

CANADA'S BUDGET BEEN ADOPTED

SENATE'S AMENDED LIQUOR BILL COMES UP TODAY

CARPENTERS, JOINERS AND WOODWORKERS WITH US

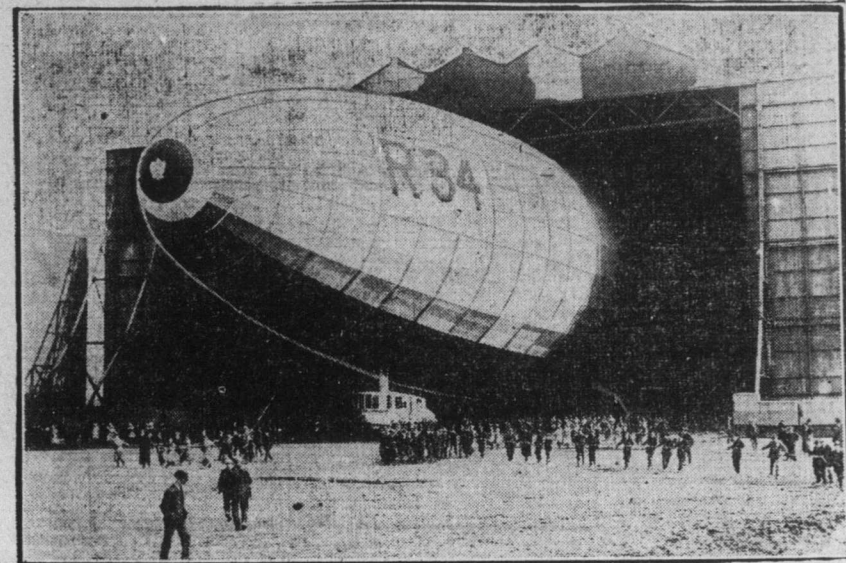

FOR ITS THIRD READING
(Special to The Record)
OTTAWA, June 19.—The prohibition bill, as amended in committee by the senate yesterday, will, it is expected, this afternoon, come up for the third reading. To all intents and purposes the bill, as it left the commons, has been killed by the upper house in committee, inasmuch as restrictions are limited for the period of the war. The effect of the amendment is the same as though no legislation has at present been introduced.

The order in council had been allowed to die a natural death, with the expiry of the War Measures Act.

The vote yesterday was recorded, being taken in committee, but another vote will probably be forced on the third reading this afternoon. Opponents and advocates of the measure were pretty divided and the vote was a non-party one. There was a pretty full representation in the chamber and it is not expected that the majority of ten, obtained by the antis, will be overturned to-day.

It is almost certain that the commons will refuse to concur in the senate's amendment and a conference between members of the two houses may result.

If the will of the senate prevails, then the signing of peace the embargo against the importation of liquor from outside Canada, against the manufacture of liquor within Canada, and against inter-provincial traffic will be lifted. Jurisdiction will remain wholly with the provinces, with the Doherty Act on the statute books to permit any province to prohibit the entry within its borders of intoxicating liquors intended for a purpose which is deemed illegal in such province.

IF SENATE CHANGES STAND IT WILL RESTORE SALES
SAYS W. S. DINGMAN OF LIC-ENSE BOARD
(Special to The Record)
TORONTO, June 19.—In an interview this morning regarding the effect of the senate's action on the sale of liquor in the province of Ontario, Vice-Chairman Dingman of the License Department, said: "The effect will be to reinstate the conditions as they were previous to the order in council of March 1918, as soon as the promulgation of peace. That means that people who have private dwellings, falling within the definition of such in the Ontario Temperance Act, can import liquor from other provinces or from other countries."

The Ontario Temperance Act did not prohibit that class of trade, it not being within the power of the province to prohibit such.

"It might say, however, that the conditions to which we shall return with the expiry of that order in council will be modified by an amendment to the Ontario Act, which was passed at the last session against liquor advertising within the province."

THE CAMPAIGN IS ON TODAY
Workers are Out and expect good results.
It will close To-Night.
The big campaign to assure this city and Waterloo fitting quarters for the returned men will close tonight. The staff of enthusiastic citizens and factory men are busy receiving the promises of public spirited citizens.

It is confidently expected that the campaign will have the best success. The surmounting of the objective will not be a surprise. The workers who have the central portion of the city to cover were out at an early hour interviewing the business and professional men. In the factories members of the staff of the respective concerns were making the round of the shops receiving the subscriptions of the individual contributors. The response was satisfactory and heralds well. Quite a number of big subscriptions have been received and others are on the way. And then there are hundreds of smaller amounts which will swell the total amount which will be put into the hands of the trustees who have charge of the same during the period which the new quarters are to be supported after being furnished with all the necessities.

While the campaign is only for one day all subscriptions after today will be quite welcome.

The debate was concluded at 2:30 and the division bells immediately rang in the members from the corridors. On the amendment submitted by Mr. D.D. McMaster, a vote of 70 for and 121 against was recorded.

TORONTO LABOR MAY PROTEST ARRESTS
TO MEET ON SUNDAY AFTER-NOON
TORONTO, June 19.—The Trades and Labor Council will, at its meeting to-night, consider the request of the district council of the carpenters union that a mass demonstration meeting of all trades and labor men of the city be called by the trades and labor council for Sunday, June 22, to protest against the arrests of labor leaders in Winnipeg.

METAL-TRADES STRIKE MAY BE SETTLED
TORONTO, June 19.—Lee has been broken for the settlement of the metal-workers' strike in Toronto, affecting 700 men. This follows the offer of one of the largest manufacturers concerned to give men an 8-hour day and conceding the principle of collective bargaining. This is all the men have asked for.

Labor leaders to-day say the offer augurs well for the early settlement of the strike, as other firms will follow.

PREPARING FOR SHOE EXHIBIT
Preparations for the big shoe and leather exhibition in this city from July 21 to 26 are underway and the matter is getting into good shape. The committee who have charge of the event are leaving nothing possible undone to ensure good results. Attention to the big exhibition, the first Canadian shoe and leather exhibition of its kind in Canada, the trade far and wide have had their interest aroused and the retailers and other buyers are now looking with eager anticipation to the event.

The exhibition will be held in the auditorium which is well suited for the purpose and is so centrally located. Space for exhibit has been allotted in such a way that there will be between thirty-five and forty booths on the main floor. It is hoped to fill all these with shoe manufacturers' exhibits, with the exception of the centre of the floor, which may be used for some demonstration of manufacturing. Space for findings and accessory firms and any other surplus of shoe manufacturing companies will be provided in the balcony at the sides.

The details of putting the booths into shape are in the hands of the local executive. Special attention will be paid to the shipments as the articles which will be shipped to the auditorium for exhibit. A special man will be retained for the purpose of looking after the same.

Regarding the attention that the exhibit is receiving by the trade some idea is gathered from the interesting references and illustrated articles that appear in the trade journals. Both Footwear and the Shoe and Leather Journal contain descriptive articles on the coming exhibition and on the manufacturers in this city.

CONCILIATION FOR STREET CAR DISPUTE
ACTING MINISTER OF LABOR FAVORS THIS
OTTAWA, June 19.—Mayor Church, of Toronto, to-day saw Hon. A. E. MacLean, Acting Minister of Labor, in connection with the Toronto street railway dispute and told him that the ordinary board of conciliation had failed to be appointed. Mr. MacLean then asked him to nominate two representatives for the men, who would consider their claims, with two men appointed by the company. Mayor Church suggested the name of David Carey as one of the two men's representatives in the new board. He afterwards visited F. A. Acland, Deputy Minister of Labor, in connection with the matter.

