LABRADOR: Its Discovery, Exploration and Development.

By W. G. GOSLING. With numerous Illustrations and Maps.

A new chapter in the history of our Colonial Empire, embodying the results of much laborious research in an exceedingly readable narrative. The work has been undertaken at the suggestion of Dr. Wilfred Grenfell, C.M.G., whose missionary and humanitarian labours on the Labrador coast are well known. For points of special interest, where all is interesting, the reader may be referred to the question of American Fishery Rights which has been pending for 100 years and will be shortly submitted to the Hague Tribunal, to the proof of discovery by the early Nova mariners, the tale of the romantic devotion of Moravian missionaries, and the adventures of Captain Cartwright, settler, sportsman, and merchant. Published at 21s. net. Our Special Price—$5.00.

Which Was The Heir?

THE man was overstrained; every fibre of his heart was aching, his sense of bereavement keen and sharp as an open wound, and he uttered a cry—a cry of joy, thanksgiving. The lad had loved him, after all—loved him so well that he had refused to leave him. He toiled on through heat and drought, counting hunger and thirst as nought, and reached the hut.

But there was no Ronnie there to receive him, to laugh at him. And though he waited three days, no Ronnie came. On the fourth day, consumed by anxiety, he tramped back to Blue Pig. Of course he would find the boy lurking about the camp with the other boys; and he looked about him eagerly as he made his way through the camp to the saloon.

The bar-tender eyed the wan, weary-looking young man curiously. 'Meanin' the youngster that was with you a few nights ago? No, he ain't here.' 'Not here?' said Geoffrey, with a poor attempt at an easy smile.

Marion Bridge, C.B., May 30, '02. I have handled MINARD'S LINIMENT during the past year. It is always the first Liniment asked for, and unquestionably the best seller of all the different kinds of Liniment I handle.

NEIL FERGUSON. 'You mean you haven't happened to see him.' 'The bar-tender expectorated carefully. 'If I ain't seen him, you bet there's nobody else has,' he said, succinctly. 'As soon as ever the pianner begins to chune up the darned boys floove in like wasps round a treacle tub. Have any of you seen the young larrikin what come with matey here?' he broke off to ask of a group of men who had stopped talking to listen.

They shook their heads, and one man, after an effort of memory, said, carelessly: 'How? Why, I saw him go off with the agent with my own eyes.' 'And he hasn't com back—turned up—since?' asked Geoffrey. 'I—I think he must—'

The man stared. 'I'd take my Bible oath he hasn't,' he responded, confidently. 'Why the blazes should he? Didn't I hear as he was goin' to England? An' dh' you think that anybody—even a boy—would come back to this blamed hole if he could help it?'

Geoffrey drew a long breath. He tried to persuade himself that it was one of relief, but there was a pang of disappointment in the tail of it; and his head drooped on his breast as he strode out of the saloon.

Outside, he raised his eyes and looked at the stars. 'The boy's gone, after all,' he said to himself, with another sigh. 'Changed his mind at the last moment, I suppose. Well, it's better so. Good luck go with you, Ronnie, boy!'

Had Eczema In Both Legs

Remarkable cure of Chronic Eczema by use of DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT. You could scarcely imagine a more severe test of this ointment than the cure of Mrs. Clark recorded here. For twenty years she suffered all the tortures of this terrible disease and tried in vain the prescriptions of doctors and the cures commonly recommended. Mr. Fred W. Clark, Petworth, Ont., writes: 'My mother had Eczema in both legs for about 20 years and suffered from the dreadful itching, stinging sensations which can never be described. She doctored and tried everything for it but got no relief until she used Dr. Chase's Ointment which was recommended to her by a friend. She found that this brought relief and by continuing its use has been cured of Eczema. I do not think any one could have this horrible disease any worse than she did and can recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as a thorough cure for Eczema.' Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box at all dealers or Edmanston, Bates & Co. Toronto. Dr. Chase's Recipes sent free.

A few hours later he was once more tramping homewards, all the more sorrowful for the lost hope which Cottie's note had lit in his bosom.

CHAPTER XVII.

COTTIE'S heart sank, and a cry of terror rose to her lips, but she drove it back and looked straight into the evil face. It wore a cunning leer rather than a ferocious one, and the small shifty eyes seemed to be regarding her with a curious mixture of satisfaction and deference. But they were on the alert, and as her hand instinctively stole towards her revolver, Sheeney said, rather persuasively than threateningly: 'Better give me that six-shooter, my boy; they're dangerous playthings for youngsters like you. That's all right,' as Cottie reluctantly handed over the revolver. 'Now we shall sail along smooth and comfortable; yes, smooth and comfortable's the words, for, strike me pink, if I mean anything but what's friendly; though, mind you, most men would bear a grudge for the straight shootin' you engaged in the other day. But, so as we can get on a square basis, how would it be if you was to hand over anything, as might be useful to a friend in need? Would you mind turnin' out your pockets?'

Cottie took out some small change which Geoffrey had given her, and emptied her pockets. 'You took all I had the other day,' she said, trying to speak steadily. 'Not me; you're thinking of someone else, ray boy,' said Sheeney, with an air of surprise and injured innocence. 'Is this all? Well, it ain't much; but I'll take charge of it for you, because seeing as you and me are going to chum up together, and I'm going to be paymaster, you won't want any money.'

'What are you going to do with me?' she asked, with affected nonchalance, though her lip quivered. 'I'm going to take care of you, take charge of you,' said Sheeney. 'You're a-gazing at your guardian angel, my boy, little as you think of it. You and me are never going to part any more.'

She tried to smile, tried to tell herself that the man was drunk, that someone would ride up, that they would run against someone before long, from whom she could claim protection against this man; but a note of assurance in his soft, toneless voice struck to her heart. Oh, if Geoffrey could only know the plight into which she had fallen. If she had only stood her ground, and instead of trying to trick Geoff, had refused to leave him.

'That's how it's going to be with us,' said Sheeney, after a pause, during which he watched her sideways, 'and the sooner you recognise the fact and knuckle down to it, the better for you and the better for him.'

'For him?' she echoed, with vague dread. Sheeney saw that he had struck the right note, and his lips twisted with an expression of cunning satisfaction. 'That's so,' he said, nodding. 'You're a sensible lad, a brainy 'al

A BROKEN-DOWN SYSTEM. This is a condition of the case to which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness—a break-down. No matter what may be its causes (for they are all the more prominent being, sleeplessness, sense of prostration or weariness, depression of spirits and want of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life, cause a nervous debility) it is essential in all such cases to VITAL STRENGTH & ENERGY to throw off these morbid feelings, and experience proves that no night succeeds the day this may be more certainly secured by a course of the celebrated THERAPION No. 3.

THERAPION No. 3. This is the best known combination. So surely does it act in accordance with the principles of medicine, that accompanying it, will the shattered health be restored. THE EXPIRING LAMP OF LIFE LIGHTED UP AFRESH, and a new vision imparted in place of what had so lately seemed worn-out. It is of what vegetable and innocuous, is agreeable to the stomach, either raw, and it is difficult to imagine a case of disease or derangement, whose main features are those of debility, that will not be speedily relieved by this never-failing restorative essence, which is destined to cast into oblivion everything that had preceded it for this class of ailments.

