DOMINION STEEL COMPANY GLAD TO STOP OPERATIONS.

They Notify Government That Iron Market is So Depressed That They Were Running at a Loss—Willing to Arbitrate Wage Question, But Employers Are Not—Coal Miners Warn Dominion Coal Company Not to Aid Steel Company on Penalty of Strike.

Ottawa, June 6.—(Special)—Ralph Smith, of British Columbia, in the house of commons today, asked the government if it had taken official notice of the labor trouble at Sydney.

In reply, Sir William Mulock said that the department of labor had not received a request for its friendly offices from either the Dominion Steel Company or from the men who were out on strike.

On the receipt of this the minister of labor wrote to P. Nichols, vice-president of the Dominion Iron & Steel Company, as follows:—

The government much regrets the existing differences between the Dominion Iron & Steel Company and their employees, which have resulted in a strike and a shutting down of the works, and earnestly hopes that at the earliest moment harmony may be restored and the men be at work again.

At the time of reorganization of the company's affairs last December, the position of the company was fully explained to the representatives of the men, and also to the members of the town council and board of trade of Sydney, and there has been no change for the better in the iron and steel market since that date.

TERRIBLE WORK OF INFERNAL MACHINE.

12 Non-Union Men Blown to Atoms.

Victims Had Just Quit Work for the Day and Were Waiting for Train When the Platform Blew Up—Deadly Rioting, and Shooting by U. S. Soldiers Results.

Cripple Creek, Colo., June 6.—Twelve men were killed and seven were severely wounded today by the explosion of an infernal machine at the railroad station in Independence, eleven men were killed outright, being blown to pieces, and one died later from his wounds.

The infernal machine which the crime was committed, consisted of a quantity of dynamite, probably 300 pounds, and a loaded revolver fixed in position with the trigger connected to the dynamite.

A special train, was sent from Cripple Creek carrying physicians, nurses, officers and many others, but when it reached Independence the engine was wrecked.

Without explanation and with a suddenness that was great, a surprise, Sheriff Henry M. Robertson this afternoon resigned his position and Edward Bell was named to succeed him by the county commissioners.

ASSEMBLY GRIPS WITH DUTY OF CHURCH TO THE SEATS OF EARNING.

Eloquent Debate Follows the Report of Queen's University, But Decision Not Arrived At—Foreign Missions Absorbed Attention Last Evening—Movement for Increase of Minimum Stipend to Ministers.

The relation of the church to the colleges was made the subject of a very animated discussion in the Presbyterian General Assembly during the whole of Friday afternoon, over the report of Queen's University.

In the morning the main features were the proposal to increase the minimum stipend of the minister, and the appointment of Rev. Prof. Falconer to be principal of the Halifax College, and Rev. A. S. Morton, of St. Stephen, to be a lecturer there.

Dr. Warden reported for the western section; cash balance of $1,008. He said the three funds will soon be amalgamated.

Dr. Sedgewick reported for Halifax College. The chief recommendations of the assembly appoint Rev. R. A. Falconer, D. Litt., LL. D., to succeed Dr. Pollock as principal of the college, and also to nominate Rev. Arthur S. Morton, B. D., of St. Stephen, N. B., as lecturer for three years on Practical Theology and Church History at a salary of $1,500.

Dr. Sedgewick spoke highly of Prof. (Continued on page 6, first column.)

RUSSIAN FLEET IS SHORT OF COAL.

Haven't Enough to Send Large Ships Out to Sea—Rumor That Sortie of Czar's Torpedo Boats Sank Three Jap War Vessels.

London, June 7.—The correspondent of the Times steamer Haiman, telegraphing June 6, says: "It is pretty certain from intelligence received by the Japanese secret service that even if the channel of Port Arthur is practicable for large draught ships there is not sufficient coal in Port Arthur for such vessels to take the sea."

Paris, June 7.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Martin says that a naval officer repeats the story already in circulation at Liao Yang that the Russian squadron at Port Arthur has made a sortie and sank two Japanese torpedo boats and a battleship of the Shikima type.

Montreal, June 6.—(Special)—Today there was a conference between the government light-house board and captains of ocean liners in port, with a view of agreeing upon the most advantageous points in the St. Lawrence and Bay of Fundy for placing of the new submarine danger signals.

Fredericton, N. B., June 6.—(Special)—The following is the docket of the Supreme Court which opens tomorrow morning:—

The King vs. James G. Forbes and Charles E. Smith—Ex parte Thomas J. Dean. E. P. Raymond to show cause. The King vs. Walter Cahill, ex parte W. Frank Tait. J. D. Pannier, K. C., the like.

