NEW UNEMPLOYED PLAN ATTRACTS

Nearly 100 Register at City Hall, Two Hours After Office Opens.

Nearly 100 men had registered at 11 o'clock this morning at the relief office in the city hall as being out of work within two hours after the registration list had been opened up.

Besides the name and address, the age of the individual is obtained, also his classification, the period of unemployment, and length of residence in the city.

The first man to register was Lorne Carr, 76 Rattle street, who gave his age as 36, classification as a laborer, and as having been out of work since last Tuesday. He has lived in the city for four years.

The ages of the names registered thus far range all the way from 13 to 72. The period of residence in the city runs from three months to 45 years, while the period of unemployment varies from two days up to eleven months.

In one instance the man had lived in the city for three months and been out of work for a corresponding period.

Primarily the object of the registration is to provide the civic delegation to the unemployment conference at Ottawa in September with a complete list of the unemployed in the city.

Hundreds of cars were on the highway returning from the Ingersoll Old Boys celebration and traffic was rather congested.

Clarke was injured when the car in which he was riding collided with a car going in the opposite direction, while Thompson sustained his injuries when his car ran into a car that had been ditched and the rear wheels left standing on edge of the road, it is said, without lights burning.

Toronto and Winnipeg have extended invitations for the convention of 1925.

ORCHARD BEACH IS SAVED BY CHICAGO DRAINAGE PLAN

Cessation Is Noticed in Land-Gobbling Tendencies of Lake Erie.

DANGER NOW OVER

Five years ago Port Stanley residents, particularly those located at Orchard Beach, feared that all their lakeside property would disappear. In 1920 and 1921 the swelling waters of Lake Erie caused serious erosion of the banks, and hundreds of feet of valuable land were lost as a result of the constant washing away of property by the waves.

Lake Erie has now discontinued its land-gobbling tendencies, and cottagers will be relieved to learn that further inroads into property are not anticipated. Jacob Blunter of Cleveland, a United States naval surveyor, staying at Port Stanley, declared yesterday that as long as the diversion of water at Chicago from the Great Lakes continues Lake Erie's water line will gradually recede, and the property lost some years ago will be gradually returned. Thus will be reimbursed Port Stanley residents for the losses she once imposed.

Things became so serious at Orchard Beach in 1920 that whole rows of summer homes were moved hundreds of feet back from the lake bank to prevent them from falling in to the deep. One Londoner, who had just purchased a 75-foot lot, visited the summer resort to inspect it one day and found it gone. It had been swallowed up by the lake during his absence.

Already it has been observed that larger areas of sandy beach are being made each season as the water recedes. If this keeps up for a few years the value of land on the lake front will increase substantially.

HYDRO CHAIRMAN POINTS TO NEED OF MORE POWER

Sir Adam Beck on Arrival in Quebec Predicts Industrial Revival.

TALKS WATERWAYS

Declines To Commit Himself
Definitely on St. Lawrence Project.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Quebec, Aug. 14.—An industrial renaissance is shortly to be experienced in the Dominion, and it will be brought about by increased production of electrical power, according to Sir Adam Beck of London, chairman of the Ontario Hydro Commission, who reached Quebec yesterday afternoon on board the Carmania from Europe.

"We do not realize the value of electricity," Sir Adam continued, "or we would not be wasting millions of tons of coal annually when we are in a position to produce all the electrical power necessary to the successful and economic operation of all our industries. There is no need to go to the United States for water-power development."

Sir Adam dealt with another aspect of the question when he spoke of the fact that most of the coal used in Canada was imported from the United States. "It is absurd," he said, "to import thousands and thousands of tons of coal when we have at hand a source of power that is infinitely stronger than steam, and which gives better service. In Quebec, as much as in Ontario, there is every need for greater power development. We must double or treble our production of 'white coal' if we are to develop our industries without placing ourselves under an obligation to the United States."

The scheme for deepening the St. Lawrence waterway came in for some comment from Sir Adam, but he would not state whether he was in favor of it or not. For him the political and economic future of the country was wrapped up in the scheme, and extreme care would have to be exercised in order that Canada might not be pushed into an enterprise which might later prove to be nothing more than an Utopian dream.

During his stay in Europe, Sir Adam attended a convention of hydro-electric engineers. His daughter, Marion, accompanied him on the trip.

Judge Scores Relations Between Actress and Wealthy Mining Man.

Associated Press Despatch.
Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 14.—Ann Luther, actress, yesterday lost her $100,000 breach of contract suit against Jack F. White, wealthy mining man, when Superior Judge L. H. Valentine dismissed the case.

The court, after yesterday characterizing the story of the two principals as "the most complete violation of decency that has ever come to my attention," said in its decision that, "this court will not become a party to the wrongs done by both principals in this case. This court is a place for the administration of law and justice, and not a place for the flagrant violation of the law."

Judge Valentine dismissed the action on the ground that the verbal agreement between White and the actress fell "within the statute of fraud."

San Francisco, Aug. 14.—Charles A. Matthews, Jun., will leave here for Canada today, according to information furnished from a reliable source here.

Telegraphic advices from the secretary of labor of the United States have been received by the commissioner of immigration here, and it was announced this morning that Matthews would start his homeward trip some time today.

The despatch from Washington was the authorization for the deportation of Matthews. It was the "scrap of paper," which he had been waiting restlessly and despondently for since he was taken into custody at Santa Clara a fortnight ago.

The plans are that Matthews will travel from San Francisco to the Canadian border in charge of U. S. immigration inspector Patrick J. Farrelly of San Francisco, one of the officers who arrested him two weeks ago. The couple will be accompanied by Inspector H. B. Boyd of the Ontario provincial police.

On reaching the boundary, Boyd will take charge of the ex-deputy treasurer and take him by an unknown route to Toronto.

It was a pleasant surprise to Matthews when he learned that he was to go home today, home to face charges but home with family and friends and to see the sights which he had cherished, but from which he had run away last March.

"Thank God It Is All Over at last—at least for the time being," he said today. "It sure is good news to hear that I am to be on my way. I won't be at all sorry to leave this jail behind."

CITY UNEMPLOYED WILL ORGANIZE

Solution of Present Situation Will Be Sought Tomorrow Night.

NUMBERS GROW

An organization meeting of the unemployed in the city will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Labor Temple on Dundas street. This is the night of the regular meeting of the London Labor party, but in view of the need of the unemployed the time will be devoted to an attempt to find a solution of the question. Immigration and insurance against unemployment will be the main topics of the evening, and the party will endeavor to fix the blame for unemployment conditions through the Dominion on the responsible parties. This is the first of a series of Friday evening meetings, and at a subsequent meeting before Sept. 3 the mayor and aldermen, together with the London Chamber of Commerce will be invited to attend to get in touch with the actual needs of the situation.

Officials of the Labor party estimate that about two thousand men in the city are now unemployed.

FARMER DRAGGED BY RUNAWAY TEAM

Fred Slade Had Foot Caught in Cogwheels of Binder.

Special to The Advertiser. Chatham, Aug. 13.—To be dragged around his wheat field, with his foot lodged in the cog of a binder drawn by a runaway team, was the painful experience of Fred Slade, Raleigh Township, Eyewitnesses of the accident declare that Slade's escape from death was miraculous. His back was wrenched, and he is suffering from bruises and lacerations to the body. The horses, it appears, took fright when a bride became dislodged. The farmer was jerked from his seat, and his foot caught in the machinery. Powerless to extricate his foot, the man was dragged until the horses came to a stop, exhausted.

