COUNCIL HOLDS A BREEZY SESSION

Lively Discussion Over
Purchase of Smith
Lake Property

EXCHANGE COMPLIMENTS

All because Engineer Fish
Made Contradictory Statements

A meeting of the Town Council was held on Tuesday evening. At the session there was rather a lively discussion of the water question re the Smith Lake purchase, and when it had been alleged that Engineer Fish had made contradictory statements regarding the matter, the Council adjourned in order that the water committee might investigate and report.

There were present His Worship Mayor Murray and Couns. Doherty, Taylor, Andrew, McLean, Jardine and McLennan.

The accounts of the different departments were passed as follows:—Police and License—J. R. Henderson, 3 suits, $78.00; A. E. Alexander & Son, supplies, $1.10.

Public Property and St.—W. E. Fish, $90.00; Jas. Alexander, supplies, $9.10; Geo. St. Onge, moving building on Andrew St., $140.00; P. LeGoff, blacksmith work, $4.50; John Barberie, copying deed, $1.00; W. W. Doherty, gravel, $22.05; Wm. Dickie, harness repairs, $8.60; A. E. Alexander & Son, hay and supplies, $18.90; John Oatman, oats, $79.80; W. H. Thorne & Co., cement, $287.50.

Public Charities—W. A. Trueman, professional services, 50c.

On the recommendation of the Police & License Com. Policeman Jones was granted an increase of salary of $5.00 per month, dating from Aug. 1st.

Coun. Andrew brought up the matter of the proposed purchase of Smith Lake. Time was flying and if anything was to be done this year it should be started at once.

He read the report of the committee submitted at a previous meeting in regard to the option and the capacity of the Lake. The price to be paid for the property is $3000.

W. A. Trueman, the town solicitor, was heard in the matter and read the form of deed to be executed with Messrs. Neil and Patrick Smith. Besides the Lake the town secures sufficient land as may be desired for the free flowage of the water and to control the fishing privileges of the lake.

Coun. Doherty doubted the wisdom of purchasing the property in fact he thought it would be throwing away the people's money. The scheme was no good. He said that the water stored there would gradually diminish in the dry season until not a drop remained, especially so if there were a serious fire to draw upon the reserve.

Coun. Andrew said that Coun. Doherty was surely mistaken and pointed out that the overflow from the lake was already running into the town reservoir and everybody knew that even in the driest season there was considerable water, although the pressure on the higher levels in town was not up to the standard. If Coun. Doherty knew of any better scheme for the town he (Coun. Andrew) would be glad to hear of it.

Coun. Doherty made no reply. Coun. McLennan enquired if the Council had the power to make an

THEY ARE GIVEN FOUR YEARS EACH.

Men Who Burglarized A. E. Alexander's store got their sentence Wednesday.

AT DALHOUSIE.

Breach of Lumber Contract Case Disposed of.

The Restigouche Circuit Court opened, Tuesday, at Dalhousie, Judge Hannington presiding.

There was one criminal case on the docket, viz. John Condon and Wm. Murphy. They were charged with burglarizing the store of A. E. Alexander and son, J. S. Harquail, acting for the attorney general filed the indictment with the grand jury, who returned a true bill. The prisoner pleaded guilty to the charge and were sentenced to four years in the penitentiary.

One civil case was on the docket. Harvey LeBlanc and Simon LeBlanc against the Prescott Lumber Company for breach of lumber contract. The jury found a verdict for the plaintiffs of $286.

Wm. Murray was the attorney for plaintiffs and McAlister and Mott for the defendants.

Expenditure of this kind without submitting the matter to the electors.

The Town Solicitor replied that according to power obtained from the Legislature about two years ago the Council could deal with it.

Coun. McLean thought the scheme the best that could be obtained. He and Coun. Andrew had gone over the property and had roughly estimated the storage capacity. The Manager of the system had measured the lake and figured out the storage capacity at 115 million gallons, with a ten foot dam and 200 millions with an additional five feet. According to the present capacity of the pipe this would be sufficient to last 230 days, provided all other sources of supply were cut off. The matter had been explained to the Secretary of the Board of Underwriters and he had expressed himself as thoroughly satisfied. He felt there could be no doubt as to the wisdom of the proposition, even if the figures were a few million astray.

Coun. Jardine felt that if the water was there, by all means buy it. If they wanted another engineer, get him. He would like to feel satisfied that figures were right.

Coun. Doherty said he had had considerable experience with water powers and knew that when a large body of water is stored it evaporates rapidly and soaks through the ground and felt it would be the case with this lake.

Coun. McLennan had no serious objection to employing more engineers, but thought it unnecessary. We had the engineers plans and it was an easy matter to figure out the storage capacity. The purchase of this lake was the only wise course to pursue. If an 18 inch pipe were laid back to the Andrew mill on the Walker brook it would only give a pressure of 60 lbs and the expense would be considerably greater.

Coun. Andrew said that Coun. Doherty's argument wouldn't hold water. Storing water was much the same as storing hay, but still everybody stored hay. He pointed out that all the large cities were storing water at enormous cost, and the idea that it couldn't be done was ridiculous.

Coun. Taylor thought that if

NO BOARDING PLACES HERE

Teachers Make Strenuous Efforts to Get Lodging Places

TRY 18 HOUSES

Succeed at Length Through Efforts of Samuel Laughlan

After trying 18 places, (Dr) Murray came to the conclusion last evening that there were no boarding places to be procured in the town of C'ton. Mrs. Murray started out to find lodging places for 3 teachers who arrived here on Tuesday to assume positions in the public school. When the teachers came here they put up at the Royal and started in to look for suitable places to board. It was not long, however, before they discovered that they were up against it good and hard. There wasn't a boarding house to be found in the town. They then went to mayor Murray. "Well here," they said, "if we can't get a place to sleep we can't stay in town."

The mayor expressed his regret that lodging places had not been provided for the young ladies and gave them to understand that he would do everything in his power to obtain them.

He got into communication with Mrs. Murray. She told him that she would go out and try to find places for the teachers, but after applying to 18 different places she gave the matter up.

This morning S. Laughlan, Secretary of the School Board went around and managed after considerable efforts to secure places for the teachers.

The figures were right the scheme was all right. The figures appear too big to be true.

J. Art Williams, the manager of the water system, said that his attention was called to the scheme by Engineer Holt of St. John and Engineer Chipman.

They both agreed that there was an excellent chance to store water and seemed surprised that the town had not taken advantage of it. He explained his system of measurement and figuring of the capacity which was that used by all competent engineers and felt that he was well within the lowest figure.

Coun. Andrew said that Mr. Fish told him that the scheme was a "damn fine one for the town."

Coun. Doherty—"Mr. Fish told a raterpayer that it would cost a mint of money to do anything with the lake."

Coun. Andrew—"Would you mind telling me to whom he said this?"

Coun. Doherty—"Certainly not; it was Oswald Smith."

