RIGNEY TO CONDUCT MURDER TRIALS FOR CROWN

Laborites Warn Baldwin of An Immediate Test Vote

RIDDELL TO PRESIDE AT THREE TRIALS FOR MURDER

Timothy J. Gigney, K.C., Will Again Conduct Case Against Murrell and Williams.

FAMILIAR WITH CASE

Will Act For Crown in Charge Against Topping Also.

The "lineup" for the murder trials of Sidney Murrell and "Slim" Williams is now complete. It was officially announced from the office of the crown attorney today. Hon. Mr. Justice Ridgell, who is looked upon as one of the keenest and best judges on the supreme court bench, will preside at the trial, having been assigned to the winter sittings which open at the court house on Feb. 4. Timothy J. Gigney, K.C., of Kingston, has again been appointed to prosecute the case, for the crown against the two Melbourne bank robbers. Having conducted the trial against the two men last October when the jury disagreed, it was generally expected that the attorney-general would again nominate Mr. Gigney for the job, in view of the fact that Mr. Gigney would be more familiar with the case than any outside prosecutor.

Mr. Gigney will also prosecute against Clarence Topping, self-confessed slayer of Miss Geraldine Durston. The Kingston lawyer has written for all available information in connection with the Murrell and Topping cases, and it will be forwarded to him within a few days by crown attorneys here.

J. M. Donahue will again look after the interests of Murrell and possibly Williams. The latter was not entirely pleased at counsel's move in putting him in the box at the last trial, and told jail officials that he would sooner have a separate trial this time with another lawyer conducting his defense.

Williams, however, is without funds, and would probably have some difficulty in securing new counsel.

D. A. G. Swanson, who will conduct the defense of Clarence Topping, visiting Topping at the county jail yesterday afternoon for a few minutes. He was accompanied by relatives of the young Strathroy man.

CHARLES TURNER MAY RETAIN POST

Tax Collector Has Consultation With Treasurer and Aldermen.

Charles Turner, city tax collector, who tendered his resignation yesterday to the city council, will likely re-consider his decision at least, City Treasurer Bell reports.

"We had a conference yesterday, about 1 o'clock," the treasurer explained. "The collector was here in my office, and Ald. Leonard Douglass, the chairman of the finance committee, and Ald. Drake both were here and the question was discussed with Mr. Turner. Although nothing definite was accomplished in our effort to have him re-consider his move, I believe that he will consider our proposal favorably."

The treasurer also points out that it will be necessary for the council to consider the appointment of a competent assistant tax collector.

U. S. MOTORIST BREAKS CITY REGULATIONS

O. V. Lewis Gets Summons Every Time He Comes to City.

Every time O. V. Lewis comes to London from the United States in his car he forgets the parking regulations. The result is that he invariably appears in police court to answer a charge of violating the motor vehicles act.

This morning he told the court he had been apprehended locally on three occasions he had come here. As regular as clock work he gets a summons the day after arriving in town.

Mr. Lewis, a prepossessing young man, laughed at his own discomfiture and everybody in the court room laughed with him.

"We don't give you a very handsome welcome, do we?" the court observed. "I'll let you off this time if you pay the costs."

EARLY MORNING BLAZE CAUSES $1,500 LOSS

Home of N. Williams, 30 Craig Street, Is Completely Gutted.

Damage estimated at $1,500 was caused by a fire which nearly destroyed the two-story frame home of N. Williams, 30 Craig street, at 3:40 o'clock this morning.

An overheated stove was given as the origin of the fire by Fire Chief John Aiken.

The house was uninhabited at the time the fire broke out. Mr. Williams was staying with his parents, and Mrs. Williams was in the hospital. Neighbors were aroused at 3:30 from the noise of crackling timber.

The fire had gained considerable headway before firemen arrived. The interior of the house was completely gutted. The loss is covered by insurance. Mr. Williams stated today.

PHYSICAL TRAINING CLASSES.

A physical training course has been started at the Lord Roberts School under the supervision of Sgt. H. W. Johnstone, militia official. The R. C. R. classes there are now being held on Monday, Tuesday and Friday of each week from 4:30 to 5:30 in the afternoons.

PROTECTION PROPOSALS ABANDONED BY BALDWIN

Political Experts Regard Move As Clever Conservative Ruse.

DEFEAT PREDICTED

King Opens Parliament For the Most Momentous Session in History.

London, Jan. 15.—The parliamentary Labor party today decided to bring up the question of confidence in the Baldwin government for decision during the debate on the reply to the speech from the throne. At a meeting prior to the assembly of the House of Commons an amendment to the reply was framed, reading as follows:

It is, however, our duty respectfully to submit to your majesty that your majesty's present officers have not the confidence of this house."

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Jan. 15.—The much mooted question of how the Baldwin government in view of its overwhelming defeat in the recent elections on the new protective issue, would handle the subject in the king's speech at the opening of the new parliament, candidly referred to the country's rejection of the tariff proposals and indicated their abandonment by the government.

Mr. Baldwin thus faced the situation squarely in what is generally regarded as his swan song as the political expert sees nothing but defeat for him in the forthcoming vote of confidence.

But on analysis this swan song proved in the opinion of experts to be a shrewd and clever effort to spike as far as possible the guns of Labor, which is expected to assume power soon.

A large part of the speech was devoted to a discussion of bills which the Baldwin government would submit for the benefit of the working classes were it permitted to remain in power.

Baldwin Looking Ahead.

The speech furnished one of the most extensive lists of proposed measures favorable to labor that was ever placed in a king's message. In fact, the Labor party itself could hardly have issued a more striking pronouncement.

The plans cited included proposals for the betterment of industrial conditions, provisions for the much-needed houses for workers, amelioration of unemployment and the readjustment of old age pensions.

It was not that the Conservatives please see page 5, column 1.

GOVERNMENT WILL ISSUE C.N.R. LOAN

Fifty Million Authorized at the Last Session of Parliament.

SECOND SINCE JULY

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Jan. 15.—A new fifty million dollar loan for the Canadian National Railways is to be issued shortly under the auspices of the department of finance.

This will be the second loan issued by the Dominion government for the Canadian National since the last session of parliament. In July a loan of $22,500,000 was issued for the purchase of rolling stock, which with the issue of $75,948,000, it was shown today in department of commerce figures for the 12 months ending December 31.

Both loans were authorized by parliament at its last session, and the time of issue was left to the railway and governmental authorities.

U. S. FINISHES YEAR WITH FAVORABLE BALANCE

Associated Press Despatch.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The United States finished the calendar year for 1923 with a favorable foreign trade balance of $375,948,000, it was shown today in department of commerce figures for the 12 months ending December 31.

Graydon Scores Methods Of American Immigration

Thomas Taylor, an Englishman, Brought From Pontiac to London.

REMANDED FOR WEEK

The action of American immigration officials in bringing Thomas Taylor, an Englishman, to London from Pontiac and dropping him at the C. N. R. station without money was severely scored by the magistrate in police court this morning.

Taylor, having nowhere to go, came to the police to aid him in his plight. He had been an inmate of the Pontiac Asylum for the Insane, but stated he went there voluntarily to receive treatment. He was not mentally unsound, he added, and the clearness and evident intelligence with which he explained his case bore out his statement in this regard.

"I can make $10 a day anytime because I have a profitable trade," Taylor said. "I was released from the Pontiac institution and the immigration authorities immediately seized me and deported me to Canada. They said I would have to remain here one year before returning to the United States. If you let me go I shall guarantee to find a job before nightfall."

"I can't do that, for your own protection," said the court. "It seems to me that you are in a poor state of affairs when immigration officers can dump men here in London without money or means of subsistence. I'll remand you for a week. In the meantime we shall get in touch with your relatives in Montreal and see what they can do for you."

Taylor said his brother living in Montreal could do no more than support his wife and family. He preferred to go to Hamilton, where he had friends. The court decided to consider his case later.

TRUSTEES TO CONSIDER ONLY ROUTINE BUSINESS

Routine business is all that will occupy the attention of number two committee of the board of education this afternoon, according to S. F. Lawrason, chairman. Mr. Lawrason stated that he had nothing definite to bring up for consideration other than becoming organized and setting a regular day for meetings.

SCORES DIE WHEN JAPAN IS ROCKED BY QUAKE

Six Hundred Homes Demolished in Tokio and Other Cities.

EMPEROR IS SAFE

Fire Raging in the Suburbs of Tokio While Train Is Thrown in River.

Associated Press Despatch.

Tokio, Jan. 15.—Fifty persons are believed to have been killed in Tokio, Yokohama and the outside districts in today's earthquake, while many persons were injured. No casualties among foreigners have been reported. The statistics were given out by police. One report has it that 600 houses were demolished in Yokohama.

Odawara, a city on Kawasato Bay, about 75 miles southwest of here, suffered the greatest damage from the tremor, as it did last September, when vast sections of both Yokohama and Tokio and surrounding cities virtually were destroyed.

Water mains were ripped from the places and smashed by the quakes and water flooded the streets and hundreds of homes in the two cities following the shock this morning.

The buildings of modern construction which were badly damaged and many instances still in partial ruin from the disaster of last September, were further damaged by today's tremors.

The cabinet went into session immediately after the earthquake to consider relief measures and to obtain information regarding the extent of the damage.

The stock market suspended operations owing to the failure of communications.

Of this amount, 50 minutes was lost on the night of June 25, the provincial election date, when a thunderstorm of great intensity demoralized the service shortly after midnight.

The remaining 14 interruptions averaged from one minute to seven in duration, and of these seven occurred during sleeping hours.

Of the 15, the four were local interruptions, these being caused by a burned transformer, two shot insulators and trouble with a lightning arrester. The remaining 11 were all out of the jurisdiction of the local commission.

This record is considered all the more remarkable when it is realized that London is some 200 miles from the source of power.

BUILDING RECORDS MAY BE SMASHED

Sixteen Construction and Alteration Permits Issued So Far This Month.

City building authorities anticipate that January's record for 1923 will be effectively smashed.

While to date, sixteen construction and alteration permits have been issued, for work estimated at $24,894, it is expected that the board of education authorities will register the new West London school, a matter of about $180,000.

Last January's record stood at about $140,000, but $95,000 of this was school construction also.

ARRANGE SPECIAL SESSION FOR TRAFFIC PROBLEMS

London traffic problems, with Mayor Wenig's various recommendations from his inaugural address, will be considered at a special session of the city council. This was proposed and decided at yesterday's meeting of the board of works.

Rumor London Motor Club Will Now Lose Privilege Of Selling Auto Licenses

Ferguson Government Believed To Be Considering Change in System.

J. H. CHILDS MENTIONED

Total Sale in District For Year Is Expected To Net $3,000.

Rumors have it that one more political plum from the tree of patronage will fall to a London Conservative. According to reports the name of ex-Ald. J. H. Childs has been forwarded to Toronto as the logical person to handle the sale of 1924 automobile licenses for this district.

If Mr. Childs is given the appointment it would mean the London Motor Club would no longer issue the license plates and would have on their hands an office and equipment outfitted for the purpose last year, costing $700 which cannot be used for any other purpose.

Last year the licenses were sold by Arthur Keene and the London Motor Club. A commission of 25 cents on each license plate is allowed by the provincial government.

Mr. Keene sold some 6,000 auto plates and the London Motor Club sold nearly 4,500. The total sale in London and district this year is estimated to be in the neighborhood of 12,000. This would bring in about $3,000 to the person or club given the appointment.

Last year the London Motor Club, according to C. E. Bernard, secretary, spent $1,835.36 in outfitting an office, advertising, and employing a clerk to look after the sale. The revenue from the sale of 4,500 licenses amounted to $1,194. They lost almost $500, but Mr. Bernard points out that had they been given the entire issue for this district they could have handled it at practically the same expense.

The year would have ended with a surplus of nearly $1,000 which would be spent on road guides, road signs and betterment of road conditions.

The motor clubs in Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton and Peterborough have been handling the sale of licenses for some years. Clubs in London, Windsor, Chatham, St. Thomas, St. Catharines, Brantford and Stratford were all appointed issuers last year. All of these clubs have been re-appointed this year with the exception of London and Brantford.

According to law, licenses have to be secured by motorists on or before February 1. Notice of appointment is expected to reach the city within a few days. The London Club feel they're the only people in a position to handle the expected rush sale, having an office and staff ready to accommodate purchasers.

ROBBERS GET $26,000 IN ST. LOUIS HOLD-UP

Associated Press Despatch.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 15.—Six men, armed with revolvers, entered the West End Trust and Savings Bank here this morning and after firing several shots to intimidate the employees, escaped with $26,000 in cash.

BOY, STRUCK BY BULLET RETURNS TO HIS SCHOOL

Living up to his prophecy of last night, Harry Kincaid, 119 Garfield avenue, returned to Tecumseh School this morning feeling none the worse for his experience of yesterday when he narrowly escaped serious injury from a bullet fired by a chum. The bullet grazed the lad's stomach.

Of the 15, the four were local interruptions, these being caused by a burned transformer, two shot insulators and trouble with a lightning arrester. The remaining 11 were all out of the jurisdiction of the local commission.

This record is considered all the more remarkable when it is realized that London is some 200 miles from the source of power.

REVISION OF "916" URGED BY HAYDEN

Alderman Would Amend Street Railway Agreement With City.

Ald. Edmund Hayden would revise Bylaw 916—the city's agreement with the street railway company—bring it up-to-date, and change the number of it, if necessary.

"I'm sick and tired of hearing about Bylaw 916," he stated. "Let's have a new number. I'm fed up with hearing some of them talk about Bylaw 916, and sometimes I don't think they know much about what they were talking."

In all seriousness, however, Ald. Hayden feels that, if necessary, the bylaw should be amended in order to carry out arrangements with the company for payment of "track allowances."

"We will have to have some amicable understanding about payment if we are going to have any more paving done in the city," he warned. "If the aldermen want mud holes instead of streets, however, that's a different proposition."

LINDSAY FACTORY IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Loss of $100,000 Is Suffered by R. M. Beal Leather Company.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Lindsay, Ont., Jan. 15.—The three-story brick office and the large four-story brick harness factory and warehouse of the R. M. Beal Leather Company was completely destroyed by fire this morning. At 2:15 a.m. the alarm was sounded and 15 minutes later the huge structure was a mass of flames. The loss is estimated at $100,000. Fire started in the office end of the building and spread to the top story of the warehouse and factory and with the falling in of the roof they spread to the lower story.

Nothing could be saved and frequently the firemen had narrow escapes from death when the walls commenced to fall, electric and telephone cables snapped and large flying embers and smoke fell like a barrage. The loss includes thousands of dollars worth of harness.

Some 40 men have been thrown out of work.

