THE ELECTRIC LIGHT TROUBLE

Ald. Potter Makes his Statement To The Members Of
The Council

A NEW ENGINE NEEDED

At last night's meeting of the City Council Ald. Potter, chairman of the Property committee, had something to say about the accident at the electric light station and the consequent darkness which has enshrouded the city during the past few nights.

He said that the non-arrival of current to supply the light was due to an accident to the engine, which was now in a very bad state of repair. When the engine was purchased it was supposed to carry 85 lights. Now it had to supply 128 lights, which was way above its capacity. The city should be getting the benefit of eight or ten amperes lights, while as a fact it was only getting the benefit of six amperes lamps. He was of the opinion that there would be 135 lamps to supply with current before another year was upon us, if all the petitions for such were granted. The present engine had not the capacity to supply that number, and something would have to be done before long to relieve the situation. The only remedy was a new engine for the electric light station.

Just now, Ald. Potter said, that the Water Commissioners were having trouble with their engine, and it was very probable that some changes would also have to be made in the waterworks department. He thought it would be a good idea for committees from the Council and the Water Board to get together on the matter, and consider what would be best to do to remedy matters.

The matter was left with the Property committee to report on at a later meeting.

During the discussion which came up on the matter, Ald. Stone made the remark that he could not see where the city was saving anything through a municipal power plant.

It cost the city less, he said, when light was supplied by the Gas Company. He said that the present plant was always proving a bill of expense to the city.

Ald. Potter could not agree with Ald. Stone here. He said that when the committee had gone into the matter some time ago, Mr. Jones reported that the city was not losing on the plant, and drew up figures to prove it.

Ald. Austin said that Mr. Jones should have added to those figures in his statement, as in the latter he spoke of the apparatus as being in as good a state of repair as when installed. Now the fallacy of the statement was quite apparent. If the apparatus was as good as when installed there should not now be any need of installing a new engine. He said that Mr. Jones should have made a ten per cent. discount on the value of all the apparatus, etc., when he drew up his statement.

DIED IN LONDON

John Wood, aged 90 years, passed away in London, Ont., at an early hour yesterday morning. He was a former much respected resident of Harwich, and he was predeceased by his wife some seven years ago.

He is survived by a family of four sons and four daughters, who are as follows: William and John, of this city; George, of Kent Bridge; Samuel, of Chicago; Mrs. J. Langstone, of Toronto; Mrs. Sam. Nix, of Detroit; and Mrs. Elliott, of Glenbeim.

The funeral will take place at two o'clock Wednesday from the residence of John Wood, corner of King and Princess streets to Maple Leaf Cemetery.

POOR LITTLE BABY

A newspaper calls attention to a nursing bottle advertisement which concludes with the words: "When the baby is done drinking it must be uncrowded and laid in a cool place under a tap. If the baby does not thrive on fresh milk it should be boiled."

DEATH'S CALL

The death occurred yesterday, at her home on the 2nd concession, Harwich, of Mrs. Philomena Roach, wife of John Theodore Roach. The deceased was 25 years of age.

The funeral will take place Wednesday morning at 8.30, from the family residence to St. Joseph's Church and thence to St. Anthony's Cemetery.

ALD. BENSON BELIEVES IN GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION

He Thinks The City Should Appoint Salaried Men To Look After Civic Business, And Then It Would Be Done Right
—Alderman Point Out Defects In The Present System
Of Managing Affairs

Another echo of the laborers' squabble, and the resultant calling-down that Ald. Stone gave the Board of Works was heard at the Council meeting last night.

The trouble was caused over the Board of Works pay sheets. A number of accounts were read out, credited to the electric light department, which Ald. Potter, the chairman of the committee, knew nothing about. The accounts had been paid, and the approval of the payment was asked.

ARE ACCOUNTS IRREGULAR?
Ald. Stone also pointed out a few extravagant bills.

"There is an account there for $8 for a horse for a week," said he, "and the Parks committee have had a horse all summer for $3 a week. There is also another account of $15 for Mr. Arnold, for inspecting pavements, and during that week there were a number of stormy days when no work was done on the pavements, and still Mr. Arnold draws his salary just the same. Every night there is claim after claim coming in on this job sheet that is more extravagant. These matters should be sifted to the bottom. Ed. Jones, who is an assistant in the engineer's office, is supposed to get a salary of $7.00 a week, but the sheet comes in showing his salary $15.00. I don't blame Mr. Jones or Mr. Arnold for getting the money if the Council is willing to give it to them, but if we go on at this rate we will leave a deficit behind us instead of going out at the end of the year with a clean sheet, as we started out."

Ald. Edmondson—The Board of Works has no control over some of these accounts. We are not responsible for the electric light accounts. I would like to see the thing investigated.

Ald. Potter—The Electric Light committee is not responsible for the accounts credited to them in the pay sheets to-night. We did not see them at all. There is another thing where I think we can make a saving, and that is in the way the pay sheets are made out. At present they are made out in the waterworks office, and we pay $52 a year to the secretary of the waterworks for this work. I think if we are paying an assistant in the engineer's office $15 a week, the sheets should be made out in that office, and save the city that $52.

GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION.

Ald. Benson—I have noticed that the most of the blame is thrown on the Board of Works. This committee is subject to more criticism than all the other committees put together, and it is one of the hardest committees at the Board to manage. You cannot expect the members of the Board of Works to devote all of their time to city business, and of course there will be little deficiencies. They are bound to occur. If the city wants perfect government, let them have a Board of Commissioners, a Board of control, who will devote all their time to civic business, and let the citizens pay them for their work. The members of the Board of Works know nothing about some of these accounts, and cannot be held responsible. We are doing our very best as aldermen of the city, but we cannot be expected to neglect our own business to attend to the business of the city.

Ald. Austin—We are not complaining of the members of the Board of Works. It is the system that is wrong.

The upshot of the whole matter was that a motion was passed to the effect that the pay sheets will contain the accounts of the Board of Works, and the accounts of all other committees will be presented to the various chairmen, before they are paid. The pay sheets in future will be made out in the engineer's office.

