THE LATE GOVERNOR CHANDLER.

"In the midst of life we are in death." Death, though inexorable, is impartial. He lays his icy hand on the inmate of the palace, as he does upon the inhabitant of the thatched cottage. There is no freestone, however great its joy and happiness, but sometime has seen his grim shadow fall across its threshold. The voice of death is one that has always been heard, and so long as men are mortal must be heard calling us away to that "bourn whence no traveler returns." Death, however, is looked upon as an abstract subject, as a something not to be regarded as having a personal application at all. Yet sometimes we are startled by the tale told with bated breath, that a dear friend is dead! Our current pleasures are frozen by the chill announcement and we ask Can it be so? Why, 'last eve' beheld [him] full of lusty life, but a day or two ago I talked with him, but yesterday I supped at his table. And he is dead!

Some day, too, the messenger of evil tidings will tell the story of our dissolution; some time the angel of death will cast his shadow across our threshold, and eighty years from now there will be few indeed in the city of Fredericton, who breathe here to-day. The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power, And all that beauty, all that wealth ere gave; Awaik alike the inevitable hour. The paths of glory lead but to the grave.

No announcement could be more startling than that Governor Chandler was dying yesterday morning, for no one had heard of his illness. When a man lives to the full age of eighty, in the course of nature his lease of life may not be looked upon as much longer; yet to have seen his Honor, smart and well upon the streets but three days ago, and a day or two after to hear he was dying was quite startling.

The disease that carried his Honor off, the physicians say, was Bronchitis, caught the last evening he attended the Board of Education Meeting, in that miserable old building hardly weather tight. From the first his physicians gave him up, seeing the disease had taken a death hold on him. About noon yesterday he lapsed into unconsciousness. About his couch were gathered his relations and close friends, who saw him pass off without a struggle at 3.30.

His Honor Edward Barron Chandler was a son of Mr. Charles Chandler and grandson of Joshua Chandler of New Haven, Connecticut, a devoted loyalist. Joshua Chandler came to Nova Scotia with the rest of the Loyalists, but being a great sufferer by his devotion to his King, went to England to ask for compensation. Edward Barron Chandler, was born in Amherst, N. S., in 1800, in which town he was educated. He studied law with the late Judge Botsford, and at 21 was admitted Attorney. The following year he married Miss P. W. Millidge, daughter of Dr. Millidge, and niece of Judge Botsford. He earned an excellent reputation as an advocate, having a sound judgment and clear head; he was never boisterous but the earnestness and logic of his quiet reasoning, often had an effect with juries that more pretentious utterances could not produce. He served for many years as Judge of Probates and Clerk of the Peace for Westmorland, and entered the Legislature at the age of 25, where he was appointed till 1836; when he was retained Legislative Councillor, which position he retained till the resignation of Mr. Tilly in 1878.

Mr. Chandler was member of the Executive Council from 1844 to 1853, and from 1868 to 1869, when he became Commissioner of the Intercolonial Railway Scheme. Mr. Chandler was member of the most important delegations that left New Brunswick; he visited London to ask for a ratification of the vexed question of Casual and Territorial Revenue and with Sir Francis Hincks several years later on the Intercolonial Railway subject; went to Toronto with Joseph Howe, on the same subject; to Quebec on the question of Reciprocity, and to Charlottetown in 1864 as a member of the conference to promote the scheme of Confederation. In his political career he won the golden opinions of all with whom he came in contact, and he leaves a name that few politicians can boast of. In his official life he was affable and warm-hearted, and always strictly conscientious in his dealings. Taken all in all, Mr. Chandler was an exemplary man, and his life though not remarkable for great or brilliant events, is well worth the emulation of many of our public men. To Mrs. Chandler and the near relatives of His Honor we tender our most genuine sympathy in their deep and unexpected bereavement.

WHO IS TO BE OUR GOVERNOR?

