DAMAGE estimated at $125,000 was done by fire that broke out at 8.30 o'clock this morning in zero weather in Princess street, and before it was anally checked had destroyed completely the St. John Garage, a building in for storing cars, a dwelling house and a store owned by Mrs. Isabelle Blizard, as well as several wooden buildings in the rear, in addition to causing heavy damage to adjoining structures.

Eight Buildings Affected.

In all four structures were completey destroyed and four other buildings damaged. The latter include the Camdamaged. The latter include the Cam-tron building, facing on Charlotte Do Proposing street, and housing the Dominion garage and the Imperial alleys, which are

As we said on Saturday, the time has arrived for action that for promises has passed. People of the Maritimes will welcome the renewed assurance of the President of the Canadian Pacific Railway—an assurance first made by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy some years ago—that his line would handle import and export reight through St. John in winter at as low a rate and give as satisfactory delivery as any other port offered. Sir Henry Thornton, on the other hand, is not explicit. During his unexpected absence from Montreal, he left it to his officials when they met the representative of these newspapers to repeat his assurance of last November, which depended upon the appointment of a Maritime Province

The Telegraph-Journal and Times-Star, on his way West in the interests of the Maritime Canadian ports, stands out in striking contrast to the indefinite promise of Sir Henry Thornton of the Canadian National Railway, in this city on Novem-

Although two months have nearly elapsed, and in spite of the very strong support given to those suggestions of Sir Henry, the Commission which he recommended has not been appointed and to our knowledge no steps are being taken in

There is no commission for Sir Henry Thornton to depend upon in this matter. The hopes of the Maritime Provinces for consideration must really rest with him and his associates, as well as with the executive of the Canadian Pacific Railway. We know what the latter has done, and we believe that the recent promise it made to the people here, through the press and to Mr. Belding on Saturday, will be energetically carried out.

NOW, what we look for is similar action on the part of the executive of the Canadian National Railways. We have a right to expect it even more than from the Canadian Pacific Railway, because the Canadian National is owned by the people of the Maritime Provinces in common with the rest of Canada. Our interests, therefore, should surely be guarded and not disregarded by this great transportation system. When Sir Henry Thornton says that "if the commission, after consideration of what is needed in the Maritimes, thinks that it is necessary for the Canadian ports to be used entirely in preference to American ports, their recommendation would go a long way," he is absolutely indefinite. That is not the sort of an assurance we can be satisfied with. There is no commission and there is no prospect of any recommendation. What we expect from Sir Henry Thornton and the staff of the National Railway, of which he is head, is that they should let it be known to the shippers of the west that they desire their freight to be routed for export through the ports of Canada. That is the kind of talk President Beatty has given us and that is what we expect also from Sir Henry Thornton-

MR. BELDING'S report of his first day's activities includes much else that is of interest, notably an interview with Mr. R. S. White, the editor-in-chief of the Montreal Gazette, the leading morning newspaper of the Province of Quebec, in which he makes it plain that Canadian money should not be spent to provide terminal facilities in future at Portland as against St. John, and adds, regarding the general situation in the Maritime Provinces, that "the rest of the country should consider whether it would not be a good national investment to lend such aid as would place these provinces in the path of progress, make their people contented and so strengthen the

In other words, let us build up Maritime Canada even if it is some expense to the rest of the country. We in this eastern portion of Canada never hesitated when it was necessary to build canals through the Province of Ontario. The expense did not matter. We knew we would be taxed for it in common with other provinces, but we have borne that burden cheerfully feeling that it was necessary for the products of the wonderful prairie country to find their way to the sea by the cheapest possible route. By reason of the construction of the wonderful canal system, Montreal is a great summer port and the St. Lawrence route is used to the advantage of all Canada. Why then should there be any opposition to the Canadian winter ports of the Maritimes being developed at the public's expense and used to the uttermost in preference to foreign outlets?

Another Family Turned Out.

The family of J. Goodin, at 129 princess street, just below the McAlprincess street, and just a street of the orchestra as well as the library of music, there was a scurry to save this property.

The lockers of the orchestra contained dress suits, etc. All were saved from damage.

This morning the theatre staff and extra helpers were getting the house.

What Comprises High Living? Asks Consumer.

