REPORTED TO BE CAREFULLY GUARDED

One-Time Proud Ruler of a Great Empire 's Now Subject To Moods of Maniacal Raving—His Physical Condition Is Said To Be Pitiful.

London, Jan. 10.-Insanity is the name now given to the undefined illness which has beset the former kaiser Wilhelm for some time past. The household at Chateau Amerongen, marooned Eric Geddes, the minister of transport as on an island by the overflowing of the Rhine, is said to be keeping watch over an ex-kaiser incoherent and senile, whose condition of trembling imbecility is varied only by moods of during today. maniacal raving.

The rigid isolation from outside surveillance, which has made it difficult to obtain an accurate picture of the ex-kaiser today, is said to be solely for the purpose of concealing Wilhelm's pitiful Secretary Submits Report Disclosing This Fact at Executive Meeting.

A report submitted by the executive of the Soldiers' Aid Commission on Friday afternoon by the Secretary, Ed. Lance, showed that the welfare work of the commission had been greatly extended during the past few months. Hundreds of soldiers and their families were given assistance by this branch of the S. A. Machine guns have, of course, been a development of the war, and from a beolute obscurity have proved themselves to be not only the most effective but also the most popular arm of the service. In August, 1914, there were in Canada two Vickers' machine guns, one of which was exhibited as a curlosity in a hardware store in Winnipeg, and the other is believed to have been also more or less of a curlosity, and was fired on special occasions by some of the instructors at Rockcliffe ranges.

The second Canadian Machine Gun Brigade (active militia), will undoubtedly uphold in every way the proud record made by the Canadian Machine Gun Corps overseas, and nobody but officers and men who have seen service or who were too young to take part in the war will be taken on the strength.

The brigade will be commanded by Leut.-Col. W. G. Coles, who is one of the best known men in London, and who went overseas with the original first contingent.

The dutles of adjutant will temporarily be taken over by Capt. G. W. Beresford, who went overseas in 1915, was wounded at Ypres while serving with the 9th Brigade Machine Gun Company, and later served with the 1st Canadian Motor Machine Gun Brigade until the end of the war.

The cold School—Dr. H. Schaef was glad that by next year he would be able to speak of the old school as being in the past five objection as being in the past in the would be a fine the past. Many a pleasant hour had been spent there. It would be a fine the past five head building could be placed in a museum.

Wallace Matthews declared that the term "old school" might apply to three things—the building, the spirit and the organization. During the past five years there had come a new regime. The old school, he remarked, had kept the university together.

The Profession—"Did it ever occur to you that this profession is paradoxical?" asked Roy Kingswood, explaining that it was so because the doctor brought people into this wicked wortly and tried to prevent them from going to a better.

Dr. Stevenson stated that it was only now that the world was beginning to resulted the profession in the free lint. Other changes approved provided for a naturalization only and "a new Domin-intengence of the past five old school" might apply to

to a better.

Dr. Stevenson stated that it was only on that the world was beginning to realize the importance of the profession. It was realized at last that good health gave the fullness of each hour. The students were urged to make their profession a hobby, a thing at which they would love to work. "Don't let the profession dwarf you." was his warning. "Make yourself one of the community." Worthy a Better Drink.

The I. L. P. executive tonight met behind cloud doors today to consider calling the trades unions of the city together on Wednesday evening next to discuss action. It is reported that J. P. Spence and Thomas Hendry, who were behind the Citizens' League which tried to combat Mayor MacBride in the 1919 election campaign without success have buried the hatchet with the mayor, but the rumor also has it that the handle is still sticking out.

In the meantime with talk of protest of the election Mayor MacBride and the aldermen are sitting tight. There has been no caucus to determine the committee chairmanships, and apparently there will not be any. It would be unusual to have all debates over the chairmanships in open council, but the every alderman is walting for someone

Now is Time to Act.

"Almost every or zation in the city has at some time declared itself strongly for the establishment of a day nursery in London," said the president, Miss Hilda Keene. "Now is the time for them to act and show that they meant what they said. It is possible that the city may be able to supply us with a building, but cots must be provided and societies or individuals destring to help might furnish these cots. We want to begin as soon as possible and make the nursery a success, so that by the end of the year we shall be able to prove to the city that it is worth while keeping on with the work."

