

NORTH END EXTENSION GOES TO THE RAILWAY BOARD AT COMPANY'S SUGGESTION

Manager King Wanted the City to Agree to Fix the Population at 50,000 in Order to Get 1,200 Feet of Additional Track—City Fathers Said No and Then the Company Proposed Sending Matter to the Commission.

The North End extension will be adjudicated upon by the Ontario municipal and railway board. That decision was arrived at today at noon, when a conference between No. 1 committee and the London Street Railway Company was held. There was not much debate on the question, especially when the company, through its manager, stated what they wanted for the extension. Mr. King declared that this extension was to apply until the city reached a population of 50,000.

To convey what this means it will be necessary to explain that when the agreement between the city and company was made, the population was fixed at 30,000, and for every 2,000 population thereafter the city was entitled to a mile of track. When the Ridout street line was built, the population was named at 43,000.

Thus, if the population of the city was fixed at 50,000, by a census, the people would be entitled to three miles more of track.

As the proposed extension of the North End would increase the track-age by 1,200 feet it can readily be seen that the offer of the company had no regard for the rights of the city.

When negotiations were under way on Friday last, the impression was that the extension would apply on the regular schedule, a mile of track for every two thousand people, and the rights of the city in the future would not be prejudiced thereby.

When the announcement of the manager of the company, Mr. King, was made, great surprise was expressed.

At this juncture, Mr. C. H. Ivey, the solicitor for the company, made the suggestion that the whole question be referred to the Ontario railway board.

Send it to Railway Board. "I am convinced that it will go there sooner or later," he stated to the committee. "The residents of Wellington street will oppose it and will take it there. So will the residents of Horton street. Injunctions are out of the question, and such talk is silly. All that will have to be done is take the matter to the railway board, and the route, continued on page eight."

PRESS DELEGATES SEE GREAT BATTLE FLEET

Magnificent Naval Spectacle at Spithead for Imperial Press Conference.

London, June 13.—The delegates to the Imperial Press Conference were profoundly impressed by their inspection of the home fleet at Spithead, yesterday. The eighteen miles of warships, which included three Dreadnoughts and three Invincibles, constituted the most powerful fleet ever assembled for review. Stretched out in seven lines, which extended from Cowes road to the sea forts guarding the entrance to Spithead, the visitors saw the "war head" of the British navy, that is to say, that section of the fleet which is always fully manned and equipped in readiness for instant action. Of the 1144 ships which had assembled for the day's manoeuvres, not one had been specially commissioned for the occasion. From Nelson's old flagship, the Victory, announced the arrival of the admiralty yachts, bearing the lords of the admiralty and the newspaper guests. After traversing the lines of the fleet the visitors went on board the Dreadnought and witnessed a sham attack of submarines and destroyers on the battleship. The sea front of Portsmouth was black with masses of spectators, and the air was filled with steamers thronged with sight-seers from all parts of the kingdom.

Admiral Sir John Fisher accompanied the Press delegates, and on the arrival of the party at Victoria Station on their return from the manoeuvres, the newspapersmen gave him a great ovation, escorting him to his car and singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." All the delegates agreed that the fleet was a wonderful object lesson to them as to the Empire's naval might.

MRS. ADAM BECK PRESENTED AT COURT

London, June 12.—Canadians presented to court Saturday included Mrs. Adam Beck, Miss Florence Greenwood and Hamar Greenwood, M. P.

SCOTCH FOR CANADA

Envoy From Canada Says There Are Eager to Emigrate.

Ottawa, June 14.—Mr. P. H. McKenzie, ex-M. P. for South Bruce, has returned from Scotland, where he has been spending four months carrying on a propaganda for the immigration department. He found general depression in Great Britain, and the Scottish farmers have suffered severely. "These tenant farmers would improve their condition by immigrating to Canada," said Mr. McKenzie, "and they are anxious to come, although south to leave Scotland, where their families have lived on the same land for centuries. They are also influenced by social conditions."

DIED OF LOCKJAW

Oshawa, Ont., June 14.—Alan Douglas, aged 19 years, only son of Mr. R. J. MacKie, is dead of lockjaw, resulting from broken glass cutting his knee in a fall.

CITIZENS VISITED LONDON CAMP

Soldier Boys Have a Great Attraction for People of City and District.

PRACTICE AT RANGES

Twenty-Ninth Regiment, of Berlin, Went Down Today, and Will Handle Their Rifles—Military Gossip.

A very large number of citizens took advantage of the fine weather of yesterday to visit the camp on Carling's Heights and were greatly interested in the sights to be seen there. People who have visited the camp regularly say that no more orderly camp was ever held in London.

Notwithstanding the shower which prevented the church service being held according to arrangements, a large crowd came up in the morning. The sunny weather of the afternoon brought out a much larger crowd and for several hours they roamed about the camp taking in everything.

The Evening. In the evening a service was held in the Y. M. C. A. camp and Rev. Mr. Mason preached a stirring sermon to a large number of soldiers. At the close of the service eleven men stood up and professed themselves Christians.

All through the day the bands of the various regiments rendered selections which were greatly enjoyed. All the regimental bands are in splendid shape this year and the grand military tattoo which takes place on the closing evening of the camp promises to be one of the best ever held.

Rifle Practice.

The men of the Twenty-Ninth Regiment marched down to the ranges this morning for rifle practice, accompanied by their band. They made a very fine appearance and were viewed by large crowds of citizens as they marched along Richmond street.

At present the rifle ranges are in the hospital, but none of them are of a serious nature. This evening Lieut. Col. Edison, commander of the Second Infantry Brigade, will give a lecture to the officers on "Protection and Outpost Duty."

BOLT HITS A CHURCH AND KILLS WORSHIPPER

Sixteen Others Injured, Two of Whom May Not Survive—Congregation in Panic.

Green Bay, Wis., June 14.—Lightning struck the steeple of Holy Cross Catholic Church at Bay Settlement during mass yesterday and killed Edward Duchan, 20 years old, and shocked and injured sixteen other persons, two of whom may not survive. Panic prevailed for several minutes after the bolt struck. It was some time before Father Mickers could quiet the excited congregation of more than 200 persons.

ALL ROUND THIEF AWARDED ONE YEAR

Stole Bicycle and Clothes, But Was Promptly Nailed by Acting Detective Thos. Lucas.

Douglas McConnell, the young man who was found guilty recently of stealing a bicycle from A. J. Ferte, and of stealing clothes from J. R. Minihick, was sentenced by Magistrate Love this morning to one year in the Central Prison.

The thefts were committed some weeks ago, and McConnell got out of town for some time. His home is in the north end, and when he came back a couple of weeks ago he was arrested by Acting Detective Thomas Lucas.

Perjury Charge. Robert Campbell, charged with perjury, appeared but the case was adjourned for a week, and the bail of $500 was renewed. The charge was laid against Campbell at the time he was married, swore that Sims' daughter was 18 years of age when she is not. The marriage took place in Brantford.

The young man who pleaded guilty last week to stealing a gold watch from the pocket of a workman who had hung his vest up in a house where he was working, was allowed to go on suspended sentence.

Non-Payment Case. James Wilson was charged by Jas. Calder with non-payment of day hire, and was found guilty and ordered to pay $1 25.

William McDonald, for being drunk, was fined $10 and $5 costs, or 21 days.

STEAMERS ARRIVED.

June 13-14.—At New York-New York: Southampton, from New York; Liverpool, from Liverpool; America, from New York; Philadelphia-Friesland, from Liverpool; Carthaginian, from Glasgow; Queenstown-Celtic, from New York; Carolina, from New York; M'Ville-Columbia, from New York; Liverpool-Carolina, from New York; Empress of Ireland, from Quebec; At St. Michael's-England, from New York.

NORTH-END EXTENSION IN A NUTSHELL

Manager King proposed the removal of Wellington street line to Richmond, and the building of a stub line up Maitland street from Oxford to Victoria. In return for this he asked that the population be fixed at 50,000, in the company's agreement.

As the city, with a population of 50,000, would be entitled to more than three miles of track over its present mileage, and as the extension proposed by Manager King would amount to only 1,200 feet, or one-quarter of a mile approximately, the city's representatives considered the request out of the question altogether.

It was then suggested that the Ontario municipal and railway board be asked to decide the matter. To this the committee agreed. It will take some time, perhaps a month, to decide the question.

MUTINY IN THE PHILIPPINES OF UNCLE SAM'S NATIVE TROOPS

Mutineers Attack Planters, Who Fortify Convent and Succeed in Driving Off the Enemy Despite a Desperate Attack.

Manila, June 14.—Details of the mutiny of the company of native constabulary stationed at Davao, on the island of Mindanao, on the night of June 6, show that the attack on their officers was made unexpectedly by the mutineers.

The mutineers fled to the hills after taking 30 rifles and 5,000 rounds of ammunition. Governor Walker hastily summoned the neighboring planters as soon as the mutineers were out of sight, and proceeded to fortify a convent in preparation for a long siege. Most of the planters fled and only a few remained, but when the natives made an attack on the convent on the afternoon of the 7th, they fought with much spirit and drove the mutineers away. The mutineers made a desperate attack upon the beleaguered garrison, and a number were killed and wounded before they retired. Degadocourt, the constabulary officer, is the man who cleaned out the bad men of the Davao after the murder of Governor Bolton several years ago.

A LIVELY ROW OVER SCHOOL PICNIC

The New Thought Meeting on Sunday Ended in Disorder in St. George's Hall.

A BUNCH OF TROUBLE Was Caused by the Introduction of the Question by Mr. Charles Hill, Who Opposed Mr. J. J. Turner.

New thought and school picnics mixed about as agreeably as oil and water at a meeting of the New Thought Society held Sunday at St. George's Hall, Richmond street, and at the end of the meeting the members appeared hopelessly divided, and will in the future tread different paths.

Mr. J. J. Turner and Mr. Charles Hill, a well-known advertising man, were the chief opponents in Sunday's discussion, and now appear to be leading different parties.

The Trouble. The New Thought Society had advertised that the subject to be discussed Sunday would be "Helping the Helpless," but, according to Mr. Hill, the subject was never reached, and the meeting broke up in disorder.

Mr. Turner, however, alleges that only a portion of the members of the society took this matter up a week ago, and that "Helping the Helpless" was taken up and dealt with when the belligerents had departed.

The School Picnic. It appears that when the meeting was called to order by Mr. Turner, Mr. Hill inquired what had been done in regard to the school picnic. It will be remembered that the new thought people took this matter up a week ago and decided to send out postcards taking a vote of the citizens on the question.

Some money, $2 70, to be exact, had been collected to defray the cost of the cards, and Mr. Hill wanted to know what the committee had done. Mr. Turner's reply was not satisfactory, and Mr. Hill at once carried the war into Africa.

Call Children Out. Mr. Turner alleges that Mr. Hill and other prominent speakers at the meeting wanted to call the children out just as a strike is called, and have a picnic in spite of the wishes of the board of education.

To this Mr. Turner and several others would not agree, and a motion made by Mr. Hill was declared out of order, and Mr. Turner refused to put it. Then the battle started in real earnest. Mr. Hill and his friends refusing to submit to what they plainly termed the dictation of Mr. Turner.

Different Conclusions. Mr. Hill and his friends say that at the finish almost everybody in the room left the meeting. Mr. Turner denies, and says that when the disturbers had departed the meeting calmly discussed the subject chosen for debate.

Mr. Hill and his friends wanted the money which had been collected handed back to the committee, but this Mr. Turner refused to do. Instead, he offered, he told the Advertiser, to give a check for the $2 70 and hand it over to Mr. Hill and his friends, but he would not consent to allow Mr. Hill to run the meeting by putting the motion, when any who had contributed were not present.

Dissenters to Meet. Mr. Hill and other dissenters have called a meeting for Thursday night next, when a new branch of the New Thought Society of London is likely to be called into being.

Mr. Turner declares that Mr. Hill and his friends are Socialists, and are determined to break up the new thought meetings.

If Mr. Hill is a Socialist he is also an imperialist—a somewhat anomalous political character. He at one time contemplated the publishing of an imperialistic weekly in this city, devoted to the interests of the British Empire.

NO MORE NAVAL BOATS ON LAKE

Washington Fears Treaty May Soon Be Abrogated.

ONE REQUEST REFUSED

State Department Declines to Send New Boat for the Toledo Reserves.

Washington, June 14.—The effort of Walter Brown and Captain Hickett to secure a boat for the Toledo naval reserves to replace the ancient Essex has called attention to the treaty between this country and Canada prohibiting war vessels on the great lakes. Some of the officials around the state department are of the opinion that this country has gone too far already in furnishing vessels for the naval reserves on the great lakes, and that the training ships on these waters should be removed.

It is being suggested that Canada, in issuing permits for the large fleet of naval training ships, is now in position to make similar requests from the United States for such vessels, and that if a half is not called this treaty will be virtually abrogated.

Recently, through the efforts of senators from Illinois, the state department secured consent from the Canadian Government to let the first-class gunboat Nashville on the great lakes as a training ship for the Illinois naval reserve. The Nashville carries a full armament and she has no right on the lakes under the treaty. Naturally, Toledo, which has a strong organization of reserves, is asking for the same class of boat, and the state department is convinced that if a half is not called there will soon be a strong fleet on the lakes.

The navy department has refused the request of the Toledo naval militia but has promised to put the Essex in repair in time for the summer manoeuvres on the great lakes.

Eight Hub Fishers LOST IN DENSE FOG

Dories Disappeared and Schooner Was Unable to Locate Them.

Boston, June 14.—With eight of her crew missing the fishing schooner Nettie Franklin arrived in port early today, after a fruitless two days' search for the men. The eight men were out in their dories hauling the trawls on Thursday morning when a heavy fog set in.

