidered with gold and silver as well as with rainbow colors. A crown of countless imitation pearls, ladies and gentlemen in red and heavy red silk cloth, ornamented with strings of pearls, hangs over her face. A crown of genuine pearls is used in the wealthier families. The last thing which the bride puts on is the red satin embroidered shoes which have red paste on the bottom. This is done to prevent the bride from taking away any dirt from her old home to the new. Before the bride enters the chair the groom comes to her home to kiss her and her parents and meets her friends and relatives. After a little while he leaves without having seen the bride however. Then the bride comes down from her room attended by four maids. She bids farewell to her ancestors by her forefathers and then her parents and near relatives. As soon as she gets into the chair the red papers which are on the bottom of her shoes are torn away. Soon the beautiful screen of the chair is put down and eight men carry the chair away while the different instruments are being played.

The groom's home is easily distinguished by the decorations at the great entrance. An arbor of red and green silk artistically designed is formed outside of the door. Six or eight large red lanterns add to the beauty of the scene. Guests are arriving all the time and being announced by the orchestra that is seated just inside the front entrance. Crossing the arbor the guests pass through a beautifully decorated doorway into the main hall which is also nicely arranged. On the walls the chairs and tables have the most exquisitely embroidered red satin covers. This hall is full of well-dressed, merry men, women and children. All are expecting and waiting for the arrival of the bride. When the continuous music of the bridal band approaches they crowd on both sides of the room, leaving a big empty space in the middle for the bride.

Soon the gorgeous chair appears and is stopped at the entrance of the hall. Usually the bride is kept in the chair for one hour or more, for it is believed that the longer she is kept there the better her temper she will have. Afterwards the big red candles are lighted. The first thing for the bride and groom to do is to kneel down to each other. There is a saying that whoever kneels first will be the control of the other so neither of them wants to do it first. CHAPTERS TO JOIN IN -BIG ENTERTAINMENT

The municipal chapter of the I. O. D. E. held a special meeting in the Government rooms yesterday afternoon in order to make full and complete arrangements for the grand entertainment which will be staged early in December in order to raise at least $2,000 as the contribution of all the chapters of the city and Robtasy towards the I. O. D. E. education memorial. The regent Mrs. Hugh Mackay, president and there was a large attendance of members all being most interested and enthusiastic in preparing to undertake their allotted parts of the work.

All of the ten chapters in the city and Robtasy will take part in the entertainment which, it was decided, should be called the Daughters of the Empire Folks and Robtasy. The chapters that will supply performers are the Royal Standard, the Duke of Rothesay, the Loyalist, the Valentines, the Brunswick, the deMonts, the Royal Arms and the Seven Seas. The general convener for the entertainment will be Mrs. Cortland Robinson. All matters concerning the programmes will be in charge of the Windsor chapter and the ushering will be in charge of the Lady Roberts chapter. Mrs. T. H. Carter, regent of the Royal Arms chapter, will have charge of the tickets, Mrs. Hiebert of the music, Mrs. Brunwick chapter will conduct a candy booth in the lobby of the Imperial theatre, where the entertainment will be held. It was decided that an evening performance and a matinee for the following day should be arranged for.

Several resolutions were received by the municipal chapter from the primary chapters. All were resolutions of protest against the destruction of the court house. The secretary was asked to forward them to the mayor and commissioners. The chapters which sent in these resolutions were the deMonts, Valentines, Windsor, Duke of Rothesay and Seven Seas.

Miss Doris Barbour read a paper on the life of Eugene Field before the members of the Young People's Society of Centenary church last evening. Readings were also given by Misses Laura Baxter, Elizabeth Good, Alice McCavour and Mary Marney and Arnold Young sang a solo. The entertainment was in connection with the church anniversary.

GUARD YOUR HOME AGAINST THE 'FLU

Don't Neglect Treating a Cold on Its First Appearance.

The 'flu is again making its appearance and every home should safeguard its inmates against the epidemic. The initial symptoms of the 'flu are practically the same as those of a cold in the head. Consequently no appearance of such complaint should be neglected. As soon as the first sign of a cold—a sneeze, a sniffle, running of the nose, etc.—appears, the sufferer should start taking Grip Fix. This preparation is composed of ingredients which meet every condition of the system created by the complaint. It keeps the system open, relieves the pain in the head and muscles, reduces the feverish condition and tones up the entire system. It acts very quickly, a hot tea being relieved in 24 hours and even a case of Grippe in 48 hours.

Grip Fix is not a patent medicine. It is a combination of just the things which any physician would use, and the ingredients are fully stated on each box. It comes in capsule form, the convenient method for home use, and has a record of years of satisfactory service. A box should be in every home at this season when the 'flu is around and colds are common.

You can obtain Grip Fix from your druggist, where it is sold at 35 cents per box or three boxes for $1.00. Be sure and get Reid's Grip Fix as there is no substitute which will do its work. Get a supply today and be safeguarded should the 'flu come or colds appear.

PRINCE VISITS WOUNDED SOLDIER AT HIS HOME

The Prince of Wales left Canada yesterday for the United States. His last act before going being one of kindly interest in a returned soldier. He paid a visit to the home of Capt. L. K. Askwith, M. C. Ottawa, who was wounded in 1916 and who took ill recently from the wound. A Washington despatch says that the prince, if he so desires, may see President Wilson in the sick-room at the White House during his visit to tea with Mrs. Wilson.

LIEUT.-COL. BROWN OF THE 26TH At a meeting of the G. W. V. A. last evening the fact that Lt.-Col. Brown of the 26th Battalion is still without a position and has decided that he must book passage for himself and family back to England was the subject of sharp comment.

The Boy Scout Local Association wish it to be known by the public that the tag day held on last Saturday on the west side by the "Prince of Wales Troop" was entirely unauthorized. MILLIDGEVILLE WATER. In connection with the water supply situation in Millidgeville, it was announced this morning by the Board of Health that the R. K. Y. C. well has been tested and found to be in good condition. The one object to it was that the pump was out of order but it is understood that the commissioner of water and sewerage will have the pump repaired and therefore relieve the serious situation in that vicinity.

CLEARING STATION HERE. Lieut.-Colonel G. W. Merritt, officer commanding the clearing services in Quebec, will arrive in the city in the near future to make arrangements for the establishment of a clearing service here when the winter port opens. There will not be very many soldiers to return to Canada during the winter but it is expected that some dependents will return.

BEHIND THE CURTAINS. A citizen informed the Times-Star last evening that on a recent evening he saw six young girls, the eldest of whom did not appear to be more than fifteen, enter a restaurant with several men, two of the latter married men, and go into the curtained stalls which screen the inmates from observation. He had made enquiry and found there was no law against these screened stalls in restaurants, and felt that since parents did not look after their young daughters the law should throw as much protection as possible around them.

QUICK WORK. The S. S. Grove, which cleared at the Customs House yesterday for Copenhagen, had 25,648 bags of refined sugar on board, aggregating 2,564,500 pounds, valued at $230,832. Shipping men consider that a record despatch was established in loading, etc. She arrived in port on Sunday morning and work was commenced at 9 o'clock. At 5 o'clock the following morning the hold was completely loaded, having taken 1,300 tons on board. She cleared and sailed the same day and is now en route to her destination.

WEST INDIES STEAMER. A wireless was received from the Royal Mail Steam Packet liner Chignecto this morning saying that she would arrive off the island about four o'clock and would dock an hour later. She has 119 passengers, 2,600 tons of sugar, and 1,200 puncheons of molasses on board. Among those on board are several officers, who have been doing garrison duty in Bermuda and the West Indies. They will go to Montreal, whence some of them will sail for England.

Mr. and Mrs. Perrett will leave this evening on the Montreal train for a wedding trip and on their return will reside at 20 High street. They received many valuable and useful wedding gifts. Among the wedding gifts was a china dinner set from the firm of Hiram Webb and Son, with whom the groom is employed.