Blame Themselves.

Atlantic City, N. J., Jan. 9.—The budget of the inter-church world movement, to be used in co-ordinating the energies of the Protestant denominations and the evangelization of the world, was approved today at the conference of 1,460 church leaders here. The budget calls for the expenditure of $1,330,000,000 in the next five years. It provides for evangelistic work in America and the foreign fields, proper financing of hospitals and homes. liboffice.

Gives Every Opportunity.

Mr. Baker also pointed out that every opportunity is given the cltizens to know whether their names are on the list. For weeks before the election they are urged by official advertisements to see the list and make sure their names are there. In addition to this every voter receives a notice telling where to yote and to the consent of the denominations.

America and the foreign fields, proper financing of hospitals and homes liberal awards to struggling colleges, for the fighting of social and industrial unrest and better wages both to ministers and missionaries.

It is specified that no part of the budget shall be changed by a board of review to be appointed, with equal representation for all denominations, without the consent of the denominational board directly affected. Three tional board directly affected. Three hundred and twenty millions are to be

This wonderful blood-food supplies nourishment, vim, energy—sends a stream of vigorous, strength-making blood to every nook and corner of the body, makes every muscle and fibresing with new-found life and health. That gnawing tiredness leaves you—Ferrozone drives it away. Sleepless nights are turned into periods of rest, and you pick up fast. Day by day your appetite improves — this means more food is transformed in nutriment. It is also announced that a conference will be called by the workers on January 29 to consider the Government's reply to the demand.

EXPECTED INRUSH OF LIQUOR IS ABSENT

WINNIPEG, Jan. 9. - (Canadian Press).-The expected inrush of liquor as a result of the lifting of the importation ban has not developed in Manitoba, owing to the high cost of imported fl.ewater. Including express rates, the price is almost 50 cents higher than for liquor purchased at the drug stores, it is stated. Rev. J. N. McLean, chief inspector under the Manitoba temperance act said today.

So far as the law is concerned, how ever, there appears to be no doubt among officials here that all five were guilty of murder, inasmuch as all five, according to the evidence, set out, armed, to perpetrate robbery. In the minds of officials here it appears to be merely a matter of degree.

The minister of justice has now under consideration the case of three other foreigners sentenced for one murder at Montreal. Their names are Alard, Lacoste and Lemay.

Negro Objects To Friday Sentence

NEW YORK, Jan. 9. — When Frank J. Kelly, convicted negro murderer of Catherine Dunn, who was slain in Brooklyn on December 20, was called before the bar today to be sentenced to death, his counsel asked for one day's delay. He explained to the court that Kelly was superstitious and was convinced that if he was sentenced on Friday there would be no hope for him in an appeal. The plea was denied, however, and the week of February 16 was set for his execution, "Kelly did not ask the Dunn girl when she should die," declared District Attorney Lewis in opposing a postponement.

Chief Justice Perdue Makes a Ruling in the Russell Appeal Case.

(Canadian Press.) WINNIPEG, Jan. 9 .- The extent to which section 590 of the criminal code protected the activities of members of trade unions was defined in the cour of appeals by Chief Justice Perdue today, when Robert Cassidy, K.C., in speaking to the Russel appeal cases ROCHESTER, Jan. 9.—Charged with claimed that under this section no evimurder in the first degree for alleged dence concerning the Winnipeg genslaying of Edward Kniep, whose dead eral strike should have been admitted tence. Chief Justice Perdue thought that the court of appeal has the power to set aside the sentence passed upon Russell and direct what penalty should be imposed. For instance, instead of two years on each count to run concurrently a sentence of two years. controlly a sentence of two years on the whole indictment could be given. This action, the chief justice thought, would not upset the trial.