The high cost of living is the cost of high living. Just what constitutes "high living" is not always clear, but it is a sure thing that a liberal consumption of milk cannot be considered extravagant. This food is a necessity to children, penalized by a high price. It was high, actually fifteen cents, but the Purity Milk Company forced down the price to twelve cents, winning the approval of hundreds of families in poor circumstances. In fairness to this company, they should receive all the support possible from every milk consumer. Place your order with

Asks Freight Information

OTTAWA, Jan. 19—Dr. Murray MacLaren, junior member of the City of St. John, N.B., and counties of St. John and Albert, has given notice of his intention to request the following information at the opening session of Parliament:

1. What ships of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine were employed in carrying freight from New London, Coan., overseas, in 394?

2. What is the record of shipments in carload quantities of freight so carried, originating in Canada and passed over the Canadian National Railways to Fortland, Maine, for transportation overseas, in Montreel of the Interests of the Maritime Provinces.

The Montrose of the Canadian were using their present grain capacity at St. John to the limit and would continue to do so through the present season, and that they had approved plans and urged the beginning of work at the earliest possible moment on the first unit of the two terminals in Courtenay Bay, was the reply made today by J. E. Daltymple, vice-president, to a question as to the attitude of the C. N. R. toward St. John.

He said it was the policy of the railway to use all its ports, but added that no appropriation was being sought to enlarge the terminals at Portland, Mesir Henry Thornton, he said, was smooth sympathetic in relation to the development of Maritime ports, and problems of both east and west.

"To make it clear to you that Canada, west of your province, also has problems," said Mr. Archibald, "I may say that today the Montreal Star issued a meal to 950 men who cannot get work, and that twice last week the number went over a thousand."

What has impressed the writer more than anything else in these three days in Montral is the readiness of the people he has met to give an attentive and sympathetic hearing, even while they direct attention to problems elsewhere than in the Maritimes and confess that they have no "ready-made" solution.

Thinking! Thinking!

But they are thinking, and are not excluding the Maritime Provinces from their thought. The question of diverting all Canadian trade to Canadian channels they regard as one surrounded by difficulties which cannot be removed at one stroke. Later conferences with business men, after the tour of the west, will shed more light on this question.

Special to The Telegraph Journal.

DIGBY, Jan. 19—The people in Digby county, and also throughout Nova Scotia, were greatly interested in the announcement which appeared in The Telegraph-Journal on Saturday relating to the sending of A. M. Belding on a mission to different parts of Canada in the interest of the Maritime Provinces. They claim that while many Maritime papers have discussed in their columns the question of Maritime Rights, and have also given columns of space to this important subject, none have come forward and were willing to bear the expense of sending a representative to Ottawa or to any part of Canada.

The St. John's (Stone) church Guild last night held its annual supper and had as its special guests Mrs. A. L. Fleming and the past presidents, Mrs. C. F. Gorham, Mrs. George Murray and Mrs. F. W. Nichols. Mrs. C. F. Francis was the general convener for the supper which was daintily served with very pretty decorations of paper white narcissus in very many small vases. The general color scheme was green and white and yellow. Miss Edith Skinner, president, was in the chair. After the supper guessing games were played and a delightful musical programme was given. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Rev. John Unsworth, who had given a special address under the auspices of the Guild.

J. McMenamin Hurled To Death on Steamer Montrose

DROPS 60 FEET

Guy Rope Said To Have Caught Foot of Unfortunate 'Longshoreman

Falling 60 feet from the top deck into the hold of the steamer Montrose at her dock, Sand Point, John McMenamin, 'longshoreman, was dashed headlong to almost instantaneous death shortly after 9 o'clock last night. The shocking tragedy was believed to be purely accidental and to have been caused by the slipping of a guy rope, one end of which had been twisted around McMenamin's foot.

The hatches were being put on the hold at the time and McMenamin was holding on to the guy rope. As it came forward, carrying him over the hold, one account of the accident said, his attention was distracted by said, his attention was distracted by the rope end around his foot and he tried to kick loose from that hindrance, unheeding his dangerous plight dangling over that fearful chasm. Had he not been distracted by the rope end he might have been able to save himself by catching the heavy rope running the length of the hold.

His companions, horror-struck at the accident, sent a hurry call for the ambulance and others went quickly to the bottom of the hold to discover how serious had been the injuries sustained.