"I am sympathetic to the men," declared Mayor Church. "They showed loyalty to the city in not going out on a general strike two weeks ago. They have the support of the city who will see that the company finds the money to pay the increase in wages. Impartial investigation of the books of the company would show them in a position to

WHAT DRYES EXPECT COMMONS TO DO
TO SENATE'S AMENDMENT OF LIQUOR BILL
TORONTO, June 19.—Leading prohibitionists here express confidence that the house of commons will fight the senate, in connection with the action yesterday of the upper chamber in amending the bill prohibiting the importation, manufacture and inter-provincial transportation of alcoholic liquors, so as to make prohibition end when peace is signed, instead of twelve months thereafter, as legislated by the commons.

ST. ANDREWS EXTENDS CALL
Rev. G. B. MacLennan, B.A., B.D., of Yorkton, Sask., Has Been Offered Pastorate
At a meeting of the board of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, held last evening, it was finally decided to extend a call to Rev. G. B. MacLennan, B.A., B.D., of Yorkton, Sask.

Rev. MacLennan, who is a comparatively young man, made a fine impression when he visited this city some time ago. He has a fine personality and is a pleasing and convincing speaker and would aptly fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the late pastor, Rev. Marcus Scott.

The recommendation will be further ratified on Sunday morning all the members of the Board not being present last evening.

Rev. Mr. Ivens No Longer Minister
DEPRIVED OF HIS STANDING BY METHODIST CHURCH
WINNIPEG, June 18.—Rev. Wm. Ivens, editor of the Western Labor News, who was arrested yesterday along with other strike leaders, was given notice on location by a motion passed to-day in a closed meeting of the ministerial session of the Manitoba Conference of the Methodist church.

"Notice of location" is a technical term by which a man is notified that he can no longer preach as a minister of the Methodist Church, and that he gives up the standing and functions of a minister conferred on him at his ordination.

The only reason given for this action was that Mr. Ivens was not willing to devote himself to the work of a Methodist minister.

After receiving the congratulations of the assembled guests, the bride and groom were taken to the dining room where they were seated at a table with white and pink decorations. The wedding dinner was served.

The groom's gift to the bride was a cut glass water set, to the bride a cameo ring and to the groom a pair of cuff links.

Niagara Fruit Crop May Be Short

GROWER SAYS MANY PEACH ORCHARDS WILL YIELD SCARCELY NOTHING.

NIAGARA FALLS, June 18.—W. H. Bunting, the well-known and extensive fruit grower, of Grantham, who is an authority to go by, draws an exceedingly gloomy picture of fruit prospects in the Niagara fruit belt for this year. While travelling through Niagara Township he pointed out orchard after orchard of peaches which will yield scarcely any fruit this year owing to the devastation of the curl leaf.

"The situation is entirely reversed," said Mr. Bunting. "A month or so ago the prospects for a bumper crop of everything practically seemed very bright. Then the wet weather came on and spoiled everything. Many of the low leaves will die and the vast majority will not yield any fruit this year."

But Few Other Fruits.
Mr. Bunting said that other fruits were in the same class, pears, cherries and plums. The sweet cherry crop is practically all and the sour cherries about 25 per cent, he said. This was because the rain washed the pollen out of the blossoms. Apples will be short, too, Mr. Bunting said, as the trees did not come out well with the blossoms.

Throughout the district presents a dreary sight with the tree all yellowed and sickly looking with the curl leaf, and the fruit growers feel pretty glum. They also say they are short of help this year.

MORTGAGE CO. IS WOUND UP

When the Standard Reliance Mortgage Company closed its doors yesterday afternoon, and a winding up was granted by Mr. Justice Masten on the request of the directors, there was seen the result of heavy speculation in Toronto and suburban lands by a subsidiary company, the failure of which came with the war and the collapse of the city's real estate boom.

It is one of the most serious financial failures in years, with liabilities of about $8,500,000 and assets which it is hoped will, by careful nursing, ultimately meet the claims of the depositors and debenture holders. More conservative financiers in the city last night, while deploring the occurrence, spoke of the methods of the company as being unusual and thought the event gave no cause for anxiety on the general situation. Though loan companies are not permitted to buy and sell lands, this company had, they said, violated at least the spirit of the law by carrying on a large business of this kind through the agency of the Dovercourt Land Company, a subsidiary corporation, whose stock was owned by the Standard Reliance.

The maid of honor was Miss Florence May Anderson while the bridesmaid was Miss Wilma McIlwain. During the solemn ceremony Prof. G. Ziegler played the organ and Miss Anderson sang "Beaneau."

Among the attendants from a distance were friends from Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Galt and Guelph.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome string of pearls, and to the bridesmaid a pearl pin, and to the ushers and the groomsmen pearl pins.

The bride couple left on the 5.20 train for Georgian Bay on a honeymoon trip after which they will reside in Toronto. The good wishes of their many friends go with them.

Young—Hulme.

A very pretty June wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hulme, 35 Irvin St. at two o'clock on Wednesday afternoon when their youngest daughter Gertrude was united in the bonds of holy matrimony to Mr. Jack Young, youngest son of Mr. George Young, of St. Bromley, London, England, in the presence of the immediate friends of the contracting parties, the Rev. Maurer officiating.

Precisely at the appointed hour the bride, beautifully gowned in white silk with silver trimmings and wearing a tulle veil with coronet of pearls and carrying a bouquet of white peonies entered the drawing room leaning on the arm of her father to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Clara McDonald, while Mr. H. Peacock of Stratford sang O Promise Me. The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Clara, who was beautifully gowned in pink carrying pink peonies. The groom was assisted by Mr. Ted Berwick.

The home was beautifully decorated with ferns, orange blossoms and pink and white peonies.

The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond ring, to the bridesmaid a pearl ring and to the best man a pearl tie-pin.

After the reception and wedding dinner Mr. and Mrs. Young left for a honeymoon trip to Toronto, Niagara and Buffalo after which they will take up their residence on South Water Street.

The bride received many beautiful and costly gifts showing the high esteem in which she is held by her many friends.

The marriage took place yesterday of Mr. John E. Morrison and Miss Laura Mae Hiller. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. S. MacCreedy. The bride couple will reside in this city.

SCHMIDT-PAETZ

St. Peter's patronage was the scene of a nuptial event at three o'clock this afternoon. The contracting parties were Mr. Oscar Schmidt of 12 David Street and Edna, daughter of Mrs. Marie Paetz, 78 Stanley Street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Sperling. They were attended by Mr. Frank Paetz, a brother of the bride and by Miss Lillie Schmidt, a sister of the groom.

The bride was prettily attired in white silk and her travelling suit was navy blue corded silk.

The event was attended only by the immediate relatives and friends.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl and diamond sunburst and to the bridesmaid a cameo brooch and to the groomsmen a pearl earring.

After a reception at the bride's home the bride couple left on a honeymoon trip to Eastern points going via motor, after which they will reside temporarily on David Street.

GABEL-EIDT
The marriage took place at two-thirty o'clock yesterday afternoon of Mr. Hiram Gabel, of Shakespeare and Miss Flossie Eidt, of New Hamburg. The event was solemnized at the Zion parsonage by Rev. Mr. J. P. Hauch. The attendants were Mr. W. M. Eidt, of New Hamburg, a brother of the bride and Miss Bertha Gabel, of Shakespeare.

