

Some Soldiers' Letters, Found in Turk Trenches, Tell Tale of Grim Work

British Unite in Praising Courage of Turkish Soldier—Many of Diaries Feat Hairbreadth Escapes by the Fighting Men—Manchester Regiment's Warm Corner in Battle Described by Member of Regiment—Captain Lynch's Graphic Recital.

Gallipoli Peninsula, Turkey, June 19—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Many dead British soldiers have been buried by the Turks—usually after a trench has been taken. Before the body is disposed of it is searched for letters, or some other means of identification.

In the course of this interesting correspondence, among them diaries of fallen officers and men, have been found. A number of these were at the camp of the Manchester Regiment, with permission to copy such parts as might care to make use of.

The diary of R. Charlesworth, fifth platoon, B company, 5th Manchester Regiment, 22 years old, is somewhat typical of those kept by men of his station. There is a quaint charm in his simple description of the trip to Egypt, and the installing of the regiment in Mustapha Pacha camp, Alexandria. The hardships there were a plague, his diary says, and the men were glad when they were transferred to Polydamia camp, on the island of Cyprus.

Put in Heavy Training. Then comes reference to long route marches and much drill. Later the regiment was sent to Cairo. More marches followed. Many men fell out, and often officers, with humane inclinations, would help some poor enlisted youngster by carrying his rifle for him.

The regiment was ordered for service in the Dardanelles. It was embarked on the steamer Ionian, of Glasgow. For about a month Private Charlesworth fought at Sid-el-Bahr, his being a series of alternate platoons of work and rest. Then comes the last entry: "On the 26th (May) we finished the trench. On the 27th we moved to the second line of trenches."

"A march past Sir Ian Hamilton in Egypt appears to have been the most important event to another, whose other entries made in a calendar, consist entirely of "on" and "off" duty and similar routine remarks.

The diary of another contains the order will go on the inside page of the cover. It reads: "My will: 'Everything I possess to go to my father.' (Signed), WILFRED HAYES."

Some Interesting Entries Shown. The entries are extremely matter-of-fact. "May 18th, Turks advance." "May 18th—One of our officers shot dead." "May 21st—Nothing doing all day."

Many references to attacks by the Turks follow, the Royal Scots are given much credit by the writer for their brave conduct. "May 27th—Not a minute's sleep for three days and three nights."

"May 28th—We were obliged to move to our reserve trench." "May 28—During the afternoon the 8th B. Co. (8th Battalion Manchester Regiment) were digging in a trench, which they had advanced to during the night, when they were surprised by the Turks. They retired, leaving rifles and equipment behind. We saw the Turks playing with the rifles and bayonets which were left behind. The artillery and infantry peppered them. The 8th Sussex were to take back the trench and the 6th who were in the reserve trench were resting after two nights of advancing and trench digging, had to go and support them. The 8th lost heavily, although the 6th had few casualties. The 8th got the order to advance with fixed bayonets, but fumbled it so the 6th would not let them stay in the trench, and pushed them over the parapet. Same day a wounded man crawled into our trench and said that a sergeant and four men were the only survivors in a trench. Reinforcements were sent."

"May 30—We are still in the trenches and are getting very worn and tired." Sergeant Wouldn't Retire. "May 31—Turks attacking. Eighth unable to hold their own; one of our platoons to aid. The 8th begin to retire, but the sergeant in charge of the 6th will not allow them to retire."

Then comes the penultimate entry. It is dated: "June 2—Cousin Richard killed. Only me left out of the three of us." "June 3—The 8th were ordered to take Hill 709 at the point of the bayonet. Twelve o'clock we charge the Turks at the point of the bayonet."

Seventeen-Year-Old Fighter. Private William Sykes, of the 8th Battalion, Manchester Regiment, enlisted as No. 2029, at the age of seventeen years and five months, had nothing but his letters on his person when found. Most of them were written by his mother, a gentle middle-aged woman, according to her photograph, which the boy carried with him. The letters are addressed to: "Our dear son Will."

