Official figures published today show that the completions for May marked an increase in tonnage over April, 1918, of 85,741 tons.

The next highest figures for any month in past year were 161,764 gross tons in March, 1918.

The cotal completions for the 12 months ending May 31, 1918, were 1,406,838 gross tons.

The corresponding figures for the year ending April 30, 1918, were 1,270,337.

Commenting upon these figures the controller general of merchant shipbuilding says the satisfactory output for May reflects great credit on the whole industry, particularly on the firms in fitting out vessels.

The average time for fitting out has been reduced considerably. In one instance during May a 5,000 ton steamer was completed for service within nineteen days of its launching.

Canadian Army Headquart rs, June 6,—(By W. A. Willison, correspondent of the Canadian Press)

For four weeks the Canadian roops south of Arras have been giving the enemy lively days and nights. While our heavies have been engag-ing special targets, carrying out destructive shoots and combining with our lighter guns in counter battery work and in concentrated, harassing fire on the enemy's assembly areas, fire on the enemy's assembly areas, communications, supports and front line trenches, our infantry has been constantly active. Night after night, enemy posts and trenches have been raided, while the Germans, except for an occasional raid in strength, and marked artillery activity, made little reply to our worrying tactics. Our troops in this neighborhood have done really splendid work and

Emperor Personally Responsible for German Participation in War; Forced Leaders to Support His Policy Germany in Agreement With Austrian Ultimatum

Gumligen, Switzerland, Wednesday, June 5-By the associated press-Germany was wholly in agreement with Austria-Hungary concerning the ultimatum sent to Serbia at the outbreak of the war, says Dr. Wilhelm Muehlon, formerly director of Krupps, in further disclosures on the responsibility for the bringing on of the conflict. Emperor William was personally responsible for Germany's participation and forced the German leaders to support his war policy.

Dr. Muehlon, who was head of Krupps at the outbreak of the war and who recently startled Europe with his disclosurers, received the correspondent of the Associated Press at his country place here, where he is now living in retirement. The visit came as Dr. Muehlon was preparing to issue a more detailed review of conditions leading to the war and the correspondent had the advantage of going over the document with the personal explanations of the author.

Dr. Muchlon's first disclosures, which caused such a commotion, gave conversations with Dr. Karl Helfferich, former Krupp works, in which both told him the Emperor had disclosed his agreement with Austria-Hungary on the ultimatum to Serbia and that Germany would Serbia and that Germany would mobilize immediately if Russia mobilized which would inevitably draw in the other powers and precipitate a universal war.

Dr. Muehlon gives further details of his conference with Dr. Helfferich immediately preceding the war in which Helfferich told of the Emperor's plans toward Austria and Russia. Although Muehlon has been fiercely attacked by the German Government and the Reichstag, his present version is substantially unchanged. He makes the following addition concerning the Emperor's agreement with Anstria on the Serbian ultimatum:

The former Krupp director relates an incident following the outbreak of the war, when the Emperor required all the German leaders to become involuntary supporters of his war policy. GERMAN CENSORSHIP GROWING EVER WORSE

Equal Suffrage Meetings F orbidden, Declares Centrist Baron and Socialist Deputy, in Reichstag—People Exasperated by Restric tions on Their Liberty

Amsterdam, June 6.—Allegations that the German censorship is growing more stringent were made at the opening sitting of the Reichstag on Tuesday by Baron von Richenberg of the Centrist party, and Deputy Bauer, a Socialist.

Matters were growing continually worse, Deputy Bauer said, and the censorship increasingly had placed itself in the service of the "lust for conquest," even meetings for equal suffrage being forbidden, although their aims coincided with Government policy.

The feeling among the people was becoming ever more exasperated, the deputy added. He complained that while the pacifists were harassed the annexationist politicians were encouraged and declared that this policy of force at home would inevitably lead to a catastrophe. Secretary of Interior Wallraf gave figures intended to prove the dimpartiality of the censorship, especially in the matter of newspaper prohibitions. He declared that after an examination of the demands made by the Reichstag in regard to the censorship the Government would be unable to adopt them.

By Courier Leased Wire London, June 6.—British admiralty officials have been expecting for some time that German submarine FELL IN AFRICA commerce raiders would appear on the American coast In speaking of the possibility of this development they usually expressed entire confidence that the American naval forces would be ablo to deal adequately with the prob-lem, and that the venture would not prove very profitable to the Germans on the final balance sheet. It was Madrid, Wednesday, June 5.— A even predicted that no single event would be likely to so completely rouse observer who were hurt will be into the spirit of determination to win the war with the American public as the appearance of war on their own. the appearance of war on their own

The increasing radius of submarine activity has been repeatedly noted recently, and was the subject of considerable comment a few days ago when the steamer President Lincoln was sunk. It is possible that the submarine which sank the President Lincoln was on the way to the American coast at the time. American coast at the time.

The discussion of so-called submerine cruisers has occupied considerable space during the past three days in the British press, owing to the prominence given them by Admiral Marquis of Milford Haven, former first sea lord. In a speech at Cambridge Saturday, he predicted further development of the submarine warfare in the direction of larger submarines with mach creater larger submarines with much greater "Unsinkable or submersible merchant steamers, at least for certain essentials or valuable cargoes appear to be inevitable for the future, not withstanding the increased cost, and the decreased cargo space."