EMMA'S SAD CASE. Consider the sad, even pathetic predicament which faces Emma Goldmann, Berkmann and the cargo of Reds as impelled by the stout boot of Uncle Sam, they approach Russia. Deported by the United States for preaching terrorism, they will find upon arrival in Russia that Lenine and Trotzky have approached the 'Allied nations with an offer of peace, promising to do away with the terror and other forms of persecution and intimidation, and to drop their propaganda in other lands, the very things that Emma and her precious band have been revelling in for many years. Emma has consistently urged the utilization of the bomb, the torch and the knife in order to turn the American nation over to anarchy. Now the arch priests of anarchy, the supreme leaders of discord, who have been trying to sow the seeds of disorder and strife the world over, announce themselves as ready to discard violence and frightfulness and take to the decent methods of other nations. It will be a cruel blow to Emma and her Berkmann to learn that Rea Russia, so beautifully discordant, is about to adopt something of the manner of the "cursed" American democracy. "Long live the revolution" was Goldmann's last word to America, and it appears that she is about to experience a revolution in the ranks of Russian anarchy, such as she never imagined could take place. To have once felt the exquisite thrill of wonder at the alighting touch of a tiny chickadee on one's hand and the awe of watching it feed, marvelling at the shy confidence of the wild thing, with the sacred privilege of seeing so closely the miracle of the glossy black head and bright, bead-like eyes, the tiny bill with the rich black dash of plumage imraediately underneath, the pale buff breast with the dainty little fluffy edge of down where the wings fit closely glimpsed something of the intricate and limit- of Mr. Chester Glass of New York. less beauty of fancy in the soul of the Creator. Given a rather quiet lawn with spruce trees or hedges of cedar for protection from the extreme cold, and a heart that loves and seeks to understand the little, flitting, feathered friends, it is a venture quite possible and beautiful to teach the birds to come to one's window and with patience and understanding, to coax them to alight on the hand for food, or to take it from one's lips. Two delightfully interesting people of London have a family of ten chickadees, a pair of cardinals, a pair of whitebreasted nuthatches and a pair of downy woodpeckers, and they are patiently awaiting the appearance of the red-breasted nuthatch to make the group still more wonderful. On a grey winter morning to see poised proudly on the dark green of the spruce boughs the flaming scarlet of the male cardinal, tenderly aware of his matchless mate with her lovely pastel-tinted body, her bright, crimson beak and scarlet tinged wings, is to fancy oneself in the land of summer. More timidly than the chickadees, the cardinals seek the uncracked corn and crush it easily with their peculiarly fitted beaks, while a stray sparrow with usual audacity waits to seize the falling bits from the cardinal's feast. Cleverly hung inverted feeding stations hold choice bits of food held in readiness for the tiny visitors by the cooling of melted grease; plates of sunflower seed and bits of nuts, which are often taken and hidden in the bark of tree trunks for hungrier moments, are on the window feeding board, and bits of suct are spiked in naturally arranged nooks, or hung in the spruce trees. At one time the nuthatch, the woodpecker and a chickadee have all eaten from the one plate without quarrelling. As many as eight chickadees have feasted together on the window board, and one wee chap, a tittle more soiled than the others, is friendliest. As yet the cardinals have not been won to the intimacy of this particular window board, but there is every indication that they will soon be induced to come, by the airy example of the chickadees, which, with quiet unconcern, turn their backs to the one feeding them and chatting with them, this being a token of extreme confidence. Listening to the beautiful optimism of the happy little chorus "chickadeddee-dee" from the tree boughs and window perches, and the busy whirr of wings in joyous little flittings, one wonders why more people with the necessary surroundings are not feeding and making friends of the birds.

A REPREHENSIBLE STRIKE

Last week without warning the employees of the Montreal water works department went on strike, leaving the city without water for three days. The facts of the clash between the administrative commission and the men have not yet been made public in detail, but no matter what the points in the dispute may be, in leaving the city waterless, the strikers were acting in a most reprehensible, if not criminal manner. If the men were being unfairly treated in the matter of wages they had but to make this clear to the public. Public opinion would have compelled the city to do the right thing. By sticking to their posts during negotiations they would have sarned and so pay special pilotage rates, cured the support of the general public. Instead of adopting this diplomatic and humane course, after but one meeting with the commission they walked out at midnight and brought a water famine on over half a million of their fellow citizens. The result was great suffering in the many hospitals of the city suddenly bereft of water and heat, and exasperating, danzerous and painful inconvenience in hundreds of thousands of private homes. In addition the city was left without fire protection. Had a great conflagration broken out during the water famine many lives might have been sacrificed and certainly there would have been stupendous property loss. By their reckless act the waterworks employees have antagonized every class in the community. Their strike was cruel and unnecessary and has lost them the backing of public sentiment as it should. It was no more excusable than the strike of the Boston police, which left that city in the hands of murderers, thieves and plundering mobs.

