

THE ACADIAN AND KING'S CO. TIMES.

HONEST, INDEPENDENT, FEARLESS--DEVOTED TO LOCAL AND GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

Vol. XII.

WOLFVILLE, KING'S CO., N. S., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1893.

No. 26.

The Acadian.

Published on FRIDAY at the office WOLFVILLE, KING'S CO., N. S.

TERMS: $1.00 Per Annum. (IN ADVANCE).

CLUBS of five in advance $4 00. Local advertising at ten cents per line for every insertion, unless by special arrangement for standing notices.

Legal Decisions. ANY person who takes a paper regularly from the Post Office, whether directed to his name or another's or whether he has subscribed or not--is responsible for the payment.

Business Firms of WOLFVILLE. The undermentioned firms will use you right, and we can safely recommend them as our most enterprising business men.

POST OFFICE, WOLFVILLE. Office Hours, 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Mails made up as follows: For Halifax and Windsor close at 7 10 a. m.

Churches. BAPTIST CHURCH--Rev. T. A. Higgins, Pastor--Services: Sunday, preaching at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m.; Sunday School at 2 30 p. m.

METHODIST CHURCH--Rev. Oskar Simons, B. A., Pastor. Services on the Sabbath at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m.

WOLFVILLE DIVISION S. of T. meets every Monday evening in their Hall at 8 00 o'clock.

ACADIA LODGE, I. O. O. T., meets every Saturday evening in Temperance Hall at 7 30 o'clock.

CRYSTAL Band of Hope meets in the Temperance Hall every Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

APPLE TREES for SALE. For the Fall and next Spring trade, at the Weston Nurseries! KING'S COUNTY, N. S.

ISAAC SHAW, PROPRIETOR.

JOHN W. WALLACE, BARRISTER-AT-LAW, NOTARY, CONVEYANCER, ETC.

WOLFVILLE, N. S.

AT HAND

In a dangerous emergency, AYE'S CHERRY PECTORAL is prompt to act and sure to cure. A dose taken on the first symptoms of Croup or Bronchitis, checks further progress of these complaints.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

It is endorsed by leading physicians, is agreeable to the taste, does not interfere with digestion, and needs to be taken usually in small doses.

Saved My Life

I have recommended it to hundreds. I find the best way of taking this medicine is in small frequent doses. M. Matthews, 34, Sharon, Ohio.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Prompt to act, sure to cure

POETRY.

"The Glory That Excels." "Oh, fair the gleams of glory And bright the secrets of mirth That lighten human story"

"What, that poster? No, hain't looked at it partickler. Let's see, 'Thousan' dollars reward.' Hello! Guess I hev seen it. Got over here, eh, has it? Let's hear it, Tom, an' I'll tell ye 'bout it."

"One thousan' reward. The above reward will be paid by the subscriber to any person who shall give such information as will lead to the discovery of the schooner Onward, which was sunk by the steamer Ticonderoga, in a fog, on the morning of the 12th of March last, supposed at the time to be about four miles off Clerken light, bearing S. E. half E. Information must be given personally to Garrett Ingram, High street, Rotherby."

"Ho, ho, ho!" laughed Marlin. "Ho, ho, ho! That's the stunnin'est joke I ever see. Ho, ho, ho! Ain't it a good un, Tom? I never told ye, did I? Well, look here. I could take that there thousan' if I liked, an' I won't hev it. I know where to put my finger on that schooner, but I won't know why? 'Cause if I make one thousan' out of it, Gat Ingram'll make ten. An' ruther'n that I'd give a thousan' to keep him from findin' her. Me an' Gat Ingram ain't no frien's, we ain't. He s'arved me a realy trick on the banks once that I'll never forgive him. But that's a good un, that is--off Clerken light, four mile sou'west half east." "Haw, haw, haw! The fact is, Tom, they didn't nary one on 'em know where they was--the fog was so thick. I was out in the Bess that same afternoon, takin' a look at things, ye know. I cruised around a little an', takin' count of wind an' tide, and the point where the Ticonderoga run ashore, I made up my mind the schooner wain't sunk 'off Clerken light, sou'west half east." "I waited till about low water, an' then run the Bess down where I thought was about the spot. Well, sir, ye wouldn't believe it, but I wasn't twenty foot out of the line. It was more luck than anything, I've allus said, but however, it was her an' no mistake. I didn't let on to nobody, though. Says I, I'll let 'em haul for her awhile, then I'll get fifty dollars out of 'em for showin' where she lays. I put my mark on to her, ye see. Well, they scratched 'round, dragged high an' low, an' never got near her. I went out an' watched 'em every day. Scratch away, my hearties, says I, bime-by I'll put in my oar. Well, I'll just about made up my mind to speak to the company that owned her, when I heard how Gat Ingram had bought out their right in her on a spec. He offered fifty dollars reward for her right away, an' he's been hantin' for her ever since. The reward's been a growin' bigger 'n bigger till it's got to what ye see. But it'll grow to ten thousan' afore Tass Marlin shows Gat Ingram where the schooner lays in eighteen fathom at dead low water."

SELECT STORY.

KIT GRALE.

BY JAMES T. MACKAY. CHAPTER IV.

The wind was fresh from the east; she had to beat out all the way to the light. The tide was past the fall, the ebb setting out strongly helped her on. Coming to the inlet finally, the wind was dead ahead, and the tide running out swift as a mill race.

"I feel there's no hope from the lawyer," she finished. "He's a hard, merciless man. And I can't go back without some help. Oh, I can't! I can't! I'm afraid, Cap'n Tass, I'm afraid. You know what I mean, I can't say it--it's too horrible. Oh, Cap'n Tass, you can help me, you can save him if you will. Will you do it? Will you? Will you?"

"How can I, girl, tell me how?" "She grasped his arm in her eagerness. Her face flushed hot. Her heart beat hard. There is help, there is hope, it cried; he will be her refuge. She could hardly speak the words, between fear and hope."

"I don't know if she had struck him. He had not guessed her meaning--it took him by surprise. He sat down on a log, took off his cap, wiped his wet forehead, looked at her doubtfully a minute, then he spoke."

"I'm taken all back, Kit. I dun' know what to say. I can't do it--it's too much, it's too hard. You didn't ought to ask me, Kit, it ain't right. I can't put money in that man's pocket--he don't deserve it. Ye wouldn't ask me if ye knowed. Tain't like ye, girl, tain't like ye. Ask me anything else--I can't do that. What's more, I dun' know if I could find her now. She may 'a' heeled over, tides may 'a' shifted her, she may 'a' settled deeper, somebody may 'a' run over her and broke off her topmast."

"Cap'n Tass," she said, pleading as if for her life. "Cap'n Tass, remember your old messmate. Do you think John Grale would have let his pride stand in the way if you were in deadly peril and he could save you by any means? Are you going to send me back to him to see him going day by day, till one day we'll miss him, and God knows what we'll find?" She shuddered and wrung her hands. "Oh, Cap'n Tass, you won't, you can't!"

He stood up before her, rubbed his forehead thoughtfully a minute, then threw his handkerchief into his cap and put it on tight. There was settled purpose in his face and gesture.

"God forgive me!" he said. "I didn't look at it so. Poor Jack! Poor Jack! We'll save him yet. There's no time to spare. We'll go now. It is low water at four fifteen. We'll need our time. Go down to the Bess, Kit, and wait for me."

He went over to the house where he was staying. Kit unfurled the Bess' sail, ran it up and set it taut. Then Marlin came down with a jug of water, a brown paper parcel, a shawl and a couple of coats over his arm. He stood them under the deck, forward, and threw off the line. The boat drifted off, away round before the wind.

"This is your cruise. You're cap'n, I'm only pilot." The wind had hauled into the southeast, still veering southward. The clouds had cleared away, the sun shone bright and warm. The breeze was fresh, the boat filled away before it, went bowling down the harbor with the wind on her starboard quarter. The green hills dropped behind--dark woods, houses here and

POETRY.

"The Glory That Excels." "Oh, fair the gleams of glory And bright the secrets of mirth That lighten human story"

"What, that poster? No, hain't looked at it partickler. Let's see, 'Thousan' dollars reward.' Hello! Guess I hev seen it. Got over here, eh, has it? Let's hear it, Tom, an' I'll tell ye 'bout it."

"One thousan' reward. The above reward will be paid by the subscriber to any person who shall give such information as will lead to the discovery of the schooner Onward, which was sunk by the steamer Ticonderoga, in a fog, on the morning of the 12th of March last, supposed at the time to be about four miles off Clerken light, bearing S. E. half E. Information must be given personally to Garrett Ingram, High street, Rotherby."

"Ho, ho, ho!" laughed Marlin. "Ho, ho, ho! That's the stunnin'est joke I ever see. Ho, ho, ho! Ain't it a good un, Tom? I never told ye, did I? Well, look here. I could take that there thousan' if I liked, an' I won't hev it. I know where to put my finger on that schooner, but I won't know why? 'Cause if I make one thousan' out of it, Gat Ingram'll make ten. An' ruther'n that I'd give a thousan' to keep him from findin' her. Me an' Gat Ingram ain't no frien's, we ain't. He s'arved me a realy trick on the banks once that I'll never forgive him. But that's a good un, that is--off Clerken light, four mile sou'west half east." "Haw, haw, haw! The fact is, Tom, they didn't nary one on 'em know where they was--the fog was so thick. I was out in the Bess that same afternoon, takin' a look at things, ye know. I cruised around a little an', takin' count of wind an' tide, and the point where the Ticonderoga run ashore, I made up my mind the schooner wain't sunk 'off Clerken light, sou'west half east." "I waited till about low water, an' then run the Bess down where I thought was about the spot. Well, sir, ye wouldn't believe it, but I wasn't twenty foot out of the line. It was more luck than anything, I've allus said, but however, it was her an' no mistake. I didn't let on to nobody, though. Says I, I'll let 'em haul for her awhile, then I'll get fifty dollars out of 'em for showin' where she lays. I put my mark on to her, ye see. Well, they scratched 'round, dragged high an' low, an' never got near her. I went out an' watched 'em every day. Scratch away, my hearties, says I, bime-by I'll put in my oar. Well, I'll just about made up my mind to speak to the company that owned her, when I heard how Gat Ingram had bought out their right in her on a spec. He offered fifty dollars reward for her right away, an' he's been hantin' for her ever since. The reward's been a growin' bigger 'n bigger till it's got to what ye see. But it'll grow to ten thousan' afore Tass Marlin shows Gat Ingram where the schooner lays in eighteen fathom at dead low water."

SELECT STORY.

KIT GRALE.

BY JAMES T. MACKAY. CHAPTER IV.

The wind was fresh from the east; she had to beat out all the way to the light. The tide was past the fall, the ebb setting out strongly helped her on. Coming to the inlet finally, the wind was dead ahead, and the tide running out swift as a mill race.

"I feel there's no hope from the lawyer," she finished. "He's a hard, merciless man. And I can't go back without some help. Oh, I can't! I can't! I'm afraid, Cap'n Tass, I'm afraid. You know what I mean, I can't say it--it's too horrible. Oh, Cap'n Tass, you can help me, you can save him if you will. Will you do it? Will you? Will you?"