MATTER OF BUILDINGS AT EXHIBITION MEETING

Question of Restoration to be Discussed—Fair Next Year Opened on Labor Day

It is likely that the question of the restoration of the exhibition buildings, which are owned by the St. John Exhibition Association, will come up at the annual meeting this afternoon. There has been nothing definitely settled as to what the military people will do but it is expected that the new mess room now on the grounds will be offered to the association in lieu of some restoration work. It was said by a member of the association this morning that should this building be granted to them it would likely be moved to the south side of the grounds as its position presents interferences to the show ring.

It has already been definitely decided that a fair will be held next year commencing on Labor Day, the first Monday in September. A grant has already been asked from the provincial government. At the request of the military an estimate of the cost of restoration of the buildings has been made and this will also be brought before the meeting. The election of directors will be carried out this afternoon.

The buildings belonging to the Exhibition Association are the new eastern wing in the main building, the agricultural hall, grandstand, cattle sheds and horse stalls. All the rest of the group belongs to the city.

The Y. M. C. A. but on the grounds belongs to the Y. M. C. A. and its disposal depends on the action of that body. Should it be conceded to the Exhibition Association, it will likely be used as an administration building.

W. F. Bardie, chairman of the St. John Exhibition Association, said this morning that the organization had gone into the matter of a new location for the buildings but could not see their way clear to recommend any change at present. The vicinity of Moosepath Park had been suggested as a possible location but with the present facilities it was considered not sufficiently accessible. It is figured that the cost of a new set of buildings would be in the vicinity of a quarter of a million dollars.

PENDER MEN WIN LOAN HONOR FLAG

Simonds Reaches Objective in Victory Loan But City Has to do Much Better

Much is expected from tonight's meeting in connection with the Victory Loan campaign in the Imperial Theatre and it is expected that a large crowd will attend. Elsewhere in the Times will be found the programme which will include music by the Great War Veterans' Band. With only a few days remaining for the campaign it means that St. John will have to hustle considerably to get to its objective. The only part of St. John which has so far scored its required amount is the Parish of Simonds, captained by W. G. Gunn, which today secured the required quota. An honor flag was won today by James Pease & Co., Ltd., who employ subscribers in the necessary proportion. In fact they went well above it for only 75 per cent was needed, whereas more than 92 per cent of them took bonds.

The North End wards are still leading the city in their sales of bonds. The next place with Lorne second. Kings ward is just a short way behind. The results by wards up to Saturday night with the corresponding figures for last year's are given below:

AMIEVS CATHEDRAL

Letter to St. John About Noble Pile Well Known to Our Soldiers

A recent visitor in Amievs, from whose environs the Canadians launched the offensive which assisted in the great events of 1918, culminating in the armistice, the first anniversary of which is being celebrated today, writes of the cathedral at that place which is well known to a great many of the Canadian boys. She says: "Among other places we visited the cathedral; there are two rose windows facing each other that are most exquisitely colored, the deepest reds and glowing purples that I have ever seen in stained glass. The high altar is a most beautifully conceived idea; the groups of angels and the rays of light are very original and very lovely. "Very nearly all the statues (which were removed for safety during the Hun occupation in 1918) have been replaced and the damage repaired. The sandbags have also been removed from the lovely pieces of carving that constitute the sides of the high altar."

INTERESTING MILITARY SESSION IN ST. JOHN

In April, 1919, militia headquarters announced that a committee had been appointed to report in connection with the preservation of the identity and traditions of units serving overseas with the Canadian militia; this is to be without avoidable increase of establishment and without prejudice to the judicial system of organization and with due regard to the services which at various times, both before and during the war, the militia itself has rendered. The committee is composed of: Major General Sir William D. Otter, K. C. B., C. V. O., president; Major General W. G. Swatkin, C. B., C. M. G., Major General Sir E. W. B. Morrison, K. C. M. G., C. B., D. S. O., deputy inspector for artillery; and Brigadier General G. L. McNaughton, D. S. O. In each district the general officer commanding, together with officers commanding militia and Canadian expeditionary force units, and citizens who are interested in military matters, will sit on the committee with the appointed members of the committee.

The duties of the committee are to visit each district in turn and report on this morning and they will sit in this district on Tuesday, November 18, at 8 o'clock, in this city and continue the session next day. The Brigadier General A. E. Macdonnell, C. M. G., D. S. O., general officer commanding this district, will be a member of the committee and will be the appointments according to the military orders. No appointments have been made yet.

FURTHER EVIDENCE IN STEARNS CASE

No arrests were made last night or this morning and there was no police sheet such as generally announces the 10 o'clock parade each morning before the magistrate in the police court. The case against W. B. Stearns, charged with forgery, was resumed. Michael Cullinan of Union street told of cashing a war gratuity check endorsed by the defendant and said that it was returned from the bank marked forged. He identified the check in court. The case was postponed until Nov. 19 in the afternoon. W. R. Scott appeared on behalf of the military authorities.

The two minute cessation from activity was observed in the police court. When the fine amounting to the court stopped its proceedings for two minutes.

ENGINEERS' STRIKE. The strikers' engineers in four corners in the city went on strike this morning on refusal of the employers to concede to their demands for the union rate, $28 for week of fifty-four hours with time and one-half for overtime. Three other concerns are involved in the dispute but it was said by representatives of the union this morning that the men had not gone out, anticipating a settlement today. The average rate being paid in the shops in question is said to be about $21. Frank Healy of Niagara Falls, who is in the city looking after the matter on behalf of the union, said that the men had gone out from the works of the Christie Woodworking Co., Peters' Tannery, the McLean and Holt foundry and Oland's brewery.

Horses Wash Ashore Near Glace Bay; A Sea Disaster Feared

One of Animals Alive When Land Reached But Soon Dies—No Word of Men of Polar Land But There Still is Hope

Sydney, N. S., Nov. 11.—Four horses at a quantity of beef drifted ashore at Glace Bay beach yesterday. One of the horses was still alive, but died soon after. It is feared that a large vessel has foundered in a recent storm somewhere in the vicinity of Glace Bay. The total storm damage at Glace Bay is placed at $40,000, mostly in government breakwaters, crib work and buoys displaced or destroyed.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 11.—The forty-nine officers and men of the United States shipping board's steamer Polar Land, who took to the boats on last Sunday when their ship was sinking ninety miles east off the Cap Breton coast, have not yet been found. Several steamers took up the search, but so far no wireless reports have been received from them. It is believed that the heavy northerly blow has carried the boats a considerable distance south of the position in which the Polar Land was reported as sinking, and United States shipping board officials here hold out the hope that they will eventually be picked up.

The United States shipping board's steamer, Pioneer ad Yellowstone, are proceeding to the search.

The dominion government's steamer Anamore sailed from Pitt Island, C. B., this morning to search for the Polar Land's crew.

BLIZZARD IN WINNIPEG; SNOW FALL OF 8 INCHES

Winnipeg, Nov. 11.—The earliest blizzard in fourteen years hit Winnipeg and the west yesterday and was worse than any experienced last year. Eight inches of snow fell during the day. A north-westerly wind blew thirty-two miles an hour, piled into drifts as much as five feet deep, damaged telephones and telegraph wires, held up street cars, delayed trains and generally made itself a nuisance. Fortunately the temperature was only twenty above zero and last night the wind calmed down to ten miles per hour.

Street car service in Winnipeg is nearly normal today.

MORE OFFICERS OF ST. JOHN COUNTY S. S. ASSOCIATION

Features of The Winter Work Discussed at Meeting Last Evening

Members of the St. John County Sunday School Association gathered last evening in the Y. M. C. A. building and discussed various matters regarding the work for the winter. In addition to the officers already elected some appointments were made, as follows: Assistant secretary, Miss Edith Burditt; superintendent home department, Miss Betts; superintendent department of education, Rev. J. C. B. Appel; superintendent of administration, L. A. Belyea; superintendent of the young people's division, D. W. H. Magee; finance committee, Messrs. Arthur, Flewelling, Thorne and Reid; field work committee, Messrs. Simms, Thomas, Breen and Wilson.

