HEAVY SENTENCE FOR A BAD OLD MAN

Ontario Government Faces a Deficit This Year

Col. Gordon, of Ottawa, Will be Promoted to Position Filled by the Late Col. Buchanan.

MONTEREAL, Oct. 28.—The vacancy in the Quebec command caused by the death of General Buchanan is to be filled by the appointment of Col. W. D. Gordon, who was in command of Eastern Ontario and recently transferred to the staff at Ottawa. Col. Gordon was in command at Montreal under the old system for several years. He went to South Africa as second in command to Col. Jarvis of Halifax in the sixth contingent.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 28.—Six months in prison and to pay a fine of $1,000 was the sentence imposed on a 73-year-old man at the assizes. He took a seven-year-old girl for a drive to the outskirts of the city and the father of the girl laid a complaint. He is a wealthy man, chairman of the Board of Health and has been 52 years in the district.

TORONTO, Oct. 28.—Whitney's government faces a deficit. On account of the change in the end of the fiscal year to October 31, the treasurer claims that his sheets will not balance. The succession dues and the T. and N. Railway earnings are good, but the license fees and the timber salaries will not be received till November.

THEIR WEDDED LIFE UNHAPPY

Sad Story of Mr. and Mrs. Burgess—Latter Insane

Taken to Asylum Here—Were Married a Fifty Cents About a Month Ago.

Mrs. Thomas Burgess, who was for some time a resident of this city, but who removed about two weeks ago to her former home at Bellisle, was brought down river yesterday and admitted to the Provincial Hospital for Nervous Diseases, upon a certificate made out by Dr. W. P. Roberts. Mrs. Burgess and her husband, to whom she was married about a month ago, are in a pitiable state of poverty. The man could not pay a cabman who drove the woman to the hospital, and by the man employed by the steamer Champlain, in which the woman reached the city. She was pronounced insane by Dr. Fraser of Bellisle, who communicated to Dr. Roberts, as to her condition. The latter adjudged her case one of acute insanity. On board the boat the woman's cabin was given up to Mrs. Burgess, her husband, and a woman who accompanied them. Mrs. Burgess did not appear violent, but possessed a mania for being constantly at work and fussed about the cabin throughout the trip. She was a patient in the asylum for some time, but was discharged two years ago.

Her marriage has been a most unfortunate one. When she and her husband were made one by a local clergyman, their sole funds consisted of 50 cents in the possession of the husband. At the wedding the husband lost his job, and the couple took to wandering through the country, finally reaching the old home of the bride. Her maiden name was Henderson.

TORONTO LEADS AGAIN IN POST OFFICE BUSINESS

OTTAWA, Oct. 28.—The total number of letters passing through Canadian mails during the last fiscal year was 41,920,000, and of these, no less than $1,100 were unstampable and were sent to the dead letter office.

As usual, Toronto heads the list of cities in the volume of mail matter handled. The gross postal revenue of that city was $1,513,310. Montreal comes next with receipts of $983,728, and Winnipeg third with $590,885. Mail business of other cities is shown by the following figures of gross revenue during the year:

SURVIVORS OF THE ILL-FATED HESTIA DESCRIBE DISASTER

All but Dead When Rescued—Thirty-five Now Thought to Have Been Lost

ONLY FOUR BODIES RECOVERED

Events Leading up to the Disaster—Schooner Captain Sights Lights of Captain's Boat

CASTALIA, N. B., Oct. 27.—The sea has given up but four of the thirty-five men missing from the wrecked steamer Hestia. It is now thought that the bodies of the awful hardships and are now suffering from the effects. Seaman Breen is in a critical condition as a result of his experience.

CASTALIA, N. B., Oct. 27.—Hope of the thirty-five missing members of the crew and passengers on the ill-fated Donaldson liner Hestia ever being found alive is quickly passing away. It is considered doubtful if any ship's boat could live in the sea that was missing Monday after the Hestia struck on Old Proprietor ledge, and the stories of the six survivors now at Seal Cove seem to bear out this contention, as they say that of the crew of the boat which capsized at the vessel's side but two were saved.

The Survivors

The six survivors are Third Officer Stewart, Second Engineer Morgan, Seaman Breen, McKenzie, McVicar and Smith. All are suffering from the effects of their awful exposure of Monday and Tuesday. In fact, Seaman Breen's condition is so serious that it is feared that he may lose his life. Third Officer Stewart, speaking to The Sun's correspondent today, positively stated that the Hestia struck Old Proprietor ledge Monday morning. The crew stood by her for four hours and then decided to take to the boats. One of the latter with about a dozen men on board was swamped right alongside the ship. Two of those on the boat were saved, the others went down. Two young boys, passengers, were drowned at this time. They were Jack and Roy Galloway. Another boat furnished with water but no food left the steamer with both food and water and carrying twenty-five people, also got away from the vessel. Neither boat was seen again by those who stuck to the ship.

Lashed to Rigging

All Monday, from early in the morning, the six men stayed on the forecastle of the Hestia lashed to her rigging. Thick weather and the violent seas made signaling useless and the vessel pounded on the rocks with such force that she threatened to go to pieces at any minute. The pounding that the ship received finally drove the crew mad. The forecastle threatened to go by the board. Fearing that the men crazy and fished themselves to that part of the structure that still stood. There they remained for hours without food or water, their only means of sustenance being whiskey, which they obtained from a cask that floated by and was caught.

Discovered Survivors

On Tuesday when the weather had moderated sufficiently to enable the divers to make out the Hestia to make out the six forms huddled under the lee rail. The sea even then was too rough to permit of a close approach and the seamen had to drop over the bows of the vessel. Some had hardly strength to do that.

The stories of the survivors concerning the number on board the vessel do not agree. Some put the number of lost at thirty-six, others at thirty-seven. It is expected that the King Kitchener will take the survivors to St. John tomorrow.

Crucifixes Going

Yesterday the local agent of the Marine and Fisheries Department received a telegram from Ottawa instructing him to send both factory crucifixes and the Lighthouse tender Lansdowne to the scene of the wreck of the Hestia. The Crucifix left port early in the day, and the Lansdowne sailed at five o'clock yesterday afternoon. These steamers are to cruise the bay in search of the missing boat, and also to take charge of the wreck to prevent wreckers stealing cargo.

A message was received yesterday morning from Yarmouth to the effect that a lifeboat, with a dead body of a sailor on board, drifted ashore at Salmon River, Digby County, yesterday morning. The name S. S. Cassard, Glasgow, was on the stern, and the sailor had his hands fastened on the mast. It is possible that the Cassard is part of the same line. Both were in port at Glasgow at the same time, and it is possible that a boat from one vessel was placed on the other. The Cassard is at present safe in the St. Lawrence.

A second message from Salmon River, at two o'clock said another boat upset, marked S. S. Hestia, ashore between Cranberry Head and Gable Alley, with the dead bodies of an engine and two men underneath, was found yesterday morning.

THE WRECKED STEAMER HESTIA

ful experience, the men who escaped their companion's fate were able today to give more definite information regarding what actually took place after the steamer went on the ledge. Third Mate Stewart said that the Hestia reached the end of her last voyage on Monday morning. Instead of Tuesday morning, as had been stated previously, and that he and his two companions who had been unable to find places in the boat, remained lashed to the rigging for 24 hours without food or water before they were taken off by the life savers. On of their number, Seaman Keenan, was in a serious condition today. As far as can be ascertained tonight, those on board the Hestia comprised Captain Newman, a crew of 33, three cutlemen and two boys.

ALMOST SUBMERGED

Lying almost completely submerged, the Hestia was not visible to the small fleet of fishing vessels which surrounded the wreck, which were looking up the floating freight and seeking for the bodies of the drowned. It was supposed, from the quantity of freight which had been tossed over the side, that the Hestia must be breaking to pieces rapidly. The swirling tide broke up the cargo, but it is believed that the great quantity which was afloat could not possibly have been unstrapped unless the vessel was being broken.

SIGHTED STRANGE LIGHT

DIGBY, N. S., Oct. 27.—Great interest is being taken in Digby concerning the news of the wreck of the steamer Hestia. The Sun's correspondent has kept in touch with the crew and the local fishery and the bay coast today and interviewed captains of vessels arriving in Digby, endeavoring to get some trace of the missing boat with its twenty occupants, but there has been nothing reported from the wreck since the vessel was sighted. Captain Albert J. Lutz, who arrived at Seal Cove Monday night, says that he was quite near the Old Proprietor ledge at the time of the disaster. He was also looking up the night, the weather being thick, caused by heavy rain squalls from the northeast. At the time, he sighted a strange light. He was sure he knew

SHIPBUILDING MAN MEETS THE GOVERNMENT

Announcement of Canada's Naval Policy Will be Made When Parliament Meets.

MONTEREAL, Oct. 28.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. L. P. Brodeur and Hon. W. S. Fielding are here in conference over the naval plans of Canada. While they are transacting other business this is the chief subject of discussion. Clarence Desolis, the agent of the Swan Hunter and Wigham Richardson Co., had a long talk with the premier last evening and again this morning he met the three ministers in private. He submitted a copy of the plans of his company, of what they proposed to do with the land they were prepared to do with help from the government.

Missionary Urges Church to Help Those Who Suffer by Adopting Christianity—Ontario Asks More Judges.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Indications seem to point to an abandonment in the near future by the Kingdom of the Netherlands of the free trade principles that have long been held in that country. The State is confronted by an estimated deficit on the 1910 budget of $5,000,000. The Dutch Finance Minister, besides seeking further revenues from a modified income tax and increases in the excise tax on alcohol, intends to raise provisionally the existing customs tariff from 5 per cent. to 6 per cent. ad valorem.

It has always been pointed out by Dutch economists that this charge on imports is of a fiscal, not of a protective nature, and Holland finds herself unable to make both ends meet without further revenue from imported goods. The former Liberal Administration was pledged to free trade as a principle, but the programme of a Clerical combination now in power intends to make definite proposals for the adoption of a protective tariff, details of which are to be laid before the Chambers.

