IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY AT SOLDIERS' FUNERAL

Victims of Monday's Train Wreck Were Given Full Military Honors—Thousands of Citizens and Militia
Were at Armories, on the Streets, and at the Grave Side.

With all the pomp and circumstance of the greatest military funeral Toronto has ever seen, the bodies of Privates Bannatyne and Murdoch of A Company of the 48th Highlanders, were escorted from the armories to their last resting place in the regimental plot in Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The impressive splendor of the ceremonial at the armories and the graveside was humanized by pathetic incident and even the grace of smiles at oddly incongruous inadvantages was not lacking to lighten the otherwise oppressive gloom of the occasion.

More than 1700 men from the local corps, with additions of contingents from Hamilton, Brantford and St. Catharines sent to do honor to the dead soldiers, attended at the service at the armories, and followed thru the long miles of the march to the cemetery.

Thousands upon thousands thronged the route of the march, and many made the long journey to the cemetery and formed a packed mass of humanity about the roped off space at the flower-planted open graves.

Long before even the soldiers, who were paraded in the front ranks, had upon the scene, a strong squad of police were required to keep back the crowds who flocked to the armories, shortly before 2 o'clock the soldiers of the various corps were formed up about an open space in the centre of the main section of the armories. To the right and against the south wall were the Royal Grenadiers, 200 strong, under Col. Gooderham. Then directly opposite the flower-banked stands upon which reposed the caskets containing the bodies of their comrades, were 500 of the 48th, with A Company, the company to which the dead were attached, standing in front. Among those who stood the brunt of the accidents were many with bandaged heads or limbs.

Directly opposite the coffins, and facing the chaplain, who stood upon a draped platform at the south wall, were the staff and regimental officers,
with Gen. Cotton, Gen. Otter, Col. Sir Henry Pellatt and others. To the west and along the north wall were the Mississauga Horse. Then came the Governor General's Body Guards, the 1st Highlanders of Hamilton, and other visiting corps, and against the south wall, the Queen's Own Rifles.

The caskets were carried in upon the shoulders of six stalwart and kilted soldiers, while the thin sprinkling of spectators who had gained access to the galleries craned their necks to see, as the faces of the dead were uncovered as they lay in the flag-draped caskets.

"Nearer, My God, To Thee."
Following a dirge upon the pipes, which skirted the south wall, the great spaces of the building, came the swelling strains of "Nearer, My God,
To Thee."
Rev. T. Crawford, Brown, chaplain of the 48th opened the simple burial service. Only a few of his words drifted up into the galleries or were heard indeed at any distance from the speaker. These were affecting. "All flesh is grass," droned the voice of the preacher and women sobbed, while men in the standing ranks wiped their eyes. Outside the closed and guarded doors, thru which came little sound, the waiting thousands stood. The firing squad and pall-bearers stood gazing upon the faces of the dead within.
A child fretted up in the galleries and those about fidgeted in their efforts to hear.

Many Wept.
Then the Highlanders' band opened into the solemn strains of "Abide With Me," and one among the group of officers in a Highland uniform went openly. The solemn words of the benediction, which of all the service were heard clear and complete to the

LIGHT COACHES WERE HEAVILY LOADED

Weight of Troop Train and Light Construction of Cars
Was Cause of Emergency Brakes Refusing to Work on Thanksgiving Day Troop Train According to Evidence

From evidence of the crew of the ill-fated troop special in which two Highlanders lost their lives and two score were injured at Streetsville, on the night of Thanksgiving, which was given at the continued inquest last night, it appeared that the weight of the train, due to the number of heavy troop cars and the light construction of those cars, was the cause of the refusal of the brakes to bring the train to a stop at the switch into which its hounds have turned and of the telescoping of the flimsy engine and the train.

Conductor William Bell swore that the train was composed of an engine, a tender, a fruit express or baggage car, eleven colonel's cars, two regulation passenger coaches and a caboose.
In these were crowded 632 soldiers.
The baggage coach was not of the regular kind, but a lighter fruit express car without the heavy buffers of the ordinary baggage cars. The colonel's cars, of which which the telescoped first coach was one, was much lighter and trailer in construction than the regulation first-class baggage cars. The Detroit flyer was regulation passenger coaches and had been unharmed
by the accident.

The evidence of Fireman George Spencer showed that the engineer had done all in his power to bring his train to a stop. He applied his air brakes but had not had time to pump up sufficient air pressure to activate before so heavy a train in time to avert the accident.

The evidence of this witness reaffirmed the story of the wreck that two soldiers had ridden in the cab of the engine and that there were three other soldiers in the engine.

Mr. Thurston, acting for the crown, said that the scene of the accident would be ready for the next sitting of the inquest.

Conductor William Bell of London, who had been on duty on the train from Milton with orders to meet 800 men at Streetsville, and that it was an understood fact that the train should take the siding, but that it overtook the siding, resulting in the collision. A map of the location of the tracks at the point the accident took place was shown and Conductor Bell pointed out to the jury the manner in which the two trains came to collide.

The conductor stated that he was riding in the caboose when the collision occurred. He ran to the engine and caboose when the accident happened and had telephoned the yardmaster at John street who gave instructions for the making up of the train. The witness could not say whether the ultimate responsibility would be with the yardmaster, whose name he did not know, or with the passenger department. This baggage car did not have the heavy buffers of the ordinary coach.

A Light Coach.
The next coach was a colonel's car,
which had berths in it, but was not

TURKEY'S CAPITAL AT MERCY OF VICTORIOUS ALLIED FOES WAR IS PRACTICALLY ENDED

Ottoman Army of 200,000 Routed and Demoralized After Four Days' Conflict With Bulgars is Incapable of Further Stemming Tide, and Powers Will Probably Intervene—Turkey Lies Prostrate Within a Fortnight After Declaring War—Task Which Confronts the Nations of Europe a Difficult One.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(Can. Press).—A four days' battle in Thrace has ended in the triumph of the Bulgarian commander-in-chief, Gen. Savoff, whose skilful strategy has probably brought to a close one of the shortest and most remarkable wars on record.

A great Turkish army, estimated at over 200,000 men, has been defeated and is in retreat. Constantinople is believed to be at the mercy of the victorious Bulgarian army, and a council, sitting at the Porte, is discussing the advisability of suing for peace.

Such is the news which comes from Constantinople. It is only a fortnight since Turkey declared war.

The first week of the campaign closed with the dramatic fall of Kirk-Kilisseh, fully revealing for the first time the disorganization, bad morale and inefficient commissariat of the Turkish army. Today that army is defeated, routed within fifty miles of Constantinople, and possibly its retreat within the capital's line of defence is cut off.

Only the briefest and vaguest accounts of the great battle have yet been received, for the war has been especially remarkable in that not a single war correspondent has been allowed at the front except in the case of the little Montenegrin campaign against Scutari.

Thus no independent personal narratives of the absorbing events have been possible and the world has had to depend on biased official accounts provided by the respective governments or confused details supplied by wounded soldiers.

Turks Completely Outwitted.
Apparently Nazim Pasha has been completely out-manoeuvred by Savoff's skilful generalship. The Bulgarian turning movement along the Black Sea coast now appears to have been a feint, which induced the Turkish commander to throw his main army to the eastward to such effect that the Bulgarian force on this side had the greatest difficulty in holding the Turks in check.

In fact, this point seems a little in doubt. The Bulgarians gave way and thus enabled Nazim Pasha to report to Constantinople some success in this direction.

In the meantime, however, Gen. Savoff hurled his great strength against the Turks' weakened left wing, which he crushed in at Lule Burgas. The fighting along the whole front, which evidently has been of the most stubborn and determined character, was carried on day and night without intermission and both sides lost heavily.

Position Is Desperate.
The capture of Nazim Pasha's headquarters at Tchortlu, to which town the defeated Turks retreated, has not as yet been reported, but is hourly expected at Sofia. In this case the Turks will be forced within the defensive lines of Tchatalja, the only remaining fortified position protecting Constantinople. It lies 25 miles to the northwest of the capital.

Adriatic still holds out, but has lost its importance now that the Turks have met their Sedan at Lule Burgas.

It is believed that a peace settlement will be arranged either by the Porte suing for peace or by intervention of the powers. And an interesting question involving difficult diplomatic problems will immediately arise as to the division of the spoils of war—a question concerning not only the victorious allies, but also Russia, Austria

THE FIRING PARTY, WITH ARMS REVERSED, MARCHING INTO MOUNT PLEASANT CEMETERY TO FIRE THE SALUTE OVER THE GRAVES OF THEIR COMRADES.

NORTH TORONTO WILL BE PART OF CITY DEC. 15TH

Land for Settlers
The government is to throw open for pre-emption next spring 3660 homesteads of 160 acres each, a total of 633,600 acres of land in a strip 165 miles long and six miles wide, bisected by the Grand Trunk Pacific's main line from the Alberta-British Columbia border westward to Fort George.

