NO. 5.

—EXTENSION OF TIME.—As the storm has made the roads well nigh impassable, and many of our subscribers have been unable to send in their renewal of subscription in January, we will accept the reduced rate up to Feb. 14th. This will give all time to avail themselves of the $1.50 per annum offer.

—MISSISSAUGA APPLE TREE.—Des. Jacob Kempe, of Kempe, Queens Co., N. S., has an apple tree whose fruit he always devotes to missions. Some years ago he devoted the first lamb of his flock to this object, and when he gave up sheep raising, he selected one of the best of his apple trees. Now that he has put his farm out of his hand, he has, by special agreement, made provision that the income from this tree shall go to missions each year, as long as it may live and produce. We publish this, hoping the example may lead others to devote a portion of the increase of their farms and flocks to the Lord.

—CONTRIBUTOR.—We clip the following from an exchange:

"Bishop Cox says he knows a man in western New York who puts five cents in the offering on Sundays in the free church which he attends, but pays $200 a season for an opera-box, and the Living Church matches him with a millionaire as his acquaintance who subscribes a dollar a Sunday toward the expenses of his church, but stops payment during his winter excursions in the South, in which he spends thousands of dollars upon himself and family."

This reminds us of a case told us by the treasurer of a church in the Maritime Provinces. A member subscribed $4 to support of the pastor, a very small amount, considering the property possessed. The member was too ill to attend preaching for about six months, and was very exacting of the pastor all this time, expecting a visit once a week. When the treasurer called for the subscription, only $2 was given him, on the plea that no pay was to be given for the sermons during the six months' absence. The pastor, however, writes that the confessions have been misplaced. He says:

"In December, 1884, in the company of Rev. George Grenfell, of the Baptist Missionary Society, I made a voyage to Stanley Falls and became acquainted with the stars trade in most of its horrid features. In that month I found Tib Tib established in the small island immediately above the falls, occupied in building his headquarters, and farther down the river his chief lieutenant, with another one whose name I cannot now remember, raiding the country on both sides of the river, as far as the mouth of the Arawak. All this Tib Tib was doing under the guise of trade in ivory. His complete force amounted to about one thousand men; the net result seemed to be, as far as I could judge, about twenty towns burned, 40,000 homeless refugees, and very few captives."

—CHILDREN AT CHURCH.—We have referred before to the duty of parents to take their children to church. It is of such vast importance that it should be kept before the minds of the people continually. Children who neglect the house of worship until they are able to do for themselves to go or stay away, will do the latter in most cases. Children who have formed the habit of church attendance while under parental control, will, for the most part, continue to attend. These early associations will be like bands of brass, binding them to the house of God ever after. Neither will the purpose be served if the children attend Sabbath school. Unless they attend other church services, they will be liable to graduate out of the Sabbath school and be lost to gospel influences. It is a poor exchange, if children are sent to Sabbath school instead of to preaching and social church services and not to both. And yet, we fear, many Christian parents are very careless about this vital matter. When it is considered that few are saved unless in connection with church services, parents should be aroused, by the vital importance of this matter, to train up their children in the way they should go, in reference to attendance at church. Will parents not give heed?

—OUR LORD OR CHRISTIAN WITNESS?—Which?—The Christian Witness, the organ of the entire sanctification people, has been grappling with the question whether a man professing entire sanctification should ask for forgiveness of sins. This is the reply:

"It may be proper to offer such a prayer in public where there is a pronounced aversion, using the phrase, 'forgive us our sins'; and there is a sense in which we may personally use such a prayer in private, meaning by it, 'forgive my mistakes and weaknesses and shortcomings'; but at the same time, an entirely sanctified person lives by faith on the Son of God; every moment the blood cleanseth; and there is no condemnation. Such a one cannot ask forgiveness for conscious transgression of God's law, for there is no such transgression. The proper language of an entirely sanctified person is not 'Father, forgive me, but Jesus, thy blood cleanseth.'"

It will be seen from this that these people have got beyond the Lord's Prayer altogether. Had any of the apostles been as good as they, our Lord would never have told them to pray, 'forgive us our sins.' To what lengths of impious pretension will men not go!

—TEMPERANCE IN CALIFORNIA.—Our dear Bro. W. H. Robinson writes:

"Riverdale has lately passed a prohibition ordinance, forbidding the sale of liquor within the city limits. On the first day of January, 1888, the last and only saloon in this town of five or six thousand was closed. Last year there was but one saloon remaining under the pressure of a high license; but now the citizens of Riverdale have wiped off even that stain, and they are left up clean hands. Passing a prohibition ordinance is the way in which a community should be saved. The temperance cause in California is very strong. But in this state the temperance people must 'beard the lion in his den,' and the fight, we fear, will be long and fierce; for last year there were no less than five million gallons of wine manufactured. The wine grape growers cry out when you legislate against wine, 'You are striking at the roots of one of the principal industries of our state.'"

—ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.—To the multitudes who have sent us cheering words with their subscriptions, we tender our heartiest thanks. So far as we have experience, the subscribers of the Messenger and Visitor are most considerate. There has been very little of the complaining and fault-finding which tries the soul of so many editors. The fact they receive the paper, as it is, with so much favor, instead of lessening our effort to make it better, will not make us more determined to add to its interest and value.

—ENGLAND AND WALES.—During the year 1886 there were 366,590 more births than deaths in England and Wales. The marriages reached but 14.1 to the 1000, the lowest rate since registration began. The decline of illiteracy can be seen in the fact that ten years ago 163 men per 1000 signed the register by mark; the number has now sunk to 96 per 1000.

