C. N. R. TRAFFIC APPROACHES PEAK EARLY

85 EXTRA TRAINS ON MAIN LINES IN LAST 4 DAYS

Volume, Usually Reached in Mid-Season, Nearer

MANY EMPLOYED

2,000 Cars More Than Last Year Are Loaded in November

Canadian Press. MONTREAL, Dec. 7.—Freight traffic on the Atlantic region of the Canadian National Railways is rapidly approaching the peak usually achieved only during the midwinter rush of import and export business, consequent upon the closing of the St. Lawrence route, according to information given here by officials of the railway. Within the last four days, 85 extra freight trains have been operated on the main lines of the region and the movement continues.

The expansion has meant the employment of many extra men and the reinstatement of others who had been laid off, when business on the region decreased during the summer months, with the opening of the St. Lawrence route.

INCREASE GENERAL The increase in traffic, which is several weeks earlier this season, is not confined to the movement of wheat, 200,000 bushels of which have already gone to Saint John from western points, and 50,000 bushels of which are now on the way, but is in general freight as well as the lumber, coal and potato movements showing marked increases. During the month of November, the increase in our loadings on the region was 2,000 as compared with figures for the corresponding period last year.

1,000 CARS POTATOES Since January 1, 1925, more than 1,000 cars of potatoes have been shipped from Prince Edward Island by rail, making a total of over 700,000 bushels. The greater part of these markets have moved to United States markets during the last few weeks.

While this record movement is slackening off somewhat, it is thought that it will continue in unusual volume until weather too severe for shipping, without very expensive precautions, sets in.

VOTING IN BAGOT CONSIDERED LIGHT

Bad Condition of Roads Prevents Large Poll—To Fill Only Vacancy

ACTONVALE, Que., Dec. 7.—The expectation of party organizers was that voting in the Federal by-election in Bagot county today will not be heavy. The thaw and heavy rains recently have turned many of the roads into quagmires, making traveling very difficult. There was promise this afternoon of heavy snow before nightfall. Organizers and workers were working strenuously, however, to get the vote. The polls close at 6 p.m.

The Liberal candidate is C. D. Morand and the Conservative Hon. Andre Fauteux. The by-election was rendered necessary by the death of the member-elect J. E. Marcell, Liberal, who had represented the constituency since 1918. Mr. Fauteux was Mr. Marcell's opponent in the general election, when the balloting was Marcell 3,571; Fauteux 2,797, majority for Marcell 774.

GROUP-GIVING FOR STOCKING FUND GROWS IN POPULARITY

Four More Aggregations Swell Amount for Poor Kiddies—Total Now Nearly $450—Firemen, Staffs of Purity Co. and Gutta Percha Co. Combine to Help.

GROUP GIVING to the Times-Star Empty Stocking Fund is gaining in popularity and the fund in consequence is climbing steadily towards the goal. In four instances over the week-end this manner of assisting the poor for the little ones of the poor was followed. The sums thus realized, together with several welcome individual contributions, added the very satisfactory amount of $239.68 to what had been acknowledged on Saturday.

STAFFS UNITE It will be seen that the group idea was adopted among some of the firemen and that there is a contribution of $24.50 from Chief Walter Vaughan and members of the permanent force; also that a collection was taken among the staff of the Purity Ice Cream Co., Ltd., and that this boosted the fund $35. Similar action by the staff of the Gutta Percha Rubber Co., Ltd. added $11 and there also came to the staff of the Purity Ice Cream Co., Ltd. $11.00. The total for the week-end was $239.68, given at a supper dance at which Frank M. Ross entertained at the Admiral Beatty Hotel on Saturday evening following.

LABORATORY PLANNED FOR GYE, BARNARD

Details of Discoveries to Be Published Soon

WORK PROMISING

Finder of Disease Organism Not Ready, However, To Claim Full Success

Canadian Press. LONDON, Dec. 7.—The Medical Research Council attaches such value to the investigations of Drs. W. E. Gye and J. E. Barnard into inoculation with cancer germs for a cure of the disease that it is having a new laboratory built for their special use in Middlesex.

It is asserted that Dr. Gye and Mr. Barnard are continuing with success the recent discoveries and details of the investigations and study of Mr. Barnard's methods, which led to the finding of the ultra-microscopic organism of cancer by means of invisible rays, are soon to be published.

WORKERS INOCULATED The Daily Mail says that several laboratory workers under Dr. Gye and Mr. Barnard, have undergone inoculations with live cancer germs, plus its chemical agent. The newspaper adds that the results of these inoculations have been so successful, notwithstanding the fact that subsequent inoculation was made in several cases with the cancer germs, plus its chemical agent. Mr. Barnard told the Daily Mail that the recent work was promising but that it was premature to assert that a successful method of immunizing humans to cancer had been evolved.

WINNIPEG, Man., Dec. 7.—A Canadian navy which would act as a protective factor in times of peace and the first line of defence in war, was urged in an interview here by Sam Harris, Dominion president of the Navy League.

"I am not in favor of contributing to the British navy," Mr. Harris said, "but I believe that the money required could be raised by taxing industries directly benefitting from the protection afforded."

