DYING FROM GALL-STONES

Doctors Said Only An Operation Could Save His Life - "Fruit-a-tives" Enabled Him To Pass Nearly 200 Gall-Stones

J. B. HARDING, ESQ.

I suffered untold agony from GALL-STONES, for the past three years, and tried many doctors without getting relief. I also paid $3.00 for one bottle of medicine which was useless. At times the pain from these gall-stones was so great that I lost consciousness, and my condition was desperate. I was quite satisfied that I was dying and the doctors said I must be operated upon.

RECENT DEATHS

The death of Byron E. Wood, of 77 Hawthorne avenue, occurred yesterday. While not in the best of health for several years past, Mr. Wood's death came quite suddenly from heart failure. Mr. Wood was a native of Albert county (N. B.), but has resided in this city for a number of years. The deceased was in the 68th year of his age, and is survived by his wife, one son and four daughters.

The funeral will take place on Sunday at 2.30 o'clock from his residence, 77 Hawthorne avenue.

The death of William Jones occurred at the hospital Thursday, after an illness of several weeks. He is survived by his wife, one son, two brothers and two sisters. The brothers are Messrs. Edward and Hall, of Norton (N. B.), and the sisters are Mrs. Ada Howe, of Fredericton, and Mrs. Adams, of this city.

Many friends in this city will regret to hear of the death of George A. Peters, formerly of Quebec county, Williams (Mass.), on June 29. He was in the seventy-third year of his age, and had resided in Massachusetts for about ten years. Previous to that time he lived in St. John for a few years. Everett Peters, of Fredericton, is a brother of the deceased, and he also has relatives in this city.

Edmund Daggett, aged seventy-eight years, one of the most prominent residents of Grand Manan, died yesterday. He is survived by two sons, J. B. Daggett, of Fredericton, provincial secretary of agriculture; Ralph Daggett, of Vancouver, and three daughters.

Increase in Coal Freight

The new schedule of freight rates on the L. C. R. went into effect on Wednesday last. Comparisons with the old rates show increases as high as two cents a hundred pounds or forty cents a ton on coal carried from the Nova Scotia producing points to this city.

Increase in other provisions points, notably Sussex and Moncton where manufacturing is carried on and the consumption here is not so large, but the same proportion is maintained. This means that forty or sixty cents will be added to the price of soft coal in St. John next winter.

To Regain a Healthy Girl's Complexion

(From the Feminine World). If you would have a clear, fresh, girl's complexion, one ounce of ordinary milled soap will aid you in this direction more than shaves full of cosmetics. It produces a natural beauty. This was procurable at any drug store, revealing the healthy young skin underneath. Its work is done so gradually, day by day, that no inconvenience is caused. The wax is applied at night, like cold cream, and removed in the morning with soap and water.

Another valuable rejuvenating treatment—this for wrinkles—is to bathe your face in a solution of powdered saccharine, 1 oz., dissolved in 2 1/2 pt. which has been filtered through a fine cloth. This has a remarkable action in smoothing out the lines and "firming up" the loose tissue.

PARIS MAY TAX THE FOREIGN STUDENT

Great Number of Them in French Capital

ANOTHER NOVEL SCHEME

Members of Chamber of Deputies Must Not Drink any More on the Nation—French Professor's Work in White Plague Fight

(Times' Special Correspondence) Paris, June 18.—It will not be surprising if foreign residents in Paris, and more particularly young men and women who are here to study, find themselves called upon to pay a tax in the near future. The minister of finance is studying several new methods—in addition to the suggested income tax—of raising money, and a more or less direct tax on foreign students would bring in a considerable sum, and would be popular. One hundred and sixty million francs, at least, is needed for the increase of armaments, so new forms of taxation are becoming necessary. Besides this year's army bill, when passed, there are a number of bills in the French Chamber of Deputies which are intended to raise money, and a more or less direct tax on foreign students would bring in a considerable sum, and would be popular. One hundred and sixty million francs, at least, is needed for the increase of armaments, so new forms of taxation are becoming necessary.

Among the students of science there are 4,000 Russians in a total of 1,200, and in nearly every branch the Russians are in the majority.

Another money-raising scheme, and one which will give material for witticism in next year's revenues, is in the nature of a revolution. The members of the Chamber of Deputies are to pay for their drinks and their sandwiches in the Chamber of Deputies in future. Until now the "bureaux" as it is called, has always been free, but there seems no reason now that the deputies receive a salary of a year's salary, why they should pay for their keep in the chamber as well, and some of Messieurs les Deputes are already making long speeches on the subject of taxation.

It is a popular fallacy that the model prison at Fresnes, which is certainly a very comfortable prison, provides for its inmates a daily bill of fare which is far too luxurious for men who are living at the taxpayers' expense for crimes which they have committed. The inmates of Fresnes are sufficiently fed, but by no means luxuriously. Each prisoner, at six o'clock every morning, gets a roll of brown bread, and at nine o'clock a bowl of soup—vegetable soup, which is repeated from one year's end to another, it will be seen that the prisoners of Fresnes are not better treated in retirement than is the French soldier during his military service. The criminal's bill of fare, though, is more varied than that of the soldier, who gets beef or mutton every day throughout the year, or rather a small piece of beef or mutton in a bath of soup, with some potatoes.

The methods of the bureaucracy are always amusing or grotesque according to the frame of mind in which they are considered. Here is a little story of two knives. Two knives were needed in the arsenal at Toulon, and they would have cost an individual about eight cents each, and could have been bought in accordance with the law, published a notice in the official papers stating, with five minutes. The Toulon arsenal, in accordance with the law, published a notice in the official papers stating, with five minutes. The Toulon arsenal, in accordance with the law, published a notice in the official papers stating, with five minutes. The Toulon arsenal, in accordance with the law, published a notice in the official papers stating, with five minutes.

The drawing up of these notices required the signature of the chief engineer and those of the director of naval construction, a navy engineer, an auditor, and another official. The firm which tendered also had to sign a tender. Twenty-five signatures were required and given before the knives were definitively purchased, and the formalities lasted six weeks. But the delicate negotiations have now been carried through, and Toulon arsenal has its two knives at last.