INCREASE OF MINIMUM STIPEND FOR MINISTERS

Assembly Favorably Sends Question to Committee—Prof. Falconer Made Principal, and A. S. Morton a Lecturer in Halifax College.

Dr. Warden moved for a committee to consider increase of the minimum of ministerial stipend from $750 and a manse to $800 and a manse.

Dr. Lyle was seconder and he made a plea for larger contributions by congregations to the augmentation fund.

CHURCH'S RELATION TO THE COLLEGES.

Very Able Address Arising from Queen's College Report—What Aid is the Church to Give the University?—Assembly Unwilling to Decide Without More Consideration.

At the afternoon session a resolution was adopted expressing the sympathy of the recovery of Principal Owen of Knox College, and the hope that he may be spared for many years to continue his great and successful work.

Principal Gordon submitted the report of Queen's University. It was of special interest, he said, because of the question of the future relation of the church to the university and the church. The college report showed the number of students continues to increase. The increase in all departments last year was 44. There were 628 in arts, 38 theology, 216 medicine, and 143 science. Dedicating 26 registered in two faculties there was a total of 897.

The finances, however, show a considerable deficit. The expenditure was $68,500.83. The deficit is $10,907.00. Queen's has grown remarkably in the last twenty-five years. Queen's had a larger enrollment of matriculated students in arts last year than University College, Toronto, and more also than McGill. But the staff of Queen's is weaker than McGill's. She is so very far behind in property and endowment. The marvel is that she has been able to do so much with such slender means.

Principal Gordon dwelt upon the extreme importance of Queen's for the development of higher education. Mere intellectual training without spiritual ideals might hinder rather than help a man. The university sets the pace and gives the tone to the educational system. As its university life is, so will be the educational life of the country. There was no principle to restrain the Presbyterian church from making her influence felt in the educational life of the country. Its practice proved this. It tries to make its influence felt in regard to temperance work, Lord's Day observance, the Bible in the schools and other great public questions. A lofty spiritual ideal should be cherished in every educational institution, to bring to bear upon the students that spiritual power for which all the churches stand.

For a Lofty Spiritual Ideal. In the early days there were colleges due to the work of the churches, and some are still strictly denominational, as are the Presbyterian College in Manitoba. There are also governmental universities, as the U. N. B. and Toronto University. Others are due to private benefaction, as McGill. Some are a combination of governmental, church and private, benefaction, as Dalhousie. Queen's is due to a combination of church and private benefaction.

There is no perfect type of university, to be copied universally. Universities grow up in a country, and are modified by its influences around them. It is a great benefit to the country to have a variety of them. Dull uniformity is an enemy of progress. Granting all this, every one of the colleges should be animated by a lofty spiritual ideal. He would not plead for denominational colleges. There is a larger, better life developed by variety of type, but the spiritual element should be in them all. There is a certain stigma in some minds attaching to denominational colleges. If the church is to have any influence of spirit, from all kinds of narrowness we may well pray, "Good Lord, deliver us."

It is possible to aim at the spiritual in no sectarian spirit. He could not suppose a Presbyterian institution would become narrow or sectarian in spirit. If it would be a university, it should be broad and aim at the spiritual in no sectarian spirit. It is accustomed to take a wide national outlook with regard to missions, and its relation to other churches. There is also a strong spirit of unity, and an effort to maintain a lofty spiritual ideal. The theological department is an integral part of the university, and its students are associated with those of other departments, and their influence is felt by the latter.

Why was the thought ever entertained of severing this university from the church, since it is thus siding the work of the church. The assembly was asked last year to assent to a bill providing for separation, and the creation of a corporation consisting of graduates of the university instead of the ministers and members of this church. Various influences led the university authorities to take that step.

One was the development of a broader spirit among her graduates, looking to the nationalization of the college. The graduates have been of all denominations, and continued to take an interest in her welfare. Their numbers had increased so much that even in 1874 it was felt they should be represented in the university council. In the course of time it again was given representation on the board of trustees, and in 1889 the assembly authorized the nomination of five members, irrespective of church connection. Some of them are not Presbyterians, but are not less zealous and capable in their work for the good of the university. But the growing influence was toward its nationalization.

Another influence was the relation to Queen's to the government of Ontario. The loss of the government grants to various universities with denominational character led only one, Toronto University, receiving such grants. In 1884 a federation of some universities with Toronto was brought about. Queen's refused to go into the federation. They held that no one centre could meet the university demand of so large a province. Of late the government has given a measure of assistance to Queen's indirectly, by giving aid to the school of mining and engineering, which is practically the school of applied science of the university. It then seemed reasonable, in view of the large practical public work of Queen's—for example in training teachers for the public schools—that if the devotion to the work of the university would receive more public aid.

