

MAJOR CREEDY KILLED IN UNUSUAL ACCIDENT SATURDAY

Body Found on Grand Trunk Main Line Track With Skull Knocked Off—He Was an Employee at the Malleable Iron Works, This City.

The body of Major Creedy employed in the shipping department of the Pratt and Letchworth Company was found on the Grand Trunk Railway track on Saturday night about 9.45 between here and Paris, by Edwin Atkinson, foreman for the Grant-Campbell Company, contractors on the L. and N. Ry.

ITALY WON IN THE POLICE COURT-- MANY CASES ON SLATE TO-DAY

Magistrate Livingston had a large number of cases to deal with this morning in the police court and the session was a lengthy one. A family squabble was aired in the court when one woman charged her sister with the conversion of a bed and bedstead to the value of $26.00.

REDMOND'S SPEECH KILLED ALL HOPES OF COMPROMISE

There Was Nothing Moderate About it, And it Was Like the Redmond of Younger Days—Carson Also Declines to Budge One Little Bit

[Canadian Press Dispatch] NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—A cable to The Tribune from London this morning says: John E. Redmond by his speech at Cahirciveen, in Kerry, yesterday, virtually killed all prospects of a settlement of the Home Rule crisis by consent.

A PRISON FARM FOR FIVE COUNTIES

Oxford, Brant, Perth, Norfolk and Waterloo to Get Together. The first step towards establishing a series of industrial farms throughout the western part of Ontario, and at the same time do away with the old county jail system, will be considered on Wednesday, when delegates from Western Ontario counties are to meet the provincial secretary at Guelph and go into the whole matter of the advisability of establishing one central farm for this district.

LANGLOIS AND THE ARCHBISHOP

The Latter Has Forbidden Catholics to Read the Paper, LePays. [Canadian Press Dispatch] MONTREAL, Sept. 29.—An unjust attack on the liberty of the press, is the expression used by Godfroy Langlois, M. L. A., as an introduction to a denunciation he has issued of the action of Mgr. Bruchesi, archbishop of Montreal, in forbidding Roman Catholics to read Mr. Langlois' newspaper, Le Pays, because, according to the mandement given in expression to the ban: "The paper is of a nature to gravely injure religious interests and to cause a real harm especially to the young."

THE COURIER CUP

The Courier Cup which will be donated to the Brantford Football Association for annual competition is on exhibition in the window of Sheppard & Son, jewelers on Colborne street. The silver cup, which is of dull finish, is 17 inches high and sets on a black ebony base, has engraved on it the words, "The Courier Cup, presented by The Brantford Courier, Limited to the Brantford Football Association for annual competition."

Local Option Contest To Depend on This Meeting

Some Question as to Whether Contest Will be Launched or Not—Reasons Are Given. Whether there will be a local option campaign in this city or not, will be decided at a meeting of the local option committee to-morrow afternoon in the new Y. M. C. A.

YOUNG BOY WAS QUITE AMBITIOUS

He Jumped With $1400 Because He Wanted an Oxford Education. [Canadian Press Dispatch] NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—In order to satisfy his ambition to enter Oxford University, Wilbur Foerste, a 17 year old errand boy stole $1,400 from a Cleveland, Ohio, department store last Saturday. He told detectives to-day who arrested him on his arrival from the Ohio city an interesting story.

STATEMENT ISSUED BY HARRY THAW

He Takes Issue With Jerome and Indictment Which Was Secured. [Canadian Press Dispatch] CONCORD, N.H., Sept. 29.—Harry Thaw to-day issued a signed statement, amplifying the declaration made by John F. Ringwood, one of his counsel at Poughkeepsie, N.Y., yesterday that the fugitive would return to Dutchess County and answer the indictment for conspiracy to escape from the insane asylum at Matteawan, N. Y., if such indictment had been found at the time that William Travellers Jerome, special deputy attorney general of New York, so stated at the extradition hearing. The statement follows:

HARRY K. THAW IS SUFFERING A COLD

His Friends Are Worried as to His Condition Which is Serious. [Canadian Press Dispatch] CONCORD, N.H., Sept. 29.—Friends and associates of Harry K. Thaw are worrying seriously over the failure of the Matteawan fugitive to rid himself of a heavy cold with which he has been afflicted for a week.

TWENTY SKELETONS

Twenty Year Old Sea Mystery is Now Cleared Up. [Canadian Press Dispatch] NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—A cable from Christchurch, New Zealand, says: A twenty year old mystery of the sea is explained by a letter received here stating that two survivors of a vessel wrecked on Cape Horn found the wreck of the Glasgow ship Marlborough, in a cove with twenty skeletons nearby. The Marlborough left Lyttelton, N. Z., in January 1890 for London and never was heard of again. It was supposed she sank off the coast of the Antarctic.

POWDER EXPLOSION

STONEMAN, Man, Sept. 29.—Burned from head to foot when he was caught in an explosion of several bags of giant powder near the Winnipeg supply company's buildings in a quarry Sunday afternoon, William Wise, aged 35 lies dying at his home here. With Robert Porter, Wise was walking among the buildings when suddenly the building they were passing blew up. Porter was thrown 25 feet, but uninjured. Wise had the clothes burned from his body and suffered terrible injuries.

ONLY HAD A NICKEL

Yet He Had Over a Million in Bonds and Stocks. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Edward McDonald, a plainly dressed middle-aged man, was found ill in a cheap lodging house here last night, with five cents in his purse, but with $1,700,000 in negotiable bonds and securities sewed in an inside pocket. The papers are said to be securities of forty-seven bona fide companies, and all drawing interest.

THE REDS ARE HOLDING FORTH

This is the sixth day of the "4,000 membership campaign" being conducted by the Y. M. C. A. and the red flag is flying outside the Y. M. C. A., which signifies that the red side are in the lead. The green side have made splendid returns but thus far have not been able to catch up. However, the green side led during the first four days of the campaign and they may lead at the finish. One never can tell what the Irish will do.

SPANISH PEOPLE CLOSE THEIR SEASON FOR BULL FIGHTING

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—A Madrid cable says: As the end of the bull fight season approaches the activities of the men in the profession are greater than ever. Yesterday all records were broken. More than twenty-five fights were held in the country, two of them in the city of Madrid. About 150 bulls were killed. One matador was slightly wounded at Madrid and another was severely gored in the face at Seville.

ACID DESTROYED THE GOLF GREENS

Suffragettes at Yarmouth Pull Off Another Freak Stunt. [Canadian Press Dispatch] YARMOUTH, Eng., Sept. 29.—Militant suffragette "arson squads" were again busy last night when they destroyed the greens of the Municipal Golf Links here with acid. The women left a confession of their crime on the ground and a note saying: "The timber yard was set fire too by us." This had reference to a fire which on Saturday had destroyed 175,000 worth of timber at a lumber yard in the city.