Impression Is Found of Too Much Politics In Maritimes

WINDSOR, Ont., Dec. 6.—I have found an impression in Windsor, as in many other places, that there has been too much politics in the Maritimes Provinces. The implication is that if there had been less partisanship among our representatives in Ottawa we might have fared better. Possibly that is something worth thinking about. R. K. Smith of Amherst sounded a different note in a brief interview in a Toronto paper when he said our members are not going to Ottawa merely as Conservatives or Liberals, but as representatives of the Maritime Provinces.

I had an interesting talk today with W. F. Morgan Dean, manager for the Canada Toledo Scale Co., Ltd. He knows Saint John, and has played golf on the Riverside links. His company uses Canadian ports for its export business, but is not doing a large export trade at present. The policy of the company, he said, is to do all its buying in Canada.

A. F. FUERTH of the Studebaker Corporation said their export trade at present is small, but they are considering an extension, and their policy is to use Canadian ports wherever there is a service. Mr. Fuertth expressed the hope that the new Dominion Board of Trade might be able to render some such service as is rendered to the United States Chamber of Commerce. He expressed much interest in the Maritimes and the new spirit that has been developed. "You people have been putting up a great fight," he said.

J. D. Mansfield, of the Chrysler Corporation, said their export business was arranged through their Detroit headquarters, but they shipped a good deal through Montreal. He suggested that the home office might be communicated with in reference to winter shipments through our ports. He quite appreciated, he said, the force of the plea for the building of Canada's ocean ports. I was unable to see A. J. Hayes of the Champion Spark Plug Co., Ltd., but learned that some of their export business is routed through New York. I found the managers of American branch factories here most courteous and attentive, and fully appreciative of the force of the arguments in favor of routing Canadian traffic via Canadian ports.

PRINCE GOING TO IRELAND IS REPORT

To Lay Belfast Parliament Cornerstone and Visit Free State, Says Rumor

Canadian Press. LONDON, Dec. 7.—The recent suggestion that the Prince of Wales visit Ireland in 1926, has solidified itself into a report that such a mission is being arranged.

Under the new boundary settlement signed in London last week, Northern Ireland will obtain a sum of sufficient size to build a new parliament house in Belfast. The plans for the building had been held up because of lack of funds. It is understood the Prince of Wales will go to Belfast next year, to lay the foundation stone.

There is also a rumor, which is believed in Belfast, that the Prince, after laying the cornerstone, will make an official visit to the Free State. No confirmation of this rumor is obtainable.

WONDER RAILWAY. BUENOS AYRES, Dec. 7.—One of the world's most wonderful railways runs between here and Valparaiso. PILOT STILL IS MISSING FROM S.S. AIREDALE

Union President Says He Anticipated Disaster

TO ISSUE REPORT

Alleges Incompetence in Handling of Last 60 Steamers

Canadian Press. QUEBEC, Dec. 7.—No further news of Pilot Jules Lachance, who was in charge of the freight steamer Airedale when she went aground at about 10 o'clock on Saturday night, on the east end of Isle Aux Coudres, about 40 miles below Quebec, has been received at the local signal office this morning. The news of the pilot's disappearance was received here about an hour after the ship went on the sand bank, and efforts to locate him proved futile.

The search was kept up yesterday morning, without success, and it is now believed that the grounding must have cost the pilot's life.

PILOT HEAD SPEAKS

J. A. Bernier, president of the Quebec Pilots Union, commenting on the accident and the disappearance of Lachance stated that when he had sufficient information relative to the grounding, he would issue a statement on the conditions which had to be faced at the present time on the St. Lawrence River by members of his union.

"Nevertheless," he continued, "I must declare frankly that for the past week I expected to learn of a disaster. I cannot overlook the incompetence with which the last 60 odd ships have been handled. No consideration was given to the condition under which the pilots had to work. The Marine Department at Ottawa generally opens its eyes when it is too late in matters concerning pilotage. I believe it is time that the pilots be able to appreciate the spirit of tolerance that has already been manifested by the pilots."

SAILED IN FOG

The steamer sailed from Quebec in a dense fog, and this fact, in view of the ice conditions on the river and displacement of two lightships from their positions below Quebec, made navigation difficult. While daylight lasted the pilot was able to guide the ship satisfactorily, and the last favorable report was received when the vessel entered the L'Islet traverse. She is now lying on a huge sandbank at Coudres Island, and the fact that several plates on her hull have been torn away leads to the belief she scraped the rock bottom in passing through the L'Islet Traverse. It is therefore presumed that the pilot, realizing that the ship was badly damaged and might sink in deep water, ran her at full speed onto the sand bank, in order to save the lives of the crew. The tide was high at the time the ship progressed so far on the sandbank that her foremast lies high and dry at low tide. When the ship grounded Pilot Lachance was at his post, and it was only an hour later that his disappearance was noticed.

16 SHIPS TO BE OVERHAULED IN DRY DOCK SOON

Frank M. Ross Predicts Busy Season at Courtenay Bay

WOODEN SHIP DAYS RECALLED AT FETE

Optimism Marks Speeches at Christening of New Steel Ferry

FRANK M. ROSS, general manager of the Saint John Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Company, Ltd. told the luncheon party held in the dining quarters at the docking buildings after the christening of the Minas Basin steel ferry Kipawo, Saturday, that no fewer than 16 more steamers are booked for extensive overhauling at the Courtenay Bay works within the next two months. These are in addition to the three vessels already in dry dock. A steady busy season, he said, was assured, and the dry dock was now well introduced to the shipping world.