Ontario Railway Board Makes Order—Chairman Leitch Brushes Aside Eric Armour's Legal Objections—No Appeal is Left for Annexation's Foes.

It took the Ontario Municipal and Railway Board yesterday afternoon at the Manning Chambers but a very few minutes to decide in favor of annexation of North Toronto to the city, and to issue an order in compliance with the wish of the people of the northern town, and, on the fifteenth of December, they will become full-fledged citizens of Toronto.

A conference has been called between the solicitors representing the city and the town and dissatisfied ratepayers for the purpose of airing their views before the board and proving that the town had substantially complied with the Municipal Act.

The Town of North Toronto was fully represented by the mayor and council, but the city was content to leave its case in the hands of City Solicitor Johnson. The dissatisfied element was represented by Eric Armour, K.C.

Take What City Offers.
T. A. Gibson, K.C., the solicitor for the Town of North Toronto, reiterated the course which the annexationists had pursued in order to bring their ambition into real effect. He said, of how the bylaws had been submitted to the electors on successive occasions, with substantial majorities in favor of annexation each time.

He spoke of the terms desired by the town, but stated that they were in reality what the City of Toronto would do for the northern town in any event, and the communication was to convey to the City of Toronto just what the town expressly wanted, and would be content with what the city offered.

The consensus of opinion was that simple satisfaction would be the result of townsmen making their property a part and parcel of the City of Toronto. The requests were such that they could be generalized with facility.

Wrong Place to Come to.
"The parties have complied with the provisions of the statutes, and on the other hand, if they have not, then this is not the proper board to come before," stated the solicitor.

Chairman Leitch: "I agree with you there, Mr. Gibson. Those people are in the wrong forum."
Eric Armour, K.C., representing some dissatisfied ratepayers, raised an objection to the annexation on a technicality. He stated that the question submitted was simply a resolution of council and not a plebiscite.

"A petition from some 360 property holders asked that a bylaw be passed for annexation of the town with the City of Toronto be submitted to the electors and the bylaw was never submitted but not the result said he. "I submit that the provisions

The city now controls six miles of Yonge street, and for the first time has a great central backbone with a fine artery within it and a network of either side.

We must now get double tracks and electric trolleys for the great highway, but first of all, a permanent pavement. The traction subway north and south and the Bloor street viaduct are coming next, but they will now move ahead much faster.

Special "Ben Hur" Matinee Today.
It will be pleasing to those who have been unable to obtain seats for any of the regular performances of "Ben Hur" at the Princess Theatre this week, to know that Manager Sheppard has consented to put on an extra matinee this afternoon at popular prices. This will give all an opportunity of witnessing the gorgeous production of Gen. Lew Wallace's beautiful story.

Jaff: Please yerrel, John; but they've got North Toronto into New York in spite of ye an' me. It's lamentable, John.
John: You bet it's hard. An' Billy's farm is only a mile now from th' limits. One more more an' he'll be peddlin' lots an' takin' in barrels of stuff at a cent an inch superficial—$1.44 a foot—more'n Solomon paid for th' Temple site.
Jaff: Master Flemmin' thinks ye're nas sympathetic w' him in his disappointment. Ye'll have to suggest Lynchin' Leach.
John: Th' Tely "dowed again, an' I'm thinkin' I'm goin' to quit bein' any man's goat! So a body's puttin' things over on me. Who's doin' it? If I tho' anybody was plavin' checkers with my staff an' loadin' them up I'd start tomorrow for th' hot sands on Egypt.
Jaff: Wear th' hat, an' John, I dreamt last night I saw Billy ridin' o'er th' Bloor street viaduct on a fine white horse, an' ye were leadin' th' horse—John: A vant, foul fiend, an' quit my sight!

Mistakes in Spelling and Punctuation Will Count Against Contestants in $5000 Proverb Contest.

A close application of the rules and conditions governing The World's $5000 proverb contest is going to play an important part in the victory of the fortunate proverb prize winners.

Every competitor should take care to read and study the rules until they are thoroughly familiar with every point they cover and control, in order that errors may be reduced to a minimum.

Generally, trifling errors in spelling and punctuation are prevalent and frequent among the most learned. In many instances persons lose sight of the little things. They concentrate too largely upon style, penmanship or artfulness, paying little or no attention to proper punctuation, or the absolutely correct spelling of certain words. All of which will count in the aggregate in the examining and checking off the sets of contestants' proverb answers.

An old proverb has it that: "It is easier to make mistakes than to be correct." Of course, no one believes that.

The first proverb picture was published in The Daily World, Thursday, October 3rd. The last will be published on Dec. 16th.

- Only one answer may be written upon a single coupon. Extra coupons must be used for additional answers, and all coupons of the same number must be kept together in making up the set.
- Different members of a family may compete in the contest but only one prize will be awarded to any one family or household, and only one set of answers will be accepted from any individual contestant.
- This list of correct answers will remain under seal until called for by the Judges, whose names will be announced in due course, and who will have full control of the examination of the answers and awarding of the prizes.
- The correct answers are included in The Toronto World's Book of English Proverbs, which is published as a guide and reference for contestants' use in the contest.
- To compete for the prizes, contestants need only to supply the proverbs represented by the illustrations that will appear daily, and send in their answers, at the close of the contest, according to the rules. The person sending in the correct or nearest correct list of answers to the entire series of seventy-five (75) illustrations will be awarded the first prize. The person sending in the second nearest correct list of answers will receive the second prize, etc., etc. Entry may be made any time before the contest is entirely closed. Rules follow:

- In the event of a tie between two (2) or more persons, the contestant sending in the nearest correct list of answers will be declared the winner. Where two (2) or more contestants submit the same number of correct answers upon the value of the prize or prizes thus tied for will be equally divided among those trying.
- In making the awards, the judging committee, whose names
- will be announced in due course, will take into account the similarity and exact wording of the proverb answer as selected by the Contest Manager and three representatives of The Daily and Sunday World, and as contained in The Toronto World's Book of English Proverbs, spelling, correct construction of the proverbs are the essentials that will be graded.
- Where a set of answers is securely fastened together the contestant will be permitted to stamp (with rubber stamp) or abbreviate his or her name on the space allotted for same, and omit the full address from the greater majority of the blanks, PROVIDED THAT SUCH FULL NAME AND FULL POST-OFFICE ADDRESS IS plainly and distinctly marked upon the FIRST and LAST SIX BLANKS of the set.

PROVERB SOLVERS

MUST BE CAREFUL

there is a mountain of truth in this, yet one is forced to admit that it furnishes good food for reflection. For it requires carefulness and alertness to be quite correct in most cases.

Therefore, contestants are cautioned to be careful and alert in transcribing and writing the answers they select to the various proverb pictures. For even the most careful may be correct in construction, that is to say, correct in its interpretation or solving, yet if there is a single letter misplaced in a word, it will be counted wrong.

Some contestants may think, at first thought, that this is unfair, but if they will stop to consider a moment, they will quickly see that it is a condition of the rules governing the competition, and that it is absolutely fair to each and everyone.

A good plan for contestants would be to make a copy of the answers they wish to select, to each of the coupons, and to have it filled in on the coupons later, and only after they have carefully decided upon their suitability to the picture, using extraordinary care

MUNICIPAL ACT BEING PRINTED

Bill Will Be Passed at Next Session and Will Be Complete in Every Detail.

The revision of the Municipal Act which was introduced by the Hon. Mr. Bennett last session and withdrawn after being read a first time, so that it might be placed in the hands of county and district court judges, solicitors and municipal officials for criticism, is now being printed and will be ready for distribution within a few days.

It is the intention of the government to pass the bill at the next session, and those receiving a copy are being asked to send any suggestions or changes to W. B. Wilkinson, law clerk of municipal bills, by the end of the year, so that they may receive the consideration of the minister before the bill is again introduced.

Over two years have been spent on the work by draughtsmen specially engaged for the purpose, and following the minister's instructions, the old act, containing 750 sections, including the numerous amendments since 1905, has been cut down to 538 sections, making a saving of nearly 150 pages, while at the same time incorporating a number of other acts and parts of acts which should more properly be included, such as the act re municipal institutions in territorial districts, 2 Edw. VII, c. 20; the act re Municipal Securities Act, 3 Edw. VII, c. 51; and s. 130-146 of the Ontario Railway Act as to bonuses to railroads.

So far as form and language and order are concerned, the bill may be said to be practically a new act, as in this respect the old act has been entirely reformed.

remotest corner of the big building, closed this service and led by the firing squad carrying their arms reversed out of the building at the dragging pace of the slow march.

As the cortege advanced into University avenue, that thoroughfare was black with the waiting crowds, and as the sombre hearse passed along behind the band, which was playing the heavy measures of the funeral march, every head was uncovered. The head of the cortege was entering the Queen's Park, where the last man had left the square beside the armories, and at the slow pace it was almost two hours before it reached the gates of the cemetery, where a great concourse was awaiting its coming.