White Plague Fight The "Excelsior" publishes an interesting account of experiments at present being made by Professor Raphael Dubois, of Lyons, to discover a cure for consumption. M. Dubois is already well known as an authority on the application of the X-rays to the pearl oyster which has been adopted in the pearl-fishing centres of Ceylon and Japan. In the course of these investigations M. Dubois, it appears, discovered that the calcareous secretion which forms the pearl is the defence of the oyster against an invading parasite, which it thus incloses in a suitable environment. Now the tuberculosis patient adopts precisely the same prophylactic method as the oyster, that is to say, his organism attempts to corral off the invading microbes by a calcareous secretion, and success means cure. Hence the theory that consumption could be cured by the increase of the supply of lime in the patient's organism—a theory which is the old-fashioned home powder.

Unfortunately the theory was not borne out by facts. It then occurred to Professor Dubois that, like the oyster, the human body might require some

ST. JOHN WANTS TO KNOW

The report that a delegation of Conservative business men is to wait upon Hon. Mr. Hazen follows closely upon the resolution passed by the Borden Club. It is all very well to assure the people of St. John that the Grand Trunk will ultimately use the terminals at Courtenay Bay. No doubt this is correct. But that is not the point that is causing public anxiety. As the present government is carrying out the plans of the Laurier-Pugsley administration and expending $12,000,000 at Courtenay Bay, it naturally follows that the Grand Trunk Pacific is expected to bring its traffic to that point in the course of time.

But the Grand Trunk Pacific will be hauling through trains from the west next year, and the car ferry at Quebec will then be in operation. How is that freight to reach St. John? What facilities will be ready here for handling it if it does come through?

We were told some time ago that the Grand Trunk Pacific would enter St. John over the Valley Railroad, by means of a branch line from Napodogan to Fredericton. But, as a matter of fact, the route of the Valley Railway below Gagetown is not known. For no good reason, so far as the public knows, its location has been delayed month after month, although it must be clear that time thus lost cannot be made up.

The Grand Trunk Pacific, although it acquired a tract of land at the head of Courtenay Bay, thanks to negotiations between the Liberal government and the late C. M. Hays, has not yet even located its passenger station, its grain elevators, its immigration sheds, or the other buildings absolutely necessary in handling traffic here. Thus, even if Grand Trunk Pacific freight were to come by way of Moncton, there is no provision for it unless it is turned over to the already over-worked terminals of the Intercolonial or the C. P. R.

All of the official and semi-official explanations of these matters up to date have been most unsatisfactory. There is also the matter of the winter mail steamers. St. John is still in doubt as to whether or not it is to have its share of the direct mail service.

If the Borden Club, or a delegation of Conservative business men, should succeed in securing from Mr. Hazen reasonably satisfactory information about these matters, the public would undoubtedly be glad to have it; but the public wants definite and specific information and not the generalities which, thus far, it has been compelled to accept in the absence of the required facts.

THE BACKWARD PUPIL

At this time when parents are discussing the examination results in the schools, probably as much thought is given to the backward pupil as to the boy or girl who comes out at the head, or near the head, of the class. There is a very general feeling that the schools should break away, more or less, from the old system of prescribing the same dose for every mind. Virtually every public school contains pupils brighter or more diligent than the average, who go ahead of the grades where they would normally be found. It is these pupils who fall behind their grades. On the face of the returns, the latter greatly predominate. Investigation has shown that in some cases the schooltime lost by the backward, compares with that gained by the forward as thirty to one. In fact, the ratio has often been said to be one hundred to one. If this be true, what about the pupils, constituting two-thirds of the whole, who are not backward? How much is their school progress retarded by the less apt or less studious? The tendency must be to fix the grades according to the average progress—an average that is pulled down by the backward pupil, even though he falls below the average and misses his grade. This would seem to be a mistake; for even in schools where thirty pupils fall behind their grades to one who goes ahead of his grade, it is safe to assume that others could go ahead of their grades if the work were so cut out as to call forth their best efforts.

THE REAL DANGER

A great deal of the talk about war between Japan and the United States over the California land dispute is by people who have not carefully studied a map of the world. A mere glance at the map is sufficient to show one that if trouble does come, the blow will fall not on California, but on Manila. One is three weeks off for transports; the other four or five days. Indeed, the Japanese at Formosa are barely two days sail from the Philippines. California, to an invader offers no permanent possible gain, only fearful cost and ultimate loss. The Island of Luzon in the Philippines is but a few hours away from the Formosan coast and there would seem to be the soundest reasons why the United States should fortify it and also make impregnable the entrance to Manila Bay, which is within easy striking distance of two great military and naval powers. So far, this has not been done.

It is probable that Japan has plenty at present to occupy her attention at home. Missionaries tell us that the subjugation of the savage natives of Formosa is barely, if quite complete. Japanese energy is also busy establishing and developing the framework of government in Karafuto and Korea, and no doubt that at least two of these territories would be immediately annexed, should Japan enter into a trans-Pacific war. Added to this, there is the striking fact that with a population half that of the United States, Japan has a national debt substantially the same. Its burden, therefore, is much heavier if the greater rate of interest and the relative poverty of her people be considered. Her taxes have grown tremendously in the last ten years, and it is doubtful if she is looking for a chance to waste her forces and means. Few men who have given the subject thought believe that Japan is crazy enough to attack the United States. At the same time one wonders at the weakness of the latter country's Asiatic fleet. The only real danger at home that the United States and European countries have to fear from Japan is a commercial one.

Let's see—has not the Board of Trade a transportation committee? Does the board see no opportunity for useful activity in connection with the G. T. P. and the Valley railway?

The public by no means regards the question of the open door at City Hall as settled by the action of the Mayor and Commissioners in ignoring Section 12. They have no right to ignore it.

This appears to be delegation day. The patronage committee of the Conservative organization is to confer with Mr. Hazen today. Recent fulminations by the New Freeman will be one of the topics. There are other irritating patronage questions, including the failure of the Minister of Marine to keep all of the larvae and fishes for the home market. Mr. Cochrane's recent activities in New Brunswick have not helped to make Mr. Hazen's pathway any smoother; and it was rough enough before Mr. Cochrane arrived.

FAMOUS FRENCH BUGLER

Once Blew a Charge When Ordered to Sound a Retreat

The story of the drummer boy at Marengo, who, when asked by Napoleon if he could beat "a retreat," replied, "No, Sir, I only know the charge," was almost repeated in the life of Bugler Roland, the oldest member of the Legion of Honour, who has just been made an officer of the Legion at the age of 94.