The morning newspapers give the news of the submarine operation in American waters prominence second only to the operations on the western front, and comment on it as a marter not calling for alarm.

The submarine raid may cause annovance, says the Daily Mail, but it will not radically affect the situation at sea. The Daily Graphic sees in the fact that the U-boats are taking the hazard of operating such a distance from their bases, a good omen of the seriousness of Germany's nosition. The newspaper deduces from rabled reports that the preparations for warning and salvage were particularly good. It adds:

"The incident is really a gain for the Allied cause, inasmuch as the more vividly the Americans have the war brought home to them, the experter will be their determination not to case fighting until Germany is entirely crushed."

It is possible that the County Council may alter the by-law of May, 1916, which authorized the $5,000 monthly grant till the war ends, and retain $1,000 monthly for other patriotic purposes. The Y., Canadian Red Cross, British Red Cross, and Navy Fund are all to be considered.

HELP QUESTION IS SERIOUS ONE

Canners in Norfolk County Experience Difficulty in Getting Workers

(From our own Correspondent)
Simcoe, June 6—Already the can ning factories at Delhi, Waterford and probably at Dover, and the jan factories at St. Williams and Simcoe are busy in imported strawberries.
In a couple of weeks, Dominion Canners will be ready to open up the process building for local strawberries. The management is at their wits end to get help locally, and will make every effort to avoid bringing in help from over the border, which expedient is in the long run expensive.

Conditions Better
The new installation will make the work more congenial, and we understand that an effort will be made through a general appeal to elicit the co-operation of all local organiz-ations, in order that the pack may be taken care of without loss. The company is quite aware that the cost of processing must be kept within bounds, that may permit of the marketing of the goods at prices that will compare with the goods of other concerns.

Former Difficulties
In the past it was found that local help for Monday and Saturday was most difficult to get, and that Saturday's pack is the big pack of the week, and strawberries cannot the week, and strawberries cannot be held over.

May Secure Relay Help

Women's Institutes and organizations of every kind, in church and Sunday school, will be requested to co-operate, sending teams for days or part days, and by a hearty co-operation on the part of all who can, it is hoped to obtain the necessary help by allotting even part time assistance, so that one team class or society may carry on as another leaves off work. Pickers will be required at the same time, and as children under fourteen cannot be engaged in the factories, it is quite probable that many of these will be required to do the picking. It will take the co-operation of growers and townspeople to save the situation.

We are sure that in this regard all FREIGHTING Simcoe will prepare for this help crisis which will be upon us in a REGULATIONS

Another impediment to successful manufacture of Liberty motors, to which little attention has been paid, now is assuming large proportions. It is that of impaired morale of workers and executives, due to the continual iteration and relteration of charges that the Liberty motor is a failure; that successful plane production is impossible; that the ziers' shops they are repairing lamps manufacturers are united in a conspiracy to advance their own interests and that the whole fabric of the aircraft organization is befouled clerking, scutching and spinning with graft.

Men who have given the best that is in them for months and months have in some cases given up under the strain of suspicion and lack of appreciation.

WOMEN IN SHIP YARDS AND SHOPS

Have Tackled Man's Job and Are Doing All Sorts of Tasks Not Beyond Physical Strength

Shipbuilding! The very world ngs like the clarking of innumerable hammers, and creates the mindvision of tall, gaunt ship-sides; propped by scaffolding; of men like adventurous little pygmies clambering all over them, hammering, riveting, hammering - clankety-clank - unceasing, monotonous, deafening. Comical figure for a man, you think, and suddenly you see it is not a man but a woman, and further that she is paint" You admire her, you canvol help it, nor should you if you could She is one of a legion of women who amid all those who have so gallantly tackled the men's jobs have hit on perialistic Central Powers. He says manifestations of German enmity to the shippards as their sphere—have invaded the "heart of the fortress" from the toiling, sweating, pre-war man's point of view. The tasks women are doing in and about the yards and marine engineering shops are innumerable. That fact tempted an engineer to sav two years ago that by 1918 women should be able to build a battleship from keel to aerials. Too optimistic a statement, maybe but let us consider for a moment what they have already done. To quote un eminent Scottish shipyard expert: "Strength and endurance alone prevent women from doing all the jobs. They are intelithem would have been useless in an gent enough-more intelligent than emergency. The plotters were so many of the men; they work hard: bold that after this attempt had they don't get 'fed up' with doing the same job constantly. "Over the Top" in book form, is the most widely read and probably the best known of any book publishto have been the greatest, and it is known that more than 3,000,000 have read it. In addition the story has been reprinted in hundreds of newspapers all over the country, and it has been estimated that Empey's name and that of his book have been read daily for at least six months by more than 25,000,000. This probably makes Empey the best known individual outside of public life whom the war has produced.

"Over the Top" in picture form, will present the high lights of Empey's thril.ing narrative of action in No Man's Land, with a strong dramatic story knitting the incidents together. In addition to Empey there will be in the cast a number of well known screen favorites, including Lois Mcredith and James Morrison in the principal supporting roles, "Mother" Mary Maurice; Arthur Donaldson; Julia Swayne Gordon; Nellie Anderson and Betty Blythe.