SCHOOLS RE-OPEN HERE ON MONDAY

Several New Teachers Take the Places of Old Ones

NEW DUTIES ASSIGNED

Enrollment This Year, Which Is Much Larger, Records 418

The public schools were re-opened on Monday morning last, after the summer vacation, with an enrollment of 418 pupils and eleven teachers. There are 5 new teachers on the staff this term. Following is the list of teachers now in the employ of the school board, with their home addresses, the class of license held in each case and the grades assigned to them respectively by the board:—

Mr. E. W. Lewis, Campbellton, Grammar, 9, 10 and 11
Miss Maggie E. McNair, Jacquet River, 1st Class, 7 and 8
Miss Sarah G. Duffy, Fredericton, 1st class, 1
Miss Georgina Dickson, Chatham, 1st class, 5 and 6
Miss Mary A. Reid, Pt. LaNim, 1st class, 6 and 7
Miss Marjorie F. Mair, Campbellton, Superior, Manual Training
Miss Kate McNair, Jacquet River, 1st Class, 3 and 4
Miss Mary E. LeBlanc, Fredericton, Superior, 3 and 9
Miss C. Gertrude Welling, Moncton, 1st Class, 2
Miss Hazel B. McCain, Florenceville, Superior, 5
Miss McCaffrey, St. Andrews, Superior, 3 and 4

Five of these are new additions to the staff, three of them just entering the profession for their first term, but all coming well recommended, and will, it is to be hoped, give a good account of themselves in their chosen profession.

Some of the changes made in the teaching staff were due to the voluntary retirement of former teachers, while in the case of others were brought about by the action of the school board, who believed they were acting in the public interest in doing so.

So far there has been no scarcity of applications for positions on the teaching staff of the town schools, and no difficulty experienced in securing teachers, but it has been found very difficult to secure boarding houses for them when they do come.

Coun. Andrew—"Then somebody is lying."

Here Coun. McLennan arose and said there was something wrong. We have an engineer employed to make a survey and he tells one thing to the chairman of the committee and another thing to another man. He had known Mr. Fish for a long time and he had never known him to do anything like

INTERCOLONIAL BETTER AT PRESENT THAN EVER

Deputy Minister of Railways Butler Says Month of July Was a Record Breaker

BUSINESS INCREASING BY LEAPS AND BOUNDS

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—"The Intercolonial Railway was never in better shape than it is today and was never before, handling such a large volume of business."

This statement was made by M. J. Butler, deputy minister of railways, who has just returned to Ottawa after a three week's inspection trip, which took him over the whole system of government railways in the Maritime Provinces and Quebec.

"We made the whole trip by daylight and ran at high speed, making stops at every point where there is work going on," said Mr. Butler. "I did this for the purpose of testing the track and at the same time seeing every mile of the system by daylight. The road bed was never in better shape. As far as rails, ballast and bridges are concerned, there is not a better road today."

"The rolling stock is in good shape, though like all other systems on this continent we are short of cars and locomotives. We could use from three to four thousand more cars and fifty freight engines with the traffic that is available. The shortage is being repaired as expeditiously as possible. Rhodes & Curry of Amherst, who have the contract for a thousand freight cars, have promised to hasten deliveries.

"As soon as the new shops in Moncton are completed, we will be able to do a great deal toward keeping the supply of locomotives and cars up to requirements. The work on the shops is going on well, and is being thoroughly done. The contractor is putting up best quality of steel and cement structural work. The car shop will be ready for use this autumn. The locomotive shop will not be ready so soon. There has been some delay occasioned by continued wet weather, during which cement work cannot be done; by scarcity of labor, and by delay in delivery of structural steel. We had to get this from Scotland.

"The Canadian firms are so piled up with orders that we would not have been able to get materials from them for at least a year. However, good progress is being made, and when the shops are completed, the Intercolonial will be thoroughly provided with repairing and construction facilities.

"During the month of July, the earnings of the Intercolonial were the largest in the history of the road."

CARLETON'S CELEBRATION

The celebration at Carleton, last week, in honor of the anniversary of the consecration of Rev. Father J. B. A. Belanger and the 134th anniversary of the arrival of Father Bourg was an unqualified success. There was a large gathering in Carleton, composed mainly of clergymen from all parts of the Diocese of Rimouski and of gentlemen who were pupils of Father Belanger when he was teaching in Rimouski college. On Wednesday there was a dramatic and musical representation given by the young ladies of the parish. Their success was complete. In the evening, after the service in the church there was an illumination of fire works on the Barachois. The effect was splendid. On Thursday there was service in the church in the morning, the sermon being preached by Rev. Father Martin, parish priest of St. Godfroid, Bon Co. This sermon was a masterpiece of eloquence. After the ceremony presentation of an address to Father Belanger was made by the Mayor of Carleton. Dr. Martin, after which a banquet was held in the Convent where 200 guests were present. The room was well decorated and the menu well selected. Several toasts were proposed: "To the Pope," "To the King," "To Parish Priest (Father Belanger)," "To Mr. Allard (Child of the Parish)," "To the Guests." Speeches were delivered by Father Sirois of Matapedia, Dr. L. G. Pinault of Campbellton, Dr. Martin of Carleton, mayor of the town, and Mr. Harrell, vice-president of the Commons.

GRAND ANSE

Miss Maud Salter, a social favorite of Pokeshaw, left on Tuesday, for Vancouver, British Columbia, on a visit to her brother, Wm. Salter, also other of her brothers who reside not far from that city. Before leaving, she and her mother visited relatives and acquaintances in Waterloos, where a pleasant afternoon was spent, all being glad of meeting Maud as well as her mother, whose girlhood home was in Waterloo. Maud expects to return in the spring. All wish her a pleasant winter.

Mrs. Bernard Doucet of Richibucto, N. B., and children are spending the summer with Mrs. Doucet's foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Poirier, Grand Anse.

There are still many complaints of the roads not being repaired. A public meeting was called in St. Patrick's Hall, adjoining the R. C. church, Saturday evening; it was well attended. After a number expressed their opinions of the road commissioner and the miserable conditions of the roads for want of repair, a committee of five was appointed, they being instructed to see Jos. Poirier, M. P. P., and if no information could be brought from him, then to interview Hon. C. H. LaBilios, Chief com. and to endeavor to get information why road taxes are not spent, repairing the roads. This is a move in the right direction.

The R. C. picnic held on Monday and Tuesday, the 19th and 20th was a great success, over $1000 being the receipts. Great many strangers from different parts attended and helped greatly in making the receipts as large as they were.

The weather has been fine for haying lately, and farmers have

A great many of the youth and strength of the country are leaving, some going every day, only a few too young or too old to leave remaining. This is bad for the country. It would surely be better for the different lumber companies to pay better wages and keep the able men at home.

There are a number of buyers of blue berries in different places, but so far buyers seem to be combined and prices of berries are low. This industry is a considerable source of income to women as well as boys and girls during the berry season, but as it is a very laborious occupation, they should receive the value of their berries.

HAD AN AWFUL TIME.

But Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Cured Him.