ICE NOT THICK ENOUGH TO START CUTTING WORK

Although John Frost has worn a few chilly smiles this winter, he has not manufactured ice thick enough to be stored away in the various ice houses of the city.

Officials of the Crystal Lake Ice Company stated today that cutting operations would not be started on the Coves till Saturday. At the present time the best the weatherman can manufacture is ice seven inches thick.

CITY GARBAGE COLLECTORS ASK BINDING AGREEMENT

Present Request to City Council For Official Recognition.

FIRST MOVE SINCE 1921

Seek Assurance Working Conditions Will Not Be Altered.

After a lapse of more than two years the members of the city garbage men's union have presented a request for official recognition from the city council.

City authorities acknowledged that the formal request will be submitted in due course to the members of the board of works and then to the city council for final disposition.

This is said to be the first move of its kind since 1921, and the city officials explain that the council did not enter into any agreement with the men as now appears to be requested.

"This is practically what it amounts to," one of the officials in touch with the situation explains. "The men, in their request for a formal agreement, ask for certain things, and they define the working hours, etc."

"But as we see it, they are getting now practically what they ask other than a formal agreement with the city for the current year. In other words, the reduced wage assurance that their present working conditions, etc., will not be altered materially during the year."

During 1923 the garbage men were among the outside civic employees who were hit by the 10 per cent salary reduction instituted by ex-Mayor Cameron Wilson and his associates. The reduction was effective throughout the term until restored just as the council of that day went out of office.

BIG POTATO ACREAGE PREDICTED IN COUNTY

Rate Seed "Spuds" Are Being Sold Augurs Well For Year's Crop.

At the rate Middlesex farmers are buying seed potatoes, a record acreage for 1924 will be planted, according to those in touch with the county potato situation.

"More seed potatoes have been purchased at this time of the year than I have ever known," stated one big potato grower.

"There will be an especially large acreage of early potatoes planted," he continued. "Good seed potatoes are selling from $1.50 to $2.50 per bag, home grown stuff, while certified seed may be bought from $2 to $2.50 a bag. From what I can gather there will be over 2,000 acres of potatoes planted in Middlesex this year. In 1923 the acreage was about 1,500."

HORN IS HELD FOR BILL, BUT POLICEMAN AIDS

Merchant's Method of Collecting Account Fails To Work.

There may be more than one method of skinning a cat, and naturally there are deep and devious ways of collecting bills that have long been overdue. One London merchant thought he was well on the way towards collecting an outstanding account yesterday, but in the words of the young man in the case, he has another "blow" coming.

A widow, who recently moved her good and chattels to Wallaceton, left a big bass horn, owned by her husband, to be sold by the youth, and he was doing his best to make a sale.

A musician in the employ of the merchant, finally obtained the horn on trial, and he promptly "sold" his roubles to a policeman, with the result that the horn is once more in his possession. He is still looking for a sale.

This didn't look right to the unfortunate youth, and he promptly "sold" his roubles to a policeman, with the result that the horn is once more in his possession. He is still looking for a sale.

TAKE SALTS IF STOMACH ISN'T ACTING RIGHT
Says Indigestion Results From an Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.
Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather ferments, the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by Hyperacidity meaning there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest; we belch up gas; we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.
He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink it while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to help neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.
Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used for many stomach disorders with excellent results.—Adv.

GOOD VAUDEVILLE BILL SHOWN AT LOEW'S THEATRE

BALANCED PROGRAM

To be correct, a graph of the vaudeville at Loew's will indicate this week's bill by means of a quality line hovering near the top. It would seem that the promise of "Better Vaudeville" is a light that didn't fall. From the ranks of mediocrity, the three acts showing just now step forth with great brilliancy.
"The Weiss Troup" who open the bill have about the best act. Yesterday's audiences didn't have the slightest hesitation in showing their approval. One unusual feature about this act is that the combination of "strong-man" and artistic violinist isn't exactly a common one.
Glenn and Richards have about average ability, but an adeptness in setting forth what they can do, which doesn't in the least belong to the average. The lady has a nice voice, and the dancing isn't bad. For the rest—the act is well-devised, written with originality and it hasn't been allowed to lose anything in the presentation.
Revue Headliner.
Miss Hall's Revue is the headliner. Miss Hall herself would seem a trifle too ready to edge the other members of the company out of the spotlight and with a slightly angular albeit smiling bow accept the applause offered them. The lullaby song yesterday was the big hit of the act, but the spotlight flashed back to Miss Hall's smile, and not the rather pretty young lady who sang it. The blackface comedy is good, and so is the little girl with her song. The white costumes are not becoming, nor do they noticeably add to the effectiveness of the scenery.
"Stephen Steps Out," a film adaptation of a story by Richard Harding Davis is the feature picture. It is a lucky find as the first vehicle for Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., because it gives him an opportunity to show that he possesses the smile, the walk, inherited from his paternal ancestor, together with a promising measure of that same athletic ability which develop, without stressing too much the fact that Douglas, Jr., is still immature, and with no marked ability as an actor.
Engaging Lad.
Douglas, Sr., has no need to feel embarrassed on his son's account. He is an engaging lad. It isn't a matter of much question that the smile will become more prepossessing, and that the athletic ability will develop, and the screen will become possessed of two Douglases, the one vying with the other.
Apart from the fact that it introduces young Fairbanks, "Stephen Steps Out" is a first-class picture. There is humor, interest, action, and it demonstrates forcibly that a picture can be a real picture and yet get along without a lovely heroine, be she blonde or brunette, because there is only one woman in it, and she only incidental.
Theodore Roberts, Noah Beery, and Harry Myers are among an excellent cast.
There are two short pictures, one of the Fighting Blood series, and a Pathe Weekly, one of the interesting shots in the latter being Miss Lois Booth of Ottawa and her royal fiancé, caught in a truly democratic scene.

There were half a dozen applications for relief made by residents of Manor Park. One party was given an order for half a ton of coal, while the other petitions for help were turned over to Reeve Laidlaw and Deputy-Reeve Boier to investigate and take action if necessary.
Petitions were received from Glenworth and Lambeth, asking the council to hold their bi-monthly meetings in those places. The matter was laid over for a month, when definite action will be taken.

DR. MCCAIG GIVES INTERESTING TALK HOME RELATIONS

In Adelaide St. Baptist Church Last Night Before Large Congregation.

ADAPTATION ESSENTIAL

Last night, in the Adelaide Street Baptist Church, under the head of "Nagging Wives and Overbearing Husbands," Dr. J. Aspinall McCaig discussed the matter of the adaptation of the man and the woman in the marriage relationship.

"Adjustment and adaptation are always essential," he declared, "where parts are combined to make a working whole, and the adjustment of a man and a woman for the proper performance of the functions of the family involves physical and mental and spiritual adaptation."
The common impediments to easy adjustment in the marriage relationship were declared to be, first, that the man and woman come of different stock, with different inherited tendencies; second, that they each have lived many years under different molding conditions; and, third, that they both have a certain tendency to caring for self from childhood, considering self even in the choice of each other, and each capable of continuing self-existence after the death of the other.
These impediments to a happy adjustment were asserted to be insuperable unless there be certain essential adaptations. "Sex affinity," declared Dr. McCaig, "is not sufficient."
The essentials of adaptation were stated to be, first, the instinctive subjugation of the ego in each in favor of the other, commonly known as the condition of love; second, the practice of transposition by which they endeavor to see things from each other's standpoint; third, the recognition of the varying superiority in each, and fourth, the acceptance of marriage as a love relationship to be maintained in integrity only by a continuance of those subtle acts of love that made courtship a delight.
In the arrangement of the forces that operate against harmonious married life, Dr. McCaig cited as forces positively hostile to adaptation any outside influence encroaching upon the home, such as the permanent presence in the home during the first year of married life of either the man's mother or the woman's mother. Controlling passions and appetites, and ambitions that do not converge in the home were also cited in this connection.
Against these Dr. McCaig set forth the influences that were of a comforting character, tending to draw the man and woman together, such as seasons of companionship, common ambitions and the income of the little child.
"Courtship and Woman's Love" will be Dr. McCaig's subject tonight at 8 o'clock in the King Street Presbyterian Church, when he will deliver the second of his popular lectures on marriage.
This afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Adelaide Street Church he will give the second of his special lectures to women on home standards. "The Care of the Boy" will be this afternoon's subject.
All of these addresses are community lectures, non-sectarian and free to all.

LOWER FREIGHT RATES.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing
If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much, free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.
The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, which is pure and greaseless, and is better than anything else you can use.
Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.
You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.—Adv.

"BREEZY TIMES" IS HIGH VARIETY OF BURLESQUE

Splendid Comedy and Dancing Feature Offering at Grand.

HUMOROUS PLAYLETS

"Breezy Times," the burlesque showing at the Grand Theatre, is a riot of fun. Comedy, singing and dancing of an exceptional order are here extravagantly rendered, and the variety of numbers and costumes combine to place it several notches higher than the average standard of productions shown on the Columbia circuit.
The contagious comedy distilled by George Leon and Jamie Coughlin contributes much toward the mirth of the audience. Leon is the boisterous, exuberant type, while Coughlin presents a nicely modulated contrast with his unassuming humor. The skit, "Giving the Baby the Air," shows the former at his best in the role of an essentially really human but ridiculous policeman.
"The Silent Sanatorium" is a well-thought-out, distinctly original slapstick attempt which is uproarious in spots. The comedians resort to every trick on the calendar from punning to horse-play, and everyone, if laughter is a barometer of judgment, proves eminently entertaining.

Dancing talent is well distributed in "Breezy Times," but Earl Mossman is the prize-winning toe artist of the group. This heel-and-toe expert performs with rare facility, few dancers having appeared in the city who could move their legs with the trip-hammer quickness and eloquence of Mossman.
The show comprises several burlesque playlets, including "A Matrimonial Storm," which shows Charles Wesson and Jamie Coughlin at their best. The double dancing performance of this pair with one of them doing the shadow part behind a huge cloak draws rounds of applause.
Bedini and Arthur are a pair of jugglers who manipulate china crockery with experienced hands and leave their act with enough humor

INSPECTOR SUCCESSFUL IN CHARGE OF CRUELTY

Essex Farmer Found Guilty of Not Properly Caring For Horses.

Humane Inspector G. A. Tustin arrived back in the city this morning after successful prosecuting a case of cruelty to animals in the Essex county court.

Mr. Tustin charged James Gerard, a farmer of Essex, with cruelty, and stated that it was one of the worst cases he had seen. The farmer had kept his horses in a stable that had not been cleaned out since it was built and had fed the animals but half a bale of hay since Christmas.

When the case was called Monday, the courtroom was full of farmers, who listened to the case. Gerard was found guilty and let go on suspended sentence after paying the costs of the trial, amounting to $104. This included fees of two veterinary surgeons, six witnesses, stabling and feeding of the horses, solicitor's fees and court costs.

Calcium Wafers Bring Beauty

How Stuart's Calcium Wafers Transform a Pimpled, Muddy Skin to Pinkish Loveliness.

It was certainly a most fortunate discovery when it was found that one of the necessary constituents of skin health is calcium.

About twenty-five years ago this important substance was incorporated in Stuart's Calcium Wafers and since then thousands of girls have enjoyed beautiful complexion.

This wonderful substance removes from the system the waste products that often get into the skin to cause pimples, blackheads, blotches and skin eruptions. It also removes the calcium that is necessary to skin repair and health.

You cannot get this wonderful result from cosmetics or drugs, for you have a clear, beautiful complexion with this wonderful calcium. So when you are near a drug store ask for a 60-cent box of Stuart's Calcium Wafers or send name and address to F. A. Stuart Co., 234 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich., for a free trial package. Adv.

Youth Calmly Announces Bullet Wound in Stomach

Explains He Is Late For Supper Because He Was Shot.

HIT WHILE SKATING

Harry Kincaid Worries Little Over Narrow Escape From Death.

Answering an inquiry of his mother relative to his reason for being late for dinner last night, Harry Kincaid, 119 Garfield avenue, calmly stated that he had been shot in the stomach while skating in the afternoon, and that he had just come from the hospital, where he had the wound dressed and bandaged.

Further questioning from his mother drew out the story, which, according to Harry, disclosed a remarkable escape from serious injury, if not death.

Skates On River.

After school yesterday afternoon, Harry, who is the 13-year-old son of C. Kincaid, a foreman at the Universal Garage, went skating on the river behind McClary's foundry. Several of his schoolmates from Tecumseh school were there, and the boys were enjoying themselves.

One of them, 15 years old, had a .22 rifle, with which he was shooting at a tin can stuck on the ice. Just as he fired a shot Harry glided in front of the direction the rifle was pointed. The bullet, after hitting the tin continued on its way, ricocheting off the ice. It glanced upward and tore through Harry's sweater and underclothing, grazing his abdomen. Crying that he was hurt, he turned to the boys, who immediately took him to the hospital, where the wound was dressed by one of the internes. The boy was also inoculated against poisoning.

The shooting occurred at 5:15 p.m., and at 6:50 Harry was home again apparently none the worse for his experience. He was in bed last night, he was sitting at the table enjoying a game of dominoes with a chum.

Back To School.

"It stung pretty much at the time, but I don't feel it much now. My arm where it was inoculated feels much sorer. I guess I will be back at school tomorrow."

That was how he dismissed the experience. His father and mother had different views, however, their feeling of thankfulness being great. The father stated that had the boy been going the least bit faster on his skates he would have received the bullet in the stomach and thereby have suffered serious injury.

Detective Sergeant Harry Down visited the boy's home shortly after the younger returned home and informed them that he had found the boy who did the shooting and had taken the rifle away from him after pointing out the danger of his act. Any action that may be taken will be done by the juvenile court authorities, both boys being under 16 years of age.

CITY GROCERS PETITION FOR CLOSING AMENDMENT

W. TURNBULL'S TAX PLAN SAID SIMILAR TO NEW PROPOSAL

Merchants Here Indorse President's Ideas To Abolish Sales Tax System.

BIGGER INCOME LEVY

London manufacturers, discussing the labor recommendation made to Ottawa, that the sales tax be abolished, pointed out this morning that the plan proposed to replace it is virtually the same as that suggested by William Turnbull, president of the Ontario Wholesale Grocers' Association, who recently described the system to The Advertiser.

Mr. Turnbull's suggestion finds ready approval from wholesale and retail merchants here. His plan is to levy an increased tax on incomes. This, he says, would eliminate the many complexities of the present sales tax and make for greater economy so far as collections are concerned.