In the absence of Mayor Marshall, Ald. Austin was appointed to the chair. There were present at the meeting Ald. Scullard, Stone, Benson, Edmondson, Radley, Massey, Potter, Austin and Thompson.

A letter was received from the city treasurer stating that he has received from the Defiance Company a check for the first payment of the loan from the city. Received.

The petition from the residents of Colborne street for a bitulithic pavement was reported by the Clerk, sufficiently signed. It was referred to the engineer for his report.

The petition for a granolithic sidewalk on the north side of King street from Fourth street to Third street, was reported by the Clerk insufficiently signed.

A NEW MEAT STALL.

Ald. Potter read an application for space in the new market building. It was from W. J. Easton, and he wished to secure a stall in the part of the market which is now being finished. He was willing to pay $225 per year rent, and would lease the stall for a term of five years if this was wanted by the Council. He wanted the decision of the Council at once. This rental would be for the stall alone, and he would do his own furnishing.

Ald. Potter—The new stalls will be

SUBJECTS OF GREAT INTEREST

Will Be Fully Discussed By The Macaulay Club This Winter

AN AUSPICIOUS START

The Macaulay Club held the first meeting of the year last Saturday evening with a record breaker attendance. The debate was "Resolved that Public Institutions, such as Coal Mines, Railway Companies, Telegraph, Telephone and Express Companies should be under government control." The leaders were Messrs. Stone and Edwin Bell. The negative won, after a very spirited debate.

After the business of the evening, the program was prepared for the future evenings. During the coming meetings, three subjects of general public interest will be discussed. The first one will be "The Preacher from the Layman's Point of View."

The second one will be "The Layman from the Preacher's Point of View." The third, "Why Men Do Not go to Church." On each of these subjects a fifteen minute address will be given by different members of Club. The first one will be dealt with by Fred Stone, the second by Thomas Scullard, and the third by the President of the Club, H. D. Smith. The first one will come up a week from next Saturday night, and considerable interest has already been aroused in these discussions.

The debate for next Saturday will be "Resolved that the City should be governed by a Civic Commission." Affirmative, Will Foreman; negative, Wilfred McCorvie. The debate for the following night will be "Resolved that Spelling Reform Should be Generally Adopted." Affirmative, Hector Jackson; negative, Percy Chinnick.

The club is looking forward to a very prosperous year under the capable guidance of President Smith, and there is no doubt that the attendance will be better than it has ever been, especially on the nights when these special subjects are spoken upon. It is the President's intention to keep something special before the club every night, and already the other members of the club have caught the enthusiastic spirit of their leader.

MANY AFTER THE JOB.

A number of applications were received for the position of sanitary inspector.

Ald. Stone—I am of the opinion that these applications should go to the Board of Health, and let them pick out a man who would be suitable to them, for they are the men whom the inspector will have to work under. When we were called upon to appoint a new member to the fire department, we first got a recommendation from the Chief, and then we picked out a man who would be suitable to them, for they are the men whom the inspector will have to work under. When we were called upon to appoint a new member to the fire department, we first got a recommendation from the Chief, and then we picked out a man who would be suitable to them, for they are the men whom the inspector will have to work under.

Ald. Potter—I am not in favor of the Council making the appointment to-night. I would like the Board of Health to make the recommendation. We want a good officer for that position. We must not appoint a man just because we like him. We must consider the ability of the applicant. I would like to see the matter left over until next meeting, and in the meantime let Mr. Guttridge look after the work until a permanent appointment is made.

THE HOPEFUL ONES.

The following men applied for the position: J. E. Smith, Geo. J. Wanless, W. J. Kitchen, W. J. Johnson, Joseph Northwood, H. G. Reid, J. Warren, Martin, John Carpenter, James N. Adams, Newton Eberts, William Ball (Cross St.), Edwin White and Cyrus A. Nelson.

The applications were then referred to the Board of Health, who will be asked to make a selection of the man they want, and the matter will come before the Council again in the shape of a recommendation from the Health Board.

In moving this motion, Ald. Scullard said that he thought that the Council should make an effort to select the very best man for the position. It seemed to him that as the inspector was under the control of the Health Board, that they should have a voice in the appointing of that inspector. It was a matter of courtesy, at least, to give them a voice in the matter. They, too, would be better informed as to his duties, and the qualifications necessary. He thought, from the list of applicants, that the Board would find no difficulty. The aldermen agreed with him in this.

The resignation of Chas. Hadley from the Board of Health was accepted, and a by-law was later passed, appointing H. W. G. Colles in his place.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Chairman Scullard, for the Finance Committee, reported in favor of the adoption of the following recommendations:

1.—In reference to the claim of Jos. Kime, who complained that his horse had been injured, and that the injury was directly owing to a defective sidewalk, it was suggested that Mr. Kime be paid $20 in full of any claim he might have against the city. In paying this sum the city did not acknowledge that he had any claim, but the circumstances were such that the committee thought that in paying this, Mr. Kime would be satisfied and the city would not receive any injury.

The report was adopted.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

Chairman Potter, of the Property Committee, reported as follows: 1.—Re the petition for an electric light on Jeffrey street, your committee recommended that the prayer of the petition be granted.

2.—Re the resolution of the Board

A CIVIC COMMISSION

In advocating that Chatham should be governed by a civic commission, Ald. Benson touched upon a scheme which follows in direct line with the stand advocated by The Great Home Journal in matters of civic government. As Ald. Benson stated, government by year, with no salary to reward them for the time spent in looking after the city's business, cannot afford to devote the whole of their time to municipal affairs, and they cannot afford to neglect their own private business. As a result there are bound to be little matters of irregularity coming up from time to time, and sometimes the interests of the citizens are much at stake. Much more would be expected of commissioners elected to salaried positions, and wherever it has been inaugurated it has found to be remarkably successful. The city should not expect free service in the conduct of its business affairs, any more than should any incorporated body. There is no doubt that many good men have been kept out of public service owing to the time it would require from them, freely spent, and in a city of Chatham's importance, the very best men should be pressed into municipal service.

A CONTINUOUS CONSPIRACY.