After a honeymoon trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls and other points, they will take up their residence on Henry Street.

KAUFMAN-MEYERS
A nuptial event of interest took place in the city yesterday when Mr. Franklin Kaufman, of the Preston Road, was united in marriage to Miss Gertrude Elizabeth Meyers of this city, formerly of Wilmot. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. P. Hauch, and took place at the home of the bride's brother, 52 Locust Street.

It was attended by only the immediate friends.

After a honeymoon trip to Buffalo, Niagara Falls, and other points, Mr. and Mrs. Kaufman will take up their residence on the Preston Road.

There will be no open air concert tomorrow evening owing to the W. M. S. Band taking part in the annual tattoo in Galt.

PICNICS BEING BOOKED
The booking of dates for picnics at the Park are very much in excess of last year and the biggest season in the Park history is anticipated.

PICNIC TOMORROW
The Methodist Church Sunday school and congregation are holding their annual outing in the park tomorrow afternoon.

WILL PLAY AT FREEPORT SHORTLY
The Boys Band will entertain the soldiers at the Freeport Sanatorium to a band concert in the course of a few weeks. It will be held on a Sunday afternoon.

WILL START SCHOOLS
At a largely attended meeting held last night in the Y.W.C.A. it was unanimously decided to establish in the City of Kitchener one or more Vocational Bible study schools during the summer months.

Rev. R.S. Buckingham of Ottawa who is interested in this work was present and outlined the work. The idea is to have a place where school children may have a place to go to during the summer holidays that will be useful to them in the after life. The school will be held in the mornings from 9.30 to 11.30 and will last for 5 or 6 weeks.

There will be kindergarten classes, sewing and domestic classes for the older girls and manual training for the boys.

A number of teachers from the public schools have signified their intention of taking part in the work and the schools are an assured fact. A committee was appointed last night to pick out the location of the different schools with full power to act.

This afternoon another meeting is being held when further details will be gone into.

SPARKS' CIRCUS PLEASE MANY
They Carry a High Class Line, So That Accounts for it. They have come and gone! A victory was scored here as elsewhere by Sparks Circus. Yesterday the thousands of attendants at the shows at Woodside Park were impressed with the quality of these famous shows have to offer. Sparks Circus came here with a high reputation and they left with this reputation still higher if that is possible. The consensus of opinion of the attendants at the afternoon and evening performances is that the shows are the best and of the highest class that have ever visited this city.

The shows in every department are a credit to the owners. In the ability and skill of the performers in the management and care in the tents and everywhere on the grounds, it is evident that the shows excel. Courtesy is a conspicuous feature. Everything that can please the audience seems to be done by the management.

Regarding the performances the shows carry the best in acrobatics, stunts, trained wild animals and also trained pet animals. Seldom has a circus been seen here which had such a good list on its bill.

The stunts by skilled and clever Japs, the trapezium and bar work, the high rope walking the performance of the splendid and well kept horses, that of the highly trained sea-seals and last but not least the wild west show all these are evidence that the show is worth while going to see.

After the regular show a special performance was put on in the way of the Wild west events. At this some clever horse back riding by the cow boys famous on the continent was shown. Also roping was demonstrated as it is done on the wild prairies and an inkling given to the basis and incidents which go to make up the real wild west stories depicted on the screen.

The side shows carried by the circus are the higher class. There is nothing that puts some shows on the lower level which is sometimes seen. The control and overseeing in the shows is remarkable. Everything goes without a hitch, and without causing any distraction.

Sparks circus have come and gone but the patrons have not forgotten it. Nor will they. They have left behind pleasant reminiscences which it is hoped will on some future rush be followed by another visit here.

FROM WHENCE COMES CHAUNTAUGA
The Kitchener Chautauqua is made possible by the good will, interest and financial backing of 75 of our business men. The program is built by the Co-Operative Dominion Chautauqua. The office is at Toronto and managed by Dr. Norman Piss. Realizing the value of the Chautauqua to the city and community, enterprising people do not hesitate to lend a hand to the valuable institution. Such men as Evans, Peadar, Bohn, Bohn and Skehill bring ideas from many quarters of the land. Evans is a Welshman and a nephew of Lloyd George. Peadar is a true-blue Frenchman. Adam is Pastor of the Emmanuel Congregational Church of Montreal—a first cousin to Gladstone. Bale hails from Ohio. Bohn—You know him, nudged.

Skehill—Say, but he has a fine sense and message comes to us from Australia. His humorous poems were the rage in England during the war. Land and wrote a poem. Roosevelt said of him: "I am prouder to be on the platform with Tom Skehill than any other man I know."

No one can afford to miss the Chautauqua.

MUST REDUCE NUMBER OF LIQUOR ORDERS OR BE PUT ON "BLACK LIST."

TORONTO, June 19.—Some 50 Ontario doctors will within the next few days receive from the board of license commissioners a plainly worded warning that they have been issuing far too many prescriptions for liquor, and that unless they immediately give and the board proper assurances that the numbers of orders on the Government shops will be reduced, or prove that the prescriptions issued are rightly issued, instructions will be issued to the agencies to refuse to honor any physicians.

A number of the doctors are being offered an opportunity to appear before the board in person to explain why they have been issuing so many prescriptions and if any of them fail to do so the board will feel itself free to "black list" the doctors' orders.

As a starter the board is dealing only with the worst offenders, the doctors who have been issuing over 200 prescriptions a month. The board is putting into effect at once a new system of orders on the Government agencies. Requisition books serially numbered with 100 orders in each are being issued to the doctors. The doctors are made after the fashion of check books with a stub arrangement.

It is hoped by this system to put a stop to the circulation of bogus orders which has been possible by the vendors and could not be checked up.

ANT-WOMAN'S STRUGGLE FOR GOOD HEALTH QUICKLY REWARDED

A Simple Home Treatment Now Advocated that Gives Fine Results

When a woman's face grows haggard and pale, when she is tired all day and ready to cry when night comes, she ought to know something is wrong.

Putting off only make matters worse. The best advice we can give any sickly woman is to test out the following treatment. At the close of every meal, with a sip of two or water, take two chocolate-coated Ferrozone Tablets. This seems to be the best thing going for folks that are tired out, run-down and in need of a strengthening, building-up medicine.

Ferrozone's action aids the three principal functions of the body—digestion, assimilation, elimination. By strengthening digestion it forms an abundance of rich, red blood—this gives good color.

By perfecting assimilation, Ferrozone supplies nutrition—this gives strength, vim, stability.

Elimination is assured because Ferrozone quickens the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels—this guarantees the maintenance of vigorous health.

Ferrozone puts you on the right road—the one that leads to health. Not a man, woman or child needing blood, vigor, endurance—not a person who is weak, nervous or sickly, not a person in ill-health who won't receive immediate help from Ferrozone.

As a tonic and restorative, as a health-bringer and body-builder, Ferrozone is unrivaled. It cures because it feeds and nourishes, because it contains the elements that build up and strengthen. Try it yourself—sold everywhere in 50 cent boxes or boxes for $2.50 or by mail from The Ferrozone Co., Kingston Ont.

Of Interest To Local Poultrymen

SEASONABLE TALKS AND TIME-TO-TO.

