BOURASSA SETS FORTH AIMS OF NATIONALISM TO HUGE CALGARY AUDIENCE

Claims That No Contribution Should Be Made to Imperial Defence Without An Equivalent Surrender of Control in the Imperial Policy of the Empire; Appeals to Native-Born English and Scots to Assist in Building a United Nation in Canada

The largest gathering the Canadian club of Calgary has ever held, Henri Bourassa, the Nationalist leader from Quebec, on Saturday gave an exposition of his position in Canadian Imperial politics. Contrary to all expectations and forecasts, Mr. Bourassa had not merely a respectful hearing, he was warmly received and his telling periods were loudly and warmly applauded, speaking in Calgary for the first time, he soon found that there were many sympathizers with his viewpoint.

With a most pleasing enunciation and just the slightest tinge of French accent, which is most pleasant to listen to, the famous orator soon won his way to the hearts of those present. Referring in humorous style to the scandal caused among the devoted Imperialists, who held up their hands in horror at the thought that Bourassa "the rebel," should speak in Calgary. Mr. Bourassa said it was at times a good thing to hear what the other fellow had to say, while he would be lacking in every quality of manliness if he did not say forth in Calgary what he said in his home province.

The remainder of his speech followed two thoughts. There should be no contribution to Imperial defence without a say in Imperial politics and the foreign policy of the empire. Canada should back to develop her own nationality along Canadian lines. So many foreigners here could not really be expected to have the regard for England that an Englishman had, and all that could be asked of them was to be good and loyal Canadians, Englishmen and Scots at the same time should be mindful of the fact that even in a humble way it home they were no longer Englishmen, but colonial, and had no more to say. The old motto should be kept up "Once a British subject always a British subject, and wherever a British subject always a British subject."

The many points made by the speaker were much appreciated. His reference to Sir Edward Grey brought forth a hearty round of applause, but that to the "high pontiff of Imperialism," Joseph Chamberlain, was quite tame in comparison with others. There was no doubt but that Mr. Bourassa made a deep impression, and though he may not have convinced all present in everything he said, he certainly won many friends, and those so ardently opposed to his doctrines were put to some hard questioning and reasoning after his address.

Emerson's Appreciation. With luncheon over, C. F. Adams, president of the Canadian club, rose and introduced Mr. Bourassa to the large number of members present. In doing so he read two appreciations of Mr. Bourassa from Eastern Canadian papers and from the editor of a certain newspaper. Mr. Bourassa was a brilliant man trying the feelings and prejudices of Quebec. The other was from no less an authority than the late Colonel Smollett, who said that Mr. Bourassa was a courageous man who was ready to speak out what he deemed to be the right thing. Mr. Bourassa on rising to address the club was well received. "Your president," he said, "operating in a humorous and good natured vein, has soon won the hearts of all save the few irreconcilable present. He had to go far afield to find appreciations of me. Yet such as they are, I am glad to receive them. I am glad to hear of the scandal which caused the people of Calgary when I was here, and I am glad to hear of the loyal folk of Calgary. Your president has to go to the records to find some good words about me, but there is some compensation for me, for a man is seldom so bad that there is not some good about him and the scandal of my coming here has been the cause of bringing in large numbers to see me. The secretary has said, and they have been added to the list of members. I am glad to hear of the scandal. Mr. Bennett.

"It is with loyal men," said Mr. Bourassa, "that we have something to do. We do not detest to read French papers. There are sometimes interesting situations. Once in a while we go to the other fellow to meet a loyalist and it may also be good to hear of something else than loyalty. Your invitation to Calgary is accepted in the same spirit in which it was offered. If we have something to gain in the sphere of public ideas and ideals, if we look to the future of Canada as all Canadians should, if we wish to have healthy, strong, public opinions, apart from the tyranny of party tenets, there should be complete liberty given to all shades of opinion in all matters of public interest. "One of the most thoughtful and active of British public men with whose opinions I differ, but whose kindness, I esteem and whose acquaintance I as proud, I mean, Lord (Continued on Page Two.)