"How can I, girl, tell me how?" "She grasped his arm in her eagerness. Her face flushed hot. Her heart beat hard. There is help, there is hope, it cried; he will be her refuge. She could hardly speak the words, between fear and hope."

"I don't know if she had struck him. He had not guessed her meaning--it took him by surprise. He sat down on a log, took off his cap, wiped his wet forehead, looked at her doubtfully a minute, then he spoke."

"I'm taken all back, Kit. I dun' know what to say. I can't do it--it's too much, it's too hard. You didn't ought to ask me, Kit, it ain't right. I can't put money in that man's pocket--he don't deserve it. Ye wouldn't ask me if ye knowed. Tain't like ye, girl, tain't like ye. Ask me anything else--I can't do that. What's more, I dun' know if I could find her now. She may 'a' heeled over, tides may 'a' shifted her, she may 'a' settled deeper, somebody may 'a' run over her and broke off her topmast."

"Cap'n Tass," she said, pleading as if for her life. "Cap'n Tass, remember your old messmate. Do you think John Grale would have let his pride stand in the way if you were in deadly peril and he could save you by any means? Are you going to send me back to him to see him going day by day, till one day we'll miss him, and God knows what we'll find?" She shuddered and wrung her hands. "Oh, Cap'n Tass, you won't, you can't!"

He stood up before her, rubbed his forehead thoughtfully a minute, then threw his handkerchief into his cap and put it on tight. There was settled purpose in his face and gesture.

"God forgive me!" he said. "I didn't look at it so. Poor Jack! Poor Jack! We'll save him yet. There's no time to spare. We'll go now. It is low water at four fifteen. We'll need our time. Go down to the Bess, Kit, and wait for me."

He went over to the house where he was staying. Kit unfurled the Bess' sail, ran it up and set it taut. Then Marlin came down with a jug of water, a brown paper parcel, a shawl and a couple of coats over his arm. He stood them under the deck, forward, and threw off the line. The boat drifted off, away round before the wind.

"This is your cruise. You're cap'n, I'm only pilot." The wind had hauled into the southeast, still veering southward. The clouds had cleared away, the sun shone bright and warm. The breeze was fresh, the boat filled away before it, went bowling down the harbor with the wind on her starboard quarter. The green hills dropped behind--dark woods, houses here and

POETRY.

"The Glory That Excels." "Oh, fair the gleams of glory And bright the secrets of mirth That lighten human story"

"What, that poster? No, hain't looked at it partickler. Let's see, 'Thousan' dollars reward.' Hello! Guess I hev seen it. Got over here, eh, has it? Let's hear it, Tom, an' I'll tell ye 'bout it."

"One thousan' reward. The above reward will be paid by the subscriber to any person who shall give such information as will lead to the discovery of the schooner Onward, which was sunk by the steamer Ticonderoga, in a fog, on the morning of the 12th of March last, supposed at the time to be about four miles off Clerken light, bearing S. E. half E. Information must be given personally to Garrett Ingram, High street, Rotherby."

"Ho, ho, ho!" laughed Marlin. "Ho, ho, ho! That's the stunnin'est joke I ever see. Ho, ho, ho! Ain't it a good un, Tom? I never told ye, did I? Well, look here. I could take that there thousan' if I liked, an' I won't hev it. I know where to put my finger on that schooner, but I won't know why? 'Cause if I make one thousan' out of it, Gat Ingram'll make ten. An' ruther'n that I'd give a thousan' to keep him from findin' her. Me an' Gat Ingram ain't no frien's, we ain't. He s'arved me a realy trick on the banks once that I'll never forgive him. But that's a good un, that is--off Clerken light, four mile sou'west half east." "Haw, haw, haw! The fact is, Tom, they didn't nary one on 'em know where they was--the fog was so thick. I was out in the Bess that same afternoon, takin' a look at things, ye know. I cruised around a little an', takin' count of wind an' tide, and the point where the Ticonderoga run ashore, I made up my mind the schooner wain't sunk 'off Clerken light, sou'west half east." "I waited till about low water, an' then run the Bess down where I thought was about the spot. Well, sir, ye wouldn't believe it, but I wasn't twenty foot out of the line. It was more luck than anything, I've allus said, but however, it was her an' no mistake. I didn't let on to nobody, though. Says I, I'll let 'em haul for her awhile, then I'll get fifty dollars out of 'em for showin' where she lays. I put my mark on to her, ye see. Well, they scratched 'round, dragged high an' low, an' never got near her. I went out an' watched 'em every day. Scratch away, my hearties, says I, bime-by I'll put in my oar. Well, I'll just about made up my mind to speak to the company that owned her, when I heard how Gat Ingram had bought out their right in her on a spec. He offered fifty dollars reward for her right away, an' he's been hantin' for her ever since. The reward's been a growin' bigger 'n bigger till it's got to what ye see. But it'll grow to ten thousan' afore Tass Marlin shows Gat Ingram where the schooner lays in eighteen fathom at dead low water."

SELECT STORY.

KIT GRALE.

BY JAMES T. MACKAY. CHAPTER IV.

The wind was fresh from the east; she had to beat out all the way to the light. The tide was past the fall, the ebb setting out strongly helped her on. Coming to the inlet finally, the wind was dead ahead, and the tide running out swift as a mill race.

"I feel there's no hope from the lawyer," she finished. "He's a hard, merciless man. And I can't go back without some help. Oh, I can't! I can't! I'm afraid, Cap'n Tass, I'm afraid. You know what I mean, I can't say it--it's too horrible. Oh, Cap'n Tass, you can help me, you can save him if you will. Will you do it? Will you? Will you?"

"How can I, girl, tell me how?" "She grasped his arm in her eagerness. Her face flushed hot. Her heart beat hard. There is help, there is hope, it cried; he will be her refuge. She could hardly speak the words, between fear and hope."

"I don't know if she had struck him. He had not guessed her meaning--it took him by surprise. He sat down on a log, took off his cap, wiped his wet forehead, looked at her doubtfully a minute, then he spoke."

"I'm taken all back, Kit. I dun' know what to say. I can't do it--it's too much, it's too hard. You didn't ought to ask me, Kit, it ain't right. I can't put money in that man's pocket--he don't deserve it. Ye wouldn't ask me if ye knowed. Tain't like ye, girl, tain't like ye. Ask me anything else--I can't do that. What's more, I dun' know if I could find her now. She may 'a' heeled over, tides may 'a' shifted her, she may 'a' settled deeper, somebody may 'a' run over her and broke off her topmast."

"Cap'n Tass," she said, pleading as if for her life. "Cap'n Tass, remember your old messmate. Do you think John Grale would have let his pride stand in the way if you were in deadly peril and he could save you by any means? Are you going to send me back to him to see him going day by day, till one day we'll miss him, and God knows what we'll find?" She shuddered and wrung her hands. "Oh, Cap'n Tass, you won't, you can't!"

He stood up before her, rubbed his forehead thoughtfully a minute, then threw his handkerchief into his cap and put it on tight. There was settled purpose in his face and gesture.

"God forgive me!" he said. "I didn't look at it so. Poor Jack! Poor Jack! We'll save him yet. There's no time to spare. We'll go now. It is low water at four fifteen. We'll need our time. Go down to the Bess, Kit, and wait for me."

He went over to the house where he was staying. Kit unfurled the Bess' sail, ran it up and set it taut. Then Marlin came down with a jug of water, a brown paper parcel, a shawl and a couple of coats over his arm. He stood them under the deck, forward, and threw off the line. The boat drifted off, away round before the wind.

"This is your cruise. You're cap'n, I'm only pilot." The wind had hauled into the southeast, still veering southward. The clouds had cleared away, the sun shone bright and warm. The breeze was fresh, the boat filled away before it, went bowling down the harbor with the wind on her starboard quarter. The green hills dropped behind--dark woods, houses here and

POETRY.

"The Glory That Excels." "Oh, fair the gleams of glory And bright the secrets of mirth That lighten human story"

"What, that poster? No, hain't looked at it partickler. Let's see, 'Thousan' dollars reward.' Hello! Guess I hev seen it. Got over here, eh, has it? Let's hear it, Tom, an' I'll tell ye 'bout it."

"One thousan' reward. The above reward will be paid by the subscriber to any person who shall give such information as will lead to the discovery of the schooner Onward, which was sunk by the steamer Ticonderoga, in a fog, on the morning of the 12th of March last, supposed at the time to be about four miles off Clerken light, bearing S. E. half E. Information must be given personally to Garrett Ingram, High street, Rotherby."

"Ho, ho, ho!" laughed Marlin. "Ho, ho, ho! That's the stunnin'est joke I ever see. Ho, ho, ho! Ain't it a good un, Tom? I never told ye, did I? Well, look here. I could take that there thousan' if I liked, an' I won't hev it. I know where to put my finger on that schooner, but I won't know why? 'Cause if I make one thousan' out of it, Gat Ingram'll make ten. An' ruther'n that I'd give a thousan' to keep him from findin' her. Me an' Gat Ingram ain't no frien's, we ain't. He s'arved me a realy trick on the banks once that I'll never forgive him. But that's a good un, that is--off Clerken light, four mile sou'west half east." "Haw, haw, haw! The fact is, Tom, they didn't nary one on 'em know where they was--the fog was so thick. I was out in the Bess that same afternoon, takin' a look at things, ye know. I cruised around a little an', takin' count of wind an' tide, and the point where the Ticonderoga run ashore, I made up my mind the schooner wain't sunk 'off Clerken light, sou'west half east." "I waited till about low water, an' then run the Bess down where I thought was about the spot. Well, sir, ye wouldn't believe it, but I wasn't twenty foot out of the line. It was more luck than anything, I've allus said, but however, it was her an' no mistake. I didn't let on to nobody, though. Says I, I'll let 'em haul for her awhile, then I'll get fifty dollars out of 'em for showin' where she lays. I put my mark on to her, ye see. Well, they scratched 'round, dragged high an' low, an' never got near her. I went out an' watched 'em every day. Scratch away, my hearties, says I, bime-by I'll put in my oar. Well, I'll just about made up my mind to speak to the company that owned her, when I heard how Gat Ingram had bought out their right in her on a spec. He offered fifty dollars reward for her right away, an' he's been hantin' for her ever since. The reward's been a growin' bigger 'n bigger till it's got to what ye see. But it'll grow to ten thousan' afore Tass Marlin shows Gat Ingram where the schooner lays in eighteen fathom at dead low water."

SELECT STORY.

KIT GRALE.

BY JAMES T. MACKAY. CHAPTER IV.

The wind was fresh from the east; she had to beat out all the way to the light. The tide was past the fall, the ebb setting out strongly helped her on. Coming to the inlet finally, the wind was dead ahead, and the tide running out swift as a mill race.

"I feel there's no hope from the lawyer," she finished. "He's a hard, merciless man. And I can't go back without some help. Oh, I can't! I can't! I'm afraid, Cap'n Tass, I'm afraid. You know what I mean, I can't say it--it's too horrible. Oh, Cap'n Tass, you can help me, you can save him if you will. Will you do it? Will you? Will you?"