The meeting was well attended. It included representatives from all Protestant denominations as all are now combined in this association. C. B. Wasson, county president, occupied the chair. It was decided to hold a superintendent's meeting in December and to invite Doctor King of Sackville to address it. It was also decided to hold community classes for teacher training.

COLLECTION OF THE VITAL STATISTICS

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 11.—The New Brunswick Department of Public Health is preparing for the inception of the collection of vital statistics under the provisions of legislation passed at the last session of the legislature. Those provisions will go into effect January 1, 1920. The actual work of collection of statistics will be done by the sub-deputy registrars of the parishes, towns, and cities. In past years such statistics were incomplete and in the greater part of the province were not kept at all. In some of the cities and towns fairly complete records were kept. Records of births and particularly important from the legal view point and during the war when the military service act was in force lack of proper birth registration was keenly felt by many.

The department of public health last night received a telegraphic report from St. Francis, Madawaska county, that a case of smallpox had been discovered there. Dr. J. A. Wade, D. M. H. O., left for St. Francis this morning to investigate. This is the fifth case reported in Madawaska within a few weeks. St. Francis is in close proximity to both the Quebec and Maine boundaries.

The provincial government will meet tonight in monthly session. It is expected that the session will be brief. Hon. P. J. Veniot and Hon. J. P. Byrne arrived here last night. Hon. E. A. Smith arrived this morning. All are engaged in departmental business.

"UNDER COVER"

Rehearsals for the successful comedy drama "Under Cover," which is to be given under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus next week are well advanced and indications point to it being particularly well presented. The cast has been carefully selected and the play is being directed under Arthur McCloskey. It will be given in St. Vincent's Theatre, Cliff street, for three nights and a matinee beginning on next Wednesday.

ARMISTICE DAY IN ST. JOHN NOT MUCH OUT OF ORDINARY

A cessation from work of two minutes was quietly observed this morning throughout the city in honor of the first anniversary of the armistice. Traffic in most streets stopped at eleven o'clock and remained still for two minutes, and in some cases where there was a disposition on the part of some auto drivers and teamsters not to heed the lull traffic policemen held them up. At the station the gates were lowered, preventing the crossing of the tracks, except pedestrians. The trains on both C. P. R. and C. N. R. systems observed the two minute rest.

About the city few flags were seen except in King street where most of the business houses followed one after another in putting out a few. Most of the other streets presented their usual appearance of outward calm with scarcely a flag in honor of the day which a year ago caused such joy throughout the empire. A few factory and steamboat whistles were tooted at eleven o'clock in honor of the event, but there was little to indicate the importance of the anniversary.

GO AGAINST THE WISHES OF THE PRESIDENT

U. S. Senate Near to Adoption of League Reservation

BITTERNESS IN DEBATE

Vote Likely Today on Antical 10 of League of Nations Covenant

—Spirited Clash on The Question of Status of Ireland

Washington, Nov. 11.—The fight over Article 10 of the League of Nations covenant neared a conclusion yesterday in the senate with developments promising adoption of a reservation wholly unacceptable to the administration.

During the day this reservation, drafted by the foreign relations committee and almost identical with one which President Wilson has announced he would regard as a rejection of the treaty, weathered all attempts to alter it and rallied repeatedly a support which seemed to insure its final acceptance. A vote is expected today.

The reservation provides that, under the terms, which pledges member states to preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and political independence of all other members, the United States shall assume no obligation to use its naval or military forces except on express authorization of congress in every specific case.

The debate, which summed up six months of senate discussion of the subject, reached a high pitch of bitterness several times during the day. It developed another episode in the question of Ireland's status under the article.

Senator Williams, Democrat of Mississippi, assailed Irish-Americans who oppose the league and Senator Wadsworth, Democrat of Massachusetts, replied in a speech charging that the administration had undertaken to deprive him of all federal patronage because he did not support the league without qualification.

Just before adjournment the united Republican forces backing the reservation almost were split by a Democrat, who made the qualification even more sweeping in its terms. But the Republican leaders soon recovered their hold on the situation and declared that they were sending the committee draft had passed.

Many Wage Earners Spending More Than Their Employers For Clothes and Luxuries—Need of Campaign to Teach Wise Expenditures

(American Architect.)
Now that the United States is rapidly being awakened to the fact that industry, commerce and transportation can be successfully continued only through increased and systematic production, strong efforts in the fight for lower prices are being made by those versed in economic affairs, to show that we are suffering not only from the high cost of living, but also from the cost of high living. There is a very direct relation between the two as has been conclusively shown of late by the thousands of wage earners who are spending even more than their employers for clothes and luxuries.

What is most decidedly needed at this time is a thorough campaign along educational lines to teach the laborer, who never before has had so much money to spend on his pleasures as he has at present, the art of wise expenditure and convince him of the wisdom of saving. The need of thrift and economy must be emphasized in this country. While it is decidedly beneficial to the laborer that his standard of living has been raised, due to the increase in the level of wages, there has been no com-

CLEANING UP CHINATOWN

Single-handed, Patrolman Rounds Up 27 Chinese in New York

New York, Nov. 9.—Not since the passing of Tong warfare has New York's Chinatown been so stirred as on Wednesday night, when, single-handed, patrolman Benjamin Bailey rounded up 27 Chinese who, he said, were engaged in playing the Pekinese equivalent of poker.

The alleged bewitching hour of midnight was approaching when Bailey started on his raid. The quarter was filled with natives shuffling along the sidewalks and strollers cautiously treading the exact centre of streets which scenario writers have filled with the very essence of horror.

Tipped off that the Chinese boys were planning a game of fan-tan, Bailey arranged with his cohorts to await the blast of his police whistle and then, with collar turned up and hat pulled down in approved detective fashion, entered an evil-looking doorway and ascended some dimly lighted stairs on the heels of Oriental indoor sportsmen.

Being more than a common detective, Bailey slipped past one "watcher" by muttering "all right" in best Pekinese, but a second "watcher" detected the detective and started to reach for an electric buzzer connecting with the alleged gambling salon.

After hurling the guard downstairs, Bailey dashed to the door of the room, but found his way blocked by a barbed wire entanglement worthy of the erstwhile western front. Tearing it down, he burst into the room, and after a brief rough and tumble fight had the 27 backed up against the wall, gazing into the muzzle of his revolver.

Then the sightseers got their thrill. Bailey's whistle, blown relentlessly, brought two patrol wagons and a score of reserves.

"ALL LAWFUL MEANS TO PREVENT PROHIBITION"

Jersey City, Nov. 7.—Gov. Elect Edward I. Edwards has announced that he would use all lawful methods to prevent prohibition in New Jersey.

"For its enforcement by the federal government I shall not be responsible," he said.

"I construe my election as an indication of the feelings of the people of this state concerning national prohibition. They are unqualifiedly opposed to it. Holding their mandate, I shall use all the lawful methods to preserve inviolate the sovereignty of the people."

"What I shall do will depend on subsequent legislation. This congress has determined that one-half of one per cent of alcohol makes a drink intoxicating. The next congress may decide on 10 per cent. I shall ask for the best legal advice as to the power of New Jersey in concurrent legislation."

A PEERLESS garment comes from the "tub" almost like new. It "washes" beautifully.

Neither the soft fabric nor the dainty trimmings suffer if ordinary care is used in the laundry.

Nor does the garment lose shape—thanks to skillful tailoring and the high quality of materials used.

That means that a Peerless garment will be comfortable—fit properly—feel right—until it is worn out.

parative increase in savings. This wage increase has, however, resulted in a wide gain in expenditures for non-essential articles. Only this week in a haberdashery's shop in a small shiptown town the writer was confronted with an example which clearly showed the danger involved in this situation.

Buy $12.50 Shirts.

Three men, from their conversation evidently riveters in the shiptown, were in the store looking for shirts. A clerk produced a boxful of what he said was a very good quality and style. Without more than a passing glance at the shirts one of the men asked, "How much did you say these are?"

