The Heir to Beecham Park

CHAPTER XXVI.

He was walking to and fro beneath the leafless trees, his heart almost as dead and withered as the leaves beneath his feet, when a cheery voice hailed him, and, turning, he saw the earl.

"You are out early, Crosbie" cried Lord Court, as he approached. "I saw you from my windows." Then, in a tone of surprise, he added: "But you look ill. Is anything the matter?"

"I did not sleep well," returned Stuart, hurriedly, "for I have had a shock. I am going to tell you all about it."

"A shock!" repeated the earl, with a smile. "Don't say the manor is haunted. I believe it is most unorthodox not to have a family ghost, but I have never heard yet that we have one."

"It is not a ghost—it is a reality! I meant to have spoken to you last night, but I was so surprised that I could hardly realize the truth of what I saw. I will explain now."

"Come indoors," said Lord Court, looking a little bewildered. "It is sultry out here. Now, Crosbie, I am all attention—begin," as they entered the house.

"You are aware I was about to start for Australia next week. Do you know why?"

"No," answered the earl. "And, to tell you the candid truth, I was just a little puzzled as to the cause of your hasty departure."

"It was to fulfill a wish of my dead cousin, Douglas Gerant. He left a daughter; it was in search of her I was to sail on Thursday next."

"A daughter! Why I never knew Gerant was married!"

"It was a secret," said Stuart; "but I have the whole history in a letter which he confided to my care. Now comes the strange part of the story. This daughter was thought to be in Australia, was even traced to that part of the world, when suddenly, as I am about to start to find her, by one of those extraordinary turns of fate, I come face to face with the cousin I seek—here—in your house!"

Lord Court stood still and looked at Stuart earnestly.

"In my house!" he echoed, slowly, as if doubting his ears. "Who is it?"

"Your wife."

"My wife? Margery? You are jesting!"

"Jesting!" repeated Stuart, grimly. "I was never so serious in all my life! Sir Douglas Gerant's lost daughter bore the name of Margery Daw. She was placed in a home in Hurstley—my native village. Evidence was forthcoming that she had gone to Australia with Reuben Morris, the husband of the woman he had called mother. I knew her well; and last night, when I came face to face with her, I was overwhelmed by the discovery that Margery Daw and the Countess of Court were one and the same person."

"Best Thing in the World For Delicate Girls"

Mrs. John Bennett, Boggy Creek, Man., writes: "My little girl had organic nervous trouble, could not sleep, had severe headaches and fainting spells. This went on for three years, and three doctors helped her very little. After reading of what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food had done for others, I got some for her. She is now so well that she is like a different child. She is fourteen years old and looks the picture of health."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food
60 cts. a box of 60 pills, Edmondson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto

GERALD S. DOYLE, Distributor.

Margery's heart seemed to stand still; then, nursing herself for the effort, she stretched out her hand.

"You are welcome, cousin," she said, in a faint voice.

Their fingers met for an instant, then dropped apart; and Margery turned away, feeling that the agony of this meeting was almost greater than she could bear.

The earl drew her gently toward him. She was too weak to offer any resistance—was even glad of the support; and, standing with her husband's arm around her, Margery heard the story of her father's sorrow and her mother's martyrdom slowly but distinctly from Stuart Crosbie's lips. The words went home to her heart; the despair, the misery caused her unspoken pain, and tears raised from her eyes.

The earl, wrapped up in his thoughts of his wife, took no notice of Stuart's agitation and pallor. He did not think it strange that the young squire of Crosbie Castle should have been so surprised at seeing Margery. His sister had told him the girl's history, as she had heard it from Miss Lawson, and remembering that his wife had been called a village girl, it was not likely her action would be known at the castle. He only felt a great wave of gratitude and happiness fill his heart. The mystery of her birth, solved, Margery would now be content, and there would be no barrier to their complete happiness.

As Stuart spoke of Beecham Park, Margery raised her head.

"The estate is mine?" she said, slowly.

"You are the next heir," answered Stuart.

"Therefore, you are a great lady," put in Lord Court, smiling. "Beecham Park is one of the finest places in England. But come, Crosbie; sit down. This has been a morning of surprises, but we must eat, or we shall sink beneath them altogether. You must pay us a long visit now, for you have no reason to go—has he?"

Margery? When there was Australia to consider, it was another thing."

So the earl chatted on, eager to rouse Margery from the dreams into which she had fallen; and with a glance at Stuart, he adroitly turned the conversation and plunged into other topics.

Margery sat silent. She could not eat—her brain was in a whirl; and at last she could bear her distress no longer and with a murmured apology she went slowly to the door.

"Yes, rest, my darling," said Lord Court, as he followed her; "this news has been too much for you. But, before you go, tell your cousin that if he departs, it will be at the risk of your grave displeasure."

Stuart had risen, and their eyes met.

"You will stay," she said, faintly; and then the door closed, and she was gone.

CHAPTER XXVII.

Should he go or stay? was the burning question in Stuart's mind all that morning. Duty and honor bade him tear himself away; yet there was something mysterious and altogether apart from the intralment of Margery's presence that kept him. He spent the long hours walking about the grounds with the earl, forcing himself to discuss the all-important subject of Margery's birth the while he was growing faint and weary with the struggle that raged within him.

The surprise, the sleepless night, the agitation at last began to tell; and, as the afternoon advanced, Stuart was obliged to confess that he was quite exhausted and could walk no farther.