TWO FIRES WITHIN TWENTY MINUTES; ONE BLOCK APART

Firemen Had Busy Noon Hour; Both Blazes Extinguished With But Slight Damage

Two fires within a block and a half of each other and only twenty minutes apart spoiled the dinner hour of the firemen at headquarters yesterday. The men were no sooner back to the station after quickly extinguishing the first blaze than they were called out to the second.

The first fire was at the corner of First avenue and Fourth street West, and but for the fact that the building was a two-story structure, the fire might have been a serious one. A number of crates caught fire in some unexplained manner and when the department arrived a big blaze was burning against the sides of the sheet metal building. This building, a barn, is owned and occupied by the Albert Laundry company. Two streams of water were soon playing on the blaze, and it was extinguished without serious damage.

This was at 11:40. At 11:45 the men returned to fire headquarters and in just five minutes were away for the scene of the second blaze. This was at the corner of Third avenue and Third street West, and in a two-story house and stable owned and occupied by the Albert Laundry company. A considerable number of horses were housed in this building, and when one detail of firemen worked getting out the animals, another started two streams of water on the fire. The horses were saved and the fire put out with slight damage.

SEVERE CENSURE OF CHURCHILL FOR INTERFERENCE IN CANADIAN POLITICS

London Nation Says the Emergency of Non-Elstent and the Admiralty Should Never Have Asked and Pleaded For the Canadian Dreadnoughts

London, June 14.—The Nation, the weekly Liberal review, today recalls Premier Borden's declaration of 1909 that the proper line on which to proceed was in the line of having a naval force of our own.

"Who changed this?" asks The Nation, and itself replies that it was "Churchill and his non-existent emergency under which Canada has been offered a share in an imperial squadron which is no more Imperial than the rest of the fleet, and is a mere item in the anti-German sum which our admiralty are always adding up and bringing to a different total. Downing Street interference becomes once more a cry in colonial politics to a generation which had almost forgotten its meaning. The admiralty should never have asked and pleaded and diplomatised for these ships. Still less should they have tried to impound them for its almost German quarrel. The government must revert to the Liberal formula of running the empire by letting the empire run itself."

WEDNESDAY WILL BE SCOUT AND CADET DAY

Change Made in Exhibition Program Through the Cadet Encampment

On Wednesday, July 3, being the closing day of the encampment of the cadets, it has been found necessary to make a change in the day on which the cadets and boy scouts will be the guests of the fair management.

In a conference which was held Saturday between the officers and the fair manager it was decided that the boys would parade at the fair grounds Wednesday instead of Saturday. The boys of both organizations will be the guests of the fair association, as each boy who appears in uniform will be admitted free. Cadets from all parts of the province will be in Calgary for their annual encampment, and they will march down to the fair grounds. It has been arranged that they will put on some of their maneuvers, and their appearance will be one of the most popular numbers of the interesting fair program. It is expected that at one of the performances the cadets will be presented with the prizes which they have won during the sports held during the camp.

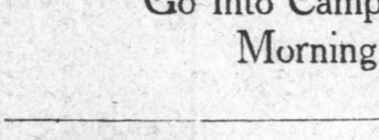

Calgary has a very large enrollment in the scout and cadets, and parents and relatives of the young men of the city will be greatly interested in the parade and manoeuvres. The sight of about 1,500 boys lining up in the parade will be one of the most striking scenes which would be imagined, and will no doubt result in a largely increased attendance at the fair on Wednesday.

TWO THOUSAND SOLDIERS WILL BE UNDER CANVAS IN CALGARY BEFORE THE SUN SETS TODAY

This Morning Real Activities Will Begin; Fifteenth Light Horse Will Go Into Camp Today; Soldier's Day Starts at 5.30 in Morning And Lasts Until 10.15 at Night

EMILY DAVISON. The English suffragette who tried to grasp the bridle of the king's horse in the Epsom Derby race and who died of her injuries on Monday.

Beginning this morning, real activities and the arrival of troops will begin at the annual encampment of the Thirteenth Military District, on the outskirts of Calgary. Colonel Cruikshank, commanding the encampment, will start making his permanent headquarters for the twelve days of the encampment on the scene of action.