At 9.30 the Protestant service was held, with the camp headquarters staff in attendance. The bands of the 53th and 60th were united for the occasion under Sergt. Plaster, of the 53th, and their music was a great inspiration to the service. The hymns sung were, All People that on Earth do dwell, Fight the Good Fight; Onward Christian Soldiers, and the national anthem. The opening part of the service was conducted by Capt. Thomas. The scriptural lesson was read by Capt. Shires, and the prayers were offered by Capt. Burnett, and in all these exercises the officers and men joined heartily. Capt. Wood, of the 40th, preached from 2nd Kings, 18:17 and 18: "And he said, open the window eastward, and he opened it. Then Elisha said, shoot and he shot, etc." The points dwelt upon were the privilege of an open window, the meaning of the flying arrow, and the menace of arrows unused. From an open window lessons of the privileges of prayer and service were set forth. The flying arrow betokened the warfare in which all were engaged, not only with foes without but foes within. The menace of the stayed arrow was great at present. There were resources within the empire to make victory a certainty, but these might become a curse

TWELVE CANADIANS WIN D. C. MEDAL

Conspicuous Gallantry of Men in Ranks is Well Rewarded—Men of the Princess Patricia's Honored for Part in Heavy Fighting.

London, Aug. 6.—The following Canadians have received Distinguished Conduct Medals: 42095, Corporal R. P. now Lieut. Baker, 2nd Artillery Brigade, "for conspicuous gallantry and ability on 22nd and 23rd April, when after having had the teams of three ammunition wagons killed, he collected details and kept up the supply of ammunition by hand under very heavy shell fire."

There are rumors in circulation here that Capt. W. E. Forbes of "D" company may receive a commission in the 64th company with rank as major. A contingent of 42 recruits arrived in camp from Sussex this morning. If, as is understood, there are about 40 men needed for the 65th, one can make calculation that if not more than 30 recruits a week are obtained it will be at least ten weeks before the battalion is up to full strength. That would mean somewhere about the end of October. The question is whether this is the best that New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island can do.

The battalion is still engaged in fire-fighting service, and this afternoon a detachment of 100 men under command of Major E. C. Weyman, were dispatched for the mountain, about four miles from camp, to perform duty there. Lieut. T. C. Cressingham, in command of a team from the camp went to Quebec on Saturday and defeated the city team by a score of 6 to 0.

Chaplain Thomas preached tonight in the Presbyterian church at Valeport village. Brigadier McLean has returned to camp after a visit to Ottawa. Saturday morning all parades were called off on account of the rain. The showers which were fairly heavy were much making, as a serious situation had arisen, making necessary the placing on guard continuously of a large detachment of men to guard against fire.

The base ball team of the 55th were too big a proposition for the team of the 40th, and won out on Friday evening by a score of 6 to 4. McKellar and Ritchie were from the 55th. For the evening a lecture was given to commissioned and non-commissioned officers on trench work by Lieut. Brunton. The following have been transferred to machine gun section from this date: Privates H. Watson, A. M. Drum, C. Forchoumeau, A. company, Privates L. W. McNamara, J. Doran, G. Shaffe, A. A. Smith, R. S. Wilson, C. Warwood from B company; Privates C. B. Clarke, S. G. Clarke, from D company; F. Killiam, H. J. Irving, C. W. Glendenning, D. Stewart, and J. E. Buchanan from C company.

Promotions are reported as follows: Corporal C. Cabot from A company to be sergeant, and Private W. Burhoe of A company to the corporal.

materialized it will be without parallel in the history of Uniform Rank work. Some barriers have and may arise, but we believe they can and will be surmounted. We hope to see the army of the Lily grow until it will represent the majority of our membership, particularly at this time when the military branch has a significance that should be appreciated.

The purpose of this branch was for home defence, and in the present crisis in our history surely every Canadian is ready to fall in line with any movement that stands for this important duty; hence the "patriotic" spirit has entered into the undertaking, and we believe there is not a subordinate lodge in our domain but what will furnish a company if the appeal is made to them.

Notwithstanding the general depression obtaining throughout the domain, occasioned by the war, I am pleased to report that I found the general condition of the order in every way satisfactory. The brethren were carrying out the motto "business as usual." I believe a very considerable gain was made in membership. Let the good work go on. Reference was made also to the satisfactory condition of the insurance department of the order.