TOWN WITHOUT RELIGIOUS RITES

Placed Under an Interdict by the Pope—No Masses for Fortnight

The Churches Will be Closed, Bells Will Not be Rang and No Sacraments Administered.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—For a fortnight the Italian town of Adria, which has been placed under an interdict by the Pope, will be deprived of religious services and rites. The churches will be closed, the bells will not be rung, masses will not be celebrated, no sacraments will be administered, and no funeral services will be held. The only exceptions are the baptism of infants born during the interdict and the burial of the dead. The administration of the interdict is the celebration of marriages in the case of persons at the point of death.

The interdict was provoked by an assault on the Bishop of Adria, who was wounded in the head, spat upon, and otherwise insulted by an angry crowd who opposed the removal of the episcopal see from Adria to Rovigo. The diocese of Adria is one of the oldest in Italy, dating from the third century, when the city was a seaport and the Adriatic took its name from it. The sea has gradually receded until it is now seventeen miles away from the cathedral, which still has the iron rings on its walls where galleys used to be moored.

The interdict was the result of a third in order of uninterrupted succession, but since the tenth century, owing to malaria, the Bishops of Adria have resided at Rovigo, a smaller but a more healthy town. The archbishop of the episcopal see are still kept at Adria. Several attempts were made to remove them to Rovigo, but the inhabitants of Adria protested and the Holy See left the matter in abeyance until Pius X. ordered their removal. The bishop went to Adria to carry out the Pope's orders, but he was nearly stoned to death by the angry women and children of Adria. The interdict followed to punish the aggressors of the bishop and the town and suburbs of Adria.

DOWNIE-WILSON.

At the residence of Z. O. Wilson, Kennedy street, at a quarter to six this morning, Rev. David Hutchinson officiated at the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson's daughter, Miss Betsy Rachel Wilson, and Mr. Robert Walter Downie. The ceremony was witnessed by a number of relatives and friends of the young couple. The bride's costume was of brown satin. Miss Wilson was unattended. After the ceremony breakfast was served, and later Mr. and Mrs. Downie left by train for Fredericton. The bride received many pretty and valuable presents.

Election Officers injured by Conduct of Female Freaks in Bermundsey Contest—None of the Ballots Were Destroyed

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Mrs. Chaplin, a suffragette, furnished an early morning thrill at the Bermundsey election when she smelted a bottle of acid. Her intention was to destroy the ballots in the box as a protest against the exclusion of women from the right of franchise. What she accomplished was the painful burning of some of the election officers and the assurance of her own arrest.

MISS FRANCES SNOWBALL UNITED TO MR. EARL CROCKER

CHATHAM, N. B., Oct. 27.—One of the most brilliant and fashionable weddings that has taken place in Chatham for many years was performed at eight o'clock this evening in Saint Luke's Church, when Rev. G. F. Dawson made man and wife Mr. Earl Stanley Crocker and Miss Frances Ellen Snowball. The groom is a son of Mr. T. W. Crocker of Newcastle, and is manager of the Royal Bank of Canada branch in Cuba. The bride is a daughter of the late Lieut. Governor J. B. Snowball. Both young people are very popular in Miramichi social circles and are well known not only in provincial circles, but also in many Upper Canadian cities. The event was a grand affair.

WORLD WIDE REVOLUTION IS INEVITABLE, BUT IT WILL BE CHRISTIAN BOTH IN MOTIVE AND METHOD

(By Leo Tolstol.)

Two hundred or even 100 years ago people regarded riches as a sign of worth and the accumulation of wealth as a virtue, and they respected the rich and tried to imitate them.

In former times the powerful and rich had faith in their position and knew that the working people believed in their lawfulness, and the people really did believe that the position of the rich and of themselves was unchangeable.

Face to face with this decisive step, which confronts all mankind today, the people of our world now stand in indecision. But whether they like it or not, they cannot but take that step.

Another would think the sufferings arising from the violence men do to one another would awaken in them a thought that they are themselves to blame for their sufferings.

Love must supersede violence. Granting that we have to people say, "how, in what way, must and can the change come about?"

"What must be done?" is the question that arises. The answer is: "Love." Love is the only force that can bring about the change.

People need only free themselves from this common superstition and it would at once become clear to all that the life of every group of men gets arranged only in the same way that each individual arranges his own life.

Love, instead of laws executed by violence, is all very well. We wish that the acceptance of love in simple, natural and identical for all men, and everywhere. And such real welfare is given only to him who fulfills the law of his life.

Let every one of us understand this, and he will at once also understand that in this world and in the whole world, suffering is caused not by some kind of wicked people guilty of the evil that is going on, but only by one thing—the fact that men live in conditions that have arisen from the use of violence, conditions contrary to love and incompatible with it.

Let each man understand that, and he will understand that it is not the thief who steals, and the rich man who gathers and keeps back wealth, and the soldier who kills, and the prostitute who yields her body and soul to dishonor, and the soldier who shoots any one he is ordered to shoot, who are to be blamed, but that they do what they do only because they live in the false belief that violence is a necessity, without which life is unimaginable.

WHITE RIBBONERS FROM ALL PARTS OF CANADA TO MEET IN CONVENTION HERE FROM OCTOBER 29 TO NOVEMBER 2

Arrangements About Completed for Great Annual Gathering of the Dominion W. C. T. U.—Each Province Will be Represented—Burning Questions to be Discussed—Eminent Men and Women to Address Gathering—History of World's Union and Its Canadian Branch, With Brief Sketches of Founders.

Arrangements are almost completed for the meeting of the Dominion White Ribboners in the City of St. John, N. B., on Friday, October 29, and the convention opening on the morning of the 31st. All the details are open to the public and will be gratified by full houses at each session.

There will be discussions on various subjects of universal interest. Miss Innes, of Nova Scotia, who is making her place among our Canadian workers of reputation, will give a paper on the franchise question, followed by discussion. This paper fairly scintillates with brilliant thoughts and will well repay the hearer.

Then there will be thrust upon our attention the grave question of the alarming spread of "The White Slave Traffic" in Canada. Some action will be taken by our organization along this line. Plans will be presented from authentic sources followed by discussion. This serious question attracts calls for an arrest of thought on the part of the motherhood of Canada.

The evils of the cigarette habit, the need of a more widespread work among young people in the formation of modern Y. organizations, Local Temp. Leagues, Anti-Cigarette Leagues will all be discussed.

We expect the Provincial Presidents and their representatives from every province. Each of these will tell the story of the White Ribbon work in their Province and we can confidently expect that it will be well worth listening to for they are women of distinguished ability and in different instances have given years of effort to the leadership of this work.

The Honorable President of the Alberta Union, Mrs. Bulyea, wife of the Lieutenant Governor of Alberta, is likewise expected. Mrs. Bulyea's first husband being killed in New Brunswick and we know she will receive a most cordial welcome to her native Province.

Dr. John Pringle, of Yukon fame, now of Sydney, Cape Breton, will address the convention Tuesday evening. Dr. Pringle receives an enthusiastic reception wherever he goes, and we are assured that the people of St. John will gladly avail themselves of this further opportunity to hear one of Canada's advanced thinkers and speakers.

Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces are all sending their full quota of delegates. British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba will all be represented, but unfortunately on account of the great distances involved, all entitled to attend will not be able.

We are confidently expecting that Mrs. M. E. Sanderson, president of the Dominion Women's Christian Temperance Union will be the best yet held, and we ask the cooperation of the people of St. John to help make this an assured fact.

S. R. WRIGHT,
(Pres. Dom. W. C. T. U.)

CONVENTION PROGRAMME

The convention will be in session in the Denbigh Church Oct. 29th to Nov. 2nd, inclusive.

Already over fifty delegates have sent in their names.

Special features of the convention will be the welcome meeting presided over by Miss Bullock on Friday evening, Oct. 29. classes, bringing them into a solid entity to fight forever the avowed and greed which actuates the liquor manufacturers.

"This education must ever continue, just education, and it must never cease. Fancy what would be the result were the common schools to close their doors for a decade. Like-wise must the continuation of the knowledge of the harmfulness of strong drink and its attendant evils ever be present to each generation and make a part of their mental development as well as an appeal to the soul; for in the war for truth and against error there is no discharge. The more we accomplish the more we have to accomplish; all things are full of labor, good men can never retire from their works of benevolence. Labor is first a duty and finally a pleasure, if rightly done."

FRANCES E. WILLARD
FOUNDER OF UNION
No Woman of Her Time
More Generally
Beloved.

"FOR GOD AND HOME AND NATIVE LAND."

"In the beginning God—first in the heart, first in the home, first in the nation; then shall the vision of St. John the Revelator, come to pass—'And I saw a new heaven and new earth, for the first heaven and first earth had passed away; and there was no more—'Liquor Traffic."

FRANCES E. WILLARD.

"No woman of her time was more widely known or more generally beloved than Frances E. Willard, founder and president of the World's Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The great organization which belts the globe with its symbolic bands of ribbon white had been a mighty factor in the evolution of the Awakened Woman, and that organization owes much of its power and prestige to the tireless heart and the loving heart, clear and vigilant eye of Frances E. Willard.

Although of New-England ancestry, Miss Willard spent her girlhood in the west, where she began her public career by teaching in a country school. After graduating from Northwestern University, and travelling abroad for two years she was appointed Dean of the Women's College and Professor of Rhetoric in the University.

In 1874 Miss Willard resigned these positions and against the opposition of all her friends, excepting Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, threw in her lot with the Crusade Movement, out of which evolved the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Her decision was the more remarkable, that on the same day there came to her two letters, one from Dr. Van Norman, of New York, offering her the principality of a girls' school, with a salary of $2,500 per year, the other from Mrs. Louise Rounds of Chicago, asking her to become president of the Chicago W. C. T. U. without salary. So strong was Miss Willard's conviction that God was leading, that although she was without pecuniary resources she at once declined the first and accepted the latter.

For nineteen years Miss Willard was national president (U.S.A.) of the W. C. T. U. and became its president. Her decision was the more remarkable, that on the same day there came to her two letters, one from Dr. Van Norman, of New York, offering her the principality of a girls' school, with a salary of $2,500 per year, the other from Mrs. Louise Rounds of Chicago, asking her to become president of the Chicago W. C. T. U. without salary. So strong was Miss Willard's conviction that God was leading, that although she was without pecuniary resources she at once declined the first and accepted the latter.

