ADJOURNED MEETING OF TOWN COUNCIL

Financial Statement Submitted. Over Expenditure Dealt With on Thursday

The Council adjourned from the 20th ultimo met on the 27th, Mayor Pedolin in the chair. Aldermen present John Clark, S. A. Russell, Charles Sargeant, George Stables and H. H. Stuart, and, later, C. M. Dickson and I. G. Kethro.

The principal business was to make arrangements for receiving and entertaining the annual meeting of the New Brunswick Union of Municipalities which is to be held in Newcastle on October 11th and 12th, 1911.

Warden Parker of the County Council was present and took part in the discussions. The request of the Secretary of the N. B. Union of Municipalities that Newcastle Council, appoint one of its members to read a paper at the next convention was then informally discussed, after which it was moved by Clark, seconded by Ald. Russell, and carried. That Ald. Stuart be asked to prepare a paper on the subject of Taxation to be read before the said convention.

The following were elected delegates to represent the Council at the convention: Ald. Stuart, His Worship the Mayor and Ald. T. W. Butler. On motion of Ald. Clark and Stables it was resolved, That this Council invite the County Council, through the Warden, to join with us in entertaining the Union of N. B. Municipalities while meeting here. On motion of Ald. Stables and Sargeant it was resolved, That a boat be procured to take delegates for a sail on the river.

Warden Parker said he was in an awkward position as to recommending the requested co-operation to his Council, as they had appointed no delegates to the convention, and the present Council would go out of office in September on account of the municipal election. But he would do all he could. The following were appointed a committee to procure the boat and make all other necessary arrangements: His Worship and Ald. Dickson, Stables and Sargeant.

Ald. Clark of the Finance Committee presented a report showing the actual expenditure of several departments to June 30, and including outstanding liabilities contracted for and fixed charges such as salaries, etc., to the end of the year:

OVERDRAWN
The light and water department was not considered in above statement. On motion of Ald. Clark and Kethro, it was resolved, that in future the chairmen of the different departments should incur no expenditures beyond the amount of their appropriations without first obtaining consent of the council.
Ald. Clark said that the idea was that any deficit one year in any department should be charged to the same department the next year, the appropriation being made larger, if necessary, the next year to provide for payment of same. Each year's expenditures should be fully covered by the taxes for that year—that is, there should be no addition to the public debt, any overexpenditure in one year to be fully met by extra assessment next year.
Ald. Stuart spoke to the same effect—that there should be no increase in the public debt.
The Mayor advocated only absolutely necessary repairs to old sidewalks. Provision should be made for some permanent sidewalks each year.
Adjourned.

COUNTY COURT IN SESSION

Several Criminal Cases and a Few Civil Suits Before Judge McLatchy.

The County Court for Northumberland convened at the court house on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. His Honor Judge McLatchy presiding. Mr. A. A. Davidson was the clerk of the peace and other barristers present included T. W. Butler, E. P. Wiliston, R. A. Lawlor, K. C. R. A. Murray, K. C. and C. J. Thomson. The following grand jury were empanelled:

R. H. Grenley, John H. Troy, L. A. Morrison, A. E. Shaw, Chas. Sargeant, Alex. Mackay, Chas. E. Fish, Clare P. McCabe, M. M. Goggin, Robt. Irving, Ed. Burke, Wm. M. Sullivan, Geo. P. Parker, Everett J. Parker, H. R. Moody, H. H. Carvell, T. W. Flett.

Mr. C. E. Fish was elected foreman. The indictment against Joseph Masterton was dropped.

The second matter on the docket was the King against James D. MacKenzie. The case rose from Blissfield over the alleged swapping of horses. The complainant in the case was Annie Holmes, sister of James Holmes, with whom MacKenzie claimed he had agreed to trade horses. Miss Holmes claimed the horse was hers, hence the prosecution when MacKenzie made the trade unauthorized by her.

In this case a true bill was found, but the petit jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

In the third case, King vs. Wm. Ashford, on complaint of D. P. Doyle, the defendant being charged with receiving and disposing of a package belonging to another, the Grand Jury found no bill.

R. A. Lawlor appeared for Mr. Ashford and Chas. Thomson for Mr. MacKenzie.

The civil suits were: T. W. Crocker vs. Alex. Lyons, administrator of John Lyons, a friendly suit to facilitate winding up of Lyons estate, which was postponed to give time for probate proceedings.

Sutherland vs. Dalton, suit for cost of a quantity of oats in dispute, which was won by plaintiff.

Wm. Gay, vs. Charles Sargeant won by defendant. Plaintiff sought to compel payment of $120.00 for a hack handed over to defendant and which he was to pay if it suited him but, otherwise, to merely store it till called for.