This announcement was incidental to Mr. Ross' introduction of George McAvity, dry dock shareholder-director, as one of the "iron men" appertaining to the well-known literary phrase dealing with "Wooden Ships and Iron Men." The wooden ships have gone from Saint John, said the toastmaster, but some of the iron men remain.

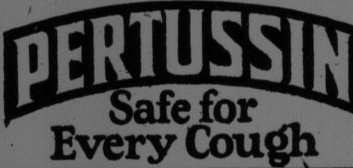

HIS HOPES REALIZED. On rising to respond, Mr. McAvity was heartily greeted. He said he had been interested in a drydock scheme for this city since the days of the Norton Griffith work. He felt the dock was necessary to this part of the coast, he supported it and now that it was a wonderful reality he felt his hopes had been more than realized. He wished he were 40 years younger to give more assistance to Mr. Ross in this direction, whose efforts, Mr. McAvity claimed, had done more for Saint John than those of any other citizen in many years. It was a triumph of foresight, energy and perseverance. His fond wish was soon to learn that the C. P. R. had placed an order for a large boat such as are built in overseas shipyards. In the days of wooden ships, referred to by the chairman, Saint John was a leading producer of the world's best craft and Mr. McAvity could see no reason why with all the natural products at hand the same thing might be accomplished in iron ships. As a boy he recalled no less than 16 immense wooden vessels in frame on the same Courtenay Bay shore, at the same time. Surely this kind of history is possible of repetition.

MRS. DAY SPEAKS. The informal toast list included a graceful reference to Mrs. H. Stockwell Day's sponsoring of the little steamer, accompanied by the gift of two gold and French enamel jewel cases, supplemented by a huge bouquet of roses and ferns. A speech was demanded and Mrs. Day with sparkling wit accepted the "dare," remarking that as her father (Vice-President Grant Hall, of the C. P. R.), lived in her home it was so seldom that she could make a few consecutive remarks without being interrupted by her husband and parent—she a mere woman—that she just would go ahead and make a speech since she had been really asked to do so. The occasion was "frightfully exciting," Mrs. Day, whom Vice-President Hall afterwards said was the only member of his family born in the Maritime Provinces, thanked the Dry Dock Company folks for their lovely gift and said she appreciated the distinction of having christened the first craft to be completely built in the new dock.

MR. HALL SEES PROGRESS. Vice-President Hall, who responded to the toast "The Owners," said when he accepted the invitation to attend the christening of the new steel ferry OLD SALT'S TRIBUTE. Captain Cook said if they gave him a rough sea and a good boat, he would feel more at home than attempting to make a speech, so he would content himself with heartily congratulating the Saint John Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Company on its first complete product, even though it was a small one. She was a splendidly built craft and he knew the D. A. R. was getting a fine job.

MR. VICKERS TALKS. V. G. R. Vickers of the C. P. R. official party made some humorous remarks in prefacing his congratulations to the Dry Dock Company and the D. A. R. and referred to his former visit when the big dock was opened. He always liked to come to Saint John for besides being an enterprising port city, it was an awfully good place socially.

It was only one more occasion marking the progress of Saint John. He recalled with deep interest the other visit to the dry dock when Lord Byng officiated at its auspicious inaugural. He hoped he would be invited many times more to help celebrate further forward events in connection with this busy port-city. He was always glad to help.

Called "GARDEN OF EDEN."

Superintendent George E. Graham of the D. A. R. branch of the C. P. R., after paying his compliments to the special guest of the occasion, Mrs. Day, made facetious reference to the country traversed by his railway as the original site of and still the Garden of Eden. It was at least the poetic land of Longfellow's "Evangeline" and for that reason a "mecca of tourists." The new ferry service would be of unquestioned value as an increased facility for the growing traffic. His compliment to the Saint John Drydock & Shipbuilding Company for the quality of their workmanship, their courtesy and hearty spirit of co-operation.

Hance J. Logan, of Amherst, former M. P. for Cumberland county, N. B., who was introduced by Mr. Logan as a public man who had striven long and successfully to impress Canada as a whole that the Maritime Provinces are here, that they have the men and can deliver the goods, received a flattering reception. Mr. Logan said he felt it an honor to be a guest upon the christening occasion which meant so much to his home county and the further shores of Minas Basin. He indulged in a flowery description of the vacationing allurements of the country to be served by the little steamer, and told of the new roadways through New Brunswick and Nova Scotia which would coordinate with this improved water service. Mr. Logan was sure the American influx in the tourist season was only fairly started.

GRANT HALL PRAISED.

He paid a tribute to Vice-President Grant Hall, of the C. P. R., for his readiness to place an order for the new ferry once the need of it was pointed out. He also praised E. C. McDeade and Town Clerk Smith, the hardy mariner who inspected the construction of the steamer for the D. A. R. Mr. Logan concluded his remarks with an optimistic outlook for the Maritime Provinces and paid a ringing tribute to the C. P. R. and its share in local development.

PARRSBORO DELEGATES.

E. C. McDeade representing the Board of Trade of Parrsboro expressed great delight at the fruition of the efforts put forth by those interested in having the new ferry built and on behalf of his townspeople thanked all those fortunate who had taken prominent part in carrying out the scheme. He also thanked the drydock company for the courteous christening ceremonial and the lunch party. He congratulated Saint John on its first steel boat to be built in the drydock.

