Cobequid Commander Says Misjudgment Was Made

COMBERS JUST AS HE ALTERED THE COURSE

Was Steering to Bring Steamer Three or Four Miles South of Trinity Light—Was Making Six or Seven Knots at Full Speed—Lead Showed 26 Fathoms—No Papers Saved

(Special to Times.) Halifax, N. S., Jan. 20.—"I want it understood that I was steering and altered my course to bring me about three or four miles south of Trinity Light. I was not steering up to sight the ledge. I only thought to get up that far to see the light and I hoped to see the Forcher light, and the Lurcher light, and therefore did not alter my course too soon to sight the Lurcher. The chief officer said that the only paper saved was a certificate. The log book and many other valuable papers stored in the chief officer's room were swept away by heavy seas which came over the ship on the day she grounded.

Another important fact brought out at the hearing was that none of the ship's papers were saved. The chief officer said that the only paper saved was a certificate. The log book and many other valuable papers stored in the chief officer's room were swept away by heavy seas which came over the ship on the day she grounded.

Captain Howson, R. N. R., who was in command of the steamer Cobequid when she grounded on Trinity Ledges on the way to St. John on Jan. 12, Tuesday morning made the statement at the conclusion of his evidence at the enquiry into the disaster yesterday afternoon.

"I had the ordinary book of lights," "It was not a local one?" "No."

"When did you see the buoy on Trinity Ledge first?" "Just after daylight, about eight o'clock, I guess."

"The S. O. S. signal was first sent out at 6:15 and an answer was received from Cape Sable until 6:34. Communication, according to the captain, was next established with Kron Princess Cecilie. Captain Howson was briefly examined on many other points such as what was done to attract attention of passing steamers, to save the passengers in the event that the worst came to the worst, whether the life boats could have been properly manned and whether they were ready to be lowered, whether the passengers were given every consideration, and what was done to get in touch with other steamers after the wireless gave away."

First Officer's Evidence At the resumption of the enquiry this morning Chief Officer Kirby was recalled at the request of H. Mellish, counsel for Captain Howson. He was questioned in regard to the time of watch and when he knew the exact location of the ship. At the time she struck he did not know the ship's location but did soon afterwards.

CHINESE BANDITS RAVAGING AGAIN

Missionaries Driven From Station, One is Wounded — Revolutionary Leader Stabbed to Death

Hankow, China, Jan. 20.—Mr. Lilliegard, a missionary of the American Lutheran mission, was wounded in an arm on January 16 in fighting at Kwang Chow, in the Province of Honan. An army of bandits under "White Wolf," who has been devastating the district, on that date captured and looted the mission house and took refuge in a country farm house belonging to Chinese Christians.

The brigands are now ravaging the southeastern portions of Honan as they have done the southwestern portions. London, Jan. 20.—A Tien Tsin despatch to the Daily Mail says that after the arrival of the express from Peking on Monday, the body of a man who had been stabbed to death, was found in one of the carriages. He was identified as a revolutionary leader, Jung Kawehsing, who was implicated in the murder of General Sung Shiao Jen, ex-minister of education in Shanghai in last March.

Duncan, who has been called to St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Beaver Hall Hill, Montreal, preached his farewell sermon on Sunday evening in St. Cuthbert's Parish church, Edinburgh. Further the call came unanimously and was looked for by him, whilst the congregation had agreed to place a sum of £60,000 at his disposal for the purpose of rebuilding the church.

H. Pierce and F. S. Thomas. The report of the secretary showed the school to be flourishing and greatly advanced since the last annual meeting. William McIntosh referred to the work of the Sunday school in being able to provide a new room for his class, which has grown too large for its former quarters. The girls of Mr. McIntosh's class provided an elaborate supper for those present. The entertaining committee was in charge of Mrs. A. B. McInnes and Miss Evelyn Ewing, who were assisted by Miss Jessie Cunningham, Mrs. Snyler and Mrs. J. Rowler.

SHOTS WIFE IN BANGOR; TURNS GUN ON HIMSELF

Wm. Crane Called on Her And Demanded Money

SHOT WHEN SHE REFUSED

Husband Had Been Drinking—Bullet Hit Wife in Arm—She Will Recover But He Is Likely To Die

(Special to Times.) Bangor, Me., Jan. 20.—Angered by alleged infidelity on the part of his wife, Alice, and crazed by liquor, William Crane of Stonington shot and attempted to murder her in the Silver House in this city yesterday. After firing one shot at the woman, which took effect in her arm, he turned the revolver on himself and tried to commit suicide. The bullet penetrated his right side and he is not expected to live. His wife's injuries are not serious and she will recover. According to the story told by the woman, who is employed as a cook in the Silver House, Crane entered the kitchen and demanded money from her. She refused on account of his condition, and ordered him to go out. Then she says he shot her. After he was taken to the police hospital, Crane admitted the shooting and accused his wife of infidelity, naming an acquaintance of hers. "She ruined my life," he said, "and I intended to put an end to it all."

LORD STRATHCONA IS NEAR THE END

Reported Dying—Became Unconscious at Half Past Four This Afternoon

(Special to Times.) London, Jan. 20.—Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, high commissioner for Canada, is dying. The physicians in attendance at his bedside are reported to be pessimistic with regard to the present medical situation. The Bank of England is the chief director of affairs in the commercial world, and from it are regulated conditions throughout banking circles, so that it is a sign of how the "wind blows" when its rates are lowered. Recently they were reduced from five to four and a half per cent, and there is a possibility of a still further decrease to four per cent. on Thursday.

This action is expected to be reflected generally, and its effect will be felt in Canada as elsewhere. One prominent manager said today that it could hardly be thought that Canada's commercial conditions would feel the effects of the easier situation in London, Berlin and elsewhere on the continent for at least a couple of months, but it was assertedly coming.

WHITNEY IS NEAR THE END OF LIFE

Doctors Do Not Think Premier of Ontario Can Live Another Day

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 20.—Sir James Whitney is growing hourly weaker and it is hardly expected he can survive another day. The premier had a very bad turn at ten o'clock this morning, when for a few minutes the doctors thought the end had come. The use of stimulants revived him, however, and for a time he was conscious. "We are just keeping him alive with heart stimulants," said Doctor McPherson. The doctor holds out practically no hope of recovery.

HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR SOUTH AFRICA

(Special to Times.) London, Jan. 20.—The London correspondent of the Glasgow Herald, discussing the question of the appointment of a successor to the late Sir Richard Solomon, says that all desire to see the appointment of a South African high commissioner who is able to foster the growing commercial interests between Britain and the union. "Canada," he adds, "has not only a leading commercial representative in Lord Strathcona, but a picturesque high commissioner." The names before the union government in connection with the appointment are John X. Merriman, J. W. Jagger, and Sir F. DeWalt.

The bodies of three prison employees and three convicts were in the penitentiary morgue, while in the city a few miles distant, the body of Judge John R. In the prison hospital suffering from bullet wounds, were Miss Mary Foster, telephone operator at the prison, John Martin, turnkey, and C. L. Wood, guard. The bodies of H. H. Dwyer, head of the Bertillon department, Patrick Oakes, assistant deputy warden, and F. C. Godfrey, a guard, will be held for word from relatives.

Local Bank Manager Speaks Of Good News From Abroad

From indications in the English market and the tone of prominent financial journals, local bank managers are becoming more optimistic with regard to the present monetary situation. The Bank of England is the chief director of affairs in the commercial world, and from it are regulated conditions throughout banking circles, so that it is a sign of how the "wind blows" when its rates are lowered. Recently they were reduced from five to four and a half per cent, and there is a possibility of a still further decrease to four per cent. on Thursday.

HORSEMEN DECIDE ON SEVERAL MEETS THIS SEASON ON MOOSEPATH

HEARST SAYS HE HAS NOT BOUGHT MONTREAL HERALD

New York, Jan. 20.—According to the Sun this morning, William R. Hearst, who returned yesterday after a week's pleasure trip in Canada, said that reports that he had bought the Montreal Herald were unfounded. He said he had not thought of buying any Montreal newspaper and did not see "why such silly rumors were sent out from that city."

Whole Plot To Free Krafchenko is Told Of

Buxton Says Desperado's Lawyer and Policeman Reid Engineered It

Tells Royal Commission in Winnipeg That He Secured Rope and Revolver —Talk of Wealth Which Prisoner Had Hidden Away

(Canadian Press.) Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 20.—"I've defended a good many murderers, and none of them was ever hung, and I don't want this one to hang. If we can't get him on the street one way, we will have to try another."

According to John H. Buxton, under arrest for assisting in the escape of Krafchenko, testifying yesterday afternoon before the royal commission, Percy Hagel, who, Buxton says, engineered the whole plot for escape, had no other motive than shown in this statement, made to him by Hagel. Discloses Whole Plot Buxton detailed the whole working out of the plot. The gun and rope were supplied by Buxton to Constable Reid, through Hagel, and taken by Reid to Krafchenko's cell. Buxton secured the gun only after a good deal of trouble, having forced a boy in a pawn store, over whom he had influence, to steal the gun, a Colt automatic. At Hagel's request he went to Eaton's store and bought a hank of ordinary cotton cloth, which was also given to Reid. He told of the trouble in figuring how Reid could carry the rope, as it made much bulk under his tunic. "While declaring that he had not hoped or expected to get anything for the part he took in arranging for the escape of Buxton, Reid explained that Krafchenko had wondrous treasures cashed away in the country, including $200,000 worth of railway stock certificates, $10,000 worth of diamonds and gold watches, and considerable cash. He also said that if Krafchenko got out in time, he would be able to hold up a C. P. R. pay car and get $10,000 more, which he would divide among "the boys."

At one time, Buxton said, Reid had a revolver belonging to Buxton to give to Krafchenko, but Buxton was so much afraid that this could be traced if Krafchenko were caught, of if his attempt at escape failed, that he prevailed on Reid and Hagel to give it back when he succeeded in having the other one stolen from a store. He said the stolen revolver that was given to Krafchenko and it was the same revolver which was found in a waste paper basket in the room where Krafchenko was captured on Sunday night.

Buxton detailed at length the various meetings with Reid and Hagel when the details of the affair were planned from time to time. He knew all the details and knew that Krafchenko was to go to Westlake's room. Westlake was formerly in the employ of Hagel. Wanted to Give It Up Over and over again Buxton declared that he had no motive whatever in assisting and that it was only when too late that he realized that he was making a fool of himself. Two days before the escape, he had tried to pull out of it, and had tried to warn Reid that it could never be pulled off, but Reid, he said, was insistent that it was worth the chance.

Although admitting at first that Hagel was the prime instigator of the whole plot, Buxton's later evidence tended to show that Reid had taken the most active part in planning the details. Holt Forced into It Buxton was followed on the stand by Frank Holt, a young fellow of good character. He was arrested in the afternoon, and is held as a material witness. He was worked into the plot involuntarily. He is an employee of the Security Mortgage warehouse and helped harbor Krafchenko in one of the upper stories, as he said, in fear of his life. "Harbor in the story," he mentioned his "girl friend" telling how he took her to Zion church on Sunday night and how in his predicament he had made a clean breast of the story to her, receiving in return an insistent demand that he reveal the whole story to the police.

The most striking feature of the two stories was the fact that all who were implicated were acting apparently without any impelling impulse. To all of these, who assisted Krafchenko he was almost a complete stranger. All say there was no promise of reward. They seemed to be hypnotized by the personality of the bandit. From Buxton's statement Reid appears to have been the prime mover. It was he who made arrangements with Hagel to the "help" of the stolen revolver, he who carried the revolver, rope and key to the prisoner. He seemed to be acting under a spell. The $10,000 reward for the arrest, will be claimed by Sam Simmons, a pawn broker, who furnished to the police the information that led to connecting Buxton with the escape.

CARSON SAYS HE WILL GIVE COMMAND WHEN TIME COMES

Belfast Unionists Renew Pledge Not To Submit To Home Rule

London, Jan. 20.—Sir Edward Carson, in a speech in Belfast on Monday evening, said: "I am most tired of speaking. I long for action. Come what may, I will see this light through. When the time comes, whatever be the consequences, I shall not hesitate to give the word of command."

ABANDONED MAYFLOWER A NEWFOUNDLAND B. G. ANTINE

Fishguard, Jan. 20.—The saloon passengers of the steamship Lusitania, which arrived here last night, subscribed $1,770 to be divided among the crew of the Newfoundland brigantine Mayflower, and the Lusitania's first officer, Alexander, and the volunteer crew, who, at great personal risk, rescued the shipwrecked sailors on January 16. An illuminated address will also be presented to Captain Dow of the Lusitania and a gold watch to First Officer Alexander, in recognition of bravery.

Immigration Figures

New York, Jan. 20.—A cable to the Sun from London says: According to an official statement just issued, 888,818 emigrants left Great Britain and Ireland in 1913. Of this number 84,660 went to the United States and 190,908 to Canada.

