THE house-fly is born in offal—nowhere else. The manure pile and the c.s.pool are his home. It is from these haunts that he comes to visit the kitchen, the dining-room and the nursery. He drags his filthy feet across the bread, dips them in the butter, wipes them on the meat, and bathes in the milk. He seeks out the sick room and sips the delicious excretion of the consumptive, the typhoid fever patient, and the child with summer complaint. Swat the fly!

JOS. E. ARMSTRONG, the Conservative candidate for the Commons and Dr. J. B. Martyn, the Conservative candidate for the Legislature are holding a series of meetings through the riding. Monday night they addressed a large meeting at Inwood, Tuesday night at Forest, Wednesday afternoon they were at Oakdale picnic and in the evening held a meeting at Cairo. Meetings will be arranged for this district shortly.

THE Friday evening hand concerts have been greatly enjoyed by the citizens this summer. On most occasions there has been a full quota of players and the practices under Leader Matthew's direction have been well attended, with the result that excellent programs have been furnished. It is to be hoped that these concerts will be continued as long as the weather permits, and that the present band will not fall into the error of previous ones of discontinuing the concerts as soon as the chance of getting outside engagements falls off. Keep the music going boys, the people appreciate it.

ON Sunday evening first in Congregational Church, Rev. R. Stevenson will deliver an illustrated lecture on "The Book of Revelation and the Fulfillment of Prophecy." Most people are interested more or less in what the future holds in store. With the rapid increase of knowledge, the unprecedented advance in science and invention which characterize these days, we are prone to ask the questions, "What is the world coming to?" "Is it getting better or worse?"

"What will conditions be in a hundred years from now?" A knowledge of St. John's "Apocalypse" will throw considerable light on these, and other matters of equal moment. All interested in this important subject are heartily invited. Please bring your bibles.

Dear Miss Beacom: We, the members and adherents of the Warwick Methodist church, having learned of your proposed visit to the West, feeling a touching opportunity to express to our heartfelt appreciation of your valuable services as organist, we believe that music is an essential part of religious worship and one which has much to do with the interest of the services of God's house, especially with the young, and we have observed with very great gratification the spirit of faithfulness which has characterized your services as well as the cheerfulness with which they have been rendered. Your ability as one specially gifted of God and the readiness with which you have exercised those gifts is to us a source of admiration. We trust you may find your visit one of great enjoyment and happiness as well as a means of renewed invigoration and that you may long be spared to lead us in the devotions of the sanctuary of God on earth, and there to join the music of the skies. We desire, then, to present you with this purse as a slight token of our appreciation and regard.

Good Writing.

To induce the pupils of the Senior classes in our local Public Schools to give more attention to the development of a good, free, easy, plain style of handwriting, the East Lambton Fall Fair to be held in Watford on Oct. 5th and 6th, have arranged to offer a very substantial prize for the best specimen exhibited, in the form of a Three Months' Scholarship in the leading Business College in Canada. This Scholarship is good for use within three years from date of issue and is well worth winning. The Board hopes many competitors will be in evidence among the School exhibits in their Fair this year.

James Willis, who lives in Exeter, narrowly escaped with his life. He was working upon the farm of James Jeckell, London road, and, being thirsty, went into the granary to get a drink of cider, mistaking the right jug, which contained blue vitriol, and only for the timely aid of two doctors he would have been dead in a short time.

Walkerville still maintains its position as the most highly-taxed town in Canada, the rate for the year being fixed at 13 mills. Last year's rate was 11 5/10 mills. The slight increase now is due to the cost of building new sewers and an increase in Public School estimates.

Good Positions.

The London Business College is a worthy link in a chain of Seven Business Colleges located in the cities of London, Peterborough, Welland, and the towns of Orangeville, Walkerton, Wingham and Clinton. Owing to its high-grade work it is affiliated with the Commercial Educators Association of Canada. It is freely admitted that owing to these connections, its students get the very best positions. Fall openings, are on August 28th and Sept. 5th; but at this School each student is instructed privately at his or her own desk, students may enter at any time. Many students study all at home and others partly at home and finish at the College. As Spottan Colleges are the highest trainers in Canada and have thirty years experience, it will be well for young people to get their training there. Last year Mr. Spottan trained over 1200 young people and placed them in good positions. What he has done for thousands of others he can do for you.