THERAPION No. 3. This is sold by Chemists throughout the world. Price in England, 2/6 and 4/6. Purchasers should see that the word 'THERAPION' appears on British Government stamps in white letters on a red ground, and is enclosed in a package by order of His Majesty's Hon. Council Secretaries, and without which it is not genuine. THERAPION may now also be obtained in Drugges (Tasteless) form.

I said so the moment I saw you there by the old hut at home, for it was me, I don't deny it—and I'll make a clean show of it. Candid and outspoken is what I am, and always was. I may lose by it, no doubt I often do, but I can't go against my nature.'

They were riding on again while he was talking, riding with the bridle of Cottie's horse linked in Sheeney's arm, his hand resting readily on his revolver. Cottie listened, trying to drive from her face all expression of the fear and loathing which the man's proximity aroused in her, trying to keep a stiff upper lip and assume an air of fearless nonchalance.

'When I sat in the hut that day, eating my bit o' grub and looking and listening to you, I said to myself: 'I like this boy. There's something about him which goes for me straight and gets me every time.' Kind of fascination, you may call it. Do you catch on? And that being so, it went rather against the grain to have to score up something against a friend o' yours.'

'Meanin'—?' said Cottie. (To be Continued.)

Lived as Pauper and Her Home Was Full of Gold.

Aged Woman Miser's Death Reveals More Than $100,000 Hidden in Home. Burlington, N. J., March 2nd. — Flooring is being ripped up, portions of the wall torn away, the cellar being excavated, and every nook and corner of the home of Miss Elizabeth Hays, eighty-six years old, of this place, is being searched by several men employed by the executor of the estate to gather the fortune in currency and gold that she secreted about the establishment in the years she lived in it.

Already nearly $100,000 has been discovered in a bible, books, closets, bed ticks, bureaus, the fireplace, an old stove and every spot that might serve as a receptacle. In a little tin box that had originally contained preserved fruit $800 in gold was discovered.

Despite the wealth of the woman, she lived in poverty and scarcely ever spent a dollar. Neighbours considered her one of the poorest persons in the country. In fact, many often thought she was on the verge of starvation, and for that reason often invited her to their homes for dinner, in the belief that they would be affording her an opportunity to secure nourishment.

It is now believed that she conveyed the idea that she was poverty stricken to the outside world to make herself secure from being the victim of burglars. She is said to have had a great fear of banishment.

The woman died suddenly Monday night in her home, an old dilapidated farm house. Reginald Branch, who acted as her attorney, but never had much business to transact for her, was notified and he went to the house to assist several relatives who had called to make preparations for her burial.

interment. He chanced to pick up a family Bible that the woman had had since her girlhood. Between every two pages he found a bill of different denomination. The discover led to a more extensive search. Nearly everything in the house that was touched led to the discovery of money. The constable was notified and an armed guard put on duty at the house all night. Today Mr. Branch appeared to continue the search for money.

Besides the money, many rare old paintings were in the house. Some weeks ago a New York art dealer is said to have offered her an exceedingly large sum for one of them, but she declined to dispose of it because it had been in her family for more than 125 years.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

When you see a magnificent gown or rich-looking set of furs in some shop window and wish that you might have it, I do not suppose you ever stop to wonder whether you want it so ardently because it is expensive.

Dear Sirs,—I think that question is a mighty interesting and important one.

"Do you know" remarked a woman to me the other day as she showed me the magnificent set of sable furs she had just purchased, "positively, I am almost ashamed to tell it, but plain martin is really much more becoming to me than any other fur I can buy."

"Then why on earth don't you buy it?" I questioned in wonder.

"Why, because it's so cheap, of course," she responded in equal wonderment, "so common, my dear. Any shop girl can have them. Of course, I would not really think of wearing martin, but they certainly are the most becoming."

That, to me, is an attitude that is positively inexcusable.

For a woman to want expensive things because they are beautiful is a normal and not undesirable state of affairs.

But for a woman or any one else, to want expensive things just because they are expensive is wicked.

And yet, how many of us are absolutely free from the taint of expense worship?

Would the lady with the magnificent cent mink coat enjoy it half so much if she did not know that it was quite evident to her most envious sisters that it cost at least $150?

If serge were expensive and broadcloth very cheap, how long do you think it would take the people who assert there is nothing as beautiful as broadcloth to become enamored of serge?

People say they wear diamonds because they are beautiful, but if by some scientific invention or natural discovery diamonds should become as cheap as rhinestones, do you think they would still be worn by wealthy people?

Doubtless we fancy we wear silk for the best because it is more beautiful than cotton goods, but if silk suddenly to become very cheap and cotton expensive, which, do you think, our dress-up gowns would be made of?

Show me the woman who, having extravagantly admired a gown which she thought a high priced creation would not lose some of that admiration when she found that, after all, it was an inexpensive affair.

For myself, I remember conceiving a sudden respect and admiration the other day for a simple little coral broadcloth evening wrap that I thought would be priced about $25 when the shop girl told me it was an imported model and sold for $150.

But I was ashamed of myself for feeling that way. The thing was not one whit more beautiful and should not have seemed a bit more desirable.

And I want every other woman to be ashamed when she catches herself admiring expense instead of beauty.

"Nerviline" Cures Rheumatism

And Here is the Proof—A Solemn Statement From a Four-years' Cripple Who Says "Nerviline" Did It.

"If I had lived through my sufferings another year it would have been a miracle." This is the opening sentence of the declaration made by Mr. J. Eccles Squires, member of one of the best known families for twenty miles round Sydney. "My hands were drawn out of shape, even my fingers were gnarled and crooked—my lameness, stiffness and inability to get about all showed the havoc Rheumatism made with my health. The blessing of it all is that I have heard of Nerviline, and now I am able to tell and advise others how they may get well, too. My system was so weakened that I had to build up with a good tonic, so I took Ferrazine at meals. But I never stopped rubbing on Nerviline—it had a magic influence on my stiff, painful joints, and bottle after bottle was rubbed on the painful parts. Nerviline cured me. I am well to-day—have been well for 4½ years."

You also can cure rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia or any pain or stiffness in the muscles or joints—to do so use Nerviline. Don't let your druggist substitute. Get Nerviline only; large bottles, 25c., or five for $1.00; sold everywhere, or The Catarthozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

All stylish dresses, waists and suits are trimmed in the new Russian side-effects. Marisettes, linen, homespuns, all now appear in checks, both gun-club and shepherd. Hand-embroidery and pretty laces are the dominant notes in many of the new blouses. An odd fancy of the moment is the use on dressy toilettes of belts of varnished leather. The hexagon mesh is the veiling most often met with, whether the veil be fine or coarse. The soft serges and cashmere are used to build traveling costumes for the warm spring days. Narrow silk fringe is used to edge many of the new straw hats, the effect being to soften the face. Nets are again much liked for transparent undersleeves and gumples purposes in the summer frocks. Vells for wear with Easter bonnets are many of them more extreme in the size of the mesh than ever. Billows of fluffy materials and cobwebby laces enhance nearly every lingerie frock now being shown. A new lace grenadine, more often called "net" than grenadine, is shown among the new materials.

Do You Feel This Way?