The earl was full of contrition for his thoughtlessness.

"Come back to the house. Would you prefer to go to your own room? If not, rest in my den. I can answer for its silence and coziness."

Stuart preferred the "den"; the mystery of the previous night haunted him—he hated the thought of his luxurious bedroom. The earl led the way to the north wing of the house, and, going to the extreme end of a corridor, pushed open the door of an apartment that seemed to warrant his statement.

Gratitude Shown France by Russia

M. Makhonin, the young Russian engineer, who has discovered a means of replacing petroleum spirit by heavy mineral or vegetable oils as a motive power for explosion motors, has written to the President of the Republic offering the French Government the right to use his invention free of all charges for the purpose of national defence.

In his letter M. Makhonin says: "I desire this to show my gratitude to France for the hospitality which she has accorded to me for two and a half years, and for the generosity which she has always shown to my fellow countrymen."

The invention has undergone six months' official investigation by French army experts, including practical demonstration of the use of the new motive power as applied to heavy artillery wagons. The latter trials covered a distance of over 300 miles.

The army experts are completely satisfied with M. Makhonin's invention, which, it is estimated, will enable the French War Office to save 600,000,000 francs a year on motor spirit.

Household Notes.

For luncheon, serve deviled leeks on toast.

Sliced brussels sprouts are good in a thin soup.

Tomato catsup is good on fried scrapple or sausage.

Bake winter pears and serve with melted currant jelly.

A little mist makes a nice seasoning for mutton broth.

COULD NOT SLEEP NIGHTS

Pains and Headaches Relieved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Dublin, Ontario. "I was weak and irregular, with pains and headaches, and could not sleep nights. I learned about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound by reading the letters in the newspapers and tried it because I wanted to get better. I have got good results from it as I feel a lot stronger and am not troubled with such bad headaches as I used to be and am more regular. I am gaining in weight all the time and I tell my friends what kind of medicine I am taking. You may use my letter as a help to others." — Mrs. JAMES RACCO, Box 12, Dublin, Ontario.

Halifax Nurse Recommends
Halifax, N. S. "I am a maternity nurse and have recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to many women who were childless, also to women who need a good tonic. I am English and my husband is American, and he told me of Lydia E. Pinkham while in England. I would appreciate a copy or two of your little books on women's ailments. I have one which I keep to hand. I will willingly answer letters from any woman asking about the Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. S. M. COLEMAN, 24 Uniacke St., Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Just Folks.

By EDGAR GUEST.

THE ILL-TEMPERED MAN'S DOG.

As I walked out the other day ill-temper stood across the way and whistled to his dog, and made the sign that he must be obeyed; I saw that master's stern-set chin. And knew that dog should hurry in.

Soon round the corner came the pup. Neither his ears nor tail were up. He was not romping home with glee, or happy as a dog should be; but hunched and crouched he slowly crawled.

Toward the angry man who called. Now dog's can't talk, but dogs can tell their thoughts and feelings pretty well.

And as he passed I spoke a word which I am very sure he heard. "You're going home," said I, and he slinked by and said these things to me:

"Home!" and his ears dropped lower down.

"Home!" and his little body brown shrank on its haunches, inch by inch I saw his little spirit flinch.

"Home!" Not the word that I'd have picked. "This is the place where I get licked!"

Charlie Chaplin's Trousers

"WHERE DID YOU GET THAT?" Charlie Chaplin was the chief witness at Los Angeles in his action to prevent Charles Amador, a cinema actor, from imitating him on the screen.

After declaring that Amador's makeup is so similar to his own as to deceive the public, Mr. Chaplin claimed the copyright in his own costumes.

"I got my walk," he said, "from an old London cabdriver. The one foot slide I was was the inspiration of a moment, but part of the character was inspired by Fred Kiteen, an old fellow trouper of mine in vaudeville. He had flat feet."

"Where did you get that hat?" asked counsel for the defence.

"Oh, I don't know. I just conceived it," replied Mr. Chaplin.

Asked about his trousers, Mr. Chaplin declared, "Nobody ever wore the combination that I adopted until I put them on."

Important Warning!

There is only one "Congoleum" and you will know it by the Gold Seal pasted on every pattern. "Congoleum" is a registered trade name and the exclusive property of The Congoleum Company.

If you want genuine "Congoleum" take care to ask for it by name and refuse imitations.

The Gold Seal pasted on every Congoleum Rug is a guarantee of highest quality and an assurance that you are getting value for your money.

Congoleum Rugs are waterproof, dust-proof and sanitary. They lie flat and do not turn up at the edges, and do not require to be tacked to your floors.

At house cleaning time you can take them up in a few minutes. With Congoleum Rugs on your floors, you have no troublesome sweeping or beating to do: five minutes with a damp cloth will suffice to make a Congoleum Rug look like new.

In addition to the above good points, Congoleum Rugs may be had in the most beautiful patterns and colorings imaginable and at quarter the cost of a carpet square. Congoleum Rugs are more stylish than floor canvas; people of refinement prefer Congoleum Rugs. Ask for the booklet "Modern Rugs for Modern Homes." Any Dry Goods Store will give you one FREE. Skeleton of Sea Serpent Dug Up

LINCOLN, Neb.—The University of Nebraska Museum is shortly to be enriched by the addition of a mosasaur, a sort of ancient sea serpent, whose remains were discovered on a farm in Boyd County. Recent heavy rains washed down the side of a hill and disclosed a gigantic petrified skeleton.