The Pritchett evidence connects the London conspiracy closely with the operations which have gone on for years under the auspices of the Liberal organization for the regular and systematic stealing of seats by skilled persons resigned and regularly engaged and paid for their work. Pritchett himself ran a ballot switching normal school, and has under training at various times a host of expert deputy returning officers, some operating locally, some moved from riding to riding where the borrowed local names for temporary use. Certain of Mr. Pritchett's employers, paymasters and fellow conspirators have been promoted to high positions in the public service. Politicians elected through their criminal plots, are important members of parliament and the legislature. Some are Ministers of the Crown. It is not surprising when these facts come to light and are established in detail beyond all doubt, that fair-minded Liberals are revolting against the machine.

Canada, the new illustrated weekly that is seeking to make the folk of the motherland more thoroughly acquainted with conditions in the Dominion, has an excellent article by Mr. H. W. Anderson, of Toronto, in the current issue on agricultural education in Ontario, with especially fine scenes of the Guelph College and grounds. No Briton can look on such pictures and think of Canada as a remote and inhospitable region. "Sunny Canada" is making her way into the heretofore somewhat prejudiced British mind.—Toronto Globe.

THE BLAST FURNACE.

In Cleaning One It Is Necessary to Use Dynamite.

The function of a blast furnace is the reduction of ores to metallic iron. The iron ore, like stone and coke, is put in at the top and the iron and slag are drawn off at the base. The temperature of the interior of a blast furnace when in operation varies according to circumstances, but the molten iron when drawn off is about 1,500 degrees F., indicating a much higher temperature inside.

To withstand such terrific heat, which is maintained by a powerful blast of air which acts much in the same manner as a forced draft on a boiler, the furnace is lined on the inside with a fine grade of fire brick, thoroughly burned. This wall of non-combustible material is about four feet thick, outside of which is the steel jacket of the furnace, about one-quarter of an inch thick.

The lining of a furnace will last from two to six years, according to the nature of the material smelted, the furnace being in continuous operation during that time. It takes about six weeks to reline a furnace.

After a furnace is "blown out," or ceases to be used, there is a quantity of iron which cools and solidifies at the base of the furnace. This is called salamander, and it is necessary to use dynamite to loosen this material and get it out of the furnace so that repairs can be consummated. Salamander has a ready sale, as it is a fine grade of pig iron.

As a rule, when trade conditions are good a blast furnace is never allowed to cool down or be taken out of blast except at intervals of several years for relining.

IT ACTUALLY DESTROYS THE CAUSE.

That's why catarrh is invariably cured by inhaling Catarrhoxone. The healing vapor spreads to every part of the breathing organs. Germs infecting the tissues of the nose, throat and lungs are killed. Nothing is left to cause inflammation. Spots that are sore are healed. Discharge is cleared away and catarrh becomes something of the past. Use Catarrhoxone and your recovery is guaranteed. Two sizes, 25c and $1 at all dealers.

Conkling's Inevitable.

Rogee Conkling, like John J. Ingalls, was a master at invective. Conkling, it is said, once upon a time in summing up to a jury that attempted to belittle the testimony of a rummy faced, knobby nosed witness for the opposition: "Methinks, gentlemen, I can see that witness now, his mouth stretching across the wide desolation of his face, a sepulcher of rum and a fountain of falsehood!"

Better Than Spanking

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Sammers, Box W. 4, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her to-day if you children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child; the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Subjective Drowning.

The dentist's chair was tipped so far back that escape for the village seamstress, a lady of remarkable conversational ability, was impossible. Wads of absorbent cotton were tucked beneath her tongue, some patent appliance held her jaws apart, and all the lower half of her countenance except one back tooth was concealed under a decidedly damp rubber dam. The patient's mouth was full of water, speech was impossible, and the poor, naturally talkative lady was suffering agonies of discomfort.

The engrossed dentist paid no heed to her squirmings or to the appeal in her eyes. Fortunately, however, the patient's hands were free. Grasping in the reticule that hung from her belt, she brought forth paper and pencil and wrote:

"Help! Help! I'm drowning."—Youth's Companion.

Abjection.

"No, Tommy," said his mother: "you can't have any more cake. You've had enough."

"What a fine little fellow he is!" remarked the guest. "And when you're a man, Tommy, what are you going to do?"

"I'm going to buy too much of everything I like to eat," replied Tommy sulkily.

His Will.

"Do you think the widow will break his will?"

"Won't be necessary. She did that long before she became a widow."

AN EVENING'S MUSICAL TREAT.

Nothing but praise of the most untiring character greeted the first performance in America of "A Trip to the Highlands." The company has been appearing at all the famous watering places, including Asbury Park, Atlantic City, Newport, Bar Harbor and Saratoga. The company is an organization of clever people, supported by the eminent Scotch comedian and humorist, Spottiswoode Aitken, who has been smiling upon by Royalty in London, and will appear here for the first time.

A grand musical treat will be for those who hear the romantic musical play "A Trip to the Highlands" Friday evening. Those who remember the beautiful production of "A Country Girl" will have a taste of its music again when Miss Rushman sings "Under the Deodar" in the first act of this new play. Miss Rushman has appeared in all the great Daily Theatre productions and has made this song famous throughout England and America. Her glorious contralto voice is as pure and as liquid as the air among the gills of Scotland. This is Miss Rushman's first visit here since she appeared two years ago in "A Country Girl." She then created a deep impression and was the talk of the town. She will no doubt bear out the title that she is one of the greatest contraltos now appearing in light opera. Those who miss hearing her and the rest of the notable cast will miss one of the musical treats that will be offered this season. "A Trip to the Highlands" is a refined musical play and will please all classes of people.

The company will appear at the Briscoe Theatre on Friday evening. The sale of tickets will commence Wednesday. Prices—lower floor, 50, 75, and a few at $1; second floor, 35 and 50c.; gallery, 25c.

A STRANGE ISLAND.

Curious Climatic Conditions on Sakhalin, Off Siberia—Has Two Cold Ocean Currents.