"Moulting Time" In the Stores

January is the season when the stores go through the process of cleaning stocks—a natural and healthy business transaction. They plan to get out all the winter merchandise they can and get ready for spring. "Trade follows the price," they act accordingly. What the advertising at this season of the year may lack in literary quality it more than makes up in pocket-book appeal.

Glance through the advertising in today's Telegraph and Times and you will see the passing of the seasons. The new goods are knocking at the doors and you find the whippers of spring creeping in with the passing of winter.

As they "take stocks" most of the merchants are making their business plans for 1914. If you asked them what the most important part of these next year plans were, they would tell you: Provision for advertising in the newspapers!

SALVATION ARMY CABARET Free Drinks With Lunch and Songs

New York, Jan. 20.—Major Wallace W. Winchell, superintendent of the Salvation Army Industrial Home in Jersey City, was just getting ready to go to bed when the idea struck him of starting a Salvation Army cafe and cabaret.

"I've got converted bartenders and cabaret singers at the home," he said to Mrs. Winchell, "and I know that they would be glad to help."

Right after breakfast the major called up a lawyer for the Public Service Gas Company and rented the company's abandoned office. Then he sent a half dozen able bodied men to the place. By nightfall they had built a bar, forty-two feet long, for the converted bar tenders. A stove was set up, tables were put in and as soon as a converted sign painter had completed his task for the day, two panes of ground glass were put in the front door, one of which bore this strange device:

"S. A. Cafe and Cabaret."

The other read: "Free Drinks With Every Lunch."

At its opening old young men and young old men slouched in. Many shivering in cast-off summer clothing. Everybody was hungry and all agreed the major's oxtail soup was good.

The major expects that his converted cabaret artists will sing up-to-date songs with Salvation Army words.

BRYAN IN REVIVAL CHOIR With His Wife, Secretary Drops in on "Billy" Sunday at Pittsburg

Secretary of State William J. Bryan, and Mrs. Bryan appeared unexpectedly the other night at the Tabernacle, in Pittsburg, where "Billy" Sunday, a base ball evangelist, was holding a revival.

"A policeman refused to admit them as the Tabernacle was crowded. After Mr. Bryan had identified himself they were admitted through the stage entrance. They found seats among the choir. Both were standing with hymn books in their hands, singing a gospel song with the choir, when they were discovered.

"I am an admirer of Mr. Sunday," said Mr. Bryan, "and I believe that he is accomplishing a great deal of good. This is the first opportunity I have had to see him in action, and I have enjoyed it very much. I am making a train connection, en route from Kansas to Washington. We arrived at 6:10 this evening, and had four hours to spend here."

Secretary Bryan wanted to meet the evangelist, but declined to permit him to be disturbed. The meeting was under way when he and his wife arrived, and he had hoped it would be over in time for him to interview Mr. Sunday before leaving for the capital. Mr. Sunday was calling for converts to "hit the sawdust trail" when the secretary of state and his wife were leaving.

PASTOR CALLS HIS FLOCK HYPOCRITES AND THEN RESIGNS

Rev. Mr. Bullard Worried Of Vain Fight

HITS AT "DANCING CLIQUE"

East Orange Clergyman Tells of Gambling By Boys and of Unchristian Spirit Towards Strangers—Makes Accusation of Deceit

Men cannot tango with the devil and walk with God. When they insist on doing so it is time for their pastor to hold their souls up to the light. Thus is the way the Rev. Charles B. Bullard of East Orange, N. J., epitomized his attitude toward the congregation of the Elmwood Presbyterian church at East Orange to whom he resigned his pastorate with the explanation that he did not wish to minister to hypocrites and pharisees, says the New York Sun.

Mr. Bullard has been pastor of the Elmwood church for fourteen years. He is a chaplain of the Sons of the American Revolution, an alumnus of the Union Theological seminary, and is one of the best known Presbyterian preachers in the neighborhood of New York. His retirement from the Elmwood pulpit did not surprise friends who knew the drift of things in the congregation, but the pastor's spirited method of taking leave has caused a sensation in East Orange.

He told a reporter for the Sun just why he made up his mind to leave the Elmwood church. The Rev. Mr. Bullard is sixty years old, but looks younger. He is tall and straight, has smiling brown eyes, and talks with a young man's enthusiasm.

"I have resigned," he said, "because I will not tolerate the un-Christian words and deeds of a faction of the congregation. They have turned a chill and unfriendly eye upon newcomers who did not belong to their set.

"They froze out worthy families who wanted to ally themselves with the Elmwood church. They lacked Christian fellowship. The real reason the pews of Elmwood are not better filled is because of the wranglings and jealousies of a clique.

"This clique introduced dancing in the parish house. I have been a minister of liberal mind, but I will not tolerate tangos and turkey trots or any form of dancing in connection with church activities. If people want to dance outside the church, that is their own affair, but the Presbyterian church forbids such dancing as I speak of.

"They froze out worthy families who wanted to ally themselves with the Elmwood church. They lacked Christian fellowship. The real reason the pews of Elmwood are not better filled is because of the wranglings and jealousies of a clique.

"Members of the faction worked against me in an unmanly and unchristian way in a deliberate and systematic attempt to oust me from the pastorate. I was defied in my just authority, when I tried to shield the fair name of the church.

"They used offensive expressions to me on various occasions. They told me that my protests against gambling had given a blow to the church from which it could not recover for several years. They misrepresented my words and acts utterly and unjustifiably. If what I had said gave offence it was because I had to cut deep into the consciousness of wrong doers. They assailed my truthfulness directly and by insinuation. They said I had misrepresented the real condition of the church membership, that I had lied, in plain words, and that I had driven support from the congregation. They treated me arrogantly. Some of these men told me that I did not exercise proper leadership, that I was over-officious and that my usefulness was at an end.

"On top of that they came to me with smooth words in their mouths and protestations of personal regard. But I loathed their duplicity. Their spirit forbade confidence. Until the policy of the present leaders in the church work is changed I see no possibility of real advance. If the church were able to secure some great preacher whose name would draw crowds and fill every pew the work of God would not prosper until jealousy, wrangling and duplicity now existing have been purged from the church life by repentance and prayer.

"I cannot tolerate hypocrisy and intriguing. I withdraw in the hope that the congregation will be awakened to real conditions. I thank the members of the congregation who have stood by me loyally."