NEW LORD MAYOR A LANCASHIRE MAN

First in History to Assume Highest Office in London City. [Canadian Press Dispatch] LONDON, Sept. 29.—Sir Thomas Vansittart Bowater, who is to-day elected Lord Mayor of the City of London and will assume office on November 9, is the first Lancastrian to attain to that high position. Sir Thomas Rawlinson, who was Lord Mayor of London in 1795-6, is described on the records as "of a Lancastrian family, but this is doubtful case, and it is safe to say no previous Lord Mayor was born in the county in Lancashire. After Sir Thomas, however, there will be, barring accidents, a succession of Lancastrian Lord Mayors, for Sir Charles Johnson, who will succeed him, was born in Liverpool, and Sir Charles Giers Wakefield and Sir William Dunn who are next in rotation, are natives respectively of Liverpool and Clitheroe, in Lancashire. Sir Thomas Bowater is a Manchester man. He was born in 1862 and came to London as a young man to enter business. He is now at the head of a large firm of papermakers, agents and merchants. His rise to the Lord Mayorship has been rapid. In 1889 he became a representative on the court of common council, and in 1885 was elected sheriff and later alderman. Every Lord Mayor must have served as alderman and sheriff, and usually an alderman must wait some years before being elected sheriff, but in the case of the new Lord Mayor, the order was reversed; he was sheriff first and alderman afterwards.

REMARKABLE FLIGHT MADE BY A FRENCH AVIATOR AT RHEIMS

RHEIMS, France, Sept. 29.—A speed of 125-126 miles an hour was made by Maurice Prevost, the French aviator in the first half of the race here to-day for the International Aeroplane Cup. The entire distance to be flown was approximately 124.28 miles and Prevost's time for the half-distance just over 62 miles, showed that his speed was over two miles a minute. Prevost was the second to start in the contest having been preceded by the Belgian Albert Crombez.

ALL QUIET TO-DAY

HARRISON, Miss., Sept. 29.—Harrison, the scene of yesterday's riot, which cost the lives of three white men and seven negroes, and the wounding of a score of other persons when two dogs crazed negro boys, Walter and Will Jones, ran amuck, was quiet to-day. The bodies of Jones brothers, who were lynched, were cut from a coal chute late last night and buried to-day. E. P. Appleby, a railroad conductor, was shot down on the platform of his car, his slight chances for recovery.

IN REAL LIFE

In real life the freeman who rescues the fair maiden is married and eats onions.—Athol Globe.

WAS ACCIDENTAL DEATH

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—A coroner's jury found to-day that Representative Timothy D. Sullivan met death by accident after he had left his brother's home in Williamsbridge in the early morning of August 31. His body was found on the railroad tracks near Pelham Parkway at daybreak of the same day, and lay unidentified thirteen days and was on its way to the public burying ground when identification was made. Persistent reports that he had met with foul play impelled the coroner to hold an inquest. "We find that the death of Timothy D. Sullivan was caused by accident," was the verdict.

DEVONPORT, Eng., Sept. 29.

The British cruisers Suffolk, Berwick and Lancaster, which are later to be joined by the Monmouth, sailed from this port to-day for Bermuda. From that base, the newly constituted British West Atlantic squadron, commanded by Rear-Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock, will watch British interests in the Panama canal zone. The squadron will be reported, but not officially confirmed, to represent Great Britain at the opening of the Panama canal.

A Sad Sight

QUEBEC, Sept. 29.—All the remains of the eight child victims of the recent fire here were buried this morning. The whole population of St. Sauveur turned out to show its sympathy, and thousands were unable to parish church, where the funeral services were held. The eight bodies were in five caskets.

EPWORTH LEAGUERS ARE IN CONVENTION

They Are Meeting To-day at the Wellington Street Church.

The Nineteenth Annual Convention of the Brantford District Epworth Leaguers is being held in the Wellington St. Methodist Church to-day and to-morrow. The session opened this morning with devotional exercises being led by Rev. J. Todd of Mt. Pleasant. Rev. Mr. Hamilton then welcomed the delegates to the church and to the convention. The registration of delegates then followed after which the nominating committee was elected. Those elected were: Rev. Mr. Hamilton, Rev. Mr. Marshall, Rev. Mr. Mosson, Rev. Mr. Todd and Miss Agnes Butler.

Short papers were read on "Plans for the Winter." Those read papers outlined programmes for the coming fall and winter season. Special mention was made of the advisability of endeavoring to get the younger generation interested in missionary work.

One of the principal speakers at the session this afternoon and this evening will be F. L. Farewell, the Field Secretary of the mission movement.

AT THE GOLF CLUB

The fine day brought out a very large attendance of members of the golf club, on Saturday afternoon. A Mixed foursomes were played with members of the Berlin club, who motored over, and Brantford won. The hostesses of the day served a very charming tea and later a high tea was served to the participants of the match. Afterwards the floor was cleared for dancing, and the light fantastic was merrily tripped to the strains of excellent music provided by Miss Conboy. The visitors expressed themselves as delighted with their reception.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE

Thursday evening, September 25th, was the occasion of a happy gathering when about 35 young friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Simington, Burch, took them by surprise before their departure from their midst. The evening was spent with music and games, after which melons and other dainties were partaken of. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Simington were called to the front while Mr. Ernest Campbell read an address signed on behalf of the young people and Roy Simington and Cecil Campbell presented them with a beautiful leather upholstered rocker. Although taken completely by surprise, Mr. Simington made a suitable reply. The company dispersed in the early hours of the morning, after wishing their host and hostess every success in their new phase of life. Mr. and Mrs. Simington are about to take up their residence in Brantford.

AN INVITATION TO THE LADIES.

TOO TRUE

Too many people spend to-day what they hope to earn to-morrow.

Cleveland is about to open a municipal moving picture show. As far as this neck of the woods is concerned the most desirable thing in that regard would be a set of films depicting the moving of our city hall.

Cedar Mop and Brush
Easier, Quicker and Better Dusting and Cleaning

Easier, because you do not have to get down on your hands and knees to dust, clean and polish a hardwood floor, or the stairs, or move heavy furniture to dust under it. Easier because you do not have to stand on a chair to dust the moulding or the tops of doors or the tops of high furniture. No back-breaking rubbing whatever—simply run over anything lightly and it is entirely free from all germ-laden dust.

Quicker, because you only have to go over the surface once to dust, clean and polish. One operation does it all.

Better, because the O-Cedar Polish gives a high, hard, durable finish, not a gummy, hazy, bluish cast.

The mop is heavily padded to protect the furniture and the handle is 54 inches long. It can be easily cleaned by pouring a few drops of O-Cedar Polish on the mop.

Warning to the Too Sanguine.

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—Concerning the new cancer remedy discovered by Prof. Hahn, known as radium-mesothorium, Prof. Brauer, the chief surgical authority in Hamburg, issues a warning against the purchase of this new substitute for pure radium at the present enhanced prices. More than one hundred cases of cancer have been treated with mesothorium, and with few exceptions, there has been no recurrence of the disease after eighteen months.

Prof. Brauer considers that, though plenty of cases are recorded as cured, there is danger that the mesothorium crass may cause the popularity of tubercula and perhaps result in similar disappointments.

Dr. Wm. J. Beattie Killed.
 MANCHESTER, N.H., Sept. 29.—Dr. William J. Beattie, who introduced the Piorokowsky turtle serum cure for tuberculosis from Germany a few months ago, was killed yesterday afternoon at his home in Littleton, N.H. The doctor crossed the street in front of the Crawford Hotel to pay a professional call, when an automobile hit him a fatal blow.

