THE TIME OF DELIVERANCE

MILLIONS NOW LIVING WILL NEVER DIE

For six thousand years the Human family has been in bondage—slavery to selfishness, superstition and death—the religion of this generation has suffered some on account of their own sins and many for the selfishness of others. There has been no escape but "Lift up your heads and rejoice for your redemption draweth near."
The signs of Christ's Kingdom are with us. "This generation shall not pass away till all be fulfilled."
Mr. O. E. Bown will deliver a lecture giving clear scriptural proof of these facts, under auspices

CHAPTER XVII.

They parted, but Fairfax hurried after him, and called from the steps of the club:

"Send me a wire of my chambers. I shall be in for several days; and don't delay, or the other side will spring a mine!"

Locksley nodded, and ordered his cab home.

"I am sure that Dora will agree!" he thought, "when I explain the danger of the situation. Poor little woman, what a crowd of anxieties all at once! What a brave little heart she must have!"

So engrossed was he by his thoughts both bitter and joyful, that the cabbie had to remind him twice that their destination was reached.

He paid the man, and turned into the reading-room.

"It's a duty I owe to my father," he said to himself, "to write to him, and let him know that the die is cast. He may relent when he sees that it is useless to longer hold out. And I will write to Lady Clare, Moncrieff, also. I am sorry that Dora does not like her, but she may grow to trust her in the future—as I do!"

After a few minutes' thought, he penned the following letters:

My Dear Father:—By the time that this reaches you, I shall probably be married to the woman I love better than anything else in the whole world. I cannot but regret with exceeding bitterness your harsh feelings toward me, but I sincerely hope that you will reconsider the one vexed question between us, and take me to your heart

To Lady Clare:—I shall at once adopt the kind and sensible advice that you offered to me, and Miss Dora Deena will to-morrow be Mrs. Dora Locksley! I am sure that I have your well wishes, and after the honeymoon you must visit us. If my dear father persists in ignoring me—even if he disinherits me (and though he has never let me into the secrets of his financial position, I am led to understand that he is a wealthy man) we shall not do so badly, for I have a thousand a year, and my profession.

Luckily, I have not led a useless life, and have lived on less than half my income, the result being upward of three thousand pounds to my credit at the bank. This will be a capital start in life.

Good-by, Clare, and believe me that I shall never forget your disinterested kindness to me, and to my wife-to-be, when we were in trouble. Sincerely yours,

EDMUND LOCKSLEY.

He sealed the letters, addressed them, and went out to post them in a letter-box.

In some way his thoughts reverted to Rogers' discovery, and he became uneasy about Dora.

Pompeian FOR BEAUTY

Gentlewomen

have come to the realization that beauty consists of more than just regular features—that their attractiveness is greatly enhanced by personality and charm.

That soft, delicate skin which is coveted by every woman is the result of the harmonious blending of cosmetics. The first essential is to select the correct shade of Powder and Rouge for your particular type of beauty.

Pompeian Beauty Powder is scientifically blended so that one of the four shades will perfectly match any complexion. Be sure to follow this simple rule irrespective of the color of your eyes or hair and you will be delighted with the effect: If your skin is medium use Naturelle; if olive, the Rachel; if "rose-tinted" Flesh; while the White should be used in the daytime only if your skin is absolutely white and lacks all color.

Ask also for Pompeian Fragrance (Toile), Pompeian Day Cream, Pompeian Night Cream and Pompeian Bloom (Rouge).

It was midnight, and the porter was barring the doors.

"Are you coming in, sir?" he asked, after waiting for a few minutes; "if not, ring the nightbell when you are ready."

"All right," replied Locksley.

The doors closed with a great clang and he stood alone in the almost deserted street.

"Confound it," he exclaimed, pettishly. "I am getting as nervous as an old woman. The feeling is all together new to me and I don't like it."

He walked backward and forward for a while, forgetful of the cold rain. Then, seeing a cab, he hailed the driver.

"Where to, sir? I don't want to go cityward now," the man said. "It's going-home time."

"Fulham!" shouted Locksley, desperately.

"Right," was the laconic rejoinder. Locksley jumped into the cab, muttering:

"I'll just look at the house. It would be absurd to alarm my darling at this time of night. Then I must trust to luck to get back. I am not particular."

When he reached Ladyville road, he dismissed the cab twenty doors away from No. 25, and walked through the quiet and dark street until he stood before Madam Bell's house.

Then, obeying some impulse that he could not resist, he rang the bell, and was surprised to find that some one was up.

The bolts were shot back, and the voice of Matilda cautiously asked:

"Who's there?"

"Mr. Locksley," Edmund replied. "I happened to be passing, and thought that I would just ask if you are all right here. It is perhaps rather foolish of me, and I do not want you to arouse either Miss Deene or your mistress, Matilda."

The girl gave a stifled shriek.

"What do you mean, sir?" she gasped, opening the door, "or are you trying to frighten the wits out of a poor girl?"

Locksley stared at her, then demanded, wildly:

"Miss Deene—Miss Deene! Is she safe and well?"

"Well enough; but about the safety I don't know, for she went away in a cab with a gentleman two hours since!"

CHAPTER XVIII.

The conduct of Edmund Locksley was inexplicable to his father. Three days elapsed, and there was no word or sign from him—three days of anxious torture.

"You are sure that you sent the telegram, Peters," he said, again and again, to his valet; "you are sure that you sent it to the address the viscount gave to you?"

"Yes, sir," replied the valet. "I sent it, as directed, to the Royal Arms Hotel, Raboon."

"And there is no reply," went on Mr. Locksley—"you are sure that you sent it to the address the viscount gave to you?"

"Yes, sir," replied the valet. "I sent it, as directed, to the Royal Arms Hotel, Raboon."

"And there is no reply," went on Mr. Locksley—"you have satisfied yourself upon that point?"

"Yes, sir; I have been to the post office myself, and made careful inquiries. I cannot understand why it has not been returned, though, if the young master is not there I don't believe that he has ever been there," he added, shortly.

Mr. Locksley glanced at him nervously.

"Peters," he said, his pale face flushing. "Do you know what your words imply? Do you know that you practically accuse Viscount Melville of some cruel deception?"

He had risen from his chair, and stood trembling before his valet, his hands clinched, his features twitching.

"Please sit down, sir," Peters said, alarmed. "Do not take any notice of my speech. You must not excite yourself. Remember the doctor's warning. He said that you were to remain in your room, and be kept quiet. There was no meaning in what I said."

"There was a meaning," Mr. Locksley replied. "And it will relieve me to hear it. It is this awful strain that is telling upon me, Peters; I am surrounded by treachery and intrigue."

He dropped on a lounge, muttering:

"But, no; how can it be? Have I not Lady Clare's own words that all is right? Did not Edmund accuse me? And yet, I cannot trust Melville—no, not even now, the power he holds over me has—

He shuddered, and Peters listened with all his ears.

"Master," he said, "you will pardon me for being inquisitive, but it is only prompted by my devotion to you. I am sure that the viscount is deceiving you. I am sure, because I saw a letter from Mr. Edmund to you put into the postbag. I could not be mistaken, because they were sorted before my eyes at the post office; but when the viscount distributed them this morning, there was nothing for you. Do you not see that he is keeping Mr. Edmund out of the way for some purpose of his own?"

Mr. Locksley's face grew livid, and he clutched at his heart.

"My medicine, Peters," he gasped.

"Thank you, I am better now. I must live to undo an awful wrong. I must struggle to free myself from that soundrel's influence, no matter what the cost to me. I am a coward in his presence. I feel that I have no mind, no will when he commands. I ought to have told Edmund—I ought to have confided in him; but it is a terrible thing to lose the love—the respect even, of one's only child—and I shrink from it for his sake, Heaven's! he added, vehemently.

"What have I done? Begged the son that I love even better than my hopes of forgiveness in the world to come."

"Dear master," Peters said soothingly. "Why will you not confide in me—just as much as you think fit, just enough to give me some strength to protect you?"

Locksley was startled for a moment; then he looked earnestly at the face of his old servant.

"You have been with me a long time, Peters," he observed.

"Fifteen years, sir. I met you in India. I was orderly to General Harsard, a friend of yours, who recommended me to you."

"Yes, yes," assented Locksley. "I remember."

"My old master is in London again, sir," went on Peters. "I saw his name in the Army Gazette."

"Ha! If you should ever see him," Mr. Locksley whispered, "if you

Earthquake Shocks Experienced in Massachusetts.—British Labor Members Report Conditions in Sofia.—England and Wales Clash in Soccer Final To-day.

MASSACHUSETTS HAS EARTH SHOCKS. Boston, Mass., April 24. Light earth tremors were reported from several points in southern Massachusetts. No damage reported.

EARLY MORNING SHOCK. Cambridge, Mass., April 24. Light earth shock was recorded today by the seismograph at MIT College. The time was given as 6:15 a.m. and the duration from ten to fifteen seconds.

MINERS RESCUED. Wallace, Idaho, April 24. Fourteen miners entrapped last night by fire in the lower workings of the mine at Burke, seven miles here, were rescued alive late today. The rescue crew which went into the mine found the entrapped miners using a pump which was in good order, but so successfully battled the flames that they had extinguished them.

MINERS MAKE ANOTHER APPEAL. Halifax, April 24. Contending that pacific methods of conducting industrial disputes are central in the struggle with the British Empire Steel Corporation, which has served to tie up the coal fields of Nova Scotia for the past seven weeks, and COMMUNIST SHOT. Sofia, April 24. A member of the secret committee of the Bulgarian Communist Party was shot and killed by the police today when he refused to surrender. Another store of arms has been found by police in the search of homes of suspected conspirators.

SCOTT'S PETITION FAILS. Springfield, Ill., April 24. The Illinois Supreme Court today denied the petition of Russell Scott, of Chicago, former Canadian promoter, the effect of which would be that he had languished after the ninety days' rule granted him by Governor Small when the Governor commutes sentences.

PROMINENT FINANCIER DEAD. Toronto, April 24. Sir Augustus Nanton, President of the Dominion Bank and a prominent Canadian financier, died at 8:30 this morning. He had been ill for some time.

WARD REPLIES TO BRITAIN'S CRITICS. Philadelphia, April 24. Criticism of British attitude towards United States rum running and liquor problems, and of her foreign policy as one of pure greed and selfishness were contradicted by Sir Esme Ward, British Ambassador to Washington, in an address here last night before the society of the Sons of St. George. Sir Esme said he had read of many criticisms which either implied or questioned English proceedings of disinterestedness, as a result of the British stand on the opium and liquor questions. He declared that no exception to the first criticism but he thought the second was too insidious to overlook. "I do not wish to enter into any controversy over the liquor smuggling," he stated, "but I may say there is no man with any sense of responsibility in England, who does not deplore the fact that there are vicious persons who abuse the British flag in order to violate the laws of this country with regard to this type of smuggling. Take it all round," he concluded, "I claim without hesitation that English rule the world over has stood not for oppression, not for greed, not for more power and force."

PAINLEVE GETS ANOTHER VOTE OF CONFIDENCE. Paris, April 24. The Chamber of Deputies voted confidence in the Government by 230 to 294 votes this afternoon, after being questioned on last night's communist ambush in Rue Demiermont.