Further digging brought the entire structure into view. Its entire length is twenty-six feet and two inches.

Prof. Edwin H. Barbour, curator of the museum, has identified it as one of a once numerous species of sea serpents that inhabited Nebraska in the days when it was part of an inland sea. A fine specimen of the head of one was found some years ago in Knox County and is part of the museum exhibits. To be valuable these skeletons must be nearly intact. In the latest discovery most of the bones and teeth were found in good preservation.

Human Hearts for Medicine

Grace Thompson Seton, in her "Chinese Lanterns," makes mention of a visit in Hangchow, to the oldest known drug store, where many strange herbs were for sale: Agatu, at a pharmacy in Peking, she saw in use "Pricoles-Ming Jars of the five days. A NEW COACH

Recognizing the demand for a truly comfortable and economical car of the coach type, Dodge Brothers have provided it.

The new Coach reveals a characteristic maturity of design—in the low-slung lines of the body, in the arrangement of the interior for five-passenger comfort, and in the exceptional dimensions of the doors and windows.

The car is Duco finished in Dodge Brothers blue with a body stripe of cartouche yellow. Fittings and fixtures are first quality throughout, and balloon tires are standard equipment.

So far as riding comfort and dependability are concerned, it is only necessary to add that the Coach is built on Dodge Brothers sturdy chassis and cushioned by Dodge Brothers underslung springs.

powders made from poisonous insects and reptiles.

In a footnote the author repeats a legend to the effect that the Dragon Boat feast, the fifth of the fifth month (June 5), at noon, is the hour for poisonous insects, and that reptiles, such as frogs, lizards and snakes, hide themselves in the mud, and are paralyzed. This is the hour the medical men search for them. They are placed in jars and afterwards they are dried and powdered and used for medicine.

The North China Herald of July 2, 1923, told of the execution of 27 persons, including three women, all supposed bandits: After the execution the hearts of these poor wretches were cut out and carefully preserved for future medicinal and courage-inspiring purposes. Chinese soldiers quite frankly avowed that the hearts made excellent medicine.

Season the gravy for meat pie with onion juice and Worcestershire sauce. Shrimp timbales can be served on rounds of toast with mock Hollandaise sauce.

Britain Opposed to Scope of Protocol and Not to Principle.

Coast Defence Discussed in Canadian Commons--Strike Situation Gives No Indication of Settlement--Tomb Discovered in Egypt 1700 Years Older Than King Tut's.

MAINTAINS POLICY.

GENEVA, March 11. (Special)—The debate to-morrow on the Geneva protocol by the Council of the League of Nations, the British spokesman emphasized to-day that the people should not get the idea from the statement that it was delivered by Austen Chamberlain, British Secretary of Foreign Affairs, that Great Britain has in any way abandoned the policy of settlement of international disputes by arbitration. That policy, they declared, is as dear to the British as to any other nation. The British people, however, are convinced that questions of an internal nature, such as immigration, should be left to the disposition of States themselves.

REQUESTS NOVA SCOTIA SHOULD TAKE OVER COAL AREAS.

QUEBEC, March 11. (Special)—The Nova Scotia Government would exercise its prerogative and take over the coal districts of the Province, cancelling the lease of Besco, was the opinion expressed to-day by Lieut-Col. Rev. Canon MacLeod in discussing the present conditions in Nova Scotia brought on by disagreement between the Government and the miners. Canon MacLeod made an exhaustive investigation of the conditions prevailing in the Sydney and surrounding districts at the time of the last strike.

REFERENCE DISCUSSED IN CANADIAN COMMONS.

OTTAWA, March 11. (Special)—The House of Commons to-day considered the question of defence of our seacoasts and of our home line of commerce. The subject was introduced in the House of Commons to-day by A. W. Neil, Independent, Comox-Alberni. He urged the necessity for defence of coasts and waters. The dry dock at Esquimaut, which was to be completed, would be of vital importance to British naval operations in the Pacific. To-day it was practically the world with only a few obsolete guns to protect it. The value of public works in Vancouver and Victoria, was estimated at $200,000,000 and a coastline of 10,000 miles was also mentioned. Mr. Neil was still speaking when the House adjourned at 6 o'clock.

YESTERDAY'S DEVELOPMENTS.

HALIFAX, March 11. (Special)—The developments in the wage dispute between Besco and District No. 10 of the United Mine Workers of America included (1) the declaration by the Premier of the Province, Hon. E. J. Armstrong, that the Government anticipates that in the event of the company being unable to protect the mines the U.M.W. will supply the necessary men; (2) the emphasizing by the Executive offices of U. M. W. of the destination prevalent throughout the colliery district consequent upon several months of broken time and brought to a head by the stoppage of work at the Company's stores ante-dating the alleged lockout, and (3) the statement by C. S. Cameron, Secretary of the Corporation, of the Company's attitude that, "it is impossible to pay the legitimate charges of operation and the rate of wages that the miners demand."

AGE OF TOMB DEFINITELY ESTABLISHED.

BOSTON, Mass., March 11. (Special)—A cable received by Dr. George A. Reisner, Professor of Egyptology at Harvard and director of the Harvard University-Boston Museum of Fine Arts, definitely established the tomb.

ITCHY ECZEMA ON ARMS

In Pimples, Could Not Sleep, Cuticura Heals.

