GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

Campbellton Grateful

The following telegram was received from Mayor Murray of Campbellton expressing the gratitude of the people of that town to the people of St. George.

Campbellton, N. B., July 19, 1910.

To Mayor McGee,
Kindly convey to the good people of St. George our sincere thanks and deep gratitude for their generous and timely contribution of two hundred and fifty dollars towards the relief of our fire-stricken citizens, will draw as your request

D. Murray
Mayor.

We might mention the fact that another telegram has been received acknowledging the $100 which was voted by the Town Council making up the total amount of $350 sent to Campbellton.

A Wholesale Slaughter

The greatest slaughter of lambs that has probably ever taken place in the county has been going on among the rocks owned by Douglas Spinney, H. C. Trynor and Robert Spears, Douglas Spinney lost 16, H. C. Trynor 10, Robert Spear 2, Edward Mahat 1, Jesse Prescott, Joseph Jack, Walter Justason and Mrs. Jacob Jack have all lost more or less. Messrs. Trynor and Spear sold the balance of their flocks to J. Sutton Clark and went out of the business entirely. Mr. Clarke bought fifty-two head from them. The question now arises are we ever going to get a dog law that can be enforced: the present dog law is nothing better than a farce, it gives the onto of sheep no protection at all, but is in favor of the man that keeps a cur to destroy his neighbors sheep. If the Provincial Government would enact a law that would impose a tax on every dog of three dollars. The country would soon get rid of one of the greatest nuisances that ever was allowed to exist. The sheep industry at the present time never was better and it seems hard that the farmer has to be driven out of the business by a few individuals who own and house a lot of desperate curs and I will go further and say that some of them are well aware of the depredations their dogs are doing. There is an old saying that you cannot convert a man to christianity but you cannot make him believe his dog kills his neighbors sheep.

DOUGLAS SPINNEY
Utopia, N. B.

Where to Buy

You have been passing through the campaign against high prices for foods and you may be resting under the very serious mistake of thinking that a few cents variation in meats, eggs and vegetables is the most important development of the crusade. If so, you would better dismiss that idea at once and get down to facts. People have been driven to cheaper products and herein is the universal danger. The demand for cheapness will be supplied by hook or by crook, and in this case it is largely by crook. In other words, we are face to face with the worst era of adulteration and substitution that Canada has ever known. But what about the pure food laws? you ask. Naturally you think these will protect you. Do not be deceived. The laws exist, but how are they being enforced? Most of them are pure sham, and all of them are evaded every hour of the day in every state in the union. Cheap canned stuff, cheap condiments, cheap prepared foods, cheap things of all sorts are full of fraud and chemicals.

What then? Why, buy the honest products of firms that have reputations to uphold, that advertise their goods and have give you labels on which you can depend. It means a little investigation and constant watchfulness on your part, but it is a duty you owe to yourself and your families. It is far cheaper to buy sound food than to pay drug bills and doctors' fees.

Make Your "Ad" Attractive

Did you ever think what your "ad" in the newspaper is doing for you? When you close your store in the evening and go home to your family not thinking about your business at all, then it is that the paper is pored over in thousands of homes—the home from which your trade is drawn. There is your "ad" doing its work silently, but surely, and if you have taken the pains to make it attractive its work will be all the more valuable. This is repeated over and over again, and is no doubt what inspired some writer to call newspaper advertising a "Silent Drummer."

Miss Georgie Toole of St. Stephen, arrived on yesterday's train and is visiting her sister Mrs. John McCarten.

Pennfield Woman Found Drowned

Body of Miss Ann Skene Found near Wier in L'Etang River.

When out fishing to his weir on Monday morning Sidney Justason was horrified to find floating near the weir the body of a woman. He took the body to shore and it was soon identified as that of Miss Ann Skene, sister of James Skene of Pennfield. Mr. Skene had missed his sister for some little time prior to the discovery but as she was accustomed to making extended calls on her neighbors he has not been worried over her absence, and was horrified to find that she had been drowned.

The supposition is that the victim of the tragedy had been wandering along the shore and had fallen into the water and that the swift current had carried her off her feet and that she was unable to regain the shore. The body had drifted some two miles from the mill. Dr. Alexander of St. George viewed the body and decided that an inquest was not necessary as it was plainly a case of accidental drowning.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon.

Woman's Voice

Women claim that they ought to have a voice in everything. If there is anything on earth woman's voice does not penetrate it can safely be set down that it is impervious to sound. Woman's voice reaches to the sky, descends to the deepest cavities of the earth, penetrates the kitchen cellar, garret and seven bed rooms reaching across the street and disturbing the neighbors. She already has a voice in politics, science, art, religion, business, and in domestic affairs it is the supreme law of the land. Did you ever hear Mrs. Lease? Could you help yourself to a seat in your town? Is there a civilized community on the earth that has not heard Susan B. Anthony? If so, make it and it is yours. What more do they want? Give them the ballot and they'll never be satisfied without the box and poll books. God created man and then woman. The last job was the best. Woman is the salt of the earth, and sugar and cream and strawberries. Without her all is vanity. Man is her voluntary slave. For her he leaves and toils and fights the battles of the country and legislates in congress and stands up in street cars, and runs in debt, and finally dies a miserable death from eating restaurant hash while she is at the sewing circle, the club or out collecting money for foreign missionaries and adding to the want and squalor at home. It is no use to give women advice she won't hear you. The beginning of the 20th century finds women combining in a grand plot to take the earth and fence it off for their own exclusive benefit. Women's kingdom has come and man who has ever been her humble servant, is spared with contempt from the foot of the throne. He may cry aloud for deliverance, but the hollow echo from the nearest club room is the only answer. Men and brethren, this is tough.

