RISKED LIVES TO SAVE LOSS TO GRAIN SHIPPERS

Starting Evidence Given by Mechanical Superintendent in Matter of Fatal Elevator Explosion

Port Colborne, Ont., Sept. 6.—At an inquest held last night into the deaths of the victims of the elevator explosion, startling evidence was given by T. S. Harvey, mechanical superintendent of the elevator. He said while dust fans were in operation at the time the leads to the various lofts were closed. The only lead open was to the scale. He had the leads open in taking in grain except by separate slides. He said that had the leads been open fifty to sixty per cent of the dust from the grain would have been taken away, thus very materially lessening the danger of an explosion. He added that the orders against fanning dust from grain emanated from the desire on the part of the shippers to avoid loss in weight. "So by not having the leads to the fans open, the lives of eight men were probably sacrificed," observed Crown Attorney Cowper of Welland. Harvey admitted that the danger of an explosion was increased. "And to avoid loss in weight of grain somebody takes a high chance?" "Yes," Harvey's theory of the cause of the explosion was dust swimming in the air, which sparks from the burning motor became attached.

RANGE PROPOSED GERMANY'S FRONTIER BE THE RHINE

Instead of Granting France Left Bank, Britain Promised Immediate Help in Case of Trouble

Paris, Sept. 6.—During the debate on the peace treaty in the Chamber of Deputies, Captain Andre Tardieu disclosed that France, in February last, had proposed that Germany's geographical frontier be fixed at the Rhine. The plan was approved by President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George had recognized the justice of the request, but instead of granting France the occupation of the left bank of the Rhine, they promised immediate help in the event of German aggression. France appreciated this offer, which was unique in history. Tardieu said he was of the opinion that the British army, if its services were ever required, would not arrive too late, as the German army would be unable to conceal its preparations. Capt. Tardieu dwelt on the prodigious strength of Great Britain and her admirable dominions, and also the United States, and concluded by saying that France had no designs to secure political ascendancy.

CITY LEAGUE SEASON ENDS; ST. PETER'S WIN

Carleton and Y.M.C.I. to Play for Decision as to Second Place

Last night's game between St. Peter's Y. M. C. I. finished the schedule in City League, leaving St. Peter's team runners for this year. Two postponed games between Carleton and Y. M. C. I., which will decide the winners of second place in the league will be played off, the first game to take place this afternoon. It is proposed to play some exhibition games on the West Side diamond so long as weather conditions permit and it is expected that in this connection outside teams will be seen in action before the season commences. A good brand of baseball has been seen in City League this year, and it is expected that the organization will be revived next season. The league standing at the close of the schedule was:

St. Peter's	16	5	1	750
Carleton	16	10	1	615
Y. M. C. I.	13	9	1	591

Empire Must Pay To Hold Sea Supremacy

Admiral Jellicoe Thinks Lord Fisher Has In Mind a Bigger And More Modern British Navy

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 6.—A special cable from Sydney, N. S. W., says:—"Unless the United Kingdom and the dominions are prepared to put their hands in their pockets, it will not be possible to retain for the empire that sea supremacy which every citizen of the empire knows in his heart is vital to its existence," said Admiral Jellicoe, in a forceful speech delivered to a large and influential audience here.

Lord Jellicoe went on to say that a fiercer reading cabled reports of a letter written to the London Times by Lord Fisher, he was of the opinion that underlying Lord Fisher's demand for the scrapping of the present British navy was the idea that a bigger and more modern navy should be built.

London, Sept. 6.—(By the Canadian Associated Press)—Discussing Lord Fisher's second letter to the Times, which it shows beyond doubt that what he advocates are constructive economy which consigns obsolete instruments to scrap heaps and replaces them with efficient modern weapons.

"Neither this country nor the empire can afford to allow the sea problems to be lost sight of," continues the Times. "The dominions have won their place in the world; they can hold it only if they recognize as Britain has already recognized that their life is in the sea and it is for us to understand their difficulties which are ours, too, and share in their solution." For this reason the Times applauds Admiral Jellicoe's mission and repeats its call for Admiral Beatty as first sea lord.

BISHOP LeBLANC AT MONCTON FUNERAL MASS

Moncton, N. B., Sept. 6.—The funeral of Mrs. W. B. Chandler, wife of Judge Chandler, was held this morning. Solemn high mass was sung in St. Bernard's church at nine o'clock in the presence of His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc of St. John. Rev. Father Savage was assisted by Rev. Father Lecavellier of St. Joseph's as deacon and Rev. Father McBequell of St. Joseph's as sub-deacon. Final absolution was given by Bishop LeBlanc. Rev. H. D. Cormier, parish priest of L'Assomption, was also present in the sanctuary. The pall-bearers were Hon. F. J. Sweeney, P. A. McCully, K. C., Reid McManus, J. Goodwin. Among those attending the funeral were Judge Barry of Fredericton and W. Hazen Chapman of Dorchester. The interment took place in the Catholic cemetery, Shediac road.

AT CITY HALL

The rush of citizens to city hall still is divided fifty-fifty between those who are calling with the cash to pay their tax bills and those who seek the assessors' office to ask why their bills are so high. So far the officials have not been worried by any noticeable number of citizens with complaints that their taxes are too low.

RUTH MAKES 25TH HOMER

Has Tied The World's Record—Rousch Gets Set-Back and Cravath Holds to Leadership of Nationals

Chicago, Sept. 6.—As the clubs of the American League swing into the final month of the pennant race, Ty Cobb is driving for the batting championship, which, with the exception of two seasons, has been in his possession for twelve years. Unofficial averages show the Georgian hitting .371, twenty-one points ahead of Oscar Veach, his team mate and closest batting rival. In 104 games Cobb has knocked out 155 safe hits for a total of 210 bases.

Ruth has tied the world's record for home runs of twenty-five. In addition to driving out twenty-five homers, Ruth tops the league in total base hitting. He has stretched 119 hits, bugged in 111 games, for a total of 240 bases.