Miss Willard originated the W. C. T. U. Polyglot Petition for the prohibition of the liquor traffic and opium trade, which with 1,000,000 names of attestations of great societies has been presented to the governments of Great Britain and Canada, and will be presented to many others.

The last world's convention over which she presided met in Toronto in October, 1897. A few days later she presided over the national convention in Buffalo, and on February 17, 1898, received her summons "home." Those who witnessed her "home going" saw the glorious triumph of Christian faith. "How beautiful to be with God," she whispered as her spirit took its flight.

The extension of the work of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was demonstrated upon her memorial, and 3,000,000 white ribbon women continue to honor her memory in the perpetuation of the great organization to which she gave her life.—Adopted.

MRS. LETITIA YOUNGANS.

The white principles were first planted in Canada by Mrs. Letitia Youngans of Coburg, Ont. She was born in 1821 and spent her childhood and youth on a Canadian farm, but at the age of sixteen she entered a ladies' school in Coburg, from which she graduated to become a teacher. Later in life she married and retired to the life of the farm.

Mrs. Chisholm, President Manitoba W. C. T. U., and Vice-President of the Dominion Union.

She became president of the Ontario W. C. T. U. and later the first president of the Dominion Union. For eighteen years she continued her public work lecturing in all parts of the Dominion.

The work she accomplished, the army of consecrated workers she gathered round her endures—she being dead yet speaks—in the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Canada.

(By Emma S. Fiske.)
The last number of the Boston Woman's Journal gives a full account of the suffragette movement in the interest of which Mrs. Pankhurst is engaged. This phase of the movement to secure the parliamentary vote for women dates back to 1903, when the Women's Social and Political Union was formed under the leadership of Mrs. Pankhurst. This association, together with the Women's Freedom League, adopted the tactics which have "almost turned England upside down." These societies are now known as the militant suffragettes or factiously the suffragettes.

WHY MRS. PANKHURST BECAME MILITANT.

The immediate grievance of the suffragettes is the action of the present cabinet in smothering the Woman Suffrage bill and keeping it from coming up for the third reading and the final vote. This bill has passed its second reading in the present House of Commons by a vote of three to one; and if Mr. Asquith and his cabinet had not prevented the third reading, as they seem, strangely enough, to have the power to do, there would have been no such thing as the suffragette movement.

But the grievance did not begin with this present parliament. Bills to grant the parliamentary suffrage for women have been before the House of Commons for the last sixteen years, with a majority of the commons in favor of the measure, but during all these sixteen years these bills have been treated the same as the present one and it has been impossible to get a final vote upon them. During this time Mrs. Pankhurst and her co-workers have used the ordinary peaceful methods to secure these ends. At the beginning of the present agitation they urged Mr. Asquith and the cabinet to take the necessary steps to let the bill come to a vote. They were met with refusal on the ground that "all the time of parliament was pre-empted for more important matters, and that women suffrage though undeniably just was not yet a question of practical politics." This set the women thinking and devising means and ways of making suffrage a question of practical politics. In their dilemma they consulted ex-Premier Balfour, who is a suffragist. The substance of his advice was: "Kick up a row." Try first one way and then another. As soon as the public gets used to one method, invent another. Needless to say they have very literally followed his advice, with the intent to "make the lives of the cabinet ministers a burden to them until they let the suffrage bill come to a vote." The justice of their demand must be admitted by all, whatever may be said concerning their methods, the fact remains that they are "making his word," and are proving not only to the British public, but to the world at large, that they are most seriously in earnest and are sure to win in the end.

THE CAMPAIGN.

The militant movement began in the ladies' gallery in the House of Commons when it became evident that during a debate on suffrage the bill was not to be allowed to come to a vote. At this moment a woman thrust a small suffrage banner through the bars of the grille which divides the ladies' gallery from the House, and cried, "Divide, divide." The women were ejected from the gallery. Then a regular session of parliament began; the women came in procession with pe-

tion asking parliament to put their bill to the vote. The men who were in sympathy came to help the women push their way in with their petitions. So many came, men and women, that parliament had to be guarded by 9,000 police, and Mrs. Pankhurst was sent to prison, where she remained for nearly three months. She had already served two terms in prison and is now under sentence for a third time pending the decision of the magistrate. On a legal point which has been brought up by the counsel for the women. This third arrest of Mrs. Pankhurst took place on June 29 of this year, on the occasion of her leading a deputation of eight women to the House of Commons in order to interview the Prime Minister. These women were charged with "obstructing the police in the execution of their duties." The magistrate before whom they were brought was informed by the legal adviser that "under an ancient statute, depositions of less than ten in number, possessed, it is absolutely right to go in person, and lay their claims before the King or his representative." The magistrate is now considering this point and should his decision be adverse to the suffragettes, Mrs. Pankhurst will have to serve a further term in prison upon her return to England.

IMPRISONMENT AND THE HUNGER STRIKE.

To many the hunger strike is simply a ludicrous feature of the proceeding. Ludicrous it may be, but it is nevertheless a fact and we have to treat it as such and not as a joke. It is simply the way the women have adopted to protest against their treatment as prisoners. They would have been fined or committed to the workhouse, but the government, from the first, has treated as political offenders, but the government from the first has put them in the division of the prison set apart for such culprits. Now, political prisoners are permitted to supply their own food, wear their own clothes, receive letters and papers and be visited by their friends, whereas common criminals must use prison food, wear prison clothes and have their letters out of the 24 in solitary confinement, and unless imprisoned for more than one month, they can receive neither letters nor visitors. As a protest against treatment as common criminals the hunger strike has been adopted; the women have refused to eat meals unless they could be transferred to the division of the prison assigned to political offenders. They did not, however, refuse to eat, but a hunger strike, it has been practised by political prisoners in Russia as a means of protesting dissatisfaction with their treatment.

At first the English "hunger strikers" were allowed to fast until they were in "serious danger" and then they were set free. In Birmingham, however, after consultation with Mr. Gladstone, it was decided that authorities began to feed the women by force, using a stomach pump for the women. Miss Laura Ainsworth, one of the prisoners subjected to this forced feeding, upon her release from prison was obliged to go to the hospital for treatment. There is a record of the death of a male prisoner who died in consequence of similar treatment. In the case of the women, however, the condition of Miss Ainsworth's suffragettes have brought suit against the authorities.

Mr. Keir Hardie has expressed his opinion of this treatment in parliament recently:

"There is difference of opinion," he said, "concerning the tactics of the militant suffragettes, but surely these can be no two opinions concerning the horrible brutality of this proceeding (the forced feeding). Women, worn and weak by hunger, are seized upon and held down by brute force, a tube inserted down the throat and food poured or pumped into the stomach. Let British men think over the spectacle."

When Mrs. Pankhurst's society started in 1903 there were only a few shillings in the treasury. This year there are nearly $250,000. The society's first office consisted of one room only. Mrs. Pankhurst's London headquarters now occupies thirteen rooms, each with a stenographer and typewriter who work without pay. There are branch offices all over the kingdom.

THEY WILL WIN.

A. D. Howells in an interview with the Boston Herald expresses the belief that the suffragettes will win. "They will have the ballot," he says. "It cannot be otherwise. That is my judgment. It has got to come. I have never heard any reason why women should not vote. I have heard pleas why they should not, but no reasons. Last year," he continues, "we saw the great suffragette procession in London. It was one of the most impressive things I ever saw. There were about 30,000 women in it marching down Piccadilly, and the most respectable looking women, old and young, and occasionally a venerable one."

DeMott of the Emmanuel Church, Boston, who spent the summer in London, is also convinced of the final victory of these women. At a meeting which he attended at which several suffragettes spoke, he says: "The appealing was good distinctly above the average to be heard in political assemblies, and there was a total absence of hysteria. Doubtless the suffragettes will get the vote. That is always the way in England. You must throng the streets, break windows and perhaps with a martyr's halo on your brow, and finally your grievance, or more or less redressed."

England," he continues, "after the long quiescence, is like a seething pot, and finally your grievance, or more or less redressed." Mrs. Pankhurst has been invited by the Toronto suffragettes to speak in Massey Hall on Nov. 20. The Men's Canadian League has also asked her to speak at one of their luncheons. Efforts are being made to have Mrs. Pankhurst lecture in St. John some time in November.

Manitoba soon fell into line, and in 1905 the maritime union dissolved, to form three distinct provincial unions. A territorial union for the Northwest Territories was organized October 6, 1904, at Calgary, Alberta, and at Red Deer, 1905, the Provincial Union of Alberta and Saskatchewan was organized.

WORK OF W.C.T.U. AMONG THE SAILORS

Mrs. Whitman, of Canso, N.S. Describes This Branch of the Work.

Among the most interesting departments of work carried on by the Dominion W. C. T. U. is the work among sailors and seamen, presided over by Mrs. O. C. Whitman, of Canso, Nova Scotia, who has many years of practical experience as a worker in the "Canso Sailors' Rest" enabled her to speak upon this subject as an expert.

And we ask what should be done for sailors, outlaw the liquor traffic, build sailors' rest, provide reading rooms and safe recreations for those who do so much for us. To a sailor's rest in Nova Scotia came a man this summer under the influence of strong drink. He suggested as he came in and was called. He said he came to hear "the music," it made him think of his mother. He sat quietly for some time, and then asked for a certain air his mother used to sing. He would never forget her. PREDICTED MINING DISASTERS

The effect of recent sermons on the coal strike in Cape Breton, which called forth the action of the Papal representative in Canada, has been likened to that of Mrs. Coo's attempts to frighten the miners of Pictou County. This recalls a strange story of by-gone years, which perhaps may never be heard.

DOESN'T CLEAR THE GREASER MYSTERY

She became ambitious and was soared into the wilder realms of the unknown. When the stalwart Mahatma handed out the prediction that there would be a falling in of coal in one of the mines, and gave the date upon which it would happen, nobody was very much frightened, and nobody stopped work. When the accident actually did happen on the date fixed, and a wall of coal fell in and crushed several men to death, there were those who recalled the prophecy.