Mat McGraw who was in charge of the gang of which McMenamin was one was his brother-in-law and Police Sergeant Fred O'Neill in West St. John, also a brother-in-law, was called quickly.

Dr. F. L. Kenney, coroner, was hastily summoned and he viewed the body, giving permission for its removal for burial. He found the skull very badly fractured and was convinced that death had been instantaneous. He did not think he would hold an inquest.
When the ambulance was sent for word was also sent to the General Public Hospital to have everything in readiness to receive the accident case but the unfortunate man was beyond the need of ambulance or acspital when the ambulance arrived at the docks in West St. John.

The ship's company had been enjoying a social evening and dance at the time and immediately the commander, Captain E. Landy, had been told of the tragedy he ordered the dance stopped. Every one on board was horrified to hear of the tragedy and every one was eager to render what help could be given and to assure the sorrowing of heartfelt sympathy.

So Nancy and the Fairy Queen climbed over the window sill and there they were right in Bobby's room where all his tracks and toys and books were—but not in the best order, I must say.

The little ark animals were scattered all about. Some were lying on their sides and the elephant was lying on his back in a corner, his four feet sticking straight up into the air in a most dis-mal manner.

"Get up, everybody," said Nick, "and make a bow to the Queen."

Instantly all the animals scrambled up and bowed, although it was very difficult for the elephant.

Foreign Trade. France commands a great export market. Her exports are destined chiefly for Great Britain, Belgium-Luxemburg, the United-States, Switserland, Italy, Germany, Argentina. They consist largely of silken goods, cottons, clothing, chemicals, wine, lace, automobiles, and hewn timber. French imports are coal and coke cereals, raw cotton, cast iron and steel, wool and machinery, and come in great quantity from the United States, Great Britain, Belgium, Argentina, Italy and Germany. Exports aggregated 19,187,000 tons in the first ten months of the past year as compared with 18,212,000 tons in 1922 and 17,846,000 tons in 1913. EXCEPTIONAL PROFITS FOR ASTUTE INVESTORS We Believe that an investment made today in French Government 6% Bonds (issued Dec. 16th1920—Redeemable on or after January 1st, 1931), presents an exceptional opportunity for profit on any material advance in the value of French money (franca).

Due to the depreciation of French franca, a French Government 6% Bond can now be bought for approximately $45.00; with French Exchange at normal (19.3c per franc) these same bonds would have a value of $193.00 each.

International bankers believe that French francs will sell above 10c per franc before very lond of 1,000
think what it means to French Government securities; when the franc touches 10c, each bond of 1,000 francs would have a value of $100.00—a rise of over 125% of a profit of $55.00 for every $45.00 invested.

We made a thorough investigation to determine the best way to buy French francs for maximum profits.

We believe that the French Government 6% Bonds, maturing after 1931, afford the best medium, for they represent to French Investors precisely what the high grade British Government Consols and our own Canadian Government Victory Bonds represent to us, being legal investments for every natitution, Trust Fund and Savings Bank in France and constitute a strictly high-grade glit-edged government investment. They may be sold again instantly, being listed on the Faris Stock Exchange (Bourse).

The interest coupons have always been paid promptly on the dot and can be cashed in Montreal, New York, London and the principal financial centres of the world at the current rate for francs.

French Government Bonds will unquestionably come back to normal ($193.00 per 1,000 francs). The Seventy-five per cent. of the total damage done by the German armies in the devastated regions of Northern France has now been made good and this remarkable result has been achieved by France alone. The provinces of the north have recovered their entire pre-war population of 4.278,000 inhabitants and the terrible ravages of war will soon be wiped out.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20—Whenever the market advances a great deal of stock is brought out. Whenever it goes down excellent support develops. How long this support will last is problematical. Few stocks are able to make much hearway on upside and the inability of a great many issues to improve their selling level tends to increase the profittaking. It's quite likely bullish demonstrations will continue in a few issues in the hopes of putting the market higher. It is well to cut down commitments whenever stocks are strong. Bullish demonstrations can be expected to continue in Steel, DP., and ME. and these stocks may work higher. In general still prefer the oils, rubbers and leathers as stocks which are behind the market and which can be bought on reactions.

Our interest does not cease after a sale, for it is our constant aim to keep in touch with our clients, to render them service, posting them when the bonds rise in market value, and advising them whether or not we deem it advisable to sell. J. Pierepont Morgan, probably the greatest financier the world has ever known, is recently quoted as saying:

"We have absolute confidence not only in the resources of France, but even more in the intelligent and industrious population...