AFTER 7 YEARS SUFFERING

I Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Waurika, Okla.—"I had female troubles for seven years, was all run down, and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different things but did me no good. I got so bad that I could not sleep day or night. While in this condition I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and began its use and wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. In a short time I had gained my average weight and am now strong and well."

—Mrs. SALLIE STEVENS, R. F. D. No. 3, Box 31, Waurika, Okla.

Another Grateful Woman

London, Ont.—I feel as if I could not tell others enough about the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was so weak and tired that I could not rest nights. A friend recommended your Compound and I soon gained health and strength and could not wish to sleep better. I know other women who have taken it for the same purpose and they join me in praising it.—Mrs. W. M. A. BUFFY, 905 Dame St., London, Ont.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has surely cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, back-ache, that bearing-down feeling, and nervous prostration.

That some farmers fail to make good causes little surprise when their methods and ways of doing things are looked into, says a writer in the Canadian Farm. Take a drive through any part of the country and you can pick out the farmer who is playing a losing game without getting out of the rig. A hay loader, a plow, a cultivator, or some other piece of machinery that cost good money to buy, left in the field a prey to all sorts and conditions of weather, tells the tale. Get out of the rig and walk over the farm of the man who leaves his implements in the field when not in use, and you will find that he neglects his farm as well as his machinery. The other day the writer was on a farm of this kind. There was not an implement of any kind under cover. Plows, harrows, sulky rake, grain drill, mowing machine, and every implement the farmer had were out in the open and showed that they had never seen the inside of a building since they were bought. Bolts were rusted and loose, the woodwork was decayed, and the whole outfit was in the most dilapidated condition one could imagine.

Every Woman
is interested and should know about the wonderful MARVEL Whirling Spray The new vaginal spray. Most convenient. It cleanses instantly. Ask your druggist for it.

If he cannot supply the MARVEL, accept no other, but send stamp for illustrated book—sent. It gives full particulars and directions available to ladies.

WINDSOR SUPPLY CO., Windsor, Ont. General Agents for Canada.

And the way the farm was run was in keeping. The garden was full of weeds, the orchard unpruned and uncared for, and the fields producing only half a crop. It was a sad picture to look upon, and one could not but reflect that the owner had missed his calling and neglected his opportunity.

Words for Parents.

J. J. Kelso, superintendent of neglected children, has this very important paragraph concerning children on the street: "Parents cannot be too often reminded of the great evil of allowing children the freedom of the streets after dark. The habit should never be allowed to grow in young people, for it is acquired early and hard to break up later. Highly respectable mothers are at fault in this particular, and not until it is too late do they realize the mistake. How often do we have to listen to sad stories of youthful wrong doing, and while listening have realized that parental carelessness was largely the cause of it all. Home should be made a pleasant place for the children and they should be taught by the stern rule of parental authority that the street corner loitering will not be tolerated."

Tuberculosis Don'ts.

The Detroit Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis has issued small pamphlets called "Tuberculosis Don't Cards," containing valuable advice to the general public on the "white plague," which should be of value and interest to people.

Don't Get Tuberculosis Yourself! Keep as well as possible, for the healthier your body the harder for the germs to grow therein. To keep healthy observe the following rules:

Don't live, study or sleep in rooms where there is no fresh air. Fresh air and sunlight kill the tubercle bacilli and germs causing other disease. Therefore have as much of both in your room as possible.

Don't live in dusty air. Keep your rooms clean. Get rid of dust by cleaning with damp cloths and mops. Don't sweep with a dry broom.

Keep at least one window open in your bedroom at night, and air the room two or three times during the day.

Don't eat with soiled hands. Wash them first.

Don't put your hands, pencils or any candy or chewing gum that other persons have used, in your mouth.

Don't keep soiled handkerchiefs in your pocket.

Take a warm bath at least once a week.

Don't neglect a cold or cough, but go to a doctor.

Others Should Follow.

Queen Mary of England is said to be very economical. She refuses to have served on the royal table many delicacies because of the expense. She objects to fruits out of season on the ground that they cost too much, saying that the money thus saved can go to help the poor. The menus are submitted daily to the Queen by one of her ladies in waiting. The Queen reads them and makes changes. Recently the menu contained strawberries, and Queen Mary promptly put her pen through the item, saying: "We cannot submit to such extravagance while people starve. We will not have strawberries until they are in season and the price is lower."