The King is scarce dead, ere the people cry, Long live the King. While yet the body of our late lamented Lieutenant-Governor lies on its couch of death, applications for his lately vacated position have many hours since been despatched on their mission. In case of an appointment, rumor is always busy with the names of persons who may have never given the subject a moment's serious thought. The name of Mr R. D. Wilmot is first on the list for Mr Chandler's place, but there are many who insist that the honor is reserved for some gentleman nearer home. From time to time in connection with the Lieutenant-Governorship the names of two or more of our judges have come up. The name of Judge Fisher has been mentioned, but we should suppose never in seriousness by anybody who even pretended to know anything of what they were talking about. Chief Justice Allen's name has come up, but if we mistake not His Honor's nature, he is one who does not aspire for gubernatorial honors. We scarce believe he could be prevailed upon to accept, so peculiar is his indifference to honors, much less to make application for the position. And then beyond this, when Judge Allen was "a man of the outside world," his political belief did not set in the same quarter as that of those who now have the appointment of a Lieutenant-Governor. But we scarcely think with a gentleman of the estimable character of Judge Allen, and with the respect and esteem in which he is so deservedly held by all parties, this would prove a great obstacle.

The name of Judge Wetmore also has been in the public mouth, and of the two—considering Judge Allen and himself as the only ones considered in serious sense—we should regard him the most likely candidate. Judge Wetmore is yet a young man, and after enjoying the honors and nine thousand a year for five years he would be able for a half score years of active political duty. We fancy he has yet lost none of his cold, clear brilliancy or that scathing sarcasm, but like Judge Allen, he perhaps cares little for the further turmoil of politics and is content to remain the rest of his life a Judge with his handsome salary. And last but not least in the array of names comes Mr. Peter Mitchell. Were ten thousand names set down as applicants for the vacancy not one more worthy to fill it than Mr. Mitchell could be found, and unless as the poet says, the "Promotion goes by letter and preferment," we see small hopes for Mr. Wilmot; at least with Mr. Mitchell for a rival, we cannot see on what he could ground his hopes. We draw comparisons between these two men because we believe the issue settled down will be between them. 'Tis true, if Mr. Wilmot has become a little ungovernable on the hands of the party, the present moment may be seized as a fitting one in which to dispose of a troublesome supporter. But such a move would be one of selfish convenience, while the appointment of Mr. Mitchell would be a purely act of justice, popular in the party, and it would be little short of presumption in us to tell those who know so well, ought of Mr. Mitchell's career, for so long as the modern history of Canada finds a page, room for his name will be found upon it.

When the old McDonald government went out of power, Mr. now Sir Leonard, Tilly, the other New Brunswick minister was given the Governorship of the Province. The wheel has since gone round, and Mr. Tilly is on the top; it is now Mr. Mitchell's turn, as the other portfolio bearer to take the place not long vacated by Mr. Tilly. The feeling in the Province is decidedly in favor of Mr. Mitchell, if the issue is to be between himself and Mr. Wilmot,—indeed in any case.

The Militia and Battalion band are to escort the remains of the late Governor Chandler to the train. The escort will assemble at the Stone Barracks, at 11.30 a. m. sharp, and will leave Government House for the railway station at 1 p. m. Monday.

THE AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT AND ITS HEAD.

We should like to know upon what authority Mr. Julius Inches, Secretary of Agriculture, states that this Province last year raised 700,000 bushels of wheat? If Mr. Inches can only prove his usefulness as a figurehead of an illy constructed and wretchedly conducted department by making statements that no one, not even himself, believes, he had better stay home from the Agricultural Meetings altogether. It would have been just as sane an attempt for Mr. Inches to have given a statement of how many turkeys, or how many beans were raised in the Province as to try to get at the sum total of a straggling bit of wheat here and another bit there and none at all somewhere else. But we think with the money paid Mr. Julius L. Inches, and with the dependence the Government places in his administration, something more than these hap-hazard, if not grossly distorted statements would be in order. We are glad however to be able to announce that his career as Secretary, or rather as Czar of Agriculture is nearly at an end. He has grown to be useless in his position to every one except to himself, and to be expensive to the Province without anyone exchequer save his own being benefited by it. No Government could live and carry on its shoulders two or three such loads as the Agricultural Department and Mr. Czar Inches; for in doing so it would have to bear all the siss of the man whether sounded on the brazen tongues of Manchester bells, or through the crier's throat on the streets of Liverpool, as duly he owes to the country for his $600 a year.

Agriculture is destined to be the life giving, and wealth furnishing source of this Province: so that it behooves the Government to take it in hand at once and bring it under some responsible and trustworthy head. Nobody is satisfied with the present management, save Mr. Inches himself; but it is important to consider that it is in the interests of the Province, and not in the interests of Mr. Julius L. Inches, it is supposed to be sustained. Mr. Inches is not a safe person at the head of this department.