Capt. Antone P. Silva, of the Franklin, at once bore down upon the place where the dories were last seen, but he could find no trace of them. The Franklin remained on the fishing grounds cruising around in an effort to pick up the missing members of her crew until Saturday morning, when the search was given up and the vessel was headed for Boston. It is believed that the fishermen have been picked up by the vessels of the fishing fleet.

MAD COW CHARGED BOY FELL AND BROKE ITS NECK

Narrow Escape of a Lad at Thorndale on Saturday Afternoon.

A young lad living near Thorndale escaped a narrow escape for his life on Saturday when a cow belonging to John Snow, Pottersburg, made mad with the heat, charged him. By the narrow margin he avoided the charging animal, and it went over an embankment, breaking its neck.

Mr. Snow had purchased the animal from a farmer on the other side of Thorndale. She was somewhat wild, but was not particularly dangerous. When this side of Thorndale, she became mad with the heat, and began chasing the drivers.

She saw a boy near a large culvert and charged him. He quickly jumped out of her way. She could not stop herself, and fell over the embankment, breaking her neck.

The boy escaped without a scratch, although his escape was quite a narrow one.

The loss will be considerable, as the animal was valuable.

TRIP TO TORONTO RE SEPTIC TANKS

London and Other Places Will Confer in Reference to Threatened Lawsuits.

A conference of representatives of the municipalities interested in septic tanks will be held in Toronto tomorrow. Mayor Stevely and City Solicitor Meredith will probably attend.

A large number of municipalities will be represented, and it is quite probable that a test case will be made of the suit in the courts.

It will be remembered that a Chicago firm is demanding royalty rights on all septic tanks in use in Canada, claiming that they have patent rights on the idea.

"It looks as if the municipalities will fight," said Mayor Stevely. "They will get together tomorrow, and in all probability will decide to make a test case, and settle the question as to whether or not the company has the right to ask for royalties."

LOUISVILLE BOYS SOLD ADVERTISERS

Shriners Had the Great Home Paper With London News Daily.

AL DAVIS HOME AGAIN

Says the Mocha Temple Delegates Had the Time of Their Lives in Kentucky.

The Shriners have returned from their trip to Louisville to the convention, and from all that can be learned they had the time of their lives. Every minute was filled with fun, and the only reason there was not more fun was that 24 hours did not hold enough minutes.

"We had a great time," said Ill. Potentate A. L. Davis. "The southerners did all they could for us, and what a great time we had! It was immense."

Best Pipe Band. "And don't forget that London cut some figure. Beyond question we had the best pipe band in that city, and everywhere they went we made a decided hit. Drummer Proove was a big hit in that city with his drumming and they would have worked him to death if he had allowed them to."

The Maple Leaf was the whole thing down there. Our souvenirs were in great demand, and wherever we went we made them think that Canada was about the real place. The Winnipeg Shriners did great work in advertising Canada. They spent some thousands of dollars in souvenirs and other advertising matter to let the Americans know that we are alive on the northern half of the continent.

Maple Leaf Club. "We were handsomely entertained by the Maple Leaf Club of Louisville. This is formed of Canadians living in that city, and it certainly is a live organization. Mr. Norman Rushton, the president, met us when our train arrived, and was indefatigable in looking after our interests."

"Mr. Gordon Murray, who is, by the way, an old Erie Zorra boy, is secretary of the club, and made us feel at home every minute. He had had a banquet, at which Mr. S. Baker, London's city clerk, responded to the toast to the city of London. Mr. Geo. Sulman, M. P. P., made a fine speech in response to the toast to the legislative bodies of Canada."

There was so much happening that we can scarcely remember exactly what did take place. We go to New Orleans in April next year—at the time of the Mardi Gras festival. Preparations are already under way for that, and we will have the time of our lives there.

"Most of the party visited the Mammoth Cave."

Advertiser at Louisville.

The Advertiser took a prominent part in the big convention. Every day the people from London and the Louisville Post, a live evening paper, which prints The Advertiser's bulletins under The Advertiser's headings, along with news bulletins from other papers of the larger cities.

"On the streets the boys sold The Advertiser at 10 cents a copy, and there were plenty of buyers. It sounded like home to hear the boys shout, 'London Advertiser; all the news of London, Ontario!'"

CANADIANS SLATED FOR BIRTHDAY HONORS

Ottawa, June 14.—There is already some gossip current about the Canadians who will be included in the coming list of birthday honors. Postmaster-General Lennox and Mr. William Mackenzie, of Mackenzie & Mann, are mentioned, and also Hon. L. P. Brodeur.

It is stated here on information almost direct, that Hon. W. H. Holt, M. P. for Kingston, has been recommended for knighthood by the Canadian Government.

ANNUAL SESSION OF SYNOD OF HURON

Important Gathering of Anglicans Will Assemble in Cronyn Hall on Tuesday.

The fifty-second session of the Synod of the Diocese of Huron will open at 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon in St. Paul's Cathedral, and a very large number of those who will attend arrived in the city today.

A meeting of the delegates will be held this evening in Huron College. Rev. Canon Davis will preside, and an address will be given by Rev. R. S. W. Howard of "The Pan-Anglican Congress." The discussion following will be participated in by Ven. Archdeacon Richardson, Rev. Canon Brown, of Paris, and Rural Dean Chadwick, of Windsor.

There will also be held in Huron College this evening a banquet of the Huron College Alumni Association, when a number of addresses will be given.

Clergy Assemble.
Tomorrow morning the clergy will assemble at 8 o'clock for breakfast, and following the meal, a meeting will be held. Ven. Archdeacon Hill will preside, and an address on "The Ordering of Priests" will be given by Rural Dean Wallace, of Woodstock, and the discussion will be led by Rev. S. P. Irwin, of Watford; Rev. V. M. Durnford, of Waterloo, and Rev. R. B. Everett, of Port Huron.

The synod meeting proper opens at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Prior to the opening, the quarterly meeting of the executive committee will be held in Cronyn Hall. In the morning holy communion will be celebrated at 10:30 o'clock, and Ven. Archdeacon McKenney will preach.

Bishop Will Preach.
His Lordship Bishop Williams will preside, and it is likely that his charge will be given to the synod at tomorrow afternoon's meeting. He will touch upon a number of the questions to come up for consideration, particularly mentioning the questions of church union, laymen's missionary movement, and revision of the hymnal.

A notice of motion by the bishop that it is desirable to form the dioceses of Ontario now in the ecclesiastical province of Canada into a separate ecclesiastical province will be considered.

A great deal of discussion will take place on a proposed amendment to the canon on restraining undue expenditure in church building.

SACRED CONCERT WAS LARGELY PATRONIZED

Tremendous Crowd Listened to Programme Rendered by Two Bands.

Despite the threatening nature of the weather and the damp grass, that made conditions anything but favorable for fluffy summer dresses, the sacred concert in Victoria Park last night was a great success. It is not likely that even under the most favorable circumstances there could have been more people gathered in the park. Immediately after the church services the concert began, and the worshippers from the near-by churches soon formed a solid phalanx around the bandstand, while the more distant churches kept constantly pouring in their quota to swell the crowd. By 9 o'clock there must have been considerably more than 5,000 people in the park. It was a very pretty sight. The light dresses of the ladies standing out in relief against the sober hues of the men, while the scarlet coats of the soldiers added still more to the brightness of the scene.

The Twenty-sixth Middlesex Band gave a very fine programme, and its numbers were heartily applauded. The concert came to a close shortly before 10, owing to a threatening thunderstorm, but even then the people were loath to leave. The concert was beyond all question greatly appreciated.

WRESTLERS IN LONG BOUT.
Calumet, Mich., June 13.—John Rowett, of Besenau, and Joe Sishir, Calumet world's champion at Corvish, wrestled, wrestled two hours and a half for the championship last night, going to no decision. The match ended at midnight. Rowett got the only fall, taking twenty hitches and going an hour and ten minutes to get it. They will be matched again later.

STRAWBERRIES ON THE MARKET ON TUESDAY

Keep One Eye Peeled for the Canadian Variety Tomorrow—Some Fruit Gossip.

The fruit season is beginning, and within a week or so now will be in full swing. So far there have been no local strawberries offered for sale in the city, and consequently the best berries have not been obtainable up to the present, as the Canadian berry is the best in the world.

On Tuesday it is expected that there will be a supply of local berries on the market. These are from Essex County. The first of the Niagara district berries will be in by the end of the week. These come from around Jordan Harbour, where the earliest crop is found. The remainder of the peninsula, from Winona to Beamsville and Vineland, is about a week later, so the full crop will not be producing for nearly two weeks. From then on, however, there will be almost a continuous supply, as the Oakville and Clarkson berries, and those from around Burlington, which are the best in the country, will not be producing till the Niagara crop is practically exhausted. The berry that will be on sale this week is the Michael, a comparatively small, very red variety, that is noted for its sweetness, and is one of the best preserving varieties.

Two Varieties.
The Williams and Clide, the white-tipped varieties, that are the favorites for preserving, will not be obtainable for some weeks yet, as they are a week or more later than the Michaels.

Some new varieties have been introduced in the immediate vicinity of London, and they promise to be very productive, and of fine quality. They will be on sale towards the end of this week or the beginning of the next. Mr. C. W. Baker, the president of the local branch of the O. V. G. A., in speaking of the berry situation, said that there would be less fruit offered on the market than usual, as the growers had united to sell to the large buyers. This had not been done with any idea of holding up the market, and it was not expected that any such would result. The reason for the step was the imperative need of putting more time on the cultivation of the patches, which was impossible with the amount of time necessary to sell the fruit on the open market.

Mr. Baker sees no likelihood of a glutted market. The canning factories are buying so largely now that it is almost impossible to overstock the market. If the berries drop as low as 7 cents, Mr. Baker thinks, it will be about the limit. They may go somewhat lower at certain times, but this is about as moderate as can be reasonably expected.

Danger Yet.
There is as yet, of course, considerable danger of a heavy frost doing great damage to the crop, but the danger of this is becoming less every day, and there is every prospect of a good strawberry year.

With regard to other fruit it is a little early to speak definitely. The raspberry crop, however, which was remarkably light last year, shows signs of being a record-breaker this year. The raspberry is very subject to blight, however, and sometimes with just as good prospects as there are this year the crop has been a comparative failure. Still everything points to a good supply. Currants, gooseberries and other fruits of the variety look as though they would be very profitable this year. They will be somewhat later this year, but the season, if anything has been to their advantage, as the abundance of rain has tended to give late fruit, while the danger of frost is less likely at this time of year than in an earlier season. The worst that has to be feared now, apart from some unexpected blight, is that the season will be very hot, which has a tendency to scald the berries and ripen them too fast for proper handling.

Large Fruit.
In the larger fruits there is a very good prospect also. Cherries were only a medium crop last year, but the blossoms this year seem to suggest that the supply will be a very large one. Plums and pears have been fairly productive lately and it is expected that this season will see an exception, and peaches will likely be better crop. The Elberta, one of the best canning varieties, is especially well-blossomed, while the Crawford shows signs of being better loaded than in the past year or so.

Apple prospects are looking very favorable. All varieties have shown fine blossoming, and as late rain has an off year it is likely that there will be a bumper crop this fall. This is especially true of the more fancy varieties that have been very short for several years past.

Altogether the prospects for the fruit season are very bright. Of course there are always a number of circumstances that may arise to damage the supply at this early stage of the season, but aside from that there is no doubt that this will be one of the best fruit seasons in a number of years.

MULVEY'S SUCCESSOR.
Toronto, June 12.—The appointment of S. A. Armstrong as assistant provincial secretary, succeeding Thomas Mulvey, K.C., resigned, is gazetted today.

The following division court appointments also are gazetted: Minlan Crawford, Walkerville, to be clerk of the first court of Bruce, succeeding John Lee; John Lunz, Drayton, to be clerk of the seventh court of Wellington, succeeding W. W. Farewell, resigned; C. E. Biehn, Chesley, clerk of the twelfth court of Bruce, succeeding J. O. Stinson, resigned; Thomas Brown, Wroxeter, to be clerk of the ninth court of Huron, succeeding Joseph Cowan, resigned.

ESCAPED FROM JAIL.
St. Catharines, June 12.—William Campbell, arrested on the charge of stealing five tons of ballast from the O'Neill bridge over the Welland Canal, escaped from the lockup some time during last night. He is supposed to have been aided by friends. Campbell was to have appeared in the police court this morning.

STEPMOTHER MURDERER EXPIATES HIS CRIME

William Scott Went to Electric Chair at Auburn This Morning.

Auburn, N. Y., June 14.—William Scott was successfully electrocuted in Auburn Prison this morning for the murder of his stepmother, Mrs. Della M. Scott, near Chenango Lake, a short distance from Norwich, in October of 1907. Two shocks were used to kill. The first one was of 1,340 volts at 8½ amperes, and lasted for 3 seconds beyond a minute; and the second one, of full strength, was on but ten seconds. Scott walked to the death chair fearlessly and without evidencing the least sign of emotion.

Scott shot his stepmother while they were in the wagon together on a trip, the ostensible purpose of which Scott said was to purchase a stove. The body was thrown into some brambles in a wooded part of the country, and it was not found until Scott, under arrest on suspicion of the murder, led officials to the place several days later.

MILITIA CHANGES
Several Resignations in the Command of Ontario West.