Roland was decorated with the cross on August 21, 1846, for his heroic conduct in Africa during the skirmish of Sidi Brahman. In the course of the fight the French soldiers had exhausted their ammunition, and with his last shot Roland fired his ramrod instead of a bullet at the advancing Arabs. He was then taken prisoner and brought to the Emir Abdel-Kader.

The Emir was squatting on a rich carpet under an olive tree. On seeing the prisoner with his bugle he pointed to the small cluster of French troops that were opposing the Arabs, and asked him if he knew the tune that the Christians blew to order a cessation of the combat. The bugler said that it was the "retreat."

"Then take your bugle," said the Emir, "and blow the retreat."

Roland pretended to obey, but instead of the retreat he blew the charge with all his might, and the Arab camp was carried.

TO PROMOTE PEACE
The maritime provinces will shortly receive a visit from E. R. Scammell of the R. C. I. F. C. I. S. of Toronto, who has recently been appointed organizing secretary of the Canadian Peace Centenary Association. Mr. Scammell will at once enter upon the work of carrying out the recommendations made by the International peace conference held at New York for the erection of monuments commemorating the century of peace and the establishment of educational interests looking to an increase in good will. The latter phase of the work will include the interchange of professors in Anglo-American history; the endowment of traveling scholarships to enable capable men to write essays on the hundred years of peace; and the preparation of a history from which text books may be prepared or revised.

The average Australian eats every year 264 pounds of meat, which works out an average of two sheep and one-fifth of a bullock for every man, woman and child in Australia. He eats more than twice as much meat as the average Englishman, three times as much as the average Frenchman and four times as much as the average German or Swiss. He eats, in addition, about 875 pounds of wheat, 250 pounds of potatoes and almost 100 pounds of sugar. If he is a Tasmanian he eats a quarter of a ton of potatoes in a year.

Miss Florence Gibbons, who is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Charles Leiford, High Street, was a passenger from England on the steamer Corinthian, on which a Barnard boy lost his life during a storm.

SHERLOCK HOLMES DISPLEASED BELL

Original of Famous Character Not Flattered

REMARKABLE PERSONALITY

A Story of the Edinburgh Professor That Shows How True Sir Conan Doyle Has Hewn to the Line

(Times' Special Correspondence)

London, June 21.—To most folk who have read the "Sherlock Holmes" stories one of the most interesting men of recent years is the late Dr. Joseph Bell, under whom Sir Arthur Conan Doyle studied medicine at Edinburgh and whom the creator of Holmes always has acknowledged as the original of his famous detective. Of Doctor Bell, we have known comparatively little heretofore, except that, besides being a brilliant physician, he possessed the faculties of observation and deduction, which Doyle made the most striking characteristics of his great sleuth, but now one of Doctor Bell's closest friends, Mrs. E. E. Saxby, has published a book about him which describes all sides of a remarkable personality, not forgetting the one which appeared so strongly in at least one of the men who studied under him.

Doctor Bell did not feel flattered, it seems, by his "nick-name," as he called "Sherlock Holmes." Essentially kind-hearted and merciful, he did not relish being world-famed as a sleuth. He spoke once of "the catarrh of drive for which Conan Doyle is responsible," and at another time was provoked into exclaiming, "I hope folk that know me see another and better side to me than Doyle saw."

Yet he himself related examples of his ingenuity as an observer which make us think of him more than ever as the great original of Sir Arthur's hero, Mrs. Saxby, for example, quotes his description of an incident which happened in Edinburgh one day.

"A man walked into the room where I was instructing the students, and his case seemed to be a very simple one. I was talking about what was wrong with him. Of course, gentlemen, I proceeded to say, 'he has been a soldier in a Highland regiment, and probably a band leader.' I pointed out strongly to at least one of the men who studied under him, his shortness told me that if he had been a soldier it was probably as a band leader. In fact, he had the whole appearance of a man in one of the Highland regiments. The man turned out to be nothing but a shoemaker, and said he had never been in the army in his life. This was rather a fiasco, but being absolutely certain I was right, and seeing that something was up, I did a pretty cool thing. I told two of the strongest clerks (or dressers) to renounce the man to a side room, and to detain him till I came. I went and had him stripped."

"Under the left breast I instantly detected a little blue 'D' branded on his thigh. 'That was a deserter,' said how they used to mark them in the Crimean days and later, although it is not permitted now. Of course, the reason of his evasion was at once clear."

As a physician Doctor Bell stood at the top of his profession. According to Mrs. Saxby, he also had unusual gifts as a writer and was the author of at least one poem, contributed to a miscellany, "The Yellow Flower," which had been ascribed to sign."

This anonymous poem, "a pathetic little piece," impressed Mrs. Saxby so much that she quoted the whole of it in a work of her own without knowing that her friend was the author. Doctor Bell's correspondence, from which his biographer makes short extracts, ranged over a great variety of topics, literary and political as well as professional and personal, and all his opinions strike one as those of a man of taste and originality, not easily imposed upon.

Highly characteristic was his attitude toward Mrs. Saxby's claim to the possession of the gift of second sight. First he was sceptical, then he was disposed to allow that there was "something in it," but when Henry Sidgwick proposed experiments in the cause of psychical research he "put his foot down," writing, "Your nerves are all on the surface, and easily worked upon. These psychical experts will play the mischief with you. Besides, I rather think the devil may have a little to do with it."

But 24 at Austin's Service For the sake of its vanity, it is to be hoped that the shade of the late Alfred Austin did not visit the Chapel Royal at St. James' Palace on last Friday. It had been announced that a memorial service for the late poet laureate would be held there, and partly with the object of noting how many of the author's admirers paid tribute to his memory, the writer attended it. All told, there were exactly twenty-four persons present, apart from the full choir and Canon Sheppard, who officiated. Poor Alfred Austin! This would have been the kindest cut of all. A morning newspaper, commenting on the meagreness of the attendance, heads its paragraph, sarcastically enough, "A Nation's Grief."

Encountering Charles Garvice at the Savage Club, yesterday, I asked him if it were true that he is about to make a bid for a fortune as a playwright? Garvice replied in the affirmative, adding, however, that the play on which he is now engaged is not quite a maiden effort, a piece of his called "The Fisherman's Daughter," having had quite a decent run at the Royal Theatre ten years or more ago, while another one, called "A Life's Mistake," did pretty well in the United States. This, however, was long before Garvice had blossomed out into a continuous producer of "best sellers," and he remarked that he has long wanted to see if he could join the fortunate, and uncommonly select, group of novelists who once work survives the ordeal of the footlights.