MORE PRINCIPLE URGED IN TENDER PROCEDURE

Board Member, Interested in Firm, Should Not Vote, Smith Claims.

"No man sitting on any elected body such as either the council or the board of education should, in my opinion, cast a vote on the acceptance of any tender submitted by a firm he directly or indirectly interested in," stated Alderman Edwin Smith today.

"It's just a matter of principle, and it applies to every case and to anyone who may be a member of any body which has the spending of public money. In the first place it seems to me very poor policy for any firm, officers or shareholders of which are members of such a board to submit any tender while their man is in office, and if this is done then it is the worst possible tactics for this man to vote on the question of the tender. The principle of the thing is wrong and it is always open to a mistaken interpretation by the public."

CHICAGO TRIAL IS STILL INTERESTING

Doctor Patrick Finds Leopold Able To Concentrate on Psychology.

Associated Press Despatch. Chicago, Aug. 14.—The state's first alienist, Dr. Hugh T. Patrick of Chicago, having asserted his belief that Nathan Leopold, Jun., and Richard Loeb were sane when they kidnapped and killed Robert Frank, was on the witness stand for further cross-examination when the hearing to fix punishment for the twenty-first day before Judge John R. Caverly this morning. Benjamin Bachrach, of the defense counsel, resumed questioning Dr. Patrick about his examination of Leopold in the office of Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney. The questions concerned chiefly the subjects discussed.

"There was some conversation about the psychology of man, of animals and of human behavior, and the question of where instinct ceased and reason began, and how each was controlled."

He added that this sort of conversation was well adapted to ascertaining Leopold's mental concentration, his ability to hold a conversation in the presence of other people. Reading from his notes, Dr. Patrick continued: "Leopold was responsive, although very inaccessible. Emotionally nervous in discussion. Seemed quite susceptible to flattery."

Mr. Bachrach asked that Dr. Patrick tell him what the youth had said about the crime.

"Oh, gee, must I tell all that again?" almost gasped the doctor. "Yes, minutely as you can," urged Mr. Bachrach.

Dr. Patrick again told the story of the kidnapping and murdering of Bobby Frank. His recital occupied the remainder of the time of the morning session.

CHANGES IN PLUMBING BYLAW BEING MADE

Provincial Inspector Thinks City Regulations Very Lenient.

The city clerk is engaged in making the recommended changes in the plumbing bylaw as suggested by Inspector Young and agreed to by Provincial Inspector F. A. Dallyn, of Toronto.

These changes include doing away with venting in the installation of sinks for washing purposes, which Mr. Young states will mean a considerable saving in certain cases in the city. The old bylaw enforced venting where such a sink was installed, though if a wash tub was put in this was not necessary.

As regards the Plumbing bylaw in general, Mr. Dallyn thought that it was very lenient, and that it might quite well have been stricter in some details. He considered that the clause which allows plumbing to be installed in a two-story house in certain circumstances without venting is poor practice.

GERMANY MAY ANSWER SUNDAY

Say President Ebert Must Be Consulted About Ruhr Evacuation.

DEADLOCK ON DATE

Associated Press Despatch. London, Aug. 14.—At the conclusion of a conference between Premier Herriot and the German chancellor, at the former's hotel, which lasted nearly an hour, it was announced that there was nothing that could be made public. Chancellor Marx, on leaving the hotel, said: "I am dumb and M. Herriot is dumb, too."

The French premier hurried from the hotel to Downing street and it was stated that he had nothing to say.

United States Ambassador Kellogg issued a statement denying a publication of the effect that he had issued an ultimatum to the Germans in support of the French plan providing a year for the military evacuation of the Ruhr. Mr. Kellogg's position, it was stated, is one of neutrality regarding this issue.

The negotiations between the French, Belgians and Germans will be resumed at 3 o'clock this afternoon after which there will be a meeting of the "big fourteen."

One Year Is Time. The French delegates declare that they have agreed upon one year as the maximum time for the evacuation of the Ruhr with reductions of that period only if special conditions warrant them. The one year period will begin with the date of the signing of the London agreement.

Later a report came from a French semi-official source that Chancellor Marx had said he could not accept on his own authority the French proposal that the military evacuation of the Ruhr begin one year after the date of the signing of the protocol in London. This report declared that Dr. Luther of the German delegation would go to Berlin to consult with President Ebert and the leaders of the parties and that the Germans would give their answer Sunday.

DEADLOCK THREATENS.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Aug. 14.—The deadlock between the French and the Germans on the question of the time limit for the military evacuation of the Ruhr is imperiling the success of the international conference. Delegates to the conference hope and expect, however, that British intervention may save the program which the allies have agreed upon for instituting the experts' repatriation plan.

The Germans returned to their hotel where they cables to Berlin carried the news of the unfavorable turn in the conference at the hands of the German cabinet at the other end of the wire. A brief German cabinet meeting, negotiated by the cables which were exchanged directly with Wilhelmstrasse, Chancellor Marx and Foreign Minister Stresemann returned to Downing street at 12:30.

CALLS GERMAN CABINET.

Berlin, Aug. 14.—President Ebert called an extraordinary session of the cabinet early today to discuss the situation which has arisen in London because of the failure of the French and German delegates to the international conference to arrive at an agreement on the time limit for the military evacuation of the Ruhr. An official bulletin was given out announcing that the members of the cabinet were in full accord with the attitude taken by the German delegates in London.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Aug. 14.—The British government has informed Germany that it has decided to restore the 25 per cent tax on German goods imported into this country under the reparations recovery act. The government three months ago reduced the duty to 5 per cent after negotiations with the German government. The restored 25 per cent rate will be put into effect at the beginning of the transition period under the Dawes plan.

NEW TRAFFIC LAW NOW IN EFFECT

Provincial Highways Board Announces Approval of Amendment.

Approval by the provincial highway board of the amended City of London traffic bylaw has been received, and accordingly the new bylaw goes automatically into effect. Changes in parking areas and in angle and straight parking were amongst the chief changes from the old bylaw.

Alderman Towe, chairman of the traffic committee, points out that the chief changes are really a matter of phraseology, and that the object of the local committee was to make the bylaw more easily understandable to every motorist. Right-angled parking on the market square, and the arrangement of parking all through the city, which will remove all obstruction to through traffic, are the principles included in the amendments.

"At the present time," says Mr. Towe, "the provincial authorities are trying to make the traffic bylaws of the municipalities standard as far as possible, so that identical clauses can be included in any city or town of the province. They are also considering the question of the 'stop and go' system of controlling traffic, and the proposition most favored now is that all lines on which street cars run shall be stop streets, and that the municipalities shall have the power to add any other streets as they desire."

CITY WILL KEEP CITIZEN OF 84

Only $5.35 a Week Needed To Sustain Feeble Laborer.

LIKES HIS SMOKE

The case of one old resident whom the city is taking care of came to light today when the necessary papers were signed by the mayor. In the report submitted by the relief officer, it is shown that only $5.35 is needed to give this old man of 84 all the bodily comfort he needs.

The report states that he has been a resident of the city for more than forty years, that his meals will in future cost the city fifteen cents each, and an additional twenty cents a week is recommended "because the old man has been a heavy smoker all his life and would feel the loss of the weed very keenly."

So the old chap will continue to live with the people he is now with, and the city will pay $5.35 a week to keep him in his three meals, his pipe and his shelter. He has been a laborer all his life, and must have worked in the last forty years on most of the improvements carried out in the city. He is without relatives, and is said to be all alone in the world.