Ottawa, June 14.—The following militia changes are promulgated in last week's issue of the Canada Gazette:

Thirty-second Bruce Regiment—Capt. H. H. Sinclair is permitted to resign his commission.
Western Ontario Command, First Infantry Brigade—To be brigade major: Lieut.-Col. Robert MacKenzie, from the Twenty-seventh Lambton Regiment, St. Clair Borders, vice Lieut.-Col. R. McEwen, promoted.
Sixth London Battery, Canadian Field Artillery—Provisional Lieutenant (superannuated) A. Zimmerman is permitted to retire.

Twenty-sixth Regiment Middlesex Light Infantry—To be lieutenant-colonel and to command the regiment: Major B. Robson, vice Lieut.-Col. T. B. Welch, who, on the expiration of his period of tenure of command, is transferred to the reserve of officers.
Twenty-seventh Lambton Regiment, St. Clair Borders—To be lieutenant-colonel and to command the regiment: Major R. I. Towers, vice Lieut.-Col. R. MacKenzie, who, on the expiration of his period of tenure of command, is transferred as brigade major, First Infantry Brigade.

To be provisional lieutenants: Robert Wellington Armstrong, gentleman, vice J. Newton, resigned.
Corp. Stanley Liddle Wall, vice S. M. Fisher, resigned.

GOES TO JOLLET.
Chicago, June 14.—Former Judge Abner Smith, who probably will be taken to the Joliet penitentiary tomorrow to begin his sentence for bank wrecking, spent many hours yesterday riding through the parks of the city, and vicinity scenes he may never see again.

Sheriff Strassheim has arranged to take charge of the former jurist at midnight tonight when his reprieve expired.

BRANTFORD LOST.
New York, June 12.—By a score of 10 to 2 the Crescent Athletic Club today defeated the Brantford, Ont., team at lacrosse. The game was played at Bay Ridge.

JUST ONE A DAY
How the Coffee Drinker Compromises His Health.

Some people say: "Coffee don't hurt me," and then add: "Anyway, I only drink one cup a day."
If coffee really don't hurt, why not drink more? There is but one answer, and that is, coffee does hurt them and they know it. When they drink it once a day, they compromise with their enemy. There are people whom one cup of coffee a day will put in bed, if the habit is continued.

Although warned by physicians to let coffee alone, I have always been so fond of it that I continued to use it," confesses an Ohio lady. I compromised with myself and drank just one cup every morning, until about six weeks ago.

"All the time I was drinking coffee I had heart trouble, I grew steadily worse, and finally I had such alarming sensations in my head (sometimes causing me to fall down), that I at last took my doctor's advice and quit coffee and began to use Postum in its place.
The results have been all that the doctor hoped for. I have not only lost my craving for coffee and enjoy my good Postum just as well, but my heart trouble has ceased, and I have no more dizzy spells in my head. I feel better in every way, and consider myself a very fortunate woman to have found the truth about Postum.
Look in packages for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville." "There's a Reason."

PICCADILLY STREET BOY PAINFULLY INJURED

Accident to Young Son of Mr. Philip McGinnis, the Well-Known Horseman.

Charles McGinnis, the 8-year-old son of Mr. Philip McGinnis, of 462 Piccadilly street, was stepped on by a horse on Saturday afternoon and painfully bruised. His injuries are not serious, and he will be around in a day or two.

Young McGinnis was trying to ride on the rear step of an ice wagon. The wheels went into a rut, and the boy was thrown off. A horse following closely behind the wagon stepped on the boy. The hoof struck him a glancing blow, bruising his hip somewhat severely, but not injuring the bone.

Dr. Tillmann stated this morning that the boy would be about in a day or two, as he was suffering only from bruises.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING OF MIDDLESEX W. C. T. U.

Addresses Given by Prominent Local Ladies—Session a Success.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union for the county of Middlesex held its annual convention in Glencoe on Friday, and was fairly well attended.

The Presbyterian Church of that pretty little town had thrown wide its doors to welcome the visiting delegates, and every kindness was shown them by the pastor, Rev. Weir and his genial and many-gifted partner.

As usual the day proved a busy period for the local members and attending delegates. Short addresses were given by Mr. Thornley, Mrs. Heaman and Mrs. Weekes, of London; Mrs. Weir, of Glencoe; Mrs. Magdalen, of Parkhill, and one from a junior member, Miss Dunlop, of Napier.

This latter, trained by her devoted mother, already emulates her in the strife for good works, and by the ability displayed in her address will bring as great talent to the services.

Mrs. Ashplant spoke on the white slave trade, and naturally the subject, well handled as it was, stirred the meeting deeply. They felt, too, the bitterness of being so comparatively helpless to secure a remedy, swift, direct and radical.

Evening Session.
We may congratulate Glencoe in that it has just seven times as many temperance men brave enough to stand by their convictions as Parkhill could muster to the convention last year.

The Rev. Mr. Moyer, of St. Thomas, principal speaker of the evening, commended those present. There was not a great supply but the quality was good.

A short and excellent address was given by Mr. Graham, an ex-Glencoe boy, who now resides in St. John, N. B., and just a few words were given by the Revs. Weir and Muxworthy, who, wisely, would not absorb the too limited time of the Rev. Mr. Moyer.

A well deserved vote of thanks to the many whose combined efforts had made the day such a success, was gracefully worded by Mrs. Dunlop, of Napier.

The meeting was closed with prayer, and the visitors, with warm words of thanks and assurances given and received of new bonds of friendship riveted, hastened to catch the trains for their various homes.

A BRAVE NURSE
Knowning Opened an Internal Wound to Help a Child.

London, June 14.—An appeal is issued signed by Lord Beauchamp, the Hon. Rupert Guinness, M. P., and others, on behalf of the Metropolitan Asylums board nurse named Murray, who permanently injured herself by an act of heroism.

It was necessary that a child requiring immediate tracheotomy should be carried to a doctor, and Nurse Murray although she knew that the physical effort would result in the reopening of a dangerous internal wound, sacrificed herself, with the result as stated.

The Metropolitan board can only grant her a gratuity, and the case does not come within the scope of the Carnegie fund, and as Nurse Murray is without private resources, the appeal is now made. Mr. J. Frederick Schwann, of 6 Moorgate street, E. C., has consented to act as treasurer, and contributions may be sent either to him or to the honorary secretary, Mr. W. H. Dickinson, M. P., of 51 Campden Hill road, Kensington, W.

FRANTIC PATRIOTISM.

Many sincere and earnest people, anxious for the adoption of some special reform, damage their cause by the use of extravagant language. Whether from too much enthusiasm, or too little knowledge, they indulge in statements which are so exaggerated as to be absolutely false. And their hearers, who see the palpable falsity, will doubt if there is even a fraction of truth underlying.

Some of the advocates of Canadian participation in imperial burdens are taking this foolish course. They pour out indignant remonstrances, for example, over Canada's "meanness" in not taking her share in the defence of the Empire; and some are doing it who have not the excuse of ignorance. Why should a man like Sir Hugh Graham declare that Canada has been "sponging on the motherland for protection?" The publisher of a paper like the Montreal Star knows that the statement is an exaggeration far beyond the limits of truth. When a young country like ours liberally endowed the Canadian Pacific Railway with millions of acres, and millions of dollars, it was helping the defence of the Empire by providing a path for the rapid march of the Empire's troops across the continent in case of war. When we undertook the defence of our fisheries we relieved the mother country of an expenditure which has already reached about $5,000,000. When we took over the defence of Halifax and Esquimaux we gave material aid to the Empire. When we sent our boys to South Africa we assisted the motherland with men and money.

We can believe that Canada should do more for the defence of the Empire—more for our own protection—than has been done. But it does not follow that we should ignore what little has been accomplished—not so very little considering the conditions of our young country. And it certainly does not justify a Canadian in standing before a gathering of imperial journalists and swallowing so huge a slice of humble pie.

Canada has not been neglectful of her duty entirely. A larger part of her burden-sharing in the past may have been indirect; it may not have taken the shape of direct contributions to the imperial treasury. But with improved conditions, greater prosperity, and more imperialistic views, the Dominion will do much more, and will do all that reasonable men can demand. Frantic appeals and wilful exaggerations will not make us do it more quickly.

THE RETURNED EMIGRANT.

Mr. Edward J. Steiner, an American citizen, has been on a visit to Italy, Austria-Hungary and Russian Poland, investigating the retroactive effect produced on their home-keeping countrymen by emigrants returning from America to the land of their birth. He gives the results of his observations and inquiries in the current number of the Review of Reviews.

At the time of the immigration from the countries named to America set in, peasants found themselves gradually losing their allotments of land, and socially and physically deteriorating, as a result of intemperance and indolence, so that there was nothing left them but casual labor. Mr. Steiner's investigations led him to the conclusion that the emigrant, on returning to his native land, is an altogether different man. To become a land-owner is his chief ambition, and in consequence of the rise of wages due to the dearth of labor, he finds no difficulty in inducing proprietors to sell. During the period between 1899 and 1905 the land owned by peasants increased in some districts more than 400 per cent, showing not only that the home-come has grown ambitious while in America, but that he has brought back money with him.

The effects of the example set by the returned emigrant have been most marked. The standard of living among laborers in Austria-Hungary and Russian Poland has undergone a great change. The usurer, once the curse of the peasantry, is being driven out of business. The peasants live in better houses and wear better clothes. One pastor in Hungary, when asked by Mr. Steiner what effect the returned emigrant had produced upon his parish, replied: "The returned emigrant is a new man. He carries himself differently; he commands the respect of his fellows; he treats his wife better, and he keeps the windows of his house open." Land-owners and manufacturers told the writer that since emigration to America began wages have risen 60 per cent, while the efficiency of the workers in almost all departments has been correspondingly increased.

Mr. Steiner's field of inquiries extended from Naples to Warsaw, and he declares he was unable to find a town or village of any importance to which a larger or smaller group of emigrants has not returned. His observations have convinced him that emigration has been of material value to the three countries now chiefly concerned in the outflow. In no respect has the benefit been greater than as regards the influence of the returned emigrant in raising the status of the peasantry.

CAPITAL AND INTEREST.

[Hamilton Spectator.]
British capital is flowing to Canada. That's right. Let British capital flow even more freely, for where the capital of Great Britain flows there also flows the deep-set interest of the British people; an interest, by the way, which on occasion is of even greater value than the capital that created it.

BOXER JACK MUNROE
MAYOR OF ELK CITY

One Time Opponent of Jim Jeffries Cuts a Big Figure in Gowganda Land.

Elk City, New Ontario, June 12.—The building boom is well under way. A fine new hotel is being erected, this being the tenth hotel to be put up in Elk City.

Jack Munroe, of pugilistic fame, one of the earliest pioneers in the Elk Lake district, with Jack Hamman and Dr. P. P. P. and now mayor of Elk City, is erecting a five-story business block. As published several weeks ago, those who bought townsite lots from the Government at $250 are getting their returns. Today the poorest of these lots will bring $500, while many of them are valued at several per cent increase.

There is a steady and rapidly increasing demand for lumber. There are two lumber mills here, running full capacity. A large number of small residences are in course of construction similar to those in Cobalt. Labor is in great demand. Indeed there is a scarcity of all kinds of good labor, and wages are high.

The Blacoe-Gowganda, wagon road is now announced for completion by June 25, but it is not likely to be completed before the middle of July. When completed this will be the popular route.

The C. P. R. has now completed the laying of steel to within 12 miles of Burwash. By the middle of July the rails should all be in to Burwash. From Burwash to the future C. P. R. terminus, the "Mann" properties, Gowganda, is about 38 miles, not as sometimes reported only 15 miles. Before the end of August the wagon route from Burwash Lake to Gowganda should be completed.

HAPPENINGS IN SPORT

WORLD SATURDAY

Jim Jeffries Won't Referee the Ketchel-Johnson Bout—New Hammer Record—Baseball.

Jim Jeffries has decided that he doesn't want to referee the Ketchel-Johnson bout. Jim admits that he hopes to see the Grand Rapids boy knock the negro's head off, and for that reason he says he couldn't officiate.

President Taft added to his golf laurels by playing with C. Allen Lord and defeating Vice-President Sherman and Walter J. Travis, the international champion, by a score of 6 up and 5 to play.

Another world's record for the hammer throw was established by John J. Flanagan, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, New York. Flanagan tossed the hammer 174 feet 10 1/8 inches. Flanagan was scratch man in the event, and he came within 7 inches of defeating Con Welsh, of the N. Y. A. C., who had a 10-foot handicap.

Jack Chesbro was forced to quit by the White Sox in the second inning of the game at New York. Warhop and Hughes were a little better, but the Sox made enough runs to win before they went in. Score, Chicago 5, New York 3.

Pittsburg won its twelfth straight game Saturday, taking the Brooklyn Superbas into camp by a score of 10 to 1.

The St. Louis Cardinals got but two hits from the Phillies' youngsters, and Philadelphia was victorious, the score being 3 to 2.

Kroh, of the Cubs, blanked the Boston Doves with five hits. Chicago scored twice.

JOHNSON SAYS THAT JEFFRIES IS BLUFFING

And Adds That He Is Ready To Fight Boilemaker, Kaufman or Hart.

Boston, June 12.—Jack Johnson, the heavyweight boxer, who is now in this city, gave out the following statement tonight:
"Jeffries has been bluffing the public about meeting me. I am ready to box every week in the year if I am given my price for my services. I bar no man who has any right to challenge. I am ready to box Jeffries, Ketchel, Kaufman, Hart, or any one else who wants to meet me."

ORLANDO CAPTURES BICYCLE MARATHON

Event Held Yesterday at New York—Jim Corbett Acted as Starter—Time 1:19 2-5.