Tomorrow morning the camp will be in full swing, and the regular routine of camp work will be followed without exception. Yesterday was a busy day at the camp field. The 25th battery, of Lethbridge, already in camp formation, with its tents up and horses in position, spent the day in going through a regular camp routine. The Army Service corps and the ordnance men and officers were busy all day arranging the supplies for the various companies which are expected today.

Fifteenth Light Horse Due Today. Calgary's crack troop, the Fifteenth Light Horse, will arrive at the camp bright and early this morning, and will be in position to which it has been assigned.

When all the tents are up and the companies and troops assigned there will be about 2,000 men and officers under cover. The camp runs from east to west, with the water pipes, the dividing line between the two great banks of the river, and the streets. Each company having horses will take care of its mounts between the two rows of tents which compose the company headquarters.

At the west of the camp the tents for the army service corps and the ordnance department have been pitched. These tents include housing for the men and officers and larger tents for the supplies.

Officers' Quarters 100 Feet Away. About 100 feet to the south of the west of the camp the officers' quarters, with Colonel Cruikshank's headquarters in the center, flanked by the quarters of the various members of his staff. Back of this will be the headquarters and staff officers' offices and the tents of the non-commissioned staff.

Non-commissioned officers and men found outside of the camp limits, unless on special detail or in possession of property signed papers, are liable to arrest at the hands of the military authorities. Strict attention will be paid to the guards and sentries on the lands outside the camp limits, and the men will be held accountable for any cases that may be done.

Day Starts at 5.30 a.m. The soldiers' official day will start at 5.30 in the morning. Breakfast is due at 7 in the morning. Dinner at 1.30 in the afternoon and tea at 5.30 in the evening. Five hours a day will be spent in drill. The day will be allowed the recreation and every detail of the cooking and service will be arranged in the fashion of actual work on the field. Special camp orders will be issued each day at 12 o'clock noon.

NEW POLICE STATION TODAY RULES SOUTH OF C. P. R. TRACKS

Sergeant W. H. Taylor and 12 Men Detached from Station 1 to Take Charge of Police Work in Station 2; Firemen Ready to Move In This Week

Calgary's newest police station, the second, at Second street east and Eighteenth avenue, will be formally opened this morning. The police will install a force while the firemen will continue putting their side of the station in readiness for the new equipment, which is still on the way. The new city service truck, which Chief Smart has ordered from Almonte, Pa., will arrive about the middle of the week. The furniture for the housing of the firemen is already in place.

Sergeant W. H. Taylor will be in command of the station for the police, and will take on his new duties this morning. Chief Cully posted the men to move up the line are Constables James Taylor and Robert Brechin.

The following men have been detailed to appear for duty at the new station today: Fraser, Gilmie, Thompson, Murray, Bell, Stewart, Brechin, Wilson, Nicholson, and Ward. All were formerly connected with station 1. Constable White, in the same order, was detached from station 1 and attached to station 2.

Constable Edward Wood will fill the vacancy at station 1 caused by the detaching of Sergeant Taylor, and will start his duties today as acting desk sergeant.

The territory for the activities of the new station will include all the territory south of the C.P.R. tracks, and as far as possible the men detailed to that portion of the city.

Another Trip to Jail for Mrs. Pankhurst. London, June 14.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was arrested again today and taken to Newgate jail. She had been released on license on May 30, owing to ill health, but was arrested by a "buzzer strike" who was serving her three year sentence of penal servitude.

Mrs. Pankhurst was leaving the house here this morning when she was arrested by two policemen. She was taken to Newgate jail, and the public are invited to attend the funeral of Miss Davison.

PRESS WOMEN FETED AT FAMOUS RESORT BY C. P. R.

One Hundred and Fifty Guests Are Given Sumptuous Entertainment by Railway Company at Palatial Banff Springs Hotel

THE tour of the Canadian Women's Press club reached its climax when the party of visitors, accompanied by the reception committee of the Calgary Local Council of Women and the Calgary Women's Press club, were taken by special train to Banff by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. The beauties of the playground of Canada were shown to the eastern and western visitors from every vantage point, and the company's officials established a standard of courtesy and gallantry which will not be duplicated in Canada for many a day.