The play on which Garvice is now working in collaboration with Herbert Swears, a professional playwright, is an adaptation of his novel, "Two Maids and a Man."

Mr. Garvice who, amongst many other things, is president of the "Farmers' and Landowners' Association," lives at Richmond, Surrey, now, and when not in the throes of composition, divides his time among fishing, cycling, golf and what he describes as "amateur

Showing up the White Slaver

There is no kind of a scoundrel on the face of God's good earth more despicable than the "White Slaver." The very name itself suggests the gruesome individual it labels. In Pictorial Review for July there is a strong article, entitled "Frances A. Kellor, Caretaker of Immigrants," in which are told the methods employed by these men and their accomplices and, the remarkably good work accomplished by their disfigurement by this one earnest woman with a mission. We quote as follows:

"When she was but a student in the university she began a study of southern prisons and printed a report upon her investigations. It was a dismal topic for a very much alive young woman; but Miss Kellor found it abounding in interest. The condition of the people in the prisons led her to believe that there was something wrong with the labor situation and, soon after her graduation, she began to study the problem of employment. The College Settlement of New York City gave her a fellowship, and under the auspices of the Woman's Municipal League she began an investigation of employment agencies. Lured as an employee, she visited several employment offices and endeavored to become friendly with the girls who sat about the rooms waiting for positions. At first she was unsuccessful, as her difference in training was obvious, but she soon learned to talk in up-to-date slang about supposed mistresses and her acquaintance flourished.

The fippant greeting of the office manager, "Well, sis, out of a job?" which at first had sorely tried her dignity became a matter of course. When she looked too respectable to be a "girl" in some of the cheaper offices, she became a mistress. Frequently she did not know which she would impersonate until the office door closed behind her. The main object of the majority of offices seemed to be to get as much money out of both employer and employee as was possible. To this end girls who needed work were forced to register and to pay in advance for any position obtained. In one office the men managers guarded the door and actually prevented any girl who had not paid her fee from departing. If she came in merely to inquire terms she paid for getting out. The lodging houses conducted in connection with the offices furnished further means of extracting money. And there were graver evils. Sometimes these lodging houses and the offices were located in houses of ill-repute and the girls stopping over night subjected to the advances and even the threats of the proprietors. American girls fared badly enough under this system; but foreign girls were infinitely worse off. Not understanding the language, they frequently accepted proposals made to them not understanding their nature, and then were warned that they had chosen them of their own free will!"

Frequently they were sent to work in disorderly houses with no idea of the character of the houses to which they were going. Many offices furnished girls for such houses upon payment of an extra fee. Girls were sent to men's clubs and to the homes of bachelors and widowers, without any investigation as to the nature of such houses. Sending a foreign girl ignorant of the language and uncertain as to where to turn for help to such places was practically to send her to slavery. There was no way out.

When the investigation was over Miss Kellor compiled the results of her own investigations with those of eight other investigators and published them in book form. The book was entitled "Out of Work." It was the first investigation of its kind that was general enough and systematic enough to be worth anything.

WOMAN IN TERRIBLE STATE

Cape Wolfe, Canada.—"Last March I was a complete wreck. I had given up all hope of getting better or living any length of time, as I was such a sufferer from female troubles. But I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am in good health and have a pair of twin boys two months old and growing finely. I surprised doctors and neighbors for they all know what a wreck I was.

"Now I am healthy, happy and hearty, and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies. You may publish this letter if you like. I think if more women used your remedies they would have better health."—Mrs. J. T. Cook, Lot No. 7, Cape Wolfe, P. E. I., Canada.

Because your case is a difficult one, and doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has remedied many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and it may be exactly what you need.

The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of women—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

CONGREGATIONALISTS IN ANNUAL SESSION

The sixty-sixth annual meeting of the Congregationalists of Nova Scotia has been in session at Keswick Ridge since Wednesday and has been largely attended by delegates from the two provinces.

On Wednesday evening Rev. E. J. Thompson delivered an address of welcome to the visitors, which was responded to by C. E. Macneil, of St. John. Rev. Dr. E. Munson Hill delivered an inspiring address on the value of the church to the nation, pointing out the great help given by the people in the country districts to those in the city. Rev. E. D. Silcox, editor of the Canadian Congregationalist, delivered a lecture on Thursday afternoon on the Holy Spirit in the Churches. Rev. Jas. Midon was elected chairman for the coming year, succeeding Rev. C. C. Clark.

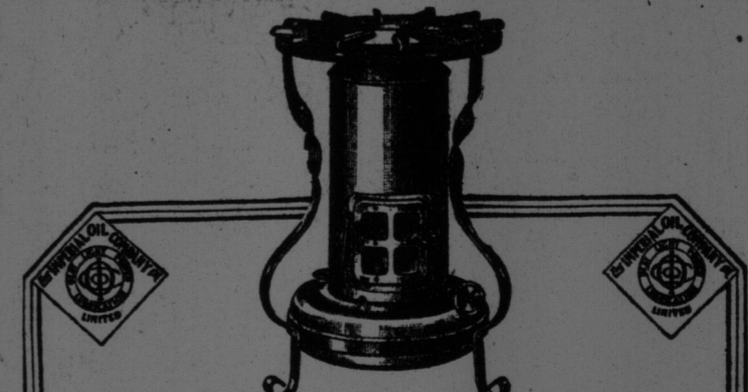

Yesterday was given over to the Congregational women's board of missions meeting, which was also very well attended. The election of the chairman resulted in Mrs. C. E. Macneil, of this city, being elected. An interesting address was delivered by Mrs. Louis Duval, a missionary from South Africa, on the work in the tropics, and Rev. W. T. Gunn, of Toronto, gave an excellent lecture on the Congregational Ideal. Tomorrow the session will close with a mass meeting at which C. E. Macneil will preside and Rev. Dr. Hill will speak, taking as his subject, "To Make Pure and Strong Our National Life—What One Man Can Do."

Mr. Traquair Eminent as Architect and Teacher in Edinburgh

(Times' Special Correspondence) London, June 17—In Ramsay Traquair, a son of the late Dr. Traquair, who has been appointed professor of architecture in McGill, the Montreal University has secured one of the principal authorities in that branch of knowledge.