New York, June 13.—Defeating a field of 136 starters, Joseph Orlando, of the Empire City Wheelmen, New York, won the amateur bicycle Marathon today over a course from Valley Stream to Massapequa and return on the Merrick Road, Long Island. Patsy Demans, National A. C., Brooklyn, was second and Floyd W. Bedell, of Baldwin, L. I., third. The winner's time was 1 hour, 18 minutes and 50 3-5 seconds, but he had a five minutes' advantage in the handicap arrangement.

The weather was favorable for the contest. Percy O. Lawrence, Bay City Wheelmen, New York, a scratch man, won the time prize, covering the distance in 1:19:25.

James J. Corbett fired the starting shot and the race throughout was fast. By a hard sprint, Orlando managed to cross the tape first, winning from Demans by about five yards. The second, third and fourth men finished less than a wheel's length apart.

New York, June 13.—There may be some excitement in Pittsburg Tuesday night when Jeffries boxes six three-minute rounds with Sam Berger, his sparring partner, to show that he is regaining his old form. Jack Johnson says he will have a seat at the ring-side and will compel Jeffries to set a date for their proposed fight. As there is much ill-feeling between Jeff and the big negro, and as they have not met since the latter arrived here from Australia, it is thought there may be a serious clash.

Meanwhile Johnson evidently takes it for granted that he will beat Stanley Ketchel, although there are many sporting men all over the United States who hold a different opinion.

Madison, Wis., June 12.—There will be no prize fights or boxing matches which verge on that class of contests in Wisconsin. The lid that was clamped down on that sort of thing last fall will remain on for another two years, at least.

JOHNNY HAYES IS FORCED TO QUIT

Olympic Winner Seized With Cramp in Race With Svanberg.

Kansas City, June 13.—John Hayes, winner of the Olympic Marathon, after running nine miles of a 20-mile match race this afternoon with John Svanberg, of Sweden, was seized with a cramp and forced to retire. Svanberg finished the race in 1:52:33 2-5. Svanberg led Hayes by four laps at the time of the latter's retirement.

INTENDS TO HIKE 'ROUND THE WORLD

Toronto Man Starts Out on a Four-Years' Journey for Prize of $1,710.

Toronto, June 13.—Alfred James Wilson has started from the Toronto city hall on a trip around the world. He must not ride in vehicles or trains, only crossing the water in boats. He must work from place to place, and cannot carry more than 26 pounds of luggage with him. At every town or village he must have the local official or postmaster stamp the time of his arrival in his book. Five miles per hour and 50 miles per day must be covered. If he returns to Toronto in three years and nine months, having fulfilled these conditions, $1,710 and expenses will be paid to him. The first stage of the journey will be from Toronto to San Francisco.

RAMBLERS AND YOUNGS

Postponed City League Game Will Be Played in Tecumseh Park on Wednesday.

The Ramblers and Youngs, of the City League, will play a postponed game at Tecumseh Park Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and a big turnout of fans is looked for as the teams are very well matched and should put up a great fight.

The game was postponed from May 1, owing to rain.

A GREAT GAME.

Commencing at 2 p.m. Saturday on Union Hill one of the greatest games of baseball in the history of the city was played between two sections of the bolt works. The forging department had the audacity to challenge the threading department, to a friendly game, the threading department being all A1 ball players, treated the challenge as a joke, but seeing the forging department meant business they took them up with awful results to the forging men.

Forging Department Lineup—Guy Guymor, Gus Guymor, J. Carson, W. Newman, W. Lipsitt, S. Bullard, T. Walters, Scotty Allan, G. Overton. Batteries—Gus Guymor and Sam Bullard. Coach in chief for the forging men, Frank Beach.

Threading Department Lineup—Jack Smith, W. Oliver, C. Norman, W. Guymor, B. Guymor, C. Green, W. Barberich, A. Thorne, H. Welch, Batteries—C. Norman and W. Guymor. Score, 10-9, in favor of the threading department.

SHRUBB BEAT SELLEN IN TWELVE-MILE RACE

New American Records Set Up in Event at Toronto Saturday.

Toronto, June 13.—Alfred Shrubbs last night defeated Percy Sellen, the ex-amateur crack five-miler of the Irish Canadian Club, by a lap and a half on a four-lap track in a twelve-mile contest in the record time of 1:03:11 3-5. Shrubbs led from the start, and was never headed.

New American records were set up for all distances from three miles up. The five miles were done in 25:16, the ten miles in 52:31, and the full distance in 1:03:11 3-5.

NEBRICH BEATEN

Buffalo Boy Taken Into Camp by Henry St. Yves.

Buffalo, June 12.—Henri St. Yves, the French distance runner, defeated Frank Nebrich, a local man in a 15-mile race here today. St. Yves led by half a mile at the finish in 1:28:07 2-5.

A Prince of Sinners

BY PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM.

Author of "A Lost Leader," "The Mafelator," "A Maker of History," Etc.

"That's right, Brooks," Mr. Bullson declared. "Stick up for your pals."

Brooks looked a little annoyed. "The only claim I have upon Lord Arranmore's acquaintance," he remarked, "is his kindness to my father, I hope, Dr. Seventon, that you are going to press the matter of that feverish home. I have a little information which I think you might make use of."

He changed his place, wine-glass and then conversation drifted. But he found the position of the star one which the Bullsoms were determined to force upon him, for they had no sooner entered the drawing-room than Selina came rushing across the room to him and drew him confidentially on one side.

"Mr. Brooks," she said, "do go and talk to Mrs. Huntingdon. She is so anxious to hear about the Lady Caroom who is staying at Enton."

"I know nothing about Lady Caroom," Brooks replied, without any overplus of graciousness.

Selina looked at him in some dismay. "But you met her at Enton, didn't you?"

"Oh, yes, I met her there," Brooks answered, impatiently. "But I don't know enough of her to discuss her with Mrs. Huntingdon. I rather wanted to speak to your cousin."

Selina's thin lips became compressed, and for a moment she forgot to smile. Her cousin indeed! Mary, who was sitting there in a plain black gown without a single ornament, and not even a flower, looking for all the world like the poor relation she was, Selina glanced downwards at the great bunch of roses and maidenhair fern in her bosom, at the fancy and beaded trimming which ran like a nightmare all over her new gown, and which she was absolutely certain had come from Paris; at the heavy gold bracelets which concealed some part of her thin arms; she remembered suddenly the algerette in her hair, such a flash to the her costume, and her self-confidence returned.

"Oh, don't bother about Mary now," Mrs. Huntingdon is dying to have you talk to her. Please do—and if you like—I will give you one of my roses for your button-hole."

Brooks stood the shock gallantly, and bowed his thanks. He had met Mrs. Huntingdon before, and when they talked together for a quarter of an hour or so.

"I wish I knew why you were here," was almost his first question. "Isn't it all funny?"

"Mr. Bullson has always been very decent to me," he answered. "It is through him I was appointed agent to Mr. Henslow."

"Oh, business! I see," she answered, shrugging her shoulders. "Same here. I'm a doctor's wife, you know. Did you ever see such awful girls! And who in the name of all that marvelous can be their dressmaker?"

"Bullson is a very good sort indeed," Brooks answered. "I have a great respect for him."

She made a little face.

"Who's the nice-looking girl in black with her hair parted in the middle?" she asked.

"Mr. Bullson's niece. She is quite charming, and most intelligent."

"Dear me!" Mrs. Huntingdon remarked. "I had no idea she had anything to do with the family. Sort of a Cinderella look about her now you mention it. Couldn't you get her to come over and talk to me? I'm horribly afraid of Mrs. Bullson. She'll come out of that dress if she tries to talk, and I know I shall laugh."

"I'm sure I can," Brooks answered, rising with alacrity. "I'll bring her over in a minute."

Mary had just finished arranging a card-table when Brooks drew her on one side.

"About that subject?" he began.

"We should scarcely have time to talk about it now, shall we?" she answered. "You will be wanted to play cards or something. We shall be quite content to leave it to you."

"I should like to talk it over with you," he said. "Do tell me when I may see you."

She sat down, and he stood by her chair.

"Really, I don't know," she answered. "Perhaps I shall be at home when you pay your duty call."

"Come and have some tea at Melior with me tomorrow."

She seemed to hesitate. She had caught Mrs. Seventon's eye across the room, and rose to her feet.

"You have left Mrs. Seventon alone all the evening," she said. "I must go and talk to her."

He stood before her—a little insistent.

"I shall expect you at half-past four," he said.

She shook her head.

"Oh, no, I have an engagement."

"The next day, then."

"Thank you! I would rather you did not ask me. I have a great deal to do just now. I will bring the girls to the lecture."

"Wednesday week," he protested, "is a long way off."

"You can go over to Enton," she laughed. "and get some more checks from your wonderful friend."

"I wonder," he remarked, "why you dislike Lord Arranmore so much."

"Instinct perhaps—or caprice," she answered, lightly.

"The latter for choice," he answered. "I don't think that he is a man to dislike instinctively. He rather affected me the other way."

"You will think so, too, when I tell you that my only reason is because of a likeness."

"A likeness!" he repeated.

"He is exactly like a man who was once a friend of my father's, and who did him a great deal of harm. My father was much to blame, I know, but this man had a great influence over him, and a most unfortunate one. Now don't you think I'm absurd?"

"I think it is a little rough on Lord Arranmore," he answered, "don't you?"

"It would be if my likes or dislikes made the slightest difference to him," she answered. "As it is, I don't suppose it matters."

"Was this in England?" he asked.

She shook her head.

"No, it was abroad—in Montreal. I really must go to Mrs. Seventon. She looks terribly bored."

Brooks made no effort to detain her. He was looking intently at a certain spot in the carpet. The coincidence—it was nothing more, of course—was curious.

CHAPTER III.

Charity the "Crime."

There followed a busy time for Brooks, the result of which was a very marked improvement in his prospects. For the younger Morrison and his partner, loth to lose altogether the valuable Enkon connection, offered Brooks a partnership in their firm. Mr. Ascoug, who was Lord Arranmore's London solicitor, and had been Brooks' guardian, after careful consideration advised his acceptance, and there being nothing in the way, the arrangements were pushed through almost at once. Mr. Ascoug, on the morning of his return to London, took the opportunity warmly to congratulate Brooks.

"Lord Arranmore has been marvelously kind to me," Brooks agreed. "To tell you the truth, Mr. Ascoug, I feel almost inclined to add incomprehensibly kind."

The older man stroked his grey mustache thoughtfully.

"Lord Arranmore is eccentric," he remarked. "Has always been eccentric, and will remain so, I suppose, to the end of the chapter. You are the one who profits, however, and I am very glad of it."

"Eccentricity," Brooks remarked, "is, of course, the only obvious explanation of his generosity so far as I am concerned to me. Mr. Ascoug, to wonder whether the friendship or connection between him and my father was in any way a less slight thing than I have been led to suppose."

Mr. Ascoug shrugged his shoulders. "Lord Arranmore," he said, "has told me."

you, no doubt, all that there is to be told."

Brooks sat at his desk, frowning slightly, and tapping the blotting-paper with a penholder.

"All that Lord Arranmore has told me," he said, "is that my father occupied a cabin not far from his on the banks of Lake Ono, that they saw little of each other, and that he only found out his illness by accident. That my father then disclosed his name, gave him his papers and your address. There was merely the casual intercourse between two Englishmen coming together in a strange country."

"That is what I have always understood," Mr. Ascoug agreed. "Have you any reason to think otherwise?"

"No definite reason—except Lord Arranmore's unusual kindness to me," Brooks remarked. "Lord Arranmore is one of the most self-centred men I ever knew—and the least impulsive. Why, therefore, he should go out of his way to do me a kindness I cannot understand."

"This is really an enigma to you," Mr. Ascoug answered, raising his eyebrows.

"You to solve it. Lord Arranmore has been the reverse of communicative to me. I am afraid you must fall back upon his lordship's eccentricity."

Mr. Ascoug rose, but Brooks detained him.

"You have plenty of time for your train," he said. "Will you forgive me if I go over a little old ground with you—for the last time?"

The lawyer resumed his seat.

"I am in no hurry," he said. "If you think it worth while."

"My father came to you when he was living at Steepway, didn't he?"

"A complete stranger," Mr. Ascoug agreed. "I had never seen him before in my life. I did a little triffing GALT, FORTY-FOUR STORY, a too business for him in connection with his property."

"He told you nothing of his family or relatives?"

"He told me that he had not a relation in the world."

"You knew him slightly, then?" Brooks continued, "all the time he was in London? And when he left for that voyage, he came to you?"

"Yes."

"He made over his small income then to my mother in trust for me. Did it strike you as strange that he should do this instead of making a will?"

REV. MR. GUNN SCORES THE PROPOSED CREED

Congregationalist Declares It Does Not Reflect the Full Spirit of Christ.

Toronto, June 14.—The debate on church union was resumed Saturday morning in the Western Congregational Church by Rev. W. T. Gunn, M. A., B. D., general secretary of the Congregational Union.

"I want it distinctly understood that I am not opposed to the principle of organic union," he said, "but I am not satisfied with the basis prepared by the committee upon church union. They have failed lamentably upon the matter of creed. I cannot fail to see that the committee's creed does not reflect the full spirit of Christ as it exists in the world today."

"I believe to take the proposed creed and accept it as the final test would be a step back from our present liberty."

In regard to polity, I believe that a true union can only be built upon individual liberty. Just as Laurier said the British Empire could exist only upon the basis of local autonomy."

NEW CONCERNS.

Toronto, June 14.—Among the companies granted incorporation, according to the Gazette today are: The Spies Furniture Company, Limited, Hanover, capital $60,000; Canadian Co-operative Society, Limited, Toronto, capital $50,000; Montreal River Navigation Company, Limited, Cobalt, capital $40,000; Seymour Arms Fruit Lands, Limited, Walkerville, capital $40,000; the B. F. Harvey Company, Limited, Toronto, capital $40,000; The Cobourg Horse Show Association; the Stratford Bowling Club.