Dr. Beattie was one of the leading doctors of the state. He headed the Roosevelt ticket in the Presidential primary here a year ago, and had after the election returned to Germany to study the tuberculosis treatment.

Is Ready For Atlantic.
 LONDON, Sept. 29.—The Chronicle's Paris correspondent says that Garros, the hero of the non-stop flight across the Mediterranean, who has now returned to Paris, thinks crossing the Atlantic in an aeroplane is well within bounds of possibility. With a few slight improvements in the average aeroplane motor, he says, there would be nothing to prevent it. Garros has, indeed, sketched out a suitable route from the north of England to Ireland, which would be the first supply station, thence to Newfoundland and the mainland.

Indians Surrender Reserve.
 VANCOUVER, Sept. 29.—The legal surrender of the Squamish Indian reserve at Newport to the Pacific Great West at Newport to the Pacific Great Eastern Railway Co. took place on Saturday in the old mission church, at North Vancouver. The Indians were headed by Chief Joseph.

RECREATION.—There is not so much in the ordinary vacation as in the single bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which refreshes the tired blood, sharpens the dulled appetite, restores the lost courage. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla this summer.

ITALY WON IN THE POLICE COURT

this charge he stated that he got some wine and local option beer at Spittal's Hotel, close to the G. T. R. station, and declared that this was all he had to drink.

On this charge, a fine of $10 and costs was imposed, but on the vag. charge, sentence was suspended.

Heavy Fines.

John Phillips pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk while on the "billed" list and was fined $10 and costs. Frank Elliot, an Indian who claimed that a man had stepped up to him on the street and asked him if he could get him some liquor, his charge being 25 cents, was fined $5.00 on a charge of being drunk.

Walter Gale was charged with being disorderly on Eagle Avenue. He entered a plea of not guilty and as the case was a trivial one, the charge was dismissed.

An Assault Charge.

Charged with assault upon his wife, Josephine Gerow. Roy Gerow, a local man, appeared in the police court this morning. The plaintiff claimed that she had refused to live with her husband because he drank liquor to excess, wrote to other girls, etc., and when she told him of her intention to leave him for good, it is alleged that he attacked her, throwing her on the floor and demanding the wedding ring and marriage certificate.

The plaintiff admitted that she "had been an angel" but she refused to accept the kindly advice of the Magistrate and go back with her husband. Separation papers, she stated, had been taken out and in future she intended to support herself.

Magistrate Livingston found that in this case there had been no assault, and after advising the couple to leave each other alone, dismissed the case.

THE ACCUMULATION OF VAST WEALTH.

The late Mr. Pierpont Morgan left an estate of $150,000,000 exclusive of his vast interests in his banking business.

It is difficult for those of us who have to be content with keeping the family pot boiling week by week, to estimate the responsibilities of such a vast sum, but the demands must be very great.

The individual who wrote that health is wealth stated a basic truth. At the same time it is necessary to add that health is not a dollars and cents asset except insofar as it represents earning capacity and there will always be a percentage of those who, either from choice or lack of employment, are unable to cash in.

However, as Rudyard Kipling would say, that is another story. The aim and the effort of a vast majority of men and many women, is to provide for themselves and those dependent upon them, and to the bulk luxuries are out of the question.

Simon Ford, the well known United States humorist recently made the pensive remark after the death of Mr. Morgan:

We learn from Mr. Morgan's life that wealth does not bring happiness. We know that poverty does not bring it either. What on earth then is a man to do?

Get at the best medium he can would seem to be the answer, and more and more the civilized world over, movements to that end are in course of evolution.

TRADE WITH THE WEST INDIES. One of the first results of the many activities of Hon. George Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, is the official announcement that he has succeeded in bringing about greatly reduced cable rates, and a thoroughly up to date passenger and freight service between the West Indies and the Dominion.

The successful tenderers are pledged to have four vessels with a carrying capacity of 5,000 tons and suitable passenger accommodation. The speed is to be 11 or 12 knots and the subsidy from Canada will be $315,000 a year for ten years.

For reduced cable rates Great Britain and Canada combined, contribute $40,000 and the Indies continue their present subsidies.

The possibilities of Canadian trade development in this direction are very large. Hitherto the United States has had the lion's share of much that could just as well be supplied from here and prospects for a notable advance in the Dominion volume would seem to be excellent.

THE HOUSING PROBLEM. In very many centres the housing problem is becoming more and more acute and at various places attempted solutions have been adopted.

Apartment houses in many communities have helped, but the trouble is that people with children, are not wanted to a very large extent, and it takes a very wide stretch of the imagination to depict such quarters as "home."

In Buffalo there is quite a general movement to meet the emergencies of the case by the construction of bungalows. These are springing up all over the suburbs in connection with that city. Land values are high but these residences of smaller size are usually of very attractive design and comprise an astonishing amount of room for those who do not want the apartments connected with more ambitious establishments.

In Philadelphia a strong financial company has erected scores of houses with excellent results. They are of two prices; the larger kind cost $3,200 and a smaller kind $2,800. They are all of one pattern and are erected in street rows, one neighbor's front verandah adjoining that of the next.

They each contain three bedrooms, a reception room, a dining room, kitchen and cellar. Also a well equipped bathroom, china cupboard inserted in the wall of the dining room and gas and coal ranges. In the bedrooms the cupboard panels are of looking glass. The method is for $50 down in each case, and then a rental of $25 a month or $28.50 a month respectively until the balance of the purchase price is paid and then the tenant becomes the owner. The company explain that they are able to accomplish this because of purchasing all materials in large quantities and their returns show quite a reasonable dividend.

JAIL FARM FOR FIVE COUNTIES.

The announcement that delegates from five counties, Brant included, will wait upon Hon. Mr. Hanna with reference to the establishment of a prison farm for joint use, raises a most interesting question.

Advocates of the scheme contend that on the average the jails of said counties do not begin to be occupied up to capacity, and that under the plan suggested, two or three out of the five might be closed to the saving of much annual expense.

On the other hand, critics of the idea point out that with a jail, as in connection with other public institutions, and enterprises, there has to be capacity for accommodation, at such times as when a full demand occurs—in other words, to take care of the peak load. They also contend that the expense of transportation of the purchase price of land, upkeep, etc., would, in the end, involve a bigger outlay than the present system.

Without doubt, matters both pro and con, should be, and no doubt will be, thoroughly thrashed out with the Provincial Secretary. It is true that under his initiative, a prison farm on a large scale has been established with great success near Guelph, but this handles a large number of convicted men of lengthy terms, and is a very different proposition to the educative effects and practical results of a few men on a short term basis.

This county jail matter is a very complex thing. There are so-called men who deliberately do something of a minor nature in order to get a sentence to carry them over the winter months. Then they emerge fat and rosy in the Spring, to do their loafing still more comfortably outdoors. To give them and others tasks which would interfere with the products of honest toilers, is generally regarded as unfair, and the wood splitting, which used to be about the main task, has disappeared.

Some solution is certainly desirable, but whether the farm idea would be likely to fill the bill, remains to be most thoroughly considered before the taking of any action.

NOTES AND COMMENTS. Redmond is the boss of Asquith and he is not afraid to let the world know it.

Ex-President Diaz of Mexico, has been asked to return there. If he accepts and history repeats itself, he is liable to Diaz the rest.