Cool spots where the chicks can retire during the heat of the day must be provided if they do not already exist. Chicks that are forced to spend their day in the blazing sun, and their nights in badly ventilated or overcrowded coops stand a poor chance of developing into anything like profit-earning stock, much less into show birds. Overcrowding is responsible for most of the summer troubles of the young stock, and lack of shade that are stunted at any time during their growing period rarely fully recover and retain their proper size. The pullets they do not come up to the standard weight is handicapped in competition, and may not prove as good a layer as nature intended her to be.

Under the best possible conditions chicks grow but slowly during the heat of the summer. Under any but the best care they will be liable to stand still in the matter of growth. Grain fed that does not make a return in growth adds to the expense of producing a mature bird. To be successful in raising chicks all hardships must be removed, and everything calculated to hasten strong, healthy development must be provided. Shade during the day and well ventilated, roomy quarters at night are necessary, especially during such weather as we have been having; and are likely to have for the next two or three months.

Must have Shade
A sun-burned yard without sheltering trees, bushes or other protection is far from being an ideal place for adult stock, and much less so for the young. The latter are tender and their coats of down or tiny feathers afford but slight protection against the direct rays of the sun. They must, therefore, be given access to some shady spot to which they can retire at intervals. The coops will not serve this purpose, a free movement of air is demanded. Trees, shrubs or growing corn furnish suitable shade. If these are not available, artificial shelter may easily be provided. Elevated frames covered with sheeting, burlap bags or roofing paper are commonly used for this purpose.

Di. Ground Frequently
Give chicks plenty of room in the yard or on the range. Overcrowding is a fertile cause of trouble. This must not be construed to mean that it is not possible to grow good chicks in limited space, because it is; a fact which is being demonstrated on unnumbered city and village lots. But the intensive system of poultry raising, the plan which must of necessity be adopted by the majority of town dwellers, demands more work and closer attention of detail on the part of the attendant. A very few chicks can, without trouble, be reared on a small lot each season, but when the number is increased to the point where the ground is denuded of grass, becomes polluted by the accumulated dropping and infected with disease germs and poultry parasites, trouble appears.

As Much Freedom as Possible
As a general proposition, then, where a large amount of poultry is grown it pays to give the young stock the greatest possible freedom and so avoid the dangers of overcrowding. When the chicks are on a large range they enjoy the natural conditions, find much food which they relish, and are free from the constant worry of confinement. This means better development, less disease and usually fewer deaths.

Senate Decides That "Dry" Order Ends With War

VOTES IN COMMITTEE TO AMEND THE COMMONS PROHIBITION LEGISLATION PROVIDING EFFECT FOR YEAR AFTER WAR; AFFECTS THE TRANSPORTATION, MANUFACTURE AND THE IMPORTATION OF LIQUOR.

OTTAWA, June 18.—The Senate today smashed the prohibition bill, which prevents the importation, manufacture and transportation of intoxicating liquor—at least this is the practical effect of its action.

There is so much of legal technicality in the situation that a little explanation of what it all means is in order. Briefly stated, what the Senate in committee of the whole—has done is to pass, by a vote of 34 to 24, the bill, but to limit its application till the war is over and no longer. The third reading is yet to come. The war will be over when peace is "proclaimed," not when it is signed. When that will be is uncertain, as the cable dispatches indicate. "What the Senate in committee has cut out of the measure by the Commons is the provision that the act, in addition to applying during the war should operate also "for 12 months thereafter."

"AS YOU WERE."
Whenever peace is proclaimed, then it will be a case of "as you were" before the federal order-in-council was operative.

The chronology on events in this vitally important legislation is interesting. It was at Christmas time in 1917 that the Union Government decided to take action to amplify the different provincial enactments. Nearly all the provinces at the time save Quebec, were dry. That is to say, the legislatures had banned the sale. The effect of this prohibition, however, was considerably nullified by the fact that the importation of intoxicants came solely within the purview of the Dominion Parliament. So while bars and shops were abolished liquor could still be imported to dry areas or it could be manufactured therein.

TO AMPLIFY ACTS.
The federal legislation was designed to amplify the provincial acts and to start in where they ended. In that way, as explained, it made a criminal offense to transport liquor from one province to another or to import it from abroad or manufacture it at home. The exceptions were the native wines of Ontario and the two per cent. beers. Parliament never legislated on the subject, what was done was done by order-in-council under the war measures act, but such order acquired the same force as if passed by Parliament. They hold good till peace comes but necessary.

When the prohibition order was passed it applied as stated to the continuance of the war and a year after it was this latter proposal that needed ratifying. The Commons ratified it; The Senate doesn't and there you are. The effect of the Senate's action is to re-establish, after peace is proclaimed, the old order of things. Liquor then may be imported from one province to another for personal use, but not for sale. What restrictions are applied by the provinces will apply still but what will be removed are the amplifying measures of the Dominion. When the proclamation of peace will be, no one is in a position to say.

THE PROCLAMATION.
If Germany refuses to sign next Monday the war will go on and all war measures will hold. If the enemy does sign that alone will not constitute official peace. Probably it will be proclaimed only when the parties signatory to the treaty or the outstanding countries to the pact formally ratify it and exchange with each other the ratifications.

Till that indefinite date prohibition as we now have it will continue, but afterwards all the restrictions applied by the federal order will then cease automatically, instead of only 12 months later.

All this on the assumption that the Upper House decides on the third and final reading of the bill—when the votes will be recorded—as it did on the standing vote in the committee stage. Little adverse comment is heard in the Commons. The Senate has done only what many of the Commons wished, though some were constrained to vote for the bill because it was a Government measure and many more because they did not wish, as elected representatives, to run counter to the temperance sentiment of the country.

THE MOVERS.

The constitution objection that the act bars interprovincial trade was first raised in the Senate by Senator Clive Pringle. The actual motion to amend the bill was presented by Senator Decker, of Alberta, and carried by a majority of 19, unlikely to be reversed on the third reading. Under the circumstances the bill, while becoming law, will hold only till peace is officially proclaimed. Even that may be several months.

WOOLEN MILLS' PROFITS

Called before the Parliamentary Committee, which is gathering data on the cost of living, the head of a Woollen Mill, in Sherbrooke, Quebec, when asked whether in justice to the consumers of Canada, his company should not reduce prices of tweed cloth, is reported as having replied:

"Our mill wasn't built for the glory of God or anybody else. It was built for the benefit of shareholders. Anyone who couldn't make money during the war had something wrong with him."

He is also reported to have admitted that while in 1914 his company had made 7 per cent. profit these had increased in 1918-19 to 72 per cent. Having, for four years, fattened on exorbitant gains, he seems determined to continue them.

He boldly asserted that neither respect for Principle nor the welfare of those who buy his goods are given any consideration in the conduct of his mill. Long profits is apparently its sole aim. Gorged with profits, he ridicules those who failed similarly to fatten during the war.

Greed grows on what it feeds on. In pre-war days this woollen mill was content with a 7 per cent. dividend. The demand for khaki cloth for military purposes and the urgency for its delivery seems to have opened the way for its taking exceedingly long profits and it glories in its capacity. There was no competition and the blue sky was the only limit.

The war did another thing. It rendered the getting of wool difficult. Woollen mills were obliged to use substitutes. That which was partly necessary, was apparently exploited.

In Toronto, A. R. Bulman, chief metallurgical engineer of the Acme Engineering company, has analytically examined samples of cloth and declares that even among the highest priced and so-called cloths guaranteed to be all wool, he found that in no instance was there 10 per cent. of wool in any cloth he examined.