"How can I, girl, tell me how?" "She grasped his arm in her eagerness. Her face flushed hot. Her heart beat hard. There is help, there is hope, it cried; he will be her refuge. She could hardly speak the words, between fear and hope."

"I don't know if she had struck him. He had not guessed her meaning--it took him by surprise. He sat down on a log, took off his cap, wiped his wet forehead, looked at her doubtfully a minute, then he spoke."

"I'm taken all back, Kit. I dun' know what to say. I can't do it--it's too much, it's too hard. You didn't ought to ask me, Kit, it ain't right. I can't put money in that man's pocket--he don't deserve it. Ye wouldn't ask me if ye knowed. Tain't like ye, girl, tain't like ye. Ask me anything else--I can't do that. What's more, I dun' know if I could find her now. She may 'a' heeled over, tides may 'a' shifted her, she may 'a' settled deeper, somebody may 'a' run over her and broke off her topmast."

"Cap'n Tass," she said, pleading as if for her life. "Cap'n Tass, remember your old messmate. Do you think John Grale would have let his pride stand in the way if you were in deadly peril and he could save you by any means? Are you going to send me back to him to see him going day by day, till one day we'll miss him, and God knows what we'll find?" She shuddered and wrung her hands. "Oh, Cap'n Tass, you won't, you can't!"

He stood up before her, rubbed his forehead thoughtfully a minute, then threw his handkerchief into his cap and put it on tight. There was settled purpose in his face and gesture.

"God forgive me!" he said. "I didn't look at it so. Poor Jack! Poor Jack! We'll save him yet. There's no time to spare. We'll go now. It is low water at four fifteen. We'll need our time. Go down to the Bess, Kit, and wait for me."

He went over to the house where he was staying. Kit unfurled the Bess' sail, ran it up and set it taut. Then Marlin came down with a jug of water, a brown paper parcel, a shawl and a couple of coats over his arm. He stood them under the deck, forward, and threw off the line. The boat drifted off, away round before the wind.

"This is your cruise. You're cap'n, I'm only pilot." The wind had hauled into the southeast, still veering southward. The clouds had cleared away, the sun shone bright and warm. The breeze was fresh, the boat filled away before it, went bowling down the harbor with the wind on her starboard quarter. The green hills dropped behind--dark woods, houses here and

POETRY.

"The Glory That Excels." "Oh, fair the gleams of glory And bright the secrets of mirth That lighten human story"

"What, that poster? No, hain't looked at it partickler. Let's see, 'Thousan' dollars reward.' Hello! Guess I hev seen it. Got over here, eh, has it? Let's hear it, Tom, an' I'll tell ye 'bout it."

"One thousan' reward. The above reward will be paid by the subscriber to any person who shall give such information as will lead to the discovery of the schooner Onward, which was sunk by the steamer Ticonderoga, in a fog, on the morning of the 12th of March last, supposed at the time to be about four miles off Clerken light, bearing S. E. half E. Information must be given personally to Garrett Ingram, High street, Rotherby."

"Ho, ho, ho!" laughed Marlin. "Ho, ho, ho! That's the stunnin'est joke I ever see. Ho, ho, ho! Ain't it a good un, Tom? I never told ye, did I? Well, look here. I could take that there thousan' if I liked, an' I won't hev it. I know where to put my finger on that schooner, but I won't know why? 'Cause if I make one thousan' out of it, Gat Ingram'll make ten. An' ruther'n that I'd give a thousan' to keep him from findin' her. Me an' Gat Ingram ain't no frien's, we ain't. He s'arved me a realy trick on the banks once that I'll never forgive him. But that's a good un, that is--off Clerken light, four mile sou'west half east." "Haw, haw, haw! The fact is, Tom, they didn't nary one on 'em know where they was--the fog was so thick. I was out in the Bess that same afternoon, takin' a look at things, ye know. I cruised around a little an', takin' count of wind an' tide, and the point where the Ticonderoga run ashore, I made up my mind the schooner wain't sunk 'off Clerken light, sou'west half east." "I waited till about low water, an' then run the Bess down where I thought was about the spot. Well, sir, ye wouldn't believe it, but I wasn't twenty foot out of the line. It was more luck than anything, I've allus said, but however, it was her an' no mistake. I didn't let on to nobody, though. Says I, I'll let 'em haul for her awhile, then I'll get fifty dollars out of 'em for showin' where she lays. I put my mark on to her, ye see. Well, they scratched 'round, dragged high an' low, an' never got near her. I went out an' watched 'em every day. Scratch away, my hearties, says I, bime-by I'll put in my oar. Well, I'll just about made up my mind to speak to the company that owned her, when I heard how Gat Ingram had bought out their right in her on a spec. He offered fifty dollars reward for her right away, an' he's been hantin' for her ever since. The reward's been a growin' bigger 'n bigger till it's got to what ye see. But it'll grow to ten thousan' afore Tass Marlin shows Gat Ingram where the schooner lays in eighteen fathom at dead low water."

SELECT STORY.

KIT GRALE.

BY JAMES T. MACKAY. CHAPTER IV.

The wind was fresh from the east; she had to beat out all the way to the light. The tide was past the fall, the ebb setting out strongly helped her on. Coming to the inlet finally, the wind was dead ahead, and the tide running out swift as a mill race.

"I feel there's no hope from the lawyer," she finished. "He's a hard, merciless man. And I can't go back without some help. Oh, I can't! I can't! I'm afraid, Cap'n Tass, I'm afraid. You know what I mean, I can't say it--it's too horrible. Oh, Cap'n Tass, you can help me, you can save him if you will. Will you do it? Will you? Will you?"

"How can I, girl, tell me how?" "She grasped his arm in her eagerness. Her face flushed hot. Her heart beat hard. There is help, there is hope, it cried; he will be her refuge. She could hardly speak the words, between fear and hope."

"I don't know if she had struck him. He had not guessed her meaning--it took him by surprise. He sat down on a log, took off his cap, wiped his wet forehead, looked at her doubtfully a minute, then he spoke."

"I'm taken all back, Kit. I dun' know what to say. I can't do it--it's too much, it's too hard. You didn't ought to ask me, Kit, it ain't right. I can't put money in that man's pocket--he don't deserve it. Ye wouldn't ask me if ye knowed. Tain't like ye, girl, tain't like ye. Ask me anything else--I can't do that. What's more, I dun' know if I could find her now. She may 'a' heeled over, tides may 'a' shifted her, she may 'a' settled deeper, somebody may 'a' run over her and broke off her topmast."

"Cap'n Tass," she said, pleading as if for her life. "Cap'n Tass, remember your old messmate. Do you think John Grale would have let his pride stand in the way if you were in deadly peril and he could save

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., FEB. 17, 1893.

To-morrow the citizens of Wolfville will be called upon to record their votes for or against the incorporation of the town. The matter, we feel, is one of prime importance, and should receive the greatest amount of consideration on the part of the people. It is not our place to say how any person should vote. We have expressed our views as to what we consider would be for the best interests of the town. As public journalists we have felt this to be our duty. We believe the people of Wolfville will be making a wise mistake if they reject incorporation. However let each elector lay aside all personal feelings and interests and vote as he thinks the best interests of the town will be served, and we feel sure the result will be satisfactory.

The attendance at Acadia Seminary this year is much larger than ever before, the number attending for the year being 116. The number attending the present term is 102, of whom 37 are from the town and vicinity. Last year 102 students were in attendance, which was the largest number reached up to that time. The attendance from the town is this year unusually large, about 10 more than in previous years. Taken altogether we think the management should feel well satisfied that their efforts to furnish a first-class education for young ladies are being appreciated. The new building is giving good satisfaction and the Seminary is now one of the best equipped in Canada.

We think it about time that some action was taken to put a stop to the practice indulged in by some of our young men with regard to seducing newly married people. The custom is a relic of barbarism that should never have been tolerated, and has been made especially prominent in Wolfville during the last year or two. Last Saturday evening the gang that congregated on Main street and made night hideous was disgraceful to a town like Wolfville. Their performance we feel sure was not appreciated by those more especially concerned nor by the people generally. Business was interfered with, people driving in the town were put to a great amount of inconvenience and the whole affair was decidedly disagreeable. We trust that some action will be taken to prevent a repetition of it.

Arrangements are now being made for what promises to be an interesting horse-race to be held at Black River Lake on Tuesday afternoon next, Feb. 21st. The race will be in mile heats, best two in three, and will be open to all horses in King's county without records. A purse of $50 is offered in three prizes of $25, $15 and $10. Entries must be made with Mr. F. J. Porter, of this place, not later than 5 o'clock, on Saturday, 19th. Quite a number of our best horses have already been entered and others from different parts of the county are expected. The course will be a mile straight away, and one of the best that can be secured. No doubt a large number of horsemen and others will attend and witness the sport, which will be open to all. Black River Lake is easy of access when the roads are good as they are now and a good afternoon's sport is prospect.

Much public interest is now being taken in the reports of the revolution in the Hawaiian Islands and the agitation for the annexation of said islands to the United States. It has been heralded over the world that a great revolution has taken place, dethroning the Queen, and the revolution is represented so popular and universal that it was achieved without bloodshed. It is, however, gradually leaking out that the revolution is not an uprising of the people at all, but the work of a little handful of speculators from abroad, who have already wrested from the native people almost everything which was worth having and now seek to reduce them to the position of serfs. It is a little significant, also, that the American man-of-war Boston sailed into the harbor of Honolulu and landed a detachment of troops two days before the "bloodless revolution" broke out, ostensibly to protect American interests, and that a little band of American residents, with the silent prestige of a great warship behind them, accomplished the revolution in the face of the terrified natives. The fact is becoming evident that it is a scheme of a few speculators in the production of sugar—men who have already, headed by Claus Spreckles, made millions out of the privileges granted them by the native parliament, and now, for the sake of a market and the two cents per pound bounty offered by the United States government for the production of sugar, would turn around and crush the parliament which befriended them, and swallow up all that is left. The representatives of the revolutionists lay it down as one of the conditions that the franchise must not be universal suffrage as obtained in the United States, in other words, that the little ring of speculators must rule. The islands are extremely fertile, not only in the production of sugar, but in all the tropical products of commerce. When the sugar men first visited the islands, there were nearly 200,000 natives, but under the influence of American rum and whiskey and the oppressions of their pseudo-friends, the native population has diminished to 30,000. The population at present consists of the said 30,000 natives, about 50,000 of mixed blood, and the sugar men and their retainers.

Butterine.

Butter had no place in the cuisine of the civilized nations of antiquity, who lived in the lands of the olive. Oil was used as shortening for cakes by the widow of Zepheph, who fed the prophet Elijah during the famine in Palestine. The custom of using butter is believed to have come to Greece and Rome through the barbarian tribes who lived on the confines of the empire. For some time it was a disputed point as to whence butter was derived. A chemist thought of a plan to solve the problem; he starved some cows and found that the milk they continued to give contained the same identical proportions of cream and butter as before, and from this he came to the conclusion that butter was the milk fat of the cow worked up in Nature's laboratory for the fattening of the calf. Carrying on the experiment, the city part of the fat was separated from the solid part; the first is called oleo-margarine and the other stearine. If the fat of the cow contained these component parts, why not the fat of the ox? Butter from an ox! Well, that is something strange! That is just what a Dutchman named VanBord did. He set up a factory in Fresland and made oleo-margarine for the London market, therefore that substitute for butter was technically called Bord. By and by other Hollanders, and notably VanDam and Compny carried on the manufacture and considerable hostility was evinced to the new article which the profane christened with a name shocking to polite ears compounded of the two manufacturers' names coupled. Space will not permit to give a description of the process, which is somewhat complicated. Suffice it to say that the oil before mentioned is churned up with milk, the product called oleo-margarine is palatable and wholesome, and is sold at about half the price of "best fresh dairy butter."