Thaw is still in New Hampshire, fighting return to New York State. Uncle Sam should borrow the catapult with which Canada accelerated his movements.

Hon. George Foster, whom the Toronto Globe thought it had down and out some time ago, has bobbed up with about as much bobtishness, as the Reciprocity fad of that organ hasn't.

There is no need to have any fear with regard to the weather of tomorrow and next day, for the Southern Fair at Burford has those two dates and the elements always know how to treat that function.

The fact that the Liberals in the East Middlesex bye-election campaign are not going in for platform addresses is pretty good evidence that they know their own side cannot present any policy worth talking about.

One well known poet wrote:—"Though he his house of polished marble build, Yet shall it ruin like the moth's frail shell."

The trouble with Brantford's house, called the City Hall, is that it was built on the moth shell basis right at the start off.

A COSTLY TOILET. The statue of the Goddess of Freedom on the top of the dome of the Capitol at Washington has been undergoing a cleansing process. Miss Freedom, who stands 10 ft. 6 in. in her bare feet, is anything but a dainty maiden, judging by the cost of her bath, for which Congress has appropriated over $15,000, and nearly a carload of soap.

Freedom, whose crown contains numerous costly platinum tips, frequently takes electric treatments, and hardly a summer passes that some of these tips are not melted off by the lightning, but that does not serve to keep her clean, and from time to time it is necessary to erect a scaffolding around her and send up a gang of stepladders to scrub her with soap or water.—New York Tribune.

Sold Out and Out. "And be sure to bring back a bottle of sea-water with you. They say as how it's so good for the rheumatics," remarked old Mrs. Giles, by way of final exhortation.

Then, a moment later, the excursion train steamed out of the station on its journey to the coast, bearing among its human freight the aged form of Thomas Giles, a true son of old England's soil.

But at the seaside, although amazed by the vastness of ocean, he did not forget himself so far as to neglect his wife's belief. So, observing two mariners on the sands, he approached them, and inquired of them the price of a bottle of sea-water.

"A shilling a bottle, sir," replied the sailor, with a knowing wink towards his companion.

Cheerfully Thomas paid his shilling, then retired inland to see the sights and get food. Some two hours later, having examined the church, the aquarium and the museum he returned again to inspect the sea.

But, lo and behold, where the sea had been now stretched miles of sand. Hardly able to believe his eyes, Thomas hastened to his old sailor friend, and—

"By George! You've had a busy day!" he cried enthusiastically. "Sold out already? Well, well, well!"

Feminine Instinct. Tutter: "Awfully pretty baby of yours, Bender, but—er—what is it, a boy or a girl?"

Bender: "Can't you tell it's a girl?" "No. How on earth do you tell?" "Can't you see? She's reaching up to put her mother's hat on straight."

Child Swept Through Culvert. Oliver Maitland, the five-year-old son of a Llanely postman, fell into a pond and was carried by the current into a culvert. Some time later he was seen floating out on the other side of the pipe. The boy was fished out and resuscitated.

Remarkable Old Offender. A remarkable list of convictions are appended to the name of an old offender who appeared at the Edinburgh Police Court and pleaded guilty to having been drunk. Although she had been before the courts in the city over 100 times for various crimes and offences and is seventy-five years of age, she still presents a clean and healthy appearance.

Should Women Play Bowls? The question of women playing bowls was raised at Oswestry, Wales, Town Council. A letter from Miss Fanny Wall inquired why she was not permitted to play bowls in Caeglan Park, which she understood was open to all, the chairman of the Parks Committee having given orders to the parkkeeper to stop ladies playing bowls.

Nine Pensioners in One Family. In the village of Corsham, Wilts, the old age pensioners include nine people closely related, the oldest being ninety and the youngest seventy-one.

Novel Sight of Elm Tree on Fire. An unusual spectacle was witnessed at the village of South Ormsby, Lin. colnshire, when an elm tree 100 feet in height caught fire. The flames were not extinguished until the following day.

Killed by Tight Lacing. Heart failure as the result of tight lacing was declared at a Southampton inquest to have caused the death of Elizabeth Mary Adams, a domestic servant. She died suddenly after drinking a glass of lemonade.

Stowaway's Hiding Place. In a case against a stowaway on the Olympic at Southampton it was said that the man hid in one of the funnels, and when seen just before the ship was docked he was caked with soot. He was sent to prison for a month.

Heather for Motorists. At Carnarvon, Wales, three little boys were fined for tarowing heather at passing motorists. Superintendent Williams said he had had numerous complaints about boys in the villages of Cwngwll and Llanberis pelting passing motorists with heather.

She Knew Wordsworth. Miss Anne Harrison Kelly, of Eller Holmes, Ambleside, one of the last surviving residents of the Lake country who had a personal remembrance of Wordsworth, died recently at the age of ninety-two. She could recall a visit paid by the poet to her family in Newcastle.

Chance for a Fife Lase. At the shoot of the Dunfermline Territorials, Color-Sergeant-Instructor Bowie was the winner of the wedding ring presented for the unmarried man with the highest score. A condition attached to the prize is that the winner must marry within the year or forfeit the ring and give a penalty prize.

Soldiers Pull Gun Carriage. As the horses at Colchester barracks were isolated on account of mangle, no horses could be obtained to draw the gun-carriage at the funeral of Private Fair, a Gordon Highlander. Eighteen of his comrades, in full dress, with kilt, busby, and sporran, harnessed themselves to the gun-carriage and drew the coffin to the cemetery.

A Sportsman's Serious Blunder. While a couple of lovers were sitting upon some waste land at Stoke, near Coventry, they heard the sound of a gun, and the young woman received a number of shots in her hat and forehead, and the young man got some in his ear.

It was explained by Joseph William Taylor, when arrested for discharging a gun, that he mistook the white chiffon on the young woman's hat for a piece of paper on some thistles, and he fired to test his cartridges.

Experiment on a Donkey. At Runcom, Dr. Warrington York, head of the Research Laboratory of the Liverpool Tropical School of Medicine and a well known expert in sleeping sickness, was charged with cruelty to a donkey by neglecting it. The donkey lay for over a week in a field apparently dying without shelter. Dr. York's defence was that the animal had been given a new drug, experimentally, and felt absolutely no pain. He killed it immediately the result of the experiment was known. It was fed and watered daily. The charge was dismissed.

The Dominion Immigration Department will not clear Evelyn Thaw from entering Canada as an actress. Thirty per cent of the Saskatchewan grain crop has been threshed, and the quality establishes a record.

MAJOR CREEDY IS KILLED ON G.T. LINE

(Continued from Page 1) with Mrs. Wilbee, 145 Albion St. He was employed in the shipping department at the Malleable Works and was at work on Saturday morning. His father Henry Creedy and brother James Creedy and half brother John Creedy, reside in the city and another half brother George Creedy resides on the River Road.

On Saturday afternoon about 2.30 he went to the home of his half brother, John Creedy, 15 Albion St. and chatted for a while and then went over to the home of his brother James Creedy, 214 William St. He stayed there for a short time and then went down street saying that he was going to Paris.