He avers on the contrary that "the cloth was spun from woolen rags put together with a small amount of wool that is what is known as new wool, and the few shavings from various fur-bearing animals. Once in a while a chicken may contribute part of it." "I fail to find a yard of cloth anywhere that can possibly cost $1 at the present price of labor and material and I am prepared to prove my statements."

Providing his statements are warranted by the facts, consumers have not only been imposed upon in the matter of price, but have been given inferior goods. A double imposition.

On the same day that the admission here referred to was made, the Dominion Textile Co. made one, showing that its profits were even larger than those of the Sherbrooke woollen mill.

Ever since the first year of the war the Canadian public has been convinced that there was flagrant profiteering in certain lines of foodstuffs and necessities. It could not put its finger on the profit but felt that it was being plucked.

One of the chief causes of dissatisfaction with the federal government's administration of affairs has been its failure to check profiteering. The demand for action was loud and insistent. Ever since it began collecting its excess war profits tax, it has been in possession of facts that would lead it to condemn which were unduly grasping. In making a declaration of profits, it was obligatory for business houses to send copies of their financial statements. For government auditors to have examined those and discovered which ones were profiteering would have been a comparatively easy matter.

It is not having, until public opinion obliged it to do so, made a move towards ending profiteering, is difficult to understand. Did it consider that the percentages levied on excess profits was a substitute for taxation and left those who were coining money open to buy Dominion bonds?

Or did the big corporations have sufficient influence to prevent investigations and probable restrictions on their greed? The public does know that Cost of Living Commissioner O'Connor, the only investigator who uncovered any profiteering, was squeezed out of his position.

Whatever the reason, little was done to check the taking of abnormal profits. Since no meal can be ground with the water that has passed through the wheel, the question arises: What effort will the Ottawa authorities make to prevent subsequent profiteering?

Ninety-five per cent. of Canadian industries are said to have acted rationally and decently in the matter of profit taking. The 5 per cent. have like the tiger, tasted blood and will, if not brought up short, continue to exact the longest profits the traffic will stand.

This numerically small group may agree with the Sherbrooke concern in saying that their plants "were not built for the glory of God nor anybody else."

Then the public will demand that a limitation be placed upon mill profits, based on investments.

With the war on and the necessity for concerted effort on the part of every one, the Canadian public was averse to exhibiting its anger over abnormal living conditions. It patiently bore its burden, believing that when hostilities ceased, prices would be righted. Since there are no signs of amelioration, it will not long submit to paying two or three prices.

Should the federal authorities fail to act, public opinion will sweep them from power and in the ensuing application of a remedy, the majority of fair, decent concerns are likely to suffer for the sins of the few, conscienceless ones.

ORIGIN OF THE HYDRO-ELECTRIC POWER MOVEMENT

Under the auspices of our Light Commission there has been recently issued a brochure dealing in an authoritative manner with the origin of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Movement.

In a concise way, from birth of the thought until the turning on of Niagara power here in October, 1910, the history of the enterprise is related.

In addition, tables showing the growth in the use of Hydro-Electric power are given. The original 14 municipalities signed for a total of 28,235 h.p. In December of 1918, there were 134 municipalities being served and utilizing 151,348 h.p.

Figures given by Adam Beck, here, last Monday evening, show that the original investment for the distribution of Niagara power was $4,500,000. When in 1921 present power development projects are completed, the investment will have reached $105,000,000. There is a purpose to develop power on the St. Lawrence, which put into effect will eventually call for an investment of $200,000,000, making the undertaking the greatest of its kind and as Sir Adam believes, giving Ontario the most economical industrial developer in the world.

Our community has every reason to take pride in the development of Hydro enterprises. The issuing of the booklet to which reference has been, and its contents being accurate and truthful, will fix the credit where it rightfully belongs. The brochure itself will with the passing of time become of historical importance.

BY THE WAY

Most folks would ask a tenpoot for making a journey over the house tops.

U. S. Senator Capper, in describing the man who is opposed to the league of nations said he is like the one who did not have a sunny disposition for fear it might give him freckles.

According to figures contained in the Canada Year Book for 1918, the birth rate per 1,000 is highest in Quebec, with 38.64 births per 1,000 living, and lowest in British Columbia with 13.12. Ontario stands at 24.14, Nova Scotia at 25.12, Manitoba at 33.85, Saskatchewan at 29.70, Alberta at 26.85 and Prince Edward Island at 17.04.

Extracts of Exchange

The Fishing Season
Syracuse Standard—The late Justice Brewer was with a party of New York friends on a fishing trip in the Adirondacks and around the campfire one evening the talk naturally ran on big fish. When it came his turn the jurist began, uncertain as to how he was going to come out: "We were fishing one time on the Grand Banks for—er—for—" "Whales," somebody suggested. "No," said the justice "we were baiting with whales."

Repressing a Bore.
Argonaut—Luther Burbank was walking in his garden when he was accosted by an officious acquaintance who said: "Well what are you working on now?" "Trying to cross an eggplant and milkweed," said Mr. Burbank.

"And what under heaven do you expect to get from that?"
Mr. Burbank calmly resumed his walk "Custard pie" he said.

THE SOCIAL SURVEYOR
Winston N.C. Guide—On last Friday night the old story waded up the Yakin and turned out up Muddy Creek and flew off near Seward and, left a brace of twins with Mr. and Mrs. Abe Hunter. The stork then flew out by way of Cud Oosley's house and took an accurate survey of the premises.

The Bolsheviks Boss.
Samuel Gompers was talking in Washington about his recent foreign tour. "Heaven deliver us," he said "from the bolshevik type of labor leader!" Here Mr. Gompers gave a hearty laugh.

"You know," he went on "about the unemployment allowance of 25 shillings a week that is given to English labor? Well Bolshevik labor leader at a labor demonstration one night pointed to a modest neatly dressed young woman and hissed in my ear."

"Scab! Look at the dirty scab! If it wasn't for her sex I'd leave her out of the window!"

The bolshevik gave an indignant snort. "Why," he said "when her munition plant shut down she said it wasn't right—the dirty scab—to take the 25 shillings unemployment allowance when there were plenty of good places vacant, and goldmine if she didn't go back to general housework."

"How do you manage it?"

"Easy enough, sir, if you keep on the right side of them."

"Ah yes—but what is the right side of them?"

"Well," said the tamer "I reckon it's the outside."

She was the first woman to receive the degree of doctor of laws from New York University, and is reputed also to be the first woman ever entrusted with the exacting duties that devolve upon a referee in bankruptcy.

IRRITATIONS OF THE SKIN

ARE SOOTHED AND HEALED BY USE OF DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT—TWO INTERESTING CASES REPORTED

The old method of treating eczema by means of internal medicine is too slow and uncertain of results.

The new method is by use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You apply the ointment and obtain almost immediate relief from the itching, stinging sensations. In a few days the sore spots are cleaned out and the healing process is set up.

As you apply the ointment from day to day you can see for yourself the splendid results obtained and this will encourage you to keep on with this treatment until the cure is complete.

Mrs. Stafford Leason, Winchester, Ont., writes: "I can heartily recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment, as it cured me of a very severe case of eczema. After using several remedies without relief, I was about discouraged, thinking I could never endure the intense suffering. At last one evening when I felt I could not endure the pain another day or hour longer, I thought of Dr. Chase's Ointment which I had seen advertised, and decided to give it a trial. To my great surprise, after using it a few times, I obtained relief, and in a few days my affliction began to completely disappear. My husband and I often speak of the quick and lasting cure I obtained in such a short time. That was ten years ago, and we have kept it in our home ever since, and it has been a great healer for many other complaints. I never fail to recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment to my friends and neighbors."