There was a third influence at work, tending toward nationalization, which was the closer relation with the university church after the union. This led to the appointment of trustees in a different way, and the university was largely controlled by a comparatively small section of the united church. True, that section had done much for Queen's. In her convention hall are three tablets, telling how at one time 500, at another time 600 and at another time 6,000 benefactors came to her aid.

Nowhere is there greater loyalty to alma mater than in the case of Queen's. But with the increased number of students, greater demands and the need of a larger staff it became absolutely necessary to have a larger endowment and larger revenue. And it did seem to the authorities that there was a degree of indifference in a portion of the church with regard to the welfare of Queen's.

Church Support Light.

Year after year the church failed to support even the theological department. It seemed the church was not doing its duty, not unaturally, that there would be no objection to the severance of the tie, and perhaps a brighter outlook for Queen's under new conditions.

But the assembly last year refused to have the tie severed, and resolved to come to the aid of the university and fit it for its forward work. There is no new link in close bonds with the church, existing like the church, to serve the highest ends. The church would not have it pursue other ideals than those of the past, but develop along those lines and become more and more abundantly powerful to accomplish its high aims. The church should realize her connection with the university should unite with its graduates to make it more efficient for the realization of its ideals. By strengthening the university the church would perform a great duty to the country.

He had not sought the principality, but had tried to avoid it, until a sense of duty constrained him. He would urge that the church extend a large and liberal support to Queen's.

Principal Gordon's address was greeted with great applause. He moved that the report be received.

Prof. Dyde Speaks.

Prof. Dyde seconded this motion. He told of what the Queen's University council is composed. That council had adopted a resolution last April, expressing sympathy with the spirit of the assembly's resolution of last year, and a desire to cooperate, but also pointing out that there were difficulties to be faced. It suggested that the church extend a large and liberal support to Queen's.

Principal Gordon's address was greeted with great applause. He moved that the report be received.

Prof. Dyde dwelt upon the great work done for Queen's by its graduates. The friends of Queen's ask that it be understood that the suggestion he recognized and nothing done to check the natural and normal growth of the university. They desire to co-operate with the church fully and cordially. The unique element in the life of the university is the unity of theology and arts. It is not a partnership nor an affiliation, but an integral union; and it would be an injury to the very idea of the institution to separate them. In Queen's they hold that theology is the crowning science of an educational course. They desire to co-operate with the church to carry out the experiment of the union of theology and arts, which are joined in no other university in Canada.

Never put out the bescon light of theological teaching in any of the colleges. It is not non-denominational. Queen's offers to the church an influence which it could not possibly at this stage construct for itself.

The speaker dwelt with great force upon the benefits derived from the association of theological and arts courses. He did not see how the church could refuse a genuine co-operation with the friends of Queen's. To do otherwise would be a diminution of prestige, and a loss of power to Presbyterianism.

Dr. Fletcher. Rev. Dr. Fletcher paid a tribute to the great work done by Queen's, and referred to the large amount of property owned and declared it would be unworthy of Presbyterianism to nationalize that university, and hand over to the state so much money that had been cheerfully given by Presbyterians in the past. He told of Anglicans and Roman Catholics in Hamilton and Kingston who had been educated at Queen's, and who desired to know they would much rather see it connected with the Presbyterian church than without any church connection. To sever the connection would be a great loss of prestige to the church. Principal Grant had done a monumental work, and his mantle had fallen on worthy shoulders. Queen's had done a great work for truth and righteousness in a quiet way. Its endowment must now be enlarged. He hoped the assembly would come forward and ensure adequate support.

to draft such a scheme as would probably meet the views of the assembly.

It was suggested that a resolution be first adopted as a guidance to that committee. They should give something more of the mind of the assembly.

Another View of It.

Rev. J. A. McDonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, said that he had raised the question of the relation between the church and higher education. If to adopt the resolution would tend to withdraw Presbyterian support from the provincial university, he would oppose it. It would be his duty. The provincial university is the greatest asset of the province, and it should be the greatest educational power of the land. It would be a fatal mistake for the assembly to do anything that would withdraw the sympathy of the church from the provincial university. It is of the utmost importance that the Presbyterians, who have done so much for Toronto University, should continue to give it their sympathy and support. This did not mean the destruction of Queen's.