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at nights unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you? If so, you must try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It will set your lazy liver to work. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. It will purify your blood. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a cough, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about a cure in 98 per cent. of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice. Don't be wicedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good." Dr. Pierce's medicines are of known composition. Their every ingredient printed on their wrappers. Made from roots without alcohol. Contain no habit-forming drugs. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Hon. William C. Job and the Standard.

I am glad to see the son of my old friend, T. R. Job, taking his rightful place in the public affairs of the Colony. On the maternal side he is the great grandson of Dr. William Carson the first organizer and promoter of liberal institutions in this Colony. His great grandfather, John Job, was the able ally of Sir John Gladstone (father of the grand old man) in all philanthropic movements in Liverpool. No one did better work for St. John's in the old times than Robert and Thomas Job. They were the introducers of gas into St. John's, the promoters of temperance, and all other good movements in the town. The subject which Mr. W. C. Job has taken up, the standardization of our produce, is of vital importance. I have tried myself for years to make our people understand the value of the brand and the trade mark, by quoting such familiar examples as Rogers' knives, Huntley & Palmers biscuits, Sutton's Seeds, etc. The nearest case in point for our instruction is the herring brand in the United Kingdom. For years it was bitterly opposed, and there is quite a literature on the subject. At last it was carried and the result is suggestive for us as a fishing population. It improved the cure in a wonderful way, and in a still more marvelous manner increased the price all over the Continent of Europe. Branded Yarmouth herrings are now sent all over the Continent, principally from Hamburg—not a barrel is opened for inspection, every one relies on the brand. It is an old saying that "honesty is the best policy." The only successful method in business is the honest one. If we are to prosper as fish curers we must follow the methods of those who have been successful in the same line, and adopt a standard and an official brand for our own products. The old, careless haphazard way of doing business, won't suit modern times. We have amongst ourselves an actual proof of the value of a brand. When one old house went out of business it has won such a reputation in the Brazil market that a new firm paid for the use of its brand. I hope that the Hon. W. C. Job will persevere in his endeavours. He is on the right track, and if he succeeds, as he eventually must, he will confer an immense benefit on his native country. Mar. 22nd, 1910. D. W. P.

FOR BABY'S SKIN TROUBLE.

There are times in the life of nearly every child when Dr. Chase's Ointment proves itself a blessing. The tender skin chafes and is irritated by the clothing. Often times baby escapes develop from this very cause. In a dozen ways Dr. Chase's Ointment can be used to soothe and heal the skin and prevent suffering of the little one. No treatment is so well suited for this purpose and none so entirely satisfactory.

Rosebery's Resolutions

Our cable despatch conveys the intelligence that the House of Lords yesterday passed Lord Rosebery's third resolution by a large majority. It will interest our readers to peruse the terms of this resolution and we embody it. It runs as follows:—

"That the necessary preliminary of reform and reconstitution of the House of Lords is the acceptance of the principle that the possession of a Peerage shall no longer in itself give a right to sit and vote in the House of Lords."

It is not surprising that the House of Lords adopted this resolution as it is essentially the same as the conclusion arrived at in 1908 by the House of Lords Select Committee, which was that,

"Except in the case of peers of Blood Royal, it was undesirable that the possession of a peerage should of itself give the right to sit and vote in the House of Lords."

Lord Rosebery was the Chairman of this Committee, and has been long prominently associated with propaganda of reforming the membership of the House of Lords. In a speech he made in Edinburgh on September 26th, 1907, he set forth his ideas.

"I have never been able to defend the present House of Lords. I have stoutly attacked it; I have constantly endeavoured to reform it; but, on the other hand, I am from the bottom of my heart and soul convinced by every iota of political and historical experience of which I am possessed that a second chamber, and effective second chamber, is necessary both to the welfare of this country and to the due maintenance of the constitution. I am not a House of Lords man, I am a Second Chamber man."

The present debate commenced on the 14th instant, when Lord Rosebery introduced three resolutions of which he had given notice on the 9th. The full motion is as follows:—

1. That a strong and efficient Second Chamber is not merely an integral part of the British Constitution, but it is necessary for the well-being of the State and the balance of Parliament.

2. That such a Second Chamber can best be obtained by the reform and reconstitution of the House of Lords.

3. That the necessary preliminary of such reform and reconstitution is the acceptance of the principle that the possession of a Peerage shall no longer in itself give a right to sit and vote in the House of Lords.

St. Bon's Prize Debate.

Yesterday afternoon the Junior Prize debate, held annually, took place at St. Bonaventure's College. The subject discussed was "Which has been of more benefit to men—the beauties of nature or of art?" When the vote was taken it was found that the advocates of art had won, and Master Patrick Kennedy was selected as the best debater. Rev. Principal Cullane presided, and after the debate the boys spent a very pleasant hour as an impromptu concert was given.

Street Car Collision.

Mr. J. M. McNeil had a narrow escape from being killed by an east bound street car this morning on Water Street, near foot of Queen's Street. He was driving down Queen Street to Water Street with horse and express when the street car collided with his outfit near T. J. Barrow's, upset the wagon and knocked Mr. McNeil out and a lot of flower boxes that he had with him. He was within a few inches of the car when he fell. His horse took fright and ran into Power's horse and milk cart from Topsail Road over near the Post Office, but before doing any more damage was stopped by Mr. A. Campbell. The dashboard of McNeil's express was smashed in pieces and the shafts of Power's milk wagon broken. One of the shoes of McNeil's horse was ripped off, having got caught in the street rail.

Royal Colonial Institute

There are now twenty Fellows of the Royal Colonial Institute residing in Newfoundland. In addition to the new Members whose names were published yesterday Hon. W. C. Job and Mr. R. B. Job were elected last month, and the Fellows whose election dates prior to 1910 include Hon. R. K. Bishop, Hon. John Harvey, Hon. R. Watson, Mr. A. F. Goodridge, Mr. W. D. Reid and Mr. James Ryan (Donavista).

The Secretary of the Institute, in a letter to Mr. Watson, who is Corresponding Secretary for Newfoundland, writes:—

"It is most gratifying to see the names of so many of your leading men on our list of Fellows, and I am directed by Sir Bevan Edwards, the Chairman of the Council, to specially thank you for your valuable co-operation."

We understand that four new applications for membership were sent forward by last mail.

Bristol and Newfoundland.

Attention is just now being called to the historic connection of Bristol with Newfoundland, and the question of this city being represented if the tercentenary of the colonizing effort of 1610 is celebrated in that island. It may be of interest to say that one of the Congregational ministers of Bristol, the Rev. Wm. Stacy, was born in Newfoundland, and he remembers, in his young days, taking part in the welcome given to our King, then Prince of Wales, when he landed on the island during his tour through North America. Mr. Stacy was for a number of years minister of Lodge Street Chapel, but is now residing at Clevedon. He had some hope of revisiting his native country during the coming summer.—Western Daily Press, Bristol.

Surely Settles Upset Stomachs.

Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn or Dyspepsia vanish in five minutes.

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapepsin and realize not only immediate but lasting relief.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of Indigestion.

Get from your Pharmacist a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach. Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and besides there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drugstore.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other stomach disorder.

'Varsity Boat Race in England To-day.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, Mar. 22. The Oxford and Cambridge eight who will meet in their annual boat race on Wednesday are putting the finishing touches at Putney. Both crews were out to-day practicing short bursts against scratch eights.

