Resolution for 1916.

Realizing that it is my duty as a citizen of Newfoundland to help provide employment for our working people and to keep the wheels of industry running,

I HEREBY RESOLVE that from this time forward, no matter what I may buy, I shall take pains to enquire if it is the product of a home factory, and, if it is, quality being equal, I shall give it the preference.

AN APPRECIATION.

The following telegram just received by L. M. TRASK & CO., Nfld., Distributors for FERRO Engines, is in appreciation of the large volume of business secured by this company for the Ferro Factory. The message is as follows:—

"To L. M. TRASK & CO., St. John's, Nfld.
"To avoid outside parties purchasing in Montreal, are giving you exclusive agency in Province of Quebec. Mail complete order for repair parts for spring to be shipped with car.
(Signed),— FERRO MACHINE & FOUNDRY CO.,
Cleveland, Ohio."

Messrs. TRASK & CO. have been Factory Distributors for the FERRO in the Maritime Provinces and Nfld. since 1907, and the extension of the territory given them by the Ferro Factory is proof that they can get the business.

The Ferro organization has over 1500 agents throughout the world, and the executive has stated to Mr. Trask on several occasions that he has sold more engines for them than any other three agents put together.

BRIGHTER CHILDREN

Children are probably brighter to-day than a generation ago—but are they stronger? That's a grave question. So many pinched faces, dulled eyes and languid feeling make us wonder if they will ever grow into robust, healthy men and women.

Scott's Emulsion is used in private schools. It is not a "patent medicine," simply a highly concentrated oil-food, free from harmful drugs. It cannot harm; it improves blood; it benefits lungs and strengthens the system. Your druggist has it—refuse substitutes.

many of the weaknesses of humanity," he answered, honestly, but with a troubled tone.

"Because I did not wear my heart on my sleeve?" she queried.

"Perhaps I did you an injustice," he said, earnestly. "I am—yes, I am glad that I did. Just as I am glad now to know that I did. Lady Flora," he went on, as if he believed his safety lay in haste, "I will tell you all that I came to, and more."

The proud head was slowly raised, and the eyes that could look so steely and hard shone on him with an expression little short of beseeching.

"I had thought that now you would be. You are poor now, and I feel that you perhaps can understand me and my position. Will you not be sincere?"

"I am sincere," he answered. "But what would you have me say? Yes, I know you are poor, and I can guess what it must mean to you."

"Not quite," she said, bitterly. "You are a man, and poor or rich, you at least are the arbiter of your own fate. I am a woman, and there is but one fate for me. I must marry a rich man."

"It is the custom, I believe," he said, simply.

"Yes, it is the custom," she replied; "but do you think custom makes it easier? Do you imagine a woman respects herself the more because the custom has paved the way for her?"

"It is a question I cannot answer," he said. "Ask yourself if you could brook the thought of being the wife of a poor man."

"I cannot answer myself that question. I only know that a woman never respects herself the more because she is capable of until the man she loves asks her to make a sacrifice."

"Do you believe, then, in love?" he asked.

"Do I believe in it? Is there a woman who does not?"

"Do you think a man should ever ask a woman to make a sacrifice for him?"

"If the making of it would give her greater happiness, yes."

"Could such a thing be?" he asked.

"I do not know," she answered; but as she answered she turned her eyes up to his, and they told him that she did know—that she felt that it would be happiness to make a sacrifice for the man she loved.

His resolution not to betray his love came to him in the same instant that the desire to do it urged him on. He turned and took a step away, then faced her again, and said, hoarsely:

"I came here with two resolutions in my heart. I came to say good-by, and I came determined not to betray the one secret of my heart. But you have taxed me with insincerity. No! Well, you have asked me to be sincere. I will be. I love you, Lady Flora."

Her head was bent, her hands lay passive in her lap. He looked for some sign from her, but none came.