"Five dollar," replied the clerk.

"Oh! we want something better than that. Let's see your best silk shirts," rejoined the workmen.

The clerk then brought out the most expensive grades he had in the store and told the men that they were worth $9 each. Again the men showed their dissatisfaction by saying that if that was the best the clerk had he couldn't do business with them. In desperation the clerk summoned the proprietor, who soon sized up the situation. He saw that the men cared little how much they had to pay for what they wanted. In a minute he returned to the counter with some shirts, taken from the same box as the clerk had opened; but the price had been advanced to $12.50 a shirt to meet the occasion. The men were satisfied and between them they purchased four shirts. They clearly showed their conviction that they wanted the best the market produced regardless of cost.

Whether this case is exceptional or whether it is an everyday occurrence it is difficult to determine. It is known, however, that the amount of foolish expenditure of this character in this country today is appalling. Prices cannot go down while labor continues to pour out its money like a drunken sailor. When there is not enough to satisfy the real needs of the world's millions at this time of shortened production the wage-earner must be instructed in sane economy. He must take heed and be convinced of the necessity for saving.

JOYS AND SORROWS OF TOWN-BRED DOGS

The Majority of Them Are Natural-Born Speed Maniacs, But a Few Motor Under Pretext

(N. Y. Times.)
That dogs large and small are quite as much at home in the city's big apartment houses as they are on a country estate or farm is amply shown by the great number which live and thrive here. There are persons who contend that the city is no fit place for a dog, much less a good-sized dog. They contend that such animals copped up in the cramped and narrow apartments are more or less deprived of their liberty and freedom, and consequently are little better off than a bird in a cage.
Although these persons may possibly be right in their estimate of apartment pets, the appearance of the animals does not support it. In the large apartment houses on Riverside Drive and in those on intersecting streets are dogs of all sizes, shapes, and breeds, and these animals with few exceptions appear beautifully healthy, sleek and self-satisfied. If any criticism may be made against them, some look, perhaps, too well fed and indolent.
Dog fanciers who have studied them point out that they differ in many respects from their prototypes of village and country. Not a few are descended from pedigreed ancestors whose lives were spent amid the luxurious surroundings of aristocratic apartment houses, and being the offspring of such ancestors they have acquired their good manners and dispositions naturally. These pets, like humans, adapt themselves easily to their environment, and when transported to village or farm feel as lost and strange as a purely rural dog on being taken on a visit to the city.
The superintendent of a large apartment house which harbors many dogs was asked if the barking of the animals did not jar occasionally on the nerves of dogless tenants and neighbors.
"Doubtless it would," he replied, "if they barked or howled, but they are too well bred for that. They seldom bark at night, and not at all in the daytime. They are very well behaved. There are a lot of dogs in the house, but you would not know we have them if you did not see them. A gentleman in the house visited a friend in the country a short time ago. On his return he told me he had not been able to sleep because his friend's dog bayed and howled half the night. He said he was glad to get back home where the dogs knew how to behave themselves."
At another house it was said they had several good-sized dogs, a Great Dane, a shepherd, a Gordon setter, and a pointer, and several dogs of the toy variety. The large dogs were regularly taken for an airing on the Drive by their owners, and showed no signs of suffering from lack of sufficient exercise. These animals were as quiet as mice, and the only time they disturbed the neighbors was on a certain night when it was suspected that burglars were attempting to force an entrance from the fire escape when their concerted howling drove the intruders away.
The favorite pet of many apartment dwellers is the Boston bull, while others prefer the French or English bulldog. All variety of bulldogs are more or less tenants, and was quick to make friends with all the tradesmen and grocery boys who visited the place—except the iceman. He not only had a great antipathy for this particular iceman but for icemen in general, and at sight of one he would fly into a rage. He attacked and bit several, and after his master had settled with them for damages he finally got rid of the animal.

These apartment pets, animal students said, enjoyed nothing so much as auto-mobiling. Next to a good meal it is their greatest pleasure. They know by instinct the time at which the automobile is to call to take their master or mistress for the daily drive, and as the hour approaches they become nervous and excited, and refuse to be quieted until they find themselves safely ensconced on a soft cushion in the car.
A woman who owned a beautiful Chow became tired of taking the animal on constant automobile rides, and left him home. The Chow grew sullen and morose, and finally refused to eat. The woman becoming alarmed called in a veterinarian. He learned that the animal enjoyed auto-mobiling, but for several weeks had been denied this pleasure. He prescribed a resumption of these rides, and the dog recovered quickly his spirits and appetite.
An English bulldog is equally as fond of the sport, and is discontented when he cannot accompany his master. The dog is a speed maniac, and if his master does not go fast enough to suit him he howls until the desired rate of speed is attained. This dog wears auto goggles, and is not satisfied until they are placed on his eyes. He did not like to wear them at first, and made a great fuss when they were put on, but now he wants them. There are other dogs who do not care for auto-mobiling, and they have various ways in showing their dislike for it. They will try to hide under a chair or parlor table, and are carried struggling to the car in the arms of their mistresses.
Many of these pets have wardrobes which are as elaborate as they are costly. They have an assortment of chic and pert sweaters, elaborate harnesses and collars, and a large collection of silk and satin ribbons. The French poodles lend themselves admirably to the ribbon scheme of decoration, and are often beribboned from top of head to tip of tail. Several weeks ago a great Dane attracted much attention on upper Broadway by being paraded about in a light green and white striped sweater which encompassed his entire body.

A BIT OF EXTRA LICENSE AS THE HOUSE PROROGUES

Closing Hours of Parliament at Ottawa

THE PROHIBITION BILLS

Senate Adopts Them on Division - Cross Benches May Demand Salary For Leader in the Next Parliament

(Special to Times.) Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 11.—The last day of school always allows a little extra license to the pupils, and it is so on the last day of parliament. When the House assembled yesterday, it had really nothing to do but wait the declaration of the Senate, which was considering the prohibition bills passed on to it for judgment. Mr. Campbell of Le Pas, who has been trying to gather some information about the white elephant which runs through his constituency, the Hudson Bay Railroad, made one more last desperate attempt but got nothing but a round-about intimation that there would not likely be anything doing at present. Supplies for nearly $50,000,000 were passed. The leader of the Opposition inquired solicitously about the health of the leader of the government. Soon after the House adjourned until 4:30 in the afternoon to await the return of its bills from the Senate.

Meanwhile the Senate was dealing with the matter of prohibition once again, and examining the bills to see what the "joker" was this time. Whenever a bill dealing with the liquor question goes from the House to the Senate it is received with a cynical smile, the upper chamber fully believing that it is being made the receiving end of "the buck." There was a disposition on the part of some of the senators to amend the bill so that it would be sent back, and if this had been done, it would probably have again died for the session. Indeed, there was a strong cat-in-the-hat in the corridors to keep members out of the House when the bill returned, so that there might not be a quorum. It was all in vain, as the Senate this time turned the joke back, if such was intended.

In the upper chamber it was proposed that the bill on the Doherty Act be given the six months hoist, which was lost by a vote of fifteen to twelve. The bill on the Canada Temperance Act passed on a vote of eighteen to twelve. An amendment that it be deferred until next session was voted down by those figures.

At 4:30 the House met to await the summons to prorogue and spent a little time in legislative "joshing" according to custom. Ernest Lapointe proposed to the government that, having lost the confidence of the country, it should resign. Hon. C. J. Doherty promised that the matter would be taken into consideration and countered with a hint that the government was preparing a nice little jaunt for "good" opposition members, who might get a chance to go to the proposed imperial conference if they behaved themselves. The thundering of black rods on the door, bidding them attend to the Senate chamber ended the badinage.

There was a remark interjected during the general talk in the House which had more significance than many of those who heard it perhaps realized. This was, when the representation at the imperial conference was being discussed, Mr. Maharg, of the Grain Growers, who occupies a seat on the cross-benches, reminded the leader of the House that "there are three sides to this house now."