A pathetic note appended at the foot of the report follows: "He sometimes goes out and cuts a lawn for about 25 cents."

Gold medals, the tokens given by the city to Mrs. Mary Fortner and Emily Routon in recognition of their bravery in saving the life of little 3-year-old Gordon Jarvis when he fell into the Thames on May 22, will be donated on behalf of the city by the mayor on Labor Day in Queen's Park. The medals are engraved with the coat of arms and also on the back with the name of the recipient and the simple phrase, "For Bravery." The city council agreed unanimously in making these gifts at the time of the accident.

Great Forest Fire Is Threatening Yosemite National Park In California

A HUNDRED MEN FIGHTING BLAZE

Over 12,000 Acres Nearby Are Already Burned In Mariniposa County.

FIRE CREEPS ON

Associated Press Despatch. San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 14.—A forest fire thought to have been started several days ago by a blast set off by convict road workers, was sweeping through a heavily timbered area bordering on the fork of the Merced River early today, two miles from El Portal, the entrance to Yosemite National Park.

This development came with the arrival of Col. W. B. Greely, chief of the United States forest service from Washington. He announced that a reserve force of experienced forest fire fighters would be concentrated in California within two weeks to be available for emergencies.

The Yosemite fire has burned over 10,000 acres in Mariniposa County, and 100 men were attempting today to fight it away from the national park. In the same area, but detached from the main blaze, a fire last night destroyed the Bowers Cave resort, near Merced. The fire continued burning early today.

SIX TRUANT SNAKES GIVE JOLLY TARS HECTIC TRIP

Thrilling Game of Hide and Seek Played on Good Ship Bolivar.

STORM TO BLAME

Sailor Almost Pops Into Briny When Boa Pops From Awning.

New York, Aug. 13.—Sailors may shudder at pirates bold, at typhoons and wrecks, and even sea serpents, but the 22 none too jolly tars of the good ship Bolivar, from West Indian ports, docked here today, desire to make affidavit that there is nothing more disconcerting at sea than having six 10-foot boa constrictors loose on board ship.

The Bolivar on its way up took aboard 19 crates at Cartagena, on the west coast of Colombia. The crates contained 22 boa constrictors, 56 monkeys and innumerable birds. All went well until the vessel was off the Caribbean Sea. A storm tossed the ship and loosened the crates.

Plunging into the hold, the sailors arrived just in time to see the last of six truant boas slipping through a hole. For four days the tars searched high and low. The presence of the reptiles made sleep or recreation impossible. Four of the boas were found, but the other two continued to hide.

Finally, on August 5, one of the sailors unrolled an awning for the shelter deck. Out popped the head of a boa. The sailor almost popped overboard. The snake was caught. A further search disclosed the other reptile in another awning—and at last all was well.

FERGUSON HIT IN O.A. CHARGES

W. E. Raney, in Open Letter, Declares Premier To Blame For Situation.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Aug. 14.—W. E. Raney, member of the Ontario Legislature, and former attorney-general of the province, in another open letter today, declares that the Premier has been open sale of beer in Toronto saloons all this year, and that the responsibility for this illegal situation is at the door of the prime minister and the province, Hon. G. H. Ferguson, to whom the letter is addressed. The text of the letter follows:

"Dear Mr. Prime Minister: 'You will remember that before the general election you pledged yourself to a strict enforcement of the Ontario temperance law. You have failed to keep your promise. As you very well know nearly all this year there has been open sale of beer in Toronto saloons. Who is responsible?

"When I took over the enforcement of the Ontario temperance act in 1920 I found the law had no teeth so far as the enforcement of the law was concerned—the saloons were open to the men from whom they and the bootleggers received their supplies, that the brewers and distillers. The maximum fine was $1,000, without any jail term if the fine was paid.

"This was not much of a terror to the brewers and distillers, and the saloonkeepers were playing the same trick then that they are playing now. To avoid charges for second offences, the barkeeper was put forward as the tenant and a new barkeeper each time there was a new prosecution, so that there was never any fear of a jail term. To meet this situation, the Legislature increased the maximum penalty for a first offence to $2,000, plus three months in jail, and in July, 1920, as attorney-general I sent a circular letter to the magistrates calling their attention to the amendment and asking them to see that the increased penalties were applied in appropriate cases. The immediate effect was to put the saloonkeepers out of business and to restrict the activities of the brewers and distillers.

"But for the past few months the amendment of 1920 has been a dead letter in Toronto and in perhaps some other parts of Ontario. And not only are the magistrates in these places refusing to enforce the amendment of 1920, but even where the evidence shows that the saloonkeeper—calling himself an hotelkeeper—has taken elaborate precautions to circumvent the law, as by using a back door in the law, for instance, the magistrate is content to impose the minimum penalty on the vicious bar-tender, who has no money, and is claiming to be the offender, and has laughs as he pays the fine and leaves the court and his money makes another bogus lease to a new bartender. And so the merry farce has gone on in Toronto right under your nose.

"The magistrates who are administering this kind of justice have not forgotten the circular letter of July, 1920, which you and Mr. Herbert Lennox and your present minister of health poured upon it as an attempt to dictate to the magistrates. And they are also, of course, fully aware of the complaint you are sending to your friends, the brewers and saloonkeepers, for their votes and influence at the next election.

"Before you became prime minister the hotel business had been largely purged of the whiskey and beer saloons. I attended a banquet at the King Edward Hotel of which kind of a leading hotelier of the province, which was a time of regret was spoken for the old-time barroom of the hotel and the old-time barman, rather than the new hotelier and the new bartender, over a good riddance.

"The people, too, are so nice. 'When I come to Niagara to live, I shall bring my Chinese servants,' she said. 'I think it is a pity to see Europeans working in such a kind of work.' She described the kind she meant with a few gestures.

"Mme. Negre is on her way to rejoin her husband, Henri Negre, who also has become wealthy in the shipping business, and has retired. He will meet her at the boat when it docks at Cherbourg.

DRESSMAKING IN HONG KONG PROVES LUCRATIVE BUSINESS

Mme. Lillian Negre Retires With Fortune of Over $150,000. COMES TO CANADA

Frenchwoman Picks Out Fruit Farm in Niagara District For Future Home.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Aug. 14.—Having accumulated a fortune of $150,000 in the dressmaking business in Hong Kong, Mme. Lillian Negre, French by birth, has decided that she will retire next year and buy a fruit farm to settle down on in the Niagara peninsula, and when she dies she desires to be buried in the Canadian Rockies. In all the wide world, Mme. Negre has never seen a country she likes as well as Canada, she told a reporter in Toronto, where she is stopping for a few days on her way to France.

Every year Mme. Negre has taken a long holiday in Canada. "Every year I have gone to a different place," she explained. In that way, she has seen most of the Dominion. "Everything here is so clean, so fresh, so nice. The people, too, are so nice."

"When I come to Niagara to live, I shall bring my Chinese servants," she said. "I think it is a pity to see Europeans working in such a kind of work." She described the kind she meant with a few gestures.

Mme. Negre is on her way to rejoin her husband, Henri Negre, who also has become wealthy in the shipping business, and has retired. He will meet her at the boat when it docks at Cherbourg.

WHITE INDIANS TO FORE AGAIN

Richard Marsh Protests Hasty Examination by British Scientists.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Aug. 13.—Discussion in connection with opinions given by scientists in regard to the white Indians recently brought to Toronto by Richard Marsh, brought a protest by Mr. Marsh at the conclusion of the anthropology session of the British Association, during which he stated that erroneous conclusions had been drawn in a study of the people in his charge, due to the haste in which the examinations had been made, and the abnormal conditions to which the Indian children had been reached during examination.