PRODUCTION A CONDITION OF PEACE.

What prices farm products will command during the next year or two cannot be stated with any degree of accuracy. No one can foretell whether or not Europe will be able to pay for her supplies next year or the year after, but all who have studied the situation feel able to state with reasonable certainty that it will likely take at least two years for the production of breadstuffs to meet the world's requirements and have over a moderate reserve as security against scarcity the following year; that it will be many years before the world's production of milk, butter and cheese can adequately meet the demand and that several years must elapse before supplies of cattle and hog products can be sufficient to provide for the natural requirements of the people who ordin-

The farmers of Canada will not make any mistake in producing as much as they can of needed. The world's prices in the main will be determined by conditions and factors beyond our control. But our farmers may depend upon being able to obtain the highest prices which the world's markets will afford. Canadian farm products have a preference in the markets of Great Britain because of their known superior quality; and in other European markets they are sure of an equality in price with the products of any other country The farmer cannot expect more than that. Whether he produces more or less, that is the highest rate to be had. The more we produce the more money our farmers will receive, the more quickly our nation will recover from the losses of the war, and the more will we help to bring good cheer to a world still reeling and scarcely yet conscious of the extent of the appalling waste of years of destruction.

> Pope Benedict says that 1919 was one of the worst vears of humanity. A good many will take exception to this statement of His Holiness. True, it produced much misery, disorder and bloody strife, but on the other hand it witnessed a distinct start made in the progress towards a happier world. Not much has as yet come from the peace treaty and the League of Nations, but in these documents rests rich promise of better times. In its potentiality for good 1919 was one of the best of years.

THE ARGUMENT. [Francis Carlin.]

Kind they were in deed and word And as peaceful as the next, Until they heard the singing bird That made them vexed.

"The little robineen." said she, "Is early in his bush." "Sure, woman, dear, o'dear," said he "It is a thrush."

Which lasted for a long Warm while of arguing, as to what Bird sang the song.

Four seasons passed away, and then Said he, "Dear woman, dear, Do you recall that we heard the wren This day last year?'

"You mean the willy-wagtail," said The wrathful farmer's wife, And the old discussion that was dead Came back to life.

So on that day in every spring. The arguing couple's words Renew the case to which they bring Their different birds.

The Advertiser's Daily Short Story

AN INDIAN MAIDEN FAIR. (By Vincent G. Perry).

Two men could not have been in frames of mind more directly opposite. Phil Lancaster was enthused, enraptured, excited, while his chum, Steven Marshall, was bored, disgusted and full of complaint. Phil gave a sigh of regret when the play was over, Steve a sigh of relief.

"What a dandy play!" "What a punk show!" The two men roiced their opinions as they rose from their seats in the front box.

"How do you make that out?" Phil turned to Steve ready to champion the cause of the play.
"It's the same old thing done over again, the most impossible of all the

"You must be crazy!" Phil gasped am going to praise the play to the of the roof. Who wouldn't fall for top of the roof. an Indian girl like that one? I would yself in a minute."
"Of course, you would," Steve sneered,

"that one wasn't an Indian girl. was an American actress, and a mighty scenery to show her up. She much like a real Indian as I am. much like a real Indian as I am."

That is how the wager was made. Phil held to it that there were thousands of Indian sirls as beautiful as the actress who portrayed the part of an Indian maiden, but Steve would not admit it. Indian girls were beautiful enough in the eyes of Indian men, he admitted, but they could not come up to the but they could not come up to the standard of American white girls in the estimation of the typical American white man—white men like the hero of the play. Why the thing was absurd! "Yeu would fall in love with an Indian girl yourself, if you came in contact with one," Phil argued.

"I bet I wouldn't," Steve laughed. "I what upset your stomach? Well, don't ize acidity and give relief at once-no can prove that I won't. I am spending vacation—six whole weeks this time the Canadian west, right near an

Steve leaned back in the seat of the Pullman and found it hard to realize that his six weeks were up and he was on his homeward journey. The wager! There it was in black and white. He had telegraphed Phil as he boarded the train, announcing himself the winner. He had seen very few Indian maidens, even though he had been within a few miles of their reserve and had fished on their territory by special permission, and the ones he had seen had not appeal him at all. He had been quite right in his side of the argument.

