IMPROVED ROADS,

The Annual Roadwork Having Been Accomplished, Better Streets Result.

The annual roadwork of this district was done this week. As a result every street has been turnpiked where needed and the whole have been gravelled. The new road machine furnished by the government was utilized and it did excellent work. This is particularly noticeable on Main, Depot, and Richardson streets. Main street in several sections has been widened and levelled. Near the Becaguimac bridge it was necessary to reset some of the N. B. Telephone company's poles that were infringing on public rights. The ugly gap between the post office and the Tracy building, which has long been a menace to public safety, and which, with other similar places, has been the burden of the ADVERTISER's vociferations, have been wharfed up and well filled in, and now only needs a platform to make the job complete.

The road leading past D. H. Keswick's and G. R. Burt's has been considerably widened. This influential journal has also frequently spoken of the narrowness of that street.

Hereafter Hartland need not be ashamed of either its streets or its sidewalks, since strangers begin to remark of the great improvement in both.

Wedding at Hartland.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Miller was the scene of a very pretty event on Wednesday, June 22nd when their daughter Estella B. was united in marriage to Burrell Brittain, of Lower Wakefield.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Daggett in the presence of about fifty guests and took place at 4 o'clock p. m. The bride, who was prettily dressed in white muslin with lace and ribbons, was attended by Miss Fannie Brittain, sister of the groom, and Miss Lily Currie. The groom was supported by A. H. Margison.

During the ceremony they stood beneath a lovely floral bell. There was a profusion of flowers all over the house. The wedding march was played by Mrs Ernest Miller. The bride received a large number of very nice gifts among which was a set of oak dining chairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Brittain left next morning for Mr. Brittain's former home where they will reside.

Death at Simonds.

William Davis, a well known resident of Middle Simonds, died on Monday morning at the residence of his brother-in-law, James Christian. Deceased came originally from Ireland, with his parents who died some years ago. He was a blacksmith by trade and formerly had a shop at Simonds. A brother, Joseph, lives in Boston, and a nephew, William, came from Boston to attend the funeral. Mr. Davis was about 75 years of age, and came to his death from the effects of drinking too much swamp water while working on Saturday. The funeral was held on Wednesday at Simonds where interment took place.

The War.

WASHINGTON, June 21—Two months ago today war broke out between the United States and Spain, according to the proclamation of the president and the declaration of congress. The end of that period finds nearly 16,000 United States troops lying of Santiafo, preparing to land; it finds cable communication established between the department at Washington and the advance guard of the expedition in Cuba, and it finds Cuban territory in the possession of United States marines backed by a squadron and nearly all of the commercial ports of Cuba blockaded. This is all apart from Dewey's great victory at Manila and from the splendid results achieved in organizing several armies now in the camps. Therefore the officers of the administration feel that they have a right to look back over what has been accomplished in the short space of two months, working in a large part with raw material in both the army and navy.

It Was a Lie

The ADVERTISER is particularly requested to state that the rumor of an horrible murder at Northampton is entirely without foundation. The story was current early in the week that a well known and respected farmer sent his son to Woodstock on an errand. The lad staid two long, and when he returned, his father struck him a blow on the head with a hammer, felling him to the ground, and killing him instantly.

The people in this vicinity were in a high state of excitement when the yarn first came out. But it is all untrue.

County Council.

Carleton Co. council met this week in semi-annual session. A report of the proceedings will be published next week.

The adjourned court that was to deal with the Crabb case was also held this week and also will be reported in our next issue.

Aged Lady Dead.

Mrs Jewett, widow of the late Rev. Benjamin Jewett died on Thursday from a long illness. She was of advanced age. The funeral is to be held today at 3 p. m. in the Free Baptist. Rev. Thos. Todd will preach the funeral service and interment will be made in the old burying ground.

Hair-Dressing.

Miss Winslow of Woodstock will be in Hartland next Thursday for the purpose of taking orders for shampooing and all kinds of hairwork. Ladies wishing her services can leave their names at the ADVERTISER office.

New Shoes

Sometime ago we made a slaughter sale of our shoes in order to make room for new stock. The new stock has arrived, and consists of one of the finest line ever shown here. All grades all prices, all sizes. Perfect satisfaction guaranteed R. P. & Co.

D. E. Morgan owns a hen that lays every day an egg the longitudinal circumference of which is any where between 8 and 9 inches.