PARIS, April 24. The French naval programme included in the 1925 Budget was voted today with only Communist opposition, the vote being 422 to 23. The naval programme calls for laying the keels this year of one light cruiser, three destroyers, four torpedo boats, seven first class submarines, nine submarine mine layers, one surface mine layer, one aviation mother ship. The programme from 1925 to 1929 calls for laying the keels of 75 naval units at a cost of 2,194,000 francs. Only forty million francs will come out of the 1925 Budget. The four year programme, which contemplates construction, authorized France under the Washington Naval Agreement of 1922, calls for four battle cruisers, fifteen destroyers, eighteen torpedo boats, two submarine cruisers, twenty-eight first class submarines and submarine layers, two mother ships for airplanes.

THE SITUATION IN SOFIA. London, April 24. The Herald, organ of the Labor Party, this morning prints a two-column statement, made by Josiah C. Wedgewood, W. MacKinder, and P. D. Malone, Members of Parliament, who were in Sofia at the time of the explosion of the bomb, and who subsequently made an investigation into the Bulgarian situation. Messrs. Wedgewood and Malone arrived in Belgrade Wednesday, from Sofia. Terror is now producing a series of reactions in Jugo Slavia, which are significant. The scarcely suppressed enmity between the two Governments appears to be on the point of open expression. The Governments of Jugo Slavia, Rumania, and Greece, have protested to the Council of Ambassadors in Paris against granting permission to Bulgaria to increase her army. Mr. MacKinder the statement adds, is still in Bulgaria acquiring first-hand knowledge and hoping for a promised visit to the dread Secret Service prison. If MacKinder leaves his bones in Sofia, it will be because he was not able to stand seeing unarmed men bludgeoned to death, the statement declares. Efforts of the United States and British Ministers to ameliorate the situation must be largely vain, for no Minister and no Government is any longer in control, but only officers of the League and gangs with rifles. One thousand are said to have passed through one police station the first night, and all night long lorry loads of condemned men passed out and were killed mostly outside the city.

WITHDRAWAL OF BRITISH FORCES FROM EGYPT BUREAUED. London, April 24. The Daily Mail says a proposal has been made to evacuate Cairo and concentrate the British Army in Egypt on the Suez Canal, probably at Al Kanira 23 miles south of Port Said, apparently with the idea of placating Egyptian susceptibilities. The newspaper adds that the proposal is causing dismay to those in the limited circles in Great Britain and Egypt, which are cognizant of the situation, as such step would mean abject surrender to the subversive elements and would have disastrous results on British prestige and trade throughout the East. Declaring Egypt would rapidly sink into chaos if the British Army were withdrawn, the Daily Mail predicts that some other power, probably Italy, soon would step into British shoes in Egypt.

ATLANTIC CAPTAINS UPHOLD THE COMMANDER OF HOMERIC. New York, April 24. Japan's Government, through its Consul General, is investigating circumstances of the Raifuku Maru disaster of Tuesday, in which 33 Japanese seamen lost their lives. Masters of trans-Atlantic liners came to the support of Captain John Roberts, of the Homeric, in the controversy started by the vessel's first class passengers, as to whether every possible effort had been made to save the Raifuku Maru's seamen. They were Captain A. J. Schmidt, of the Scandinavian-American liner Oscar II, and Captain Vincent Romano, of the Italian ship

Obtaining the moral support of the Dominion and Provincial Parliaments and public opinion generally, the United Mine Workers of America, District 28, to-night issued a further appeal for financial assistance in order to avoid the calamity coming upon a peaceful and suffering people. The appeal, addressed to Premier E. H. Armstrong, as the representative of the people, sets forth that the Corporation appears able to defy two Governments and the general public, and asks, "Is it natural that after seven weeks of complete cessation of work many should come to the conclusion that destruction of the Corporation's property is the only means to take to arouse it to reasonable action?" It was announced earlier in the week that strike pay from the International Union would be forthcoming, but the amount involved was not made known. Premier E. H. Armstrong stated to-night he had not received the appeal and knew of no new developments in the situation.

PRESTIGE AND TRADE THROUGHOUT THE EAST. Declaring Egypt would rapidly sink into chaos if the British Army were withdrawn, the Daily Mail predicts that some other power, probably Italy, soon would step into British shoes in Egypt.

Port au Port Notes

This bay is now completely free of ice and herring struck in here in abundance last week.

At a prize voting contest for the most popular priest in the diocese which took place in connection with a bazaar in aid of St. Michael's Convent, held at St. George's last week, the pastor of this parish, the Rev. J. M. Joy headed the poll with a large majority.

A concert, followed by a dance, held in the Parish Hall here on Easter Monday night, was greatly enjoyed by the large audience that was present. The programme, which was a well selected and generous one was faithfully carried out. Its musical numbers and recitations were very nicely rendered and its character sketches interpreted with a fidelity to detail that was remarkable. Although the last for the season of a series of similar events that contributed largely to the social enjoyment of the community during the winter, it was nevertheless a decided success in every way. The proceeds amounted to the sum of over $180.00.

The bustle incidental to the preparation for the cod fishery which has been going on here for the past few weeks is reminiscent of pre-war days when nearly every man of the port skipped his little boat in pursuit of the festive cod or pugnacious lobster and at the close of the voyage usually found himself possessed of a sufficiency of its produce to keep the wolf far afield for many months besides having a little something to put away in the "old gray sock" in case of unforeseen contingencies, a condition that he has been unable to achieve on the precarious wages of a daily labourer.

In the issue of the 28th ultimo of this paper, a correspondent signing himself "St. George's" parades a long list of public benefits and concessions granted to this section of St. George's district under the Morris Government and at the same time avails of the occasion to make a "swipe" at your Port au Port correspondent who, even at the risk of being dubbed by this mentor of public etiquette as "discourteous if not indecent in leveling such a charge at the district at large" dared to call public attention to the extent to which other sections of the district have benefited from the expenditure of public monies as compared with that of Port au Port. As it is not usual, however, to notice the attacks of those who shield themselves behind a non de plume in order to cast reflections upon the good faith of others, your Port au Port correspondent does not intend to depart from the observance of this general rule as far as the personal note in St. George's letter is concerned, but as it deals also with matters of public interest, it calls for some slight attention on that account. In his description of the serious handicap to which the people of Port au Port are subject owing to the want of a harbour and his report of the somewhat neglected condition of the place prior to the Morris Government coming into power, St. George's is critically correct, but he is certainly in error when he states that "it had no roads beyond those in the immediate vicinity of Port au Port and Campbell's Cove." Long before the Morris Government came into power, as early in fact as 1893 according to dates supplied by one who gave his week's free labour on the work, vehicular traffic between Clam Bank Cove and Port au Port on the one side and between Cape St. George on the other side of the peninsula twenty miles in each direction, was made possible by the voluntary help of the inhabitants of each section who gave over twelve hundred days of free labour in opening up these several miles of road and in the Cape St. St. George section of putting in a bridge of considerable dimensions, and as proof of the faithful work done by these pioneer roadmakers is still in evidence. In the following and subsequent years, the member for the district, G. T. Carby, Esq., secured from the Government of the day considerable allocations for the improvement and extension of these and other roads on the peninsula. It is freely admitted that the Morris Government paid considerable attention to Port au Port between 1909 and the outbreak of the war as its present Day Coastal Service, telephone system and postal facilities testify, but when the matter of "Effective Road Boards" with increased annual grants thereto and Legislative grants for the building of the new lighthouses at Cape St. George and at Long Point are put forward in support of the statement that "Port au Port got the lion's share of any surplus monies allocated to the district in those years" it shows a disposition to employ arguments more ingenious than convincing. St. George's says "the first reinforced concrete bridge was given to Port au Port and other concessions towards fishery and agricultural developments." This is certainly a remarkable statement but its plain meaning is that at some time or other Port au Port was granted certain concessions towards fishery and agricultural developments, among which was a concrete bridge. It is true that the first concrete bridge built in the country was given to Port au Port, but this is believed to be the first time that ever the claim was advanced that it was given as a concession towards either fishery or agricultural development. This bridge spans Ro-maine's River on the railway connecting road from Stephenville Crossing to Port au Port and was built to replace the last of the several wooden bridges that had been built across this river at various dates and destroyed by spring or fall freshets. This is no Road deLuxe, neither is it a special road built for the accommodation of a few score people, but an ordinary, very ordinary highway which supplies a harbourless population of four thousand people, in this section with a very poor substitute for the advantages and facilities of the railway system enjoyed by the residents of its other divisions. St. George's appears to be quite familiar with the extensive patronage which he states was meted out to Port au Port by the Morris Government, but seems to be unaware or perhaps conveniently forgetful that that Administration is so indebted to the people of this division of the district of St. George's in the matter of unredeemed pledges respecting local railway extension, that it would take "the lion's share of any surplus monies allocated to the district" for years to liquidate one year's interest on his liability. —A.S.D.

Port au Port, April 17th, 1925.

Little Jack Rabbit

by David Cory

"Where are you going?" asked Cockey Doodle, as Mrs. Cow walked slowly through the gate into the Pleasant Pasture.

"To eat the fresh young grass," answered the good lady cow, tossing her head and almost tripping off the pretty pink sunbonnet with the yellow flower on it.

Just then along came Little Jack Rabbit, his knapsack bouncing up and down on his back and red-striped candy cane swinging from his left paw.

"You have two toes, haven't you, Mrs. Cow?" he said, looking curiously down at her feet.

"Yes, and I walk right on the ends of them," she answered. "Dear me, how I do sink in the soft earth in the early spring," and away she went, the little brass bell on her leather collar making a sweet tinkle, tinkle.

All of a sudden up the Old Cow Path waddled Duckey Waddles on his big, flat yellow feet. "Just had a fine swim and a meal of frogs' eggs," he quacked. "Also a dozen tadpoles. I feel as happy as can be," and through the gate to the Farmyard he waddled.

"I wonder whether Granddaddy Bullfrog has come up out of the mud," thought the bunny boy, and quick as a wink he hopped after the slow duck.

"Did you see Granddaddy Bullfrog?" enquired the little rabbit anxiously. You see, he liked the old gentleman frog. Yes, sir. Everybody liked the old fellow, who sat all day on his log, winking his eyes and catching flies.

"Oh, yes, he's out again," answered Duckey Waddles. "I forgot to mention that he asked how you were?"

"Did he really?" cried the bunny boy. "I must hop down to the Old Duck Pond at once," and away he went, clipperly clip, clipperly clip, clipperly, clipperly, clipperly.

Mr. Merry Sun up in the Sky Country smiled as the little rabbit hastened across the Sunny Meadow. Indeed, that good old Sun seemed to be shining on everyone, big and small just to make each one happy, I imagine.

"Tired-leg, tired-foot!" whistled Blue Bird from a fence rail. "Mrs. Blue Bird tells me there will soon be baby birds in the nest. It won't be long before they will be pecking their way out of the shells."

"Won't that be nice," answered the bunny boy.

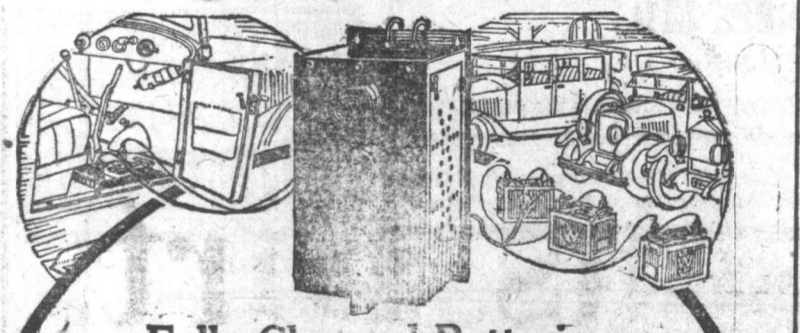

"I'm so happy I could sing. Aren't you glad that lovely Spring has come again with hazy days and lots of red and yellow flowers?"