To The Advertiser, Mr. Turnbull further outlined the scheme. "Many people, particularly the laboring class, seem to think they escape taxation through the operation of a sales tax," Mr. Turnbull said, "but if they do not pay directly, they pay indirectly, and usually much more than they would if the tax were levied on all incomes."

Of course, it would be folly to impose a big tax on persons drawing large incomes only. Everybody must contribute in paying for the war.

"As a man's income becomes larger he would naturally pay a proportionately higher tax."

"The interest on Canada's national debt is $4,000,000 annually. Necessarily, under the sales tax system, the consumer shoulders the whole burden, and the cost of the system is tremendous. All this could be avoided by the imposition of an additional income tax."

An educational campaign, showing the people that money they would gain by submitting to an income tax arrangement by which every salaried man, wage earner and proprietor of a business would be compelled to part with a proportion of his income, would replace the sales tax, would bring great benefit to the country, Mr. Turnbull declared. The income scale would be graduated so the big earners would pay higher percentages than the smaller ones.

"Thousands of young people, making from $1,000 to $1,200 a year, who live at home with their parents, would, under this plan, be enabled to accept their share of the country's obligations."

Members of the finance committee, at their inquiry session tomorrow night, will consider thorough street railway problems, Chairman Douglass stated.

The city has received certain money from the common council that it would be advisable for the committee to accept this. We could have the city solicitor's opinion, of course," he explained.

It is the chairman's desire, however, that a definite report be brought in to the council Monday night.

Carter sees more delay before opening of tomb. Luron, Jan. 15.—Fully three weeks, perhaps months, more delay before the shrines in the tomb of Tutankhamen can be dismantled and the pharaoh's sarcophagus reached, Howard Carter, in charge of the work, made known yesterday, saying it was possible that the joinery of the shrines might compel him to alter the scaffolding and the whole plan of dismantling operations, thereby delaying still further the opening of the sarcophagus.

The raising of the lid of this immense quartz coffin, which Mr. Carter estimates may weigh a ton or two, will be an operation of the greatest delicacy in the confined space in which the excavators must work. Mr. Carter describes the sarcophagus as very large and long. It is of a grayish-pink hue, its curious tint suggesting that it may have been painted. It is more than eight feet long and about five and a half feet high. These are rough estimates, as only the front of the sarcophagus has been seen.

NORRIS SUPPORTS MOVE TO ASSIST AGRICULTURE

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, Jan. 15.—The third session of the seventeenth legislative assembly of Manitoba was convened last night and debate on the speech from the throne commenced. Stating that the measure for the single transferable vote was the only piece of legislation mentioned in the throne speech, Hon. T. C. Norris, leader of the opposition, intimated that he intends to support the government in all the legislation of which it had formally given notice.

Commenting on the need of aiding the agricultural industry, Mr. Norris spoke vigorously in support of the Dominion government removing alcohol from the duty on agricultural implements as a means of offsetting the proposed increase in the cost, and indicated that he will propose a resolution to this effect for adoption by the house.

RELIGIOUS STUDY IN SCHOOLS URGED

London Presbytery Asks 15-Minute Period Every Day.

Religious education in the schools occupied the greater part of the morning session of the London Presbytery which concluded with the passing of a resolution that the school trustees be approached in the matter of introducing a period of 15-minute religious study every day.

Several speakers were heard on this subject, among them being Inspector Thompson, Inspector McKillop, and Messrs. McCrae, and McGillivray.

The resignation of W. H. Geddes for 25 years pastor at Ailsa Craig was accepted with regret to take effect on January 31. Several members of his congregation spoke in glowing terms of Mr. Geddes.

Plans for the induction of John T. Hall of St. James Church, Yorkmouth, were left in the hands of the moderator and secretary. The service will be held February 1.

Dr. McNair was appointed interim moderator.

MAN OF MANY ALIASES FACES MURDER CHARGE

J. Barkin Caught, in Montreal, Will Be Taken to Detroit.

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, Jan. 15.—Arrested in this city on a charge of passing a worthless check, John Barkin, alias James Patterson, alias Parks, and said to be wanted in Toronto on a similar charge, pleaded not guilty before extradition Commissioner Choquet to the murder of James Brennan at Grosse Ile, near Detroit, on Dec. 14 last. After pleading, Barkin waived extradition proceedings, but must appear in enquete court here Friday before he can be sent to Detroit. It is thought that the charges here and in Toronto will be dropped in consideration of the capital charge.

The man was chatting in a careless way with detectives, who had no suspicion of the Detroit charge, when a detective remarked that inquiries had been made about him from Detroit. The prisoner's manner changed. His face turned livid, his eyes blazed, and he was seized with a fit of convulsive sobbing. Inquiries were at once set on foot, which led to the present charge.

According to the Detroit police, Brennan, who was a drug trafficker, is alleged to have been in partnership with Barkin.

HUSBAND OF NOVELIST MAY SEEK DIVORCE

Associated Press Despatch. New York, Jan. 15.—Robert J. Sanderson, husband of Ninah Wilcox Putnam Sanderson, novelist, whose decree of divorce obtained in a Rhode Island court was recently vacated, in a formal statement today said he had instructed his attorneys to begin an effort "to determine whether grounds exist on which I could bring an action for divorce against my wife."

The brief statement concluded as follows: "In fairness to her the public should suspend its judgment until the facts are known."

MEXICAN FEDERAL ARMY OPEN DRIVE ON REBELS. Washington, Jan. 15.—The advance by Mexican federal troops against the revolutionary army on the western front began today and will continue until the issue is decided, the Mexican embassy said in a statement yesterday giving advice from Mexico City.

The rebels who attacked Pachuca have been driven back and suffered heavy losses," the statement continued. "Tehuacan was recaptured by federal troops and retreating yesterday at Esperanza. The precipitate retreat was halted near El Carmen plantation and a battle has been in progress there since Sunday afternoon."

"Federal troops have launched a general attack on the city of Caxaca and its capture is momentarily expected."

MANY REFUGEES PLAN TO COME TO CANADA. Associated Press Despatch. Bucharest, Jan. 15.—Robert Brunel Rumanian delegate to the League of Nations, estimates after an investigation that there are in transit in Rumania 4,000 Russian Jewish refugees of whom approximately 1,500 plan to go to Canada. The others hold U. S. visas and are awaiting a chance to go to the U. S. under next year's quota.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL CHOOSE HEADS TOMORROW

Growth of Local Organization Predicted This Year—Annual Meeting.

2 CONVENTIONS COMING

The annual meeting of the Trades and Labor Council, to be held on Wednesday night in the Labor Temple at eight o'clock, will see the election of officers for 1924.

The meetings of the council have not been as well attended as they might have been during the summer and autumn of last year owing to disturbing influences introduced by certain events of a large number of the officials, however, is that this year will see a growth and strengthening of the council and of its activities. It is hoped that with the selection of new delegates from the locals in the city renewed interest in the council and that more may be accomplished than in the past.

It is customary to nominate members for office at the regular meeting in December and to elect them at the first meeting of the year. This year, however, owing to the poor attendance of delegates and the generally unsettled condition of affairs in the council, the nomination has not yet been held, and on Wednesday night the men who are nominated will also have to defend their position.

There is no one specially in view for the presidency in the event of Jack McGuire, the present president, not being re-elected. Officials are hoping for a large turnout of delegates so that the officers may be really representative of all the locals in the city. In view of the fact that the Dominion Trades Congress convention and the annual convention of the Canadian Labor party will be held this year in London, it is essential, they say, that a thoroughly efficient and representative executive of the Trades and Labor Council should hold office.

SEVEN PERSONS HURT AT RIVERDALE SLIDE. Accident Occurs When Bobsleigh Carrying Party of Twelve Overtakes.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Jan. 15.—Seven persons were hurt, three so badly that their removal to the hospital was advised by the attending physician last night when their bobsleigh struck an ice bank and overturned on the Riverdale slides. In all there were 12 on the sleigh when the accident occurred.

Five men, two women and a child, were on the sleigh when it overturned and jumped to their feet. They assisted in carrying the injured to a doctor's office from where three were rushed to St. Michael's Hospital, while the others were removed in ambulances to their homes.

Bessie Blair, aged 19 years, struck the ice slide with terrific force, rendering her unconscious. George McDonald, aged 13, was suffering from a nasty scalp wound and cuts about the face. Harry Murphy, aged 15 years, received a deep cut in his head and face. Others after medical attention were removed to their homes.

It is several years now since Dr. Hugh Stevenson was mayor of London, but that fact is not known evidently to a certain party in Toronto. A communication was received by the ex-mayor's appreciation in connection with certain radio activities.

DISPUTE AMONG CHURCH FACTIONS NEAR SOLUTION. Associated Press Despatch. New York, Jan. 15.—The church of St. Mark's in the Bowery intends to reorganize as a Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York, and its rector, warden and vestrymen believe differences with Bishop William T. Manning, in no way connected with the reorganization, will be settled amicably, it was announced yesterday after a meeting of Dr. William Norman Guthrie, rector, with church officials.

Explaining the attitude of the church towards the alleged pagan and symbolic dances in the church and parish hall, to which the bishop took exception, St. Mark's vestrymen denied categorically that they were deserving of censure from any ecclesiastical authorities.

"We have no more right than any other citizen to know what the business figures or income as sent in to the Dominion tax collector."

COAL AS MISSILE, OFFICER ASSERTS

Mrs. Lilly Abbott Is Indignant Over Disorderly Charge.

When Mrs. Lilly Abbott appeared in police court with her crooning baby this morning it was apparent from the intolerant expression of her face that she intended giving the magistrate a piece of her mind. She was charged, "the sergeant said, being disorderly, swearing and fighting."

"I don't care what you do with me," she said in a high-pitched voice, "but I just want to tell you this. Your police force are always picking up people like us, but you don't touch the drunkards. Why don't you do your duty?"

"I shall have to commit you to jail if your persist in being impertinent," the magistrate said.

"I don't care what you do with me," the young woman said contemptuously.

Sergeant Last, on the stand, said he had been attracted to the Abbott home by "the worst language I've heard in years." He heard Abbott threaten to slap his wife on the face, and Mrs. Abbott dared him to do it, at the same time using vile language.

"She was sitting with a lump of coal in her hand ready to throw it at her husband," the sergeant said.

"How do you know I wasn't going to put the coal in the stove?" questioned Mrs. Abbott.

The young husband said it was mostly his fault. He wanted to go to the roller rink without his wife and she objected.

WINTER DISEASES, LIKE FLU,
LARGELY DUE TO FOOD HABITS.

Everyone remembers the dread flu following the war. Few recall the absence of flu and most diseases during the war, or know that neither before, during, nor after the war, among races not following civilization's food habits. Why was this? Blood must be kept alkaline by eating alkaline foods, yet civilized races refine out of their most important foods—the grains—the alkaline salts, just to make flour white, cereals dainty. The result is acid blood. Acids leaving the blood by the skin, linings of nose, throat, lungs, etc., irritating these surfaces and lowering body vitality, enabling disease germs to attack the body.

During the war acid forming white flour, refined cereals, meats, sweets were controlled. Alkaline whole grains, milk, nuts, beans, vegetables and fruits were increased. There was no flu. After the war people glutted themselves upon acid-forming white flour—refined cereals, fats, etc., resulting in millions of deaths through flu. Flu will continue its ravages while stupid food habits prevail.

Roman Meal is richly alkaline, 400 parts in each 1,000 "Excess Alkali." It corrects the acids of white flour, other cereals, fats and sweets, keeping the blood alkaline. Nature's own immunizer against disease, which protects the savage who lives upon natural foods. Use Roman Meal some way every day. It relieves constipation, prevents indigestion, alkalizes the blood, keeps you well. It was designed by a physician-dietitian, aware of the "Deficiencies" of modern refined foods, for this very purpose. Delicious, easily prepared, economical. Roman Meal is an un-mixed blessing to the modern child fed so largely upon deficient white flour and refined cereals.—Adv.

Mrs. Lachapelle Tells How Dodd's Kidney Pills Helped Her.

Backache, bearing-down pains, dizziness, headaches and depression are early symptoms of kidney weakness, too often misunderstood. Weak kidneys go from bad to worse through wrong treatment or neglect. There is always danger of rheumatism, sciatitis, dropsy, and stone in the kidneys or bladder.

The moment you suspect your kidneys use Dodd's Kidney Pills to strengthen and restore them. Dodd's Kidney Pills have built up their reputation as a kidney remedy by the relief they give. Insist upon having Dodd's, the kidney pills your neighbors use.—Adv.

PARLIAMENT WILL OPEN
THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 28

Premier Announce Date Following Cabinet Meeting—Later Than Usual.

SESSION MOMENTOUS

Ottawa, Jan. 14. — Parliament will open on Thursday, February 28. Announcement of the date of the opening was made by Premier King at the close of a cabinet meeting this evening.

The date is almost a month later than that of last year, when parliament assembled on January 31. In contrast to last year, when the opening was on a Wednesday, the time-honored custom of meeting on Thursday will be observed this year. After the opening ceremonies and the delivery of the speech from the throne, adjournment will probably be made until the following Monday, when the real business of the session will commence.

Session this year will be momentous. Not only will important questions such as redistribution and the banking system be again before the House, but the proceedings of parliament will be of special interest in their bearing on the political situation.

The Theatre of the Home

The stage is set, the performers ready. Your mood this evening calls for the inspiring strains of Verdi. Suddenly you hear Caruso singing "Celeste Aida"—(Heavenly Aida)—clear, sweet, vibrant, real as life itself. For the moment you sit in an orchestra seat at the opera—with all its pomp and pageantry.

Then perhaps you long for the sweet strains of "The Last Rose of Summer"—and as the soft clear notes of Elman's violin sound in your ears, you can all but see him draw his bow across the magic strings.

But whether it be Caruso, or Elman, or the boom of Sousa's band, or the latest happy-go-lucky dance hit,—"HIS MASTER'S VOICE" Victrola and "HIS MASTER'S VOICE"-VICTOR Records prove their superiority by making you forget the man-made reproduction and remember only the sensation of having living artists and real musical instruments—a few feet beyond the chair in which you sit.

And by virtue of such masterly performance "HIS MASTER'S VOICE" Victrola is the standard by which all instruments are judged. Often this causes many to refer to all instruments as Victrolas but for your own best interests as well as ours, remember there is only one real genuine Victrola—and that bears our famous trade-mark "HIS MASTER'S VOICE" under the lid. Be very careful to see that it is on the instrument you buy.

Why "HIS MASTER'S VOICE" VICTROLA dominates!

The Victrola goose-neck supports the sound box, allowing it full play. It takes the weight off the needle point, making for flexibility and consequently produces that unequalled exactness of tone for which "HIS MASTER'S VOICE" Victrola is pre-eminent; at the same time preserving the record from wear because of the very light weight pressure upon the needle. This is but one of the many features that combine to make "HIS MASTER'S VOICE" Victrola—incomparably best.