As an example, the conclusion that the white-skinned boys with light hair were unhappy and suffered when their eyes were exposed to the glare of the sun while being photographed, and hence that their eyes were in a measure sub-normal, was resented by Mr. Marsh. The conclusion that the Indian children were not mentally alert was also objected to by Mr. Marsh, who gave illustrations to show that conditions which might lead investigators to a different conclusion were due to nervousness arising from the handling and questioning of strangers and not to natural qualities in the children themselves.

The case under consideration and demonstrated by photographs thrown on the screen, showed a family in which white children were born of brown Indians. The conclusion arrived at was that there had been somewhere a probably in a grandparent—white ancestry. The bringing forward of this group of Indians, who up to the present had been in a measure segregated, was considered fortunate, and the wish expressed that further investigation would be carried on in their connection.

AYLMER BAPTIST PICNIC HELD AT PORT BURWELL

Special to The Advertiser. Aylmer, Aug. 13.—The Aylmer Baptist Sunday School held their annual picnic at Port Burwell, Port Burwell, on Tuesday. The youngsters were conveyed to the lakeside in motor trucks. While the older members were taken in autos, the attendance of young people was particularly large. The weather was ideal and the day was most enjoyable.

IMMIGRATION JOBS INCREASE

Reorganization of Overseas Service Calls For Larger Staff.

EXAMS SOON

Canadian immigration agents are to be appointed for duties in Great Britain, Ireland and the United States. The positions will be filled by applicants whose experience and qualifications comply with the requirements of the service. The civil service commission announces competitive examinations for the positions.

The department of immigration and colonization has reorganized its overseas and United States services. The work has created a number of new positions for immigration agents.

It has been the policy of the government to attract as large a number of suitable immigrants as possible to Canada. Farm help is badly needed in Canada and particularly in Western Ontario at the present time.

It is necessary that the persons appointed should be of the very best type and able to qualify, states a communication from W. Foran, secretary of the civil service commission, received by Gordon Philip, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, today.

Immigration agents of grade one and grade two will be required. The salary to start is $1,500 and $1,200 respectively, per year. The duties to assist in the promotion of suitable immigration to Canada. To make personal interviews with prospective immigrants, and so on.

The Fiery Cross at Erieau.

The fiery cross, which has twice been burned at Erieau, in Kent County, during the past week, is probably the humor of a practical joker rather than a manifestation of the Ku Klux Klan. It provides an opportunity, however, for provincial and county authorities to make unmistakable their attitude toward such activities, and that opportunity should not be ignored. It may be a case where silence gives, not consent, but encouragement.

There is no place in Canada for the Ku Klux Klan, or the purposes which have inspired its organization. There is no place for the Klan in any part of the Empire where British justice is administered on the sound fundamental that all persons are equal before the law.

The Klan today is a confession of American weakness. It proclaims to all the world that the American people have failed in their respect for the laws they have made; that corruption has replaced conscience; that greed has overcome duty; that selfish indifference has destroyed citizenship. The Klan itself, which apparently was born in a sincere, though mistaken, attempt to correct these conditions, has fallen prey to the same forces. It has become, not merely a defiance of government, but an active participant in lawlessness and violence. It has aided rather than removed the evils it sought to combat.

The Ku Klux Klan and America's performance in crime, of which the present Chicago trial is merely an instance, are complementary menaces. To Canadians they are a warning that more than ever before it is necessary to cling fast to a system of justice which is as uncompromising as it is equitable.

Wenige Will Not Be Premier.

Mayor Wenige has undoubtedly relieved matters both in Ottawa and in Toronto by his recent speech at Evelyn, Ontario.

As the chief speaker at a lawn social, arranged by the Clipperton Cemetery trustees, Mr. Wenige made the following sweeping and momentous declaration: "I assure my audience tonight that I will never be a candidate for either house or for either party," which means, of course, that he is not going to be prime minister of Canada after all.

Apparently The Advertiser must confess a measure of responsibility for the irrevocable nature of this decision, because Mr. Wenige prefaced the statement with the following explanation: "I have considerable hesitation in speaking at all, for no matter what I say, or where I say it, I am either misunderstood or misrepresented. The Advertiser will say that I am lime-lighting as a prospective Conservative candidate for one, or both, of the houses of parliament, and the Free Press will declare that I am seeking nomination as a Liberal candidate."

Whether or not this generosity on the part of the local newspapers is interpreted as a compliment to the candidate is not quite clear. It really does not matter very much now in any case. The main point is that Mr. Wenige has pronounced his solemn decision to refrain his activities within municipal boundaries, and one may imagine the new quietude of mind which must now belong to Premier King, Mr. Arthur Meighen, Premier Ferguson and Mr. Sinclair.

One wishes, however, that Mr. Wenige had gone a bit further while he was at it. Does this mean that he has decided to be mayor of London again next year? It would be nice to have it settled now instead of bothering with an election in December.

Challenging the Immigrant.

The immigration literature which the federal government has distributed at Wembley is admirable for its honesty. It is written with the apparent conviction that a discontented settler is worse than none at all, and it tells the truth about what the immigrant may expect to find in Canada in climate and in opportunity. Better still, it describes what Canada requires in her new citizens, the qualities of courage and industry which are essential to happiness. It is a frank discouragement to the weakling and the get-rich-quick dreamer. It is a challenge to British spirit.

The new literature is a refreshing change from the burrachs which were circulated in the Old Country not so many years ago, when only the bright side was pictured in lavish optimism. It is a wise change also, because its effect is to select men and women who will make real citizens.

Taxes in Canadian Cities.

Taxpayers are frequently heard to complain that taxes levied in London are excessive. It is the privilege and the right of taxpayers to make such complaints. Yet a report for 1922, issued by the Citizens' Research Institute of Canada, in which municipal assessment and taxation figures for 17 Canadian cities have been carefully compiled, indicates that Londoners did not, at that time, have cause for dissatisfaction.

In 10 of these 17 cities the per capita taxes were higher than they were in London. What the local taxpayer contributed to public school education and municipal improvements was substantially less than amounts paid by citizens of Victoria, Regina, Toronto, and seven other communities, for similar purposes and over the same period. The following table, culled from the report, gives the total per capita assessment and taxes for the 17 cities during 1922:

CITY	Population or Estimate	Per Capita Taxable Assessment	Per Capita Tax Including Schools
Victoria	40,000	$1.197	$51.51
Vancouver	124,616	1.381	43.48
Edmonton	60,000	1.049	54.60
Calgary	64,706	1.115	56.73
Regina	35,000	1.255	55.28
Saskatoon	25,743	1.189	55.33
Winnipeg	199,300	1.244	51.41
Toronto	529,083	1.467	48.90
Hamilton	120,234	1.132	41.91
Ottawa	116,205	1.189	35.10
London	61,369	1.036	41.50
Windsor	42,122	1.224	45.95
Montreal	710,800	998	26.20
Quebec	115,000	770	20.83
St. John	50,000	1.082	34.24
Halifax	60,000	994	32.86
Charlottetown	12,337	507	10.57

By this one may see that London's per capita assessment and taxes were not disproportionate. Taxes in eastern towns, it will be observed, are ridiculously low compared with cities of mid-western Ontario and the Prairie Provinces. Starting at the lowest point (Charlottetown) the scale gradually ascends, until the peak is reached at Calgary and Regina. The apparent tendency is for an increase in both assessment and taxes the farther west one goes.