Although the cross benches have not been very assertive this session, they are preparing for active participation when the House meets again, and will request that their leader be paid a salary, the same as the leader of the government and of the Liberal opposition.

To the suggestion that if that were done, labor might also be in sufficient force eventually to demand a salary for their leaders, the Speaker (who was that prominent grain grower, Reid, of MacKenzie) said that they would all be lined up together and only one leader would be necessary. And he was in earnest about it, too.

The House adjourned after a peculiar session. Known when it assembled as "the indemnity session" there was some anxiety as to whether it would last out the necessary thirty-one days to give a full indemnity. That was soon dissipated as the order paper began to fill up, until some pessimists were beginning to wonder if they would not be here until Christmas. As it was, the session stretched out into nearly ten weeks, and maybe estimated by political analysts of the future as one of the most important sessions ever held. Certainly, the taking over of the Grand Trunk system, with obligations estimated by the Liberal leader in the Senate at nearly a billion dollars, was an act of parliament of the first magnitude both in the amount of money involved and in the fact that it commits Canada definitely to a great policy of government ownership, the consequences of which may be very serious.

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—Surviving a stormy passage through the senate, the government's two measures to enact conditional prohibition for Canada became law when the governor-general affixed his signature after five o'clock this afternoon. Senator W. B. Ross, of Cape Breton, a government supporter, was the chief obstacle to the passing of the bill, when he moved the hoist for each in turn, so that in the next session there would be "time to discuss them on their merits."

In the first vote on Senator Ross' amendment to defer the first bill providing for referendums when asked for by provincial legislatures eighteen voted with the government, four of them, Senators Weston, King, Yeo and Bell being liberals. Of those who voted to kill the bills by delay, five government supporters, Senators Ross, Milne, MacDonald, White and Pringle, combined with seven members of the opposition. Therefore but for opposition support, the government could not have passed this bill.

When the next bill amending the Doherty Act went through, the same fight against the pleaders for procrastination, three senators had left the chamber so that it survived only by a vote of 15 to 12. This time six government supporters voted to defeat the government measure along with six members of the opposition. Senator Gordon was the member who changed over, his change being negated by Senator Prowse being absent. The same four liberal senators supported the government and the speaker refrained from voting.

Not anticipating any further trial, two more senators absented themselves while the second vote went through committee. Senator Ross then moved an amendment to the penalty clause and a standing vote of thirteen to thirteen resulted. Only the votes of the speaker and the chairman of the committee saved the situation. The right of the chairman to vote was contested but eventually allowed. The issue was comparatively unimportant but the incident illustrated the wisdom of the government in appointing Senators Proudfoot and Gerald White to the senate before these bills got there.

The girl had been sent down to the brook to fetch a pail of water, but stood gazing at the flowing stream, apparently lost in thought.

"What's she waiting for?" said her mistress, who was watching.

"Dunno," wearily replied hubby. "Perhaps she hasn't seen a papilio she likes yet."

RAIDS ON HIGH SPOTS IN BERLIN

Notorious Night-Life Cafes and Cabarets Visited and Hundreds of Arrests Made

Berlin, Oct. 2.—(By The Associated Press)—Fifty-one of the more notorious of Berlin's night-life cafes and cabarets, where all closing regulations were ignored, electric lights were burned until morning and scenes of drunkenness were enacted, were raided last night by the new safety police and squads of the old force. Numerous arrests were made, the proprietors of sixty other cafes were notified that their turn was coming. There were so many that all could not be raided in one evening.

The bands were playing, and all was joyous, when one lone police officer in plain clothes entered each of the fifty-one resorts. At first he was greeted with laughter, but when the exits were closed most of the patrons and many of the managers dived for the cellars, where they were easily rounded up. As fast as they could be herded together they were placed on motor trucks guarded by police and soldiers and taken to the police stations.

The scenes were exciting, as women became hysterical and men offered huge sums of money for their release. With the raids the authorities have, incidentally, accomplished a lessening of the illicit trade in food for the cabarets and cafes, and gambling clubs, were the prime offenders, and boldly offered either free meals or meals at ridiculously low prices to prospective customers.

Millions of Germs Breed in Tooth Film—Keep It Off

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

Film Wrecks the Teeth

THAT slimy film which you feel with your tongue causes most tooth troubles. The tooth brush does not end it. The ordinary tooth paste does not dissolve it. Its crevices and elsewhere that film clings. That is why your brushing fails to keep teeth white, free from tartar, clean and safe.

That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. So all these troubles have been increasing despite the wide use of the tooth brush. Dental science, after years of search, has found a film combantant. Able authorities have amply proved this by careful clinical tests. Leading dentists everywhere now urge its daily use.

The method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. And we offer a 10-Day Tube free now to everyone for home tests.

See the Results, Then Decide

The results of Pepsodent are quickly apparent. Some are instantaneous. We ask you to see them—watch them ten days—then decide for yourself about them.

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digester of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to constantly combat it.

Pepsin long seemed impossible. It must be activated, and the usual agent is an acid harmful to the teeth. But science has discovered a harmless, activating method. The inventor has been granted patents by five governments abroad. It is that invention which makes possible this efficient film combantant.

Clip This Coupon

Send this coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Use like any tooth paste. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how the teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears. This test is most important to you. Cut out the coupon now.

FIRE ALARM TO ANNOUNCE ONE SESSION DAYS

Meeting of The School Board Last Night

INVESTING IN VICTORY BONDS

Matter of Hot Lunches For Some of High School Pupils; Truancy Conditions Reported on; School Enrollment 8,454

The board of school trustees in session last evening found that one source of revenue had been overlooked, when it was brought out that under the school act the fines levied on parents for the acts of truancy of their children, were payable to the trustees.

A delegation from the janitors of the schools asking for increase in pay and the providing by the board of cleaning materials, brooms and brushes, was heard.

Those present at the meeting were: Dr. A. F. Emery, chairman, and Trustees G. H. Green, Thomas Nagle, G. E. Day, E. R. W. Ingraham, J. D. P. Lewis, H. C. Smith, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. O'Brien with the superintendent, the trustee officer and the secretary.

An application for a position on the teaching staff was received from James E. Treacartin. It was referred to the superintendent for reply.

George M. Rogers applied for a position as janitor.

A letter from D. R. Franklin, an architect of Toronto, asked that he be considered in connection with the plans for new buildings.

W. J. McAlary, Alexandria street, wrote complaining that school boys had broken down the fence between his lot and the school yard.

The report of the auditor as already published was read. Mr. Lewis objected to the trustees dealing with this report as it was the city's business.

Dr. Bridges explained that there had been a joint arrangement between the board and the city for an audit. The work was done at night and the payment was taken from the assessment.

Mr. Lewis felt that no action should be taken as this report was addressed to the mayor and common council. The report was referred to the finance committee.

Truancy Report. The trustee officer reported that during the month of October, nine boys had been before the police magistrate on account of truancy. The parents had been fined $2 each. He felt that the boys would be again in court as he did not consider the punishment had much effect on the children or their parents.

The trustee officer pointed out that the fines should come to the school board and the chairman said that something should be done to have this matter adjusted. The secretary explained that were these amounts given to the school funds, the sum would be subtracted from the amount paid over for school purposes by the city and the board would not be further ahead financially.

An offer from Gibbon & Co. for 100 tons of hard coal at $14.75 per ton was handed to the building committee with power to act.

The proposal to pay Miss Robinson and Professor Fox $100 each for their services in connection with the demonstration of the school children on the occasion of the visit of the Prince of Wales, was referred to the chairman, Mr. Day and Mrs. Taylor.

The thanks of the board were to be sent to Dr. Carter, chief superintendent of education, for several cuts of city schools, given the board by him.

Mr. Nagle asked that the visitors to the different buildings be empowered to grant the use of certain school rooms to the vocational education committee, but it was decided that a special meeting be called to consider this matter.