The Oxonians made the better showing, and they are hot favourites in the contest. In starting Oxford had had the advantage all along. There has been some protest by the river-side Clergy against the race having been fixed for Wednesday in Holy Week, but the Presidents of the Oxford and Cambridge Boat Club have declined to change the date, explaining that it was selected after very careful consideration with senior members of the Universities, and was the most suitable that could be chosen.

It is quite dangerous to ride on a street car in Chicago. According to an official report made to the Corporation Council on March 8th, eight persons are injured every day, and one person killed every three days.

Sir Oliver Lodge says: "I disagree with the saying Time is Money; as I believe time should be regarded as infinitely more valuable than money." "The Man in the Moon" knows a whole lot of people who disagree with Sir Oliver!

Some time ago New York wanted a tunnel dug under the East River, and all the American Engineering firms refused to undertake the task. Pearson & Son, of London, however, accepted the job, and went in and triumphantly completed the work.

The fourth annual report of the Carnegie Foundation, recently issued in New York, shows that in the year the foundation paid one hundred and fifteen pensions, amounting to $177,000. The Foundation is now paying 318 pensions, at a cost of $466,000.

"The Man in the Moon" would esteem it a favour if one or the other of our local historians could enlighten him as to whether John Guy, (the man they are tearing each other's hair over) was a relative of that other Guy who tried to blow up the English Parliament away back in the 16th century.

The United States Home of Representatives recently passed a resolution having for its object the paving of the way for an Amendment of the Treaty of 1812 between Great Britain and the United States. The Treaty prohibits the maintenance of a Navy by either country on the great lakes, and the object of the Americans is to have a number of warships there.

Miss Addie N. Hunt, a trained nurse, had the misfortune to lose her two legs in a railway accident at Great Neck, L. Y., in June 1905. She was awarded $58,000 by the lower court; the company appealed, and the verdict was affirmed by the Appellate Division. Legs are considered very valuable in New York, where everybody is supposed to hustle!

Mr. William Willet, who has been termed a champion of the sun, contemplates bringing before the British Parliament a Daylight Saving Scheme. His idea is to have more sunlight in the dwellings of the people, and a favourite saying of his is, "Where sunlight does not enter the doctor does." His scheme has been commended by people from all parts of the world.

Sir William Huggins, who has just recently celebrated his 86th birthday, is a famous astronomer, and has spent 60 years watching the Stars. Sir William, it is said, was the first person to apply the art of photography to the science of astronomy, and does a great deal of his work by photographic methods. In the natural order of things, Sir William in a few years will have his home up among the stars!

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—How effective the 1910 amendment to the License Act will be in curtailing the consumption of liquor in the city, in reforming the toper and in preventing the moderate drinker from developing into a drunkard can be decided only after the new regulations have had a fair trial. But the failure in one clause in the accomplishment of its object is a foregone conclusion. I refer to the abolition of the C. O. D. system, so far as it applies to the liquor trade. The object of it is to prevent liquor being sent into local option districts by train. The utility of that clause must have been apparent to any one who gave the matter a moment's consideration and the only effect of its enforcement will be the transference of part of the business from the Newfoundland Express Co. to the Government Postal Money Order Department. Instead of the Railway Agents collecting the amount of the C. O. D. and forwarding it to the shipper by means of the Company's Express Agents, the purchaser will pay the amount to the local post master, and telegraph his order to the vendor, who goes to the General Post Office and collects his cash before shipping the goods. The purchaser gets his libations in the same old way, at less cost than formerly, and thus the Postmasters and M. O. Dept. are converted into agents for the liquor dealers, instead of the express company and its agents as heretofore.

In pointing out the ineffectiveness of this clause, I do not wish to be understood as entertaining any desire to belittle the efforts of the temperance advocates, for I sincerely hope that the amendments will accomplish all that their promoters expect, but the utter futility of the attempt to prevent the shipment of liquor to local option districts by merely abolishing the C. O. D. system of the express company is so self-evident, and the absurdity of it so apparent that I am surprised that it was permitted to be incorporated in the Act.

The Pulpwood Side of the American Case.

New York, March 16.—The Tribune's Washington special says: The prospects of agreement with Canada are far from bright. President Taft has a keen appreciation of his duty in the premises, and will not be swayed by political considerations. The difficulty which confronts the negotiators is the complete unwillingness of Canada to make any concessions, and her apparent indifference to the prospect of a Tariff war. Representations have been made to the President that Canada is following a consistent policy with the purpose of compelling American paper manufacturers to transfer their mills to Canada, and that some provinces, with the consent of the Dominion Government, have taken steps to destroy the value of extensive American investments in Canadian forests. The President has been further informed that millions of dollars have been invested in Canadian licenses by Americans who expected, under these licenses, to cut and export pulp wood, so that the prohibition of importation amounts to a virtual confiscation of the money paid for licen-

Two Score Guns at Judge's Right Hand.

With forty revolvers and sixty stiletos on his desk, Judge Bazin looked well able to take care of himself if any of the harmless looking nine Italians in the crowded box before him made a hostile demonstration. But they were very meek for the reason that these weapons belonged to them and they were simply transferred to the judge's keeping for the time being. They were in mortal fear that the fine of carrying them would make a big hole in the modest pile.

The Italians were on hand as a result of a clean up made on Saturday night by the Provincial police who searched every suspicious looking character they saw and arrested all those who had knives or revolvers in their possession. Eighteen in all were arrested, but of these only nine appeared this morning.

Train Notes.

By the local at 11.05 last night there came Dr. Chisholm, T. P. Connors, Mrs. M. Walsh, A. Ledrew, Miss Pike, Miss Moore and 30 others.

The west bound express left Bishop Falls at 9.05 a.m. to-day.

The incoming express left Port aux Basques at 8.05 a.m. to-day.

The local arrives here from Carbonear at 12.25 p.m. bringing about 30 passengers.

The Biggest Candle in the World.

It is with keen appreciation of these facts that the President is disposed to insist on material concessions from Canada in return for the minimum Tariff of the United States.

The biggest candle in the world was recently made in New York by an Italian named Raffaete Cascone, for an Italian Cathedral. It is 10 ft. high, 8 in. in diameter, and weighs 318 lbs. It is decorated with flowers and reproductions of paintings, done in bright colors, and cost altogether $260. It was made as a thank-offering, Cascone having been tried for murder and acquitted. The candle was cast in First Avenue, for the cathedral in Castellamare, where Cascone worshipped when a boy. It is estimated that the candle will burn more than two years.

The use of candles in Italian fiestas makes these fest-days among the most attractive and picturesque in New York life. No one would suppose, when first seeing the chains of colored lights which turn "little Italy" into a fairy city, that these are simply candles in colored jelly-glasses.

Huge candles are always part of the offerings on these occasions, but candles the size of this great candle of Castellamare are not seen oftener than once in a life-time.

It is not uncommon to see candles 3 ft. high, or even 4 and 5, but most of them are of the ordinary size, or tiny tapers looking like birthday-cake lights.—"Collier's."

Possibilities of the Poultry Industry.