MISUNDERSTOOD.

If death could write on every heart
The cause that drew its blood.
How many would be written o'er
With this; "Misunderstood"?

Lo! every deed has latent cause;
O critic, seek that first;
The laws of nature cannot change—
The weak are not the worst.

Should we condemn the tiny flower
Which blooms upon the hill,
Because the mighty oak above
Remains a monarch still?

A law divine demands the oak,
Nor less demands the flower.
Shall we, in passing 'neath the one,
Ignore the varied power?

Creating weak and strong alike?
Look deep, O man, and know
That God hath formed our minds too small
To know as He doth know.

The feeling of a human heart
Are far too vast and grand
For other hearts to stand aloof
And boast: "We understand."

Ye cannot know each other's hearts:
The mold of each he breaks,
And forms anew the clay and mold
With every heart He makes.

Then why should man, a finite work,
Be bold and quick to say:
"I grasp the all of yonder man;
He, too, is formed from clay?"
—EUGENE ASHTON.

SURSUM CORDA!

The ceremonies were over, the flowers were fading, and Decoration Day was drawing to a close. The crowds who had thronged the paths of the National Cemetery were fast disappearing, and the train just leaving the little station was filled to its utmost capacity.

In one of the cars an elderly man of imposing presence, wearing the uniform and badge of the Grand Army, and a young army officer, whose face was a youthful counterpart of the other's, sat side by side.

Just before the train pulled out a woman passed down the aisle. The worn face gave pathetic evidence of past beauty, and the rusty garments of bygone elegance, while the tiny empty basket she carried proclaimed her accomplished errand. She glanced wistfully from side to side, but every seat was occupied. The young officer rose, and with a bow proffered his own.

She gave him a grateful glance and a gentle "Thank you," as she slipped into the desired haven.

The elder man glanced at her casually, then more intently, and finally, leaning toward her, said in a low tone, "Laura!"

The woman started, and half rose from her seat. "John, is it really you?" she gasped. They gazed at each other in silence, shocked at the changes time had wrought.

"I thought you were dead—at Wilson's Creek. They told me—"

"I left part there," replied the man, glancing down at his empty sleeve. She shrank back a little, noticing it for the first time, and her eyes grew wide and dark.

"It seems but yesterday," she said; "the longing and suspense and pain—"
"And yet you could send me away."
"Ah, I was angry! You were on the wrong side—"

"The other side," he corrected her, with a faint smile. She acknowledged the correction with a smile still fainter.

The winning side—and my heart was sore; but I thought it would break, afterwards.

"Yes, yes; I know!" he sighed.
"I have scattered my roses every year, thinking that some might fall on your resting place. In those old days when life was hard to bear it eased the pain to think so."

"And now?"
"And now," she continued with a tremulous smile on the faded face that unconsciously belied her words—"now the pain and anger are gone, with the love that gave them birth. There remain only ashes."

Suddenly she leaned forward with tense features and parted lips. The young officer was coming down the aisle. Something in the swinging step, the carriage of the shoulders, and the handsome boyish face, stirred her heart.

"Almost home father," he called cheerfully.

There was a trace of awkwardness and embarrassment in the elder man's manner as he turned to his companion. "Allow me to introduce my—my son, Lieutenant Keith." He drew himself up and squared his shoulders, all embarrassment lost in fatherly pride. "Jack, Miss Hollywood is a very old friend."

She looked up into the smiling face bending over her, and her words came slowly: "I used to know your father when he was about your age. You are very like him—very like."

The lights of the city were all around them, the train was slowing up, and people were gathering up their wraps and bundles. Turning to the elder man with sudden resolution, "I am going back to my old home tomorrow," she said, lingering on the words with tender longing. "It is not likely that we shall meet again. Let me wish you good by now, and God bless you—and yours."

For a moment their hands were clasped; then she flitted through the crowd and was lost to sight.

"Who is the old party, father?" inquired the young officer carelessly.

"Old!" He roused himself with a deep sigh. "Well, I suppose she is old; but when I knew and—in Kentucky she was the toast of two countries!"

Through the crowded station a woman made her way. "It is wrong, wicked," she murmured and her eyes grew dim; "but I wish—yes, I almost wish that he had died instead!"—L. N. Pritchard. In the Munsey for June.

FLAG RAISING.

A Festive and Auspicious Day at DeBec.