George Sisler, St. Louis star, continues to show the way to the base stealers with twenty-seven. Chapman, of Cleveland, is the leading sacrifice hitter, with forty-three. Other leading American League batters for forty or more games include Jackson, Chicago, 34; Sisler, St. Louis, 34; Peckinpaugh, New York, 34; and Jacobson, St. Louis, 34.

Ed Rousch, Cincinnati star, suffered a setback in his attack for the National League batting honors, dropping to third place with an average of .323. Cravath, of Philadelphia, clung to the leadership with .340, while Thorpe of Boston, swung back into second place with .324. Rousch, however, leads the league in total base hitting. Competing in 116 games, the Red's outfielder has slugged out 143 hits for a total of 196 bases. Cuthbert of Pittsburgh continued to show the way to the base stealers with thirty-one. In home run hitting Cravath is out in front with eleven. Other leading National League batters include Meusel, Philadelphia, 318; Groh, Cleveland, 311; Doyle, New York, 302; and Young, New York, 301.

As Hiram Sees It

The Settlement, Sept. 6. Mr. Hiram Hornbeam and the Times reporter were enjoying an after-dinner smoke on the veranda. They had had a busy morning in the cucumber beds, and Mrs. Hornbeam was to have a busy afternoon putting away pickles. A large bird alighted on a branch of the maple tree in front of the veranda and leisurely surveyed Hiram and the reporter.

"That's a hawk," said Hiram. "I never seen one so tame. He knows you I guess."

"Knows me?" echoed the reporter. "How should he know me?"

"Birds of a feather," said Hiram. "You newspaper fellows has an eye like a hawk—'an' you're always stickin' your beak in where it ain't wanted. But there he goes—just a friendly call 'at' away again."

Just a friendly call, it was a hummingbird. It darted straight toward Hiram, poised itself for several moments within a few feet of his face, and then darted sideways into the shrubbery.

"Well," said the reporter, "how about that! I thought that hummingbird was going to make a nest in your whiskers. Do they often do that?"

"He was lookin' for honey," said Hiram.

"Ah!" said the reporter. "Your nose does bear some resemblance to a blossom today. Don't you think we had better go in? There are a lot of birds around here, and this thing may become embarrassing."

"We must go in," said Hiram. "Them cats has got to be hauled in this afternoon. I guess I'll get you to help me. Them hens 'n' turkeys is madder 'n' love to get in 'n' with heavy feed 'n' up all the time to save them poor mullin' companies from bein' as poor as the sugar refineries we'll see, sir. I callate I'll be to do more for the poor rich this winter than we ever done afore. They'll starve if we don't 'em."

TRAIN HITS MOOSE; ENGINE DISABLED

Report Here Said Seven or Eight of Killed But That Was Not Correct

When No. 1 train of the Bangor and Aroostook Railway struck a moose about seven miles north of Brownville Junction this morning and the engine was derailed. The engineer, L. Z. Groves of Van Buren, Me., was badly injured. The passenger cars did not leave the rails. No one else was hurt, though some of the passengers received a shaking up.

There have been no applications up to date and all those who are eligible for this reward had better file their applications immediately.

PUT NO EMBARGO ON GERMAN TOYS

British Minister Says Competition Not to Be Feared and Hun Nation Must Get Trade

London, Sept. 6.—Sir Auckland Geddes, minister of national services and reconstruction, informed a deputation of toy makers yesterday that the government declined to adopt the policy of a three years embargo on any imported goods.

The government information was, he said, that Germany had only a small accumulation of manufactured goods ready for export. Moreover, the cost of manufacture in Germany was rising enormously, and Germany was pitifully short of raw materials and coal.

The minister believed that there was nothing to fear from German competition. Germany was trembling on the verge of collapse, and unless she could get her trade under way she must sink. Britain's industry, Sir Auckland declared, would be helped rather than injured by trade with Germany.

Twenty-six collieries will be closed and 19,000 men affected by the strike, which will be the largest in the anthracite regions since the six months' strike in 1902. These mines produce in the neighborhood of 26,000 tons of coal daily. The suspension will become effective at seven o'clock Monday morning.

Managers' Opposition Broken By Action of Stage Hands Last Night

New York, Sept. 6.—The actors' strike, which requires the closing of nearly 300 theatres in this and other cities, was ended last night by the action of an agreement which was declared to be virtually a complete victory for the Actors' Equity Association.

Slaughter, a contractor, returned home tonight he found his wife, 16-month-old baby and 9-year-old daughter dead with bullet wounds through their bodies, and a third child fatally wounded. THE KAISER'S FINANCES

Berlin, Sept. 6.—(By the Associated Press)—The total amount of cash former Emperor William had on his person when he fled to Holland was 650,000 marks, according to a statement made yesterday by Dr. Albert Suedekum, Prussian minister of finance.

SONS OF EMPIRE ARE FOR RATIFICATION OF TREATY

Montreal, Sept. 6.—That there be no delay in the ratification of the peace treaty by the Canadian parliament was the basis of a resolution passed by the executive of the Sons of the Empire yesterday. The feeling was that any attempt to delay ratification of the treaty would cause a good deal of ill feeling, and at the same time would interfere with the normal work of the country. It was held that the treaty gave Canada national status, and its speedy adoption would show that Canada was prepared to turn from these matters to building up the country.

THE KAISER'S FINANCES

Berlin, Sept. 6.—(By the Associated Press)—The total amount of cash former Emperor William had on his person when he fled to Holland was 650,000 marks, according to a statement made yesterday by Dr. Albert Suedekum, Prussian minister of finance.

DR. SUEDEKUM

Dr. Suedekum also declared that a careful investigation had failed to indicate that the former German imperial family has capital "planted" abroad. The minister added that he expected soon to announce a proposed plan of settlement of the Hohenzollern family's financial affairs, and that it would not be dictated by malice and would not call forth unjustified criticism.