"Well, I should say yes twice maybe three times," carolled Blue Bird. "All these birds love the spring time."

"Every bird has his nest. Which he always loves the best!"

"Mrs. Crowbird has no nest," answered the bearded little rabbit. "Guess me, how wise our bunny boy growing, Little Reader."

"I forgot all about her," answered Blue Bird. "None of us birds care for her. Cowbirds are hobbes' in the next story you shall hear what happened after that."

Fully Charged Batteries Last Longer

IT PROLONGS the life of the battery to keep it fully charged at all times. The expense of charging is now brought down to an infinitesimal amount by using a Westinghouse Rectigon Battery Charger.

Rectigon Battery Chargers are inexpensive and dependable. Anyone can use them by just attaching to a lamp socket, no technical knowledge required.

A Westinghouse Rectigon Battery Charger will soon pay for itself in the savings of the charging costs and it does prolong the life of the battery.

Just Folks.

By EDGAR GUEST.

THE WARNING.

Time was I could have run the mile, Or, hatless, braved the summer sun, I had the boy's wide-stretching smile, His health and appetite for fun; I knew not what it meant to be "Too tired to take my turn at bat. But now my doctor says to me: "You're much too old for things like that!"

I've romped through many a summer day And never seemed to pause for breath, But now my love of honest play Is clouded by the thought of death, I still could climb an apple tree, Hang by my legs or skin the cat, But "don't," my doctor says to me, "You're much too old for things like that!"

Time was I ate with keen delight Green fruit, or ripe, or cake or pie, Without one thought that with the night Perhaps in agony I'd die; But round about me now I see "Twere that wait to stretch me flat, A solemn doctor warning me: "You're much too old for things like that!"

Time was I trod youth's merry stage And bartered strength for sport and fun, But now I've reached that grim old age When all exertion I must shun; Upon the side lines now I stay, Creaky of joint and growing fat, Contented to hear the doctor say: "You're much too old for sports like that!"

Ruth's Home Run Chances Again Poor

NEW YORK, April 18.—Babe Ruth's chances for a new home run record this year have been blown up practically by another stroke of bad luck which caused him to go under the knife at St. Vincent's Hospital.

Physicians say that an operation on the neck, which has been causing the Babe much pain, will keep him in bed for two weeks, but it is known that the Yankee management is not sure that he will be able to play for a month, and even then he will not be in condition to start off with a real Ruth game.

The Yankees are plainly discouraged by the bad break which has taken the Babe away from the firing line during the most important part of the season. Plans were made to show that the Babe is not missed, but he puts something into the team that is not there when he is missing.

The epidemic of home run hitting which started with the opening game of the season makes it almost certain that Ruth will have no time to win the home run championship of the season let alone break the record. Charley Hartnett, the star catcher of the Cubs, already has three homers to his credit, and Goose Goslin, the Washington outfielder, has two marked up behind his name. Goslin looks like the coming star of the game and a slugger who can challenge Ruth for the season's honors.

Our Daily Bread

Our correspondent writing on the new price of bread raises a very important point and we fail to see wherein his criticism is not warranted.

Naturally we look for an explanation for this serious addition to the cost of living, since the bakers' united advertisement does not give it.

Certainly these figures do not indicate that an increase at present is justifiable. On the contrary, judging from the reduction in the cost of flour, we might reasonably have expected a corresponding drop in the price of the loaf.

While we are on this matter, we should like to ask certain questions with reference to this trade. Is it not laid down by Statute that loaves of bread intended for sale shall be made of the following weights, namely: four pounds, two pounds, one pound, and eight ounces, and shall have stamped or marked thereon the initials of the maker and the weight of the loaf?

It is not also laid down by law that all meat, bread, milk and other articles of food shall in course of being transported through the streets be protected by such covering as shall prevent contamination by dust, dirt, and flies?

To what extent are these regulations observed, and who is the authority responsible to see that they are observed? During the transference of a loaf from the oven to the consumer it passes through many hands, and as in most cases the loaf is not wrapped by the makers, the question of its cleanliness must be taken on faith.

The Hotel Proposition

The Hotel Bill in its second reading in the Legislative Council yesterday was most favourably received, and was referred to by several honourable members as a business-like proposition and one which promised to provide a long felt requirement in the city.

The feature which has received the most prominent attention in connection with this hotel has been its importance as a residence for visiting tourists, but its use to our own citizens is by means a secondary consideration.

tion. At present it is difficult if not impossible for a family man, whatever his means, to obtain residential quarters outside of a private house. Suites will be available for that purpose in the hotel. Its large assembly hall will be admirably adapted for concerts and other social entertainments, and the management will also cater to gatherings more or less of a private nature.

Apart from the social advantages of the hotel, its importance to the general business of the community will be considerable. After carefully looking over the ground, the promoters believe that it will be possible to keep the hotel going at capacity not only during the four or five months when summer tourists are most likely to visit the country, but throughout the year, and in view of the amount which they have been willing to expend and the favourable terms which they have been willing to accept, it must be taken for granted that they have not decided to proceed with the work without having given the whole matter full consideration.

The presence of a large number of visitors in the city means increased business. Increased sales mean increased revenue. The catering to these people also means additional revenue, and when these circumstances are taken into account, the Government guarantee, which is only to be paid if the undertaking fails to show a profit, and which is adequately secured, is not a matter of serious concern.

The leader of the Government yesterday, in dealing with the arguments which had been advanced against the guarantee, pointed out that it was generally agreed that an up-to-date hotel was needed in St. John's, but that many of those who admitted the necessity objected at the same time to the idea of assisting the undertaking in any way, and were inclined to take the unreasonable stand that outside promoters should shoulder the whole responsibility.

The good, regular habits of Babyhood influence the mind. To name some of them: (1) Plenty of sleep.

(2) To lie in his cot, or in an armchair, without crying to be picked up.

(3) To be held steadily, not jolted up and down, or rocked.

Mr. H. A. Winter Replies to Mr. McNeily

Dear Sir.—As Mr. McNeily persists, for some reason of his own, in his criticisms of the manner in which the private bill presented on behalf of my clients has been handled, I feel it must, in duty to them, again reply to him. He states that he "understands" the Bill in question has for its object the confirmation of certain "rights" of which the notice makes no mention.

HEALTHY BABIES. "An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure."

BABY'S MIND.—We generally expect a great deal of care so that Baby has enough clothes and food, and if he starts losing weight, or catches cold, or seems to be in pain we are very worried.

The good, regular habits of Babyhood influence the mind. To name some of them: (1) Plenty of sleep.

(2) To lie in his cot, or in an armchair, without crying to be picked up.

(3) To be held steadily, not jolted up and down, or rocked.

(4) No Dummy. If we train Baby to be contented, we are helping his mind to be healthy, and have a firm foundation, and because the mind and body are so closely connected he will grow bodily strong too.

Obituary

MRS. J. S. BENEDICT.

Many in the city will learn with deep grief of the death of Mrs. Benedict, wife of J. S. Benedict, late United States Consul here, which occurred on Thursday night in Toronto. A message telling of her passing was received by Mr. A. Oldfield, Manager of the Imperial Oil Co., yesterday. Mrs. Benedict was not in the best of health when, with her husband, she left here nearly eighteen months ago; and in October last she was taken very ill, her condition at that time causing grave anxiety. She rallied from the attack, however, and thought not regaining her wonted health, it was hoped that some years of usefulness were still before her. It was ordered otherwise, and this elect lady has passed away.

The late Mrs. Benedict was a lady of striking personality, whom it is an honor to remember. Seventeen years of her life were spent in this city and they were busy years. She shared with her husband in the responsibilities of his office, but yet found time to take a keen interest in all that pertained to the social well-being of the community. Being content to spend her leisure in philanthropic and charitable endeavors. She was an active worker of the W.C.T.U. and kindred organizations; and during the war years, after her country's entry into the gigantic struggle, she allied herself with the various efforts in which the women of the country were particularly interested and worked earnestly and energetically in their behalf. Her long residence here endeared her to a large circle of friends, who regretted her departure to another sphere of duty, and who will learn with great sorrow that her earthly activities have been brought to a close. Mr. Benedict will have the sympathy of the community in his sad bereavement.

JAMES DUFF (Duff's Holyhood).

On Good Friday, April 18th, the Angel of Death entered quietly the home and snatched from the midst of loved ones the soul of James Duff, one of the most highly esteemed residents of Duff's, and a man who was greatly admired and dearly loved by all who had the privilege of his personal acquaintance. Death meant for him the ending of a good Christian life, spent in bringing cheer and comfort to others and in the performance of those many acts and unselfish kindness and charity which characterizes a highly successful and useful earthly existence. He was a thoroughly devoted member of his Church which meant so much to him during his whole lifetime, and which gave him strength and courage to cheerfully resign his soul to his Maker when the final summons came to him in his 79th year of his age. Sprung from good old Irish stock Arthur Duff, who emigrated from Wexford almost a century and a quarter ago, and having been employed as an Irish "Youngster," upon the fishing plantation of St. John's, North Arm, he married Mary Meyers, of Chapel's Cove and settled at the East Point of Holyhood Harbor. He was the pioneer settler at "Duff's," which bears and honors the name of its founder to-day. From the forest primal he built up a fishing and farming homestead and raised the large family on nine sons and three daughters; Edward (father of J. J. Duff, Esq., City), Thomas, John, William, Matthew, Arthur, Patrick, James and Peter; Mrs. Catherine Duggan, Mary Murphy and Ellen Hicks. But one survives to-day, Patrick, in his 85th year— hale and hearty and able to walk from Holyhood to Duff's, a distance of five miles.

James Duff possessed a strong, healthy and robust constitution, and in the cod and seal fisheries of the '60's, '70's, and early '80's, he was held to be a leader and expert worker. His capability was recognized in those industries by the late Hon. Samuel Blandford and Captains Adams and Fairweather, of the Dublin sailing ships. A swift walker, the distance to Duff's was regarded as trifling to him, and it was a rare occasion in his palmy days he was absent from Sun-

Is Housework Keeping You Tired and Weak?

Thousands of tired, nervous, run-down women who must daily perform exhausting housework and care for children, would be astonished to learn how perfect a new combination of iron, like the iron in the blood, it is, in many cases, easily possible for people to increase their strength, nerve force and endurance in only two weeks time. Any doctor will tell you that without sufficient organic iron, your blood loses its power to change food into firm, healthy flesh and tissue. So nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good. You become undernourished, weak, nervous, and lacking in physical force and endurance.

What you need, then, is organic iron—mineral iron—to enrich your blood and give you strength. For Nuxated Iron is organic iron in your own blood. Try it. Just two weeks and notice the difference. But be sure you get genuine Nuxated Iron. It is the only kind that can be made in this way. It is the only kind that can be made in this way. It is the only kind that can be made in this way.

Municipal Council

WEEKLY MEETING.

The regular weekly meeting of the Municipal Council was held yesterday afternoon. Mayor Cook presided and Councilors Martin, Collier, Ryan and Dowden were present.