H. PRICE WEBBER CLOSES THIRTY-EIGHT THEATRICAL SEASON

Has Been 41 Weeks Traveling—Next Season to Open on Easter Monday

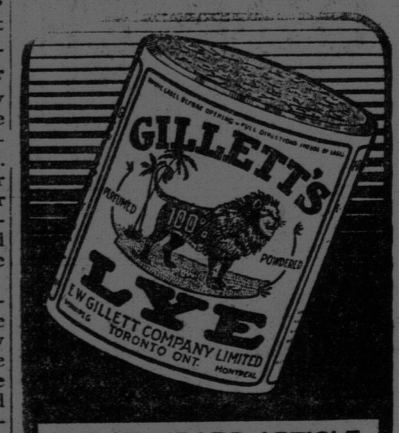

Morning Advertiser, Oxford county, N. C., January 9:—

In returning thanks to the people of Norway in his speech at the Opera House last night, H. Price Webber spoke of the very liberal patronage he had received for the last thirty-five years and paid a just tribute to the memory of Major General George L. Beal and Freeland Howe, two of our best citizens, who were prominent in helping Mr. Webber, when under adversity in his earlier days of management. The large audience present cordially endorsed Mr.

Webber's timely and graceful remarks and were pleased at his announcement of a return visit next season. He thanked the editor of the Advertiser for courtesies received and ineffectually mentioned the editor's fitness to be Prime Minister of Guantamo, the audience thoroughly agreeing in the remark.

Mr. Webber's company closed their season of forty-one weeks and left for their homes this morning. The next season will open on Easter Monday and will be Mr. Webber's 39th consecutive year.

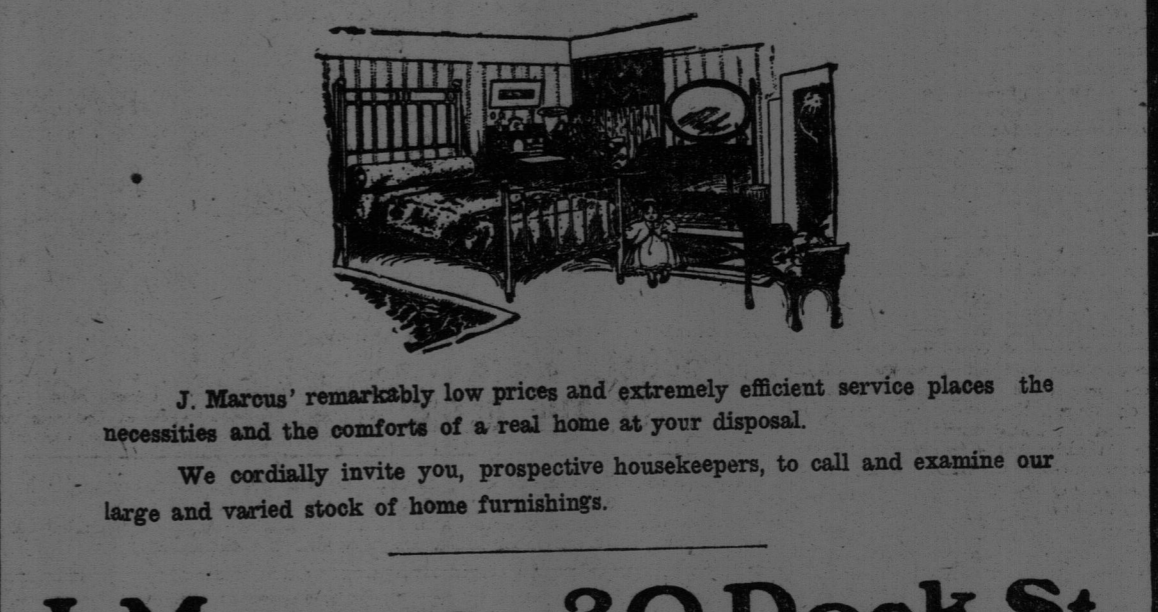

Norway people told Mr. Webber before the show that owing to our shoe factories being closed down just now that it was thought he would not have as large an audience as usual, but he says there were more dollars received from the house than the Norway manager thought there would be people present. As a showman and as a man H. Price Webber has a big hold on the people that has lasted well on towards a half century.

Feel Out of Sorts? It's a good idea to look for the cause!

One common, but often unsuspected cause is tea and coffee drinking. Yet some persons seem able to get along with tea or coffee—at least for a time. But when headachy, bilious days come; breakfast or some other meal doesn't taste good; and the day's work goes wrong. (Ever feel that way?)—then it's time to find out for sure if tea and coffee are causing the trouble in your case.

There's a subtle, poisonous drug, "caffeine," in tea and coffee that interferes with the normal functions of body, brain and nerves, and has a lot to do with one's comfort and progress.

Suppose for a test you try the simple expedient of quitting tea and coffee and using well-made —a pure food-drink made of choice wheat. It has a delightful, snappy flavor, and is absolutely free from caffeine or any other drug.

After ten days or two weeks you will be able to decide whether to go back to tea and coffee troubles, or stick to Postum and peace and comfort.

Postum comes in two forms. Regular Postum—must be well boiled. Instant Postum—doesn't require boiling, but is prepared instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in an ordinary cup of hot water and adding cream and sugar to taste.

Grocers everywhere sell both kinds.

A WOMAN'S WAY ADDS TO LIST OF SUCCESSSES

Opera House Presentation Promises Another Enjoyable Week

The new type of woman who does not allow her father or husband to make any decision affecting her whole life, who is not content with winning a husband but who will fight to keep him and who can meet "the other woman" on common ground and defeat her, was exemplified at the Opera House last evening in Miss Brandt's presentation of the role of Mrs. Howard Stanton in "A Woman's Way." A charming type it is too, primarily feminine but governed by common sense instead of by emotions and traditions, according to Miss Brandt's interpretation. The play gave the leading woman of the Thompson-Woods Stock Company one of her best opportunities of the season and her work was eminently satisfying.

For several seasons Miss Grace George starred in this vehicle and the play is worthy of the actress. It deals in a frank manner with some phases of modern life and, while preaching sound doctrine for the successful management of domestic affairs, it primarily aims to amuse and does so very thoroughly. The play is cleverly written with many amusing situations and much clever dialogue. Every member of the company has a good part and each added to the success of the production. The play was adequately staged, the dining room scene in the third act being especially effective. Mr. McHenry has a role for which he is better suited than that of Wallingford and he makes the most of it. His newly found affinity is ably represented by Miss Derby in the role of the dashing widow. Edwin Hodge, Kenneth Fleming and Rueben Weyler, as the young men who all had once loved the widow, and Mr. St. John as the elderly general who was willing to begin, all had excellent comedy roles. Miss Bridges made a very impressive society matron. Miss Davis invested a small role with the distinction which always marks her work and Miss Bishop and Miss Delmore capably filled the other feminine roles. Fager gave a good presentation of the role of the enterprising reporter and Mr. Drummond appeared as the inquisitive English butler.