Hard Liquor Drinks At $11.50 For Each

Prohibitionists' Plan For The Demobilization Interim

Chicago, Sept. 5.—If the Prohibition party can have its way, hard liquor will cost the user $11.50 a drink. That is the use of the government tax that the party desires to place on the old "red-eye" for the intermission between demobilization and the Constitutional amendment date. A resolution to tax whisky $10,000 a gallon was whipped through this week. There is an average of ninety drinks to a gallon.

When the constitutional amendment begins to function, the Prohibitionists demand that Congress shall abolish all internal revenue legislation concerning intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes. Chairman Virgil G. Hinshaw was directed by the national committee to communicate with Congressman Randall, the Prohibition party representative from California, informing him of the party's stand.

The suggestion was emphasized repeatedly that Congress possesses plenary powers to tax liquor into oblivion just as it has taxed certain drugs to sleep, and that such legislation has been held entirely constitutional by the Supreme Court.

The idea behind the party's objection to internal revenue laws, after constitutional prohibition becomes the real thing, is that it would be incompatible for the federal government to be putting the ban upon intoxicants in one breath and extracting revenue from the article under the ban in the next.

The national committee adjourned its two days' meeting without outlining a definite policy for the future of the party. It adopted a resolution authorizing a national convention at a time and place to be determined by the executive. Speakers said that it should be understood that the convention would be held subsequent to the conventions of the Republicans and Democrats and that action taken by the Prohibitionists would be determined to a large extent by the course pursued by the two major parties.

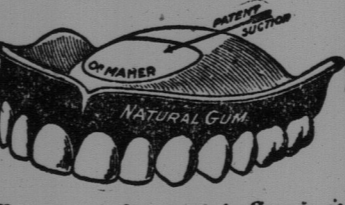

The view that the party should be perpetuated with law enforcement as the dominant feature of its policy was vigorously supported.

Hewson J. Peke of Sandusky, O., chairman of the subcommittee on resolutions, whose report urging opposition to prohibition in European prohibition battles was rejected, in a speech against the amendment said:

"What right have we to go to other countries and interfere in their domestic questions? It is infernal impudence on our part."

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., SEPTEMBER 6, 1919.

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury Street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE HARBOR TRANSFER.

Protests against delay on the part of the city in entering into an agreement for the transfer of the harbor to the federal government appear to be based on a lack of information regarding the nature of the proposed agreement, or a lack of appreciation of some of its deficiencies.

THAT DISCOUNT.

The difference in exchange which makes the Canadian dollar worth less than one hundred cents in the United States is a warning of the adverse trade balance which Canadians should heed.

AT LAST SOMETHING DEFINITE.

At last it has come! W. F. O'Connor, vice-chairman of the Board of Commerce, is quoted in an Ottawa despatch as saying that "prices will be lower than what now prevail."

SIR GEORGE ETIENNE CARTIER.

There is to be unveiled in Montreal today a monument to Sir George Etienne Cartier, Bart., a national tribute to one of Canada's most illustrious sons, a patriot and statesman to whose credit is greatly due the fashioning of the great uncut jewel of Canada into the gem of empire that is today.

It was at St. Antoine, on the Richelieu River, that Cartier first saw the light of day on September 6, 1814. Not until he was thirty-four years of age did he enter public life but the following twenty-five years of his career were devoted to the public welfare of the Dominion and he was still active in the affairs of the nation as minister of militia and defence at the time of his death in London, England, in 1873.

Intimations which have been given that a campaign for the restoration of the aldermanic system of civic government may be launched before very long at least show an interest in civic affairs which is commendable.

South Africa is fortunate in having available to fill the place of the late Premier Botha a man of the stamp of General Jan C. Smuts. The careers of the two men bear a striking similarity.

Today we stand with bared heads in respect for the memory of the man who made possible confederation, the union which transformed this great country of ours into one of the empire's finest colonies through one of the empire's finest colonists into the foundation which he laid and the example which he left behind will enable generations to come to build here a still greater national institution which shall be in itself an eloquent monument to his memory.

Rippling Rhymes by Walt Mason. (Copyright by George Matthew Adams.)

NIGHT. The day is long and dreary, and we are spent and weary, and soon we'll have repose; the night, upon us creeping will have us in its keeping, and we shall find in sleeping the balm for all our woes.

LIGHTER VEIN.

Customer—And of course you will engrave a monogram on each piece. Jeweler—Yes, ma'am. What initials? Customer—Oh, just the usual three-letter monogram.

His Chief Trouble.

There is an elevator boy in a New York office building who is among a large number of public servants who resent needless questions.

Canardage.

Employer (to clerk)—If that bore, Smithers, comes in, tell him I'm out, and don't be working or he'll know you're lying.—Boston Transcript.

Her Birthday.

"What did Mr. Flint give his wife for her birthday?" "He took her to a store and told her to choose the best thing in the house."

Hard When Together.

"My wife and myself find it are hard work doing autos when we are out together."

Save Time.

"It'll be a good thing," said the street car conductor, "if they increase the rates to the public a few more times in rapid succession."

Baseball's Popularity.

Toronto Globe: It is not only unexpected and the quick time in which most of the games are played, but the fact that the game is played in the open air, and the fact that it is a game of chance, are the reasons for its popularity.

Shipbuilding Supremacy.

Toronto Globe: Sir Joseph Davies, who has returned to England after a visit to American shipbuilding yards, expresses the conviction that the United Kingdom can hold its own in shipbuilding unless a great change is brought about in the United States.

Unmourned.

Ottawa Journal: It is announced that the Canadian Official Record is to cease publication. It will be a loss the public can easily bear. Publication of such a paper was difficult enough to justify during the war; in peace it was utterly superfluous.

Paint in the Fall

The Fall of the year is, by general consent, the most favorable time for painting the house. Blistering summer heat has passed, paint anchors deep in the open wood pores, there is comparative freedom from dust.