In each of the civil cases R. Murray was for the plaintiff and R. A. Lawlor for defendant. Court adjourned.

HELP THE OVERWORKED HEART.—Is the great engine which pumps life through your system hard pressed, over-taxed, groaning under its load because disease has clogged its nature's lubricator and cleanser, and daily demonstrates to you that it is the safest, surest, and most speedy remedy that medical science knows.—Sold by A. E. THAW'S Pharmacy.—67.

ANOTHER BOY DROWNED

Ivan Johnston of Loggieville Loses His Life in the Miramichi.

Another sad drowning accident occurred at Loggieville Sunday afternoon about four o'clock when Ivan Johnstone, the sixteen year old son of James Johnstone, lost his life while in bathing.

The young man went in from the shore and started to swim to a block about 100 yards out. He was not a strong swimmer and he evidently saw he could not reach it so he turned back. He was seen by a companion to be in distress and the latter swam to him and was helping him to shore, when both became exhausted. The other managed to save himself but young Johnstone was drowned.

The deceased was a bright young man and well liked. His parents and three sisters, Misses Nina, Rita and Thelma, who survive have the sympathy of the community in their deep bereavement.

DR. AGNEW'S OINTMENT CURES PILES.—Itching, Bleeding, and Blind Piles. Comfort in one application. It cures in three to six nights. It cures all skin diseases in young and old. A remedy beyond compare, and it never fails. 35 cents. Sold by A. E. Shaw's Pharmacy.—63.

WEDNESDAY TRIPS CANCELLED The Wednesday trips of the steamer Dorothy N. to Millerton have been cancelled. The public failed to give sufficient patronage to the trips and consequently the manager decided to withdraw.

MANIFESTOES OF POLITICAL LEADERS

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Makes Reciprocity the Issue.—Mr. R. L. Borden's Views

Ottawa, July 30.—The Governor-General yesterday afternoon, issued proclamations proroguing the house, dissolving parliament, calling for an election for a new parliament on September 21, with nominations on September 14, providing for the issuing of the writs forthwith to be returnable on October 7, and fixing October 11 as the tentative date for the meeting of the new parliament.

SIR WILFRID'S MANIFESTO Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in an address to the Canadian people issued yesterday after the dissolution of Parliament, states the issue before the electors in clear and ringing tones as follows:

The premier recounts how both parties in Canada tried for forty years to secure a renewal of reciprocity trade arrangements broken off in 1866 by the United States. The latest attempt of the Conservative party to that end was made by Sir John Macdonald, himself, who dissolved Parliament in 1891, for the purpose of submitting to the electorate of Canada the expediency of his approaching again the American authorities for a renewal of the treaty in 1854. In 1893 the intention to obtain reciprocity with the United States, if possible, was made a prominent feature in the platform of the Liberal party, upon which that party attained power in 1896.

After the present government took office it renewed in vain this offer to the United States, but meeting with no response, it declared that no further overtures of this nature would be made by Canada.

Within the last twelve months, however, the United States president had opened up negotiations, which in January last, culminated in an agreement between the two governments, by which the duties of each country on such products might be lowered or altogether removed. This agreement was strenuously resisted in the United States by various interests, on the alleged ground that it was all to the advantage of Canada and to the detriment of the other country, but the view that it was mutually advantageous to both countries finally prevailed in Congress, and the agreement stands today as an offer by the United States to Canada of that very measure of reciprocity which, for more than forty years, has engaged the earnest and constant efforts of every leading Canadian statesman.

The present Conservative party in Parliament seeks absolutely to reverse the life-long policy of its great leaders in the past, declaring that it will oppose to the bitter end the very principles enunciated by both Sir John Macdonald and Sir John Thompson in the last election addresses upon which each of these statesmen ever appealed to the Canadian people.

In the view of the determined obstruction of the opposition to the passing of the reciprocity agreement it has seemed to His Excellency's advisers more dignified to dissolve Parliament than to lose time with such obstruction.

It has been alleged by the opposition that this agreement, if consummated, would imperil the connection with the Mother Country, and finally bring the annexation of Canada to the United States.

It is impossible to treat such an argument with any kind of respect, if indeed it can be dignified with the name of argument, for if it has any meaning, its meaning is that the people of Canada would be seduced from their allegiance by the prosperity to follow the larger flow of natural products from this country to the other. Indeed the very reverse would be the natural consequence, for the experience of all ages abundantly testifies that trade is ever the most potent agency of peace, amity, and mutual respect between nations.