'TIS A MARVELOUS THING.—When the cures effected by Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil are considered, the speedy and permanent relief it has brought to the suffering wherever it has been used, it must be regarded as a marvellous thing that so potent a medicine should result from the six simple ingredients which enter into its composition. A trial will convince the most skeptical of its healing virtues.

James McCracken, a former Londoner, who has not been heard of by his family for upwards of fifteen years, has written home to say that he has made money in the gold fields of Fairfield, Alaska, and that he is ready to help his people if they need it. The young man left home when but a lad, and the letter found his mother lying paralyzed and his father dead.

"There goes Spriggins. They say that man has been given up by half a dozen doctors." "What's the trouble with him?" "He won't pay his bills."

Alex. McDonald, Thamesville, celebrated his 95th birthday last week. He was born at that place.

There are a number of varieties of corns. Holloway's Corn Cure will remove any of them. Call on your druggist and get a bottle at once.

Why I Buy at Home.

Because my interests are here.
Because the community that is good enough for me to live in is good enough for me to buy in.

Because I believe in transacting business with my friends.

Because I want to see the goods.

Because I want to get what I buy when I pay for it.

Because my home dealer "carries" me when I run short.

Because every dollar I spend at home stays at home and works for the welfare of the town.

Because the man I buy from pays his part of the town taxes.

Because the man I buy from stand back of the goods.

Because I sell what I produce here at home.

Because the man I buy from gives value received always.

Because the man I buy from helps support my school, my church, my lodge, my home.

Because when ill-luck, misfortune or bereavement come, the man I buy from is here with the kindly greeting, his words of cheer and his pocket-book if needs be.

Here I live and hear I buy.
This gets right down to the root of the matter and covers the ground pretty thoroughly. Confronted with such a formidable list of reasons, what man would continue to buy from catalogues?

A Lobo farmer says that the average yield in that township, everything considered, will not be more than two-thirds of what was reaped last year.

Mrs. Thos. Pettigrew of Lion's Head strangled her two children and then hanged herself during a fit of insanity.

Mr. Thomas Young, St. Marys, caught one of the largest bass ever taken out of the River Thames in that vicinity. The fish was 23 inches long and weighed 54 ounces.

Do not delay in getting relief for the little folks. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is a pleasant and sure cure. If you love your child why do you let it suffer when a remedy is so near at hand?

A man of color in the South was asked if he knew the meaning of the word "procrastination," of which his daily conduct was an illustration. He answered, "I dunno, boss, but it's something that the Presbyterians believe in."

They keep the whole system in the pink of condition.

A New Fuel.
Recent extensive experiments in the production of a cheap fuel made from papyrus and other forms of reeds growing on and near the upper White Nile have proved very satisfactory, and companies have been formed to manufacture the fuel in large quantities.
The substance is known as "sudd," and this rank form of vegetation is reduced to a powder, which is pressed into bricks which are so solid they need no binding cords, and the new material is easily packed for transport. It is said to be much cheaper than coal, which is extensively used as fuel on the steamships and railways of the Nile region. If the project is as represented, vast fortunes will result, for the supply is almost endless and the demand for fuel is ever increasing in that section, and coal must be imported from great distances.

Queen Mary's Ears Are Pierced.
It is because Queen Mary is never seen without earrings that so many smart women of to-day are wearing them. Her Majesty has a really fine collection of these ornaments, some of which are of great historic interest. Many fine pairs were bequeathed to the Queen by her late mother, Mary Duchess of Teck, who also had a great penchant for earrings. For day wear the Queen usually favors short earrings, generally of simple stones which rest on the ear, but in the evening she adopts the picturesque long shape. Her ears are pierced in old-fashioned style, and she will have nothing to do with the screw fastenings which are almost universally used to-day.

WOMAN READ THIS

It is not only a delightful and refreshing hair dressing and beautifier, but it is sold under a rigid guarantee to banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp, or money back.
Parisian Sage is the best hair tonic known. It is the only one that will cure dandruff, cleanse the scalp and make the hair grow long and beautiful.