CONGRESSMAN DAWSON, OF IOWA, pays this deserved tribute to the American Hen:—

"Poets may sing of the glory of the eagle and artists may paint the beauties of birds of plumage, but the modest American hen is entitled to a tribute for her industry, her usefulness and her productivity. The American hen can produce wealth equal to the capital stock of all the banks of the New York Clearing House in three months and have a week to spare. In less than sixty days she can equal the total production of all the gold mines in the United States. The United States proudly boasts of its enormous production of pig iron, by far the greatest of any country in the world, and yet the American hen produces as much in six months as the iron mines of the country produce in a year. In one year and ten months she could pay off the interest-bearing debt of the United States."

PRESIDENT O'REILLY'S ADDRESS

When the Star of the Sea Society Called on Monsignor Reardon at Placentia, and the Monsignor's Reply.

Rt. Rev. Sir.—On this the feast of Ireland's glorious Apostle the Star of the Sea Association of Placentia offers its respectful greetings to its Spiritual Director. The feast we today celebrate is fraught with many happy memories for the Celtic race, and in its celebration we view it from two standpoints, viz., Catholicism and Patriotism, and for these two reasons it is honored in all parts of the world. St. Patrick's Day brings up before us all how the old land suffered in its fight for freedom, both religious and national, the various means her sons used to attain these ends, and our memories recall some of the names of the many patriots who pleaded, fought and died for the Emerald Isle.

On St. Patrick's Day will the story of Ireland's past wrongs and future hopes be heard by millions of the Irish race scattered all over the world, and will this national holiday be celebrated with that whole-souled devotion that only the Irish are capable of. In honoring this feast day we are joining in a celebration that is universal. Everywhere in respect being shown that great Saint, who has been the means of disseminating the light of faith to the ends of the earth. Therefore it is to-day with feelings of joy that we of this place, with all its ancient church associations, with its centuries of Catholicity, join in a celebration the principle of which has brought down so many blessings on untold millions of the human race.

St. Patrick's Day 1910 is a very important one for the old land, because the freedom for which she has so long fought for is now within sight. The English election just over has placed the National party in a position to reasonably expect that the wish of their lives, Home Rule, is within measurable distance. We sincerely trust that it is. We trust that none of the troubles that were always with them in the past shall arise now to further delay the just demands of Ireland.

We hope that before another year passes over the epitaph of Robert Emmet may be written, to use that patriot's own eloquent words, "That this country shall have taken her place amongst the nations of the earth." But we would add, not in the way that he fought for it; not as an Irish Republic; but as a self-governing portion of the greatest Empire the world ever knew—an a colony of Greater Britain, devoting its energies and abilities to the welfare of that Power that is playing so great a part in the peace and progress of the world; as a Government under the protection of the flag "that braved a thousand years the battle and the breeze"—a flag that is to-day the recognized emblem of liberty in the truest sense of the word, whether we view it from a religious or a national standpoint.

We wish Ireland, the form of Government that John Redmond is to-day working for—a complete restoration of all her political prerogatives, and the establishment of an Irish House of Parliament in historic College Green, and with the poet we hope that:

"Erin, oh Erin, thy winter is past, And the hope that lived tho' it shall blossom at last."

And this, our 34th anniversary, Rt. Rev. Sir, we desire to greet you in your dual office—Spiritual Director and Parish Priest. As the former we have to thank you for that fatherly interest you have taken in our Association and for the many benefits, both spiritual and temporal, we have received from you since we last had the honor of addressing you. As our Parish Priest we have always, since your appointment here some 13 years ago, recognized one whose every interest is centered in your flock—one ready and willing at all times to exercise your holy office for the benefit of your people; therefore the Star of the Sea Association considers it meet that its members as well as our parishioners should through its President, on the occasion of its yearly visitation, give expression to the sentiments of loyalty and esteem that we hold for the representative of the Holy Church.

The Monsignor was then congratulated on the learned and instructive sermon he preached at the Mass High tribute was paid to the good work done in the parish and the many improvements everywhere noticeable. Our schools next came in for their share of praise, and the President reminded the hundreds of people standing around that our boys of to-day will be the men of to-morrow and everyone should co-operate with the authorities so as to send them abroad on the world sufficiently instructed to intelligently undertake the duties and exercise the privilege of citizenship.

During the year death claimed three of our members—Messrs. Wm. Smith, John King and Edward Power. The first two were young men who were not long enough in the Society to entitle them to its mortality benefits; but the latter, Mr. Power, was one of the "old guard," and who for years did all in his power to further the Society. Death under any condition is sad, but doubly so when it comes as it did to each of our brother members, and we sincerely trust they are reaping the reward of well spent lives.

The Rev. Monsignor was next asked to please convey the respect of the Society to our Archbishop. "His Grace is well aware that in loyalty to him the Star of the Sea of Placentia does not take a second place with any society in the island."

The work of the Association for the past year was dwelt on at length. The President claimed that with the present standing of the Society the dream of its organization had to a great extent been realized and that Placentia was the better of it. The services of the Association to help on any parish work were offered, and in conclusion our Spiritual Director was assured that it was the prayer of each and every member of the Association that he may be spared for many years to continue these good works.

MGR. REARDON'S REPLY.

Rev. Mgr. Reardon congratulated the President on the able address just delivered. He was thankful to the Society for their good and kind expressions. He would have much pleasure in conveying to our good Archbishop the sincere and loyal devotion of the Star of the Sea as expressed by the President. He congratulated the Society on its grand turn out. He also noticed that on account of the great increase in membership the Society was much inconvenienced for room in the hall. He hoped that during the coming year the rooms on the ground flat, now used by the School Board for school purposes, would be handed over to the Society. He wished the Society one and all good luck and God's blessing for the coming year.

Three cheers were given for His Grace Archbishop Howley, three more and a tiger for their Spiritual Director. The Society then marched through the principal streets and back to their hall, when three more new members were enrolled. "Pike O'Callaghan" was played to a packed house in the hall at night. The committee in charge deserves credit for their management of the play, for its great success, for the handsome sum realized, and for the great trouble they took in seating and making the large audience comfortable.

Sincerely yours, COM. Placentia, March 19th, '10.

Headquarters For The New Buffalo Incubators.

We wish to advise all interested in poultry raising that the time is fast approaching to get their incubators ready. It will only be a matter of a couple of weeks when the up-to-date poultry raiser will be getting his eggs ready for hatching.

What about your incubator? Haven't you got one? If not, it's time you did. Start 1910 on the most improved methods. Come to our show-room and see for yourself the many different styles and sizes we keep in incubators.

We have got the sole agency for the New Buffalo Incubators, designed by Charles A. Cyphers, late Manager of the Cyphers Incubator Company.

In designing the New Buffalo Incubators every factory known to successful artificial incubation has been taken advantage of to secure as many chicks as it is possible to coax from the shell, fully appreciating the fact that, as compared with results obtainable by the use of other incubators, the last five, ten or fifteen per cent. of chicks that are hatched in our incubators is clear profit. Hatching with an incubator is, however, no longer merely a question of "how many" chicks, but also of "how good." The New Buffalo, by conserving the contents of the egg, is certain to hatch a chick or a duckling from practically every well-fertilized egg, and these chicks or ducklings will come out of the shells large, strong and vigorous. They are the kind that live, thrive and grow rapidly to a profitable maturity.

Read what CHAS. A. CYPHERS says about the New Buffalo Incubators.