On Saturday a large crowd was present to watch the proceedings relative to the raising of the British Flag over the school house at DeBec. An interesting programme was prepared for the occasion. The grounds had been set with a number of shade trees and every care was taken to make the affair a success. E. W. Dickenson acted as chairman and after a few opening remarks the following programme was carried out.

Opening Chorus : 'My own Canadian Home' ; Recitation : 'Our Dominion' ; by Robbie Flemming, Solo : 'Raise the Flag' by Mrs Dickenson

The flag was then raised by the school mistress Miss Mary Flemming while all sang 'God save the Queen' after which followed three hearty cheers. The flag drill given by eight young girls. Misses Ada Flemming, Maud Atherton, Irene Campbell, Effie Alexander, Alice Meagher, Ethel Dickenson, Wilda Henderson, Maggie Nason delighted all and it was repeated later in the afternoon.

Remarks were made by Insp. Meagher, who complimented Miss Flemming upon the success of her undertaking, and gave some good suggestions as to what books would be suitable for the library the school is contemplating purchasing. C. L. Smith M. P. P. was the next speaker and made a neat speech telling of the larger area over which the flag floats. His remarks were well received.

J. K. Flemming of Peel gave a well prepared address on the Empire, and the Flag. He spoke of its influence as an educator, as a commercial nation. a naval and military power and related with good effect the story of the Adyssiian expedition.

Further remarks were made by Rev'ds Miller, Currie, Teed and Slackford.

The Company then picnicked on the grounds and enjoyed themselves most heartily.

It should be remembered that this flag was purchased by the proceeds of a concert got up by Miss Flemming and her pupils and which was a success in every way. Besides a flag they have purchased a standard dictionary, and will expend the rest of the proceeds in purchasing a library.

Said Nothing.

A militiaman, who was a great man in his own eyes, was, by some influence appointed captain. He could hardly speak of anything but his new dignity. Meeting a friend one day he accosted him thus :

'Well, Jim, I suppose you know I have been appointed captain?'

'Yes,' said Jim, 'I heard so.'

'Well, what do you folks say about it?' asked the captain.

'They don't say nothin,' replied truthful James ; 'they just laugh.'

A Good Dictionary for Three Cents.

A good dictionary containing the definitions of 10,000 of the most useful and important words in the English language, is published by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. While it contains some advertising, it is a complete dictionary, concise and correct.

In compiling this book care has been taken to omit none of those common words whose spelling or exact use occasions at times a momentary difficulty, even to well educated people. The main aim has been to give as much useful information as possible in a limited space. With this in view, where noun, adjective and verb are all obviously connected in meaning, usually one only has been inserted. The volume will thus be found to contain the meaning of very many more words than it professes to explain.

To those who already have a dictionary, this book will commend itself because it is compact, light and convenient: to those who have no dictionary whatever, it will be invaluable. One may be secured by writing to the above concern mentioning this paper, and enclosing a three-cent stamp.

Our haying tools are daily arriving, bring in your old section or guard when you want to fit up it will help us, sections are lower in price this year. Shaw & Dibblee.

HARTLAND, Carleton Co., N. B.

That is a mean nature which can see no good and acknowledge no capacity in an enemy. Heroism is heroism still, though a foe display it. Here is a story of bravery from a London journal, and the hero was a surgeon of the Spanish army in Cuba. In the course of an engagement he proceeded to the front line to help the wounded. Forthwith a bullet shattered his knee-joint. With the help of his assistants he dressed his wound, and then went to work. Disabled and suffering, under a hot fire, the surgeon performed no less than twenty major operations on stricken soldiers. Could any American have well shown more courage, patience, unselfishness? This man and his nation will one day cease to be at enmity with us, but need we wait till that happy day before praising Spanish merit?—Youths Companion.

Copying the TISER's item regarding a government ferry at the Tobique Narrows, the Woodstock Dispatch editorially concludes that a ferry in place of a bridge is a good one. Does our breezy contemporary dare to insinuate that this could be true in the case of the "Hartland Bridge"?

SUNDRY NOTES.

Gleaned from various sources.
News of all kinds.

1 car Tobique land plaster just received by R. P. & Co.

"Oh! my poor corns!" "Have you got corns? Why don't you get properly fitting shoes, then, from R. P. & Co?"

Richardson Porter & Co took a crew of 20 men to the Tobique on Monday to engage in bark peeling. The men are in charge of D. D. Porter.