Everything She Ate

SEEMED A BURDEN TO CARRY.

HAD STOMACH TROUBLE FOUR YEARS.

When your food has not been properly digested, your body has not received the benefit it should. The exertions of the gastric juices have been confined entirely to removing the undigested undigested portions of food which they cannot properly digest as speedily as possible from the body, thereby only giving the blood a small percentage of nourishment with which to feed the tissues. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the bowels, promotes perfect digestion, makes pure blood, tones the stomach, and thus restores perfect health and strength to the debilitated system.

Mrs. D. A. Francisco, Rossland, B.C., writes: "I was suffering from stomach trouble of the worst kind for about four years. Everything I ate seemed a burden to carry. I always arose in the morning with a sickening and feverish taste in my mouth and was also troubled with swellings in my hands and feet, which my physician said was due to the disordered state of my stomach. I tried everything that was purchasable, and also consulted two or three physicians, but could find no relief until one of my neighbors told me of a wonderful cure by Burdock Blood Bitters. I used altogether ten bottles and am now perfectly cured. I wish to recommend B.B.B. to anyone who may be so unfortunate as I was."

For sale by all dealers.

THE "WARSHIP" SIMCOE

IS NOT A WARSHIP

Will Be Used Principally for the Handling of Fog Signals on Lakes.

Toronto, June 14.—The Q. C. G. S. Simcoe is on her first visit to Toronto.

Some excited people who saw her in the St. Lawrence imagined that she was the H. M. S. Simcoe, but she is as little like a warship as possible. The tales as to her coming to the inland waters for use in case of hostilities do not appear to be borne out by investigation. The boat is an ordinary creature of commerce, fitted out somewhat more completely than usual, as befits the Canadian Government service. She is adapted to the distribution of fog signals, and her present trip to Toronto is the annual one made with the purpose of distributing oil, etc., to the light-houses.

Not Much of a Warship.

Stories from Montreal say had the Simcoe wearing 18-inch armor, and some imaginative person had pointed out where a gun might be placed. No coating of steel other than the ordinary inch or two is visible to the eye, and the officers laugh at the idea of the boat being a warship.

People who went down to the foot of Bay Street today to see the much-heralded "Canadian battleship" were vastly disappointed. Only two hundred feet long, she looked quite insignificant where she lay beside the City of Ottawa. The chief feature to distinguish her is a huge crane for handling the fog signals. This contrivance will swing forty-ton weights around without straining a single steel sinew. It is magnificent, but it is not warlike; even if the upright arm looks a little like the skeleton of a coming tower. Nor is there any secret maintained as to the ship. No one would find difficulty in getting aboard and looking her over.

A Crew of Twenty-four.

The boat was built at Walker-on-Tyne, and has a speed of twelve knots. She logged about eleven complete voyages for the last season, but there is at present no scope for her on the lakes. The Simcoe arrived at Toronto at 7 a.m., and took on coal and oil here, leaving at noon to supply the bay lights. Captain Richmond and his crew of twenty-four men received with smiles the numerous inquiries as to the boat's warlike intentions.

As the boat's draught is thirteen feet, and the water is only twelve feet deep in the western gap, the Gibraltar light had to be supplied by the Simcoe's steam launch. After visiting the lights herabout the Simcoe will go to Lake Huron to place a big fog signal now lying aboard her.

UNIVERSITY FOR CHINA

Rev. Lord Rupert Cecil Reports on Plan to Fight Materialism.

London, June 13.—The Rev. Lord Rupert William Ernest Cecil, second son of the late Marquis of Salisbury, has just returned from China, where he says he went "to ascertain the feasibility of promoting a university where materialistic teaching, which is doing such injury in eastern countries, especially China, and which is being represented as the most modern form of culture, might be counteracted."

Lord Rupert says he found the Chinese Government distinctly favorable to the scheme and leading statesmen and educationists wholly tolerant of Christianity and willing to welcome every effort to promote western education.

NO WAR SAYS KAISER

German Emperor Will Tell British Delegation Today.

Berlin, June 14.—The Emperor will receive sixty visiting British clergymen at the palace at Potsdam today. His majesty will make a speech of goodwill toward Great Britain, although probably he will make no mention of recent alarms in England over Germany's naval construction.

The German Government has been waiting for some opportunity to make further expression of this country's pacific aims towards all the powers, and this is considered a favorable occasion clearly and unequivocally to set forth the kindly feelings entertained by Germany toward Great Britain.

GREAT CARE TAKEN IN SELECTING SETTLERS

Dominion Minister of Interior Goes to Europe to Look Into Immigration Prospects.

Ottawa, June 12.—Hon. Frank Oliver, minister of the interior, has sailed for England to look into conditions and prospects of European immigration to Canada. It is three years since Hon. Mr. Oliver was in Great Britain, and since then the Canadian immigration policy has been very greatly modified. There was then comparatively little restriction imposed, looking to the limitation of the number or character of the new arrivals. But once the tide was started, the department steadily began to increase the restrictions and to develop more and more the policy of having the country's immigrants all "hand-picked." It is with a view to instructing Canadian immigration officers across the Atlantic and others interested in the sending of immigrants to Canada in respect to the new policy of the Canadian Government, that Mr. Oliver is undertaking his present mission.

This policy he summarizes as follows: First, the securing of immigrants whose purpose in coming to Canada is to occupy farm lands, either as owners, tenants or laborers. Second, the exclusion of those whose presence in Canada would tend to add to the congestion of the towns and cities.

Immigration effort is made only in those countries which are considered most likely to furnish the people coming within the first of the two classes above specified, namely, Great Britain and Ireland, the United States, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Denmark, Iceland, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland.

Other provisions exclude for financial or other reasons, not physical, mental or moral.

These provisions exclude: (1) Charity-aided immigrants; (2) Europeans who have in their possession less than $25 in cash besides ticket to destination; and Asiatics who have less than $200 besides ticket to destination; excepting citizens of China or Japan, in regard to whom there are special arrangements. (Chinese must pay $500 head tax; Japanese have in possession $25 cash and a passport.) (3) Immigrants who do not come by continuous passage from, and at ticket purchased in, the country of their birth or citizenship.

Provision is made for relaxing the first of these causes of exclusion in the case of persons who have been inspected and approved, before sailing, by the assistant superintendent of emigration for Canada in England. No other relaxation will be made in the case of persons going to friends permanently resident in Canada, who are capable of supporting them, and (b) in the case of those going to assured employment.

The relaxation in the case of persons going to friends only applies to persons ordinarily dependent on such friends; that is, wife or children going to husband or father; brother or sister going to brother, minors going to married or independent sisters, or parents going to children capable of supporting them.

The provision of relaxation of the money qualification, because going to assured employment, is dealt with as follows:

(a) Immigrants from countries other than those in which immigration effort is being made by Canada cannot be assumed by the immigration officials to be going to assured employment, and therefore each individual will be required to produce the amount of money the regulations call for.

(b) In view of the difficulties encountered by non-English-speaking immigrants in securing employment, even though coming from the countries in which immigration effort is being made (in case of their not having the money required and ticket to destination), the agent must be satisfied by evidence which he must record that such immigrant is going to assured employment at farm work.

All immigrants who are unable to satisfy the agent either that they have independent means of support or that they are suited to farm work, and intend to engage in it, are liable to be excluded under the indirect passage provision.

Mr. Oliver will spend about two months in Great Britain.

ABYSSINIA WOMEN IN LINE

Will Adopt European Dress at Emperor's Request.

London, June 12.—A few days ago two bronzed and stately ladies, members of the household of the Emperor of Abyssinia, entered the shop of one of the leading and most expensive Parisian dressmakers, and asked to see the latest French costumes, with hats, gloves, etc., to match. They were attired in their national dress, long, picturesque draperies of rich materials, with colored silk scarfs on their heads, and many jewels.

One of the members of the suite, who acted as interpreter, told the dressmaker that Abyssinian ladies of the court were in future to dress according to European taste and style, at the express wish of the Emperor Menelik.

The ladies themselves were very lukewarm in their approbation of the gowns which were brought for their approval. It was evident that they preferred their own flowing robes. They finally gave orders for dresses costing many hundreds of dollars. It was plain that they had permission to spend all they wanted.

MALAY PIRATES RAID EIGHT CHINESE JUNKS

Hung Up a Steward and Forced Him to Disclose Location of Valuables.

Victoria, B. C., June 12.—A rousing pirate story comes from the vicinity of Singapore. It is told by officers and passengers of the just-arrived Oriental liner Empress of China.

A large Chinese junk left Singapore for Hainan, but found the winds unfavorable and next night dropped anchor between Pulo Toking and the mainland of Johore, not far from the Sultan's Asian Hotel Carlo. The crew of fourteen and four passengers were aroused at midnight by the barking of the junk's dog, but the alarm was speedily silenced by a Malay knife.

Two prahus had come alongside and in them were ten men, some Chinese and others Malays.

They proceeded to strike right and left among the sailors, laying several low. Then they seized the chinchow and proceeded to hang him up in the most stylish way for him to disclose the location of the most valuable cargo. This he did, and the pirates having secured all the booty they could make way with departed as silently as they had come. The booty was not immense. It consisted of $4 in money, gold leaf valued at $80, raw chandu valued at $90 and six boxes of personal effects.

When the survivors came to count losses they found five dead on the junk, two were missing, their bodies having been thrown overboard, and four were wounded, one of whom died later. His deposition was taken at the General Hospital at Singapore.

Seven of the occupants of the junk were practically unharmed, and these started to bring their vessel back to Singapore, the chinchow coming on ahead in a sampan.

When he arrived a police party put out in the launch Lady Evelyn and met the junk off Tanjong Katong.

She was towed into port and the injured men were conveyed to the General Hospital, and the five bodies landed for burial. The survivors turned over to the police four weapons found on board after the plates left. These may help in identifying the criminals, who escaped unscathed. The weapons are two long Chinese knives with narrow blades and bone handles, an axe with a short iron handle, and the heavy and murderous fighting blade with which the greatest execution was wrought.

DIES OF BURNS

Toronto, June 12.—Four-year-old Nellie Adams died at the Sick Children's Hospital this morning as the result of setting fire to herself with matches yesterday. The child lived at 540 St. Clarens avenue.

RUSS NOBLE ELOPES WITH DETROIT WOMAN

Her Husband Tells All About It on Arrival in New York
From Paris.

New York, June 12.—John Wright Hunt, who came from Savannah, Ga., and is reputed to own hotels in California and Texas, brought back with him from Europe today the story of how his wife ran away with a Russian of apparent nobility while they were staying at a hotel in Paris early in May.

The husband, who said that he was unceremoniously deserted for a penniless foreigner of attractive personality, arrived on the Mauretania, and one of the first things he did after setting foot on the pier was to relate his experience.

It seems he had married Miss Bessie H. Babcock, a young Detroit woman of 20, when he was fast nearing the three-score mark. Their married life had been unclouded until they sailed for the other side in January.

After a spring spent in motoring in Northern Africa, France and Germany, with his wife, and a young Canadian woman named Florence Allen, who had gone over as a sort of companion for his wife, the party reached Paris late in April. They went to the Hotel Crillon, and a fortnight passed.

One evening some time after their arrival it was on May 2, to be exact, that Mrs. Hunt had occasion to use a telephone. Mrs. Hunt was about to give up the attempt to get her number, when a gentleman who had been conspicuous about the hotel lobbies offered to assist her.

"In this way," said Mr. Hunt, "the flirtation began; but at first I thought nothing of it."

Later, it appeared the acquaintance acquired over the wires caused him uneasiness, but it was not until several days later that he realized how serious it was.

The Russian—he was known as Alexander E. De Tcherniatier, a cousin of the Czar—increased his wife faded from the scene.

Mr. Hunt trailed them to Chantilly, with the aid of detectives, and after a momentary glimpse of his wife and the "Russian" at the terminal after the races, he traced them to one of the hotels, where a scene ensued in which he took back a great deal of the jewelry given her in years past and left her with the comforting assurance that he would under no circumstances obtain a divorce.

Here Mr. Hunt concluded his narrative, after mentioning among other things that his wife was the most beautiful woman in the world and that his love for her had changed to hate.

SAVING INFANTS' LIVES

Value of Milk Pasteurization Shown in Official British Report.

London, June 12.—Convincing testimony as to the value of milk pasteurization, as advocated by Nathan Strauss, is contained in a Blue Book issued yesterday.

The death rate for children under 5 has been reduced from 67.8 per 1,000 in 1857 to 40.9 per 1,000 in 1907. This decline is attributed to the administration measures and the greater attention given to the supply of milk.

In ten towns depots have been opened for the supply of pasteurized milk for infants. Of all European countries only Holland has a lower rate of infant mortality than Britain.

This Blue Book has been prepared under the instructions of John Burns, president of the local government board, as a response to the charges formulated in a report of the poor law commission of enquiry issued last February, and designed to show the general improvement in the health and social conditions of the British people since 1850.

NOT FEARSOME DUNGEONS

Spanish Prisoners Enjoy a Real Good Time.

London, June 12.—Spanish prisoners have so long held the evil reputation of being dark and fearsome dungeons that it comes as a surprise to learn that the inmates of the Central Prison of Madrid have been having a real good time; so much so that Senor Sarrailh, the governor of the prison, has just been dismissed on account of his too tolerant views on prison regime.