"My trouble began with eczema which broke out in pimples and spread rapidly. It affected my arms from the elbows to the tips of my fingers. I could not put my hands in water, they itched and burned so, and I could not do my regular work. I could not sleep on account of the irritation. The doctor advised me to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in two weeks I was completely healed. I used one box of Ointment." (Signed) Miss Sylvia B. May, Washington, Va., June 6, 1923. South West Coast

SHOWS SIGNS OF ACTIVITY.

Passengers who arrived by s.s. Portia, yesterday, report that fishery operations at Rose Blanche and vicinity are at a standstill owing to ice blockade. Since the recent disaster most of the fishermen have secured whole or part outfits and are now ready to again prosecute the fishery. Prospects for the spring fishery are reported good all along the coast. At Grand Bank the banking fleet is all in readiness and will go into commission next week with the vessels of the Harris estate again taking part. An indication of confidence in the returning prosperity, is the fact that this year Capt. Thornhill who has a splendid record as a fish killer, out of Nova Scotia ports, will command his own vessel sailing from his home town. Another Thornhill will be master of one of Monroe's vessels out of Grand Bank.

Herbertville, Que., March 11.—(Special)—"I have found your Dodd's Kidney Pills excellent. For ten years I have suffered from diabetes and pains in my kidneys. I have consulted many doctors. I have had their treatments without results. They told me my case was incurable. I had heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and I decided to give them a trial. I took several boxes and my health seemed to improve. I continued taking them and to-day I am quite well. I can eat anything I wish. I always keep a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills in the house and if my kidney trouble reappears I take a few and the trouble disappears. If anyone suffers from diabetes or had kidneys they should take Dodd's Kidney Pills." This statement is sent to us by Dame E. Guay of this place. Dodd's Kidney Pills will relieve kidney trouble no matter where or in what form it is found.

Little Jack Rabbit
by David Cory

The Mad March Wind pulls at the latch
Upon the little kitchen door
And through the chink runs on the floor.
It whistles down the chimney flue
And scatters ashes wet with dew,
Upon the hearth so clean and neat
Like little muddy booted feet.
"Dearest me," sighed sweet Lady Love, picking up the broom, "March is a windy month!"
Just then dear Uncle Lucky, the old gentleman bunny, opened the kitchen door.
"Goodness gracious meebus!" he exclaimed, utt'ring the blue silk polka-dot handkerchief which he had fastened over his old wedding stove-pipe hat and under his chip.
"Thought for a time I'd arrive bare-headed, my goodness, what a gale," and he sat down in the big arm chair to get his breath.
"Did you drive over in the Lucky-mobile?" asked Little Jack Rabbit, hopping on the old gentleman bunny's lap.
"Yes, and it was some job winding in and out among the limbs that had fallen to the ground," answered Uncle Lucky. "But that's the way Mother Nature punishes her forests. These wild March Winds break off the dead limbs to make way for the living branches," and he tweaked his bunny nephew's ear—very gently of course, for he wouldn't have hurt the little rabbit for the world. No indeed; not for three worlds and a couple of planets!
"The Big Chestnut Tree didn't fall!" asked the little rabbit anxiously. "What would Squirrel Nutcracker do, and where would Chippy Chipmunk find a new burrow?"
"No danger of that tree falling," answered Uncle Lucky. "Its roots are too far in the ground. Only those trees which have no deep roots topple over in the spring when the frost comes out and loosens the ground. Neither are there any dead limbs on that good old tree. Squirrel Nutcracker is safe in his hollow bungalow, and as for Chippy Chipmunk under the roots in his warm burrow, why, he most likely doesn't even know the wind is blowing."
"Mother Nature is doing her sweeping to-day," laughed Lady Love. "All the old dead wood will be blown from the trees, and the dry leaves that have clung to the branches all winter will be swept away."

Women in Committee
MISTAKES TO AVOID.
With the growth of the numerous committees on which so many women serve nowadays, there has also grown up an uncodified committee etiquette which usually decides whether a woman is welcome or the reverse. For it is a curious thing about committee life, whether in a golf club or a philanthropic society, that ability and keenness will not by themselves achieve success.
A Special Danger.
Talking too long and too often is perhaps the commonest fault, and it is the special danger of the able, quick-brained woman who gets impatient with the inevitable slowness of committee methods. If she makes this mistake she defeats her own ends by acquiring a reputation for self-assertion that is fatal to her influence.
The same impatience has to be avoided in the particular reform or new ideas which she advocates on her own motion. In her novice days she thought no doubt that a good idea would always be its own recommendation, and that she had only to carry a sound resolution to find it carried unanimously. Experience proves the contrary.
Committees are cautious bodies, slow to believe that they have been wrong in the past, and still more reluctant to be corrected or energized by any one member. The woman with ideas who wishes to avoid bitterness and disappointments will remember the proverb that "half a loaf is better than no bread." If only she can content to carry her points by instalments she will get her way in time, and her moderation will gain respect.
In fact, the whole secret of happy committee work lies much more in the human end than in mere cleverness, and in the long run is a test of character even more than of brains. In an ideal world members might ask themselves about a motion the plain question, "Is this right or wrong?" and their vote accordingly. As things are, the human element counts more: "What is said matters; how it is said matters still more; who says it matters most of all!"
An Unfortunate Manner.
Some women who would otherwise count, spoil their contribution by an unfortunate manner. At heart they certainly do not want to dominate, and they don't really consider all others at the table utterly incompetent. But they give that impression, and their pet schemes are generally lost causes in consequence.
It has been said that the best committee work is done before the meeting begins—and after. The woman who meets and leaves her fellow members as friends is invariably most effective. That note of friendly colours all the routine work-dealings with the chairman and motions and proposals of other members such disappointments as come their way.
She finds too that the note of friendship does not confine itself to the committee-room. Her circle of outside grows with the addition of those with whom she works, and proves eventually that such work, in spite of its limitations and occasional annoyances, can fill a happy and as useful corner in life.
Try scalloping cooked brains with sprouts with cooked celery and sauce.