Mr. Traquair is a son of the late Dr. Traquair, of the Royal Scottish Museum, and of Mrs. Traquair, Collins, a well-known architect in Edinburgh and afterwards at the University of Edinburgh and Bonn. He served his apprenticeship as an architect with Professor S. H. Capper, recently of Manchester University, and on leaving the school he was elected a student of the day classes in architecture at the Edinburgh College of Art since it was founded. In 1904 he was elected an associate of the British School of Architecture in Athens. He has published various papers dealing with Byzantine architecture and Gothic architecture in the east, and is part author of Professor van Millingen's recent book on the "Byzantine Churches of Constantinople" which is considered the latest authority on the subject.

Mr. Traquair has been in practice in Edinburgh since 1906. His principal buildings are the First Church of Christ, Edinburgh, and the Skirving, Lord Carmichael of Skirving. By the removal of Mr. Traquair to Canada the Edinburgh College of Art will lose a competent and valued lecturer.

Diamond Sculls Race This Year May Lack Presence of Present Champion and Farmer Winner—The Canadian Bowlers and Tennis Players

(Times' Special Correspondence) London, June 17—No more cordial welcome is accorded by Great Britain to the athletes of any country than to those who come from the Dominion. A very sincere welcome has been given to the Toronto Argonauts by oarsmen at Henley. After so many unsuccessful attempts, the Canadians are hopeful that success will crown their efforts this year and that they will lift the cup. There is some reason for this hope. None of them are without Henley experience, but as an Old Blue said to me yesterday, "It is no use blinking the fact that, until Canadians come over here and get a good long practice and become used to the conditions under which they must strive, they are facing a heavy handicap, the extent of which may be measured by the general realization in rowing circles that if they win they will prove to be immensely superior to their rivals."

New Shell for Argonauts The Toronto crew are staying at the Five Horse Shoes on Nuneham Hill. They will row a new boat, built by their order by Sims. Joe Wright, a veteran captain, will coach the crew. The visitors have made honorary members of the Leander Club, and pending the completion of the tents, they have been housed from the Leander club house.

Up to the present the Argonauts have not attempted any very arduous work, they are shaping like a fast crew. They were on the water on the day of their arrival and had two outings a day since. On Friday they were almost before breakfast, a rather unusual hour for Henley practice, but it was to enable Taylor, the stroke, to make Oxford, whither he will proceed in the autumn as a graduate of Trinity College for two years.

Their best work up to the present was done yesterday when they rowed along Temple Island which they cleared in forty-six seconds as against forty-eight seconds on their previous attempt. A trial row over the first half of the regatta course was done in 19 minutes 38 seconds, the average rate of striking being thirty-eight.

The Diamond Sculls Rev. Joseph Jacquan, C. S. R., arrived in the city this morning from Montreal and will be stationed for the future at St. Peter's church. Two other priests at the same order, Rev. Fathers Hogan and Walsh are expected in the near future.

He had de-luxed himself to many remote Spots that were supplied with Steam Heat and French Cooking, together with Wines, Liquors and Cigars, but no matter what the Altitude or the Relative Humidity, he felt discouraged every Morning when he awoke and remembered that presently he would have to rally his Vital Forces and walk all the way to the Tub.

He began to figure himself a Candidate for a plain white Coat in the Nervous Garage, when he heard of the wonderful Air and Dietary Advantages of Germany. Those feelings of weakness, those dizzy spells and "all gone" sinking sensations, which come over some people from time to time, are warnings that must not go unheeded. They indicate an extremely weakened condition of the heart and a disordered state of the nerves. One dizzy spell may pass off, but the next may be more serious. Those who are wise will start taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, before their case becomes hopeless. They have no equal for soothing and strengthening the heart, and invigorating the nerves. Mrs. A. E. Martell, Rockdale, N.S., writes: "I was troubled for a long time with my heart, had weak and dizzy spells, could not sleep, and would have to sit up the greater part of the night. At last I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and they did me so much good I got another, and after taking it I could sleep as well as before I was taken sick. They are the best medicine I ever heard of for heart or nerve trouble." Price, 50 cents a box; $ for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE INCREASES THE JOY OF SUMMER VACATIONS

THE COMING OF SUMMER is fraught with the keenest of anticipation. We are looking forward to that trip to the seashore, lake, mountain or country and the amusements attendant upon the season. If we have red blood the sports and pleasures of the vacation period such as tennis, golf, boating, fishing, etc., appeal to us.

But this season of outdoor enjoyment also brings with it added responsibilities, in the extra care which must be devoted to the toilet. The hair in particular needs much more attention than at any other time. The sebaceous glands throw off more waste material and there is a consequent larger and more rapid accumulation of dandruff, which makes the frequent and intelligent use of NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE imperative.

Regular applications of this valuable scalp prophylactic keeps the head perfectly clean and the hair and scalp healthy. HERPICIDE adds gloss and beauty to the hair and thus increases one's personal charm and attractiveness.

The cooling effect, the sensation of cleanliness and the exquisite odor all tend to make NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE a most delightful hot weather hair dressing. It stops itching of the scalp almost immediately.

Send 10 cents for trial bottle and booklet.

SEE COUPON.

Herpicide is sold at all toilet goods counters in 50 cents and $1.00 sizes where it is guaranteed to produce results or money refunded.

STEAMER BLOWS UP IN NEW YORK HARBOR

At Least Five Dead, Six Injured and Twelve Missing—Crew of Fifty Huddled in All Directions

New York, June 27.—Two hundred tons of fuel oil on board the steel tank steamer Mohawk, owned by the Standard Oil Company, exploded with a terrific roar and a burst of flames this afternoon while the vessel was at anchor off Tompkinsville, Staten Island, in New York Bay, killing five persons and injuring six others. A dozen more are unaccounted for, but are believed to have escaped on craft that came to the Mohawk's aid, or by swimming ashore. Two bodies were seen floating in the hold while the boats were still pouring streams of water into the wrecked after-end of the steamer late tonight. The other three victims probably were blown to pieces.

RECEPTIONS FOR NEW GRADUATES

The members of the graduating class of the high school were entertained last evening by the High School Alumni Association.

The conversation was opened with a selection by the High School Orchestra and Miss Alice Walker, vice-president of the Alumnae, delivered an address of welcome, and Miss Jessie Lawson, the president, spoke briefly on the work of the Alumnae. Vocal solos were nicely rendered by Miss Valde Penton and Miss Mabel Williams.