CIRCUMSTANCE WAS FORGOTTEN

The circumstance was forgotten, unknown. When the stalwart Mahatma handed out the prediction that there would be a falling in of coal in one of the mines, and gave the date upon which it would happen, nobody was very much frightened, and nobody stopped work. When the accident actually did happen on the date fixed, and a wall of coal fell in and crushed several men to death, there were those who recalled the prophecy.

A TERRIBLE CATASTROPHE

On the day fixed, half a dozen or so of the miners were working away at what was supposed to be a solid wall of coal when there was a sudden rush and roar, and a mighty volume of water broke in upon them, crushing and drowning all who were working there at the time. It hurried out that the men had unconsciously been cutting their way into the solid coal of centuries.

IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENTS IN IRISH POLITICS SOON

Semi Weekly Dublin Letter—T. P. O'Connor in America to Raise Funds for Campaign

(From Staff Correspondent.)
DUBLIN, Oct. 18.—We are on the eve of a series of important developments in Irish politics, which promise to change to a great extent the present status of the country and which, if the people are right, will probably make it much easier for the time being to print T. P. O'Connor will be in America to raise funds for the general election campaign which must come within a very few months whatever happens to the English budget, and he will, no doubt be able to speak with authority of the new conditions which have arisen.
The most significant of these developments is the proposal for the formation of an Irish centre party, which, while not merging itself in the official nationalist party will work in harmony with it, and will, it is hoped, so divide the rapidly dwindling Irish Unionist party as to rob it of its political influence, and authority that it now possesses. The new party is to be formed by the fusion of the Imperial Home Rule Association and the Irish Reform Association, both of which have done good work in creating a national sentiment among classes of Irishmen who had held aloof from the home rule movement, not so much because of any enmity to home rule per se, as because of a mistaken religious and racial prejudice. The Irish Reform Association was composed of the more moderate landlords and country gentlemen, headed by Lord Dunsany, who wished to see a large measure of administrative, if not of legislative home rule granted to Ireland, and who, after the settlement of the Home Rule Bill, they had been engaged in their own efforts to secure the same for the Irish people at large. With the disappearance of this class, they began to see that their future lay in Ireland, and while they were prevented from joining the official party by the opposition of some of its members, they were anxious to do what they could to help the development of their country along its own lines. It is interesting to note that the revolution policy which was accepted by many patriotic Irishmen as a step in the right direction.

The Imperial Home Rule Association was composed chiefly of business men who accepted the Home Rule Bill as a constructive as well as administrative home rule and who came nearer the Irish party than the Irish Reform Association. In this respect the latter has been adopted as the official candidate for County Dublin (South). The new centre party is the dream of Lord MacDonnell, who as Sir Anthony MacDonnell, was such a popular, and influential secretary at the Castle.
Another significant development is the attitude of the Sinn Fein party, as indicated by a series of articles in "Sinn Fein," its new daily organ. This party, which has been a political party since its inception, now goes so far as to propose that in the event of the Irish holding a balance of power in the next parliament, as it seems likely they will do, a bargain should be struck with the Tories by which the Irish would support the general principle of a tariff measure in return for the establishment of a separate Irish custom house under Irish control. This would give Ireland the opportunity of protecting and fostering her own industries without regard to the interests of manufacturers and traders across the Irish sea. This is understood to be the policy which will be advocated by William O'Brien on his return to public life, and that it is the support of many influential Irish politicians. Of course, the Irish party is not tied to the Liberals, and seeing how they have been treated, it is likely there is no reason why the Irish party should not make the best bargain it can for Ireland in the next parliament, or for that matter with anyone who can deliver the goods.

The Strabane (County Tyrone) District Council is faced to face with an unusual difficulty. For some time past the street lamps have been out of order and have been turned out mysteriously at night, leaving the streets and roads in darkness. A watch was set and some children were discovered turning out the lights in the town. This was stopped, but the lamps on the country roads and lanes continued to be extinguished and for a long time no explanation was forthcoming. Then it dawned on the town clerk that the roads which suffered most were those frequented by lovers, and following out this brilliant idea he caught two or three pairs extinguishing the lights on starting their evening walks. The council has now ordered a special patrol of the lovers resorts and threatens to prosecute any spooning couple caught translating their preference for darkness rather than light into action.

A hot controversy is now going on in the Irish press over the question whether or not patriotic Irishmen should accept appointments under the English government in Ireland. It has been for a long time the rule of the Irish party that none of its members should accept any such appointments, and this was extended to private nationalists who declined to accept any paid office under the government. Of late, however, a number of judgeships and other offices have been given to nationalists, with the result that there has been some severe criticism. The general opinion, however, seems to be that the criticism is unjust, and that nationalists who have been asked to accept administrative or judicial offices in Ireland provided the office is not one whose duties would require the holder to do anything inimical to the interests of his country. It seems hard to see why an Irishman should not be a judge paid by money levied from Irish taxpayers, or why he should not enter the Irish post-office, the agricultural department of any of the other departments of Irish government and administration. The policy of refusing such appointments only cuts young Irishmen off from a large field of work in a country where work of any kind is none too plentiful, and hands a large number of profitable jobs over to Englishmen and other foreigners.

BEAUTIFUL WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Miss Leah Oppenheimer
Fire Bullet Through
Her Heart

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Miss Leah Oppenheimer killed herself yesterday afternoon in the apartment of her sister, Mrs. George Y. Symons, No. 4 West Ninety-third street, by shooting through the heart.
The coroner expressed the opinion that the act was the outcome of a love affair. He was told by Mary Ciplich, a servant, that Miss Oppenheimer, who was remarkably beautiful, received a letter in Thursday from her fiancé in Butte, Mont., and was unhappy after reading it. She lived in Butte until a year ago, when she came to New York. Lewis E. Oppenheimer, brother of the dead woman, said he had been suffering from insomnia and Dr. O'Hanlon, coroner's physician, who investigated the case, said insomnia was often the precursor of insanity, and that the young woman's mind was deranged.

PRINCESS LOUISE SEEKS A NEW LOAN

Impossible to Live on 7,000 Pounds a Year

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Princess Louise of Belgium, the daughter of King Leopold and the divorced wife of Prince Philip of Coburg, who has been in financial difficulties for some time, is making strenuous efforts to raise loans of money.
The following is a copy of a letter recently received by the Hamburg Bank: "I beg to inquire whether your bank would be prepared to grant a loan on the security of an inheritance exceeding £500,000. It may be mentioned that the person from whom this property will be inherited is still living, and he is seventy-six years of age, and that we cannot disinherit the recipient of the loan because the law of his country prevents him from doing so."
Having received a reply to the effect that negotiations could be begun, the bank received another letter as follows:
"In reply to your letter of Sept. 19, I beg to inform you that Princess Louise of Belgium desires to raise this loan by pledging a portion of her father's inheritance. The Princess now has a yearly income of about £7,000. She cannot live on this amount, and she is now seeking a loan which will enable her to live in style according to her rank until the death of the King of Belgium, who is now seventy-six years old."
With this letter (says the Express) was enclosed a statement of a Belgian lawyer that it will be legally impossible for King Leopold to disinherit his daughter.

Husband Gets Picture of Millionaire in Wife's Room

HONOLULU, Oct. 28.—Flashlight photography is to play an important part in the suit by H. Coerper against millionaire C. Soltis for alienating the affections of Mrs. Coerper.
Coerper, who is a wine broker, suspected his wife of infatuation for the millionaire, so he announced he was going away for several days. Instead, he hired a photographer, with orders to have a flashlight ready for emergency.
He and the photographer went to the Coerper home about midnight. The camera man set up the apparatus, and when the husband broke in the wife's bedroom door, and the artist took a flashlight picture, the result satisfied the merchant's suspicions.
The millionaire couldn't explain his presence in the broker's home.

HEAVY SEA SWAMPS BOAT; NINE YOUNG MEN TOSSED INTO RIVER AT WESTFIELD

Party of St. John Men Spending Holiday in Country Have a Close Call While Crossing River—Had to Swim Ashore

Nine young men, who went up river on Saturday to spend the holiday at Westfield, had a very exciting experience early last evening and one which they will not soon forget. Their experience would probably have been attended with fatal results had it not happened to them near the middle of the river. Fortunately, however, all the members of the party escaped by swimming to the shore, after the row boat in which they were attempting to make the opposite side of the river in a heavy sea, had been swamped and sunk.
Those who were in the party were: George Clarkson, Percy Howard, Ernest Everett, George Roberts, Jack Stephenson, Fred Steans, David B. Clarkson, Wm. C. Birrell and Howard Clark. On Saturday afternoon they went up on the Minto to Westfield to stay over Sunday and the holiday. Everything passed on well until shortly after six o'clock when they were intended to come home left Westfield. Shortly after six o'clock they left Mr. Healy's house, which is just above Sand Point. It was in a row boat that they intended to cross the river, the intention being to catch the special train for the city. The boat was fully laden with provisions for at least twelve persons. The party of nine started for Westfield in the boat, but the heavy sea and the strong wind proved too much for them. When they were about one hundred feet from Westfield the water began to come over the stern of the boat. Strenuous efforts were made to keep craft afloat, but in a short time the stern was submerged, and in a few seconds more the boat sank.
The oars were quickly dropped and all jumped into the river. Then fell upon them the task of swimming ashore in the cold, icy water, with all their heavy clothes on. Fortunately every member of the party could swim and all managed to get ashore, but only after considerable difficulty. The nine men drenched with the water of the St. John river made their way to the "cottage" of Charles D. "Brueman" and David Ledington at Westfield. There dry clothing was procured for some of them and others partially dried their own. In the course of three or four hours they felt themselves again, and returned to the city on the Boston train last evening.
The telephone wires between here and Westfield were kept quite busy last evening with inquiries concerning the accident. For the news had reached the city a short time after the occurrence.
The anxious parents and wives of the young men were overjoyed on seeing their sons and husbands return to the city none the worse for the accident.