Sakhalin, on the eastern coast of Siberia, presents a very curious anomaly of climate. The island is bathed by two cold ocean currents, and in winter nothing protects it against the icy northwest winds coming from Siberia. At the sea level the snow falls continually and stays on the ground till the end of May, and the seashore is very cold. Farther inland, however, especially as we go higher up, the climate is modified—just the opposite to what is observed elsewhere. It has often been observed in Siberia and in central Europe that in winter the cold is greater in the plains and the valleys, and that the highlands have a sensibly milder temperature. It is as if the denser cold air accumulated in the lowlands. This fact is very often observed in our climate. There are several very good examples of it. All the trees and shrubs of a valley have been known to be killed by frost, while above a certain level, very clearly marked out, on the hill or the mountain, the vegetation has not suffered at all. The cold air often flows from the summits toward the valleys. This is what takes place at Sakhalin. The cold air accumulates in the low regions of the island and on the coast. The higher regions have a more elevated temperature. So it happens that the lower parts have an Arctic vegetation, while the intermediate altitudes have the vegetation of a temperate zone, sometimes subtropical.

The birch, the ash, the pine, the fir abound in the low regions and form often impenetrable forests, but toward the centre of the island appear bamboo, hydrangeas, azaleas and other plants that one is greatly surprised to meet and whose presence can be explained only by the altogether abnormal climatic conditions of the island.

Great Bear Hunting.

With a raking cross-fire from revolvers, two young British Columbia hunters have just put Chilliwick's largest bear out of existence. It was an exciting encounter that Thomas McKinnley and C. T. Armstrong had with the monster, which towered six feet high as it advanced to attack the hunters. At the time they were hunting on the bank of a small stream running into the lake, and had left all their ammunition, with the exception of a single load in their rifles and a few cartridges in their revolvers, in their boat some distance away. They both fired their rifles, and two bullets lodged in the bear, but not in vital spots. The huge beast charged them. The men made a stand on the bank of the stream, and as the bear came up he was met with a raking cross-fire from their revolvers, which put him out of business. The hunters heard another bear in the woods, which they believed to be the mate of the black fellow, but it made off before they could secure ammunition from their boat.

A Tub by Any Other Name.

The practice of moving an old steamer from one point of the Great Lakes to another, and hiding its identity under a new name, is one all too common, and is thus referred to by The Kingston News: "All over the inland waters of this country the practice of repainting and renaming old open boats is going on. The object, in most cases, is to regain popular favor which may have been lost by an accident to the steamer, or its known old name. By the transformation an old decayed hull, impaired machinery and decks unfitted for the service of a steamer, which may pass for new boat. Now it does not need proof to convince any one that such boats are unsafe for either freight or passengers, and their owners should simply be ordered to break them up. Yet few such orders are given. The inspectors are, we fear, lax in this respect. And vessels are permitted to do business that place in jeopardy all property and persons on them."

He Found a Better Place.

Mary Twain while at his summer residence prepared for him during his drive and, expecting to remain out until late, told the stable boy that he need not wait for him. He directed the fellow, however, when he had finished his work to lock the stable and place the key under a stone the location of which Clemens described with much exactness. When the humorist reached home after his drive he was surprised to find that the key was not in the place selected. When his patience had been exhausted he awoke the boy, who explained as he started out to find the missing key: "Mr. Clemens, I found a better place to hide it."

Had Other Ambitions.

William Wilberforce had a devoted sister. She is credited with having won his election for parliament during his membership of Parliament from the story goes that one day at the hustings a number of partisans began a tremendous cheering, crying "Miss Wilberforce forever!" upon which she stepped forward, and with admirable tact, replied: "Gentlemen, I thank you; but I do not wish you to say 'Miss Wilberforce forever!' Her brother was returned at the head of the poll."

Padded the Census.

When the last census was taken in France the report of Montmartre, in the Tarn, thought he would save his townspeople trouble, so he filled up the papers himself. Reflecting that France is threatened with depopulation, he added to each family a boy here and a girl there and occasionally a pair of twins. He increased the population of Montmartre on paper by about 100 souls. For this an ungrateful government has taken him office from him.

Our Mary went one afternoon
Out walking in the rain.
She caught a chill—next day her ears
Both ached with night and pain.

P.S.—“Why do you sit there groaning?” demanded the lamb, impatiently. “Don’t you know that a bottle of Radley’s Golden Oil costs only 25c and knocks aches and pains all to smithereens?”
“Get me a bottle, cried Mary, “and get it quick!”

WILL NOT RUN AGAIN

Ald. Austin States That He Will Not Again Seek Municipal Honor

CANNOT AFFORD TIME

Ald. Chas. Austin will not be seen among the candidates for municipal honors at the coming elections. Such was the announcement he made to the representatives of the local press to-day.

In a chat between The Planet and Ald. Austin this morning, the conversation turned to the municipal elections and the aspirants who might be in the field.

“I will not be among them this year,” said the chairman of the Industrial committee, “but I suppose you knew that before.”

“What are your reasons for retiring, Mr. Austin?” he was asked.

Ald. Austin replied that he cannot spare the time which an alderman must to properly look after civic affairs. During the past two years he says that he has had to sacrifice much of the time he would like to have devoted to the big store.

Since that time he has also purchased a store in Dresden, and this establishment will also claim quite a share of his attention.

There are a large number of the aldermen's friends and admirers who will be sorry to learn that he has decided to drop out of the aldermanic field. He has been a strength to the Council and his influence at the Board will be greatly missed.

OLD TIMER GONE

John U. Dolson, Pioneer Of Kent County Passes Peacefully Away

John U. Dolson, a life-long resident of this county, and a man who has always been most highly esteemed in the community in which he lived, passed away at his late home on the corner of William and Duluth Sts. at two o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had attained the ripe old age of 87 years.

The cause of death was kidney trouble, from which the deceased gentleman had been suffering since last January. His demise came rather suddenly, as the malady did not appear to be serious until the end was at hand. The late Mr. Dolson was born and raised on the old Dolson homestead down the river, and he lived there until about twenty years ago, when he moved to Chatham. His wife predeceased him last January. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Kaspar Schwemler and Mrs. Bachelor, of this city.