Christmas Gift Fund GIFTS HIGHLY APPRECIATED Letter From Captain Ledwith Mrs. G. H. Emerson, Honorary Treasurer of the Women's Patriotic Association, has received the following letter from Captain Ledwith, Quarter-Master at Ayr, relative to Christmas Gifts sent to our Society as a result of the Fund which collected here in November last— December 25th, 1915. Dear Mrs. Emerson—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of November 25th, with reference to Christmas Gifts, cakes and Chocolate, which the "Christmas Gift Fund" so kindly sent for distribution among the men at this Depot and in hospital. These packages were received on December 22nd, and were immediately repacked and dispatched this morning day. From the list received from our Record Office, London, have sent: 57 Cakes and Chocolate, 3rd London General Hospital, Wandsworth; 22 Cakes and Chocolate, Northampton; 5 Cakes and Chocolate various Hospitals; 149 Cakes and Chocolate Gaites Company; 367 Cakes and Chocolate Depot, New York on Ayr. The packages for men in hospital were addressed to each man in a separate packet in cases, and the whole addressed to the matrons of the hospital. I also wrote the Matrons asking that the gifts be distributed among the men. We gave the men here the gifts on Tuesday afternoon. They were all pleased with them and cheers were given for the Women's Patriotic Association and the donors for their kindness. I think that we have all spent a very enjoyable day here to-day, although perhaps some may have had a little bit "homesick." A wagon full of Holly and Evergreen was sent yesterday and the men have had their quarters nicely decorated. The number, I am glad to say, was also a great success and everybody seemed well pleased. I regret to hear the rumor that is being circulated regarding socks and comfort, and am glad to be able to deny same as far as this Depot is concerned. At the time the ladies of Ayr kindly offered to do the mending, it was not possible to accept same owing to the fact that many of the men had arranged their washing and mending privately. Since then, however, we send everything to the same laundry, where after washing

Mrs. G. H. Emerson, Honorary Treasurer of the Women's Patriotic Association, has received the following letter from Captain Ledingham, Quarter-Master at Ayr, relative to the Christmas Gifts sent to our Soldiers as a result of the Fund which was collected here in November last:

December, 25th, 1915.
Dear Mrs. Emerson,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of November 25th, with reference to the Christmas Gifts, cakes and Chocolate, which the "Christmas Gift Fund" so kindly sent for distribution among the men at this Depot and in hospital. These packages were received here December 22nd, and were immediately repacked and dispatched the following day. From the list received from our Record Office, London, I have sent:
57 Cakes and Chocolate, 3rd London General Hospital, Wandsworth.
22 Cakes and Chocolate, Netley, Hants.
5 Cakes and Chocolate various other Hospitals.
149 Cakes and Chocolate Gales Camp "C" Company.
367 Cakes and Chocolate Depot, Newton on Ayr.

The packages for men in hospital were addressed to each man and packed in cases, and the whole addressed to the matrons of the Hospital. I also wrote the Matrons asking that the gifts be distributed to the men.
We gave the men here the gifts yesterday afternoon. They were greatly pleased with them and others were given for the Women's Patriotic Association and the donors for their kindness.
I think that we have all spent a very enjoyable day here to-day, although perhaps some may have felt a little bit "homesick." A wagon load of Holly and Evergreen was sent us yesterday and the men have the quarters nicely decorated. The dinner, I am glad to say, was also a great success and everybody seemed well pleased. I regret to hear the rumor that is being circulated regarding socks and comforters, and am glad to be able to deny same as far as this Depot is concerned. At the time the ladies of Ayr kindly offered to do the mending, it was not possible to accept same owing to the fact that most of the men had arranged their washing and mending privately. Since then, however, we send everything to the same laundry, where after washing, the clothing is passed over to a society (called, I think, the British Women's League), who mend the articles and return them to the laundry, and it is then forwarded to the Depot. The charge for this is 3d. per man per month, and the proceeds go to the Red Cross Society. When sending out drafts from here to join the battalion, each man gets two new pairs of socks in addition to those already in his possession.