The Alumnae Society, through Mrs. Taylor, asked that the board guarantee $50, if necessary, to defray expenses connected with supplying hot lunches for the pupils of the High school, who were compelled to bring their lunches. The board will give the matter consideration at a later time.

A bill for $40 for the transportation of children from Navy Island to the mainland for the purpose of attending school was referred to the west side visitors.

To Buy Bonds. An amount of $4,000 in the sinking fund is to be invested in Victory Bonds.

A delegation of three janitors in reference to increase in their salaries were heard and the board promised consideration in the next estimates.

The committees formerly appointed to report on sites for North End and West End schools, were given authority to recommend sites and buildings.

The annual report of the city schools as arranged for the board of education was received and ordered forwarded to the chief superintendent.

The report of the secretary showed twenty-two teaching days in October; pupils enrolled, 8,454; boys, 4,029; girls, 4,425; percentage of enrollment in daily attendance, 90.17. There were fifteen cases of scarlet fever, nine of diphtheria and one of mumps.

Matheson-Henri.

Moncton, N.B., Nov. 10.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Bernard's church this morning when Miss Mary Rosalie Henri, daughter of David Henri, West Bathurst, was united in marriage to Frank Matheson, Moncton. The ceremony was performed by Rev.

Father Savage in the presence of only immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was given away by her brother, Albert Henri, West Bathurst. W. Henri, brother of the bride, supported the groom, while Miss Nellie Henri, St. John, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The wedding march was played by Miss Sutton, organist of the church.

The groom is a popular returned soldier. He enlisted in the 182nd battalion and returned in March, 1919. Mr. and Mrs. Matheson will reside in Moncton.

The Case Experts.

Cleveland, Nov. 9.—Tiff Denton of Kansas City defeated Otto Reisel of Chicago, 50 to 40 in fifty-six innings in tonight's play for the three-cushion billiard championship tournament here. Denton had a high run of seven. In the second game tonight Clarence Jackson of Detroit won from Jess Lean of Cincinnati, 50 to 45, in seventy-two innings.

MUNITION GIRLS' NOTES TO GUNNERS

Were Characteristic of The Spirit of Canadian Women Throughout The War

Dear Tommy: I hope this finds you in the best of health. Please accept my very best wishes for a safe return home.

Tucked down into the side of the green, yellow or blue ammunition boxes alongside the eighteen-pounder and 4.5 shells Canadian gunners out in France often used to find friendly, encouraging notes, of which the one quoted is typical.

THE CONSOLIDATED PLATE GLASS CO OF CANADA LIMITED WINNIPEG TORONTO MONTREAL. Is your store front merely a partition to keep out wind and rain or does it adequately represent your business? "Zouri" Metal Store Front Construction.

The notes were written by girls employed in the munition factories throughout the British Empire. Usually they were extremely brief, and always did not lack sincerity. Very, very seldom were they frivolous or sentimental. They were characteristic of the spirit displayed by the women of Great Britain and the colonies throughout the days of the war. And now that the war is over Canada is again asking that they display that spirit. Canada needs money. She needs it for the same reason she required the help of her women during the days of conflict—to finish the war. This time she needs it to clean up the war bills. And in this new national project the women of Canada will again prove themselves invaluable.

There is no doubt of the success of the Victory Loan 1919 if the women of Canada will but lend their support. MANY GERMANS ARE RETURNED TO HOMES. Berlin, Nov. 10.—(French Wireless Service)—More than 225,000 German prisoners have been returned to Germany from English internment camps. It is reported that the 55,000 prisoners yet remaining in England will be sent home before the end of the month.

The Red Cross Approved of Black Jack

If you want to know who likes Adams Black Jack Gum, ask the Red Cross. Millions of packages of Adams Black Jack reached the soldiers through the Red Cross. And in war days there wasn't cargo space for anything but essentials.

The soldiers liked the old-time licorice flavor in Adams Black Jack.

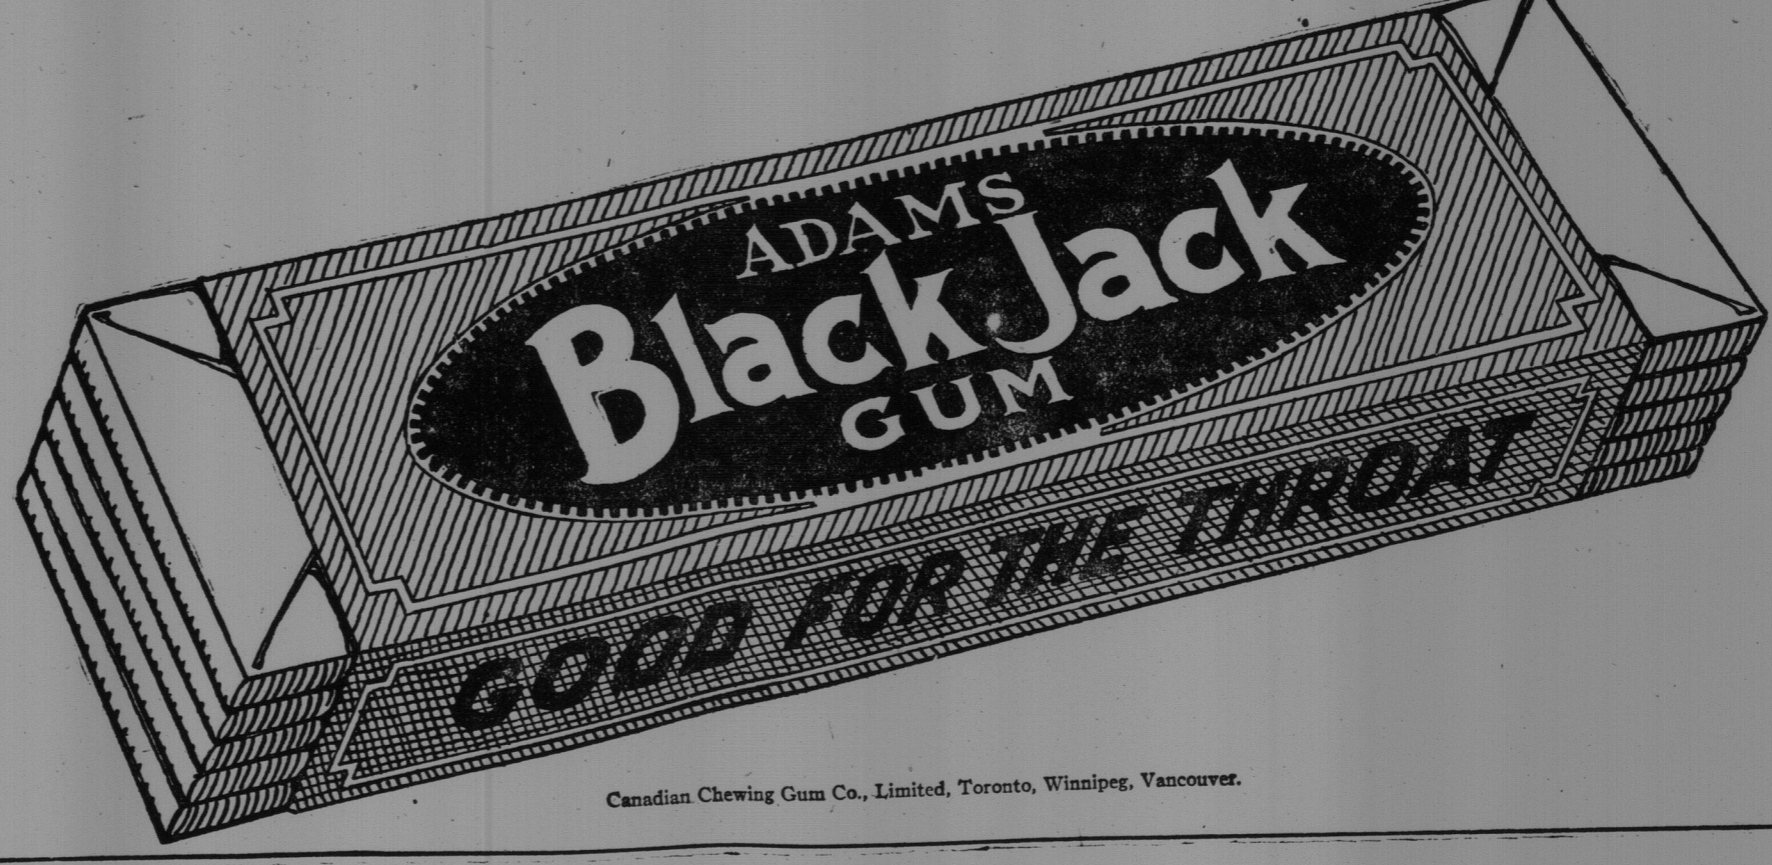

The Red Cross liked the benefits which come from the use of Adams Black Jack—it promoted clean teeth when clean teeth were vital—it gave better digestion where meals were not too regular—nerves were relaxed where nervous strain was greatest—throats were eased and refreshed, thirst quenched, by the soothing licorice.