Nor is this all: this agreement, which in no way impairs our fiscal policy—which still maintains at the topmast the sacred principle of British preferences—this agreement by opening new avenues of trade hitherto closed, would further improve the friendly relations which now so happily exist between this country and the mother country, on the one hand and the American people, on the other hand, and which it is hoped may, at no distant day, eventuate into a general treaty of arbitration, the effect of which would be to remove forever all possibilities of war between the great empire of which we are proud to form a part, and the great nation which we are proud to have as neighbors.

THE OPPOSITION VIEW

Mr. R. L. Borden says that:—The Liberal Conservative party welcomes an appeal to the people upon the great issue which has been under discussion in Parliament. The President of the United States has more than once emphasized the fact that Canada is to-day at the parting of the ways. Those two ways lead in very divergent directions. The choice of the people will be fraught with momentous consequences to the future destiny of this country.

The government has dissolved parliament without prorogation, without supply and without redistribution. They declined to hasten the census; they declined to grant redistribution, and finally they have dissolved parliament at

THE ELECTIONS

The Canadian Parliament which resumed its sittings on the 18th ultimo, was called to accomplish a number of important business because of the change in the composition of the House of Commons determined to pass the Reciprocity Bill rather than to pass the Budget which has a better chance of passing by both houses of Parliament.

The chief difference between the two parties appears to be on the Trade question. The Liberals standing firmly against any increase of duties and aiming to gradually reduce the duties and make trade freer. They have already without any special concession from Britain returned given British merchants a preference of 33 1/3 per cent. over all other nations except those whose tariff is the British very low.

NEW STREETS WANTED

Newcastle is one of the most poorly laid out towns in the world. In several cases there are individual small lots entirely surrounded by streets, while in other places there are no street openings for long distances.

Another place very urgently in need of new street connections is the district back of the Union Hotel. It is traversed partly by a street, which at one end connects with a branch of McCallum street, but at the lower end it terminates in a cul-de-sac, only a few rods from Henry street.

There are two ways of opening up a lane to Henry street without having to move any permanent buildings, if the direct line should prove too expensive. The extension would be very short and should not be a great deal. And, in any case, the cost of purchase would be far less than may any day result from a fire in some building.

LOVELL—THOMPSON

of Rosebank, Miramichi, and a niece of Joseph, John and Charles Jardine, was married to Harry R. Thompson of Minneapolis, the ceremony being performed by Rev. G. V. Hoard at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lovell, Menominee. The bride wore Marquessette over embroidered batiste with trimmings of cluny lace, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The only jewels she wore was a handsome brooch of sapphires and pearls her wedding gift from the groom. Sixty guests partook of the wedding breakfast. After a honeymoon in the South Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will reside in Minneapolis. The bride's going away gown was a tailored one of grey, with Panama hat trimmed with a drapery of lace and a handsome pearl ornament. Beautiful gifts, including much cut glass, silver, linen and hand-painted china, were received by the bride on her wedding day.

SNELGROVE—DONAHUE

The wedding of Margaret Donahue of Roxbury, Mass. formerly of Nelson N. B., and Jack Snellgrove of Cambridge, Mass. took place Sunday evening, July 23rd, at St. Patrick's church, Roxbury. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Maurice Flynn. The bride was tastefully attired in a gown of white mousseline de soie, trimmed with Irish lace, and a large white hat to match and she carried a shower bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid was Miss Irene Howard of Roxbury, a niece of the bride, who wore pink silk voile heavily embroidered and a lace hat, and a bouquet of pink carnations completed the costume. The groom was attended by John Grobe of Cambridge, Mass. After the ceremony a reception was given to the numerous friends of the happy couple at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Walter Howard. The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful and costly gifts, including cut glass, bric-a-brac and silverware, the bride receiving a gold watch studded with diamonds from her former em-by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rambling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