On Wednesday June 22, Miss Abbie daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Nevers Rockland was married to Fred D. Boyer of East Florenceville by Rev. A. H. Hayward. The young couple took the express at Hartland for a tour to Quebec City. They will return in two weeks and be at home after July 11 at East Florenceville.

The past week, for the most part, has been stormy and disagreeable. Yet it has been good for the hay crops, except where in places the growth is so rank as to be made to lodge by the heavy rain. On Tuesday evening quite a heavy hail storm passed over, the stones in some sections being nearly as large as hazelnuts. The frost of last week did considerable damage to the buckwheat, bean, potato and other crops; and it is feared the fruit may suffer considerably thereby.

The Tobique Valley gypsum mining and manufacturing company limited, who have some time been running their mill, and employing nine men, can grind out in one day 20 tons of plaster; it is now being ground under an improved method—competent judges say this makes the plaster second to none in the market—Gazette.

Keith & Plummer have purchased John Barnett's house and lot on Main street. It is their intention to move the house to the south side of the lot, next to Shaw & Dibblee's store, and to erect on the lot thus made vacant a fine large store. Mr. Barnett has purchased a lot in the lower part of town and has the construction of a residence well under way.

The Junction House at McAdam is doing a flourishing business under the management of Colin Campbell, who for years ran a dining saloon at Newbuth Junction, where he won the reputation of being one of the best caterers in the province. Mr. Campbell is always glad to greet his Carleton county friends at McAdam.

The chief attraction at the Dominion Day celebration in Woodstock will be the trotting contests, bicycle races, base ball match and running races. The largest purses ever offered in Woodstock are put up as follows (1) —2 26 class, $200 purse; (2) 2 30 class, $200; (3) 2.50 class, $200 purse This will certainly be the greatest sporting event of the season. There will also be a good program of field sports and a military parade by the Woodstock Field Battery. The band will be in attendance. Excursion rates by C. P. R. from all stations on their lines. Return tickets from Hartland, 45 cents.

The Primitive Baptists will hold their annual conference with the church at Hartland beginning the first Saturday in July beginning at 10 a. m.

We notice another new sign, that of Miss A. M. Gray, the enterprising proprietor of the Ladies Emporium. It is neat looking and the work of Arthur Baird.

Recent provincial appointments makes Dr. James G. Atkinson of Bristol a coroner; Amos D. Hartley and Geo. A. Giberson, issuers of marriage licenses; William O Cluff, William A. Hayward and Andrew T. Ruff, Justices of the Peace.

Our haying tools are daily arriving. bring in your old section or guard when you want to fit up it will help us, sections are lower in price this year. Shaw & Dibblee.

The Kincardine Agricultural Society will sell on June 27th, at 2 o'clock, at their exhibition grounds, one Yorkshire and two Chester boar pigs; to be kept within the country for two years.

The annual conference of the A. M. E. church, for the Maritime provinces, will convene with the church in Woodstock, on August 18th. Rt. Rev. Wm. B. Derrit will be present as presiding Bishop.

The sidewalk committee have done excellent work in having the new sidewalks laid. They are now deterred from further progress by the delay in getting lumber. The walks so far extend from the Riverside Hotel to the Methodist church and along Richardson street.

There was a severe hailstorm at Woodstock on Tuesday afternoon: stones falling as large as hazelnuts, and remaining on the ground for two hours afterwards. There was a heavy wind and rain at the same time: and it is said the water in the streets would have been sufficient to float a good sized boat.

We build up trade by keeping up quality. In paints, for instance, you can fool the buyer with a cheaper paint, but you cannot fool the paint it will give you away, we dont fool anybody, haven't time. Shaw & Dibblee.

A truly high grade bicycle cannot be made and sold for less than $50 any more than a gold watch with a high class movement can be bought for the price of a nickle plated one with machine-made works. Look at the Massey-Harris wheels in our window they are strictly high grade in the truest sense of the term. Price $75 Shaw & Dibblee.

The order of new paint is very much in the air of late. The respective stores and residences of W. F. Thornton, James Campbell, G. B. Burt, L. E. McFarland, S. W. Bennison, T. J. Hurley, and Shaw & Dibblee look radiant in new colors. The chief manipulators of the brush have been Julius von Meyer and Merrill Taylor.