As a reference to materialistic influences in university life, Mr. McDonald, reverting to Queen's, said it could hope for no assistance from the government. The Presbyterians have only one state-aided university. The school of mines would have gone to Port Arthur, if the people there had raised the requisite money. That much indirect aid Queen's would continue to receive, however, for if the school of mines were taken, from Queen's the government would have to expend a large amount elsewhere for its equipment.

The provincial university would never get much private aid. But Queen's would be able to draw from private sources. He would regret extremely if Queen's were closed or its usefulness restricted, for he knew Toronto University itself needed just such an institution with such traditions. Speaking for the development of the provincial university, and believing that Queen's would have to have the aid of the church and of wealthy men, he would favor opening the doors of the university and giving men of wealth an opportunity to spend their money there for the public good.

Rev. Dr. Murray said he had opposed the suggestion of a broad national university, and was very glad to see Queen's retain its connection with the church. He felt the church was now committed to vote for continuing and vitalizing its connection with Queen's.

Rev. Dr. Bryce, of Winnipeg, expressed great personal sympathy for Queen's, which was the only broad national university in Canada. He believed in a united Canada, and he felt Queen's stood for that. Queen's men supported the west, and he was thoroughly in favor of the policy proposed.

Some Searching Questions.

Principal Patrick did not like to see a church entering upon a policy. As to Queen's, he knew its work and its men, and he desired its progress and prosperity. But he was not quite sure of the path they were entering upon. He would lead to progress and prosperity. It had been said no provincial government would aid Queen's, but governments were what the people made. He would like to know the attitude of the church toward universities? What is the policy proposed?

Is it a church to organize itself to raise endowment and endow chairs? Is the church to do that? If so what is it stop at Queen's? If so, why? What about the other universities in Canada? Do you want to see Scotia, Toronto and the west? What about Manitoba College? Do you want to see denominational colleges? The situation is complicated. But Queen's had shown for Queen's, but had to recognize the significance of the action it is proposed to take. The church itself and not Queen's University had made the situation as it exists today. The general assembly is responsible. If all that is sought is generous encouragement he would approve, but he might be compelled to oppose the policy if it were the intention to sever the connection of a new university policy.

Rev. Prof. MacLaren felt at the time of Queen's that Queen's was a very valuable asset and should have been taken in on the same terms as it was connected with the section of the church with which it was formerly associated. The church, however, was not to be severed from the church, but very generously supported the university, and now possesses in it a very valuable asset, which should not be thrown overboard. He would like to see an approach in reversing its decision with regard to the severance of the tie between itself and Queen's. The authorities of Queen's had themselves suggested the severance in the first place. It was not the assembly, although the latter had acquiesced.

As to the future, he agreed heartily with Mr. McDonald that the assembly should not take any action hostile to Toronto University, in which the church was deeply interested. But Queen's had shown its ability to establish a strong university at the east end of Ontario, and surely Toronto with government aid, could do the same in the west. There was no reason, therefore, to speak of hostility. He did not think the church could make Queen's a scheme of the church, but the church could heartily welcome an approach to its members for aid and bid them God speed. He would not, however, make it a scheme of the church.

A Half View.

Prof. Falconer said this was primarily an Ontario question. Principal Patrick had suggested a general university policy, but in his view the relation of the universities to the church must be a sort of compromise. In the maritime provinces the Presbyterians look with a great deal of respect upon other colleges, but with affection toward Dalhousie. It is vital to the church that Dalhousie be strengthened and the synod has taken action to that end. It holds that the church is responsible. But there are degrees of responsibility, and he did not think any one plan could be adopted to apply to colleges all over the country. Queen's did not need anything in the way of a statute. Sympathy counts for more. If it is known that this assembly is behind Queen's, it will reap a harvest from willing friends.

As the hour advanced men had come the great question went over, without any vote being taken, as several members desired fuller discussion.

FOREIGN MISSIONS ARE INTERESTINGLY TOLD OF

Large Gathering at Assembly Meeting—Very Fine Addresses by Men from the Foreign Fields.

Foreign missions was the subject of the evening discussion. After singing, led by the choir, the reading of a portion of Isaiah, 32nd chapter, by the moderator, Rev. Dr. Tyle, seconded by Dr. Campbell, moved that a committee be appointed west, Rev. W. A. J. Martin, was called on to speak.

Rev. Mr. Martin.