The play will be presented all this week and should draw large crowds.

THE DOUBLE WORK OF THE BLOOD

The circulation of the blood is one of the most perfect pieces of mechanism in the universe. Besides carrying nourishment to every part of the body the blood collects the waste products and passes through the kidneys in order that these poisons may be eliminated.

Hence you see the tremendous importance of keeping the kidneys in healthful working order so that they free the blood of these impurities before they find lodgment in some weak spot and set up serious disease.

Aching back and aching head, troubles with the digestion, deposits in the urine, constipation and biliousness—such are the symptoms which indicate the need of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The liver is awakened to action, the bowels regulated, and the kidneys made vigorous in their work of purifying the blood.

In the great majority of homes Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are kept at hand for use in just such cases. They save many doctor bills, and by keeping the digestive and excretive systems in health do much to prolong life and bring comfort in old age.

TO OPEN NEW DEPARTMENT

John Condon Secure Exclusive Selling Rights For R. T. Tooke's Shirts and Furnishings — Will Alter His Semi-Ready Store to Accommodate Men's Haberdashery

Alfred Wood, president of the R. J. Tooke Limited, in the city today conferring with John P. Condon, of the Semi-Ready Store.

Mr. Condon has been for some time considering the advisability of opening a furnishing department in his handsome store on King street, and he has just closed arrangements with R. T. Tooke, J. Tooke Company to secure their exclusive representation in St. John. He will have the R. J. Tooke shirts and collars, with their neckwear, underwear and all the fine furnishings.

"I am going to make room for the new department on the East side of my store, and to do this I will necessarily reduce my tailoring stock. The only way to do this, and to do it quickly, is to have a sale—a clearance that will be of great benefit to my customers. I am going to sell exactly 100 suits and 50 overcoats at half the label price. This is, of course, away below cost—even below the cost of manufacture."

"And this sale will start on Thursday, and the velocity of the bargains should clear the wanted space like a wind on the Bay of Fundy."

Mr. Wood, who is president of the R. J. Tooke Company, is a former daily newspaper editor and proprietor. He entered manufacturing life some ten years ago, and is now on the directorate of half-a-dozen of the best known industrial enterprises in Montreal. He is vice-president of two companies and a director of three companies with headquarters in Montreal.

"THE HOUSE OF MYSTERY"

A STRONG GEM FEATURE

A detective story with a well connected plot and thrilling narrative was presented yesterday at the Gem Theatre in two reels with a strong cast of players. It was entitled "The House of Mystery" or "By Unseen Hand" and proved a most pleasing production. The story was capably enacted and gave much pleasure to all who saw it. In addition to this there was a splendid drama by the Imp Players entitled "The Regeneration of John Storm" showing a woman's influence upon a man inclined to wayward habits, and having a moral trend throughout its course. Two Biograph comedies were given, "The Stolen Milk" and "The Janitor's Revenge" both of which were given with the usual standard of cleverness maintained by this company, causing hearty roars of laughter. This made four long full reels of film for the Gem's programme, a whole hour's show and more. Under H. W. Burnham's direction the orchestra was heard in several new and pleasing Metropolitan hits. This programme will be repeated this evening.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE LYRIC

A vaudeville set in which three talented performers take part and called the Ver Vallin Trio, is the treat which patrons of the Lyric enjoyed yesterday. The talents of the trio are numerous for they play different instruments, sing, dance and present some good acrobatic feats. The trombone and cornet cut in particularly, and the rhythmic rendering of the novel ragtime hit, King of Ragtime, is the signal for well deserved applause. This is followed by two single-step dancing and acrobatic performances, and the act closes with a round of good music by the trio. Worthily of special mention is Mr. Valleri's work on the cornet. The evening is nice. The Lion Hunters, a sensational story of the African jungle, showing the hunt for the king of the forest, and the thrilling story of the picture programme, Views of Yellowstone Park and Lonely Miss Wiggs—Imp products—add to the attractiveness of the show.

The vaudeville attractions for Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be Dacy & Chase in powder drawing, funny talk and burlesque boxing matches.

AT THE UNIQUE

Wilkie Collins wrote many thrilling books, but The Woman in White is generally considered his most weird and gripping. The Thauhouser has turned out a story that is clean in construction and interesting in its weirdness. The presentation of this feature at the Unique yesterday was a signal for crowded houses at each performance, notwithstanding the somewhat disagreeable fall of the thermometer.

There are but three principals in The Woman in White, Miss Marguerite Snow being seen to advantage in a dual part, Laura and the Woman in White; William Garwood plays Walter Hartright, and James Cruse gives a very clever portrayal of Count Fosco and Sir Percival Glyde. This Thauhouser production is a rapturous conception of Collins' greatest novel. The treachery of Count Fosco, the substitution of the invalid

DISHEARTENING EFFECT OF PILES

It is not only the itching and stinging of piles that is to be dreaded, but also the depressing and debilitating effect on the whole system. The victim of piles cannot do efficient work. There is an uneasiness and discomfort by day, and at night the distress from the itching prevents sleep and rest, and undermines the general health.

From almost the first application of Dr. Chase's Ointment you get relief from the annoying itching and burning, and gradually the ulcers are healed up and the disease thoroughly cured. Do not make the mistake of discontinuing treatment as soon as relief is obtained. Dr. Chase's Ointment is a proven cure, but it depends on you to apply it persistently until a cure is effected.

Even the most severe cases of long standing yield to the soothing, healing influence of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Surgical operations are no longer necessary, for, as a matter of fact, Dr. Chase's Ointment has cured cases that were not cured by operations. No sufferer from piles can afford to delay the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

of their being, much misery would be saved. Only by banishing ignorance can we hope to retain innocence. All this may sound like moralising, but this evil has a physiological as well as a pathological significance, which is far-reaching. The "sins of the fathers," etc., as true today as when first proclaimed, a powerful evil needs a powerful organization to combat it, but here at least individual effort can do much.

In the matter of roadhouses, as the moral law is apparently ineffective, perhaps the criminal code can furnish a remedy for this terribly obtrusive community and rid us of these abodes of unclean things. Yours

How To Make Your Hair Beautiful

Ten Minutes' Home Treatment Works Wonders, Stops Falling Hair and Makes the Hair Soft, Brilliant, Lustrous and Fluffy.