It is with pleasure that I give you this unsolicited testimonial. About a year ago when I had a severe case of measles I got caught out in a hard rain and the measles settled in my stomach and bowels. I had an awful time and had it not been for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I could not have possibly lived but a few hours longer, but thanks to this remedy I am now strong and well. I have written the above through simple gratitude and I shall always speak a good word for this remedy.—SAM H. GWIN, Concord, Ga. For sale by all Druggists.

An Irishman who was travelling in England for a dry goods firm, the Strand says, was once showing a line of sample dress goods to a merchant who was woefully slow in making up his mind.

He handled them and reread them, until the commercial traveller was at his patience end. Finally the merchant asked if the goods shown were fashionable.

"They were when I first began to show them to you," replied the traveller, "but I'll be hanged if I can tell you now."

It is said that the buyer was so pleased with the answer that he pardoned the rudeness of it and became a steady customer.

These are only a few examples; there are thousands of others. While success cannot rightfully be judged by money standards, the fact remains that in the eyes of the world the extent of a man's success is the extent of his capital.

The worth has no use for a poor man or a loser.

The person who has reached middle age, wholly dependent upon his individual efforts for his livelihood, is accounted a failure. He no longer commands the respect of the multitude but receives instead their scorn or pity.

Have you ever thought of these things? What are you doing to make yourself independent?

Your hand or brain devoted to another man's cause can never make you wealthy.

Not can your dollars. The man who only saves is at best a plodder.

He should invest his dollars. Look about you. There are successful people on every side.

Have you ever wondered how they made money while others have not?

Excluding those rich by inheritance, and those rich by fraud, there remains countless thousands of men and women who, starting practically without a dollar, have built up for themselves wealth or a handsome competence, and are no longer dependent on their hands for support.

These people have made money first by working for and earning dollars, and then by putting their dollars to work.

You are cheating yourself and your family when you do not save from your earnings and put your earnings to work.

Suppose you put your savings in a bank. The bank pays 3 per cent. How can it? Because it invests your money so that it will bring much more than 3 per cent.

enough more so that most bank-become very wealthy on the difference between your interest and theirs.

And what if they invest wisely and lose all, as they sometimes do? Why, it's your money and your loss—not theirs.

You have not the control of your own capital—do not even know they are doing with your money.

You are making your dollars work for others. Why don't you make them work for you?

The banker invests your dollars; pockets their earning power, and gives you 3 per cent.

Why don't you do your own investing and make the profit for yourself?

You may think you have no opportunity.

But you have. Opportunities are at every hand. No man or woman exists that has not had some opportunity for financial advancement.

The trouble is: most opportunities wear rubber shoes, and the public sleepily refuse to hear them.

One of the world's most successful financiers, when asked how he made money so fast, replied:

"I have an agent at the elbow of every opportunity and never let one pass without paying me tribute."

Don't you realize that every great fortune had its humble beginning. That just a few dollars have grown to millions?

Look at Andrew Carnegie. He saved up $500.00 and made his

Dollars and Dimes, Dollars and Dimes, An Empty Pocket is the worst of Crimes

first investment in Adams Express Company stock. It paid him 100 per cent interest almost from the start.

You know what it did he are worth today.

There are hundreds of similar examples.

"No one ever succeeds except by doing things."—John D. Rockefeller.

To become wealthy—successful—you must save and invest your savings.

Where were you in the year 1896, and what were you doing? Could't you have saved $100.00 without inconveniencing yourself?

Suppose you did save $100.00 and invested it in CROW'S NEST PASS COAL MINE STOCK. This stock was sold in 1896 to small investors at 10 cents a share—six years thereafter it was worth $100.00 a share, and to day is selling for $285.00 a share, or your $100.00 invested then would pay you a dividend of over $10,000.00 a year and be worth $285,000.00.

Opportunity is always knocking at the door.

Jay Gould once said to a friend, "When you invest in the stock of a company, don't look for the 'best,' for you will never find it. Look for a good one; then invest, and do it quickly. Don't wait to see if it pans out all right, for that is where you lose your opportunity. When you have waited to see if it pans out, you will have to pay a premium on the stock, and you will have lost the biggest advance in value. You must make money on your judgment and foresight, and not on demonstrated facts."

Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, has over 400 millionaires who have made their fortunes out of coal and oil. Coal is the basis of all industrial and commercial wealth. Coal mining in British Columbia has always been a success. It is like diamond mining in South Africa—a bonanza of the first magnitude.

Dunsmuir made millions and millions in coal mining in British Columbia, and died the richest man in Canada.

The BRITISH COLUMBIA AMALGAMATED COAL COMPANY of Portland, Oregon, controls 17,500 acres of coal land near Vancouver, B. C., estimated by coal experts to be underlain by 1,400,000,000 tons of the best quality of steam, domestic, and cooking coal in America.

Our mine is better than the Crow's Nest, the quality of our coal is pronounced by coal experts to be as good, if not better, we are 500 miles nearer tide water, and 300 miles nearer the big smelters in the boundary district, where coke is used.

We are offering a limited amount of the treasury stock for sale at 25c a share, par value $1.00, full paid and non-assessable.

The officers of this company are men of high standing. Bank or commercial reference will be given. Call or write for prosperous or information.

Catarrh

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt, that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through drug stores, mail, and otherwise, with a free trial box of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. Do this because I am so certain, that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring actual substantial relief. Nothing certainly is so convincing as a physical test of any article of real, genuine merit. But that article must possess true merit else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. ## WOMAN'S WORLD

Very often it happens that the business girl's clothing goes far in operating for or against her in the opinion of her employer. He wants his stenographer to be not only business-like in her methods, but in her appearance as well.

He desires that she should look neat, but unobtrusive.

It generally follows that the girl who is quiet in her dress will be quiet in her manner. The wise employer knows this from long experience, so he wastes no time in interviewing the aspirant who comes in attired in a much better trimmed tailor-made suit, long kid gloves, and a wide, flaring hat ornamented with a floating veil.

He knows that she is the kind of stenographer who chatters all day over her work, who interrupts the other people in the office constantly in order to ask senseless questions and to get them to sharpen her pencils for her—in short, who seems to consider that business hours and the time devoted to social functions require the same kind of dress and the same kind of behaviour.

One sees so many girls making mistakes of this kind, not only in offices but in stores, and one cannot help wondering how they can be so foolish.

The only kind of a skirt that is suitable for business is one that is dark in color and that consequently does not soil easily. A white skirt can only be worn one or two days, and the girl who wears white skirts to business is not only unsuitably dressed, but will find that her laundry bill soon reaches alarming proportions.

Another and a worse mistake to make in the matter of clothing is to wear an all-white dress, of the kind that one would wear in the evening. Sometimes such a dress is made of a fabric that can be tubed, but more often it is not, and in either case the girl in business will soon find herself over her head if she persists in wearing such unsuitable clothes to work. Besides, no one with any taste would dream of wearing in the morning what is manifestly intended only for evening wear.

The costume most in keeping for business consists of a tailor-

VALUABLE MEDICAL PRESCRIPTION

Recommended by a Well-known Toronto Doctor, Whose Love for Humanity is Greater than His Prejudice Against Proprietary Medicines.