What to do with a bad Temper

Starve it. Give it nothing to feed on. When something tempts you do grow angry, do not yield to temptation. It may for a minute or two be difficult to control yourself; but try it. Force yourself to do nothing to say nothing, and their rising temper will be obliged to go down because it has nothing to hold it up. The person who can and does control tongue, hand, heart, in face of great provocations, is a hero. The world may not own him or her as such, but God does. The bible says that "he that ruleth his spirit is better than he that taketh a city." What is gained by yielding to temper? For a minute there is a feeling of relief; but soon comes a sense of sorrow and shame with a wish that the temper had been controlled. Friends are separated by a bad temper, trouble is caused by it, and pain is given to others as well as to self. The pain, too, often lasts for days, even years--sometimes for life. An outburst of temper is like the bursting of a steam-boiler, it is impossible to tell beforehand what will be the result. The evil may never be remedied. Starve your temper. It is not worth keeping alive. Starve it.

Use Your Guest Voice

The advice here given is easier understood than taken. But by diligent practice and a kind temper--and a strong sense of duty--one may form the habit of talking every day at home in the tones one uses when "company" comes. You often hear boys and girls say words when they are vexed, that sound as if made up of a snarl, a whine and a bark. Such a voice often expresses more than the heart feels.

Often even in mirth one gets a voice or tone that is sharp, and it sticks to him through life. Such persons get a sharp voice for home use, and keep their best voice for those they meet elsewhere.

We would say to all boys and girls "Use your best voice at home." Watch it by day, as a pearl of great price, for it will be worth more to you than the best pearl in the sea. A kind voice is a lark's song to a heart and home. Train it to sweet tones now and it will keep in tune through life.

Being Beautiful

Every one of our girls likes to be as beautiful as she can. This is right and proper, but she must remember that it is not alone the smile of the pretty face, the tint of the delicate complexion, the sparkling glance of the eye, the beauty and symmetry of the person, nor the costly dress or decorations that compose a girl's loveliness. It is far more to be found in her pleasing deportment, her elastic conversation, the sensibility and purity of her thought, her affable and open disposition, her sympathy with those in adversity, her comfort and relief to the distressed, and above all, her real companionship, that constitute true loveliness.

Cellibacy.

We applaud the cellibacy of a multitude of women, who, rather than make an unfit selection of a husband, have made none at all. It has not been a lack of opportunity for marital contract on their part, but their own culture and refinement and their own exalted idea of what a husband ought to be, have caused their declination. They have seen so many women marry imbeciles, or ruffians, or magnificent nothings, or men who were before marriage angelic and afterward diabolical, that they have been alarmed and stood back. They have seen so many boats go into the maelstrom that they steered into other waters. Better for a woman to live alone, though she live a thousand years, than to be annexed to one of these masculine failures with which society is surfeited. The patron saint of almost every woman, and among all the families of the family circle is some unmarried woman, and among all the families of cousins she moves around, and coming in each house in the morning, and her going away in the night.

Does It Pay

We open but few daily papers, without finding a record of some accident on some part of our railroad systems, and we find ourselves asking "Why these accidents? Can it be because of the grinding system of men higher up? The one who is in charge of a department and must make it pay. If he cannot do so he is, specially made to know that his position is preferable to his presence. He is compelled to cut down expenses, regardless of consequences, in order that results may be better than ever before. There seems to be an utter disregard of life or property in order to obtain the desired end. It is an old saying "Corporations have no soul," and it would almost appear to be true. Men are worked over time. Remuneration is altogether inadequate for the service given. The nervous strain is too great--Men lose heart. Mistakes follow. Life and property destroyed. The corporation pays a large dividend. Efficiency is sacrificed to false economy. But in the long run "Does it pay?"

Jokers' Column

He: 'Oh stop talking! You make my head swim.'
 She: 'It must swim beautifully--it's so light.'

Miss Sweet: 'A bold fellow on the car made sheep's eyes at me.'
 Mrs. Sharpe: 'You should have lamed him with your umbrella.'

'She married an old man who is very rich.'
 'I went one better on that, I married a young aviator who is a millionaire.'

The Lady Golfer: 'Excuse me, sir, but have you seen my ball anywhere?'
 The Unfortunate Man: 'No, madam; but I can show you the exact spot on which it fell.'

He: 'Going to marry the rich Jack Hammond?'
 'Whv, I thought he had thrown all his money to the dogs.'
 She: 'So he did, but they turned out to be retrievers.'

Guest (driven absolutely desperate by the deprecative airs of very superior maid in country house): 'Well have you got anything of your own you could lend me to put on?'

Mrs Henpeck (with newspaper): 'It says here that battermilk will extend one's life to over a hundred.'
 Henpeck: 'If I was a bachelor, I'd take to drinking it.'

Young Lady--You say you were on a raft for six weeks and had nothing to eat but mutton. Where did you get the mutton from?
 Old Salt--Well, you see, miss, the sea was very choppy.

Mistress--Why, Lizzie! Now you have broken another valuable vase. You have done more damage than your wages amount to. What shall I do?
 Maid--Raise my wages, ma'am!

Senator Clay, at a dinner in Marietta, praised the ready wit of a Georgia lawyer.
 'Even in his youth, when he was only an instructor in Hiwassee College, my alma mater--even then,' said Senator Clay, 'he had a ready wit.'

'I see you employ a number of old men.'
 'I do.'
 'How old are they?'

'Too old to be interested in racehorses or tennis or girls.'
 'That makes 'em fine for work.'

She: 'I suppose you had plenty of fruit up where you were this summer?'
 He: 'No, there was a notice in the dining-room: "In order to prevent fruit from being taken from the table, none will be put on.'

'They say his wife hinted to him one day just before Easter!
 'It is the spring, the beautiful spring, and see--even the trees, have all got new clothes.'

'So they have,' he answered readily, 'beautiful new clothes. And made them all themselves, too, besides supplying the material.'

Kirk La Shelle met an actor and noticed that he was wearing a mourning band on his arm.
 'It's for my father,' the actor explained. 'I've just come from his funeral.'

La Shelle expressed his sympathy. The actor's grief was obviously very real and great. 'I attended to all the funeral arrangements,' he said, 'We had everything just as father would have liked it.'

'Were there many there?' asked La Shelle.
 'Many there! cried the actor, with pride. 'Why, my boy, we turned 'em all away!'

Sprained Wrist and Ankle.

After Being Laid up With Great Pain for Ten days Relief Came Quickly by Applying Nerviline.