Better than all the so-called "hair tonics" in the world is a simple old-fashioned home recipe consisting of plain Bay Rum, Lavona (decomposed), and a little Menthol Crystals. These three mixed at home in a few minutes, work wonders with any scalp. It is just one night and see. Get from your druggist 2 oz. Lavona, 6 oz. Bay Rum, and 1-2 drachm Menthol Crystals. Dissolve the Crystals in the Bay Rum and pour in an 8 oz. bottle. Then add the Lavona, shake well and let it stand for an hour before using. Apply it by putting a little of the mixture on a soft cloth. Draw this cloth slowly through the hair, taking just one small strand at a time. This cleanses the hair and scalp of dirt, dust and excessive oil and makes the hair delightfully soft, lustrous and fluffy. To stop the hair from falling and to make it grow again rub the lotion briskly into the scalp with the finger tips or a medium stiff brush. Apply night and morning. A few days' use and you cannot find a single loose or straggling hair. They will be locked on your scalp as tight as a vice. Dandruff will disappear and itching cease. In ten days you will find fine downy new hairs sprouting all over your scalp and this new hair will grow with wonderful rapidity.

Any druggist care sell you the above. The prescription is very inexpensive and we know of nothing so effective and certain in its results.

AN ANCIENT SLANDER

The Bay of Fundy has been maligned for more than a hundred years. Less than two years after the landing of the Loyalists in 1783, Mr. William Donaldson found it necessary to protest against false statements made in England with regard to the navigation of the Bay of Fundy.

"One thing I had almost forgot, and which is highly necessary to mention, the fallacious idea that has crept into Lloyd's coffee-house about the danger and difficulty of the navigation of the Bay of Fundy. This doctrine must have been set up by some designing people, and is so notoriously false that it hardly deserves a serious answer.

When the port of St. John began to fight for recognition as a Canadian winter port, along in the early eighties, the old slander about the dangers of navigation in the Bay of Fundy was revived. The winter trade of Canada at that time was through American ports, especially through Portland, Maine.

"Ships navigating the Bay of Fundy have to encounter an atmosphere almost constantly enveloped in dense fogs, the rocks and shoals with which it abounds, and a difficulty of obtaining anchorage on account of the depth, so that undue attention is requisite to prevent disastrous consequences which must necessarily attend a want of knowledge and caution."

Many other such statements were made, and it became necessary for the board of trade of St. John to take steps to expose the falsehoods which were sent broad-cast. In October, 1886, a special committee consisting of A. Cruikshank, Andre Cushing and W. E. Vroom was appointed to prepare a report, which was submitted to the board in February, 1887.

The Big Sale Began This Morning

Our Three Stores Are Bristling With Bargains

To clean out all broken lines, odd lots, samples and lines, we do not intend reordering. But bear in mind, these are all clean, fresh, good, first-class styles. There's not an old out-of-date shop-worn pair in the lot. They are the remnants of a big season's selling, and we clean them out once a year, so as to make room for and meet our customers in the spring with a brand new stock.

SEE the Bins and Baskets for bargains; also our show windows. You'll get bargains. No sale goods on approval.

USE THE SCHOOL BUILDINGS AS SOCIAL CENTRES

Some Information For St. John People Concerning This Great Movement and Its Results

III.
One of the most profitable uses to which school buildings have been put in some American cities has been that of neighborhood civic club houses. In addition to their use as social centres for educational and recreation purposes a room is used for the discussion of civic questions. For example the city of Milwaukee has a federation of civic societies comprising more than a score of organizations representing all parties creeds and classes. This federation realizing the value of school buildings issued several years ago the following bulletin—

Neighborhood Civic Clubs
"Every public school building in this city is a potential Neighborhood Civic Club House. In some neighborhoods the citizens have already begun to take advantage of the opportunity which these gathering places offer. If your neighborhood is not using its public school building as a Civic Club House, you are not getting your money's worth out of your own property."

It Is Your Club House
"No matter what other clubs or societies you may belong to, as a member of your neighborhood you have an equal right, with every other person, to make full use of your Civic Club House, without charge of any kind. They may belong to other societies, or have no affiliations whatever of a social and civic character, and you might never meet them but for the opportunity that a Neighborhood Civic Club will offer for Brotherhood Acquaintance."

A Chance to Become Acquainted
"You may know a lot of people in your neighborhood, but there are people there whom you don't know, and some of them will be friends such as you will treasure highly after you become acquainted with them. They may belong to other societies, or have no affiliations whatever of a social and civic character, and you might never meet them but for the opportunity that a Neighborhood Civic Club will offer for Brotherhood Acquaintance."

A Chance for Self Expression
"You may have some ideas upon matters of neighborhood improvement or of city government. You may have some criticism to make of things as they are, or some suggestion to offer. In Neighborhood Civic Club Meetings in Your School Building, you will have a chance to express those ideas, to make suggestions, and to offer criticisms, as well as to learn the opinions of others."

A Chance for Government
"The real government of the city is not the group of men in the City Hall. These are simply the representatives of the real government. The real government is the citizenship of the men of the city, the men of the street. By the organizing of citizens in these Neighborhood Civic Clubs, meeting in public buildings, the real government of the city is organized, and finding a chance to express itself."

A Chance to Become Informed
"Some of the men who are known to be competent to speak upon topics of public interest have been asked if they would like to have their names published in a list of speakers who will be available to speak without charge before Neighborhood Civic Clubs. They consent because they are interested in developing civic intelligence and civic friendliness. There follows only a small fraction of the list of men and women who are capable of intelligent leadership in discussion upon public questions in the city. As the movement grows, we will all become better acquainted with the resources of civic intelligence, and supplementary lists will be published. This list of speakers is of course merely suggestive. It is intended simply as a help in arranging programmes. Every club must necessarily decide what subjects it wishes to discuss and what speakers it wishes to engage to discuss them."

We Can Begin Now
"We all look forward to the time when every school building will be equipped with a fine neighborhood assembly hall on the ground floor, with a first class gymnasium, a swimming pool, and shower baths; with a library and reading room, and with all sorts of equipment for recreation and social doings. But more important than any of these things is the development of the consciousness of democracy, of intelligent public spirit through the association of citizens for the consideration together of the problems of our common welfare, and the public school buildings are now available for this use as Neighborhood Civic Club Houses. All that is necessary to start is the signed request of three citizens in any neighborhood to the Secretary of the School Board to have the school buildings open. Evenings and Sunday afternoons, the times when citizens are free to hold meetings, the public school buildings are available."