I take this opportunity of thanking the people who contributed to the fund on behalf of the men of this Depot for the splendid gifts and the great interest that is being taken in them.
Trusting the arrangements re distributing the gifts will have your approval, and wishing you the compliments of the season,
I remain,
Yours very sincerely,
(Sgd.) J. A. LEDINGHAM,
Capt. and Q.M.

ESSENCE OF GINGER WINE.
Having had considerable correspondence with parties in the Old Country, I have at last succeeded in obtaining the genuine and original recipe for the "Essence of Ginger Wine," which I now offer at 15 cents per bottle. This recipe has been safely guarded for a great many years and is strictly non-alcoholic. It makes an ideal Christmas drink for the young and the old. The contents of one fifteen-cent bottle, mixed with three quarts of hot water, in which there has been previously dissolved one and a quarter pounds of sugar, makes the Ginger Wine ready for use. I have much pleasure in introducing this old (but still new) preparation.

Your Boys and Girls.
Some babies seem to catch cold on the slightest provocation. This is often due to the fact that they have been kept in too warm a room or have been clothed too warmly. They may have gotten overheated and then have felt the slightest draught of air.
At night keep the baby's room at a temperature of sixty to sixty-five degrees of 68 to 70 degrees, have the thermometer hung about the level of the baby's head when he is in his crib.
When baby has a cold and his nose seems to be stopped up, twist a piece of cotton about a wooden toothpick and insert a little way up the nostrils. Be careful not to push it up too far.

THE SNOW.

The schoolboy shrieks with exultant glee, when the snow comes down and showers the "ice." What fun to wade in the dazzling flakes, without a fear rheumatic aches! What fun to ride on a speedy sled, till the "kids to bed!" "What fun to fashion a ball of snow, and throw it straight as a boy can throw, and see it break on some pilgrim's neck, and hear him quote from the works of Heek! The snow means oodles of wholesome joy to the glowing soul of the growing boy. But the snow means grief to the ancient gent, whose step is feeble, whose back is bent. He coughs his diaphragm inside out, and he has the grip and he has the gout; and all diseases he ever knew, the snow brings back, and some others, too. He has to shovel a little track, and he slips and falls and he breaks his back, and the snowball thrown by the joyous kid, drives in his whiskers and spoils his lid, and he calls aloud, in a voice of woe, "Oh, blank the blinkety blink blank snow!"

Ambulance Blocked in Snow.

Messrs. W. Clooney and R. Druken, cabmen, who left here on Saturday at noon for Bay Bulls to bring along for Hospital Mr. Michael Williams, of that place, who met with a serious accident the previous day, returned to town at 8 o'clock this a.m. having failed to reach their destination. The men experienced a hard time going over the road. The snow was very deep and the conveyance got blocked about three miles this side of Bay Bulls and it was only by the strenuous efforts of the cabmen that it was released. The ambulance left town again at 3 this a.m. to bring along Mr. Williams whose injuries amount to two broken legs, we hear, is partly the nature of his injuries, the result of a load of wood falling on him.

Hockey Notes.

Enthusiasm is on the increase in hockey circles. The fans are delighted with the hard spurt of weather and hoping that Jack Frost will prolong his visit.

All the clubs are working overtime to get themselves in trim. Each team has had a practice. The ice was seldom in better condition at the Prince's Rink than it is now, and intending players will have to make much of the present week so far as practice is concerned, as the opening game will be pulled off next Monday evening at the rink, which will be the Victorias and Terra Novas.

The following Wednesday the Feildians and St. Bon's will try conclusions.

All the teams are somewhat slow in getting together, but those who profess to know much about such matters are responsible for the assertion that when the line-ups are ready the League will consist of strong aggregations.