"All flesh is grass," consequently and, mal fat must have a vegetable origin. Many clever agriculturists have tried feeding with nitrogenous compounds and cooked food to increase the yield and richness of milk, and the result has scarcely paid for the outlay. How about extracting the butter from the vegetable direct? The palm and the hatternut of Africa both yield butter. So does the seed of the cotton plant of Georgia and the southern states. Cotton seed oil is divided by the cold drawn process into two parts called olive and glycerine. This olive refined with fillers' earth, becomes pure, odorless and devoid of any marked taste; it is then much like the best Lucea salad oil produced in Italy. By mixing cotton seed oil and oleo-margarine and churning with milk, an article called butterine is produced. Messrs. Armour make and sell Silver Churn Butterine, Messrs. Swift, Parity Butterine, and Messrs. Jacobs, Doid & Sons, Bonner Butterine, which are sold retail at 20 cents per lb., wholesale at 15 cents. Butterine is in appearance like what is called best Normandy fresh, fetching 40 cents per lb., and is as solid as best dairy butter. There can be no question that the addition of a proportion of cotton seed oil to cream, by churning does materially increase the yield and lessen the cost of butter, and in winter prevents the butter from getting so stony hard that it cannot be spread on bread without first warming it.

After two days' consideration the council called by the Main street Baptist church to consider the position of its pastor, Rev. Sidney Welton, came to a decision at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. Rev. Mr. Welton finished his explanation of his connection with the American insurance companies which he is alleged to have complied to defraud in company with his brother, C. B. Welton, and Dr. Randall. The council then asked him to resign, and at about 8 o'clock before they reached an agreement. Some of those present favored a resolution strongly condemning Rev. Sidney Welton, while others were inclined to pass the matter over much more lightly and favored the idea that nothing of an incriminating nature had been proven against him. Several motions were put to the council, but none were satisfactory, and it was felt it would be unwise not to make a unanimous report. At last after considerable give and take the following resolution was prepared and unanimously adopted: Resolved, In consideration of the public scandal caused by Rev. Sidney Welton's connection with certain insurance matters, that we, without expressing an opinion as to his guilt or innocence of the charges in the indictments and trial in the St. John County Court, recommend that the Portland Baptist church withdraw fellowship from him as a pastor and Christian minister. The Main street church is not legally bound to act upon the recommendation of the council, but they are morally bound by it, for it was called at their request to advise them. The advice, which is couched in the mildest terms, certainly meets the general view of what should be done under all the circumstances.—St. John Globe.

Rev. Sidney Welton, of grayed insurance fame, won a victory over the northern Baptist Association last night. The Main street church, after a long and heated discussion, passed a resolution refusing to adopt the recommendation of the council, which advised the church to discontinue fellowship to Mr. Welton. After the vote, Mr. Welton tendered his resignation, which was accepted, and it was ordered that he receive a regular letter of dismissal which is equivalent to a certificate of standing.—Herald.

Our Present and Future as Fruit Growers.

PROPOSED EXPERIMENT FRUIT STATION. Extracts from a paper read before the Fruit Growers' Association, by W. C. Archibald:— The observation of his lordship, Judge Weatherbe, is now current; that we have in this golden vale some 400 square miles capable of producing an annual revenue of $30,000,000. This of course is largely included in the warm fruit belt from this point to the beautiful Basin of Annapolis. I have no means at hand to accurately determine the present annual value of our fruit product, but will estimate it to be $500,000. In horticulture there never were so many difficulties to meet as at the present time. The fact of our case is mainly this:—The enemies of the fruits of the earth are multiplying at a prodigious rate. It is reported:—A gentleman who inspected a diseased vineyard in his state on returning home looked into his vineyard. The disease had appeared there. On careful inspection he cut out all the diseased vines and leaves which he held in hand. Two days later a hay-cock, he reports would not have held all the diseased vines, so rapid had been the progress of the disease! Fruit growing in Nova Scotia enlarges more than any other product, the carrying power of the land per acre. There has long been a need felt of a fruit experiment station with a professor's chair for the purpose of promoting horticulture in the various branches by scientific investigation and experiment located in our midst. The individual fruit grower cannot afford the experiments for himself, the time and expense required are too great.

I quote, "It is obvious that such a station if it is to accomplish that for which it will be established, must gradually reach out into new fields of enquiry, extend its researches into new branches of horticulture, and be prepared to meet new problems which are constantly presenting themselves to the fruit grower. In short it must be a growing institution, and must be constantly presenting its need for the means of such development." Our experiment station at Ottawa is doing good work for its two provinces, but they touch us in Nova Scotia in a general sense. After '18 experiments are made there is still a wide gulf to be bridged over by a further testing on our own valley ground, before we can with confidence recommend the results obtained. I think I may safely assert that this is the experience of nearly every fruit grower in this Association. The advantages of the proposed station as we see them are of testing of new fruits before they are offered for sale by the nurseryman, and in this way save a large amount of money to the individual fruit growers.

I believe experience has proved that substantial advantages obtain from wholly separate horticultural and agricultural departments. Now as to our opportunities in taking on this new work proposed; we have already among us three flourishing institutions of learning within the fruit belt: Kings College at Windsor, Acadia Villa Seminary at Horton, and Acadia University at Wolfville. An experiment station of some 20 acres might suit the present purpose of this association for a fruit station. These lands doubtless could be obtained by lease for a term of years, rent free, or tendered by some enthusiastic fruit grower contingent. This station, with botanical gardens attached by the College, which are really necessary, should be under the control of one competent person, who should be styled "The Director," and be responsible to a board of management. The director and professor in botany, entomology, etc., would also be qualified to give lessons in orcharding and the diseases of fruit trees, the second professor being an analytical chemist. These two professors should have combined salaries within $2,500. Now as to the economical advantages in locating the chair and grounds contiguous to an arts college, it may be observed: Many who are merely taking an arts course would be induced through the presence of the station to take a course with the ultimate result that they might become fruit growers, and of the very best class, because they, in addition to their knowledge of fruit growing, would possess a first class general education. This would stimulate them to greater efforts after leaving college—and therefore give rise to a better and more intelligent class of fruit growers. I would very much rather my boys, if they graduate from a university, would take up the healthy, ennobling and dignifying work of fruit culture, than to be seeking the governorship of this province, highly honorable as the office is. The work of fruit growing is the creation of new capital from Nature's resources adding wealth to the individual and the nation. The advantage to fruit growers of a properly conducted fruit station in this valley would be very great. It is of prime importance to the orchardist to know the correct tree and fruit to plant, for it increases its value about ten times before it commences to bear. Before men will proceed in this work they must have full information what they may successfully plant. They could have an analysis made of their soils and fertilizers, ascertain the suitability of soil for fruit growing with best fertilizer to obtain best results; experiments could be made in regard to new kinds of fruit trees and their yield. The extent of diseases of fruit trees at present unknown, could be investigated and the best preventative learned; testing values of insecticides and fungicides could be carried on, Opportunity would be afforded for consulting competent authorities; for the methods of growing high class fruit more economically. From such a central bureau in our midst for circulating information throughout the maritime provinces, publishing results of experimental stations; the large and small fruit interest would soon feel new pulsations of life resulting in increased wealth. As the average value of fruits advanced, the marketable value of fruit lands would rise. Nowhere on the American continent, I believe, is fruit growing more profitable than in the Annapolis valley. This should attract people and population gives value to property. For a score of years our markets have been steadily improving with our greater production. With $2,500 for salaries and $1,500 for running expenses of the fruit station—making a total of $4,000 now required, I submit the following method—This association through its members and friends vote and raise $1,000, $500 of this to be raised outside the funds of the association. I believe twenty persons can be found who will contribute this amount.

"Town Topics," that brilliant, spicy, though sometimes slightly naughty, society journal, published in New York, makes the following announcement: "With the first issue in March Town Topics will be permanently enlarged to thirty-two pages. Although it is generally conceded that already this journal had become the most complete, varied and entertaining to men and women of culture of any weekly ever published, yet the publisher, grateful for the extraordinary favor with which the higher class of readers, not alone in America, but wherever English is read, has received Town Topics, will be content only with renewed and greater efforts to procure a journal approached in breadth of scope and excellence of literature. Arrangements are now completed with twenty-five of the most distinguished writers of fiction to contribute short stories and articles to its columns. Among them are such world famed authors as—Annie Rives, Mary J. Hawker (Lance Falconer), F. Marion Crawford, Edgar Wallace, Julian Hawthorne, Ambrose Bierce, Hamlin Garland, Paul Lindau, Catalina Mendes, Francois Coppee, Anatole France etc., etc.

"Hereafter each number of Town Topics will contain a short story, and a chapter or two of a serial by one or the other of those entertaining literateurs. There will be no curtailment of the varied and interesting matter that has heretofore excited position it now holds in current literature." There is no weekly journal published which covers so wide a field of matter, interesting to people of intelligence and culture as does Town Topics. This new departure, giving to its readers the further benefit of the very highest order of fiction, will prove another element of popularity. For the amount of reading matter that it gives weekly, it is the cheapest publication ($4 per year) in the world. Clubbed with the great Quarterly Magazine, "Tales from Town Topics," each number containing an original prize novella, the two are sent for $5 per year. Town Topics, 21 West 23 Street, New York.

"Guaranteed." I have used St. Lawrence Cough Balsam in my family for some time and always with the most satisfactory results. Some months ago my daughter came home from Boston with a very hard and distressing cough, from which she could get no relief until she tried St. Lawrence Cough Balsam. Before finishing one bottle she was completely cured. John C. Clark, merchant, Berwick. Sold by Geo. V. Rand, Druggist.

JOHN A. KIMBALL. Hourglass of the Heart! Chronic Dyspepsia! Awful Constipation! Rheumatism! CURED BY GRODER'S SYRUP. BANYN JOHN, N. B., October 11, 1892. "I am no longer a sufferer from Chronic Dyspepsia, and I feel that I owe a debt of gratitude to the Groder's Syrup. I cannot speak in too high praise of the wonders that Groder's Botanic Dyspepsia Syrup has worked in my case. It is an act of justice as well as a duty for me to tell the public through you just what your remedy has done for me. I am 45 years of age. My life during the past 23 years has NEVER BEEN FREE FROM SUFFERING UNTIL NOW. Since I began to take Groder's Syrup; I KIND CHRONIC NEURALGIA has entirely disappeared. My distress from ACIDITY OF THE STOMACH has been an unending torture for the past ten years, but your remedy is fast restoring healthy action to my stomach and bowels. Rheuma. THAT TORMENT of long-standing has ceased to trouble me. I am no longer a gloomy, melancholy dyspeptic. I feel as if I were in any part of my body. My food digests readily and causes me no distress whatever. Your medicine is the first of the hundreds I have tried that has given me any relief. I am ready to answer any other sufferers to obtain help as I have. It will cure them as it has cured me. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and the virtue of the Act respecting extra-judicial oaths. Done and declared at the City of St. John, in the Province of New Brunswick, this 11th day of October, A. D. 1892. JOHN A. KIMBALL. Before me, J. E. BARNES, Notary Public and Justice of the Peace in and for the City and County of Saint John.