N. B. AUTO LICENSE FEES WILL BE CUT

Reduction of 20 Per Cent. Will be Made up by Tax on Gas

FREDERICTON, Dec. 6.—Automobile license fees in New Brunswick for 1926 will be about 20 per cent. less than the existing rates in view of the introduction of the gasoline tax, Hon. D. A. Stewart, Minister of Public Works, said yesterday. The reduction in license fees will put the new scale at about the same figures that existed before a surcharge was inaugurated a couple of years ago to pay for the patrol system of the public highways, which was then introduced. It had been expected that a somewhat greater reduction would be made with the introduction of the gasoline tax, but the Minister of Public Works said that it would be unsafe to make a further cut until experience shows what the gasoline tax will yield.

THREE CENTS A GALLON.

The gasoline tax, Hon. Mr. Stewart stated, will in all probability be three cents per gallon, which, he said, is the figure generally adopted by other provinces.

Bronchitis More Than a Cold

Often develops rapidly into pneumonia—relief is found in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limesed and Turpentine.

Any cold is serious enough when its dreadful possibilities are considered, but when there is soreness or tightness in the chest and a dry hard cough you can look for bronchitis, which is often confused with an ordinary cold. It is usually known by aching limbs and body pains, chilly feelings, weakness and weakness, pain in the chest and a tight, tearing cough. Fever, dry skin, thirst, coated tongue and constipation are other symptoms. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limesed and Turpentine seems almost like a specific for bronchitis because it is so successful in loosening up the cough, aiding expectoration and preventing the inflammation from reaching the lungs.

SUSSEX, Dec. 6.—The barn used by Evans Kyle, truckman, was totally destroyed by fire this evening and two valuable trucking horses perished in the flames. The barn was only 25 feet away from Mr. Kyle's dwelling in Maple avenue and it burned fiercely. Both the residence and barn are owned by Edward Brown and rented by Mr. Kyle. Besides the horses there were in the barn the winter supply of oats and hay which had been got in only last week, as well as a large amount of trucking equipment in sleds, wagons, harness and scrapers. The loss is estimated at $4,000. While there is some insurance, it will only partly cover the damage.

I coughed day and night, and had such severe pains, in my chest I could hardly bear them, but finally I sent and got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. After I had taken a couple of doses I found that my cough was relieved and the pains were all gone, and by the time I had finished taking the whole bottle I was completely rid of my trouble. Now, I will never be without a bottle of "Dr. Wood's" in my home. Put up only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WHY NOT? The people of Canada would, we think, like to find out just whose sheltered interests are so needful of protection at the hands of the Railway Commission that faith has to be broken with the people of Canada, that the ports of Canada have to be starved of their legitimate trade, that $170,000,000 has to be neglected, and that the port of Boston has to be built up in its indubitably time for a show-down.

Dinner Stories

BILL had succeeded in getting a job in a motor factory. He did not even know himself how he got it, for he knew nothing at all about engineering.

On his second day at work he chanced to meet a friend of his who was equally ignorant.

"Hello, Joe," he said. "How are you getting along with your new job?"

"Oh, all right!" was the reply. "How are you getting along with your new job?"

"Great!" said Bill. "But it's terribly close work. Why, do you know, the writer meant that a diploma given to a graduate does not demonstrate his capacity, but merely indicates that he has taken certain studies. But the signification which the word 'prove' started out with is that of the test-try-out."

"Prove all things," held the fact that which is good, says the Bible. That means test everything, and when you have found what is good and true, hold on to it. 'Proved as by fire'—tested as by fire. But we have diverted the test to mean the demonstration. Then as to 'certified'—that means to make certain, not merely to record. About a thing that is 'certified' there is no more doubt, any more than there is about the validity of a certified check. But in this quoted sentence it is made to mean 'asserted,' or 'noted.'"

One wonders how many years it took to turn the good old English word 'let,' that is, to prevent, into its opposite. Hamlet exclaims to those who are trying to hold him back: "Unhand me—I'll make a ghost of him that lets me." But Shakespeare also used the word in the new sense, as in "The Taming of the Shrew": "Let the world slide." So the transmutation had begun in his day. We still use the word in the old sense in the proverbial expression, "without let or hindrance." Proverbs preserves words as alcohol preserves peaches.

Poems That Live

TURN ALL THY THOUGHTS TO EYES.

Turn all thy thoughts to eyes, Turn all thy hairs to ears, Change all thy friends to spies And all thy joys to fears. True love will yet be free In spite of jealousy.

Turn darkness into day, Conjectures into truth, Believe what the envious say, Or fish with golden hook. True love will yet be free In spite of jealousy.

Wrest every word and look, Rack every hidden thought, Seek every hidden golden hook, True love cannot be caught. For that will still be free In spite of jealousy.

The Best of Advice

WHY SCIENCE RULES

THE answer of the writer of this column to the question, "What knowledge is of the most worth?" SCIENCE, as has been stated here, is the knowledge that regulates the physical, mental and social; and that they should understand all other science as a key to the science of life.

Electric railways of the United States are using 2550 motor buses.

HERBERT SPENCER defines science as knowledge reduced to LAW and embodied in SYSTEM.

It is law that Nature enforces, and there can be no violations without certain punishment from a court where money and attorneys and lawyers and more attorneys avail nothing.

Spencer tells us that for direct self-preservation, or the maintenance of life and health, the most important knowledge is SCIENCE.