The following very valuable prescription, by an eminent and successful physician, will be appreciated by many who are suffering from la grippe, cold, cough, pneumonia, or any throat, lung or stomach trouble, or run-down system, as it is a certain cure, and will save many a doctor's bill. It is almost a certain preventive as well:—
"When you feel that you are taking cold or have chilly feeling or aching in any part of the body or head, or feel weak, tired, dizzy, unfit for work, pain in the head or back of the neck, do not neglect these dangerous symptoms, but send immediately to your druggist and get a bottle of Psychine (pronounced Si-keen), and prepare as follows:
"Psychine, 2 teaspoonfuls.
"Soury, whisky or water, 2 teaspoonfuls.
"Choice of the latter can be made according to the judgment and preference of the patient.
"Mix thoroughly and take regularly before each meal and at bedtime."
This prescription has been used in thousands of cases and has been so universally successful that a number of leading physicians regularly prescribe Psychine in their practice for any of the above troubles, or any run-down, wasting or constitutional difficulty. It is the most reliable and valuable home remedy. It tones up the entire system, giving a feeling of youthfulness and vigor, adding many years to the life of those who use it.

"Years ago I was almost a physical wreck and was suffering with lung trouble. Friends and neighbors thought I would never get better. I began to despair myself. Looking for a physician, I procured another one who recommended the use of PSYCHINE. It was surprising beyond description the effect it had. I seemed to gain with every dose. Inside of two weeks I was able to attend to my household again. There are no symptoms of consumption about me now."
MRS. HENDERSON, St. John, N.B.
"I had been suffering from La Grippe. My lungs were weak and I had a cough, but Psychine cured me."
MRS. H. REAN, Chesapeake, Ont.

Psychine can be procured from any druggist at 50c. and $1.00. It is a very made skirt, rather dark in color, but not necessarily heavy in texture, neatly fitting, and a plain tailor-made shirtwaist with sleeves that are neither short nor long.

The elbow sleeve is manifestly out of place in an office; besides, it entails upon its wearer the extra expense of long gloves. Elbow sleeves are very pretty in the evening, but in the day-time it is better to cover the arms as far as the wrists.

That employers are waking up to this fact is evidenced by an incident that occurred only the other day. Great indignation was aroused among the female employees of a large department store when they received orders they must either wear long sleeves or else cover their arms with sleeve protectors.

The girls were apparently among the hundreds who have not yet realized what kind of dress is suitable for evening wear, and what kind is fitting to wear while at work.

The dark skirt is the most economical kind of skirt to wear, owing to the fact that in order to look trim it only requires an occasional pressing and a still more infrequent cleaning, and the girl who can afford only a limited sum for dress annually must take all these things into consideration.

The girl in business should spend less than one-third of her income upon her wardrobe. Less than half should be spent for living expenses and the rest should be put aside for a rainy day.

On this amount of money the girl who can make her own clothes should be able to dress very nicely provided she economizes in the right directions. Even if she can not make her own clothes, she should still find herself able to make a very presentable appearance upon all occasions.

Of course, the sum allowed will not cover silk linings or long gloves or shoes of different colors; it will not permit of expensive tailors or any other kindred extravagances. It merely permits of clothing suitable to every occasion, bought at modest prices, and, in the case of underwear, mended and darned with untiring patience.

Here is a list showing how a girl may dress on $200 a year:

18	..... every-day suit
30	..... four hats
15	..... waists
10	..... shoes
25	..... gloves
30	..... underwear
30	..... three or four summer dresses, to be used also as winter evening dresses.
10	..... linen suit.
12	..... accessories, such as ties, belts, veils and notions.

In this way she would not spend the entire $200, but would have a surplus of $17 for any incidentals that might come up, such as having a suit cleaned.

The good suit should be made to last three seasons, by using it as an every-day suit the second year, and a rainy day suit the third. The suits need not be of too heavy a weight, for if they are made of a light material, such as Panama cloth, they can be worn without discomfort in the spring and fall, while the skirts can be worn to business even during the summer months.

The $30 for hats includes a hat for best for both summer and winter, averaging $10 apiece. Each of these hats could be fixed up the following season to look like new, and made to do for every-day wear or even for good wear again. In the latter case, she would find her expenses less the second year.

The sum mentioned includes two

For an Impaired Appetite.

To improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion try a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Mr. J. H. Seitz, of Detroit, Mich., says: "They restored my appetite when impaired, relieved me of a bloated feeling and caused a pleasant and satisfactory movement of the bowels." Price, 25 cents. street hats, a felt hat for the winter and a straw one for the warm days. Each should be trimmed simply with ribbons or wings, or both.

The suits and hats should always be of a dark color, for the business girl should bear in mind when making purchases that darker clothes are nearer looking as well as more serviceable.

In regard to waists, the business girl should allow herself not more than two fancy waists, spending most of the $15 for office waists. The fancy waists need not be done up often, as they will be worn less, but there will be a great deal of wear and tear on the office ones, owing to their frequent tabbing, and consequently a generous supply of these will be needed.

The dresses for evening and summer wear need not be of expensive material, but they should be as prettily designed as possible so that one need not feel ashamed if invited out during the winter.

The linen suit is not absolutely necessary, but it is a nice addition to the wardrobe, especially as a light weight spring suit is not considered in the estimate, and very often it is chilly enough on summer evenings to make a wrap a comfort.

The skirt of the suit will also come in handy to wear with white waists.

PATERSON'S
New delicious blend, made from cream of wheat—crisp, dainty, tempting for any social occasion. In this only. Buy by name.
Cambridge Wafers

Particular attention must be given to the accessories of one's costume, for it is belts and ties and such little things that go farthest toward making a smart appearance.

The girl who sits in an office with a frayed piece of belting around her waist or a be-draggled looking tie is practicing false economy. Anyone observing her will argue that the girl who is slovenly in regard to her appearance is probably also slovenly where her work is concerned and is not a desirable addition to the office.

In the fall the colors that will be most generally worn will be dark ones. Tans and grays have outlived their popularity, and will be superseded by somber colors, principally dark green. Plain effects will be most in vogue, and if any stripes, checks or plaids are worn they will be dressiest in a herringbone weave. The only exception to this rule will be the Scotch effects, which will be worn to some extent, but not by those who endeavor to keep strictly up to date.

Such stripes as will be of the non-descript variety, almost invisible, and set against a dark background. Broadcloth in somber colors will hold its own, as will also serges, worsted suitings, velvets, velvetens and corduroys. Chiffon panamas and voiles will also be much affected, but eolienness will not be so popular this season.

Many a woman, who resents bitterly that she was "born to blush unseen," laments the fact that, while she slaves on, without recognition in return for her labor, the fashionable maids and matrons of whose doings her newspaper keeps her fully and copiously aware spend lives of absolute pleasure, without a care in the world.

Leaving aside, the question of the value of a useless life to the earth on which it was lived, she might well ask whether such really is the case; whether the so-called "leader of society" is not as hard worked as she is herself.