Dock Report of The Crandall Engineering Co.

FEBRUARY 9th, 1925.

General Manager,
Government Railway,
St. John's, Nfld.

Dear Sir:—I beg to confirm my report before the Railway Commission on February 7th.

I made such an examination as is reasonable at this time of the year. You appreciate that with ice and snow conditions and frozen ground it is difficult to make a thorough examination of the state of the Dry Dock in all particulars, however, it is quite evident that the Dock needs extensive repairs to put into serviceable condition.

The present condition of the gate abutment is rather serious. The timber along each side have been almost entirely rotted away. Approximately the upper ten feet of the abutment around the Dock need renewal together with that portion of the timber supporting them.

There are four (4) propositions, which are submitted for your consideration.

(1) The Dock can be repaired and put in approximately its original condition, replacing such of the timber work as is badly decayed, renewing the floor of the Dock, and putting in all new timber gate abutment, and retaining walls at present gate for between $1,000,000.00 to $1,500,000.00.

(2) To repair the Dock as above, but putting in a gate abutment of concrete with granite facing would cost approximately $375,000.00 to $450,000.00.

(3) To enable the Dock to take vessels of greater beam it is possible to widen the Dock at the bottom, putting in concrete retaining walls at each end, widening and putting in a new concrete gate abutment and a new steel caisson gate. This will cost approximately $1,000,000.00. This would permit the dry docking of vessels up to about 65 feet beam, but with an increase of available draft.

(4) A new concrete Dry Dock of 200 feet long, built on the present site would cost between $3,000,000.00 and $4,000,000.00.

The work contemplated under items 1 and 2 would necessitate a cofferdam being constructed outside of the present gate abutment and the cost of this has been included in the above estimate.

It is not considered feasible to use the present gate instead of this cofferdam, and further while the repairs to the Dry Dock are being executed this gate should be undergoing such repairs as may be necessary. In retaining the timber proportions of the Dock it is considered advisable to use concrete material, on account of its greater life power, on such portions of the work that this material is adopted.

The work contemplated under items 3 and 4 will take approximately twelve months to execute, although the work under item one can probably be completed in less time than the others.

We are ready to draw up plans and specifications and give general supervision of any of these projects at four per cent. (4%) of cost. We can furnish an Engineer and superintendent to advise on the construction if you wish to execute the work with your own forces, or we are willing to undertake the work at cost plus fifteen per cent. (15%).

Respectfully yours,
(Sgd.) J. STUART CRANDALL,
The Crandall Engineering Co.

Mr. H. J. Russell,
Govt. Railway Commission,
February 27th.

More detailed estimates repairs to the Dock show approximate cost first proposition two hundred sixty-seven thousand dollars, second proposition two hundred fifty-seven thousand dollars, third proposition six hundred twenty-four thousand dollars writing details with plans.

The Crandall Engineering Co.
102 Border Street,
East Boston, Mass.,

date modern vessels. Since the time the dock was constructed vessels have been built continually wider until modern vessels 525 feet long are from 66 to 65 feet wide while the dock cannot accommodate vessels over 54 feet wide. Of 52 ocean steamers, from 400 to 525 feet long, selected at random from Lloyd's "Register" and "The Record," American Bureau of Shipping, (list attached), about 50% could not be accommodated in the St. John's Dry Dock because of its lack of width. If the dock entrance were widened at the bottom to 70 feet and the dock widened proportionately at the bottom, practically all vessels up to 525 ft. long could be dry docked. It is possible and practicable to do this, as shown on our plan 224, by extending the dock floor at each side, building longitudinal retaining walls to hold the embankment, building a new and wider concrete gate abutment and constructing a new steel gate.

For your consideration, three propositions are submitted, two for reconstruction of the present dock and one for reconstructing and widening it. These are the same as the first three propositions submitted February 8th, but based on more deliberate and detailed estimates. The work covered by these estimates is given in detail on the attached sheets. It will be noted that a cofferdam across the entrance is necessary in each case and has been included. It has been assumed that all materials and equipment which would have to be imported would enter duty free.

It is estimated that the work under Proposition (1) will require nine months to complete; that under Proposition (2) ten months, and that under Proposition (3) twelve months, after work is authorized.

Proposition 1.—To reconstruct dock following original construction. Estimated cost $242,000.

To reconstruct dock as above using cross-timber for gate abutment and upper altars: Estimated cost $267,000.

Proposition 2.—To reconstruct dock using cross-timber for upper altars and constructing a concrete gate abutment. Estimated cost $357,000.

Proposition 3.—To reconstruct and widen dock using cross-timber for upper altars, concrete retaining walls, concrete gate abutment and new steel gate. Estimated cost $624,000.