The funeral will take place Wednesday at 2 o'clock, Rev. Rural Dean McCosh, of Christ Church, officiating.

MONSTER BEETS

Mr. E. H. Taylor, of the S. T. Martin farm in Dover, brought in to the city two monster sugar beets, which tipped the scales at 81-2 and 83-4 pounds respectively.

Mr. Taylor has 40 acres of beets along the river bank, all of them very large and many of them as big as the samples brought into the city this morning. It is estimated that there are 500 tons of beets on the 40 acres, for which Mr. Taylor has been paid $4.25 per ton as they stand on the ground. It is conceded to be one of the finest crops of beets ever grown in this county.

“Quick lunch” is one of the commonest of city signs. The sign does not say “a healthy lunch of good food—the character of the food apparently is not considered. It is just a quick lunch, eat and get away. Is it any wonder that the stomach breaks down? Food is thrown at it, sloppy, indigestible and unwholesome, very often, and the stomach has to do the best it can. Normally there should be need for medical assistance for the stomach. But the average method of life is abnormal and while this continues there will always be a demand for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the one medicine which can be relied on to cure diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It is not a cure-all; it is a medicine designed for the stomach, and to cure through the stomach remote diseases which have their cause in the derangement of the stomach and digestive and nutritive system. It cures when all else fails.

THE LONDON BRIBERY

An Ottawa Contractor went To London With Lots Of Money

WENT BACK WITHOUT IT

Toronto, Oct. 16.—The lengthy examination to which James White, contractor, of Ottawa, and prominent in party organization there as president of the Liberal Association, was subjected by Mr. DuVernet in the London bribery case yesterday, was an apparent effort to get an answer to the pertinent query of “Where did the money come from?”

The results may be briefly summed up as the establishing of the fact that whereas Mr. White went to London with several hundred dollars in his possession, he returned with his finances in a depleted condition; that he personally paid the railway fares to London of four election workers and tendered also payment for their hotel bills in London with a sum of money; that so far as the refection of the witness stated to be a customs broker named Higerty, another, Stewart, is a member of the Railway Commission staff, and a third, McGraw, is an alderman of Ottawa. Mr. DuVernet intimated that one of the four, presumably Higerty, to whom witness had advanced the expense money, would be subpoenaed to give evidence.

Magistrate Rebukes Evasion.
Mr. White, in replying to questions touching his share in contributing to the campaign fund, was taken to task by Magistrate Denison for the evasive nature of his answers in disclaiming having made any such contribution, and it was then elicited that while the contractor had not made any direct contribution, he had “taken” the quartette from Ottawa, mention of whom had hitherto been avoided.

Another feature of the day was the continued absence of William Spence, Sr., whom it is desired to examine in events leading up to his being suspended in his post of deputy returning officer by Jerry Collins. Mr. DuVernet expressed a belief that Spence had left the country, in which the magistrate concurred.

The remainder of the time was taken up with the depositions of voters who had “got theirs.” A stumbling block was struck, however, in one Kallenbach, who flatly contradicted the evidence of Collins as to having been paid for voting for Tymms.

A batch of “independent” voters is expected from London, when the court resumes at 11 a. m. to-day.

To Nationalize Railways.
New York, Oct. 16.—The report current in America that Premier Campbell-Bannerman and his associates are considering a scheme of government ownership of British railways is expected to some extent, says a London cable despatch to The Times. The Government has no idea whatever of bringing in a bill for the nationalization of other railways than those of Ireland. The Irish question is not inclined to think, should be taken over by the nation in order to advance the welfare of Ireland.

Henderson Case Dismissed.
Walkerton, Oct. 16.—The case of Adam Stielings of Walkerton vs. R. I. Henderson of Toronto, charged with having obtained $1,400 by false pretences, and which was sent up for trial some time ago by Magistrate Robb and Tolton, was tried yesterday before Judge Barrett. The judge held no remand could be placed in Mr. Stielings' hands, as the story he told before the magistrates did not correspond with his story to-day, and he dismissed the case.

Croker Wins Suit.
London, Oct. 16.—The suit of Richard Croker against The London Magazine, for libel, has been settled. The terms include the publication in the next number of a full withdrawal of the statements complained of and an apology, and probably a statement that the series of articles entitled “Tammany in England” will be discontinued. The defendants will also pay Mr. Croker's costs.

C. P. R. Grain Receipts.
Winnipeg, Oct. 16.—The total receipts by the C. P. R. up to the close of business Saturday were: Wheat, 19,876,000 bushels; other grains, 1,225,000 bushels. This establishes a new record. In the corresponding period of last year the receipts were: Wheat, 18,889,000 bushels; other grains, 731,000 bushels.

Constipation And Its Results

WHY BILEANS ARE SO HIGHLY BENEFICIAL

About eight women out of every ten suffer from constipation. Certain portions of the food we eat are useless as food and the work of the bowels is to expel those portions. Their work is aided by a secretion of the liver—the bile. When this secretion fails, or is secreted in insufficient quantity, the bowels become inactive and constipation results. Impurities which should be expelled gather, and then note what happens! The blood comes in contact with this foul accumulation, is filled with poison, and the circulation carries these poisons all over the body. That is why constipated persons have so much headache, that dull, heavy feeling, bad breath, foul taste in the mouth, etc.

From this it is seen that if the liver be corrected, the bile flow will be set right, that in turn will correct the intestines, and the constipation will be ended. This is exactly what Bileans do, and why they are so superior to ordinary medicine or purgatives. These flush the bowels, but do not get to the cause of the evil—the liver. Bileans do.

Mrs. Frances Greene, of Earl Street, Kingston, Ont., says: “My liver was sluggish and out of order, and I had great trouble from constipation. Every movement of the bowels had to be forced. I doctored and tried all manner of remedies, but nothing brought a permanent cure until I tried Bileans. They cured the constipation, ended the sluggish, tired-out ‘livery’ feeling, and made me feel bright and buoyant.”