STREET RAILWAY REMITS SHARE OF PAVING COSTS

CITY GETS $5,882 AS INSTALLMENT ON PAVING COSTS

London Street Railway Company Remits Checks to Cover Share on Paving Work.

MAYOR SATISFIED

The London Street Railway Company authorities are evidently prepared to abide by the city council resolution of 1923, whereby it was stipulated that they would have ten years in which to pay for their proportion of the Richmond street and other paving projects.

The company officials have made the first move in any event, and their checks, aggregating $5,882.54, reached the city hall this morning for that purpose.

Of this amount, the sum of $5,062.60 represents the company's share of the 1923 paving work, Richmond, Stanley and Briscoe streets, while the remainder is "interest charges" to date.

Whether the city should accept this money remains for the consideration of the members of the city council. The finance committee may deal with this important item tomorrow night, or may decide to wait the further opinion of City Solicitor T. G. Meredith.

Mayor Wenige is one of those who insists that the city council should adhere strictly to the 1923 resolution and allow the company to meet its obligations in ten annual installments.

"There has been a lot of worry in certain quarters about our money from the company," he stated. "But there is no need to worry. Here we have today the first annual payment with interest charges to date."

felt the program would defer the defeat of the government.

Mr. Baldwin, say the experts, was undoubtedly looking ahead to the next election when he framed the speech.

The question of preferential tariff for the dominion, which the Baldwin government agrees to, will be submitted to parliament and will furnish a subject of debate.

The probability of a Labor government's early accession to power in no way dented the ancient splendor and pageantry which for centuries have been associated with the opening of the British parliament.

Crowds Cheer Leaders.

Just before noon the royal coach, a gorgeous equipage of full gold and shining glass rolled behind the eight bay horses along the troop-lined route from Buckingham Palace to Westminster carrying the king and queen.

For an hour previous to the passing of the royal procession crowds of commoners jostled each other and cheered everywhere. Everywhere the horse-drawn conveyance, for horses rather than automobiles are the vehicles of chief interest when parliament opens.

Because of the unusual interest in the political situation the crowds outside and inside the parliament buildings were greater than in any such occasions. Everywhere the Laborite supporters were in evidence and whenever a Laborite M.P. ascended through the throne, trying to make his way to the gates of the parliament enclosure he was accorded prolonged cheers.

HEART WAS SO BAD HAD TO SIT UP IN BED

Mrs. O. E. Fitzgerald, 105 Ross street, St. Thomas, Ont., writes: "In the fall of 1921 I was taken ill with my heart, but I did not pay much attention to it. I kept on with my household duties, but seemed to become worse and worse, and finally had to call in a doctor. He said I was all run down, and was a nervous wreck. I had a severe pain in my chest which would move over to my heart, and it became so bad I could not lie down, as when I did I had such a smothering feeling I would have to sit up in bed till it passed away."

"I tried several remedies, but with no good results. Finally, I was induced to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I took seven boxes, and I am now as well as ever. I am now 50 and I am now 50 years old."

NOTED JOURNALIST IS HERE GETTING FOREST CITY 'COLOR'

Alfred E. Henderson Tells Americans of the Real Canada.

LONG NEEDED WANT

Lecturer Declares Novels Give People Wrong Impression of Country.

Alfred E. Henderson, journalist and well-known lecturer, is in London for the week and is occupying his time in getting the color and story of the city for the benefit of our American cousins. Mr. Henderson has been engaged for some years by one of the largest American papers to write feature articles on various aspects of Canadian life and work, and at the present time is writing a series of stories on the Dominion and the Canadian West. He is an Englishman and has done the same kind of work in Norway, Sweden, England, and several other European countries.

Mr. Henderson regards his work in the nature of fulfilling a long-pending want on the part of the Dominion by telling Americans the real life of the people in the country and trying to break down the vicious and altogether wrong impressions created by American novelists in the hands of the majority of Americans as to the Dominion.

"I want to tell the readers of my papers over there," he said, "the truth as to Canada. They know it only by reading some ridiculous novel that features snow, and ice and wolves and a race of melodramatic in the North West Mounted Police. The real Canada they are ignorant as we are of Russia."

Mr. Henderson carries with him recommendations from many famous English and American newspaper owners and editors, and they seem to regard him as a worthy apostle of the imperial cause in the States. While he says he hopes he will be able to speak to Londoners on some popular topic, either at some hall in the evening or to one of the social and service clubs at luncheon meeting. In many ways he sees a great similarity between some of the Scandinavian countries in their social systems, general life and has interesting comparisons to draw. His lectures are all illustrated with lantern pictures and deal with American as well as Canadian and European subjects.

He assured The Advertiser that the readers on the other side devour everything that deals with Canada with the greatest avidity, and his stories are exceedingly popular across the line.

"You know," he remarked, "Canada is really a wonderful new source. It simply teems with history and color. You have so many sides of activity that are intensely interesting. You have the mountains, Quebec, and Ontario, and the prairie and the Pacific coast, and they are all different. Each has its distinct story and color and industry. You have a great variety of natural resources and a huge belt of absolutely unknown land in Labrador and up in the Far North. Perhaps we are getting our own country too much written up, but at least here I am in the Dominion enjoying my trip immensely, telling the other chaps all about the real you. They like it, too."

For an hour previous to the passing of the royal procession crowds of commoners jostled each other and cheered everywhere. Everywhere the horse-drawn conveyance, for horses rather than automobiles are the vehicles of chief interest when parliament opens.

Because of the unusual interest in the political situation the crowds outside and inside the parliament buildings were greater than in any such occasions. Everywhere the Laborite supporters were in evidence and whenever a Laborite M.P. ascended through the throne, trying to make his way to the gates of the parliament enclosure he was accorded prolonged cheers.

EARL OF WARWICK DIES AT DEVONSHIRE HOME

Associated Press Despatch.

Beer, Devonshire, Jan. 15.—The fifth Earl of Warwick, otherwise Francis Richard Charles Guy Grey, died today, aged 70. He was educated in Christ Church, Oxford, and was a member of parliament as a Conservative for East Somersetshire at one time.

His countess who was Frances Evelyn, daughter of Col. Hon. Charles Henry Maynard, was one of the outstanding candidates for parliament in the last general election, but was defeated. The successor to the title is Leopold Guy Francis Maynard, Lord Brooke, who is 41.

The Warwick estates consist of about 10,000 acres including the famous Warwick Castle in Warwickshire and Easton Lodge at Dunmow, Essex.

HEART WAS SO BAD HAD TO SIT UP IN BED

Mrs. O. E. Fitzgerald, 105 Ross street, St. Thomas, Ont., writes: "In the fall of 1921 I was taken ill with my heart, but I did not pay much attention to it. I kept on with my household duties, but seemed to become worse and worse, and finally had to call in a doctor. He said I was all run down, and was a nervous wreck. I had a severe pain in my chest which would move over to my heart, and it became so bad I could not lie down, as when I did I had such a smothering feeling I would have to sit up in bed till it passed away."

"I tried several remedies, but with no good results. Finally, I was induced to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I took seven boxes, and I am now as well as ever. I am now 50 and I am now 50 years old."

County Boasts Of 1067 Farms

You don't know? Well, there are 1,067 "plantations" in Middlesex, according to a recent survey. The largest is a regular ranch of 900 acres, owned by R. J. Robinson of Parkhill, while there are quite a few plots of an acre or more, where "veg farming" is the rage. The average farm contains about 100 acres "more or less" as the deeds state.

BRITISH JOBLESS INSIST ON WORK

Demonstrators Are Turned Back as They Attempt March on Parliament.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Jan. 15.—Marching bands of the unemployed tramped toward the parliament buildings with bands and a haphazard collection of musical instruments just before the arrival of the royal party. They were quickly but firmly turned back by the mounted police, no demonstration occurring.

After the king and queen had returned to the palace and the celebrities of state in their dazzling array of crimson and gold had left for home in their limousines and carriages, the unemployed were permitted to carry on their appeal to the population through their music and placards. One of the banners declared the time had come when ex-servicemen were going to obtain work.

MAYOR HAD RIGHT TO CAST VOTE

Wenige's Ballot Created Deadlock in Selection of Board Chairman.

Much criticism has emanated since yesterday's session of the city council that Mayor Wenige should not have voted with the members of the board of works as they selected their chairman.

BENNETT TO CONSIDER APPLICANTS CAREFULLY

Assessment Commissioner Will Not Make Snap Decision To Fill Vacancy.

City Assessment Commissioner Harry Bennett is going to make no snap recommendation for the vacancy in his office occasioned by the death during 1923 of the late Sam Glass, income tax chief.

The commissioner explains that he will hold an examination within the next week or two of the fifteen or so applicants for the position. In this manner he will be able to "weed out" those whom he considers would not be suited for the work. He will then submit the most likely prospects to the council for selection.

Ten Families Left Homeless By Fire

Firemen Rescue Woman in Ottawa Blaze.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Jan. 14.—Ten families are homeless as a result of a fire which caused $25,000 damage to the Connaught Apartments, Bessier street, this morning. Miss Mary Lander, who lived on the third floor, returned to her room to find dressing and was trapped there by the flames. Firemen carried her to safety.

The cause of the blaze is unknown.

SENATE ABOLITION SOUGHT BY LABOR

Deputation Meets Cabinet and Urges Many Changes in Law.

REMOVAL OF SALE TAX

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Jan. 14.—The release of James McLaughlin from Dorchester Penitentiary, where he is serving a term for sedition, was urged by the members of the executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada who conferred with Premier King and other members of the cabinet this afternoon in regard to organized labor's annual legislative program.

That imprisonment for such an offense as McLaughlin had been convicted of made heroes of that type of men and threw discredit upon the more rational leaders in the labor movement was the consensus of opinion expressed by the representatives of the Trades Congress executive. They urged McLaughlin's release upon parole, pointing out that the law had not been vindicated, and that his continued incarceration would but add fuel to the agitation which was waged in favor.

Abolish Sale Tax. In the memorandum which was presented to Premier King and his colleagues a considerable number of legislative enactments and amendments favored by the Trades and Labor Congress were set forth. One of the outstanding suggestions was the abolition of the sales tax. This attracted the attention of Hon. Jacques Bureau, minister of customs and excise, whose department must collect the revenue raised by the impost.

Replying to the labor deputation, Premier King thanked the Trades Congress for the manner in which they had presented their case. He reminded them that the government had not been unkind to their interests, and pointed to the President of the Canadian National board of directors and adjustment of the long-standing claim for payment of pensions to Grand Trunk employees as evidence of the government's good will toward labor.

Members of the labor congress at the conference were Tom Moory, president; P. M. Draper, secretary; treasurer; H. A. Crawford, Toronto; R. P. Pettipiece, Vancouver, and J. T. Foster, Montreal, vice-presidents of the organization.

TORONTO POLICE SEARCH FOR ALLEGED SLAYER

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Jan. 15.—Local police officials have now been requested by the police of Hove, Brighton, England, to assist in the search for a man with which to hire a brace of slugs and it also happened that a very child in the establishment was warned. Every one was therefore put into the vehicles and accompanied by the superintendent, whom they call "mama," they toured the country roads to the jingle of sleigh bells or more than two hours.

On Friday it just happened that a $1 bill was received from London. It was the occasion of the first sleigh ride of the season, and all the little mites were bundled up and put into two stalwart cutters. After two hours' sport in the open they all returned, refreshed and jubilant.

Not within the memory of any living citizen has the orphan's home been locked up before. Always a few children have been compelled to remain behind when a picnic was in progress or an outing held. Always there have been a few wee tots who, through illness, could not enjoy the good times of their companions.

Many In City Lose Heavily When French Franc Drops

Mark of 4.27 Is Lowest Ever Recorded—Thousands Speculated.

SOME "HANG ON"

Europeans Blamed For Break—Many Believe in Upward Trend.

Many investment "sharks" are walking the streets of London in various states of melancholia this week. They belong to that disheartened and disillusioned brigade of speculators who "plunged unwisely" but too well. They are, in fact, the gentlemen who lost thousands of dollars because the French franc went down instead of up.

Local brokers said this morning that the activity in French francs of the past week broke all records. When French currency hit "6," the wise folk decided that was the time to go in. And in they went. Now the francized franc is down to 4.27, the lowest price ever recorded.

The loss to London speculators is heavy. When francs broke and dove down to 4.27, many thousands of francs were lost. Many thought discretion best, and sold at a big loss. Others "hung on." The latter still believe the franc will some day perch itself on the top of the exchange ladder.

Millions of francs were thrown into the London, Paris, Amsterdam and New York markets today, and the break, said to have been caused by European speculators, was the worst in years.

This morning, however, brokers reported quite a good demand. Many believe the franc will negotiate an upward swing before the end of the week. Financial men do not think it will suffer the same fate as the German mark, but they are giving no advice.

In the meantime the speculators are saying nothing. An ironical question, when they refuse to divulge the extent of their losses is said to have gained popularity. The question is, "Come man, why not be franc about it?"

EMPEROR IS SAFE.

Osaka, Japan, Jan. 15.—A train was thrown into a river at Banyugawa, and six trains overturned between Gotemba and Tokyo as a result of the earthquake which shook Tokyo and vicinity this morning.

The emperor and the empress, who were in the imperial villa at Numazawa when the shock occurred, are reported safe. The villa was undamaged. The prince regent and Princess Nagatoko also are reported safe.

HEIRESS TO FORTY MILLIONS WEDS AUSTRIAN.

Miss Mary Millicent Rogers, 20 years old, and heiress to the $40,000,000 estate left by her grandfather, the late H. H. Rogers, one of the organizers of the Standard Oil Company, handed New York society a shock when she was quietly married to Count Ludwig von Hoogstraeten, about 40 years old, and the head of the Austrian noble house bearing his name. The parents of Miss Rogers were stunned at their daughter's announcement. They had planned to sail for Europe, but following the marriage all bookings were cancelled.

PROVINCE TO ASK OTTAWA TO PUSH NEW POWER PLAN

Sir Adam Beck Authorized by Cabinet To Make Request.

ST. LAWRENCE SCHEME

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Jan. 14.—The Ontario government at a cabinet meeting today formally authorized the provincial hydro-electric commission to apply to the Dominion government for permission to undertake the St. Lawrence power development project.

The Ontario government has discussed the project rather thoroughly with Sir Adam Beck, his ministers and other officials of Ontario, but has it is stated, been non-committal in the matter of the actual co-operation which it will enter into the scheme.