Rev. Mr. Martin spoke of the outlook in different fields. In Mexico, China, and India, the mission is in its infancy, but the outlook is very promising. A church will soon be erected there, and the missionary is asked for another missionary and for lay teachers. He next spoke of Honan, a densely populated part of Central China. The work was begun there seventeen years ago. The Home Church four years ago drove the missionaries out, but on their return they found the work more favorable and progressive than before. There are between 250 and 300 communicants and quite a large number of students. The number of congregations is steadily increasing. Two of the missionaries, Rev. Dr. Malcolm and Rev. M. Mackenzie, have been compelled to resign, but Rev. W. A. Lochead and Rev. J. A. Movats will replace them. Two ladies have also been sent out. There are 1,000 in all Honan, and they are all open. The like is true in India and Africa. The Christian church is facing such conditions as the world never saw before. Christian missionaries have 6,000 stations, which are merely strategic points. The church today is grappling with heathenism as never before. What course will the Presbyterian church pursue? The normal revenue is not equal to the needs of the work. Is the church to rise to its opportunity or curtail its work? Dr. Campbell spoke of the great growth of wealth in the United States and Canada. We have the wealth. There is also a great growth in gifts for special purposes of good. There is a tendency to turn this great wealth over to philanthropic purposes. Will foreign missions get a share of this? There have been some great gifts in the past for Christian missions and there is a hope that the gifts of the future will be greater than ever before. But in the meantime what is to be done? We cannot wait for these large results. In the west they have $2,000 pledged as special service gifts. Individual churches are connecting themselves with missionaries. One with $1,200 now wants to send a missionary, and there is none to give them. There should be 100 congregations pledged to support a special missionary. It would not decrease their contributions for other purposes. Rev. Dr. Mackay outlined a plan for the organization of a congregation to support a missionary and the method of raising the funds. Like Mr. Miller, he paid a warm tribute to the work of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. He spoke of the self-sacrificing spirit of Wesley, Livingstone and Carey, and held these up as an example to the church.

Rev. Dr. Mackay.

Rev. Dr. Mackay, secretary of the western section, noted the fact that the church now occupies ten missions. But they were facing mission work all over the world. There are twenty-four countries in Honan, but there are 1,000 in all China, and they are all open. The like is true in India and Africa. The Christian church is facing such conditions as the world never saw before. Christian missionaries have 6,000 stations, which are merely strategic points. The church today is grappling with heathenism as never before. What course will the Presbyterian church pursue? The normal revenue is not equal to the needs of the work. At the conclusion of his eloquent address the assembly adjourned.

Saturday's Session.

One sensational incident marked Saturday morning's session of the Presbyterian General Assembly. It arose in connection with the affairs of Montreal College. Dr. Morrice submitted the college report, which carried recommendations for the appointment of Dr. Seringer as principal, and Dr. B. J. Fraser, of St. Stephen's church, city, to a professorship. Mr. Morrice moved the report and recommendations be adopted, and the motion was adopted by the assembly.

Rev. E. D. Miller, of the eastern section, of the committee, was the next speaker. He regretted the absence of Dr. Falconer and Mr. McCurdy, the secretary, who were both very familiar with the work of which he was called upon to speak. The home mission, he said, had been in the hands of the church for some time, and the church needed a renewed enthusiasm in foreign mission work. A grander cry than "Our country for Christ," is "The world for Christ." It is the world for Christ that is giving too much to foreign and too little to home missions. Last year the church gave $195,000 for home foreign missions, and the year before the latter $133,000 was to pay off a special debt.

Turning to the New Hebrides the speaker said that he had been to that island and prosperously. Three agents have been working steadily there for thirty-two years. In Trinidad there are six Canadian missionaries, and in the West Indies a great work is being done there. In Demerara work is also progressing, but there has been difficulty due to ill health of the missionaries. There are 120,000 East Indians.

The war in Korea has interfered with the work there, but the missionaries are still working there under great disadvantages. As to the debt of the eastern section, Mr. Miller said that Dr. Grant had raised $15,000 for the debt, and at the end of the year the debt was $3,250; but that since he has been wiped out, there is a small balance. It is not good policy to have a large amount of debt. The people should be educated along the lines of Christian liberty, to provide funds to carry on the work. The speaker said that he had been to the work of the women of the church. The eastern section should raise $42,000 in addition to what is raised by the women for foreign missions. The work of foreign missions must always be carried on under difficulties, and the church must meet the conditions fearlessly and earnestly.

Dr. Fraser Smith.

Dr. Fraser Smith, who had experience as a missionary both in Honan and India, deprecated any such idea as putting home and foreign work against each other. As theology is the crown of the sciences, so are foreign missions the crowning work of the church. The spirit of Christ calls for a more vigorous and active help. As theology is the crown of the sciences, so are foreign missions the crowning work of the church. The spirit of Christ calls for a more vigorous and active help. As theology is the crown of the sciences, so are foreign missions the crowning work of the church. The spirit of Christ calls for a more vigorous and active help.