One of the most soul-distressing accidents that can befall one is a bad ankle or wrist sprain. If I had only known of Nerviline earlier, I could have saved myself an enormous amount of pain, and many agonizing nights of sleeplessness. Thus writes P. P. Quinn, a farmer living near Brockville. "I tumbled from a hay pains. It was not convenient to go to the city and the limousine in the house was useless. When I got Nerviline relief came quickly. It took down the swelling, relieved the pain, and gave me wonderful comfort.

"I can recommend Nerviline for strains, bruises, swellings, muscular pains and sore back. I have proved it a sure cure in such cases."

Think what it might some day mean to you to have right in your home, ready for an accident or emergent sickness, a bottle or two of Nerviline. Get it today in two sizes 50c. and 25c. at all dealers or The Catarhoxone Co., Kingston, Ont.

The Real Czar.

I'd like to be the umpire
There in the center standing
Before the audience and men
To hold the place commanding.
Deciding things offhanded,
The frantic crowd defying,
And paying no attention
To words and missiles flying.

The noisier the people
The calmer and the cooler
I'd hold to my decisions,
As well he comes a ruler.
Though they should rise in fury
And yell, demanding slaughter,
They couldn't make me tremble
Or fall an inch back water.

The player who got noisy
And come to make a holler,
I'd shut him off by raving,
And even should the captain
Get on his ear and flighty
I'd show him in a minute
Just who was high and mighty.

Oh, if my wife could see me
Commanding like a Nero
Perhaps for weeks thereafter
I'd be her little hero!
I wouldn't work the racket
On her or my relations,
For that I am too foxy
I know my limitations.

SARDINES.

Although the Maine packers of sardines were encouraged last week to believe that the fish were, at last, going to show up in goodly numbers, thus far the run is slightly improved. However, there are said to be plenty outside; and Eastport hopes that will soon enter the bay. Certainly the fish are badly needed, as many plants have been practically idle since the opening of the season on April 15. Stocks are very low and prices firm.

The demand for Norwegian smoked sardines is good. Shipments of the new pack are now leaving the other side. The quality this year is said to be very fine.

French sardines are in practically good request. --Eastport Citizen.

Nothing in the way of a Cough is quite so annoying as a tickling, teasing, wheezing, bronchial Cough. The quickest relief comes perhaps from a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And besides it is thoroughly harmless that mothers give it with perfect safety even to the youngest babes. The tender leaves of a simple mountain shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its remarkable curative effect. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

A TRULY NATIONAL FAIR.

At the Dominion Exhibition in St. John, N. B., visitors will be treated to array of exhibits surpassing the long odds the industrial display seen at Maritime Provincial fairs for a quarter of a century back and closely approaching the great Toronto Exhibition itself. Already scores of applications have been received from manufacturing concerns in Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa, Hamilton and other points west, as well as from notable American establishments. It will be somewhat familiar and exceedingly interesting to come in close contact with the exhibits, personal representatives and demonstrators of goods which most eastern folks see advertised extensively in magazines and the national press.

Aside from this, the national character of the exposition will bring with it a large number of displays usually seen at the official fairs or the Dominion Government, which distinction St. John will enjoy this year. Spurred to special effort because of these conditions, St. John, New Brunswick, and Maritime Provincial manufacturers and others are planning upon making extensive displays, and the St. John Board of Trade is putting forth a great deal of effort towards the same end. During the last few weeks prior to the Dominion Exhibition, a great number of smaller exhibitors, entertainment promoters, exhibition "camp followers," etc. will arrive on the scene.

A book on Rheumatism, by Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis., tells some plain truths, and in a plain and practical way. Help me to make this, and I'll certainly help your suffering friend.

Roundabout

The very budding barrister assumed the approved legal look of indisputable superiority.

"Now, my good lady," he observed, shaking an admonitory forefinger at the woman in the witness box, "you do not appreciate the gravity of the question. Endeavor to concentrate what brain power nature has endowed you with and answer me. What relationship does the defendant bear to you?"

"Right, ho!" responded the good lady. "Is father's cousin was my cousin once removed, and his mother, marryin' me uncle's only brother"--

"My good lady," interrupted the bud despairingly, "I am not here to solve puzzles!"
"Well, I'm blowed!" ejaculated the lady. "You are talkin' just nah as though 'you'd concerned most of the brain pahr goin'." If you 'adn't swanked quite so much I'd 'a' told yer plainly an' simply! 'E'se me brother! London answers.

Real Reform

Parents who want to do America a real service with profit to themselves and their children will personally investigate conditions before sending their boys and girls to college. A growing evil of the times is the luxury of certain educational institutions. It is ruin to the young people who over-spend; it is grief and wormwood to students who cannot see the pace, and it is pernicious extravagance that saps the spirit of higher education and turns out graduates with absolutely no equipments and ideas for the real work of the world.

Such colleges and universities cost fortunes in money. But the incalculable price is paid in the waste of young manhood and young womanhood.

Parents can correct the evil by keeping their sons and daughters from such places. Spending too much money on a boy or girl is a crime.

"Say," remarked one Government clerk to another, "I'm 'up against it good and proper."

"What's the trouble?" queried G. C. No. 2.

"I got two medical certificates from two different doctors yesterday," explained the party of the first part. "One was a certificate for a life assurance company, and the other was a certificate of illness to be sent to my chief with a petition for two weeks leave of absence."

"Oh! that's nothing," rejoined his fellow-clerk. "I've done that myself."

"Yes," continued the other, "but I mixed the certificates in mailing. The ill-health certificate went to the assurance company, and the certificate of good health went to my chief. See?"

"Only half of it left?" he cried. "What on earth have you done with the rest?"

FATHER MORRISCY'S WAY

Of Curing Catarrh is Simple and Effective.

In treating catarrh, some doctors recommend internal remedies, while others pin their faith to external applications. Internal medicines do not produce immediate relief, while external ones do not reach the seat of the trouble.

Father Morriscy's method was to supplement one treatment with the other. His famous prescription, "No. 26", consists of tablets and salve, each skillfully compounded of Nature's own remedial agents. The learned priest did not believe in using dangerous and powerful drugs, when simpler and better remedies were available.