Similar evidence is forthcoming from all quarters of the globe. Bileans cure constipation, piles, headache, female ailments and irregularities, debility, indigestion, liver chill, wind spasms, anaemia, and all disorders arising from liver and stomach derangement. All dealers and stores at 50c a box, or post free from the Bilean Co., Toronto, on receipt of price. Six boxes for $2.50.

No range made has so many good features as this one. It's plain surface with almost a mirror finish and graceful outlines serve to make it the most beautiful range made.

And it is so absolutely satisfactory, no range could be made to give more genuine satisfaction, cook, heat and bake perfectly.

Economical too. The drafts are so arranged that every unit of heat is absorbed and given to the work needed to be done.

Won't it pay you to investigate this range. We should be very glad to have you in the rapidly growing circle of satisfied users. 4 or 6 holes, square or with reservoir and with any style shelf.

KING STREET PAVEMENT.

Ad. Edmondson again brought up the matter of the King Street pavement, from the Post Office to the corner at Piggott's office.

The Council agreed that the street needed a new pavement, and as a former meeting of the Council a petition had been received sufficiently signed, asking for a new pavement.

The Clerk—it will be necessary, according to the City Solicitor's opinion on the matter, to have the street examined and reported upon by three practical men, who will say whether or not a new pavement is needed.

It was decided to do this, and the three men appointed were Messrs. John Flook, Wm. Garwell and Allister McKay. A special meeting will be called to receive the report of these gentlemen, in order that the work on the pavement can be done this year.

For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. ## THE STORY OF LIGHT

EARLY SCENES AND LANTERNS, CANDLESTICKS AND LAMPS.

Fragile Incident of the Ancient Custom of Carrying Flambeaux at Festivals—Origin of the Phrase, "Holding a Candle to You."

There was a panic of a curious origin about the beginning of the eleventh century. It was widely believed that the year 1000 would witness the end of the world, and this superstition caused a very general stagnation of industry and commerce. Such panics have occurred at irregular intervals ever since, the last one, being within the memory of the present generation and inspired by Mother Shipton's prophecy:

The world to an end shall come In eighteen hundred eighty-one.

However, as soon as people became convinced that the world was not really going to come to an end in the year 1000, they resumed their work and play, and the making of lamps and candlesticks, like other manufactures, entered upon an era of prosperity. Monasteries were famous schools for this work, as for all other forms of handicraft, and paid peculiar attention to the beautifying of their usefulness in church services. During the eleventh century Dhaant, in Belgium, became famous for its copper work, and some of the most beautiful chandeliers of this period were made there. At about this time the "couronne des lumieres," or circle of lights hung from the ceiling, became a common device for lighting a church, and some of these are exquisite works of art.

In this period, too, various devices for improving and shielding the light came into use. Our ancestors were very practical people, and if some of their utensils appear to us somewhat singular it is because we do not understand the purpose for which they were used. It is rare indeed to find any cumbersome addition to a lamp or candlestick which has not its use. The old time silvermiths and copper workers did not spend their strength on mere decoration.

The sconces and the lanterns were in general use throughout the middle ages. The sconce was a light covered and guarded from the wind, lifted down by a handle, and distinct from the lantern, serving somewhat the same purpose, but hung by a chain.

Lanterns in the thirteenth century were made of gold, silver, copper or iron, according to the means of the owner. The light in them was shielded from the wind by thin sheets of horn. Lantern making was an important industry in Paris.

At this time, too, noblemen and rich merchants took to having luxurious little traveling equipments made for them, and among these were traveling candlesticks and wash basins in this fine enameled work, the secret of which is now lost.

The custom of having servants carry flambeaux at festivals also became general about this time, and a strange and tragic incident is connected with this fashion. At a ball given by Charles VI. the torches carried by some careless servants came too near the headresses of certain persons dressed as savages and set them on fire. The unfortunate guests were burned to death, and the king at the sight lost his reason, a madness which had a serious effect on the history of France.

Magic lanterns were invented in the time of King Francis I. A device on a somewhat similar plan was used as a sign before shop doors to attract custom.

Lamps fell into disfavor at the beginning of the seventeenth century and were used only by the poor and in passages and stables where the smoke could evaporate and a great deal of light was needed. Candles had then reached their perfection and candlesticks their most exquisite form. A candlestick of crystal given by Louis XIV. to La Valliere is still in existence, and it was at this time also that the crystal pendants came into fashion.

Street illumination was not seriously attempted in Paris until about the middle of the seventeenth century. In the streets of Paris were dark. The rich were escorted by lackeys bearing torches, the middle class folk picked their way, lantern in hand, while the poor did along, feeling their way by the walls. In his edict of September, 1667, the king provided that candles be placed in a cage of glass should be hung by cords at the height of the first story of the house, three lanterns for every street, one at each end and one in the middle. At the sound of a bell, struck by a watchman, they were lighted.

Paris was, however, considerably in advance of other cities of the world at this time. In London link boys stood about in public places calling out in lugubrious tones, "Gentlemen, a light!" The origin of the phrase "holding a candle to you" is somewhat doubtful, but some authorities trace it to the fact that, as the small light stand had not yet been devised, any one who desired to read in bed had to have a servant stand beside him to hold the candle. One cannot imagine that reading in bed under these circumstances would be very enjoyable, certainly not to one who had been accustomed to solitude and a gas jet easily turned on or off, but there is everything in habit.

More Doughbobs For Canada.

Winnipeg, Oct. 15.—Peter Veregen, the Doughbobo leader, who has directed the progress of the Doughbobs in their several colonies since their coming to Western Canada, is in the city en route to Montreal, to sail in about a week's time for London, whence he goes direct to the land of his birth. If he succeeded in reaching Moscow, he will confer with Count Tolstol, who has watched the progress of the Doughbobs in Western Canada with great interest, and then he intends returning in the spring with a large party of immigrants. He reports that the Doughbobs have done well in Canada.

Cold Storage in Irish Bogs.