"I might state that we have also used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in our household, and I can recommend it as doing all that you claim for it." In scores of other ways Dr. Chase's Ointment is of use in every home. Applied after shaving, it keeps the skin soft and smooth. Used for baby after the bath, it cures chafing and skin irritation. It is so soothing and healing that it acts as a beautifier of the skin, keeping it soft, smooth and velvety. Sixty cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Canada's Growth In Shipping 1919

CONTROL HAS WORKED ADMIRABLY.

The amount of shipping through Canadian ports still controlled by the Canadian Director General of the British Ministry of Shipping, has actually been larger in the first five months of 1919 during the period of demobilization than in 1918, when the war with its attendant operations was supposed to be at its height.

The gross tonnage of materials and supplies cleared during five months compared to the corresponding months of previous years is as follows:

28,000 124,350 178,020 239,198 299,765
23,246 180,353 211,505 278,419 252,458
28,703 172,917 266,750 400,323 304,160
35,307 176,894 327,351 412,433 495,582
40,451 164,906 444,970 335,357 448,641

This shows a gross tonnage for the first five months of 1919 of no less than 1,804,395 tons, or nearly as much as the total tonnage for the whole year 1916.

The gross tonnage of material and supplies, excluding horses and mules, cleared from Canadian ports since the beginning of the war to the end of May 1919 has reached the enormous total of 14,044,758 tons.

Such an achievement was only possible through the co-operation of the railway companies.

The system inaugurated in Canada since the outbreak of the war of controlling the shipments so as to concentrate the active shipping capacity at the ports has worked admirably, and there has been no congestion on Canadian roads in spite of the enormous traffic carried.

Don't Sell the Old Clock

By Aedine MacGillivray

THE old grandfather clock stood in the little bare hall. It was a tall dignified clock in a beautiful mahogany case, which made the woodwork of the little hall and narrow stairway look all the more shabby and cheap by contrast. Constance thought of this as she dusted the shiny old wood, and little Pauline who sat on the last step of the stair said: "We got the old clock anyway, hasn't we?"

"Yes," Connie replied, "but we wouldn't have it if it wasn't for Great Grandpa Bennett's writing inside."

She opened the clock and looked in at the square of yellowed paper pasted in the back behind the pendulum. The ink on the paper was faded a rusty brown, but the writing was bold and clear:

"Don't sell the old clock."

Just then a door banged heartily and in stamped Edgar, throwing down his cap and wanting to know "how about eat."

He had been working in his garden patch all the morning and was ravenous. A smell of Irish stew came from the kitchen where Mrs. Bennett hummed a tune as she worked. Constance ran to help, as the old clock gravely tolled the hour.

"Mummy dear," said Constance, arranging the dishes on the plain kitchen table, "don't you think Great Grandpa Bennett was kind of silly to write that in the clock. How was he to know what was going to happen?"

"He left your grandfather well off, with a good farm and house," replied Mrs. Bennett.

"Well, Grandpa didn't need to sell the clock and neither did Uncle Harry," Constance said.

"And neither would we need to if Daddy was alive," put in Edgar.

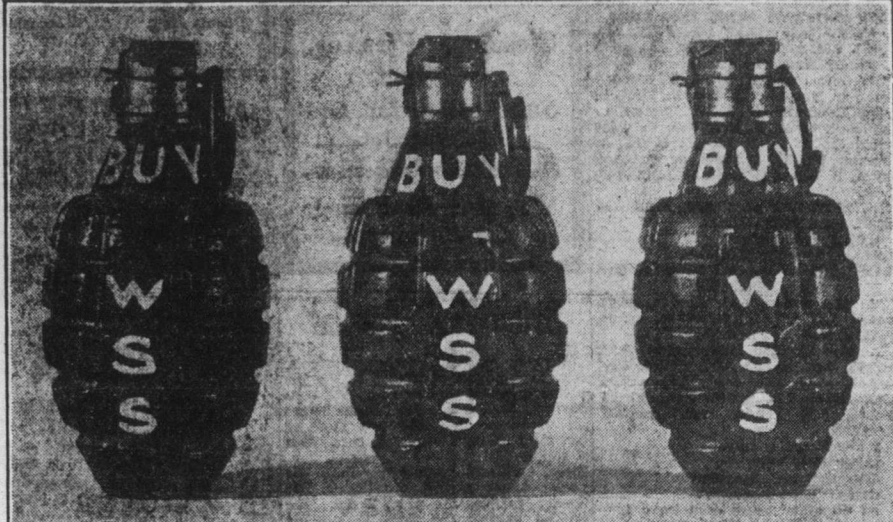

A sad little silence fell on the three and at last the mother said cheerily: "We don't need to sell the old clock yet, though it is nice to know that at any time I can sell the case alone for a hundred dollars. It's like having so much money in the house. We'll never sell the works, but if worst comes to worst there's always the case."

"Remember how Dad used to stand

Boys and Girls, Here is a Chance To Get a Real Hand Grenade

A COMPLETE change in the life work of a large number of good hand grenades has been effected by the Savings Division of the Treasury Department. The grenades started out in life to spread death and destruction in the German Army, via the fighting units of the Yanks. The signing of the armistice halted them on their way. As a result they will work out their existence encouraging thrift among the school children of America. The War Department was ready to sell the grenades, which were complete and ready for active service except for the charge of explosive which each one was designed to carry. The Savings Division, however, decided that the souvenir value of the grenades should not be lost.

The grenades will be transformed into savings banks which will hold pennies and dimes of school children throughout the country, who are saving to buy Thrift Stamp and War Savings Stamps. They will be distributed by the Savings Directors of the twelve Federal Reserve Banks. The Treasury Department has approved a plan whereby all children under ten years old who earn enough money during their summer vacation to buy a War Savings Stamp, and who submit to their teachers when school is resumed in the fall a story on how they earned the money will be entitled to receive a grenade bank. Children more than ten years old will be required to buy two stamps.

Fifteen million of these hand grenades are available for transformation into savings banks, but the number to be distributed will be decided by the District Savings Directors.

In front of it after he'd wound it and say: "Well, we'll never sell the old clock?"

"Yes!" cried his mother. "And we never will unless our very lives depend on it. We have sold everything else, children, but we'll keep the old clock!"

Constance looked about the poor little room, the soap boxes used for chairs, her mother's battered old rocking chair and thought what a very great deal a hundred dollars would buy. Dinner was ready at last. Connie sliced the bread and put on a pitcher of milk, then she called Pauline. There was no answer.

"Pauline never comes when I call," Connie said impatiently. "Mrs. Bennett was the jolliest, easiest and plumpest of mothers, with the bluest eyes and readiest smile and the best of tempers. She merely laughed at her daughter's crossness and went out to look for Pauline. "I'm getting real mean," Connie said a little ashamed. "But do you know why? It's because I keep looking at that old clock and thinking what a great big useless thing it is

A WISE TEACHER

Henry Ward Beecher — Born June 24, 1831

I DON'T know what is the matter with Polly Drake," pouted Sue. "She's the most uninteresting girl I ever talked to. Why we walked all the way home from school together today, and I was never so bored in all my life."