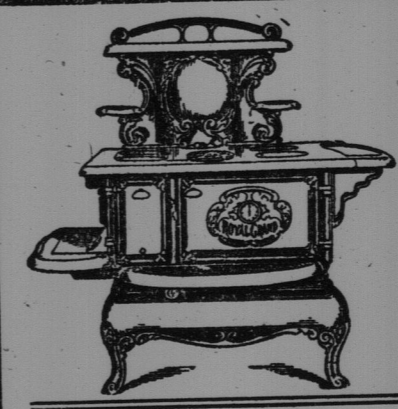

"Hand and Ring" Pure Prepared Paint

means protection as well as beauty. It wears well, looks well and is easily applied, thus insuring good work—and costs no more than a good paint ought to cost.

We carry Paint Supplies of all kinds, for outside or inside use—the best that can be bought for your purpose.

This Handsome House

on Alexandria Driveway, Ottawa, is built with Bishopric Lath Board, inside, in place of lath and plaster. On the exterior, instead of sheathing boards, building paper and lathing, the economical, yet strong and efficient is used effectively with brick veneer and stucco, shingles, clapboards, etc., could be used if preferred, nailed right onto the Stucco Board.

Made from kiln-dried lath, (dovetailed to hold the stucco firmly) set permanently in Asphalt-Mastic, on sized, Sulphite Fibre Board. Cannot shrink, warp or swell. Perfectly rigid through all weathers. Proof against dampness, wind, vermin and fire retarding. Comes in sheets 4 ft. by 4 to 10 ft.

Saves about 25% in labor-cost, 25% to 50% in material. A brace similar to the above can be built with Bishopric Stucco Board at a cost equalling brick in 1914.

For the stucco see that this specification is followed by your plasterer: Mix with 10 parts of Portland Cement one part hydrated lime dry, and measure by volume. Add dry, clean sand in proportion, one part cement line mixture to two parts sand. Turn until mixture is of uniform color. Add necessary water to make stiff plaster. For first coat add one pound of good oat hair for each bag of Portland Cement used.

Write for samples, booklets and name of our nearest dealer.

An Era of Extravagance Ottawa Journal: Speaking in the British House of Commons the other day Lord Robert Cecil pleaded for "get rid of the war mind." By this he did not mean that the forces of war patriotism should be demobilized. What he meant was that the prodigality with which expenditure was made in the vital cause of war must be dispensed with in peace. And so it must be in Canada. We are passing through an era of public and private extravagance which threatens the country with economic ruin. And unless the government begins, and begins at once, to cut its financial coat more in accordance with its cloth, thereby setting an example to the country, we are going in advance rapidly toward a position no patriotic Canadian should care to see.

Or Three. "Have you got a price-list?" "Not a recent one, madam; but I can give you an old one, and all you have to do is to multiply everything by two."

Judge Robson, chairman of the board left last night for the west and Mr. O'Connor will go next week to Toronto, then to Hamilton and next to Montreal.

"The fixing of profits," said Mr. O'Connor, "involves the fixing of the prices but makes allowance for varying conditions in varying zones. After making inquiries upon which we are now starting and establishing machinery to continue them we will be able to ascertain what is the actual cost and then determine what is a fair profit thereon. The next step will be to set a date at which the price, the result of the fixation of profits, will be effective. These prices will be lower than what now prevail. Meanwhile commerce will have to beat down to the level decided on. We will then issue an order restraining and enjoining all persons in a particular line and zone from selling at a price including a profit greater than what is determined."

"All who disobey the order are liable to a fine of $1,000 a day or to imprisonment."

Mothers' Advice

The responsibility for a daughter's future largely rests with the mother. The right influence and the information which is of vital interest to the daughter imparted at the proper time has not only saved the life but insured the success of many a beautiful girl. When a girl's thoughts become sluggish with headaches, dizziness, or a disposition to sleep, pains in back or lower limbs and a desire for solitude, her mother should come to her aid and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, will at this time prepare the system for the coming change and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities. Thousands of women residing in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtues of this medicine, and what it has done for their daughters.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for what it has done for my daughter. She was 15 years of age, very sickly and pale and she had to stay home from school most of the time. She suffered agonies from backache and dizziness and was without appetite. For 3 months she was under the doctor's care and got no better, always complaining about her back and side aching so I did not know what to do. I read in the paper about your wonderful medicine so I made up my mind to try it. She has taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and doesn't complain any more with her back and side aching. She has gained in weight and feels much better. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers and daughters."—Mrs. M. FROST, 516 Mary Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Man In The Street

The Prince laid a corner stone in Ottawa this week. We don't think he belongs to the union but we remember reading that he had been made a Mason before he came across.

The Renown was held up at Halifax because of fog which rather disposes of the idea formerly prevailing there that the only places it was to be found were St. John and in Webster's.

Returned soldiers who find themselves deprived of their privileges of paying taxes this year should be consoled with the knowledge that they probably will be given a chance to pay more next year.

A morning paper quotes the motto of the Y. W. P. A. as, "Not for Myself but for God and King." We have no reason to believe that our contemporary intended to impute giddiness as one of the young ladies' attributes.

"Oh, for a night in Bohemia," may now very well be changed to, "Oh, for a week in Cuba," according to the story of the "flowing-bowl" and the "primrose path" as they exist on that island.

Miss Molla Bjurstedt, former tennis champion is to wed. A case of swapping one racquet for another. She is to become Mrs. Mallory; from a phonetic standpoint the change is a good one.

Despatch from the Rev. Edward Island says that the elections will be held there on "October 27." They had been running on the old Scandinavian calendar on "the island."

The Douglas avenue renewal job has been rushed through night work being done. Is it the idea of City Hall to prolong the other street jobs in Union street, City Road and Germain street by working only by day?

Through a misprint yesterday in a local paragraph on an article pertaining to soldiers' taxes, reference was made to exemption for "those earning $2,000,000." One of the chaps in the composing room evidently is trying to "kid the troops."

The Standard says that when the wind blew last evening the dust "played about and in and out of the eyes of the people." We have never experienced that very obliging variety of dust; it usually takes a great deal of patience, probing and tear-shedding before the mote agrees to come out.