The first game promises to be of more than ordinary interest. The Terra Novas, who were close runners-up in 1915, are said to be much stronger this season, and are going to give their supporters good results. However, the opinion of those who are comers are considered well up to expectations, think differently, and have not the slightest doubt about attaining that which is suggestive of their own name.

The Feildians, last year's victors, are not going to raise any objection to being called the "juniors," but they are going to make bold strides for the championship.

The St. Bon's are equally confident of the laurels. They have excellent material and should make a creditable showing. They are going to have a try-out at the rink this evening.

Mr. Buffett Notes.

A grand concert was held here a short time ago, by the children of the C. of E. High School, at the Buffett Hall. It proved to be a great success and reflected much credit on the children, who took their parts so well. The concert started at 8 p.m. with the song, "We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall"; then followed a series of dialogues, songs, recitations and drills. A Shorter was present and gave a very interesting address, in which he showed forth the good work done by the school the past year. Mr. W. S. Hatcher then gave a short address and urged all parents to do what they could to help out the teacher in his work. The entertainment then came to a close by singing the National Anthem. Much thanks are due to the following persons who assisted: Miss Lillian Collett, Mr. George Collett, Mr. Walter Hahn, Mr. Isaac Waksley, Mr. Richard Collett and Mr. Malcolm Chambers.

WITH THE VOLUNTEERS.—Saturday was spent in different indoor drilling exercises. It is hoped that recruiting, which has been so slack of late, will brighten somewhat this week. About thirty volunteers were equipped with uniforms on Saturday last.

The Coal Problem.

The cold spurt of the week-end will naturally have its effect on coal consumption which will continue to increase if we have many recurrences of it during the next six weeks. The important duty imposed on the Coal Committee is to see that the supplies of $8.00 coal be eked out until the Alameda coal arrives here. This cargo is due at the beginning of February. The problem of keeping the supply of coal at as low a price as possible is a difficult one, no matter what may be done in Newfoundland. The adverse factors are mainly those outside the control of the Newfoundland Government. An article in the Canadian Mining Journal by Mr. F. W. Gray gives much information of the conditions in Nova Scotia. He says that at the beginning of the St. Lawrence season that the Dominion Coal Company had lost no less than fifty-five per cent of its seasoned, chartered tonnage by Admiralty requisition, and in addition this Company lost at sea the chartered vessels Kron Prins Olaf, Eastington and Kilda, and its own two vessels the Cacouca and Cabot. Nova Scotia has also had its coal output handicapped by the enlistment of 2,975 men to the end of November out of 14,500 workmen employed about the collieries at the beginning of the war. Moreover, the demands for coal have been increased by bunkering the fleet of transports constantly running between Canada and Great Britain, the coaling of cruisers, and the manufacture of munitions. The writer states that 640,000 tons have been used for making steel and shells. In addition a large quantity of coal has been used in the manufacture of 11 million pounds of explosive Trinitrotoluene. These facts are sufficient to show that the difficulties of supplying coal in quantities sufficient for households, stores and factories at as low a price as possible are very considerable, and every effort should be made to aid the Government and the Citizens' Committee in doing the best possible under the circumstances.

Feeding the Germans.

An agitation is going on in England for a stricter embargo on supplies being sent to our enemies by neutrals, principally the Americans, and it is alleged that considerable laxity is exercised by the Foreign Office for fear of offending the United States. It is contended that the Navy could do much more than they are doing if given a freer hand. Facts and figures are not available to show whether the supply reaching Germany is so considerable as to be worth while cutting off at the expense of any friction that might ensue with the States. But before taking any steps of the kind, it would be incumbent to see that supplies reaching Germany from Great Britain are cut off first. This appears not to be so, as regards cocoa, if the figures given in recent issues of the London Daily Mail are correct. According to these figures, it would appear that Holland, Denmark and Scandinavia in 1915 obtained all told about 2,700,000 lbs., and in 1914 about 2,600,000 lbs., while in 1915 up to Dec. 21st, they imported from Britain 34 million lbs. The figures in regard to Denmark which has a land frontier with Germany are particularly illuminating. In 1913, Britain exported 50,732 lbs. to Denmark, whereas in 1915 up to December 21st, the export was 10,430,419 lbs. So long as the

McMurdo's Store News

MONDAY, Jan. 17th, 1916.