"What a awful confession," laughed Aunt Mary. "But I can't believe that Polly Drake was all together to blame. You are telling tales on yourself, as well as on your friend."

"I—I don't think I understand what you mean," stammered Sue, growing very red.

"Sit down, and I will tell you a little story," answered Aunt Mary, and Sue, who loved her Aunt's ever-interesting tales, settled herself to listen.

"One of the wisest teachers and best preachers that this country can boast of was Henry Ward Beecher, whose birthday comes on the twenty-fourth of this month. The fame of the good man had spread far and wide, and every Sabbath day his church was filled to the doors with an enthusiastic congregation and visiting friends who flocked to hear the wise man's teachings. Now one Sunday there came to the church a preacher from a small town nearby, who had heard of the wonderful sermons that Beecher always gave and who had come to seek inspiration. With astonishment he looked around the crowded church. Not a head was nodding, not a soul was snoring, everybody was wide awake and all were listening attentively to their teacher's words. 'Surely,' thought the visiting preacher, 'There must be some secret in being able to attract and hold a congregation as shoulder answered, "Before you can sit up your concentration, my man, you must first wake up the preacher."

Aunt Mary paused. "Oh, I know why you are telling me this story," cried Sue. "You think that before I look for things the matter with other people I should see what is the matter with me!"

"Just that," agreed Aunt Mary. "Perhaps you could wake Polly up and find her interesting if you would wake Sue up first so she could draw the best out of Polly. Whenever I find myself wondering what is wrong with other folks I think of wise Henry Ward Beecher's words and try to 'wake up the preacher.'"

"He was a wise man," said Sue. "I'm going to try to follow his advice, too." And she did.

WHAT ONE WOMAN DID

BATTLE OF MONMOUTH COURT HOUSE—JUNE 28, 1778.

WISH I was a boy," sighed Dolly, "girls never amount to anything anyhow."

"How can you say such a thing?" exclaimed mother. "Why women are doing more and more wonderful things every day."

"But I meant that I wanted to be a boy so I could fight it ever we have another war. Who ever heard of a girl amounting to anything in a real war?"

"How about Joan of Arc?" said Cousin Betty.

"Oh that was in France and ever so long ago, besides—"

"And Florence Nightingale," interrupted mother.

"But what girls ever did anything worthwhile in our history?" asked Dolly.

"I'll tell you about one," said mother. "Her name was Molly Pitcher. Molly was a young woman who loved her country and its cause above all else. When the American Revolution was fought Molly's husband with many other young men of his town joined the American forces, and poor Molly left at home yearning to be with him and to help him and her country as well. But yearning serves no good end unless action accompanies it, and Molly Pitcher let no opportunity for service pass her by. When the Battle of Monmouth Court House was fought, Molly could stand the thought of her own uselessness no longer, so she went out onto the battlefield saying to herself: "Well, if I can't fight, at any rate I can help."

The battle was fought in the summer on the twenty-eighth of June, a blazing hot day. Molly did not have to be told what to do. With buckets of cold water she marched up and down the lines, braving the fire of the enemy guns and offered the cooling water to the parched and thirsty men. Dying men blessed her as she came to their aid. Fighting men blessed her for the relief she brought them. Molly was ready for any emergency. Her husband was in charge of one of the large cannons. Often he had explained the workings of the machine to his wife during his hours of leave and Molly had remembered all his words. An enemy shot and Molly's husband fell. What would the company do without their brave man at the cannon? Molly did not hesitate. She put aside her pails of water and stepped to the side of her husband's silent cannon. The men eyed her with wonder. Undismayed by the fury of the fight she kept at her post until the battle was over. Brave Molly Pitcher! The soldiers whispered her name with awe. It spread down the lines and the tale of her valor with it. Finally General Washington heard of the brave woman who had so gallantly taken her husband's place at a critical moment, and Molly Pitcher was called before the great General to receive his praise. But more than that. Such bravery as hers was not to go unrewarded.

Closing Speeches On The Budget

MR. HENDERS ANNOUNCES HIS SUPPORT OF THE GOVERNMENT.

Ottawa, June 18.—(Thursday)—At 1 o'clock this morning the debate on the budget was still proceeding, but it was expected at that hour that a vote would be taken before day break. It may possibly be postponed until the House reassembles at 10 o'clock. There is no doubt the Government will be sustained by a large majority. How large it is hard to say. There will be 10 to 12 Unionist supporters who will vote with the Opposition. On the other hand, several Opposition members will vote against the amendment, while there are apparently a number of Quebec absentees.

There was an interesting clash about midnight between J. A. Maharg, president of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, and R. C. Henders, president of the Manitoba Grain Growers. Mr. Maharg followed the lines of Mr. Crenan and made an out-and-out free trade speech. Denying that Mr. Crenan was playing politics in retiring from the Cabinet, he passed on the insinuation to his fellow grain grower and asked what Mr. Henders was doing.

Strands by Pledge

Mr. Henders, in his reply, said that he considered he was elected to support the Government in its war policy and until the aftermath of the war was cleared up. He proposed to redeem this pledge made at that time to his constituents and would support the Government, although making it clear at the same time that he believed in the principles laid down in the platform of the council of agriculture. Mr. Henders added that his budget was a move in the right direction and that there were indications of tariff reduction greater than he had seen in any budget.

Mr. Fielding followed Mr. Henders and announced that he would support the amendments.

The feature of the debate was the speech of Sir Thomas White. He emphasized that Canada's present debt was entirely due to the war. Great Britain were our burdens no country which had been in the war since the beginning was in as good as position as Canada. He pointed out that while the per capita debt of Canada was $220, it was $200 in Australia and $900 per head in New Zealand. He said the business profits tax was higher in Canada than any other nation and he believed Canada was the only nation which was continuing it this year. There had been collected nearly $80,000,000.

Sir Thomas vigorously defended the Victory Loan issues. The last Canadian Victory Loan was the greatest success of any flotation during the war. There had been raised $600,000,000, which was equivalent to $150,000,000,000 in the United States. It was only by the magnificent organization in Canada that this success was achieved. The cost of the loan was only $5,000,000 which was about three-quarters of one per cent, a cheap flotation. Sir Thomas said that if the loan and not been nearly as large an amount raised or else at higher rate of interest. Answering the criticism in regard to the income tax, Sir Thomas pointed out that it was as high as the American tax. He also observed that in that in some provinces in Canada, notably British Columbia, there were income taxes. Great Britain had but one income tax. If it was made too heavy it would prevent people coming to the country.

Sir Thomas said that if the amendment carried it would mean a further reduction in the revenue of $3,000,000.

Sir Thomas took a crack at the Opposition in closing. He doubted their sincerity, described the amendment as political chaff. The Government budget presented a sincere effort to promote stability at a most unstable time. An inheritance and land tax would not meet a fraction of the deficit which the country was facing. He asked how this deficit was to be met if they started tearing the tariff to pieces. He closed with an appeal for national unity. The Government must work out a policy in the national interests, east and west.

SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPATE.

George Cohen's Greatest Comedy.

SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPATE.

An announcement that will create tremendous interest for Chautauqua Week will be the fact that we have secured the above play for the 6th day's programme. Everybody knows that it is recorded as Mr. Cohen's greatest success. It was presented at the Royal Alexandra Theatre in Toronto, and was brought back in response to a unanimous demand. The Evening Telegram quoted it "the most popular comedy ever produced in Toronto." The Evening Star called it "The most continuous Laughing Carnival of the Season." It presents two-and-one-half hours of Mystery, Thrills and Laughter. It is a Master Mystery and stands at the very head of the Farce Comedies.