The formal application of hydro will place squarely before the Dominion government the necessity for definite action in the matter, as the necessary work with the United States, which will have to be concluded, comes within the scope of federal arrangement.

The basis upon which the Ontario government is proposing to the federal government that the work be undertaken is one whereby the Dominion government contributes approximately $7,500,000, and the province $30,000,000. The remaining $37,500,000 which will be necessary to complete the work is to be paid by the United States as its share of the enterprise.

The St. Lawrence situation at present is such that a dam in the vicinity of Morrisburg is necessary for the maintenance of navigation levels. The construction of such a dam, which would not be suitable for power generation purposes, would cost the Dominion government $7,500,000. The suggestion of the provincial government now is that this sum should be paid over to it, that it add $30,000,000, and that a dam suitable for power generation be constructed.

END OF FIRE DEPT. DISPUTE IS URGED

Speedy Action Should Be Taken, Says New Finance Chairman.

Ald. Leonard Douglass, chairman of the finance committee of the city council, urges the total elimination of the "fire department dispute" at an early date.

"This controversy has been hanging fire too long," the chairman warned, "and the council should institute speedy action to clear the air. We can't afford to have this squabble as a ball to toss at every civic election."

"It would be well for the council to consider Dr. Britain's report in this connection, as early as possible, and to get rid of the issue for all time. If it is found that the fire chief is to blame, get a new fire chief. If it is the men, get new men. If the trouble is created by any other cause, it is up to the council to determine that cause and remove it."

"The men don't like this dissension. The chief doesn't like it, and it is no good for the city."

"I'm going to be happy to see the fire chief go," ex-Ald. William Wilson announced at the city hall at high noon today. "But I am going to watch Wenige."

Interesting account of her recent trip to Scotland in the interests of the Temperance League at the meeting of the W. M. S. of Askew Street Methodist Church yesterday afternoon. Mrs. John Chapman, who led in prayer, made some very feeling remarks concerning the food works of the late Mrs. Crockett, mentioning her work in the W. M. It was also decided to have Miss Watson of the Victorian Order of Nurses as the speaker at the evening service on the day of prayer, when she will tell of her work at Vite, Manitoba. Miss Grace B. Grigg spoke of her work in connection with the Friendly League for Christian Service among the business women in New York. Mrs. James Brown, the president, occupied the chair.

POLITICAL FORCES ARE PREPARING FOR NEXT FIGHT

Mayor Wenige Refuses To Comment on Latest Move of Conservatives.

LABOR IS PREPARING

"Coming events cast their shadows before."

"They say" that there is a general election in the offing and a noticeable stir is discernible in the respective political encampments.

The Labor forces are not to be caught napping, they assert, while many of the Tories feel optimistic and energetic after the recent visit of their chieftain.

Prospective candidates have even been discussed informally, and speculation has been rampant as to the chances of this person and that person at the various party conventions.

London has always been a good fighting ground, and the tactics of the remarks emanating from the rank-and-file of the Tory party, casual observers have been led to believe of a gathering of all ages, when Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen was in London?

Mayor Wenige declines, however, to be drawn into any of the chances of this person and that person at the various party conventions.

Londoners To Study Drama At the Laboratory Theatre In the City of New York

Miss Shirley White and Miss Blanche Tancock Began Six Weeks' Course at Boleskowsky's Theatre School Yesterday.

HAVE SHOWN ABILITY IN LOCAL PRODUCTIONS

Miss Shirley White and Miss Blanche Tancock of this city have become students at the Laboratory Theatre School in New York City, commencing work in the studio there yesterday. It will be remembered that both Miss White and Miss Tancock spent a summer in the Okanagan Valley, B.C., at Carol Aiken's Little Theatre, thus gaining a splendid grounding in the art of the theatre. Both are well known in London dramatic circles, having appeared from time to time in Western University plays and in the productions of the London Drama League, in which both showed marked histrionic ability; and now there latest move as students of the drama is causing great interest among their friends.

Miss White and Miss Tancock will be students in the New York school for the coming six weeks, with the possibility that they may remain for a much longer period. Although it is customary to require students entering the school to pass a very severe examination, the experience of the young Londoners acquired at the Okanagan Valley school two years ago has enabled them to enter the Laboratory Theatre without having to try any examination. At the head of the New York Theatre is a Russian, Boleskowsky, and it is said that the training received there is the finest of any in America. It is an experimental theatre, as its name indicates. The students are taught the art of the drama from the making of scenery to the working out and direction of plays.

Miss White and Miss Tancock who now have a very comfortable apartment on Riverside Drive, are filled with enthusiasm for their work just commencing. They are greatly impressed with the life at the theatre, as they have seen it from the outside, and write about the splendid spirit which is shown among the students there. Although they have been in New York for the past two weeks, their actual work at the theatre began only yesterday.

GERTRUDE JOHNSTON OUTSHOOT CITY BOY

Defeats Clark Daly, Lord Roberts Champion, in Match at "Y" Ranges.

Gertrude Johnston of the Girls' Unit, No. 1234, of the Winchester Junior Rifle Corps, has again demonstrated the superiority of the London girls when it comes to shooting, by defeating Clark Daly, champion of the Lord Roberts School, with a score of 24 to 21. The match was held on Saturday night at the Y. M. C. A. ranges, before an interested gallery of spectators. This is the second time that Miss Johnston has been put up against a boy champion, having defeated Harold Dyson, the boy champion of the city public schools on New Year's Day. The girls' unit of which she is a member, is making an excellent progress under the direction of E. E. Murtagh.

CITY ORGANISTS' CLUB PREPARING FESTIVAL

Members Are Guests at Home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bluetner.

The members of the Organists' Club and a few friends were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bluetner at their home last evening. The business was chiefly concerned with preparations for the Musical Festival to be held early in the spring under the auspices of the London Centre of the Canadian College of Organists. A committee was formed to decide on the order of the program and to make final arrangements. An instructive paper was read by W. A. Bluetner on the subject "The Teacher and His Pupil in regard to Technical Work." In the discussion which followed, Messrs. Chas. E. Whelan, Fennell Morris, Clarence E. Gilmour, O. Leo Herbert, Dr. Jas. H. Smith and other members took part. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Danny Meets the Gray Fox and He Is Terribly Frightened

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Bob White had gone on about his business, Nanny Meadow Mouse had gone back to their home under the old stump. But Danny Meadow Mouse hadn't been ready to go home. He had wanted to explore a little further, and Nanny couldn't keep him from it.

Now, in that garden, on the edge of which Danny and Nanny had made their new home, were many stumps. You see, this was the home of a settler, and where that garden was had been woods not very long ago. When the trees had been cut down the stumps had been left there for the roots to rot away, so that later they might be pulled out more easily. The ground between the stumps had been plowed and planted.

Danny liked those stumps. There were holes under some of them to dart into in case of danger. As he explored that garden he ran from stump to stump. This is what he was doing when he met Gray Fox. It was a very unexpected meeting. It was as unexpected to Gray Fox as it was to Danny Meadow Mouse. Had it not been so unexpected to Gray Fox, it very likely would have been his first and last meeting with him.

Danny was not quite half way from one stump to another when, without any warning, Gray Fox stepped from behind the stump toward which Danny was running. Danny saw him before he saw Danny. Danny knew who it was, although it was the first time he had ever seen him. No one could mistake a Fox for anyone else. He looked like Reddy Fox, excepting that his coat was mostly gray. There was some red on the sides of his neck, on his ears and across his breast. His tail was not as soft and handsome as that of Reddy Fox.

All this Danny saw in his first frightened glance. Then he whirled and scampered back for the stump he had just left, and he made those short legs of his fairly fly. It wasn't until Danny turned to run that Gray Fox saw him. Then he was so surprised, for of course he had never seen Danny before, that he hesitated for a moment. It was that moment of hesitation that gave Danny a chance to

PRESENT S. R. WHITE WITH FAREWELL GIFT

South London Collegiate Staff Meets at Tea Hour To Discuss Pupils.

The teaching staff of the South London Collegiate Institute met this afternoon at the tea hour and presented S. R. White with a handsome pair of gold cuff links, bearing a Masonic emblem. Mr. White has but recently left the South London Collegiate staff and joined the staff of the London Technical School.

The occasion of the presentation was a conference of the South London Collegiate teachers for the purpose of discussing the results of the Lower School fall term examinations. T. S. R. Graham, principal of the school, and the teaching staff have adopted an interesting policy with regard to the pupils. Yesterday's gathering is but one of several, a similar discussion of the work of the pupils of the Middle School to take place shortly. Following this policy the teachers check over the work of the students, and plan interviews with those whom they consider should be doing better work.

Mrs. Carr-Harris presided over the tea, the tea arrangements having been made under the co-operation of Miss Isabel Craig.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1924.

Labor and the Senate.

A deputation appearing at Ottawa from the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada urged a curbing of the power of the Senate to veto legislation passed by the Commons.

If it is the intention to have a Senate with its sting drawn, then why have a Senate at all?

Surely a body with no power would be worse than ever.

If it is necessary—and we doubt it—to have a second body to look over legislation passed by the elected representatives of the people of Canada, that body should be much smaller than at present constituted.

There are 95 senators at present, and there is no good reason for any such number. There is nothing for most of them to do.

The logical thing is to move to ward the abolition of the Senate in its entirety. It has been made the reward for political service and political contribution for years. Both of the political parties in Canada have made their appointments to the Senate according to political stripe.

At present we have a tremendous amount of governmental machinery of one kind and another in Canada, all the way from township, village, county, town and city councils to provincial and federal parliaments. It is time we started to simplify matters and shake off some of the attendant cost, and the Senate seems to be the logical place to start in the process of elimination.

Hydro Efficient in 1923.

Looking back over 1923 it must be admitted that hydro service in London has been satisfactory from the viewpoint of continuity.

Power is something used some place or other for 24 hours a day. At any hour of the night a person turns on a switch and the light responds. All this means continuous care and effort on the part of the employees of the system.

In London the one chief interruption for the year was on the night of June 25, when the Ferguson government was elected. That eventful and awful night the power was off for 50 minutes. Considering the seriousness of the step the people of Ontario took on that date, hydro did very well indeed to recover its equilibrium in 50 minutes.

Of the other interruptions in 1923 only four were in London, the remainder being outside this zone, and their total was 40 minutes.

It is a remarkably good record, both for the public utilities end and for the system as a whole.

Never a Word.

T. L. Church, M.P., and John A. Currie, M.P.P., spoke on the same platform at a Tory session in Toronto, but neither one mentioned the majority race.

Mayor Hiltz trimmed Col. Currie much, and he trimmed Mr. Church to a lesser degree.

So really there was nothing much to be gained by a combat between the much-trimmed and the lesser-trimmed when they came on the mutual retreat of a Conservative platform.

A Baptist Incident.

The senate of McMaster University, Toronto, has broken its long-maintained silence in regard to the attacks on the school by Rev. T. T. Shields of Jarvis Street Baptist Church.

Mr. Shields has been the stormy petrel in the Baptist field in Toronto for several years. Possessed of a striking personality and tremendous dynamic force, he has struck out right and left, and his presence at conventions has been the signal for preparedness on the part of many delegates.

When he turned his guns on Chancellor Whidden, Dean Farmer and Prof. McCrimmon, formerly head of Woodstock College, and latterly of McMaster, the Baptist denomination in general felt that Mr. Shields had pulled rather a long bow.

The plain intimation of the senate of McMaster that they can get along better without Mr. Shields comes as no surprise.

Not Settled Yet.

A decision of some importance to municipalities in Ontario has been given out in the first divisional court of Ontario, when the appeal of the city of Peterboro against having to pay more for police protection than it put in its estimates for the year was sustained.

Peterboro City Council, at the first of the year, reduced the police estimates to a point where they would not provide for the maintenance of a force considered necessary by the police commission.

The result was as expected—the funds ran out about the middle of October, and the chief of police sued for his salary and won. This decision has been reversed by the court at Toronto.

This latest court opinion does not clear the air; on the other hand it only tends to complicate the situation, and it does not even serve the good purpose of defining the powers of these two bodies, the police commission and the city council.

Both these organizations get their power from the Municipal Act, and as the thing stands today both can claim they have authority in the financing of a police force.

Court opinions based on the present law will not be of much benefit. The legislature should act quickly and make the statutes so plain that a dual interpretation will be out of the question.

The 1924 City Council.

Mayor Wenige's 1924 inaugural contains a number of items that were in the 1923 program; others are new and have a distinct bearing on 1924.

The setting up of 32 mills as the tax rate at which the civic artillery is to be trained gives something definite. The results of 1923 are not known yet, nor will they be until all the outstanding accounts are dealt with. If the city does not get the right to collect extra taxation from industries in the annexed area there is almost certain to be a shortage on the year's work. Taking of two mills, or to be exact 2-10 mills, is a big operation. Care must be taken, in making the effort, not to anticipate a deficit at the end of 1924, for such procedure is not allowed by the Municipal Act. It the big chance will come in seeing to it that the increase in taxation over 1923 is not taken up with new expenditure. If the council of 1924 can go through on 32 mills, and still give the service citizens have a right to expect, they will indeed do well. The Advertiser is inclined to doubt the possibility of a 32 rate against 34.4 last year, but it will support any reasonable effort in that direction.

The elective police commission is labeled for another hearing. This is not a pressing issue, and not much time should be taken up with it. It is following an American idea, and the cities of United States cannot teach Canadian centers very much about good civic government. There are many questions of greater importance to London than an agitation to elect the police commissioners.

The fire department business should be settled at once. It was discussed all through 1923, and apparently the 1924 council is to have it handy where it can be debated again. Other cities rarely have such troubles. If they do they settle them in such a way that they stay settled. The mayor would be well advised were he to show his full hand in this at an early date. Let it all come out at once, so the next order of business can be proceeded with.

There are a number of matters, such as domestic relations, support of children born out of wedlock, wife desertion, etc., that Mayor Wenige believes could be handled by a corporation lawyer giving his full time. Many of these matters will soon come under the scope of the juvenile court, as the administration of the act governing these cases is generally handed over to that department.

Mayor Wenige does not consider that the present is the proper time to purchase the street railway. As a matter of fact 1923 council left little room in which to turn on this matter. They refused to allow the ratepayers to vote on the question in any form. On that account they have no way of knowing what the people think. There is less than two months in which to serve notice on the company of the city's intention to take over the system, and the 1924 council has no mandate from the people on the matter. The situation is the result of lack of decision and positive action. The 1923 council practically gave notice to the street railway company that its franchise would be extended for another five-year period.

Ailsa Craig Reader Thinks There Too Little Discussion About Church Union.