LAST CALL FOR THE OLD TARIFF RATES

Custom Houses Across Border to be Kept Open Next Saturday Afternoon

AIDS IMPORTERS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—What is regarded as a distinct concession to importing interests and to France, was made by the treasury department in directing the collectors of customs at the ports of the United States to keep custom houses open until 4.30 p. m. next Saturday, October 30, on which date the commercial agreements with France by which the tariff on goods from that country expires. The purpose of the order is to give every facility to importers to enter goods at the reduced rates of the existing treaty, and applies particularly to New York and a few other cities where the custom houses close ordinarily at 1 p. m. The order is signed by acting Secretary Hills follows:
"In view of the fact that the commercial agreements with France, Switzerland and Bulgaria would expire with the close of business on Saturday the 30th instant, the custom house will be kept open until 4.30 o'clock p. m. instead of being closed at one o'clock for the usual half holiday. In this connection your attention is invited to the treasury decision on the 26th ultimo relative to the termination of the commercial agreements between the United States and France."
The treasury decision referred to was the one fixing October 30 as the date of the expiration of the agreements instead of the 31st, because of the latter date falling on Sunday.
The acts of Congress do not recognize Saturday afternoon as half holidays and the executive department of Government at Washington therefore remain open until 4.30 every Saturday, the same as other week days, except during the summer. But at New York and Chicago and other cities, Saturday afternoon is a legal holiday and brokers and other business houses are generally closed.
A French trans-Atlantic is making a race against time in order to get a cargo of goods under the lower rates of the commercial agreement. The steamer is scheduled to arrive early Saturday afternoon and today's action of the treasury department will permit the steamer to enter the goods under the expiring agreement.
There is little danger of a tariff war between the United States and France in the matter.

GERMAN ARMY SPIES CAPTURED IN FRANCE

Gang of Seven Men and Three Women in Hands of the Police

REIMS, Oct. 28.—The existence of an elaborate organization of German spies in France is believed to have been revealed by the arrest in this city of seven men and three women alleged to be the paid agents of the Berlin War Office. Large quantities of correspondence have been seized, and the French police affirm that the gang captured is only part of a greater organization, the operations of which are secretly directed by German agents in Paris.
This city was apparently the headquarters of a body of spies in the pay of the German military authorities. The leaders have so far eluded capture.
The names of those in custody are Troussier and Ave, mechanics; Taffin, designer at the military engineering headquarters at Nancy; Berteaux, inkkeeper at Sedan; Charles Ancelet and two others whose names are not mentioned. The names of the three women are Palynotte, Magister and Berteaux.

MONCTON, Oct. 28.—The morning session of the convention of Sons of Temperance being held here was taken up with enrollment and reports from committees. Those attending from St. John are Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hennequin, Jas. Sullivan, S. P. McChavur, A. Armstrong, Joshua Stack, W. H. Patterson, J. R. Woodburn. The report of grand treasurer showed receipts of $188.92 and the expenditures, $217.40, balance $69.52. Report of the grand secretary showed receipts and disbursements to be $32.76. Husband Gets Picture of Millionaire in Wife's Room

HONOLULU, Oct. 28.—Flashlight photography is to play an important part in the suit by H. Coerper against millionaire C. Soltis for alienating the affections of Mrs. Coerper.
Coerper, who is a wine broker, suspected his wife of infatuation for the millionaire, so he announced he was going away for several days. Instead, he hired a photographer, with orders to have a flashlight ready for emergency.
He and the photographer went to the Coerper home about midnight. The camera man set up the apparatus, and when the husband broke in the wife's bedroom door, and the artist took a flashlight picture, the result satisfied the merchant's suspicions.
The millionaire couldn't explain his presence in the broker's home.

BEAUTIFUL WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Miss Leah Oppenheimer
Fire Bullet Through
Her Heart

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Miss Leah Oppenheimer killed herself yesterday afternoon in the apartment of her sister, Mrs. George Y. Symons, No. 4 West Ninety-third street, by shooting through the heart.
The coroner expressed the opinion that the act was the outcome of a love affair. He was told by Mary Ciplich, a servant, that Miss Oppenheimer, who was remarkably beautiful, received a letter in Thursday from her fiancé in Butte, Mont., and was unhappy after reading it. She lived in Butte until a year ago, when she came to New York. Lewis E. Oppenheimer, brother of the dead woman, said he had been suffering from insomnia and Dr. O'Hanlon, coroner's physician, who investigated the case, said insomnia was often the precursor of insanity, and that the young woman's mind was deranged.

HEAVY SEA SWAMPS BOAT; NINE YOUNG MEN TOSSED INTO RIVER AT WESTFIELD

Party of St. John Men Spending Holiday in Country Have a Close Call While Crossing River—Had to Swim Ashore

Nine young men, who went up river on Saturday to spend the holiday at Westfield, had a very exciting experience early last evening and one which they will not soon forget. Their experience would probably have been attended with fatal results had it not happened to them near the middle of the river. Fortunately, however, all the members of the party escaped by swimming to the shore, after the row boat in which they were attempting to make the opposite side of the river in a heavy sea, had been swamped and sunk.
Those who were in the party were: George Clarkson, Percy Howard, Ernest Everett, George Roberts, Jack Stephenson, Fred Steans, David B. Clarkson, Wm. C. Birrell and Howard Clark. On Saturday afternoon they went up on the Minto to Westfield to stay over Sunday and the holiday. Everything passed on well until shortly after six o'clock when they were intended to come home left Westfield. Shortly after six o'clock they left Mr. Healy's house, which is just above Sand Point. It was in a row boat that they intended to cross the river, the intention being to catch the special train for the city. The boat was fully laden with provisions for at least twelve persons. The party of nine started for Westfield in the boat, but the heavy sea and the strong wind proved too much for them. When they were about one hundred feet from Westfield the water began to come over the stern of the boat. Strenuous efforts were made to keep craft afloat, but in a short time the stern was submerged, and in a few seconds more the boat sank.
The oars were quickly dropped and all jumped into the river. Then fell upon them the task of swimming ashore in the cold, icy water, with all their heavy clothes on. Fortunately every member of the party could swim and all managed to get ashore, but only after considerable difficulty. The nine men drenched with the water of the St. John river made their way to the "cottage" of Charles D. "Brueman" and David Ledington at Westfield. There dry clothing was procured for some of them and others partially dried their own. In the course of three or four hours they felt themselves again, and returned to the city on the Boston train last evening.
The telephone wires between here and Westfield were kept quite busy last evening with inquiries concerning the accident. For the news had reached the city a short time after the occurrence.
The anxious parents and wives of the young men were overjoyed on seeing their sons and husbands return to the city none the worse for the accident.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES HELD IN CITY CHURCHES

United Service Takes Place in Calvin Church—Rev. A. B. Cohoe Heard by Large Congregation at Centenary

The religious observance of the holiday was not a prominent feature of the Thanksgiving festivities yesterday owing chiefly to the fact that many of the churches held appropriate services on Sunday.
In accordance with their usual custom the Presbyterians of the city, including those in the West and North Ends and in Fairville, held a union service at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in Calvin Church. Rev. W. M. Townsend, of Fairville, presided, and preached a thoughtful sermon on the subject of Thanksgiving.
He referred to the impulse to give thanks which is implanted in all of us and impressed on his hearers the obligation to express their gratitude to God. The speaker mentioned briefly some of the more prominent blessings for which we should give thanks and urged the people to adopt an optimistic rather than a pessimistic frame of mind. Thanksgiving, he said, was a means of culture and tended to bring out the best that was in us. In closing he said that the best method of expressing our thanks was through a life devoted to the service of God and mankind.
Rev. A. A. Graham read the Scripture lesson, and Rev. J. H. A. Anderson led in prayer. The choir of Calvin Church assisted with the music, and rendered an appropriate anthem. A special offering was taken for the benefit of the Protestant Orphan Asylum.

AT CENTENARY.
Rev. A. B. Cohoe preached an impressive sermon before the congregation of Centenary Church yesterday morning at the special Thanksgiving service. His text, which was taken from Luke 10:23, was: "I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hidden these things from the wise and prudent and hast revealed them unto babes." Rev. Dr. C. R. Flanders, pastor of the church, presided. There was a large congregation in spite of the disagreeable weather, and a substantial sum was realized by a special offering for the piano fund.
PORTLAND STREET.
In Portland Street Methodist Church yesterday morning a fair sized congregation gathered to render thanks for the blessings which the past year has brought. The pastor, Rev. Neil McLaughlin, presided and Rev. Geo. A. Ross of Fairville delivered the sermon. His text was "Freely ye have received, freely give," from Matt. 10: 8, and he spoke eloquently on the subject of the thankfulness of the heart. He was present, assisted in the service and led in prayer. Special music by a male quartette added to the attractiveness of the service. The offering was for the poor fund of the church, ST. LUKE'S.
The usual Thanksgiving Day service was held in St. Luke's Church yesterday morning. The pastor, Rev. R. P. McKim, spoke on the Spirit of Thanksgiving, taking as his text Luke 17: 17: "Jesus said, where are the nine?"
There was a good attendance in spite of the inclement weather and a large amount was received in the special offering for the poor fund of the church. Holy Communion was celebrated in St. John's (Stone) Church 10:30 yesterday morning in observance of Thanksgiving Day.
In most of the other churches special attention had been given to the subject of Thanksgiving either on Sunday or on Sunday of the preceding week, and in consequence no service was held yesterday.

JAMAICA GINGER GIVES ONE A JAG

FREDERICTON, Oct. 28.—Hon. L. P. Ferris is in the city today. He reports that a quantity of stuff under the head of Jamaica ginger of a name to that effect has been sold along the line of the Transcontinental. A short time ago a sample was sent to Ottawa for analysis, and he says the report shows that a quantity shipped by a St. John firm contained 22.40 per cent of alcohol, and a quantity sent by a Montreal firm 47.50. As pure whiskey contains but 48 per cent of alcohol there is a strong suspicion that the malt sold is somewhat intoxicating.

BIG FORTUNES AND BAD CONDITIONS

The poor are always with us, and their presence is a constant challenge to the brain and the heart of a people. But of late there has been a tendency to reverse the finding and to discover that the rich that are always with us there is another phase of the same problem.