After reading and confirmation of Minutes of the last meeting, the following business was disposed of. In the matter of claim for damages to motor car belonging to Mr. Dewling by one of the Council's trucks, some time ago, the Solicitor advised that settlement be made without prejudice.

S. D. Blandford, on behalf of the Newfoundland Hotel Facilities Company, Ltd., asked that street line be given them. The City Engineer informed the Board that this request had already been attended to.

Mr. M. Kelly asked permit for concrete sidewalk and gutter in front of his residence, Bell Street. The City Engineer is to report on same.

Mr. W. Way, Atlantic Avenue wrote asking that a surface drain be placed in this street, as after every rainstorm considerable damage is done to houses in the vicinity, particularly his own. He also pointed out the need of having the street re-numbered. The City Engineer is to enquire into both matters and report.

The application of Mr. William Brothers, for extension of water and sewerage, Codner's Lane, was also referred to the Engineer.

The following plans were passed, subject to the approval of the City Engineer, at whose office the necessary permits may be obtained: Jas. Vardy, dwelling, Sudbury and Water Streets; Ed. Parsons, dwelling and store, Water Road; Philip Escent, to place electric sign over premises, 310 Water Street.

The City Engineer in his weekly report, called attention to the necessity of moving electric and telephone poles, LeMarchant Road, back to the new street line; also that the grading should be done and re-alignment made to conform to the new street East and West of Pleasant St. Work was ordered to be done.

The Engineer also mentioned that the street railway tracks on Military Road (West of Rawlin's Cross) should be removed or the Company notified to remove them. He also stated that the rail at junction of Holloway and Duckworth Streets should be given attention. The City Clerk was instructed to notify the Company immediately to have these matters looked after.

In the matter of the applications of the Red Taxi Company and Parsons' Garage, that gullies and outlets be placed in front of their respective garages, the Engineer stated that this work would be undertaken but that the applicants would have to guarantee payment of costs. They are to be informed accordingly. Permits were granted Parsons' Garage, to erect lubricating oil tank in front of premises, King's Road. Reports of the Sanitary Supervisor and Health Officer for the week were tabled. Requisitions for various departments were granted, and with the passing of weekly accounts, the meeting adjourned.

Presence of Mind Saves Life of Little Boy

Brendan, the 4-year-old son of W. J. Walsh, Minister of Agriculture and Mines, was rather severely burnt this morning through his nightdress catching fire. The little chap, getting out of bed, went to the dining room where a fire had been started a few minutes before. The domestic at the time was in another part of the house and returning found the little fellow's clothing on fire. With great presence of mind she tore the blazing night-dress over the child's head, but not before his arm and the side of his head had been badly burned. Dr. Carnell was called in and did all possible to alleviate the sufferings of the little fellow. There is no doubt but that the prompt action of the domestic saved the child's life.

A Slight Blaze

At 1:30 to-day, an alarm of fire was rung in from Box 38, calling the Western and Central fire trucks to the laundry of John Lee, on Casey Street, where a slight blaze was found in the kitchen. The fire was quenched by the use of chemicals, and little or no damage was done. The all-out sounded five minutes later.

Proceedings at the Legislative Council

OFFICIAL SYNOPSIS.

WEDNESDAY, April 22.

The Council met at 3:00 p.m. The Bill "An Act respecting the records of Pure Bred Animals," was read a third time and passed; and ordered to be sent to the House of Assembly with a message that this House had passed the same with some amendments and requesting concurrence therein.

The Council resolved into Committee of the Whole on the Bill entitled, "Of the Survey of Forestry going and Labrador Vessels," Hon. Mr. Ayre in the chair.

HON. MR. MORINE explained that the Bill had been re-arranged since the last session of the Council. No new sections had been added, but several amendments had been made to comply with views expressed by members of the Council while the Bill was in Committee at the previous session. The different amendments were explained, and accepted.

The Committee rose and reported the Bill with some amendment. The report was received and it was ordered that the Bill be read a third time on to-morrow.

The Council resolved into Committee of the Whole on the Bill entitled "An Act to Amend Chapter 174 Consolidated Statutes (Third Series), entitled "Of Passenger Accommodation on Board Steamers and Sailing Vessels."

The Committee reported the Bill without amendment, and it was ordered to be read a third time on to-morrow.

The House resumed Committee on the Old Age Pensioners Amendment Bill, Mr. Cook in the Chair.

HON. MR. MORINE: The meaning of this Bill evidently was that the widow of a pensioner who had reached the age of 65 was to continue to receive, during her widowhood, the pension her husband had had, but this had been awkwardly expressed. While considering amendments, other desirable changes in the Act had suggested themselves. One that appeared desirable to Hon. Mr. Morine was that the age of 75 be changed to 70 for all persons. He had, however, consulted the Premier on the matter and had been informed that the same suggestion had been made in the Lower House, but finances being taken into consideration, it was thought unwise to make the change, for some who had reached the age stated, were unable at present to be given the pension through lack of funds. This was, he thought, a sufficiently good reason. It was believed that, contrary to the Act, a number of persons whose age was as low as 65 were receiving the pension. Other conditions besides age were set down in the law: viz: circumstances of persons must be such as rendered a pension necessary and persons must have resided more than twenty years in the Colony. These other conditions may have been fulfilled in these cases. In order to bring the law into conformity with practice the Hon. Leader of the Government thought it would be better to reduce the age limit to seventy. It would be left to the Governor-in-Council to decide the other qualifications. If a person had no means of support he did not see why he should not get the pension at 70. Some men now were getting it at 65. He said the Government had decided to test the Act by slow amendments.

Another thought that suggested itself was that since the franchise was granted to women, and that the idea of equality prevailed, why should not aged, needy, unmarried females, who their widows or spinsters, be also entitled to this pension? If the women were married and had husbands living, the two pensions need not be given; some other arrangement could be made for aged married women. Why were unmarried women and widows given equality except in their claim on the public treasury? That had also been answered by saying we are going one step by giving the pension to widows of pensioners, and if it works out, we can go further later on. It was not the desire to increase the burdens of the Government. That was no answer, he stated, to the claim of women to be treated on an equality with men, and hoped the day would soon come when they would be so treated in this respect. It would be a shame, he said, to use financial disability as an excuse for denying eligibility to women in this case. If women had reached the age stated, they were in the same state of wretchedness, their claim was unanswerable. If there were not money enough then it should be divided as fairly as possible. The women should not be denied eligibility and the men given it. They should be put on an equality with men in this particular. These, Hon. Mr. Morine said, were his sentiments and aspirations with regard to the matter.

HON. MR. BISHOP said he had learned with surprise only a day or two ago that the provision of this necessary and important Act had been contravened or disregarded for many years. What authority or justification was there for this? It appeared that in some districts, the age, instead of being 75 as the Act stated, had been allowed to drop to 70 or 65. There was nothing in the Act to permit any electoral distribution of funds. The Act provides that all labouring men, in necessitous circumstances, who have reached the age of 75, shall be entitled to a pension of $50. As long as there are men in the country in needy circumstances and of that age, they should obtain the benefits of the Act. It is an outrage, he considered, that men of 70 or 65 years should be in receipt of this pension while there were men of that age stated in the Act, denied it through lack of money. Was it right? he asked. By what authority had it been done? He was not aware that a specific amount was voted for this purpose. In regard to the electoral distribution he thought that, if all those men who were in needy circumstances of the age stated in the Act were receiving pensions and there was a surplus, the district should be satisfied to provide for the unfortunate in other districts. He did not see that any authority had been given to make the change and wished attention drawn to the matter. He doubted if many knew that such a practice, as referred to, had grown up.

 HON. MR. PRESIDENT suggested that if the law were disregarded that the government cancel the pensions which were being given illegally.
 HON. MR. MORINE said he had not been able to make personal investigation and therefore spoke with reserve as to exact information. From conversing with several on the matter he had received certain impressions. He had presided at the birth of the idea of the Old Age Pension and considered it distinctly an old age pension and not one to be given out merely in sickness or poverty. Age was to be the primary qualification. Men should attain to the age of 75, and satisfactory enquiry made. He thought a strong protest should be made against illegalities. He did not think cases such as had been mentioned had happened while the present Government was in power. He did say, however, that from the time he was on the Executive he had never known an application for an Old Age Pension to come before the Governor-in-Council although under the Act they are supposed to. Applications were made probably to the officer in charge of this branch of the Finance Department, on the recommendation of the representative of the district. Hon. Mr. Morine did not say that favouritism had taken place, but that sort of thing, he thought, allowed opportunities for it. It was outrageous, he said, that eligible persons in one district should be on the waiting list while those below the age as stated in the Act were receiving it perhaps in the neighbouring district. If the Colony wants to give compassionate relief let it be done, but it should not in any way be a political matter. He would be glad to hear what hon. members had to say on this subject.

 HON. PRESIDENT thought he had the facts of the origin of the Bill. This Act was put on the Statute Book by Lord Morris in 1910 and $200,000 was invested in debentures at 4 per cent. This gave an interest of 8,000 dollars, to which was added by vote every year since $12,000 more, making a total of 20,000 dollars to be paid as old age pensions. This figure stood until two years ago, when Mr. Warren's (then Prime Minister) Government found itself in Committee of the Whole on a vote of $15,000, money from the Naval Reserve for which there was no need. At the suggestion of Mr. Walsh, a great advocate of old age pensions, Mr. Warren agreed to give this towards the old age pension fund. Thus 300 more pensions besides the original 400 were provided for. While it was true that the Governor-in-Council had to deal with them, it was hardly to be expected that in matters of such small detail and with all the work the Executive Council had to do that such a matter would be so dealt with. Thus the members of the district were left to distribute the pensions to the applicants in their own districts. He had never heard that anything of a political nature had arisen from it and what had been said was a surprise to him. There was no other way to distribute the pensions than by district distribution. The Road and Educational grants were sub-divided by districts. There were districts where there wasn't sufficient applicants to take all the grant. He had heard Lord Morris say that he was unable to distribute his grant but he had never heard him suggest that he give it to applicants under the age limit. His policy was to give the remainder to other members who had not enough. This is a logical process. Frankly he thought it was time that this Chamber registered a protest against passing laws to which the people paid no regard. It is farcical to send some to jail for an offence and to allow others to go scot free for a like offence.

HON. MR. GIBBS said he would be glad to see the President put in an amendment whereby a violation of this Act would incur a fine or in default imprisonment. He agreed that there had been abuses and he was in accord with the suggestion that there should be a protest made. When the Bill was first passed it was the practice for the Governor-in-Council to review all applications and when fully considered they were allocated. All applications were considered on their merits. The abuses should be corrected and no pensions paid to those under age. Some were receiving pensions whose children were well able to support them. If a proper enquiry were instituted the result would be a complete sweeping away of the abuses that are at present current in this respect.
 HON. MR. MORINE said he could not agree with the Hon. the President. There was no reason why the Governor-in-Council should go on doing as heretofore. They should see that no person is paid until properly recommended by the Minister and given proofs why it should be paid. The practice now has fallen back and become departmental.