On a damp chilly day, you should try a Hot Cocoa Cordial, or a Tomato Bouillon; either of these pleasant drinks is stimulating, warming, and for the time being, satisfying, so that they do not interfere with the appetite for the next meal. There is no reaction from these drinks. Price 10 cents each.

We hear nothing but good of Palmolive Soap, and it seems likely to become quite popular. It is a good class toilet soap for general use, and is not expensive, as this twenty-cent cake is of generous size.

For some time past the firm of Messrs. Baine, Johnstone & Co. have had quantities of articles in the grocery and provision line disappearing from their premises, without knowing their destination or receiving any returns for them. It was only one day last week Mr. J. C. Hepburn, the manager, had his suspicion aroused and determined to put a stop to what looked to be a mysterious theft. He put the matter into the hands of the police for two days without success. Detective Sergeant Byrne secreted himself on the premises Saturday night. Lying alongside either side of the pier were the vessels Idalia and Attilla, which were laden with fish and ready for sea. Byrne had a clue that some one on board of one of the vessels was engaged in the notorious work, which was occupying his attention. It happened that he was right. After several hours had passed the officer noticed a man walking off the wharf with a godly supply of provisions in his possession. It proved to be the cook of the Attilla, named Murphy. Byrne made no alarm whatsoever, but simply kept the trail of Murphy to his home where the goods, which consisted of 50 pounds of beans were brought. It was then about 4 o'clock yesterday (Sunday) morning, and after seizing the beans, the detective requested Murphy to accompany him to the police station which he did. This morning the accused was arraigned before Mr. Morris, J.P., and acknowledged having stolen the beans, which were found in his possession, but denied any knowledge of other goods. Murphy was remanded for eight days. In the meantime the police are continuing their investigation and are expecting to make more arrests this evening, and an inventory of all the goods stolen is being made out by Baine, Johnstone & Co.

S. S. Retlaw Arrives in Leaking Condition

With ten feet of water in No. 1 hold, the s.s. Retlaw, Capt. Geo. Hiscock, crippled into this port last evening. The steamer has been under charter to the Standard Oil Company for the past seven or eight months carrying kerosene oil in barrels to Havre from the United States for the French Government. She was thirteen days out from an American port to Havre. Bad weather was met and the heavy pounding of the seas against the ship, which had a light cargo, caused her to leak. The thrush of water was great and the pumps had to be constantly kept going, though the water gained. Captain Hiscock then decided to come to St. John's for repairs.

DRY-DOCKED.

This morning the ship went into dry dock. This afternoon she will be surveyed and the extent of her damages known.

FORMERLY THE HYDRA.

The Retlaw was formerly the Hydra, of Glasgow, owned by MacKay and McIntyre, and commanded by Captain A. Ford, well known here. On being re-purchased, Capt. Hiscock took command. The Retlaw is 4,061 tons gross, 2,226 net, 350 feet long, 49 feet wide, and 19.2 feet deep. Messrs Brown Bros., Ltd., are her agents here.

CAPTAIN HISCOCK.

Capt. George Hiscock was born in Trinity, and was educated in St. John's where he is well known. For many years he was mate of Bowring's Devonia and Cordelia. He is a brother of Miss N. Hiscock, who is at present governess with Mr. Geo. Knowling, Jr.

SAD CIRCUMSTANCE.

This morning, Capt. Hiscock wired to his mother at Trinity to come on to St. John's and see him, but he received the sad reply that she was dangerously ill of pneumonia, and to go home and see her. Capt. Hiscock leaves by this evening's train for Trinity.