This statement is followed by a list of representative citizens and leaders, including public officials, both city and state, representing all parties, university professors, clergymen, physicians, business men, school principals, and others who are qualified to speak intelligently and constructively upon public questions. It is significant of the general recognition of the benefit of this civic use of the school building, that practically all of those who were invited to do so, consented to contribute of their ability to the success of this movement.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE
SAVES THE HAIR
And Keeps You Looking Young
Don't look older than you are. It is just as easy to look younger. While lack of hair or poor hair is always an indication of age, it is frequently accepted as such.
A person well advanced in years possessing a good head of hair is always spoken of as "well preserved."
Everyone can retain beautiful, luxuriant hair if they make the effort. In almost every instance poor hair or the loss of hair may be traced to the activity of the dandruff germ. Newbro's Herpicide prevents the scale-like accumulation and puts the scalp in a perfectly healthy condition. With the elimination of the dandruff the hair no longer drops out. The itching of the scalp stops almost at once.
Newbro's Herpicide is the remedy for which there are many substitutes, preparations claimed to be "just as good." You don't have to accept a substitute. Insist upon having genuine Herpicide.
Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.
Applications obtained at good barber shops. Send 10c. in postage to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., for sample and book. E. Clinton Brown, special agent.

HELL GATE, WORLD'S LARGEST ARCH BRIDGE
(Engineering News)
The Hell Gate steel arch bridge, the world's largest arch, is now actively under construction. The Long Island abutment pier is well under way and the foundation for the Wards Island pier is nearly complete. The steel work is being fabricated in the shops of the American Bridge Co., practically all detail drawings having been made. Fabricated steel work is already being shipped to Greenville and erection of the arch will probably begin next year.
Marked originality of design characterizes the structure. The outline of the arch is in itself strikingly original. Other innovations are:
Hard (high-carbon) steel; large rivets; heavy splicing; special pivot or rocker joints at chord splices; bracing girders in the floor; cantilever arrangement of the floor laterals.
The bridge is also notable for the magnitude of its chord sections and their robust makeup; for the great weight of single members—weighing twice as much as the heaviest erection parts of large bridges previously erected; and for its great weight, which averages about 38,000 lb. steel and 53,000 lb. total per lineal foot of bridge. The great weight is due to the large live-load capacity provided. No existing large-span bridge is designed for four lines of railway traffic.
"Freddy, you shouldn't laugh out loud in the school room," exclaimed the teacher.
"I didn't mean to do it," apologized Freddy. "I was smiling, when all of a sudden the smile busted."

GRAND OLD MAN OF NEWSPAPER LIFE IN OLD COUNTRY (Times Special Correspondence) London, Jan. 7 - It was quite fitting that there should be so many signers of the sumptuous congratulatory address presented to Lord Burnham the other day, by representatives of the press of the post-heraldic era, that of dramatic critic, in which he preceded Clement Scott. Under the will of his uncle, the late Lionel Lawson, he assumed the name of Lawson by royal license in 1875, and then a baronet, eventually being elevated to the peerage in 1908 and taking his present title. President of the Institute of Journalists, Lord Burnham still directs the policy of his famous journal, and is renowned for his kindly treatment of his staff, which has numbered such famous writers as the late George Augustus Sala and Sir Edwin Arnold, and of which W. L. Courtney is still literary critic. The "Telegraph" is admittedly one of the best paying newspapers in England, and its proprietor owns, besides, about 4,000 acres over which he shoots, rides and golfs. Lord Burnham was an intimate friend with the late King Edward, who of ex visited him at Hall Barn, his country place near Beaconsfield. G. K. Chesterton lives close by, and a famous past resident of Hall Barn itself was Edmund Burke, for whose memory Lord Burnham has a great veneration, and of whom he has collected many relics. Most interesting of them all, perhaps, is a dagger which, upon a famous occasion, Burke threw upon the floor of the House of Commons.

Mrs. Ward's Funeral Tomorrow. The body of Mrs. Margaret Ward, who died at Hillsboro, Albert county, on Sunday, was not brought to the city yesterday on account of a blockade on the Albert & Salisbury line. For this reason the funeral has been postponed until Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

A Matter of a Ladder. Edwin was the pride and joy of his parents' heart, for so highly had he distinguished himself at school that every one foresaw a brilliant career for him. "Ah, my boy!" exclaimed the father proudly, "we expect great things of you. Fame is an elusive ladder, but you'll climb it."

Then Edwin received some good, sound advice, after which he went into a hard, cruel world to make his fortune. Five years later Edwin returned home. "I've climbed the ladder, dad," said he to his father.

"I knew you would, my boy," declared the proud parent. "I told you you'd get to the top."

"Yes, I've been to the top," his voice dropped. "I'm a window-cleaner now."

"You told me you married me for love and then you told one of your hunchback friends you married me for my money."

"Well, not exactly, I married you for love of your money."

Trying To Star In Two Classes

(FROM T. S. ANDREWS)
Milwaukee, Jan. 18—The efforts of some fighters who try to star in two classes, writes T. S. Andrews of Milwaukee, usually end in failure. There was one man—Bob Fitzsimmons—who made a success of it. It all depends, too, on whether Dillon and McGorty can make the weight.

Gus Christie, a Milwaukee middleweight, who has been coming along nicely of late, bumped into a snag against George Chip last week. He was away off form and certainly did not fight up to his standard, for he has done much better against Jack Dillon and Eddie McGorty. Chip landed a hard right uppercut to Christie's chin at the beginning of the first round and this may have taken the steam out of him, but he fought like a man in a trance all through the ten rounds.

Chip made an effort to score a K. O., but he could not phase the Milwaukee man, even with hard smashes to the head and body. However, Chip showed much more class than when he defeated Tim O'Neill of Chicago in Racine several weeks ago, and he looks like a hard man to beat over the long distance route. As for being clever, Chip does not shine, but he has an awkward style of his own and is hard to get away from. He is not hard to hit but he can take the punches of most of the middleweights in order to get a chance to land himself. It is a question whether he would be able to do much damage against clever men like Clabby and Gibbons, although in a long distance battle his chances of victory would be much brighter.

Gibbons is a great boxer and his wonderful showing against Bob McAllister, a California fighter, stamps him as a contender once more for the middleweight crown. Jimmy Clabby and Gibbons are of about the same weight, 162 pounds and the middleweight limit of 158 ringside is easy for both of them; in fact, it is catchweights for them. Gibbons gave away about eight pounds to McAllister and then knocked him out, proving that when he is at his best and with his full strength he also possesses a sleep producer.