PRESBYTERIAN UNITY

The recent consummation of the union policy of the Presbyterian communions of Canada, which obtained legislative and official sanction in 1875, may be said to fix the attention of two opposing tendencies of the religious mind which have been active in Christendom from the first. One of these impulses is the subject of it to seize and appropriate what is or seems new in a certain policy, the other, to cling obstinately to what has been handed down. That these two impulses were at work during the long and for most of the world, dark ages that preceded the advent of Christ, we can learn from the history of the church and from that which may be called "circumstances." Not only Greek and Latin literature, but the recovery of the records of Egypt, Babylon and the further East disclose to us the whores for their envious and interfering proof of the eternal warfare between the two principles—that which holds fast to something behind, that which stretches forward to something in advance. Of both these forces in human progress—forces which often collaborate even while they seem most antagonistic—the pages of history present us with many examples who bore witness, even to the suffering of martyrdom, to the truth that was in their hearts. In the days in which our lot is cast, the largest sphere of sympathy is with the young and bold whose cry is "Forward ho!" And there is sometimes a corresponding distrust of those who prefer to remain in the old paths and they have heard marching orders that have no uncertain sound. Perpetua, for example, saw with eyes in which there was no darkening, there was no darkness or shadow of darkness. But the father who loved her and who besought her with tears to have compassion on him, could not understand her exaltation: There are few stories more pathetic, more true to human nature, than that of the brave constancy of this North African woman of seventeen centuries ago. Yet the older faith lingered on, and centuries later, when Christianity triumphed in the empire, another martyr shed her blood for divine philosophy. In spite of Ruskin's condemnation, hundreds of persons read Kingsley's "Hypatia" and feel sympathy for the heathen. Men like Synesius and Erasmus do not win, as, indeed, they never claimed, popular admiration. Not unworthy Protestant tears have fallen on the page that tells of Prier Haughton's gentle devotion, not to speak of the exemplary courage of More and Fisher. In all these cases a slight admission would have saved a noble and useful life. But with the heroes and heroines of religious conviction there could be no compromise, no surrender.

Between the spirit that does not shrink from martyrdom in the cause of what is accepted as the truth, and the spirit of pertinacious adherence to some slight distinction from the views of a community with which the dissenter is otherwise in perfect agreement, there is a world of difference. But what seems slight to one individual or group of religious thinkers may be of deep moment to another individual or group. We are not aware whether, apart from the Friends there are any Non-jurors today, but there were not very long since religious communions that arose at the same time as the Non-jurors and for a reason so far known that it was identified with dissidence from the Revolution. Most of us have learned to associate Richard Cameron's name, so far as it stands for any modern purpose or ideal, with a regiment of the line. The Kirk of Scotland had a history before its reconstruction by the Revolution settlement. The body that bore Richard Cameron's name marks the first secession from the re-established Kirk. As we know, it was not the last. Nearly fifty years afterwards Ebenezer Erskine, with three other ministers dissatisfied at the course of the General Assembly in the year 1732, in putting the election of ministers in the hands of elders and heritors, caused the second secession. Having thriven for fourteen years, the conscientious Schismatics disagreed among themselves and divided into Burghers and Anti-Burghers. Later the New Lights and Old Lights developed. In 1791 what (apart from the Cameronians) was known as the second secession took place. Small at first, it soon grew into the Relief church. In 1820 the United Secession Church was formed by a coalition of Burghers and Anti-Burghers, and in 1847 the union of the Secession and Relief churches constituted the United Presbyterian Church. Meanwhile a secession, compared with which those of the 18th century might almost be called trivial, had rent in twain the Old Kirk of Scotland. This was the memorable Disruption of 1843. Directly or indirectly, this break affected every Presbyterian community in the world. In Scotland the immediate result was a deepening of the lines of partition and a like consequence was at first experienced in all the colonies. At one time it was a not unusual sight in Canada to see two Presbyterian churches in the same village—a Free and Secession, a Free and Old Kirk, and no arguments of the more liberal or more economic members of either could persuade the congregations to unite. But, after a period of estrangement, there came a reaction. Many causes had combined to create religious aspirations of which earlier generations had not dreamed. Economic and political, as well as religious influences, cooperated for a common end. Points of dogma or of sentiment once regarded as barriers preventing the sympathetic approach to each other of kindred churches, were modified by political development, by the school by the railway. Denominations unconsciously affected each other. The great hymns of the Church were brought into use, where once they had been forbidden, and its highest music added to the solemnity of Sabbath worship. It ceased to be deemed a sin to enter a well-built church or to hear the organ music of great masters. The words of saint and prophet were robbed of no divine sanction, but the mysteries of the faith were more identified with love than with terror. Men learned to look without aversion on those who interpreted God's word somewhat differently from their interested rule and more stress was laid upon resemblances in theologies than on divergences. The spread of higher education enables men and women to understand each other better, and it began to be realized that it was not only good and pleasant but possible to dwell together in unity in God's house. The lessons learned by the Presbyterians of Canada and gradually made effective for the pulling down of needless barriers has been imparted to their brethren in the old lands, and especially in Scotland and the mother churches there. The union victories of 1900 and 1905 will, it is reasonably hoped, be followed eventually by the union of all that is Presbyterian in Scotland.—Ex.

The destruction of the house fly is a public duty. Almost every American State Board of Health is carrying on a crusade against him.

His filthy origin and habits, and the fact that his body is generally laden with disease-producing germs, makes him one of the greatest enemies of the human race.