WINDSOR ADVERTISEMENT.

CARVER'S LADIES STOP! and think if it would not be a wise thing to save a dollar or two on your spring dresses by purchasing now before our MID-WINTER SPECIAL SALE! Closes on the 25th February! Orders by mail will receive our best and prompt attention. Send for samples. I. FRED CARVER. Windsor, Feb. 16th, 1893.

BARGAINS EVERY DAY! AT WHITE HALL, KENTVILLE. Ladies' Furs, Fur Coats, Overcoats and all Winter Goods AT SLAUGHTER PRICES. CASH ONLY. NOTICE. The partnership heretofore existing between J. L. Franklin and R. L. Fuller, doing a general Hardware Business under the name of Franklin & Fuller, has been dissolved. The business will be continued in the same premises by J. L. Franklin in his own name, who will collect all debts and pay all liabilities due the late firm. Wolfville, N. S. Feb. 15th, 1893.

CHRISTIE'S TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT. NOTICE. THE Merchant Tailoring Business known as the Estate P. Christie will from this date be carried on by the undersigned, who assumes all debts and liabilities, and to whom all outstanding accounts are to be paid. The business will be carried on as heretofore, and Mr. Grono, already as well known, will continue as cutter, thus guaranteeing the style, finish and first class work of the establishment. The undersigned will continue to deal largely in the best imported cloth—Broadcloths, Meltons, Beavers, and fine Woollen goods; also Foreign and Canadian Tweeds. He will sell for cash, or on short terms, and can assure every satisfaction to his customers. M. A. Woodworth, Webster St. - - - Kentville, N. S.

HARD COAL! To arrive at Wolfville end of September cargo of LACKAWANA HARD COAL! Price Away Down! J. W. & W. Y. Fullerton. Money Saved. Parties in need of Harness will do well to call At REGAN'S and get his prices before purchasing elsewhere as they can save 25 per cent. Repairing neatly and promptly done. Shop Open Evenings. Wm. Regan. Wolfville, Dec. 10th, 1892. DR. BARSS, WOLFVILLE. Residence adjoining Episcopal church. Office Hours, 1-3, P.M. Telephone, No. 17. January 4, 1893.

At the Bank. This is to notify you that your account at the bank of health is overdrawn; at this rate you will soon be bankrupt, unless you take SCOTT'S EMULSION. Of Pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites to build you up. It will STOP A COUGH, CURE A COLIC, and check CONSTIPATION, and all forms of WASTING DISEASES, and most as palatable as Milk. Prepared by Scott & Bowne, Belleville. For sale by all druggists. Ripans Tablets cure biliousness. Ripans Tablets cure headache.

WANTED - AT ONCE. Clerk for general store. One with some experience preferred. Apply in own handwriting. Address "CLERK," this office. 25-21. R. DOW. Kentville, Dec. 31, 1892.

WANTED - AT ONCE. Clerk for general store. One with some experience preferred. Apply in own handwriting. Address "CLERK," this office. 25-21. R. DOW. Kentville, Dec. 31, 1892.

Plant Ferry's Seeds. FERRY'S SEED ANNUAL. For 1893 is invaluable to every Planter. It is the most complete and latest farming information from the highest authorities. D. M. FERRY & CO. WINDSOR, Ont.

G. F. Hamilton - HEADQUARTERS FOR- GROCERIES, CROCKERYWARE, Flour, Meal, Feed, &c., &c. HAVING removed to the store lately vacated by Rockwell & Co. I am prepared to serve the good people of Wolfville and vicinity with the Choicest and Newest Goods in the above lines, at fair prices.

Lime, at retail or by the barrel! Coarse Salt, by the bag! To arrive in a few days a full line of PURE CONFECTIONERY! Bananas, Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Nuts in stock, and all kinds of Fruits in season. Don't miss the place, next to the Bookstore.

G. F. Hamilton. Wolfville, May 25th, 1892. WOLFVILLE Drug Store! Besides the usual complete stock of Drugs, Chemicals and Medicines we have a large assortment of articles suitable for Christmas and New Year presents. OUR JEWELLERY CASE! Has just been filled with New designs in Gold and Silver Watches, Chains, Brooches, Necktie Pins, Rings, Etc., Etc. OUR PERFUMERY CASE! Includes the best that such makers as Lubin, Colgate, Young, Beckin and Lundborg can produce. A bottle of good perfume makes a nice present for either lady or gentleman. OUR FLAVORING EXTRACTS! And Essences, Vanilla, Lemon, Rose, Chokeberry, Almond, Etc., are our OWN MAKE, and of the best quality. Give us a call! Geo. V. Rand, PROPRIETOR. Wolfville, Dec. 14th, 1892. 43-44

WANTED—Wide awake workers every where for "SLIPPER'S PHOTOGRAPH OF THE WORLD"; the greatest book on earth; costing $100,000; cash or installment; mammoth illustrated circulars and menus free; daily output over 1500 volumes. Agents will succeed. Mr. Thos. L. Martin, Centerville, Tex., cleared $711 in 9 days; Miss Rose Adams, Wootter, O., $23 in 40 minutes; Rev. J. Howard Madison, Lyons, N. Y., $101 in 7 hours; a bonanza; magnificent outfit only $1. Books on credit. Freight paid. Address Globe Bible Publishing Co., No. 723 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa., or 558 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

LADIES' BAZAR. Ladies interested in Needlework will find a Full Line of Art Goods at the Bazar. Work stamped and commenced if desired. There is a growing demand for superior fancy and domestic wools, and the Bazar is prepared to fill the bill. Try the Antigonish Mill yarns for knitting hose. English Fleecy for slippers, rugs, wraps, &c. M. A. Woodworth, Webster St. - - - Kentville, N. S.

MILK. My delivery wagon calls twice daily, delivering milk to my patrons at 4 cents per imperial quart. I use a milk cooler or aerator which method keeps the milk pure and sweet from 24 to 36 hours longer than without its use. It also from the milk from all animal heat, from the odors of the stable and from the taste of turnips, pasture or silo feed. I invite inspection of my stables and dairy. Aubrey Brown. Wolfville, Dec. 10th, 1892. 44.

FOR SALE. One Boiler and Engine, near Berwick Station, of 40 horse power, nearly as good as new, which will be sold at bargain and on easy terms. Apply to MILLER BROS., 116 & 118 Granville St., HALIFAX, N. S. 24-4f

J. B. DAVISON, J. P. STIPENDIARY MAGISTRATE, WOLFVILLE, N. S.

ALL WINTER GOODS

Greatly Reduced Prices! Now is your time to secure a bargain! C. H. BORDEN & CO., WOLFVILLE.

DR. WM. A. PAYZANT, DENTIST. ALL KINDS of Dental Work done.

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., FEB. 17, 1893.

Local and Provincial.

In the civic elections at Digby, on Tuesday last, Dr. J. E. Jones was elected mayor.

Mr. J. C. Pankhurst, representing the Dominion Type Foundry, was in town yesterday and paid us a call.

A 10 per cent and 15 per cent. Discount Sale at the Glasgow House. Now is the time to secure bargains. See adv.

Mrs. Parker, of Granville, Annapolis Co., formerly Miss Blackadar, is spending a few weeks at her old home in Wolfville.

Rev. J. R. Coffin, of Windsor, a former pastor in this circuit and well-known here, is expected to occupy the Methodist pulpit next Sunday.

President Sawyer writes to the Messenger and Visitor that Thursday, Feb. 23d, has been set apart as a day of prayer for educational institutions.

Mr. Stevens, of Moncton, charged with causing the death of an adopted daughter by ill-usage has been committed for trial. It is expected she will be tried before Judge Landry.

Mr. John E. Woodworth, of the Berwick Register, paid us a pleasant call on Monday. Brother Woodworth has a well-conducted and spicy paper in the Register.

The rink is advertised to be open this evening. The band will be in attendance with a good programme, and the rink will be illuminated with the arc light. A good time may be expected.

As will be seen by notice in another column, the partnership lately existing between Messrs Franklin & Fuller has been dissolved. Mr. Franklin will continue the business in his own name.

The largest snow-fall of the season occurred on Monday night and Tuesday morning, the fall on the level being about 8 inches. So far this winter has been unusual for the large amount of snow and cold weather.

The Dominion Government sold $1,775 worth of Sable Island Ponies last year, and cranberries, seal oil and calves brought the sale of the island of products up to $2,354. The expenses amounted to $240.23.

The schooner H. K. Richards left the wharves for Annapolis January 1st. Since then nothing has been heard from her. Her crew consisted of Capt. Wm. Robbins and two men. The cargo of coal was for Geo. E. Corbett, Annapolis.

Rev. R. F. Gullison, who has been studying at Wolfville, has settled with the church at Beaver Harbor, Yarmouth Co., for one year. We are pleased to learn from Rev. G. that he finds the prospect encouraging, and that the church may be abundantly blessed through his labors.—Messenger and Visitor.

The Baptist congregation of this place have now in contemplation the building of a larger and better place of worship. The matter is now in the hands of a committee, who are giving it careful consideration. We hope it may be deemed advisable to build, as we feel sure the new edifice, if built, will be an ornament to the town.

We desire the correct address of every intelligent housewife. We would like to arrange with one person in each town to compile a list of such names for us. For this service we will give a year's subscription to Woman's Work for each thousand inhabitants, according to last census. If your town has a population of 2,000, a list of names for it will entitle you to receive Woman's Work for two years, or will entitle yourself and some friend to receive it one year each. If your town has 5,000 inhabitants you will be entitled to receive Woman's Work for five years, or yourself and four friends to receive it for one year each. Never a better chance to make presents. We have special blanks prepared for this work, and these must be used in every case. They will be sent, with two sample copies of Woman's Work, on receipt of ten cents in stamps. We can arrange with only one person in each town or city, and first applicants will always have preference.

Address at once, Woman's Work, Athens, Georgia. When the stomach is out of order and the nerves unstrung, use K. D. C.

The worst disease—Dyspepsia. The best cure—K. D. C. Send for a Free Sample to K. D. C. Company, Ltd., New Glasgow, N. S., Canada, or 127 State St., Boston, Mass.

Local and Provincial.

At the annual meeting of the W. C. T. U., held yesterday, Mrs. J. F. Tufts was re-elected president.

Dr. DeWitt's office hours are from 8.30 to 9.30 a. m., and from 1.30 to 3.30 p. m. Connection with telephone. 1 f.

Rev. Mr. Grosland is to deliver his lecture on "What the Finns Do" in Hantsport on Monday evening next, and at Falmouth on Tuesday.

