THE EVENING TIMES, ST. JOHN, N. B. THURSDAY, JANUARY 11, 1906.

BY DIRECT METHODS

BY JOHN B. OXFORD.

Briggs had drawn a chair to the open window and was deep in the financial page of the evening paper. So engrossed was he in the current value of hotel securities, that the chatter of Mrs. Briggs, who, in a long pink kimono, was sitting at the table before the mirror, fell on unheeding ears. He frowned indignantly at the sound of her voice, and his eyes were fixed on the paper and answered his wife in perfunctory monosyllables. But presently from Mrs. Briggs' lips there fell a certain ominous phrase that caused the paper to be lowered suddenly and his interest in securities to sink into the realm of instinctive.

THE POWDER DAMPENER

A former St. John editor once remarked concerning the conduct of the Globe that an open and outside foe could be met and reckoned with, but not the traitor within the gates, who dampened the powder of the garrison.

For years the Globe has waxed fat on the patronage of St. John business men, and yet time after time it has pursued a course in opposition to their best interests.

A flagrant instance was given yesterday when the Globe, at a time when the city council and board of trade are seeking to defend the reputation of the port from the attacks of a company seeking an excuse to withdraw its largest steamships from this port, published an article taking sides with the steamship company and furnishing all the enemies and all the rivals of this port with the most valuable hint of ammunition for their purposes.

With what else the Globe will be quoted wherever it is desired to create a prejudice against the claims, and the hopes and ambitions of this winter port.

This ought to be pretty nearly the limit. How long will St. John merchants continue to stand for this sort of thing? They have it in their power to convert the Globe into an ardent advocate of the interests of St. John. But so long as they say nothing, their silence will be interpreted as an evidence of approval.

For ten years St. John has been a winter port for steamships that go in summer to the St. Lawrence. For ten years these steamships have come and gone, and there has been no trouble whatever about keeping them afloat at all times of tide at the Sand Point or other berths.

The last included steamships of heavy tonnage and large draught, two of the new Allan line turbines being among them last season. There has been no trouble, and there would have been no outcry now but that the Allan was casting about for a gre-ment to withdraw their turbine steamships from this port. Among the steamships that have found or are finding ample water at the Sand Point berths are the following:-

Table with 3 columns: Steamer, Gross Tons, and Depth. Includes entries for Vancouver, Lake Manitoba, Mount Temple, Montreal, and Montezuma.

To this list should be added the Allan line Victoria, which was also here last year and found plenty of water at her berth.

The Globe professes to have found a man, whose name it does not publish, who has discovered very shallow water at the berths.

Harbor Master Ferris denies the accuracy of the soundings made on New Year's Day. He suggests that possibly the Globe's nameless expert is an applicant for the position of harbor inspector.

The Sun this morning appears to accept the Globe's statement as at least partially correct, and betrays an astounding ignorance of the facts of the case. But the Sun is in a transition stage. Yesterday Mr. Alfred Marikam was "managing director." Today he is merely "manager."

What the next change will be doth not yet appear. Can it be that the Sun is going to join hand and heart with the Globe? But whatever the Globe or the Sun may do, the duty of the citizen is as plain as before. They must as speedily as possible reject the untrue statements circulated by the Allan and their St. John agents.

AN UNFAIR STATEMENT The Times is neither the defender nor apologist for the young man who figured as the principal witness in the recent abortion case. It believes that there was in this case a lamentable failure of justice. But an article in last night's Globe is not fair as between the parties concerned. The Globe says:-

"Under all the circumstances of the case, the community will probably feel that no other verdict ought to have been given. And this, if not wholly satisfactory, is somewhat supported by recognition of the fact that the case took such a form as to create a state of opinion which, if it did not reach the jury, was yet active in the public mind. That arose out of the immunity which the real principal in the case secured by the course of matters. Whether the Crown acted wisely or not in this, it is not necessary to consider now; but the effect of this action in putting him upon the stand was to compel the public mind to comparison, which are odious."

The man whom the Globe styles "the principal in the case" did not volunteer to give evidence. He refused. But after the grand jury had found no bill in his case, and immediately upon his release, he was summoned by the crown. He was thus brought before the supreme court as a witness, and compelled to testify. Why should the public mind be prejudiced or public opinion changed regarding him or regarding the physician?

And why style him the principal in the case? The coroner's jury described him as "a party to the transaction" in which another was, in their opinion, based on the evidence, the principal.

The Globe also makes this cryptic observation: "And, in the trial of the whole question in the great court of public opinion, between all the parties connected."

There can be no doubt what the verdict is. The Globe does not explain this remarkable sentence. The Times believes the popular verdict is that a crime was committed, a life sacrificed, and nobody punished. The effect of such a verdict, following the publicity given to the whole affair, cannot but have a demoralizing effect upon minds susceptible to certain impressions conveyed by the evidence and the result of the investigation.

PRESIDENT HARPER A heroic soul passed on when President Harper of the University of Chicago breathed his last. Suffering with an incurable disease, aware of the fact that his case was hopeless, though he was yet in the prime of life and the fulness of his activities, he rose from the operating table to take up the burden of his work as long as his failing strength would permit.

Great as a scholar, and one of the foremost Hebrew scholars in America, he was even greater as the executive head of a leading educational institution. The University of Chicago owes its present greatness very largely to his ability. When money was needed, he was able to interest millionaires and secure lavish contributions.

Dr. Harper's death is a distinct loss, not only to the University but to the cause of education in America. All over the United States and Canada are men who were once students at the University of Chicago, and who realize and will mourn the loss sustained.