Sackville fire department decided to build rather than buy rent; moving still is said to be cheaper.

Carnegie's gifts to Lloyd George and other Englishmen caused much surprise over there, but we haven't heard of any of them who have not survived the shock.

Watch the Traffic Cop, Though.
The little girl's father keeps a garage and she is about the place continually, hearing much of the conversation on slang phrases of motoring. After Sunday school the other day she asked her dad if God owned an automobile. Dad couldn't say, surely, but he didn't think so. "I think he must have," chirped the little one. "I think he must have," chirped the little one. "I think he must have," chirped the little one. "I think he must have," chirped the little one.

PRINCE HAS SOME TROUBLE WITH EYES

Steel Dust Blown in While at the Sea—Now is on Fishing Trip

Nepigon, Ont., Sept. 6.—While a minor affection of the eyes from which the Prince of Wales is suffering is not considered likely to persist for more than a day or so, commander Newport, the prince's physician, was sent for yesterday and left with an Indian guide for Victoria Camp, the first stopping place on a fishing trip which will take the prince and his suite through the famous Nepigon waterways.

The programme arranged for the next three days of the prince's journey is considered the best possible corrective for the fatigue which His Royal Highness feels after the arduous round of visits which has kept him busy since his arrival in Canada. The eye trouble is caused by steel dust blown into the prince's eyes while he was inspecting the steel plant at Sault Ste Marie on Thursday.

RUMOR OF PLANS OF LABOR MINISTER

Welland, Ont., Sept. 6.—There is a rumor that Hon. G. D. Robertson, minister of labor, will resign and contest this riding against the Liberal candidate in the next federal election.

Not being a member of the commons, and to participate more directly in the business of parliament, he must look for a seat, and it is believed, he is looking toward his native county.

"CANNED SERMONS" FOR EMPTY PULPITS PROPOSED.

Lake Geneva, Wis., Sept. 6.—"Canned sermons" are a possibility in pastorless Presbyterian churches as a result of action taken today at the Presbyterian New Era conference, after it was disclosed that 3,000 of the 10,000 Presbyterian pulpits are vacant. Dr. W. S. Marquis of Chicago urged each Presbyterian to develop immediately strong laymen as leaders and endorsed the recommendation that phonograph records of approved sermons by ordained ministers be provided for use in vacant pulpits.

Management of Coal Mines An Example

INEFFICIENCY MARKED

Political Influence Proved Unfavorable to Economical and Business Like Administration

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)
Scant space was given by those English newspapers which, with "ear to the ground," were eager to make a case for the nationalization of coal mines, then erroneously supposed to be popular, to the testimony of a witness before the Coal Commission in regard to nationalization in New Zealand and Australia. It was shown that industries there nationalized were made inefficient by that political control which is inevitable to nationalization. The workmen had no reason to be industrious. They manifested no energy. They didn't have to. They lost the power of initiative. Jobs crept into the management. The Government was in a permanent state of goose-flesh. When a decision was absolutely necessary it didn't dare to make it, says the New York Times.

Heads I Win, Tails Also.
In his book on Australian "Problems and Prospects," Sir Charles G. Wade, Agent-General for New South Wales and sometime its Prime Minister, gives first-hand evidence to the same effect. It might have been supposed that the working of the famous, or once famous, Industrial Arbitration Act in that State would have been sufficiently instructive as to the result of Labor in politics and the Government bedeviled by Labor. The court established to compose labor controversies under the Act held that union laborers must be preferred by it to non-union laborers. Of course, the non-union men swarmed into the unions, and the unions forced their members to vote the Labor party ticket. Decisions against employers could be enforced. Decisions against employees not. Such is the case, for that matter, in Great Britain, since the passage of the Trade Disputes Act in 1906 made it impossible to get any satisfaction from trade unions by damages or in tort.

The Industrial Arbitration Act failing, Wage Boards of employers and employees, with an impartial chairman, were tried. According to Sir Charles, the union men would take all the boards could be persuaded to give them and then strike to force the Government to take a hand in the dispute and grant their demands. "The penalty imposed for firmness on the part of the Government was severe," says Sir Charles.

CENTENARY OF MODERN COLLARS

Detachable Variety Invented By Blacksmith's Wife

GREETED WITH SCORN

Fastidious Dressers of a Hundred Years Ago Looked Upon Then As Subterfuge of Shabbiness

In the present year falls the centenary of the false collar. What is a false collar? Well, it is just a collar, but for a long time after it was introduced it was called false by people who still wore their collars attached to their shirts, to show their low opinion of it. Most of us can remember when cuffs were called "false" also, and maybe they are still, though since the coming of colored, soft-boomed shirts, the rogue of cuffs has declined, and they are not often referred to by sippy dressers. But until 100 years ago anyone who wore a collar wore it as part of his shirt. Therefore, when the collar became soiled the whole outfit had to go to the tub, and people who had any pride at all in their personal appearance were obliged to wear a clean shirt every day and the week's washing in these families was a much more serious problem than it is at present. Naturally enough, it was a woman who had to do the family washing for a blacksmith who first caught the idea of a detachable collar, though what a blacksmith wanted with a collar of any sort is not explained. It is understood that it is de rigueur for a blacksmith to wear only a leather apron and a bushy beard.