Injury Peculiar. The injury to Creedy was a peculiar one as the unfortunate fellow only received one blow on the head. There were no broken bones in the body and no other marks. The fact, however, that pieces of the skull and hair were found distributed along the track indicates pretty clearly that he was struck by a train, probably by one of the 8 o'clock trains leaving Brantford.

Bones Broken. Dr. E. C. Ashton examined the body of the late Major Creedy, who was killed on Saturday night by being struck by a G.T.R. train, and found that the dead man's right arm and shoulder were broken.

GOOD SHOWING MADE IN BUILDING PERMITS

Brantford Has a Decline, But There Are Good Reasons for it.

The building permits in Brantford for the month of September totalled $89,850, as compared with $102,630 for a like month last year.

For the nine months the record stands:

1912	$915,020
1913	$89,511

Decrease $55,509

This is certainly an excellent showing, in view of the fact that much contemplated factory and house building was postponed this year because bank advances, for a period, were somewhat hard to obtain. In a majority of other centres, the falling off has been very much more marked than here.

Local News

Hit a Horse
A medical car hit a horse which had strayed on the line between Brantford and Hamilton last night, the animal being instantly killed. Those in the car received quite a shaking up, but no damage was done.

Slow for the Flyer
A freight train got ahead of the Grand Trunk flyer from the West on Sunday evening just west of Paris, and the passenger train was held up for some minutes. For about a mile the flyer was forced to trail the freight, running very slowly.

Like They All Are
A drunken foreigner attracted considerable attention in the vicinity of the C.T.R. station Saturday night. The man, who was crazed with drink, desired to go down town, but his friends were doing their best to get him home. Five men were required to hold the drunk, who fought desperately to gain his freedom.

Cherries Picked
It is not everybody that can enjoy real cherries picked from their fruit trees at the present season, but Mr. Thomas Kirkby, a Queen street resident, can boast of such a crop. Mr. Kirkby picked his first crop in June, and to-day he is picking the second crop of the year. The cherries are just as fine as those grown earlier in the season.

Narrow Escape
That the railway crossing on Colborne street is at times a very dangerous one, was evidenced this morning when a local auto owner had a narrow escape from being run down. The auto was coming along Colborne when a car was shunted across the crossing with much speed. The automobile owner saw the train just in time, and with the aid of his emergency brakes brought his car to a stop about one foot from the railway. The opinion has been expressed that there should be a man at the crossing or gates installed.

A School Fair
A joint public school fair was held in the Fairfield school by that school and the Valley school. There was an array of needle work, fruit and garden produce, cooking, writing and many other things. The residents of the district attended in large numbers and viewed the splendid exhibit with much pleasure. Mr. R. Schuyler, the district representative from the department of agriculture was present and gave an address and assisted in the judgment. Inspector Standing was present and gave out the prizes. F. Ester McEwen presided.

Church News For the Sunday

The First Baptist
The services at the First Baptist Church were all well attended. In the morning Rev. C. J. Cameron, B.A., of the Home Mission department presented the call of the home field and the annual offering for Home Missions was received. In the afternoon the rally day exercises, in the S. S. were held and the attendance reached the highest point in the history of the school when 500 were present. Mr. Fred Radcliffe for many years superintendent of the Jarvis St. Baptist Church S. S. of Toronto, gave the address and it was a model for clearness and will not soon be forgotten by those who heard it. Mr. Radcliffe offered a prize for the scholar that has the best record for the next year. It will be presented at the next rally day of the school. At the evening service the church was crowded and a most inspiring service was enjoyed. The pastor preached on "Can a man lose his religion?" The music was good as usual. The solo by Mr. Harold "The Shining Light" and "There's a hill lone and gray" by Miss Hutchinson were well rendered and were heartily received by the great audience. The choir sang "O Come to my heart" Lord Jesus" with Mr. Byers as soloist, in splendid unison.

Riverdale Baptist Church.
The first anniversary services of the Riverdale Baptist church were held yesterday. Rev. Alfred H. Fromow, St. Marys, late of London, England, was the special preacher for the day. Mr. Fromow is a speaker of more than ordinary ability and brought splendid and helpful messages to the large congregations present.

At Sydenham Street.
The Rev. T. H. Ibbott of Troy, conducted the services in Sydenham St. Methodist church yesterday, and his work met with favorable commendation on all hands. His sermons were scholarly and interesting, and he made a deep impression on his audiences. In

The Sunday school it was rally day, and the occasion was quite a success. The attendance was quite large and the superintendent, Mr. L. Hewitson, conducted a bright rally day program in which fifteen scholars took part. Rev. Mr. Ibbott gave a short address and Mrs. Savage and Mr. Scott rendered an interesting duet. The school is doing good work and making splendid progress.

At Stonestown Church.
Very successful harvest home and thanksgiving services were held at Stonestown Memorial church yesterday. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion with flowers, fruits and grains. Rev. W. J. H. Brown, a former pastor, delivered two excellent discourses to large audiences. The choir, ably assisted by Messrs. Harold and Tifer, furnished appropriate music. The Sunday school rally was very encouraging, one hundred and sixty-seven being present.

Paris News

PARIS, Sept. 29.—Word of the death of Miss Vivien M. Atkins which occurred in St. Joseph's Hospital, Hamilton on Saturday, came as a dreadful shock to her many friends here. She left Paris some six weeks ago to visit with friends at Stoney Lake, thinking thus to regain her strength before undergoing an operation for gonorrhea. A gleetous heart had developed however, and she never regained consciousness after the anesthetic was administered. The late Miss Atkins was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Atkins of Paris and leaves besides the sorrowing parents, one sister, Mrs. R. Crombie, also of Paris. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 from the residence of her parents to St. James' Church and thence to St. James' cemetery.

A Hapmobile, owned in Woodstock, came to grief at the corner of Elm and William streets on Friday evening. The party had been attending the Fair and left the car outside. When they started up the rear axle broke in two. It was towed to a local garage and the party went home by train.

A sleek stranger attempted the short change trick in MacQueen's grocery store on Friday night. Tending a $5 bill for a 10c purchase he received his $4.90 in change when he suddenly discovered he had a dime and asked for his $5.00 bill back. This he placed on the $5.00 in change and asked for a $10.00 bill for the whole. He was given the money, but the $5.00 discrepancy was soon noticed. Mr. MacQueen soon caught the man and upon his making good, the $5.00 allowed him to go.

The L. E. and N. Railway have started the work of tunneling under the Grand Trunk tracks by St. James' cemetery. Grading has been done from both ends up to this point and the two ends should be connected this week. Steel has been laid from Galt to Glen Morris and should be in Paris in a few weeks' time. Operations on the new railway have apparently galvanized some late into the Grand Valley for they too are ballasting their tracks and generally improving their line in this vicinity.

The Paris Football team defeated Brantford on Saturday by 3 to 0.

TROLLEY CAR MIGHT HAVE BURNED UP

Colborne Street Car on Fire Caused by Hot Box

An open trolley car on the Brantford Street car system caught on fire this afternoon shortly before 2 o'clock. The car was going west on Colborne street and when opposite the market, a passer-by called to the motorman, "Your car is on fire!" And sure enough it was. Underneath the car the floor was burning fiercely. The car was stopped and buckets of water and sand were thrown on the fire until it was extinguished. The fire department was notified and responded with a light rig and a couple of chemical tanks, but when the two firemen arrived on the scene the fire was out.