Its war record makes a pretty good case for Adams Black Jack at home.

The blue package is sold everywhere—5c.

Sidelights On Sport

Reports from Moncton are that good progress is being made with the new skating rink and it will likely be ready about the latter part of December. If it is an open winter outdoor skating should boom in this city as there is only one enclosed rink.

Now that the interscholastic football league is over it would be a good plan for the High school fifteen to arrange a game or two with outside teams. If Joe Benjamin of St. Francis defeated Johnny Drimille of Jersey City in a six-round bout in Philadelphia last night.

Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul knocked out Dutch O'Hagen of Albany in the second round of a scheduled ten-round bout in Detroit last night.

Conceding ten pounds Benny Leonard, champion lightweight of the world, easily defeated Soldier Bartfield of Brooklyn in an eight round contest in Jersey City last night.

Give It to Donnelly.
Milwaukee, Nov. 10—Mickey Donnelly, Newark lightweight champion, outpointed Jimmy Hanson of Denver in a fast ten round no-decision boxing bout here tonight, so sporting writers agreed.

The spacious rooms of the Y. M. C. I. in Cliff street were filled with a happy throng last evening at the opening of the Cathedral high tea and sale.

SX HUNDRED AND FIFTY STUDENTS
That Number Have Registered For The Evening Classes at Technical College, Halifax

(Halifax Echo)

Six hundred and fifty students registered last night for the evening classes to be held this winter under the direction of Principal Sexton in the Technical College and Morris Street School.

It is expected that by the time the classes are fully organized another two hundred names will have been added to the rolls, which will mean that this year will see an increase of one hundred and fifty in the number of attending students over any previous winter.

The new class chemistry has been filled up, most of the applicants being anxious to get technical chemical analysis which will enable them to analyze food products and iron and steel, apprentices from a number of Halifax firms have joined the machine tool classes.

The men want to make themselves ever proficient, and there is little opportunity to learn in the large establishments in which they are employed.

Some of the firms are making it compulsory for their apprentices to attend the classes, and are offering prizes to successful students whose attendance is perfect.

The largest classes, those in English, arithmetic and architectural drawing, will hold their first meeting in Morris Street School tonight.

Electricity, dress-making and millinery, machine drawing and chemistry, will hold their first meeting at the Technical College tonight.

The class in bookkeeping meets on Friday evening at Morris Street School, and the automobile class at the Technical College the same evening.

Speaking to a Chronicle reporter last evening Principal Sexton commented on "the rejuvenation of education" which seems to be taking place here.

At Sydney, New Glasgow, Glace Bay and Amherst the classes are far larger than ever before.

"The people seem to realize that in order to be successful they must know more about their jobs," he said.

TUBERCULOSIS LEADS
Tuberculosis, one of the greatest enemies of the French army, has played havoc with the American expeditionary forces.

According to the records of the federal board for vocational education, the largest single disability of American troops who fought abroad was tuberculosis.

More than 18 per cent of a total of 119,000 patients examined showed affected lungs.

Tuberculosis, however, formed its deadly work in the concentration camps, abroad the troops, in the great training areas in France, and in the muddy trenches of Flanders, Belgium and France.

Of the 119,000 soldiers reported on disability lists, tuberculosis had a greater hold than wounds sustained in battle.

It eclipsed shell shock, nerve diseases, and insanity all put together. The total amputation cases were only 4.9 per cent.

Insanity cases were 3 per cent, nerve diseases and shell shock were 2.6 per cent, and only 4.748 of the total number of cases were incurred in battle.

BAD COLD
BRONCHITIS

However slight a cold you have you should never neglect it; if you do it can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected.

Bronchitis is one of the most common affections of a neglected cold, and neglected bronchitis is the most general cause of consumption.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is just the remedy you require to cure the bronchitis. It does this by loosening the phlegm and mucus, and stimulates the weakened bronchial organs, allays irritation and subsides inflammation.

It soothes and heals the irritated parts and thus prevents it becoming chronic.

Mr. R. P. Sundblad, Francis, Saskatchewan, writes—"I had a very bad cold which left me with bronchitis. I tried several cough remedies and oils of all kinds, but they all failed. At last I got Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and after using two bottles I have never had a sign of bronchitis since. I therefore can honestly recommend it for coughs and colds."

Don't accept a substitute for Dr. Wood's. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c. Manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SEMI-READY STORE
OFFERS $50.00
SUITS FOR $40.00

Starting Monday, November 9, and continuing for six days, we will sell $50.00 blue serge suits at $40.00.

Every suit is backed by the shield that shields, the Semi-Ready Label. It is better to buy a Semi-Ready suit with a reputation for honesty than gamble on a garment which lacks the same record of good tailoring.

From the wool to the workshop the worth of each garment on sale is assured. There is no mystery about tailoring good clothes—but cheap work can be hidden from a buyer by the lining.

So can wool and shoddy. Doctors who specialize in their practice become expert in their particular specialty, and men and women seek them out when they are afflicted with the malady to which the doctor has devoted his study and experience.

Thirty tailors contribute to the making of each individual suit and each tailor is a specialist, having become expert in the making of his specialty.

One man makes collars, another makes pockets, a third makes linings, a fourth fits the linings, a fifth shapes the shoulders, a sixth sews on buttons—so on. And thus the thirty specialists produce a Semi-Ready coat and the Chief Examiner pronounces it good before there is seen in the pocket the Semi-Ready Label.

Every suit on sale is shape-stayed and inside tailored. Made in the latest styles for men who like "Nice Stuff." Buy early and take advantage of the assortment.

Semi-Ready Store, King and Germain.

Miss Grace Hatheway of this city has been awarded a $300 scholarship at Bryn Mawr College for social research study.

THIRTY-SIX RIDERS IN SIX-DAY RACE

Annual Cycle Grind at Garden
Will Have Remarkable Field of Entrants

New York, Nov. 10.—Eighteen high-class teams will face the starter in the coming six-day race at Madison Square Garden during the week of Nov. 30 to Dec. 6, making up the first real international contest in five years. Owing to the war, it was impossible during this period to bring the foreign cracks to this side, forcing the six-day race management to make up the field from good and bad American riders.

With at least six teams made up from the stars of the European tracks, Manager Young can find room for only twelve teams from the American talent, and only riders that have been "in the money" in six-day races will be selected. Many riders of exceptional ability have been developed, both here and abroad, since the war ended, which means that the coming race will be the most keenly contested in years.

Such stars as Goulet, Magin, McNamara, Madden, Hill, Hanley, Wiley, Corn, Kopsky, and Champion Ray Estabrook are sure to represent America, but twelve of the best foreign men in the grind, among the better known riders being Egg, Brocco, Dupuy, Verri, Boloni, Girardengo, the Italian champion; Thys, winner of the Brussels race, and Spiesons and Buysse, the leading Belgian riders.