THE NEW BERTH One obvious remark in connection with the statement of the city engineer relative to the new berth is that it seems scarcely worth while to make specifications and waste valuable time discussing them, if the process of changing them is to begin as soon as the work is fairly started.

What a different class of contractor or may not have cost the contractor has nothing whatever to do with the case. The question naturally arises: How many more changes may be deemed expedient? Also: Why not delegate to the city engineer power to go ahead without any specifications or the employment of any inspector?

Bridgetown, N. S., can sell produce of its factories in the west and in the old country. This is an encouraging fact in connection with St. John's forward movement.

A cargo that was carried away from this port by one of the C. P. R. steamships this week was valued at considerably over half a million dollars.

An interesting statement of exports from St. John to the United States appears in today's Times.

PROSECUTION CLOSES IN FRANCIS ORR CASE

Halifax, N. B., Jan. 10.-In the Francis Orr case, for concealing the birth of her child, Neeman Goddard, the reputed father of the child, testified today that he kept company with the prisoner for two years. On December 14 he drove her from Apohaqui to her home in Sussex. She said she was sick, but all right, and did not need a doctor. He asked her if she was enceinte, and she replied that she did not think so. Her grandmother was away from home and he left the girl with Mrs. Emeline Howley.

Mrs. Emeline Howley stated that on December 14th the prisoner came to her showing signs of being in trouble. She saw indications of childbirth, but no baby. The girl remained in bed all next day and until 10 o'clock Saturday morning. She did not ask if she had given birth to a child. Cross-examined by Mr. Howley, she admitted that she did nothing to assist or relieve the girl, though it was none of her business, but would have done what she could if the girl had asked her.

Dr. D. H. McAllister testified to his attendance on the prisoner at William Pearson's house at Apohaqui from December 17 at the request of Coroner Pearson. She denied having given birth to a child or of any knowledge of a child found in the closet of the house where she stayed at Sussex. He found on examination, sufficient evidence to convince him that she had given birth to a child. He made a post-mortem examination of the body of the child. It was a male with no marks of violence upon it. The lungs did not fill, the cavity showing that it had breathed but a very short time. The heart and brain were normal.

Dr. McAllister said that if the girl had received careful attention the child would probably have lived, although there was no certainty. The girl certainly did not have the attention and care her condition demanded. Asked the cause of the child's death, Dr. McAllister said he was of the opinion that it succumbed from weakness or exhaustion.

Dr. G. N. Pearson testified that the child was a good healthy baby. He said no responsibility could rest upon the prisoner for any act immediately after childbirth, as she might have been in a semi-conscious condition. If Mrs. Howley had acted the part of midwife, that would have been "reasonable assistance."

William McLeod, Sussex, town umbrella, testified to the finding of the body of the child and the arrest of the prisoner, whose age he knew to be sixteen years. She was born April 1, 1889.

Other witnesses were: Michael Howley, Undertaker Wallace and George H. Mac ash, whose testimony closed the case for the crown, and the court adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Mention's wife electronic take place on Jan. 29 and so far only one candidate has definitely announced himself. Dr. E. O. Stevens is an applicant for the mayor's chair. It is expected that his opponent will be Dr. R. L. Bosford.

BRIDGETOWN INDUSTRIES

A Nova Scotia Town that Has a Growing Western Market.

"Made in Bridgetown" goods have for some years past been forging ahead and can now be found in every important market in Canada between the Atlantic and the Pacific, in Great Britain and Newfoundland, and they have even made an entry into the New England states, where at the present time several canvassers are engaged in selling bottles, racks and paper holders - two articles manufactured by J. H. Hicks & Sons. During the year just closed over 75,000 pairs of Bridgetown larrigans were disposed of throughout Canada and Newfoundland and over 200,000 gallons of the best elder vinegar left the two factories here, a great deal of it going to Great Britain; from 25,000 to 30,000 barrels were sent to provincial ports, and over 400 cabinets, referred to previously, were turned out by the Hicks factory every month. These items a lot of stove and foundry castings were shipped, thousands of bricks were made and sold, carriages and sleighs were built and sent away, and a large number of bottles of ketchup manufactured, and on the whole every line of manufacturing represented here and in profitable year. Speaking of the larrigan factory alone their output increased fifty per cent. over that of 1904 and the number of larrigan employees was increased from forty to fifty. The tannery was enlarged and a steam plant was put in to run the machinery. In buying the preference was given to those produced in Nova Scotia, but enough cannot be obtained from this source and it was found necessary to import. In connection with hides, it may be interesting to note that the price of the 1904 output of larrigans will have to be increased 25 per cent. It speaks for the prosperity of Canada during 1905 that with this large output going to all portions of the Dominion, the company has found collections exceedingly good and have not lost one cent in bad debts during the whole year.

Empire Lumber, too, has largely increased its territory during 1905. A new company, with a good capital, has been organized and they are stretching out to make the great Northwest, where a depot is soon to be established from which an expert will direct the company's forward movements.

Both the vinegar factories have done a good business and one of them has made a special effort to catch the British trade, a member of the firm having spent some time in England. Their efforts have not been in vain and it is getting to be established that a market has already been established there.

On the whole, industrial Bridgetown starts the new year full of hope. The loss of one of the factories - that of the Messrs. Hicks - by fire two weeks ago, is lamentable.

It is gratifying to learn that they have decided to rebuild in Bridgetown. They had been anxious to catch the British trade, but Ontario or Maine, but fortunately for the town, gave up the idea. In proportion to population Bridgetown is probably more largely engaged in manufacturing than any other town in the province, but nevertheless cannot afford to lose any of its industries.