If the housekeepers of Canada will use the use of this peril would be tremendously reduced.

NAVAL BATTLE WITH HORSES.

New 3000 Cowboys Captured the Spanish Fleet.

Paris, who was the first President of the Republic of Venezuela, was perhaps the only man who ever fought a naval battle on horseback. It is a matter of history that he, to whom more than any other man apart from Simon Bolivar, Venezuela owes her independence, actually attacked and captured with his cavalry a fleet of ships. Bolivar was endeavoring to cross the Apure River in the struggle for independence, but was prevented from doing so by some detestable Spanish gunboats, which moved up and down the stream as he did. Bolivar was in despair for a while. To Diaz, who was second in command, he appealed for advice, saying that he could never cross the river so long as the Spanish gunboats were there. "If only we could capture them," the revolutionary leader observed, "the rest would be easy." Diaz decided that he would have these ships or die, and accordingly told his regiment of cowboys to follow him. Diaz himself had been a cowboy on the plains of the Orinoco, and was the idol of his men. So when he spurred his horse into the stream, calling on his men to follow, of the 3000 cowboys and their mounts, which are taught to swim as well as to gallop, there was not a single man to hold out in this unenviable position upon the gunboats. In the night, the Spanish fleet were taken quite unawares. The cowboys waded from their saddles to the decks of the vessels, letting their mounts swim back to shore. Having thus cut off their own retreat, it was a question of win or die. They fought well, and every gunboat was captured.

The Butter Trade of Canada.

In the year ending 1910 Canada shipped only 4,613,336 pounds of butter, worth $1,019,274. Canada's imports of butter on the other hand amounted to 687,454 pounds, worth $104,301.

These imports into Canada last year are shown below, with the rate of duty that had to be paid on coming into the country; and also with the changes in that rate which would be effected under reciprocity.

Table with columns: Country, Quantity, Value, Rate of Duty, and Rate under Reciprocity Agreement. Countries listed include Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Norway, Turkey, and United States.

Prince Arthur as Footman.

Prince Arthur of Connaught who will probably come out to Canada with his father, or young Arthur, as he is usually known about the Court and to his intimate friends, was once stationed at Aldershot, where some engagement had prevented him from changing into the prescribed uniform before going to a State ball. Consequently he turned up in a suit of ordinary dress-clothes. One of the ladies — she is fairly well known in society — was departing, when she saw what she took to be one of the Court footmen, and ordered him, in none too polite terms, to find her carriage for her. His Royal Highness fell into the spirit of the joke, and promptly did as he was told. The lady's carriage was summoned, when, to his utter astonishment, she pressed half a sovereign into his palm, remarking, "I know I am quite wrong in doing that, but I can't say a word about it; I hope you will shortly improve your position!"

Very Convenient.

An enterprising builder was one day in conversation with several friends, when he was accused of using inferior materials in the construction of houses which he had recently built. Of which a gentleman arrived who a hot argument ensued in the midst of which one of the jerry-built cottages, and the matter was referred to him. "Well, sir," said he, "I can assure you they are the maist convenient houses I ever abode in." "But," said one of the listeners, "why convenient do you say?" "Oh, hand yer wheest till I explain. When first I came to bid in Mr. Jerry's house, I had to rise in the middle of the night an' open the door to let out the cat; but the cat can gang out an' come in noo thro' the cracks, an' I'm saved a lot of bother."

When a man goes out to buy a collar he comes back with a collar, and perhaps a necktie or two. When a woman starts out to buy a collar she returns exhausted with a new silk blouse, a pair of gloves, some shirt binding, a cake of soap, a paper of pins, some window curtains, a sewing machine, and a mangle.

An expert states that all one needs do to put out a gasoline or kerosene fire is to put foam on it. He does not say so, but we presume the gentleman means to imply that it is always well to have a good dog around the house to supply the foam.

Winston's Creed.

Winston 25 years ago a Factory Trust trading had now rails in Canada's industrial veins. Manufacturing output, 1905, $ 1-2 millions; output, 1910, 35 millions; increase of 400 per cent. in 10 years.

LORDS AS MUSICIANS.

Many Peers can make a living by Singing.

The recent announcement that Lord Wolverhampton has achieved considerable distinction in the musical world by composing several useful songs, although he has never studied music and plays only by ear, reminds one of the accomplishments of Lord Kinross, who plays both organ and piano beautifully, and composes and sings well. It was he who composed the hymn that was sung by the choir on the occasion of his marriage in 1903. Lady Kinross, by the way, is an expert violinist. Then there are Lord Tollermeche, who is a good cellist, and Lord Shaftesbury, who possesses a magnificent tenor voice which is often heard in church, and which once led an enterprising American impresario to offer his lordship $150,000 to go on a concert tour through the United States.