At the Golden Feet.

INTERESTING INTERVIEW WITH KING THEEBAU OF BURMAH—APPEARANCE OF THE LORD OF LAND AND SEA.

King Theebau has granted an interview to the manager of the Irrawaddy Flotilla Company and five other English gentlemen. At the palace the party were met by Chevalier Andreino, Italian Consul, acting on this occasion as interpreter, in conjunction with the Pangyet Woon, who speaks English, French and Italian. Having passed through the outer gates, they quickly arrived at the big flight of steps, on each side of which stand the two great gilded canons. Before ascending the steps they had to put off their shoes. The shoes being relinquished the party mounted the steps, made in the Burmese fashion, very low and very wide—too low to be comfortable in ascending one at a time, and too wide to allow of two stairs taken at once. The head of the stair-case and stretching under the gilded colonnade were ranged with the bayonets fixed upon the wall. One commenced the second trial. It is difficult to look about and see things, and at the same time avoid treading on the projecting through the plankings. The object of the visit is to view the peculiarly characteristic of the Burmese. It is for visitors to lower their eyes when in such near proximity to the ruler of Land and Sea. Having gone through this ordeal the workers at the Golden Feet were ushered into a side room, the floor of which was covered with a gigantic rug or carpet woven in one piece. There they were forthwith requested to sit down. Theebau came almost immediately. Before reclining upon the couch, however, he took off his own shoes, a circumstance which the party took to be a compliment to them. His Majesty lay, hurried glance at them and then asked their names, examining the floor six feet in front of him most searchingly. Having been duly informed, he expressed a hope that they had enjoyed the trip, and that his officials had been properly civil to them. He was assured that the atmosphere of his dominions was particularly pleasant and invigorating, and that the conduct of his officials, where he had been courtesy itself. Theebau then asked after the welfare of his good friend, the Chief Commissioner, and was also solicitous as to the good health of his dear brother in Calcutta, whom he hoped the British Government were treating in a manner becoming their rank. He then said that he was pleased that Mr. Swann was running his steamers, and he hoped he would not feel less profitable than in former times, and added that he should instruct his government to aid the captains as far as lay in its power. A few other questions and answers passed, politics being carefully avoided, and then Theebau suddenly vanished.

His Majesty having granted a private interview did not put on his Court robes, the long surcoat and turban, or crown. He was dressed in simple Burman fashion, with a yellow pant-soe, or kilie-like waistcloth, and a white linen jacket. Fixed into his "young," the top-knot into which the hair is tied was a magnificent spray of diamonds, and a sapphire ring, worth a monarch's ransom, gleamed on his finger. But otherwise the absence of all decorations—particularly of the Teakway, the Burmese order of knighthood—was specially noticeable. In personal appearance however, he has greatly fallen off. When he acceded to the throne, in October, a year ago, he was very handsome, the handsomest Burman in the country, it used to be said, with a bright black eye and smooth olive skin. Now his face is puffed and bloated, his eyes sunken and dead, his whole appearance unwholesome and repulsive. He seldom looks up, and when he does it is only to give a sidelong glance and then drop his eyes again. Altogether, for a young fellow of twenty-one, he is a satisfactory specimen of a "righting example" for temperance lecturers. Mr. Swann's party were astonished at the quiet and orderly appearance of the capital, and are almost persuaded to believe that Mandalay is a better place since the departure of the British representative. Trade in the royal city is much brisker than here, but there is a very good reason for that. The lottery craze is gone, and the troops had just received their month's pay.

WHO IS MRS WINSLOW?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say she is a lady, who for upwards of thirty years has devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children.

Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities are dispensed and used here.

It is a fact that Mrs Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed.

Lumber. Mr Jarvis and Bradford Howard have several large parties of men at work on the Allegash, a branch of the St. John. Their only disadvantage thus far has been in the distance they have to haul their lumber.

STAR BRIEFS. It is said there is a Smith born every 40 minutes. The public offices are closed, and the flags of the city are at half mast to do honor to Mr. Chandler.

The Landmarks of our Fathers and Modern Thought.

Lecture at Douglas by Rev. W. W. Brewer. Rev. W. W. Brewer lectured in Nashwaak Hall Thursday evening on the subject of "The Landmarks of our Fathers, and Modern Thought."