Byrne had a clue that some one on board of one of the vessels was engaged in the notorious work, which was occupying his attention. It happened that he was right. After several hours had passed the officer noticed a man walking off the wharf with a godly supply of provisions in his possession. It proved to be the cook of the Attilla, named Murphy. Byrne made no alarm whatsoever, but simply kept the trail of Murphy to his home where the goods, which consisted of 50 pounds of beans were brought. It was then about 4 o'clock yesterday (Sunday) morning, and after seizing the beans, the detective requested Murphy to accompany him to the police station which he did. This morning the accused was arraigned before Mr. Morris, J.P., and acknowledged having stolen the beans, which were found in his possession, but denied any knowledge of other goods. Murphy was remanded for eight days. In the meantime the police are continuing their investigation and are expecting to make more arrests this evening, and an inventory of all the goods stolen is being made out by Baine, Johnstone & Co.

S. S. Retlaw Arrives in Leaking Condition

With ten feet of water in No. 1 hold, the s.s. Retlaw, Capt. Geo. Hiscock, crippled into this port last evening. The steamer has been under charter to the Standard Oil Company for the past seven or eight months carrying kerosene oil in barrels to Havre from the United States for the French Government. She was thirteen days out from an American port to Havre. Bad weather was met and the heavy pounding of the seas against the ship, which had a light cargo, caused her to leak. The thrush of water was great and the pumps had to be constantly kept going, though the water gained. Captain Hiscock then decided to come to St. John's for repairs.

DRY-DOCKED.

This morning the ship went into dry dock. This afternoon she will be surveyed and the extent of her damages known.

FORMERLY THE HYDRA.

The Retlaw was formerly the Hydra, of Glasgow, owned by MacKay and McIntyre, and commanded by Captain A. Ford, well known here. On being re-purchased, Capt. Hiscock took command. Lord's Day Alliance.

The annual meeting of the Lord's Day Alliance of Newfoundland took place at the College Hall last night. His Lordship Bishop Jones presiding. His Lordship gave an interesting and inspiring address, emphasizing the necessity of the strict observance of the Sunday, and contrasting the views of the present generation on this matter with those of our forefathers. In concluding his remarks His Lordship said that it was incumbent on us to retain what we still possess of the old spirit and observances because if lost they can never be regained.

Rev. Dr. Jones, of St. Thomas's, followed and also laid stress on the importance of the Sunday both socially and religiously. He showed that the working man needed one day in seven to recuperate, and that from every viewpoint it was most necessary that Sunday be observed.

Rev. N. M. Guy, of George Street, Methodist Church, was the next speaker. He drew the distinction between

PARIS, To-day. A despatch to the Temps from Salonika dated Friday, says Colonel Bokositch, the Serbian Minister of War, before leaving here for Brindisi on the Greek torpedo boat, completely reorganized the army of one hundred thousand men. The Minister said the Bulgarians were advancing into Albania under the greatest difficulties, owing to lack of roads. He added, "The Italian disembarkation at Albania, it will be necessary for the Serbs to leave the country. Another despatch from the same correspondent, dated Saturday, says the provisioning of the Austro-German, Bulgarian and Turkish troops and the transport of their artillery and munitions is so difficult that it is estimated they will not be in condition to take the offensive against the Entente Allies before two weeks. The correspondent adds aerial reconnaissances have made known the disposition of troops of the Central Powers and their allies.

BOWLES DENOUNCES GREY.

LONDON, To-day. Thos. Gibson Bowles, well known as an authority on Maritime Law, in a speech here to-day severely criticized what he termed the ineffectual methods of the Foreign Office against Germany. Sir Edward Grey, British Foreign Secretary, said Bowles, had held the opinion that Germany must not be starved. For a decade he had tried to surrender our Maritime rights. He went to the Hague in 1906 prepared to abandon the rights of contraband search and capture in return for an illusory promise of universal disarmament, and even to-day he is hampering the right and duty of the fleet to inflict loss on the enemy for the bog of the fear of neutrals. The British blockade of Germany, he said, would be completely effectual if the navy were allowed to make it effectual. If they were left alone, the navy would certainly end the war.