The summer timetable of the C. P. R. goes into effect on Monday. The The hobo and the freight trains will leave Hartland 47 minutes earlier than at present, and the express will come along at 12.22 instead of 1.30. Going down the express will depart 20 minutes later. People going to Woodstock will have half an hour longer to stay than at present.

The Maritime Wrapper Factory is running full blast and turning out some twenty dozen wrappers every day. Fifty girls are employed. A market for the output is found all over Canada. The goods have won special favour in the large city markets. The company imports a lot of goods directly from England and Scotland, finding it cheaper than to buy from the middlemen.—Dispatch.

Grand Falls Power

A Most Gigantic Enterprise

Work Will Be Immediately Commenced

The annual meeting was held at Queen Hotel Friday afternoon of the provisional directors of the Grand Falls Power Company. Those present were Senator Proctor, of Vermont, James Manchester, G. F. Baird and Col. H. H. McLean, of St. John.

The company is incorporated by and has its charter from the Federal parliament. The purpose and plans of the company, as its name implies, is to develop and utilize the immense power now constantly running to waste over the Grand Falls of the St. John river.

The plans of operations, which have been carefully drawn by eminent and competent engineers, have been approved of by the Governor in Council, the company's solicitor, H. H. McLean, having visited Ottawa only a short time since and submitted the entire drawings and plans to the Governor General in Council. These plans call for the excavation and construction of a canal from a point above the falls across a neck of land to near the present railway station. It is estimated that in the waterfall thus brought under control 80,000 to 100,000 horse power can easily be developed. The plans now prepared are for the erection of paper pulp mills to be driven by this water power. In order to make the enterprise a paying one it is calculated that at least 200 tons of pulp per day will have to be manufactured. This shows in a measure the magnitude of the enterprise-

One of the promoters of the venture was asked by The Gleaner if the generation of electricity for heat, light and power was comprehended in the company's plans. The reply was that no practical, feasible means of transmitting electricity to long distances for commercial purposes had yet been devised, but that the Grand Falls Power Company had the power, facilities and capital to develop sufficient electricity to light and heat every town in New Brunswick, whenever an economical and practical method of conveying the electricity to the different towns was invented.

The directors of the company at the meeting yesterday afternoon decided to immediately commence operations at Grand Falls. The first work, of course, is the construction of the canal to be followed by the erection of the pulp mills. The work to be immediately carried on will involve an expenditure of one million dollars.

The whole gigantic enterprise of the company will require a capital of two and a half million dollars. This capital has been largely supplied by wealthy Americans. Senator Proctor is one of the leading promoters and capitalists, and he has associated with him Mr. Alger. United States Secretary of War. Secretary Alger is deeply interested in the enterprise and has large financial interests in it, but the pressing duties of his responsible official position at the present time would not permit of his leaving Washington to attend the meeting of the directors on this occasion.

Senator Proctor and Secretary Alger are promoting the large financial interests of the gigantic enterprise.

The promoters of this immense enterprise feel confident of the ultimate success of their venture. The scheme is one in volving incalculable possibilities to the manufacturing development of this locality and province.—Gleaner.

For Home Work.

Only the Best Goods Give Satisfaction.

Diamond Dyes, the World's Leaders, Do the Best Work.

When you bake you must use the best brand of baking powder: when making a jelly or custard pudding you must make use of the best flavoring extracts: when you sew it is economy to use the best sewing cotton; when you have home dyeing to do you should also bear in mind that your success and safety of your materials and garments depend upon the brand of dye you employ.

When the Diamond Dyes are used you achieve marvellous successes. Your old, faded and dingy looking goods after a bath in the Diamond Dyes are made as good as new. The colors are always brilliant, fast, rich and full.

If you unfortunately made use of some one of the many weak, muddy and worthless dyes sold by some dealers for the sake of long profits—well, you must be prepared for great disappointments and losses. The Diamond Dyes save time and money, and their solid guarantees of success and good work.

BABY'S SKIN

Freed from all Eruptions,
Made Pure and White by
DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

Mothers take a pride in having their Infants' skin of that delicate pink and white—soft as velvet. When torturing and disfiguring eruptions seize upon the little body, they want a remedy that will not disappoint nor fail. Time and again Dr. Chase's Ointment has proven itself a specific for all skin diseases to which babies are peculiarly subject.