The discourse, which occupied about three-quarters of an hour in delivery, consisted in a masterly discussion upon the instincts of progress, his attitude towards the unknown, his attitude towards the supernatural and the miraculous and reduce all things to laws of materialism and physical force.

It was the instinct of the soul of man to struggle with mighty problems. Men of every class and all ages and in every strata of social advancement had sought the solution of these great questions, and in their endeavor to achieve it had constituted systems of religion and philosophy more or less absurd or horrid.

In the front rank of thinkers to-day were men of profound culture and unimpeachable character, men who represented neither the subtlety of Paine nor the vagaries of Bolingbroke. But it was a sad fact that the thought of Tyndall the scientist, that brilliant but somewhat cynical poet and essayist, Oliver Wendell Holmes, said:

"We cannot live to-day upon the beliefs of the past. Faith is a bankrupt, her accounts are under strict examination, to determine what assets remain to be distributed among the unproverished souls that are her creditors."

This is a specimen of the sublime egotism of a class of men who must know in their hearts that the religion of their fathers that protected the culture of the past and acted as an incentive to progress.

It was a sad sight to behold a generation of youths too conceited to shed a tear, and who sneering at the faith of our fathers declared that revealed religion would ere long take its place among the dismantled altars of fire-worship and fetishism.

At the regular meeting of this Lodge Friday evening, the following officers were installed for the present term by W. E. Johnston, Lodge Deputy: Geo. McFarlane, W. C. T.; Annie Bird, W. V. T.

During the fiscal year ending November last, the following cases were tried at the Fredericton Police Court: Violation of By-laws, 23; Violation of Liquor Law, 23; Violation of C. T. A. 8; Drunks and General Disturbances, 50; Assaults, 49; Abuse of Language, 24; Vagrancy, 13; Malicious Injuries to Property, 24; Larceny, 13; Obtaining Goods under False Pretences, 3; Keeping Disorderly Houses, 3; Violations of Municipal Law, 3; Disobedience of Subjunct, 1; Doing Business Without License, 6; Assaults on Policemen, 6; Desecrations of Sabbath, 6; Aggravated Assaults, 2; Forgery, 2; Stealing Apples, 5; Pound Breakers, 1; Destruction of Trees, 2; Violation of Game Laws, 2; Tramps in for Protection, 30; Total, 387. Of this number, 4 cases were sent to the County Court, and 6 to the Supreme Court, and the balance disposed of at Police Office.

Carling. Last evening's train brought the Fredericton Cutlers home from their trip to St. John. On Thursday afternoon the "Tribune" of that city in a game which was played on Feller's outside the city, met with an overwhelming defeat at the hands of the Fredericton boys, rinks and scores being as follows:

Fredericton, Thistles. [No 1] J D Hazen, R Ingham, E A Smith, H O Rutter, J B Grievess, skip-18. [No 2] D O C McGinnis, M C McLaughlan, J R Howie, G L Loggie, skip-27. [No 3] Gilmor Brown, J A Grievess, A Street, J S Neill, skip-21. [No 4] Fredericton 10 ahead. After the close of the match a grand spread awaited the "knights of the stone and broom" at the Park Hotel.

The match with the St. Andrew's Club yesterday morning resulted in a victory for the St. John men after a very close and exciting contest. The Fredericton men were under a very great disadvantage from having to play in a covered rink, but esteem it no disgrace to have been beaten by their worthy brethren in St. John.

ALEXANDER LODGE, I O G T. At the regular meeting of this Lodge Friday evening, the following officers were installed for the present term by W. E. Johnston, Lodge Deputy: Geo. McFarlane, W. C. T.; Annie Bird, W. V. T.; Thomas Tiley, W. Secretary; Annie Smith, W. Treasurer; George Bailey, W. Treasurer; John Johnston, W. Chaplain; George Hugh, W. Communications. To the Editor of the STAR. Sir,—Can you inform me who it is that has the management of the Gaol of this city, that is to say, whether it is Mr. Long or his wife? If it be the former let him attend to his own duty and let Mrs. Long keep as much as possible in her own apartment, looking after her domestic concerns. It seems hardly decent for a female to interfere in Gaol arrangements, and to be the friends of the prisoners from seeing and consulting on their private matters. It appears that Mr. Long is frequently absent from the Gaol and the sole responsibility rests with Mrs. Long. I would wish to enquire if it is right to combine the offices of Deputy Sheriff and Gaoler. My employer is at the present time confined for debt, and I cannot go on with my work without seeing him at least once within the twenty-four hours. I am refused admittance by Mrs. Long and the Sheriff for alleged impertinence to Mrs. Long. During the time was a prisoner awaiting trial, but one would think that a slight loss of temper might be overlooked, while a man knowing his own innocence, and whose innocence was subsequently confirmed by the Crown prosecutor, was suffering a long-stayed, un-merited detention. Now, has Mr. Long, by the instigation of his wife, the power to refuse me admission to advise my employer, my lawyer, and Mr. Editor will you kindly give me advice as to whom I should apply in this matter. Thanking you kindly for your patience and kindness in publishing this, I am, Yours, Gratefully, ALGER HERFORTH.