The fire is supposed to have been caused by a hot box; the damage will be slight.

Obituary

The Late Mrs. Workman.
The death of Elizabeth Turner Workman marks the passing of another of Brantford's best known and highly respected pioneer citizens.

Elizabeth Turner was born near the border of England and Scotland. She came to Canada when six years old, and has lived in Brantford for 82 years, most of which time she has resided on Colborne street, coming finally to dwell with her husband, the late Hugh Workman, and their family at 525 Colborne street, where she died on Friday, September 26th.

She was left a widow 35 years ago, and during those years the qualities which had endeared her to her husband, children, and friends were increasingly manifest.

Quiet and unassuming in manner, devoted to her home and family, of a sturdy and resolute spirit, she lived unselfishly, and when death came, she met it with the calm fortitude and strong faith that had characterized her life.

The presence of her daughters, Miss Jennie Workman and Mrs. James Kerr, her son, Mr. James Workman, and her granddaughter, Miss L. Taber, comforted her last days, and the visits and remembrances of her only surviving brother, Mr. Robert Turner, her relatives, her numerous grandchildren, her friends and her minister, greatly cheered her. The funeral took place quietly on Monday afternoon at two o'clock, conducted by Rev. Mr. Woodside, assisted by Rev. Mr. Bowyer.

Jenet Hutchinson.
There passed away Thursday evening at the late residence, 209 Rawdon street, and old and highly respected resident of this city in the person of Miss Jenet Hutchinson. The late Miss Hutchinson was born in Scotland 85 years ago, and had resided in Brantford for 31 years, continuously. She was of a quiet, retiring disposition, and her true Christian character endeared her to every one. She was a regular attendant of Alexandra Presbyterian church until declining health prevented her. She leaves a grand niece, Mrs. John Warlick, Brantford Township, grand nephews, Alex. and Arthur Smith, city. The funeral took place on Saturday from the late residence, 209 Rawdon to Mt Hope cemetery. Impressive services were conducted by Rev. D. T. McIntock, at the house and grave. There was a large number of floral tributes testifying in tangible form to the high esteem in which the deceased lady was held.

The Late Mrs. Nash.
The funeral of the late Mrs. George Nash took place from her late residence, 241 Wellington St., on Friday afternoon to Greenwood cemetery. The services were conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Amos Bridge with whom deceased was connected in religious circles. The pallbearers were Henry and William Logan, brothers of the deceased, Mr. Sam Nash, nephew, and three son-in-laws, J. M. Forde, G. L. McKinnon, and F. Pearson. It was the request of the deceased that there be no flowers.

IMPROVED BROILER

Revolves on Pivot and Meat Can be Done on Either Side

An improved type of broiler for gas ovens has been invented. It can be moved up and down in the oven and turned about so that the meat is done equally on both sides. The broiler is pivoted to a framework that moves up and down in grooves on the inside end walls of the oven. By a lever outside the oven, the broiler is opened like a clam. This broiler is well watered, with live steam running through same; soil excellent. First class dairy farm. Large dwelling house; also barn and stable. Price $8,000.00. A. E. WATTS Court House, Brantford

TAKE YOUR CHOICE

By HOLLAND. MANUFACTURERS are of two kinds—the honest and dishonest. The one makes the best goods, the other makes the worst. Each has his own particular scheme of life. The honest manufacturer aims to make the best goods he can and to advertise them so that all the world will know of their merits. He courts investigation. He wants customers to hold him to a rigid accountability. The dishonest manufacturer hopes to profit by deception. He produces an article that will be offered as "just as good" though he knows it is inferior. He seeks to make a larger profit than the honest manufacturer, and this larger profit is necessary because he has to find new customers day after day. MANUFACTURERS WHO ADVERTISE ARE THE HONEST ONES.

SIZES OF SILOS

Depend Upon Amount of Silage Required—How to Determine

The amount of silage required and the size of silo needed to hold it can be quite closely calculated, provided the number and kind of animals to be fed from it are known before building.

An average cow or best animal may be fed about thirty-five pounds of silage per day and the usual period during which silage is used in the latitude will be about 210 days. Large animals, or those that are being tanned, may consume considerably more than thirty-five pounds per day but this has been found a fair average weight of the silage is about forty pounds per cubic foot. Near the top of the silo, however, where the pressure is not great, it will weigh only twenty-five pounds per cubic foot, while at the bottom of a thirty-five foot silo it may weigh six pounds. Taking these averages, if a cow eats thirty-five pounds of silage per day, it will eat thirty-five pounds of silage per day; and with this as a basis it is easy to determine the number of cubic feet of silage required to feed a cow or any number of cows throughout the season. The diameter of the silo must be such that the stock on hand can use six or two inches of silage off the top each day during the winter and at least three inches per day when summer feeding of silage is to be practiced. This is necessary to keep the silage from spoiling.

A silo ten feet in diameter is adapted to feeding ten mature cattle. On twelve feet in diameter will feed twenty head, and one fourteen feet in diameter will meet the needs of twenty head; but if there are thirty or more cows to feed a sixteen-foot silo, or thirty or more head of other animals, should be erected. These silos should be thirty or forty feet, or even more in height.—A. D. Wilson.

CAN BE MOVED UP AND DOWN

The device can be revolved in the lower portion of the framework to catch the drippings from the steak or chops, or whatever the meat may be. The advantage of being able to move the broiler up and down is that you can get it close to the flame or some distance off, according to whether you want it done quickly or slowly.

ORIGIN OF PAINTS

Ground up Mummies Furnish a Beautiful Brown Color

In order to furnish the innumerable delicate tints of paint required by artists, manufacturers have now days to ransack the world. Even mummies are called into use. Mummies are usually preserved in the finest bitumen, and this ancient bitumen has, in the course of centuries, turned the mummies a leathery-brown tint. It has been found that when the bitumen and the shreds of mummy are ground up by machinery, a beautiful brown pigment is the result—exactly the tint required for painting certain shades of brown hair.

Septa is one of the components of artists' paints. It is a deep brown in color, and comes from a source equally strange. It is prepared from the black, inky fluid discharged by the cuttle-fish to blind and baffle its enemies.

Prussian blue is prepared from horses' hoofs, and is made by fusing the hoofs with potassium carbonate.

Raw sienna is soil from near Sienna in Italy. Burnt sienna, another common tint, is simply the same earth burnt.

The majority of pigments for making colors—that is, the dry powder—are obtained from minerals, but many pigments come from the animals' kingdom. Cochineal, for example, comes from the dried bodies of insects. A kind of pitch is also used for certain pigments.

Our Friend the Cow Of all animals the cow is most to be respected by man. She is more closely allied to him in her relation than any other quadruped, and in fact was brought across the ocean by him when he began to settle upon the American continent.

The most common name for a place in England is Newton, which occurs no fewer than seventy-two times.

John Pingomb, a pioneer cattle dealer of Lobo township, died at Popular Hill in his 80th year.

Rally Day In Churches And Schools on Sunday

Large Attendances Throughout the Day—Inspiring Addresses by Pastors and Laymen.