SELLS MOSTLY AT HOME.

How the Canadian Farmer Disposes of his Year's Crop.

Canada as everybody knows is a very great food exporting country. We sent out in the year 1910 $21,607,692 worth of cheese, practically the whole of which was sent to the United Kingdom. We exported to the same destination $6,836,382 worth of bacon and ham. The wheat export of the Dominion of Canada which at Confederation reached only 2,284,792 bushels, amounted in 1910 to no less than 49,741,350 bushels of which over 46,509,000 bushels was sent to Great Britain.

Our Canadian farmer is greatly interested in this export business and particularly in his connection with the British market, but it is not generally realized that this foreign export market represents only a small part, not more than one fifth of the interest of the Canadian farmer as a producer. The statement has been very frequently made that 80 per cent of every thing that is grown upon our farms is consumed within our own borders. Some people have been inclined to challenge this. They have the general idea that the Canadian farmer is a grain grower and that Canada is a grain exporting country and have failed to appreciate the enormous growth of our own home consumption, and the vast quantity of farm produce that is necessarily consumed in a community of eight million people or by cities like Montreal and Toronto with about half a million of inhabitants each.

On examination there seems a good warrant for the statement that Canada consumes 80 per cent of this agricultural output. We may reach this result from the following calculations:

Table showing crop statistics for 1909: The Crop Bulletin for 1909 places the value of all the wheat, oats and barley grown in Canada that year at $289,144,000.00. To arrive at the home consumption of the crops we must deduct the net exports, i.e., the exports of such produce proper, less any imports entered for consumption. For the fiscal year ending March 31st, 1910, the exports (Canadian produce only) were:

Table with columns: Crop, Value, and Total. Crops listed include Barley, Oats, and Wheat.

Deducting one from the other it leaves the net exports $55,097,888. The balance therefore, $234,046,112, or 81 per cent, of the whole, represents what was consumed by the home market.

It will be noticed that the above example deals only with three commodities, wheat, oats and barley. The computation which follows embraces all field crops.

According to the Bureau of Statistics, the total value of Canadian field crops for 1909 was $532,992,100. For the fiscal year ending 31st March, 1910, our exports of field produce (Canadian grown only) were:

Table with columns: Crop, Value, and Total. Crops listed include Total, Barley, Oats, and Wheat.

Of this $20,083,950 was exported in a manufactured state (flour, oatmeal, etc.), leaving the exports of unmanufactured field products $70,349,788. But again, to arrive at the net exports we must deduct imports of unmanufactured field products valued at $12,671,742, bringing the final amount down to $57,748,046. From these statistics the home market appears to have consumed 89-1-5 per cent. of the total production.

Neither of the above illustrations takes cognizance of animal products, and in the absence of an annual inventory showing the value of our live stock, it is difficult to furnish satisfactory figures. The following comparison, however, is suggestive. For the fiscal year ending 31st March, 1910, our exports of unmanufactured field products as shown above were $70,349,788; to this add our exports of animal and unmanufactured animal products, $47,500,000, and it shows the total exports of unmanufactured field products to be $114,000,000, comprising the two together they are estimated to 21 per cent. of the value of the field crop alone. As a rule of fact, the grain crop for the Dominion of Canada (Ontario) is worth $24,000,000 more than all the other exports of the whole of Canada.

Would You Provide for the Care of Canada's Needy Consumptives?

THEN SEND YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE MUSKOKA FREE HOSPITAL FOR CONSUMPTIVES

A national institution that accepts patients from all parts of Canada. Here is one of hundreds of letters being received daily:—

John D. McNaughton, New Liskeard, Ont.: A young man not belonging here, and suffering from, it is believed, consumption, is being kept by one of the hotels here. He has no means and has been refused admission to our hospital. The conditions where he is offer him no chance. Could he be admitted to your Free Hospital for Consumptives? If not, could you inform me where he can be sent, and what steps are necessary to secure prompt admittance? NOT A SINGLE PATIENT HAS EVER BEEN REFUSED ADMISSION TO THE MUSKOKA FREE HOSPITAL BECAUSE OF HIS OR HER INABILITY TO PAY.

Since the hospital was opened in April, 1902, one thousand five hundred and twenty-four patients have been treated in this one institution, representing people from twenty provinces in the Dominion. For the week ending November 20th, 1909, one hundred and twenty-five patients were in residence. Ninety-six of these are not paying a cent for their maintenance—absolutely free. The other twenty-nine paid from $2.00 to $4.00 a week. No one pays more than $4.00.