As the hearse passed within the gates, the bell there was tolled slowly and the party, with the bearers about the hearse, passed on to the regimental plot, which lies well to the north and back of the cemetery. There a space had been roped off and with the intimate friends and relatives of the dead drawn close about the grave beside which were two huge mounds of flowers, the staff officers stood next with squads of the various corps grouped behind and about. The firing squad, with a squad of pipers and a bugle corps, were just to the right of the grave.

ROW DIDN'T HAPPEN

All Was Peaceful at Ward Four Train Meeting.

The expected rumpus didn't happen at the meeting of the executive committee of the Ward Four Liberal Conservative Association, in Broadway Hall, Spadina avenue, last night. Instead of a threatened storm between the two factions in the organization, all was peaceful, except for a few remarks that bespeak a lively time at the elections on Nov. 7, when Fred Armstrong, president for the past four years, seeks re-election, with John S. G. Cornell as his opponent.

and was there when the collision occurred.

Brakes Applied.

He had seen by the indicator in the front of the train that the application of the brakes was made before the semaphores; there was another at the semaphores, and then immediately before the collision. He had seen the semaphores set at stop as they approached it. The first application reduced the speed to ten miles an hour. He thought that about a minute elapsed between the first and second applications.

"I guess that's how they came to collide. The emergency didn't stop it," he said, when asked as to the cause of the wreck. George Spencer of 478 Woodville avenue, West Toronto, fireman upon the engine that was wrecked, said that when he put his head out of the cab to get a breath of air he saw the headlight of the Detroit train about 300 feet away.

He saw the semaphores before they came to it. It was at stop. He told the engineer and he said "All right," and made an application of the brakes. The train should have stopped, but didn't. The emergency brakes were applied by the engineer and were still on when the engine was set back on the tracks. "We had a train there that you couldn't stop in two minutes," said the witness.

"The brakes were not strong enough," asked Mr. Thurston.

"No, they were not," replied the witness.

The witness thought that the application already made had exhausted the air supply so as to weaken the pressure and lessen the effect of the emergency. There was no time for the engineer to pump up more air.

"Were you and the engineer alone in the engine?" asked Mr. Spencer.

"No, sir," replied the witness.

"Who was there?"

"A couple of soldiers."

"No, sir, they asked for a ride and we didn't like to refuse them."

The witness said he had to work a lot harder on this train—harder than usual—because it was so heavy.

"The heavy train would make it harder to stop," asked Mr. Henderson.

"Yes, sir."

"Did the engineer do all that he could?"

"He sure did."

ing upon their reversed arms, were ordered to see the soldiers march away. Three volleys were fired from the rifles, crackling sharply in the still air, and then the bugle corps blew the "Last Post," and there were no dry eyes about the graves. The firing party fixed bayonets and the pipers, under Pipe Major Dunbar, formerly of the Gordons, but now living in Hamilton, and Pipe Major Joe Boston of the 48th, broke upon the stillness with the wailing notes of a Scottish dirge.

The crowd dispersed slowly, some waiting to see the soldiers march away. Several small boys scrambled in the grass about the graves for the discarded shells of the firing party. Among the last to leave was old "Apple John," a well-known figure in the city streets and the downtown offices whose winter and summer he tells the fruit which has given him his name. "I come to see them bury the boys; I was a soldier once," he said as he straightened up in his shabby best. The watery old eyes were almost steady. "I come over here with him 21 years ago," he concluded as the trucked off.

First in Plot.

Bannatyne and Murdoch are the first to be buried in the recently acquired plot of the regiment. Their graves lie close to the grave of the late Colonel John I. Davidson, the first colonel of the 48th, who was buried with military honors a few months ago. Close to the grave stands a stone upon which appears the inscription: "Elizabeth Bannatyne, died July 13, 1892." The dead woman was no relative of the dead soldier Bannatyne.

The friends and relatives of the dead who were at the graveside were Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Bannatyne, brother and sister-in-law of Bannatyne; James, another brother, from Toronto, and Robert, another brother, from Scotland. There were also present Misses Milligan, Mitchell and McLeod, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, who were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Henn, 374 West Wellington street, an uncle and aunt; Mrs. John Tiffin, a cousin, from Richmond Hill; Lewis E. Harper, 38 Duggan street, a cousin; Elizabeth Biggins, a Coady avenue, a cousin.

Wreaths were sent by Lieut.-Col. A. E. Gooderham and officers of the Royal Grenadiers, Royal Grenadiers' Chapter, Daughters of the Empire; officers and men of the 48th Highlanders, a Company, 18th Royal Regiment; 48th Regiment Chapter Daughters of the Empire, Mrs. J. I. Davidson, officers, non-commissioned officers and men of G Co., 48th Highlanders; officers 38th Dufferin Rifles. One beautiful wreath bore the simple name "Grace," and another from Miss Flint, A and B Companies, 6th Battalion, Q.O.R.; City of Hamilton, Lieut.-Col. McLaren; men, officers and non-coms. of the 1st Regiment of Highlanders, Hamilton;

STUDENT TICKET WAS SUCCESSFUL

Geo. E. McCann Elected President of Osgoode Literary and Legal Society After Keen Contest.

Yesterday the student and bar party elected the annual election of the Osgoode Literary and Legal Society. Three tickets were in the field, and a lively contest was witnessed. Motor cars and other vehicles were going during the whole of the polling hours, rushing barriers and students to the polls. Many prominent King's counsel took part in the contest.

The great question at issue was the change of the constitution to make it possible for a student to become president.

The student and bar party approved of the change, and were successful in electing their whole ticket, except in the case of the second year representative.

The successful ticket was headed by President G. E. McCann, LL.B., who was re-elected by a substantial majority. President McCann is a well known Young barrister connected with the firm of Beatty, Blackstock & Co.

The other successful candidates were: First vice-president, J. H. McDonald, B.A.; 2nd vice-president, H. S. Hamilton; secretary, E. Macaulay Dillon; critic, J. Y. Murdoch; treasurer, L. Dale; 3rd year rep., K. W. Wright; 2nd year rep., J. W. Garra; 1st year rep., G. W. Hanna, B.A.; secretary of committee, N. A. Koz, B.A.

The society is the holder of the inter-college debating championship. The first debate of the season will be held in the Osgoode Convocation Hall on Nov. 12, between Osgoode Lit. and Wellville, on home rule.

The campaign of the other Balkan states continues with the success which thruout has attended them. Scutari has not yet been captured, but Ipek has fallen to the Montenegrins. The Servians have taken Priserend and Greece is occupying islands in the Aegean, in addition to various towns in Macedonia.

The powers, fearing disorders and massacres in Turkey, are hurrying warships to the various ports at that country to protect the foreign residents.

A noticeable feature of the war is the insignificant parts played by the Turkish and Greek fleets.

SPECIAL MATINEE MRS STEVENS AT THE PRINCESS W.C.T.U. HEAD

Ben-Hur Will Be Presented This Afternoon With More Than 200 People on the Stage.

Toronto Woman Honored at Convention of Ontario Branch—Miss Thornley Vice-President.

Stupendous is the adjective that Klaw and Erlanger apply to their new production of "Ben Hur" which will be given in special matinee at the Princess Theatre this afternoon.

To make the Wallace play especially notable in this, its 14th season, the promoters have availed themselves of every opportunity offered to arrange a performance of great pictorial beauty and exceptional magnitude. New scenery and costumes are in evidence and all the striking effects of the original production have been elaborated. The chariot race, which many insist on first considering, tho' in reality it is not the power of "Ben Hur" as an intensely interesting as of old, with the quadruple teams of horses urged on by the contending drivers.

All that relates to the religious element in this powerful story is treated with the utmost respect and reverence, and ministers and churchgoers generally have been no less carefully considered. The story of Ben Hur's love for Esther; the fascination of Ben Hur by the Egyptian Iras; and the rivalry of the Roman Messala for her favor; the hatred which springs up between the two men—all go to make up a tale of intrigue and power such as is seldom seen within the walls of a theatre.

MOTOR LEAGUE IS EXPANDING

Three hundred and fifty-six new members were received by the board of directors of the Ontario Motor League at their regular monthly meeting yesterday at the National Hotel. This is the largest number of members ever enrolled in one month by the association. The total membership is now considerably over the two thousand mark.

The movement for good roads will continue to be furthered by the league. Within the next week the directors will personally inspect the roads in the vicinity of Toronto, and next Friday they will hold a special meeting for the purpose of discussing road problems and will invite as guests W. A. Maclean, provincial highway engineer; E. A. James, York highway engineer; Mayor Hooken, and a representative from the board of trade.

The board decided to co-operate with the Canadian Motorcyclists' Association in all matters affecting the common interests of both bodies.