It is reported that Princess Patricia of Connaught is already getting together her winter equipment, in order to enjoy the outdoor life in Canada. Of course, London is exactly the place to get properly fitted out, and the list will no doubt include beef moccasins, a pocket stove and a bag of pemmican.
THEY ARE A POWERFUL NERVEINE.—Dyspepsia causes derangement of the nervous system, and nervous debility once engendered is difficult to deal with. There are many testimonials as to the efficacy of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills in treating this disorder, showing that they never fail to produce good results. By giving proper tone to the digestive organs, they restore equilibrium to the nerve centres.

THE WHITE PERIL.
Consumption Must Be Prevented Rather Than Cured.
STAMP OUT THE INFECTION.

Unless the Germs of the Disease in the Habitation, Whether it Be House or Tent, Are Utterly Destroyed Fresh Air and "Cures" Avail Little.
There is no cure for tuberculosis, and probably never will be, accepting the word "cure" in the sense of some special medicine. A disease prevented is better than cured, for no one is so well off physically or financially after any illness, and particularly does this truth apply to tuberculosis. The successful prevention of a disease does away with any need for its "cure." This is well exemplified in the case of yellow fever. We have never succeeded in finding a cure for that former scourge of the south, but we have done far better. We have wiped out the disease bodily, bag and baggage, by simple preventive methods.
So writes Dr. F. C. Walsh in the Technical World Magazine, and he declares that notwithstanding the "optimists," the disease is on the increase. He singles out and lays great stress on the fact that consumption is a contagious disease and on the contention that it is not contracted to any great extent through infected milk or even by the using the drinking cups that consumptives use or through the "spitting nuisance." Its spread is through the infection of the habitation. Here is one of his parables:
Brown had moved in the month of May into a house in another part of the town where he had always lived. By fall he had contracted tuberculosis. It was discovered later that several different families who had occupied this same house in succession had lost several members from tuberculosis. No attempt had ever been made to disinfect the house. Brown went to a far western state, pitched his tent on a certain spot, and never made any change from that one spot until his death. Note that fact. As a result of the soil over which he slept night after night became saturated with the accumulated germs which he expelled in coughing, so that he was continually at night rebreathing into his system the very "seeds" which cause the disease. He was re-poisoning himself nightly and didn't know it. His system would have been able to throw off the original "germ poison" which it contracted, but it was not strong enough to withstand a new dose of the poison every night. Had he changed the location of his tent daily he could have slept each night in an atmosphere practically germ free.
Jones is another victim. He goes to the same state. He has an idea that he can get along without any tent and sleeps with only the stars above, rolled up in his blanket. He naturally moves from place to place, each day sleeping on new and different ground each night. He ends by being cured.

Smith has the disease and goes to the west. He feels and looks in perfect health long before a year is gone. He returns home, satisfied that he is cured. In less than four months he is again in the tenacious clutches of the disease.
There is a lesson in this. The open air treatment is all right, but it must be carried out by right methods. All early cases of consumption which have failed to recover by outdoor treatment must lay the blame to faulty treatment. Jones, who recovered, you will remember, did change his location every day, having no tent to bother him, and in doing so avoided the fatal mistake of Brown.
How about Smith? The case of Smith is of the greatest importance. He had recovered, you will remember, and returned to his home feeling fine—back to what? To the very same plague ridden room in which he had first contracted the disease—a room reeking with tubercular germ life and which had been occupied, it was learned later, by five different consumptives at various times. The disease got a hold on him a second time for the simple reason that he came back to the original source of his disease. He should have sought new quarters, or else the house, and particularly the room he occupied, should have been disinfected before being occupied by him or any one else. These three cases cited are but typical instances. There are thousands upon thousands of Browns, Joneses and Smiths living and dying this very day, whose story, if told in its true light, would match exactly the simple but pathetic history of these three men.
The thing that the doctor brings out is that consumption must be prevented rather than cured; that prevention is easy and cheap and lies in disinfection. This, in the case of the consumptive's quarters, he insists, should be at least once a week. The formula is simple: "Fumigate every room in the house with a vapor given off by heating formaldehyde; wash all the floors, windows and woodwork with mild solutions of corrosive sublimate and water." Fresh air, either at home or elsewhere, he establishes, is in itself insufficient.
He reaches the conclusion that the very existence of the hope of a "cure" has been responsible for increase of the disease. He urges people to flee from consumption by killing it in the germ that lurks in house or ground.