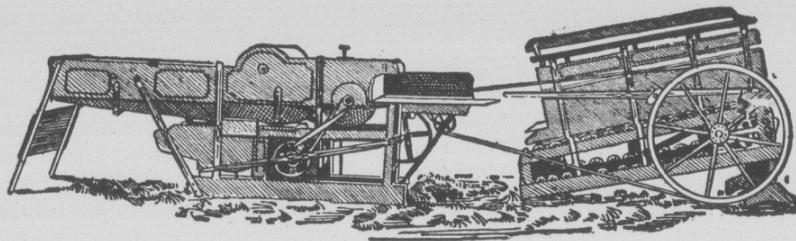

MRS. CHAS. K. MOSS, of Berlin, Ont., had a little baby 6 months old, with itching sores on her body. Dr. Chase's Ointment cured her when everything else failed.

Another mother who holds Dr. Chase's Ointment in high esteem is MRS. JAS. BROWN, Molesworth, Ont. Her baby boy was covered all over the face, sides and hips with Eczema. The first application of the Ointment stopped the itching, and 3 boxes effected a complete cure.

These are but samples of the hundreds of mothers who are delighted with Dr. Chase's Ointment.

The Primitive Baptists.

MR. EDITOR:—I wish to express my thankfulness through your far read and widespread columns for our having obtained a name for our church militant. This subject has given us some considerable anxiety and comment. The name I consider an appropriate one, from the fact that it means the FIRST. There in I would say:

God bless the hands and hearts of those,
As in the days of yore,
Who did obtain for us a name—
For Christ the open door.

And I would also further say,
With regard to the Primitive church,
Long may it live and reign
A Temple wherein to Worship God,
A Shrine wherein to praise His Name.

And his children while assembled there,
To worship at that place,
Like Simeon of old, enjoy
A vision of his face.

He has promised that where two or three,
Are assembled in his name,
He will be there to own and bless
All praises to his name,

His presence scatters light around,
They view the vast immense;
And they the promise may enjoy,
When they're removed hence.

On wings of Love we can soar above
To that city of our King
And by Faith behold the streets of gold,
And hear the blood-washed sing.

Who would not be a child of God,
And try to fill their place?
Who would not grasp the outstretched arm
And be a child of Grace?

Then, like the Queen of Sheba,
Speak in accents loud and bold,
Of all they ever saw or heard,
The half was never told.

They'll see glory in the rising Sun,
They'll see glory all around,
And glory in the Son of God,
That never will go down.

God's children are free to meet with us,
From every Land and Clime
Twas built and named to worship God;
Tis yours as well as mine.

Hallelujah! Praise His name!
He loves the hal', the blind, the lame!
His love extends or land and sea—
I'll praise His name! He has loved me!
ALBERT ORSER.

Saint Norah and the Potato.

Saint Norah was a poor girl, says the London Punch, who prayed Saint Patrick for a good gift that would make her not proud but useful; and Saint Patrick, out of his own head, taught her how to boil a potato. A sad thing and to be lamented, that the secret has come down to so few.

A mistaken belief prevails that all women have an instinctive knowledge of household affairs, which enables them without further cultivation to select proper cuts of beef and mix right proportions for cooking; although the very fact that a young man shows a taste for medicine only subjects him to long training. Since the highest intellectual and physical life is dependent upon diet,—since the cook makes, while the physician only mends,—should not she who prepares our pies be as carefully trained as he who makes our pills?

Certainly whatever may be the knowledge or the ignorance of the servant in the kitchen, the mistress of the house, be she young or old, ought to be able, like Saint Patrick in the fable, out of her own instructed head, to teach Norah how to boil a potato or broil a steak so that they may yield their utmost of relish and nutriment.

Until she can do that, no woman is qualified to preside over a household, and since few reach adult life without being called to that position in the household of husband, father or brother, the legend of Saint Norah has a wide significance.

Lower Brighton Concert.

The young people of the Free Baptist church at Lower Brighton have been preparing a concert for the purpose of raising funds for the purchase of hymn books for the church.

The affair comes off this (Saturday) evening, and it would be a pleasant outing for the young people of Hartland to drive down. The admission is only 15 cents, so that all can afford to take the entertainment in.

To Get Material For Ads

If a woman happens to praise a range or some utensils she has gotten at the store, or a man commend tools or other articles in the dealer's hearing, he should remember what they say, for nothing else makes a more pausable and attractive looking advertisement.—Stoves and Hardware Reporter.