Rev. Mr. Sutherland.

Rev. Mr. Sutherland from Demerara was next heard. British Guiana has more territory than the West India islands, and a small portion of it has been opened up, but it is a colony of splendid resources. The descendants of former slaves and the East Indians do the work. They are intelligent people and the East Indians have the future of the colony in their hands. There are 150,000 coolies there now. They are people of great promise, and it is among them the Presbyterian missions are carried on. They are slow to put themselves under the restraints of the Christian religion. They cannot be Christianized except by missionaries who learn their language. The speaker told interestingly of the work among these people by missionaries. Teachers and catechists on the large estates. Native men are trained to work among them. There are very few workers for so vast a field. A mission can be carried on for a year for $200 or $300. Great things may be accomplished, but the field has been too long neglected. It should appeal especially to the people of Canada. The East Indians will have an influence upon their people at home in India. The Christian who exists in British Guiana is of so low a type that these Hindoos it misrepresents true Christianity.

Rev. J. A. Sinclair.

Rev. J. A. Sinclair, of Regina, spoke next of work among the Indians in the Northwest. He said something can be made of the Indian. It has been done in the United States, where some of them are civil servants at a fair salary. His school is an Indian teacher, Miss Cornelius, whose place he does not know how he could fill among the white teachers. What acquaintance he gave several pathetic instances to prove how much the life and outlook of the Indian. The hope of the Indian will be in catching him early and filling him with the right faith and the right ideals.

Rev. Dr. Morrice.

Rev. Dr. Morrice, secretary of the western section, noted the fact that the church now occupies ten missions. But they were facing mission work all over the world. THE NEW HEAD OF THE PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE AT MONTREAL.

Rev. Principal Seringer, of Montreal Presbyterian College, was born at Galt (Ont.), in 1849. He was the son of John Seringer and Jennette McKenna. He was educated at Galt Collegiate Institute and the University of Toronto, from which institution he graduated B. A. in 1870, and M. A. two years later. He was ordained in 1871 and was appointed pastor of St. Joseph's street church, Montreal, and lecturer in the Presbyterian College there in 1874. In 1882 he was appointed professor in theology in the same institution. Ten years later Wesleyan Theological College conferred the degree of D. D. upon him. He has been a frequent speaker at religious weeklies and college journals. In April, 1874, he married Miss Charlotte C. Gardner, of Bayfield (Ont.).

SKETCH OF PROF. CAMPBELL WHO RESIGNED FROM MONTREAL COLLEGE.

Rev. Prof. John Campbell was born in Edinburgh (Scot.) in 1840. He was educated at Rossburgh House, Proprietary School and by private tuition on the continent. He followed commercial pursuits in New York and Toronto till 1861. He then entered Toronto University, graduating in 1865 as honor man of his year, with the Prince of Wales prize and two gold medals. He secured his degree of M. A. the following year, when he entered Knox College, where he studied theology. Like so many other Presbyterian divines in Canada, he finished his theological studies in Edinburgh, at the New College, and after his ordination in 1868 he became minister of Charles street Presbyterian church, Toronto. He has served as a senator of Toronto University, and also as an examiner there in history, English and metaphysics. In 1873 he was appointed to his present position as professor of church history and apologetics at the Presbyterian College, Montreal. In 1883 Professor Campbell was tried for heresy before the Presbytery of Montreal, and condemned by a large majority. He appealed to the Synod of Montreal and

TWO MARITIME RECORDS BROKEN

Acadia Defeats Mt. Allison and U. N. B. in College Sports.

FREDERICTON THIRD.

Jones of Acadia Sets New Mark in Throwing the Hammer -- How Makes Fine All-round Showing and Smashes Broad Jump Record -- The Sports in Detail.

Acadia defeated Mt. Allison and the U. N. B. in the intercollegiate meet on the Victoria grounds Saturday afternoon. The 100 yards dash was the first event. Howe (Acadia), Powell (Mt. Allison), and Wood (U. N. B.), competed. Howe won in 10 4-5 with Powell second.

Lewis (Acadia), Black and Doe (Mt. A.), had the second heat, which Black took in 10 4-5, with Lewis second. In the final, Howe, Powell, Black and Lewis ran. Black won, Howe second, Powell third, time 10 4-5.

The broad jump was next. Howe and Jones (Acadia), Marr (Mt. A.), Squires and Barker (U. N. B.), competed. Howe on his third jump cleared 21 feet 11 3-4 inches and received a storm of applause when the result was announced. Squires made a fine leap of 21 feet 1 3-4 inches, and Marr was third with 19 feet 7 1-4 inches. Barker's best was 19 feet 4 inches and Jones failed three times to leave the mark.