"For that indirect self-preservation which we call livelihood, the knowledge of the greatest value is—SCIENCE.

"For the interpretation of national life, past and present, without which the citizen cannot intelligently regulate his conduct, the indispensable key is—SCIENCE.

"Alas for the most perfect production and highest enjoyment of Art in all its forms, the needful preparation is—SCIENCE.

"And for purposes of discipline—intellectual, moral, religious—the most efficient study is one more—SCIENCE."

NO NEED to teach the young the value of good conduct if they take to heart the lessons of science. Equally at present and in the re-

RURAL CREDITS. (Halifax Herald.)

It looks as if Rural Credits might be a subject of very considerable interest in the coming session of the Dominion Parliament. A few days ago Hon. H. H. Stevens, of Vancouver, one of the prominent elected Conservative members of the House, filed notice of motion on the subject. Members have the privilege of filing these notices with the clerk of the House before the session opens. These take priority of consideration according to the dates of filing. Mr. Stevens' notice of motion is the first on this subject. A second one was subsequently filed by a Progressive member from Saskatchewan. The Stevens motion may come on for debate in an early stage of the session. Western members have been insistent in this matter. They urge that the farmer needs better financial accommodation than the banks give him. Western farmers in particular allege that the ordinary bank accommodation is not suitable to their industry. The Stevens motion favors the establishment of a system under which long-term loans would be available at a lower rate of interest than banks can give. He would also have the system applied for colonization purposes.

MISSIONARIES (Toronto Globe.)

Mr. C. R. McCullough of Hamilton, one of the original founders of the whole Canadian Club movement, exclaimed: "We send missionaries to India and to China. Why not preach the gospel in our own land? Why not preach the gospel of Canadianism to the people of our own land?" The door of opportunity never was open wider, and it is well that some of the Canadian Club officers are endeavoring to do this with confidence and constructive ideas.

GROUPS IN PARLIAMENT. (Three Rivers Nouvelliste.)

Workmen and farmers are well advised to combine, to unite, to associate themselves for the purpose of demanding and defending their interests, but it is a well-worn truth that they can only succeed so long as they stick to their professional ground and abstain from politics. The Labor Party furnishes us with a striking example of this fact. As long as the workmen's associations abstained from politics and had no members in the Manitoba Provincial Parliament, they were courted by political parties and were granted practically every social law which they demanded. The day when, renouncing this line of conduct, they descended into the arena and sent to the Manitoba Parliament a Labor group, was the last day of their progress. The other parties combined against the Labor group and thereforward blocked all social legislation.

more business. A spirit of progress and encouragement concerning the port marked Saturday's luncheon at the dry dock on the occasion of the christening of the new steel ferry Kitapo. The speakers looked forward to a coming day when construction work on a large scale, in addition to the repair industry, will be carried on at Courtenay Bay. It was announced that no fewer than sixteen additional steamers are already booked for extensive overhauling at the dock, in addition to the three ships already there. This is welcome news, coming as it does at a time when the outlook for an uncommonly busy port season is excellent. The great dry dock, as President Ross says, has now been well introduced to the shipping world, and it is a great step forward in the equipment of the port, constituting, as it does, a great advantage to the steamers on this route, which will be constantly increasing in number hereafter.

Believe It or Not. (Boston Transcript.) No experience in arithmetic is required to add insult to injury. When it comes to drawing conclusions, all women are natural born artists. The optimist has more fun in hoping than the pessimist does in having. When money talks some people can't hear themselves think. For the garage man opportunity knocks when a patron's motor does. Women who try to act like men, seldom try to act like gentlemen. The office that seeks the man sometimes has the same difficulty Diogenes had. The self-made man generally thinks he has achieved a work of art. "The weaker sex" doesn't apply these late days, but it is still the speaker's sex. A reputation for wisdom may be acquired by applauding the opinions of your neighbors. Words. (Boston Transcript.) Here, in a little epigram found in one of the Boston papers, is an example of the way in which English words drift from their moorings and come to mean something quite opposite from their

If You're Unfortunate Enough to Have Married a Weary Willie Who Won't Work, Save Your Reproaches and Hustle Out for a Job Yourself— You Can't Reform Him, and Work is Your Only Salvation.

I GET a great many letters from women who write: "My husband will not work. He is healthy and strong and capable of earning plenty of money to support his family in comfort, but he will not stick to any job. Sometimes he will work for a few days. Then he quits. Often he loafs for months at a time, while we live by sponging on my father-in-law's money. What can I do with a man who has no energy and ambition?"

Absolutely nothing, sister, absolutely nothing. Laziness goes to the bone, and there is no cure for it. Whether it is a physical or a mental disease, whether it is the hookworm or plain shiftlessness, I don't know, but I do know that when people are born with that tired feeling no earthly power can turn them into hustlers.

Nobody can put pep into the peepless, nor insert a backbone into the spineless, nor speed up those whose tires are all deflated. Especially can no wife work such a miracle on her husband. If his own sense of responsibility and his own pride do not overcome his inertia and cause him to go to work and do a man's part in the world, nothing that anybody else can say or do to him will spur him into action.

OF ALL the faults that a husband can have, none fills a wife with such disgust and contempt as laziness. The spectacle of a man who is so sluggish in mind and body that he is nothing more than an animal that eats and sleeps and lounges in the sun—a man so lost to every sense of shame that he will even buy his case at the price of being supported by a woman or little children, simply sickens her. She would have more respect for him if he were an enterprising perch-climber or a go-getter gunman. Unhappily, many women are unucky enough to draw these Weary Willies in the matrimonial lottery, and their ever-present problem is what to do with the men who will not work.