Think all you speak, but speak not all you think.—DeLaune.
By a census recently taken it was found that 1,462 men, 321 women, and two children, were homeless in one night in the streets of London.

FOR FAMILY USE
An Ideal Remedy for Coughs, Sore Throat, Catarrh, Weak Chest.

After having made a special study of the treatment of the throat and lungs for twenty years, Prof. D. Jackson states that in his opinion no preparation for general family use is so efficient, so healing, so certain to cure as Catarrhazone.
As his reasons for making this claim for Catarrhazone, Dr. Jackson says: "Catarrhazone is free from opium."
"The patient can breathe its rich, balsamic fumes direct to the diseased spot."
"It is a remedy that treats and cures causes—prevents disease spreading."
"Reaches the innermost recesses of the throat, nose, bronchial tubes, and lungs."
"Alleviates chest soreness."
"Stops coughing instantly."
"Prevents bronchial irritations."
"Relieves clogged nostrils."
"Cures sniffles and nasal catarrh."
"Prevents La Grippe."
"Has proven itself a cure for weak lungs, loss of voice, speakers' sore throat, asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, coughs, colds, and winter ill."
Catarrhazone is unquestionably the world's greatest breathable cold, cough, and catarrh medicine, and being free from all drowsy drugs, entirely safe for children and old folks; it makes an ideal family remedy. Recommended by the medical profession, and sold by all reliable dealers. Beware of imitations, get "Catarrhazone" only; large size lasts two months, and is guaranteed, price $1; smaller sizes 25c and 50c. By mail from The Catarrhazone Company, Kingston, Ont.

His property including the stage outfit, has been purchased by our new stage-driver, Mr. Moore. Later information indicates the possibility of Bob securing some good job so that he may yet be able to be in our midst.

Reciprocity, and How It Affects the Farmer.

For the first time in the last half century the matter of refusing or accepting Reciprocal Free Trade with the Americans is within the power of the Canadian elector. The American Congress has approved of the pact and it is now up to us to decide whether we will accept the boon of free access to the great American consuming centres, or whether we will commit the folly of passing it by and placing ourselves within the power of the trusts and combines now forming in Canada. No man will deny the advantage of two open markets instead of one. The open market of England where we compete against the world, and the free market of the United States together would give us ample room to dispose of all our produce to a better advantage than relying on the British markets entirely.

What Reciprocity means to us, is that should the American markets be better than our own, and statistics will show that on the average they are, then we can turn our produce into American channels or compel the Canadian buyers to pay equally high prices. It is in this way that the two markets will benefit the producer and will put him outside the control of the Toronto or Montreal interests.

The following table will show the leading articles affected by the agreement, that are produced by the readers of this column, and shows how much duty will be removed in each case:—

The following shows the difference in the prices in the American and Canadian markets on commodities affected by the pact. This list is compiled by the Department of Labor and is a report taken from the daily markets of Canada and the United States, and covers a period of five years.

A few of the most illuminative figures in the report may be cited in this brief summary. In regard to grain the average of yearly prices from 1906 to 1911 shows the following comparisons:

Spring wheat—Winnipeg, average per bushel, 95c; Minneapolis, $1.04. Oats—Toronto, average per bushel, 40c; Buffalo, 46c. Barley—Toronto, average per bushel, 57c; Winnipeg, 47c; Buffalo, 76c; Duluth, 61c. Rye—Toronto, average per bushel, 71c; Buffalo, 88c.

In regard to fodder, the comparison, covering the average of the five and one-half year periods, shows the following:

Hay—St. John, per ton, $12.57; Montreal, $12.98; Boston, $19.69; New York, $21.89; Toronto, $12.57; Buffalo, $16.30.

In dairy produce average prices as compared for the various cities show on the whole a fairly stable equilibrium, with market prices sometimes slightly higher on one side of the line and sometimes vice versa, but the general average about the same on both sides.

In regard to live stock the comparison of average prices for the period covered shows the following:

Cattle—Toronto, export steers, per cwt., $5.51; Buffalo, $6.48; Winnipeg, $4.22; Chicago, $7.04. Hogs—Toronto, per cwt., $6.95; Buffalo, $7.35; Winnipeg, $5.60; Chicago, $6.99.