Howe's winning of the 220 yards in 24 1-2, just after jumping, was a good piece of work. Black of Mt. Allison, pushed him hard for second place and Powell was third.

Then came the hammer throw. It looked like a failure first. Howe (U. N. B.), sent the ball flying into the crowd on his first attempt and there was a hurried scurrying on the part of the people. None of the men did anything worth noting until Jones sent the hammer 102 feet 7 inches on his first trial. Next time he threw it a foot farther, but his third effort was not so good. Barker (U. N. B.), won second with 91 feet 7 inches and Howe was third with 81 feet 8 inches.

Denton (Acadia) sent it 72 feet, half inch, and Webster (Acadia), 75 feet 3 inches. Jones then went after the record, but failed. He tried again and sent the hammer 125 feet 23 inches. The 400 yards was called and was taken by Howe in a close finish. The time was 51 3-5. Black was a good second, Powell third, and Squires fourth.

110 feet 1 1/2 inches. Previous American champion was J. H.addock, First Regiment A. C., Chicago, 113 feet. Five-mile run, won by J. Joyce, G. N. Y. I. A. A., New York. Time, 23 min. 15 sec. Senior championship, running broad jump -- M. Brinston, N. Y. I. A. A., New York, 23 feet, 43 3-4 inches. Previous champion -- C. Malson, Montreal A. A., 22 feet 2 1/2 inches.

Throwing 66-pound weight -- John Flanagan, G. N. Y. I. A. A., New York, 33 feet 6 inches; J. S. Mitchell, N. Y. I. A. A. O., New York, 31 feet 11 inches; previous American was J. S. Mitchell, 23 feet 2 1/2 inches.

REV. DR. PRINGLE Tells of the Yukon to a Very Large Congregation in St. Andrew's Church.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian church was crowded last evening, when Rev. Dr. Pringle spoke on mission work in the Yukon. It was not a formal sermon, but a story of the trail and the mining camp, fresh and interesting, and stamped with the individuality of a man who boldly asserts that the world is growing better, and that there is an open door to the heart of every man, if we are wise enough to find it.

Dr. Pringle declared at the outset that if he were on a mission field in the eastern provinces, where he would see his people continually slipping away from him, it would require far more courage than is needed in the west, where the population and the work are constantly growing. But since he came to the assembly and heard of the work that is being done in the east and on the prairies, in foreign lands and on the islands of the sea, his heart burned with new zeal, and he would go back to the north realizing that the man who is not alone, the church is thriving with a new spiritual life. He found it so all over Canada, as he had never before seen it in 25 years in the ministry. The church is going forward with its hand in the hand of Him who is the source of spiritual life.

Speaking of his connection with work in the west, Dr. Pringle said that 25 years ago, in Montreal, Dr. Robertson and Dr. Black asked him to promise that he would go to Manitoba three years later, after he had completed his theological course. He refused to promise, for he then thought Manitoba was a land of snow and ice and grasshoppers -- a sort of home for the failures of the east.

Turning to the Yukon, Dr. Pringle said one portion of its southern boundary touches the Pacific ocean. This has an important effect on its climate. A lady in Ontario had asked him if the Yukon bears on the Yukon were very ferocious. He had replied to her that the only polar bear he ever saw was in Toronto. Except for two months in the year he had found the Yukon climate the best for him in all Canada. There are two months with only six hours of daylight, and 255 miles from a railway, the time does hang a little heavy, especially upon those who have not been doing very well. He wore no overcoat the first three weeks he was in the Yukon, and he is wearing in St. John the same weight of clothing he wears up there. It is a land of almost perpetual sunshine, and except for Lake Bonaville, the divide, it is a windless country, because the snow lies on them all winter, so the snow off -- it weighs them down. He started once on Nov. 26 from Dawson for White Horse, and until Christmas there was not enough sleighing for dog sleighs. In Ontario, he had seen trains cancelled by snow storms. In the Yukon the stages always make schedule time -- within a few minutes of it.

The Yukon does not grow wheat, but it grows oats and barley, potatoes, cabbages, turnips, lettuce and the finest cauliflower in the country. Raspberries, currants and blueberries grow wild over miles of country. So do cranberries, both moss and bush. There is not an Arctic plant in the Yukon valley. Its great produce is gold, but if many of our boys who went out for gold had raised vegetables for the mining camps, they would have made fortunes.