Most wives meet the situation by nagging. They fret and fume and whine and complain, and every time husband shows his worthless head in the doorway, they hurl at it a burst of reproaches about the rent being overdue and the flour bin being empty and the children's shoes worn out. This does no good.

MUCH as a lady man fears his wife's tongue, he dreads the thought of work more. Uncongenial as he finds the atmosphere of a home in which he is continually reproached for his shortcomings, it is not so distasteful to him as the busy air of a factory or an office. So, he simply ducks the verbal missiles and exits and flies to some refuge where he can forget with others of the Amalgamated Sons of Rest.

So the net result of all the wife's nagging is just to worry herself into nervous prostration, without exploding a single bomb under her husband that moves him in the direction of a steady job.

In reality, the only thing that the woman with a lazy husband can do to improve her lot is just to accept his laziness as a fixed fact that she cannot alter, and stop wasting her own energy and ruining her disposition fretting about it. Let her admit to herself, once and for all that no tears or entreaties of hers are going to change him into a toiler, that no representation of his duty is going to speed him up, and that it is useless to pray and hope for the impossible to happen.

HE IS as he is, so she faces the fact that she must either turn bread-winner or else become the recipient of profligate charity. Thank God, no able-bodied woman need be dependent now. The whole world of effort is open to women. Their work is in as great demand as men's work, and there is no reason why the woman with a trifling talent should sit down and tamely submit to being always poor and in need.

If her husband won't work, she can. And of one thing she may be sure, and that is that no other job in the world is so nerve-racking, so hard and profitless, as that of trying to make a man who doesn't want to work. She will find it a thousand times easier and less exhausting to do the work herself.

OFTEN the woman who is thrown upon her own resources to make the living for the family develops unexpected talents and makes a great success. Often the boarding house that the lady man's wife starts to feed her children and pay the rent goes into a hotel; the small shop develops into a big one; the woman who started out baking cakes or making pickles or preserves for her neighbors blossoms out into a fashionable caterer. The clerk becomes a buyer and the stenographer a highly paid private secretary.

It is often said that behind the door of every man's success is a woman. It may be said with equal truth that behind the door of most women's successes you will find some man's failure.

IT IS grim necessity that forces women out into the battlefield of life, and in her fight to give her children education and a position in the world a mother often achieves fame for herself.

Whether the wife of a lazy man shall support him or not is her own individual affair. Personally, I hold to the good old biblical doctrine that "He that will not work, neither shall he eat." And I think that if all the slackers, male and female, had their home doors shut behind them, and were turned out into a world where they had to earn their own bread and butter or else starve, that it would do a lot to regenerate the world.

BUT few women have the courage to do this, and sometimes a lazy husband earns his board and keep by being amiable and agreeable and taking the place of a pet Pekinese.

Perhaps what I have said about dealing with a lazy husband isn't very comforting, but, believe me, sister, it is the only way. Don't waste any more time trying to reform him. Go to work yourself.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

THE TWINS SAVE THE FOX.

Nancy and Nick stopped their black ponies and listened. The sound of dogs barking and horses galloping came more and more clearly across the fields. "The fox can't be far away," said Nick. "We must try to save him." "Yes, we surely must," said Mister Blue Coat, jumping down from the place where he had been hiding under Nick's coat-tails. That is one reason I brought you to this place in Picture Land. I have always wondered what became of the poor fox in the fox-hunt. And now we are going to find out. Suddenly there was a rush and a scurry among the dead leaves almost at the ponies' feet. And there stood Mister Fox! He had stopped for a minute with ears up and one foot lifted as though he wanted to turn to safety. The dogs and horses were between him and his hole, and if he wanted to get back to it safely, he would have to make a wide circle. He knew he would have to save his strength and take as short a cut as possible. Thoughts don't take as long as words and it all happened very quickly. So quickly that it seemed as though the fox had scarcely stopped when he started again. He had spied the Twins on their ponies, and putting his nose to the ground was off like a flash. "The blue Cap was as quick as a wink. I stop! Mister Fox!" he shouted. "Stop and we'll save you." "How?" asked the Fox stopping again and looking back. I cannot tell you how it happened that the Twins understood every word. Oh, yes, of course I know why! I forgot! Their magic shoes under the hunting boots, gave them all sorts of magical powers—even to understand fox language. "You'll have to be quick," panted the fox. "The dogs are already to the top of the hill." "They only followed you by smelling you," said Mister Blue Cap. "If you could move without touching the ground they would lose track of you at once." "Hump!" snapped the fox. "How can I? I'm not a crow—or a kite. I haven't got wings." "I'll carry you," offered Nick. "I won't hurt you. Jump right up here and I'll ride you away to a safe place. The dogs can't follow you." There was no time to answer, even without another word, the poor fox leaped up on Nick's pony, and away went the Twins over a ditch, a field, a fence and a creek, into a woods. "Get down now—here's a grand place to hide among those rocks and trees," said Nick. "The dogs can't find you now." "Oh thank you, thank you," cried the poor fox scampering off. "Did you children have a good time?" asked the hunter later. "Too bad we didn't get a fox to show you. We had one but we lost him some way. The dogs lost the trail." The Twins had no answer to this. SEE-SAWING ON BROADWAY