There was no reason why, when a person was recommended for a pension that the member for this person's district should not give information concerning him, but in giving him the power to award pensions there was the danger of its being given for political reasons. This pension was meant for old and indigent persons and if some districts had not enough money to supply the demand they should receive some from districts which had a surplus. What Lord Morris had done was not the thing. The Executive Council should have been the person to distribute the surplus. There should be no trouble in administering this fund. He hoped that the "airing" the Bill had received would tend to stop the trouble.
 HON. PRESIDENT wished to make his position clear. He didn't think that was the way it was done Lord Morris's time. What knowledge (President) had, came from an action with members of the Executive Council at that time. The District really settled by the member of the Executive was only a stamp. Some time ago there was discussion as to whether the member or the undesignated should have the patronage. One system which is unique and which no title. The member is named or for his district and until a system is devised the pension passes through his hands. It is given to the minister if he is in control we are chary of exercising the ordinary member. And

The House doesn't always carry out the intention of the Bill. He mentioned a case where a Government member of a Government Board and the Board never held a meeting and the Minister ran the Board himself.
HON. MR. MORINE'S answer to that was that the Board was the British Government. He didn't say it should be run by the Minister. He should have said that the Board should have been appointed to the Council because he thought it might be called upon. Anyway it was better than leaving it to the Minister.
The Committee rose and reported on the Bill some amendments, and the House adjourned to read a third time on Friday.
The Council resolved into Committee of the Whole on the Bill relating to the Supreme Court. Hon. Dr. Morrison moved that the Bill be referred to the Committee of the Whole. Hon. Dr. Morrison stated that the Bill had to do with the change of the statutes of jurisdiction of Grand Jurors being raised from property valued at $500 to $5,000 and the rental value of the land from $500 to $1,000. The next section is old Section 93, which gives the Judge no power to send a jury to jail, but merely to send them to jail if they are guilty or not guilty. In 1919 the Judge has the power to put special questions. He (Mr. Morine) had had one case where 10 or 12 questions were put in cases of libel and slander. A committee of marriage was introduced by the Government, recommended by the Judges of the Supreme Court and the Judge-Conservator.
HON. MR. GIBBS said that in the case of an application as to the law in introducing the proposed amendments to Section 17, it was a matter of greater power were to be given to the Judges in actions of libel and slander. It is desirable to invest the Judge with the additional power? Applying the amendment gave the Judge the power to decide, whether or not to send a jury to jail, or whether there is not, a matter of greater power were to be given to the Judges in actions of libel and slander. It is expressly provided that in criminal proceedings for libel the Judge has the same power as in civil proceedings. There is a matter of greater power were to be given to the Judge in actions of libel and slander. He would further point out that men

A CURE Without Drugs
To people who suffer from chronic troubles of any kind, nervous complaints, loss of strength, debility, weakness in any form, or stomach, kidney, or liver disorders, we offer a cure at a price within the reach of all.
Nature's Remedy Restores Health.
We have no drugs to sell you. The remedy we offer is electricity. That's Nature's medicine. It is impossible to cure any ailment by dosing the nerves and vitals with stimulants or poisons. Your body needs new life and strength. Our Ajax Dry-Cell Battery gives that. It helps Nature by restoring the energy and activity of every weak, sluggish organ of the body. The Ajax Battery is a scientific device for saturating the nerves and vitals with a steady unbroken current of electric life without the least shock or unpleasant sensation. The Ajax Battery builds up vitality and strength, and gives to every weak and inactive organ the power to do its work properly as Nature intended. When your body has sufficient electric energy to satisfy the demands of Nature, weakness and disease cannot exist.

with professional training have professional standards, a certain professional narrowness, and look at things, as it were through professional glasses. That could not be said of a jury. The jury is recruited from men of different walks of life. There are to be found different shades and kinds of mentalities. Each applies his own particular kind of knowledge. One member may be a business man, one a mechanic, another from some other specialized occupation in life. Individually they bring out facts and knowledge, which the other may not have noticed. One presents to the other his own particular review, and thus the facts submitted are debated and considered from every possible angle. Public opinion, you are aware, is a good guide for ordinary simple truths. The mentalities which in the main contribute to that opinion are not specialized, but they are varied and that is what gives it its merit. The jury is the best representative we can have of public opinion, and it is the best possible judge of public opinion.
HON. MR. MORINE replied that the Bill was introduced to bring the law into conformity with the English law. He had been informed by Sir William Lloyd that it was the law in England at present. The present law on the Statute here, was the same as the Ontario Act, and he felt confident Hon. Mr. Gibbs would be glad to learn we are departing from it. Hon. Mr. Morine felt confident the Judges and the Rules Committee had not introduced this matter lightly, but he had no objection to making further enquiries, and asked the Committee to rise and report progress and ask leave to sit again. It was ordered accordingly.
HON. THE PRESIDENT informed the House that he had received a message from the House of Assembly informing him that they had passed the Bill entitled "An Act for the Confirmation of an agreement between the Government and the Nfld. Hotel Facilities, Ltd., in which they asked the concurrence of the Legislative Council.
Said bill was read a first time and ordered to be read a second time on tomorrow.
The House then adjourned until Friday next at 3 p.m.
FRIDAY, April 24, 1925.
The Council met at 3.15 p.m.
On the third reading of the Old Age Pensions Bill, Hon. Mr. Morine explained that he had made enquiries from the Old Age Pension Clerk, who had informed him that the Act had fallen more or less into disuse at the office. For some years the Minister had not been consulted as to those who were to go on the pension list. The custom was that the members for the districts made the recommendations, and as one dropped from the lists in the different districts another was added. At the present time all lists are submitted to the Minister and endorsed by him before any pensions are granted. He hoped to be able to table a list of those now receiving pensions, and also the names of those on the waiting list for pensions within a few days.
The committee stage of the Judicature Bill was deferred at the request of Hon. Mr. Morine, who was awaiting the arrival of Mr. Justice Kent from Circuit Court, that gentleman being mainly responsible for the Bill, and he (Hon. Mr. Morine) was anxious to have further information submitted to the Chamber before the Bill passed.
In moving the second reading of the Bill to confirm an agreement between the Government and The Newfoundland Hotel Facilities, Ltd., Hon. Mr. Morine explained that the Company was duly registered under the Newfoundland laws, and the Bill was to give effect to the agreement set out in the schedule. The Government agreed to grant to the Company that piece of land commonly known as Fort William, where the old railway station stood, together with a right of way leading from Factory Lane, and also the right to acquire other adjoining properties, if purchase cannot be made by private agreement under the Crown Lands Act. The hotel people were anxious to acquire this land in order to lay out tennis courts and bowling laws and to otherwise beautify the hotel surroundings. The Government is asked to guarantee the debentures to be issued by the Company for $450,000, as to principal, not the interest, and to be liable to an annual payment of $13,500 in the event of the Company being unable to meet this demand from its profits. The hotel will cost $700,000, upon which security will be had; will be constructed of reinforced concrete, and local labour will be employed in its construction as far as obtainable. The Government will also grant free entry for all plant, machinery, engines, furnishings, etc. for the original construction, installation and furnishing of the hotel. With regard to Municipal taxation, a sliding scale of taxation, which had been agreed to by the Municipal Council, had been arranged for thirty years, the first six years at $266.87 a year and the last six years at the annual rate of $1333.33. In Section 5 of the Bill provision is made that notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Alcoholic Liquors Act, the Company would not be asked to pay more than $100.00 for the first ten years for permission to sell wines and beers under the Act, and after that period the increase was not to exceed $100 per year, and the maximum to be $1000 per annum. Such permit is to be issued under regulations of the Alcoholic Liquor Act, and excepting only this provision as to license fees, in all other respects it is subject to the rules and regulations of that Act just as every one else. In no way will it interfere with the rules of the Liquor Board. There will be no bar; wines and beers may be served at meals to guests in the regular way. These are the only provisions, freed from customs duty and from Municipal taxes, the license fee and the security. This security was necessary so as to enable the Company to raise money. It was a surprise to the Hon. Mr. Morine that so little security had been asked compared with what was asked in other cases. They did not ask for a guarantee on the interest, and he was surprised that the Government was able to get such a reasonable contract. When he was in Canada he had interviewed the United Hotels Co., and they were willing to make a contract to operate for 30 years a hotel to be built by local capital on the terms that they receive one half the profits and the rest go towards the interest on the bond issues, and at the conclusion of the contract they were to own one half of the hotel. They would give no better terms, nor would anyone else. Therefore when these people came the Government were gratified that they could get such a reasonable contract. Two of the promoters of the Company had visited here and found that the Bank had shown them means of good standing, considerable means and good reputation. The third partner was formerly manager and now owner of a hotel in Quebec, who has retired, is putting $50,000 in this proposition, and is to be the President of the Company and overlook it. These gentlemen made a general statement that if they could fill the hotel with tourists guests for three or four months of the year and get ordinary traffic the rest of the time, they can make a success of it; and after they were here for some time they came to the conclusion they would not be forced to depend on the summer traffic in view of local conditions, the nearness of the sea, and the considerable number of persons who live at hotels in the winter season. They went away much encouraged and since then have posted the $25,000 security that they would undertake the work by the 1st of June, and have the hotel ready for occupation by May 1st, 1926. This, Hon. Mr. Morine thought, good proof of their earnestness.

HON. DR. CAMPBELL thought one could justifiably look on the bill as one which laid an obligation on the country to meet a guarantee of nearly half a million dollars. It is another instalment of the very problematical tourist policy. He did not think it was the duty of our citizens or any legislator to denounce the tourist traffic. The Government had put their hands to the plough and all should say a kind word for the country. This bill is the second step in this particular policy and a third must follow. The third would be a further demand on public funds to advertise our scenic, climatic and sporting features in England, Canada and the U.S.A. so as to induce wealthy people to come and spend money here. The Hon. Leader of the Government in this House had said that these two gentlemen who came down here and whose reputation we know nothing of assure us that they could fill the hotel in winter. In view of the fact that our own local hotels cannot do this it seems unlikely. That men who could play hockey or skate will give up these sports to sit in hotels may seem correct to the Hon. Leader who probably does these things, but to him (Dr. Campbell) it didn't appear plausible. This hotel is to be built with a Government guarantee behind it, and if it doesn't pay the Government will own what seems likely to be a veritable "white elephant." As to the two men who are contracting for the hotel the Hon. Leader in this House had really said nothing nor had the Leader in the Lower House given any information concerning them. If the Government had got the United Hotel people or some other company running a chain of hotels, who could induce their guests in the larger centres to come to our country it would be more desirable. This affair should not be looked upon as an unmet blessing. We had already given the tourist, who may or may not come, the advantages of our Liquor Act and would give them roads to cost millions, and we are faced with providing a hotel to accommodate them.

ASK THIS HALIFAX NURSE
She is Willing to Answer Letters From Women Asking About Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Halifax, Nova Scotia.—"I am a maternity nurse and have recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to many women who were childless, also to women who need a good tonic. I am English and my husband is American, and he told me of Lydia E. Pinkham while in England. I would appreciate a copy of two of your little books on women's ailments. I have one which I keep to hand. I will willingly answer letters from any woman asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. S. M. COLEMAN, 24 Uniacke Street, Halifax, Nova Scotia.
Could Not Sleep Nights
Dublin, Ont.—"I was weak and irregular, with pains and headaches, and could not sleep nights. I learned about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound by reading the letters in the newspapers and tried it because I wanted to get better. I have got good results from it and I feel lot stronger and am not troubled with such bad headaches as I used to be and am more regular. I am gaining in weight all the time and I tell my friends what kind of medicine I am taking. You may use my letter as a help to others."—Mrs. JAMES RACHO, Box 12, Dublin, Ontario.