—TIB TIB.—It will be remembered that Stanley, when he started on his expedition to relieve Emin Bey, left Tib Tib, a noted Arab slave trader, in charge of Stanley Falls, his base of operations and supplies. It was known to be a risky experiment, but it was thought the Arab would curb his slave hunting propensities in consideration of the honor of the appointment. Dr. Sims, however, writes that the confessions have been misplaced. He says:

"In December, 1884, in the company of Rev. George Grenfell, of the Baptist Missionary Society, I made a voyage to Stanley Falls and became acquainted with the stars trade in most of its horrid features. In that month I found Tib Tib established in the small island immediately above the falls, occupied in building his headquarters, and farther down the river his chief lieutenant, with another one whose name I cannot now remember, raiding the country on both sides of the river, as far as the mouth of the Arawak. All this Tib Tib was doing under the guise of trade in ivory. His complete force amounted to about one thousand men; the net result seemed to be, as far as I could judge, about twenty towns burned, 40,000 homeless refugees, and very few captives."

—CONGREGATIONS.—From a statement in the Evangelist we learn that the twenty-seven principal Presbyterian colleges of the United States have a total number of students of 2327; of church members, 1668 (more than two thirds against "nearly two thirds" last year); credible conversions, 167 (against 127 last year); students for the ministry, 359 (against 348 last year). This is a fine showing.

—CHILDREN AT CHURCH.—We have referred before to the duty of parents to take their children to church. It is of such vast importance that it should be kept before the minds of the people continually. Children who neglect the house of worship until they are able to do for themselves to go or stay away, will do the latter in most cases. Children who have formed the habit of church attendance while under parental control, will, for the most part, continue to attend. These early associations will be like bands of brass, binding them to the house of God ever after. Neither will the purpose be served if the children attend Sabbath school. Unless they attend other church services, they will be liable to graduate out of the Sabbath school and be lost to gospel influences. It is a poor exchange, if children are sent to Sabbath school instead of to preaching and social church services and not to both. And yet, we fear, many Christian parents are very careless about this vital matter. When it is considered that few are saved unless in connection with church services, parents should be aroused, by the vital importance of this matter, to train up their children in the way they should go, in reference to attendance at church. Will parents not give heed?

—SPECIAL ATTENTION.—We call very special attention to Dr. Day's statement in another column. May the Lord open all hearts in response. Do not forget to read the few words at the close of the acknowledgments of Jubilee offering. Does the Master not want a response from very many?

—CONNECTION.—The name of the brother ordained at Belyea's Cove, Jan. 18th, was John D. Wetmore, not John Whitman, as published in the Messenger and Visitor of last week. We are very sorry the mistake occurred.

Will some brother who can send to Baptist Book Room a copy of Messenger and Visitor, date as follows: January 7th and 14th; April 8th, all 1888.

It looks as though denominational lines were breaking down among the evangelists; and such is the truth, I suggest. Some of us behold the drift of things in astonishment, and say, "To what extent will this movement go." For instance, Baptists are for the most part close communion in theory, but open in practice, if close communion be defined by the faith and practice of the fathers. So I heard some ministers of our faith say in Conference a few days ago. We prefer the new and later definition, or explanation, of close communion, and so save the term to ourselves, rather than to confess that we are open. For the scriptures do not seem to approve of open communion, as the Methodists practice it. So many questions are being raised now to the individual conscience as an entirely personal matter, and so much of conduct is governed by convenience. The Baptist minister marries a pedagogue gentleman, and passes over into church fellowship with him, and vice versa. What is this; is it as Tenney says?—

"A beam in darkness; let it grow."

So many things are given over as matters of church discipline. Do you please, only love our Saviour and try to do well in practical life, and come with us. That is the tendency. The free of the outward life of the people is demanding it, dragging the churches and the ministers along with it. It is something like the rush of colleges for students; and this is probably a part of the same great movement of life among the people. If students receive a recommendation from the masters of preparatory schools to college faculties, they matriculate without examination, or may be. The elective system, coming now into vogue in our Universities, may have something to do with this. Dr. Darwin's doctrine of the "survival of the fittest" is put into practice in the college life. The students who can maintain themselves go on, and receive degrees at the close of the course, but the unworthy are promptly dated by the rigid college court which passes judgment upon their attainments at the close of the course, if not before.

But it cannot be, can it, that these twin pillars of our faith, a regenerate church membership and immersion as baptism, shall be submitted to the personal convictions of any who seek membership with us? Must they not always be left as tests to the Lordship of Christ and the authority of the scriptures? If not, then the Baptist denomination has served out fully its mission. Let it "fall on sleep" when that day comes, and rest with dead issues.

But where is our Connecticut now? Oh, not entirely gone from our thoughts. Baptist number nearly 21,000 of the 622,000 of the state, and have in their churches a good share of the real spiritual life of the state. It has been so for many years. Long ago the New Light Organizationalists fraternized somewhat with Baptists, because our religious life was warmer a great deal than that of the blanketed "standing orders." And that trait of our greater warmth, has continued down the years with us till now. We have many strong men as pastors of our Baptist churches, and many strong churches too. We will not make comparisons for they are "odious" as Principal Grant, once of Halifax, once wrote in reply to a private letter of interesting inquiry, sent from Brown University, to Prof. DeMille, when a new professorship was to be filled. Our ministers are doing excellent work, and honorable among them are two or three from Nova Scotia. The name of one is not mentioned in this connection, but another is Rev. J. R. Hubbard, of Pataam, an excellent preacher and pastor, and who shows a staunch orthodoxy, like unto Dr. Cramp's—ah that mark of blessed memory—whenever occasion requires. Dr. Cramp gave him his first lessons in theology, and they have evidently not been lost on the noble brother. A year ago his pastorate was signalized by a great revival. More than a hundred were baptized in the lap of his church. And he himself caught fervor and consecration of the kind that have the head often, and sometimes speaks low because of its years that God is so near. Another Nova Scotia representative is Rev. G. A. Ballentine, pastor at Gosport Heights, a man a little younger, and both hearty and true, who is spoken of greatly in his praise. If you have ever there in Nova Scotia, a superfluity of such men, give them an honorable, brotherly "hello" or leave; they can be used here.