Sir,—Now that all those Bible experts have settled conclusively, each in a different way, "where are the dead resurrection from this it is time that this famous church union dispute was given a ride, and that an indulgent and disinterested public were given a chance to forget it.

No doubt both the Rev. Drs. Dickie and MacGregor are good meaning souls, but they don't seem to realize that every discussion between them is only widening the gulf that divides them, and after about 87 per cent of the people of this country don't give a hoot whether they unite or divide.

If they would devote their debating talent to some subject that real, red-blooded people would be interested in, I think they would be making a big move toward increasing the Advertiser's popularity as an "Everybody's Paper." Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I'll close.

The Coming of Christ.

Reader Points Out That Scripture Teaches Plainly That There Are Two Distinct Comings.

Sir,—In tonight's Advertiser I was very sorry to see the mixture of sophistry and Scripture that Mr. Howlett, of the I. B. S. A., served up. In the last few lines of the second paragraph he says, "These theories make futile the Christian's hope of a resurrection from the dead."

Mr. Howlett and his brethren fail to see that there are two resurrections. John v. 29, speaks of a resurrection of life and the resurrection of judgment, and the time between these two is one thousand (1,000) years. (Rev. xx. 7). In Acts ii. 1-2, "The Sadducees were grieved because Peter and John preached through Jesus, the resurrection which is from among the dead."

It is even stronger in Phil. iii. 11 (Greek rendering), the little word "and" is added here, which makes the verse read, "The out resurrection from among the dead (i.e., out from among the dead)."

"Where is Jesus now?" He says, "where I am there ye may be also." The Lord Jesus through His holy spirit, is bringing out a heavenly people who are watching and waiting for His coming again. He comes as a thief in the night. No man knows the time of His coming, but the Father only. Only the blood-bought waiting ones will see Him and go to meet Him in the air. This is the rapture. Some time elapses and He comes again, but this time every eye shall see Him, and they which pierced Him shall mourn over the cause of Him. This is called the revelation, also the glorious appearing. The first time He comes for His people. The next time He brings His people with Him to reign over the earth. The first time He comes to the air. The next time He comes right down to earth to Mount Olivet.

Trusting this may help some to study this subject for themselves, and thanking you in anticipation, I remain, yours sincerely, J. G. London, Jan. 14, 1924.

Old Member's Views.

Shows How Hard It Is For Him To Keep Up His Payments For Insurance Now.

Sir,—Will you please give space in your valuable paper for an old chattered member's views on the raised dues of the Canadian Order of Foresters. I well remember when our order was first organized in 1879, we members at that time thought that if we lived to be 70 years of age, we should be then exempt from any further dues. A good many joined with that thought in view.

We started the order with no funds in the treasury, and if my memory is correct we had no money to pay the first death claim, but we paid it, and we have paid all death claims since that time, without extra assessment, excepting through the great war. We have passed through an epidemic of flu, and still were adding money to the treasury. Then why the raise with us older ones? It seems to me that the order has had our marrow and the devil can have our bones.

I would like some one who had brains enough to see that we old members of the order were carrying it to ruin by our small dues to please advice me through The Advertiser how I am going to meet my payments in the future. I have a wife to support. One of us is 80 years of age, the other 77. With houses rent $10 a month, $10.50 a month for fuel, a couple of overalls and a smock once a year to cover up our nakedness, shoes, socks and groceries, and see cents on the dollar I have paid school, 10 cents collection for church once a week, and other little things too numerous to mention, I am somewhat at sea trying to figure it out.

Sir, I join the order I have paid a solemn oath that I would not see a brother want, and I have tried to live up to my obligation in that respect, but I cannot see my way clear in that respect in the future. I shall have to give up singing. "We share each others woes, our mutual burdens bear, and often for each other flows the sympathizing tear," and begin to look after number one, but it is rather late in the day to start.

I am going to pay my dues if I possibly can. When I have paid them, I hope the society will not see me want, but live up to their obligations in that respect. Now suppose that I shall live long enough to pay $2 a month on loans as I have paid in the past, that would be paying three thousand for the privilege of receiving one thousand at my death. Will some one please enlighten me where our high court has been fair with me, for I fail to see anything fair about it, for if we old members had not built up the society in the past when the treasury was empty the order would have been no Canadian Order of Foresters today.

THE SECRET OF TRUE LIBERTY.

The law of the spirit of life in Christ Jesus made me free from the law of sin and of death—Romans viii. 2.

That which is obvious and self-evident is frequently false and generally superficial.

It is only by striking down into the hidden depths of our nature that we come to those paradoxes in which the essence of truth resides.

"He that findeth his life shall lose it."

That is a contradiction in terms, but it is a reality in experience.

"He that is greatest among you shall be your servant."

That is a falsehood to the sense, but it is a truth to the soul.

"He only is wise who knows himself to be a fool."

To a little learning, that seems absurd, but to a profound philosophy it is the voice of wisdom.

What is liberty?

It is the recognition of voluntary allegiance to the highest law.

And what is the highest law?

It is the law of gratitude and love.

Who, then, is free?

He who sees and feels the obligations which bind him to serve the highest and the best.

The noblest, richest, fullest, purest life is that which has the deepest and strongest sense of indebtedness resting upon it always, and impelling it forward along the line of duty, which is also the line of joy.

So, then, true liberty is the highest kind of bondage.

CAN EUROPE HOLD TOGETHER?

Chapter VII: "France's Problem."

This series of articles is a simple but accurate explanation of world conditions, from the point of view of a distinguished specialist. These articles are the result of his most recent tour of Europe, made especially for securing the data—a trip on which he visited sixteen countries, talked with the premiers of half of them and the finance ministers of twelve, and in field observations secured a mass of facts. Mr. Sinclair says finance and economics can be told so simply a child can grasp them. His articles prove his claim.

By JOHN F. SINCLAIR.

Frank Vanderlip once said that the French mind grows bewildered when the unit of a billion is reached. Even before the great war, her handling of the public debt problem was notoriously bad. The French debt, increased 48 fold from 1871 to 1913, compared this with the debt of Great Britain which increased during this time only two-fold.

The government of France in 1914 actually owned more money than the governments of Germany, Greece, Rumania, Serbia, Sweden, Norway, Great Britain and United States combined. With the population equal to one-third of that of the United States and covering a territory one-fifth as much, France entered the world war financially sick. She was already overburdened with debt, and which pierced her still more when she had to fight within her country. She had the largest government debt per capita in the world—twice that of Great Britain, five times that of Turkey, six times that of Russia, ten times that of Germany, and fifteen times that of the United States. Now this is a very significant fact. At the very time when the war broke out, Europe, France was making up a deficit in her running expenses by selling $250,000,000 of bonds. She was constantly selling her bonds to pay her running expenses.

Spent Over Taxes.

From 1881 to 1890 she spent about 1,000 millions of dollars more than she raised in taxes. From 1871 to 1914 the public debt increased from 2,500 millions of dollars to 6,200 millions of dollars, which alone increased the interest charges from $25,000 a day to $80,000 per day. This was the situation just before the war came in a nation which territorially speaking could be swallowed up by the State of Texas with enough left over for Texas to carve out three new states as large as Maine, New Hampshire and New York combined. In 1914 France had outstanding 1,350 millions of dollars in banknotes and deposits, and 840 millions of dollars in gold to back up these obligations. In other words, for every dollar of bank notes and deposits outstanding, she had 62 cents in gold to pay them.

During the war and up to Dec. 31, 1920, she increased her bank notes and deposits to 8,400 millions of dollars, while her gold reserve actually decreased to 75 millions of dollars. To put it in another way, her circulating bank notes and deposits increased seven and one-half times, while the gold and silver reserve decreased 65 times more. For every dollar of bank notes and deposits outstanding at the end of 1920, France had only 9.5 cents in gold to pay with. On July 21, 1914, the bank note circulation per capita was equal to $22.49. On Oct. 15, 1919, it was $178.89 per capita. What happened? The same thing that happened in England. With a far greater ratio in the increase of money than of goods in a bad way when she entered the war. She owed too much money. Now, mark you, while France entered the war financially weak, she made the error during the war to correct her weakness. The authorities figured—and they are the only ones we are using—show that France spent for war purposes 21,677 millions of dollars and raised in war taxes to pay for this huge expense, the pitiful sum of only 21 millions of dollars. For every dollar spent for war purposes she raised one cent in war taxes. Compare this with 21 per cent raised by the United States and 23 per cent by Great Britain. I can put it in another way. France during the war raised each year in war taxes an average per individual of just twelve cents as against $28.75 raised in the United States and $35.94 raised in Great Britain. We can only conclude that France expected to be victorious in a short way. But she

France raised by taxes fifteen cents out of every dollar she spent for

POLITICIANS' HANDBOOK.

(How to Reply to Hecklers.)

Q.—What is the national debt?

A.—I am appalled at the ignorance manifested by the gentleman who asks that question. I did not know there was a single citizen in the broad expanse of this wonderful country who took so little interest in the vital subject of national indebtedness. (Note: Ask someone on platform to tell you amount of national debt and repeat to heckler.)

Q.—What is your stand on immigration?

A.—It thrills me when I realize that not only is the fertile west rich in agricultural products, but that the far west is becoming more potent every day through the development of irrigation.

Q.—What is your platform?

A.—If possible, one made of imitation walnut. Even imitation is preferable to the aqueous carried by our political adversaries.

Q.—How about the Japanese menace?

A.—When our illustrious forefathers blazed paths of progress, sold the till, and planted grapefruit trees on our expansive parks, it was in the knowledge that they were handing down to posterity the glorious heritage of emancipation, nourished in hardship and cradled in faith that our predecessors would use those principles of liberty and righteousness which are the lifeblood of this splendid nation.

Q.—Do you believe in government ownership or control of hydro and the railroads?

A.—We must help the farmer, we must help the manufacturer, we must all pull together to keep this, our own country, as glorious in the future as it has been in the past. Show me the man who says: "I am not proud of my country, and I will show you a coward, a traitor, a paid agitator, yes, a Russian Soviet."

Q.—Are you in favor of light wines and beers?

A.—I have only this to say: Let us stand shoulder to shoulder with our faces to the sun, and when those first glorious rays illumine the eternal rocks of our native land, let us remember that it was for this grand country that our forefathers fought and died so that liberty and justice might not perish from the earth. McMASTER SENATE CRITICIZES PASTOR

For Attack On University On Grounds of Alleged "Modernism" Trend.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Jan. 14.—As a sequel to a series of attacks made by Rev. T. T. Shields, pastor of Jarvis Street Baptist Church, Toronto, upon McMaster University on the ground of its alleged "modernist" trend in teaching and of its having conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws upon President W. H. P. Faunce, of Brown University, whose views are held by Dr. Shields to be strongly opposed to those of the "fundamentalists," the senate of McMaster University tonight adopted a resolution condemning the conduct and methods of Dr. Shields and declaring that it was obviously impossible for the senate to co-operate with him longer with any hope of success.

Dr. Shields is himself a member of the senate of McMaster.

In a statement given out by the senate reference was made to Dr. Shields as having cast reflections on the good faith and qualifications of Chancellor Whidden and upon the character and honor of Dean Farmer and Prof. McCrimmon, two members of the faculty. Allusion is also made to Jarvis Street Baptist Church having in March, 1923, served notice of the withdrawal of its financial support from McMaster.

EMBARGO ON EXPORT OF PULPWOOD FAVORED

Claim Market Price Would Not Be Altered by Removal Outside Competitor.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Pontiac, Jan. 14.—Argument in favor of embargo on the exportation of pulpwood were advanced by D. G. Calvert of the Fort William Paper Company, and A. G. Poundstone of the provincial mills at the session of the royal commission considering the pulpwood situation.

Both witnesses declared the market price would not be altered by the removal of an outside competitor. It was also stated that the Canadian mills would be able to absorb the wood now being exported to the United States. The commission will be in session tomorrow, and will then go east to the sea and from there to Sudbury and other Northern Ontario points.

London Intermediates defeated Arthur Davenport's Glencoe visitors, 5-0, before a fair crowd at the arena last night, thus taking a harder grip on the top rung of the group ladder. London was held to 1-0 in the first period and to 3-0 by the end of the second and then ran in two in the last canto, both tallies coming from Art Gillies' stick on combination, the key to which the Londoners found at last in the second period and which may make the team line a real scoring machine from now on.

The first period was orthodox hockey—slow, splashy and leaving the fans indifferent—but the last two were crammed full of action and strenuous play, and had the pewholders pop-eyed and massaging each other with excited elbows.

Both teams started, carrying their sticks high, and the second chapter was a parade of offenders who will have callouses on their shoulders before the season is out unless they keep their sticks closer to the ice. It was a great display of the art of the sly cross check, the still sly butt end and the stiff butt, none too scientific body check. Sandercock got a lot of them, but there were a lot of the feud outbreaks that got by.

Quick Good. London should have scored a dozen more goals, but for the unusually good goalkeeping of Quick all through the game. In the first period they swept down continually in one effort without any effort to combine and right on top of goal. Davenport, the former London star, hooked a good many of the rushes to a stop with his little stick and did not rush on his own account—quick spurts with nimble twists and turns through the whole London team, and his partner in crime, Willis, also relieved the pressure when the strong arm work of the Glencoe mid-ice men let the Londoners get by.

Not a tick happened in the way of a goal until 16 minutes of this sort of hockey had gone on until Quick in a melee tried to go after a rebound, and McGeehook hooked it away and slapped in the first counter. The second period put the game into the cyclonic gear, and it was one twenty-minute scramble with flashes of really brilliant play. No less than eight passes to the house-gang to listen to the seconds to their tolling. Gillies and Burgess combined several times, and drove some ball ones at the goal. McGeehook was sandwiched out of one solo effort. Hindmarsh, on for a few moments, showed the best form he has yet, with several good blocks and abbreviated rushes. Somers, Burgess and McGeehook shunted down and missed an open goal, and Davenport wormed his way the length of the ice, driving forward Smith, who sprawled out to check him.

A Liner. A lift from center by Affeck nearly fooled Smith as it curved from the roof, before Gillies and Doolittle combined for a two-man attack right into the Glencoe goal. The goal was so fast that Aldred and Greer handed each other a double K.O. with a nose-on collision in trying to stop Somers in a rush. Gillies, in a balance act with his stick, swished.

One and a half minutes after the third opened Jackson rang up another for the visitors. This was soon followed by another each by the Louches. With five minutes to go, Sarnia staged a mammoth spurt. Jackson, Burgess and Perry scoring three in the final overtime session. D. Jackson secured four of the five tallies made by Sarnia, and Mellon got the other.

The line-ups: Sarnia—Goal, McAllister; defence, Mellon and Perry; center, Laird; wings, Coughlin and G. Jackson; subs, D. Jackson and Burgess.