The debenture debt of London, the report shows, is also a relatively modest one. The actual per capita debenture debt for all purposes was $189.65, compared with Victoria's $396.50, Edmonton's $326.37, Hamilton $138.55, and Toronto's $232.21.

A rather interesting feature of the report is the estimate of civic expenditures for highways and bridges. London is far behind in this respect, the sum taxed the citizen here for this purpose being $2.06 only, which is the lowest in the Dominion.

Twenty-Three Years of Service.

John W. McCallum has resigned after 23 years of service as relief officer for the City of London. A steady stream of Londoners of all classes and parties visited his office yesterday to shake hands and to express their regret over his decision. It is proof of work well done and a comforting way to end a long career.

For five years previous to his appointment as relief officer, Mr. McCallum was an alderman and chairman of No. 3 committee of the city council. He represented Ward 6, there being then six wards in the city, and as chairman of the third committee had the control of the fire and water departments. He was appointed to the relief officership in 1901, and has acted in this capacity under twelve mayors of the city. He was a member of the council at the time that the present street railway agreement was ratified, when the line was electrified.

Born in Toronto of Scottish parents, Mr. McCallum early moved to London, and has lived for more than half a century in this city, where he has a host of friends, made and retained through the long years of faithful service. His attitude toward his work as relief officer is summed up in the following remarks:

"I have always viewed my work from the angle of the ratepayer in the City of London. His point of view has always been my first consideration, as I believe it was the first consideration of the councils. To me the citizen of London, who had lived and worked all his life here and who, to the end of his days, had to meet the taxation demands of his native city, were of paramount importance. My work entailed the handling and expenditure of his hard earned money, and in my regime his interests have never been overlooked."

Mr. McCallum's resignation comes as the result of a three months illness, which kept him away entirely from his office. He returned ten days ago, sure that he was fit to carry on. This, however, proved to be a vain hope. He found that he had greatly overrated his strength and his recovery, and accordingly tendered his resignation. There are many members of the present city council, as well as the host of older friends, who sincerely regret this action, however necessary it may be, and his loss as an official of the city.

SALT SEA SONG.

A robust, glad, seafaring lad,
A hard-boiled salt I am;
Oh, how I crave to breast the wave,
The pitching surf I love to brave;
(It's fortunate I had the knave,
We saved a little slurr.)

Oh, make the foam my life-long home,
I never get my fill
Of loss and rip and downward dip
When on a storm-scarred sailing ship;
(Say, friend, what have you on the hip?
I think I feel a chill.)

I laugh at fog; we old sea-dogs
Mind neither mist nor spray;
Heave-ho, my lad—we smile at fear,
What care we if the storm draws near?
(Say, steward, bring my meals in here,
I'll stay in bed today.)

A Chicago man has just been awarded $15 a week alimony from his wife. On this stipend husband can't be expected to raise potatoes, much less children.

The husband complained that it was not enough. He says he will now be compelled to do all his own housework.

The separation was caused by his wife coming home late from work and then blaming him because he had burned the beans.

After two years of this the husband decided to pack up and go home to his father.

He says his wife stayed out nights, patronized expensive clubs and refused to cut the grass. She also made him darn her socks.

She even forgot to send him flowers on their wedding anniversary.

Whenever he had his boy friends in for afternoon tea she would smoke an evil-smelling cigar and make the lads ill.

The husband had long been suspicious of a blonde stenographer his wife employed. The blonde stenographer had a bristly mustache and one day the wife came home from work with a blonde bristle on her coat.

After having a good cry, the husband telephoned all his boy friends and asked their advice. Then he went to his wife's office and pulled her stenographer's beard.

"You hussy," he cried. He thought of his little children's plight and his paternal instinct was aroused as well as his masculine intuition.

Finally, the husband decided to have a girlish hob, thinking this might hold his wife's affections. When this failed he had his hair marcelled.

Then he tried saturating himself in perfume and wearing flesh-colored hose. But nothing would bring back her love.

The judge scathingly denounced the wife in the divorce court. "It is wives like you that make us husbands go wrong," he said. "You never took your husband into your confidence. You never bought him an Easter hat or remembered his birthday. You sneered at his cooking and even left him alone in the house during a thunder storm. The worst was that you did all his own washing. You never told him how beautiful he was. You went to prize fights by yourself instead of staying home and playing Mah Jong with your husband. Therefore, I order you to pay $15 a week alimony, and may this be a lesson to all brutal wives of your kind."

ANIMALS

Walt Whitman speaks somewhere of loving to be among the animals because they do not bow to each other.

That is, among animals there is no rank, nor class, except that class which is fixed by nature and all of them recognize as part of the organization of things.

The dog wastes no time in regretting that he is not a fish and the fishes do not want to get out of their medium. They are content to be in the water.

There is no nakedness among the animals, no sense of shame, no pose one part of themselves as indifferently as another.

It is only among human beings that we come to clothes and the coverings of the human body. Consequently humanity is the only kind of animal life that has manufactured a sense of shame.

There is no modesty or shame or any such thing among the animals, who frankly are what they are. Animals go about the world and out of the world as naked as when they were born. It is man alone that must be covered up. It is from our sense of concealment that most of our sins arise. Animals have neither sin, nor confession, nor remorse for it.

Only by our ability to sin are we able to rise to a greater height than the animals.

Only because of the responsibility of removing our clothes do we call keeping them on a purity. Animals have no purity because they have no possibility of sin.

They are regulated by their instincts, which is another name for the rules of nature.

It is only when the intelligence has been placed in man, and he endeavors to regulate his own conduct by it, that we have such words as "decency." The animals are automatically decent.

For this reason those who spend their lives among the animals tend to their level. Virtue is a human thing and is cultivated only by contact with our fellows. As virtue, by its very name, means the character of a man, it means the effort to do by our reason what the animals attain by instinct.

The world is gradually rid itself of all animals except those domesticated by man and the fishes of the sea and of the river.

The time is coming when other force than animal shall be used by mankind in the performance of his labors.

When that time shall come humanity will no longer tolerate the existence of animals in their midst.

Thus the growth of intelligence means the development of virtue and the sense of shame.

Those who look back with longing at the freedom of the animal life are simply those who contend against the law of growth. From this law we cannot escape. It has its bad adjuncts as well as its good ones, but it is inevitable.

At 108 Likes Bobbed Hair But Shudders At Thought of Modern Girl As a Wife

Venerable Lawrence Johnston
of Avon Works at Chores, Enjoys Life.

LAUGHS AT DOCTORS

Physicians, 51 Years Ago,
Gave Him Two Weeks
To Live.

By EINAR RECHNITZER,
Special to The Advertiser
by a Staff Reporter.

Avon, Aug. 13.—Sixty years ago doctors gave Lawrence Johnston, age 48, just two weeks to live. They said he was dying of pulmonary tuberculosis. But Lawrence, skeptical like, evolved a mixture of pine bark and spirits of turpentine, drank it, and was cured.

That was more than half a century ago. Now Lawrence Johnston is 108, hale and hearty and in love with life. Last Monday he celebrated his 108th birthday in his little homestead here and received the felicitations of hundreds of friends.

Mr. Johnston is smooth-faced, vigorous and mentally alert. He was born about the time Napoleon died, but that does not make him any the less interested in modern doings. He takes more than a casual interest in bobbed hair, and he thinks radio is "the ninth wonder of the world."

Chopping Wood.
Hoping to find traces of eternal youth, The Advertiser reporter visited Mr. Johnston at his farm today. With his silver hair waving and his bronzed face gleaming in the sun, Mr. Johnston was discovered energetically chopping wood. He nodded his venerable head in good-natured acquiescence to the reporter's questions. Yes, he would tell him everything.