Of a feature of Pythianism which is yearly becoming more popular, the auxiliary sisterhood, Mr. Potter said: "It is my great privilege, as well as a pleasure to speak a good word for these devoted women. They, like ourselves, are seeking the elevation and happiness of their members and are ever ready to extend a helping hand to suffering humanity. It is our duty to assist them in their good work and make them co-workers with us in our effort to uplift mankind."

We should ever remember that the influence of a good woman is far more potent and elevating than that emanating from ourselves; they are the greatest force for good in the world—in home, church and society, let us ever uphold the ideals of the Pythian sisters.

The Dhokeys came in for a word of praise, and a fraternal welcome was extended to them. Regarding appeals for aid, the grand chancellor said that many contributions had been given to various patriotic funds, and referred also to another appeal which had been well answered, that of raising funds for little Ida McKemie, who had lost a hand. She was the daughter of a brother member, and the collection raised for her had totalled $2,000.

The grand chancellor spoke against the idea of raising the minimum fee for the ranks of knighthood from $10 to $20, saying that it would be a serious mistake. "An order that claim to have $2,697,206 in cash on hand with Grand Lodge assets of about $8,000,000 and subordinate lodge assets of $16,500,000, he said, surely is not in need of higher financing. There is no claim of failure to meet our financial obligations. We can pay out two and one-half million dollars for relief and other claims and expenses, and still have the surplus quoted."

The following recommendations were made in the report: (1) That this Grand Lodge by resolution place itself on record as opposed to the raising of the minimum charge for the rank of knighthood from $10 to $20 as agreed at the last convention of the Superior Lodge.

(2) That Subordinate Lodges pay more attention to non-resident members, and that a standing committee be appointed, whose special duty it will be to look up visiting members this will in no way relieve other members from giving strange brothers marked attention.

(3) I strongly recommend carrying our principles outside the lodge rooms. (4) The strongest recommendation I have to offer is to maintain harmony in the lodge room. Discard, like the German gas, kills and murders all that is best in our order. Let us imitate Damon and Pythias—they never got cross.

(5) I would recommend that the Grand Lodge continue to support an efficient organizer for this domain, whose duties it shall be to organize, re-organize and resuscitate subordinate lodges; and that a sufficient sum be voted to keep him continually in the field.

(6) Resolution to the King—I recommend a resolution expressing our loyalty to the King and our willingness to defend the Empire. (7) I would strongly recommend that every Knight be asked to wear the emblem of our order. It would be a means of identification in case of accident. A simple method of proclaiming to the world and our brethren that we belong to the order and are not ashamed of the fact. It would have the effect of inducing others to join us.

BARE PELT GOOD ENOUGH UNIFORM FOR COLONIALS

Only Pair of "Shorts" Clothes Australians and New Zealanders in Trenches—Bathing a Popular Pastime

Remove No Garments.

"The British Tommy likes to move and work and fight with the majority of his worldly goods hanging around him. No matter what the state of the temperature, the men in our front trenches sit with their pockets open, awaiting the broiling sun, and will dig trenches without removing a garment; but to find the Australian now wearing anything except a pair of 'shorts' is extremely rare, whether he is in the trenches, in a rest camp, or on furlough."

Plenty of Bathing.

"Some one remarked very truly the other day that this campaign at the Dardanelles has only been rendered tolerable by the excellent bathing. I do not suppose any other factor has counted so much in keeping the troops healthy and clean and restoring their spirits after day and nights in the stinky, dirty, smelly trenches. Especially do the Australians and New Zealanders love their periodical dip. To them the sea and a sun bath are as the breath of life. From earliest childhood they have been accustomed to live in the water. The bathing at Sydney, where as many as 50,000 men, women and children take the water at the same time, is world famous. Now, straight from the trenches, this endless procession of naked warriors covered with mud and dirt, never ceases from sunrise to sunset."

Conclusion.

In closing his report the grand chancellor expressed appreciation of the work of the Grand Lodge officers during the year; all had assisted, and he was indeed grateful. He especially mentioned Brother Moulson, Grand Keeper of the Records and Seals, "a walking encyclopedia of Pythian law and order, a true Knight, a splendid character—we are all proud of him. For Brother Beamish, the grand old man, the founder of our order in the provinces by

Bright Prospects For Recruiting On North Shore

Lt. Col. B. R. Armstrong Finds Growing Interest Especially Among French Acadians-Rev. Capt. Kuhring Going to Dardanelles-Crossing of the 6th Rifles Described.