Rally Day was observed in many of the Sunday Schools and churches. As is signified by the word "rally" there was a splendid attendance at the services which were of a special nature. Alexandra Presbyterian. Rally Day was fittingly observed at the hour for morning service. The scholars, teachers, parents and friends were present in number to fill the auditorium and gallery of the new edifice. Mr. John Conway the energetic superintendent conducting the service. The church choir was augmented by the Sabbath school orchestra; accompanied by Mrs. George Cromar in an admirable manner, thus making the musical part all to be desired. The children joined heartily in the singing taking their part creditably in every part of the service. The Rev. D. T. McClintock gave an address on "God's Helpers" founded on three "Words, Works, and Wealth." First Words, the tongue is one of the best things—also of the worst. It can be used either as a blessing or a curse. The pastor gave illustrations how in many ways we can help God. In our words with one work and one wealth. There were two hundred and twenty-five (225) scholars and 25 officers present. The chance of the church was greatly decorated. The scholars wore a flower to designate their particular class. The service should prove memorable and inspiring to those privileged to be present. The Rev. McClintock's evening theme was "God's Mind Regarding the Seriousness of Sin." Solos were pleasingly sung by Mrs. Barton and Miss Waldron. The pastor announced the Rev. Mr. McGregor formerly of and many of the members and friends of the church graced the occasion with their presence. The programme for the day was arranged and published by the Baptist Sunday School Board of Ontario and Quebec, and was unique and pleasing in its subject and style. The school is represented as a Life-Saving Station, with captain and officers and crew. The lighthouse and the life boat have a place and the scripture reading was carefully selected and the hymns were "Pull for the shore, sailor" and "Throw out the life line" and other similar songs. The Rev. F. White of Onondaga gave a fine address on the light house and light bearing, and was followed attentively by even the younger scholars. The school has had a good year and begin the work of fall and winter with bright prospects and firm purpose that they will be in reality a life saving station. In the evening the Rev. Mr. White preached to a large congregation from the text found in Acts, 9th chapter and 17th verse, "Behold, he prayeth, Miss Goodson sang a solo in fine voice and the choir rendered an entire hymn at each service. 77 ESO 7877A 942hs 87 cmi otasnlly At Colborne St.

here was the splendid attendance of 88 at Colborne St., an increase of 150 over last year. The scene was a very bright one, the splendid decorations adding much to the brightness. Mr. Russell Treleaven, a young lawyer of Hamilton and son of Rev. Treleaven, formerly pastor at Colborne St. was the speaker. Mr. Treleaven dealt with sin and the mark it leaves on the life of the sinner. The school joined heartily in the singing the special hymns. The program consisted of a reading by little Albert Willoughby, a solo by Charley Leeming, an exercise by four little girls, and a duet by Mrs. Leeming and Mr. Stewart Sanderson. Mr. Charles Verity, superintendent presided.

TALKED TOO MUCH The Wootton-Stevier Sporting Club case is still occupying the attention of the racing set. In one of the sporting clubs the other day the story was told of a dying jockey who gave to his son this parting advice: "Never talk, my son. I talked too much once, and I suffered for it. The dying man explained that he was riding in a race in which there were only two runners. He had been instructed to let the other horse win, and halfway through the race, when they were neck-and-neck, he said to the other jockey: "You needn't ride so hard. I'm not going to." "Oh, aren't you?" said the other jockey, and he immediately fell off his horse, so the first jockey had to win. The second jockey had apparently received the same instructions as the winner. DIDN'T SEE THE JOKE Mrs. Comcup—"I like my minister because he talks right out in good old English Saxon." Cynicus—"That probably accounts for his lack of rounded periods." Baltimore American.

Music and Drama

About Edward J. Boyle. Mr. Ernest J. Boyle, who is to assist at the concert recital to be given by Miss Raymond, occupies a very high place in the esteem of the New York critics, as the following very complimentary press notices demonstrate: Mr. Edward J. Boyle displayed a well-trained and clear tenor, with splendid pianissimo. His distinct enunciation was a delight and he deserved the hearty applause he received. "The Star." Mr. Boyle has a beautiful tenor voice and his rendering of the 'Elijah' music was with deliberation and beauty of tone.—N. Y. Telegram.

A Wonderful Production. The biggest thing scenically ever attempted upon the stage is what is said about "The Garden of Allah", which will be at the Grand Opera House, Hamilton, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The play is a dramatization of the novel of the same name by Robert Hichens. The locale is the Desert of Sahara and its environs to the north. "The Garden of Allah" is costly and elaborate in its pictorial effects. Its pictures of the Orient, its camels, horses and other animals of the desert, its mélange of Eastern peoples as well as Occidentals, its vistas of the desert and its luxuriant gardens—are fascinating and far in advance of anything ever attempted heretofore upon the stage. The cast of players includes Sarah Truax, Lawson Butt, John Blair, Florence Lester, Antonia Salemp, Frank Kingston, William Jeffrey and 300 others. The seat sale opens at Hamilton on Thursday morning. Orders received by mail will be filled in the order in which they are received.

RECRUIT PITCHERS IN GREAT DUEL

St. Louis Won a Ten Inning Game From Detroit by a 3-1 Score.

DETROIT, Sept. 29.—Two former Southern League pitchers, Williams, for Detroit, and C. Brown for St. Louis, engaged in a great hurling duel until the tenth inning, when three hits, coupled with errors by Veach, gave the Browns three runs and the game Sunday. Gainer's three-bagger paved the way for Detroit's only tally in the come-back half. G. Williams opened the tenth with a single, and scored on Ware's double. Veach made a two-base muff of A. J. News' fly, allowing Ware to score. Brown singled, and Agnew scored, when Veach heaved wildly to the plate. Score: Detroit 1, St. Louis, 3.

CHICAGO BEAT CLEVELAND

A Wild Throw by Lajoie and Infield Outs Scored the Only Run

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—The White Sox finished their 1913 season at home with a win, on Sunday. Cleveland was the victim, and the score was 1 to 0. It was a pitchers' battle between Cicotte and Falkenberg, each pitcher allowing but three hits. A wild throw by Lajoie and a couple of infield outs permitted the Sox to score the only run of the game. The score: Cleveland 0, Chicago 1.

WOMAN OF HAREM PHOTOGRAPHED A MRS. VANDERBILT

Carlsbad Picture Man Deceived by Youthful Looks.

CARLSBAD, Austria, Sept. The youthful appearance of Mrs. Vanderbilt, Jr., who has been in the Imperial hotel here, has been the cause of rendering the persistent efforts of a local photographer to snapshot her. He patiently waited outside the hotel for days without success. He happened to be at the wrong entrance when Mrs. Vanderbilt came. On Wednesday, however, he determined that he would get a shot as she left. With this object in mind, he hid half a dozen of the hotel and at 11.30 word was brought that Mrs. Vanderbilt would be within five minutes walk down main corridor and leave the hotel by the left side door, opposite the car railway. Mrs. Vanderbilt duly emerged, her room, dressed in a white jacket, white cap and Lady Cantourne was meant for happiness and a joyous motherhood. She had had neither; but she went on being "mean" until the end—that is to say she was still cheery and capable. She had thrown an open letter on the little table at her side—a letter from Jack Meredith announcing his return to England and his natural desire to call and pay his respects in the course of the afternoon.