Complaints have been received of a number of street crossings built so high as to be an inconvenience to motorists. The roadways department at the city hall have signified their willingness to put in the necessary grade if specific instances are furnished.

 "Thou art a perpetual triumph."

 The continuous and increasing popularity of the

 is due to the fact that it is "FULL OF QUALITY."
 "NOBLEMEN" is a perpetual triumph. There are myriads of brands in the cigar "firmament," but they are mostly like the stars in the "MILKY WAY"--they are unknown. Quality has made the "NOBLEMEN" Cigar a star of the first magnitude -- Every smoker

 "NOBLEMEN" is clear Havana, Cuban made, and

Big Four Bicycle Amateur Team Race Saturday at Arena
 Donald McDougall of the New York A. C., the world's mile champion, and Frank Scott of Buffalo, his team mate, are logical favorites in Saturday's amateur eight-hour team race at the Arena. McDougall's flashy speed makes it look as if he should be able to dig right out and get a lap early in the race and then hang on. However, the Toronto boys, led by Walt Andrews, are making great preparations to block any such move. If the little champion moves out they have agreed to pace each other, to hold him. They figure that if they can hold him for the first hour they can grind all the speed out of him and steal a lap on him about the sixth hour. McDougall is saying nothing, but putting in his time grinding around the little saucer to increase his staying power. He may lose then sampling them close to the end. With Krushel and Schieder, the Buffalo crackers, in there will be something doing all afternoon or evening. While this race is being run at the Arena and under popular prices, the backers of it, John Gibson, Robert Falconer, Henry Richardson, J. L. Mackay and Jack Smith, all C.W.A. officers, do not care whether it takes in a cent or not. They have put up the prize out of their own pockets, practically for their own personal enjoyment.

Varsity Eases Up Holds Signal Practice
 The blue and white transferred their practice last evening to the rear campus, where the workout consisted entirely in a snappy signal practice, and the half-line practicing their crossbars and other quick passing trick plays. They also had some good punting and catching work, and Pete Campbell laid emphasis as to the accuracy of those extended line runs and kept the boys on the move for half an hour.

Ruby Game at St. Thomas.
 WOOPSTON, Oct. 31.--In one of the most interesting Rugby games seen here this season, St. Thomas defeated the team representing the local collieries by 11 to 0. The locals put up a great exhibition of tackling, but their backs fumbled a great deal, allowing the visitors to make repeated gains. The St. Thomas team proved to be a well-balanced aggregation.

The Argos held a snappy signal practice last night, and the full squad were on the job. The practice was the main feature of the evening. The team will leave North Toronto station at 11:40 tonight for Ottawa. A special coach has been reserved for the rosters.

City Ball Championship Final.
 Great interest is being taken by local fans in the final baseball game of the season on Saturday for the city championship. The Dominions were yesterday afternoon and were not thru a stiff practice by Manager Cliff Wood. Bob Stanley, the Eaton's star right-hander, was also warming up his right arm, realizing that he would have to pitch hard to hold the hard-hitting Dominions in the game. Patons will use Stanley, Mason and Tolley, while Dominions will send in Burton of Lefty McDonald and W. Co. The game is to be played at Perth avenue square, and as there is no admission fee the biggest crowd of the season will see the two best amateur teams in the city fight for the championship.

MAHER'S HORSE EXCHANGE.

MONTREAL MAN GOES TO NORFOLK
 D. Lorne McGibbon Sends Inspector Lestrade Down South--Gossip of the Turf.
 MONTREAL, Oct. 31.--The well-known Montreal horseman, D. Lorne McGibbon, whose horses are handled by Captain Presgrave, will be represented in the late autumn meeting at Norfolk this season. Captain Presgrave has applied for stabling at Norfolk, and has named Inspector Lestrade in the Monticello and Exchange Handicaps, to be run there. The entry also includes Astor, which is under the care of Presgrave.
 Inspector Lestrade is one of the best Canadian-owned horses that were raced on the Canadian tracks last season and should give a good account of himself in almost any company. Captain Presgrave has several likely coming two-year-olds owned by Canadians along with his own, which made men a creditable showing in the races at Piping Rock this autumn, has been brought back to Montreal by trainer Bulmer, where he will go into winter quarters for next season. Wickson is probably the best improved horse of the year. Bulmer will race the horses of Norman Macfarlane at the Pimlico meeting, which opens on Nov. 1.

McGill Preparing to Play off With Varsity
 Coach Shaughnessy Digresses in the Carlisle-Old Boys Game--A Mistake.
 MONTREAL, Oct. 31.--The whole squad is getting back into good snappy work," said Coach Shaughnessy of McGill after last night's practice. Two full teams were out and the men put up a very smart hour's work. "Shag" kept them humping all the time. The big boy is getting back into shape, but the secondary burgh, although he figures on winning with anything like a fair share of the back breaks. McGill is not taking much interest in the Queen's encounter, and it is improbable that many rooters will accompany the team to Kingston on Friday. Everyone is preparing for the play-off with Toronto Varsity, taking it for granted that the Presbyterians will prove easy picking.
 Coach Shaughnessy expressed no surprise at Carlisle's decisive victory over Varsity's old boys. "I believe either Varsity or McGill could give the speed of Indians a hard game on anything like even terms, but of course, there was only one team playing on Monday. The old boys were no team."
 McGill gossip is running along condemnatory lines. The local collegians think it was a great error to import the crack Yankee gridiron artists and stack up the record with more commendation of individual stars. It is by no means a fair estimate of Canadian athletics said a prominent Montrealer.
 "Ken" Williams, the old-time standby of Queen's, when she wore her leaguer's colors in the last half of the Carlisle game at Toronto. Ken got away with some of his long ones, but outside of these he was a very ordinary player. What impressed the big punter most was the work of Thorpe, who never made less than sixty yards once he got away.

CHURCH PLAYS A LONE HAND

Controller Goes Down to Ottawa Without Warning and Will Be Called to Account On His Return.

Controller Church's anxiety to stir the Borden government up to a sense of Toronto's wrongs has brought considerable trouble upon his own shoulders.

The controller was "called" to Ottawa from the midst of the fray on Wednesday night, and yesterday morning the mayor was made aware of the fact that he had arrived safely at Ottawa by the receipt of three somewhat lengthy telegrams within an hour.

No statement can be obtained as to the government's finances until well on in December.

GOOD DAIRIES ON CIVIC LIST

Dr. Hastings Issues List of Those Which Scored 80 Marks Out of a Possible 100. About two months ago it was announced that all dairies in Toronto would be carefully scored, according to their methods of handling milk, and that about Nov. 1 the list of dairies coming up to the standard would be published. It is believed that the publication of this "high-class" list will be to the advantage of the dairies, as well as of the public, and that there will soon be a much larger number of first-class dairies to include.

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY
Do not charge if fairly well satisfied or attempt to influence things on a large scale. I advise that you and those dear to you, and a good will source on your part will make matters worse. Those born today will have positive natures and will run to extremes in their emotions, but with their natural intelligence they are easily taught self-control, so necessary to their success. Unhappy marriages are foretold for their children.

THE SIMPLE FOREIGNER.
In his new book, "The Surgeon's Luck," Mr. J. Johnston Abraham describes an amusing adventure at Port Said. He was driving in the town one afternoon and as they drove near one house the strains of music came coloring the empty, sandy street.
"As if at a signal," says Mr. Abraham, "the decrepit chariot stood still, my guide got down, and suggested I should go in. I thought rapidly, and then followed him. It was queer, and I wanted to know. He led the way upstairs into a large room where several men were playing roulette. None took any notice of me, but apparently the bank was having a very bad time of it. Everybody was winning. The music from the automatic piano was deafening. I looked on silently for some time, and then made haste for the door. An obnoxious Greek interrupted me.
"Want you try your luck?" he said.
"No, I'm not drunk enough," I answered.
He shrugged his shoulders and I passed out. On the stairs I paused and then stole quietly back. The music had ceased, and all the confederates who had been playing so feverishly and winning so much had ceased also, and were preparing to resume the siesta. My advent had so fruitlessly interrupted."

The Daily Hint From Paris

THREE-PIECE SUIT OF VELVET.
Simplicity of line and richness of material make this suit distinctive. The dress is one of the front-closing, long-sleeved affairs which are becoming so well liked. The velvet is black, and the braid, which binds the edge and forms the button loops, shows threads of gold and orange. These colors are used on the narrow embroidered girdle, and the buttons are of a crystal composition, which imitates exactly the old-fashioned gold stones.
The coat is cut loose above the hips, but buttons close at the lower part. The lining is a rich burnt orange and shows wide lapels at the neck.