The usual proposal has been one of punishment for prosperity. No attempt has been made to adjust economic and social conditions so as to bring about a more equitable distribution of the rewards of industry.

We are already familiar with mid attacks upon individual fortunes involved in the various forms of inheritance tax. This tax almost invariably provides for the exemption of the holdings and is not therefore a direct attack upon the principle of inheritance.

The principle of progressive taxation has found many ardent advocates. It seems plausible that men should bear burdens in accordance with their strength.

Mr. Joseph N. Shestons of Toronto, a man of distinguished ability and of pronounced success has lately been suggesting an individual voluntary solution of the problem.

Mr. Shestons' own statement is that the difficulty which presents itself in the "large fortune" is not a new one. It is a problem which has existed since the dawn of time.

In any voluntary or enforced scheme there must be a clear recognition of the fact that large fortunes are not quite so inalienable as they are often supposed to be.

In these days straits the Sun finds some comfort in the reflection that a few months ago a Carleton County farmer made somewhat similar attack, which was immediately followed by an increase of several hundred subscribers in that county.

It is to be regretted, however, that the Telegraph has permitted some of its scribes to splurge upon the Sun to splash out upon Hon. Mr. Emmerson.

The Washington Post joins strongly in the protest from the industrial American press against the proposal to establish maximum tariff restrictions.

The maximum feature of our law was adopted as a retaliatory measure. Congress seemingly ignoring the fact that tariff retaliation is a game that two can play at.

Even on the opinion seems to be ready for a sacrifice of individual rights, in favour of the circle of individual liberties in the interests of all the people.

plan's operation. The site which he has finally fixed upon, is the best available in the city. It is not the case with the present proposed legislation.

By the British budget is interesting not only for the radical discussion it provokes but for its radical proposals. Mr. Balfour calls the present government socialist, and socialist they undoubtedly are.

The usual proposal has been one of punishment for prosperity. No attempt has been made to adjust economic and social conditions so as to bring about a more equitable distribution of the rewards of industry.

We are already familiar with mid attacks upon individual fortunes involved in the various forms of inheritance tax. This tax almost invariably provides for the exemption of the holdings and is not therefore a direct attack upon the principle of inheritance.

The principle of progressive taxation has found many ardent advocates. It seems plausible that men should bear burdens in accordance with their strength.

Mr. Joseph N. Shestons of Toronto, a man of distinguished ability and of pronounced success has lately been suggesting an individual voluntary solution of the problem.

Mr. Shestons' own statement is that the difficulty which presents itself in the "large fortune" is not a new one. It is a problem which has existed since the dawn of time.

In any voluntary or enforced scheme there must be a clear recognition of the fact that large fortunes are not quite so inalienable as they are often supposed to be.

REVOLT IS DUE NOVEMBER 4

Mrs. Stetson Determined to Leave Situation Discussed

The Stetson Woman Believes Mrs. E. Stetson is Opposed by Her Lieutenants

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Proclamation by Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, dominant figure in the First Church of Christ Scientist, in this city, of her belief that the spirit that inspired Mr. E. Stetson had departed, has been followed by a number of announcements made during the past few weeks, which indicate that Mrs. Stetson has determined to leave the First Church.

During the morning services, which were attended by all except a few of the lay members of the church, Mrs. Stetson, the first reader, announced that a meeting of the members would be held on Nov. 4, at 11 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. E. Stetson.

It is said that at this meeting the members would receive the report of the trustees of the First Church which during the past two weeks, have been conducting an investigation into the charges because of which the Boston officers of the church have been suspended from their offices.

From unofficial sources it is learned that Mrs. Stetson is determining upon the removal of the church to the residence of Mrs. E. Stetson, and that she is determined to leave the First Church in this city, and in other matters, has been done without Mrs. E. Stetson's consent.

HUNTER-MORAE. A quiet home wedding took place at Kennebunk Island on Monday, the 28th inst., when Mrs. Martha J. Hunter was united in marriage to Mr. E. Stetson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. S. Young of Long Beach, and was attended by a number of friends.

ROBERT BUSTIN. An old and respected citizen of St. John, the person of Robert Bustin, passed away at an early hour Saturday morning, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. James Wilson, at 76 St. John street. He was 76 years of age and was a native of St. John.

PEOPLE OF SAN FRANCISCO Making Merry on the City's Birthday. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—San Francisco streets were a vast ballroom tonight as the city celebrated its birthday. The revelry was kept up until midnight, and the streets were filled with people of all ages.

SCHOLS AND EDUCATION

Bernard Shaw said that the school did well if it did not interrupt education, and the man who values nothing but things well is liable to regard his school as a waste of time.

There are many things worth knowing that you cannot include in the curriculum. The school should not be a mere "rag-bag" for so many different subjects as at present.

When we are talking about the school, we are talking about the child's mind. To do this it is just possible that the school should be a place where the child's mind is free to expand.

Individualism vs. Socialism. The extreme proposal of Socialism do not alarm the average citizen. He is not so much concerned with the individual as he is with the community.

The I. C. R. and the West Indies. The Halifax Chronicle makes the sensible and timely proposal that the Intercolonial Railway should be controlled by the people of the West Indies.

Another Reform for the I. C. R. The Amherst News, hitherto a staunch Liberal paper, writes today that the best interests of the country would be served by a complete reorganization of the Intercolonial Railway.

A Cheerful Thanksgiving. Thanksgiving should be well celebrated in St. John today. The day has seldom or never come round when one could not enumerate reasons plentiful and strong why we should be thankful.

A Business Proposition. It is quite natural that when a man is obviously attempting to drive a close bargain, as Mr. Durant is doing in his proposition for the construction of a sugar refinery here, there should be a disposition on the part of those with whom he is dealing to make a good bargain for their standpoint.

The Intercolonial. Mr. M. J. Butler has given an interview to the Montreal Star recently, in which he has expressed his views on the operation of the Intercolonial Railway. He has stated that the railway is a success, and that it is a credit to the Dominion.

Wm. Taylor Drowned. Wm. Taylor was drowned in the Nashuaak River on Monday, the 28th inst. He was a young man, and was out for a walk on the bank when he fell in.

Confessed Slayer is Again Remanded. The man who confessed to the murder of Miss Ethel Kinrade, at the age of 17, is again remanded to the police station today, and was further remanded for eight days.

PRINCE ITO, FOREMOST AMONG JAPANESE STATESMEN, FALLS VICTIM TO ASSASSIN

Shot to Death at Harbin This Morning by a Korean Who Declares He Sought Liberty for His Country and Revenge for Private Wrongs

HARBIN, Manchuria, Oct. 28.—Prince Hirobumi Ito, former Japanese President-General of Korea, and probably Japan's foremost statesman, was assassinated here this morning by a Korean who declared he sought liberty for his country and revenge for private wrongs.

Several more shots were fired in quick succession, the bullets striking the prince in the head, chest and arm.

Three of the prince's companions were also wounded, bullets striking Japanese Consul-General Kawakan, General Manager Tannaka of the South Manchurian Railway and Prince Ito's private secretary, Colonel-General Kawakan is badly but not fatally injured.

Another significant provision is that should China build the Kirin railway east she must borrow the required capital from Japan, thus insuring Japanese control of an important branch from Japan's main line toward Vladivostok.

Japan also refused to discuss the abolition of sovereignty along the South Manchurian Railway. Her attitude was in sharp contrast with Russia's recognition of China's sovereignty in the recent Harbin agreement.

GHOSTS AND MAGIC ON HUDSON'S BAY

How an American Scientist Escaped the Indians

Condemned to Death—Smashed Medicine Man's Drum and Walked Away, While Indians Stood by Petrified.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Alonso Skinner of the Anthropological Bureau in the American Museum of Natural History has just returned here from adventures among the Ojibwa tribes on the southern shore of Hudson's Bay.

This was Mr. Skinner's second trip from the first several tribes refused to make friends with him, and one settlement on Cat Lake proved particularly resentful of his studies.

From the first several tribes refused to make friends with him, and one settlement on Cat Lake proved particularly resentful of his studies.

They feared ghosts. Knowing their superstitions, he sent word in reply that, though they might kill his body, they could not kill his soul, and if they did kill his body he would haunt them for ever.

The extreme hostility of the Cat Lake village, however, was traceable in a measure, Mr. Skinner thinks, to the resentment which the women of the settlement manifested toward him for taking photographs of them.

Condemned to be shot. The men, however, soon manifested itself in a threatening form. Led by the chief medicine man of the tribe, the braves held a war dance and finally cornered Mr. Skinner.

From his knowledge of the ways of the Ojibwas, he divined that their plan was for the old medicine man, in whose power they had child-like faith, to throw a spell over him.

Petrified with amazement. The effect on the braves, with their rifles cocked and at their shoulders ready for the old man to give the sign to fire, was even more pronounced.

RESULT IN ALBERT IS LIBERAL TRIUMPH

Party Makes a Substantial Gain—Fight Said to be on Party Lines—The Result in Kings

HOPEWELL HILL, via Albert County—The Albert Municipal elections which were held today resulted in the election of six Liberals and six Conservatives, a substantial gain for the Liberals, the Conservatives having had a majority at the polls for several years. The elections which were largely run on party lines aroused a great deal of interest, a very large vote being polled. Contests were held in every parish.

CONFESSES HE MURDERED THREE

Grazy at the Time, Says James McMahon

Long Standing Feud—Kansas Man Slays Two Sisters and Brother-in-Law.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 26.—James McMahon today confessed that he murdered his sisters, Miss Rose McMahon and Mrs. Alonzo Van Royen and the latter's husband, on a farm near Kansas City, last Tuesday.

"Yes, I killed my two sisters and brother-in-law, and I was crazy when I did it," he shouted, rising out of his chair and pacing the room. "It took me three months to plan and execute the crime. Day by day, the picture of their bodies lying before me grew, and at last two weeks ago, I saw it all. My plan was perfect. My hatred would be avenged, I bought a revolver. Then I waited until I knew my intended victims would be in the right positions for me to kill them and get away. On Tuesday Rose went to visit at Van Royen's and Lon went to the woods. To make sure he was not at home I went to the house and learned where he was. I found him and shot him in the head. He fell and I fired six shots into his back. I always hated him. I dragged his body across a creek and then prepared to finish the deed."