It is no secret that K. D. C. is the conqueror of indigestion, and the best dyspepsia cure on the market.

Prospects now indicate a large amount of building next summer in Wolfville. Quite a number of persons are contemplating building and some have made positive arrangements.

The preliminary examination in the Bridgetown poisoning case is still going on. It now looks as though no evidence would be secured to place Mrs. Cameron on her trial. Interest in the case is flagging and it is probable it may end in a fizzle after all.

Miss Glicks intends holding a reception at the residence of Mrs. Quinn, on Thursday evening next, where she has secured rooms in view of starting a class in dancing. This lady has classes at both Windsor and Kentville and has secured a large list of pupils here.

St. John it seems has the honor of having the largest sheet of plate glass in America. On Saturday Messrs. W. H. Thorne & Co. successfully placed in Messrs. Macaulay, Bros. & Co's. new store on King street, a plate glass which measured 109 square feet. This is said to be the largest sheet of glass ever brought across the ocean. It is so big it had to be carried on the deck of the steamer. It is a very fine sheet of glass.

The Kentville Chronicle publishes a note from K. Sutherland, manager of the Windsor & Annapolis Railway Company, contradicting the report that the Company intended putting a line of steamers on the route between Annapolis and Boston next summer and also the probability of the Company becoming part of the plant system with steam connections at Halifax and Annapolis or Yarmouth. Mr. Sutherland quotes a cable from London, to the effect that the rumor was "ridiculous," and requesting him to contradict it officially.

The indications are that there will be an abundant supply of maple sugar this spring. Within a few weeks the maple trees will be tapped and the sugar makers will be out in full force. It is well known to those who have engaged in that business that a good season always follows a winter that furnishes an abundance of cold weather. The maple sap is always sweeter after a period of intense frost, and furnishes a larger percentage of sugar. Not only that, but the trees yield a larger quantity of sap after a cold winter than they do after a winter that has frequent thaws and warm weather.

News reached Wolfville on Tuesday evening of the sudden death of Miss Jennie Chase, daughter of Mr. Edward Chase, of this place, at Halifax. Miss Chase had been undergoing a surgical operation at the Halifax Infirmary, and had written to her parents only the day before stating that she expected to be home some time during the week. The cause of death is supposed to have been heart failure, probably caused by the severe strain of the operation. The deceased had many warm friends among the young people of Wolfville. To the afflicted family the ACADIAN extends heartfelt sympathy.

America's Popular Home Monthly, "Woman's Work," Free.

We desire the correct address of every intelligent housewife. We would like to arrange with one person in each town to compile a list of such names for us. For this service we will give a year's subscription to Woman's Work for each thousand inhabitants, according to last census. If your town has a population of 2,000, a list of names for it will entitle you to receive Woman's Work for two years, or will entitle yourself and some friend to receive it one year each. If your town has 5,000 inhabitants you will be entitled to receive Woman's Work for five years, or yourself and four friends to receive it for one year each. Never a better chance to make presents. We have special blanks prepared for this work, and these must be used in every case. They will be sent, with two sample copies of Woman's Work, on receipt of ten cents in stamps. We can arrange with only one person in each town or city, and first applicants will always have preference.

Address at once, Woman's Work, Athens, Georgia. When the stomach is out of order and the nerves unstrung, use K. D. C.

The worst disease—Dyspepsia. The best cure—K. D. C. Send for a Free Sample to K. D. C. Company, Ltd., New Glasgow, N. S., Canada, or 127 State St., Boston, Mass.

TEA. COFFEE. COCOA.

If you wish a delicious cup of either call or telephone for the popular brands we handle.

TEA: Empire Blend, No. 1. 40c.

COFFEE: Mocha and Java Blend, 40c. Ground to order.

COCOA: Bessdorp's and Mott's, in halves & quarters.

Can sell you cheaper goods if wanted.

PURE JERSEY BUTTER. NEW DATES & PRUNES. FRESH COCOANUTS. FRESH LOBSTERS.

Peptonized Ale and Beef, Malto-Kep-Porter,—2 gross just received.

Flour. Meal. Feed. (We carry heavy stock.) Prices Very Low for Cash.

WE SELL China! Glassware! Earthenware! Fancy Goods!

Bring us Eggs, Butter, Tallow, Dried Apples, Beans, Oats, Etc.

PRAT & COLLINS. Wolfville, Feb. 1st, 1893.

CORRESPONDENCE.

That Snow Plow.

DEAR ACADIAN,—Permit me to use a small portion of your space to make a few observations concerning our snow-plow service. In the early part of the winter a sufficient sum was subscribed by the citizens of Wolfville to provide for the removal of snow from our sidewalks during the winter. The amount was, I think, $10 or $18. This was placed in the hands of the commissioners of streets, and it was expected that no further difficulty in this matter would be experienced. So much for our expectations. What do we find in actual experience? As near as I can remember the plow has so far only been out three times, and then after 3 o'clock in the afternoon after pedestrians had waded through snow all day. On Tuesday the plow did not get out until 4 o'clock, and then only a portion of the sidewalks were cleared leaving a large number of people to still wade through the deep snow. To fulfil the object for which it was intended the plow should be out early in the morning, so as to clear the sidewalks in time for the ladies and children attending our schools and other institutions. Under the present system the money might have been thrown away. It appears to me we need incorporation if it will place the conducting of our affairs in the hands of people who will be more considerate of the wishes and needs of the people. CITIZEN.

The Greatest Cure of the Age for Indigestion is K. D. C. Have you tried it?

Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association.

A special meeting of the association will be held in Wolfville on Tuesday, Feb. 21st, at 2 o'clock, to receive the report of the committee appointed to consider "Ways and Means for the Establishment of a Horticultural Experimental Station in the Annapolis Valley," and to take such further action as may be deemed advisable. A full attendance is earnestly requested. By order, S. C. PARKER, Sec'y.

Berwick, Feb. 13th, 1893.

Lecture.

Rev. A. Robertson, of New Glasgow, will lecture in College Hall on Friday evening, Feb. 17th, subject: "Biblical and Historical Evidence of the Deliverance of our Ancestors from the Slaves of Egypt." Mr. Robertson has delivered his very interesting lecture most acceptably before many large maritime province audiences. Do not fail to hear him. Admission, 15 cents. Lecture will commence at 8 o'clock.

Palpitation is one form of indigestion. K. D. C. cures indigestion.

Death of Mark Curry.

The death is announced at Windsor of Mark Curry, one of the leading and most public spirited citizens of that town. He was one of the founders of the Windsor furniture factory, and also of the Windsor cotton factory. Mr. Curry was a prominent Baptist, and a few years ago endowed the "Mark Curry chair" at Acadia College.

HAWKER'S LIVER PILLS, contain no mercury, are purely vegetable, safe, sure and effective. Do not grip, small, easy to take. Sold everywhere.

Born.

BELCHER.—At Upper Dike Village, Feb. 12th, to Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Belcher, a son.

Married.

BEALER—KILGUP.—At Dorchester, Mass., Jan. 25th, by Rev. W. J. Swaffield, James S. Bealer, of Highlandville, and Miss Minnie, youngest daughter of the late Nathan Kilgup, Woodville, Cornwallis.

Died.

CHASE.—At Halifax, Feb. 14th, of heart failure, Jennie, daughter of Edward Chase, of Wolfville, aged 32 years.

10 PER CENT. 15 PER CENT.

DISCOUNT CASH SALE!

—AT THE— Glasgow House

10 PER CENT. Dress Goods, Silks, Velvets, Ribbons, Hosiery and Gloves, Ladies' White Underwear, Carpets, Oilcloths and Rugs.

NO EXCEPTION.

White Cottons, Gray Cottons, Tickings, Sheetings, Tennis Flannels and Flannellets.

Gents' Furnishings, Pantings, Overcoatings, Shirts, Underwear and Gloves.

15 PER CENT. Fur Mantles, Capes, Collars and Muff, Cloth Jackets and Cloaks.

CLOTHING.

Men's, Youths' and Boys' Suits, Reefers and Overcoats.

ALL GOODS MARKED IN PLAIN FIGURES.

COUNTRY PRODUCE TAKEN.

O. D. HARRIS, Main Street, Wolfville.

TELEPHONE NO. 25.

Try our "TAMILKANDE" TEA.

OUR XMAS STOCK IS COMPLETE!

50 Boxes Val. Raisins / 25 Boxes L. L. Raisins! 5 Barrels Oranges! 5 Barrels Xmas Mixture Candy! Bananas! Lemons! Figs! Dates! and Nuts!

Our Stock is All Right! Our Prices are All Right! If they are not we will make them Right!

Ladies' and Gents' Fancy Caps and Muffs. A good Gilt Cup and Saucer for 10 Cents.

Come in anyway and if we can't sell to you we will give to you (almost). I have a lot more to tell you that I can't think of just now, but be sure and call and I will tell you all about it. We have a fine store—best in town and in fact—at No. 124 Main St.

Fred. J. Porter. Wolfville, Dec. 16th, 1892.

WM. WALLACE, MERCHANT TAILOR.

WOLFVILLE, N. S.

BEGGS to inform the people of Wolfville and King's County generally that he is still doing business at his old stand and will be pleased to receive their patronage. He has on hand a good stock of Cloths and Trimmings of every description, which will be made up in best style and at fair prices.

Also, he is prepared to make Ladies' Sacks in the latest styles and guarantee them right. He guarantees as good a fit as can be had in the Province. Thanking the public for past favors, and bespeaking a future share of patronage.

William Wallace. Wolfville, Dec. 1st, 1892.

Crandall's Clothing Emporium, WINDSOR, N. S.

IS THE PLACE where perfect satisfaction is given or money refunded. Full lines of SCOTCH, ENGLISH and CANADIAN GOODS in stock. Samples of stock can be seen at American House, the first Saturday in every month, or when required.

NOBLE CRANDALL, 34 GERRISH ST., WINDSOR, N. S.

JUST RECEIVED AT THE STORE! WOLFVILLE

Writing, Note Books, &c.

any Pictures to be Framed bring them as

ROCKWELL & CO.

T. A. MUNRO, MERCHANT TAILOR.

A FULL LINE OF CLOTHS! FOR FALL AND WINTER WEAR! AT LOWEST PRICES! WOLFVILLE, N. S.

FEBRUARY.

Bargain Counters —AND— Big Discount Sale!

—AT—

BURPEE WITTER'S.

Preparatory to stock-taking I have loaded my counters and tables with goods from every department, which will be sold off at

BARGAIN PRICES.

Blankets, Blanketings, Mantles, Ulsters, Wool Shawls, Clouds, and a lot of Wool Dress Goods at 20 per cent. Discount.

A Lot of Men's Top Shirts and Underwear will be sold at cost.

A Lot of Men's and Boys' Hats and Caps at half price.

A Lot of Corsets at half price.

A Lot of Children's Suits in sizes from 23 to 27 at cost.

A Lot of Linen Collars and Cuffs, Neckties and Hosiery at 25 per cent. discount.

Bargains in all kinds of REMNANTS for one month only.

Burpee Witter. Wolfville, February 1st, 1893.

CLEARANCE SALE!