- BUFFALO INCUBATORS—The vital principles exactly the same as in my original Cyphers and Model design.
- BUFFALO INCUBATORS—Are metal-cased—Indestructible—Fireproof.
- BUFFALO INCUBATORS—Hold the heat better in a wider range of temperature than my previous machines.
- BUFFALO BROODERS—The only rational method of heating and ventilating—two fixed temperatures—a regulated hover temperature, and a regulated nursery temperature.
- BUFFALO INCUBATORS AND BROODERS cost about half the price of any other standard outfit—and with the Buffalo Equipment YOU CAN'T FAIL.

A Montreal business man had to pay $100 damages for squeezing a lady's hand. Just think how much he would have to pay if he squeezed her in real earnest?

But New York beats that. A fashionable hatter happened to lose his equilibrium so far as to kiss a nineteen year old lady, and is now sued for $25,000 damages.

There is nothing but mild weather in sight just now, but I wouldn't advise the dear girls to iron up their peckaboo blouses yet a while.

kind of meeting takes place, from a dog fight to the assembling of the House of Parliament, the affair always concludes with the National Anthem, sometimes played, sometimes sung. But its perfunctory use on all occasions appears to be making us lose respect for it, and the opening bars are usually the signal to begin scrambling for hats or coats.

The best thing to do is to do as you please. For your mind, if you have one, will then be at ease. Of course you will meet with all sorts of abuse. But don't think to stop them, it ain't any use— For people will talk.

Lord Rosebery's Plan of Reform.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, March 22. The large majority by which the House of Lords to-day carried Lord Rosebery's third resolution, which deals with the hereditary principle, is rather the registration of pious opinion than the forerunner of any effective reform of the second chamber. The debate revealed the strong feeling against the resolution, and Lord Lansdowne had to assure the members towards the close of the debate that the resolutions would in no way sacrifice the hereditary principle. He added: A peer may vote for the resolution and then vote that every member of this House should have a hereditary title. Lord Rosebery followed and explained that they were only revealing the manner in which they believed the reform should go. This evidently implies that no reform of the House of Lords will be undertaken from the Conservative side until a Conservative Government is in office.

The Fight for Cotton.

Editor Evening Telegram.

NEW YORK, Mar. 22. English speculators in cotton who showed their dislike for James A. Patten, the Chicago speculator, by the recent demonstration on the Manchester Exchange, are shipping the product back to this country in an endeavour to break the market to the detriment of Patten and his associates. The World to-day says: "Although Mr. Soales who is working in harmony with Patten denies the truth of the report, Soales says bales have been put aboard ship ready to sail from Liverpool to-day." In the meanwhile, according to the article, Patten and his supporters are shipping to the other side for the spinners' supply, at the same time keeping quotations here sufficiently below those in Liverpool to prevent English speculators from buying the stuff there and reselling it here except at a heavy loss.

IN MEMORIAM.

Of Our Cousin "Jack."

The Grim Reaper has again come amongst us
This time so near to our home,
And has claimed for his victim—so early,
Dear Jack, so young, for his own.

His place, so well filled, is now empty,
His voice, once so cheery, is still,
And a place in our hearts, too, is vacant
Which no other ever can fill.

We listened, ah yes, for his footsteps,
We look for the form often met,
But these feet have now trod, and passed over
The dark, lonesome valley of death.

Lonesome? ah no, for our Saviour
Has promised to be with us, e'en there,
And with him for our Guide, we shall ever
Have nothing to dread nor fear.

So with Him we now shall leave him,
Thou' our hearts are bursting with grief,
For the angels have carried to Heaven
Another Golden Sheaf.

At Cochrane Street lecture rooms last evening the Hon. J. A. Robinson delivered a most pleasing lecture on "Memories". There was a large attendance present, and every person thoroughly enjoyed the recital of various experiences by the honourable gentleman. It is, of course, to be expected that a scholar and journalist such as Mr. Robinson should display marked literary skill, but, beside the polished periods, there was that subtle magnetic influence which at once captures the audience and held the attention of every one for the hour, which seemed all too short. Mr. Robinson with genuine wisdom interspersed some reminiscences which caused the audience to convulse with laughter, and the flashes of wit and humor brought out into clearer contrast the more solid portion of his address. Especially interesting were his references to the great political characters whom he met, and these included Gladstone, Disraeli, Bradlaugh and others with a new and living interest for those who had the good fortune to be present at the lecture. Many of us will not soon forget the pleasant evening spent with Mr. Robinson, and we trust that we may be privileged at some future time to hear him again. At the close a resolution of thanks to the lecturer was proposed and carried by a standing vote with acclamation.

Drill Averts Panic.

School Children See Smoke of Nearly Fire and Some Run Screaming to the Street.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—A fire in a one-story frame building on West Second street, Coney Island, caused a small panic among the pupils of Public School No. 100, on West Third street, directly in the rear this morning. Several of the children in the classroom on the ground floor nearest the burning shanty saw the smoke and flames and they ran screaming to the street. The principal, James Smith, who saw the smoke at the same time, rang the fire-drill gong, and the rest of the school in orderly array marched to the street. The building was emptied in three minutes. The smoke was seen, however, by many parents of the children who ran to the school. They found all the pupils in the street on the side opposite the school building and as the principal dismissed them for the rest of the morning the women were questioned.

The shanty was occupied by Mrs. Mary Shields and is owned by Abraham Blumberg. The damage amounted to $400.

A Legitimate Errand.

Mr. Chamberlain, the famous British statesman, who recently celebrated his seventy-third birthday, was leaving his house one New Year's eve when he was met by a band of men. "Are you a deputation?" he asked. "No, sir," replied one of the men, "we are the waits. We have been playing here every night for the last two weeks, and now we've come—" "Well?" inquired the tariff reformer leader impatiently. "The fact is, sir, we've come—" "Oh, I see," interposed Mr. Chamberlain, "you've come to apologize!" The musicians, however, did not go away unrewarded.

King Will Refuse to Make Peers.

New York, March 1.—A special cable from W. T. Stead the American's London correspondent says:—The crisis has cleared for a moment. The speech of Premier Asquith and Chancellor Lloyd-George have satisfied the Irish party that resolutions on the veto will be introduced. In both the Lords and the Commons a collision therefore is inevitable. When it occurs Mr. Asquith will appeal to the King. The question of the Reform of the Lords will be relegated to another session, which is equivalent to the Greek Kalends. The radicals do not realize that they are running their heads against a stone wall, as the King will certainly refuse to make peers to swamp the Lords. The Ministers will resign and Mr. Balfour will appeal to the country to defend the liberty of the Sovereign from Radical despotism.

BRUCE PASSENGERS.—The Bruce reached Port aux Basques at 7.30 A.M. to-day bringing H. E. Graves, T. R. Prince, Ref. J. and Mrs. Mercer, F. A. Whitaker, Geo. I. Field, M. C. Bayley, Mr. and Mrs. Mercer, Edward and Mrs. Devitt, J. Devitt, Capt. J. Poliffe and Pears Tompkins.

PATIENT FOR HOSPITAL.

Mrs. Edgar Gosse, of New Harbor, came in by train this morning to go to Hospital. She is unable to walk alone and had to be assisted to a carriage in waiting by a police officer.