Report of the Chief Agent for Week Ending April 24th.
Attended to the landing of 40 head of cattle from the train. One that was injured was taken away by Mr. Lester. There is a great need of sending some man on the journey with these cattle to look after them, because in some cars there was too much hay while in the others there was none. I also attended to the landing of 30 head of cattle from the Sable I. Considering the stormy passage of the ship these cattle were in good condition. At the request of Mr. Hall, Major's Path, I humanely destroyed his horse which had a festered hoof. This could be healed but would take a long time, and sooner than see it suffering he had it humanely put to death. I also humanely killed two large bullocks for Mr. Peter Casey. Sent in three horses for treatment. I have noticed a great many horses in town are suffering from colds and that nearly all of them have discharges from the head. This disease, I understand, is greatly spread by the common or public drinking troughs. As it is causing considerable suffering to the horses, as well as financial loss to the owners, I have, upon recommendation of Veterinary Surgeon Dr. Bishop, interviewed his Honor Mayor Cook to have these fountains shut off during the prevalence of this disease, and the horse owners are called upon to go to their best by watering their horses from a bucket. Twenty different complaints have been attended to.

A MOTHER'S APPRECIATION
The letters of appreciation received from grateful mothers afford convincing proof of the unfailing efficacy of Woodward's Gripe Water as a remedy for baby's stomach complaints and teething troubles.
Mrs. Loveday, 75, Banstead Street, Nunhead, London, S.E.15, writes—"I am so grateful that I had to write and send you a photo of my baby, 5 1/2 months old, weighing 20 1/2 lbs. When very young he suffered badly with wind and I was introduced to your Gripe Water which has been a boon to me ever since. Whenever I see a worried mother I always recommend Woodward's Gripe Water."
And Woodward's Gripe Water is equally efficacious in relieving the stomach pains and disorders of older children and adults. Free from opiates and pleasant to take.

SIDE TALKS.

By Ruth Cameron.

DAMNING BY TOO MUCH PRAISE.

Is there anything more harmful to children than sharp criticism? I am afraid that by the time she gets out into the world and has to really compete with other people with ability she will be so spoiled that no one can do anything with her.

Doubtless that mother thinks that she is being kind to her child. That is, if she thinks at all, and is not simply giving free rein to her vanity in her offspring.

A Far Sighted Mother.

Some years ago I had a friend who had a talented daughter. This girl at 14 displayed decided ability in writing. Her mother showed me some of her poems and I was delighted with them, and wanted to tell her so. "But don't say too much," warned her mother, "I don't want her to be too much pleased with herself. I have told her I thought they were pretty good for a youngster and I was glad she wanted to write, and urged her to keep on trying. But I'm not going to let her think she's a prodigy if I can help it. I'm reading poetry to her at bedtime now so that she will see what real poetry is, and see the big gulf between hers and the best."

Think of the difference in the mental attitude those two children will develop!

Praise for achievement is a very sweet thing. No one would want to have children denied it. But we all know how too many sweet things affect the digestion. And that goes for the spiritual as well as the bodily health.

For Deep Chest Colds

All colds should be treated with vapors, for vapors alone can carry the medication DIRECTLY to the passages and lungs.

Vicks is a "vapor" treatment in salve form. For deep chest colds you first apply hot wet towels over throat and chest to open the pores, then massage briskly with Vicks for 5 minutes, spread on thickly and cover with a flannel cloth.

Vicks not only penetrates like a poultice or plaster, but the ingredients, vaporized by the body heat, are inhaled all night long.

This double action usually checks the most stubborn cold overnight.

CAILLAUX RECOMMENDS INCREASED INCOME TAX.

PARIS, April 24.

M. Caillaux declared the fundamental remedy to restore the French treasury is an increased income tax, bringing France up to the level of the British ratio and ruthlessly collected from rich and poor alike. The new Finance Minister served notice on Parliament to-day of this intention. His announcement came incidentally when the question of voting provisional credits to carry on the public business of France during the months of May and June, was under discussion. It provides for credits amounting to 6,969,277,286 francs. Of this amount 101,507,574 francs is for the maintenance of the French occupation troops.

Premier Tzankoff declared to Press correspondents to-day that the charges made by British Members of Parliament, who recently visited Bulgaria regarding conditions here were "sheer calumny." The Premier said the Laborite M.P.'s had not seen anything they alleged they had seen.

W. J. PIKE, District Manager, St. John's, Nfld.

YOU own your own home. That's fine. But there's a mortgage at 7%. That's all right. You are reducing it steadily each year.

Yes, but are you protected on that mortgage covered by life insurance? A mortgage is a poor asset to leave wife and family—a curse instead of a blessing to a widow and children without income.

Think it over. We recommend Mutual Life Insurance for all young men who are carrying mortgages on their homes. Mutual life insurance is insurance at net cost. We particularly recommend the Mutual, profit-participating, 20-pay life policy as most suitable for the young man with a young family who is gradually acquiring title to his home, with every prospect of a bright future before him. It's a good policy. But you can get any form of policy issued, in the Mutual Life, and profit-sharing reduces the cost.

Write to-day for Mutual literature.

House of Assembly Proceedings

FRIDAY, April 24.

THE PRIME MINISTER moved, with the unanimous consent of the House, that the Legislative Council be asked to return the Encouragement of Shipbuilding and Survey of Labor and Foreign Going Vessels Bills and a message accordingly was sent up.

THE MINISTER OF JUSTICE presented a petition praying for an increase in the pay of the Non-Commissioned Officers of the Police force. He expressed his concurrence in the prayer of the petition, and urged that it be given the earnest consideration of the Government.

MR. GRIMES presented a petition from the residents of Wild Blight on the subject of a road. His colleague supported the petition.

MR. ASHBOURNE presented a petition from the residents of Summerport on the subject of a road. Mr. Grimes supported the petition.

THE LEADER OF THE OPPOSITION asked the Prime Minister to table correspondence between the High Commissioner's Office and Hon. M. S. Sullivan in reference to the recent loan. He said he had it on good authority that there was correspondence, and if his informant was right the Prime Minister was giving unreliable information to the House.

MR. SPEAKER reminded Mr. Hickman that no reflection may be made by one honorable member against another.

THE LEADER OF THE OPPOSITION explained that he wanted to convey that the information he had is altogether different from the answer given him by the Prime Minister.

THE PRIME MINISTER pointed out that information should always be sought from the heads of the Departments concerned, and Mr. Hickman's questions should be directed to the Minister of Finance. Personally he answered all questions fearlessly, and if Mr. Hickman could refute him he should do so with proofs.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on Ways and Means.

MR. GRIMES took up the discussion of the tariff and made quite a number of comparisons to show that the new rates bore heavier on the poorer classes than the previous tariff.

THE MINISTER OF FINANCE pointed out the following adjustments made in the tariff since it was tabled:

- Tax per lb. 7 cents straight duty. Ad Val. duty eliminated.
- Sugar, Candy and all Confectionery 15 p.c. instead of 25 p.c.
- Tobacco, manufactured, per lb. 43 instead of 50 cents.
- Electric dry cell batteries (single and multiple cell) when imported solely for the use of the fishermen. Ad. Val. 40 per cent. instead of 50 per cent.
- Parts of machinery for motor boats engaged in the fisheries. Ad. Val. 30 per cent. instead of 50 per cent.
- Men's and Youths' long rubber boots, 44 per cent. instead of 55 per cent.
- Sole Leather in the hide or side. Ad. Val. 20 per cent. instead of 25 per cent.
- Sole Leather in strips, pieces or shaped when imported by manufacturers of boots and shoes for use in their factories. Ad. Val. 25 per cent. instead of 20 per cent.
- Advertising show cards, illustrated advertising periodicals, etc., 5c. per lb. instead of 20 c. per lb.

MR. ASHBOURNE next took up the discussion and continued his criticism until recess hour when the Chairman left the chair.

At 8 o'clock the session was resumed and Mr. Ashbourne concluded his discussion.

MR. GODDEN regretted that the people had to accept the extra burden of taxation which he thought was deplorable. He drew special attention to an unwelcome increase in prepared foods for infants, and he felt that the Child Welfare Association would be concerned over the increase.

MAJOR CASHIN asked for an explanation of the retaliatory clause and expressed his pleasure that certain alterations had been made particularly on items essential to the fishery. He asked that as the report of the Tariff Commission which was laid on the table a few days ago had but a few hours before come into his possession that the Committee rise until he had time to read the report.

MR. HIBBS agreed with the suggestion and accordingly the Finance Minister rose the Committee.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on Bill "An Act to Amend Chap. 4 of the Consolidated Statutes entitled 'Of Legislative Disabilities and the Vacation of Seats in the House of Assembly.'" There was no discussion on the Section dealing with the re-election of Ministers after a General Election. A short discussion arose over the Section in reference to the directorship on the N.P. & Paper Co., after which the Committee rose and reported the Bill passed without amendment.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on Bill "An Act Respecting a Tax on Certain Incomes."

MR. HALFYARD spoke in opposition of the Bill because it repealed the Income Tax Act and lessened the tax on Banks.

THE PRIME MINISTER said the first load of rails would arrive about the first of May, and the work would begin as soon as possible afterwards. MR. GRIMES asked some questions re the Flour Mill agreement, and was answered to his satisfaction by the Prime Minister, after which the House adjourned until Monday.

Mr. Louis Poirier Praises Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Quebec man suffered with pains in his right side and was completely relieved after a short course of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Gerard des Laurentides, Queb., April 24—(Special) "I have suffered for a year with pains in my right side. A friend of mine advised me to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. I have taken seven boxes and am now perfectly relieved, thanks to your Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"I had taken several other remedies but without getting relief." This statement comes from Mr. L. Poirier, well-known resident of this place. Dodd's Kidney Pills strengthen the kidneys and put them in shape to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood. With pure blood there is good health all over the body.

There is no reason why anyone should continue to suffer when Dodd's Kidney Pills can be obtained from druggists everywhere, or The Dodds Medicine Co., Ltd., Toronto.

Winter Makes Strong Comeback

After two months of almost perfect spring weather winter came back yesterday with a rush. Throughout the afternoon and night a high wind from the N.E. piled the snow in drifts, and this morning practically all the roads leading to the city were blocked, so that milkmen and others from the country did not arrive in town until a late hour.

The street cars maintained their schedule with difficulty all through the day, but became stalled during the night, while many motor cars were hung up on all sides and to-day the music of the horns has given place to the jingle of sleigh bells. Similar conditions were reported along the railway line.

A test FREE—10 shaves

Your Judgment Wanted

Millions of other men have judged this the supreme shaving cream

Accept a tube to test

By the Chief Chemist

The vote of men, so far, has been overwhelmingly favorable. That does not necessarily influence you. And it shouldn't.

But we do want your vote on the 5 distinct shaving advantages of Palmolive Shaving Cream. Probably your vote, too, will be favorable. Possibly unfavorable.

We ask the courtesy of your judgment. And offer a tube, free, for your testing.

Millions won to it
Sensational success has been won by Palmolive Shaving Cream—millions of men have adopted it, dropping their old favorites.

There are good reasons back of that. One was our experience as makers of fine soap. One was the fact that we went right to the men with the problem, when we started to perfect the superlative shaving cream. 1,000 men were asked what they desired—and told us 4 things. We supplied a fifth quality—strong bubbles.

