LONDONERS HURT WHEN TWO G. T. R. TRAINS COLLIDE

Engineer R. Heard and Fireman J. Egan in Ingersoll Accident.

JUMP TO SAVE LIVES

Engine Ploughed Way Through Caboose, Cutting It Like Gigantic Knife.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 11.—Injuries, the full extent of which are not yet known, were sustained by Engineer Robert Heard and Fireman J. Egan, both of London, when they jumped an instant before a serious rear-end collision between Grand Trunk work trains which occurred this evening just east of the Thames street crossing. Both men were badly cut about the head and face, and were promptly removed to the hospital. The engine crashed into the standing work train, from which a number of men were dropping steel rails. It plowed its way through the caboose, cutting it like a gigantic knife, and stove in the end of a coach between the first of the flat-cars. Coats, pieplates and many articles belonging to workmen were held fast on top of the engine. Had any of the workmen been in the caboose they would have been killed. The cause of the accident is known. The impact was terrific and was heard in all parts of the town. The second train traveling at a good speed, rounded the curve east of Mutual street, and soon afterwards those in the vicinity saw the engineer and fireman jump for their lives.

LAW SUFFICIENT IF ENFORCED, IS DRURY'S OPINION

Ontario Premier Says No Purpose in Calling the Legislature.

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—"No good purpose could be served in calling the Legislature together," said Premier Drury today. "The Ontario temperance act is the law of the land, and it is simply a question of enforcing it." There was also no particular hurry in calling together the committee appointed by the House at the last session, Premier Drury thought, although they would meet after the warm weather, when the whole question of liquor law enforcement would be considered.

As things now stood, he explained, no new legislation was required, but simply administration, and the Government was taking steps in that direction. To this end the provincial police force was being strengthened and would be in co-operation with the license department officers to stop illicit liquor trading.

MAY REOPEN ACTION TO SECURE JUDGMENT FOR SISTER BASIL

[Special to The Advertiser.] KINGSTON, Aug. 11.—It is understood that after a lapse of almost a year, action will be reopened in the Sister Basil case to secure the judgment awarded by the appeal court. With the return of Archbishop Spratt from the Holy See, where the ecclesiastical aspects of the case were examined by eight cardinals, the case will be made by counsel for Sister Mary Basil to secure the award in the civil courts.

Last September priests of the diocese were examined before Judge Lavelle to ascertain whether the church was available for the execution of the judgment, and it was stoutly maintained by the priests that the money could not be secured under the award. Although no application has been made before Judge Lavelle for the examination of Archbishop Spratt, it is understood that he will be summoned to give an account of his resources, that it may be determined whether he has sufficient funds to meet the claim against him. Judge Lavelle stated today that he had no application made for his presence at the examination. It is understood that it will take place during the next few weeks.

HUNT FOR SLAYER OF OFFICER CONTINUES

LETHBRIDGE, Aug. 11.—(Canadian Press.)—The hunt for the murderer of Police Officer Usher and Bailey continued today. This morning the bloodhounds brought from Seattle were turned loose in an effort to run the bandit or bandits into the open. All Tuesday the police surrounded the thickly wooded side of Turtle Mountain behind the Frank Sanatorium, where Bashoff, the wounded bandit, is supposed to be hiding. If Bashoff is still in the wood, it is believed the dogs will find him. If he is not there he has escaped to some place of safety, and the hunters will have to change their tactics. More mounted police were sent to the scene on Tuesday.

FINANCIER BARES PAST; RESIGNS AS BANK DIRECTOR

Ponzi Issues Formal Statement, Admitting Prison Terms.

BANK CLOSES DOORS

Commissioner Allen Shuts Up Office of Hanover Trust Company.

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Sensation followed sensation in the Ponzi case today. Charles Ponzi, who recently jumped into notoriety as a spectacular financier, admitted that he was the Charles Ponzi who served terms of imprisonment in Montreal and Atlanta some years ago. At the moment that he was making a formal confession of his past, the Hanover Trust Company, in which Ponzi was a director, was closed by Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen. Mr. Allen declared that the reports of his agents indicated that the bank was doing business in an unsafe manner. Ponzi resigned from the directorate of the bank. The admission of Ponzi, and the closing of the trust company were quickly associated in the minds of hundreds who had given their money to Ponzi for investment, and who had been waiting anxiously in the downtown streets for developments that had been hourly expected. A crowd soon gathered in front of the Hanover Trust Company at the corner of Washington and Water streets, and presently the street was filled almost to the exclusion of traffic.