The Alumnae pin was presented to the class leader, D. Gordon Willett, by Dr. D. Malcolm, and Miss Genevieve Baird gave an excellent reading of Alfred Noyes The Highwayman. A quartette selection by the Misses Blanche McLean, Brown and Stammers, received well merited applause. A programme of ten dances was then carried out and the affair was closed with the singing of Auld Lang Syne and the National Anthem. Altogether the conversation was considered the most successful that has been ever held.

A banquet, attended by more than two hundred persons, was held in Keith's Assembly rooms last evening by the Alumnae of St. Vincent's school in honor of the graduating class of 1913.

Among those who spoke were the bishop, R. B. Emerson, chairman of the school board; Dr. H. S. Bridges, Mrs. Skinner, Commissioner Agar, Father Duke and Father Howland, and Miss Agatha Goran, president of the Alumnae.

The programme follows: Selection by the orchestra; reading, Miss K. O'Neill; solo, Miss B. Wetmore; duet, Miss Florence O'Hagan and Miss G. Carleton; trio, Misses O'Hagan, Birdsey and Moran; reading, Miss Sculley; reading, Miss Josephine Walsh.

Washington, June 27.—After more than ten years' investigation, the International Waterways Commission today, through the president, recommended to congress the construction of a submerged dam or weir in the Niagara River, to raise the level of Lake Erie and its upper waters.

"Poor Little Woman"

She's been toiling in an overheated kitchen, over a hot coal range, in this summer weather, and she is just worn out!"

You hear this remark of many a tired housewife who must needs prepare the three daily meals for herself and her family; and yet, such conditions need not be, in this age of moderate-priced culinary conveniences to lessen labor and expense, to promote economy and comfort: there is an easier and cheaper way to cook the meals, and still, be cool and comfortable.