Mrs. Montague Invented It.
But this particular blacksmith, Mr. Montague of Troy, New York, must have been a bear on collars, and one may judge from his name that he was probably trying to maintain a tradition of noble lineage which compelled him to his blacksmithing in a white shirt. Whatever pride his wife took in his family connections must have been considerably marred by the task of wrestling with seven white shirts, and at such a time as the shirt was soiled each collar was discarded. One night the idea occurred to her that it was not absolutely essential that the collar should be part of the shirt. She had observed, as had millions of others, that the only part of the shirt that was soiled when it was discarded was the collar. More than ninety per cent of the shirt was

RED ROSE TEA is good tea

ONLY an artist can blend colors to match the beautiful Red Rose. Blending teas is even more difficult. It requires expert knowledge and a highly cultivated sense of taste to select teas from many different gardens and produce a uniform blend day after day. Only the largest companies can afford to employ men who are expert tea tasters and blenders. Red Rose Tea is an example of the fine art of tea blending, more than a dozen varieties of choice teas being used—principally rich, strong, full-flavored ASSAMS. Its delightful and distinctive flavor is exclusive to Red Rose. And its rich strength means economy in your tea pot. Try a sealed package of this expert blend.

immaculate, despite the blacksmith's labors. We can imagine that her first impulse was to cut off the collars altogether, but we can equally imagine the stern rebuke which she would draw from Mr. Montague for this unworthiness. So she evolved the idea of a detachable collar. The scheme presented itself to her one night, and the next day she had made a collar which, fastened to the shirt, gave no inkling of its inherent falsehood. Her husband also was pleased with the device, and was so proud of his wife's ingenuity that he even boasted of it.

The Pioneers.
There grew up in the neighborhood of Troy a slight demand for other collars such as those which Mrs. Montague had fashioned, and she had several orders. The difficulty was that she could only turn out about one collar a day, for it is to be borne in mind that the little band which goes by the name of collar now is very different from the elaborate stock that was called a collar a hundred years ago. So despite the fact that she had made one of the greatest discoveries or inventions in history, Mrs. Montague was not able to reap any fortune thereby. She could not register a patent, for it was left to any woman who was at all handy with her needle to make a collar for her husband. Then, too, she had to cope with popular prejudice against what was considered a mere ruse to conceal shabbiness. Men and women to whom shirts and collars and Monday washings were no object looked down upon those who wore false collars, just as later on their descendants were to despise those who wore false shirts.

Nevertheless, the common sense and economy of the idea attracted considerable attention in the neighborhood, and particularly on the part of Rev. Ebenezer Brown. Besides being a preacher Rev. Brown was a merchant, and conducted a store in Troy "at the corner of River street and the shipyard" as it was described. He believed that the detachable collar was a boon to mankind, and employed people to make it for him. One hundred years ago these collars were first displayed for sale in his window. A statistician has figured that whereas Hannah Montague used considerably less than a yard of cotton or linen or whatever was the material from which she constructed her collars, in a single day, and a spool of thread every fortnight, today 200,000 yards of material is used in a single Troy factory, and a ton of thread every week. Today in Troy there are seven blocks of collar and shirt factories within a mile radius and capital amounting to $35,000,000 has been invested. It was due to Hannah Montague and Rev. Ebenezer Brown that Troy has become the centre of shirt collar making in the United States, just as Rochester is the centre of camera making. Other Collars. The collar, as it fell from the hands of Hannah Montague, has suffered a hundred changes and improvements. It has not yet become wholly stabilized as has the cut of men's trousers, for only a few years ago the soft collar made its appearance. At first it was a mere outing fancy. Now it is worn summer and winter by hundreds of thousands. The celluloid collar, the rubber collar and the paper collar had each its day of fame. The advantage of all these was that they required no laundry attention. The paper collar was so cheap that it was thrown away after it had been worn for a few days; the rubber and celluloid collars could be washed and made to look exactly like rubber and celluloid collars that had been washed. As far as the linen collar is concerned, it has gradually ceased to be linen, in a great majority of cases, and has become chiefly cotton, thus saving the immense quantities of linen that used to be squandered upon the manufacture of what at best is a mere adornment.

WHY A HOT SPOT CHALMERS IS STINGY ABOUT GAS

THE only thing stingy about a Chalmers is its use of gas. It has small appetite. It travels a long day's march on a few gallons. Every drop of gas that goes in the tank is held to account. There's no waste. That is because Hot Spot takes the low grade, inferior gas of the day, and prepares it so that the engine can get out all the power that nature put in. It is aided by Ram's-horn, and the results are de luxe. Put your foot on the little button of any Hot Spot Chalmers and get a new sensation. It isn't the 90 H.P. kind, but it gives quick, decisive action and so "silky" you scarcely know there's anything going on "up under the bonnet." It's action that doesn't burn your pocketbook, nor jar your fenders loose. One ride usually wins a friend.

LACK OF SOAP WORRIES EUROPE

According to the Berne correspondent of the London New Statesman: "Lack of soap and of all aids to cleanliness is the main cause, after underfeeding, of the appalling death rate from disease in central Europe generally," said a distinguished physician, who had just been traveling through these regions. Everywhere in Austria, Hungary, Poland, Bohemia, Russia, and even Germany, typhoid, spotted typhus, dysentery, scurvy, and tuberculosis have increased; and modern hygiene is now unable to locate these scourges because of lack of Disease-Ridden Regions.

The most disease-infected regions on the continent now are Galicia, the Ukraine and Hungary. In these countries thousands of soldiers meet—Russians returning home from Germany; Austrians, Hungarians and Germans returning from Russia; Croats and Serbs going southward, and Poles going northward. Dr. F. Blanchod, a French-Swiss who recently visited Budapest on behalf of the Geneva Red Cross and spent some time in a military depot there, where an attempt, at any rate, is made to receive all these different soldiers as they pass through, sort them out into their different nationalities and at the same time rid them of vermin, describes them as being clad in rags and animals' skins, chiefly sheep-skins or goatskins, and wearing greasy skin caps on their heads, their feet and legs being bandaged up in rags and untanned leather. Not one of them has now any sort of uniform, and as many Russians, after years of captivity in Germany, have learned to speak German, and many Hungarians have learned Russian, they contrive to

Before the war the mortality from spotted typhus was 6 to 7 per cent—that is, in the countries suffering from it—Silesia, Poland, Russia, and Galicia. Now it exceeds 20 per cent. The International Red Cross Medical Commission personally found more than 12,000 cases of this disease in the Ukraine. In some parts of the country, moreover, 80 per cent of the people were infected with typhus, brought of course, by soldiers returning home or passing through, while Dr. Blanchod says that he himself saw on railway station platforms in Transylvania people in the most highly infectious stage of smallpox, whom nobody apparently thought of quarantining. In Transylvania and in Austria smallpox during the war has wrought more havoc than anywhere else, because there has been no compulsory vaccination. The danger of traveling in Austria, Poland, the Ukraine and neighboring parts of Europe is great, because hitherto it has seemed impossible to prevent soldiers and civilians from being herded together—in extremely overcrowded trains.