And who would believe it! Connecticut has again become largely, and in a true sense, missionary ground. Immigration of foreign peoples has been so great. The German is here, and has brought his beer. He is an excellent citizen, with two principal points of exception: 1. He wants his beer, and the accompanying saloon or beer garden. 2. He wants to make a worldly recreation day of our Sunday. You can easily infer that he does not want our religion—will not have, will set come into our churches; but it ever he does, and the grace of God makes him a "new creature," he is a hearty, devoted Christian. The Frenchman is here, and he is the Canada type described graphically by Joseph Cook, he is a zealous in the superstition of Lower Canada. The Irishman is here, breaking a little from Rome, but not much, and when he does break away, he goes into infidelity, set into our evangelical churches. Poles are here, Italians are here, some Bohemians, and all, together, are cities are hodge-podge of different races—men. The Swedes are here, but higher up in morals and religion, they take to religion just as the best Americans do, and are much like ourselves, only they speak a different tongue. Teutonic blood of their sort leans toward God. Connecticut must now be traversed by the missionary, who will go from house to house. The masses of the people have deserted the churches. We must go now into the highways and the hedges of our cities, and into many town districts. The mountain will not come to our church altars, we must go to the mountain.

But I cannot close this letter without a reference to that Biography of Dr. Cramp, prepared by Dr. T. A. Higgins, of Wolville, N. B. I want to look into it so much. O great, good man! beloved and honored, far and wide, wherever known. The last time I saw him was in the Boston Ministers' Meeting. He sat up beside the Chairman. It was a feast of joy to see him. How I would like now to hear him pray and preach! But he is becoming familiar, in these days, with the courts of the Lord's upper house. Are we not really kin to him, and shall we not hear him again? But now would that I could have a few hours' look, at the least, into that "Life" of him by Dr. Higgins. I must owe it some day.

But I bethink me now that I have not yet told you of any of the great services Connecticut has rendered to the national body politic. It is too late, I remember the counsel of haste which Horace gives.

Salvation Army.

A LETTER FROM JESSE DEWOLFE.

My attention has been called by two gentlemen members of the Baptist church in this place to a communication published in the Messenger and Visitor of 11th inst., headed "Salvation Army," with the initials "F. D. D." appended.

The writer (who has not derived his information from Mrs. DeWolfe or me), has gone from some course erroneous lines concerning the reason Miss Gray severed her connection with the Salvation Army.

A pressure of numerous business engagements has prevented me from previously replying to this letter.

It is an unpleasant matter to make personal explanations, and while I know that "F. D. D." would not state anything incorrect if he knew it were so, it would not be right to let incorrect statements become widely circulated through the medium of the influential organ of the important Baptist denomination, without being rectified. Uncontradicted, the statements are taken for granted to be correct by those who read them. In fact, the communication has been supposed, in Salvation Army circles, to have been written or inspired by me. Hence, in the interests of truth, I am obliged to ask you to publish this letter. First, let me correct a couple of statements of the correspondent, one with reference to the number of officers who joined the army at Truro and subsequently left the army. Of my own personal knowledge I knew of only three who became cadets at Truro and subsequently retired into private life, viz., Miss Susie Archibald, Miss Whippy (now Mrs. Peck) and Miss Gray. I have made inquiries, however, and I am informed that the number of officers who thus left, having joined at Truro, is eight, not thirteen as stated by "F. D. D." He is not responsible for this mistake, for the Morning Herald of Halifax three months ago, in some editorial remarks about our marriage, made this statement of thirteen officers, being all who had united with the army at Truro, having left it.

The second statement which I desire to correct before entering upon the true reason which led Miss Gray to leave the army, is that "Mrs. DeWolfe has been fully reinstated with the Truro Baptist church." Any one reading this, unacquainted with the fact, would suppose that Miss Gray, upon entering the army, had been dismissed from that church, or had her name erased from the church books. Nothing of the kind occurred. The Truro Baptist church did not erase Miss Gray's name from the church roll of membership, or take any action towards such a step when she entered the army, or at any time while she remained in it. The Baptists at Truro generally, as was the case with the Baptists everywhere who know her, were sorry that Miss Gray had entered the Salvation Army. They thought that sufficient and suitable religious work could have been provided for her in their church; but they, to their honor and praise be it said, gave her credit for conscientious motives, and she remained a member in good standing of the Truro Baptist church. I may add, in this connection, that on the very day of the publication of this letter, the Rev. J. E. Goubrer, the estimable pastor of the Truro Baptist church, wrote an exceedingly kind and friendly letter to Mrs. DeWolfe, suggesting in it that as she was now permanently located in Windsor, she had better have a letter of dismission from the Truro church to the Windsor church.

Now for the cause of Miss Gray leaving the Salvation Army. It is of course true that she perceived defects in it; but she did not expect perfection in any human organization, and the great opportunities for christian work which she found in the army inclined her to put up with and overlook those defects. But her health gave out. Naturally possessing a good constitution, it could not, however, stand the strain of the constant work and exposure to which, in a most trying climate for a stranger, she was subjected. When she could no longer march, when she could only walk a few yards, and at times could scarcely stand on her feet—seeking the competent medical advice, she was told if she did not cease from work in the army, she would be an invalid for life; then, and then only, did she take a rest, and not for a month after she had returned from Newfoundland to Nova Scotia; when still weak and suffering, and convinced that she would never be sufficiently strong to work in the army again, did she send her resignation as an officer to Commissioner Coombes. And still her health is greatly impaired; and it will take a long time for her to recover it, if she ever does.

It may not be interesting to your numerous readers, now that I am writing about the Salvation Army, to give you, at least to a small extent, the result of my study of that body. I have studied the Salvation Army closely for two years, by frequently attending its meetings in various places, by becoming familiar with its literature, and by personal acquaintance with several of its subordinate officers, and can therefore pass an intelligent, and also, I believe, an impartial judgment upon it. I have no time, and it would take my time of your valuable space, to enter into the subject in all its bearings; but will only refer to (in my opinion) the principal excellences and the principal defects of this army.

The great cause of its success lies, not in the subordinate means employed by it, such as drums, coccintra costumes, and expedients to draw crowds to the bazaars, and an exciting and novel method of conducting religious services; but in the fact that General Booth is the first man in the history of the world who has had the wisdom to employ the services of women on an equality with men (as far as the subordinate officers are concerned) in the public ministry of the gospel.