130 formulas were made up and tested. It took us

- These 5 betterments
Palmolive Shaving Cream does these 5 new things:
- 1—It multiplies itself in lather 250 times. A tiny bit suffices for a shave.
  - 2—It acts in one minute. Within that time the beard absorbs 15% of water.
  - 3—The lather maintains its creamy fullness for ten minutes on the face.
  - 4—A clean shave results, for the extra-strong bubbles hold the hairs erect for cutting.
  - 5—The palm and olive oil content brings fine after-effects.

Make your test and pass judgment. There's no risk on your part. Favorable judgment means you've found a way to greater speed and comfort in shaving. Unfavorable means... that we've lost our case with you. It's a fair offer, isn't it?

As a final touch to shaving luxury, we created Palmolive After Shaving Talc—especially for men. Doesn't show. Leaves the skin smooth and fresh, and gives that well-groomed look.

Harold Lloyd Falls For Soft Boiled Eyes

AND LANDS IN "HOT WATER" AT THE NICKEL MONDAY.
 You have heard of the fellow who vowed never to fall for a pair of "soft boiled eyes"? He usually is the first to do it. It is this type of character Harold Lloyd portrays in his newest laugh sensation, "Hot Water," his second venture as an independent producer, and showing Monday at the Nickel Theatre.

There is much that's true to life in "Hot Water," but even the mother-in-law with the heart of a traffic policeman depicted in this funmaker, will have to laugh at the development of the film. One wonders how so many laughs can be created as are crowded into the five reels of "Hot Water" but Lloyd and his staff act and sleep gags while they are engaged in their never allow their thoughts to wander, and it is this concentration which brings them the tremendous success that has been won by Lloyd and his pictures in the last few years.

Jobyna Ralston, Josephine Crowell, Charles Stevenson and Mickey McLean will be found in support of Mr. Lloyd.

"TAKE MY ADVICE."
 Arrangements are now fast nearing completion for the production of the fascinating comedy drama "Take My Advice." On Monday night this delightful new play will be staged for the first time in St. John's by the St. Patrick's Dramatic Troupe, in St. Patrick's Hall, West End. The cast will be one of the best ever to appear in a local production and all who will witness the performances are assured an enjoyable entertainment. Miss Kathleen Hayse, and Mr. Gus Cleary will be seen to advantage in the leading roles and will be ably supported by such noted players as Misses Gertrude Ryan, Jean Dicks, Estelle Shea, and Capt. O'Grady, while the comedy will be in the hands of Messrs Frank Donnelly and Rita Ryan Redmond. Between the acts specialties will be supplied by the members of the Troupe, and also by other performers well known to theatre-goers. In view of the worthiness of the object and the assured excellence of the show, large audiences are anticipated.

Harbor Main Couple Wedded at Bell Island

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Bell Island, C.B., on Saturday, April 18th, when Miss Lucy Walsh, formerly of Bacon Cove, Hr. Main District, was married to Mr. Michael Furey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Furey of Harbour Main. The ceremony was performed at St. Michael's Church by Rev. C. F. Bartlett. The bridegroom was Miss Eschke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Eschke, while Mr. William Furey, brother of the groom, acted as best man. After the wedding, the bridal party motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Furey at the mines, where supper was served, and the health of the bride and groom proposed by Capt. Leo Murphy. A large number of guests were present. We extend our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Furey and wish them every happiness.

Why, of Course
 If you want GOOD Clothes go to a GOOD Tailor. There is where you get good material, good fit and clothes that look as if they were made for YOU, and not for the other fellow.
 "The Ready-to-Wear!" Yes, of course. They were made for the one who buys them, very seldom for the one who fits them.
 But be careful and go to a good tailor. It's cheaper and better.

"Nice People" at the Majestic
 Owing to the storm last night, many patrons were disappointed in not seeing "Nice People." It is a splendid picture, and a special effort should be made to see it to-night.
 Next week, "Homeward Bound" with Thomas Meighan is booked. This is by far the greatest story that Meighan ever starred in, a wonderful production that will prove a sensation.
 In the course of a few days, Adams & Cheney will be booked, and the public are assured of something they have been waiting a long time for.
 Don't forget "Homeward Bound" the picture of the season.

Drowning Accident
 Thomas Dobbin was drowned on Monday night, through falling overboard from the steamer Philomena, lying at Barry's wharf. Captain Nath. Hackett and deceased were living on board the steamer. They turned in about 10 o'clock. Shortly after that Dobbin is thought to have gone on deck and in some way missed his balance and fell overboard. He was not missed until the following morning. Search was made and the body was recovered close in to the shore. The young man was about 19 years of age and belonged to Bonaville Bay, Western Star.

A Welcome Guest
 The woman who uses Three Flowers cosmetics is a welcome guest everywhere. Salts Will Have Strong Line-Up
 A meeting of the friends and supporters of St. Andrew's Club, was held on Thursday, when plans and arrangements were made in connection with the forthcoming season's games. The meeting was a very enthusiastic one, and the Salts, with lots of material in evidence, are looking forward to placing a formidable line-up in the football arena. The annual election of officers was held and resulted as follows:—
 Manager—Chas. Belbin.
 Captain—H. Sawyers.
 Vice-Captain—J. Young.
 League Delegate—R. E. Innes.
 The above will form the selecting committee.

PRELIMINARY ANNUAL MEETING.
Junior Football League.
 The Junior Football League will hold its preliminary annual meeting at the T.A. Armoury to-night, when business in connection with the coming season's work will be discussed. It is understood that some applications have been received from new teams and that some already in will ask to be allowed to take other names and all these things will likely be considered at the meeting.

OLD COUNTRY SOCCER.
Final Between Sheffield United vs. Cardiff City.

LONDON, April 24.
 From all corners of the Kingdom, express trains are thundering along routes leading to London, bearing countless thousands of enthusiasts to witness the last great act of the 1924-1925 football stage, the final of the English Cup. Wembley Stadium tomorrow will be thronged with soccer fans, the leek, emblem of Wales intermingling with the rose of York. By a remarkable coincidence this, the jubilee of the English Cup tournament, finds internationalism rampant, Wales against England, and for the first time in history a Welsh Club in the final of the competition. The attendance at the Stadium has been limited to 95,000.

Sheffield Wins.
 The final match was played to-day at Wembley between Sheffield United and Cardiff City. Sheffield won the toss and the kick-off took place at 2 p.m. in brilliant sunshine. Sheffield scored the first goal after a few minutes of play. The score at half-time was Sheffield United 1; Cardiff City 0. In the second half Cardiff City pressed hard but failed to score, leaving Sheffield the victors by one goal to nil.

GRAND FALLS BASEBALL NOTES.
 A very enthusiastic meeting of the Baseball Section of the Grand Falls Athletic Association, was held Sunday, April 19th, and everything points to a successful season for the good old game in the Paper Town.

Darby Pitcher, our Southpaw, was Chairman, and filled the office to the satisfaction of all.
 It was decided to play this year's schedule under the auspices of the three Brigades, the same as last year. Fred McVane was appointed official Umpire and Charlie Shroat, Base Umpire.

"Pop" Dean, who spent a few days at the Humber last week told us of the great interest taken in that section, and it is likely we will have a schedule of games to play at both towns during the summer. What do St. John's baseballers think of this? Here's a good chance to put the game on the map again. The Reid Inter-Town Trophy is in our possession and we are very anxious to have a St. John's team try and take it from us.

Cliff Lemoine and Jack Brown are with us again, having returned from the States a short while ago. They will play for the C.L.B. and will be a big help to Darby in his run for the championship.

Frank Shapleigh, manager of the Scouts, (last year's champs) says his team is in the "pink". They will miss Jim Balleny this year, but "Shap" and "Pop" have something up their sleeves, and say they won't be let "Down", but are afraid they might be forced to "Sue".

"Buck" Hannaford will be in the box for the Cadets and, with support, will give a good account of himself!

Star Movie Monday and Tuesday

A silent performance of opulent beauty. A story of the transformation of an artist's model into a matchless sight-ingle.

A conflict of youth and beauty, coquetry and tender passion with saturnity and sinister magnetism.

The romance of an artist's model whose modesty was her shield and whose feet were her fortune. The immortal romance that thrilled the hearts of millions, fashioned into an entrancing reality by a cast of stars.

The story of a baldf, hypnotic power which brought the song in a woman's soul to her lips, to win her the plaudits of the world.

Redolent of the life and atmosphere of the Bohemian quarter of Paris, its gay camaraderie and undying friendships, its selfish ambitions and heroic sacrifices.

An inspired production of Du Maurier's immortal novel, wherein his famous characters are breathed into life from its pages to wear again the magic spell of its enchanting story.

Feet the whole world worships—famous feet—they patter in the studios of old Montmartre—they dance when her heart dances—they flash through romance undying—the glorious, God-given feet of Trilby!

Annual Meeting

ST. THOMAS'S CHURCH.

The annual Easter meeting of St. Thomas's Parish was held in Canon Wood Hall last night, after evening prayers, the Rector, Rev. J. B. Elliot, presiding. Despite the inclemency of the weather quite a good gathering was present—some of the fair sex braving the elements and putting in an appearance, too. The Rector opened the meeting with prayer, after which the Secretary of the Select Vestry, F. M. Stirling, read the minutes of the last annual meeting, which were confirmed. The Rector then submitted his report of the spiritual work of the Parish during the past year, that showed, so far as can be humbly judged, advancement in all parochial activities.

The Financial Warden, Hon. R. Watson, presented his report for the year. The accounts showed the church finances to be eminently satisfactory. There was an increase in the number of subscribers and in at least two instances the collections were the largest on record. A reserve fund for repairs had been established, in addition to which there was a substantial balance to the credit of the Church. Receipts from all sources amounted to $27,025.29, of which $20,463.07 stood for parochial requirements and $6,562.22 for Missions and other extra-parochial purposes, each showing an increase as compared with the preceding year.

At the request of the Rector, the Hon. Tasker Cook again agreed to act as Rector's Warden, and the Hon. R. Watson was for the 11th consecutive year unanimously elected People's Warden. There was general regret in the Parish recently when it became known that through rather indifferent health, the Hon. Mr. Watson will be obliged to relinquish his duties as Warden at this meeting, but at the urgent request of the Vestry and on the promise that they would lighten the work all they could for him, he agreed to accept the office for another year. Mr. Watson's services to St. Thomas's Church have been very great and are much appreciated by the congregation. He was first elected People's Warden about twenty-eight years ago, when he served for five years. He was again elected ten years ago, and has held the office ever since, making a total of fifteen years as People's Warden.

The election of the Select Vestry resulted as follows:—(The Rector and Wardens ex officio) Sir M. G. Winter, C.B.E., Hon. W. S. Monroe, H. W. LeMessurier, C.M.G., C. E. Hunt, F. M. Stirling, Lt. Colley, R. R. Wood, G. H. Cook, A. G. Carnell, R. G. MacDonald, J. J. Coaker, Wm. Churchill.

Reports were received and adopted from the following parish organizations:—Sunday Schools, Llewellyn Club, Women's Association, W. H. M. S. Brotherhood of St. Andrew's, St. Margaret's Guild, Young Women's Bible Class and Girls' Club, Dunfield Club and Bible Class, Women's Bible Class, Cartwright Mission Circle, Bell Ringers' Association, General Protestant Industrial Society and Cemetery Committee.