EXCESSIVE HENTS PROVOKE REVOLT

People of Milan Threaten a General Strike Against the Landlords.

MILAN, Oct. 21.—Mass meetings, accompanied by a general suspension of business in the city, have been held here to protest against the oppressive increase in rents, which has now reached a critical stage in every part of the city.

THE WHOLE DUTY OF MAN.

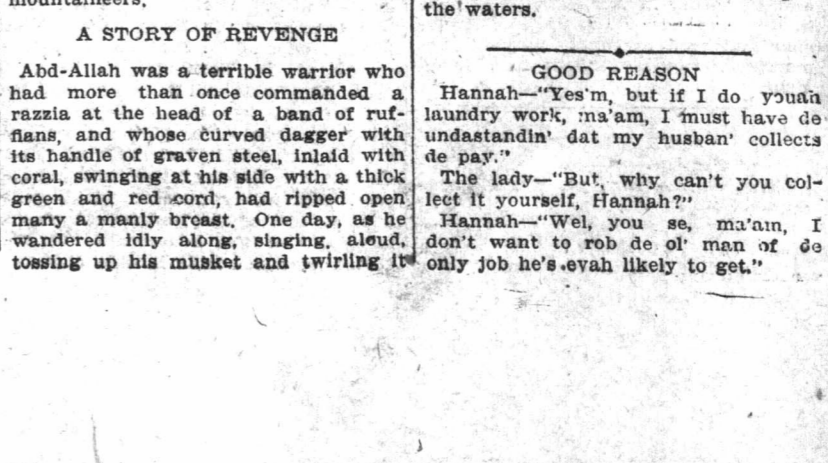

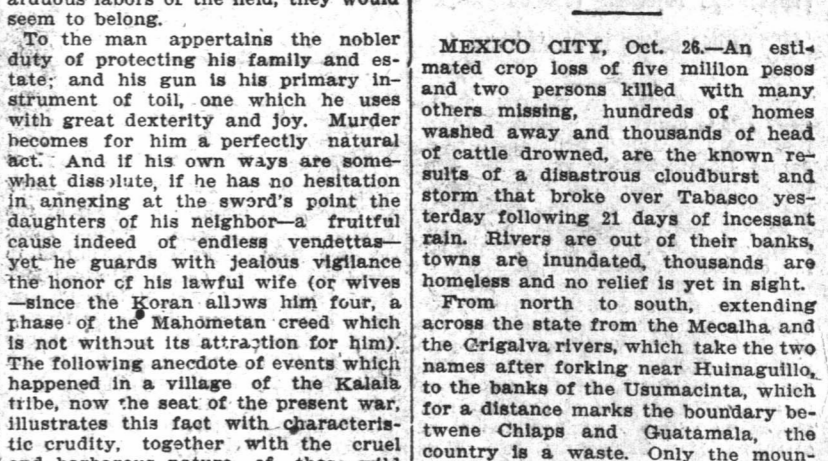

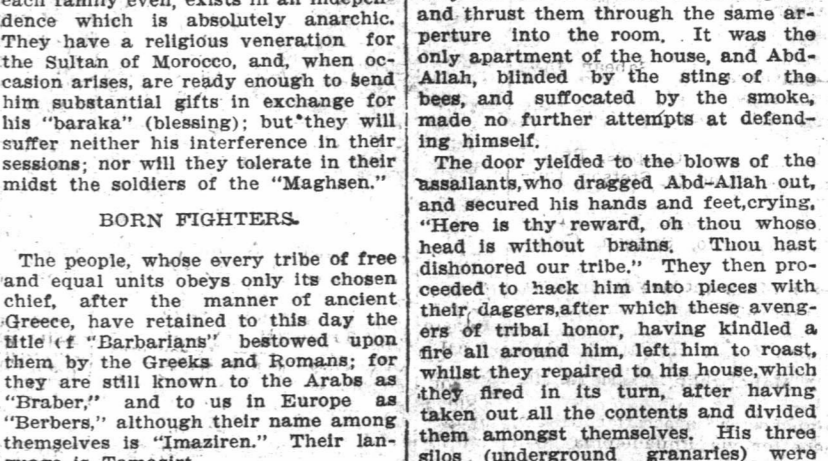

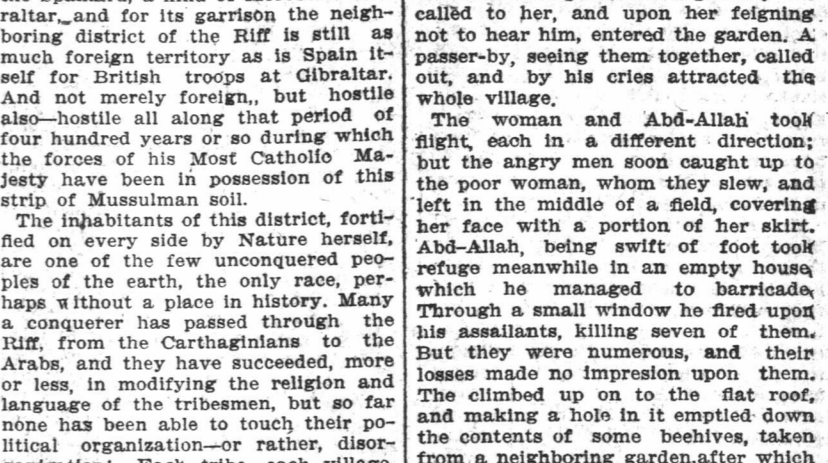

At home they exercise an authority to which even their husbands submit with all the docility of which these fierce and free-born warriors are capable. Albert in public and in the presence of other men, these tyrant womenfolk become a negligible quantity, mere cattle in fact; and even at times they are harnessed to the plough side by side with the ox and the ass, to whose category, as they sustain the arduous labors of the field, they would seem to belong.

GREAT DAMAGE DONE BY FLOODS IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 28.—An estimated crop loss of five million pesos and two persons killed with many others missing, hundreds of homes washed away and thousands of head of cattle drowned, are the known results of a disastrous cloudburst and storm that broke over Tabasco yesterday following 21 days of incessant rain. Rivers are out of their banks, towns are inundated, thousands are homeless and no relief is yet in sight.

GOOD REASON

Hannah—Yes, but if I do you'll land my work, ma'am, I must have done with it. The lady—"But why can't you collect it yourself, Hannah?" Hannah—"Oh, you see, ma'am, I don't want to rob de ol' man of de only job he's evah likely to get."

ENGLISH TORIERS PREPARE FOR ELECTION

Systematic Work Going On

HOPE FOR VICTORY How the Organization Has Been Rebuilt in Last Three Years

(From a Staff Correspondent) LONDON, Oct. 28.—For all the excitement that is visible, although a general election is imminent, the headquarters of the Conservative Party, immediately opposite the Houses of Parliament, might be the office of a country firm of lawyers...

Despite this lack of bustle it is a big business. The chief agent, sitting in his office at the end of a dozen telephone wires, arranges for the fights in the various constituencies. New candidates come to settle knotty points of election practice which have been settled often before, and country agents bring in reports and receive instructions...

Three years ago when Percival Hughes became the chief agent of the Conservatives, or Unionists, he established a new headquarters staff, putting in charge of each department the best man he could find for the job. One man was chosen for his familiarity with the honours and titles...

Directly after his appointment, Mr. Hughes made a complete tour of the country in his motor car. He found out at first hand what reforms were necessary. It is due to Mr. Hughes that there is a new race of Unionist agents...

One may attempt, however, a fair approximation of the expenses. The returning officers' charges—all of which items come to about $250. The expenses of each candidate exclusive of the returning officer's charges may be represented as follows:

Agents... 375 Clerks and messengers... 1,000 Printing... 3,500 Public meetings... 1,000 Committee rooms... 1,000

EVIDENCE HEARD IN THE PARKER DIVORCE SUIT

Plaintiff and Physician Testified Today Parties Belong to St. Andrews

FREDERICTON, N. B., Oct. 27.—In the divorce court this morning in motion of Mr. N. Marks Miller, the case of James Robert Parker vs. Lottie Gertrude Parker, was tried. The case was undefended. Defendant was formerly a Miss Maloney. The parties are residents of St. Andrews, Mrs. Parker being operator in the Western Union at that place. The marriage took place in 1894, being solemnized in Portland, Me.

SHIPPING SHOWS WHEEL OF BIG DRY DOCKS

Time Has Arrived When Canada Cannot Do Without Them

Levis and St. John Sites Chosen—Plant Here to Cost $2,500,000

Will Employ Thousands—Government to Consider Matter

MONTREAL, Oct. 28.—Mayor Bullock of St. John, a member of the delegation which interviewed the Dominion Government in Ottawa with regard to a subsidy for a dry dock at St. John, arrived here tonight. The contingent seemed very pleased and expects very favorable results from the interview with the cabinet.

The government aid asked for was the increasing of the present three per cent. subsidy for twenty years to a four per cent. subsidy for fifty years. The reply of the Prime Minister was that the whole matter would be most carefully and systematically considered.

The proposed dry dock for St. John would be 500 feet long and 120 feet wide, with an entrance width of 100 feet. This would equal in size any dry dock in the world. The cost of the contemplated plant will be in the neighborhood of $2,500,000.

DR. DANIEL HOME; SAYS PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT Government Apparently Favorable to Proposed Increase in Subsidy to Drydocks.

The delegation included Hon. J. D. Hasen, the Premier of New Brunswick, Hon. L. A. Brien, representing the Government of Quebec, Dr. J. W. Daniel, M. P. of St. John, N. B.; Mr. Andrew Allan, of the Allan Steamship Line; Mr. G. H. Bosworth, of the C. P. R. steamship line; Mr. W. M. McPherson, of the Atlantic and Pacific, and the representative of the Montreal Bank, and White Star Lines; Mr. W. M. Dobell, of Quebec; Mr. J. B. Laiberte, President of the Quebec Harbor Commission; Mr. G. A. Vandry, Vice-President of the Quebec Board of Trade; Mayor Bernier of Levis; Mayor Bullock and Ald. Frink of St. John; Messrs. T. H. Estabrook and W. H. Thorne of St. John, and Captain D. O. C. Newton, of Great Britain.