TALE-TELLERS never tire of pointing out the incongruous and ironic sidelights of New York life. The other night I was passing a Tiddish cafe just off Seventh avenue. It is frequented largely by young women and men from the cloak and suit belt, most of whom have never traveled more than 20 miles beyond the Hudson River. As the door swung open I heard the strumming of a guitar and the air of a song familiar to my once western ears. I peered inside and saw a girl in the 10-gallon hat of the wide open spaces and she was singing such fine old cowboy ballads as "Don't Bury Me on the Lone Prairie," "Sixteen Gamblers" and "The Cowboy's Lament," while the children of the East Side cheered for more. In one corner sat three cowboys from an up-town vaudeville act almost in tears. P. S.—In the event this tale is doubted by some, the young lady was Margaret Larkin, late of Las Vegas, N. M., and once a newspaper woman in Albuquerque. Like all the rest of the entertainment world that comes to New York she has her eye on Broadway and is trying to strum her way there via the minor cafes. STROLLING along 59th street after dinner I stopped to look in the window of a pawn shop. Prominently displayed was a tray of Phi Beta Kappa keys, ranging in size from the large and impressive keys of a generation or so ago to the tiny, bejeweled style of today. They could be purchased from 60 cents up. What price college glory? NOT so long ago the entire nation was being thrilled by cables out of Hawaii telling of the fears concerning the PN-3 and its gallant crew of Pacific flyers, headed by the brave Commander Rogers. Saw this same Commander Rogers, now lost in a crowd of merry-makers at the Club Mirador. And what a mean tango he was stepping! THE numerology craze is getting worse and worse in New York. It got under way, thanks to Noyes McMen, the magazine cover artist, who announced that great things began to happen to her once she had changed her name to a certain number of letters. The idea of numerology is that certain sequences of vowels and consonants in a person's name have certain omens and import and that the total number of letters also has bearing on one's fortunes. Well, I chanced to meet on Broadway two young actresses whom I had known as Marion Warring Manley and Millicent Gray but, without benefit of clergy, they have changed their names to Warring Manley and Millicent Grayton, because it works out better numerologically. Worse still, the Actor's theatre has changed a play's name from "Morals" to "Morads" for the same reason. JAMES W. DEAN.

News Notes From Movieland

By DAISY DEAN. A NEW star has been added to the First National roster. She is Dolores del Rio, the Mexican beauty whom Edwin Carewe, the director, met while on a visit to Mexico City. Her first part was in "Joanna," which was released recently. Now she has been signed as a star under the management of Carewe.

It's a far cry from society life in Mexico to Hollywood's hub-bub but Senora del Rio seems to like it. Her Spanish shawls are the envy of all the women on the "lot" and she recently received a whole box of the gorgeous things from Mexico. We'll probably see some of them in her next picture which as yet has not been announced.

"FINE MURDER" LACKS A BODY AND FALLS FLAT

Nervous Taxi Driver Sees Dark Deed Afoot and Gives Alarm

POLICE SEARCH FOR VICTIM OF TRAGEDY

Find No Trace of Crime and Decide Happening Was Only Argument

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—This would have been a wonderful murder. The trouble is that it seems there was no murder.

Paul Mandell, a taxi driver, picked up a fare in Manhattan on Thursday morning. It was very early on Thursday morning, about 8 o'clock. The fare wished to be driven to Forest Hills.

Mandell, who had endured in patience a very quiet evening, accepted the fare with something approaching glee, or as near as a taxi driver is able to approach glee.

ESPIES DARK DEED.

Just before dawn, while Mandell was driving his empty taxicab along Union Turnpike, he observed in front of him a dark red automobile, which was stationary by the roadside.

Mandell pulled wide of the halted car. When he saw two men lift what appeared to be the body of a third man from the stalled car, Mandell drew his own taxi to a halt.

He watched while the two carried the seeming body to the side of the road. Then, without stopping to take the license number of the stalled car, he turned his machine around and drove at top speed to the police booth at Kew Gardens.

"A man has been murdered," he gasped to the patrolman on duty at the Kew Gardens booth. "I have seen them carrying the body into the bush."

"Where?" asked the Kew Gardens policeman, in accordance with the instructions in the Police Manual of Instructions. Mandell nominated the spot.

"Not in this precinct," replied the patrolman, and directed Mandell to the Elmhurst police station.

DETECTIVES RALLY.

Elmhurst called Newton, Long Island City and Flushing. An hour later fifty detectives were searching with electric torches the vicinity of the supposed crime.

At dawn they turned up three clogs. A hat bearing the name of R. W. Bennett & Co., of Brooklyn, a diamond ring valued by the detectives at at least $2,000, and the remains of a pair of tortoise-shell rimmed glasses with the end.

MONUMENT TO WAR DEAD OF ROUEN

The famous old Cathedral of Rouen formed the background for this striking scene—the unveiling of the new monument to the war dead of that French city.

the right lens broken. But there was no body.

"We can't do anything without a body," said the detectives.

Still there was no body. The police officials took the hat and began a search through the E. W. Bennett stores in Brooklyn. There are about a dozen of them. It turned out to be a hopeless quest.

There wasn't a body and still seeking a definite clue, the police were at a loss when an unknown man turned in a phone call to the Elmhurst precinct.