He reached for his club bag to place the copy of the wager with some other important papers, found he couldn't reach it without standing and got to his feet. Then it happened. There was a sudden lurch, a crash! Steve feit himself shooting through space any all

This transmission of the defect reminds us that bleeders show the same peculiarity of heredity. Color-blindness may be acquired by one with normal heredity. Any disease which causes change in the retina or ensitive film of the back of the eye may produce it, and any poison which causes irritation or degeneration of the optic nerve may produce it. Dear Miss Grey,—Here is a hint in regard to "Aunt Maggie's Ferns." Mother is very fond of flowers and takes a pride in her ferns. Her method is very simple. Take some hen (fertilizer) in a pail and pour water on it, let it sit awhile, then pour the liquid off and apply a little at the roots of your fern. This is a sure cure as it has been tried on show flowers. Now for the member with chilbiains. One sure method is to wash your feet and darn your stockings, or if thils fails run a mile in the snow. REFUSE TO ACCEPT. RESIGNATION OF GARRY HERMANN

Fellow-Members of National Commission Vote Recognition Down-Opponents Have Month to Choose a Successor.

CINCINNATI, Ohlo, Jan. 9 .- Refusal of the fellow members of the National Baseball Commission to accept the resignation of August Herrmann as chairman means that those opposing him have another month in which to decide upon a suitable man for the position. The commission as at present constituted will get together for the last time in Chicago on February II, after which date Mr. Herrmann gave notice vesterday that he would refuse to serve.

The opposition to Mr. Herrmann as chairman is said to consist principally of five National League club owners. of five National League club owners.

Each league will hold its spring schedule meeting on the day preceding February 11, when playing schedules will be adopted. They will then meet together for the purpose of debating the question of a new chairman and deciding whether the minor leagues shall be admitted to relations under the national agreement again.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Selection of a chairman of the national baseball commission to succeed August Herrmann, who tendered his resignation yesterday, probably will be made at the joint meeting of the two leagues, to be held here February 11. John A. Heydler, president of the National League, announced tonight. The committee of the two major leagues appointed a year ago to select a man for the commission chairmanship are expected to present their recommendation to the joint session, he said.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

be constantly on guard against kidney J. K. L. ROSS RESIGNS

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the ull of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidne, s will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations clared. to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

the serpent enters their garden of Eden,
The story is an adaptation from the French novel "Out of the Gutter," which caused such wide comment in the world of writers some few years ago. The film is a special production made by Signor Capelinni, and the cast, settings and photography are beautiful in the extreme. "The Virtuous Model" is seven reels of sensations, thrills, love and beauty, a tale of Paris, of Parisians, and Parisiennes, of the gay life of the Montmarte and the marveious freedom of the women of the Latin Quarter.

Among the extra attractions will be a number of films of remarkable interest, including a Snub Pollard comedy, "Tough Luck," travel pictures, news films and scenics, and Chester Outing states.

She was almost driven to despair, and about to surrender to that life from which there is no release once the plunge has been made, but Brehant, the great sculptor, happening into the cafe one night, was struck by the remarkable beauty of her face and form. He immediately desired her for his model, to pose for his recreation of Venus de Milo. They, the sculptor and the girl, disappeared from the haunts of the Montmarte, and their two lives are a paradise on earth until the serpent enters their garden of

It is a success—and when the Saturday Evening Post publishes a P. G. Woodehouse story you are assured that it is a great success. You, no doubt, have already read "A Damsel in Distress," that charming comedy of English life, of an American hero, and a young daughter of a duke, who were forever getting their love affairs entangled, much to the despair of the poor nobleman, her father. If you have or have not read the story, you may rest assured that it is really delightful as presented on the screen with charming little June Caprice and Gerighton Heil in the leading parts.