"When I was a young man of 42 I was a wreck from tuberculosis," he began. "The doctors gave me only a fortnight to live. But I fooled them. I started drinking three drops of turpentine a day and chewing white pine bark. I got better very rapidly. That's why I now advise everybody to use nature's remedies. Nature is a good doctor, although I admit physicians can do wonders."

"The way to live to be 108 years old," the old man went on, "is, first, to be born with a strong body. Take lots of exercise while a young man, live a temperate man's life, and never give in to any illness. I have followed this out during my life, and I think that I am proof my theory will be successful."

Mr. Johnston has been married twice. His second wife, who is 82 years old, lives with him now.

Born in Canada.
He was born in Canada and has lived in Western Ontario practically all his life. His parents were German and Dutch.

Ontario, of course, was virtually a wilderness when Mr. Johnston first remembers it. In reminiscing of early days in this part of the country, he related the story of his first visit to London. There were then only two buildings, he said. The court house and Dan Goodhue's shanty in which he slept for the night. He remembers hearing other visitors who stayed at the shanty tell of the sale of 100 acres of land in what is now the central part of the city, for a gallon of whiskey, worth about 20 cents at that time.

"One hundred and one years ago when I was only six years old, I remember that Thomas Walters was the owner of 600 acres of land. That land is now the city of London, and Walters, I think, sold it at about $2.35 an acre. I myself paid only $2.25 per acre for the land which I now possess," the old man said.

Unbeaten Pugilist.
Years ago Mr. Johnston was a pugilist. For seven years he fought against the top-notchers in America in the heavyweight class, and never once was he defeated. He was one of the first to play baseball in Canada, and he continued playing the game until he was about 45 years old. Three of his team-mates, Douglass Campbell, Donald McIntyre and Peter Thurston, who were considerably younger than he, are still living.

Mr. Johnston has a remarkably retentive memory. Dates and names are no obstacles to him. He relates stories of days gone by with extraordinary accuracy, and delights in telling tales of infant Canada.

For the past ten years he has been

Money Is Sent To Clear Mind of Wrongdoer

Special to The Advertiser.

Woodstock, Aug. 13.—A. J. Penning, the local Canadian Pacific Railway agent, yesterday received a letter with a ten-dollar bill inclosed, explaining that this was conscience money. The letter stated that some time ago the writer had premeditatedly committed a wrong against the company to the amount of ten dollars, and asked Mr. Penning to hand the sum over to the company. After begging the pardon of the Canadian Pacific for having committed this wrong, the writer signed the letter, "A child of Lord Jesus." No indication was given of the identity of the sender.

living more of a routine life at his farm in Avon than he has been accustomed to. He takes his daily exercise, chopping wood or picking berries, early in the morning. He generally spends his afternoons playing either chess or checkers, and his neighbors declare that he can still play with "the best of 'em."

Bobbed Hair Sensible.
He has his opinions of the modern generation. Bobbed hair is a sensible fashion, he declares, but he wouldn't have a modern young girl for his wife for anything.

"Why, the girl of today can't do a thing worth while," he will say. "A high school education is all right, but farmers' wives should know how to cook and manage the household. I would advocate girls and boys who are born on farms remaining there, and not othering themselves with an education in the city. Let education be for the city children. The farmers have enough to do if they attend to their own business."

Mr. Johnston's stories of the bars, which were situated at almost every road crossing some 50 years ago, are interesting. He declared that it was the common practice then for a farmer to enter a bar after his day's work and drink a pint of whiskey raw. Some drank as much as two quarts a day and never showed a sign of drunkenness, he said. Whiskey at that time sold for 5 cents a quart, and a man was considered a "molly-coddle" unless he took a drink.

Hits Prohibition.
Although he believes in temperance, Mr. Johnston's opinion is that prohibition has done no good. He declared that there was less drunkenness at that time than now, and his reason is that in the old days good, pure whiskey was sold.

Death holds no fears for this venerable gentleman. He declares he is prepared to die now at any time, and he is thankful he has been given the strength to live as long as he has.

"Looking toward the future, a hundred years seems almost an eternity," the old man said with a sigh. "When you have passed the century mark and look back on the days gone by, you realize that time really does fly. Even at my old age life is sweet, and I would love to live many more years, although I know it is impossible."

Mr. Johnston picked up his newspaper. He turned to an article on the perpetuation of human life as outlined to the British Association for the Advancement of Science meeting in Toronto by Professor Huxley.

Everything interests him, for "age cannot wither nor custom stale his infinite variety."

ENGINEERING BOARD WORKS ON DEEP WATERWAY PLAN

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—The Canadian section of the joint engineering board, to which has been referred a number of questions in regard to the St. Lawrence waterway scheme, is at work making surveys and borings and generally gathering data to be used in drafting plans which may form the basis of a treaty between Canada and the United States. Staffs are being retained at Ottawa and Cornwall. It is stated here that the work under the United States section of the board will probably begin in October.

BRITISH TO WARN EGYPTIAN PREMIER

Egyptian National Organization Is Blamed For Conspiracy Against Britain.

PLANS GO ASTRAY

By H. A. DELAHERTY.
Special Cable to The Advertiser and the Chicago Daily News.
London, Aug. 13.—The Egyptian conspiracy against British rule in the Sudan, which resulted this week in outbreaks at Khartoum, Atbara and Port Sudan, undoubtedly will result in a firm note of warning being sent from London to Saghihi Pasha, the Egyptian premier.

Indisputable evidence exists that the Egyptian Nationalist organization, known as the "White Flag Society," sent agents to the Sudan for the express purpose of creating trouble at widely separated points. They desired to give the impression that the Egyptians and the Sudanese had joined forces to force the British from the vast territory which came under British protection and that the Sudanese were in a state of rebellion against the British.

Their attempt to force the unity of Sudanese and Egyptian aims fell flat when Egyptian agents were beaten into submission by native Sudanese. Great Britain has no intention of allowing Egyptian agents to get the upper hand or to change in any way her determination to maintain her protectorate. An enormous amount of British capital is invested in the Sudan. This and the necessity of protecting the Suez Canal make withdrawal impossible.

The Egyptian "White Flag Society," which is mainly responsible for the recent disturbances, lives largely upon money supplied from Cairo. Its flag represents the whole Nile Valley, which its members claim rightfully belongs to Egypt. Its membership is composed of malcontents from the army, and the civil service organization and among the students. In some quarters it is hinted that Moslem religious leaders in the Sudan have been secretly fostering the whole flag movement.

MINISTER IS TOLD PORT DOVER NEED

Large Delegation Presents Arguments To Hon. Dr. King.

Special to The Advertiser.
Simcoe, Aug. 13.—Hon. Dr. J. H. King, federal minister of public works, paid a visit to Port Dover today to look over the harbor with reference to the proposed development of the port.

At a luncheon at the Erie Hotel, representatives of the different towns concerned met the minister and presented the urgency of better harbor facilities at Port Dover.

Over 100 representatives of the municipal councils, chambers of commerce and boards of trade of Port Dover, Simcoe, Waterloo, Townsboro, Brantford, Hespeler, Waterloo, Kitchener and Waterloo County sat down to luncheon.

Mayor Willard of Galt occupied the chair. W. H. Wood, secretary of the Brantford Chamber of Commerce, said that organization, together with W. G. Raymond, member for Brantford, had been the moving spirit in the present agitation for better harbor facilities at Port Dover, and gave a short review of the past efforts at development of the harbor, and of the favorable natural features of the port.