--AT--

CALDWELL'S

ALL GOODS!

On Counter in Centre of Shop

REDUCED

IN PRICE!

ROCKWELL & CO.

The Number of the Stars.

When one looks up at the "starry" canopy of blue...

Such, however, is not the case. Bring the eye to bear upon a certain section of the sky...

You will not count more than half a thousand before you will find out that you have covered a goodly part of the visible firmament...

A rare atmosphere may add a thousand to this number, but a slight haze is more likely to reduce the visible number...

With an opera glass or a cheap telescope the number may be increased to 30,000, while with a large sized instrument like that of Lord Rose...

The variance in the number to be seen with the naked eye, the opera glass, and the more perfect astronomical instrument...

There are only 20 of the entire lot known as stars of the first magnitude; 35 as second magnitude stars, 130 as third, 327 as fourth, 959 of the fifth, 4,400 of the sixth and about 14,000 of the seventh magnitude.

The Uses of Cranberries.

JELLED CRANBERRIES.—Cook one quart of cranberries until they are soft. Add one full pint of sugar and cook until the juice thickens.

BAKED CRANBERRIES.—In an earthen dish put four cups of cranberries and cover them with water.

CRANBERRY PUDDING.—One pint of flour, two tablespoons of baking powder and a little salt mixed thoroughly together.

CRANBERRY PIE.—One pint of chopped cranberries, one and one-half cups of sugar, one-half cup of molasses, one-half cup of water, one tablespoonful of flour.

PRIZE CRANBERRY PIE.—One and one-half cups of cranberries and one-half cup of raisins chopped (chop both the cranberries and raisins), one cup of sugar.

Traits of the Newspaper Boy.

The newspaper boy is fond of work—that is to say, he loves to sit and see it accumulate. He loves to contemplate work in the abstract.

The Great Atlantic Liners.

St. Jacob's Oil.—In fact, no London or Liverpool oil is so good as that which is sold in this country.

Wrought iron weighs 480 pounds per cubic foot; steel 489; yet if a cubic foot of either were dropped on the toes, the difference in weight would be hardly perceptible.

Glasgow landlord.—"When ye gae outside, Jock, ye'll see twa calas. Tak' the first yin, for the other yin's no there. Guild nich."

Grace.—"Has Lord De Vold paid you any attention?" "Rosalie: "No; papa says he never paid a thing in his life."

It is going to cost $37,444,161.68 to

THE WHITE RIBBON.

"For God and Home and Native Land."

Continued by the Ladies of the W. C. T. U.

President—Mrs J. F. Telfer. Vice-Pres.—Mrs D. F. Higgins, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Charles H. Borden.

Literature—Mrs Greenland. Working Dep.—Mrs Chas. Borden. Evangelistic Work—Mrs Geo. Fitch.

Narcotics—Mrs Geo. W. Munro. Social Party—Mrs I. B. Oakes. Benevolent Work—Mrs A. Johnson.

Next meeting in Temperance Hall Thursday, March 23, at 3.30 p. m. The meetings are always open to any who wish to become members.

Gospel Temperance meetings, conducted by members of the W. C. T. U., are held every Sunday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock, in the vestry of the Methodist church.

The Drunkard's Bargain.

"There's my money, give me a drink! There's the clothing and food and fire of my wife and children—give me a drink!

There's the education of the family and the peace of the house—give me a drink! There's the rent I have to be paid from the pocket of my wife—give me a drink!

There's my health and the health of my wife and children—give me a drink! There's my character as a man and my character as a Christian; I give up all—give me a drink!

There's my heavenly inheritance and the eternal friendship of the redeemed; there, there is all hope of salvation! I give up my God! I give up all that is great and good and glorious in the universe! I resign all forever that I may be drunk!"

What It Will Do.

The use of intoxicating liquor as a beverage tends to strain domestic relationships, dulls the edge of affection, develops selfishness, leads to blindness to the ignoring of the rights of partner or children, tends to set up the wine cup as the rival of husband or wife, makes it likely that the saloon have much of the presence of the one whose presence should yield sociality, happiness, and a healthful influence upon the other members of the home.

It dulls the brain, deadens the nobler aspirations, wastes the time and waste things that the ability to increase knowledge, needed whereby fortune, health, and happiness are secured.

It impudently, it induces for that affectionate, religious thought and planning for their good, comfort, welfare that should be exercised; it tends to deprave the moral character and thus to a greater or lesser extent ensure the deteriorative influencing of those who should be dearer; it depletes those financial resources so needed drawing upon for the varied benefitting of the household; it tends to exclude entertaining, elevating, educative books, pictures, music, etc.; it darkens the prospects of the higher interests of the soul.

Six Grave Diggers.

"Henry Mueller, a pious German, who lived two hundred years ago, used to say: "When I look upon the youth of our day I see six grave diggers. The first is called 'Drunkenness.' How many kill themselves with excessive drink!"

The second is called 'Lust.' How many have thereby hastened to death! Is it not true that all that is exposed to fire is ultimately consumed? The third is called 'Wrath.' Strife, jealousy and anger shorten life, and Paul in Galatians places next to each other wrath, strife and murder. Wrath brings on strife, strife is often the cause of murder.

The fourth is called 'Disobedience to parents.' We know what a blessing the fourth commandment proclaims. He who does not keep it will feel its curse. Dry wood which cannot burn must break. The fifth one is called 'Bad Company.' How many thereby have lost life and soul eternally! Tie a corpse to a living body, and although the living body cannot bring the dead body back to life, yet the contaminating odor of the corpse will ultimately kill the living. The sixth and last is called 'Idleness.' The man who does not use his talents, but who kills a more use than a dead body, when a time will not bear any more, will be put down and thrown into the grave.

C. C. RICHARDS & Co. I have used your MINARD'S Liniment in my family for a number of years for various cases of sickness, and more particularly in a severe attack of grippe which I contracted last winter. I firmly believe that it was the means of saving my life.

C. I. LAQUE. I have used your MINARD'S Liniment in my family for a number of years for various cases of sickness, and more particularly in a severe attack of grippe which I contracted last winter. I firmly believe that it was the means of saving my life.

A little ill-feeling may grow into a large shadow the whole house. Many a woman must look back with regret on the hasty word or the cold reproach, which was the entering wedge that split a household in two, and yet how few make a point of uttering the soft word that turneth away wrath!

Glasgow landlord.—"When ye gae outside, Jock, ye'll see twa calas. Tak' the first yin, for the other yin's no there. Guild nich."

Grace.—"Has Lord De Vold paid you any attention?" "Rosalie: "No; papa says he never paid a thing in his life."

It is going to cost $37,444,161.68 to

Scraps for Odd Moments.

Golfed Tea cures sick-headache.

It do seem a little odd that a good "rusty" grocer rarely succeeds.

Minard's Liniment is the best.

The man who never looks back in this world frequently sits on a tack.

Minard's Liniment cures la grippe.

Skaters are out again in force, and many of them are tumbling to the fact.

Minard's Liniment for Rheumatism.

One person with a chronic case of vanity sometimes gives the disease to an entire town.

Golfed Tea is sold by all druggists.

Men most liberal in their views give their opinions away freely before they are asked.

Minard's Liniment is the Hair Restorer.

"Mamma," asked little Johnny, "if I see a level thermometer, would I die by degrees?"

USE SKODA'S DISCOVERY, the Great Blood, and Nerve Remedy.

When a person considers himself as "one in a thousand" he naturally regards the others as eiphers.

Backingham's Dye for the Whiskers can be applied when at home, and is universally successful in coloring a brown or black. Hence its great popularity.

Johnny: "What is hereby, papa?" Papa: "A means of getting plenty of cheap advertising, my boy."

If you do not know how good a remedy Golfed Tea really is for constipation and sick headache, send a postal card to D. Dunsmore & Co. 317 Church Street, Toronto, for a free trial package.

There are symptoms of a hope in Chicago that the footpads and the police will succeed in wiping each other out.

HAWKER'S Balsam of Tolu and Wild Cherry is the safest, surest and best known remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and All Throat and Lung Troubles. The Children's Favorite. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.

An Irish magistrate asked a prisoner if he was married. "No," replied the man. "Then," said his worship, amid peals of laughter, "it is a good thing for your wife!"

There is no claim made for Ayer's Sarsaparilla which cannot be endorsed by scores of testimonials. This fact plainly proves that the blood is the source of most disorders and that Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best of blood-purifiers. Try it this month.

Husband—"What in creation is that baby crying for?" Wife—"Nothing at all. He simply wants me to help him myself looking after him. I'm going to name him after you."

Don't waste time, money, and health. Trying every new medicine you may see advertised in the papers. If the cause of your trouble is in the blood, liver, stomach, or kidneys, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla at once, and be sure of a cure. Take no other.

The Judge—"You've been before this court several times before, haven't you?" Thirty Theodore—"Eight times." The Judge—"Well, how do you find it?" Thirty Theodore—"Rather trying."

"I made $10 this morning, pa." "That's right my son. I'm glad to see you recognize the advisability of being independent of parental assistance. How did you make it, my boy?" "Borrowed it from ma."

As a cure for cold in the head and catarrh of the nose, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is endorsed by prominent men everywhere. D. Derbyshire, President of the Ontario Creamery Association, says: "Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application." Sold by dealers or sent by mail on receipt of price—50c, and $1 a bottle. Fullford & Co., Brockville, Ont.

A thief caught coming out of a store on the wharf the other night with three sheepskins under his arm, in reply to questions as to what he was doing, said he "went in for free wool." The policeman, however, was on hand for protection.

Curlew—"Mamma, here comes the train boy; now won't you buy me some mixed candy?" Mamma—"You said that if I would take you on the cars you wouldn't ask for any mixed candy." Curlew—"Then get me some that isn't mixed."

C. C. RICHARDS & Co. I have used your MINARD'S Liniment in my family for a number of years for various cases of sickness, and more particularly in a severe attack of grippe which I contracted last winter. I firmly believe that it was the means of saving my life.

C. I. LAQUE. I have used your MINARD'S Liniment in my family for a number of years for various cases of sickness, and more particularly in a severe attack of grippe which I contracted last winter. I firmly believe that it was the means of saving my life.

A little ill-feeling may grow into a large shadow the whole house. Many a woman must look back with regret on the hasty word or the cold reproach, which was the entering wedge that split a household in two, and yet how few make a point of uttering the soft word that turneth away wrath!

Glasgow landlord.—"When ye gae outside, Jock, ye'll see twa calas. Tak' the first yin, for the other yin's no there. Guild nich."

Grace.—"Has Lord De Vold paid you any attention?" "Rosalie: "No; papa says he never paid a thing in his life."

It is going to cost $37,444,161.68 to

A PRIZE PORTRAIT PUZZLE.

Find The Grandmother.

The young lady in the above cut has a grandmother whose picture is combined in the above portrait. If you can find the grandmother in the above portrait you may receive a reward which will pay you many times over for your trouble.

The Proprietors of the Ladies' Home Monthly offer either a first-class up-to-date Piano or cheque for $100.00 to the person who can first find the grandmother.