MR. TURGEON ASKS MERCY FOR MILITARY DEFAULTERS

Refers to Man-Hunt in Kent and Says That County With 1,300 Volunteers, Has Nothing of Which to be Ashamed

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—The debate on the address continued to be a most dreary performance due perhaps to the fact that there was little or nothing in the address to debate over.

Joseph Demers, of St. John's-Iberville, opened the debate. He took the line for which Mr. Fielding gave the cue to the opposition when the treaty was introduced by the premier.

Advocate of Amnesty.

Mr. Baldwin, a Protestant, who cannot speak French but who gets elected by the "bigotted" people of Stand-up county, Quebec, urged that the prince's visit should be celebrated by letting loose all the military defaulters.

Frank Cahill, Renfrew, brought up an important matter under the wide privilege of the debate on the address.

Mr. Baldwin, in reply, admitted that he had introduced a bill in his constituency along the line of the Trans-continental being paralyzed for the lack of cars which were being held unduly in the United States.

Mr. Turgeon, of Gloucester (N. B.), spoke at length. He urged the government to have the board of commerce to look into the price of clothing and shoes used by the masses of the people.

Mr. George Foster, in reply, admitted that he had introduced a bill in his constituency along the line of the Trans-continental being paralyzed for the lack of cars which were being held unduly in the United States.

He called on the prime minister to make a thorough investigation into the matter and in the meantime stop chasing about for more defaulters in Kent county.

Dr. Edwards who has lived much too late and would have been in his glory when thumb screws were a la mode urged no mercy for defaulters.

NOTE TO ROMANIA IS FRIENDLY BUT SEVERE

Paris, Sept. 5.—The note of the supreme council which Sir George R. Clark, of the British foreign office is carrying to Bucharest is couched in cordial language.

It says the communication recalls to the Roumanian cabinet engagements that it had entered into and urges the necessity of their being kept.

It is said by the journal that Sir George is taking with him radiograms which the Roumanian delegation reported were sent from Paris to the Roumanian government within the last two weeks but none of which reached its destination.

That similar various Allied notes failed to reach her. As to the new Allied note, the journal says that it declares the peace conference considers Roumania as a faithful friend, expresses the wish that its government do not detach itself from the body of Allies, requests explanation on various points, asks that Roumania evacuate Hungary speedily and meanwhile close requisitioning supplies while putting materials.

The note is said to end by asking Roumania to co-operate with the Allies in re-establishing order in Hungary.

LABOR AIMS FOR HIGHER TYPE OF CIVILIZATION

Tom Moore Warns Workers of Canada Violence Cannot Bring Reform—The Way of Progress.

Toronto, Sept. 4.—For the first time since 1913 a Labor Day parade was held in this city on Monday and it was regarded as the best ever seen here. Between 10,000 and 12,000 trades unionists took part in it, and there were many attractive floats in the procession. One feature of the parade was a "union domestic," asking eight dollars, and this was followed by a gloomy contrast of "non-union domestic" working fourteen hours. As in former years, the objective of the parades was the Canadian National Exhibition, where addresses were given by labor leaders. Tom Moore, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, was the chief speaker. He warned the workers of Canada that reforms cannot be brought about by violence, and that the only way in which anything can be accomplished in their interests is through legitimate effort and evolution. Sees a New Objective. At the same time, while coming out strongly in favor of moderation in their methods of progress, Mr. Moore made it quite plain that the present aims of labor are not to be their final objective, as he believed that before their present objectives have been reached they will have set new ones at which to aim. He did not view the aims of labor as any mere struggle for greater financial reward for their work, but declared it was simply a battle for a higher type of civilization. Referring to the general unrest, President Moore said he did not think this would ever be wholly overcome, as content would mean stagnation, but the proper direction in which unrest should turn its activity was construction, and not destruction. He professed to believe that the conditions in Canada were not so bad as many people thought. Passing the Buck. John Flett, Canadian organizer of the American Federation of Labor, said labor believed in the eight-hour system. He claimed that the Dominion government could establish the eight-hour system upon federal works but when Frem-ier Borden was approached in the matter "he passed the buck on to the provincial premiers, and the buck was passed back again." Jas. Simpson, a local labor man, urged a greater representation of labor in parliament. Mrs. W. E. Sigger, a member of the independent labor party of this city, advised the women to further the cause of labor.

ARE YOU A LADY?
Are you a lady? Of course this question is directed to the feminine sex. Probably no other word in the English language is so misused as the word "lady." One hears on every side the terms "saleslady" and even "washlady." How absurd! Not that one is less worthy for being a sales woman or a washer woman; that is not the point. Why not as well use "ice gentleman," "sales gentleman" and similar expressions? In the fairy tale of Cinderella the wise godmother, who knew so cleverly what was the correct thing, defined a "lady" as a feminine person who remembered three things: Never to talk of ill health as a virtue, never to mention the cost of things, and never to be in a hurry. "There," some man exclaims. "Women are always behind now. Why urge them never to hurry?" Because careful planning, and consideration of the convenience of others, will make it possible for women to keep their appointments without nerve exhaustion and upsetting of other people's plans.