Mrs. J. E. Bond, 126 Madison avenue, Mrs. Ralph Eden Smith (nee McLeod), post nuptial, 10 Spadina road, Mrs. T. N. Dexter (nee Ashall), post nuptial, 99 Balmoral avenue, Mrs. Mabel Ferguson, 81 Albany avenue, Mrs. Owens of Montreal with them.
Mrs. J. S. McLean (nee Flavell), post nuptial, 100 Avenue Road, 6 Highlands avenue.

Mrs. Richard J. Kearns, first time this season at her new home, 228 Sunnyside avenue, on Thursday, Nov. 7, and after on first Thursday.

An extra business meeting of the Women's Canadian Club has been called for 7:30 this afternoon in the Guild Hall, McGill street.
The annual meeting of the Home for Incurable Children will be held at 3:30 this afternoon at 21 West Eglar street.
St. Joseph's College Alumnae held its annual thanksgiving banquet in the auditorium of the college on Saturday evening, Oct. 26. The members, some three hundred in number, were received by the president, Miss Gertrude Lawler, who was wearing a handsome green gown, with overdress of lace and cap to match. Some of those present were: Misses Edith, Lada, Thompson, Countess D'Arville, Mrs. Latchford, Mrs. Frank Anglin from Ottawa, Miss Hughes, Miss Harkin, Miss Nemo.

Resolved: That the Junior Suffrage Club do earnestly petition the Dominion Government to extend to the women of Canada the privileges of the ballot.

U. S. CONSUL FOR NEWFOUNDLAND.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(Can. Press.)—The United States department has prepared to open a consular agency at Bay of Islands, Nfld., with Orzo C. Gould in charge. The Newfoundland attention was called recently to the importance of such an agency to New England fishing interests. The case was cited of a schooner's crew who, when wrecked on the west coast of Newfoundland, suffered great hardships as a result of being obliged to go to the nearest settlement, St. John's, to find a consular agent.

HOTEL STRIKE IN BUFFALO.
BUFFALO, Oct. 21.—(Can. Press.)—One hundred members of the International Hotel Workers' Union, including waiters, cooks, omnibus drivers and chambermaids, struck here today. They demand a 25 per cent increase in wages, the abolition of fines, shorter hours, better food and more sanitary conditions at their tables and in sleeping apartments. Five of the leading hotels are affected by the strike.

The Nursery Toys and Games

There are days at this season of the year when it is not possible to take the children out for the afternoon. These are the days when mother thinks she will do all her mending, and get such a lot of sewing finished. And just as she gets into sewing Bobby and Molly quarrel and cry, or baby rags at her skirts and begs to be taken up. Then mother wonders how on earth she will keep the youngsters amused throughout the long wet afternoon, so that the sewing may make some headway.
It requires thought and time to prepare for just such days, and many of the devices planned by busy mothers. A box of "keep-busy" materials is a nursery necessity. In this box may be kept certain toys and books to be used only on rainy days.
"Keeping house" and "keeping store" are good old stand-bys. Collect pumpkin, squash and light and dark melon seeds. When quite dry, rub off the thin outer covering. Half a cupful of these seeds in half a dozen bottles, boxes or shells will make a very respectable store. The seeds are splendid for making borders or patterns on the floor or table. It is a real joy to a child to be the owner of several lots of bags of different sizes. Such little bags are good in which to keep seeds, marbles or small pebbles. Let the bags have a draw-string by all means. For half the joy is just in opening them out and pulling them up again. Building blocks are a constant source of pleasure and profit to the small child.
A box of colored peas, such as those used in kindergarten lessons, is a valuable addition to the "keep-busy" box. Rows of squares, triangles, oblongs, etc., may be made with these. The outlines of pictures traced on short pieces of macaroni will do for these games. Old postage stamps are good for making patterns. When the little girl is old enough to understand, she may be taught invaluable lessons in sewing and housekeeping by means of a needle and thread. One of the greatest lessons that children may be taught from their toys and games is neatness and orderliness. The first years of childhood are the times when good or bad habits are formed for life, and the habit of tidiness is one that every child must be taught. Have a shelf or box or some particular place for children's belongings, and see that they are put neatly away when the game is over.

WINTER IN ALGONQUIN PARK

With Switzerland, Canada is taking its rightful place as the winter playground of the nation. One of the most popular districts where unrivaled opportunities are found for healthful sport and where an invigorating atmosphere may be enjoyed, is the Algonquin National Park of Ontario. The winter season at this resort is the angler, camper and tourist, and its pre-eminence as a fishing ground has been conceded, but with the first snowfall the winter sports begin. The park is a rich burnt orange and shows wide lapels at the neck.

The Simple Foreigner.
In his new book, "The Surgeon's Luck," Mr. J. Johnston Abraham describes an amusing adventure at Port Said. He was driving in the town one afternoon and as they drove near one house the strains of music came coloring the empty, sandy street.
"As if at a signal," says Mr. Abraham, "the decrepit chariot stood still, my guide got down, and suggested I should go in. I thought rapidly, and then followed him. It was queer, and I wanted to know. He led the way upstairs into a large room where several men were playing roulette. None took any notice of me, but apparently the bank was having a very bad time of it. Everybody was winning. The music from the automatic piano was deafening. I looked on silently for some time, and then made haste for the door. An obnoxious Greek interrupted me.
"Want you try your luck?" he said.
"No, I'm not drunk enough," I answered.
He shrugged his shoulders and I passed out. On the stairs I paused and then stole quietly back. The music had ceased, and all the confederates who had been playing so feverishly and winning so much had ceased also, and were preparing to resume the siesta. My advent had so fruitlessly interrupted."

U. S. CONSUL FOR NEWFOUNDLAND.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(Can. Press.)—The United States department has prepared to open a consular agency at Bay of Islands, Nfld., with Orzo C. Gould in charge. The Newfoundland attention was called recently to the importance of such an agency to New England fishing interests. The case was cited of a schooner's crew who, when wrecked on the west coast of Newfoundland, suffered great hardships as a result of being obliged to go to the nearest settlement, St. John's, to find a consular agent.

HOTEL STRIKE IN BUFFALO.
BUFFALO, Oct. 21.—(Can. Press.)—One hundred members of the International Hotel Workers' Union, including waiters, cooks, omnibus drivers and chambermaids, struck here today. They demand a 25 per cent increase in wages, the abolition of fines, shorter hours, better food and more sanitary conditions at their tables and in sleeping apartments. Five of the leading hotels are affected by the strike.

AT THE THEATRES

LINA ABBARBANELLO COMING

Musical entertainment of the brighter and lighter sort will come prominently to the fore again at the Alexandra Theatre next week when, commencing Monday evening, John Cort will present the piquant Viennese prima donna, Lina Abbarnello, pleasantly recalled for her sensational triumph here in the title-role of "Madame Sherry," as the whose names are familiar to the opera-going public of many European capitals, and French-Canadian basso, James Goddard, who has a voice commensurate with his immense height, and who was a public favorite at Covent Garden last spring. Another Covent Garden success, Madame Louise Edvina, who is also a native of the Province of Quebec, will make her debut in this country as a grand opera singer in "Louise." The first week's repertoire will include two perennial drawing cards, "Faust," with Hubert and Edvina in the cast, and "La Boheme," with Ester Ferrabini, the finest of all mimic singers, opposite to Giuseppe Campanari, Jr., who makes his debut on this continent as a tenor.

Nobody could have anticipated two years ago, when the company opened its first season, that this Canadian enterprise could in so short a period rise to such a position of importance in the artistic world.

SHEA'S BILL NEXT WEEK
Manager Shea has another great show at Shea's Theatre next week, "An Opening Night," which Joseph Hart presents for the first time here. It is from the pen of George V. Hart, author of "Cherrie," "Peashea," and "Everybody." "An Opening Night" tells a story full of fun, pathos and sentiment, and is a complete play condensed to forty minutes. The special attractions for the week are S. Miller Kent and Company, presenting a one-act comedy, entitled "Road Q"; Lee White and George Perry, those smiling singers of smiling songs, and Tom Davis Trio, sensational cycling in their new device.

Other feature acts to be seen are Chas. F. Semon, Herman Timberg, Mariel and Frances Arco Bros., and the cinematograph.

"ELIJAH" ADVANCE SALE

Since the announcement has been made that Mendelssohn's "Elijah" in grand opera form, will be presented for the first time in Toronto, at Massey Hall, there has been a keen interest among music-lovers to see the production. The Moody-Manners Opera Co. in England produced a dramatized version, with universal success in London and the English provinces. The American production will be much more elaborate. It is made under the organization of the Majestic Opera Co., which will present the performance to be given here on Friday and Saturday of next week.

The reports about this production in other cities indicate that as music drama, "Elijah" is quite as dramatic and impressive as Wagner's "Parsifal." The engagement of Mr. Gwilm Miles for the character of Elijah guarantees the rendering of the leading role. He is well-known for his fine delivery of Mendelssohn's music.

A special sale of seats for the performance will be given at Massey Hall will begin on Monday morning. This will be the first opportunity to attend grand opera in English of the highest class for the price of $2.

CRUSOE GIRLS AT GAYETY

Carping critics, who have repeatedly derided the fact that there is literally nothing new under the sun in theatricals, generally in burlesques, have recently been rebuffed without Charles Robinson's "The Crusoe Girls" which is to be the attraction all next week at the Gayety Theatre, with the usual matinees. Here is a production that can boast of at least four distinct features, viz., exceptionally pretty choristers, comedians who can really tickle the ribbilities of the most blasé patron of the theatre, artists who understand the value of witty dialogue, situations and action, and last, but not least, novelties that do not require forced explanation to make an audience rally or respond with deserved approval.

The Winsome English Comedienne.
The change of the "Miss Fix-It" from the Broadway Theatre next week to the Gayety Theatre, has been a great play for another, offers theatre-goers another laughing season. Alice Lloyd, with the "Loy" songs has always brought a ready response of chuckling mirth among her listeners, but Alice Lloyd now comes in a comedy, "Miss Fix-It," that has been praised during its remarkable season as "a laugh or a song hit every minute."

It is considered to have been the first of the real "cabaret shows," and in it are not only many of her own melodious, whistling songs, but Linton Walsh, the eccentric English comedian, has opportunity to sing a song of the "English Lancers" that shows his peculiar humor at its best. There is an added attractiveness in the announcement that "Miss Fix-It" is to be presented in Toronto by exactly the same organization that has been playing it for nearly fifteen months, which assures a remarkable smoothness of presentation. The advance sale of seats opens this morning at the theatre.

Marie Lunnie, a pretty miss, with the "Three Girls" at the Grand, week of November 4th.

Frankie Rice, with "High School Girls" at the Star, next week.

HISTORIC SUCCESS OF MODERN CIVILIZATION

BY EDWARD HOWARD GRIGGS.

Edward Howard Griggs altogether exhorted himself Wednesday in Guild Hall in the course of the fourth lecture of his series on modern morals, reforms and ideals. His subject was "Historical Sources of Modern Civilization," and he chose the Greek and Christian elements as illustrating the contributions made by earlier periods to the present social condition. All potential humanity, he argued, was implicit in each individual, and the loyalty of the individual to his opportunities was the sole means of evolution, which depended on the infinite number of variations approaching the ideal made by all the individuals of the race.

Instead of juggling with our intellect, we needed to cultivate an intellectual piety, which would only be satisfied with truth, and which would be willing to sacrifice its ego into gray reality. We ought, as Lecky said, to be willing to bear the agony of suspension, and to realize that a limitation is simply the point where an excellence leaves off.

Civilization rested on Christianity, as it rested on a thousand other principles, and Mr. Griggs contrasted the spirit of Greek thought, as usually understood, with the Christian typical thought, each complementing the other. Mr. Griggs' summary of the Christ message was a mastery of the spirit behind the words. Generally speaking, the possession of wealth was the most dangerous distraction of the mind in the modern world. Careful, thrifty management was a characteristic of the Hebrews, but Christ did not value worldly riches. He distrusted the political world. There was no hope of transforming it. Fidelity, honesty, mercy, tenderness, the feminine, not the effeminate, virtues were the crown of Christian civilization. Christ was a re-incarnation of the pure Gospel of Christianity.

Following a consideration of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophies, Mr. Griggs passed to the Greek ideals. The object of their education was to develop a sane, healthy, harmonious spirit. Aristotle said one could not live the highest life of virtue without wealth and friends. Every line of the Greek sculpture realized the perfect harmony which their philosophy aimed at, and their sculpture completely realized its ideal simply because it was the most limited of the arts. In a passage of flowing, musical and poignant expressive eloquence, Mr. Griggs drew a picture of the perfect but limited ideals of the Greek world, as contrasted with the Christian ultimate aspiration. Taking the proximity of Greek and Roman art to that of the Christian artists in the Uffizi gallery at Florence as a basis, he aroused the most hearty applause by his exposition. The brief, masculine, classic, self-affirming Christian ideal which is illustrated in the work of Schiller and Tennyson. Both ideals were in evidence in our civilization, and a condition of progress was that we recognize, appreciate and accept the best of all the ideals of life that is behind us.

Next Wednesday Mr. Griggs will speak of "Woman's Contribution to Human Progress."

North Toronto Annexed

IT TOOK the Railway Board just 15 minutes yesterday to order the annexation of NORTH TORONTO to the City of TORONTO. After December 15th, when the order has gone into effect, GREATER TORONTO will be TORONTO PLUS THE HOMES OF NORTH TORONTO. It won't take home builders and investors more than fifteen minutes to decide that by this enactment NORTH TORONTO will be the great residential section of the city, and that residential property in the north is an unflinching investment NOW.

Properties of quality have been rising in the north in great numbers during the past year. Annexation will give a great impetus to home building, since all barriers to development are now down. Stimulating features of home building in the north after annexation are that building loans can be easily secured and conveniences are at command.

Three of the choicest North Toronto residential properties that will be in great demand now are Lawrence Park, Glebe Manor and Old Orchard Grove. They are exceptionally desirable properties for home sites or investments, because their situations are exceptionally good at prices exceptionally moderate.

SUBNORMAL CHILDREN IN TORONTO SCHOOLS

(BY LILIAN CARRUTHERS)

Just how many children in the public schools of this city are subnormal mentally is a question of vital importance, not only to parents, teachers and board of education, but to the citizens generally. The Toronto Board of Education has endeavored to determine the percentages found in other large cities is matter for conjecture. Therefore the result of the standardized tests hereover, the standardized tests have been given by properly qualified persons. It has been found that 17 per cent of the school population are subnormal. This 17 per cent is made up of 15 per cent who are more or less curable and 2 per cent who suffer from permanent mental defects. In Toronto, therefore, with a school population of forty-seven thousand we should have nearly 8000 children who are subnormal mentally. The estimated 2 per cent, giving us 800 defective, and the remaining 15 per cent, of possibly curable cases, showing a mental retardation of two or three years, numbering 7050. It is difficult to realize that we have eight thousand children in our schools who are mentally defective in some degree. We prefer to think that conditions in our city are so much superior to those of the large American cities that we shall not have nearly that number.

The Backward Children. This designated eight thousand at least, of course. It includes the normal children who are backward in their studies. The tests used by psychologists take cognizance only of the retarded intellect, pedagogical retardation being something quite different. It is often difficult for the layman to understand this difference. Take, for instance, a child of nine years with the intellect and capacity of an ordinary child of that age. That child is normal. It matters not what his school standing may be. He may be the second book or he may be lower down in the school, and according as he is behind his grade we speak of his pedagogical backwardness. I have found just such a nine-year-old child in the lowest class of the junior first grade utterly unable to make any advance in her studies, while her intellect remained wholly unimpaired. Under intelligent special class teaching this child made wonderful progress. Being a normal child she was not transferred from her school to the school for defectives, as was erroneously stated in the papers. She remained in her own school in the morning and came to me in the afternoon for special coaching. Such cases of course would not be reported in making purely psychological tests.

Physical Defects. To discover the causes of such pedagogical backwardness lies with the teachers and the medical department. There are matters of attendance, frequent change of school, unwise promotions, physical defects, malnutrition. It has been found that lack of proper nutrition, with consequent absence of normal energy, is a frequent cause of such backwardness, and is rarely even a contributing cause of mental defect. Physical defects, such as defective vision, defective hearing and defects in organs that interfere with proper nutrition, constitute of course the main cause of pedagogical backwardness. This of course does not wholly within the province of the medical department. The normal brain can endure a tremendous amount of deprivation and malnutrition and still maintain its normal capacity. Just how great the strain it can bear has not yet been determined. Advanced educationists, however, now urge that all kindergarten and primary school children be subjected to proper standardized psychological tests, so that the very earliest evidence of the breaking point shall be at once detected and attended to by rational special class teaching. Proper Care Helps. When the child of nine, no matter what his pedagogical attainments shows thru the test a retardation of even two years, that is, when he is estimated to have the intellect of a child of but seven, it is generally conceded that under proper care his intellect may thru time recover its normal capacity. In those cities where mentally defective children are compelled by law to be segregated and placed in special or graded schools, or classes, it is usual to allow so much as three years of mental retardation. Thus the nine-year-old child with the retardation of six would be estimated as merely backward, and would therefore not be compelled by law to enter a school or class for mental defectives. He is placed in what are called classes for backward children, where the methods in vogue are wholly different from those of the special school. In this connection it must be noted that three years' retardation constitutes what is called a borderline case. Even when abundant evidence from various sources has been adduced in proof that the nine-year-old child is in reality but a child of six, the one making the test gives the child what is called the benefit of the doubt, and calls him merely backward. Under the age of nine-it has been found that three years' retardation is over the border line, and therefore the child of eight with mentality of a child of five would be estimated feeble-minded and legally placed in the special school.

Eight Thousand Here? Those interested in our schools and in children's welfare generally will await with interest the results of the medical inspectors' report. Will the eight thousand children showing subnormal brain capacity appear in Toronto as in other large cities? Shall we find the usual 2 per cent of defectives in our schools? Will the report show the nine hundred and forty children marked with permanent mental defect? It is to be hoped that we shall not have nearly so many as this, for those who advocate shutting up all these children in institutions would be startled to find that even such a splendid institution as the Training School at Vincennes could not accommodate even half the number.

and the people have asked for the best terms which the City of Toronto would naturally give to a locality under its administration. ## WHEAT MARKET SHOWS FIRMER UNDERTONE

Early Dip to Lower Levels in Chicago Pit Made Up in Late Trading—Lighter Receipts Favored Bulls.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Too much rain in Argentina helped today to give the wheat market strength despite considerable pressure on the selling side. ## Broderick's Business Suits

Some years ago, after a long experience in clothes building we concluded we could produce at $22.50 suits that would give men and young men the distinction of style and the perfection of fit and shape retaining qualities for which they usually paid a much larger price.

It was by no means an easy task as it meant the closest kind of merchandising—large quantity buying—and paring the Apple of Value as close as possible to leave us the very thinnest Peel of Profit. But we did it, and we have continued to do it, and the result is

HUGE WHEAT EXPORTS FROM NORTH AMERICA

Balkan Scare Overshadowed by Enormous Movement From This Continent.

Broomhall's weekly summary of the world's wheat situation, issued yesterday in Liverpool, follows: There is a large demand for foreign wheat, but the continued enormous movement from North America overshadows everything else for the week prices show a small decline. Since the war commenced, the world's wheat supply has been lower, which is particularly noticeable in the middle of the crop season; therefore, the effect of the war has been some little depression in the price of wheat.

Winnipeg Grain Market.

Winnipeg grain market was fairly active and quite a heavy volume of business was transacted in options. Prices were, however, on the down trend. War news, so far as wheat prices were concerned, was in abeyance and there were rumors of damage to wheat crops in Argentina by hail and excessive rains. The market opened 1/2 to 3/4 higher and closed unchanged to 1/2 lower. In oats the October shorts had to pay a premium, an advance of 1/2 to 3/4 being made. The market was holding steadily. Flax was steady.

LIVERPOOL GRAIN EXCHANGE.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 31.—The market opened 1/2 to 3/4 lower, being influenced by the weaker American cables and the heavy American and Canadian receipts. Later there was covering by shorts and prices advanced for December and March respectively with December leading in the support. The weather here is unsettled, with lighter country arrivals and private reports state hailstorms have damaged the crop in Argentina. Receipts here are lighter and there is an improvement in the price of wheat. The forecast is for large Argentine shipments this week and lack of support.

BEARS RAID MARKET AND SLUMP FOLLOWS

Forcupine Stocks Under Decided Pressure—Values Depressed to Lower Levels—Vipond the Chief Sufferer—Cobalts Hold Comparatively Steady.

The gold mining stocks were under decided pressure in the local exchanges yesterday, a bear raid on the recent favorite being an almost instantaneous effect on the market. Liquidation was the rule from the opening of business, and because more investors than buyers were on the job, it led the decline with a loss running into about three points, and while the other stocks did not show anything like that volume of loss, the action was quite sufficient to demonstrate the vulnerable condition of the whole list. The Forcupines during the last few days have been in a period of acute distress, due to the exhaustion of the recent active buying demand. The slight reactions which had been apparent in the recent turn toward higher levels had wiped out a good deal of weekly-held stock but had apparently not been sufficient to bring supply in the market. Consequently, when the bear coterie attempted to raid the list, there was nothing to cushion the blow, and the result was thereupon slid back easily on the incoming of liquidation.

Shorts Are Active.

It was curious enough after the close of the exchanges that considerable short stock had been put out on the decline. The recent sharp advance had made short sellers rather wary, but the incoming of the earlier trend had given them renewed courage, and securities were fed out freely on the way down.

Declines Were General.

The brunt of the decline in the Forcupines was borne by Vipond, which lost three points at 18, thus nearly duplicating the record low price made by the shares in November, 1913. Heard rumors of a pending bond issue, and speculators sold freely on the report that the company was practically out of funds and had to be liquidated to retrench itself. Crown Chartered was another weak spot, the shares retreating to a new low record at 3 1/2, and an advance to 4 1/2 was made over a point at 3 1/2. Pearl Lake was off to 2 1/2, Swastika to 1 1/2, and Dome Extension to 1 1/2. Cobalt prices were generally steady, with Vipond the chief sufferer, and the buying demand should bring about a sharp recovery. In times such as these, speculators would find a profitable opportunity of picking up cheap stocks.

RAILWAY LINE APPROACHES THE ELK LAKE CAMP

COBALT, Oct. 31.—The steel has been laid across the Jean Baptiste River, 12 miles west of Earleton on the Elk Lake branch of the C.P. & O., and the work of laying the steel to the Montreal River should only take two weeks' time at the most. For some time past the steel has been being put up at the first bridge, which they expected to have crossed six weeks ago. The work was completed and the balance of the line to the Montreal River, a distance of 10 miles, is in the hands of the contractor. The steel will be laid at the rate of three-quarters of a mile a day. At the Montreal River a delay of two or three weeks will be caused by the fact that the steel is being put in position when the balance of the road can be completed to Elk Lake City.

PLAN TO REOPEN REA PROPERTY IN NEAR FUTURE

The Rea Consolidated Gold Mines property in Forcupine which has been in the very near future, according to an unofficial statement made by one of the officials of the company. No definite plan of action has yet been mapped out, but preparations are being made for the resumption of development, and an examination of the claims to be made shortly with a view to determining the best way to go about the underground work.

CYANIDE MILL AT McINTYRE READY JAN. 1

PORCUPINE, Oct. 31.—The plans for the cyanide plant at the Vipond mine have practically been completed and the installation of the mill will probably be commenced early next month. Under the present arrangements the recovery of gold is but about 60 per cent, which is much lower than it was originally. This is largely due to the water difficulties experienced and the fact that the water used is pumped back and used over again. Under the new cyanide arrangement a large extraction of the gold content is anticipated.

OPTION TAKEN ON SHILLINGTON CLAIM

PORCUPINE, Oct. 31.—An option has been taken on the old Shillington claim adjoining the Rea mines by C. L. Sherburne, a well known mining man, who has already large interests in Forcupine, holding a group of 20 claims. The Shillington is not far from the Vipond area, which has shown up so well under development. Mr. Sherburne has formed a syndicate to develop the property, and shot and diamond drilling will be commenced almost immediately.

VIPOND TO PUT OUT ISSUE OF BONDS

A report was current on "the street" last night to the effect that the Porcupine Gold Mines Co. generally known as the Vipond, had practically completed its treasury fund and was about to issue a bond issue which would be put out in the near future. The decline in the stock of the Vipond has been a serious one, and it is the intention of the company to issue a bond issue which would be put out in the near future.

BUYING COUNTS

Mining stocks are seldom carried on margin, and shake outs are not as common as in other securities. Good buying has been going on for some time in COBALTS, PETERSON LAKE, CITY OF COBALTS, and BAILEY. This is beginning to count, as was evidenced by yesterday's market. It is not likely that any spectacular movements will be seen, but it is being recognized in the mining stocks. Buying or selling orders will receive our prompt attention.

ERECTING MILL AT McENANEY

Crown Reserve's Porcupine Holding Looms Up as Big Mine—Active Development Going On.

PORCUPINE, Oct. 31.—The McEnaney stamp mill is fast nearing completion, and as installation of the plant will be commenced immediately, it will not be long before the stamps are dropping on the ore now ready for them. Cyaniding will not be adopted for some time to come, although every arrangement is already made for the damming of the tails in preparation for their subsequent treatment by the cyanide process.

Interesting features in connection with the McEnaney are those given out recently, which are to the effect that the mine has $750,000 in its reserves already, of which $300,000 is on the ore dump and ready for immediate treatment.

At the 400-foot level the work has just started, the main shaft having reached that point a short time ago. At the 200-foot level work is being done in four faces. Cross-cuts are being run two ways and the vein is being drilled on in both directions. Work is being carried on at the 200 and 100-foot levels.

The ore continues to average about 20 to the ton, which makes the Crown Reserve's Porcupine holding on a par with the Cobalt mine as far as comparative richness is concerned. More work is going on at the surface than at any other property in the Porcupine camp.

DRIFTING AT 200-FOOT LEVEL GOING ON—ABOUT A MILE OF UNDERGROUND WORK COMPLETED.

PORCUPINE, Oct. 31.—The long drift at the 200 foot level of the Dome Extension is still being worked by the management and while the ore is low-grade a strike is made periodically of a pocket of exceptionally rich stuff. Capt. H. C. Anchor, who is in charge of the property and who has been manager ever since active development was commenced, is of the opinion that the best results will be obtained at the 500 foot level where the drilling on the property showed rich ore, some of it assaying several hundred dollars. It is apparent that at this depth the strike of the Dome ore shoots will be encountered.

The north crosscut from the shaft has been carried about 750 feet. The work has been carried on thru the Cobalt ore, and the results are very encouraging. It is expected that the 500 foot level will be reached in a few days, and the prospecting of the 200 foot level in the direction of present pursued will soon be completed. If the finances warrant it is likely that the drifting of a deep shaft near the Dome end of the property will be commenced, and that the future work on the property will be centered there. The work will be at greater depth than has ever been worked before.

It is a well-known fact that the finances of the company are not in the shape that they should be, but the mine who are interested have sufficient faith in the mine to stick to it and it is doubtful if the property ever closes.

CYANIDE PLANT TO BE ERRECTED AT THE VIPOND

PORCUPINE, Oct. 31.—The plans for the cyanide plant at the Vipond mine have practically been completed and the installation of the mill will probably be commenced early next month. Under the present arrangements the recovery of gold is but about 60 per cent, which is much lower than it was originally. This is largely due to the water difficulties experienced and the fact that the water used is pumped back and used over again. Under the new cyanide arrangement a large extraction of the gold content is anticipated.

DOMES EXTENSION STILL AT IT

PORCUPINE, Oct. 31.—The long drift at the 200 foot level of the Dome Extension is still being worked by the management and while the ore is low-grade a strike is made periodically of a pocket of exceptionally rich stuff. Capt. H. C. Anchor, who is in charge of the property and who has been manager ever since active development was commenced, is of the opinion that the best results will be obtained at the 500 foot level where the drilling on the property showed rich ore, some of it assaying several hundred dollars. It is apparent that at this depth the strike of the Dome ore shoots will be encountered.

ENLARGING DOME STAMP MILL

Tube Mills Will Be Added to Present Equipment—Output Should Be $250,000 a Month.

PORCUPINE, Oct. 31.—Plans are being made for the installation of additional tube mills for the ore from the Dome mine. The new stamp mill will be added to the present equipment, and the output will be increased to $250,000 a month. The work will be completed in a few days, and the prospecting of the 200 foot level in the direction of present pursued will soon be completed. If the finances warrant it is likely that the drifting of a deep shaft near the Dome end of the property will be commenced, and that the future work on the property will be centered there.

NORTH DOME HAS SHAFT DOWN TO 250 FOOT LEVEL

PORCUPINE, Oct. 31.—The shaft at the North Dome property has reached the 250 foot level, the first below the 300 foot at which work will be done. The station is now being set out, as well as a sump, and following will be a much larger shaft, and the work will be started towards the vein, which the management expects to reach in about a month. From drifting and other prospecting it is expected that values on the 250 foot level will be even better than those on the 300 foot level, where some high-grade ore was taken out.

UNDERTONE IS SHARP IN WALL STREET

Speculation in Toronto Market Very Dull, But Trend is Upward—Money Stringency More Pronounced.

But Early Buoyancy Failed to Hold and Portion of Advance Was Lost—Call Money Higher.

NTW YORK, Oct. 31.—Foreign and domestic monetary conditions served to keep today's market in a state of sharp and general restraint. The undertone here for the greater part of the session was fairly steady, however, some substantial additions to yesterday's late rally being established. In the final hour, however, prices fell away as money rose.

The precarious state of the money situation abroad was exemplified in the advance of the French bank rate from 3 1/2 to 4 per cent, the highest figure quoted since our panic in 1907. The weekly statement of the French Bank disclosed an increase of $69,000,000 in discounts, due, no doubt, to the exigencies of the government now just concluded with some rain in Paris.

Falling Off in Reserves.

The action of the directors of the French institution made for some nervousness here and in London. The showing of the Bank of England was not of the most encouraging character, its liability reserves falling almost 2 per cent from last week and practically 4 per cent from the corresponding period last year. Money and discounts were firmer in London and rumors of a further advance in the bank rate there recurred some.

Opening advances in stocks here ran to an opt or better in a number of issues, with Reading, Union Pacific, the I.H.I. stocks and United States Steel most active. Canadian Pacific and its allied property were materially higher, while Americanated Copper and American Smelters were in better request than recently.

STRINGENCY IN MONEY MARKET IS MORE ACUTE

There was quite a perceptible stiffening in the money market in Toronto yesterday, owing to the fact that the banks were making preparations for the month-end requirements. Conservative brokers who have been enabled all during the recent stringency to get money on call, found it next to impossible to spare funds from any of the banks, and there was some calling of loans during the day. Also it was limited that such might be resorted to again today if occasion required.

The money problem has been an acute one this year, and the banks have been compelled to shut down on speculation to a very considerable extent. In fact only the old-established houses have been able to obtain funds for market purposes.

The November dividend requirements this year are fairly large, which accounts for the stringency yesterday. It was freely stated by brokers last evening that money had not been so tight in Toronto for a good many years.

TORONTO'S BANK CLEARINGS AT A NEW RECORD

Toronto's bank clearings continued to show a remarkable extension this year for the month of October just closed being as spectacular as those for the earlier portion of the year. Last month's clearings showed a gain over those of September of some $42,000,000, and were about $45,000,000 ahead of October of last year. The record of monthly clearings showed a gain over the similar period of 1911 by nearly $300,000,000. The detailed statement follows:

October, 1912	$ 200,779,234
September, 1912	158,322,421

TWIN CITY WILL SHOW EARNINGS OF 11 PER CENT.

Balance Available for Common Return About Equal to That of Last Year—Nine Months' Record is Favorable.

The report of earnings of the Twin City Rapid Transit Company shows that the earnings for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 20 per cent, a substantial increase in gross earnings. The report shows a gain over the corresponding period of 1911. Surplus available for the common stock just about broke even. The balance available for the common stock for the nine months was equal to $4.8 per cent on the $20,000,000 outstanding, as compared with $4.8 per cent in the corresponding period of the previous year. This is at the annual rate of 11.5 per cent, as against a similar percentage last year.

Actual earnings available for the common stock of the company for the last three months were equal to 10.8 per cent, as against 10.8 per cent in the year previous. It is apparent, therefore, that the nine months' statement may be taken as a fairly accurate basis for estimating the year's probable results. The company's pass dividend at the rate of 6 per cent, the junior issue, and the foregoing percentages indicate that there will be a liberal balance of surplus over requirements for dividends this year, as has been the case for some time past.

Below will be noted the gross and net earnings and surplus for common stock for September and the nine months ended Sept. 30, last, and the percentages of change, as compared with the like periods of the previous year:

	1912	1911	% Change
Gross	$29,244,626	$28,082,074	4.14
Net earnings	$29,157,201	$29,182,038	0.08
Surp. for com.	$28,978,105	$28,459,029	1.78

BANK CLEARINGS FOR THE WEEK AHEAD OF 1911

Bank clearings in Toronto for the week ended yesterday showed a big falling off from the record of the previous week, due to the fact that the business week comprised only five days on account of Thanksgiving Day holiday. Compared with the corresponding period of last year which was checked by the rise in the rate of discount of the Bank of France, which also caused selling of French rentes, the settlement was satisfactorily arranged and the market closed steady.

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—The bourse was firm today. Prices generally advanced from one to two points.

BANK OF TORONTO WILL GIVE A BONUS

It is getting to be quite a habit for the Canadian banks to declare bonuses to their shareholders. Yesterday the Bank of Toronto announced that it would pay a bonus of 1 per cent in addition to the regular 3 1/2 per cent, dividend for the current quarter. It is just as well to note that the bank has a short while since the Canadian Bank of Commerce announced a bonus of like amount. The Bank of Montreal started the ball rolling with a bonus declaration last June and followed it up with another bonus of 1 per cent last week.

MONTREAL CLEARINGS MAKE NEW RECORD

MONTREAL, Oct. 31.—Bank clearings for October created a new high record for a month at $282,735,067, compared with July, which held the record heretofore, when the total was $282,694,536. The September figures were $284,725,000. The increase this month over a year ago is $56,000,000, and exceeds two years ago by upwards of $102,000,000. The figures are: October 31, 1912, $282,735,067; Oct. 31, 1911, $218,713,952; Oct. 31, 1910, $180,650,232.

DULUTH-SUPERIOR EARNINGS FALL OFF

Duluth-Superior earnings continue to show a big falling off compared with last year as a result of the strike on the company's lines. For the third week of October receipts showed a decrease of 34.5 per cent. The record follows:

1912	1911	Decrease
First week	$2,370,000	$2,107,000	$263,000
Second week	1,455,000	1,204,000	251,000