"A Damsel in Distress" is to be presented at the Majestic Thursday, Friday and Saturday next week, and comes as a guaranteed comedy feature. It is one of the most vivacious and charming comedies of the season, and with beautiful little June as the charming little damsel in distress, will certainly be very popular with the patrons of noonlar Majestic

The Majestic announces that it will ortly present a new production by S Meredith and Company, but that is ll be on a much bigger scale than isual. A number of new ideas are to presented with the new attraction, which has been named "Sub-Let for he Summer," and it is promised that ne of the greatest musical extravaone of the greatest musical extrava-ganzas ever presented in the city—a gorgeous harmony of wonderful settings sensational effects in costumes, catchy music and beautiful girls—will delight the people of London on the opening of this sparkling musical farce.

He was an idealist, so far as women were concerned.

He met her in a gay Parisian Cabaret, and saw in her beauteous face and form the "inspiration" for his classic Venus-for this idealist was a noted sculptor.

But his virtuous model would not pose in the nude, as her maidenly modesty rendered this impossible. After they were married, however, her lovely form was immortalized in marble.

And then came "the other woman"-his earier "inspiration"—who tried to be smirch the model-wife's reputation, and taunted her with having been "dragged from the gutter.

Love and virtue triumphed in the end, for the model-wife proudly acknowledged that hers was the perfect form which inspired her husband's chef d'oeuvre of sculptural art.

FACTS FOR FARMERS

FOXES NUMEROUS.

Foxes are reported to be quite numerous in the gullies south of the village and along the lake short. Many of the local nimrods have been enjoying the sport of hunting them since the 'ast fall of snow. According to report, one hunter has secured four, and will reap a good harvest when he disposes of the skins, as fancy prices are being paid.

The paint well into the wood. A little brown coloring makes the wood and large limb cut under the side first, this prevents tearing the wood and bark as the limb comes away from the tree. When limbs spread too wide and make cultivation near the tree impossible, cut to a shoot that is growing up. This shoot will soon grow strong and take the place of the part cut off. Many of our older are the strong and take the place of the part cut off.

 EVENING STOCK LETTER. [Jones, Easton, McCallum Co., Ltd.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—While money has recently been tending downward there was a slight flurry this afternoon. If pressure is to be maintained on commercial interests to bring on liquidation it will mean a greater supply for New York, as money is not in the habit of remaining idle. This, however, in itself is not sufficient incentive for a big market in securities, though it is a very essential element. We want a clearing of the political uncertainty, and we want some legislation on rails and other important subjects to say nothing of the re-establishment of Because of these uncertainties and the participation in the market, the professional element are inclined to operate on the selling side and on the little bulges that have recently occurred, pressure has been brought to bear, but so far unaccomplished by any marked successes. It is just likely that the market may decline in spots, the foundation, however, is sound and important liquidation is not justifled. There will trading opportunities, and this seems to be the best that can be expected in the near future. Later on we may have a set of conditions that will justify more are in police custody charged with having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling, were in police court on Friday afternoon, and had their case adjourned until Monday.

This was to permit them to secure witnesses from Toronto and Windsor.

These two men were en route from the Queen City to the Border City in an auto with a cargo consisting of 171 quart bottles of whiskey.

Nicholson, who is a Toronto taxt driver, will plead that he was ignorant of the nature of the load. The other man's defence will be that he had moved to Windsor and was transfering the liquor from one private residence to another.

If they are convicted the police can confiscate the car, which is a seven-passenger McLaughlin, as the law makes this provision in regard to the means of the unlawful transportation of liquor.

SARNIA CITIZENS PLANNING BIG HOUSE BUILDING PROGRAM

Toronto Building Firm Will Co-operate in Work At Early Date.

DEMAND.

The day of industrial chemists in Canada has arrived. There are now few productive industries of any importance that do not require the services of an expert chemist to eliminate the waste that has been allowed to go unchecked so long. The interest in this line of work is so great that young men are preparing for this very remunerative employment. Evening classes in qualitative and quantitative analysis are being started in the Technical School, There are also a few vacancies still in the machine shop, automobile mechanics, dressmaking, millinery and art classes. Students may register any afternoon or evening next week.