ALLIED SUPPORT IN RUSSIA NEEDED TO DEVELOP CAMPAIGN

Situation Now Potentially the Same as it Was Last Year

British Air Attacks—Capture of Petrograd Would be Severe Blow to Bolsheviks and Should Not be Difficult

Washington, Sept. 4.—The Baltic situation, involving the campaign which has for its purpose the capture of Petrograd from the Bolsheviks, has developed into one of the most important elements in the Russian problem. If Petrograd could be captured it would furnish a new base for operations against the soviet centre at Moscow, prove a severe blow to the Bolsheviks, and have a vital influence on the Archangel and Siberian fronts, where forces of all the Allied Governments have recently withdrawn under Bolshevik pressure.
The whole Baltic campaign, on what is known as the northwestern front of Russia, is regarded as being now potentially the same as it was in June when Petrograd was believed to be almost on the verge of evacuation by the Bolsheviks and capture by Russian forces operating from the direction of the Baltic provinces of Estonia, Livonia and Courland. Delay in arrival of Allied warships and in delivery of munitions and supplies are held responsible for the failure of the capture of Petrograd in June.

The question now is the extent to which the Allies will support the logical and effective development of the campaign in the Baltic provinces. British war vessels have been sent to the Gulf of Finland, and Kronstadt, the Bolshevik naval base near Petrograd, is now reported, in Helsingfors despatches, to have been bombed by British naval and air forces. Co-operation by the British fleet is regarded in Russian circles as an earnest that an active part will be taken by the Allies.
The best obtainable information is that the needed anti-Bolshevik manpower is available in the Baltic provinces, if properly and promptly aided with munitions and supplies.
Three elements of the Baltic situation are being emphasized. These are: First—Military importance of taking Petrograd; second—the ease with which it can be done with the man-power at hand unless the delivery of Allied munitions and supplies is delayed; third—a change of German policy toward Russia involving an effort to obtain German control over the Russian situation under pressure of endeavoring to reach and help Admiral Kolchak, as against the Bolsheviks.
Those immediately familiar with the situation regard the project for taking Petrograd as one of the most important phases of the Russian problem to be dealt with promptly. Reports indicate that a large section of the population in and around Petrograd is awaiting any opportunity to oppose the Bolsheviks openly, but that this is very largely dependent on furnishing of arms and food by the Allies.

The situation developing round Riga, in Livonia, and at Libau, in Courland, has now become important from a larger international political viewpoint. There is growing evidence that the Germans are displaying at no other place greater activity than around these foci of intrigue. After the armistice of November 11 and the retreat of the Germans from Riga there was in Latvia a Russian detachment under Prince Lieven, a Russian colonel whose bravery in the war had made him an idol of his soldiers. This detachment fought the Bolsheviks. It had only been tolerated in the beginning by the Germans because of its opposition to Bolshevism but the Germans in Latvia did not then encourage this detachment nor favor its enlargement. The Germans at that time were also still pursuing their old policy of trying to set up independent states and playing a separate policy against Russia in the effort to weaken her by dominating these smaller states.
Independent Latvia.
In Latvia the Germans made use of Ulanis, a radical revolutionary and separatist of 1905, who had been set up by Germany as an agent in the playing of the "independence game." Riga was his headquarters, but he disappeared when the Bolsheviks took that place immediately following the withdrawal of German forces. Ulanis went to a Baltic island as a refugee, but was still understood to be operating with the Germans. He made an arrangement with General von Goltz to the extent that his group would establish an independent Latvia, that they would have German support, and insofar as German troops were used every German soldier employed would receive a quantity of land.

The situation changed generally after the British had become more keenly interested and the British Government sent General Gough to Helsingfors as head of a special military mission to co-operate with General Judenich, commander of the northwest front, and take care of other British operations in connection with the Estonians. It also has taken a new turn during the last two months as a result of German intrigue, and a change of policy. Instead of supporting the Latvian Spartacist movement as against Russia, the Germans altered their attitude and undertook to support Prince Lieven. This change of front took place after the French evacuated Odessa and also after the Allied military enterprise in southwest Russia had created considerable feeling. It also came after it had begun to appear that the Bolsheviks might collapse and while the forces of Kolchak and Denikine were meeting with considerable military success.
Pro-German Feeling.
It is known now that the Germans sought, then, to affiliate themselves with the Russian national movement trying to alienate it from the Allies, making use of every false step, and endeavoring to breed pro-German feeling among those Russians who had suffered through the failures around Odessa. These efforts were simultaneous with the action of General von der Goltz in changing his policy toward Ulanis and Lieven. Ulanis, who had been their agent, lost the support of the Germans and after going away as a refugee, returned and tried to win British support. He seemingly succeeded in this decision with some local British agents. Instead of opposing Prince Lieven, the Germans then undertook to support him in a rather shrewd way. They made no arrangements that formally committed Prince Lieven, but did offer him arms and munitions for use against the Bolsheviks at a critical moment, and withdrew German opposition to increasing the size of Prince Lieven's military forces.

The German idea was that they might develop pro-German sympathies, in reciprocity for the aid rendered them. Prince Lieven, who had a few hundred men originally, now has several thousand soldiers.
Information reaching Washington credits Germany with having made overtures to back this movement with some hundreds of millions of marks if satisfactory to Admiral Kolchak and General Denikine, Russian national leaders were informed that Germany was willing to do for Russia what Russia had been appealing to the Allied powers to do.
Diplomats familiar with these moves discern an effort by certain German leaders to obtain control over the military movement in western Russia, but they are not interpreted as meaning that the Germans are not also still using the Bolsheviks.
The movement in the Baltic provinces for the capture of Petrograd has been passing through a most critical stage during the last two months. But it is now the belief in Russian national circles that, with the co-operation of the British fleet and support from the Allies in the matter of supplies and munitions the campaign will be successful.
The Waster a Foe.
St. Thomas Times-Journal—The waster is the foe of the commonwealth. No one, be his dollars few or many, can afford to waste anything. Canada is not confronted with famine. But city people will do well to remember that average crops this year are so exceptional, even among our best farmers, that when such a crop is found it is a matter of comment. Not only is this true, but in many localities crops are practically a failure. A word to the thoughtful is sufficient.

Economy is a necessity that has been elevated by the impecunious to the rank of a virtue—Life.