It appears that among other privileges enjoyed by the convicts in this model prison was that of publishing a weekly journal appropriately named "Force." Copies of this were sold in the prison at one peseta (19 cents) each, but the principal source of revenue was the advertisements. Several long sentences were allowed to keep stocks of wine, coffee, soap and playing cards, which they retailed to their comrades, advertising them for sale, for instance, at "Cell No. —, second gallery."

The minister of the interior learned the facts and suppressed the journal and prisoners' traffic in commodities.

MISSION JOURNEY OF 4,000 MILES

Bishop Stringer Will Go By Canoe and Dog Train.

Victoria, B. C., June 12.—Four thousand miles of travel by canoe, by dog train and on foot is involved in the series of pastoral visitations upon which Bishop Stringer, of the Yukon Diocese, has just left White Horse. The measure of his zeal can be better be appreciated when it is remembered that he was obliged to devote all the last winter to the recovery of his health at Kincardine, Ont., where Mrs. Stringer and their children will spend the summer.

Leaving Carcross on Empire day, the bishop went to Edmonton, from which centre he will traverse the vast north-

KIDNEY DISEASE COMES ON QUIETLY.

Perhaps no other organs work harder than the kidneys to preserve the general health of the body and most people are troubled with some kind of Kidney Complaint, but do not suspect it. It may have been in the system for some time. There may have been backaches, swelling of the feet and ankles, disturbances of the urinary organs, such as brick dust deposit in the urine, highly colored scanty or cloudy urine, bladder pains, frequent or suppressed urination, burning sensation when urinating, etc.

Do not neglect any of these symptoms, for, if neglected they will eventually lead to Bright's Disease, Dropsy and Diabetes.

On the first sign of anything wrong Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken. They go to the source of trouble, strengthen the kidneys and help them to filter the blood properly and flush off all the impurities which cause kidney trouble.

Miss Albertina B. Clarke, Stony Creek, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with kidney trouble for several years; my back was weak, I had such terrible headaches, and was so restless I could not sleep at night and tried everything without any benefit. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got four boxes and they completely cured me. I now feel as well as I ever did and would advise everyone suffering from Kidney Disease to try them."

land interior of Fort Macpherson, a distance of 2,000 miles, visiting the "lost" church mission en route. From Fort Macpherson he will continue northward 250 miles to Herschel Island, in the Arctic Ocean, where he, with his wife, was stationed among the Eskimos six years ago.

After visiting that mission post he will return overland from the Arctic to Fort Yukon, which he hopes to reach in time to catch one of the late steamers up to Dawson.

The trip to Herschel Island and return to the mainland will consume three or four weeks and he will have no time to lose if he reaches Fort Yukon by the end of September.

NEW GERMAN PARTY.

Berlin, June 14.—A mass meeting of bankers and manufacturers held in the Circus Schumann organized the Hansa League, for trade, commerce and industry, to resist attacks on these classes and to promote the election to the Reichstag of men pledged to reject unfair burdens on trade and industry.

This imposing demonstration against agrarian supremacy in legislation is declared to be unique in the history of the empire. One hundred chambers of commerce and stock exchanges and 400 other commercial bodies were represented at the meeting.

The executive committee elected, includes Albert Ballin, director-general of the Hamburg-American steamship line; Hed Mendelssohn, of the banking firm of Mendelssohn & Co., several great manufacturers and mine-owners.

YOUNGS DEFEATED ROCKETS 9 TO 4

Two Good Games in City League at Tecumseh Park Saturday.

RAMBLERS 6, STARS 3

East Enders Took Second Match in First Inning by Piling Up Six Runs.

Youngs 9, Rockets 4. There were two good games of ball at Tecumseh Park on Saturday afternoon and they were enjoyed by a large crowd of fans. The first, between Youngs and the Rockets, kept the crowd in uncertainty right to the end, for seven innings it looked as if Youngs were going to lose their first game, but the team got together, and with a little luck, a couple of hits, and a wild throw on the part of the Rockets, secured a lead, and once they got it, it was all over. Kerr was in the box for Youngs, and was wild at times. The support given him, however, was good, the outfielders doing some great work in pulling down long drives. The Rockets secured a lead by making four runs in the second inning. Youngs tried hard without success to tie the score until the eighth inning, when a couple of wild throws and some good base-running gave them two runs. In the ninth Kerr opened things by a long three-bagger to deep left, and following this Youngs all got busy and before the inning ended piled up five runs.

The score was as follows:

THE SECOND GAME.

Ramblers 6, Stars 3. Notwithstanding the fact that the second game was a good game it dragged throughout. The Ramblers won the game in the first inning by piling up six runs. After that the Stars settled down and did not allow their opponents to score at all. They could not overcome the big lead. The score follows:

SPECIAL MATCH AT BISLEY

Canadian Team Will Shoot Against African Protectorates. Montreal, June 13.—A remarkable rifle match is being arranged for the Canadian Bisley team to come off just before the opening of the big meet. The opponents will be the team representing the British African Protectorates and will include three members of the Protectorate Government and a member of the Legislative Council. The team is commanded by the Colonial Secretary, and the other official members are the Postmaster-General and the Surveyor-General. Lieut.-Col. Bertman, who commands the Canadian team, received the request for this international match today in a communication from the militia department at Ottawa.

THE JOHNSON-KETCHELL FIGHT AS IT IS SEEN BY COVERPOINT

GREYS AND ACADIANS WINNERS AT SPRINGBANK

Y. M. C. A. Again Lost in First Match by Score of 7 to 4.—Second Contest Lost by St. John's.

The baseball offered at Springbank Park on Saturday afternoon was of a snappy variety. The Y. M. C. A.'s who have not won a game this season so far, again met defeat at the hands of the Greys, who beat them by a score of 7 to 4. Martin, the game little pitcher for the Y's worked hard, but the poor support from the infield lost the game. The Y's are pretty fair hitters, but are wild on base-throwing. The score was:
 Y. M. C. A. 0 3 0 0 0 0 1 4 5
 Greys 0 3 0 0 0 0 1 7 8 2
 Batteries—Martin and Fitzallen; Donahue and Stevens.
 The second game was really the better of the two, and a pretty struggle for superiority was witnessed. The Acadians won from St. John's by a score of 6 to 5. They really triumphed in an error made by Gillespie, the St. John's catcher, who dropped a ball, a third strike and made an awful throw to first which resulted in two runs. When St. John's came to bat they were put out one, two, three, by some clever fielding. It was a thrilling game throughout. It was only the clever work of the Acadians in the last of the ninth, when they put the batter out in clever order, that convinced the fans that their win was a meritorious one. The score:
 Acadians 0 1 3 0 0 0 0 2 6 8 4
 St. John's 2 0 0 2 0 0 1 0 5 8 4
 Batteries—Carson and Chaffey; Richardson and Gillespie.
 Christy Matthews pitched another fine game. He won the Cincinnati Reds reached third during the contest. The Giants won, 2 to 0.

THE SECOND GAME.

The Pirates are going like real champions just now, and with their great lead should just about land the ribbon. Miller, Abstein and Barbeau have strengthened that infield immensely, and if Wagner continues to clutch the ball as he has been lately, there should be no trouble in winning. We want to see it all right.
 The Tigers have lost a golden opportunity of making their lead prohibitive by winning those two games from the Washingtons, but they slipped up on it, and now the Athletics have a chance of getting up close to them. However, they are going nicely, and should come through with a fine string of victories one of these days.
 The Canadian circuit starts tomorrow, and from the number of horses now at Seaford, there should be some racing. The Ed will pace an exhibition mile there. Listowel, Stratford, London, Tillsonburg and Aylmer follow in order, so there should be plenty of work before the big ring starts at Windsor. There are a lot of fast ones ready for the work.
 Alfie Shrubbs fulfilled his promise, and smashed a few records in his 12-mile jaunt with Percy Sellen on Saturday evening. It was thought that Sellen would give Alfie a hard race, but there seems to be no limit to the Britisher's speed and endurance, and he won just as easily as he did against others.
 Jim Jeffries is quoted as saying that there is no need of his getting back into the fighting game now that S. Ketchell has demonstrated that he is big enough to handle J. Johnson, the Bengambian champion. A large number of fighting fans figure Ketchell to be the big thing in this bout, but per-

SPRINGWOOD DEFEATED THE BRICKTON CLUB

Return Match Shot Off on Brickton Grounds Saturday—Score Was 102 to 104.

The return match between the Brickton Gun Club and the Springwood Gun Club, five men to a side, was shot off on Saturday afternoon, at the grounds of the former club. The Springwood team won the match by two birds, the scores being 104 to 102. The scores made were very good, and the shoot was much enjoyed by those present. The visitors were shown through the brickyards, and saw things that were new to most of them.

Considerable fun was had by some of the Brickton club, at the expense of the Springwood men. A bet was made that the Springwood man could not hit more than three birds out of ten, and he took it up, the result being that he only hit one in seven. Getting suspicious that all was not right, he went out into the field, and picked up some of the birds he had been shooting at, and found that they were made of iron, and then, of course the laugh was on him.

The Scores.
 Brickton—R. Waide 25, Walker 22, J. C. Waide 21, McDowell 19, McCord 15; total, 102.
 Springwood—R. Day 25, Webb 23, Clinger 22, Simcox 19, Brock 15; total, 104.

ASYLUM CRICKETERS WON SATURDAY'S GAME

 Ed. Clotte, the Detroit boy pitching for the Boston Red Sox, lost his second game of the season Saturday against the Naps. Berger had the better of a pitchers' duel, and Cleveland won 4 to 0.

The Browns couldn't do anything with Bender while the Athletics found Powell and Graham for 13 hits. Score, Athletics 4, Browns 1.

Hitting Won the Game.

Clark won the game when he swatted out a two-sacker over the centre fielder's head and scored. Murray, Daniels and Rockwood. That occurred in the seventh, but again in the eighth he singled and scored. Waud was some with the stick, and batted in Murray, Rockwood and Chadwick on a double in the eighth. Cochrane ran into hard luck when he made the longest hit of the day with the bases cleared, driving out a hot one that was good for three sacks. The ball landed near the grand stands.

The Box Score.

Derbys, 11, Ramblers, 8. The second game was a little faster than the first, but at that it was not too good. The Derbys had a great time with the stick, but the batting averages of the players will not be boosted to any extent, as the majority of the wallows were spoiled by the fielders. Orr was in the box for the Ramblers until the last half of the game, when he traded places with Pirie, who had been holding down the third sack. This newcomer did not last long, however, and was put out of the mound in favor of Henley.

STEAMER HAMONIC A FINE CRAFT

Wins High Words of Praise on Her Trial Trip.

A CREDIT TO CANADA

Carries Distinguished Party of Guests From Collingwood to Sarnia.

Sarnia, June 14.—The Northern Navigation Company's new steamer Hamonic arrived at Sarnia at noon yesterday, having completed the voyage from Collingwood without a jar or mishap. The weather was beautiful, and the 300 guests who made the trip with the officers of the steamship company were most enthusiastic.

Of the ship Charles M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific, said: "She is good enough for the Grand Trunk Railway system, and when I find a thing good enough for the Grand Trunk I think it is good enough for anybody."

Hon. W. J. Hanna said: "She is good enough for Ontario, and Ontario is entitled to the best."

Hon. Frank Cochrane said: "Money will buy a ship anywhere, but it takes a combination of money and brains to produce such a boat as the Hamonic. She was made in Canada, and every Canadian can afford to feel a distinct personal pride in this splendid ship."

Mr. Cook, of the London Times, said: "It is a splendid water link in the Grand Trunk chain that will soon connect the Atlantic and Pacific."

J. A. Tarte said: "Canada, especially Eastern Canada, fails utterly to appreciate the great lakes. Canada's best heritage, The Hamonic surpasses all expectations."

After the excursion trip of a company of 400 bankers who have chartered her for six days, the Hamonic will go into regular service between Sarnia, Port Arthur, Fort William and Duluth.

The guests of the steamship company and railway left by special train at 2 p. m. yesterday for their homes in the east. Almost every daily paper in Eastern Canada was represented as well as Detroit, Buffalo, and some of the British papers.

A pleasant feature of the occasion was the presentation to Capt. Foote of a piece of silver plate for the new steamship, valued at $200. This was the gift of the newspapermen aboard.

Some idea of the importance of the Hamonic may be gained in the fact that the main dimensions are only a little less than one-half those of the Cunard leviathan, the Mauretania. Artistic effect, luxurious service and comfort, absolute safety, powerful propulsion—all these have been obtained to the highest extent. The construction of the Hamonic is such as to make her practically unsinkable.

Her passenger capacity is 475, 400 of whom are first-class. She carries 3,500 tons of package freight, equivalent to 200 carloads.

Two thousand tons of steel were used in building the vessel, her total weight being 4,000 tons. Her length is 365 feet; beam, 50 feet; depth, 27 feet; tonnage, gross, 5,240; tons and horsepower, 7,000.

The Hamonic is brilliantly illuminated by electricity, is steered by steam, has a Nicholson log, an artificial refrigeration plant, a wireless telegraph station and a fire apparatus and life-saving equipment. The grand saloon and the dining-room are but examples alike of the spaciousness and luxury of this craft.