"So," she had said before she laid the letter aside, "he is home again—and he means to carry it through?"

While she still sat there the bell rang. When Jack Meredith came into the room she rose to greet him with a smile of welcome.

"Before I shake hands," she said, "tell me if you have been to see your father."

"I went last night—almost straight from the station. The first person I spoke to in London, except a cabman."

So she shook hands.

"You knew," she said, without looking at him—indeed, carefully avoiding doing so—"life is too short to quarrel with one's father. At least it may prove too short to make it up again—that is the danger."

"The married was not mine," he said. "I admit that I ought to have known him better. I ought to have spoken to him before asking Millicent. It was a mistake."

Lady Cantourne looked up suddenly. "What was a mistake?"

"Not asking his opinion first."

She turned to the table where his letter lay and fingered the paper pensively.

"I thought, perhaps, that you had found that the other was a mistake—the engagement."

"No," he answered.

"Millicent will be in presently," she said; "she is out riding."

They talked of his life in Africa, of his success with the mimicry, of which discovery the newspapers were not yet weary, until the bell was heard in the basement, and thereafter Millicent's voice in the hall.

Lady Cantourne rose deliberately and went downstairs to tell her niece that he was in the drawing room, leaving him there waiting alone.

Presently the door opened and Millicent hurried in. She threw her gloves and whip—anywhere—on the floor and ran to him.

"Oh, Jack," she cried.

It was very prettily done. In its way it was a poem.

"And, Jack, do you know," she went on, "all the newspapers have been full of you. You are quite a celebrity. And are you really as rich as they say?"

"I think I can safely say that I am not," he answered.

Lady Cantourne left them there for nearly an hour, in which space of time she probably reflected they could build up as rosy a future as was good for "Macassa," effective Sept. 22nd; Leaves Hamilton 9.00 a.m., and returning leaves Toronto 4.30 p.m. (daily except Sunday), until close of navigation.

CHAPTER XXI
Late Sir John had felt a slight desire to sit down whenever opportunity should offer, but he had always been found standing on the hearth rug by the butler, and hard old aristocrat that he was, he would not yield to the somewhat angular handmaidens of the stiff-backed chair.

He stood for a few moments with his back to the smoldering fire, and being quite alone, he perhaps forgot to stiffen his neck, for his head drooped, his lips were unsteady; he was a very old man.

A few minutes later, when he strode into the dining room, where butler and footman waited him, he was erect, imperious, impassible.

As dinner was evident that his keen brain was hard at work. He forgot one or two of the formalities which were religiously observed at that solitary table. He hastened over his wine, and then he went to the library. There he wrote a few lines, in his own hand, and a few lines in the hand of his secretary.

It was addressed to Gordon, Louisa, and the girl of it was—"Wire whereabouts of Oscar—when he may be expected home."

At half past 8 Jack arrived. Sir John was awaiting him in the library, green slippers on his feet, and a light of silver, shimmering away into darkness. All sound of human life was still. The natives were asleep. In the next room Joseph in his hammock was fast on the harbor of the river had entered into the sleeping life, as soldiers learn to be. Oscar would not have needed to raise his voice to call him to his side.

The leader of this hurried retreat had been sitting there for two hours. The slaying surface of the river had entered into his brain; the restless silence of the African forest alone kept him awake. He hardly realized that the sound momentarily gaining strength within his ears was that of a paddle, a single, weakly irregular stroke. It was not a sound to wake a sleeping man. It came so slowly, so gently through the whisper of the dripping leaves that it would enter into his slumbers and make itself part of them.

NOT A VILLAGE IN ALL CANADA
But Can Tell of Genuine Cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dunnet, Ont. Man Tells How Quickly They Built Him Up and Brought Him Back to Perfect Health.

"DUNNET, Ont., Sept. 29.—That there is not a village or post-office in Canada that cannot provide a genuine cure by Dodd's Kidney Pills has been shown again and again. In this little village many people bear grateful testimony to the wonderful curative powers of this simple remedy.

Mr. Alex. Kay is one of these.

"I used Dodd's Kidney Pills for a run-down system," Mr. Kay states. "My head ached, my limbs were heavy, and my skin had a harsh, dry feeling, and would itch and burn at night. Three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills simply cure the kidneys. The work of the kidneys is to strain all the waste matter out of the blood. If the kidneys are out of order they cannot provide a genuine cure by Dodd's Kidney Pills. The natural cure is to make the kidneys do their work. Dodd's Kidney Pills always do this.

"Oh, Jack," she cried.

them to contempt. Then she returned to the drawing room, followed by a full sized footman bearing tea.

She was too discreet a woman, too deeply versed in the sudden changes of the human mind and heart, to say anything until one of them should give her a distinct lead. They were not shy and awkward children. Perhaps she reflected that the generation to which they belonged to not one heavily handicapped by too subtle a delicacy of feeling.

Jack Meredith gave her the lead before long.

"Millicent," he said without a vestige of embarrassment, "has consented to be openly engaged now."

Lady Cantourne nodded comprehensively.

"I think she is very wise," she said. "I know she is very wise," she added, turning and laying her hand on Jack's arm. The two phrases had quite a different meaning. "She will have a good husband."

"So you can tell everybody now," chimed in Millicent in her merry way.

Lady Cantourne was not very communicative during that refined little tea a trifle, but she listened smilingly to Jack's optimistic views and Millicent's somewhat vainglorious comments.

"I am certain," said Millicent, at length, boldly attacking the question that was in all their minds, "that Sir John will be all right now. Of course, it is only natural that he should not like Jack to be so engaged yet. Especially before, when it would have made a difference to him in money. I mean, but now that Jack is independent—you know, auntie, that Jack is richer than Sir John."

Lady Cantourne was rather thoughtful at that moment. She could not help coming back and back to Sir John.

"Of course," she said to Jack, "we must let your father know at once. The news must not reach him from an outside source."

"I will write and tell him," said Jack quietly.

Beneath the surface, and Jack Meredith was not the man to outstay his welcome.

He saw Lady Cantourne glance at the clock. Clear as she was, she could not do it without being seen by him.

So he took his leave, and Millicent went to the head of the stairs with him.

As dinner was evident that his keen brain was hard at work. He forgot one or two of the formalities which were religiously observed at that solitary table. He hastened over his wine, and then he went to the library. There he wrote a few lines, in his own hand, and a few lines in the hand of his secretary.

It was addressed to Gordon, Louisa, and the girl of it was—"Wire whereabouts of Oscar—when he may be expected home."

At half past 8 Jack arrived. Sir John was awaiting him in the library, green slippers on his feet, and a light of silver, shimmering away into darkness. All sound of human life was still. The natives were asleep. In the next room Joseph in his hammock was fast on the harbor of the river had entered into the sleeping life, as soldiers learn to be. Oscar would not have needed to raise his voice to call him to his side.

The leader of this hurried retreat had been sitting there for two hours. The slaying surface of the river had entered into his brain; the restless silence of the African forest alone kept him awake. He hardly realized that the sound momentarily gaining strength within his ears was that of a paddle, a single, weakly irregular stroke. It was not a sound to wake a sleeping man. It came so slowly, so gently through the whisper of the dripping leaves that it would enter into his slumbers and make itself part of them.