St. Marys—Goal, Simms; defence, Tuer and Yates; center, Ladell; wings, W. Louch and D. Louch; subs, Burgess and Avery.

Referee—L. R. Smith, St. Marys.

West Palm Beach, Fla., Jan. 14.—In the sixth round of the bout between Young Stribling of Akron, Ohio, and Norman Genet of Akron, Ohio, here tonight, Referee Phil Pritchard disqualified Stribling for hitting in the breaks, after warning him twice to break clean. The line-ups: First Methodist—Noble, Clark, Manness, Haynes and White. Hornets—Donovan, MacVicar, Walker, Warde, Pierce, Switzer and Hayden.

PICK OF ONTARIO RINGSTERS WILL FIGHT IN LONDON

Garrison Boxing Committee Has Already Signed Sixteen Topnotchers.

CY POOK TO APPEAR

Chairman Burns of the London Garrison boxing committee has just about completed his card for the big boxing show to be staged in the armories Friday, Jan. 25. He has spared no efforts in combining the province for the very best talent, and his efforts have been rewarded by signing up around sixteen of the foremost amateur boxers in Ontario and is waiting confirmation from four other headliners.

The feature bout will be between Cy Pook of St. Thomas and Charles McDougal of Toronto. Pook holds the Canadian light heavyweight crown, while McDougal is the Ontario heavy and light heavyweight champion.

In the middleweight class William Gumb, a newcomer in London, is slated to meet Lazenby of St. Thomas. "Buzz" Moore coming.

Dave Smith, the local boy, who has already been seen in many good bouts in the local ring, is matched against "Buzz" Moore of Hamilton, who is reputed to be the most popular boxer in the Ambitious City.

The Royal Canadian Regiment has completed arrangements to bring Pte. Furniss of "B" Company, Toronto. He will be seen in action here against Pete Laing, the aggressive St. Thomas featherweight.

"Smiler" Gardiner of St. Thomas, bantam, will meet B. Woodham, the best boy in his weight in Tommy Wallace's Boxing Academy.

Murrell Meets Hickling. One of the best bouts seen in a local ring last year was that between the two local flyweights, Curd Murrell and Hickling. This was the only time these two ever met, and while Murrell won the decision, Hickling has been angling for a return bout for the last year.

One of the set-tos that is still in the tentative stage is that between "Red" Campbell of Hamilton and Kid, former local boy, now in Detroit. Campbell is a former Canadian light heavyweight champ, while Kidley holds Imperial navy championships.

Seek Belgian Champ. An effort is also being made to bring together here Ivan Holen of Wallaseburg, reputed to be light heavyweight champion of Belgium, and D'Arcy McGee of Montreal.

As an innovation and special attraction two youngsters from Brantford, who carry the names of world famous fighters will be seen in action. They are Freddy Welsh and Jimmy Wilde. Both fight at 75 pounds and for hurricane fighters and scientific boxing in their weight will be hard to beat.

Lou Marsh has again been secured to referee, and present indications point to one of the best amateur cards ever presented in Ontario.

Going to his home in Collingwood for Christmas, Belcher was stricken with pneumonia, but he was fully recovered, in good shape and would be here tomorrow. It is doubtful if Watts and Woods, the Terriers' casualties, will be able to play Tuesday.

PLAY AGAINST OSGOOD TODAY.

INDIANS DEFEAT HEALTH TOWN SIX

Stratford Deserved Win, But Were Given Hard Battle by Preston Team.

Special to The Advertiser. Preston, Jan. 14.—The Stratford Indians demonstrated their ability as a hockey team here tonight, when they defeated the locals in one of the fastest games ever played at the local arena. The game was bitterly fought from going to going, and the play was much more even than the score of 2 to 0 would indicate.

Preston had as much of the play as the visitors, but they shot at long range, and the shots proved easy for Dolson. There was no score in the first period, while the visitors scored twice in the second period, the first being on a face-off in front of the net, while the credit for the second counter goes to Carson. The locals played Stratford off their feet in the third period, but were unable to score. The game was witnessed by 1,500.

Arnot was injured in the third period, but he pluckily returned to the game following a few minutes' rest.

Every man on the Stratford team played a good game, and they deserved to win. The locals all turned in a good game, there being no stars. Schmalz was in goal for Preston, and there will be a first league game played wonderfully.

The line-up: Stratford—Goal, Dolson; defence, Berger and Ashley; center, Brickman; wings, Carson and Kelterbourne; subs, Battersby and Cook. Preston—Goal, Schmalz; defence, Skelly and "Buck" Bowman; center, Arnot; wings, Woodley and Clark; subs, Kresnan and Roth.

Referee—Harold Farlow, Toronto.

MARTY GLYNN WEDS. Galt, Jan. 14.—Word has been received here of the marriage at Stratford, Pa., on January 10, of Marty Glynn, well-known M. O. league pitcher and assistant coach of the Galt Terriers last fall, to Miss Louise Churchill of Galt.

The line-ups: South—Hadfield, Ellyatt, Chapman, Vollick, Ferguson, Jordan, Russell, Pritchett.

Teck—Ramer, McGregor, Boughner, Livens, Barr, Showler.

R. C. R.'s Meet C. O. T. C. and Gunners Play Battery This Week.

While it appeared the latter part of last week as if the armories would be a total loss as far as indoor sports were concerned, and, therefore, the whole indoor program for London this winter be left in the debris, it appears that while nights are available have been greatly curtailed, there will be a few Saturday nights left.

As things now stand, every night is being taken up with military training, including courses in all arms of the service, and this program continues until the end of February.

The Garrison A.A.A. sport bill is as big a sufferer as any other athletic organization in the city as a consequence of the big program of courses laid down by the military authorities. However, out of the wreckage, the Garrison A.A.A. has saved a torn portion of Thursday nights for indoor baseball, although they have to wait until 8:30 each night for the floor. Basketball will be staged at other odd hours.

Saturday nights have been placed at the disposal of the London Garrison A.A.A., and if the association is not using the floor it will be available for other organizations.

This will give both the L.A.A.A. and girls' basketball teams a chance to get the floor for league and exhibition games.

The latest and positively the last indoor schedule of the Indoor League is herewith appended:

Thursday, Jan. 15.—R. C. R. vs. C. O. T. C.; Machine Guns vs. 12th Battery.

Thursday, Jan. 31.—W. O. R. vs. Machine Guns; C. O. T. C. vs. 1st Hussars.

Thursday, Feb. 7.—W. O. R. vs. C. O. T. C.; R. C. R. vs. 12th Battery.

Thursday, Feb. 14.—Machine Guns vs. 1st Hussars; C. O. T. C. vs. 12th Battery.

Thursday, Feb. 21.—1st Hussars vs. 12th Battery; R. C. R. vs. Machine Guns.

Thursday, Feb. 28.—C. O. T. C. vs. Machine Guns; W. O. R. vs. R. C. R.

The first game will commence at 8:30 sharp. All games will be of 7 innings duration, unless otherwise agreed upon.

SPRING MAY SEE DISTRICT CENTER OF SOCCER WAR

Think A. A. U. of C. in Control Would Mean Canadianization of Game.

CITY TOUCHED DIRECTLY

The breach in Canadian soccer is apparently beyond the healing stage. The Canadian Football Association, formed of the "rebel" Toronto and Hamilton clubs expelled from the Ontario Football Association, has been successful in securing affiliation with the A. A. U. of C. through the Ontario branch, and has turned a cold shoulder to all advances made by the Dominion Football Association, the parent governing body of soccer in Canada.

The Dominion Football Association also is seeking affiliation with the A. A. U. of C. and, unofficially, at least, asking for power to conduct its own affairs.

In Awkward Position. This puts the A. A. U. of C. in an awkward position, but if it puts soccer in its hands, many people profess to believe it will be the ultimate good of the game, and will mean its eventual Canadianization.

London is touched directly by the soccer war when the rumor is broadcasted that the Canadian Football Association will carry the war into the Ontario Football Association's domain by raiding Western Ontario.

London has been in the Ontario Football Association as a district association since 1919. During that time the iron hand of the provincial body felt lightly enough on the London and District F. A.

Whether the new Canadian Association would be made to put soccer here is doubtful. It has only ten rebel clubs as a nucleus for next season, and what inducement it could offer district associations are not apparent at the present time.

The London and District Football Association will hold its annual meeting shortly, at which a serious attempt will be made to put soccer on a more stable basis hereabouts. It is possible that the aspirations of the Canadian Football Association will be disclosed at this meeting.

Babe Labors To Keep Fit

Canadian Press Despatch. Sudbury, Mass., Jan. 14.—George Herman (Babe) Ruth, who bats out home runs in the summer months plays gentleman farmer on his Sudbury estate all winter, but not because he likes it.

Ruth, busy at building a new henhouse on his mid-January day, suspended operations long enough to say that farming with him is just an incident in the serious business of baseball. The axe, hammer, saw and snow shovel which are Ruth's wintertime toys, are no more than instruments of training for the mighty bat that is expected to propel home runs in mid-July.

"That's the idea," said Babe. "A guy's got to keep right at it."

LISTOWELL DEFEATS WIARTON REDMEN

Speedier Skating and Harder Checking Account For 7-5 Win.

Special to The Advertiser. Listowel, Jan. 14.—The fastest game of hockey seen here for some time was witnessed by a crowded arena this evening when the home team defeated Wiarton's intermediate O.H.A. squad 7 to 5. The first period looked as though it would be an easy thing for Wiarton, as the score was 1 to 1 in their favor. In the second, however, Listowel's skating, which accounted for three goals, while Wiarton netted nothing. In the final frame the home boys scored three while their rivals notched one.

Referee—Geo. Hillier of Kitchener.

WOODSTOCK, LONDON JUNIORS VICTORIOUS

Glencoe and Ingersoll Youngsters Both Lose On Home Ice.

CONDITION COUNTS

JUNIOR GROUP STANDING.

Woodstock	5	0
London	2	2
Ingersoll	1	2
Glencoe	0	4

Special to The Advertiser.

Glencoe, Jan. 14.—London's Junior O.H.A. team got away to a fast start against the local youngsters here tonight, and although the home lads let loose a burst of speed in the last period they were unable to score, and the visitors went home with a 3 to 1 win under their belts.

McMillan, for London, showed up well before his former supporters, and was responsible for the visitors' first counter.

It was a fast, clean game throughout, with penalties few on both sides.

The superior condition of the London sextet was quite evident in each period, although the Glencoe boys played on a par with them in the final canto, back-checking and breaking up dangerous rushes continually.

The first chapter ended with London in the lead 2-1. They increased it to three in the second, but after this found the headway harder, with the locals on their heels at every turn and going strong at the end.

McMillan suffered severe injuries to his leg and knee in a crash in the second period, and was carried off the ice. It is thought his knee-cap was fractured, and that this may necessitate his remaining out of the game for the rest of the season.

London—Tezer, goal; Robson and Moore, defence; Barrett, center; McMillan and Monahan, wings; Milne and Graham, subs.

Glencoe—Leitch, goal; Edwards and Weaver, defence; Whittin, center; McDonald and Law, wings; Anderson and Riggs, subs.

WOODSTOCK WINS.

Special to The Advertiser.

Ingersoll, Jan. 14.—Fighting pluckily every second against a heavier and more experienced team, the local O.H.A. juniors were forced to bow to a 9 to 5 defeat in tonight's game with Woodstock. Superior weight wore down the locals, who held their opponents until five minutes of the finish. The first period ended 2 to 1 for Woodstock, and the second was a tie 4 to 4. Ingersoll took the lead in the third, Smith making the shot. Woodstock scored five in a row, Goyer, accounting for four, and Smith for one. Ingersoll showed excellent form in shooting, but Murdoch, in the twine, was in rare form. Filmore and Colburn were in the spotlight for the locals.

The teams:
Ingersoll—Goal, Noe; defence, Filmore and Colburn; center, Smith; r. wing, House; l. wing, McMillen; subs, McMurray and Wilcox.

Woodstock—Goal, Murdoch; defence, Fuscoe and McCartney; center, Jemmett; r. wing, R. Smith; l. wing, Goyer; subs, Wilson and Whitehead. Referee—R. Henderson, Ingersoll.

Plaguing Innocent Rookies All Part of Spring Training

Hans Tells How Texan Retrieved Shoes From "Marauding" Porter, and of Boomerang Cigar That Exploded On Man Who Passed It Out.

Spring training always has been to me a sort of lark, and I think it is to most of the regulars who know how to prepare themselves and have no particular worry about their jobs. During the off hours they can sit back and have all the laughs.

For some men, though, spring training is very hard work. When the day is over they are quite ready to crawl into bed at nine and nurse their sore muscles and bruises. There are some ball players, by the way, who never have had muscular soreness in the spring. Just why that is I do not know, unless it is that they have kept up their athletic exercises during the winter. Personally I never had any trouble at all in getting into shape. To tell the truth the spring training was much easier to me than the hunting, basketball, indoor baseball and so on that I did during the winter.

Always there has been an open discussion as to the advantages of a long training trip or a short one. Some managers even contend that it is better to train pretty well north so that the players will not be affected by the sudden change in climate as they come back home. Clarke Griffith tried this scheme with good results in Virginia. The great majority, though, find it better to go far south where the players, due to the warmth, can ease up their tired muscles without catching cold.

The Pittsburgh club has found Hot Springs to be the best training place. I always liked it there. Walking up and down those Arkansas mountains was a good muscle builder in itself. You can't walk anywhere in Hot Springs without going up or down hill. The hot waters help a lot in loosening up the muscles.

McGraw Has Rigid Rules.

The main point in spring training, according to my observation, is the chance of trying out the recruits and seeing what they really can do. Some managers allow the old timers to get into shape according to their own ideas. Others have a rigid system and even the most famous and experienced players have to follow the discipline. The idea of this is that it sets an example for the youngsters.

McGraw is one of those who has a rigid system. One thing about him, though—he will do everything he asks the youngest player to do. He is the first man up in the morning and the last one to leave the field at night.

Miller Huggins of the Yankees used the system last year of letting the seasoned players get in shape as they deemed best. That worked out all right, too. They won the pennant and the world's championship. So you never can tell which is best. I think the biggest result, after all, is that the players get to know each other better and establish themselves as a sort of family before the hard season starts.

There is never any particular rule in training as to what a player should eat. It must be remembered that a ball player is different from all other athletes in that he has to prepare for an everyday job that lasts all summer. Therefore he must live just as naturally as possible. There is little difference between the diet of a ball player and of any ordinary business man.

To me it was always the fun, the practical jokes and the skylarking of a southern training trip that appealed. I like to laugh, even though I was never much of a jokester myself.