For long it puzzled me to know what the poachers did with the birds they shot in July. There is no cold storage in the north of Ireland, but they have discovered an excellent substitute. The birds are buried four or five feet deep in dry peat, and I am told, come out perfectly fresh at the end of two or three weeks. When one remembers the bog butter dug out of the peat bogs in a comparatively fresh state after being buried for probably 200 or 300 years, it is not difficult to believe that grouse might keep, under the same circumstances, for two or three weeks.—Letter in Country Life.

The Tact Market.

Chancellor James B. Day was once advising a young undergraduate of Syracuse university to cultivate tact. "But, alas," he said, "I fear that advice on such a subject must always be wasted. On tact the last word was spoken by Barbery d'Aureville when he said:

"If tact could be bought, only those already possessed of it would want to buy it."

PHENOMENA OF HABIT.

The Importance of Correct Training For Young Children.

The most important years, the years that give the trend for life, are the early ones, when the little dimpled hands are outstretched, when the baby soul is reaching forth and receiving ideas and impressions, when manners are formed and habits have their beginnings. To leave the babies to irresponsible hired hands and lavish care and expense on half grown children is the blunder of those who are ignorant or inexperienced as to vital issues.

President King of Oberlin college, in his admirable treatise on "Rational Living," has this to say to young people, and I commend it to mothers: "Nowhere are the physical and physical so completely interwoven as in the phenomena of habit. The mind's initiative constantly comes in, but it is as constantly seconded by the nervous system. The time limit in habits is one of the strong evidences of the close connection of body and mind. It is a startling fact to face that a man's personal habits are largely fixed before he is twenty, the chief lines of his future growth and acquaintance before he is twenty-five and his professional habits before he is thirty. We are becoming bundles of habits. With every young person one must, therefore, continually urge: Are you willing to retain just the personal habits you have now? You cannot too quickly change them if you wish to make thorough work. From your early morning toilet, through the care of your clothing and the order of your room, table manners, breathing, tone of voice, manner of talking, pronunciation, gesture, motion, address, study, to your very way of sleeping at night—all your habits are setting like plaster of paris."—Margaret E. Sangster in Woman's Home Companion.

A WOMAN'S CARES.

They Seem to Pursue Her Everywhere—where Through Life.

"I wish," said the matron, "that some way could be devised to give women vacations. Every summer we hear walls about the poor men who have to stay in the city while their wives flee to seashore and mountain, but really it is the women who never get any vacation. The dictionary defines a vacation as 'intermission of a stated employment.' Now, what intermission of her stated employment does the mother of a family ever get? She may change her environment, but the same old cares and worries are with her still. To a father the material cares of a country cottage may be only an interesting diversion. It is positively exhilarating to him to go walking or swimming or fishing with the children, of whom he sees comparatively little during his working days, but to the mother these things are merely the same old grind. The only way for her to secure an intermission of her stated employment is to get away from her children, and I have yet to learn how that can be accomplished. But it is not only mothers who cannot get any rest. A woman's cares, whether she be married or single, pursue her everywhere. There is no wilderness so wild as to let a woman escape altogether from the cares of the toilet. Neither can she escape unless she flees altogether from society the obligation to be agreeable and entertaining. But who expects a man to be agreeable when he is tired?"—New York Tribune.

DRESS HINTS.

Simplicity of taste in dress is good taste.

To basting the skirt band to the skirt hold the skirt toward you and take care to match the center of the skirt to the center of the belt.

Push goods and all articles dyed with aniline colors which have faded from exposure to the light will look as bright as new after sponging with chloroform.

A mixture of alcohol, one part, and water, three parts, wonderfully freshens black dresses and suits. They should be sponged all over on the right side, then pressed on the wrong side, while still damp.

It may seem superfluous to mention so simple a matter, yet not all dress makers or professional seamstresses appreciate the importance of putting patches on with the twill or nap of the goods going the same way in patch and goods patched.

The Right Kind of a Girl.

Let a girl be ever so graceful in the dance, let her be ever so elegant of walk across a drawing room, ever so right in conversation, she must possess some other qualities to convince the great average run of young men that she can be a manager of his home. Frugality, woman instincts of love for home, an eye to the best interests of her husband and the careful training of her children—these are the traits which make the good wife of today and which young men look for in the girls they meet, says Woman's Life. Men may sometimes give the impression that they do not care for common sense in their sweethearts, but there is nothing they so unfailingly demand of their wives.

The Salamander.

Some housewives may not know what the salamander used in cooking is. It is a circular iron plate, to which is attached a long handle. When any article of food is to be browned the salamander is made red hot in the fire and then held over the article. An ordinary fire shovel may be used instead of a salamander, but it is not especially good for the shovel to be heated so intensely.

TOOK THE WRONG HOUSE.

On one of the southern railroads there is a station building that is commonly known by travelers as the smallest railroad station in America. It is of this station that the story is told that an old farmer was expecting a chicken house to arrive there, and he sent one of his hands, a newcomer, to fetch it. Arriving there, the man saw the house, loaded it on to his wagon and started for home. On the way he met a man in uniform with the words "Station Agent" on his cap.

"Say, hold on. What have you got on that wagon?" he asked.

"My chicken house, of course," was the reply.

"Chicken house be jiggered!" exploded the official. "That's the station!"

The Spanish Queen on Stamps.

Queen Victoria of Spain has lost no time in lending the pleasing impress of her features to complicate the annual collection of postage stamps, says P. T. O. of London. The new stamp shows the arms of Spain with the royal crown and the portrait of the queen in relief. Although one or two letters from Spain have of late arrived with several of these stamps, they do not appear to take the place of the ordinary postage stamps of commerce. Published at the price of about a penny apiece, they were privately designed to aid the funds of a society for the prevention of tuberculosis, somewhat after the fashion of King Edward's hospital stamps in England. Consequently every letter that bears one of Queen Victoria's stamps is really only a contribution to a very useful charity.