Noble, godly women are devoting their lives successfully in India and other heathen countries to the spread of christianity, sent out by the Baptist and other churches. It becomes a question of importance to these churches, whether they should not avail themselves of the services of consecrated women in the great field of home missions on an equality with men, only under proper restrictions for the preservation of their health. I am well aware that women missionaries in the East employ a chiefly with a view to reach the women of those Eastern lands, who are inaccessible to men missionaries; but the history of this army demonstrates the wonderful power of their women officers for good in this Dominion and in Great Britain, and that they reach the drunkards and depraved masses far more effectually than male officers. Can the churches afford to allow this great instrument for good to remain unemployed by them, in the face of the vices and misery which exist in our Dominion? Some noble, devoted women are now working in the Salvation Army who would never have been in it if the churches had afforded them that opportunity for work for suffering humanity which is to be found in the army, with all its defects.

I cannot dwell on this suggestion; but pass on to notice the principal defect—and it is a great one—of the Salvation Army. That defect is the military discipline established in it, which I believe to be unscriptural.

Arbitrary authority usurped by or granted to Christian, Jew, Turk, or infidel, is extremely liable to be abused. Yet it is arbitrary power the general, commissioner, and heads of divisions in the Salvation Army (by whatever special name those heads may be called) exercise over the thousands of subordinate officers, now widely dispersed over the face of the globe, and that arbitrary authority is often abused by them. The desire for lordship, to rule over others (especially, in very agreeable to the natural heart, but is opposed to the spirit and teachings of christianity. Even the disciples disputed among themselves which should be the greatest—they desired to rule and lord it over others; but Christ rebuked this craving in them, and said, "The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and they that exercise authority upon them are called benefactors; but ye shall not be so; but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger, and he that is chief, as he that doth serve" (Luke 22: 25, 26). In their army the captains, lieutenants, and cadets are continually drilled by the past promises made by them on entering it, by the discipline in training homes, by the instructions in camps, by the superior officers, by the War Cry, in the supreme duty of obedience to those superior officers, such as the general, commissioner, and heads of divisions. Hence an officer—captain, lieutenant, or cadet (by the way, cadets are not considered officers of the army, but they are obliged to obey orders notwithstanding)—when one of those receives an order to farewell from a station, no matter though God has greatly blessed him or her there, though a gracious revival is then going on, that officer, with deep grief and shedding many tears, must, perhaps at a day's notice, or only a few days' (and there have been cases where only a few hours' notice has been given), obey the orders received, and bid good bye to that station and go where ordered, to some other station perhaps a thousand miles or more distant. The individuality of the religious worker in the army is altogether crushed, so far as any choice on his or her part is concerned; in remaining in present station or choice of another one. The officers removed frequently from stations are, of course, instructed, and it is thoroughly drilled into them, that the Lord, speaking through the superior officer, has commanded them to be removed from those stations and to be sent to the new ones!

This idea simply presumes infallibility in the man giving the order. The idea of human infallibility has heretofore never taken any root in Protestantism. It has been deemed to be the exclusive claim of the Pope. The system pursued in the Salvation Army is to have frequent changes of officers. Captains are generally removed from a station in six months, lieutenants in less time, and cadets in still less. When, in consequence of the continual opening of new stations and the killing work, obliging officers to leave, the supply of officers is not equal to making the changes so frequently, an officer may be left a little longer than the periods mentioned at a station, but not much longer. So many officers see on the perpetual more.

—Those who begin by diluting the gospel generally end by adulterating it.
—Do not anticipate trouble, or worry about what may never happen. Keep in the sunlight.—Franklin.

—Life is a quarry, out of which we are to mold and chisel and complete a character.—Goethe.

—Such as begin to knock at God's shut door will never get in. Such will eternally stand without.

—If a man will make his nest below, God will put a thorn in it; and if that will not do, he will set it on fire.

—Some one has said that if christians do not have grace enough to control them, they can hardly have enough to save them.

—I have always preferred cheerfulness to mirth. The latter I consider as an act, the former as a habit of the mind.—Addison.

—The receipts of the American Board for the first three months of the present year are $106,811 against $67,390 for the same period last year. Even Dr. Newman Smyth's church the amount recently sent to the Board was $50 larger than that contributed a year ago. The contribution in Dr. Mungers' church, also, was larger than in 1886.

—A good story is told concerning the Rev. Mr. Daft, who took intense delight in using the largest words he could command, with endless redundances. Sitting in a room with a lady on whom he was calling, he surprised her with the enquiry, "Madam will you allow me to despatch with the biopacted forceps the superfluous fungus extremity of your nocturnal luminary?" "What did you say, sir?" "Madam, I will repeat for your further illumination my previous interrogatory." He repeated the sentence. "I really don't know what you mean, Mr. Daft." "These, madam, I will proffer without further ceremony to perform the necessary operation." And so saying, he snuffed the candle.

Literary Notes.

Number 455 Harper's Magazine for February, 1885, contains a little series of first papers by William Dean Howells; Louisa Pallant, a novelist; 'For Revenue Only,' but also for Protection and Development; by the Hon. George F. Edmunds; Hyderabad and Gajand; In Far L. Chavet, a novel, part 2nd, by William Black; Quebec; The American Shipping Interest; Felix Babot, Painter and Etcher; Railways—Ancient and Modern; On the Outpost—1780; For...; Buildings in the West; Post-Prandial Studies; Editor's Easy Chair; Editor's Study; Monthly Record of Current Events; Editor's Drawer, conducted by Charles Dudley Warner; Literary Notes, by Laurence Hutton. To be had at D. Colburn's, King St.