Lieut.-Col. B. R. Armstrong has returned from his trip to the North Shore and Halifax on recruiting business and speaks in hopeful terms of the prospects there. He especially thinks the results among the French-Canadians were good.

Lieutenant Colonel Murray MacLaren writes: No. 1 Canadian General Hospital, A. P. O. S. 11. The Editor of The Telegraph, St. John, N. B., Canada: Sir:—As a result of the receipt of numerous funds from citizens of New Brunswick, it was found possible to submit to headquarters a proposal that a New Brunswick Hut Ward be erected on the camp site of No. 1 Canadian General Hospital.

In the machine gun campaign there appears to be a drop which is attributed to a rumor that the government will not be able to find use for the money already subscribed for some time and Mayor Frink wired to the militia department yesterday asking for instructions.

How a Canadian Indian, one of the Micmacs, is said to have enlisted is told by the Rev. C. A. Kuhring, who left here as chaplain of the 6th Mounted Rifles, has gone to the Dardanelles but whether the 6th has also been ordered there remains unknown. A few days ago it was reported that Rev. J. H. Macdonald, of the Amunition Column, had been ordered there but this was afterwards countermanded and it is possible that Capt. Kuhring has been chosen.

Dear Mrs. Smith—I will endeavor to write you a few lines at this time and let you know we are all safe and sound on this side of the Atlantic. We had an uneventful voyage across the ocean. It was just like a mild pond all the way. Of course we were not alone.

Signalman E. A. Belding gives an interesting account of the Atlantic voyage of the Herschel in which a part of the 6th Mounted Rifles left Quebec. After mentioning the 400 horses he says: "Tomorrow night at 6:45 we held a minstrel show. The chaplain, Capt. Kuhring, and officers have done everything possible to help us. The circle has Walter McKusky, Duplissa, Jack McMullin and John Dolan as end men, with Bruno Davidson, Jack Sears and Roy Armstrong as soloists. I am the intercomer. Out of the nine we have six from St. John. There are twenty jokes, four songs and some funny stunts, and the after part consists of recitations, comic songs, stump dancing, mandolin, two vocal quartets and a couple of chorus songs. We will hold it on the open deck." (A later note says the show was a great success, with an audience of 600, and as most of the jokes were on unpopular non-coms they brought down the house.)

Writing from Shorecliffe on Thursday, July 29, he adds: "We had an anxious night on Tuesday, but I slept through it. We met an escort Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock, and talk about British cheers! We landed at Plymouth at 12:40, unloaded at 7 p.m., traveled all night and arrived here at 4:30 this morning. It is certainly a lovely country, but I am not in love with our lines. We are all upset of course, but still we are not in a very good place. I understand Frank Jennings is about four miles from here, also Harry Holman of St. John. I hunted up the 22nd Battalion that was with us at Amherst, and also the 26th. They are about two and a half miles from us. I talked with Ray Haley, Edgar Robertson, Will Frost and dozens of my old friends. They don't like it, and are anxious to be away to the front. Balloons, aeroplanes, etc., are going over all the time. There are said to be 50,000 Canadians in training here—every branch of the service.

From East Africa. Commissioner H. R. McLellan received a letter yesterday from his son, Harold, who is a member of the 28th Royal Fusiliers, now stationed in British East Africa. In addition to the 28th Royal Fusiliers, there are the Royal North Lancashire, King's African Rifle and other regiments stationed there. With reference to the climate, he said it is much the same as that of Brazil. At present it is the rainy season, but he expects a warm weather soon. He said his health is in the best and he is in good spirits. Their duties at the present time consist of patrolling the border and protecting the property of the inhabitants.

They went from the train to the home of the bereaved family, 15 Golding street, and from them the family received the first accurate details of the shocking loss they sustained.

This comprises two divisions for service, one of which has already received its baptism of fire and has been reorganized and reinforced at least twice, and the others which have been in training at Shorecliffe, should soon be ready for service at the front. In addition, the 67,000 will provide a large number of reinforcements when needed.