The tablets, to be taken three times a day, invigorate the system, purify the blood, and restore the health and vitality. The antiseptic salve, applied inside the nostrils, soothes and heals the passages and destroys the germs therein.

Attacking the disease from within and without, and working together, the two treatments known as "No. 26" quickly cure catarrh and prevent future trouble. Get this trial and true combined remedy from your dealer's or from us, 1231 St. Mary's Medicine Co., Ltd., Chicago, Ill.

The German Fleet

Canadians who refused to be stampeded by the German war scare which roused a certain section of the British public attention last year are finding much comfort in the recent despatches from the German capital. If the English and American correspondents resident there are to be trusted, Germany has lost confidence in her navy and its fighting capacity. The Germans are in a greater funk in this respect than the British were last year. An impression has got abroad in the Fatherland that Germany's early Dreadnoughts are decided failures. As proof they point to the fact that the German admiralty is arranging to sell two of these to Turkey. They also add that the cruiser Blucher is a rank failure.

Of course, it is very unpatriotic of the Germans to speak so slightly of the great navy which was expected to crush the British Empire in one swift battle. When these men go so far as to point out that Germany has only eight submarines as against Britain's sixty-three and that the German fleet is decidedly inferior in torpedo craft and other small boats, they should certainly be indicated for less majestic. Nevertheless, this is the attitude of a certain portion of a well-informed German public. They publicly proclaim that the much vaunted German fleet would have little chance against the British fleet if there were an early meeting of the two.

Canadians who have refused to follow the usual agitators of Great Britain would be equally wise to refuse to believe these pessimistic reports from Berlin. It is not likely that the German fleet is in as helpless a condition as the correspondents would have us believe. German designers, armament manufacturers and shipbuilders have proven by a half century's success that they have a fairly good grasp of their business. The German fleet may not be as strong as the British extremists have declared, but it is certainly a fair fighting force. That it is half as strong as the British fleet no well-informed person unbiassed by political necessities, has ever believed. The German war scare was invented largely for political reasons.

Earl Grey To Remain.

Earl Grey is to remain another year as governor-general, and the announcement has given considerable pleasure. His Excellency has done admirably as the appointed ruler of a democratic people. If he had insisted rather strongly on imperial duty and imperial obligations, his attitude is condoned because of his evident sincerity and his impersonal enthusiasm. He hath not vaunted himself. Moreover, his keen intellectual interest in Canadian affairs, his sympathies with Canadian ambitions and aspirations, have been so marked that he has seemed less like an outsider and more like a citizen. While attempting to swing our judgement to this, he has done it in a mild, argumentative, persuasive way which aroused no antagonism. He has the qualities of true leadership, and he is reserving the rewards which are due to him who shows consideration for the feelings of those who differ from him.

CRAIG-REDIKER

At the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. E. M. Wise, Fort Fairfield, this Wednesday morning, July 20 at 10 o'clock, Miss Velma Gertrude Rediker, youngest daughter of Mrs. Sarah J. Rediker, was united in marriage to Mr. Clarence Everett Craig of St. George, N. B.

The parlor had been neatly decorated for the occasion with cedar and willow flowers. Relatives and a very few immediate friends were present. To the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Beatrice Nightingale, the bridal party marched in. The bride was most tastefully attired in cream lawn dress embroidered with wild roses, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. Mrs. Myrtle Worcester of Calais, the matron of honor, who is a sister to the bride, was becomingly attired in light blue poplin, and carried sweet peas. The groomsmen was Edward Worcester, husband of the matron of honor.

The nuptial knot was impressively tied by Rev. John Tinning, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, of which the bride has been an active member. The single-ring service was used. Refreshments were then prettily served by Misses Mildred Atwater and Aileen Hunt, and the presents which were useful and beautiful, inspected by the assembled guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig took the 1:08 train for St. John, N. B., where they may remain two weeks. They will then make their home in Hartland, N. B., till November after which they will reside in St. George.

Mrs. Craig is a graduate of the Fort Fairfield High school, 1905, and of the Aroostook State Normal School, 1908, and has taught successfully at Limestone and Presque Isle. She is a capable and popular young woman, highly esteemed by all who knew her. Mr. Craig is a prosperous young mill-wright, and, known to only a few here, is highly spoken of by his old neighbors—an excellent recommendation for any one. This young couple carry with them the kindest wishes of many friends for a long and very happy married life.—Fort Fairfield Review.

LELAND-MCLEOD

The home of Capt. and Mrs. James McLeod at Calhoun was the scene of a very interesting event on the evening of July 26th, when their daughter Helen was united in marriage to Dennis Leland of Mascarene. The wedding ceremony which was performed by the Rev. E. V. Buchanan, pastor of the United Baptist church of St. George took place on the lawn. The bride looked charming in her robe of crepe de chine. Both the bride and groom were unattended. After the ceremony over fifty guests enjoyed the dainty refreshments served. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. James McKeg and family, Miss Myrtle Miles, Miss Margaret McLaughlin, Miss Beatrice McLeod and Miss Maud Dick of St. George; Mr. and Mrs. George May and family, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Adams, Mrs. Edgar Leland, Misses Gertrude and Helen Leland and Mrs. George Leland. The happy couple will reside at Mascarene the present.

HOOPER-HICKLEY

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Wm. Hickley on Thursday evening July 22nd when her youngest daughter, Blanche, was married to Mr. Russell Hooper of Back Bay.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. V. Buchanan in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of bride and bridegroom. The bride looked charming in a gown of white mercerized mull and bridal veil and carried a bouquet of pink roses. They were unattended. After the ceremony refreshments were served.

The bride received many beautiful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Hooper will reside at Back Bay.

THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

THE LOCAL NEWS

An easy way to get the best of your grocer is to 'phone him for a can of 'Estabrook's Red Rose Coffee'

The Baptist Church at Second Falls was struck by lightning on Friday night. Little damage was done however.

The 'Greetings' office is the place to get all kinds of job-work done in first class style, on good material at reasonable prices.

At the beginning of the eighth year of the pastorate of Rev. F. M. Young, Ph. B. at Parisboro, N. S., his salary was increased $100.