MISCELLANEOUS. The following is the text of the speech delivered by Her Majesty at the opening of Parliament, Thursday: My Lords and Gentlemen: It is with much satisfaction that I again resort to the advice of my Parliament. My relations with all the Powers continue friendly. The course of events since my prorogation tended to furnish additional security to the maintenance of European peace on the principles of the Treaty of Berlin. Much remains to be done to repair the disorder which the late war caused, in many parts of the Turkish empire. A convention for the suppression of the slave trade was concluded with the Sultan. At the close of last session I expressed a hope that the treaty of Gundamak terminated the war in Washington. My envoy, with a retinue, were honorably received and entertained by the Ameer at Cabul. While engaged, however, in their duties, the British envoys were treacherously attacked by overwhelming numbers, and after a heroic defence almost all were massacred. An outrage so intolerable called for energetic chastisement, and my troops, which were withdrawing, were ordered to return. The skill exhibited in the rapid march upon Cabul, and in the advances upon the other lines of action, reflects the highest credit upon them, whose bravery alone with wonderful lustre in every engagement. The abdication of the Ameer and the unsettled condition of the country render the recall of my troops impossible for the present, but the principle on which my Government hitherto acted remains unchanged, and while adhering to the frontiers of the Indian Empire strong, I desire to be in friendly relations alike with the ruler and people of Afghanistan.

My anticipations as to an early peace in South Africa have been fulfilled. The capture of the position of the Zulu King and the breaking up of the military organization on which his dynasty was based, relieved my possessions there from the danger which impeded their advancement and consolidation. In Basutoland a native outbreak of considerable importance has been effectually quelled by the Colonial forces. While Transvaal has been freed from depredations of a powerful chief, who, having successfully resisted the former government of the country, had persistently rejected attempts at conciliation. I have reason to hope that the time is approaching when an important advance may be made towards the establishment of a Union or Confederation under which the powers of self-government, enjoyed by the inhabitants of the Cape Colony, may be extended to my subjects in other parts of South Africa. Papers on these and other matters will be forthwith laid before you.

Gentlemen of the Commons: I have directed the estimates for this year to be prepared and laid before you with the least possible delay. My Lords and Gentlemen: The commission which I at the close of the session I informed you I had issued to inquire into the causes of the agricultural depression throughout the United Kingdom is pursuing its labors. Means are being taken to secure the usual crops in some parts of Ireland rendered necessary special proceedings on the part of my government to guard against the calamities with which those districts are afflicted. With this view they called upon the authorities charged with duty administering relief to make ample preparations for the distribution of food and fuel, should such a step become necessary, and they have also stimulated the employment of labor by advances on terms more liberal than those prescribed by the existing law. I feel assured you will give your sanction to the course adopted. They may have exceeded the power entrusted by Parliament to the Executive of the Government. A proposal will be submitted to you for providing the funds required for these objects, and for dealing with the property administered to the church temporalities commissioners.

LOCAL AND PROVINCIAL. A number of the citizens of St. Stephen, respectable and otherwise, have put their heads together for the establishment of a cotton factory in that little town. The preliminary arrangements were made at a meeting presided over by Judge Stevens, at which it was thought a mill would cost from $200,000 to $600,000; but the general sentiment of the meeting was that a mill with about $500,000 capital, with facilities for enlarging to a more ample in the meantime. Several gentlemen and others were delegated to prepare a prospectus, and to take steps for an act of incorporation. We wonder if the Legislature will not be generous enough to give the credit of this to the N. P. since it so generously attributes all the woe of the country to that policy!