As George Chip has twice put Frank Klaus to sleep he is now considered as having a claim to the title, providing he can make the weight, but there are some who doubt his ability to do so, although his manager, Jimmy Dime, says he can. In his fight with Gus Christie and swing at it like a hammock," said the Giant boss.

MATTY'S BIG LEAGUE GOSSIP

BY CHRISTY MATHEWSON
THE GIANTS' STAR PITCHER

"Well, we can't see a thing with that background," complained Chief Meyers, who is very proud of his base hits. "After a fellow has been looking at that background every day for a week, he is lucky if he isn't blind."
"That so?" asked McGraw. "Well, we'll soon fix that."
"Don't see that it bothers me any when I am hitting," vouchsafed the pitcher, facing the batter is the most desirable of all things in the game.
"You can see all right!" muttered McGraw. "Well, why don't you get a hit once in a while then?"
The next day the advertising signs were down and a nice green background faced the batter. McGraw always gets men framed up to write his name on the club which inhabited this park regularly complained so about the bad background that the owners finally made him take the money right out of my pocket because they say they cannot hit with the signs on the fence. They can't hit anyway."

"What do you think of that?" said the man with the concession, showing the letter around. "Here these ball players are taking the money right out of my pocket because they say they cannot hit with the signs on the fence. They can't hit anyway."

I recall one day that "Kitty" Brandfield was nearly killed by being "beamed" by a fast ball at the Polo Grounds when Tesreau, who is inclined to be wild, was pitching.
"I'm going to refuse to play any more unless they change that background," announced Brandfield five minutes later as he came to. "You can't see a thing."
But he was playing in the next series. A ball player must make the best of conditions or starve.

For some time the batter's background at the Polo Grounds in New York was one of the worst in the league because the blacker, seals were signs of all shades and colors to attract the attention of the fans to the virtues of various brands of whiskey and tooth paste. Several players had narrow escapes from being badly hurt by pitched balls, the light falling on this background throwing a reflection under certain conditions that prevented the batter from seeing the ball at all. In hot weather, when the fans took off their coats, the white shirts made things much worse.

One pitcher on the New York club—and I am not going to mention his name—studied out this condition and discovered that, by letting the ball go from his hand when he was in a certain position, it would come toward the batter directly out of a great yellow blotch on the board. This entirely blinded the hitter. The pitcher worked his discovery out in practice for several days until he had perfected it. It was accomplished by getting the younger men of the club to come up for batting practice and they told him when his hand was in just the right position to be in his line of vision with the yellow paint.

"How is that?" he would ask, holding his hand steady before pitching.
"Can't see a thing," the batter would reply.
Then this smart pitcher noted his exact position at the time and just where his hand was, and practiced throwing from this position with the aid of insignificant marks in the box. He made a great record until the home players began to complain about their own batting averages. McGraw was having the bunch out in the club house one day after a game in the season of 1912 when the Giants had made very few hits.

"You guys go away on the road and stink the ball, but you come back here

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is rich in the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree, and for this reason it will stop that tickling in the throat which causes that dry hard cough that keeps you awake at night.
Mr. Sanford Roode, Antrim, N.S., writes:—"Last fall I took a severe cold which left me with a terrible hard cough and a nasty tickling sensation in my throat. I tried many cough medicines, but they did not help me so I got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and before I had used half of it the cough had left me, and the next one made a complete cure, and I will recommend it as the best cough medicine on the market."

MAYOR SUGGESTS THAT BRAVE WORK BY RESCUE BOATS BE RECOGNIZED

Writes Commissioners Re Gallant Conduct of Officers and Crews of John L. Cann and Westport

A suggestion which is likely to meet with popular approval is made by Mayor Frink in a letter addressed to the Common Council. The communication is as follows:—

Mayor's Office,
St. John, N. B.,
January 19, 1914.

To the Commissioners of the City of St. John:

It would appear to me that the gallant conduct of the officers and crews of the steamers John L. Cann and Westport III should receive some fitting recognition from the city of St. John. The heroism exhibited and the hardships endured in their successful efforts to save the lives of the passengers and crew of the S. S. Cobeguid on the Nova Scotia coast is worthy of more than a mere resolution and I would respectfully suggest that consideration be given to the proposal submitted.

Both vessels ply between St. John and Nova Scotia ports, and as a maritime city we can well appreciate their deeds.

(Signed) JAMES H. FRINK,
Mayor.

CHINESE GETS DIP IN HARBOR WATERS ON A FROSTY MORN

Hum Chow Able to Get Out Again But No One Seems to Know How

Dripping with water, and almost unconscious, a Chinese laundryman, Hum Chow, was found this morning ready to collapse in the warehouse of the Dominion Atlantic Railway Company. It was impossible to get anything more intelligible from him than that he had fallen overboard. Evidently he had gotten out himself as no one about the wharves seemed to know of his predicament.

The steamer Yarmouth had just left her wharf when he was noticed by John Emery, one of the employees in the warehouse, who took him into the office to get warm. The ambulance was called and Hum Chow was taken to the hospital where it was said this afternoon he was considerably improved and would be able to be out in a day or two.

REVOLVER POINTED AT SHOPKEEPER WITH A THREAT TO SHOOT HIM

Trouble Raised By Colored Man in Brussels Street Store Over Some Molasses

Joseph McNeill an elderly man who conducts a grocery store at 28 Brussels street, was held up on Saturday night by a colored man who flourished a revolver in his face and threatened to shoot when Mr. McNeill refused to take back some molasses which the negro had purchased. He said the molasses tasted of salt and asked Mr. McNeill to refund the money. Mr. McNeill found that a considerable quantity had been taken from the pitcher and politely told the customer that since he had used so much of it he might as well keep the rest. The negro went out but came back in a rage. He poured the molasses over the floor of the shop and told the proprietor that he would give him a "nice" job to clean it up. The proprietor ordered him out but instead of leaving the man waved a revolver in his right hand, and holding it in Mr. McNeill's face threatened to shoot him. Mr. McNeill again ordered the man out of the store and walked round from behind the counter while the man still kept the revolver pointed at him. The negro backed towards the door when near the door, shifted the revolver from his right hand to his left and struck at him. Mr. McNeill with his fist.

Mr. McNeill when asked today if he had reported the matter to the police, said that he had not seen a policeman since. He said that he knows where the man lives. Several women were in the store at the time and were greatly alarmed.