It should be pointed out that provided the funds can be made available the work under Proposition (3) has the most to recommend it for, not only is the dock restored and that would make it more modern in proportion and greatly increase its field of utility.

As stated in our letter of February 9th, we are ready to draw up plans and specifications for and give general supervision of any of these propositions for four (4%) per cent. of cost. In addition we can furnish an engineer to superintend and advise on the construction if you care to execute the work with your own forces. We are ready to undertake the construction on a cost plus fifteen (15%) per cent. basis and after further examination of certain points in the spring to undertake the work on a unit price or fixed sum basis.

We believe we have given you the information you desire. If any further particulars are needed we will be glad to furnish them.

Awaiting your commands, we are,
Very truly yours,
The Crandall Engineering Co.,
(Sgd.) J. STUART CRANDALL,
Treasurer.

PROPOSITION I.

Recondition Dry Dock, Newfoundland Railway Commission, St. John's, Newfoundland.

(a) Scope—Work under this proposition to cover renewal of the dock as originally constructed.

(b) Cofferdam—A self-supporting cofferdam to be built across the dock entrance to permit repairs to be done by Dry Dock authorities.

(c) Gate Abutment—The planking and supporting timbers to be entirely renewed with long leaf yellow pine or fir, plain or cross-timber.

(d) Timber Walls—The upper 12 altars with their supporting timbers to be renewed with long leaf yellow pine or fir, plain or cross-timber.

(e) Floor, Bilge Blocks, etc.—The floor planking, bilge blocks, bilge block slides, and a large portion of the keel blocks to be renewed with long leaf yellow pine, untreated.

(f) Gate—Steel gate to be thoroughly overhauled and reconditioned.

(g) Gate Abutment—Present gate abutment to be removed. A new concrete abutment to be constructed with gate grooves and certain exposed surfaces faced with stone masonry.

(h) Timber Walls—The upper 12 altars with their supporting timbers to be renewed with long leaf yellow pine or fir, cross-timber. All of the altars, for 100 feet inside the gate, with their supporting timbers, to be renewed with long leaf yellow pine or fir, cross-timber.

(i) Floor, Bilge Blocks, etc.—The floor planking, bilge blocks, bilge block slides, and a large portion of the keel blocks to be renewed with long leaf yellow pine, untreated.

(j) Gate—Steel gate to be thoroughly overhauled and reconditioned.

(k) Cut-off Walls—Timber cut-off walls to be driven at each side of gate abutment to reduce leakage.

(l) Fill—Proper filling material to be placed and compacted around gate abutment to reduce leakage.

(m) Piling—No renewal of piling is included in this proposition or estimate. Some renewal may be necessary as its condition is disclosed.

(n) Estimated Cost—The estimated cost for this work, using all untreated lumber is Three Hundred Fifty-Seven Thousand ($37,000) Dollars, assuming concrete materials readily available and material and equipment enter duty free.

An Historical Coincidence

"For East is East and West is West, And never the twain shall meet."

That there are exceptions to the above as well as to many another well established rule was remarkably instanced at Wesley Church on Sunday evening...

The similarity of character of the two men is remarkable; their careers were also in many respects the same, and apparently both were inspired by the same lofty motives.

The name of the devoted clergyman, perpetuated in the town of Curling, is even now a household word along the whole of the coast from Bay of Islands to the Labrador...

On more than one occasion His Excellency has attempted to show us how closely are our interests intertwined with those of the far distant corners of the Empire.

The Dock Reports

Two reports were tabled in the House yesterday, dealing with the condition of the dock, one submitted by Colonel R. W. Mitchell, A.M.E.I.C., consulting engineer of the firm of W. I. Bishop Ltd., Montreal...

The prompt action taken by the Government in having a thorough inspection of the premises made is a practical illustration of the businesslike manner in which they are handling affairs...

catasrophe would undoubtedly have resulted.

The reports deal with a highly technical problem, but they are written in language easily understood by the ordinary individual...

The various proposals for repairs or reconstruction call for the expenditure of large sums of money, but in view of the importance of the dock to the whole country...

The Prime Minister has requested the House to study the reports carefully, and no doubt, as a result of the discussion which will follow...

Proceedings

WEDNESDAY, March 11.

The House opened at 3 p.m.
MR. LINGGAR tabled a petition from the Holtermakers of St. John's respecting certain amendments to the Motor Inspection Act. Mr. W. J. Higgins supported the petition.
MR. HIGGINS presented a petition from the residents of Torbay respecting a road in that place.
MR. BROWN supported by Messrs. Ashbourne and Scammell presented a petition from the residents of Beauport on the subject of a landing slip.

BILLS INTRODUCED.
THE MINISTER OF FINANCE introduced a Bill to amend Cap. 209 of the Statutes entitled of "The Companies Act, 1924."

THE MINISTER OF JUSTICE introduced a Bill to Amend the Territorial Franchise Act, 1924.
Both bills were given first reading, and after answers were given to questions on the Order Paper the Order of the Day was taken up.

BILLS PASSED.
The Bill respecting the Lobster Fishery was given third reading, and also the Woman's Franchise Act. Both were ordered to be engrossed and sent to the Legislative Council for concurrence.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Bill in relation to the Motor Inspection Act. There were some alterations that had been made after which the Committee rose and reported progress.