McClary's "Champion" Interchangeable Steel Range

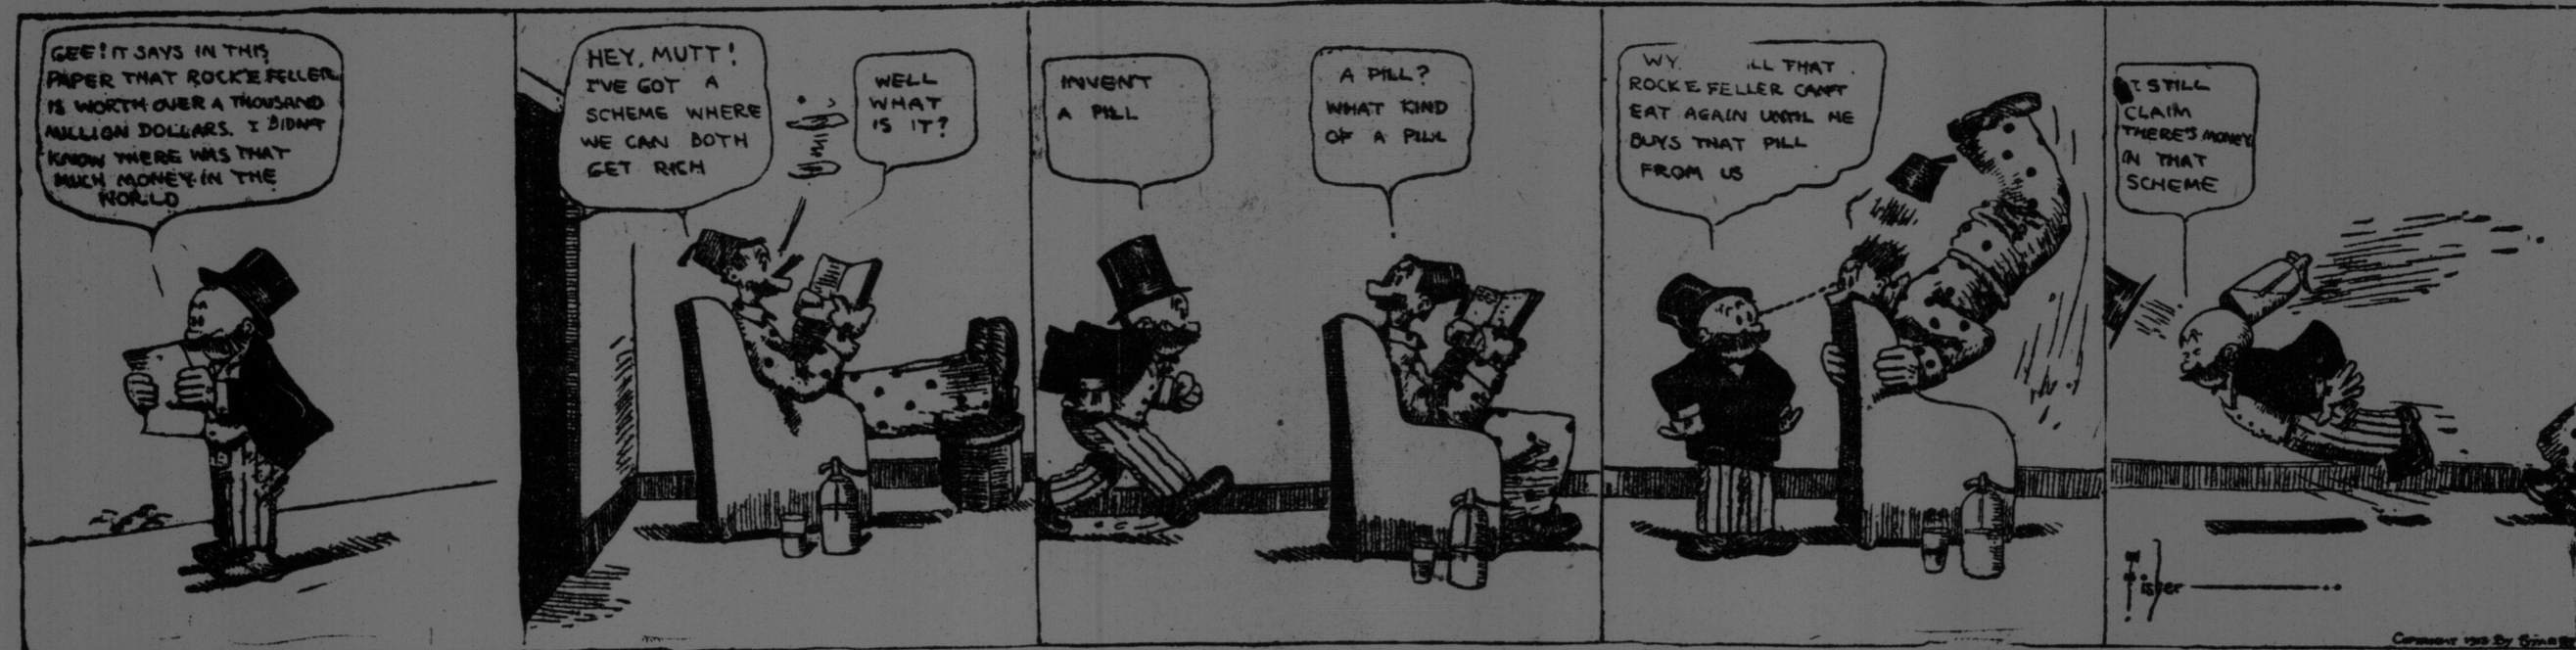

is the ideal all-the-year-round solution of the culinary problem. In the "Champion," you can burn coal or wood and gas, either together or independently, only thirty seconds being necessary to change from one fuel to the other. The "Champion" is lighter on fuel, and does better work than any similar range made today. Think of it—you can roast or broil meat, poultry or fish—fry onions, if you like,—and leave every door in the house wide open, without a vestige of odor, for the "smudge" goes up the chimney and out of the house. The "Champion," too, is a beautiful baker. Then again, it is the range, above all others, that will give you a cool kitchen in summer, a warm kitchen in winter.

Great Hold of The Movies on Those Seeking Recreation

The popularity of moving pictures continues unabated. The reason for the place which this form of amusement has won for itself may perhaps be traced to the fact that the most insignificant happening when presented to us as occurring thousands of miles away in some well known city or country, at once assumes an interest far above its actual importance.

Another unusual attraction at Opera House next week. Once again the Opera House management will offer St. John theatregoers an opportunity of seeing something unusual in the amusement world.

The best yet at the Lyric. According to the advertisement of the Lyric Theatre, Black and McCone, the two comedians who are now appearing there, live simply trying to break their necks, and after seeing their theatre they are decidedly sure performance one is inclined to agree with the management.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury. As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous membrane.

GOOD YEAR Bicycle Tires

The NON-SKID

The Tire You Can Trust

Bicyclists have always wanted this tire—a Non-Skid Bicycle Tire that could be depended on to grip wet pavements and muddy roads.

This Goodyear Tire has the clinging grip that means extra speed—that prevents skidding or slipping—that gives the rider confidence in his wheel.

These diamond-shaped blocks are proven skid resistors. They made our Auto Non-Skid a leader among Auto Tires. The Bicycle Non-Skid is built from the same tough white rubber—the hardest-wearing rubber we know.

Get more pleasure out of your wheel.

BASEBALL

City League
The game which the Rocklands won on Carleton last evening by the score 8 to 2 was not decided until the final play of the game.

The Greeks Could Tell
Boston Globe.—The Bangor baseball team had won three games and lost at it accounts. How it happened to win three games is unexplained.

Sunday Baseball
Girard, Kans., June 27.—Girard has had a happy solution of the problem Sunday baseball by setting apart one day in the middle of the week when anybody suspects business operations go to the ball game.

A Pitcher's Day
Wednesday was a very busy day with the batters in both leagues, and in the five games played by the majors no fewer than 34 pitchers had a chance to work. This was an average of almost one to each game.

In the National League five games were played, 21 pitchers working, and here being 87 hits made for 58 runs. This was an average of nearly ten runs per game and the average of each team was approximately ten hits in each game played.

In the American League there were only four games played, 84 runs being made in these 17 hits being made against 15 pitchers. The shifting in the American League boxes was not as frequent as in the National League, but it was enough to show that the experts who figure that this indeed is a hard year for pitchers are pretty nearly right.

Diamond Sparkies
Out in Detroit the fans all are working just what is the matter with Hughie Jennings' Tigers. Until last Sunday in the last seven games he had champions of a few seasons ago had trounced eleven of them by the small margin of one run.

On July 4 and the next day, Saturday, Brooklyn plays against the Giants, and it would not be surprising should the weather not upset hopes, if a new record for attendance at ball games had been made. Brooklyn is baseball mad, and the Superbats hold a lead of five to three over the Giants in the games of the series played to date.

PRACTICAL MAN APPOINTED: The appointment of Frank S. Walker to the provincial board of health seems to be in accordance with the suggestion which has been made that some practical man be appointed. At least this is the first time that a plumber has been on the board.

ON THE RIVER: Steamer Champlain will not make her regular trip up river today as she is being repaired, one of the lines having caught in the propeller a few days ago, loosening the shaft. The boat is also receiving a new coat of paint and will be ready tonight.

PRESENTATION TO H. A. PORTER: A handsome cut glass water set, accompanied by an address extending their congratulations and expressing their appreciation of his past services, was presented by the executive of the Young Liberal Club to Horace A. Porter, president of the club, on his return this week from his wedding tour.

POLICE COURT: Hearing in the case of Sherman Johnston, charged with wife desertion, was begun this morning before Magistrate Ritchie. Mrs. Johnston gave evidence. The case was adjourned until next Friday afternoon. A. A. Wilson, K. C., appellant for the defendant and J. King Kelley represents Mrs. Johnston.

NOVELTY SHOWER: The friends of Miss Emma Irvin called at her home, 81 Brook street, last evening and tendered her a novelty shower. She received many useful presents, which will be of use to her during her happy event which will take place in the near future. The evening was passed over by games and other amusements. Refreshments were served and a pleasant evening was spent by all.

HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTATION: A pleasant incident took place at the High School yesterday after the graduation, when Miss Jessie I. Lawson, who has been a teacher for fourteen years, but who will open a private school in the fall, was made the recipient of a set of books by members of the High school staff. Miss Lawson's pupils gave her a two-volume set of Shakespeare as a mark of their esteem.

'A CARRION CROW SAT ON AN OAK, SING HEIGH, SING HO': These Two Particular Crows, However, Are Now in a Cage Because of a Times Ad.

Had the brace of coal black crows of which we will now write been as discreet as their fellows in this immortal nursery rhyme they might now be flying about their sylvan wilds in full freedom. Instead they are domiciled in a cage being tutored betimes for public appearance behind the footlights as part and parcel of Emmet & Emmet's Irish sketch "On the Banks 'O Killarney," such as soon at a local theatre all week. It struck Proprietor Emmet of this vaudeville act that a couple of aristocratic New Brunswick crows might be a valuable addition to a pugnacious rooster and a teasing fox terrier. So he did as all wise folks do, inserted his "Want" ad in the Evening Times.