The foreign agent for the race has called a meeting for today in Paris, when terms will be offered the riders. Little trouble is expected in signing the men, as a foreign rider can double his income during the summer in Europe if he can win the New York race. Egg and Dupuy won the race in 1916 and were easily the biggest money getters in Europe the following two years. Egg has already agreed to terms, but insists on being paired with one of the leading foreigners.

ROAD MACHINE ATTACKS THE LABOR SCARCITY

Some New Things Seen on a Tour of Inspection Over Lincoln
Highway in New Jersey State

A representative group of road-builders and engineers from Ontario and Quebec recently made a tour of inspection over part of the Lincoln Highway through the State of New Jersey. In the course of the tour they were privileged in observing not only the quality and operation of work being done, but in viewing some of the latest mechanical devices in the building of cement pavements.

In this connection a concrete finishing machine which eliminates the labor of about five men was seen in operation on the above-mentioned highway.

The machine, which is operated by a gasoline motor, has a tamping-board in front which stretches the full width of the twenty-foot roadway, resting on special steel rails over which it travels, and at the same time these rails perform the function of cement forms. This tamping-board moves rapidly up and down in a perpendicular motion, thus striking the stiff concrete mixture with packing force to achieve adequate packing of the materials.

Some road engineers are approving of a "stiff mix" for roadwork to make a stronger concrete pavement, it has been found difficult to finish the work by hand, but one operator and two helpers on this machine will do the work of eight or nine men where hand-finishing is employed. A belt at the rear of the apparatus moves back and forth across the packed concrete, which gives a smooth surface to the pavement, a photograph of which appears above. The machine will strike lamp and finish the pavement as fast as the material is poured from the mixer. As to its efficiency, the impression was that it was particularly well suited for handling stiff concrete, which is becoming more recognized for hard-surface roads.

No Wheelbarrows Used.

Another unique piece of road machinery was a gravel and stone conveyor. The three or four stationary buckets rest on a steel frame, on which an endless belt revolves by means of a motor. When the mixer is ready for the next "batch" the bottom doors of the buckets, which are filled with sand and gravel, are opened, and this material falls on a revolving belt and is immediately conveyed into the skip of the mixer. Hence there are no wheelbarrows required to bring the gravel to the mixer, and no time is lost. The length of the carrier is about forty feet, and is moved along the road in front of the concrete mixer as the work progresses, by its own power.

The party expressed the opinion that this machine would dispense with about two to three laborers and reduce the energy required in wheeling the gravel by 60 per cent, which meant a considerable elimination in physical labor, with the result of greater efficiency in the men employed.

QUEEN SQUARE THEATRE

Extensive Programme.

One travelling over the roads in almost any state of the United States is surprised to notice the extensive work being carried on. And the most remarkable feature is that the highways being built are of a most durable type. No expense is being spared to build first-class roads. It is the policy of the government to build substantial highways to take care of the traffic in cases of emergency, especially during a period of war. Some sections of the Lincoln Highway which the Toronto party viewed were being built at an expenditure of $60,000 to $70,000 per mile.

The New Jersey division of this transcontinental route is declared to be one of the heaviest-travelled and most important links in the system. Other divisions will pass through states whose area, population, wealth, agricultural or even commercial development exceed those of New Jersey, yet none of them is stated to bear the burden of such a mass of traffic as will daily flow back and forth between the metropolitan districts of New York city and Philadelphia in proportion to its length, this portion of the highway will be the most congested thoroughfare in the United States, and probably the heaviest-travelled in the world.

The problem of paved concrete that the Canadian party viewed was eighteen feet wide, eight inches thick at the sides and 10 1/2 inches in the centre, with a three-foot shoulder of crushed stone on the side.

Farmers Enthusiastic.

Several of the farmers interviewed expressed the opinion that a trunk road of the kind that was being built was a great boon to agricultural progress. They stated it even surpassed in importance the steam railroad, as a paved highway gave freer access at any time of the day and any period of the year for the farmer to haul his produce into the big cities, many miles distant.

Use Convict Labor.

It would require another article of the scope of this one to tell in detail in which the state highway authorities have achieved real economical results in the utilization of institutional labor in highway work. Hundreds of convicts from the State prison at Trenton, N. J., are utilized on the construction of this highway between the city of New Brunswick and Kingston Borough.

Unfortunately, at the present time, those seeking the Lincoln Highway from New York city must make the laborious and time-consuming journey across the Hudson River on a ferryboat. But a proposed vehicular tunnel will get rid of that impediment and motorists will be provided with a direct route from the metropolis to the transcontinental highway.

A slight fire in the dwelling at 81 Portland street, occupied by Charles McKinlin and W. J. Maxwell, was the cause of an alarm from box 142 about midnight. The North End department were immediately on the scene and the fire was out before much damage was done.

Thin, Nervous People Need Bitro-Phosphate

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that one of the best things for the nerves is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing.

By strengthening the nerves, weak, tired people regain energy and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health.

CAUTION.—Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so, that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks. Those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh, should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

Whoever you may be, go into your room to-day and sit quietly for a few minutes. Canada asks you for these minutes in Meditation upon Her Immortals.

Their spirit, the spirit of devotion to duty, of love of Canada and of home that illuminated their lives and made glorious their death, still lives. May it live in you and in me. May we be so inspired that from now onward, constrained by the love of Canada, we may ever advance her interests, ever work for a greater and more glorious Canada.

To-day is a day of memory, of thanksgiving, and to-day Canada has indeed the right to require from you a thanks offering. But no such demand is made. ELEPHANTS BOTHER AFRICA

Natal Undecided Whether to Slaughter Herds or Train Them

Arthur J. Lindley, a mining engineer, who arrived in New York recently from South Africa, said that considerable excitement had been aroused at Cape Town by the arrival of big-game hunters from England who had come out to shoot the herds of wild elephants in the Addo Bush lands, Sunday River, near Port Elizabeth, which had recently been thrown open by the government of Natal. As far back as 1891 the Addo elephants, as they were called, numbered 125 and roamed about in the tract of land, which was thirty miles by ten miles, with trees never more than twenty feet high. Their favorite meeting place, according to the Kaffirs, was an elevation of rock which rose sheer up from the river, and had become so wild at that time that they had killed some of the farmers in the district and destroyed the troughs and small farm buildings erected for the use of the cattle. Permits were issued by the government of Natal to shoot one or more of the animals, but no wholesale order to destroy the two herds, now numbering about 200, was issued until last summer. On account of the objection in England to slaughtering these huge animals en masse it has been suggested that they should be captured and either trained for industrial pursuits or sold to circus proprietors and zoological gardens in various parts of the world. Army men in South Africa, Mr. Lindley said, have suggested that the elephants should be driven down into the river, where they could be easily captured in the water. Another suggestion was that Indian elephants should be imported to assist in capturing the elephants, but the local big-game hunters said that the pachyderms from the Far East might get into a fight with the warlike Sunday River herds in the Addo bush and then they would have more elephants on their hands. The suggestion of gassing the elephants into insensibility and carrying them to Port Elizabeth was dismissed as impracticable because there was no one in South Africa who would contract for the haulage of the immense animals with the prospect of their coming to on the journey and generally breaking things up. One official of the government suggested that the elephants should be caught and shipped to New Guinea, where they are badly needed for hauling purposes, and that it would be a crime from an economic point of view to destroy them. He said that the elephants working in the big lumber mills at Rangoon, Burma, were so well trained that they would drop a bulk of teak-wood they were raising when the whistle went for breakfast and dash off to eat their half ton of hay. The difficulty and expense would be in shipping the elephants away from South Africa on account of the high freights and the scarcity of ships. A few of them might be used in Uganda, Mr. Lindley said, to drive away the lions, which had become so numerous during the war that they were a regular pest and used the waiting rooms at the stations to sleep in after they had eaten too much zebra and suffered from nightmare. Mr. Lindley said, in his opinion, if the Addo elephants were sent to New Guinea they were worth keeping in South Af-