The following railway and newspaper men took the trip:

General Manager Hays, Manager Brownlee, Traffic Manager Davis, Assistant Passenger and Traffic Manager Bell, Chief Engineer Kelly, Superintendents Cunningham, Gillam, Whittenberger, Egan, Tiffin, Nixon, Robb, Price, Smith, Advertising Manager Charlton, District Passenger Agent McDonald, Divisional Agents Huff, Long and Pettigrew, General Manager Gildersleeve, President, Peterboro, Traffic Manager Nicholson, of the Northern Navigation Company, and many others. Ontario newspapermen present were: Messrs. S. Stephenson and A. W. Woodward, Chatham; E. L. Gold and R. Fry, Brantford; D. A. Bean, Berlin; J. P. Jaffray and P. Sutherland, Galt; J. Mitchell, Goderich; A. E. Miller, London; H. Gorman, R. MacAdams, J. H. Little, C. A. Fleming and J. H. Rutherford, Owen Sound; H. B. Donly, Simcoe; W. S. Dingman, St. Thomas; W. M. O'Brien and W. S. Dingman, Stratford; Charles Hamby and W. J. Taylor, Woodstock; I. D. Nixon, Windsor. Other cities and towns represented were Detroit, Buffalo, Toronto, Montreal, Sherbrooke, Que. St. Johns, Que. St. Catharines, Port Hope, Peterboro, Orillia, Ottawa, Lindsay, Kingston, Hamilton, Cornwall, Brockville, Barrie and Belleville.

The guests of the company left Toronto at 8 o'clock Saturday morning and arrived at Sarnia at 12:30 today, noon. The weather was generally fine and the sail delightful.

KOREA'S BANK.

Tokio, June 14.—A central bank of Korea will soon be established at Seoul, with a capital of ten million yen ($5,000,000), 6 per cent of which will be guaranteed by the Korean Government. The bank will be indorsed by the Japanese Government.

Some Strange Travels of a Needle

Peterborough, June 14.—A piece of needle which entered her breast six weeks ago, and baffled the doctors to locate it, came out of the second finger of Mrs. Alice Coole's right hand yesterday afternoon, having travelled three feet from the point at which it entered her body. Six weeks ago Mrs. Coole was carrying an armful of wood into the house. A needle was sticking in the breast of her dress, and as she dropped the wood, a stick caught the needle, drove it into her breast, and broke it off about the middle. At the Nichols Hospital the attending doctor was unable to locate the part. Some time ago Mrs. Coole experienced sharp pains in her right shoulder, and later from time to time they were felt in her right arm. Yesterday afternoon the needle "sailed into" the second finger of her right hand, and was easily drawn out.

The Forest Fires Halted by Rain

St. John, N. B., June 14.—A general rainfall has stopped the forest fires that have been raging throughout New Brunswick.

The fires are by no means extinguished, however, and unless a heavy rain comes they will undoubtedly continue to sweep through the forests. From Campbellton it is learned that a whole village was destroyed near that city and men, women and children were forced to flee from the flames, leaving their all. The refugees are now in charge of the authorities of that city.

Large lumber mills at Davidson were threatened, and near Calais a number of fire fighters were forced to crawl for some distance through the burning forest to reach a place of safety. In Arctostook County the fires have disarranged the telegraph and telephone services.

Natal Votes For the Federation

Durban, Natal, June 14.—A referendum, held to decide whether or not Natal should join the South African Union, has resulted in favor of the federation by a vote of 11,121 to 3,701.

This assures the complete federation of the South African colonies—the Transvaal, Cape Colony, the Orange River State and Natal.

Practically the entire population of Natal is British, and the disinclination of a considerable element to enter the union was caused by fear that the control of the union would be dominated by the Dutch.

COURT HOUSE DISPUTE MATTER OF PAST

The Three Principals in Argument Wisely Refrain From Making Statements.

The dispute over the court house, which was brought to the public attention again by Engineer Talbot's report to the county council, has apparently blown over. When spoken to regarding it, Engineer Talbot said that the papers had treated him very fairly in the matter.

"I have nothing more to say, however," he remarked.

Judge Macbeth and Sheriff Cameron were even more uncommunicative regarding the discussion.

"I do not know of any dispute," was the way the former expressed himself on the matter, and nothing more could be gained from him.

Sheriff Cameron was not much more loquacious.

"I do not wish to be drawn into any dispute over the matter," he said, "and so I have nothing to say."

So the famous court house dispute has once again sunk into oblivion, though in deference to the many charges against the building the county council have decided on a few very minor improvements.

THE U. S. TARIFF

Expected That Senate's Prolonged Consideration Will End This Week.

Washington, June 14.—In the feeling in all factions in the Senate is that the tariff bill is approaching the last days of its consideration in the Senate, Senator Aldrich is hopeful that the end may be reached by next Saturday, and many of the conservative Republicans as well as many of the Democrats are inclined to agree with this prediction.

The week will be devoted to a general cleaning up. With the exception of one disputed point in the silk schedule the Senate last week concluded its second consideration of the bill, and disposed of all paragraphs of the schedules on which the committee provisions are those pertaining to lumber, wool, print, paper, hides, coal, zinc, window glass, scrap iron, cotton ties, cotton bagging, leather, leather goods, binding twine and petroleum.

Rough lumber remains on the dutiable list, but the question of the amount of duty and differential between the duty on rough lumber and on the manufactured article remains to be settled. In the paper schedule principle items to be considered are the duty on ground wood and print paper. It seems probable that the ground wood, or pulp, will be left free, but that the rate on paper will be 4 per cent, instead of 2, as fixed by the House, and 36 as in the present law.

Hides, coal and petroleum are giving the financial committee no little concern, but the present indications are that the senate will place a duty on all of them, print paper, hides, coal, zinc, window glass, scrap iron, cotton ties, cotton bagging, leather, leather goods, binding twine and petroleum. The leather schedule, including leather itself and leather goods, is suspended awaiting the decision on hides.

A MONTREAL BOY ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

Montreal, June 13.—Harold Davenport, aged 16, son of a G. T. R. conductor, was killed here last night by an accidentally discharged toy rifle. His companions were at target practice with one of those supposed toy rifles, and the weapon discharged as it was handed to him, the bullet entering his heart and killed him instantly.

DEATH OF MRS. MACINTYRE.

Ottawa, June 14.—Mrs. Helen MacIntyre, wife of Alexander MacIntyre, K.C., of this city, died on Sunday afternoon, after a protracted illness. She was a daughter of the late Donald Sandfield Macdonald, and a niece of the Hon. John Sandfield Macdonald, the former a prime minister and the latter a lieutenant-governor of Ontario. She was known as a clever writer.

LATTER DAY SAINTS ARE IN CONFERENCE

Three Hundred Delegates in Attendance at Annual Gathering at St. Thomas.

St. Thomas, June 14.—The annual conference of Latter Day Saints for the Province of Ontario began here on Saturday with about 300 delegates in attendance. Bishop R. C. Evans, of Toronto, and Apostle R. C. Russell, Toronto, are presiding officers. The statistical report of the secretary showed such material increase in membership during the past conference that it was decided to divide the province into two districts, to be known as London and Toronto. The following officers were elected for each:

London District—President high priest, R. C. Longhurst, Vanessa; vice-president, Elder Samuel Pearson, St. Thomas; secretary, P. Phillips, London; treasurer, Charles Ralston, St. Thomas; bishop, J. L. Burger, St. Thomas.

Toronto District—President high priest, John Shields, Toronto; vice-presidents, John T. Taylor, Garafaxa, and N. E. Leeder, Port Elgin; secretary, Hannah Leeder, Port Elgin; treasurer, J. Whitehead, Toronto.

The conference will be held in London and Toronto in October. At the special service today Elder J. P. Thompson, Toronto, and Elder Wm. P. Thompson, London, were presided over by Bishop Evans as his counselors, and were ordained.

The Sunday School Department elected the following new officers: London District—Superintendent, Mrs. Maggie McGregor, Stratford; assistant superintendent, O. N. Cambridge, London; secretary, Frank Grey, London; treasurer, Flossie Longhurst, Van.

Toronto District—Superintendent, J. P. Thompson, Toronto; assistant superintendent, Frank Mesle, Niagara Falls; secretary, Mrs. Hamilton, Toronto; treasurer, D. B. Perkins, Clavering.

TOUGHS MOBBED TWO GALLANT SWAINS

Latter Were Escorting Home Affinities When Rowdies Hurlled Pebbles at Them.

A fight took place last evening about 10:30 o'clock on Dundas street, just west of the bridge, and it is said that some of the participants were badly used up.

Two young men, who do not live in that neighborhood, were escorting two young West London ladies home from the band concert, and never dreamt of a fight until they had crossed the bridge. There they encountered a gang that have given the precinct a hard reputation, and as they were passing them, one member of the gang uttered some insulting remarks to one of the ladies, evidently hoping that he would resort to a fight.

Tais, however, was not the case, and the two young men went right on their way, heedless of the crowd of rowdies, who were following them up, until some crowd threw a stone, which caught the youngest of the escorts behind the ear and partially stunned him.

This was too much for the other fellow, who was by no means a dwarf in stature, and he rushed into the crowd and dealt blows, wherever he could, but the odds were against him, and he was soon overpowered.

Had it not been for the timely arrival of some young men, who had just disembarked from boats at Lancaster's boathouse, a severe beating, as it was the rowdies quickly dispersed and ran in all directions when they saw that aid was at hand.

The young ladies, who had awaited in the background, were soon joined by their escorts, and wended their way home.

JUDGES APPOINTED FOR ENGLISH PICNIC

Event Will Be One Long to Remember—Date Is June 22nd.

The English picnic committee met on Saturday evening in the city hall, for the purpose of appointing judges, etc., for the events at Port Stanley on Tuesday, June 22.

NORTH END EXTENSION GOES

question of population, and everything else will be settled. I think that would be the better arrangement. The citizens certainly are not of one mind on the subject.

"The street railway do not appear any more afraid of the commission than does the Grand Trunk," said Mayor Stevely.

Ald. Beattie's Objection. "I cannot agree with the suggestion of Manager King that we name the population of the city at 50,000 in consideration of the fact that an extension in the north end is given," said Ald. Beattie. "That does not appear proper to me. We might have need of that three miles of track. It might be necessary to double track parts of the system, for instance the Ridout street line, and if we agree to that proposal it may be a long time before we can obtain it. If the company would agree to remove the Wellington street line to Richmond, and put the line up Maitland street, and allow the extension to apply in the regular manner, I would not offer any objection, but I do not think it fair to give up our rights to three miles of track. We might not need the three miles now, but we want to be in a position to say we can have them if the need does arise."

"As I stated before we will have to go to the commission," said Mr. Ivey. "There is opposition to this scheme, and there will be opposition to any scheme. Let it go to the railway board."

Taking a Chance. "The only danger in sending it to the board is that the board will make an order on the basis of 50,000 population for the city," said Ald. Beattie. "We would be taking a chance."

"No more than we are taking," retorted Mr. Ivey.

"Can we not settle this question as it stands?" asked Ald. Ferguson.

"The company will not make the changes unless the basis of population is fixed at 50,000," answered Mr. King. "Under any other agreement we would be giving the city something that would not benefit us."

For Company Alone. "It seems to me the whole scheme as outlined by you is for the benefit of the company alone," said Ald. Parsons. "It will help you more than it will us."

"It is not right," said Mr. King. "We are spending a lot of money that would not be necessary for four or five years at least, and are getting little in return."

"Well, we cannot agree on the population basis at all," said Ald. Stevenson. "You ask that it be fixed at 50,000, something that is out of the question. We are divided on that point. I think that a loop in the northeast end would be preferable to a loop in the center."

"We had better allow this to go to the railway commission," said Ald. Beattie. "It will be settled by that board, and the order will have to be obeyed. I think we will be fairly dealt with. We seem to be in no position to settle this satisfactorily."

Settle It Quickly. "I think that should be done," said Ald. Parsons. "We will have it settled more quickly than this way."

WEST LONDON BOY MAY LOSE SIGHT

Roy Boug Was Victim of Very Bad Accident at School the Other Day.

Roy Boug, the 11-year-old son of Mrs. A. Boug, of 58 Wharncliffe road, had his left eye terribly injured last week at the West London school.

He had gone up to the front of the classroom to get some paper, and met a boy named Arnold Bennett there.

Young Bennett was swinging a pen around in his hand, and in doing so struck Boug in the eye.

The sharp point went right into the eye, and it is feared will destroy the sight.

The pen was covered with ink at the time, and it was feared that poisoning might develop, which would necessitate the removal of the eye.

Dr. Henderson, who is attending Boug, has removed the ink, and has every hope that the wound will heal, although it is impossible to say yet whether or not the sight will be destroyed.

When the wound heals there may be a scar on the eye which will make the boy see double, and this would be worse than having the eye blind. At present young Boug is suffering intense pain, particularly at night, when he becomes very restless.

A CARDINAL IN COURT

Charged With Having Incited a Breach of the Laws.

Bordeaux, June 14.—When Cardinal Andrieu appeared in court this morning to answer the summons of the judge charging him with having incited a breach of the laws by the allocation which he pronounced at the cathedral on the feast of Corpus Christi, he was acclaimed by an immense crowd of Catholics.

The cardinal told the judge that he came as an act of courtesy, not because he recognized the competence of the court. He said he had spoken as a bishop and that he was answerable only to his conscience, the Pope and God, and declared that he assumed full responsibility for his words in which he maintained the right to distrust the laws of the republic, when these were prejudicial to the free exercise of religion.

When the cardinal emerged from court he was again acclaimed. Women fell on their knees and kissed his ring, while the Young Catholics cheered.

LIPTON NOT CHALLENGING

Will Never Again Race for America's Cup Under Present Rules.

Belfast, June 14.—In view of the renewal of the rumors that he was preparing again to challenge for the America's Cup, Sir Thomas Lipton, in an interview today, made it quite clear that he had no intention of competing under the present conditions. "No man will build a yacht to sail under conditions that are or should be fast," Sir Thomas said. "I am willing to give the Americans the advantage of their own universal rule under which they have had experience in building and sailing, and I am ready to challenge the present conditions. I will not try again under the rule of fifty-six years ago. If I challenged under the international rule governing Europe, today they would say I had a pull."