G. W. Raymond, M.P., introduced the minister.

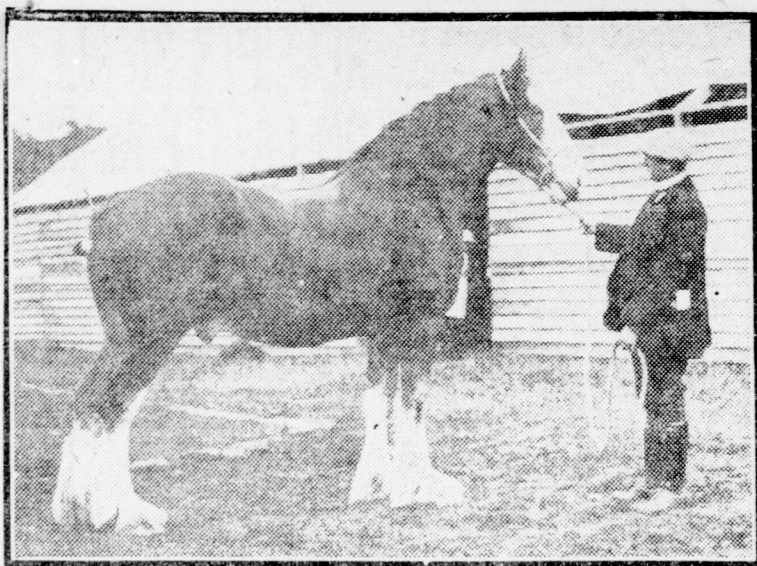

The chairman urged the needs of Galt, and said that Waterloo County was the biggest manufacturing county in Ontario. Mayor Panabaker of Hespeler moved a vote of thanks to Dr. J. H. King. He said he was only 2,000 of a population, but in that town they consumed 10,000 tons of coal in a year. "The manufacturer in Ontario is at fault with difficulties, such as manufacturers near a cheap coal supply knew nothing about," he said, as he emphasized the importance of a lower cost of coal.

Senator Alex. McCall referred to the old Shenango ferries that used to run between Conneaut and Port Dover. It was his opinion to first approach the Canadian National Railways, and through them get in touch with an American road that would co-operate in operating a ferry. J. H. Hays, mayor of Port Dover, Brantford, Joseph H. Hays, Brantford; Wm. Euler, M.P. for North Waterloo, made short speeches. The last referred to the $60,000 placed in the estimates for the development of Port Dover harbor, after the visit of the Hon. Frank Carvell, some years ago. It was not spent, and when he had asked about it, Mr. Carvell had said that they could not conscientiously spend the money until they had assurance that there would be vessels to take care of the traffic after the harbor had been built.

Other speakers were: Mr. Clare of Preston; Mayor B. B. Baillie of Simcoe; Rev. Mr. McCall of Port Dover, who pointed out that of all the five harbors on the north shore of Lake Erie, Port Dover was the only one left without an M.P. Mr. Barwell, who emphasized the fact that Port Dover is the safest harbor of refuge on the lake, it having twelve feet of water and a solid rock foundation, and after construction the maintenance cost would be nil, and J. E. Johnson.

Hon. J. S. M. Macdonald was pleased at the lead Brantford had taken on this occasion. On previous occasions Dover had felt that Brantford had not been as interested as it might be. Aid. Ratz, Mr. Housley, M.P. for Teesdale, Aid. W. Britt, George Sewall, M.L.A., J. A. Wallace and William Elliott, also made short speeches. The chairman wound up the discussion by outlining what the different municipalities proposed to do in the matter in the future.

After adjournment Dr. King made a short tour of the harbor.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Aug. 13.—Addressing today's session of the 68th International Typographical Union convention, Charles Francis of New York, representing the Printers' League and honorary members of the I. T. U., urged the formation of a dual organization of employees and employers. He thought the typographical union could form a nucleus for an organization looking towards industrial peace.

Another feature of the afternoon session was the discussion on the report of the appeal by Albert Bastien of the regular vote in Chicago of review of the Chicago Typographical Union, No. 16, in selecting President E. A. Patzke of that union as the president of No. 16, holding office in August, he one of the four delegates. The referendum was defeated by 2,114 to 1,656. On the taking of the regular vote in Chicago, the delegates, President Patzke had been one of the four selected. He received 1,671 votes to Bastien's 1,593.

Following a long discussion with members from all parts of the continent participating, the report of the committee favoring Patzke was thrown out by a vote of 163 to 132. The vote means that Albert Bastien of Chicago wins his appeal and that he gains a seat at the Toronto convention.

Ten Thousand at Lake Huron Park For Civic Holiday Event.

REUNION PLANNED

Special to The Advertiser.
Sarnia, Aug. 13.—Although the weather threatened badly for most of the day, there was a general exodus of Sarnians to Lake Huron Park for the united merchants' picnic this afternoon, for which Mayor G. A. C. Andrew declared a civic holiday. The attendance was over 10,000, and so great was the crowd that the majority could scarcely view the many track events. The success achieved makes an annual feature of this outdoor event practically certain. President Fred Mills this afternoon declared his more than satisfied, and paid a high compliment to the committees. The day closed with a banquet in the Lake Huron Hotel, at which Russell T. Kelly of Hamilton gave an interesting address on the value of advertising.

Tempted by the success attending the many home-town reunions held in Western Ontario last summer, the Sarnia city council has decided to inaugurate a movement for a Sarnia reunion next summer, and has announced that it will generate any organizations favorable to the proposal. Though still in the embryo stage, it is practically certain there will be an old boys' reunion in this city next year.

The picnic was staged between Kid Paulina, the wild man of Buffalo, and Onion-Skin Corset. The affair was refereed by Constable Oliver of Grand Bend. At the conclusion it was found that Onion-Skin had lost his hat, while Kid Paulina had gained a quarter in private life. They are partners in the business of Harry Ecclestone's fun pavilion.

So far as Perth County is concerned, according to M. C. McPhail, agricultural representative, there are few cases of cut wheat sprouting in the fields. Practically all wheat is cut. About half the fields of barley have been cut, but not more than half. A few reports have been made that potato rot is setting in. It is not serious, however.

After having been discontinued during the past month, the weekly baby clinics will be resumed in the city hall tomorrow.

Cullen, Caledonia street, at the age of 96 years. Suffering from a fall about two years ago, the late Mr. Marshall had been confined to his bed for some time.

The late Mr. Marshall was a native of Suffolk, England, and on coming to Canada in 1850 settled first at Woodstock. He engaged in the dry-goods business there until 1871, when he came to Stratford and entered the dry-goods trade here. Later he went into the produce business and carried on an extensive trade in apples, butter, poultry, etc., chiefly with England and the United States. Mr. Marshall retired about 1900, and since that time had been living quietly in Stratford with his daughter. Besides the daughter, Mrs. Cullen, five sons survive: Frank, W. R. Marshall, of Toronto; R. F. Marshall, of Hamilton; Park, California; Arthur Marshall, of Calgary, and H. H. Marshall, of Holland, N. Y. The late Mr. Marshall leaves one sister, Mrs. L. J. Tatum, Joplin, Mo.

Special to The Advertiser.
St. Marys, Aug. 13.—Representatives of the collegiate boards of Parkhill, Seaford, Clinton, Stratford and St. Marys, met today for representatives of the local board and discussed the problem of tuition fees as paid by the counties.