One of the old gags that always gave me a laugh was on the train going to the camp. There would be a lot of raw, young recruits who, of course, had to take the upper berth. Rank is as strict in baseball as in the army. The regulars must have the lower berths and they look on this as a matter of right. In fact, the privilege of a lower berth sort of marks a fellow as having made good. For a young recruit to take a lower would be considered a terrible affront to the veterans. It would be like treason.

The Texan Got The Thief.

Well, when these young fellows start most of them have never ridden in a Pullman sleeper and don't really know the difference between an upper and lower. They soon learn though. We used to tell the youngsters as they were climbing into their upper that they had better give all their small change to the porters to keep for them as it might fall out of their pockets.

Wanting to do the right thing these poor young kids would shell out their small change to the porter, who would thank them. The next morning they would get such a laugh that they would never even think of asking for it again.

That was a cruel trick to play on these kids, who rarely ever had any more change than the law allows, but it was funny at that.

We had one big awkward fellow go on the train going to Hot Springs and we called him Red right off the reel. He watched the poker games for awhile, tried to talk baseball to Mr. Clarke—did everything to make himself agreeable.

"Now," one of the boys told him, "coming as a young fellow you had better sit up tonight and guard the valuables. Anything's likely to happen on a train like this. That young fellow over there will be on guard duty tomorrow night."

"Sure," agreed Red. "Glad to do it. I'll watch everything."

He was a big Texan and the look in his eyes showed that he meant to do that duty properly, too.

During the night the young fellow, who was half dozing, woke up to see a man going out the door with a whole armful of shoes. He got up on the job immediately.

I was awakened to hear a terrible commotion up in the smoking compartment. I heard my name called several times.

"Come up here and help me, Mr. Wagner," he called out. "I've got him, all right."

I went up there and had to wait until the door was unlocked. Then I found the porter over in the corner, scared to death, and the big Texan standing over him holding a pistol.

He had chased that porter down, had taken away the shoes that he was shining and had locked him up in the smoking compartment until he got help.

What Those Nets Are For.

Every ball club in the world, I suppose works the old gag of making the youngsters sleep with their arms in the little hammocks so as to keep from falling out of their berths and also to protect their pitching arms. Claude Ritchey once had a left-handed pitcher move so as to get on the side which had left-handed hammocks.

One of the old tricks which was always amusing was to put coupling pins and springs stone thing in a new ball player's grip while it was on the station platform. I have known them to carry that weight around for several hundred miles before getting on to what was the matter. We used to do that even to 1912.

the young newspapermen—the first trippers, as we called them.

Old Harry Vaughan, the catcher, once distributed three of four loaded cigars around and forgot about it. The next day one of the newspaper men had one of these cigars sticking in his vest pocket, innocently too. Vaughan, having forgotten about his joke, sneaked up behind the reporter and stole the cigar out of his pocket.

In a few minutes the gang heard a noise like a firecracker going off and the doggedest sputtering and spitting. Old Harry had fired and ashes all over him. He had lighted one of his own loaded cigars.

Vaughan, who afterwards ran a hotel in Cincinnati, never forgot that joke that backfired on him, as long as he lived.

DEATH REMOVES BELOVED CITIZEN JOHN B. CAMPBELL

Manager of Western Wire Nail
Company Dies After Long Illness.

WAS CHURCH WORKER

After a lingering illness of some weeks' duration, borne throughout with rare Christian fortitude, John Campbell, 137 Central avenue, London, passed quietly away on Monday evening.

Mr. Campbell had been manager of the Western Wire and Nail Company of London for 20 years, and during that time had endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact. Courteous, kind and absolutely honorable in all his dealings, he brought to his daily work the virtue of a gentleman.

Born in Aldboro.

He was born in Aldboro Plains, near Rodney, in 1855. He taught school for a number of years, later attending Woodstock College, with the intention of entering the Baptist ministry. His plans were altered, however, and he did not enter the work.

He spent some years in the lumber business at Wingham and Trout Creek, Mich. It was in 1902 that he came to London, and shortly after identified himself with the Talbot St. Baptist Church. It was at this church that he labored in almost every department in fact Mr. Campbell had been superintendent of a Baptist Sunday School in nearly every place he resided. At the time of his death he held the position of assistant superintendent, and was also a member of the board of deacons. His was indeed the ideal life.

Arrange Funeral. He is survived by a widow and one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Greenslade, 197 1-2 Central ave., also one sister, Mrs. Passmore of Nelson, B.C.

The funeral will be held from the residence on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Dr. Bowley Green of Talbot Street Baptist Church, and Rev. Dr. Sowerby, now of Maitland Street Baptist, but with whom Mr. Campbell was long associated during his pastorate at Talbot Street Church.

TRACK PAVING PROBLEM REFERRED TO SOLICITOR

Board of Works To Ask Ruling
Despite Action in 1923.

APPOINT TRAFFIC BODY

Ald. Towe, Police Chief and Railway Superintendent
To Act.

Members of the board of works lost no time in tackling the street railway and paving problems, and at their inaugural gathering yesterday afternoon they recommended to the council that City Solicitor T. G. Meredith be asked to attend a special session a week from Wednesday, when they could consider definitely that famous resolution passed in council last year, whereby the company was supposed to have ten years in which to pay for its paving track allowance.

Discussion was prompted by the report from City Engineer W. P. Near, that the company had been presented with bills aggregating $51,000 for the Stanley, Briscoe and Richmond streets track allowance, work done last season, under the penalty clause of bylaw 816, the city's agreement with the company.

Ald. John Greer, chairman, was the moving spirit, urging his colleagues to seek the advice of the solicitor. He reminded that the 1923 council had passed the resolution unanimously, but felt that a mistake had been made. He would not be a party to it if the same proposal was again made, he stated.

Mayor Opposed. Mayor Wenige branded the proposed consultation with City Solicitor Meredith as "waste of public time and money," and predicted that the latter's opinion would be the same as last year, when he advised the council, at the time the resolution was passed, that the aldermen retained no power under provisions of bylaw 816 to lend money to the company or allow it to proceed with work under the local improvement act.

"The president and general manager of the company were at the council when the resolution was passed," Mayor Wenige recalled. "And they said they would do the paving if given ten years for payment. It was upon that understanding that the work was proceeded with. The company will pay interest charges, and the city will lose nothing."

Ald. Edmund Hayden also adhered to the opinion that the "council should not go back upon its word." He felt that if it was the intention to "trip them up that way, he didn't want a popular member of the London Horticultural Society, who was re-elected last night as president for 1924.

to be in the council," Mayor Wenige said he was of a similar opinion.

Serves As Warning. Ald. Allan Towe suggested that in the event it developed that the city had to wait ten years for the money it would serve as a guide post for the council not to pass resolutions hastily.

"This resolution looks like bad business to me," Ald. Greer stated. "I would not do it over again. Should the time ever come that we have to test out the validity of the bylaw, what effect would this resolution have upon it? The city solicitor states that it would have some effect upon it, and he goes further and states that he is not now in a position to collect."

"Has he ever given that opinion to the council?" asked Mayor Wenige. "He was never asked for it," responded Ald. Greer.

"He also gave an opinion that we couldn't collect from the company for the rectory street payment," interrupted Mayor Wenige. "In that case, the city solicitor always to be asked for his opinion?" questioned Ald. Towe.

Was Sent Home. "He came here one night with his opinion and was told to go home," replied Ald. Greer.

Mayor Wenige moved and Ald. Hayden seconded, that the company be asked for a bond and the first payment, and the agreement consummated between the company and the municipality, in accordance with the 10-year resolution.

Ald. Greer's amendment that they await a discussion with the city solicitor was carried, however, after much more debate.

Whether the city secures benefit in proportion to the amount expended (approximately $2,500) from the chamber of commerce, as it would refer to the industrial area, was another question to claim attention, Ald. Allan Towe voicing an opinion to the contrary.

Recommendations coming over from 1923 that the members of the industrial area committee take over additional duties pertaining to all industrial matters were referred to that body for a new report.

Seek Co-operation. Ald. Edmund Hayden submitted that the council should seek co-operation from the businessmen of the city and that they should not take everything away from the chamber of commerce.

Ald. Allan Towe stated that he had referred last year to the lack of co-operation on the part of the secretary of the chamber of commerce. "He had also information, he declared, which revealed to him conclusively that the chamber had been functioning with regard to the industrial area in proportion to the money granted by the council annually."

Mayor Wenige charged that it would be "foolish" to take any of this work out of the hands of the chamber of commerce. It was a very small contribution, in any event, he felt, in proportion to the money furnished by the members of that organization.

During the discussion Ald. Hayden defended the record of the chamber, while Ald. Towe maintained the opposite opinion. Discussion was halted when the proposal was sent back to the industrial area committee.

Traffic Committee. Ald. John Greer's proposal to eliminate the special city council traffic committee and appoint a "traffic commissioner" was defeated after a sharp debate. Upon the other hand, the mayor's proposal to maintain the traffic committee, similar to 1923, was also rejected. The committee compromised and appointed, upon suggestion from Ald. Shaw, a three-man committee, comprising Ald. Allan Towe, Chief of Police Robert Birrell, and Superintendent Hummiston of the street railway company.

The committee recommended that City Clerk Baker be authorized to enter application for a city of London bill in which to incorporate a request to the legislature for permission to spend $200,000 for storm sewer construction.

BOARD OF HEALTH ELECTS MITCHELL AS NEW CHAIRMAN

Holds Inaugural Meeting To Organize For Year—
Transact Business.

CHANGE PLUMBING LAW

Charles Mitchell was elected chairman of the board of health at the inaugural session of that body last night.

Routine business chiefly claimed attention. Inspector J. M. Young and City Clerk S. Baker were delegated to meet Dr. McCullough of the provincial board of health, with respect to certain proposed changes in the plumbing bylaw.

Inspector Young reported that his department had secured $3,781.40 in fees, etc., throughout 1923.

A complaint concerning the sewerage connection of the creamery, west of Richmond street, was referred to City Engineer Near for a report.

Relief Inspector W. J. McCallum will be directed to issue no licenses in future to owners of ice cream booths until sanctioned by the health officials.

BULB EXCLUSION STIRS FOREST CITY HORTICULTURISTS

Society Also Protest Manner of Cutting Trees in London.

HARTRY IS PRESIDENT

At the annual meeting of the London Horticultural Society last night in the public library, at which officers for 1924 were elected, a motion proposed by W. E. Saunders was passed unanimously urging the incoming directors to ask the federal government to reconsider its recently introduced legislation on the prohibition of the importation of all roots, bulbs and plants into Canada.

In this connection the proposer of the motion, who is president of the society, stated that under present legislation it would cost about $3 to import a fifty-cent lily bulb from England, as every root must be imported through the customhouse. In a general discussion it was agreed that federal legislation in force preventing the importation of plants was unnecessary and contrary to the best interest of growers.

Later in the evening a strongly-voiced objection was raised to the way in which the trees of the Forest City are being cut down. In a motion, "Butchered" was the most common expression of the practice now in vogue whereby the trees are being operated on in London, though the method, it was stated, there was one, seemed to be to cut away any limbs of trees that interfered with the lighting of the streets and that that was the only thing considered by the tree trimmers. The meeting agreed with him and thought the work should at least be in charge of a thoroughly experienced man.

Sees Little Interest. W. E. Saunders stated that it was very difficult for the public utilities commission to get the work done, really interested in the work, as it was in the nature of a relief scheme. He preferred that all unnecessary trees be removed so as to allow the hard maples to grow to their full size in the course of time. It was pointed out that this would not help the street lighting system, to any extent.

A vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Marshall, who gives north of the Kennels, for her generous offer of a four-acre site on her farm for the use of the society to use as a peony test bed. The society was not sure whether it would be able to take advantage of this offer or not.

The officers for 1924, elected in his address said that the chief aim of the society was to spread education in matters horticultural. The system of giving away premiums to members was only a secondary item of the work of the society. He deplored a certain lack of interest and enthusiasm amongst members in the last year, stating that the peony show at the Western Fair had not been as well attended as it deserved. It had entailed a great deal of work on the part of the executive.

Further Education. Education along horticultural lines was the goal, by the distribution of the Canadian Horticulturist last year, and the Canadian Grower this year, by meetings and speakers, by shows, and by giving of premiums. The society was starting to grow its own premiums and had at present in beds, 700 special shrubs, 1,000 gladioli, 1,000 peonies and 10,000 other bulbs of various kinds.

The officers for 1924: President, H. Hartry; first vice-president, K. McLeod; second vice-president, K. Casselman.

The following directors will serve another year: T. C. Fleming, W. E. Saunders, J. McNeill, W. P. Brown and L. E. McGugan. The following are elected for a two-year term: W. H. Liddicoat, E. Cook, E. Davis, T. Huddell and J. E. Greer.

Lawrence and H. J. Childs, who is secretary of the society, will be the representatives to the Western Fair Association, and H. Hartry and W. E. Saunders will represent the society at Toronto at the Ontario Horticultural Society's meeting.

The BREATH of the AVENUE

Watching Always in
New York for You

Going up Fifth Avenue!

Central Park widening out in the distance. Towers of the Vanderbilt mansions pricking the sky.

A stream of swaying buses, hurrying taxis and gliding limousines.

Beautiful women fashionably dressed. Shop windows featuring fashions just beginning to make the mode.

And here where fashions first appear, our New York representatives, "THE BREATH OF THE AVENUE" organization, keep an ever alert fashion watch, and send the news immediately to us.

That is why you will find the fashions on the Avenue one with the fashions we show. Of course the Breath of the Avenue is exclusive with us in London. And right fashions are shown here immediately they are indorsed.

Society of Artists' Reception.

The New Society of Artists opens its new exhibition with a Varnishing Day reception. And it's a very fashionable occasion. The painters who exhibit are famous. They are to the art world what the guests are to the social world—leaders.

The most significant fashion notes are these: The tailored suit, which makes its appearance everywhere that smartly dressed women are to be seen. A New York debutante and daughter of an artist wears a tallur fitted in the French manner. With it goes a heavy white crepe overblouse and a crystal buckle to lessen the severity of her black cloche.

There are several of the new printed crepes—in conventionalized flower designs—a note in the afternoon frocks for the coming season.

The scarf—which is an important detail in the trimming of so many new dresses—is illustrated by a cocoa-colored charmeuse dress. The scarf is cut in one piece with the dress, draped to the shoulder and tied.

One guest, by the way, carried a dyed squirrel barrel muff to match the collar of her crepe coat. And on the Avenue coming back from the reception, we see three such small muffs within two blocks. The muff is very much of an advance fashion note that looks way beyond these notes for spring into next winter.