Suitable cases are admitted promptly on completion of application papers.

A GRATEFUL PATIENT

Norah P. Canham: Enclosed you will find receipt for my ticket from Gravenhurst, hoping that you will be able to oblige me with the fare. I was at your Sanatorium ten months, and I was sent away from there as an apparent cure. I am now working in the city, and I am feeling fine. I got most thankful for the care I got from the doctors and staff, and most of all that I spent the time of my life while I was there.

TAKING THE CURE IN WINTER AT MUSKOKA FREE HOSPITAL FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

The Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives is dependent on the good-will and gifts of the Canadian public. Money is urgently needed at the present time to make it possible to care for the large and increasing number of patients that are entering the institution.

Will you help?

Where greater?

Truly, Canada's greatest charity.

Contributions may be sent to W. A. Trueman, Esq., or J. H. Robinson, Esq., National Sanatorium, Muskoka, Ontario, 47 King St. W., Toronto.

MY LADY'S COLUMN

Health and Beauty.
Much depends on friction with the bath to improve the tone and color of the skin. It should not be as violent, as often recommended, for the skin can be bruised by too much friction. Soap and friction remove the deadened parts of the scarf skin, but these particles should come off quite naturally and easily after the skin is thoroughly saturated by ordinary friction. A rough soft towel is the best for drying purposes.

Afternoon Tea
Afternoon tea is the less formal and requires less preparation than reception. The only provision for an afternoon tea is the tea itself, with thin slices of bread and butter, thin biscuits and cake. In many households it is the custom to have afternoon tea always at 5 o'clock, and many friends are family dropping in for a cup of tea. The custom comes from England, where it is a national universal.

It may be noted here that everybody does not know how to make good tea. In the first place the tea itself should be of the very best quality. Nothing is worse than cheap tea. Cheap tea is really not more expensive than a cheap tea really, because a little of it goes a long way. To make good tea the water should be freshly boiled. The water should be poured on the tea, and it should draw for only two or three minutes before it is brewed. It may be served with slices of lemon or with cream and sugar, as the tea drinkers prefer. All the tea equipment should be of the best quality. One's prettiest cups and saucers, one's nicest tea set, will not do for this function, which should be strictly informal.

A Jollywobbles Veil!

Here's the jollywobbles veil. Only a mild form of it, however, of the sunray type. Other veils have spiral patterns and still others have patterns of huge, writhing vines or flowers. They give you the jollywobbles either when you're wearing one or when you see one worn.

Wedding Customs.

Probably no occasion is so surrounded by superstition as a wedding, and the further removed from modern ways of the country, the more fantastic are the customs involved. For instance the Zulu bride is not properly married until she has thrown a calabash of water over her husband, plentifully besprinkling the rest of his family. Partaking of two tiny glasses of wine is all the ceremony necessary to make a marriage in some Chinese provinces, provided a quantity of fireworks are set off. And talking about weddings, have you prospective brides arranged about your announcements to be sent off after the wedding?

Flowered Underwear.

One of the latest fads of the season is the use of daintily sprigged and flower cambrics for underwear. This, of course, is merely a passing whim, for there are too many women who conservatively object to introducing color into the scheme of the lingerie for it to become a fixed fashion. Those who have no prejudice in this regard and who jump at anything new are choosing early Victorian designs in soft pale colorings which wash well and keep their tints. There are be-rides embroidered cambrics and lawn dotted swisses which are put to the same purpose as well as figured muslins. All of these certainly have a dainty and very summer-like appearance when neatly and becomingly made.

Fashion Fads.

Foulards are in high popularity for separate waists. Lace hat crowns, puffed and high, carry large brims. Long, tight, severely plain sleeves are rapidly giving away to the elaborate models. Bright color fabrics are prominent as the spring advances. A new convenience to carry in the shopping bag is a book of rough leaves. Laparime (1102-4200).

REV. C. W. GORDON.

Rev. Charles William Gordon B.A., D.D., L.L.D., F.R.S.C., or as he is more widely known, Ralph Connor was born in the country, at the time of his birth the place was almost the Packwoods. It was the early training of Indian Lands, Cleagarry Co. Ont., which we see reproduced in the broad, mainly atmosphere of Ralph Connor's books. No city could possibly warm the imagination, and make the reader learn for the highest better things as does he. The future Ralph Connor received his first smattering of education at the Public School of 1861 Ont. One imagines however, that it was the careful tuition of his father, Rev. Daniel Gordon which made him learn to taste more of the fruit of education rather than the bitter of it. The impressions of his early days were always remained with him. We find them brought vividly before us in some of his masterpieces. After public school he was sent to the High School of St. Mary's, Ontario. From there he matriculated into the University of Toronto, graduating with the class of 1888. After taking his Arts course, the future author applied himself to the study of theology at Knox College. In order to obtain a broader and wider outlook on life Ralph Connor crossed the water, and studied at New College Edinburgh for a year. Before returning to take up his life work in Canada, he made, in company with five friends, a bicycle tour of the continent. Upon his return to the Dominion he took up his task with grim determination to succeed. The now Rev. Mr. Gordon was sent as a missionary to the Rocky Mountains. He did his work thoroughly and labored for the spirittual good of the region with all his indomitable energy. The Rockies were inhabited by a rough and ready lot of the youthful divinity graduate shouldered his task and came out with flying colours.