The Bill to regulate Travel on Highways and the Speed, Operation and Load of Vehicles thereon was given second reading.
MR. COLONIAL SECRETARY in moving to move the second reading of the Bill said it was somewhat of a hasty Bill to the one that was passed a day or two ago, providing for the appointment of a Highroads Commission. The Bill has for its object mainly the operation and regulation of traffic, and the class of wheels, motor cars and so forth that are to be used.

Primarily the object of the Bill is to give control to the Highroads Commission of the regulation of traffic on the highways and other places. The Bill constitutes the Highroads Commission as the authority to take the place of, and perform the duties that are now being filled by the Inspector General of Police, and the members of the City Council, or Municipality of St. John's and other places over the granting of licenses of registration. Whilst part of the fees collected for registration and licenses will still go to the city of St. John's, the remainder will be used to defray the expenses of the Highroads Commission. To-day the man owning a motor car in Harbour Grace, or Carleton Place, or any other part of the Island outside of St. John's has to get a license from the Inspector General of Police in St. John's. It is proposed to appoint inspectors at certain points to meet this contingency, so that undue expense and hardship will not be imposed on those who require to register their cars and be licensed as drivers.

It also acquires the right to regulate traffic on roads and highways. The rate of speed is a very important point, and the Bill provides a very definite schedule with regard to this particular matter. It provides for a limit of twenty-five miles an hour outside of cities, towns and villages, twenty miles an hour within cities, towns and villages, and only ten miles an hour at intersections or curves where the driver has not a clear view of approaching traffic, and only ten miles an hour when motor vehicles are passing each other on a bridge or on a narrow road.

The Bill also provides that in future the rule of the road shall be that vehicles shall pass each other on the right side, instead of the left as heretofore, and it is proposed to put it into effect on January 1st, 1926, after having been very widely advertised, and after it comes into force, drivers of cars will be required to carry signs in large letters on their windshields marked with "Keep to the Right," until such time as the general public has everybody interested become accustomed to the new laws.

It is entering upon a policy of bringing tourists to come to this country, and whilst he did not claim, and will not accept the principle that we should alter our laws to suit those who may come into our country, still he thought, as far as is possible, bring conditions as regards traffic in conformity with those with which those who may come in here to visit are fully acquainted, because a serious accident that possibly might have been avoided if there were a proper understanding on the part of the drivers and others as to what the law really meant in relation to accidents and reckless driving, and in cases of criminal negligence.

Provision is also made—and as part of the present policy of the Government, we want to give encouragement to motorists to come in here—that motorists bringing their cars with them should pay duty, and will have the use of the streets and highways on payment of the nominal sum of $5.00, which will be paid to the Customs. If the Tourist remains longer than three months, further payment can be arranged, and it will be left to the Highroads Commission and Minister of Finance to adjust the amount.

He explained that the whole idea of the Bill is to provide facilities for motor-traffic, and at the same time safeguard the rights and secure the safety of the public. Liberty without license is the whole tenor of the Bill. Section 13 refers to the Criminal provisions, and protects the children and public generally, and provides that those using motor vehicles, which may prove a menace or cause serious accident, shall be punished for what may happen while they are in charge of the wheel. Concluding the Colonial Secretary intimated that the Motor Association had placed itself on record as being wholly in favour of the Bill.

MR. GODDEN saw no objectionable features in the Bill except the change in the rule of the road. Driving on the left side was the rule in Great Britain, and it should be good enough for us. He believed that the members of the Motor Association had consented to the change against their better judgment. He expressed his belief that the change in the rule was quite unnecessary, and that it was time enough to alter the present rule when the motor tourists came here.

MR. ASHBOURNE saw no cogent reason for changing the present rule. He did not see why our people had to give way to outsiders in having the rule altered to suit them.

MR. HICKMAN thought that the change would inflict hardship on horse and pony owners, but as to the regulations other than the rule of the road he was in accord. He expressed his intention of moving for an amendment on the proposed rule of drive to the right when the Bill is in Committee.

MR. WARREN said the members were discussing the Bill as if to be the Committee stage when it was only in its second reading. The Bill was a Canadian one, in fact the Ontario Act, and he failed to see why this country should be a rubber-stamp for any Canadian legislation, as had been the case with many of the measures brought in this season. To break a rule of the road of the House himself there were some features of the Bill that he would like to see added. The chief one was the necessity of having all wheeled traffic supplied with a light in the rear after dark, and not as at present, only in the city.

The Bill having been read for the second time was ordered to be read in Committee on Monday.

THE MINISTER OF JUSTICE moving the second reading of the Bill regulating the Egress from Churches, Theatres and other Buildings, said that this legislation was purely local in origin. It was generally felt that it was only due to the merciful intervention of Providence that in the past there had not been any disasters in public buildings due to overcrowding and lack of public exits. Under the Bill it was provided that in case of any assemblage of over 200 hundred persons there were to be at least two exits of 5 feet in width.

The Leader of the Opposition expressed his approval of the Bill, and it was given second reading.

THE PRIME MINISTER in moving the adjournment of the House until Monday, said the Government had to meet a delegation from Bell Island and to discuss the Dock question while there were also several other matters of legislation that they had to consider.

The House accordingly rose to meet again on Monday at the usual hour.

Sugar or Molasses

A gallon of Molasses which retails for about 30 cents to one dollar, contains from 6 to 7 pounds of Sugar, and at one dollar per gallon, the sugar content costs over 12 cents per pound; therefore molasses as a sweetening agent is more expensive than sugar.