A reward of a pair of Diamond Earrings to the second person who can find the grandmother. A complete Diamond Earrings set to the third person who can find the grandmother. A Gold Watch to the fourth person who can find the grandmother.

Each Contestant must cut out the Portrait, Puzzle and make a cross with a lead pencil or ink on the grandmother's eye and mouth.

Everyone sending an answer must enclose with the same Ten three-cent stamps for 30 cents in silver for three months' subscription to the Ladies' Home Monthly, Canada's most popular journal. The date of post-mark on letters is given precedence, so that persons living at a distance have just as good an opportunity of securing a valuable prize.

For the person who can find the grandmother that is received last is offered a special prize of $100.00. For the next to the last will be given a $50.00 prize. For the third, fourth, fifth and sixth from the last received with correct answers will receive each a $25.00 prize.

If there should be as many as two hundred persons sending correct answers, each will be awarded with a valuable prize. Names of those receiving leading prizes will be published in our next issue. Extra premiums will be offered to all who are willing to assist in increasing the subscription list of this popular journal. The object in offering this Prize Puzzle is to attract attention and to introduce our publication. Perfect impartiality is guaranteed in giving the rewards.

The following names are winners of the leading prizes in our last PRIZE PUZZLE: E. B. Shipley, 17 Elm St., Toronto, Piano; Miss Bancroft, 161 Leinster St., Toronto, Bicycle; Miss Burns, Ripley, Ont., Bed-room Set; Gladys McEwen, 25 Henry St., Toronto, Gold Watch; L. B. Southam, 81 Maple St., London, Ont., Gold Watch; Mrs. J. S. McAdam, 42 Bank St., Ottawa, Ont., $10 in Gold; M. Hamilton, 800 N. Y. Life Bld., Kansas City, Mo., $10 in Gold; Emily Eiley & Alexander St., E. Windsor, Mass., Banquet Lamp; Jean Taylor, 104 Mackay St., Ottawa, Ont., Banquet Lamp; John Armour, 135 Main St., W. Hamilton, Ont., Banquet Lamp; W. E. Gilroy, Mount Forest, Ont., Banquet Lamp; J. L. Forst, 310 Visitation St., Montreal, Que., Banquet Lamp; W. E. Ramsay, 20 Bathurst St., Toronto, Ont., Banquet Lamp; Florence White, 145 Scott St., Quebec City, Banquet Lamp; Mrs. L. E. Thompson, 69 St. Louis St., Levis, Que., Banquet Lamp; 20 Bathurst St., Toronto, Ont., Banquet Lamp; Mrs. G. Cunningham, 44 Cameron St., St. John, N. B., Banquet Lamp.

Answer to cut, and enclose 30 cents and you may win one of the leading prizes. Address, (D) LADIES' HOME MONTHLY, 192 King St. West, Toronto, Canada.

Established 1868. Telephone 738.

MILLER BROS.

CALL AND SEE OUR STOCK!

IMPORTERS & DEALERS FOR THE BEST CANADIAN & AMERICAN

Pianos, Organs,

AND SEWING MACHINES.

Pianos and Organs Tuned and Repaired! Sewing Machines Repaired!

We buy direct in large quantities for cash, and are able to give large discounts. PIANOS SOLD ON THE INSTALLMENT PLAN.

116 & 118 Granville St., Halifax, N. S.

Four Diplomas taken on Stock shown at late Provincial Exhibition.

Photo. Studio.

--Lewis Rice, of Windsor,--

—HAS OPENED A—

Branch Gallery at Wolfville

Rooms open first Monday of each month, to remain one week: Jan. 3d till 7th; Feb. 6th till 11th.

NEW ROOMS PATRIQUIN BUILDING, WOLFVILLE, N. S.

NOTICE TO HORSEMEN.

We have leased the Blacksmith Shop formerly occupied by I. J. Brown, and will do General Work in our line.

Our intention is to make a specialty of Horse Shoeing. All we ask is a trial, and if we don't suit you, don't call again.

GEORGE WOOD, Wolfville, Nov. 25th, 1892. 3m

WANTED AGENTS, local and all Ontario.

Travelling, at once, to sell Orange Juice, Biscuits, Treas and Fruits. Experience unnecessary. Salary and Expenses paid weekly. Permanent positions. No security required. Must furnish references as to good character.

CHARLES H. CHASE, Rochester, N. Y. Mention this Paper.

FOR MEN

DOCK BLOOD PURIFIER.

Victory after victory is the record of Dock Blood Purifier, which never fails to do good. Head what Mrs. Outhouse says about it.

From MRS HENRY OUTHOUSE, TIVERTON, N. S.

About three years ago I was sick with consumption, which was brought on by a heavy cold. I employed a doctor who advised me to use emulsions. I did so but they did me no good. I was growing weaker fast—my cough was very bad—with little sweats; in fact my parents had given me up as a lost case.

I was very poor a friend advised me to use Dr Norton's Dock Blood Purifier. I got six bottles, the use of which soon gave me a craving for food. Soon my cough was better and I began to gain in strength. I used twelve bottles of the medicine by that time had gained forty-four pounds in flesh with good health. Have had no symptoms of any lung trouble since and believe that Dr Norton's Dock Blood Purifier saved my life.

Wanted Agents, local and all Ontario. Travelling, at once, to sell Orange Juice, Biscuits, Treas and Fruits. Experience unnecessary. Salary and Expenses paid weekly. Permanent positions. No security required. Must furnish references as to good character.

CHARLES H. CHASE, Rochester, N. Y. Mention this Paper.

WOODHILLS GERMAN BAKING POWDER

SHIRTS, COLLARS, CUFFS.

And all kinds of Laundry Work to look like new. Also all kinds of Ladies' and Gentlemen's Wear

Dyed and Cleaned.

Satisfaction Guaranteed! IN ALL CASES

For prices and further particulars apply to our agents,

ROCKWELL & CO., WOLFVILLE BOOKSTORE.

UNGAR'S STEAM LAUNDRY,

62 & 64 GRANVILLE ST., Halifax, N. S.

1892. THE 1892.

Yarmouth Steamship Co. (LIMITED)

1892. THE 1892.

Trains of the Cornwallis Valley Branch leave Kentville at 10.40 a. m. and 3.40 p. m., and on Saturdays an extra trip is made to connect with the evening express from Halifax, leaving Kentville at 6.50 p. m. for Canning and Kingsport.

Trains of the Nova Scotia Central Railway leave Middleton at 2.15 p. m., for Bridgewater and Lunenburg.

Trains of the Western Counties Railway leave Annapolis daily at 12.55 p. m., and on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 6.00 a. m.; leave Yarmouth daily at 11.0 a. m. and on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 1.45 p. m.

Steamers of the Yarmouth Steamship Line leave Yarmouth every Wednesday and Saturday p. m., for Boston.

Steamer "City of Monticello" leaves St. John Wednesday and Saturday for Digby and Annapolis; returning leaves Annapolis for Digby and St. John on same days.

Steamers of the International Line leave St. John every Thursday for Eastport, Portland and Boston.

Steamer "Winthrop" leaves St. John every alternate Friday at 10 a. m. for Eastport, Bar Harbor, and New York.

Trains of the Canadian Pacific Railway leave St. John at 6.25 a. m., daily, Sunday excepted, and 8.30 p. m. daily for Bangor, Portland and Boston, and for Montreal at 10.40 p. m. daily, Sunday excepted.

Through Tickets by the various routes on sale at all Stations.

W. R. CAMPBELL, General Manager and Secretary, K. SUTHERLAND, Resident Manager.

COAL!

IN STORE!

A FULL SUPPLY of Springhill Coal and Hard Coal; and to arrive at Kingsport per s.s. Blake, from New York, a cargo

"Lackawanna" HARD COAL.

Orders requested to be left with our agents, MESSRS PRATT & COLLINS.

J. W. & W. Y. Fullerton, Wolfville, Dec. 18th, 1891.

WANTED.

Agents to sell our choice and hardy Nursery Stock. We have many new special varieties, both in fruits and ornamentals to offer, which are controlled only by us. We pay commission or salary. Write us at once for terms, and secure your choice of territory.

MAY BROTHERS, Nurserymen, Rochester, N. Y.

Scientific American Agency for PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, DESIGN PATENTS, COPYRIGHTS, etc.

MUNN & CO., 311 BROADWAY, N. Y. Write to us for our free book, "How to Obtain a Patent." Every patent taken out by us is brought before the public by a notice given free of charge in the Scientific American.

Largest circulation of any scientific paper in the world. Scientific American, 311 Broadway, New York City.

FOR SALE.

A DESIRABLE HOUSE AND LOT, IN WOLFVILLE, Apply to Geo. H. Patriquin, Wolfville, Nov. 25th, 1892. [Jan 22

FRUIT TREES!

We offer a PLUM, PEAR, APPLE and other Fruit Trees, from the finest and largest stock in America. Planters should get our prices before placing their orders. We get our prices before placing their orders. We get our prices before placing their orders.

Niagara Nurseries, MOODY & SONS, Wolfville, N. S.

Seasoned Pine.

ON HAND, One hundred thousand feet Seasoned Pine.

J. W. & W. Y. FULLERTON, Port Williams, March 22d, 1892. 1f

W. & A. RAILWAY.

Thursday, Jan. 5, 1893.

GOING WEST.

Table with columns: Station, Exp. daily, Pass. daily, Excess daily.

GOING EAST.

Table with columns: Station, Exp. daily, Pass. daily, Excess daily.

*Tri-weekly between Annapolis and Kentville, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday; daily between Kentville and Halifax.

N. B. Trains are run on Eastern Standard Time. One hour added will give Halifax time. Trains run daily, Sunday excepted.

Trains of the Cornwallis Valley Branch leave Kentville at 10.40 a. m. and 3.40 p. m., and on Saturdays an extra trip is made to connect with the evening express from Halifax, leaving Kentville at 6.50 p. m. for Canning and Kingsport.

Trains of the Nova Scotia Central Railway leave Middleton at 2.15 p. m., for Bridgewater and Lunenburg.

Trains of the Western Counties Railway leave Annapolis daily at 12.55 p. m., and on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 6.00 a. m.; leave Yarmouth daily at 11.0 a. m. and on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 1.45 p. m.

Steamers of the Yarmouth Steamship Line leave Yarmouth every Wednesday and Saturday p. m., for Boston.

Steamer "City of Monticello" leaves St. John Wednesday and Saturday for Digby and Annapolis; returning leaves Annapolis for Digby and St. John on same days.

Steamers of the International Line leave St. John every Thursday for Eastport, Portland and Boston.

Steamer "Winthrop" leaves St. John every alternate Friday at 10 a. m. for Eastport, Bar Harbor, and New York.

Trains of the Canadian Pacific Railway leave St. John at 6.25 a. m., daily, Sunday excepted, and 8.30 p. m. daily for Bangor, Portland and Boston, and for Montreal at 10.40 p. m. daily, Sunday excepted.

Through Tickets by the various routes on sale at all Stations.

W. R. CAMPBELL, General Manager and Secretary, K. SUTHERLAND, Resident Manager.

COAL!

IN STORE!

A FULL SUPPLY of Springhill Coal and Hard Coal; and to arrive at Kingsport per s.s.