As a matter of fact, the social butterfly is the greatest of workers. Not one day, one hour, nor one minute can she call her soul her own. She must fly at a nerve-racking pace from one "amusement" to another; she must be sweetness itself to people she detests; she must overcome in many cases her own natural inclinations for the sake of the world for which she lives. She must live often beyond her income to, "keep up appearances."

THE PARENT AND THE PUPIL

Now that the schools have just reopened we earnestly request the attention of fathers and mothers to this editorial. We demand on behalf of the future generation, on behalf of the school children and the school teachers of today that mothers and fathers co-operate willingly and intelligently in the work that the school teachers have to do. There is far too much talk in homes, of the school teachers' shortcomings. There is far too much readiness to listen to the stories of children, excusing their own poor work with criticism of the teachers. The matter is most serious. The teacher cannot possibly do his best work and give the best results unless the parents co-operate with him intelligently. Let us consider what the duty of parents is, and what the teacher's have a right to expect. Fathers and mothers know what an atrocious thing a spoiled child is. You pity the father and mother that must control one spoiled child. Don't fail to pity the public school teacher who is expected to control, by kindness and intelligence exclusively, a dozen or more spoiled children. The first thing for you fathers and mothers is to see to it that you do not send spoiled children to the schools. Remember that the most intelligent, conscientious, devoted teacher can see all of his work made useless by overpitting of a child or foolish severity with a child. Fathers and mothers demand, properly, that a teacher shall not strike a child. They should send to the teacher children that do not require blows. Fathers and mothers demand that in school their children shall be controlled by moral persuasion, appeals to their better nature by intelligence. Let them send to the teachers children that are accustomed to being controlled in that manner. Realize that the father is a teacher's partner in education and that the mother is the teacher's ally. How impossible it is in a family to bring up the children properly if the father adopts one method and the mother another. How many children are ruined by contradictory orders from father and mother. Think what a task you put before the teachers when you expect them to control the many children who at home are too often directed in opposition to the teacher's wishes and even encouraged to disobey the teacher. We emphasize this point: control your children by kindness and intelligence. You have no right to send children otherwise to the public schools.

MOOSE HUNTING.

The Toronto Globe reaches the conclusion that the history of moose hunting in Ontario during the past score of years affords abundant proof alike of the desirability and of the feasibility of effectively protecting the moose. The reckless and wasteful destruction by unsportsmanlike and mercenary hunters this greatest of the big game had become almost exterminated. Rarely was a moose seen, and when one was discovered it was promptly and persistently hunted to the death. The Ontario Legislature, to preserve the species, prohibited for five years all killing of moose, and in order to make sure of the effectiveness of this policy the prohibition was occasionally renewed, as circumstances seemed to justify or require. During periods when absolute prohibition has not been decreed there has been a close season every year for moose as for all other game. The result of this method of dealing with the question has been not merely to protect the species from extermination, but to secure a supply of animals sufficiently abundant for all reasonable purposes. What Ontario has gone through is precisely what New Brunswick will have to go through in the near future. We hear from time to time of the large number of moose roaming through the highways and by-ways of this northern section of the province; but what sort of moose are they? Cows and young half developed bulls. The full grown males with spreading antlers have been so energetically slaughtered during the open seasons that there are few left. If the present idea of having an open season each year is followed the young ones will also in time become about extinct. It is too late now to prohibit the killing of moose this year but it seems to us that it would be decidedly advisable to prohibit the killing during the entire year of 1908 and perhaps also during 1909.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The stewards of the Jockey Club have revoked the decision forbidding Richard Croker to train his horses at Newmarket. Just what should have led the stewards to revoke their decision, we are at a loss to understand. It seemed to us, at the time, that they had good and sufficient reason for forbidding Mr Croker's horses on the Newmarket course and we think they should have clung to their decision.

A bank in New York city has built a steel vault said to be "strong enough to withstand a 12-inch gun." The burglars have not up to this time, assailed banking vaults with 12-inch guns, but if precedents count, the next thing will be something of that nature. Whenever the inventors show us a new armor-plate which cannot be pierced by any known projectile, we are then escorted to the next room, where they show us the new projectile which will pierce any known armor-plate.

According to a despatch the other day, Raisuli, a prince of kidnappers, who is holding Caid Sir Harry McLean, a prisoner, has sent a communication to the British government in which he greatly modifies his previous demands for the release of the Caid. What a farce this is! Fancy a barbarian outlaw holding the whole British government at defiance. It is really time an end was put to the career of this man, Raisuli. We have heard quite enough about him and his ways.

THE MOST notable thing about these R. L. Borden meetings down in this country is the large number of ex-M. P.'s and ex-M. P.'s present and the absence of M. P.'s.

WE FIND this glittering generality in the Fredericton Gleaner:—"Many hear the call to fame but few deliver the goods." Not all of us have a chance at such fine targets as the Hon. Henry R. Emmerson.

WE ARE now aware of the fact that St John is in N. B. Mr R. L. Borden has kindly done us this service. All the upper Canadian papers this week spread on "Mr Borden's address at St John, N. B."

ACCORDING to the Fredericton Gleaner a large delegation headed by O S Crockett, M. P., went to St John to hear Mr R. L. Borden. The delegation consisted of Mr O S Crockett, Mr James H Crockett of Emmerson fame and the Hon Mr Funder.

THE CHARLESTOWN News and Courier having observed that at this time the drop of a pin at Oyster Bay would be heard around the world, the Washington Post frantically reports that "after a while a drop of gin in Georgia will be smelled around the State."

MOOSE will continue to be reported exceptionally plentiful along the I. C. R. between Moncton and Campbellton until Sept. 15. After that date ask the man who goes out for a couple of days with a rifle how plentiful they are, especially the kind with spreading antlers.

TOWN TOPICS

The public schools reopened here on Monday.

Miss Lena Duthie is appearing at St Andrew's Hall, Chatham this evening.

The excursion to have been held, on Tuesday, to Carleton was postponed on account of wet weather for two weeks.

The enterprising management of "Arcadia" have secured the Citizen's Band for Friday evening. The band will render selections in front of the theatre before the show and between the different pictures.

Up to the present time about one hundred and eighty million feet of lumber has been rafted by the St John River Log Driving Co. About twenty two million feet remains to be rafted before the close of operations next month.

On Monday evening last at 7 p.m. the Rev. A. J. Vibert assisted the Rev. E. A. Dunn, M. A., at New Carlisle at the marriage of Henry Gordon McWhirter of New Richmond to Eliza Ella Pollock also of New Richmond. The bride was dressed in white and was accompanied to the altar by her mother.

The Rev. A. J. Vibert has this week visited New Carlisle, Black Cape, New Richmond, Oak Bay and Campbellton and hopes next week to visit and hold services at Salmon Lake on Monday 7 p.m., Sayabec, Tuesday 7 p.m., St. Moise, Wednesday, 7 p.m., Price, Thursday, 7 p.m., Rimouski, Friday 7 p.m., returning to Riviere du Loup same evening for services there on Sunday.

The four masted full rigged ship, Bannockburn, Capt. Larsen, while outward bound Saturday evening ran ashore at Travers Bay about five miles below here. The Bannockburn is a vessel of very deep draught and there was insufficient water Saturday evening to take her safely over the bar. She was towed out Sunday morning, however, by the tug Goliath and proceeded to sea.

Rev. J. A. Greenless, Sydney, formerly pastor of New Mills, was married on Tuesday, 20th inst., to Miss Mabel DesBrisay of Madisco, P.E.I. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. McLeod of New Mills at the home of the bride in the presence of the immediate friends of the contracting parties. Mr. and Mrs. Greenless left immediately by the Maritime express and expect to spend their honeymoon in Newfoundland.

The death occurred Saturday morning of Mr. Peter Adams, a well known and highly respected citizen of Campbellton. Mr. Adams had been a sufferer for some time past from consumption, and during all his illness bore his sufferings with fortitude. Deceased who was in his 54th year leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate husband and father, a widow and five children. The funeral services were held Monday afternoon.

Speaking of the Superannuation of conductors on the I. C. R. the Moncton Times observes:

Several conductors residing in this city have been on the Intercolonial between thirty-five and forty years, but are still among the most active train officials in the service. One of these is Mr. McGinn, Thomas Corbett, F. E. Heine, John Berry, John Coffey, Malcolm Cummings and Edward Thompson are the oldest men in the train service, running out of Moncton. Several of them have been running trains for thirty-five years. Con. Heine, who entered the service at fourteen years of age and took charge of a train two years later, has had rather a unique record. He has been in accidents, but he has been most fortunate in not having had a passenger injured or a train man killed on his train. Not only has he not lost a man, but no driver, fireman or other official on his train has met with a mishap that in any way crippled him for life.

Sept. 1 and is the date set for the opening of the Atlantic, Quebec and Western to Port Daniel. C. R. Scoles, manager of the Atlantic and Lake Superior informs "Events" that he has concluded arrangements for the running of his cars to Port Daniel. A daily service between Matapedia and Port Daniel will be inaugurated on the date mentioned above. As arranged the cars of the Atlantic & Lake Superior Railway will run straight through from Matapedia to Port Daniel reaching there on the present time table about 3 o'clock. The train will leave Port Daniel in the morning allowing a stop over of a couple of hours in New Carlisle, at present, and then reaching Matapedia in ample time to take the Ocean Limited. When the Ocean Limited is taken off and the winter time table in force, passengers will make direct connection between Port Daniel and Matapedia, daily, both ways. This should be a great boon to the people of the coast and no doubt will give an impetus to business in the places now touched by railway for the first time.

Berry and Lloyd have received a carload of choice beef

Wm. Riddell, C. L. Russell and A. B. Curtis went to Parker's Lake on Tuesday, and had a splendid day's fishing. They caught 43 trout, the majority of which must be put down to the credit of Mr. Curtis.

Harry Babin of Bonaventure, while at work at Bay Chaleur mills, Tuesday last, fell on a saw, badly cutting his arm at the shoulder blade. While the accident is very serious, hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Correspondents must simply bear in mind that they have to sign their names to all correspondence sent to this office. We do not care so much about using their names for publication purposes but we must have the name as an evidence of good faith.

The Alfred Dickey Lumber company are shipping the entire output of the Tusker, N. S., mill to South America and will in the near future ship at least portions of the cut of their other mills there, as the prices in that market are much better than those ruling in the English and French markets.

The election for County Councillors will take place on Tuesday. For the Parish of Addington, A. G. Adams and John McBeath, the present incumbents have been nominated. It is not likely these gentlemen will be opposed. It is thought all the present councillors will seek re-election, and that they will be unopposed.

John Kilburn of Fredericton writing to "vents" says:—I am in accord with other gentlemen who agree that there should be a heavy export duty put on rossi or raw pulp, and think that it should be manufactured at home in Canada and that Canadians should have full benefits of all profits which are made in the handling of such wood.

Rev. Mr. Keirstead, of the Tabernacle United Baptist church, was summoned home from Westville where he is attending the Baptist conference by the illness of his wife. Mr. Keirstead arrived in St. John at two o'clock Saturday afternoon. The Maritime express was held at Windsor Jet, some time in order to enable Mr. Keirstead to make connections with it.—St. John Sun.

C. A. Alexander, Fred Campbell, Edward Alexander and E. Farrer went down to Carleton early Tuesday morning in the trim little launch owned by Messrs. "Alexander and Campbell." They expected the excursionists would arrive later by the Lady Elleen. They waited and waited but no boat appeared. About four o'clock they put for Campbellton, a sadder but wiser quartette.

A young lad by the name of Hachey 14 years of age, was arrested at Charlestown by Police Constable Saviole, for throwing a stone through the cab window of a passing engine. Hachey was brought to town and taken before Police Magistrate Matheson, who on account of the young lad's age only fined him $4.00, $3.00 of which were to go to pay for the glass the young fellow broke.

The programme at "Arcadia" for the last three days of this week, is an exceptional fine one. The subjects are:—"The Girl from Montana", Nurse taking a walk", "His first dinner at his father-in-law's", "County lovers". Tomorrow Friday there will be a special attraction in the form of the Citizen's Band as they will be another opportunity like it, so come along and bring your friends, nothing cheap but the price. Just the usual dime.

The Session and Trustees of St. Andrew's Church, at a meeting held last Monday evening, resolved to call another congregational meeting to be held on September 4th, for the purpose of calling a minister says the Newcastle Leader. It was also agreed to put in nomination the names of all the candidates for the vacancy who preached in the church since the last congregational meeting was held. These include Rev. Dr. Tufts, Rev. Mr. Fraser, Rev. Mr. Wood and Rev. Mr. Thompson.

Lodge, No. 27, F and A. M., Dr. O. S. Moore, W. M., met at their lodge rooms, Bathurst, Sunday evening, formed a procession and proceeded to St. Luke's Presbyterian church, Bathurst village, where a very appropriate sermon was preached by their chaplain, Rev. James Wheeler, pastor of St. Luke's. Considering the uncomfortable weather, the attendance was large. A number of visiting brothers were present, among them R. Summer, Moncton; J. H. Sproul, I. C. R., Sussex; Dr. Sproul, Newcastle; Mr. Campbell, St. John; J. Keirstead, Sackville. The rendered excellent music under the leadership of Mrs. Henderson.

There will be practise at the rifle range, Friday afternoon, and on Labor day. The Shives cup and three prizes will be competed for. Shooting to commence at 1 p.m. sharp. T. Carter, Secy.

Copyright, 1894, by Harper & Brothers

"I hoped," he said, "when I ran against you in the woods that that was why you had come back. Nothing could have given me greater happiness. Hang it, I am glad, old chap!" They sat far into the night arranging their lives. Jack was nervously anxious to get back to England. He could not rid his mind of the picture he had seen as he left his father's presence to go and take his passage to Africa—the picture of an old man sitting in a stiff backed chair before a dying fire. Moreover, he was afraid of Africa. The irritability of Africa had laid its hand upon him almost as soon as he had set his foot upon its torrid strand. He was afraid of the climate for Jocelyn; he was afraid of it for himself. The happiness that comes late must be firmly held to. Nothing must be forgotten to secure it or else it may slip between the fingers at the last moment.