Ponzi, who organized the Securities Exchange Company, and took in millions for investment from thousands of clients, said in his statement today that he took the blame for another person in Montreal. He also insisted that he had committed a sin. If I made a mistake and paid for it, I had every reason to believe that society owed me another chance. "I am not the first one to have committed a sin, and I am not the only one, not even in the city of Boston. When I see others who were under the same situation years ago, and now today occupy prominent positions, I do not see why I should be made the exception of the general rule. The object of the persecution on the part of the authorities, press and the public.

"Charles M. Morse, at one time a prominent banker, was also convicted in United States courts and sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment in Atlanta Ga. I know, because I was there with him. He was released after serving a very small part of his sentence. He has been now occupying for years a position still greater than before. He is a banker today, and deals with the United States Government, and associated with the most respectable men in the United States.

"I do not mean in any way to imply that he is not deserving respect of the public, but I merely ask, if he is deserving, why should not I be?" Montreal records show that a man of my description was convicted of forgery in 1908, and sent for three years to St. Vincent de Paul and served about 20 months. This is all that the public in general knows.

Very important. "I feel that it is also very important for me to point out to the public that although I am the man who was sentenced for that crime, I am not the man who perpetrated the crime. What is occurring today to me happened then in Montreal, the only difference being, the object of persecution was my employer. A man apparently friendly to him suggested that he leave Canada, the object of the man being to appropriate during his absence all the assets left by the fugitive banker. In better to ensure he wouldn't come back to demand an accounting, he compelled him to forge certain instruments which he was going to hold as a club over his head. I was present at the transaction. "When I decided later that the man could not gain possession of the assets, revenge or other motives prompted him to demand the return of my employer under extradition proceedings on a charge of forgery from Mexico to Montreal.

"I felt indignant, as any other man would feel under the circumstances, and I decided that I would save my employer regardless of cost or consequences. When he was brought to Montreal, I extorted him by assuming all the blame, and to this day I do not know what has happened to him."

TELLS HOUSE THAT COLONIAL OFFICE IS MOST BUREAUCRATIC

LONDON, Aug. 11.—(Canadian Associated Press.)—The House of Commons should have adjourned tomorrow until October 19, but owing to the new session developments will sit on Monday. The Commons resolved on a public vote in Westminster precincts to Joseph Chamberlain. In the discussion respecting a constitution for East Africa, the colonial office administration was freely criticized, one member declaring it the most reactionary and bureaucratic of the state departments.

DETROITERS WOULD ENLIST IN CANADA TO FIGHT RUSSIA

GT. BRITAIN LIKELY TO WITHDRAW FROM FUTURE OLYMPIADS

Sporting Activities At Home Absorb Attention of All Athletes.

London, Aug. 12.—Withdrawal of Great Britain from Olympic contests after the Antwerp meeting is being seriously considered by the British Olympic committee. The question of making announcement to this effect is said to be under debate, and the general opinion of leaders in the sporting world appears to favor the step.

Prominent among those are Lord Desborough and Sir Theodore Cook, who in the past have given much time and effort to organizing British Olympic teams.

The principal reason for withdrawal from future Olympic games given in the public statement, if one is made, probably will be that British sporting activities in normal times are so numerous as to absorb all the attention that amateurs can give to the games.

The proposal undoubtedly has been brought about by the general lack of interest in the Olympic games shown by the British. Newspapers and the public appear indifferent towards the Antwerp meeting and the response to appeals for funds has been small. Consequently, the expenses of the British team must be borne by a few wealthy men.

CANADIAN CYCLISTS CONTESTING TODAY IN BIG WORLD EVENT

Antwerp, Aug. 12.—Canadian cyclists competed with those of ten other countries in the 170 kilometre road race—the Olympic bicycle classic here today.

Most of the route was brick pavement with narrow paths of cinder or dirt, especially constructed for bicycling, bordering the pavement on one or both sides, but some of the road was all asphalt.

The cyclists, limited to four competitors with narrow paths of cinder or dirt, started at 9 o'clock sharp, at two minute intervals, from Merken, a tiny suburb near Antwerp, near the Antwerp velodrome.