A good quality of soft sugar will be found much better and cheaper than molasses for use in cakes, puddings, sweet bread, etc. Twelve ounces of soft sugar equals one pint of molasses.

It must be borne in mind that all soft sugars are not equally good. One of the best is Lantic Brown Sugar. This excellent sugar is sold out of bulk, at 8 cents per pound, and at this price it equals molasses at about 50 cents per gallon.

If you like coffee try it this way—Use a tablespoon measure of any high grade coffee to each cup of water, bring to boiling point, then strain. (use same quantities in your percolator) Your coffee liquor is now ready to use. Now take a half cup of the coffee liquor fill up with hot milk, sweeten with Lantic Brown Sugar and drink a beverage fit for the gods.

Lantic Brown Sugar dissolved in hot water makes a delicious syrup for pan cakes, puddings, etc. It is wholesome and tasty. Children like it on bread. Don't forget, sugar is a real food.

Lantic Brown Sugar is practically good molasses refined and solidified, the water and impurities are removed in refining—mar10,tn,th,t

"Just Off Broadway" A DRAMA OF SECRET SERVICE AND INTERESTING LOVE AFFAIR. International intrigue in which the American secret service plays a brilliant part, furnishes the basis for the William Fox production "Just Off Broadway," an entertaining picture which opens to-night at the Majestic Theatre.

Scenes of New York and Paris are particularly excellent and the life of Broadway in the "Roaring Twenties" is portrayed with intense realism. Obviously, with secret service operatives and the most desperate type of criminal known to international police, figuring in nearly every scene, the picture is an full of stirring action as it is of romance.

"Are You a Mason?"

COMEDY SUCCESS AT THE CASINO TO-NIGHT. The greatest comedies ever seen and one of the biggest successes of recent years is the play entitled "Are You a Mason?" which the Archie Marks Players offer to the lovers of drama, at the Casino Theatre to-night.

Never heard so much about "Are You a Mason?" it is with anxious anticipation that we await its presentation at the Casino Theatre. Throughout Canada and the United States, this bill has met phenomenal success and has been a phenomenon in all its presentations. The plot of the piece is brimful of laughs—it is more commonly known as a cyclone of laughs. Special equipment has been built to make the play and nothing has been overlooked to give the bill the originality of these special vaudeville programs arranged with Deluna and this is a new novelty act that in itself is an attraction worth going miles to see. Besides this, our popular Archie Marks and Lindsay will appear in a special act. We all know what to expect from such talented artists. The first portion of next week's play will be Dan Sully's outstanding masterpiece "The Golden Rule," a play containing a lesson as powerful as a sermon. It is desirable to book reservations early as great bill.

Memorials at Grand Falls Suggested

The Evening Telegraph. Grand Falls, N.S.—It has been a source of disappointment to me to note that no attempt has been made in this town to erect some suitable memorials to perpetuate the memory of those who, in their time, played an important part in the initial development and subsequent development of this great enterprise now firmly established in our midst. I refer to the late William Scott, former Vice-President of the Anglo Newfoundland Development Company, Ltd., and the late Thomas F. Judge, former Superintendent of the Company's Mills here, of whom passed away a few days ago.

Grand Falls, containing present four thousand people and a population of far greater magnitude than its different institutions such as the "Lady Northcliffe" school, the streets and squares with their very appropriate names all of which are in good memory or memory of a generous spirit or some notable historic event, there is an entire absence of a memorial to "Judge" and "Scott" in the whole environment. There is also a Memorial consisting of a relief of the Cenotaph at London but Grand Falls has, so far, failed to measure up to the standard of perpetuating in a tangible manner the memory of those who were beloved, honored and respected by the whole community.

The present writing is inspired by the fact that once the proposition of a whole hearted and ready appeal to any appeal for contribution is assured. The Memorial form it may take, should be decided at the cost of the people of Grand Falls and the neighbouring communities embraced in the Commemorative activities and here may I be permitted to venture a suggestion. I have a fairly sized open space at the junction of several streets, and, to my mind, this would be a most desirable location for a Memorial which might take the form of a drinking fountain, or a well as in its commemorative form, a useful and attractive addition to the town.

Yours truly,
H. F. FITZGERALD,
Grand Falls, Mar. 7th, 1925.

Laid to Rest
That was mortal of the late W. McManus was laid to rest yesterday afternoon at Belvedere Cemetery. Funeral was largely attended. A host of honor from the Holy Name Society and a large number of members of the Star of the Sea Society, both of which the deceased at one time held executive positions, were present. At the Cathedral, Rev. R. J. Gray recited the prayers for the deceased. The funeral arrangements were carried out under the direction of J. T. Martin.

Why, of Course

If you want GOOD Clothes go to a GOOD Tailor. There is where you get good material, good fit and Clothes that look as if they were made for YOU, and not for the other fellow.

The Ready-to-Wear! Yes, of course. They were made for the one who buys them, very seldom for the one who fits them.

But be careful and go to a good tailor. It's cheaper and better.

SPURRELL'S are good, reliable tailors, and you make no mistake in going there.

TO YOUNG MEN!

This is specially addressed to the young men who are following the trend of style especially as regards trousers. If you want the bell bottom trousers, with or without cuff, here is the place to get them; we are making and have made recently some splendid examples of this style. This also applies to the straight hanging English trousers hanging free from the hips to the cuff; with plenty of room at knees and bottom.