Those who have snatched happiness late in life can tell of a thousand details carefully attended to, a whole existence laid out in preparation for it, of health fostered, small pleasures relinquished, days carefully spent.

Jack Meredith was nervously apprehensive that his happiness might even now slip through his fingers. Truly, climatic influence is a strange and wonderful thing. It was Africa that had done this, and he was conscious of it. He remembered Victor Durand's strange outburst on their first meeting a few miles below Muala on the Ogova river, and the remembrance only made him the more anxious that Jocelyn and he should turn their backs upon the accursed west coast forever. Before they went to bed that night it was all arranged. Jack Meredith had carried his point. Maurice and Jocelyn were to sail with him for England by the first boat. Jocelyn and he compiled a telegram to be sent off first thing by a native boat to St. Paul de Loanda. It was addressed to Sir John Meredith, London, and signed "Meredith, Loango." The text of it was:

I bring Jocelyn home by first boat. And the last words, like the first, must be of an old man in London. We found him in the midst of a brilliant assembly. We leave him alone. We leave him lying stiffly on his solemn four post bed, with his keen, proud face turned fearfully toward his Maker. His lips are still. They wear a smile which even in death is slightly, cynical. On the table at his bedside lies a submarine telegram from Africa. It is unopened.

On Barton's Reef

By GEORGE ETHELBERT WALSH
Copyright, 1906, by George E. Walsh

A DEAD animal ain't githerly worth more'n he'll be. His pet will bring in the open market, minus the fees an' commissions of them rascally agents who come down here to swap trade with us an' get the lion's share, an' the jackasses, too—me an' the rest of the hunters down here bein' mostly the 'jackasses—but a live animal is an unsartin commodity times has what Captain Kennelly calls "possibilities." I mean by that that an old diamond back rattler's skin an' teeth an' rattles ain't worth more'n $5 down here, but a live rattler shipped up north in a cage may bring $25, an', agin, it may be knocked down for an even hundred.

So Captain Kennelly ain't never been in the killin' business. And I was brung up by Captain Kennelly. "Live an' let live," that's been our motto, an' we've waxed fat—the captain weighs 200, an' I ain't far behind—an' wealthy, not millionaires exactly, but middlin' well to do.

We ain't never regretted bein' kind an' considerate to the animals an' birds—never except once, an' then the captain said 'twas my fault. I ain't dissartin him in that, but there is room for a difference of opinion.

We'd been up the Caloosahatchie one winter tryin' to bag snakes, birds an' other creepin', crawlin' an' flyin' critters when we got wind of a mighty big, assy mountain lion randoovroon' up near Wadlin's Landing. The captain decided at once that we'd bag the critter. Mountain lions was bringin' pretty handsome prices then—the pretty variety bein' a little underpriced, for they ain't no bigger'n a good size dog.

The captain an' I sailed up the Caloosahatchie in a wooden canoe, an' that big fellow's trail, an' before a fortnight we had him clip an' clean aboard the Marthy Ann, tied toe an' nail an' a-roarin' in a box on deck as though he'd like to eat us alive. We was mighty tickled at our prize, an' we figured on a couple of hundred apiece when we landed him north.

The Marthy Ann wasn't much of a sailboat, but she was a lubberin' old craft that did dooty for us for well nigh a dozen years. When we set sail down the Caloosahatchie the captain says:

"Steve, can you take the Marthy Ann to Charlotte Harbor alone? You can hand the critter over to the railroad people there an' get a receipt for him. I want to see him, an' before a fortnight we'll see Cousin Obadiah. He's real sick, they say."

I wasn't givin' to stand in the way of the captain's wish, his sick cousin, so I answered with aftermashin' an' said I'd run back to Fort Myers in a couple of days an' pick him up. The captain was mighty pleased, but when I handed him at Fort Myers he sort of supsationed somethin' an' said:

"You think you can manage it alone all right, Steve?"

"I'll land this old pettiarch in Charlotte Harbor before night or I'll drown him in the gulf tryin' it," I answered promptly.

I didn't know that I was makin' a pretty sure guess what I'd be doin' before sundown. I just hove off from the dock, an' turned the Marthy Ann's nose toward the gulf. I ain't much of a deep water sailor, but I know the coast up to Charlotte Harbor to'rally well, an' I didn't have no misgivin'.

That lion was mighty quiet-like at first, but when we got away from the land an' he began to sniff the salt air of the gulf he sort of got uneasy. He was gettin' out of his element, an' he felt sort of homesick. Maybe it was because he'd been cornered I've some respect for him. I saw right away that trouble was a-begun. When the reef got too small to hold both of us one or fother had to git, an' I didn't fancy bein' the one to go a-doin' an' adrift on the gulf in that latitude.

"Now, you great big yellow cuss," said, addin' his lionessy, pants to "keep us up my courage, 'I ain't huntin' for trouble, but if you seek it I'll do my best to make things mighty unpleasant for you on this little sand speck."

Right then a change come over the critter. He seemed to accept the challenge an' began to growl an' crouch. I just faced him an' got ready for his spring. But the tide comin' up from behind lapped a wave over his tall an' made him turn round like a shot. He caught an' held closer an' watched for things to develop.

We hadn't more'n five feet between us, an' I was tremblin' most as much as that big brute when somethin' I've some respect for him. I saw right away that trouble was a-begun. When the reef got too small to hold both of us one or fother had to git, an' I didn't fancy bein' the one to go a-doin' an' adrift on the gulf in that latitude.

I edged away toward it, an' when it was as high as I thought it would come I waded out in the water an' made a grab for it. By yin' slantwise on it, with my feet in the water an' my head about three feet above it, I was tolerably comfortable, an' I addressed myself to the marooned critter agin:

"Now you kin have the reef an' all that goes with it. I'm off to the Florida coast or a trip to sea. Anythin' your better bein' drowned on that reef or bein' chewed up by a cowardly lion."

I guess my words sort of startled him, for he growled an' whined an' seemed anxious to accompany me. He was sort of sorry at my desertin' him. At any rate he crouched down on the reef, his tail in the water an' his head mighty close to the other edge of the reef, an' then I saw him spring an' shoot through the air just like a skyrocket.

Life I turned back to the reef. I could see the bare back of it just shinin' above the gulf not more'n ten yards away. I ain't much of a swimmer, but I made double quick time to that reef. I hadn't thought much 'bout that lion all this time, so excited was I over the loss of the Marthy Ann, but now I just gasped for breath an' hove a sigh of relief. If I'd lost the Marthy Ann, I'd saved the lion. There he was crawlin' out of the water upon the reef as limp as a water rat with a dog on his trail. His big cage was floatin' away with the tide, runnin' a close race for shore with the capsized boat.

I saw how things had happened. The Marthy Ann had dumped the cage an' lion on the reef, an' the blow had just open the slats, an' there you are! The lion was free to go an' come. When I swam to the reef he had full possession, but he was so wet an' frightened that he just sat there an' shivered an' roared.