This comparison shows wherein the agriculturist is to benefit and should direct him in casting his vote at the coming election. Whether to work for his own interest or whether to work for those who keep down the price of Canadian produce, should be the questions that guide each elector.

TAYLORS' WHERE QUALITY AND VALUE MEET

NATURE WILL CURE YOU

Of Kidney Disease, Aided by Father Morrissey's No. 7.

Kidney trouble is one of the most distressing ailments of mankind, and leads to backache and rheumatism. This is because of the importance of the work done by the kidneys,—work which must proceed normally to insure good health. A very large proportion of civilized people have some form of kidney trouble, sometimes without knowing that their malady is of that nature. Many obscure pains can often be traced to diseased kidneys.

These organs are the filters of the body. Their function is to strain out of the blood and eliminate through the bladder the worn out tissue and other impurities gathered by the blood in its course.

When the kidneys become congested and sluggish, these impurities, including the irritating and poisonous uric acid, are not entirely removed from the blood. The result is that the uric acid is deposited in the joints and tissues, causing the agonies of rheumatism and frequently affecting the liver and other organs.

Father Morrissey, the famous priest-physician of Bartibogue, N.B., after much research compounded a remedy which worked hand in hand with Nature's. His doctrine, justified by thousands of cures, was that the need is not a patchwork relief, but a treatment that will enable the forces of Nature, working through the kidneys, to accomplish their intended work.

His famous prescription, No. 7, assists the kidneys to work vigorously and eliminate the harmful uric acid from the whole system. In the form of tablets, No. 7 is easy to take, and will effect cures where other remedies have failed. Do not trifle with kidney disease, but take No. 7 Tablets, the treatment that has proved so successful with other sufferers. 50c. a box, at your druggist's or from Father Morrissey Medicine Co., Ltd., Montreal, Que. 98

THEIR AWFUL SECRET.

It Caused the Real Estate Agent to Change His Mind.

When the family who admitted that they were moving because the tenants at the old address made their lives miserable confided to the renting agent that they had one peculiarity which they wished him not to mention to their neighbors in his building the agent got uneasy and executed a mental quickstep trying to devise some way to break the lease. But aloud he said very courteously:

"I shall be glad to oblige you if I can. What is it you wish me to keep a secret?"

"The fact that we pay our rent promptly on the 1st of every month," said the head of the family. "That was something that nobody else in the other house did, and the agent as an incentive to quick action on their part published the news of our promptness. The only action it stirred them into was persecution of us, and they carried that to such extremes that we had to move. If you will kindly refrain from using us as a club to whack your delinquents into obedience we will appreciate it."

The agent resolved not to cancel the lease, but at the same time he relinquished a hastily conceived plan for procuring prompt remittances.—New York Times.

That Yankee Dodge.

The description of the first operation under ether in Europe as given by Dr. F. William Cook in the University College Hospital Magazine is reproduced in the London Lancet, and the scene is referred to as the "most dramatic ever enacted in which medical men grouped the stage." The operation was performed by Robert Liston on Dec. 21, 1846. "At 2:15 Liston enters, that magnificent figure of a man six feet two inches in height, and says, 'We are going to try a Yankee dodge today, gentlemen, for making men insensible,' so Liston introduced ether to a London hospital." The subject was a man, thirty-six years old, whose thigh was amputated. The operation was successful, and Liston uttered the epilogue, "This Yankee dodge, gentlemen, beats mesmerism holler."

Marvels of India.

What a wonderful country is India! There is only one India. Its marvels are its own. There is the plague, the black death. India invented it. The car of Juggernaut was also India's invention. So was the suttee, and within the time of men still living 800 widows willingly and, in fact joyfully burned themselves to death on the bodies of their dead husbands in a single year. And 800 would do it this year if the British government would let them. Famine belongs especially to India. India has 2,000,000 gods and worships them all. On top of all this she is the mother and home of that wonder of wonders, caste, and also that mystery of mysteries, the Satanic Brotherhood of the Thugs—Churchman.

Setting Her Right.