It is reported that Mr. Dan Russell has purchased a lot on the Cameron beach, Mascarene, where he intends building a summer cottage.

On Wednesday last the Lord's Cove baseball team took the measure of the Eastport high school team, defeating them by a score of 17-5.

Yesterday proved to be a favorable day for the lovers of cherrypicking, and many availed themselves of the opportunity of visiting Bear River on the S. S. Connors Bros.

A new piece of sidewalk has been built up on the lower street leading to the lower bridge. The walk is bordered with granite blocks and is a great improvement to the street. Let the good work continue.

A party of eleven including Messrs. J. Meating, K. Jarvis, C. McRattan, W. Austin, A. Stewart, H. Perry, J. Jack, Bert Grey, A. Callaghan, E. Jackson, J. Curran enjoyed a motor boat run to St. Andrews on Sunday in the Teaser. The party registered at Kennedy's hotel.

Daniel Ryan and his company presented 'The Black Fox' in Court's hall on Wednesday evening last. Mr. Ryan has made a reputation and here as elsewhere received a crowded house. But for the absence of music the success of the entertainment would have been complete. The play itself was excellent and all parts were faultlessly taken. We will welcome Mr. Ryan upon his next appearance.

On Saturday last the Stmr. Aurora brought an excursion up the river from St. Stephen and various points. About one hundred and fifty availed themselves of the opportunity of visiting our granite town. The boat only remained about an hour and the excursionists were somewhat disappointed at not being able to remain and witness the baseball which took place in the afternoon.

The Greetings Publishing Company has secured Fred Young as their agent. He will cover the entire county in the interests of 'Greetings.' We have endeavored to give the people of Charlotte County a good clean sheet, free from political slanders, and with the one aim and object in view—the advancement of public affairs and betterment of conditions throughout the County, and will continue to do so. It costs money to run a newspaper and when our agent calls on you, if in arrears we ask you to Pay Up, if not in arrears we solicit your subscription for the coming year and we will try and give you the Best Dollar's Worth of reading matter of any weekly paper in New Brunswick.

Owing to several requests from the farmers of Charlotte County to allow grade stallion colts of one year, to compete for a prize at the coming Charlotte County Exhibition, the directors have deemed it wise to allow them to compete. The object of all agricultural societies is to establish the breeding of pure bred stock on the tire's ride, therefore stallion colts of the grade class cannot compete for a prize if older than one year. The prize to be given for one year old stallion (grade) colts will be same as for a gelding or filly in premium list. W. E. Stevens, St. Stephen, N. B.

The Schr. John R. Fells, cleared yesterday for Norwalk, Conn., with 550 tons of ground pulp wood and 800 sup. ft. of lumber.

Stmr. Connors Bros arrived in port on Sunday, discharged freight on Monday morning and cleared on the noon tide.

Several of our young men went to Lord's Cove yesterday to see the ball game between the Crescents of that place and the Calais Stars.

We have an interesting piece of correspondence from the Manager of the Lord's Cove baseball team which arrived too late for this issue. However Manager Lambert informs us that out of the seven games played this year his team has won six. He also extends an invitation to the granite boys to come to Lord's Cove and play a game in the near future.

Obituary

BESSIE O'BRIEN.

The death of Miss Bessie O'Brien daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Brien of this town took place at her home at 7.30 p. m. on Wednesday.

Seldom has St. George been overshadowed with such a cloud of sadness as it was over the death of one of its most popular young ladies.

The deceased has been a patient sufferer of that dreaded disease—consumption for over a year.

She was a very estimable and well-beloved young lady and has many friends who will bear of her death with regret at the age of 35.

The deceased was an active member of the United Baptist Church, and was talented with a beautiful voice, and was ever willing to use it in the service of her Master.

The deceased leaves a father and mother at home, five sisters, Mrs. John McKinney of Calais, Mrs. V. Connell, Mrs. A. G. Stewart, Mrs. E. D. Harvey, and Miss Theodora of this town and one brother Flood at home.

The funeral took place on Friday afternoon from her late residence and was largely attended.

Rev. Mr. Buchanan conducted the services at the house and offered prayer at the grave.

The funeral procession was headed by Red Granite Division of which the deceased was a member.

The Division conducted the service at the grave.

The pall bearers of the deceased were Messrs Harvey, Stewart McKinney and Connell.

The 'Greetings' joins with the entire community in expressing deepest regret for the sorrow parents and family in their bereavement.

Baseball.

The lake team were successful in defeating the town boys again on the local diamond on Wednesday afternoon by a score of 7-3. The lineup of both teams was somewhat different from those of the former game. The batteries were for St. George Hinds, Magowan, and D. Gillmor; Utopia Griffin and Casgrain.

Umpires—Dixon and Kent.

St. George and Campobello crossed bat on Sat. and what promised to be a close game soon developed into a batting contest with St. George at the long end of the stick. In the first inning the local boys piled up 9 runs and as many more in the second. The final score was 25-4 in the local's favor. The managing committee were determined to put a winning team on the field and the island boys were probably up against one of the fastest teams St. George can produce.

The lineup was as follows:

Campobello	Str George
Varney C	Gillmor
McPhee P	Magowan
Calder 1st	H. Gillmor
Hager 2nd	Vega
Fleaton C I	Gordon
Reid 3 S	Mathewson
D. McPhee 1f	O'Neill
Davidson 3 b	Ford
Attendance 400
Umpires—Lambert and Savage.
Batteries—Varney and McPhee: Gillmor and Magowan.

THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

My Sister's Flirtation With a Girl at a Window Opposite Who Mistook Her For Me

"What a lovely room!" exclaimed my sister Alice. She had come to inspect my new bachelor quarters in the city.

"I'm glad you like it. There's something lovelier over there in the back of that house. A pretty girl sits every afternoon in the middle third story window."

A girl came to the window designated, leaned a pair of white arms on the sill, looked down at the clotheslines below and went away without seeing us.

"You don't mean to say you call her pretty?" said Alice.

"I consider her beautiful. I would like to attract her attention but dare not."

"What are you afraid of?"

"Being a stranger to her; I am afraid of offending her."

"Suppose I coach you on starting a flirtation with a girl at an opposite window?"

"I wish you would."

"Will you do as I say?"

"Certainly."

"Very well. If she comes to the window again while I'm here I'll tell you what to do."

Alice went about the room opening drawers and closets, poking her nose everywhere. I never saw anything like the curiosity of a girl. Presently, looking out, she saw the girl sitting at the window opposite. She was darned stockings. Alice keeping far enough back not to be seen, watched her for a few minutes, then said to me:

"Go to the window, pull up the shade or something to make a noise that will attract her attention, and when she looks at you throw her a kiss."

"Do you suppose I'm crazy to do such a thing?"

"I thought you promised to do as I said."

"I didn't promise to offer an insult."

"Stupid!"

"What do you mean?"

"Am I not a girl, and don't I know what would please a girl?"

"You wouldn't wish a man you had never seen to throw you a kiss, would you?"

"Never seen! Do you suppose she has never seen you?"

"I don't know that she has. Anyway, I have no reason to suppose she has noticed me."

"I have. I saw her casting glances over here."

"Oh, you see too much! I've been watching her too. She hasn't taken her eyes off the heel of that stocking since she has been at the window."

"There's nothing to be made of a fellow like you. Get me out of some of your clothes. I'll put them on and do the trick myself. You and I are the image of each other, and she won't know the difference."

"She put on just enough of my clothes to represent me and went to the window, giving a loud 'Ahem!' The girl turned, and Alice threw her a kiss. The girl pulled down the shade with a bang and left the window apparently in high dudgeon."

"There I said to Alice, 'you've spoiled everything!'"

"You mean I've started a flirtation."

"What can I do to?"

"Nothing. I'll do it for you, you'd spoil it all."

"But you're not here except occasionally."

"I'm going to stay here. Get me a room for a few days."

I would much rather have got rid of her, for I was sure she had offended the girl opposite, and I didn't wish her to get me any deeper into the mire. But she insisted, and I secured a room for her. That afternoon the girl opposite sat down by her window with her back turned to the light. She held a book in her hand.

"You see, I said to Alice, to escape being insulted she must needs turn her back."

"Nevertheless I shall insult her again."

"I forbid you."

"Nonsense! If she had considered herself insulted she wouldn't have come to the window at all. She's playing it on you."

Alice had brought in some roses from home for me. She took up one, went to the window, took deliberate aim at the girl opposite and fired the rose, striking her on the back of the head. The girl started, turned, scowled, glanced at Alice and, supposing her to be a man, showed every evidence of being offended. Then she got up from her chair, closed the blinds and shut us off.

"Very likely she won't come to the window again today," said Alice. "It's too near dinner time. She'll have to do her hair before dinner, and then it will be too late."

"You seem to know all about it. Why will she have to do her hair before dinner?"

"Because it isn't fit for the dinner table."

"I thought it delightfully negligee."

"Delightfully frowsy you mean."

I took Alice to the theatre that night, and the next day she was ready to resume her efforts with the girl opposite. After breakfast Alice called me to come to the window.

"There, stupid!" she said, pointing to the window opposite. "What do you think of that?"

On a stand near the window was a tumbler and in the tumbler was a rose.

"That's the identical rose you threw at her."

"You don't mean it?" I cried. "What's the next move?"

"I would like to have you make it yourself, only you might act silly. You see at this time of day the sun shines on this window, and I'm afraid she'll suspect I'm a girl."

"I'll do it. I'm all right now, I'm not afraid of anything."

"Boosh! You have no pluck at all."

However, it was arranged that I should make the next move, whatever that might be, though Alice was to decide upon it. We sat, I reading the paper and she watching the window opposite. Presently the girl appeared in a very becoming morning costume. She looked up at the sky.

"She's pretending she's interested in the weather," said Alice, "but that's pretty thin considering there's not a cloud in the sky. Stay where you are she can't see either of us. She'll think you have gone out and will give herself away by and by."

After the girl had examined the heavens she swept her eyes in a lightning glance across my window. Then she disappeared.

"Too bad that she has put her finery on to be disappointed," said Alice.

"What funny?"

"What funny! Do you suppose girls dress that way in the morning when they are doing household duties? She expected after yesterday's performance to see her admirer at least for a moment before his going downtown."

Alice went shopping during the morning, and I went to my club. Not yet being settled in an occupation, I am obliged to get away with a glove party and took her to lunch. Then we went to my room ready to continue my wooing by proxy. Alice concluded to close the blinds in order that she might observe the enemy through the slats; but fearing the girl opposite would see her watching, she called a maid for the purpose. Then Alice and I lounged, awaiting developments. About 3 o'clock the girl came to her window and, seeing her blinds closed, did not scruple to fix her eyes upon them. Alice, who was watching her, directed me to suddenly throw the blinds open. I did so. The girl beat a precipitate retreat.

After a while Alice told me to go to the window and sit there reading with my back to the light. I did so, while Alice herself went to the other window and watched through the slats. Presently she caught sight of a dim figure in the back of the room opposite. She could see that the girl was watching me. Then the girl came forward, unconscious that she was under observation. Suddenly Alice burst into a laugh.

"What is it?" I asked.

"She's throwing a kiss at the back of your head."

"This was too much for me to endure without seeing. I turned just in time to catch a glimpse of a figure getting back out of the light."

"Now I have started you," said Alice. "I leave you to do the rest yourself. I shall go home tomorrow."

"Do you think I can get on alone?" I asked.

"There's nothing more to do in this way. If you wish to follow the matter up you must find out a way to make her acquaintance, and having met her, you must be careful not to mention anything you have learned of her interest in you. Better not mention this part of it. Treat her as a perfect stranger."

"Would you mind, Alice, I asked 'telling me how you learned all this?'"

"I haven't needed to learn it. I'm a girl."

"But how about your experience in similar circumstances?"

"Oh, bother! There haven't been any similar circumstances in my case."

"You got it all by instinct!"

"Yes."

"Well, all I have to say is your instinct is mighty strong."

"I at least had the ability to find out who the girl opposite was and hunted among my friends till I found a mutual acquaintance who introduced me. I courted her, but blundered, and it was a long time before I won her."

Uncle Sam's Doctors

Uncle Sam's employees more than 1,000 physicians.

These doctors are pretty evenly divided between the medical corps of the navy, the marine hospital and the public health service. The complete army medical corps of the navy, the marine hospital and the public health service. The complete army medical corps includes 444 medical officers in addition to the medical reserve corps and the hospital corps, the nurse corps and the dental corps. The medical corps embraces "a surgeon general with the rank of brigadier general, 13 colonels, 105 majors and 300 captains or first lieutenants, with the rank, pay and allowances of officers of corresponding grades in the cavalry arm of the service."

The pay of doctors is interesting. The lowest rank held by medical officers is that of first lieutenant. The medical lieutenant gets $2,000 per annum, or $166.66 monthly. At the end of three years he is promoted to captain and receives $2,400 a year. In two years he receives an increase of 10 per cent, or five years service, making $2,640 or $220 per month. After ten years service the pay would be $2,880, or $250 per month. The pay attached to the rank of major is $3,000 per year, which, with 10 per cent added for each five years service, becomes $3,600 after 10 years service, $3,900 after fifteen years service and $4,600 after twenty years service. The monthly pay of lieutenant colonel, colonel and brigadier general is $375, $416.66 and $500 respectively.

In addition to their salaries, officers are furnished with comfortable quarters and the keep of two horses free, and groceries, fuel, etc., at wholesale prices.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The Person to Blame

A Sheffield tenor who had been invited out to dinner was asked to sing, and although he had no music with him and was nearly as hoarse as a frog, the result of a bad cold, he consented to try, but broke down. "Never mind lad," said an elderly guest, trying to cheer him up, never mind the breakdown for that's done thy best; but 't' fellas as asked thee 'sing out' 't' be taken out and shot."

THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

Report of Sunday-School Convention.

Greetings to the Convention, by Rev. A. F. Brown, Grand Harbor, Grand Manan: This is the first time you have favored us with your presence on our great island, and we are exceedingly pleased to see you. Mr. Farnham told me the other week we were going to have some of the greatest speakers in Canada in attendance and I am satisfied he made no mistake. We sincerely hope and trust your visit in this place will be of great spiritual benefit to you. We also hope you will go away with the impression that the people on this island are most hospitable. I wish you every success, and may this Convention be a lasting spiritual benefit and the greatest blessing of your lives. May you all have pleasant memory in connection with your visit at Grand Manan.

Reply by P. G. McFarlane: "I will take my cue from the remarks of our good Bro. Brown. I am exceedingly interested in one thing he has said. I hope to have the pleasure of hearing some of these great speakers. For the kind words of welcome, we wish to return our thanks. When we consider that we are engaged in one of the greatest works in which men can be engaged; viz., the training of the young, it seems to me the Convention should be a great help to us. We will have to help and encourage one another that we may all be encouraged to do better work, and that the Convention will be a blessing, not only to the people of Grand Manan, but to all throughout the County and province."

Report of statistical Sec., Miss Agnes Boyd: "The Sunday schools in Charlotte Co. are on the advance. Great work is being done, and we have more schools now, viz., 68, than we have had for many years. At one time we had 95, and if Bro. Farnham remains President another year, we may reach that number again. There are 4286 scholars, and 703 teachers making a total of 4989, with an average attendance of 2768. About 20 schools report they use the Supplemental lesson books. Four schools report an organized adult bible class with a membership as follows: St. Stephen Baptist 40, St. Stephen Methodist 20, Oak Bay Methodist 15, and Mahannas 20. The Lord has prospered our work, and if we only do our part, our Heavenly Father will do the rest." Report of Treas., P. C. McFarlane:

Report of I. B. R. A. Dept., A. Murray Supt.

"Mr. President and Fellow-workers: In making the report of the I. B. R. A. Dept. I am pleased to report progress. In our province in 1909 we had 83 branches, with 3041 members; to-day at this, the middle of the year, we have but 73 branches, but have 3115 members, a gain of 74 over last year. In Charlotte Co. in 1909 there were 12 branches, with 426 members; to-day we have but 11 branches but have members, which, I think, goes to show that the branches do have the readings realize the deep value of them, and the members are talking up the plan and inducing others to join their separate branches. When ministers come to realize what a help the I. B. R. A. plan would be to them in their pastoral work; when teachers come to know what a benefit it would be in their S. S. work; if the men and boys and grownups people know how much use it would be in the preparation of their sermon, then the I. B. R. A. is advocated by every school in the province." Yours ray.

Report by the President: "This is the first time reports have been received from every school in the County; 83 in number reported. During the year I have visited 70 schools; addressed 54 public meetings, speaking to 7740 people. Fifteen new schools have been organized in the past year. Driving along one fine Sunday morning in a beautiful section of our country, I came upon a nice little wooden school house, with the windows boarded up and the tall grass growing about the door. I called upon some of the people to know if there was no Sunday school, and was informed there was none. In fact, some of the men and women of the community had never been taught the bible at all. In some homes the children did not even know there was a Christmas, and there was not a bible in the house. I asked them if they wanted a Sunday school, and with one accord they answered, 'we do,' one fine Sunday morning shortly after that I drove there, found the boards off the windows of the little school house and the children about the door. We organized a Sunday school, 28 being present. That S. S. is now doing great work with an average attendance of 19 since it was organized. In another place, New River, where they never had a Sunday school before, they have sent in the following report: 'Our Sunday school is going ahead with leaps and bounds. Even where there is no preaching service, we have been able to get every parish organized with the exception of two (2). We have met with great success and have had grand parish Conventions. In some cases we have had faithful officers, which is indeed a blessing; some have been so much wrapped up in their worldly affairs as to have no time for the S. S., and some have been two indifferent God grant they be awakened to their responsibility and not repeat the cry of the dreamer, which pictures the state of too many."