Now Cured of Rheumatism

Cost him $100.00 for medicines which failed—Cured by DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS. Mr. James Clark, Maidstone, Sask., writes: "I suffered for four years with rheumatism in my shoulders and could not lift my arms above the head. I tried nearly all the advertised remedies but none of them gave me relief. It cost me at least $100.00 for medicines before I used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. With the use of this medicine, I soon found relief. I followed up this treatment for six months and was then quite free from rheumatism. While using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I also used Dr. Chase's Backache Baster when so stiff that I could scarcely bend. They always found the weak spot and gave relief while the internal treatment was bringing about a thorough cure." The success of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has been phenomenal. Dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Dr. Chase's Recipes will be sent free on request.

Mr. Munn Sets Forth the Abbe Baudoin's Extract.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—In your issue of the 21st Mr. Gosling has what he states to be a reply to my letter, but it is a very lame answer indeed, and I would ask him to stick to the point, and not try to draw a red herring across.

Mr. Gosling has given us some good letters and an excellent book on Labrador, but if he wishes us to believe his historical points we fully expect to get all the facts possible connected with these matters.

The question before us is:—Where was the first settlement founded in Newfoundland? Mr. Gosling uses all his arguments to prove that John Guy was the first at Cupids and that was the first settlement founded in Newfoundland.

I have contradicted him and given my evidence and proved that Mr. Gosling by using part of Abbe Baudoin's statement and by leaving out the rest, is trying to misinform the public on these matters.

Mr. Gosling states now that he doesn't want to bring Abbe Baudoin into the discussion, although he was the first to mention his name. As I stated before Mr. Gosling cannot explain this and therefore must be classed as a partizan only, and his ability to judge historical facts as compared with Judge Prowse and others must fall to the ground.

Through the kindness of His Grace Archbishop Howley, I have got an exact copy of Abbe Baudoin's journal referring to this matter. I give here, with in French and the translation in English, which has been checked over by a French gentleman residing in this city.

I have given the extract from this diary the day before and the day after, his mention of the points under discussion, so that Mr. Gosling cannot blame me for leaving out anything. The actual facts are expressed even stronger than Judge Prowse gives them in his History. There is no mention that it was the people of Harbour Grace who gave Abbe Baudoin this information.

It may have been the Delegates from Brigus, and as the Abbe had spent two months walking from Placentia to Renewes, Ferryland, Petty Harbour and St. John's, and then around Conception Bay, I should think he would have got almost as much information as even our friend Mr. Isaac C. Morris could get, and we must therefore believe his statements on this most important issue that Harbour Grace is the oldest settlement in Newfoundland.

Extract From the Journal of Abbe Baudoin.

Le 27. Le calme ne venant pas, Le Sr. D'Iberville envoie, par une forte neige, sommer l'île de dessin d'examiner si ces gens disent vrai. Ils examinent ces endroits qu'ils trouvent plus faciles d'accès qu'ils n'étaient: en effet les gens de l'île leur font défense de retourner.

Le 28. Gros vent le Sr. D'Iberville fait brûler le Havre de Grace, qui est un lieu fort bien établi, il y a quantité de bestiaux que les habitants n'ont pas eu le temps d'emener de l'île, ce Havre est le premier établi par les Anglais en l'île de Terre Neuve; il mourut tel un habitant, il y a trois ans n'en est plus resté.

Le 29. On renvoie les députés de Burge chez eux, fort contents le même jour, le Sr. De Plenne entre avec un parti de Canadiens dans le bois, d'où il ramène 29 fuyards.

Cette cote de la baie de Conception est bien mieux établie et plus peuplée que celle de Rogoussou à St. Jean, mais on ne trouve rien dans les maisons, les ayants tout caché dans les bois et les îles de cette Baie avant les neiges, ce qui fait qu'on ne peut découvrir leurs pistes.

Translation in English.

On the 27th the calm of the sea not coming Sir D'Iberville during a heavy snow, sent a summons to the island, in view to examine if the reports were true; they examine the place and find it is more easy of access than they think, in consequence the people of the island protect themselves of the return again.

On the 28th, strong wind, Sir D'Iberville burnt Harbour Grace, which is a well settled place, there is a quantity of cattle which the inhabitants of the island had not time to take away, this harbour is the first settled by the English in the Island of Newfoundland. Here died three years ago, one inhabitant 83 years old, and born in this place.

On the 29th, we send back the delegates of Brigus at their place very happy, the same day Sir De Plenne goes with a party of Canadians in the woods, where he captured 29 fugitives.

This coast of the Bay of Conception is better settled and more populous than that of Renewes at St. John's but nothing is found in the houses, the people having taken away everything into the woods and the islands of the Bay before the snow, which makes it impossible to discover their footsteps.

Here and There.

TWO LECTURES MORE.—The British Society will have two lectures more at their hall after Easter. On April 4th Mr. I. C. Morris will lecture on "Newfoundland, its past and future."

B.L.S. BILLIARDS.—Mr. D. Tobin defeated Mr. F. J. Canning by 22 points in the tournament last night, and Mr. Geo. McGuire beat Mr. J. Crotty. All the games must be finished to-night.

DEBATE TO-NIGHT.—The leaders in the M.C.L.I. debate at the Methodist College Hall to-night will be Messrs. I. C. Morris and S. Whiteway. The debate begins at 7.45. Rev. Mr. Fenwick also promises to take part.

Notes From Harbor Grace.

A. H. Szymour, M. H. A. who spent Sunday at home left for St. John's on Monday morning.

The man Bray who is suffering with smallpox is improving rapidly, and is considered out of danger.

No new cases as yet reported and the possibilities are that none will occur. The Board of Health has ordered the schools closed, and it is hoped that in a few weeks we will again have a "clean bill of health."

Mrs. W. Power and three children arrived from Bell Island by the S. S. Euphrates on Saturday. They will spend a time here with Mrs. P.'s mother, Mrs. Hogan.

Mrs. Albert Williams, of the West End, died yesterday, after a long illness, aged 37 years. The funeral takes place this afternoon.

The weather is delightful here now, and present appearances are that we will have an early spring. There is plenty time yet for a fair-sized winter, but Old Sol is gathering his strength and power so King Frost, if he pays us a visit in the night will be "knocked-out" early in the morning.

CORRESPONDENT.

H. Grace, March, 22, 1910.

Placentia Notes.

Mr. Richard Taylor arrived from the hospital by Monday evening's train. Mr. T. has been in the hospital the past week. He suffered from a cancer on the lip, but while there he received the best of attention, and is now on the road to recovery. Mr. W. B. Fitzgerald arrived from the city also on the same day. Mr. F. is now fully recovered from his recent injuries.

Since last writing, death has again visited us and taken away one of our oldest inhabitants in the person of Mrs. Theresa Dunphy. The deceased had been ailing for the past year, and thus her death came as no surprise. She was well advanced in years, having passed the four score mark. She leaves one son, Mr. J. T. Dunphy, mailman on the S. S. Glencoe, and one daughter, Mrs. T. Whelan, Jersey Side. The funeral took place on Tuesday, the last prayers being read by Rev. Monsignor Reardon, after which she was laid to rest in Mount Carmel Cemetery.

The S. S. Coban arrived from Sydney, Tuesday, with a load of coal to the R. N. Co. The work of discharging is about begun, and on St. Patrick's Day it was finished. She sailed again that night.

Accidents will sometimes happen, and death may result from the mishap. While the working men were discharging the cargo of the S. S. Coban, on St. Patrick's Day, a frightful accident occurred. Some few men were lifting a coal chute off the track at the station when suddenly it fell and crushed as its victim Mr. A. Murphy, of Argentina. Crowds of men hurried to his assistance but before they reached him he was badly mutilated. The priest and doctor were at the scene in quick time and did all possible for the wounded man but to no avail. Dr. McKendrick bandaged the wounds and had the body sent home for burial. To his sorrowing friends in their time of distress and trouble Placentia extends sympathy in which the Telegram and Castle Hill joins.

The general topic of discussion here the past few days was the concert on St. Patrick's Night. At 7.30 p.m. the doors were thrown open to the public, and before 7.45 every available seat was occupied, and even the gallery was filled.

The President of the S. S. A. thanked all present and told them not to forget the lecture Easter Monday night. After this those participating sang Auld Lang Syne, God Save the King, and the curtain went down after the best play that was ever held in the Star Hall, Placentia.

LOADING FOR NORTH SHORE.—The schr. Dorothy, Capt. Sheppard, is now loading provisions at Steer Bros. wharf for the North Shore, Conception Bay. She will sail this week.

THE SUREST CURE FOR WARTS.—Is a few applications of Putnam's Painless Wart and Corn Extractor. Has been successfully used for 30 years and never fails. Try "Putnam's."

PARADE DEFERRED.—We were informed as to the parade of the Star of the Sea at Holyrood on St. Patrick's Day. It being Passion Week the parade and concert were deferred to another date.

RIFLES FOR BRIGADES.—By the S. S. Ulunda the thousand rifles for the four city brigades arrived here. Each brigade yesterday was given 250 of them. They are of the breech-loading type and an improvement on the rifles now in use.

RINKS WERE CROWDED.—Last night both the Prince's and Parade Rinks were crowded with skaters. Owing to the frost of the past few nights both rinks had a good sheet of ice and the skaters thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

POLICE AFTER HIM.—The police are making strict enquiries as to the robbery of $5 and goods from the grocery store of Mr. M. Duffy. There is a strong suspicion of a party who has frequently been in the place, and an arrest is possible to-day.

THE EXODUS BEGINS.—By the shore train yesterday about 50 young men and women came up to Brigus Junction and there joined the Bruce express. Most of them go to Boston and Sydney and a few are bound for British Columbia.

DANCE AT GRAND FALLS.—A grand Easter Dance in aid of the R. C. Church will take place in the town Hall, at Grand Falls, Easter Monday night. An energetic committee is now working hard and already there is an assurance of success.

STORMY WEATHER WEST.—Last evening and night the weather was stormy on the western end of the railway line. This was particularly so at the Quarry where it drifted hard with a gale of S.W. wind. The mercury there registered 15 above zero.

FARMERS GETTING BUSY.—During the past few days farmers have been busy putting manure on their fields and getting the ground ready for plowing and the setting of seed. The fine weather of late makes this possible. Not for several years past has such a condition of affairs occurred.

CHINA CUPS and Saucers, Plates, Dishes, etc., Glass Preserve Dishes, Tumblers, Wine Glasses, Decanters, Vases, etc. We are always fully stocked with the above lines. At LARACY'S, 345 and 347 Water Street, opposite Post Office.—Jan.3,11.

Minard's Liniment Cures Distemper.

Star Hall.

On Easter Monday and Tuesday nights the Avalon Dramatic Co. will present to the people of St. John's the great 4 act Western drama, "Capt. Grip the Outlaw." The play from start to finish is full of thrilling scenes. The company have left nothing undone to make this one of the best plays ever produced in St. John's. The management wishes to inform the public that the hall has been cleaned and that the reserved seat chairs have all been numbered and the tickets numbered to suit the chairs. The two doors will be used—the western door for reserved seats and the eastern door for general admission. Reserved seats now on sale at Atlantic Bookstore.

Indigestion, Dyspepsia Means Slow Starvation.

Let those who have Experienced with Doubtful Remedies turn to-day to Dr. Hamilton's Pills and be Cured Quickly.

By the testimony of actual cures—by the words of those who have proved the merit of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, you can satisfy yourself that indigestion and dyspepsia are curable.

"Four years ago I got into a condition of low health—suffered all possible torture with acute indigestion, wind on the stomach and dizzy headaches. The very smell of food often was sufficient to make me violently ill. Energy was gradually fading away, I no longer had any desire for work or for the company of other people and was in the depths of despair. Worse martyrdom brain and body could not suffer, and live. I used so many remedies without success that I was in poor hopes of getting relief when I started on Dr. Hamilton's Pills. In a month I noticed a slight improvement and kept right on using one pill every second night. In a month I was another man, looked ruddy, strong, hearty, and I felt as if I had been made anew. Four years have gone by and I still rely on Dr. Hamilton's Pills and attribute to their power my present condition of robust health.

(Signed) H. P. ECKFORD, Rodney, P. O.

Be advised and test Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which for years have been the standard remedy for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Constipation, Flatulence, Headache, Backache, and all kidney, liver and bladder troubles. These diseases are all thoroughly cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box or five for $1.00, at all dealers or the Catarhazone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Icemen's Benefit.

The contest played at the Prince's Rink last night between the All-Comers and another seven resulted in a tie—4 goals each. Messrs. Sick, Trappell and Marshall were absent from the Crescent ranks and a team was made up of different clubs. The ice was in good condition and a large attendance was present. The game was very lively in the first half but in the second half the players tried on every possible occasion to put each other over the fence. Being the last match of the season Mr. Higgins, the referee, allowed the players considerable freedom. Bulley secured the first goal for the All-Comers after a lively bit of play. G. Herder and Bert Tait gave a splendid exhibition of play. Half time ended with three goals scored up for each side. In the second half each side secured another goal and the play ended with 4 to 4. The line-up was as follows: All-Comers—S. Walsh, goal; N. Vincincombe, point; B. Tait, cover point; G. Bulley, rover; D. Walsh, centre; E. Collier, right; A. White, left. Crescent—R. Burnham, goal; G. Herder, point; G. Paddon, cover point; J. Tobin, rover; H. Herder, centre; F. Brien, right; S. Pearce, left.

McMurdo's Store News

WEDNESDAY Mar. 23, 1910.

We have heard of people who have imported for their gardens a whole lot of seed for little or nothing—seeds in proportion. Now Sutton's Seeds are much cheaper than seeds of that character. They cost something to buy, of course; but other things being equal, the results in crops are vastly better both in quantity and quality. You reduce the chance of failure to a minimum when you put in Sutton's Seeds. Those who used them last year speak in glowing terms of them.

HOW CAN WE COUNTER-ACT

THE INCREASED COST OF LIVING?

A second's reasoning will supply the answer. Beef and pork are dear and getting dearer all the time, and the cost is out of proportion with their food-value.

EAT MORE BREAD.

There is more nourishment in a shilling's worth of bread than a shilling's worth of beef or pork. But the problem is not done with yet. The shilling's worth of bread is not always the same value. Breadmade from contains more nourishment than any other, because it contains the greatest amount of gluten, the health-giving nutriment of wheat.