The irregular route led northeast from Antwerp to Eschen, near the Dutch frontier. There it swung off to the southwest, then eastward, later turning westward and northward, and ending at Antwerp, about half way in the course, there was a control station where all the cyclists had to register, and there was a second station about three-quarters of the course at Host-Oden-Berg. There were several voluntary stations, and one at Moll, where the competitors could demand refreshment.

Belgian bicycle troops kept the route clear.

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 11.—The Bains team, when they defeated the Sterlings last night, when they defeated the Sterlings by a score of 8 to 3. Each team had won a game, and this one decided the club to meet Dunnville in the finals of the O. B. series. The game was witnessed by nearly 3,000 fans, and was decided in the very first inning, when the Bains got after Spike Arnott for five hits, which, coupled with some base fielding by the Sterlings, netted five runs, enough to win the game.

After the faithful first Arnott got by until the final session, when the wagon-makers scored three more on a lone home single, coupled with four infield errors. The Sterlings kept hitting the ball throughout the game, but were unable to hit Thompson with men on bases.

The score by innings: R. H. E. Sterlings 3 7 1 0 0 0 0 0. Bains 8 7 1 0 0 0 0 0. Batteries—Arnott and O'Brien; Thompson and Bloor.

5,000 People See Tribe Drive In Two Runs In 12th Frame For 8th Win Over Shagmen

When Calbert's Single Drove in Tying Run, Harper Came Through With Repeat, Which Won His Own Game—Morrisette Banished At Critical Moment.

Over 5,000 people saw London come up in the 12th inning yesterday at Tecumseh Park with the score 1-0 against them and then Kuhn was walked, Bill Morrisette was walked by the umpire and Bobby Heck walked Eriger and hit Pittenger, loading the bases, and Calbert in the pinch came through with a hit, driving the tying run over, and Jack Harper right after won his own game by banging out a wallop to centre, which brought in Pittenger with the winning tally and gave London eight straight wins from Hamilton, and it will probably be found—the pennant.

Morrisette had hurried a wonderful game, allowing but a pair of hits in the third inning and generally making the Tribe out humble buns. One of the hits was a scratch affair, but Kennedy's hit to right was a healthy youngster. Harper also had hurried great ball with some brilliant assistance throughout, though touched for ten widely distributed hits. The three extra frames were a great climax to a bang-up game of ball and President Maines witnessed the exclusion from the benches of both managers, Wetzel and Shaughnessy at the direction of O'Hearne, who worked well under the strain of handling two teams, straining every nerve to get victory.

Shag's exclusion came as the result of continued crabbing from the bench and at the waiting station and somebody whispered in O'Hearne's ear that there was a game star so the umpire told the big fellow to shut it—behind him.

Everything happened in the 12th inning that can happen around a ball park, except burning down the stands. The pinch runner, Blake grounded out, and then Webering did the unusual and whacked off with a double to centre that chased Maines across with the first tally.

Looked Easy Enough. Morrisette, with the mid-section of the London batting order to face, looked to be well away with the game. Kuhn was patiently waiting them out and had no intention of letting them drop a low play divider up, but it dropped too low and O'Hearne gave Kuhn free transportation to first. Morrisette ran in from the mound and shot a streamer into the umpire, which hit him any chance of staying in that game. The saving act was washed on Bobby Heck, who scored Kuhn by going to offer any opposition to the well-known William Sunday on the saving game, himself into a hole by walking Briger.

Crishlow whiffed and then Pittenger was able to show the hand and hit him. Bobby is gasping with the bases loaded over his head. Big Ed Calbert hobbled to the plate, pinch runner, and the first offering Heck came through with was crashed out by the cripple for a sacrifice single that scored Kuhn.

Eriger into the plate in a cloud of dust, but the relay in from right caught him, and he looked over a couple before he got the one he wanted and his first hit of the afternoon. He was pitched for centre, and the first offering Heck came through with was crashed out by the cripple for a sacrifice single that scored Kuhn.

Glints From the Mint Diamonds

Umpire O'Hearne was sore in places, but will be back at work in a few days.

As an umpire, O'Hearne stacks away up. He would not lay a complaint against the Hamilton team. "He was just a bit tempestuous" was all O'Hearne would vouchsafe about the affair when questioned by the whole game.

Addie Richardson opposed Bill Moore with the megaphone. Both lasted out the whole game.

The London outfield were working in great fettle. Shag's exception of himself, Kuhn's long drive near the first base line.
