o'clock at night, in an attempt to rush the pickets, the enemy having collected unseen in the dwarf palm jungle and ravine, and gradually closing in on the British force. The enemy fired continuously from behind rocks and heaps of stones, the darkness enabling them to rush forward, making use of the many small shelters around the place, until within 20 yards of the British. At midnight large numbers of the tr. besmen gathered together for a rush, but courage failed them, and they could be heard abusing each other for not advancing.

BRITAIN'S ISOLATION.

A remarkable feature is the accuracy of the enemy's fire. Lieut. Crawford was killed at a range of over 1000 yards.

The tribesmen show great courage and astounding rapidity in moving over the rocks. General Sir Bindon Blood, who is moving in parallel with General Jeffreys, and who keeps in heliographic communication with him, reports that yesterday the Haddah Mullah, with 4000 followers, debouched on the Nawagai plain, where General Sir Bindon Blood was encamped. The Mullah had a famatical Kuttock dance, fired a few shots, and then retired, but the same night the camp was attacked, though so half-heartedly that the enemy was easily repulsed. The tribesmen daringly creep up the ravines around the camp. An longhish private was stabbed only five yards from an outpost.

singing of the song. Mr. Curtas also said Mr. Scabrooke wanted his wife to wear shorter dresses.

On Wednesday night last the comedian took Mrs. Curtis to task again about her "Papa" song, and gave het two weeks notice of her dismissal. On Thursday she received another visit, Seabrooke's forces being augmented with Cheever Goodwin, one of the authors of the play, and Manager Brooks. Mrs. Curtis, according to her husband, ordered them from her dressing room. To Mr. Goodwin, Mr. Curtis, a short time later, made the remark that Mr. Seabrooke discharged his wife because she would not allow his familiarities. That night Seabrooke again visited Mrs. Curtis after the performance, and teld her that if her husband did not apologize by letter he would send him to a hospital. The apology promptly came to Mr. Seabrooke in the morning mail.

"Your trouble with Mr. Curtis," was the reply.

"I've had no trouble with him."

The reporter insisted, however, and the comedian finally said: "Oh, I guess you mean a little difference between the chorus men, old chap. Yes, there are trouble, and I separated them."

This did not satisfy the questioner, who informed the comedian that Mr. Curtis had made a statement. Even this did not shake the comedian that Mr. Curtis had made a statement. CANADA'S PROGRESS

Sydney, Australia, an electrical engineer 103 King West and 259 Yonge St. advertised in Australia. In Sydney very few people realized the advancement which Canada had made. He is delighted with the evidences of Canada's progress in electrical engineering, a matter in which Australia is comparatively young. The quality, finish and general character of the Canadian street railway cars especially impress him, and ne thinks a large business can be done with Australia in this line.

Miss MacGillivray's Funeral,

On Saturday a company of mourners followed to Mount Pleasant Cemetery the remains of one who in life had made many friends by her kindly disposition and many-benefactions. It was the funeral of Miss Mary Ann MacGillivray, who died suddenly at her residence, No. 145 Richmond-street west, and whose death came as a shock to a wide circle of friends. She was the daughter of Mr. John MacGillivray, Kirkhill, Glengarry, afterwards of Muskoka, and had resided for about 20 years in Toronto, beloved and respected by all who knew her. She had been a member of Knox Church, and since its inception took great interest in the analyse of the Gaelic Society of Toronto, by the members or which she will be sadly missed. Services were held at the house and grave by the Rev. Dr. Parsons and the Rev. Mr. Cameron of Oakville, the latter of whom paid a high tribute to the patroctic and Christian character of the deceased. The chief mourners were: Messrs. Archie and John MacGillivray (brothers), Mrs. Burton, Mrs. Gleeson and Miss Sarah MacGillivray (sters), and Mr. Burton (brother-in-law). The pallbearers were: Messrs. J. C. MacMilan, Donald Carmica-14, Murdoch Ross, J. Dunlop, J. Bowery and H. D. Sinclair. Among the floral tributes was one from the Gaelic Society, bearing a spitable inscription.

LAUGHLIN BEAT FRANK CONNOLLY.

Buffalo, Sept. 20.—Johnny Laughlin of this city won from Frank Connolly, brother of Eddle Connolly of St. John. N.B., in the second round at the Olympic Athletic Club—here this evening. Connolly made a very unfavorable impression, showing neither strength nor skill. The bell saved him in the first round and he was carried to his corner. In the second round he fouled Laughlin repeatedly and Refered Jack Lysaght gave the latter the decision just as inspector Donovan pulled the bell to stop the fight. Connolly was so clearly outclassed that there was no question as to the result.

The preliminary event brought out Mike Sears of Boston and Frank Zimpfer of Buffalo, who boxed ten rounds. Sears got the decision on points.

Are you going to let it go by without taking advantage.

That's the emphasis we give to these items for Wednesday. Every one represents the biggest money's worth you have run across for many a day. With such a list of extraordinary inducements, Wednesday should be, as far as sales are concerned, a record breaker.

Special Morning advantage of the emphasis we give to these items should this security fail or become effect and the law, as such security and as a deterrent against crime, become infected and inoperative, the state may be fairly said to be relapsing more or less into barbarism. The frightful increase of unpunished homicide, together with the horrible frequency of lynching in the United Straces, would seem to indicate that their much-boasted civilization is already in its decadence and lization is already in its decadence and discovered the public. There is no occursion for the producers to resort to casion for the producers to resort to the said of the public. There is no decaying the public. There had been some robberies in a usual district of Indiana, believed to have been committed by a gang in the neighborhood. A close watch was being kept and finally two men, Clifford Gordon and Bert Andrews, were detected breaking into a store. A struggle and fight occurred, and for the time being they escaped, but were followed and subsequently captured and then placed in jail. The robbers, it was said, had driven to the place where they were taken in 1830, and with the exception of the swilling to pay top prices, for the best grades of fruit, while the second and third grades are readily sake be to others who can't afford to purchase the best. We may note here that none of these men were accused or even suspected of a capital offence. In the case of Levi someone said the men had fled in his buggy, but it was neither proved nor alleged that it was done with his consent or knowledge. So, as to the robbery having been planned at Jenkins house, he was murdered on the simple rumor. The man Schuller seems to have been killed because he was conveniently found in the jail. Not even the form of a trial was allowed to these men. We should have shought that at the least the trouble might have been taken.

man in that enlightened country wants to destroy and get rid of a foe there is no better or more available means than of charging him with some loathsome crime and then organizing a lynching party for his killing without trial or trouble. That these four hundred men were guilty of murder in the first degree without an extenuating circumstance is without question, yet we donot suppose they will be punished, in fact, their public sentiment seems to appland the deed.

This plain statement of the facts connected with the last of these outrages is given for the consideration of our readers generally, and specially for a set of men we have in our midst, who are perpetually belauding Yankee institutions, and ever urging our statesmen to truckle and bend the knee to their over-bearing selfishness and arrogance.

Trade Marks.

No better protection is afforded to consumers or users of manufactured articles than the adoption of brands or trade marks, by which the goods become known, and both buyers and sellers are relieved from anxiety and imposition when the rule is rigidly adhered to.

The manufacturers of "Boeckh's Brushes and Brooms" have long since recognized this important fact, and have for years made it a study to protect the public from inferior imitations of their well-known manufactures.

Purchasers of such articles, who desire to have reliable standard brushes and brooms, whether for painting, varnishing or artists' use, or for household or stable purposes, should make it a point to see this brand on the goods, and insist on securing them thus marked.

The makers' guarantee goes with the brand, and if goods should prove in any way defective or unsatisfactory, the dealer is instructed to refund the money paid. Trade Marks.

missioner's report.

Ald Lamb explained that it would not have been legal for the board to appoint a deputy while it was in their power to appoint an assistant. That was why the report had been changed to read "deputy or assistant," while the report had read "deputy."

"It's the same old combination I am fighting now as the one which appointed the commissioner at $4000 per year." He recognized that he was "up against a stone wall." [Laughter.] He was satisfied that the commissioner would deal fair by and honorably.

Aid. Sheppard thought Ald. Lamb's was the most humiliating position he had ever seen an alderman placed in.

Ald. Lamb interjected that it was not as bad a position as Ald. Sheppard had been in.

Aid. Sheppard was quite willing to have Ald. Lamb recall any shady transaction he had ever had a hand in.

Ald. Lamb parried by saying that he did not deserve the censure of the Council and at any rate did not care whether he repeived it or not. Ald. Scott Wouldn't Stand 11.

Aid. Scott also took a fall out of the controller. It was not the first time that Aid. Lamb had tampered with reports of the board. He would not support a further increase in the expenses of the Assessment Department. He would support, however, a fair remuneration to Mr. Forman for past services.

Aid. Lamb spoke as an injured innacent. He had interpreted the intention of the board to be to appoint a deputy, which heling found to be illegal he had altered by adding "or assistant." There was at most no verbal resolution.

Aid. Burns sprung to Aid. Lamb's defence, and Aid. Beale's resolution as amended was then unanimously carried. The clause, accordingly, will go back to the board for reconsideration.

The Prapased Ferry Service.

Ald. Spence, Sheppard and Burns did not vote.

In Council, Ald. R. H. Graham, seconded by Ald. Rutter moved that the clauser advertising for tenders for the ferry service be refuse ted. The motion was lost on a division. The vote stood the same as that in committee, with Ald. Sheppard voting nay and Ald. Burns yea.

The Council adjourned at midnight.

Departmental Stores. Ald. Leslie has the following notice of motion on the paper:

"Whereas, the department stores are crushing out by unfair competition and misleading advertisements the specialist merchants throughout the cities and towns, and subjecting the smaller merchants and property-owners to great loss and distress and are concentrating the retail trade and commerce into the control of a very few persons, thereby congesting trade, and preventing the general circulation of currency and causing a depreciation in the values of store and residential property, and "Whereas, the closing of such specialist is the victim of a mysterious robbery, "Whereas, the closing of such specialist."

The Proposed Ferry Service.

When the clause with the proposed plans and specifications for a new ferry service came up, Ald. Lamb moved, seconded by Ald. Lamb moved, seconded by Ald. Lamb moved, seconded by Ald. Hubbard, that the clause reserving the advertising for plans to be advisable that the carlous or speculative enterprise.

Ald. Gowanlock did not think the present ferry company was making it pay.

Ald. Lesile supported the clause. Ald. Scott wanted a good ferry service, but did not want the city to go into it. If pay that company could not make would the propose it to a charge.

Ald. Hubbard called it a wildcat scheme, which would depreciate the value of the city wharf property.

"A plece of cheap clap-trap popularity," was Ald. Dunn's opinion of Ald. Hallam scheme.

Hallam and Bunn st it

Ald. Hallam retorted that Ald. Dunn had a swelled head. The new service would pay. He did not propose it to get votes, as Ald. Dunn, with his "miserable mind," had suggested.

Showing Up Surprisingly.

"The mines about the Lake of the Woods are showing up surprisingly, We who have made our strikes in the West have been ather skeptical about any mines of permanent value or of great number east of the Rocky Mountains. But my trip to that country up north and northwest of Lake Superior has opened my eyes. The Michipicoten fields have not been much prospected as yet, but they are making some splendid showings in the little development that has been done, and more men are going in there every day. I saw some samples of decomposed quartz there that were as rich in gold as any I have ever seen in my life. The rock is very easily workable and there will be some big piles made there or small capital."

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—Secretary Alger spent some time this morning in conference with President Weare and Michael Cudahy of the Alaska Transportation and Trading Company, They announced their intention to make every effort to get as much of the supplies at St. Michael up the Yukon as possible, and it is expected that three more steamers can be run up before the river closes entirely to navigation. Mr. Weare reported the steamer Humboldt gready to sail from Seattle for St. Michael next Thursday. Secretary Alger called a consultation of the Bureau officers of the War Department to hasten the preparations for the equipment of the troops who are to go forward to Alaska on that vessel. Mr. Weare said that the Transportation Company had, for the accommodation of this force, suitable quarters, which would serve as a temporary post, and the large supply of food stores at St. Michael would provision them.

Berlin, Ont., Sept. 20.—A serious stabbing affray took place here late Saturday night on Eigin-street. An altercation took place between Mr. and Mrs. Jessinghaus, in which the latter seized a butcher knife and stabbed her husband in the side near the heart. As soon as possible he made his way to the residence of Dr. Hett, who examined and attended to the wound. The instrument used was an ordinary butcher knife. It is yet uncertain as to the outcome of this rash act. The couple have not got along very well together. The woman, it is claimed, is the cause of the disagreement. The man, so the neighbors claim, is hardworking and steady.

Want to Call in Outsiders.

Ambassador Hay in his reply, which is very short, and is mainly a repetition of Lord Salisbury's language, calls attention to one important point that may have been overlooked by the British side, or else was ignored purposely, namely, that the conference is to be international in one sense, and is not to be confined entirely to representatives of the United States and Great Britain. This letter, which closes the correspondence up to this time, says:

"It may not be out of place for me to recall to your Lordship that, as I have already had occasion to mention, the President expects the Governments of Russia and Japan, powers interested in the preservation of the seal herds of Behring Sea, to be represented at the conference."

whose manager was Mr. James Price.

The Deposits.

On Jan. 1, 1881, Mr. Dill deposited $5000 in the savings department of the bank, on which he was to be paid 4 per cent. Interest for one year. After that he was to receive interest on the principal, and interest until Oct. 1, 1882, when the rate of interest was increased to 5 per cent. This was his arrangement with Manager James Price, who, according to Mr. Dill, was a business friend of his. By Nov. 1, 1886, the original $5000 had increased to $10,647.02.

On Feb. 18, 1887, Mr. Dill deposited $5480.36, to draw interest at 4 per cent. This sum he placed in the bank, through Mr. Price, who gave him a second passbook. This sum he used as a running account, drawing out several sums, and on Nov. 1 he claimed to have $5569.51 principal and interest on the last opened account. In all his two passbooks credited him with $10,216.53, At that date his troubles began.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Lady Laurier to visit this city as the guests of the board, and that on behalf of the board a banquet be tendered on that occasion; also that the co-operation of the civic authorities be sought in the direction of a public reception to the distinguished visitors."

The banquet will be given in the Pavillon, and the caterer will be Mr. G. S. McConkey.

LUETGERT'S LAMENESS

Was Not Due to Accident Wholly-He Got Into a Scuffle With a Strong Man in Prison.

Chicago, Sept. 20 .- It has come to light that Luetgert, the alleged wife murderer, indulged in a fight last Wed-The Case of the Manager.

Manager Price was dismissed for irregularities, according to the sworn testimony of J. H. Horsey, the present manager of the Esther-street branch, and Mr. Dill was asked for his passbooks, as there appeared to be some discrepancy about his account. The nature of the discrepancy became apparent when Mr. Dill was informed that all that the bank owed him, according to the iedger, was $1313.76, with interest from Line the same title in the part of the iedger, was $1313.76, with interest from Jan. 1, 1806, and that the hand drawn out the money which, with interest, would have made up and the signed of the iedger, was $1313.76, with interest, would have made up the interest from Linetgert saw that his opponent when I was getting the better of him he lost list temper and began "rushing" his man. Young, however, who is quick and nusckard, almost 20 feet, against the tile pavement and a steel door. Linetgert had to be he ped to his feet and almost carried to his cell. The jaintiff swore has a price of the this, and it may be weeks before he fully recovers.

The catter geneman took the stand, told the part of the money, and they were not entered in his passbook. The $5000 cheque was marked October, 1852, but not dated with the day of the month: the $3000 cheque was marked october, 1852, but not dated with the day of the month: the $3000 cheque was marked october, 1852, but not dated with the day of the month: the $3000 cheque was marked october, 1852, but not dated with the day of the month: the $3000 cheque was marked october, 1852, but not dated with the day of the month: the $3000 cheque was marked october, 1852, but not dated with the day of the month: the $3000 cheque was marked october, 1852, but not dated with the day of the month: the $3000 cheque was marked october, 1852, but not dated with the day of the month: the $3000 cheque was marked october, 1852, bu nesday afternoon with William Young, a prisoner confined in the same tier on whiskey and Seda in a Cellar.

Then came some interesting evidence. In reply to a question by Mr. Shepley, the plaintiff stated that he had signed two papers at Mr. Price's request. This was in, December, 1893. Price invited him down into the cellar under the bank into a place he called "Price's bar," and there they had a couple of drinks of whiskey and soda. He had had some before and was not too clear in his head. He signed two papers, he knew not what, but they had no writing upon them except his own name. About a week after he asked Price what they were, and not until the second time did Price say, "Those papers are all right; you'll never see them again, nor anybody else." He said they were cheques for small amounts, which he had taken out of each book. In January his pass books were balanced by Mr. Price and not thing about the cheques appeared.

Some Personal Questions.

Then Mr. Osfer took Mr. Dill in hand.
"You surely don't want to make out that you bear a great reputation for sobriety. Sober enough to appear on a temperance platform. Do you wish to destroy all that?"