Gold is found everywhere over the surface of the country, in the rivers and streams and on the bars -- not always in paying quantities -- but where it occurs so widely there must be much that will pay for the working. One little piece of territory, say 25 to 50 miles long, will yield $125,000 since 1896. Very little is known as yet about the gold of the rest of the territory. What is wanted is a railway, from the Grand Trunk Pacific to another, through the central valley of the Yukon, to bring its wealth out, and not have it go to Seattle or San Francisco.

"You people were slow," said Dr. Pringle. "At the beginning 70 per cent of the imports into the Yukon were American and only 30 per cent Canadian. And he added that the Canadians sent poor stuff. He had to feel Canadian butter to his dogs and buy American butter for himself. There was a cry of a purple color that unless a man wanted to be stoned internally he would not take it. However, a change has come, and today 70 per cent of the imports are Canadian. Of the other 30 per cent, 5 per cent was free, but on 25 per cent was paid $400,000. This showed of what great value to the manufacturers were the mining camps of the west and north. He believed the development of the Yukon would be permanent and that the territory, in mining, would be more important in some respects than British Columbia. The Yukon river is 2,000 miles long and has a number of great tributaries. The valley lies between the Rockies and the Coast Range, and is not itself a mountainous country.

"CLERIC" ON ASSEMBLY.

(Written for the Telegraph by a Clergyman Attending the Assembly)

Every well-informed person needs to be somewhat of a church historian. Just as he "who knows only one language, knows none," so he who only understands the church from his own point of contact does not understand it as well as he which could be called dangerous. It is well known that more than one name has been set aside from the candidates for professorships in Montreal because of the personal object of Mr. Morrison. Every one knows the impress Hon. Justice MacLennan has left upon Queen's, and Mr. J. K. Macdonald upon the general policy of the church. Their voices indeed are felt throughout the land.

The committees are also under the hand of masterly conduct. Foreign missions are no longer in the charge of Professor MacLennan, of Toronto, or of ex-Moderator Moore, of Ottawa, but a younger man, the Rev. W. A. J. Martin, the successor of Dr. Cochrane, in Brantford. This committee has done great things, of which too much credit could not be given to Dr. MacLennan and Moore.

But there has been trouble within the ranks, and Mr. Martin's peculiar fitness for smoothing off rough edges, is a happy feature in his appointment. He is a most approachable man, and at the same time one hard to match in restless industry and ability.

The augmentation of salaries is in charge of Dr. Samuel Lyle, of Hamilton, the alter ego of Dr. Milligan, save that the latter hails from Ulster and Belfast. He is a scholar, a preacher and an aggressive Canadian. In him the heretic will have a defender, if for no other reason than the fact that "he is agnoscere government."

long to see him drawn into a discussion or guide the deliberations, you will be convinced that one of Canada's greatest men is in our midst. His voice is unique with himself, and if the truth were known he has a mighty grip upon the church. These are some thirty-seven boards and committees which are permanent factors. All these must report through their chairmen or else conveners. Two other men of ascending rank make the motions of adoption, so that the work is fairly well divided over the commissioners.

Men of Note. For example the Hon. Mortimer Clark, Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, is present to report for the Knox College Board; the Hon. Colin Campbell, Attorney General of Manitoba, will do likewise for Manitoba College; Hon. Justice MacLennan of the Ontario Bench will represent Queen's, Kingston; David Morrice, Esq., well known in Montreal, will act for the college of that city.

These are only a few of the laymen who are giving their valuable services to the church and will be heard with pleasure from day to day. Just here it might be stated how strong the lay influence is within the church. Because of the Hon. Mortimer Clark's orthodoxy, the door of Knox College is well shut to any teaching which could be called dangerous. It is well known that more than one name has been set aside from the candidates for professorships in Montreal because of the personal object of Mr. Morrison. Every one knows the impress Hon. Justice MacLennan has left upon Queen's, and Mr. J. K. Macdonald upon the general policy of the church. Their voices indeed are felt throughout the land.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF NEW YORK BOOKMAKER Former Actress Was in a Cab When Shot Was Fired That Killed Him -- Woman Arrested. New York, June 6--Proceedings were begun today in Coroner Brown in an endeavor to solve the mystery surrounding the death of Frank T. Young, the wealthy bookmaker, who was shot on Saturday last while on his way in a cab to a meeting place in Paris, Europe with his wife. Mrs. Nan Patterson, formerly an actress, who was with Young in the cab, was held without bail by the coroner, but later looked up in the Tombs prison. The police at first believed that Young killed himself but various circumstances caused them to change their opinion and today they were sure Young's wound was not self-inflicted. A London man who claims to have been in the act of drinking from one and a half bottles to three bottles of whisky a day has been cured of the drink habit.