The following Committees, etc. were re-appointed: Auditors, Hon. W. S. Monroe and F. C. Berteau, I.S.O.; Cemetery Committee, E. S. Pineson, E. Laurence, J. C. Oke, F. Burcell and R. Dowden; Representatives to Protestant Industrial Society, the Rector, G. H. Cook and F. Bursell.

A vote of thanks, proposed by Hon. R. Watson and seconded by A. G. Carnell, was heartily tendered to all Church workers, through whose efforts, in small measure, the efficient state of the Parish is due.

The question of installing a broadcasting apparatus in the Church was discussed, and a small committee was appointed to enquire into the matter and report at a later date to the Select Vestry. This meeting, adjourned with the singing of the Doxology and the pronouncing of the Benediction by the Rector.

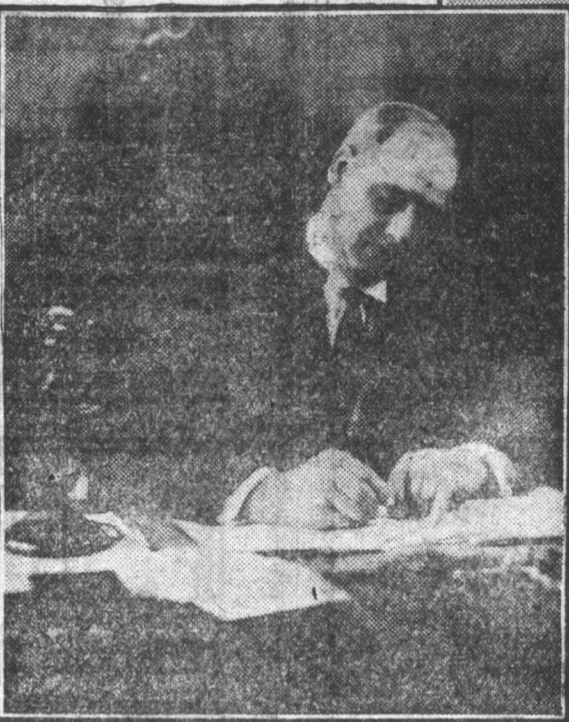

Mothers, fathers and children over 14 should see "The Lure" at the Casino Monday.—apr25.11

Successful Entertainment at Glovertown

The Band Concert Committee of Glovertown held their annual Entertainment on April 15th under the auspices of the Orange L.O.L. No. 115, Chairman, Rev. H. G. Turle, Operator J. W. Brooking. The programme consisted of various Readings, Solos, Recitations, Musical Selections, Dialogues, etc. Candy was sold during the intervals. After an interesting programme had finished baskets provided by the young ladies were then auctioned off, and ice cream and refreshments served. The sum raised amounted to $124.26 which will go towards a Band for Glovertown in the near future. After a very enjoyable night the proceedings closed by singing the National Anthem.

"IN FEBRUARY OF THIS YEAR (1924) my third baby was born. Three months later found me with constipation, headaches and just dragging around—and three small children. I decided something had to be done. I started taking Fleischmann's Yeast, a cake morning and night. In a few weeks I was able to stop the use of cathartics; headaches and backaches were gone and I had plenty of energy. I felt like a different woman."
Mrs. Marie T. Gardner, Glencairn, Va.

"AS A HUMANITARIAN, and as a physician for twenty-two years, I unhesitatingly recommend that persons suffering from deficient digestion give Fleischmann's Yeast a test. I suffered from a bad stomach for nearly twenty years. Abandoned hope of receiving permanent relief. . . . Since taking Fleischmann's Yeast cakes, which I began last June, I sleep approximately one and a half hours more and can eat a man's dinner" without distress."
Dr. William Nealon, Philadelphia, Pa.

"I HAD DEVELOPED acne of the face, which became chronic in spite of medical care and good hygiene. Stomach, clothes, washes, drugs, diets, lotions, made me wretched without improving the unsightly condition. . . . Then I consulted our family doctor, who strongly advised trying one cake of Fleischmann's Yeast before meals (three times a day). I took it regularly for six months. . . . My face cleared, I lost that thin, pale look, and was able to continue with my work at college."
Miss Rose Cooperman, Brooklyn, N. Y.

You know such people

Full of a new zest and joy in living. Read their remarkable tributes to this simple fresh food

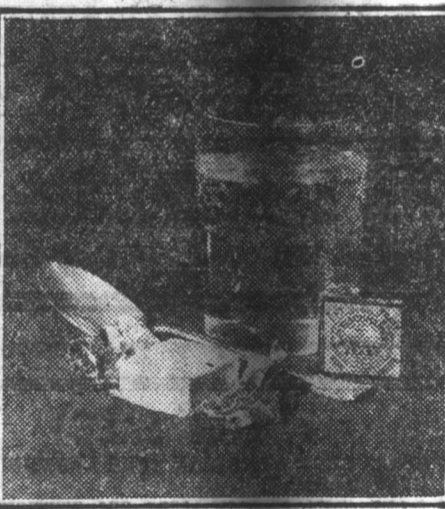

Not a "cure-all," not a medicine in any sense—Fleischmann's Yeast is simply a remarkable fresh food. The millions of tiny active yeast plants in every cake invigorate the whole system. They aid digestion—clear the skin—banish the poisons of constipation. Where cathartics give only temporary relief, yeast strengthens the intestinal muscles and makes them healthy and active. And day by day it releases new stores of energy.

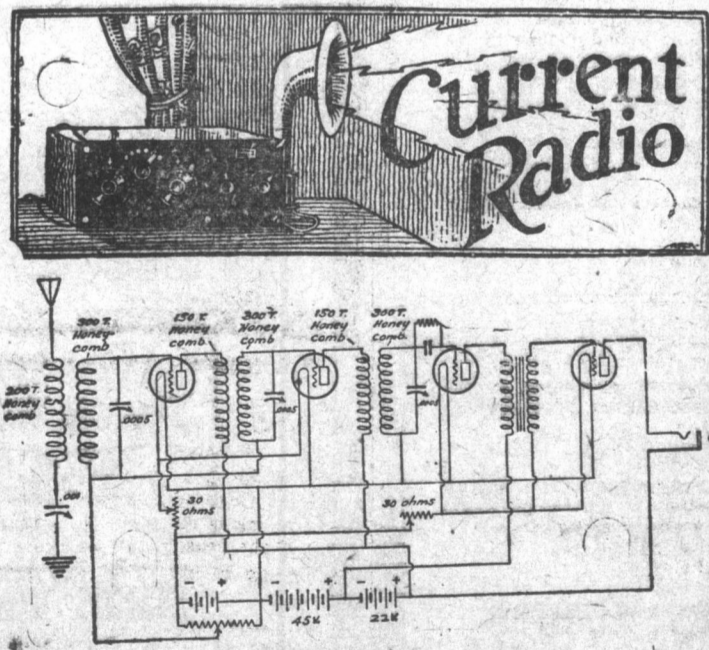

All grocers have Fleischmann's Yeast. Start eating it today! Buy several cakes at a time—they will keep fresh in a cool dry place for two or three days.

And let us send you a free copy of our latest booklet on Yeast for Health. Health Research Dept., The Fleischmann Company, 201 Duckworth Street, St. John's, N.F. Fleischmann's Yeast is prepared for market in Newfoundland.

"AS A TRAVELING salesman I found myself suffering from chronic constipation and general stomach disorders induced by irregular meals. My head ached continuously. I lacked 'pep.' My record fell off alarmingly. . . . I tried Fleischmann's Yeast. In a few weeks my tendency to be constipated had practically disappeared and with it my headaches. I have broken all my previous sales records. I feel that Fleischmann's Yeast has materially helped me up the ladder toward success."
Fred Corrington, Litchfield, Ill.

THIS FAMOUS FOOD tones up the entire system—banishes constipation—stomach troubles—skin disorders. Eat two or three cakes a day before meals on crackers—in fruit juices or milk—or just plain. For constipation especially, dissolve one cake in hot water (not scalding) night and morning.

Tuning in Foreign Broadcasting Stations

EDITED BY JOHN M. CLAYTON.

There are a number of foreign broadcasting stations operating on wave lengths from 1,000 to 3,000 meters. The tendency of foreign engineers is to gradually increase the wave lengths used in new and experimental stations instead of going down to the shorter waves as we do here in America.

In Belgium station BAY operates on 1,100 meters, broadcasting regularly. Kholby, Prague and Prunn in Czechoslovakia broadcast on 1,100 and 1,800 and 1,750 meters respectively. Station OXE at Lyngby, Denmark can be found on 2,400 meters. No less than six stations in France operate in this band between 1,000 and 3,000 meters. Two stations in Germany, three in Italy, one in Yugoslavia, seven in Holland, two in Spain, two in Switzerland, and one in South Africa complete the list of long wave broadcasters. . . . Most of the stations use much more power than any of the American stations, several of them (notably the Paragon in Czechoslovakia) use ten kilowatts in the antenna. That is approximately twenty times the power used at most of our stations. Their range should be enormous and we should have little trouble in picking up at least a dozen of the highwave foreigners in this country. . . . We are suggesting above a form of circuit which should give our readers a chance to experiment on transatlantic high power broadcasting reception. We hope, shortly, to be able to run a story on the completed receiver. The above circuit is merely a suggestion as to one way in which this reception can possibly be accomplished.

This set whose circuit we are showing includes two stages of tuned radio frequency amplification, detector and one stage of audio amplification. We are not utilizing any form of Hazeltine neutrodion neutralizer but are using a potentiometer to prevent oscillations in the radio amplifier tubes. On wave lengths above 1,000 meters there is nothing gained by using a capacity neutralization scheme, the potentiometer method being entirely satisfactory.

For the secondary coils marked "a" in the diagram, we suggest 300 turn honeycomb coils. These coils when shunted by a condenser having a capacity of .00025 mfd will have a tuning range from 1,000 to 3,000 meters. A large condenser (48 plates) can be used, of course, and will be of no particular disadvantage. Due to interference from ships stations operating on the 800 and 962 meter waves, it is highly desirable that the primary circuit of the first transformer be tuned and also have some provision whereby the coupling between the primary and secondary coils be variable.

Archie Marks Players in Great Comedy

MILES OF LAUGHS IN "HELLO BILL"

"THE LURE" MONDAY'S PLAY.
The weather man grinned sarcastically upon the amusement lovers last night, but despite that fact there was a good attendance at the Casino to witness Archie Marks Players in that hilarious comedy "Hello Bill." The play is one of the smoothest running stories seen in a decade and the action is fast and furious with laughs in abundance. Lindsay Perrin who has been noted as a comedian of rare ability long ago is seen in this bill in the role of William Fuller. Not only is the story original, but the way in which Mr. Perrin makes you laugh is also unusual and novel. Miss Archie Marks, the popular "queen of repetition" as we know her appears in a role that is a delight to her audience. The character is that of Dorothy Dare, around whom the story largely concerns. The rest of the company do excellent work.

The vaudeville was particularly attractive and won the appreciative applause of the audience. To-night is the last chance to see this play and if you want a real laugh, here's where you get it.
As announced, the bill for Monday is that wonderful play "The Lure," one of the biggest successes the stage has ever known. No children under fourteen years are admitted to this play. It is for grown-ups only. It is also advisable that patrons should see this play from the rise of curtain and therefore be in their seats by 8.30. Seats now selling at Hutton's Music Store.