Mr. Percival Vivian, who was at the head of the Ben Greet Players last year, has been secured as Manager of this play and will present the leading role. He has played in leading plays and theatres in New York and Chicago. The past season he spent playing with Macklyn, Arbuckle, and DeWolfe Hopper in Captain Balfather's delightful comedy "The Better 'Ole." The fact that he is in this play assures its complete success.

WARNS DRUGGISTS

Woodstock, June 18.—A local man was fined $10 in court today for being intoxicated on beef, iron and wine.

The magistrate announced his intention of prosecuting any druggist or others who sold beef, iron and wine, or other patent medicine or essence upon which people are found to be intoxicated.

They will be liable just the same as if they sold liquor without a license, says the magistrate.

As to what he will do now, that the war is over he does not definitely know. He does know that he will remain in the line that he has been with. He may not be not definitely decided as yet.

Benny Gilbert's work in the pinches stamps him as a pitcher of promise. His record to date is three wins and one loss while his fielding and hitting has also been of a high order.

It this he does not graduate into a league of higher classification before the season is over, it will be because good pitchers have become a drug on the market.

Scanlon came through with a perfect average, three singles in three trips to the plate. Beatty also came through with a couple of timely swats in the pinches.

President Jackson's umpires take too much abuse. Banishment or a fine would help a whole lot now and then to rid the field of the rowdy element.

Sox Threatened in Ninth, But Gilbert Tightened. Kitchener made it two out of three by winning last of the series with Brantford by a score of 3-2.

Manager Beatty sent in his most reliable twirler, Benny Gilbert, an while the long lanky lad served them up in big league style, victory was nearly tossed away by the best work of his teammates on the path.

On four different occasions, runners were nipped off the bag, once off third, which would have resulted in a run had the coxswain held his man closer to the bag and three times off first, two of which came in one inning.

Estelle, simply made the runners look foolish and on each occasion the runner was caught flatfooted, fully a yard away from the base.

The Red Sox broke into the run column in their first turn at the bat and led off two singles which produced a run. The Beavers evened up in the third, when Kyle, a tall reaching first on a safe hit, stole second and third and score on Cerrillo's wild peg to catch him at third.

With two down, Beatty walked but was called out stealing. It was a poor decision by Umpire Anderson and was vigorously protested but the decision, of course, had to stand.

The Beavers went into the lead in the fifth with one down, three successive singles by Scanlon, Gilbert and Kyle sent the first normal record but the best Nicholson could do was a high fly to the outfield and Beatty forced Kyle at second on an infield grounder.

In the seventh, Kyle and Nicholson walked, the former scoring on Beatty's timely hit. This ended Kitchener's scoring.

The Sox made a determined effort to come back in the ninth when M. Murphy slammed the first ball served to deep left for a three bagger. It was here, however, that the Sox tightened up and showed some real class. The next two batters were retired by the strike-out route and the third popped a weak grounder to Scanlon who retired the runner at first.

ON THE SIDE

Saginaw turned the tables on the Beavers, winning a close contest, 3-2. Weinburg's hitting was a deciding factor as both Warner and Black were both hit freely.

Bay City and Flint staged a ten innings battle, the former winning the second straight battle of the series, 6-5. Four juicy errors by the Halligans helped the winners.

Hamilton won a wild contest from the Tecumsehs, 13-6. It was a real wild and woolly affair, the Shagmen thumping out eighteen hits for thirty-three bases and ran amuck on the paths. Thirteen errors were also made, seven of which were committed by the Londoners.

As a result of his indifferent playing against Hamilton, Manager Hagel has released pitcher Gero and also read the riot act to the rest of the clan. Southpaw Tanner who made a favorable impression when he performed here against the Beavers, jumped the team on Monday.

In London they're beginning to call for Hagel's scalp. The Tecumsehs have had three managers so far and each manager succeeded in winning a game. Why not a new manager every day?

Bill Rollins at one time had a wooden Indian in front of his cigar store. If the mate to this was secured and both used on the coaching lines of the Beavers, they would perform about as much service as some of the Kitchener athletics in that capacity.

Catcher Carroll of the Red Sox is the best receiver to perform on the local lot this year. He always has his wits about him and pulled off some clever plays in the series just closed.

Benny Gilbert's work in the pinches stamps him as a pitcher of promise. His record to date is three wins and one loss while his fielding and hitting has also been of a high order.

It this he does not graduate into a league of higher classification before the season is over, it will be because good pitchers have become a drug on the market.

Seagram Cup Won by Galt Rink While Guelph Takes Consolation Final.

Kitchener and Waterloo's representatives were out of luck at the Guelph Lawn Bowling Tournament which has just come to a close. A. W. Voelker who entered the semi-finals was defeated 17-12 by Harvey Hawke's Galt quartette who ultimately won the Seagram Cup by doubling the score on Sheriff Henderson's Brampton rink, 22-11.

In the third round of the Consolation Series, George Clarke's team was worsted by R. Hogan of Hespeler 15-10 while Eddie Seagram's four drew against Schlosser, also of Waterloo and succeeded in winning 18-14 after a hard battle.

Seagram was pitted against the veteran Hoover's team in the fifth round and was beaten 16-11. The latter, however, dropped in the semi-finals to Brydon of Guelph who won the Consolation final from the Gould rink of Acton 19-13.

In the singles, A.W. Voelker of Kitchener landed in fourth place, the winner being R. Logan of Hespeler, J.B. Heuther, Guelph, second and A. Smith also of Guelph third.

A. F. OF L. PASSES RESOLUTION RE CANADIAN AFFAIRS

OPPOSED TO IMMIGRATION FROM OVERSEA

(Special to The Record)

ATLANTIC CITY, June 20.—(By Main Johnston).—Symphony with Canadian international unions, "in their hour of trial," and confidence that they would emerge stronger than ever from the present conflict, expressed at yesterday's session of the A.F. of L.

The federation also decided to increase the affiliated local and international unions in that country are passing through a trying ordeal of conflicting emotions, passions and ideas, to which every man must submit and counsel to the representative memberships in Canadian unions. These decisions by A.F. of L. represent at least part of the reply for assistance sent to President Gompers by Senator Robertson of Canada.

The recent resolution passed stated the affiliated local and international unions in that country are passing through a trying ordeal of conflicting emotions, passions and ideas, to which every man must submit and counsel to the representative memberships in Canadian unions. These decisions by A.F. of L. represent at least part of the reply for assistance sent to President Gompers by Senator Robertson of Canada.

The A.F. of L. also declared against allowing any immigration to the United States until all returning soldiers had found employment. This restriction to include Mexico. Some one asked:

"It is not sufficient, however, that we should remain calm and quiescent in this hour of trial. It is our duty to assert ourselves and help in this period of stress by advice, counsel and active assistance from the older and more experienced leadership of stable organization of wage earners."

The resolution urged upon international unions that no time should be lost in giving advice to their members in Canada, "either by communication or personal visitation and by calling their attention to the dangers lurking behind appeals so alluringly made to them and which would divide wage earners into separate movements and destroy the effectiveness of their organized forces."

The A.F. of L. also declared against allowing any immigration to the United States until all returning soldiers had found employment. This restriction to include Mexico. Some one asked:
