

THE TIMES ON THE PRESENT OUTLOOK

LONDON, June 24 -- The Times military correspondent declares that neither Great Britain nor Russia has yet been able to put their full strength into the field, for identical reasons -- shortage of munitions -- and owing to this it may be necessary to postpone until next spring the final settlement with the Teutonic powers.

RUSSIANS RESISTED GALLANTLY DURING THE BIG RETREAT

Berlin Says Details are Meagre, But That Deep Wedges Were Driven Into the Russian Line as Far as Tanew -- Victory is Followed by Pursuit.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Berlin, June 24, via London.—Details of the taking of Lemberg, while still meagre, show that the Russian troops put up a strong resistance to the very last and in spite of the fact that their situation was hopeless. Before the city fell, the armies under General Von Mackensen and Archduke Joseph Ferdinand had driven wedges deep into the northern section of the Russian line even as far as Tanew, cutting this line into two detached parts. Under pressure from the northwest, and following especially an effective artillery bombardment by the army of General Boehm-Ermolli, the archduke completed the disaster by breaking the Russian centre, which was supported on Lemberg. At the same time General Von Mackensen pressed steadily on the flanks of Emperor Nicholas, who were in full retreat along the line of Lemberg to Rawa Kuska. General Boehm-Ermolli assumed the pursuit of the enemy, to the northeast and east of Lemberg. As soon as the investment of Lemberg had been completed, according to the despatches reaching Berlin, the Russians, threatened by the further advance of the Germans and Austro-Hungarians, also began retreating from the angle in northern Galicia, formed by the Rivers San and Vistula, a section of territory which lies to the northwest of Przemysl, as well as from the district around Kielce, in

HOW THE "GAS DEVIL" ROLLS INTO A TRENCH

"THE THICK GREEN MIST CAME ROLLING TOWARD THE PARAPET." This picture, drawn especially for this newspaper, the New York Herald and the London Sphere, depicts the heavy gas from the German lines rolling into one of the British trenches. At first it is very thick and heavy and fills every crevice. A recent case is thus described:—"A thirty minutes' bombardment preceded the opening of the gas cylinders. Then the thick green mist came rolling toward the parapet from the enemy's empty front trench, several hundred yards away. It looked like vapor rising from a marsh, and the wind was strong enough to carry it rapidly toward the parapet. One battalion had time to load and fire two rounds through the screen of gas before it came pouring over the sandbags, penetrating into every crevice of the dugouts and choking the men who lay there. It was so thick at first that objects three feet distant were hardly recognizable.

ALLIED TROOPS AT DARDANELLES GAIN FOUR HUNDRED YARDS

Official Note From Paris Tells of Successes in Land Operations on North Side of Peninsula -- Over Five Hundred Prisoners Taken.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Paris, June 24.—An official note made public in Paris to-day gives details of land operations on the north side of the Dardanelles between June 1 and June 8, and recites that as a result of attacks by the French and the British a gain of from 150 to 400 yards along a front of over a mile was made. British troops took over 500 prisoners. The text of the communication follows: "Our offensive movement during the last two weeks of the month of May had been gradual, the line moving forward in small sections, and making its way from one vantage point to the next point of support. "But on June 4 the whole line was ordered to attack. The idea was to keep the enemy occupied at all points simultaneously, thus preventing him from bringing up reserves at any one point, and at the same time giving our men further opportunity to organize the positions already captured by them. "At about 11 o'clock in the morning the bombardment of the enemy positions was begun. Owing to a long period of dry weather, huge clouds of dust were thrown up by the shells and were blown back to our lines by a north wind, a condition which made our firing difficult. The enemy made only an occasional reply to the hail of our 75 guns. Toward noon our aeroplanes reported that all of the enemy's batteries had been silenced. Our infantry, at a given signal, rushed over the trenches and from the cliffs which dominate the Gulf of Saros in the direction of the deep ravine at Kereves Dere. As the allies advanced the bayonets of the men and the swords of their officers gleamed under the bright sun. The principal attack was made upon the Turkish position located opposite the British trenches. British soldiers charged these trenches of the enemy and found that a majority of Turkish defenders had been killed by the Melinite shells. Without stopping at the first success, our allies charged again and were successful in occupying the second line of trenches. At this point they were given support, which permitted them to turn about and attack and capture a Turkish redoubt which still held out. They took also further positions situated on the right and the left of the first line of trenches and gained ground approximately 500 yards in depth. "The French charged simultaneously with the British against the Turkish positions situated in front of Kereves Dere. The first line soon was taken as was also a Turkish fortress which, with the ditches surrounding it, was heavily fortified by barb wire entanglements. We called this fort "Haricot." "The result of our attacks gave us (Continued on Page 4)

BRITISH LABOR WILL REDEEM ITS PROMISE WITHIN SEVEN DAYS

Lloyd George's Bill Would Make Strikes Illegal and Punish Leaders For Lock-outs--On These Men Hangs the Balance of Victory or Defeat.

London, June 24.—David Lloyd George, the Minister of Munitions, has given British labor seven days in which to make good the promise of its leaders that men will rally to the factories in sufficient number to produce a maximum of munitions of war. This was the most striking statement in the new Minister's speech in the House of Commons yesterday in the course of outlining the munitions measure which is designed to control not only the output, but the men responsible for the output. The first of the seven allotted days will begin to-day, and with its dawning will be launched a great campaign to recruit the workers. "I had a fresh discussion with the trades union leaders," said Lloyd George in his speech, and told them if an adequate supply of labor could not be secured compulsion was inevitable. The union representatives answered: "Give us a chance to supply the men needed in seven days; if we cannot get them we will admit that our case is considerably weakened." "The seven days will begin to-morrow," continued Mr. Lloyd George, "and advertisements will appear in all the papers. The union representatives have engaged the Town Halls as recruiting offices, and the assistance of every one has been invited." There will be no age limit to the men enrolled; they will not wear uniforms, but will have to give the full time to the work, and they will receive a certificate attesting that they are working for king and country. ARRANGEMENT QUICKENS THE DELIVERY WORK

Lord Curzon Makes Statement on the Supply Question.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, June 24.—That the banking firm of J. P. Morgan and Company, as agents of the British Government in America, receive a commission of two percent and all expenses, but have had no monopoly, and that the experience of the British Government has been that in consequence of arrangements with the Morgan firm, American supplies of ammunition were obtained more cheaply than previously with earlier delivery, was the announcement made by Lord Curzon in the House of Lords last night. Lord Curzon made this statement replying to criticisms of Lord Davenport who complained that Canadian firms ready to supply ammunition had been referred to the Morgan Company, and declined to act through that channel. He asserted also that Canadian firms had been told all government contracts already had been placed, mentioning one case in which he said a Canadian firm thus rebuffed had applied at Petrograd and instantly obtained an order for 5,000,000 shells. Lord Curzon, in reply, said all such Canadian offers had been referred to the Canadian Government, and there had been no direct negotiations with individual firms. He asserted there was absolutely no foundation for the idea that the governments agreement with the Morgans prevented that firm from obtaining contracts in Canada. The government entered into agreement with the Morgans, Lord Curzon declared, because prior to that time high prices were demanded, and deliveries almost invariably were late. Five Swedish steamers have been captured by the Germans.

"MAJOR MAC" IS PROMOTED

The following cablegram was received by Mrs. M. A. Colquhoun this morning from the Major, on active service at the front, that he has received command of the 4th battalion, Ontario. It was brief, and stated: "I am well and in command of the 4th battalion." Previous to receiving this wire Mrs. Colquhoun received a letter to say that he had been recommended for command, and it is evident, therefore, the appointment has taken place. GREAT MAN FOR DUTY. "Very glad indeed to hear it," was the comment of Mr. Grobb, manager of the Brantford branch of the Massey-Harris works, when a Courier man told him of the promotion. "If any man ever did his whole duty in our establishment it was 'Mac.'"

FIVE AUSTRO-GERMAN ARMIES ON THE MARCH

Muscovites Have Big Task to Retreat, Thinks "Times"

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, June 24.—The Times' military correspondent, dealing with the fall of Lemberg, points out that there are five Austro-German armies marching eastward on a broad front or endeavoring to force a passage of the middle Dniester. A sixth army under Archduke Joseph Ferdinand, according to the correspondent, is posted on the Tanew River with a mission to protect the left flank of the main armies. There are also, he says, German troops in the angle between the Vistula and the Pilica. General Von Woyrich's army links up the main operating armies with the German forces in Poland. "If the Grand Duke Nicholas can strike Joseph Ferdinand hard on the Tanew," says the correspondent, "the face of affairs may change. But there is no news that there are Russians in sufficient strength on the Tanew to embark on such operations, failing which the security of the Austro-German main army is reasonably assured. "With the fall of Lemberg it may be assured that General Ivanoff will fall back on the line of the Sereth and Bug Rivers and it may require hard marches and hard fighting to accomplish this."

BRANTFORD MAN IS GAZETTED FOR THE MILITARY CROSS AWARD

Three Canadians Win the Victoria Cross--Many of the Dominion Fighters on the King's Supplementary Birthday List.

It is officially gazetted in orders issued by the Commander-in-Chief, acting for His Majesty King George, that Pte. Chas. Bloxham, of Brantford, receive the military cross. It is more than gratifying to his parents, and a source of pride to all in the city to read that a Brantford boy, born and bred, should have been selected to receive this distinction. Bloxham, whose parents reside at 27 Sheridan street, wrote modestly to tell of his award on the 25th of May, and now it is being confirmed in orders makes assurance doubly sure, and the Courier expresses the wish that he may long be spared to wear this decoration. WESTERN ONTARIO HONORS. Military Cross. Corp. Whittle, Galt. Lieut. J. H. Scandrett, London. Pte. Bloxham, Brantford. Driver Stanley Pate, London. Companion D. S. O. Major Lister, Sarnia. Capt. Kemmis Betty, formerly of Walkerville. Promoted to Colonel. Lieut.-Col. H. C. Unlace, formerly of London. London, June 24.—Last night's Gazette contains the list of supplementary honors in connection with the King's birthday for services in the field. The following Canadians are included: Companions of the Bath. Colonel and temporary brigadier-general, Arthur William Curtis, 2nd Brigade. Colonel and temporary Brigadier-general Malcolm Smith Mercer, 3rd Brigade. Colonel and temporary brigadier-general, Richard Ernest William Turner, V.C., D. S. O., 1st Brigade. Lieutenant-Colonel and temporary brigadier-general, Henry Edward Burstell, artillery. Lieutenant and temporary colonel, Gilbert Lafayette Foster, Medical Corps. Companions Order of Michael George. Lieut.-Col. Robert Gilmour Leckie, 16th Battalion. Lieut.-Col. Frederick Samuel Lampson Ford, Medical Corps. Victoria Cross. Capt. Francis A. C. Scrimger, medical officer of the 14th: "On the afternoon of April 25, in the neighborhood of Ypres, when in charge of an advanced dressing station in some farm buildings which were being heavily shelled by the enemy, he directed under a heavy fire the removal of the wounded and he himself carried a severely wounded officer out of a stable in search of a place of greater safety. When he was unable alone to carry this officer farther he remained with him until help came. During the very heavy fighting between April 22 and 25 Capt. Scrimger displayed continuous, day and night, the great devotion to his duty among the wounded at the front." Col.-Sergt. Frederick Wm. Hall, 1539, 8th Battalion: "On April 24, in the neighborhood of Ypres, when a wounded man who was lying some 15 yards from a trench, called for help, Sergt.-Maj. Hall endeavored to reach him in the face of a very heavy enfilade fire, which was being poured in by the enemy. The first attempt failed, and a noncommissioned officer and private soldier who were attempting to give assistance were wounded. Sergt.-Major Hall then made a second most gallant attempt, and was in (Continued on Page 5)

CALL EXTENDED

Rev. R. B. Cochrane of Woodstock, an old Brantford boy, and son of the late Rev. Dr. Cochrane of this city, has been tendered a call by College Street Presbyterian Church, Toronto. Rev. Mr. Cochrane, who it is expected, will accept the call, is a man of strong and genial personality and an effective preacher. He is a popular man in Woodstock, and his work in organizing the reception of the General Assembly at Woodstock which met in his church last year, was very much appreciated. He is still a young man, being under forty. He has a large circle of warm Brantford friends. War films depicting actual battle scenes are barred from Ontario moving picture shows.

Women's Institute

Echo Place Women's Institute held an open meeting in the Mohawk school, Saturday, June 19th, at which there was a large attendance. Meeting opened as usual by singing "O Canada." It was decided to discontinue the meetings during July and August, and to have a big reopening in September.

During the month of February, the Echo Place Institute will go to Moyle, Tranquility, and will provide the programme for their meeting.

Miss Coats, the government speaker, addressed the meeting, taking as her subject, "Women's Institutes as a civic force." We were told that in spite of the good work already done, there was not one third enough being done for the soldiers. Money is greatly needed for beds and medicinal supplies.

Women's institutes were first founded to help women in the home. As women have great influence on outside affairs they should make the home work as easy as possible. Miss Coats thinks women should have more interest in the school boards, also in starting domestic science classes in public schools. Medical inspection was one of the subjects Miss Coats dealt very lengthily with, pointing out the necessity for giving the young extra care, now so many of the adults are being killed in the present war. She thinks the women's institutes should see that the young people have plenty of healthy recreation. She thinks doctors, ministers, teachers should cooperate to see that healthy and proper recreation is provided.

We were told that in Toronto alone five hundred widows are compelled to leave their homes in order to earn enough to live, leaving their children to drift. Eventually they drift into the police courts. Miss Coats advocates having district representatives to whom mothers may go for help. She thinks women's work in the home should be entitled to more than clothes and board, also that women should sit on juries in order to have the same justice meted out to women as is given to men. She thinks women should alter their attitude to their fallen sisters, and should show more sympathy and charity.

Miss Heaman's rendition of "We must fight for our King and Country" was fine and very much enjoyed by all.

Miss Grey, the second Government speaker took for her subject the individuals value to society. In older times fifty men were required for the same work that now takes only one steam plough. In modern warfare one man behind a gun can do as much harm as fifty men years ago. Miss Grey thinks we are now living in an artificial civilization. She pointed out that no man lives to himself, as the neighbor may creep into our garden, so immoral conduct in the community or neighbor's home may creep into ours. We each have a duty to perform, and that there is no work that cannot be made a fine art. We were told that pains had been taken to find out a woman's industrial value, but no trouble had been taken to find out a woman's value. Miss Grey thinks every country should adopt the law in force in Germany, compelling the boys and girls to attend an industrial school for four years, making for expert labor. She thinks to keep the home atmosphere clear, women should guard their nerves and strength. Her advice was to give the boys and girls the best education possible. The model worth copying up as a woman of tact was held up as a woman of tact, and one very valuable in the neighborhood, especially in the Woman's Institute, also the woman on whom you can always depend. In conclusion Miss Grey's remarks were well worth remembering: Fill your souls with love, your bodies with health and your minds with intelligence and thus be a success in the neighborhood.

Miss Norrie gave a very pleasing solo. Miss Neva Smith delighted the audience with one of her very pleasing selections.

Mrs. Papple in her paper, which was a splendid one for mothers, showed how uselessly babies are dressed in lace and starched clothes, when they should have all the freedom they can get. A vote of thanks moved by Mrs. Cranlock, seconded by Mrs. James was tendered to those who so kindly contributed to the afternoon's entertainment.

After singing the National Anthem the ladies adjourned to the large corridors of the school where the lunch tables were set.

Obituary

THOMAS JULL

One of Brantford's pioneer citizens was called home yesterday afternoon when Thomas Jull slept peacefully away, after a lingering illness. Mr. Jull had been a resident of Brantford for over 50 years, having arrived in Canada from Kent, England in 1854. He took up residence in Paris for a couple of years and then came to this city, where he has resided ever since. Of a large family only two sisters remain. Mrs. Hildred, 217 Sheridan St., city from whose residence the funeral will take place on Friday afternoon, and Mrs. Bayley of London, England. Mr. Jull had always been a loyal Conservative and an ardent adherent of St. Jude's church, having been one of the first wardens of that parish. He had been a subscriber to the Courier for over half a century. He had made many friends who will sorrow at his passing.

Wm. Stone, senior, committed suicide while temporarily insane, according to the finding of the coroner's jury at Whitby.

Mrs. Frank Cockshutt and party were motor guests in Galt on Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. Mabon and little Miss Primrose Mabon, leave next week to spend the summer in Nova Scotia.

Miss Jessie Potts, who has been a recent visitor with Brantford friends, returns to Listowel on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. James Sanderson and Miss Leila Sanderson of Lindsay, Cal., are the guests of Mrs. Robert E. Ryerson, William Street.

Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. A. J. Wilkes and Miss Gwendolin Wilkes leave on Friday for New York en route to England, where they intend spending the summer months.

Nuptial Notes

HARTLEY-LONG The wedding of Fred H. Hartley and Miss Ethel Long took place on Thursday when the Rev. D. E. Martin of Wesley church officiated. Both parties belong to the city.

Induction at Trinity Church

Rev. S. E. McKegney was inducted as rector of Holy Trinity Church, Eagle Place, under circumstances of solemn impressiveness. Ven. Archdeacon Mackenzie of Grace Church, officiated, assisted by Rev. Mr. Lester of St. Luke's church, Rev. C. W. Saunders, of St. John's church, and Rev. Mr. Funnell of the Mohawk Church. The choir was augmented by members of the other Anglican choirs in the city, and the singing was very fine.

Rev. Dr. Waller, Principal of Huron College, London, delivered a most eloquent sermon from the words: "For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness, in this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places."

During his eloquent address in exposition of the text, the preacher incidentally spoke of the present world struggle as a righteous war for liberty and the right, on the part of the Allies. He urged the congregation to loyally support their minister in his high duties.

Rev. Mr. McKegney was a distinguished graduate of Huron College, and until recently was curate of St. Mark's Church, Toronto. He has impressed all with whom he has come in contact by his manifest sincerity and likeable manner. To himself and Mrs. McKegney, Brantfordites generally will extend the heartiest of welcomes.

Wm. Beam, aged thirty-five, in charge of the Windsor Hydro Electric system's night staff, was found dead at the foot of an embankment, having come in contact with a live wire, the shock hurling him down and breaking his neck.

ITALIAN OFFICIAL

Rome, June 23.—Via Paris, June 24.—The official statement issued to-night at the headquarters of the general staff of the Italian army was as follows: "Along the entire front there has been an artillery duel between pieces of heavy and medium calibre. The enemy endeavored last night to attack particularly Montepiane, Val Grande.

During the night of June 21, 22, and continuing the following day the enemy made three desperate attacks against our position at Freikofel. All these attacks were repulsed successfully by the splendid fire of our artillery and the use of hand grenades. The enemy left two hundred bodies on the battlefield.

In the Bay of Piezzo preparations are being made by the Austrians for the installation of heavy artillery and along the neighboring heights convoys have been seen going from Piezzo toward the Upper Isonzo. In the Monte Nero region and along the Isonzo the day of June 22 passed quietly.

PRES. WILSON CONFERS WITH COLONEL HOUSE

Regarding the European Situation and Peace Hopes of the Powers.

New York, June 24.—President Wilson reached New York at 6 o'clock this morning on his way from Washington to Kosslyn, Long Island, to spend the day with his friend, Col. E. M. House, and discuss the impressions Col. House received from his recent visit to Europe. Col. House was expected to tell the president of his interviews with leading government officials of Germany, Great Britain and France regarding the possibility of peace, and questions which have arisen between those governments and the United States. The visit also afforded the president an opportunity to confer with Col. House on the general war situation and the possibility of coordinating American war relief in Europe.

Mr. Lansing Appointed Secretary

Washington, June 24.—The United States Government to-day notified all foreign governments of the appointment of Robert Lansing to be secretary of state. Notice was also sent to all diplomatic and consular representatives of the United States in foreign countries.

Mr. Lansing took the oath of office to-day as the successor to William Jennings Bryan. Formal announcement of the selection of Mr. Lansing was made by President Wilson before his departure last night for New York. A White House statement said that the post had been tendered to Mr. Lansing and that he had accepted. Mr. Lansing had served as secretary of state ad interim since June 8, when Mr. Bryan resigned. He had been counsel of the state department for more than a year. One of President Wilson's last official acts before he left last night, was to sign Mr. Lansing's commission giving him a recess appointment. His nomination will be sent to the senate upon the reconvening of Congress. It is not believed that his confirmation will be opposed. Mr. Lansing is a recognized authority on international law and is intimately acquainted with the details of his department. He has drafted many of the most important state documents in connection with the pending negotiations with Germany and Great Britain.

The Great Piano Sale

is now in progress at our wareroom, No. 129 Colborne St. Each piano is marked in plain figures. There will be no dickering as to price. The only discount will be for spot cash, when a rebate of 6 per cent. will be allowed. The cheapest piano is $50, the highest $315, so that the cash discounts will range from $3 to $18.90.

Credit terms are 10 per cent. cash on delivery of the instrument and $5 or more per month for one year. After the expiration of one year the purchaser will pay 6 per cent. on any amount remaining. Thus you have twelve months free of interest, during which time it will be to your advantage to make as large payments as convenient.

Call and see the goods and compare the prices with the figures ordinarily demanded for goods of similar quality. We want an empty store by July 1st.

THE SITUATION.

Speculation is rife as to what will next happen after the occupation of Lemberg by the Austro-German forces. As in the case of Przemysl, the Grand Duke Nicholas did not seek to make long defence, preferring rather to keep his forces intact during the withdrawal from point to point. And let the fact not be lost sight of that during the falling back movement the Russians have not yielded one inch of their own territory, but land which they had previously occupied by their first successful offensive. Through it all Petrograd appears very cheerful, and simply makes the official announcement that the forces of the Czar have "continued their retreat to a new front."

As a young officer Kitchener very nearly got into trouble because without leave he crossed the Channel to get into the Franco-German tussle. His subsequent promotion was not very rapid, but when the chance did come he made good with rapid strides. His iron will was fully exemplified when as commander-in-chief of the forces in India he ran foul of Lord Curzon, then Viceroy, and won out. His administrative qualities from a civil standpoint he exemplified in Egypt.

Like most men of prominence he has his fulsome admirers, who rank him as a second Napoleon, which he isn't, and his detractors, who declare that he has feet of clay and that his inscrutability is not the reticence of genius, as in the case, for instance, of Von Moltke, but a cloak for over-estimated qualities. Lord Northcliffe, through his many papers, commenced latterly to promulgate the latter idea. It is generally understood that he had a reason—that when Northcliffe called on him to say that he had gone to vast expenditure to have correspondents at the front and was tired of the censorship, that "K. of K." responded in very direct and conclusive terms as to what violation of said censorship would mean. However that may be, the Northcliffe assaults failed of effect most completely. Punch, which has the habit of mirroring public opinion in a marvellous way, during the period of the attacks had a cartoon depicting John Bull patting Kitchener on the back and saying:

SIXTY-FIVE YEARS OLD.

Lord Kitchener, more familiarly known as "K. of K." in connection with his Khartoum campaign, is sixty-five years of age to-day. For a birthday present it is recorded of him that he said he did not want congratulations, but men and munitions. That would be an eminently characteristic remark of a man who all his life has been wedded to the army, with not even home ties to detract from that devotion, for, like Balfour, another of the outstanding figures during this time of Empire crisis, he is a bachelor. It is also recorded of him that he would rather have unmarried men about him, because they are not distracted by thoughts of wife and children; but this is probably a yarn.

Another incident related of him is that when he went to the War Office to take up his new duties he queried an attendant, "Is there a bed here?" "No, sir." "Then get one."

As a young officer Kitchener very nearly got into trouble because without leave he crossed the Channel to get into the Franco-German tussle. His subsequent promotion was not very rapid, but when the chance did come he made good with rapid strides. His iron will was fully exemplified when as commander-in-chief of the forces in India he ran foul of Lord Curzon, then Viceroy, and won out. His administrative qualities from a civil standpoint he exemplified in Egypt.

Like most men of prominence he has his fulsome admirers, who rank him as a second Napoleon, which he isn't, and his detractors, who declare that he has feet of clay and that his inscrutability is not the reticence of genius, as in the case, for instance, of Von Moltke, but a cloak for over-estimated qualities. Lord Northcliffe, through his many papers, commenced latterly to promulgate the latter idea. It is generally understood that he had a reason—that when Northcliffe called on him to say that he had gone to vast expenditure to have correspondents at the front and was tired of the censorship, that "K. of K." responded in very direct and conclusive terms as to what violation of said censorship would mean. However that may be, the Northcliffe assaults failed of effect most completely. Punch, which has the habit of mirroring public opinion in a marvellous way, during the period of the attacks had a cartoon depicting John Bull patting Kitchener on the back and saying:

"If you need assurance, sir, you may like to know that you have the loyal support of all decent people in the country."

This undoubtedly expresses the matter. "K. of K." is not an individual of lovable qualities, such, for instance, as those which endeared the late Lord Roberts to everyone, but it was he who cleared up the Boer war in the stern way which "Bobs" did not possess, and by common consent he is the man most fitted for the present big job. That is why throughout the Empire he will receive birthday tributes even if he doesn't want them.

JOHN BULL IN EARNEST

Just how much John Bull has made up his mind with regard to preventing war supplies reaching Germany, is pointed out by the Journal of Commerce, Montreal. Two directors of the well-known concern of William Jacks & Co., of Glasgow, have been sentenced to pay a fine of $10,000 each and to be imprisoned for six months. Canada is interested in the matter, inasmuch as the firm have large transactions with this country, and the goods which were supplied to the enemy were a cargo of iron ore shipped by the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company from their mines at Bell Island, Newfoundland. Jacks & Co. are agents for the company, and through them quite a business was done in the shipping of iron ore to Germany. The breaking out of the war, of course, put an end to this business. There were, however, at that time, three cargoes of ore on their way across the sea. Two of these cargoes were intercepted and diverted to British ports. It was claimed that similar efforts were made as respects the Norwegian ship which carried the other cargo, but the captain, whether intentionally or through misunderstanding, is not at this moment apparent, went to Rotterdam, where the cargo of ore fell into the possession of German agents, and in due course found its way to the furnaces of the Krupp steel works. It is evident that the court which heard the case was not satisfied that Jacks & Co. had done all that they should have done to prevent the cargo falling into German hands.

The case is one of much interest because of its unusual character, and also because of the prominence of the firm concerned. William Jacks & Co. are the successors of the old Kidston firm which in the last century had extensive business relations with British North America. Mr. William Jacks who died some years ago, and whose name the firm has retained, was a relative of the Kidstons and a prominent member of the British House of Commons. He was one of the Liberals who broke away from his party on the Home Rule question, but later he returned to the fold and became again a follower of Gladstone. Mr. A. Bonar Law, the Canadian born M. P., who on the retirement of Mr. Arthur Balfour, became leader of the Conservative party, and is now Colonial Secretary in the Coalition Cabinet, was a member of the firm of William Jacks and Co. until his political activities required him to retire from business. The firm has been one of high standing, and the many people in this country who had relations with it will learn with surprise of the trouble into which it has fallen in this case.

BRITISH LABOR

none could have been more modest or unpretentious. She had a benevolent smile for France. She walked arm in arm with Great Britain through the Chancelleries of Europe. We really thought an era of peace and good will had come. At that moment she was forging and hiding away enormous war stores to attack their neighbors unawares and murder them in their sleep.

"If that trickery is to succeed, all the bases of international good-will will crumble to dust. It is essential for the peace of the world that it should fail and it is up to us to see that it does so. It depends more upon Great Britain than on anyone else to see that it fails.

"One of the pillars of good government is that evildoing shall be punished; that is equally true in the sphere of international government. Valor alone will not achieve success, or the valor of our brave men at the front would have achieved it long ago. We must strain every resource of the machinery of our civilization to our disposal so as to drive conviction into the heart of every nation over the whole world that those governments which deceive their neighbors will ruin them at their peril."

He was one of the Liberals who broke away from his party on the Home Rule question, but later he returned to the fold and became again a follower of Gladstone. Mr. A. Bonar Law, the Canadian born M. WILL TAKE MONTHS.

"It will take months before we can obtain the maximum output," Mr. Lloyd George went on. "Existing firms are unable to deliver goods in accordance with agreement, because they cannot obtain the machinery which is entirely a question of labor. If I could lay my hands on an adequate supply of skilled labor I could double in a few weeks our supply of machine guns.

"I cannot forecast Germany's next move. If she swings her forces from the east to the west, it is vital for the lines of our troops and in order to enable them to maintain their positions every available machine should be produced. It is essential that trade union restrictions which interfere with a great output of munitions shall temporarily be suspended at once. There must be a stoppage in slackness and an end must be put to the practice of employers pilfering each other's men. There must be no strikes or lockouts during the war."

Dealing with the difficulties which he had to overcome, the Minister of Munitions said he early recognized that the entire armament firms were inadequate to supply the new or old armies. A vast improvement already had been made by inviting business men to organize in their own localities. For instance, through local organization in one town alone, 150,000 shells monthly already were being turned out there and these figures were expected to rise to 250,000. Great Britain, Mr. Lloyd George said, would be organized into ten munition areas. In London, he said, there would shortly be another Woolwich arsenal able to turn out prodigious quantities of war material.

TALKS IN BILLIONS

Sir Richard Ashmore Cooper, a member of a large chemical manufacturing concern, who previously had frequently complained that the British War Office, by refusing to deal with responsible agents, had neglected to obtain large available supplies of munitions, made the specific declaration that he was in a position to offer the Government three million shells made in England, 8,000,000 shells made in Canada and 10,000,000 shells made in the United States.

Sir Richard also said he had one billion rifle cartridges and two million rifles for delivery commencing with October, and added: "If this offer is not accepted I want to know the reason why."

Mr. Lloyd George, replying to Sir Richard said the War Office had asked Sir Richard to give it the names of the firms which were prepared to supply such large quantities of munitions. The result of this, the Minister added, was the receipt of the name of one firm, which on enquiry was found to be engaged in lithographing printing.

HOOD'S PILLS

Cure Constipation 25c. Purely vegetable. Best family cathartic. Mr. Lloyd George deprecated what he termed all the wild and irresponsible talk of there being plenty of shells available. He said he was scouring the country for them and was prepared to take every shell that could be produced.

THE TEMPERATURE

Record for the last 24 hours. Lowest 31; highest 64. Same date last year, lowest 63; highest 90.

SAD NEWS

It is announced that Oswald Tennant, a nephew of Mr. Geoffrey Hale, formerly of this city, has been killed at the front.

PIOUS BRANTFORD

Police Magistrate Livingston found no court list awaiting him at the court of law and order to-day. He was therefore due to receive a pair of white gloves.

NEW DRAINAGE

The street drainage opposite the B. of N. A. on the west side of Darling street is undergoing repair and upwards of 25 feet is to be put on this purpose, while new conductors are being put down.

BIRD SHOOT

An interesting twenty-five bird shooting match took place between two eight men teams of the Eagle Rifle Club last night. The opposing skipper were Colonel Page and Capt. Park Matthews. After a great contest, the former team won by a score of six birds. Eagle Place has some crack shots and they were to be found out in full war paint yesterday.

CLOSE CALL

What might have been a nasty accident occurred at the foot of South street hill about 12 o'clock last night. Two men in an automobile came down at this point at a fast clip, and being unable to make the turn, the car ran to the edge of the embankment, but was luckily stopped when it collided with the upstanding head of the manhole of a sewer. Had the auto gone over the embankment, the occupants would, without doubt, have been badly hurt, possibly fatally.

SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS

Suspicious characters abound in all Canadian border cities these days and the line through from Buffalo to Brantford makes it a matter of convenience to get to points on the line where information may be picked up. It is the duty, therefore, for citizens to exercise care in meeting strangers and to report without hysterical vapors their suspicions of anyone strange whose tongue and manner would suggest he had come from regions favored by the country's enemies.

TALENT TEA NIGHT

On Tuesday evening June 22nd, a talent tea was held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of Colborne Street Methodist Church at the home of Mr. John Mann, Alfred street. The grounds were prettily lighted, and although cool, all seemed to enjoy themselves both indoors and out. There was a goodly attendance, and the president, Mrs. C. F. Verity and Mrs. T. R. Logan, convener of finance committee, and others expressed their gratification with the proceeds, which amounted to over $20. The hearty thanks of the executive are extended to all who contributed toward the success of the evening.

MOHAWK TO BE VISITED

The regular meeting of the Brantford Municipal Railway Commission was held at the office of the commission last night. All the members were present. A number of items of routine business were transacted, including the adoption of a more complete stores accounting system. It was also decided to make an inspection of Mohawk Park, together with some of the members of the Parks Commission, on Friday of this week. After the conclusion of regular business, the members of the Brantford Hydro Electric Commission met the board to discuss details regarding the joint occupation of the new railway offices by both departments. This question was amicably settled, and it was decided to move the hydro electric offices to the new quarters shortly after July 15th.

FRUIT BULLETIN

Of interest to housewives. Official notice is given to buy canning strawberries now. Have your green tomatoes Niagara Peninsula grown kind, they are now at their best and require less sugar. Growers berries about ready. Speak to your grocer.

MUST BE KEPT FREE

Notices are being sent out to the various citizens in the vicinity of the East Ward Creek that it must be kept clear and free of weeds and other accumulations.

BIRTHDAY PICNIC

A splendid birthday picnic was held at Gaywood Park yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss L. Carter. About twenty guests were present, and enjoyed to the fullest extent the beautiful park and facilities it afforded. Refreshments and games also added to the pleasures of the picnic.

BRANTFORD COMPOSER

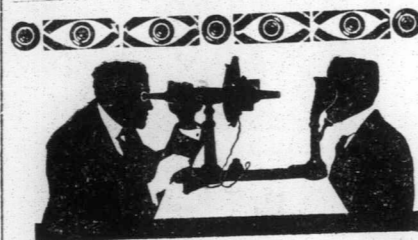

A war song, which is having great popularity just now, is entitled "Tommy, call your dog off and say good-bye." The words are by Mr. J. Ashdown Tennent, and the music by Elizabeth Tennent Andrews of Brantford. Mr. Whitaker will sing the production at the Masonic dinner to-night, and it will also be sung at the 13th Battalion band concert in Dundurn Park, Hamilton, next week. Already the sale has been deservedly large.

WAR ORDERS

While in Ottawa yesterday, Mr. W. F. Cockshutt, M.P., waited on Mr. Kemp, chairman of the War Purchase Commission, and urged orders for Brantford firms as far as possible. Mr. Kemp stated that he would bear the request in mind, but pointed out that orders were given on competition. For instance, one Brantford firm had recently turned down a considerable order, because the price offered was considered too close to admit of any profit. While in the Capital, Mr. Cockshutt met Lieut. Harvey Cockshutt and Lieut. Gordon Cockshutt, nephews, who are taking a special course in musketry for officers.

RECEPTION TENDERED

A reception for the new pastor, Rev. D. L. Campbell, B.D., and his family, was given last evening at Balfour Street Presbyterian church by the Ladies' Aid Society. A most enjoyable evening was spent in a social way. There was a large attendance, and all were delighted to meet Mr. and Mrs. Campbell. A short programme was provided, as follows: Solo, Miss McFayden; quartette, Misses Raynor and McIntosh and Messrs. Stewart and Dewar; reading, Master Lindsay Mutter; Mr. E. A. Danby, chairman of the Board of Managers, occupied the chair. Rev. Mr. Campbell, gave a short address, thanking the congregation for their kindness, and offering his services to any capacity for the help of the members, when required. Mr. Campbell is making the church a real force in West Brantford, and has already endeared himself to the hearts of his people. A dainty lunch was served by the members of the "Willing Workers' Class." The evening was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

If you were to give your eyes the same careful attention we give them from the time you come to us, you would come to us to-day for those glasses you need.

EXECUTIVE MET.

The executive of the Horticultural society met last evening in the Library and held a short business meeting. Nothing but routine business was transacted.

LEASE ARRANGED

Writing under the date of June 16 to His Worship the Mayor, City Solicitor Henderson, states that he has negotiated the lease for some property at Paris upon which the Street Railway station has been built. He enclosed the lease in duplicate and asked that it be executed by the city of Brantford under the Corporation seal and the hands of the Mayor and Clerk, and for the return of both copies of the agreement.

SOCIAL HOUR

A pleasant little garden party in the form of a social event of the Strawberry variety was held on the grounds of the Wesley Methodist church, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of Colborne Street. The grounds were prettily lighted and in addition to the eating of nice things some pleasing solos were rendered, and instrumental selections given by Messrs. Thomas Callen, Vickery, Buck and Rev. A. E. Elliot. The ladies realized quite a handsome sum from this event.

ON NOXIOUS WEEDS

There is a statutory law which states that noxious weeds must not be allowed to go to seed on any property and notices of this fact have been sent out to citizens. Men are out cutting the street weeds and the corporation looks to ratenayers to see that weeds are cut on their property. The list of noxious weeds includes ox-eye daisy, wild oats, rag weed, burdock, wild clover, marsh mallow, milk weed, dandelion, narrow dock, golden rod, farrow, mullein, wild lettuce and thistles of all kinds.

WATER WAGON

The Dufferin Rifles Chapter, I. O. D. E., presented to Col. Ashton, commander of the 36th battalion, a cheque for $150 before his departure for England. This money was raised for the purpose of providing a water wagon for the battalion. When the Government announced that water wagons would be supplied, it was decided to give the money to Col. Ashton, to be used at his discretion, to provide comforts for the soldiers of the battalion in cases of illness and when they reach the firing line.

Puzzle, Who Was This Old Gent?

He was elderly, stooping and had a goatee, gave an English name and an address thirty miles from Brantford. He told a story of looking for assistance in farm labor and later contradicted it in favor of just having someone take him home if darkness fell before he should make his destination. He knew no one in the neighborhood and friends after he would get ten miles out of the city. He hailed a newsman for information on the Labor Bureau and invited that person to ride with him in his buggy to the office. Seemed very deaf till the chase for a farm hand was over, then he talked easier as the rig got clear of city limits on the Cockshutt Road. The horse shied and tried to break away and the jerk brought forth the ejaculation "Gott in Himmel!"—a query in the lingo of Teutons elicited the information of "ja" etc. Now what was an old man of over 85, as he said, wanting in a city over night, before the contingent left with a mare that was fresh as a daisy and fed to the neck on corn, who had the "taal" and asked questions of a pertinent nature, about the neighborhood. Perhaps he was all right, at any rate that he was known in a day or so.

SOLDIERS RECEIVED CHOCOLATE

The Courier was yesterday in receipt of the following letter, through the courtesy of Mr. S. Weir, secretary of the children's concert committee, from Major M. A. Colquhoun and Lieut. T. P. Jones, on behalf of the officers and men of B platoon, the 4th Ontario. It expresses to the fullest extent the appreciation felt for the gift of chocolate from the children, and will give general satisfaction to all concerned in the work of forwarding the gift. France, June 5th.

Mr. S. Weir, Soldiers' Christmas Box Concert: Dear Mr. Weir—On behalf of the members of Brantford's First Contingent, we wish to thank the Brantford School Children for their kindness in sending those most acceptable boxes of chocolate, which arrived two nights before our battalion entered the trenches on the 20th of May. Will you please also extend our thanks to the Brantford Public school board and to the executive committee. With kind regards and best wishes, Sincerely Yours, M. A. Colquhoun, Major. T. P. Jones, Captain. The above parcel was forwarded by Cowan Co. of Toronto, on Dec. 6th and the executive is unable to account for the delay in transit.

PIONEER LADY MISSIONARY HAS JUST DIED

The death occurred at 6 o'clock this morning at her residence, 38 Sarah Street, Mrs. J. Timpany Yule. She was a member of a very prominent Baptist family, her father having been the Rev. John Bates, for many years pastor of the Woodstock Baptist church. In 1867 she was married to Rev. A. V. Timpany, and with him went as the first missionaries to India of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board of Ontario, and Quebec. After Mr. Timpany's demise in India in 1885 she returned to Canada where she has resided since that time her first home being at Woodstock. In 1888 she was again married to Mr. Booker of Hamilton, where she lived until his death in 1890. After that her residence was at Aylmer West until her marriage in 1905 to Mr. R. H. Yule of Brantford, brother of Mr. Peter Yule of this city. He passed away in 1907. She leaves to mourn her loss a brother, Rev. S. Bates, D.D., Toronto, Educational Secretary of McMaster University, and Mrs. John McLaurin, Cobourg, a sister, who was also for many years a missionary in India. Three children blessed her first union. Of these, Rev. J. S. Timpany, M.D., and his wife, have been since, 1893, missionaries in India, and they arrived only two weeks ago, and were with her at her home during her last days. Of her two daughters, one, Mrs. Harry Stillwell, was a missionary in India, where she passed away in 1912, and her other daughter, Mrs. C. M. Clarke of Aylmer West. For many years the deceased was President of the Women's Foreign Mission Board of the Baptist Church of Ontario and Quebec. She was a woman of deep religious life, interested in all uplifting movements, and had a universally wide acquaintance throughout the Dominion. She was the possessor of a very gentle, gracious and lovable character. Her death will come with a sincere sense of loss to many.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

New York, June 24.—Philadelphia beat New York here yesterday by a score of two to one, the winning run being scored in the eleventh inning. Byrne led off the eleventh by an infield hit, took second on Niehoff's sacrifice, third on Cravath's single, and scored on an fielder's choice, the runner beating Doyle's throw home on Luderus' grounder. Score: R.H.E. Philadelphia . . . 1000000001—2 9 1 New York . . . 000001000—1 6 1

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Philadelphia, June 24.—New York won two games from Philadelphia yesterday 3 to 2 in ten innings, and 15 to 7. In the opening event, Crowell, formerly of Brown University, made his professional debut and out-twirled Caldwell by a wide margin, but his passes were costly. In the tenth, Bauman scored the winning run on singles by himself and Caldwell. Sweeney's sacrifice and a wild throw by Conway.

M'CAFFERY BOUND TO GET MONEY BACK

Buffalo, N.Y., June 24.—Whether it required the united strength and services of President McCaffery, Manager Clymer and Secretary Lavene to lug back to Toronto the bonus money received from Roney Roach, the jumping shortstop, is not known, but the facts will probably come to light today at Federal Park. Messrs. McCaffery and Clymer could not be located last night. They were at the Lafayette Hotel, but did not register. It is believed President Gerry Simon has the trio under cover and that they will make their appearance this afternoon in the enemy's camp and that the sheriff will accompany them and will serve an injunction upon Roach, which will prevent him from taking his place in the Buffalo line-up until the courts have passed upon his case.

Guelph, June 4.—Ottawa took both ends of a double-header from the Leafs yesterday afternoon. The Leafs lost the first game by inability to connect with Peterson's delivery when hits meant runs, coupled with local errors. The Senators won the second game in the first inning, when they batted Carney out of the box, counting four runs. The Leafs could do nothing with Roberts, who twir-

George Wiltse Resigns His Jersey City Job

New York, June 23.—George Wiltse for many years a star southpaw of the Giants, resigned from the management of the Jersey City International League club yesterday. Joe Yessier was appointed temporary manager of the Skeeters in place of the former idol of the Polo Grounds. Wiltse stated that his resignation was voluntary. He felt keenly the fact that his club had proven such a disappointment in the race to date. Wiltse effected a satisfactory settlement with the owners of the International League club. Wiltse has no immediate prospect of occupation in his chosen profession. He visited Washington Park yesterday afternoon and had a talk with Fielder Jones, it is not believed, however, that the manager of the St. Louis Federal could make room for Wiltse. Jones has two fine southpaws, Eddie Plank and Watson. Both have shown fine winning con-

Cooper and Foran Bombard Hughey for 19 Bases—Ottawa Wins Both 5-1. St. Thomas, June 24.—Brantford swamped St. Thomas yesterday by a 13 to 2 score. Hughey, who worked for the Saints, was touched up 19 times, seven of them being doubles, and two triples. Cresswell, after the first inning, pitched a good brand of ball, allowing but seven scattered hits. Cooper, who worked for the first time for the Red Sox, started with three doubles, a triple and a single. Foran also had three doubles and a triple. Dunlop at short for Brantford, and Hadley for the Saints, starred in the field. Score: R.H.E. Brantford . . . 00014006—13 19 1 St. Thomas . . . 20000000—2 7 3

OTTAWA TOOK BOTH GAMES

London Beat Hamilton 8-5—Hams' New Pitcher Allowed One Hit in Seven Innings. LONDON 8, HAMILTON 5. Hamilton, June 24.—Eccles, the new left-hander, made his first appearance in the box for Hamilton and for seven innings held London to one hit, striking out nine. London began to reach him in the eighth, and after Halligan removed Reising and Le-croix from the bench the hoodoo seemed to have been lifted, as the Cocksney got eight runs in the last two innings, in spite of the fact that Dolan was pressed in service in the ninth. The score: R.H.E. Hamilton . . . 01210000—5 13 2 London . . . 00000000—8 9 1

The MASQUERADER

By Katherine Cecil Thurston, Author of "The Circle," Etc. Copyright, 1904, by Harper & Brothers

But she made no answer. For a second longer she searched for the violets, then as he bent to assist her she stood up quickly and laughed—a short, embarrassed laugh.

"How absurd and nervous I am!" she exclaimed. "Like a schoolgirl instead

"Then I am forgiven?" he said, of a woman of twenty-four. He must help me to be sensible." Her cheeks still burned, her manner was still excited, like one who holds an emotion or an impulse at bay.

Loder looked at her uncertainly. "Eve," he began afresh with his odd, characteristic perseverance, but she instantly checked him. There was a faint suggestion of fear, in her protest.

"Don't!" she said. "Don't! I don't want explanations. I want to enjoy the moment without having things analyzed or smoothed away. Can't you understand? Can't you see that I'm wonderfully, terribly happy to have you—as you are?" Again her voice broke—a break that might have been a laugh or a sob.

The sound was an emotional crisis, as such a sound invariably is. It arrested and steadied her. For a moment she stood absolutely still, then with something very closely resembling her old repose of manner she stooped again and quietly picked up the flowers still lying at her feet.

"Now," she said quietly, "I must say what I've wanted to say all along. How does it feel to be a great man?" Her manner was controlled, she looked at him evenly and directly; save for the faint vibration in her voice there was nothing to indicate the tumult of a moment ago.

But Loder was still uncertain. He caught her hand, his eyes searching hers. "But Eve"—he began. Then Eve played the last card in her mysterious game. Laughing quickly and nervously, she freed her hand and laid it over his mouth.

"No!" she said. "Not one word! All this past fortnight has belonged to you; now it's my turn. Today is mine."

CHAPTER XXX.

AND so, once again, the woman conquered. Whatever Eve's intentions were, whatever she wished to evade or ward off, she was successful in gaining her end. For more than two hours she kept Loder at her side. There may have been moments in those two hours when the tension was high, when the efforts she made to interest and hold him were somewhat strained. But if this was so it escaped the notice of the one person concerned, for it was long after tea had been served, long after Eve had offered to do penance for her monopoly of him by driving him to Chilcote's club, that Loder realized with any degree of distinctness that it was she and not he who had taken the lead in their interview; that it was she and not he who had bridged the difficult silences and given a fresh direction to dangerous channels of talk. It was long before he recognized this, but it was still longer before he realized the far more potent fact that without any coldness, without any lessening of the subtle consideration she always showed him, she had given him no further opportunity of making love.

Talking continuously, elated with the sense of conflict still to come, he drove with her to the club. Considering that drive in the light of after events, his own frame of mind favorably fitted him with incredulity. In the eyes of any sane man his position was not worth an hour's purchase, yet in the blind self-confidence of the moment he would not have changed places with Fraide himself. The great song of self was sounding in his ears as he drove through the crowded streets, conscious of the cool, crisp air, of Eve's close presence, of the numberless infinitesimal things that went to make up the value of life. It was this acknowledgment of personality that upheld him—the personality, the power that had carried him unwaveringly through eleven colorless years; that had impelled him toward this new career when the new career had first been opened to him: that had been a way for him in this fresh existence against colossal odds; the indomitable force that had tramped out Chilcote's footmarks in public life, in private life—in love. It was a triumphant psalm that clamored in his ears, something persistent and prophetic, with an undertone of menace—the cry of the human soul that has dared to stand alone.

His glance was keen and bright as he waited for a moment at the carriage door and took Eve's hand before entering the club.

"You're dining out tonight?" he said. His fingers, always tense and numbed, continued to hold hers. The conviction that had driven him temporarily toward sacrifice had passed. His pride, his confidence and with them his desire, had flowed back in full measure.

Eve, watching him attentively, paled a little. "Yes," she said, "I'm dining with the Dramfelds."

"What time will you get home?" He scarcely realized why he put the question. The song of self still sounded triumphantly, and he responded without reflection.

His eyes held hers, his fingers pressed her hand; the intense mastery of his will passed through her in a sudden sense of fear. Her lips parted in depression, but he, closely attentive of her expression, spoke again quickly.

"When can I see you?" he asked very quietly. Again she was about to speak. She sighed forward, as if some thought unexpressed trembled on her lips, then her courage or her desire failed her. She turned back, letting her lashes droop over her eyes. "I shall be home at 11," she said below her breath.

THE PROBS

Toronto, June 24.—The area of low pressure near the Atlantic coast has remained almost stationary.

FORECASTS. Moderate and variable winds, fine to-day; local showers to-night.

HAS RETURNED HOME. Sgt. G. Crouch, who was wounded at the front some time ago, has at last arrived in the city.

BUILDING PERMITS. Jesse Usher has taken out a building permit for the erection of a brick dwelling to be one and three quarters stories high.

THANKS FROM Hon. Mr. Casgrain. The following letter was received in the city this morning:

Dear Mr. Mayor—Upon my return to Ottawa I feel it is one of my first duties to tender you and the worthy members of your city council, the appreciation of my wife and myself of the voluntary and very handsome manner in which you received us upon our visit to Brantford for the purpose of opening the new Post Office.

Apart from being impressed with your picturesque city, I estimate it as very great honor to have the privilege of declaring open to the public the magnificent buildings which your government has been pleased to erect.

The visit, my first of that nature, in which I have participated since I became Postmaster General, will always remain memorable on account of the cordiality which you and your friends bestowed upon me on that occasion.

It is evident that the imposing buildings which have been erected will be the means of improving the present postal facilities, and will prove a lasting benefit to the citizens of Brantford.

Will you please, Mr. Mayor, convey to your colleagues, my heartfelt appreciation for the very handsome reception accorded me, and the friendly sentiments expressed.

Believe me, I remain, Yours very truly, T. CHASE CASGRAIN

HOPELESS TASK TO FORCE THE GRAND DUKE

He Has One Thousand Miles of Maneuvring Ground and Can Wait.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, June 24.—Discussing the situation, which necessitated the Russian retreat in Galicia, the Morning Post's Petrograd correspondent says:

"The Russians now realize that the war is still in its preliminary stages. The enemy's national military organization is so admirable and complete that the allies must have time—many months, perhaps years, to wear down the enormous initial advantages of German aggression.

"The Galician campaign shows that Germany at last has realized the mistake made earlier in the war of ignoring Russia, which really, of all the allies, was best prepared for war, and therefore, ought to have been dealt with first.

"Lemberg really is a very secondary matter both from the German and the Russian points of view. The Russians will not accept battle on the German front, but will continue the policy of wearing down the Germans until the time comes for a general move by all the allied armies."

Cruiser Hit and Escaped Undamaged

By Special Wire to the Courier. Berlin, June 24.—Official announcement was made here to-day that a German submarine had attacked on Sunday, June 23, a British armored cruiser, apparently of the Minotaur class, at a point about 100 miles from the coast of North Scotland.

The cruiser was hit by a torpedo, but the effect of the attack could not be ascertained by the crew of the submarine.

A despatch from London last night's official announcement that the British cruiser Roxburgh had been struck by a torpedo in the North Sea last Sunday. The damage sustained was not serious nor were there any casualties.

It is evident that the London despatch of last night and the above message from Berlin refer to the same incident. The Minotaur and the Roxburgh are of the same type and the latter 450 and each has four funnels and two masts.

FRENCH OFFICIAL

By Special Wire to the Courier. Paris, June 24.—The French War Office this afternoon issued a statement on the progress of hostilities which reads as follows:

"In the region to the north of Arras last night passed relatively calmly, if we except the territory to the north of Souchez, where the cannonading never ceased. The enemy's bombardment of the hospital of the Holy Sacrament, being particularly damaged. Some sisters and some of the nurses lost their lives.

"The number of prisoners made since June 14 in the region of the Fichtel River now amounts to 25 officers, 53 under officers and 638 men."