THE NATURAL GAS FRANCHISE

The Agreement With Symmes & Co. Drawn Up and Bylaw Passed

CLAUSES OF CONTRACT

The by-law granting Symmes & Co. a franchise to pipe the city with natural gas, and setting forth the agreements in connection, was adopted in committee, and finally passed at last night's meeting of the City Council. Once the signature of Mr. Symmes and those of the Mayor and Clerk are attached, the document will become law. The following is a synopsis of the terms of the agreement:

1. The gas company to begin operations to pipe the city 60 days after the signing of the agreement, and to put up 10,000 feet of pipe which are to be approved of by the Council.
2. The gas company to continue operations, and be ready to deliver natural gas to the citizens of Chatham not later than July 1, 1907.
3. The company to lay pipes and mains on all streets where there is need for, on a basis of $2.1-2 per cent. per annum.
4. The company to do no digging or trenching till plans for such have been submitted to and approved of by the City Engineer.
5. The company to repair all breaks and damages to streets.
6. In laying the mains the company must be responsible for all damage to premises, and they must not block traffic on any street. Lamps must be placed over their work at night where trenching has been done.
7. The rates for natural gas to be: For heating and cooking purposes, 20c per thousand cubic feet for the first five years, 25c for the third five years, and 30c for the balance of the term of the franchise; for manufacturing purposes: 10c first five years, 12 1-2c the second five years, and 15c the balance of the term of the contract; for corporation purposes: 5c per thousand cubic feet for gas used at the city schools, the Police Court, the market, etc., and 10c for that used at the waterworks and electric light station.
8. That the city shall not be responsible for any damage resulting from the gas company repairing or altering the city streets.
9. That the company pay loss as aforesaid.
10. In case of the company neglecting to keep the terms of the agreement, and after discussing the matter in committee of the whole last evening, the aldermen made a few more important changes.

Ald. Scullard and Austin explained with regard to Clause 7, where the rates are mentioned, that the clause making special rates for Harison Hall had been struck out, as the payment for the use of gas in this building would probably prove a bone of contention between the city and the county. The cost was taken off the gas to be furnished to other municipal buildings.

Ald. Potter was of the opinion that a clause should be inserted specifying that the company should keep the gas in their mains up to a certain pressure.

Solicitor Stanworth said that the fire underwriters specified that the pressure should not be above a certain amount.

Ald. Scullard suggested that some provision be made as to the quality of the gas supplied.

Mr. Coste, of the Symmes Company, who was present, explained that the quality of the gas could only be such as was supplied by the wells, but he stated that it was of as good quality as was used in other places. As to the pressure, it would be to the company's interests to see that this was satisfactory to their customers. The underwriters ruled that the pressure should not exceed eight ounces.

Ald. Scullard—Have you analyzed your gas?

Mr. Coste—No, we have not analyzed it yet.

Ald. Scullard then explained that the clause in the franchise in which the company agreed to supply 10,000,000 feet of gas free to the first five new industries locating in the city, in lieu of granting the gas company an exclusive franchise for five years, had been struck out, as no exclusive franchise could be legally granted. He was very sorry on this account, as he believed free gas would be a great inducement for concerns to locate in Chatham. The advice of the city solicitor had been taken on this matter and he had stated that such a provision would be illegal.

Ald. Austin drew attention to an important clause in the agreement, which he said he was not exactly clear on. He referred to the clause stating that the company shall begin to pipe the city 60 days after the agreement had been signed. Did this mean that the company had 60 days in which to sign the agreement also? If so then the time for the commencement of operations would be extended for 60 days more. He had understood that the company would be ready to supply bonds forthwith, and before going any farther, he said he would like to see this clause made a little more definite. According to the present agreement, he believed that the company could let the matter remain in abeyance for 60 days before signing up.

Mr. Coste—This 60 days is not our doing—the clause is just as it was drawn up by your city solicitor. We would be willing to agree to the limit for furnishing the bonds and signing the agreement 15 days if you wish it.

It was moved by Ald. Scullard that the clause granting 60 days for the signing of the agreement be struck out, and made to read "15 days," and that the work be commenced 60 days thereafter.

Ald. Austin also wanted more light on another clause. He said that the clause with reference to the rates to be charged did not state what interest would be charged in case bills were not paid promptly. He thought that a clause should be inserted stating that the company should not charge more than ten per cent. interest.

Mr. Coste objected to this on the grounds that no interest could be added legally; there must be a maximum rate, and reductions must be made from that for prompt payment.

Much time was taken up with the consideration of this clause, and various workings for the clause were drawn up before one was found to be satisfactory. The city solicitor and the company's lawyer finally got together, however, and the agreement was drawn up to read that the maximum rate should be two cents higher in each case, and that a reduction of two cents per thousand feet be made for the prompt payment of accounts. Readers may ascertain the maximum rates by adding two cents per thousand feet, to the rates in Clause 7, given above.

The by-law was then read the third time in committee and finally passed.

200 MINERS ENTOMBED

Twenty-five Are Dead In Big Mine Explosion In England

FIRE DAMP THE CAUSE

Durham, England, Oct. 16.—As a result of an explosion in the Wingate colliery, near here, at about midnight Sunday night, 25 miners have been killed and 200 are entombed temporarily. It is fortunate that only a small portion of the thousand men employed in the mine were down when the explosion occurred.

The cause is supposed to have been fire damp. The explosion was one of terrific force, and in Wingate Town many windows were broken.

Heartrending Scenes.

Immediately the news of the disaster became known crowds of half-clad persons were rushing towards the mine, and there was heartrending scenes at the mouth of the pit among those whose loved ones were below.

At daylight signals had been exchanged with the bottom seam, where a majority of the men were entombed, to the effect that they were safe, and with this message a sense of relief passed over the crowd of anxious relatives waiting at the mouth. As the morning advanced the bodies of dead men slowly were brought up. The first dead to appear were mostly old men who had been employed as shifters and stonemen. The work of rescue was continued throughout the day.

80 Brought Out Alive.

Eighty men were brought out alive. Many of these, however, were in a critical condition and unconscious.

Later supplies of coffee and sandwiches were passed into those still entombed.

At a late hour last night, to the joy of their relatives, four men were brought up from the lower seam, where the deaths had occurred. These men had been reckoned among the dead. Although they were exhausted they probably will recover.

The shaft is still blocked with wreckage, but the ventilation is good, and it is hoped that all the entombed men are still alive and will be saved.