The numbers of The Living Age for January 14 and 21 contain Courtly Leo Tolstoy, and The Temera, Fortnightly; Slipshod English, National; Caesar Borgia, and Babbie in Australia, Blackwood; Montrose's Poem, Sir Stafford Northcote, and Some Experience of an Elephant-Kraai in Ceylon, Macmillan; B-ethoven and Two Bishops of Manchester, Temple Bar; On the Murrays; Laidley Murrays, All the Year Round; Hibernian Inaugery, Spectator; A Paenegyric on Sir Walter Scott, Pall Mall; Haves, St. James', with instalments of 'Richard Cable,' 'Jim's Merg,' 'An Episode of the Long Vacation,' 'Grey Far,' and 'Peter Grant's Wooling,' and poetry. A new volume has just begun; now is a good time to subscribe. Messrs. Little & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

The Illustrated London News. American edition, is always worthy of careful perusal and preservation. Send ten cents for a sample copy to Potter Building, New York.

The Century for February. A delightful essay of James Russell Lowell, on Walter Savage Landor, is one of the many features of the February Century. Mr. Keenan's series, which is important enough to be turned by the Russian censor from copies of The Century sent to that country, receives a notable addition in the study of 'A Russian Political Prisoner.' Theodore Roosevelt writes also in a popular vein, of 'Ranch Life in the Far West.' The Rev. Dr. J. M. Buckley, adds to his papers on the Mind-Cure and similar phenomena, a curious study of 'Astrology, Divination, and Coincidence' etc. The fiction is by Edward Eggleston ('The Graysons'), by George W. Cable ('An Lager'), the conclusion of 'The Danastee,' by F. R. Spockton, and a short story, 'The Governor's Prerogative,' by Octave Thomet. There are also poetry, etc. etc.

The Bow in the Cloud; or Words of Comfort for those in Sickness, Sorrow, and the Varied Afflictions of Life, by 200 best authors—poets and poetry. Edited by Rev. J. S. Sanders, D. D., editor of The Pulpit Treasury, etc. Contents: Consolation from the Bible, 'Thus saith the Lord,' Comfort for Parents Bereft of Children; Solace for other Bereaved ones; Encouragement for Those in Varied Afflictions; Cheer for the Aged and Infirm. These messages come from those who know by experience the preciousness of the truths by which they would console others. 'The brightest hope is seen upon the darkest cloud.'—Hesperal. Nearly 500 pages, square, 12 on, with frontispiece and presentation page from special designs, $1.75. Agents wanted. E. B. Treat, publisher, 771 Broadway, New York.

Cabbage and Celery Plants.—A guide to their Successful Propagation. A new Manual of Instruction by Isaac F. Tillinghast, Seed and Plant Grower, and Editor and Publisher of Seed-Time and Harvest, La Plaine, Laek's Co., Pa. Illustrated Price, 25 cents.

There is no doubt thousands of locations in which, with the aid of this little instructor, as active farmer's boy, or established market-gardener, might work up a very remunerative plant business with very little expense or trouble.

The Annual Catalogue of the Newton Theological Institution, for 1887-88, has been issued in a neat form, which embraces twenty-four pages of welcome information concerning the Board of Trustees, the Faculty, the Students, the Course of Study, etc. The whole number of students enrolled is sixty-one, of whom eight are in the senior class, eighteen in the middle class, twenty-three in the junior class, and twelve not in the regular course. Of the college graduates, nine are from Brown University, nine from Colby University, and five from Acadia College. The names of the brethren from the Maritime Provinces are, H. H. Hall, D. G. McDonald, W. A. C. Rowe, H. D. Bentley, E. S. Gates, W. A. Seafield, and J. W. McGregor. If our brethren will go out of Canada for theological culture, we are glad so many of them go to this most thorough and efficient institution. There is a fitting record of the decease of Prof. Heman Lincoln, whose loss is fully deplored. With the sorrow thus occasioned, cannot the joy afforded by the appointment of Dr. Jesse B. Thomas as his successor.

—Just received at Baptist Book Room, Halifax: 100 "Gospel of St. Matthew," 1600 "Gospel Hymns," limp covers, word ed., $1 per dozen; 200 "Gospel Hymns," music, 80c. each.

NEWS FROM THE CHURCHES.

DIBBY.—The annual meeting of the Digby Baptist church, was held in their church on Tuesday evening, Jan. 10th. The financial condition of the church, as shown by recd., of building committee, was highly satisfactory, and a fine great credit upon the church. Two years ago last September, we purchased the building then known as St. Paul's R-formet Episcopal church for $2,000, the cost of repairing and completing the building, in-uran- interest, &c., has amounted to $1,522.45, making a total cost of $3,522.45. Of this amount, the sum of $2,724.08 has been paid, leaving a balance due on the church of $898.37. Our contributions to the benevolent objects of the church have not, during this time, lessened, but rather have increased. The brethren of the church, Broad Cove, have all-o-comple-ted their house of worship, costing about $900, of which $800 has been paid, leaving a balance due on their building of only $100. The outlook of our church is hope-ful. Our meetings are well attended, and a deep spiritual interest is manifest. Our pastor is a stoutly laboring for the Glory of God, and the salvation of souls, and his labours are being blessed.

NEEDHAM.—The church here is enjoying the ministrations of Bro. Geo. Seely, and while it is a spiritual state is not what we would like to see it. Yet, we have a measure of God's presence, and are looking for better times. There is a movement on foot to move the church building from the west side of the So. doop to the vicinity of the station of village. A lot has been purchased, and a contract signed to build the building, and a notice of the weather will see a start made. The undertaking is a heavy one for so few, but, we think, result in larger congregations and more interest.

MAQUACON.—The 28th of Dec. the members of the Maquacon Baptist church and congregation, made their annual visit to the parsonage, and with kind and loving words presented their pastor and family with a donation of $60. This is prominent among the many favors the people are constantly bestowing. May the Lord abundantly reward the people for their kind and love.

LOWELL.—Mass.—Bro. W. G. Goucher, is a noble accompanying his renewal for MESSENGER AND VISITOR, writes: "It is a weekly letter from the scenes of my youth and from some of the friends of my youth; but many of them have gone to the heavenly rest, and some of us are just lingering in the earthly state. My interest in the message and progress of New Testament christianity in the Maritime provinces is unabated, though I have been absent twenty years. In his time God has used me to comfort some of his people, and bring others of his elect out of sin into the liberty of the children of God. Lowell is a city of churches. It is a city of licensed liquor saloons. They outnumber the churches, as ten to one. The Catholic people give the most general and regular attendance to church services. Still, the liquor business is largely in their hands, which is not a favorable showing for their religion. With Protestants is a great lack of church attendance. This is not all owing to indifference to religion, but, in a measure, to inability to bear heavy church expenses, and a malaise which can not endure the humiliations of being distinguished for poverty in the house of the Lord. Some of the churches have had evangelistic services this winter, which have added some to their membership. Now we are having several cold winters. May you have a successful year."

W. G. GOUCHER.
FIRST SPRINGFIELD, N. B.—Bro. Baynard has had the privilege of baptizing eight new converts into the fellowship of the First Springfield church since last report.

GERMAIN ST. CHURCH, ST. JOHN.—Since our last issue this church has held its annual meeting. Reports were presented by the pastor, church clerk, evangelist, chairman of trustees, secretaries of Sabbath school and Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, and secretaries of Conventual Fund and W. M. Aid Society. The reports were encouraging. We glean a few of the facts:

The clerk stated that at last annual meeting, at the request of the officers and teachers of the Sabbath school, the school came under the direct management of a committee of management. A similar request was also presented by Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, and this society is now under control of the church. His report also noted a complete revision of church roll, the present membership being 267. The report made mention of the death of some of the oldest members—Des. G. A. Garrison and Bro. W. A. Robinson. Bro. Simon's residence reported that the first time since the church was erected, the floating debts were paid off—of course this does not include mortgages. The weekly of ring system, adopted a few years since, is working well. The receipts for the year were $4,311.59, reducing the debt by $489.22. The Poor Fund showed a balance on hand of $84.46. All the reports were of an encouraging nature and this, the oldest of our city churches, enter upon the next year of her history with hope. After the election of officers, the sisters, whom we are pleased to report were present, served coffee and refreshment. It is the hope of the pastor and officers to make each annual meeting a meeting interesting and profitable to all the church.

PERSONALS.
Dr. Crawley entered upon his 90th year, on the 20th ult. He is still very vigorous for one of his age.

The Baptist church and congregation at Hantsport, have made a donation to the venerable Dr. Band.

We were remembered at County Harbor, an outstation of the Isaac's Harbor church, with a cash donation at New Year. It is the editor of the Amherst Gazette has been confined to the house by rheumatism for the last eight weeks. Mr. Block has been for a quarter of a century the organist of the Baptist church, and on the evening of the 23rd Jan. the choir gave a vocal and instrumental concert in his honor to a full house, and a right good concert we understand it was. Mr. B. well deserves to be remembered. We trust that he may soon be able to resume all his duties.

Many will sorrow with us as they read the obituary notice, in another column, of Bro. Kelly. He was principal of the Sunbury County Academy for some time, and taught in Bora Academy a part of last year, where he was generally respected and beloved. One of our most promising young men has thus been taken to the higher service.

We very much regret to hear that Mrs. Henry March of Weston, Oregon, died on Jan. 2nd. Bro. March is the brother of Jas. March, E. Q., and for years a minister among us. He will have the sympathy of many old friends in our provinces in his bereavement.

Deaths.

REARBOOKS.—It is our sad duty to record the death of Miss Ethel M. Estabrook, daughter of Mr. Leverett Estabrook, of Prince William. Our young sister passed away on the 14th, at 21 years and 10 months. Deceased was a young lady held in the highest esteem by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. She graduated from the Union Baptist Seminary, St. John, with the class of '86, and shortly afterwards obtained a license of the first class from the Provincial Normal School. She was teaching in the district in which her father resides, when from the effects of a heavy cold, symptoms of consumption soon made their appearance and resulted in her early death. For a year and two months she struggled bravely with the disease, but at the same time repaired to her situation, and placing her trust in the finished work of Christ. Thus death was robbed of its sting and she peacefully and calmly passed away. Much sympathy is felt and shared in for the parents and two remaining sisters. Her funeral took place on Monday, Jan. 21, in the old meeting house, where she had been accustomed to meet for Sabbath school, and other religious services during the years of her early life. A sympathetic sermon was preached on the occasion by Rev. E. N. Hughes, at Chescoquin, where an appreciative audience, Bro. Blackadar and 500 were present and took part in the service.

DENNEY.—At Kewick, Nov. 19th, Olivia, in the 28 year of her age, youngest daughter of Charles and Abigail Dunphy. For many years this young friend had been in a declining health, and had never made a public profession of her faith in Jesus; but, during this year of affliction, she lived a life of trust upon the Son of God, and when the summons came, she could say "All is well," and willingly stepped down into the "valley and shadow of death," realizing she was going to be with Christ.

ALLEN.—At the residence of the Rev. J. W. Weeks, Liverpool, N. S., Oct. 21st inst., Miss Lizzie Allen, aged 17 years and 5 mths. Sister Allan was the daughter of the late Captain Israel Allen, of Pembroke, Yarmouth Co., and had been residing with her uncle at Liverpool, for four years. At an early age she was baptized, and united with the West Yarmouth Baptist church. She loved the Lord, and devoted her energies to his service. She had passed a successful examination and received a grade of B. in Latin, at her father's school, all bright and promising. But how true it is, "in the midst of life we are in death." Disease attacked our young sister, and in a few days her ransomed spirit took its flight to the bright realms of eternal day. Her remains were brought to Pembroke, and were interred at Chescoquin, where an appropriate service was preached by the pastor, Rev. J. E. Bill, Jr.

REFUSE.—At Port George, Dec. 22, Wallace Refuse, of consumption of the bowels, aged 15 years and eight months, son of Jas. and Amaret Refuse.

CARTER.—At Amherst N. S., Jan. 22, Elizabeth, widow of the late Thomas Carter, of Moncton, aged 75.

BERRY.—At Clementevale, Dec. 12th, Lettie, third daughter of Alfred Berry, E. Q., in her 16th year. She was a promising child of one of our best homes, and greatly missed out of the Sabbath school, of which she was an apt scholar. She gave good evidence that the trials which she took deep root, and that life eternal had sprung up in her soul. May all her dear friends meet her in the land of unending summer.

MURRO.—At Newcastle Creek, Queens Co., N. B., on the 4th inst., Fred S. Murro, in the 32nd year of his age, eldest son of Geo. A. Murro.

SMITH.—At Indiantown, St. John, Oct. 15th, Mrs. Abigail Smith, aged 75 years. She gave herself to the Lord many years ago; united with the New Jerusalem F. O. Baptist Church, and continued a faithful follower of her Saviour until death released her from her sufferings, which were severe, yet borne with patience, longing to depart and be with Christ.

SKINNER.—At his residence, in this city, Jan. 21, Deacon Samuel Skinner, aged 86 years. Bro. Skinner was for many years deacon of the Brunswick Street Baptist church. His exemplary life is an invaluable legacy for "he being dead yet speaketh."

BETTEL.—At her home, in this city, Jan. 20th, Phoebe M. Bettel, daughter of Stephen Bettel, in the 24th year of her age. She was a member of the Brussels Street Baptist church, and held in high esteem. The last eight weeks of her sickness she suffered intense bodily pain, but she bore it patiently, and passed away with firm confidence in Christ.

DOW.—At Canterbury, York Co., Jan. 18, Miss Emma Dow, aged 19 years, daughter of Reuben Dow, Esq. Emma professed religion nearly four years ago, and united with the church. She came to her end saying, "all is well." She was baptized and also, her funeral was attended by the writer. J. W. S. YOUNG.

ALLEN.—At Bonnie River, Charlotte Co., N. B., Jan. 17th, after a long sickness, Maria Allen, aged 82, wife of the late Deacon Geo. Allen. In health she served God, and in sickness he left her not.

HUTTEN.—At Springfield, Kings county, Jan. 24th, of diphtheria, Wesley A., only child of John W. and Catherine L. Hunter, aged eleven months and eleven days.

MARSHALL.—At Weymouth, Jan. 22nd, of typhoid fever, Maud, aged 15 years, third daughter of Capt. Richard and Ella May Marshall. Capt. Marshall is on his way home from the West Indies, and will know of her death until he arrives. Maud was a good girl, and those who knew her loved her most.

BLEKHORSE.—At Amherst, Jan. 23, Thomas L. Blekhorse, aged 56 years.

HAWKINS.—At Clementevale, Jan. 17, Mrs. Peter Hawkins, aged 67. She was for many long years a worthy member of the Old St. Baptist church. After much suffering, borne in the Christ-like spirit, she calmly fell asleep, exclaiming to awake at the voice of the heavenly bridegroom.

HUTLEY.—At Pleasantville, Dec. 23rd, of consumption, Sophie Jane, beloved daughter of James and Sarah Hutley, in the 23rd year of her age. May God comfort the sorrowing parents and friends.

RUGER.—At her residence, Lockport, after a lingering illness, Mrs. Corin Ruger, on the 20th ult., fell asleep in Christ, aged 33 years. For a number of years she had been a member of the Baptist church, being loved by all for her quiet gentleness and general loveliness.

KELLY.—At his father's residence, Collins, Kings Co., N. B., Jan. 27, of consumption, Frank M. Kelly, M. A., aged 29 years. Deceased was a promising young man of unblemished character. Having completed his course of study at Acadia College, he engaged for a time in teaching, but feeling himself called by God to preach the gospel, he decided to devote his life to this glorious work, and, although the dread disease of which he died was now creeping upon his system, he preached as often as his strength would permit; preaching his last sermon at Collins Jan. 8. His parents have a strong claim upon the sympathy of all Christian hearts, as their only remaining son, Rev. E. W. Kelly, is now separated from them, being a missionary in Mandalay, Burma. The funeral of deceased took place on the 29th of Jan., when a sermon was preached by Rev. A. H. Hayward, from Psa. 116: 16, "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints." Bro. Wm. Wetmore taking part in the service.

KEMPTON.—At Kempt, on the 18th ult., of consumption, Robert, eldest son of Johnathan Kempton, aged twenty-two years. Robert was baptized into the fellowship of the Kempt church about two years since, and has lived a devoted Christian life to the end. His faith was strong. Death had no sting for him.

Col. McClure recently delivered in Bracon Presbyterian Church a lecture entitled "From Shirt-sleeves to Shirt-sleeves." He showed that a man begins in his shirt-sleeves, makes his way by industry, leads a fortune to his children; the second generation, who began in the days of enforced industry and economy, hold their own, and perhaps, a little more; but the next generation begins to run down, the fourth generation finds itself at the foot of the hill, in its shirt-sleeves, about where the first generation started, but without the health, the vigor, the virtuous poverty of the first.

The classification of fishes found in the Sea of Galilee has led to the strange discovery that three fishes do not belong to the Mediterranean system, but are peculiar, and belong to the fish system of the great inland lakes of Africa, —Tanganyika, Nyassa, and the neighboring waters.

The Missionary Review says: "A few years ago, among the Telugus in Eastern India, so many streamed to Christ that the hands of the missionary were weary baptizing. Has the stream lessened? It has increased, till it now rolls in a volume of 200 baptisms every month."

In the Presbyterian schools in Syria numbering 121 there are 5,344 pupils. The mission press in Syria issued 33,284,676 pages, most of which were holy scriptures. Converts are more numerous than ever. In Persia 150 Christian schools, with more than 1700 scholars.

News Summary.

DOMINION.