The pretty and petulant wife of a congressman stood for a moment before the window of the receiving teller in a Washington bank, then tapped the window with her parasol, exclaiming: "Why don't you pay attention to me?" "We pay nothing here, madam," was the reply. "Please go to the next window."—Denver Republican.

Those Useless Questions.

"How did you get the bruised face?" "It was caused by the hatrack last night." "Accidentally?" "No; I think it attacked me purposely."—Kansas City Journal.

NATURE STOPS

When The Kidneys Give Out.

Do you feel that you simply can't go any farther—that you must have rest for that lame and aching back—relief from that constant dead-tired feeling—freedom from those stabbing, darting pains? It is nature's warning that the kidneys are giving out and you need the help of Booth's Kidney Pills, the guaranteed kidney remedy.

In every machine there is one part that works the hardest and gives out first. The kidneys work night and day, and naturally a life of unusual activity doubles the duties of the kidneys and in time the strain tells. The kidneys give out and nature cries "stop." Booth's Kidney Pills are sold by all dealers, soc. post-paid from The R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont. There is no pill just as good. Send for a Free box. The test will prove the truth of our statement.

LIVER LAZINESS

Those Who Lack Energy and are Unsuccessful Should Read This Closely.

"I am only thirty years old, yet for almost two years I have felt more like seventy-five. I have found it difficult to sleep at night and in the morning feel so depressed and heavy that effort was difficult. My hands were always clammy and perspiration on slight effort would break out all over me. It was not unnatural that I should begin to brood over the chance that I should soon be unfit to do my work, and this dread made my sleepless nights perfect misery. After repeated trials of medicine and mixtures Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me the first gleam of hope. From the very first I could see they were different in action from other pills. They didn't gripe and acted as naturally as if nature had not the pills were cleansing my clogged system. My spirits rose, I felt much better, the sluggish action of the system gave way to normal activity. Dizziness and headache ceased, appetite, good color, and ambition to work returned and have remained. I am like a new man and I thank Dr. Hamilton's Pills for it all."

This was the experience of J. E. Parkhurst, a well-known grocery dealer in Jefferson. Follow his advice, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills for your stomach, kidneys, and liver, and you'll enjoy long life and robust good health. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, in yellow boxes, 25c. per box, from The Catarthozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

INSURING A NATION.

How It is Proposed to Wipe Out Want in England by Legislation.

Over in England 14,000,000 workers are now expectantly awaiting results from a bill of great proportions recently submitted to the House of Commons by Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer. The bill stands great chances of being passed, and when that is done it will mean that Great Britain will become the dispenser of nearly $100,000,000 a year to the working people, for it is a scheme of insurance that the bill encompasses.

In England the conditions of the working people are not as good as they are in this country. Often they are poorly paid and are forced to hunger and perhaps starvation when illness or accident takes them from their labor. It is this condition which Lloyd-George is attempting to ameliorate, and the national insurance scheme, it is believed, will help conditions greatly.

According to the bill every workman and work woman who earns less than $800 a year will be compelled to pay a premium of 8 cents a week. Added to this the employer will pay six cents a week for every person who works for him and the state will contribute four cents a week. Then, when the person become ill and out of work, from the fund he will be entitled to the free services of a doctor and a money benefit of $2.50 a week for three months. After that time he will receive half that amount for another three months.

Then there is another phase of the working life of Great Britain which Lloyd-George's bill will touch. The death rate among children of the poorer people of England is abnormally high. This is due to the fact that mothers, because of poverty, are forced to go back to work, sometimes a week after their children are born, thereby bringing about a condition of artificial feeding. Seldom is there enough money to buy good milk. Often the babies die of starvation or of neglect. To provide against this there is to be an insurance by which a price of $7.50 is to be placed on the head of every infant and this will be paid on its birth, provided the mother stays away from work two weeks.

Then there is to be an insurance against non-employment—a tentative provision which is to be tried in two trades, engineering and building, and limited to 2,500,000 workmen. The employers and the employed are to pay five cents a week apiece, and then, when the worker is unemployed, he is to receive $1.50 a week for 15 weeks.

Many of the manufacturers of England are fighting the bill; others are strongly in favor of it. England is not the first to use the national insurance. Germany for some time has had in effect a law which covers practically the same territory and it has been a success there. New Zealand, too, has tried the scheme with good results.