What he said, in effect, was "Forget it."

ALLS WELL, ETC.

But the "cops" don't forget on any-thing of course. Obviously, they were set on foot, and at 10 o'clock the Police Department was ready to make this guarded statement:

"There wasn't any homicide, we're satisfied as to that. This was an argument between friends. We've taken it that far, and we're satisfied that no crime was committed."

The gentleman who suffered will say, of course. Obviously, the friends who were with him will be strictly silent. The Police Department is satisfied.

The end.

BISHOP LEBLANC IS 13 YEARS ORDAINED

Thursday of This Week is Anniversary—Tuesday Holy Day Cathedral Collection

Next Thursday will be the anniversary of the consecration of His Lordship Bishop E. A. LeBlanc, as the Roman Catholic Bishop of Saint John to which high position he succeeded when the then Bishop Casey was raised to the dignity of Archbishop of the See of Vancouver.

At the 8.15 o'clock mass in the Cathedral yesterday, His Lordship invited the people to attend at the 9 o'clock mass on Next Thursday morning and said there would be Rosary and the Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament at 7.30 o'clock that evening.

TUESDAY FEAST DAY.

Next Tuesday will be the Feast of Blessed Virgin Mary, and it was announced that the mass on that day would be at 7, 8, 9.15, 10.30 and 10.30 o'clock, and that the mass at 10.30 would be pontifical and the Bishop's blessing would be given there.

It is the patronal feast of the Cathedral and it is a holy day of obligation in the cathedral church, that meaning that all must hear mass. His Lordship spoke on the Dogma of the Immaculate Conception, pronounced the Mass, and it was announced that the collection taken in the Cathedral on Sunday Nov. 29, for the work of the St. Vincent de Paul Society among the poor of the parish, amounted to $945.50.

His Lordship commented on the generosity of the congregation and thanked them for the large collection.

Chorus Man Gets 30-Day Engagement

NEW-YORK, Dec. 7.—Gene Mosely, a negro, appeared in West Side court in a maroon evening frock, black velvet cape, silk stockings, pumps and a black wig. Patrolman Meyers had arrested him for disorderly conduct the night before. Mosely was on his way to a masquerade, he said, and the costume was quite proper for the occasion.

"What do you do for a living?" Magistrate Levine asked him.

"I'm a chorus man," was the reply.

"I understand," Magistrate Levine said, "that the inmates of Welfare Island want a little talent for their Christmas show. Now, I'm a kind man and sometimes give to philanthropy. I think you ought to go to their Thirty days."

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clear and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then set free. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. Ask your druggist for Jad Salts today.

Hampton Village

HAMPTON VILLAGE, Dec. 5.—Mrs. Bennett, who had been the guest of Rev. Thomas Parker and Mrs. Parker, has returned to her home in Halifax.

Miss Henrietta Patton, of Saint John, was the week-end guest of Mrs. George McAvity.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Prince, of French Lake, were in Hampton for the Mesereau-Prince wedding.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Perley Fairweather were entertained at supper by Mrs. George McAvity. During the evening a large number of Hampton and Norton friends called and surprised Mr. and Mrs. Fairweather, who that day were celebrating their 20th anniversary with a china shower.

Mrs. Parker and Miss H. Patton assisted Mrs. McAvity.

Mrs. Myles Fairweather last week entertained in honor of Miss Beryl Seely, whose marriage will take place at an early date. The entertainment took the form of a cobweb contest.

Miss guest being provided with a cobweb, upon being disentangled from a mass of others, yielded to each a dainty wrapped parcel. These were presented to the bride, together with the one which had been allotted to her. The remainder of the evening was spent with cards and other games.

Dainty refreshments were served, Mrs. Fairweather being assisted by Mrs. George Ketchum and Mrs. Harold Hoyt. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Ketchum, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Seely, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Fairweather, Miss Burns, Mrs. Harold Hoyt, Robert Dixon, Miss Jessie Seely, Miss Beryl Seely.

On Tuesday afternoon from 8:30 until 5 o'clock, Miss Augusta Slipp, entertained at an "at home" in honor of Col. Dr. Sunder, of Woodstock, who had come to Hampton to address a meeting in the interest of the Baptist Women's Missionary Society. Miss Slipp was assisted in receiving her guests by Mrs. George Howard, Mrs. A. H. Fairweather, and in serving a dainty lunch by Mrs. John DeLong and Miss Howard. The number of young girls as waitresses.

Mrs. Sunder spoke interestingly of the work in India during the number of years she has been a missionary there. Several girls were dressed in native costume, two of whom sang a duet. Mrs. Sunder spoke in the evening.

Miss Florence Coleman, of Saint John, spent last Sunday at her home here.

How To Get The Best Results From Your Want Ad.

The small cost of a "Want Ad." is a secondary consideration. The object is results.

Therefore, never cheapen here and there to save an odd cent or two. By doing so the value of the entire ad. may be destroyed.

When writing your "Want Ad." put yourself in the place of the reader, and answer the questions you yourself would naturally ask.

If you have a flat to rent, the home seeker wants to know more than a plain statement of the fact. He wants to know how many rooms there are; if there is hot water; bath; electric lights; garage, etc., and the amount of the rent.

Your flat may be a $60 a month home, but if you don't say so in your ad, the $60 a month tenant may not reply, thinking perhaps it is a $15 a month flat.

To get the right tenant quickly, give him information.
