SIMPSONS BUILT IN HALIFAX.

A site was purchased in Halifax, by the Robert Simpson Co., Ltd., of Toronto and contracts have already been let for the construction of a five-story fireproof mail-order building of 100 by 800 feet. The intention is to push the erection of the building, to have it ready for occupation in autumn. The site is near St. Patrick's Home, in the north end of Halifax. Halifax contractors secured the foundation contract.

A member of the 102nd Pioneer Infantry was about to embark for home. Stepping into a hut he bought a package of cigarettes. Opening it he found a letter expressing the hope that the recipient would enjoy the smokes. To his surprise the letter was signed by his own mother.

LIFT OFF CORNS WITH FINGERS

Drop a little Frezzone on an aching corn, instantly that corn vanishes. Then you lift it right out. Yes, magic! A tiny bottle of Frezzone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes and the calluses, without surgery or irritation. Frezzone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius.

SCHOOL CHILDREN, ATTENTION, PLEASE!

THOSE WHO HAVE BEEN INSTRUCTED IN SINGING BY MISS ROBINSON
THE MAYOR'S EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT are pleased to accept the offer of Dr. A. F. Emery, chairman of the Board of School Trustees and also of Dr. H. S. Bridges, superintendent of Schools, to have a large choir of public school children sing welcoming numbers to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales upon his arrival on this side of the ocean Aug. 15. The event will be an historic one and an extraordinary occasion for all who participate. So, all children who have been trained by Miss Robinson, vocal instructress in the schools, are asked to assemble in the High School auditorium Tuesday morning next at 10 o'clock for organization and rehearsal. Everything will be fully explained at that gathering. Children living in suburban localities for the holidays are asked to come in if at all possible. The whole city is preparing for the event with wonderful enthusiasm and it is very desirable that our school children be honored with a conspicuous part in the proceedings.

Newsprint From Philippines
The Philippines are in a position not only to supply newsprint for domestic needs, but to export large quantities of this product. According to a report just made by the Director of the Bureau of Forestry, the raw materials available, such as the bamboo and two kinds of grasses, the cogon and the tiliab, are of such good quality and can be so cheaply secured that if this industry is given careful study the islands will not need to import annually $2,000,000 worth of paper as heretofore.

WORK FOR EVERYBODY.

The time of preparation for the welcome to the returned soldiers and the Prince of Wales is short and there is much to be done. It will be necessary to arouse once more the community enthusiasm which marked the response to appeals in war time. It is a matter for all the citizens and should be the chief topic of conversation for the next two weeks. The city should be looking its best on the two days; but, most important of all, the amplest provision should be made to ensure the personal comfort of every soldier guest. If there is to be a procession, and there certainly should be, it should be one of the best ever seen in the city. There will be no lack of spots for there are at least three fairly good playgrounds, and the fact that they are available is the best evidence of the wisdom of the effort to organize improvement of the city. These leagues and their grounds will now be of great service. The revival of aquatic sports will be another interesting feature. Whatever features of interest for the two days' celebration can be devised and successfully carried out should have strong community backing behind them. It will do St. John a world of good to get out of the rut and make a new record for itself while it is paying a small tribute to the soldiers and extending a welcome to the Prince of Wales.

ROUND THEM ALL UP.

The suggestion that St. John should be made bone dry during the days of the August celebration is one that should be carried out with the utmost vigor. It may be taken for granted that the bootleggers are planning for a fish harvest. To fill a visitor with liquor of the knock-out variety and then empty his pockets would be no more than one too faithful soldier after receiving his discharge pay. Between now and the date of the celebration the most numerous of the bootleggers should be rounded up, and if they can be locked up the good name of the city will suffer less. It is said, and is doubtless true, that the most notorious of the gang are well known to many citizens. They ought to be as well known to the inspectors. If more inspectors are needed they should be appointed, and a relentless campaign begun to end the traffic or fill the jail. Whoever can give any information to the officers should give it, and the police department as well as the inspectors should make a determined effort to make the city safe for every returned soldier and every other citizen who may come. This is of far more importance than repairing streets or putting out flags.

WHAT PROHIBITION MEANS.

Touching the matter of prohibition the Christian Science Monitor sees much cause for satisfaction in the passage of the enforcement bill at Washington by such an overwhelming majority. It points out that however much advice the opponents of prohibition may make the congressmen know what is in the mind of the great silent masses of the people. "Consequently," it says, "when they declare the temper of the nation in an overwhelming majority, the wise man notes the sign of the times. And the sign of the times, in the present connection, is this: that the world is growing better all the time, without the exportation of material indulgence being, perhaps, aware of it. Men may still inhabit a wild field to field, and house to house, and build their greater barns, but they do not at any rate desire to add still to still or vat to vat, or to build more palatial saloons."

The Monitor points out very truly that though the forces of evil would gladly see the drunkard abolished, the conditions would not be improved to any extent if this were done. We quote again:

"The worst effect of strong drink has never been the taking of it in excess. Bad as that has been, it has been comparatively slight, and by reason of its offensiveness has always provided its own antidote. It is the taking of strong drink in moderation, so-called, which has, without revealing the fact, engendered human sensuality and promoted mental lassitude. The drunkard is only the strongly defined example of a process of mental depletion to infinitesimal and so subtle in its ordinary effect as to reduce a man's normal resistance of mental domination without letting the cat out of the bag. The conquest of strong drink means then the conquest of sensuous appetite in a way which must lead to the strengthening of a man's, and so of a nation's, moral fiber. With the strengthening of this fiber must come a sterner resistance to every other form of sensuous indulgence which the suggestive forces of the human mind can urge against the individual's dormant perception of principle. Is it any wonder then that the battle is to the death, and that defeated evil uses every trick of suggestion known to it to vilify or destroy its conqueror? This last is the lesson humanity, perhaps, needs most to learn for what it does learn it."

It will continue to take sides with its enemies against its friends. The hidden hand has gauged this phase of the conflict to a nicety. The devil, says old Bishop Latimer in his homily and hearty way, is a busy bishop in his own diocese.

There is so much wisdom in these remarks that they are worthy of earnest thought at a time when "the hidden hand" is very busy all over this continent trying to avert the inevitable, and to prolong the sway of alcohol over the destinies of men.

Toronto Globe: "The One Big Union, with its weapon, a general strike, is not only an enemy of established trade unionism in Canada, but an equally great menace to the industrial welfare of the whole country. It has been promoted at a time when all employers are disposed to recognize, and the majority of them have already recognized, the international trade union system, and are willing to deal with the individual unions in settling disputes which may arise from time to time. The principle of collective bargaining with employers has been won by the international trade unions after many years of struggle, and it would be folly on their part to throw away the fruits of their victory. Most of these unions have earned the respect of the employer by standing to their agreements and the employer, on his side, would regret to see them overthrown by an irresponsible and unreasoning body such as the One Big Union."

Westminster Gazette: "Royalty is a little inclined to overdo things just now. The King and Queen are said to be looking forward eagerly to the closing of their engagement books this season and the possibilities of rest, and the Prince of Wales can have had very few hours to himself in the last few months. Our royal house has set a very high standard for itself during the war, but there are limits to human endurance, and always to be the centre of every function makes very big demands on that endurance. Let us hope they will be content to take things a little more easily henceforward."

Touching the matter of abutting paving half the cost of street improvement the following dispatch from Sandwich, Ontario is of local interest: "The county council of Essex have decided to build a 32-foot pavement commencing in Tilbury township west through the village of Comber, a distance of nearly one mile, the county paying for 16 feet and the properties fronting on same to pay for 8 feet for each side."

The Standard says the defeat of the tory government in Prince Edward Island is a warning to the Foster government. On the contrary the warning is to governments that are tory in their complexion.

The English are a wonderful people. A few days ago a huge coal strike threatened disaster to the nation. Today the strike is settled.

Sir Arthur Pearson, who not long ago became blind, tells how his misfortune made him really more self-reliant. "When I found my sight was doomed," he says, "I concluded that I had better dispense with the services of the personal attendant who had looked after me for years, as otherwise he would probably become a stumbling-block in the path of blind proficiency. I have frequently been congratulated upon the skill with which my valet ties my bow tie. But I have to take the compliment to myself. My valet neither ties my tie nor does anything else for me, the very simple reason being that I have the very simple reason being that I have."

Many people and things are done in the name of charity.—London Blythly.

Many officers, soldiers, sailors and war workers, who sacrificed their positions during the war, now desire to secure employment in the occupations for which they have been specially trained.
Employers should not wait until increasing business forces them to employ anybody they can obtain, but should look ahead and avail themselves of this unusual opportunity to enlist the services of highly trained workers, ordinarily secured only with difficulty. Filling the Gaps in Your Office Force
A GREAT many firms tell us that not only is it next to impossible to get clerical help, but many of those they do get are untrained and therefore inefficient in their work. Fortunately this situation can be greatly relieved by the use of the Monroe Calculating Machine.
One girl and one Monroe can do the work formerly requiring two or three men. She doesn't need to be an expert. With a few minutes' instruction and practice, she can place your figure load on the
and you can be assured the work is absolutely accurate because the MONROE Mechanical Check puts a ban on operating mistakes. No rechecking is required. Look at any one of the problems listed at the left and compare the time required by the Monroe to solve it with the old pencil-and-paper method. The Monroe has a range of utility that embraces any figure problem in any business.
Mr. Manager, it is a difficult matter for you to determine the efficiency of the Monroe Machine by our telling you about it. Let us send a representative to demonstrate what it will actually accomplish in your own office.
You can then make your own tests and compare it with any other machine you may have in service. All of which means we have perfect confidence in the ability of the Monroe Machine to "make good." To bring the matter to a head simply mail the attached coupon. No obligation involved.

Ten Grounds, Four Pools and Three Rinks—Ottawa's Fine Record

(Toronto Globe.)

"For, Day, my holiday, if thou ill-usest Me, who am only Pippa..."

The days of this effulgent summer bring so many stories of child life crushed in the streets that all organized effort to provide playground facilities for children should be part of the glad tidings of peace. Bugles will blow out today over the rich dead, who, dying, have made us rarer gifts than gold. "These laid the world away; poured out the red."

Sweet wine of youth; gave up the years to be Of work and joy, and that unhelped serene, That men call age, and those who would have been. Their sons, they gave, their immortality."

The necessities of modern life should include the conservation of life, and experiment is proving that if only something of the noble idealism of those who gave their merry youth to the country and for God be applied to this momentous problem, something worth while may be done.

During the last seven years there has developed a playground movement in Ottawa that now embraces 20,000 children for whom have been provided not only suitable and beautiful playgrounds in different parts of the city, but also more than thirty instructors, who organize and supervise the play, and thus make it intelligent and educative as well as interesting and physically beneficial. The object of the promoters, aside from the provision of safe and beautiful playgrounds, is to teach children to play in the proper spirit. Their motto is: "It's not to win or lose, but how to play the game."

The local Council of Women were responsible for the conception and inception of the movement. In the first year of its existence, 1912, the attendance at the playgrounds was 400. This year it is 20,000. There are now ten supervised playgrounds, four swimming pools, and three skating rinks. In the first year the work was under the control of the local Council of Women. In the following year a playgrounds association was formed, with a grant from the city of $1,000. The grant for 1919 is $11,000. In 1914 the control passed into the hands of a committee formed of members of the Playgrounds Association and members of the city council. In the first year the work was supported by private subscription, but is now entirely financed by the city council. The movement has not escaped opposition and antagonism, says the director, W. J. Neale, but all this has now disappeared. The necessity to make the modern city safe for children is so obvious; the happiness of all concerned is so patent; the civilizing and educative effect of supervised play is so convincing.

"I will pass each and see their happiness," said Pippa on the day of her momentous holiday. Visitors to the capital might do worse. On these lovely summer mornings they would see the children busy with their modelling, their peg-board work, their singing games, their sand games, all in the open air—House of God. There are fifty-two baseball teams, volley ball teams, football teams, and croquet all properly organized and supervised, and there have been no accidents during the seven years of operation.

that time that the company's aim was to deliver service at the lowest possible price, and to share with its customers whatever earnings the company might make.

Fourth Reduction Since 1911. "Reductions in rates have followed as rapidly and as frequently as conditions would allow. In 1911, the rate for electricity was 7 1/2 cents net per k. w. h. In 1912 this was reduced to 7 cents, in 1913 to 6 cents, in 1914 to 5 cents, and this has now been still further reduced to 48 cents per k. w. h. net.

"In the same period the price of gas has been reduced. In 1911 the price of gas in Montreal was $1 net per 1,000 feet. This was reduced in 1912 to 95 cents; in 1913 to 90 cents; in 1914 to 85 cents, and in 1915 to 80 cents net.

"We are not making any change in the price of gas at this time, because at present there is little or no margin between the price we are charging and what the gas actually costs to produce.

"A search of all the available records fails to reveal a lower price for gas anywhere. This is the more remarkable when it is considered that we are under a great disadvantage in having to import from long distances most of our raw materials and to pay a heavy duty on them as well as the fact that Montreal climate conditions impose serious burdens upon the manufacture and distribution of gas not generally found elsewhere.

Production Costs Higher. "The company," added Mr. Norris, "takes justifiable pride in the fact that it has not only failed to raise its rates during the war period, as it would have done had it been justified in doing by the increased cost of production but has made an actual and material reduction in the price of both gas and electricity during that time. This has been accomplished in spite of our having to

"The bride-elect had been showing her presents to a party of admiring friends. "And I've got such a good idea," she gushed. "I'm so afraid people will discover just as if he had no thought for anyone except himself." A middle-aged friend shook her head. "Don't," she said in tones of sad wisdom. "I tried that plan and my husband never got over it."

to the different parts of the empire, was another point emphasized by the commissioner. "Assuming that the Canadian exporters and manufacturers will meet the New Zealand importers upon a fair business basis, there is no reason why Canada should not find in New Zealand an ever-increasing market for her exportable goods," he declared.

A BIG MARKET IN NEW ZEALAND

Canadian Trade Commissioner Beddoe Returns With Great Expectations

"Commercial relations between Canada and New Zealand are on a most amicable basis," said W. A. Beddoe, Canadian trade commissioner for New Zealand. With the other trade commissioners of the dominion, he has returned on the invitation of the minister of trade and commerce to become acquainted with the commercial situation in Canada today growing out of the post-war conditions.

"Since 1910 export trade from Canada to New Zealand has increased from $760,000 to $5,000,000 in 1913," continued the commissioner, "and this has been fostered not only by the subsidized steamship service from Vancouver to Auckland and from Montreal and St. John to the principal New Zealand ports—but also by the reciprocal preferential tariff. Of course the war interfered seriously with transport accommodation, otherwise the trade between the two countries would have largely exceeded these figures.

Heals Inflated Nostrils Stops Catarrhal Discharge, Cures Colds Quickly

Four remedies have given Catarrh the reputation of being incurable. But it is curable, easily and quickly, if the right method is employed. Snuffing a powder or ointment up the nose won't cure Catarrh, neither will tablets, douching, or stomach medicines cure. These treatments fail because they only affect local conditions, they do not remove the cause, which is germ life established in the lungs, bronchial tubes, and nasal passages. Ordinary remedies do not reach these remote parts, but Catarrhase does, for it is breathed through the nostrils into every air cell in the lungs, into every air passage in the head and throat. No matter where the Catarrh is Catarrhase will reach it. It fills the germs, heads sore spots, clears the nose and throat instantly. Universally used, pleasant and clean, guaranteed to cure or money refunded.

CURED HIS RHEUMATISM

"I am eighty-three years old and I doctored for rheumatism ever since I came out of the army, over 50 years ago. Like many others, I spent money freely for so-called cures, and I have read about 'Uric Acid' until I could almost taste it. I could not sleep nights or walk with out pain; my hands were so sore and stiff I could not hold a pen. But now I am again in active business and can walk with ease or write all day with comfort. Friends are surprised at the change." You might just as well attempt to put out a fire with oil as try to get rid of your rheumatism, neuritis and like complaints by taking treatment supposed to drive Uric Acid out of your blood and body. It took Mr. Astlewell fifty years to find out the truth. He learned how to get rid of the true cause of his rheumatism, neuritis and recover his strength from "The Inner Mysteries," now being distributed free by an authority who devoted over twenty years to the scientific study of this trouble. If any reader of The Telegraph wishes "The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism" overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past, simply send a post card or letter to H. P. Clearwater, No. 235-II street, Hallowell, Maine. Send now! If not a sufferer yourself, cut out this notice and hand this good news to some afflicted friend. All who send will receive it by return mail without any charge.

TO CURB TRUSTS IN GREAT BRITAIN

Publicity Recommended As One Corrective

COMMITTEE'S REPORT

Constitution of Tribunal With Powers to Investigate and Report is Recommended—Increasing Tendency Towards Combines

The report of the British committee on trusts, which was published some time ago by the ministry of reconstruction, strongly recommends publicity as one corrective of trust evil, and suggests the constitution of a tribunal with powers to investigate and report in regard to particular cases. The tribunal would not have so large a degree of initiative or summary powers as the Canadian court of commerce authorized in the last session of parliament.

Members of the associations assert that their effect not only beneficial upon the consumer, but also in the case of price associations, as all members must charge one price for the same article. The committee recommends that it shall be made the duty of the board of trade or such department as may hereafter exercise supervision of trade and commerce, to obtain from all available sources information as to the nature, extent, and development of trusts, companies, firms, combinations, agreements, and arrangements connected with mining, manufactures, trade, commerce, finance, or transport having for their purpose or effect the regulation of the prices or output of commodities or services, produced or rendered in the United Kingdom, or imported into the United Kingdom, or the delimitation of markets, or the regulation of transport rates and services, in so far as they tend to the creation of monopolies or to the restraint of trade. The board of trade shall present annually to parliament a report on the subject, and shall make preliminary enquiry into any complaints.

Should the information obtainable by the board of trade be insufficient to enable it to discharge its duties, or if, in the opinion of the board, there is prima facie evidence that the public interest is adversely affected by the operation of any monopoly, combination, or agreement, the board shall be empowered to apply to a tribunal for an order to the parties concerned to furnish such information as may be specified, or to refer the whole matter to the tribunal for investigation and report.

DECLINE IN SHEEP SINCE 1914
Before the war the United States had approximately one-tenth of all the sheep in the world. Since then the total number of sheep has decreased from all causes about one-third, possibly more. That makes the world decline in excess of 50,000,000 sheep, or slightly greater than the number of sheep in the United States.

Blackheads are a confession

Blackheads are caused by excessive oil collecting dirt in the pores of the skin. Their presence is a confession that you are using the wrong method of cleansing for your type of skin.

To cleanse thoroughly skins liable to this disfiguring trouble, use the following special treatment. Apply hot cloths to the face until the skin is reddened. Then with a rough washcloth work up a heavy lather of Woodbury's Facial Soap and rub it into the pores thoroughly, always with an upward and outward motion. Rinse with clear hot water, then with cold—the colder the better. If possible, rub your face for thirty seconds with a piece of ice. Dry carefully.

To remove blackheads already formed, substitute a flesh brush for the washcloth in the treatment above. Then protect the fingers with a handkerchief and press out the blackheads.

Keep your skin free of blackheads by the above treatment and gain the clear attractive skin that the regular use of Woodbury's brings.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.

$3,000,000 MARKET.

"The active preparation for a resumption of trade between the countries recently at war is not a matter of surprise," said a lecturer in the educational department of the National City Bank of New York, commenting on the steps now being taken in that direction. "The pre-war trade between the Central Powers and the Allies and their associates," he added, "amounted to nearly $3,000,000,000 a year, which of itself would suggest a reasonably prompt return to former relations, while the history of all wars shows in every instance not only a prompt return to trading relations, but an increased trade between countries only a moment earlier at war."

PUBLIC HEALTH NOTES

Water Supply and Drainage

The problem of water supply and drainage in villages not incorporated is one of the most difficult in the whole range of public health administration. Without incorporation, that is, unless the village becomes a legally recognized territorial unit, and thus acquires the right of providing by local taxation for its necessary public services, individual effort can, alone, be looked to in the matter of drainage and water supply. But preventive medicine is peculiarly a thing referring to a community and not chiefly to the individual. If dependent upon the latter, that is, if there be no way whereby compulsory united action can be attained, one single house-holder or absentee may cause a whole group of houses to become offensive in their surroundings, notwithstanding that every other owner of the group may be anxiously doing his best to render his place as sanitary and pleasant as possible. Occasionally, groups of householders or owners may mutually agree to install a system of water-supply and drainage. This is always a most praiseworthy proceeding and many times has really saved the village the distress and expense of epidemic disease. But while such action is to be commended in every case it is at best only a make-shift, often temporary in its good effects, and sometimes disappointing in its immediate results. Why this should be so depends, mainly, on the fact that all systems of water-supply and drainage, no matter how limited and local, demand constant care and consequent expense to keep them in effective operation. After installation, while everything is new and sound, operation may go on for some time, perhaps for some years without any serious trouble. But trouble is sure to come, when it does the personality of the initial group may have become radically changed by death, removal or what not and repairs are therefore found practically impossible. Again, such systems may be disappointing from the outset, because of the lack of skilled supervision at their installation.

It is again emphasized, however, that all such private and voluntary action is to be highly commended and is indeed a great step in advance of merely maintaining laissez faire policy, and studiously suffering nuisances to accumulate and disease to be produced. But it is the chief object of this note to urge upon all fairly closely built-up communities not already incorporated, especially for water-supply and drainage purposes, to become so. If the writer is not mistaken there is on the statute-books of the province an act for the express purpose of enabling villages to become so incorporated. It should, everywhere, be taken advantage of. The incorporation itself is not an expensive procedure. Besides, the great advantages it confers along the lines mentioned here, it presents others, which, though perhaps less material in their nature, are not less to be desired. It gives the village a standing and a coherence not to be obtained in any other way. It fosters a public and community spirit that may prove invaluable in a multitude of directions. Even from a financial and commercial standpoint, incorporation is often of the very greatest use.

But whether under incorporated auspices or inaugurated by voluntary or private action, the department of health of the province stands ready to assist with its advice or instruction any ef-

On the South End League diamond last evening the Pirates defeated the Franklins by a score of 10 to 2. There was a large gathering of fans to witness the game, and much interest was displayed. Miller, for the Pirates, did some good pitching, and the Pirates' strikers, Diggs also pitched a good game, having three strikeouts. His team mates, however, were not given him the support that he needed and after the sixth inning lost heavily. The game was marked by the heavy hitting of Knodell, and the catching of R. Harper, shortstop. Sage umpired the game, and A. Kearns umpired the bases. Knodell acted as scorer. The lineup was as follows:

WERE IN THE GAME

Recollections of One of The Visiting Players of Those Days

WRITES OF SOME OF THE MEN

Jim Sullivan, Joe McNamara, Frank White and Robinson—Some Experiences as a Member of the Moncton Team

Old time baseball fans in this part of the country will be interested in an article written for an American syndicate about players and conditions here, written by A. G. Doe, who was one of the first professionals to be brought to this province in baseball, in the old days of Wagg and Larabee, Seaton and Howe, when the Nationals and Shamrocks were engaged in their historic series of games. Mr. Doe's recollection is probably at fault regarding the statements attributed to some of the St. John players, like Frank White, but the article is published because of its historic interest and in order to give an outsider's impression of local conditions in the old days, even if some of those impressions are careless or false.

(By A. G. Doe.)
(Copyright, 1919, by E. Anthony & Sons, Ltd.)
I was engaged to play with the Moncton club of the Province of New Brunswick. Baseball was very popular in the provinces, and while they did not have an organized league they had five clubs which played a series of games with each other on the same basis as if it was a regular organized league.

St. John, N. B., had two clubs, the Nationals and the Shamrocks. Frederick, N. B., Moncton, N. B., and Halifax, N. S., were represented. Halifax did not play very long as the jump was too long for the other clubs to make. The only player on the Nationals who later became famous was Bert Abbey, a pitcher, who came from the University of Vermont, and later was with the Chicago Nationals and the Brooklyn club. The Shamrocks had two boys, the late James Sullivan, a pitcher, who afterwards became famous with the Boston Nationals, and later with the Providence Grays. Joe McNamara played first. His son, Tom, became famous a few years ago with the Phillips Exeter team.

We had on our club the late Teddy Webster, catcher, Robinson, pitcher, who later was famous in the Maine State League; Al Wagg, outfielder, who is now master of the Girls' Junior High school in Boston; Captain Harry Soule, second baseman and later famous in the Maine State League. We also had a catcher by the name of White, who came from Halifax and who would have been good enough for any club in the country if he wished to play baseball for a livelihood.

St. John drew the biggest crowd, the other towns just fair.
It was quite amusing to the players how suspicious all the natives were of anyone who came from the states. The cause of this was that foot runners and prize fighters had been through the country doing all sorts of tricks and jobs, picking up what gamblers termed "soft money" and they did it in perfect style. If any of us would make a statement regarding a wager they would look at us through the corner of their eye and then walk away simply saying, "something wrong." A boy by the name of White was playing shortstop with the Moncton team, and he was a fast runner. In St. John they stated he could run in ten seconds flat for a hundred yards. When a race with me was suggested he threw up his hands and said, "So you have got one of those foot runners on your club under the guise of a ball player. Nothing doing, we have been cheated often enough so forget it." We were not serious about running because I knew he could beat me. Only showed how suspicious they were.

There was a lot of enthusiasm up to August, then we ran into the smoke from forest fires and fog, so that none of the clubs could play at all in that locality. The fog and smoke were so thick that you could not see an infielder from the home plate and by the time that the atmosphere had cleared up it was along the first of September and the interest had faded away with such a long wait. I remember playing the Shamrock team in St. John; a beautiful day, sun shining and as clear as a bell at three o'clock when the game started, but at half past three you could not see the outfielders and could hardly distinguish the infielders through the fog that had come up in that half hour. One of the natives' little jokes was to invite you on a fishing trip. Naturally enough coming from this part of the country it would mean ten or fifteen miles as the limit to go to fish. I was invited to go on one of these expeditions and thought that a ride of several hours would surely land us at our destination so did not ask any questions. We got on an express train at seven o'clock in the evening and at one o'clock in the morning I inquired how far we were going before we hit the fishing grounds, and they said they expected to arrive there at five o'clock in the morning. It was eighty-nine miles from Moncton to the fishing grounds.

Confidence Men at Exhibition Game.
An exhibition game that four of us played at Amherst, N. S., is quite plain to my mind. The Amherst fair was being held and a game was arranged with the Halifax club. Not having enough material to win, the Amherst club engaged four players from the Moncton management—White a catcher, yours truly, pitcher; Captain Harry Soule, second baseman; Al Wagg, outfielder. When we landed in the town I never was so surprised when I saw all the crooks and thieves and cheap gamblers that had invaded this place; three card Monte men, shell workers by the hundreds and chief among this bunch of rascals was a man from my own town, who was formerly a fish skinner, posing as a well-to-do backwoodsman with a Kit "The Arkansas Traveler" makeup. This skunk did not want anybody to recognize him for fear his game would be spoiled, so didn't let on he knew me. It was a pity that some of the natives did not take a run and blow the head off of all these miserable contemptible creatures who would not be rated as good as the worst petty larceny thief. It seemed so though even the atmosphere did not feel that they were being done as far as fairness was concerned. Several members of the Halifax club went to our captain and tried to leave the game thrown so that they would make some money, and he told them to be hell if they could because we would have to go for our services, which was $100. When the game started their mind went set at ease. With a couple of men on the bases, Wagg hit one to the next inning Soule did the same thing and at the finish we won the game 13 to 3. The Amherst club was so overjoyed at winning that they gave us a little banquet that night and we never heard so many sweet things said about ourselves before or since.

As usual the players enjoyed playing jokes on each other. Robinson and Webster used to argue as to who was the fastest running the bases. Robinson was a Rubie for fair, about six feet tall, Webster five feet five. Neither could run fast enough to keep himself warm. A wager of $5 was made, the race was arranged on a day after a heavy rain, our field was covered with a white clay and around second base was very slippery. We covered the wet spot with sawdust mixed with a sort of fish oil (the refuse of fish skins boiled). They drew for positions and Webster drew the inside corner, which was inside of the bases; Robinson the outside. After they turned first base Robinson was leading by ten feet and laughing to kill himself, but when he hit the sawdust down he went and struggle as well he could he couldn't get up until Webster had turned third base. Of course he lost, and I don't believe he knows to this day what was done to him. The only thing he said was that they had the damndest mud in Moncton that he ever saw.

New Brunswick Customs Puzzled Doe.
A custom strange to me was the manner in which they addressed each other when meeting on the street. Instead of saying good-evening, how-do-you-do or hello, they would say good-night. I landed there early in the evening and in meantime they suggested that to help matters out for a directory that was being written for the town, as I was a long way from home I was very glad to do most anything to get my money so I put in two weeks working for my board and the balance of my salary, filled the spaces up in the directory, received my pay and started back to the States intending to get back to God's country where Old Glory waves a welcome to all good citizens.

The successes of the sons and daughters of Ballot son of Voter and Cetero, one of the greatest three and four year olds of the current racing season. Although there is no great stake winning two or three year old among the two dozen money winners that are keeping Ballot's name before the public this season, the gross sum of legitimate earnings accredited to them is $49,000. Ballot stands in second among the stallions of the country in active stud service as regards the earnings of his progeny in stakes and purses.

The Saratoga Handicap for $7,000, which is to be run on August 1, Sir Hildreth's Purchase is rated best among the three-year-olds; and we have to shoulder 118 pounds. Sir Barton, a great Canadian three-year-old, is not named.
The game in the St. John League this afternoon between the Y. M. C. I. and St. Peter's should draw a record crowd. Both teams will present their strongest line-ups and a good game is anticipated. The game between the Y. M. C. I. and Fairville this evening should also prove a good attraction. The afternoon game will start at 7 o'clock.

The St. John horses have not been making much of a showing so far this season. There is a plenty of time for them to come to the fore and win some money for their owners.

Oh, what a tummyache!

Wish't we'd eat them prunes!
A snake described by the police as a python, "twelve feet long," emerged unexpectedly yesterday afternoon from the cellar of a garage at Surf avenue and West Fourth street, Coney Island, says the New York Times. After various policemen had fired twelve bullets into the reptile and Police Lieutenant Frank Kenny had dropped a large rock on its head, it was pronounced dead.

It is the opinion of the police that the snake was one of many that were features of a side show at Coney Island last year. The building where the snakes were exhibited was torn down a year ago and a garage erected on the site. The snake is believed to have made the garage his winter quarters.
It was 3.30 o'clock when persons on their way to the B. R. T. station near Surf avenue and West Fourth street, were startled to see the snake wriggling out through an airhole in the basement of the garage. A better behaved or more kindly disposed snake was never seen on Coney Island, but this fact did not prevent a panic on the part of about 200 persons who were within sightseeing range at the time. The women screamed, the men yelled and ran and the children did everything that their elders of both sexes did.
One man had sufficient presence of mind to send in a call for the reserves from the Coney Island police station. "Hurry up," he shouted over the telephone, "for there is the biggest snake in the world running around in Surf avenue."
"What kind of a snake is it?" asked Lieutenant Kenny, who received the call. "I think he is a box constructor—he's at least fifty feet long and two feet thick," came the answer.
The reserves, led by Lieutenant Kenney and Sergeant Bernard O'Connor, left the police station at the double quick and, arriving at the scene of the panic, five minutes later, found the street deserted, while from windows and doors men, women and children with frightened faces contemplated the peaceful monster that was squirming about in the middle of the street.
"Get your pistols ready," shouted Kenney, and half a dozen crack shots from the squad advanced at the station.

ready." The python was not at all excited. It made not a hiss, nor did it make any move that could be translated into an effort to strike. But the police took no chances.

Twelve shots rang out. Every bullet found its mark. But the bullets did not finish the python. It continued to wriggle and squirm, and finally Lieutenant Kenney found a granite pavement stone, advanced cautiously and dropped it on the python's head. That was the end of the snake.
"When the Bronx Zoo hears about us fellows killing this snake," said a young policeman, "somebody's likely to be court-martialed."
"I hope nobody tells Ditmars," added Sergeant O'Connor.
What is left of the python is now on exhibition in the Coney Island police station.

IN THE MARKET
 New vegetables were quite plentiful in the country market this morning. Prices were a little lower but meat and poultry prices still kept strong. New potatoes sold at seventy-five cents a peck, beets, carrots and turnips, ten cents a bunch, cabbage ten cents, and cauliflower ten cents a head. Strawberries were scarce, being about ended for the season, and sold at thirty cents a box. Raspberries and blueberries were fairly plentiful, the latter bringing twenty-five cents and the former thirty cents a box. Eggs were fifty-five cents a dozen, but brought thirty-five and forty-five cents a pound, fowl, sixty and chickens seventy-five cents a pound.

ST. JOHN GIRL IN HIGH NEW YORK POSITION
 Miss Elizabeth Robinson, now Home on Furlough, Has Charge of Large Hospital

A St. John girl who has won high honors in the nursing profession in the United States is now visiting at her home here—Miss Elizabeth Robinson, daughter of Mrs. T. W. Robinson, Union street, and sister of Gilbert M. Robinson, Sydney street. She is now visiting her mother on a thirty days' furlough. Miss Robinson is in charge of the United States General Hospital, No. 41 on Staten Island, where there are now 2,000 returned soldiers patients. It is a very busy place. Most of the work done is in the nature of severe infection. Under the supervision of Miss Robinson are 150 nurses in training, 100 graduate nurses and 100 reconstructive aids—quite a task of supervision and management and reflecting credit upon her standing in the nursing profession. She is a graduate of the High school in this city.

A sister, Miss Ethel Robinson, has returned home after having been overseas with a unit from New York for some twenty-one months.

TRAVELERS BUSY ON THEIR PART OF THE BIG PROGRAMME
 The Commercial Travelers' Association met this morning and discussed plans for the part of the entertainment of the returned men which they have volunteered to assist in. St. John provided and announced that, although they had not yet procured a place in which they were to entertain the soldiers, plans were well under way and he expected to make an announcement soon. Committees were appointed to handle decorations, catering, programme and other details. It was decided to extend an invitation to out-of-town travelers to come here and assist the local men in their work.

HOTEL AT BROWN'S FLAT MAY PASS INTO NEW HANDS

Three Mentioned as Possible Buyers, One the Canadian National Railway
 In connection with the Rockdale Hotel and grounds at Brown's Flats it is said that several tempting offers have been made to the owners, to sell, including one from a representative of the Canadian National Ry., and one on behalf of people in Philadelphia. It has also been said that the Beulah Camp people had taken an option on the property, but this was thought they said that it was true it; there was no option given.

The hotel property consists of about one-half of the estate of the late James L. Belyea, who died in January, 1915, and is immediately adjacent to the Beulah Camp property at Brown's Flats. The new Valley Railway line passes immediately to the rear of the property. The estate is now owned jointly by Mrs. C. Wilson Dager, of Lynn, Mass.; Donville Belyea, of the staff of M. R. A. Ltd.; Capt. B. W. Belyea of Calais, Me., and Mrs. W. W. Campbell of this city, all children of the late James L. Belyea. Mrs. Dager has been coming to St. John during the summer and managing the hotel, but on account of the increased amount of business done, she is not in a position to take care of it and for this reason it is expected that the hotel will change hands, if not this summer, at the close of the season. One of the owners said yesterday that he understood the intention of the C. N. R. was, if they should get the property, to remodel or rebuild the hotel to increase the accommodation from its present capacity of thirty-five or forty to five hundred, to prepare a golf links on the grounds and lay out tennis courts and other attractions. The fact that the property lies between the river and the railway line, was given as the possible reason for its being in such demand at present. The hotel property consists of about twenty-five acres.

Man In The Street

After August 15, September 10 will be the next big day.
 But the parade to city hall will hardly be so enthusiastic.

"Millions hang on one word," says a despatch about the Marshall Field estate. Quite a number have already done so on one word—guilty.

North End ministers say that prohibition is being well enforced. Sure—even the Indian town fountain is dry.

A man named Fisher was fined in the police court this week for selling short weight bread. We have now another parable—the loaves and fishes.

Ever see Serg. George Baxter handle the crowd of youngsters who gather at the Times office every afternoon to get their supplies of the evening journal? No sergeant-major who ever shouted "Shut it anything on George and its a cinch there never was a squad which required so much shunning and shunting as that mob of juvenile humanity.

To adapt the catch-word of a famous advertisement to existing conditions, the slogan on the Soldiers' Joy Day will be: "Have you a returned soldier in your home?"

There should be no more welcome guest than one of those men who have gone through it; and its a certainty that you will never have had a more appreciative one.

Speaker at local lecture urged adults to "drink two and a half quarts of water, each day, washing the body in it as well as out." There is no doubt that restaurants we've seen and heard this done with soup but water was generally more easily managed.

Milford is getting real "wanky." They're going to have a new hemlock sidewalk.

It looks as though Lieut. "Hard-Bolled" Smith of the U. S. Army, had given his name in anticipation of what may happen to him if some of those Doughboys get at him.

After all the reasons given as to what is the cause of delay in the work of the King street fountain, we are wondering what the reason is.

Somebody said yesterday that the stone had to be trimmed. All right; but don't start the same procedure against the taxpayers.

If the visit of the Prince of Wales will cause an improvement in the condition of the city streets, there is no doubt that he will be received with all the greater fervor. There is a rumor that if the prince can cause any improvement in the pavements the king will be asked to come and then—well, we'd hardly know our city.

More than three millions of dollars passed through the local banks during the last week. There is money in the city all right but for a lot of us its mighty tough scratching when the rent comes due.

Charlie Gorman of the Carleton baseball team nearly landed that fifty pound parcel of tea at the game in Carleton the other night. He put one a few feet off the score board. Charlie says he is keeping the kettle on the hot and expects to make the first brew soon.