The trade of Montreal is steadily increasing. There were entered during 1887, 167 sea going vessels with an aggregate tonnage of 868,000 tons, or an increase over 1886 of 64 ships and 60,000 tons. The inland tonnage showed some 18,000 tons less than last year. The annual statements of the Bank of Nova Scotia and the Merchants bank of Halifax show those institutions to be in a thoroughly prosperous condition. Their net profits were $220,000, out of which $128,000 were paid in dividends and $92,000 reserved for future contingencies. There are over six millions on deposit in these two banks alone. The annual statements of the Bank of Montreal show a similar state of affairs. Their net profits were $220,000, out of which $128,000 were paid in dividends and $92,000 reserved for future contingencies. There are over six millions on deposit in these two banks alone. process of manufacturing glass and other articles. The capital stock of the company is $20,000, divided into 2000 shares at $10 each. The Ontario legislature opened Thursday. The opening of the Nova Scotia legislature is announced for February 23rd and that of New Brunswick for March 1st. The Montreal Art Association rejected J. E. Malouin's offer of a donation of $10,000, provided the gallery be kept open Sundays free. Chas. F. Todd & Son are preparing to rebuild on the same site of the lumber mill recently burned at Milltown, N. B. The rich man can afford to pay for life insurance; the poor man can't afford to do without it. To the former it is a luxury; to the latter a necessity. The one would like to leave his family a rich legacy; the other can't be happy unless he knows his family's bread is not to be buried in the coffin of his provider. The rich man can get the most insurance for the same money, and the poor man the same insurance for the least money, in The Dominion Safety Fund Life Association, St. John, N. B. Says the Fredericton Gleaner: The spruce loggers in all the northern woods are happy, that is, if plenty of snow and good weather for hauling can make them happy. Europe now owes something like $200,000,000, and is paying about $200,000,000 a year on interest charges. This enormous debt must eventually be paid or repudiated, Lord Derby believes. Negotiations between France and Italy for a treaty of commerce have been ruptured. Italy refused to accept over 89 of the 272 articles covered by the old treaty and these only a: increased tariffs. It is stated warrants have been secretly obtained in England for the arrest of six Irish members of Parliament and magistrates who now are in hiding. Advice from Crete says the British consul in Crete has demanded the dismissal of the governor of the island and the payment of an indemnity of 20,000 on account of the illegal liberation by the governor of the murderer of British seamen. The number of people who speak English, has increased seven fold during the last century, and now amounts to a hundred millions. At the same rate of increase at the end of another century there will be seven hundred millions English speaking people, says Mr. Gladstone in the North American Review. The number of fires in London last year were 214 over the previous year, and there were 2,383 calls. Half these result from gross negligence in residents. Four firemen were killed and 87 seriously wounded. The St. James Gazette says it has authentic advices from St. Petersburg that an army officer, shot in the region of the heart, was taken to the hospital. The doctors declared the wound mortal. The officer admitted that he had shot himself to avoid the necessity of shooting the czar. He said he was a member of a socialist society which balloted to decide the assassin of the czar. The choice had fallen upon him. The Baptist Union of England, has accepted the Rev. Mr. Spurgeon recently mentioned in the article on the introduction of a local government bill in parliament before Easter. Right Hon. C. T. Ritchie, president of the local government board, in an address at Sheffield, Jan. 30, said it was the deliberate intention of the government to introduce a local government bill in parliament before Easter. The postal convention recently concluded between the United States and Canada, by which any kind of matter admitted to domestic mails will be sent to any place in the other country at the same rate, has been approved by the President. The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company has stopped all its trains with the Phelps induction telegraph system. Despatches may be sent to all parts of the United States and Canada while a train is in motion, with the same facility and certainty as in any telegraph office. The production of pig iron in the United States in 1887 was 6,417,148 tons the largest amount in the history of the country. The Chinamen of New York are said to send home $150,000 a year. The number of pieces of mail matter handled during the last twelve months in the New York city post office was 797,778,145, or in other words, something over two millions a day. The record of Railway accidents in the United States for 1887 is published showing that 522 were killed and 1360 injured during the year. Many of these deaths were due to carelessness and misconduct. Many were due to the terrible car-coupler hitherto in use. Dr. Mary Jacobi, who is one of the best physicians in New York, and whose income is put as high as $40,000 yearly, says that women physicians are in great demand, and are making rapid strides forward. There are in New York no less than 300 firms which receive more than 1,000 letters a day, the year round, more than 100 firms that receive 2,500 letters, fifty firms that receive between 3,000 and 4,000 letters, and one firm which receives an average of 5,000 letters a day, the average frequently running above 10,000 in the busy season. If the sufferer from Consumption, Scrofula and General Debility, will try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver oil, with hypophosphites, they will find immediate relief and a permanent cure. Dr. H. V. Mott, Brentwood, Cal., writes: I have used Scott's Emulsion with great advantage in cases of Phthisis, Scrofula, and Wasting Diseases. It is very palatable. Put up in 50c. and $1 size. CAMPBELL'S TONIC ELIXIR

This agreeable yet potent preparation is especially adapted for the relief and cure of that class of disorders attendant upon a low or reduced state of the system, and usually accompanied by Pallor, Weakness and Palpitation of the Heart. Prompt results will follow its use in cases of Sudden Exhaustion arising from Loss of Blood, Acute or Chronic Diseases, and in the weakness that invariably accompanies the recovery from Wasting Fevers. No remedy will give more speedy relief in Dyspepsia or Indigestion, its action on the stomach being that of a gentle and harmless tonic, exciting the organs of digestion to action, and thus affording immediate and permanent relief. The curative properties of the different aromatics which the Elixir contains render it useful in Flatulent Dyspepsia. It is a valuable remedy for Atonic Dyspepsia, which is apt to occur in persons of a gouty character. For Impoverished Blood, Loss of Appetite, Debility, and in all cases where an effective and certain stimulant is required, the Elixir will be found invaluable. In Fevers of a Malarial Type, and the various evil results following exposure to the cold or wet weather, it will prove a valuable restorative, as the combination of Cinchona Callosa and Serrapentaria are universally recognized as specifics for the above-named disorders. Sold by all Dealers in Family Medicines. Price, $1 per Bottle, or Six Bottles for $5. DAVIS & LAWRENCE CO. (LIMITED) SOLE AGENTS, MONTREAL, P. Q.