TRAGEDIES OF THE BEACH

Three Persons Drowned at a Summer Resort Near Rochester.

Rochester, N. Y., June 14.—Three persons were drowned near Lake Ontario Beach resorts yesterday, and one was killed at an amusement park. The first victim was John Diemer, 24 years old, who, clad in heavy rubber boots and a rubber coat, tried to stand up in a canoe. The canoe overturned and Diemer was drowned.

James Perth, 16 years old, while walking on a pier was seized with an epileptic fit, fell into the water and was drowned.

An unknown man fell off a pier at Summerland, and was dead when life-savers reached him.

Henry Roden of Dubois, Pa., fell out of a car at Ontario Beach Park, on the "Virginia Reel" railroad and died today of his injuries.

CASHMERE.

Cashmere, June 12.—Welcome to "The good old summertime."

We are glad to see Mr. John S. Gibb is able to be out again after his recent illness.

The many friends of Mrs. J. Robinson will be pleased to hear of her great improvement the last week.

IF PARISIAN SAGE DOESN'T RID YOU OF DANDRUFF IN TWO WEEKS.

This offer is genuine. There is nothing deceptive about it. No red tape, no ifs and ands.

It kills the dandruff germs and dandruff vanishes in two weeks.

Read what Mrs. H. Lawrence, 158 W.
Seventeenth street, Holland, Mich.,
writes about the marvelous results obtained from the use of Parisian Sage,
the delightful hair tonic, which is now on sale by druggists in every city in America.

"For several months my hair had been falling out, and dandruff also appeared. I used some so-called hair tonics and restorers, but never received any relief from the scalp disease, until I procured Parisian Sage, and used it for about two weeks. Parisian Sage made the hair stop falling out,
and caused it to grow in quite heavily, stopped the dandruff, and made the scalp cool, clean and comfortable. It also leaves the hair silky, and does not make it stiff or sticky. I endorse the use of Parisian Sage. It is all right!"
Oct. 30, 1908.

W. T. Strong thinks so well of Parisian Sage that he guarantees it to cure dandruff, stop falling or splitting hair, or itching of the scalp, in two weeks, or money back. It will make any woman's hair soft and luxuriant in a few days. Price 50 cents a large bottle at W. T. Strong's, 184 Dundas street, or direct, all charges prepaid, from the Canadian makers, Groux Manufacturing Company, Port Huron, Ont. The girl

London and District

The choir of the First Methodist Church will give a concert at the Siloam Methodist Church tomorrow evening. The solo numbers will be taken by Miss E. Hunt, Miss McDonald, Mr. Beech and Mr. Chas. Mountjoy. Little Miss Doris Robins, of St.
Thomas, violinist, and Miss Pauline Ivey, elocutionist, will assist.

Lobo Women's Institute.

A meeting of the Lobo Women's Institute will be held on June 16 at 2 p.m. at "Castleview Farm," Konoka, the home of Mrs. D. C. Parsons. This meeting promises to be especially interesting, and all ladies are cordially invited to attend.

Councillors Photographed.

After the adjournment of the county council Friday afternoon, the councillors went through the more or less painful operation of having their pictures taken. Grouping themselves in picturesque attitude in the classic shades of the county building they permitted the photographer to do his worst.

Tuberculosis Tent.

The tuberculosis tent is again vacant, and may be had on application before June 15. The tent has during the past year been occupied by five incurables, free of charge. When necessary a nurse is provided. The advantage of using the tent is that other members of the family are secure from infection, and the last days of the patient, made more comfortable, as pure air gives better respiration, address box 447.

DOCKSTADER'S MINSTRELS.

Bigger, greater,
grandier and more marvelous than ever, "crausely"
speaking, is the
Lew Dockstader
Minstrel show which is booked
for one performance at the Grand
on Friday evening next. Without doubt the acme of minstrelsy, both old and new, has been reached in
this production.
Magically staged and mounted with a wealth of color effects,
the attraction should prove a great drawing card here.

This is the eighteenth annual year, and each year has witnessed the progress of genius and talent
in the theatrical world.

Mr. Dockstader has departed from the stereotyped circle and endmen layout. There is a well-defined plot running through the show from the first curtain to the last, and it is woven about the successful effort of Prof.
Hightower (Mr. Dockstader), to reach the north pole under the auspices of the Pomm Hunt Club. The first part shows the clubhouse and the members gathered at tables on the lawn. The jokes and songs are worked in naturally. The succeeding acts show the various steps in Prof. Hightower's progress toward the pole.

There is a riot of fun throughout.
The first part introduces the company of twenty-five singers and the comedians. The leading comedian, always excepting Mr. Dockstader, is of course Mr. O'Brien, who has been a part of the Dockstader show since he was a burnt cork was invented. O'Brien is a natural and legitimate comedian. In the person of Al Johnson Dockstader has acquired an artist who presses him and O'Brien closely for the honors. Good old, portly Eddie Mazzer makes a tremendous hit with his "Hot Corn" song and has a bunch of jokes fresh from the factory. Johnnie Dove scores in his song, "Take Me Out to the End of the Pier" and is assisted by five other dexterous dancers. The principal comic song of the first part falls to the lot of Mr. Dockstader. It is entitled "Welcome to Our City," and touches upon local topics.

The singing section of the show is strong. There is a splendid chorus and an entirely new order of stage grouping and effects. Rees V. Pros-er makes the greatest individual song hit. At the end of the first part Dockstader and Johnson partake of a Welsh rabbit, and their subsequent dream is strangely interwoven in their trip to the pole. The third part is under personal charge of Neil O'Brien, who is a scream. There is interpolated
the song "When Matilda Sings." It is sung by Johnny Dove, assisted by sixteen dancers including Tommy Hyde in a solo dance. Al Johnson holds the audience for twenty minutes of

CORPUS CHRISTI IN CATHOLIC CHURCH

Many Children on Sunday Received Their First Communion.

AN IMPRESSIVE SCENE

Procession of the Holy Sacrament Occurred at the Cathedral—The Class at St. Mary's Church.

The beautiful festival of Corpus Christi was observed in the Catholic churches of the city yesterday. In the morning at St. Peter's Cathedral there was a congregation present that completely filled the edifice.

Solemn high mass was sung by Father O'Neill, assisted by Father
White as deacon and Father Lowrey as sub-deacon. Following the celebration of mass, Father Aylward preached a special sermon, taking as his theme the festival of Corpus Christi.

First Communion.
A class of seventy-one little children received their first holy communion at the mass celebrated early yesterday morning, and also attended the solemn high mass celebration. The class presented an interesting sight as it filed into the church, the boys wearing a white ribbon on their arm and the little girls gowned in white and wearing wreaths of evergreens and flowers.

Procession of Sacrament.

At the conclusion of the mass, directed by Father Aylward, the children filed from the church to the singing a hymn, and formed part of the procession of the blessed sacrament. They were followed by the Children of Mary, the members of the Sodalita and the members of the League of the Sacred Heart. The men of the various Catholic societies, priests, and laymen, followed the blessed eucharist, brought up the rear, walking under a canopy borne by four young men of the congregation.

The Class.

The children who made up the class which attended communion for the first time yesterday, were:
Boys—Wm. Taylor, Angelo Russo, Cedric McCamy, Dennis McRae, Hugh McGinnis, Thomas Mulhall, W. Ranahan, Thomas Kilbain, Frank Edward, Gerald Ward, Francis Crumney, D. Pococke, C. Bricklin, Jack Wilkinson,
C. Feeney, Francis Hohlbein, Michael
Jeremiah, Hayden, John Broderick,
Wilfrid Lewis, Abraham Escot,
Abraham Nasr, Mandeville Moir,
Leo Girard, Leo Kenny, Carmen
Feneay, Thomas Kilbain, Frank Edward, Cyrl Murphy, Clare Sullivan, Russell Gardiner, Nicholas Fontana, Peter McCann.

Girls—Kathleen Kinsella, Lillian Delaney, Myrtle McPherson, Mary O'Brien, Lizzie O'Neill, Bertha Gar-diner, Josephine McCarthy, Carmen Feneay, Virginia Taylor, Della Cooper,
Hazel Kargus, Helen Reidy, Irene
Loffatt, Hazel Ryan, Amelia Groom,
Lizzie McGrenere, Myrtle White,
Myrtle Capponi, Catherine McPherson,
Julia Dibb, Margaret Ranahan, Emily
Gardner, Lillian Gardner, Stella Coleby, Marguerite Dudley, Angeline Dwyer,
Evelyn Mullins, Evelyn Dewar, Anna
Maschali, Mary Catalano, Rosa Malor-ana, Phyllis White, Gertrude Lyons, Irene Ward, Gertrude O'Neill, Ladaya Bailey, Ethel Reidy,
Mary Grace, Madeline Smart.

Thirty-one boys and girls received their first Holy Communion at the 9 o'clock mass at St. Mary's Church yesterday morning, and marched at the head of the procession, when the Blessed Eucharist was carried through the church and around the grounds after the solemn high mass at 10:30, when the feast of Corpus Christi was celebrated.

The children attended the mass at 9 o'clock, the girls being dressed in white, with veils and veils, and the boys in dark suits. Rev. Father Mc-Keon, the rector of the church, celebrated the mass and administered the sacrament, assisted by Father Tobin.

The girls were led by Veronica Austin, who carried a banner bearing the
and who was attended by Frances Smith and Rhoda Scanlon. Joseph Wiley and George Young carried the banner of the Sacred Heart at the head of the boys' procession. They were attended by two little pages, Gerald Forristal and Joseph Tobin.

Father McKeon's Sermon.

Father McKeon spoke briefly, congratulating the first communicants and exhorting the parents to do all in their power to keep the children from sin.

Father Roach, of Assumption College, acted as celebrant of the solemn high mass, and was assisted by Father Tobin.

REV. MR. VINING ON HIGHER CRITICS

Says That Each Year Discoveries Are Being Made Which Confirm the Bible.

In the course of his sermon at Talbot Street Baptist Church yesterday morning, Rev. A. J. Vining said:

"I have no fear whatever of the white-choked higher critics. They have tried to make out that there was no Abraham, and that the first ten chapters of Genesis are a myth. Thank God, they were not able to do it, and every year excavations are being made and discoveries are taking place which confirm everything in the Scriptures to be true."

Mr. Vining will shortly preach a special sermon dealing with the higher critics and higher criticism.

One of the weak points in modern life is the lack of the altar in the home," said Rev. Walter Moffat at Chalmers Church last night. "If we had more of the altar and family worship in the home, we would have more of God's blessing in the churches."

Mr. Moffat's sermon dealt with the stirring up of the children of Israel by Gideon.

At the Colborne Street Methodist Church last evening, Rev. F. E. Mal-lot delivered the first of a series of sermons on the life of the Apostle Paul, dealing with his early life under the title of "The Persecuting Pharisee."
Mr. Malot pointed out that the two great enemies of the Christian church at its beginning were pharisaic judaism and pagan Rome, the earliest of all the persecutions being the stoning of Stephen by the Pharisees. Paul's persecution he showed arose from a desire to satisfy his ideals of righteousness rather than from any enmity.

Rev. John Morris, who goes to the Memorial Church as assistant rector, with Canon Hague, was to have been ordained, but owing to illness was unable to be present. His ordination has been postponed indefinitely.

Bishop Williams has announced that the men ordained yesterday will be stationed as follows: Rev. S. S. Hardy, assistant rector to Very Rev. Dean
Davis, at St. James' Church, South
London; Rev. W. B. Hawkins, Dutton;
Rev. W. H. Moore, Kingsville; Rev.
H. F. Hutton, Theford, and Rev. A. L.
Charles, Milverton.

Last night Mr. Hardy conducted the services in St. George's Church, West London. Mr. Moore, at St. Luke's Church, Broughdale; Mr. Charles, at Christ Church; Mr. Hutton, at the Church of St. John the Evangelist.

Plans to Rent.
Pianos to rent from $3 per month

ITO INSTALLED.

Tokio, June 14. — Prince Ito was formally installed as president of the privy council of Japan, and Viscount
Davis, at St. James' Church, South
London, as resident-general of Korea.
Succeeding Prince Ito.

Rev. W. T. Clough, of St. James'
Church, Stratford, preached in St.
Paul's Cathedral last night. The church was well filled, and Mr. Clough's sermon was greatly enjoyed. The choir rendered a very fine programme of music.

Mr. William Gibson preached a special sermon to young men in the Empress Avenue Methodist Church last evening. He pointed out that the ago was one of materialism, pleasure and greed being two forces that are obstructing the spiritual path of many.
He urged young men not to be afraid to take a stand for the right, and to make Christ their ideal.

At the First Methodist Church last night, Rev. Dr. Rutledge spoke from the text, Psalm cviii, 1: "Oh, God, my heart is fixed. I will sing and give praises."

In this declaration King David voices
the great surrender of his life; the laying his great intellect and power with the love of a great heart at the feet of God.

Is this supreme surrender practicable? Can any other affection live with this supreme passion? The Christian may have one supreme passion and many other passions and desires. And this supreme passion will save our lives from small and low passions, from littleness and meanness, from low and base usages. The great danger of sin is not that it takes the love of God out of our hearts, but it keeps us from having any great or high ideals. But it is to be remembered that the converse is also true that the love of the good purges us from low ideals and base thoughts. And then this master passion simplifies our lives. Men are lacking in a singleness in their devotion, and hence this supreme passion will produce a life of usefulness, and therefore of highest happiness. And the only people whose happiness has stood the test are those that have that happiness which comes from a heart that is right with God.

Dr. Rutledge closed with a strong plea for a more unselfish and undivided allegiance to the cause of Christ.