AT THE PATRICIA

SARNIA, Jan. 9.—Working in cooperation with the McEachern Building Company of Toronto, Sarnia citizens and businessmen are now forming a building company which, when completed, they hope, will be able to build about 600 workingmen's homes. For some time the work of forming the company has been underway, and with this end of the business nearly company lated they building the houses are being discussed. The houses will be of most modern variety, and the prices will range up to about $3,500. Already a number of citizens have stated that they will let the co-operative company build their homes, and it is expected that with the first sign of mild weather active building operations will com-

Vanderbilt Home Sells For $5,500,000

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The Cornelius Vanderbilt home, fronting Fifth avenue from 57th to 58th street, has been sold for $5,500,000 cash, it was announced today. It was said that the residence, one of the most costly in America, will make way for a $20,000,000 structure. The name of the purchaser has not been disclosed. There was an unconfirmed report that the site would be used by T. Coleman Dupont for a hotel and another that the Marshall Field interests in Chicago had obtained it for a department store. Representatives of the Vanderbilt family said they had decided to sell because of the high cost of maintaining the mansion.

REPORT SAYS DRURY MAY RUN FOR SEAT IN NORTH NORFOLK

TORONTO, Jan. 9 .- It is said that arrangements have been made for Premier Drury to run in North Norfock contest. The music is more ambitious than is usually the case with Broadway musical comedies; in fact, operation of the perhaps is the better name for effunctional throughout without any resort to vulgarity, and the chorus depends on its ability to sing, not on its ability to display the feminine form. An altogether praiseworthy show is "Fiddlers Three," attractive because it is wholesome, clean and genuinely musical. It will be repeated this afternoon and evening, and deserves crowded houses. Farmers of Ontario, which was appointed at the time of the U. F. O. convention in this city to arrange for seats for the premier, Mr. Doherty and Hon, W. E. Raney, attorney-general, was in session today and again tonight was in session today and again tonight. Late tonight Secretary J. J. Morrison of the U. F. O., chairman of the special committee, said definite arrangements for the by-elections had not been concluded, and he had no information to give to the public about them tonight. It is believed that the premier and the minister of agriculture have and the minister of agriculture have been allocated the seats mentioned, and that official announcement of the by-election dates may come soon. Hon. Mr. Raney is not yet provided for, so far as is known.

FLORAL COMPANY GAVE PARTY FOR THE STAFF

The West Floral Company enter-tained the staff last night at a theatre party, followed by dinner at Wong's, where covers were laid for twelve. A very pleasant evening was spent.

The outstanding feature was the song rendered by Miss Wynnyfred Colbert, who sang "Say It With Flowers" most articucally.

The souvenirs were all very appropriately chosen and each was accompanied. The souvenirs were all very appropriately chosen, and each was accompanied by a very clever bit of verse, which was thoroughly appreciated.

E. B. Hamilton, the manager, took advantage of the opportunity to extend to the members of the staff, on behalf of the company, hearty thanks for their cheerful and enthusiastic co-operation during the Christmas rush, which was unprecedentedly heavy.

ment. The hearing of this case has lasted eight days. Mr. Baldwin is the son of the late Bishop Baldwin of the Diocese of Huron, Ontario. He was formerly in holy orders, but now is a civil engineer. He is claiming the right to the custody of the children of the marriage, who are now held in the charge of their mother. Mrs. Baldwin is asking for a separation on the ground of incompatibility, coupled with other charges. Mr. Justice Howard said he would take the request of Mr. Baldwin's counsel that his client be given custody of the children under reserve. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Act

Proper food and a good tonic will keep most people in good health. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the most popular tonic medicine in the world, harmless and certain in their action, which is to build up the blood and restore the vitality to the rundown system. For growing girls who become thin and pale, for pale, tired women, and for old people who fail in strength, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an ideal tonic. Thousands of people have testified to the health-giving qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Proper food and a good tonic will keep qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and in many homes they are the only medicine used. Among the homes in which the benefit of this medicine has been proved is that of Mr. E. A. Underwood, Kingston, Ont., who says: "I have used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with the most beneficial results. As the result of hard work, I was very much rundown, and my appetite was very poor. I got a supply of the pills which I used regularly for some weeks with the result that they restored me to my old-time strength. They also proved a blessing to my daughter, who was in a very anaemic condition, and who seemed not Without it this old world would have some pretty slim meals. Bread in practically every country in the world is really the foundation of every meal. It is baked in many ways-on stones, in the earth, in old-fashioned ovens, in fact, nearly every country has a different method. Canada, however, is farther advanced than any other country in the science of bread-baking, and one of the finest breads produced in this country is