RALPH CONNOR

The impressions he received were indelibly stamped on his mind and they make some of the most thrilling passages in his books. Since 1888 the Rev. Mr. Gordon has been in charge of St. Stephen's Church Winnipeg.

He has labored not alone for the moral betterment of his own congregation, but for the whole West, especially in his own city. Dr. Gordon takes a vital interest in the improvement and purification of municipal politics and in the lot of the working on this account he was chosen as a member of the Coal Striker's Arbitration Board. Above all Ralph Connor's influence has been felt from Coast to Coast through the medium of such books as the "man from Glen Garry," the Prospector, etc. Canadian needs more men of his stamp and more books of the same calibre as his. They have a farther reaching effect towards moral upliftment than any amount of sermons and dissertations against the prevalent vices.

E. R. Knowles Knew His Congregation

A few weeks ago William Jennings Bryan was lecturing in Galt the home of Robt. E. Knowles, the well known preacher and author. Mr. Bryan was entertained at Knox Manse while in Galt. The attendance at the lecture proved disappointingly small, and the discerning lecture laid this at the door of the rather large admission fee. A is well known, Galt is the Scotch town in Canada. After regaining the manse, a few friends being present, Mr. Bryan turned to his host and asked him why, in his opinion, the audience was so small. "The thing that spoiled it," replied Mr. Knowles, "was the same thing that disorganized the Democratic party." "What was that?" enquired the statesman. "It was the silver question," replied the novelist.

Dr. Greuffell's New Appointment.

Dr. Wilfred T. Greuffell has been appointed medical adviser to the Hudson Bay Company. This is taken to mean that in future the fur traders and fishermen are to be treated as fairly in their trade relations. Dr. Greuffell has now brought his cooperative steps into touch with the fish business, so that gear for his people in Labrador will be improved and the health of the people improved.

FRENCH TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

The first French teachers' institute in New Brunswick was held at St. Louis, Kent Co., N. B., on July 25 and 26. Over twenty-five hundred people were present. Teachers were present from Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Quebec. Prominent educationists discussed educational questions along lines of raising the level of teaching in the public schools. Mr. R. Magan, general inspector of schools of the Province of Quebec made an instructive address which was received with great favor. Father Tessier, President of St. Joseph's College, Father Nio, President of Church Point College, Father Travers, President of Caraquet College; Fathers Bellevue, Badil, Leger and Arsenault addressed the convention. Father McLaughlin, Richibucto, was called upon and spoke briefly. Senator Porrier made an eloquent speech. Papers were read by Miss Margaret Richard, Miss A. Chaisson, and Miss E. Babineau, which showed careful preparation. Dr. Landry spoke on agriculture. On the 26th the procession to the grotto took place nearly 3,000 persons taking part. The organization was made permanent and meetings will be held every year. The delegates were handsomely entertained by the good people of St. Louis.

A conference was held in Winnipeg lately between Deputy Ministers of Agriculture for provinces of Manitoba and Saskatchewan and the Dominion Government Commissioner of Immigration dealing with the question of harvest laborers needed this year and most conservative estimates places the number from 40000 to 45000. Government reports show that winter wheat in Alberta and earlier districts in South Saskatchewan and Manitoba will commence cutting before August 10th and harvesting will be in full swing by August 15th and 20th. The railway companies are taking action to co-operate with a view to obtaining the necessary labor, and in this connection the General Agent of the Grand Trunk Pacific advises that that company can take care of 4000 or 5000 along their line by August 8th and 9th, and commencing August 15th as fast as they can be obtained.

WORKING MEN TAKING INTEREST IN POLITICS

Talking with the St. John Globe last week, John C. Wilson, M. P. for St. John, who had just returned from his British trip during which he attended some meetings of English labor men and was greatly impressed with their knowledge and understanding of political matters, said that the working classes fully understood their power and from this forward their influence will be a predominant one in English politics and those who attempt to thwart them will find their mistake.