A committee composed of Mr. Mayberry of Stratford, W. J. Mills and W. A. McIntyre of St. Marys, was named to prepare a petition memorializing the Ontario government to stop the law that counties must pay 100 per cent of the cost of tuition for county pupils attending a collegiate institute. This cost includes, under the act, certain costs of maintenance.

W. R. Butcher of St. Marys was chairman of the meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. Butcher. A situation which has been causing much difficulty in many counties, at present the counties pay but 50 per cent of the cost of tuition, and it was felt that it was not fair that residents of the urban municipalities should have to bear the other 50 per cent, in addition to paying the full 100 per cent of the cost for the pupils from the town or city. In some instances county councils were willing that the board should collect the 20 per cent from the town or city, and positively refused to pay more than the 50 per cent, and this had led to some boards refusing to allow county pupils to attend colleges.

The committee to complete the memorial, which will be forwarded by Secretary A. Carmen of the local board to all boards in the neighborhood, will be met later, but this was not decided upon. The matter today was the result of action by the local board.

WOMAN IS KILLED. 'KID MC'COY' HELD

Former Prize Fighter Charged With Murder in Los Angeles.

Associated Press Despatch.
Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 13.—Norman Selby, known to the prize ring as "Kid McCoy," confessed the murder of Mrs. Theresa Mors, to his sister, shortly after Mrs. Mors was shot here early today. It was announced tonight by Assistant Captain of Detectives Herman Cline.

The sister will be questioned further by the district attorney tomorrow.

McCoy, dazed and incoherent, is held by the police. Albert Mors, divorced husband of the dead woman,
also has been located after a frantic search following the discovery of Mrs.
Mors' body this morning.

Near the body was a 32 calibre automatic pistol and a bullet to fit it was taken from the woman's head by police surgeons. Clashed in the hand of the corpse was a photograph of the ex-pugilist. They had been living at the apartment as "Mr. and Mrs. N. Shields."

Shortly after the body was discovered, McCoy threw the first complication into the case. Brandishing a .45 calibre pistol and shouting incoherently, he appeared in the residential district broker's office run by Sam Schapp and his wife, Ann.
William J. Ross, a New Yorker, was standing by the counter.

Ross attempted to disarm the former fighter and received two bullets in the thigh. McCoy fired four more shots and slightly wounded Schapp and his wife, then departed running.
As he fled across West Lake Park his pistol fell from his pocket, and a patrolman arrested him.

GIBBONS CLAIMS $36,500 FROM FIGHT RECEIPTS

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Aug. 13.—Lawyers representing Tom Gibbons, U. S. boxer, have written Major Arnold Wilson, promoter of the Gibbons-Bloomfield fight at Wembley last Saturday, claiming that £8,061 (about $36,500) is due their client, this being the difference in sterling between $50,000 and the £3,939 which Gibbons received.

Major Wilson has gone to the country under physicians' orders, suffering from a nervous breakdown,
brought on by the strain of managing the fight.

The Daily Sketch says the fight resulted roundly in a loss of £12,000 to its backers, the receipts amounting to £15,000, against expenses of £27,000.

BACK ACHE TERRIBLY

Mrs. McMahon Tells How She Found Relief by Taking Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chatham, Ont.—"I took Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a run-down condition after the birth of my baby boy. I had terrible pains and backache, and was tired and weak, not fit to do my work and care for my three little children. One day I received your little book and read it, and gave up taking the medicine I had and began taking the Vegetable Compound. I feel much better now and am not ashamed to tell what it has done for me. I recommend it to any woman I think feels as I do."—Mrs.
J. R. McMahon, 163 Harvey St.,
Chatham, Ont.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has for nearly fifty years been restoring sick, ailing women to health and strength. It relieves the troubles which cause such symptoms as backache, painful periods, irregularities, tired, worn-out feelings and nervousness. This is shown again and again by such letters as Mrs. McMahon writes, as well as by one woman telling another. These women know, and are willing to tell others what it did for them; therefore, it is surely worth your trial.

Women who suffer should write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Coburn, Ontario, for a free copy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women."

PORE LI'L WAIST LINE:

Please tell me, little waist line,
Ain't you never had no home?
An' don't you love me blues an' want
A place to call your own?

You're allus playin' peek-a-boo.
Or some such funny stuff.
'Cause lots o' times I look for you,
An' you ain't there at all!

I've saw you slip so far that—zee!
You must nigh hit the dust.
Then all at once you bounce right up,
So tight I'd think you'd bust!

With oooin' here an' hoppin' there,
You must feel dreadful seedy.
Them wimmin folks don't treat you right!

Li'l waist line—no indeedy!

That's Different.

She—"Oh, this is so sudden!"

He—"Then you will? Dearest, please."

She—"No, Dick, I can't."

He (desperately)—"Then there's only one thing left to do. I'll take Marv to the dance."

Ruined.

Meade—"Why are you so sore at Richards?"

Reade—"He played a dirty trick on me. He told my wife that she could hold a clever conversation."

He's Got the Right Idea.

The other day while fondling my three-year-old brother I asked him, "Larry, whom do you love?"

Promptly he answered, "You and mamma and daddy, and brother and Dick and I love 'em all."

"Why the idea?" I said. "Why do you love yourself?"

And with the wisdom of years, Larry said, "Well, if I don't love me, who will?"

Inattentive.

"Did you see the Mrs. Watson had on in church today?"

"No, my dear. I can't say I noticed it."

"Oh, you men! What's the use of going to church at all if you don't pay any attention?"

THE JINGLE-JANGLE COUNTER.

True affection always charms;

Chairs will take you in their arms.

Moonlight on the waters looming.

Fine for roving, bad for spooning.

Sister always ties Daddy's tie, you know;

Pop likes it four-in-hand; sis likes a bow.

Bread is called the staff of Life;

Rolling pins still suit my wife!

Safes are cracked by thugs and yeggs;

I wish I was the babbling brook.

Where nymphs come down to take a look.

Realistic.

"Children, what in the world are you doing?"

"We're playing restaurant, mamma."

"But why is Willie bounding on that dishman?"

"Why, mamma, we can't have a restaurant without a jazz band, can we?"

By the Gossips.

Osgood—"Why do they call it a quilting 'bee'?"

Oswald—"Well, somebody is sure to get 'stunk'."

LOGICAL, WHAT?

Sylvester wooed a pretty miss,

(An aviatrix fair)

And when he tried to steal a kiss

She went up in the air.

Modern Youth.

Father—"Can't you be serious for a moment, Bob?"

Robert—"No, dad. I shall always be a boyish Bob."

Household Hints.

Much effort can be saved in mopping floors by tying several moons, with handles removed, at various points on the creeping baby.

Serviceable hot dish pads for the dining table can be made by sewing a little trimming of bright colored gingham around the edges of stale hot cakes.

An excellent hanging basket for the sunroom or parlor can be made by attaching three strands of wire to a brightly-enamelled old derby hat.

An efficient teether for the baby can be made by inserting corks in a six-inch section of old garden hose.

Our beloved says one reason why there is more "necking" nowadays is because bobbed hair has abolished
the hat pin.

It Talks.

She—"I shall wear my new evening dress tonight. Isn't it a boom?"

He—"Judging from its shortness, I should say it's an engram."

No Mo!

Zeb—"Say, St. what did you and that city feller that was boarding at your house have such a fallin' out over?"

St—"Wal, you know, that golddarned fool told me the fast day that he believed in, in this Doctor Coudé method, and for the next week he didn't do nothin' but go around saying, "Oh, it ain't a-gonna rain no mo'."