Avoid Worthless Substitutes.

Paine's Celery Compound is Your Only Hope.

WELLS & RICHARDSON Co., GENTLEMEN—I feel it my duty to let the public know what Paine's Celery Compound did for me, and trust it will be a benefit to other sufferers.

I was much reduced in flesh and in a thoroughly broken-down condition, resulting from dyspepsia and nervousness. I was recommended to try the Compound; I did so, and three bottles have made me a different woman.

Previous to taking your Compound I had taken medicine from some of the best doctors in the city, but with no good results. Therefore I have every reason to be thankful for Paine's Celery Compound, and take great pleasure in recommending it to others.

Yours truly

Years of Suffering.

Brought About by a Fall in Which the Back Was Severely Injured—The Pain at Times Almost Unbearable.

Mr. Geo. F. Everett, a highly respected and well known farmer of Four Falls, Victoria Co., N. B., makes the following statement:—"Some years ago while working in a barn I lost my balance and fell from a beam, badly injuring my back. For years I suffered with the injury and at the same time doing all I could to remove it, but in vain. I at last gave up hopes and stopped doctoring. My back had got so bad that when I would stoop over it was almost impossible to get straightened up again. When I would mow with a scythe for some little time without stopping it would pain me so that it seemed as if I could scarcely endure it, and I would lean on the handle of my scythe in order to get ease and straighten up. At other times I would be laid up entirely. After some years of suffering I was advised to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and decided to try one box. Before I had finished it I saw the pills were helping me. I bought six boxes more and the seven boxes completely cured me. It is three years since I took them and my back has not troubled me since. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an invaluable medicine and I highly recommend them to any person suffering likewise. I consider that if I had paid $10. a box for them, they would be cheap medicine."

Rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, nervous headache, nervous prostration, and diseases depending upon humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc., all disappear before a fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions. Sold by all dealers and post paid at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Do not be persuaded to take some substitute.

The Marrying Age.

It is difficult to decide what is the best age for a girl to marry, for some develop, both mentally and physically, much earlier in life than others. She should have good judgment and an opportunity of meeting and associating with a variety of dispositions, or she cannot be expected to choose a husband. It requires years of experience to be able to judge human nature even fairly well, therefore, in my opinion, a girl should not marry younger than 25 years of age. Before that age a girl thinks more of the personal appearance of the man she goes with, while after that age she is more apt to consider the character.—Mary Williams in Housekeeper.

An Old Hunter Dead.

William Smith, an old hunter in the Miramichi woods for the past twenty-five years, was found dead Saturday in a camp which he had used while bear hunting. The camp is situated on the main Little South West, about forty six miles from Newcastle. Smith had been ill several months and a party was about starting to do what it could to restore him to health, when Fred White and several others from Redbank found his remains lying face downward on the floor of the camp. Death seemed to be instantaneous and without any outward signs of a struggle. According to a diary near his body he must have died on Thursday, as it is kept up to that date. Just before he passed away a bear entered the camp, and, although a sick man, the hunter was able to shoot the intruder. He skinned and pickled the hide and had removed the carcass just outside of the door of the camp, where evidently becoming too weak to carry it further he dropped it and re-entered the camp, where it is supposed he shortly expired. Mr. Smith was a pensioner of the American Civil War of 1861-65, and preferred a secluded life to that of residing in a town or city.—Chatham Advance.

Indian's Sad Romance.

It is not good for Lo, the poor Indian, to take unto himself a white wife. Samuel Campbell Chaska did so. Samuel is now dead by his own hand. His last days were spent in jail, and he left behind the reputation of a horse thief. Ten years ago Mr. Chaska graduated with high honors from the Indian school at Carlisle, Pa. He went back to the reservation. Cora Belle Fellows a Washington family of some pretensions was teaching a reservation school. Chaska concluded he needed a white wife to go with his white education, and so they were married. And great fame was theirs. Chaska had not learned from the books that a white wife had to be treated such and so. His wife had not learned the squaw role. There was discord in the Chaska tepee. In the fullness of time Mrs Chaska packed her saratogas and returned to her people. Mr. Chaska drifted back to the reservation and resumed the old Sioux blankets and the old Sioux ways. Education had robbed him of part of his cunning. He was found out in his meanness. The suicide followed. He is the first of his race to destroy himself.