The great hotel, which has been extended and remodeled until it is now a small walled city in itself, was thrown wide open to the visitors, and the company's officials established a standard of courtesy and gallantry which will not be duplicated in Canada for many a day.

At the quaint rustic station at the terminus of the line, the party was met by Mr. Rankin, who had been waiting for them since their departure from Calgary.

CHEAPER MONEY.

Premier Scott of Saskatchewan has announced that the big question at the next session of the legislature of that province will be that of providing cheaper money for the farmers of the province.

But New Zealand and Australia have had greater success in this kind of financing than any other country. Between 1894 and 1912 the Dominion of New Zealand loaned $60,000,000 to assist farming developments, and out of 32,000 lands had only 33 foreclosures.

It would be some time before the provinces of Western Canada could hope for such success, but with some effort they could do much to furnish cheaper money for the farmer, as soon as the money stringency is over.

NATIONALISM VS. IMPERIALISM.

As Mr. Bourassa advocates a policy which, if not now openly one of independence for Canada, will ultimately lead to that, The Albertan does not approve of the message which he gave to the Canadian club on Saturday.

We believe that we have a duty to perform to the mother country. This is a British country, and it will continue a British country.

Canada is practically independent now. We have a governor-general, sent from the mother country, but his share in the administration of government is not troublesome.

But during the last few years there has been a movement, which had its inspiration among the hood taxers of the old country, to have Canada barter away this proud position of practical independence in exchange for some visionary voice in the administration of the foreign affairs of the empire.

Editorial Notes

The report of Dr. Dawson, giving some figures showing the value and the need of playgrounds in Calgary, is one of considerable interest. We need play grounds more than drill halls.

instead of a self-governing member of the British family of nations.

And that is the biggest question that is before the Canadian people today. The reciprocity agreement was vigorously opposed by the British food taxer, and the imperialistic jingo, who lacked faith in the steadfastness of the Dominion, and feared that our people could not take care of themselves.

The entire Borden naval policy is intended to further this doctrine of centralization, and is a crowning effort to destroy the self-reliance of the Canadian people.

The British Tory learns nothing, and evidently forgets much. In his efforts to centralize all power in the hands of an autocracy he would fasten upon the self-governing empires within the empire the very policy which caused the loss of the thirteen colonies.

The only imperial policy that will prevail is one of alliance rather than centralized coercion. In half a century the British empire will include a family of self-governing empires, two or three of which will be greater or nearly as great, in population at least, as the mother country itself.

AN ATTEMPT AT SCANDAL.

It is unfortunate for readers of Canadian newspapers that a great deal of the news from the Old Country, particularly that on political matters, is colored to a large extent, and written from the bias of the Tory party, so that one has to await the arrival of papers by mail to ascertain the real nature of the truth.

A Calgary paper of Thursday, in an editorial article, refers to "the Marconi wireless purchases immediately preceding the announcement of the government contract with subsidiary and allied wireless companies."

The facts are these: On April 9, 1912, nearly FIVE WEEKS AFTER the acceptance of the Marconi tender by the post office, Mr. Godfrey Isaacs, the managing director of the English Marconi company, invited his two brothers, Sir Rufus and Harry, to buy some shares in the American company.

The Calgary paper asserts that the ministers bought immediately preceding the announcement of the government contract. Everyone who knows the first thing about the matter is aware that it was FIVE WEEKS LATER.

The Calgary paper says later that, "as the Liberal press began to call for the close of the inquiry, the most important development was brought to light when it was found that Lord Murray of Elibank had invested at least $45,000 from the fund of the Liberal party."

The whole scandal which has been raised round the Marconi matter is nothing more than the last despairing piece of dramatic Pharisism on the part of the "outs," who are now longing for the fruits of office from which they have been absented too long.

be desired in a commissioner than being a ready scrapper, with the chip perpetually upon the shoulder.

The Vancouver News-Advertiser says consolingly that western people should not be too sensitive over the statements of Simax Aitken, as if any person could be sensitive over what that humorous get-rich-quick sentimentalist ever said.

The Winnipeg Free Press declares that the bye-election in Gimli was the most corrupt in modern times. "Gimli represents the highwater mark of electioneering rascality. The Macdonald bye-election of last October was a Sunday school performance." That is unbelievable.

It is asserted by the Conservative party that the naval proposals will not be referred to the people because the people have already expressed their approval. Mr. Bourassa's speech is striking evidence to the contrary.

Getting rich is a peculiar game because everybody loses and nobody wins. Some men lose their health and others their reputation, some lose a happy home, and others lose their patriotism.

Two Noteworthy Specials In Pretty New Skirts

To hear that these charming new Skirts are to be reduced to such proportions immediately on their arrival, is most remarkable, to say the least. - AT $2.50 - 75 only, Misses' and small Women's Dress Skirts, direct from the makers, including a variety of pretty styles in mostly plain tailored, with plait stitched down side front, which is a most becoming style to the average figure.

Press Women's Impressions of Banff

(By Constance Errol) After a glorious but somewhat tiring journey extending for a week, and covering hundreds of miles, it was good to wind up the curling path at the Cliff Hotel, and to know that there was rest. To the first-time visitor the architecture of that great building is a source of surprise and admiration. Starting with a building of moderate size, it has been enlarged and improved, and added to, till it will comfortably hold some 800 persons, and a staff of 250, while the changes wrought lead one to suppose that a different artist had designed each wing, and each keeper to his own mind, but not one form of architecture from Roman pillars, Gothic arches, Swiss chalet roofs, down to plain British modern styles. Green and red brick, also a dull red paint, touches of white, and a light slate make a wonderful contrast to the eye. With its background of rugged mountainside, rich with new green grass and trees, and the darker green of great pines, the hotel presents a picture of beauty. What ever the intention of the architect with regard to the outside of the building, the inside is calculated to give peace and comfort and rest. The vast corridors, with their velvet carpeting, on cosy nooks, the handy tea tables, the galleries, with their view of the mountains, were very welcome to the travelers. But there was something more. After the intense heat of the sun which we had passed, the sun upon fireplace, with its bright, crackling logs and the honey arm chairs, were an inspiration in the misty, sultry climate of the mountains. The rocks were indeed beautiful, but to see them in all phases it was necessary to go to the balcony, yet again the attention was divided between the de- duced fire and the towering summits, the large, airy dining room, sun- drenched with windows, gave full ac- cess to the beauty of nature. This room by the way, will today pass to a lesser place, as the new dining- room will be opened there for the first time to diners. Outside beauty, and inside beauty, combined with comfort, the travelers sank into the seats, sun- ning themselves at the great, pleasant window or before the open fire, and it seemed good. Outside the hotel, the atmosphere was swam and dived and gored in being wet, but inside we were dry and warm, and we could breathe deep, and to enjoy the steadiness of the floor and the quiet of the hotel after the rattle of the train. The orchestra in the balcony played softly and sweetly, and we dreamed and wore fairy tales into the smoke of the fire or the mist of the moun- tains.

church choir, who, with his wife, was a guest at the hotel, came to us later, and when the musicians had gone, sang to us from the balcony, till his sonorous voice echoed through the cor- ridors and woke memories in our hearts. "Thora," as he voiced the tragic tale, became real, and her spirit hovered in the mist just outside of our reach. At night, when we sought our bedrooms, here again was comfort, bathtubs with really hot water, and great large beds appealing to the tired muscles. In the morning, refreshed, as we pulled aside our curtains, there was the sun cutting more capers on the snow-covered peaks, and the trees nodding in the breeze, and all the water sparkling and trickling and rushing, tried in a thousand ways, to tell us that we had overslept and must make up for lost time. Outside was new loveliness and in- side more interest, guests from Eng- land, from the States, from Halifax to Victoria, from every country almost, exchanging ideas on art and drama, an commerce, and on life. A Glorious Dance. The dance on Saturday night was glorious, the hall with its high roof and great polished floors, inviting men and women. Feminine beauty in myriad colors, dotted here and there with the somber black of civilized but not prepossessing male evening dress, swayed to dreary waltzes and inspired two-steps. Men Were Scarce! There was a scarcity of men, much to the disgust of eastern girls, who had heard that men were so plentiful here, but this was a unique dance. In the fact that the A.W.P.C. had brought a hundred women and but three or four men, while the company already assembled in the hotel had quite a number of ladies in its ranks. On Sunday, tully-ho drives, mags swimming, more walks, but the same old mountain and cosy chairs, made a perfect day, and many persons who had meant to journey by the moon train were persuaded by the beauty and the comfort to remain till evening. It was over all too soon, and the perfect day, like the common working ones, had its end, so that as the even- ing shadows began to fall most of us turned our faces homeward, some east and some west, but all a little wistful and regretful that our playtime was over. A few who could not draw them- selves away, and could afford the time, waited over and waved us fare- well from the steps as we swept down the winding drive. That marking the end of our trip, but only the beginning of many other trips for no one who has ever visited this exquisite spot but will visit it again and again.

COLOR MEDICINE WILL BE THE RESTORER OF GOOD HEALTH First Practitioner of Medical Aesthetics Already Started in His Practice (The Westminster Gazette). One of these days, it seems, a doctor will prescribe not an old drug, but a new picture; instead of a change of air, and change of color. He will give doses of purple and orange, and insist upon new curtains. And the specialist will have R. A. after his name. In a sense this alliance of Art with Medicine has already begun, and the next type of specialist in medical-aesthetics will be the doctor. He is personified by Mr. H. K. Prosser, the proprietor of the Rhyler Galleries, the consulting room is at the corner of Chester-street, and for the past twelve months he has been dispensing colors for a million people. I am very anxious to alter the tem- perament of the English nation, which is essentially very unshapely and un- color, and we are greatly influenced by the rooms we live in. The argument for the appeal was concluded on Saturday morning in the Callard-Armstrong breach of promise case and this morning it is expected that the case will be finished. Their Lordships will then consider whether the appellants will then consider whether they will have to hear the respondents' or not and as the respondents have already admitted their willingness to drop a large proportion of the damages, it is thought that the case will not go much further. BOURASSA THINKS HE IS NOT A BAD FELLOW

Henri Bourassa, the Nationalist leader, arrived in Calgary on Saturday morning from Edmonton where he had been attending the congress for the preservation of the French language. Mr. Bourassa was naturally impressed with Calgary. He has never been in the city before and only saw it from the railway 15 years ago so that he could hardly recognize it as the same place. Referring humorously to himself he said that he was not such a bad fellow after all, if people only cared to meet him. A great scandal apparently had been caused in Calgary by the fact that he should be asked to speak here but he felt that he was only a Canadian after all, and a Canadian as good as any.

ELECTION PROTEST ENTERED IN ST. PAUL

A petition has been lodged against the return of Paul St. Lesard as M.L.A. for St. Paul. The document, which has been lodged with Henry Tessier of St. Paul de Metis, clerk of the supreme court, asks that the election be declared null and void on the grounds of bribery, persuasion and intimidation. The case will not come up for some time, but it appears to be the result of the high feeling which ran at the time of the election in the district. The candidate opposing Mr. Lesard was an independent Liberal, there being no official candidate of the opposition. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cushing gave a very pretty birthday party on Friday evening in honor of their niece, Miss Adeline Spence. Thirty young people were present, music and games making a most enjoyable evening.

AMERICANS WIN DECIDING GAME OF INTERNATIONAL POLO SERIES

Narrow Margin of One-Quarter Point Stood Between Teams at Finish; English Team Not Disheartened; Will Challenge Again

NEW YORK, June 14.—By the narrow margin of one-quarter point goal the American polo team won the second and deciding game of the international polo series at the Meadowbrook club this afternoon and thereby retain the trophy for at least another year. The score was 1-2 to 4-1-4.

The slight advantage of the United States over the English challenge was at the end of one hour of the most desperate kind of play is fully indicated by the trifling difference in the scores of the two teams. The spectators thrilled a crowd of 35,000 persons until the dignified assemblage was fairly carried away and "rooted" like a typical baseball crowd during the final period of play.

The English four, on the other hand, benefited by the change which brought F. M. Freake into the game in place of Capt. A. Noel Edwards. The veteran internationalist proved a tower of strength, teaming up with both Captains Cheape and Ritton in a manner which opened the eyes of those who had seen the opening performance of the challenging four. Captain Cheape fairly outdid himself with his efforts to turn defeat into victory and both Ritton and Freake played polo strokes for and back-hand that astonished

CRICKETERS PLAY TIE GAME IN CALGARY

St. John's "A" and St. John's "B" Play Most Exciting Game Saturday

One of the most exciting games of cricket ever played in Calgary was pulled off on Saturday last on the St. John's A and St. John's B teams played to a tie, both sides scoring 58 runs.

The two fowls, one of which was called upon each team, were imposed in accordance with the rule which states that players shall not cross or charge into each other at right angles because of the danger of a bad fall when it occurs.

The substitution of L. E. Stoddard for "Monte" Waterbury, made necessary by the accident to Waterbury on Tuesday, and the moving back of "Larry" Waterbury to No. 2 caused a noticeable break in the team play of the Meadowbrook "Big Four."

English Team Strengthened The English four, on the other hand, benefited by the change which brought F. M. Freake into the game in place of Capt. A. Noel Edwards. The veteran internationalist proved a tower of strength, teaming up with both Captains Cheape and Ritton in a manner which opened the eyes of those who had seen the opening performance of the challenging four.

IS CALGARY FIRST IN SOCCER IN CANADA?

Winnipeg May Come West, and Then We Can Have Something on Which to Base a Decision

(By J. K. Matheson.) Now that the football men in the city of Calgary have got going and are working out the schedule as quickly as possible, the objective of inter-city games must not be lost sight of.

Although the proposed inter-city game with Winnipeg would not settle the question of supremacy, it would be a long way towards settlement if the long way towards settlement is the claim that it can have for the time being until there has been an organized league to settle the matter.

The hold-up occurred in a busy downtown section in full view of the noon-day crowds.

LONDON MARKET WAS PRETTY STEADY SATURDAY

London, June 14.—In the absence of further trouble over the settlement the stock market ruled steady today.

A hardening tendency developed on home securities and foreign rails under investment buying, but Rio Tinto and De Beers were weakened by selling for Paris account.

American securities opened steady, and later advanced under the lead of Canadian Pacific and Erie.

The closing was steady with prices ranging from unchanged to 1-3-8 points above parity.

There was a good demand for money, but discount rates were easy. Bullion amounting to £2,600,000 was taken into the Bank of England on balance today.

TORONTO MARKET CLOSED WITH A FLOURISH

GENERAL RISE IN STOCKS ON NEW YORK MARKET

Now Above Prices Which Ruled Before Announcement of Minnesota Rail Decision

New York, June 14.—The advance in stocks which followed the violent break early in the week went on unchanged today. Virtually every important stock traded in shared in the day's advance which added substantial amounts to the large gains achieved since the upturn began.

Operations for the long account were carried more confidently today, bull traders having been encouraged by the market's demonstration of firmness yesterday after the buoyant upturn of Thursday.

Concentrated efforts were made to drive in the short interest, which was forced to retreat. The advance was continued through the day's session without serious interruption.

Operating ease in money rates was an important influence in broadening speculation for the long account. Predictions of a large gain in the bank by banks were fulfilled, the bank statement showing an actual cash gain of approximately $11,000,000.

Concentrated efforts were made to drive in the short interest, which was forced to retreat. The advance was continued through the day's session without serious interruption.

The board market was firm. Total sales, par which were $1,297,000. United States coupon 3's advanced 1-4, and the registered 3's half on call on the week.

Mayor Bligh, the members of the board of control, and representatives of the local Conservative organization, received the premier at the railway station.

The premier and his party were escorted in automobiles by two bands, several pieces of fire apparatus, and a dozen automobiles to the city hall where a brief reception was held, followed by an address by the premier.

After assuring his hearers that with-out distinction of party he regarded himself as a representative of the whole people, the premier stated that he was very strongly impressed with the progress of the railway, which was of substantial advantage to Halifax, Dartmouth, the province of Nova Scotia and the Dominion of Canada.