"We have seen "I'll be indicable in the accomming domain... In any but the interest income becomes automatically augmented. For instance, each bond of 19,000 francs yields an income of 600 francs per annum.

At the present rate of the franc holders of French Government 6% bonds receive interest at the rate of about 7½%. As the franc rises the interest or return on the principal, automatically increases.

With the franc quoted only at 8 cents, the holder of these bonds would receive $48.00 in Canadian money for each 600 francs yearly interest income. This is a good return on an original outlay of $450.00, representing as it does, an interest rate of about 11 per cent instead of 6%. With the franc at 10 cents, or $100.00 per 1,000 francs, the interest income converted into Canadian currency would amount to $60.00, equivalent to an income return of 14% on the principal invested. When the franc is quoted at 15c or $150.00 per 1,000 francs, every 600 francs will be worth $90.00 in Canadian money; this return represents an interest rate of over 19% on an investment of $450.00. When the franc reaches par, the annual interest in Canadian currency will be $115.00 for every 600 francs, this return is equivalent to an interest rate of over 25 per cent on $450.00.

As remarked elsewhere, you do not have to cash your interest coupons as soon as they become due. You can hold each interest coupon for five years after redemption date. This will permit you to dispose of them at materially higher rates than at the present time.

The important fact to remember, however, is that your principal increases in value as the franc rises.

Rarely has the investment public been offered an investment that returns such an attractive yield with absolute guaranty of both principal and interest.

Thousands of our clients in Canada and the United States have purchased these sound, high-grade, French Government Bonds. They placed their money where it will return them a handsome income together with a unique opportunity of reaping a liberal profit.

As the security is unequalled—and the Investment thoroughly saf one month's time—we bought back the same tones at a pict of vivolon or curring a profit of $905.00 for every $245.00 invested.

Thousands of C. M. Cordasco & Company's clients, scattered throughout the length and breadth of Canada have become comparatively wealthy by investments made in selected securities upon our recommendation.

Fortunes are earned every day by far-sighted investors in selected foreign government and municipal bonds which we recommend.

Many investors, heretofore compelled to be satisfied with 3 and 4% interest on their principal have liquidated their former holdings and purchased French Government 6% Bonds.

They are, as a result, in great demand and it is not at all unlikely that the decreased floating supply alone will cause them to rise in value. We believe present purchasers will receive handsome profits during 1925. French Government 6% Bonds will rapidly increase in value. ORDERS FILLED IN ROTATION

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS Miss T. Hunter, R.R. No. 8, London Ont., Writes:-"I wish to recommen Burdock Blood Bitters to all women who are suffering from pimples or any years ago I was greatly troubled with pimples and sores breaking out on my face, and could get no relief until. take B.B.B. This I did, and I am now glad to say that your remedy has given me the desirable results, and I now have a nice smooth, clear skin, as it has eliminated all the impurities from my blood." finally, a friend recommended me to Get B.B.B. when you ask for it; it has been on the market for the past 46 years; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Along the Sport Trail

-By RAY HANSEN-A FRENCHMAN'S views on baseball should prove interesting reading to baseball fans. His observations were made after witnessing the Giants and White Sox in their recent tour. He said: "There is the rather unique situation of one man being opposed to nine. The batter gets to the plate and tries to hit the ball. Nine men are opposed to him. It sounds paradoxical, but it is true nevertheless that the pitcher throws the ball to the catcher and over a sack called the home plate in the hope that he gets the ball where the batter can hit it but fails to do so. If he puts the ball beyond reach of the batter he is penalized and yet if the batter hits the ball he is not considered as having done his duty to his team. "Then, too, it seems a little one-sided to have the batter up there alone. If he connects with the ball the opposing side has unrestricted opportunity to recover it. What we in France expected to find was that the other members of the batter's team also would be on the field and that they would do all in their power to keep the opposing side from be competition and would make baseball a faster and more exciting "There is another factor in the great American game that has a drawback from our point of view, and that is the fact that when a side is at bat it may be retired without all the nine players facing the pitcher. Some of them come in from the field and just sit on the sidelines, or bench as it is called, and rest and when three of their side have been put out they go onto the field again. In Rugby and soccer the players are active during the whole of the playing time, but in baseball there is a lot of resting, a factor which detracts from the in-getting the ball when it was batted. To our point of view that would terest of the sport." This criticism is rather amusing to a ball fan. Imagine a team lined-up on a field and their opponents crouched ready to spring on them as they started to stop a liner or catch a fly. The only person who could successfully play a game of this kind would be Tex Rickard, and his line-up would in all probability be Jack Dempsey, centre field; Harry Wills, right field; Tommy Gibbons, left field; Louis Firpo, first base; Jack Renault, second base; Jean Tunney, third Louis Firpo, first base; Jack Renault, second base; Jean Tunney, third base; Young Stribling, short-stop; Mickey Walker, pitcher; "Tiger" Flowers, catcher. The visit of the major league teams to France has been convincing. The difference in nationalities between the two countries are such that it apparently is not easy for one to adopt the peculiar sport of the other. In future it would be better for the Giants and White Sox to stay at home and play in their own back yard.

A SPECIAL three cushion match between Robert Cannefax and A SPECIAL three cushion match between Robert Cannefax and Willie Hoppe, which was to have started yesterday in New York was called off when Kline, manager of Cannefax, delayed his approval of the Boston series. The former is the world's three-cushion champion and the latter the balkline title holder. Billiard players all over the world have been awaiting this test between these skilled exponents and the cancellation will be generally recreated. and the cancellation will be generally regretted.

CAN LOCAL boxing fans conceive a meeting between two exponents of the manly art who tip the scales at 325 pounds? In Húll, England, there are two such stalwart or rather corpulent boxers, who have been providing entertainment at recent shows. They wear two ounce gloves. The average fan would conjure up all kinds of visions in his mind as he pictures the two huskies clash—terrific blows, shattered ribs and various other deformities resulting. Far be it from such, however, judging from cuts of the two. They may only wear two ounce gloves, but they are soft enough, judging from their appearance. The real danger would seem to exist in a collision. As far as hitting each other it would be quite impossible unless they stood side on. A knockdown would apparently be as good as a knockout for by the time either could regain his equilibrium more than 10 seconds would elapse.

Entry Blanks For City Skating Series Now Ready

The entry blanks for the City of St. John Speed Skating Championships are ready and can be obtained by the speedsters at the store of A. Fred de Forest, 110 Prince William street. The meet is being held under the auspices of the St. John Amateur Skating Association and the entries will close or Saturday, January 24. Great Opportunity.

This is a great opportunity for all senior and junior skaters in the city to compete in a wonderful programme, and with the hundred or more St. John fliers the entry list should be large. The registration cards can be obtained The registration cards can be obtained from Fred Logan at the Victoria Hotel, King street, or Elmer Ingraham, at the Post Office, the fee for seniors is 25 cents and the juniors can obtain their cards free but it is necessary that all should be registered. The fact that Charlie Gorman and Willie Logan will represent the St. John Association on the circuit, and Roy Lawson and Tommy Tebo will go away unattached, is

The other orchestral selections were an intermezzo-scene "In A Revision Market" by the control of the were an intermezzo-scene "In A Persian Market" by Ketelbey and some ragtime, the popular "Limehouse Blues." The former selection was descriptive of a market in Teheran—the camels, the Princess, the beggars—and was artistically interpreted. Miss Estelle Fox sang the technically difficult and very sweet waltz number from Romeo and Juliet to remember it. It is a closely-knit iove story, now evoking a tender smile, now bringing a tear through the power of its pathos. In short, it is ideal motion picture entertainment. And Director John Francis Dillon, the creator of "Flaming Youth," has interpreted it with life-like fidelity.

It amyses the Weather Man to read in the papers and also hear good folks tell of the great depths to which the mercury goes in their localities or some other places, such readings as 40, 45 and 50 below zero. As a matter of fact, Mr. Hutchinson says, the mercury becomes solid itself at 39.7 and only specially constructed gauges can register the extreme instances.

He read where there was a 44 below mark reached in Woodstock in this late spell which is probably correct for the thermometer on the Vocational School building there is a scientific instrument tested in England and retested on this side. Mr. Hutchinson does not deny that certain localities may be colder than others in a comparatively small area of territory but he looks askance at many of the sensational reports taken from cheap thermometers. It is a case of the cheap watch and the perfected one.