It is doubtful if such a request was ever made in any local newspaper. As a usual thing people lay awake nights scheming up some means for adding themselves to the ranks of the crows, but to make a cash offer for the capture of two of them was at once novel and interesting.

However, Mr. Emmet got his crows all right. Most people get what they want when they use the Times columns. Early Friday afternoon, in fact before the doors of the Nickel Theatre were swung open, two small boys, bearing a basket from which raucous sounds emitted, presented themselves and demanded the dollar as per advertisement.

The boys were delighted to find that their faith had not been misplaced; that the man really did want the crows, and Mr. Emmet was just as happy to get them.

MAKE THE SIDEWALKS SAFE: To the Editor of the Times: Sir—I noticed in your paper a few evenings ago an article on bicycle riding on sidewalks. I have heard different people protest against the same and notice it myself in Winter street and City road. You often see five or six boys on wheels racing up and down the sidewalks. A lady going along Winter street was run down by a boy on a wheel and quite badly bruised. She reported to the policeman. He said: "Report to the man on duty duty, this is out of my jurisdiction." The next day she reported as directed, and the reply was—"I believe there is a fine against this. It should be stopped." That was the consolation she received for cut hands and knees. What is the use of reporting to the police? What is the use of police reports? Boys have no more fear of the police court than of the Nickel. If a boy puts a stone through your window and you say—"I'll report you," you are laughed at. The only redress for grievance is the press. I thank you for the space.

AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Camp Plans and Other Summer Features — Boys' Membership Now 242, Seniors 428

The first Y. M. C. A. camp for St. John boys only, will be held at Robinson's Point, Grand Lake, this summer. D. D. Milligan, boys' secretary, will leave on July 4, in his motor boat, accompanied by two or three of the boys as an advance party to get everything in readiness. The rest of the party consisting of twenty-four boys from the intermediate department, will go up on July 9 by steamer May Queen. They will be in charge of two seniors who will act as leaders in the camp.

A recreative and instructive programme has been arranged, athletic meets will be held consisting of rowing and swimming races and instruction will be given in swimming and in the most effective methods of rescue from drowning. A field for baseball has also been secured. The maritime camp will meet at the usual place, Sutherland's River, N. S., next week. Only about three local boys are going and two from Hampton.

The boys department of the Y. M. C. A. is in a very flourishing condition, numbering 242 members, which is an increase of thirty-five over last year. In the senior department, consisting of 428 members, there are no definite plans for the immediate future, as the institution has been without the services of a general secretary until quite recently, when Mr. Watt took charge about June 1. The Marathon baseball team has made arrangements for the use of the swimming tank and gymnasium to keep their players in training. This department is open to all members of the Y. M. C. A. from three to five every afternoon. Mr. Howard, the physical director, went to Boston this week on his vacation and will be away until the last week in July.

A meeting of the directors will be held at the institution next Thursday evening for the election of new members to the board to take the place of W. C. Cross, president; E. E. Church, J. Hunter White, Charles Robinson, and E. C. Prime, whose terms have expired, but who are eligible for re-election.

The dormitory rooms are generally pretty well vacated during the summer months, but they are now all occupied, probably due to the increasing population of the city and the privileges available at the Y. M. C. A.

HOME FROM STE ANNE: St. John Pilgrims Bring Word of Cure of Miss Margaret A. Turner

A large number of the pilgrims from Ste Anne de Beauport arrived in the city yesterday afternoon. Others, owing to an accident which occurred near Rimouski, in which the engine and baggage car attached to the pilgrim train were derailed, came to the city at an early hour this morning. Luckily all escaped unhurt.

Miraculous cures are reported, among them that of Miss Margaret Turner of this city, who is reported completely cured of an ailment from which she suffered for several months. Previously to her departure she was unable to do any work, but now finds herself quite able to be about her household duties.

Among those who came to the city last evening were Mrs. Slattery and daughter, Miss A. Marquay, Miss Campbell of Canton, Miss L. Miss Ames, Mrs. McGuire, Misses A. and K. Foley, Mrs. Coughlan and daughter, Mrs. G. Carr, Mrs. Galloway, Miss Ethel Walsh, T. J. Barrett of Crouseville, Mrs. D. O'Leary and daughter, Mrs. C. Haley and daughter, and Miss Margaret Turner.

Among those who came in this morning were Miss M. McSherry, Misses K. and A. Martin, Mrs. McGuire of Fairville, Miss Annie Keith, Mrs. C. Callahan, Mr. and Mrs. F. Doherty of Douglas avenue, Miss Mary Hopper of St. Pleasant, Mrs. Leyden of Silver Falls and Master Edward O'Brien.

TODAY'S GAME HERE: Meeting of Baseball League to Be Held on Monday

The Marathon line-up for today's game with St. Croix on the Marathon grounds at 8 o'clock, will be—O'Brien, 3b.; Pinkerton, 2b.; Shanley, 1b.; Blaine, cf.; Watt, rf.; Bien, c.; Waterhouse, ss.; Riley, p.; Woodbury or Tarbell, p.

There will be a meeting of the executive of the New Brunswick Baseball League at Fredericton on Monday evening. The meeting has been called by the Bangor team with a view to having the league schedule changed so as to give Bangor three games home a week instead of two as is the case at present. The Bangor club would also like to arrange their foreign games so as to be able to play a greater number of games with each club on their trips and cut down traveling expenses. There will probably be a good deal of discussion on these points.

EIGHTY-FIVE DAYS FOR SCOTT ACT VIOLATION: One young man of Riverside, Albert county, is at present serving a sentence of eighty-five days in jail and another is fleeing from the police as the result of a violation of the Scott Act. The offence was committed at West River, where they sold a quantity of liquor to men employed in Mr. White's mill. The result was the general intoxication of the mill hands. This was followed by prompt action by Mr. White for the apprehension of the pocket peddlars and one was arrested and sentenced.

Liberals Choose Candidate: Kingsville, Ont., June 28—Robert Atkin of Malden, Warden of Essex County, was nominated for the commons at the Liberal convention yesterday. Eleven names went before the delegates, and four ballots were necessary.

Oil Magnate Dead: Cleveland, June 28—Louis Severance, one of the organizers of the Standard Oil Company, and noted throughout the country for his gifts to colleges and missionary schools, is dead.