"You great, big onery coward," I says, shakin' my fist at him. "You ain't got away yet, an' I'll keep you here until the captain comes for us."

The reef wasn't more'n fifty feet long and twenty wide, but there was

I pitched headfirst through the air, room enough for both of us. I crawled up an' tried to dry my eyes. The lion noticed nothin', but roared for help. Then he got a sight of me an' slunk to the other end of the reef.

"You keep there," I says, feelin' better by that time as if he was a human bein', an' don't you come on my end."

We both felt better after we got out of a bit. The sun was pretty hot an' I searched the water up like a hot iron. First thing, then, that big critter began to lick himself, an' then he eyed me out of the corners of his eyes. I didn't partic'lar like the way he did it. It seemed as if he grinned an' then shook his head to show me that he wasn't hurt."

Well, I suppose nothin' would have happened if the tide hadn't come up a turber's back. The water just rose up higher an' higher, an' every minute we had to move closer together.

The lion didn't like gettin' his paws wet an' was for retreatin' toward me, an' I didn't fancy closer quarters with him an' just stayed as near my edge of the reef as I dared.

Now, as I have remarked, the Florida mountain lion ain't no kind of a fighter, but when he's cornered I've some respect for him. I saw right away that trouble was a-begun. When the reef got too small to hold both of us one or fother had to git, an' I didn't fancy bein' the one to go a-doin' an' adrift on the gulf in that latitude.

At any rate he crouched down on the reef, his tail in the water an' his head mighty close to the other edge of the reef, an' then I saw him spring an' shoot through the air just like a skyrocket.

There was a crash an' disturbin' noise of splashin' of the gulf. I saw stars an' sharks an' numerous other unpleasant things. When I got a grip on the floatin' box agin I was half drowned, an' that old lion was hangin' for dear life on the other side of it. He was 'bout as frightened as I was. His paws was within two feet of my hands, an' I could feel his breath fannin' my cheeks, but he wasn't fightin' any more.

We hadn't improved our positions much, for that wobbly old craft wasn't built for two. Both of us couldn't keep our balance at once. When the lion was up I was down, an' when I bobbed up above the gulf his head went under. We went seasin' like this for some time, neither one able to catch his breath.

Then it occurred to that tarnaal critter that I was tryin' to duck him, an' he began to hit out at me, snappin' an' snarl'n' fit to give one the shakes. After pawin' some of the hide off my hand he got more brave an' tried to climb over on my side. That was his ondon, for the box tripped clean over an' landed both of us in the water. The box floated away, an' we had to make a swim for it.

I got there first, for I had begun to scent sharks. I dreaded 'em worse'n all the lions in Florida. I just yelled an' jumped up on the box an' tried to hold my feet in the air. I kicked an' splashed to frighten the lion away, but he was game. He came on like a paddle wheel, churnin' the water into a terrible foam.

He struck the box agin with a bang, an' over we went once more, turnin' a clean somersault in the water. I went down pretty nigh to the bottom of the gulf an' then bumped up agin the box so hard that I had a headache for a week after.

The lion was there ahead of me, an' he took a turn at fightin' me off. I say he was gettin' on to the game. The (Continued on page 7.)

Padosius Botkin of Salt Lake City, Utah, who succeeds Mr. Benedict as American Consul arrived here Wednesday.

Mrs. John Costello of Montreal, who has been visiting Mrs. John Henderson during the past two weeks, leaves for home on tonight's limited.

The hunting season for ducks, woodcocks and snipe begins on September 1st and that for partridge and big game on the 15th. As moose, caribou and deer are very plentiful this year, many more non-resident sportsmen than last year are expected.

John Guitart took an I. C. R. hand car at Beresford on Monday and ran to Petit Rocher with it. He was arrested by Inspector Noble of the I. C. R. and local constable Harry Culligan. Taken before Magistrate John O'Brien at Bathurst, he was sentenced to three months in jail.

The death of Robert Wood, occurred in Dundee at an early hour Sunday morning, 18th inst. after a lingering illness of six months. Deceased was 79 years of age. He is survived by a widow, one son, James, and two daughters, Mrs. Chas. Kerr of Dalhousie, and Miss Catherine Wood, Boston, also a sister, Mrs. James Dickie of Escumac.

Mr. David L. Mitchell, is the new principal of the Bathurst Grammar School. Mr. Mitchell is a well known teacher, having a B. A. degree from the University of New Brunswick, and having studied school methods at Harvard University for some time. He was formerly principal at Chatham and Gagetown but some time ago he gave up teaching to enter a commercial business. He is now returning to his profession.

The district committee of the O. R. T. held a meeting Tuesday morning at Moncton. The principal business was the election of a chairman to take the place of P. W. D. Campbell, of St. John whose recent retirement was noted. C. S. Charters, I. C. R. station agent at Point du Chene, was unanimously chosen for the position, and will in future preside over the deliberations of the District Committee. The usual routine business was transacted. The delegates present were Mr. J. A. Therberge, of Campbellton; Mr. D. Montgomery, of Alberton; P. E. L. Mr. J. A. Fraser, Ferrona Jct., and Mr. E. A. Jean of River du Loup. Speaking of the telegrapher's strike, the committee members said it had the moral support of the O. R. T., but there was no possibility of the O. R. T. members going out.

On Sunday night, Conductor McLellan found a tie on the wharf track near his residence. He notified I. C. R. Policeman Savoy and on Wednesday Roy Coes, Dan Dugay and John Peters were brought before Magistrate Matheson on warrants sworn out by I. C. R. Police Inspector Noble. They were charged with trespassing on the Intercolonial railway. They had been drinking and had put the tie across the track for a seat for their jollification and went away leaving the tie where it was found by Conductor McLellan. Dugay and Coes paid $5 each and Peters, $8.00 for their fun. Magistrate Matheson gave them a lecture in the course of which he stated that they might have been charged with placing an obstruction on the track instead of trespassing.

TALES OF THE TOWN

A Canadian banker was stationed, not long ago, in one of the remote districts of Newfoundland. While there his wife experienced considerable difficulty in obtaining a capable servant. At length she found a girl to her liking and immediately commenced to instruct her in her duties.

"Now I expect a few callers this afternoon, Mary," announced the lady of the house after she had gone over the other duties, "and I want you to take their cards at the door and then show them into the parlor."

The new servant got along very well that afternoon until two callers arrived who were without cards. This was unexpected. Just what to do with the newcomers was a question which puzzled the girl. She hesitated for a moment and then, leaving the visitors standing outside the door, hastened to the parlor where her mistress was and in a voice which penetrated the entire room exclaimed:—"Ma'am, there's two women at the door without tickets, will I let them in?"

that. He thought it was a scandal and should be investigated at once. In the face of this the Council could not decide about purchasing the property until the matter was cleared up. He moved that when Council adjourns it adjourn with the understanding that the Water Com. take up this matter with Mr. Fish and others concerned.

Before adjournment the Finance Com. were instructed to procure figures on a safe for the town.

Several of the Councilors assembled at the council room last evening, but no meeting was held.