THE DEPUTATION. The deputation included Hon. J. D. Hasen, the Premier of New Brunswick, Hon. L. A. Brien, representing the Government of Quebec, Dr. J. W. Daniel, M. P. of St. John, N. B.; Mr. Andrew Allan, of the Allan Steamship Line; Mr. G. H. Bosworth, of the C. P. R. steamship line; Mr. W. M. McPherson, of the Atlantic and Pacific, and the representative of the Montreal Bank, and White Star Lines; Mr. W. M. Dobell, of Quebec; Mr. J. B. Laiberte, President of the Quebec Harbor Commission; Mr. G. A. Vandry, Vice-President of the Quebec Board of Trade; Mayor Bernier of Levis; Mayor Bullock and Ald. Frink of St. John; Messrs. T. H. Estabrook and W. H. Thorne of St. John, and Captain D. O. C. Newton, of Great Britain.

FIRST SPOKESMAN. Mr. Andrew Allan of Montreal was the first spokesman for the deputation. After outlining the object of the visit he pointed out that at the present time there were plying on the Saint Lawrence route twelve or more vessels which could not be accommodated in Canadian dry docks. The same conditions existed in regard to the Bay of Fundy waters at St. John.

WANT TEMPERANCE. CANDIDATES NOMINATED MONCTON, Oct. 27.—Grand Division, Sons of Temperance, closed the convention here yesterday afternoon and the delegates have now returned to their homes. A resolution was passed at the final session that the division urge their members to endeavor to have their political parties nominate candidates of well known temperance principles and that they attend nominating conventions of their own political parties and press their views.

I. C. R. POLICEMAN SMITH

WAS ROUGHLY HANDLED

Two Tramps, Who Were Placed Under Arrest, Turned on Him and Made Some Trouble.

There were five prisoners in the police court this morning and all were remanded until this afternoon.

George Freeman and John McLoon were charged with being drunk, trying to steal a ride on a C. I. R. train, resisting arrest and escaping from I. C. R. Policeman Smith.

Freeman pleaded not guilty to being drunk, but did not think that he resisted.

McLoon said that he was drunk but did not resist and did not remember having ever seen Policeman Smith before.

The officer testified that C. P. R. Engineer Clark had told him about seven o'clock last evening that two men were drunk and standing near the locomotive.

Both men have the appearance of being on the tramp. They were remanded for the police court.

A Slight Whizzer in R. C. A. Finds Cure From Ageing Skin Disease... Bert, Whizzer took P. Bennett, R. C. A., who lives at 705 Albert street, Ottawa, describes the relief which he got from D. D. D. Prescriptions.

It gives me pleasure to commend D. D. D. to sufferers from skin diseases. For three years I suffered intensely from a skin disease which I developed on the back of my neck.

Blood medicines cannot kill the germs in the skin which cause eczema and other skin diseases. Salves fail because they cannot penetrate.

For free sample bottle of D. D. D. Prescription, write to the D. D. D. Laboratory, Department J. B., 23 Jordan St., Toronto.

TO BRING IMMIGRANTS TO NEW BRUNSWICK

Salvation Army Will Hereafter Pay More Attention to the Maritime Provinces.

While the provincial government immigration department contemplates bringing settlers to this province, the Salvation Army are arranging to place thousands of settlers in Canada during the coming winter season.

Colonel Turner stated this morning that the army would carry on the work on a larger scale during the winter season.

Particular efforts will be made to induce the immigrants to locate in New Brunswick and the other Maritime Provinces.

TELEPHONE GRIEVOUS STORY OF FEEDING GIRL'S BODY

Hill An Unconcerned Listener During His Preliminary Examination—A Conversation Before the Murder

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 27.—With Prof. Frank L. Hill as a seemingly unconcerned and disinterested listener, the gruesome story of the finding of the severed portions of the body of Miss Amelia St. Jean, with the murder of whom he is charged in Tiverton and other facts, were told by witnesses in the Second District Court, today in support of the government's contention that he should be held for further investigation.

Although not new the testimony of Ludovico Maroni, an Italian fruit dealer, occupying the store with Hill on Bedford street, and of Herbert Munro, a letter carrier, was important as tending to connect Hill with the traveling bag in which portions of the girl's body were found and showing he had met her in consultation on the day of her disappearance, Friday, Oct. 23.

According to his testimony it was Munro who arranged a consultation between Hill and Miss St. Jean, she had confided her condition to Munro and he had promised to assist her. Hill said he had her call Munro, but when he met Hill on Friday afternoon the latter stated that the young woman's condition was such he could not help her.

RULING PARTY IN TURKEY IS FRIENDLY TO ENGLAND

Young Turks Determined to Put An End to Brigandage—An Incident

From a Correspondent... DARDANELLES, Oct. 18.—The friendly attitude of the Turkish government towards England and British subjects residing in Turkey that has been such a noteworthy characteristic of the new regime was illustrated by the following incident.

Brigandage is one of the long-standing evils to which Turkey's young republic is determined to put an end to. It will be a prominent subject of debate in its forthcoming session, when the government will propose to give the help of the military to the brigandage which would be a capital offence.

At the residence of the bride's mother, 181 Princess street, Edgar Archibald was Saturday quietly entertained in marriage to Miss Louise Lovett.

COMMISSIONER COOMBS TO ARRIVE NEXT WEEK

He Will Conduct the Army Congress Which is to be Held Here Shortly... Many in Turkey Suffer for Want of Food and Clothing—An Urgent Appeal.

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—The imperative need of money to provide food, shelter and clothing for the survivors of the massacres in Turkey was set before a large assembly of commissioners for foreign missions from Constantinople. The cabernet is as follows:

Colonel Turner, head of the corps in the Maritime Provinces, informed the day this morning that the congress of the Salvation Army, which opens in this city on Friday next week, elaborate plans are now being formulated by the officers in charge and the meeting promises to be one of the most successful in the history of the Army.

Corner Kenny of West St., today will investigate the matter. The finding of a skull on Monday near the house of W. Parag, 219 Bedford street, Mr. Parag made a discovery of a white object in the soil, no other bones were found and it is not known where the presence of the skull can be accounted for.

Army in Canada, will arrive in this city next week and will conduct the congress of the Salvation Army. LETTER DROPPED IN OCEAN IS DELIVERED

Novel Scheme of Posting Mail is Carried Out—3900 Miles From San Francisco

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—Henry A. Spencer, chief of the Chelsea Fire Department, has received a letter from his son, Lieutenant Theodore K. Spencer, United States Navy, which was dropped aboard from a transport.

Lieutenant Spencer embarked on the transport Oberon from San Francisco with the Seventh United States Infantry. When the steamer was 3,900 miles from San Francisco, in the middle of the Pacific ocean, Lieutenant Spencer, with many officers and members of the crew mailed a letter home.

HE WENT OUT AND HANGED HIMSELF

Bobaygon Wife-Murderer Did Not Wait for Common Hangman, But Sold.

LINDSAY, Ont., Oct. 27.—Great excitement prevailed at the Victoria dock on Sunday morning when it was learned that Joseph Hunter, proprietor of the Royal Hotel at Bobaygon, who murdered his wife as she sat at a table in the dining room, had committed suicide in his cell by hanging himself.

Previously Hunter had been found in the best of spirits and had retired to his room about 10 o'clock on Sunday morning. Hunter, at the preliminary trial, was said to suffer from epileptic fits and the judge adjourned the trial to the spring in order to allow the defence to obtain more evidence.

Mary Anne Lamont, of Cardigan, P. E. I., became insane on the outgoing Boston Express last evening. At Grand Junction she jumped from the train and ran to the platform. The officials became alarmed at her actions and it was soon discovered she was afflicted with a form of insanity.

DOESN'T BELIEVE BEDFORD GUILTY

TORONTO, Oct. 27.—It is unlikely that the attorney general's department will take any action as the result of the coroner's inquest on the body of the London police officer who shot the murderer of Ethel Kennedy.

Lady Crofton Didn't Elope With Lord Montague After All

It Was Another Montague, the Baronet Explains

Incidents Which Led Everyone to Believe His Lordship Guilty

A Drama Which Has Been the Talk of London

LONDON, Nov. 2.—A remarkable case of mistaken identity came to light today in connection with the Lady Crofton-Montague elopement, the chief factors in which drama sailed yesterday from New York on the Kron Prince Wilhelm.

This, however, was far from being the case. There was one man who usually was not concerned in the affair, yet who began to have his supposed connection with it brought up against him at every turn.

Lord Montague, Deputy Lieutenant of Hampshire, founder and editor of the Car, and one of the pioneers of automobilism and aeroplaning in England.

He denied that it was he who ran away with Lady Crofton, the wife of Sir Morgan George Crofton, said Lord Montague's Beaulieu today, to your correspondent.

"You have got the wrong man," he went on. "The real individual I heard of was a Frenchman, I have been considerably annoyed by the questions of my friends concerning the matter. In fact, the whole business shows how the best of circumstances begins in a very dangerous way."

A Remarkable Story... "It is quite a remarkable story, as you shall hear. The first I heard of it was on my return from Paris, a week or two ago. On my first visit to the House of Lords one of my friends came up to me, saying rather reproachfully, 'My dear Montague, so glad to see you back again. But what about the lady? I didn't understand, and looked blank, so I went on and we all know about it. Seymour Fortesque, one of the King's squires, said he was at the station in Paris with a lady.'

"After that," Lord Montague continued, "I heard a story from other quarters. The first I heard of it was on my return from Paris, a week or two ago. On my first visit to the House of Lords one of my friends came up to me, saying rather reproachfully, 'My dear Montague, so glad to see you back again. But what about the lady? I didn't understand, and looked blank, so I went on and we all know about it. Seymour Fortesque, one of the King's squires, said he was at the station in Paris with a lady.'

Dated this fourteenth day of October, A. D. 1909.

ROBERT R. RITCHIE, Sheriff of the City and County of Saint John.