Mr. Dill replied that he had perhaps them. It form Hal Hoffman, dated Juneau, Sept. 13, says: The first snow storm of the season swept over the mountains last night, which is one indication that the same thing is likely to occur at any time or likely to continue indefinitely. Under a Will-Appealing a Verdict

In Confederation Life Association ment. On June 24, 1896, Arthur L. Willson assigned to his mother all his interest

In the Court of Appeal, the appeal of the defendant in Grass v. Brodrecht from the judgment of Justice Robertson, on the verdict of the jury for $800, was not concluded. The piaintiff obtained the verdict for alleged indecent assault. The statement of claim set out that the assault was committed on June 1, 1896, though the plaintiff in examination for discovery declared that she could not fix the exact date. At the trial, Justice Robertson ailowed the statement of claim to be amended so as to allege the committal of the assault as of "on or about the 1st of June. He also appeals because he says that the trial judge permitted evidence to be given as to previous conduct of the defendant, but refused to allow any with regard to that of the plaintiff. Mr. Oliver was kept busy clearing the court room of numbers of the fair sex who, with their escorts, had come to gaze in admiration on our own Court of Appeal, without any notion of the kind of appeal which stern necessity compels Ontario's highest court to harr. Mr. Oliver took no notice of the escorts, who slipped back into the court room and left their fair charges to examine the paintings on the walls of departed judicial greatness.

AT THE SESSIONS.

Harris Herman, a Hebrew taflor, occupied the box at the General Sessions all day yesterday. The charge is that Herman on Aug. 2 stole $100 worth of boiler tubes from W. W. Park's yard on the Esplanade, and with the aid of Expressman John Taylor conveyed it to the store of Morris Abrahamson, 19 Edward-street, where he sold the spoil for $0.

Herman's defence is that he bought the iron from one of Park's employes, George Totten, who gave him a receipt for the sum of $7.50.

The latter took the stand and denied that Sum of $7.50.

The latter took the stand and denied that he had sold the iron, given any receipt, or indeed been near Park's yard on Civic Holiday, which he spent at home.

John Taylor, expressman, swore that Herman settled with some man at the corner of King and George-streets for the tubes, but failed to identify Totten as the man. minn. Morris Abrahamson stated that Herm had sold the pipes to him for $9, att which Herman took the stand and repeat the story that Totten had sold him t pipes. The case will be concluded to-day

Henry A. King & Co., 12 King street east, received the following despatch to-day from New York:

The stock market was lively enough to day to suit almost anyone. The bulls had a session of jubilation in the early hours, but before the close their enthuslasm received a severe chill, when the rate for call money advanced by quick stages from 2½, per cent, to 5 per cent, and, although there was a subsequent easement of the pressure, the reaction in the market was hardly equal to the decline, either in vizor NEW YORK STOCKS WEAK. pressure, the reaction in the market was hardly equal to the decline, either in vizor be or extent, and the close came with buyers on the anxious seat for the first time in many weeks. Henry Clews wired his correspondents that it was easier to buy than to sell at the going prices, and others talked the same way. The scare and slump took place only such a short time before the close that brokers had no chance to notify distant customers in time for action to-day, and for these reasons there is a feeling that probably the opening tomorrow will see a lot of selling orders on hand from longs, who will want to take profits.

McIntyre & Wardwell (John J. Dixon) received the following despatch to-day from New York:

The stock market was very irregular to-day, with mixed trading and sharp and frequent fluctuations from the start, covering a range of one to two points in the more active shares of the general railway list and industrials. There was more nest-tation displayed at the opening, owing to lower quotations from London and foreign houses turning up sellers. The pressure from this source, however, was not heavy, and upon the appearance of substantial buyring support, with good buying in the grangers, the general market guthered strength, and advances of ½ to ½ were established. It was reported that the Rock Island dividend rate would be increased to 4 per cent. basis, and the monthly statement on earnings of the St. Paul and Burlington companies, due at the end of the week, would show large net increase. The advance on the statement of earnings of Louisville & Nashville for second week of September shows $45,000 increase. Pacific Mail broke under realizing, and an organized bear rail was aided by bidding up the rate of call money to 4 per cent. It snowed its overbought conditions and susceptibility to bear attack, and made builish sentiment more conservative, at the same time encouraging the reactionists. We think the market would be greatly benefited if the long interest were further reduced.