"I am tired of planning and toiling, In the crowded hives of men; Hear-wear of building and spoiling And spoiling and building again. And I long for the dear old river, Where I dreamed my youth away, For a dreamer lives forever, And a toiler dies in a day. I am sick of showy seeming, Of a life that is half a lie, Of the faces lined with scheming, In the throng that hurries by. From sleepless thoughts, endeavor I would go where the children play, For a dreamer lives forever, And a thinker dies in a day." "I can feel no pride, but pity, For the burdens the rich endure, There is nothing sweet in the city But the patient lives of the poor Oh the little hands so stillful, And the child mind choked with weeds The daughters' heart grown wildful, And the fathers' heart that bleeds. No, no, from the streets rude bustle, From trophies of moot and stage, I would fly to the woods low rustle And the meadows kindly page. Let me dream as of old by the river, And he loved for the dream always, For a dreamer lives forever, And a toiler dies in a day."

Let us arise from dreaming and trust God and do our best. Let us do our little now and not wait until some dim future day. Do it now.

"Why do we wait till the ears are deaf Before we speak one kindly word? And only utter loving praise When not a whisper can be heard?" "Why do we wait till hands are laid Close folded, helpless, ere we place Within them roses, sweet and rare, And lilies in their flawless grace?" "Why do we wait till eyes are sealed, Twilight and love in deaths deep trance Dear, wistful eyes, before we bend Above them, with impassioned glance?" "Why do we wait till hearts are still To tell them all the love is ours And give them such late meed of praise And lay before them fragrant flowers?" "How oft we, careless till life's Sweet opportunities are passed, And break our, alabaster box Of ointment, at the very last?" Oh let us heed the living friend Who walks with us life's common ways Watching our eye for a look of love, And hungering for a word of praise, Be faithful, that in the closing hours of your life here, you may be able to say in the words of our ever-to-beloved King, Edward VII. "Well it is all over, but I think I have done my duty." For if great and glorious is your work, greater and more glorious will be your reward. Teachers, be earnest, helpful and true, for you stand side by side with your Savior. He it was who went about doing good, teaching and encouraging, and expounding the scriptures. Yours is the greatest work on earth, and as you, through God's grace and a Savior's love, lead those entrusted to you to the foot of the cross, so shall the "stars shine in your crown." For He says, "the teacher shall shine as the firmament."

The Covenant of Peace

Into a home of poverty came a little plant, a gift to the child from the teacher. To get sunshine for the flower the window was washed. That was the beginning. The flower started the influences that helped a whole family upward. In all modern uplift, sunshine and flowers are practical forces. It is time now to think of flowers. Have as many as you can this year. One will do you good—a garden will make you rich. The solace of humanity, Ruskin called flowers. They are the cottager's treasure," he said, "and in the crowded town, mark, as with a little fragment of rainbow, the windows of the workers in whose heart rests the covenant of peace."

Defence of King Made by Dean.

London, June 21.—The Dean of Norwich on Sunday made a remarkable address in a church near Norwich, in which he referred to King George as "a man to my personal knowledge of intense self-sacrifice and of high character."

He then mentioned "two accusations, brought, as I think, by that part of society which is no society at all, firstly, that the King is sometimes accused of inebrity. You may take one on undoubted authority that it is a libel. So far as his close friends have noticed him, he has never been intemperate throughout his life. On the contrary, he is a man who ever, from the point of view of health, has to be abstemious. He does not desire to be anything else.

"The accusation is still more unworthy had prior to his marriage to the Queen he had what is called a secret or organic marriage with children by it. That is absolutely root and branch, an untruth. The King is a man, who, with a wife of like disposition as himself, has been wont during his leisure to sit in his garden with his young children around him just the same as any of us might."

"The King and Queen visited the castle in St. George's Chapel, Windsor Castle, where the body of King Edward is interred."

A GAMBLER'S RING. When Its Owner Deals the Cards are an Open Book

A curious ring seen recently is one that belongs to a gambler, one of the famous card players in the United States. It is a heavy gold band affair and it is exactly five-eighths of an inch wide. Running around the band in such a way as to completely circle it is a row of five small signets. Each one of these is worked in gold in the form of a shield. These shields are polished on their surface and bear no marking of any sort or description.

Inside the ring and grooved into its outer circle is another good circle. When the ring is put on the operator's finger by a slight movement it is possible to slide the outside band around on the inner one. The instant this is done from under one of the small shields appears a minute mirror. This is a scant quarter inch in diameter.

When the operator sits in a game of cards he wears the ring on the little finger of his right hand.

When he slides the cards off the pack as he deals the little mirror comes directly under the card that is being dealt. The dealer, looking down at his hand as he deals, sees each card as it comes off the pack. He knows each card that he has dealt and exactly who has the card dealt.

As the dealer puts down the pack by a movement either slow or fast it is a perfectly simple matter to give the ring a slight rub, sliding it back into its original position. The mirror, even when it is exposed is always on the side of the hand and concealed from everyone. After long practice it is possible to pull every card off the pack in such a manner that it will reflect in the exact centre of the mirror.—Boston Post.

A falling guy nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The stomach also has its hidden or inside it was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak and falling stomach, heart or kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt, clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a wonderful merit. Anyway don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the only sensible and successful way. Sold by all dealers.

Hard to Realize

Strolling along half way pleasant evening up to the roof gardens on any of the fashionable hotels—especially the Astor, Waldorf, or Knickerbocker—it is difficult to reconcile the lavish display of money evident on all sides with the announcement from Washington this week that there is less money per capita in the country today than there was this time one year ago. These dreary retorts of the tired and jaded are crowded nightly with handsomely dressed women and their male escorts who disburse money with a prodigal hand, with no thought of next week's board bill or even of the morrow's carfare to business. The official government report just issued that the per capita wealth of each citizen of the country is now but $34.52 may have proved distressing news to John D. Rockefeller last week on the occasion of his 71st birthday but it does not seem to discourage any of the gilded swains who frequent these aerial gardens, and spend that much sometimes in a few minutes.

Weak Kidneys

Weak kidneys, surely point to weak nerves. The kidneys, like the heart, and the stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach those controlling nerves. To doctor the kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine is dark or is strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a medicine that will see what it can, and will do for you. Druggist's recommendation and sell.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your lazy liver to work. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. It will purify your blood. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away.