Telegraphic News. GREAT BRITAIN. LONDON, Feb. 6. The debate on Home Rule amendments to the address began to-day. Mr. Shaw supported his amendment. Sir Stafford Northcote found fault with the Irish members for taking this early opportunity for drawing attention to an important matter, but distinctly denied that the Government allowed the matter to sleep. He then spoke of the condition of Ireland, the important decrease of the potato crop, etc., and mentioned a bill he would propose for the relief of the Government in consequence of the destruction of the old City Hall. CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED

IS A FACT ATTESTED BY THE HIGHEST MEDICAL AUTHORITIES IN THE WORLD.

A careful observation of the laws of health, and the systematic and persistent use of Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda will accomplish this result. This preparation has all the virtues of the two most valuable specifics, in a form perfectly palatable, and acceptable to the most delicate stomach, and we make the unusual statement that Scott's Emulsion is being used with better results and endorsed and prescribed by more physicians for Consumption—and the diseases leading to it, such as Chronic Coughs, Bronchitis, Scrophula, Anemia, General Debility and the Wasting Disorders of Children, than any other remedy known to medical science. The rapidity with which patients improve on this food medicine diet is truly marvellous.

See What Physicians and the People Say About It. Messrs. Scott & Bowne: 46 West Thirty-sixth Street, New York, September 18th, 1879.

Gentlemen,—I have frequently prescribed Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites during the past year, and regard it as a valuable preparation in scrophulous and consumptive cases, palatable and efficacious. Yours respectfully, A. H. SAXTON, M. D., Baltimore.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne:—Gentlemen,—Within the last year I have used in my own family, and in my private practice, your Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites, and found it a most valuable preparation, especially in diseases of children. It is agreeable to the most delicate stomach, which renders it a very reliable agent as a nutritive remedy in consumptive and scrophulous cases. Yours truly, C. C. LOCKWOOD, M. D., Oct. 13, 1879.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne:—Gentlemen,—Within the last two months I have fairly tried Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites, and I candidly declare that it is the finest preparation of the kind that has ever been put into the hands of the people. It is perfectly agreeable and elegant form. December 10th, 1879. Yours truly, J. SIMONAUD, M. D., New Orleans La.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne:—Gentlemen,—In September, 1877, my health began to fail and my physician pronounced it spinal trouble, under his care I got some relief from pain, but my general health did not improve, and early in the winter I began to lose blood and rapidly grew worse. In May last I was taken with a violent bleeding, which brought me to the verge of the grave, and my life was despaired of for many weeks. I was unable to sleep, night and morning, cough, night sweats and short breath, and a return of the spinal trouble. My physician stopped the bleeding and then ordered Cod Liver Oil and Lime, and I used various preparations, but they did me no good. I lost all hope of it, and was on the point of giving up. Last September I purchased a bottle of your Emulsion and before it was all taken I was better. I afterwards bought a dozen bottles, with the following results: Cough subsiding, night sweats stopped, appetite returned, pain in spine disappeared, strength returning, and my weight increased from 115 to 140 pounds in sixteen weeks. I have taken no other medicine since commencing with your Emulsion, and now I am well as usual. I am perfectly well. I frequently see some friend on the street who asks, "What cured you?" and I answer, "SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL, etc." I have a friend who has not spoken aloud for 15 months, and he is getting better. I gave him a bottle and he bought two more, then got a doctor, and says it is food and medicine for him. He was given up to die a year ago, but he is improving now wonderfully. My recovery is exciting the surprise of many people, and shall go all I can to make known your valuable medicine. Very truly yours H. F. SLOCUM, Lowell, Mass. January 20th, 1879.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne:—Gentlemen,—About the 25th of last April I got a bottle of your Emulsion and at that time I was so prostrated that no one who saw me thought I could live longer than a few weeks at most. I could retain nothing on my stomach and was literally starving. I commenced the use of the Emulsion in small doses; it was the first thing that would stay on my stomach. I continued its use, gradually increasing the quantity, and in ten days I commenced feeding, and now am able to ride and walk, and am gaining flesh and strength rapidly. I have advised other parties to try it, and some two or three have already tried it. I am sure I shall entirely recover. For sale by all Druggists @ $1.00 per bottle. R. W. HAMILTON, M. D. I am gratefully yours.