THE KAISER HAS RECOVERED.

BERLIN, To-day. Official. After a complete recovery, Emperor William returned on Sunday afternoon to the war theatre.

FLOOD CONTINUES IN HOLLAND.

LONDON, To-day. A despatch to the Central News, from Amsterdam says the floods in northern Holland are producing a situation, the town of Prumerend which is less than ten miles from Amsterdam is under water at many points and the flood is three feet higher than yesterday. Everywhere in the flood section bodies of cattle drowned can be seen floating. Only trees and farm houses are above the surface of the water. The bodies of 12 persons who were drowned in Marken were washed ashore to-day at Volendam.

LONDON BUDGET.

LONDON, To-day. The Turks are now being attacked by the Russians and British in Caucasus. The Russians, really reinforced, are on the offensive along a front of almost a hundred miles, while in Mesopotamia the British have forced the retreat of the Ottoman troops along both banks of Tigris River to the South. The British are still closely pressing them on the east and north. Constantinople reports near Karadagh the Russian fighting on Persia are also claimed, while Petrograd asserts that at some unnamed place a large number of Turkish officers, men, war materials provisions, eight guns, and eight machine guns were captured by the Russians. Successes for the Russians in fighting on Persia are also claimed by Petrograd in its official report. Petrograd makes the first announcement that Germans are fighting with the Turks in this region. The Turks retreating along the Tigris are these who have held back General Aylmer's column proceeding up the River to the relief of the British in Kut-el-Amara. On other fronts except in Montenegro, little fighting is in progress. The offensive of the Russians in east Galicia and along Bessarabia front has again died down. On the line in France and Belgium operations consisted mainly of artillery duels, meaning mining work. Big British guns have thrown shells into Lille. Berlin says only slight damage was done to a trench taken by Austro-German fighting on the Italians near the Tolmino bridgehead. An increase in Italian bombardment in this region and also at Gorizia, Merivich and Mont. San Michel from the chief events of the Austro-Italian line. In Montenegro the Hungarians continue their pursuit of Montenegrins, capturing from them positions and men. Podoritz to east Cetinje and Njic are the latest places evacuated. The Montenegrin Government is now at Scutari, Albania, according to an unofficial report from Berlin. Advice from Rome says that the Italian Cabinet has begun plans for giving adequate assistance to Montenegro and Serbia, but the nature of this aid and the manner in which it will be rendered is not known. Semi-official Overseas News Agency of Berlin discredits the announcement that the French submarine Foucault sank an Austro-Hungarian Cruiser of the Novara type in the Adriatic, since no Austro-Hungarian ship is missing, and says the News Agency, the Foucault must have sunk a ship of the Entente Powers by mistake.

CARDINAL MERCIER VISITS HIS HOLINESS.

ROME, To-day. Cardinal Mercier, Belgian Primate, maintains the strictest reserve regarding a big bundle of papers which he found on Capt. Von Popen when the Pope received him in a private audience, and which the Pope left with His Holiness.

THE BARALONG NOTE AND CAPTAIN PAPAN'S CONSPIRACY.

LONDON, To-day. The morning newspapers comment extensively on both Germany's note to Great Britain concerning the Baralong incident and the papers seized from Capt. Von Papan, former German Military attaché, at Washington. The Baralong note in general is characterized as a piece of legal pettifoggery, which will not likely get much support in the United States. The Daily Chronicle expresses the belief that only a small part of the evidence found on Capt. Von Papan has yet been revealed. Americans have had plenty of time to appreciate the novel development of the functions of accredited diplomats, says the Daily Chronicle, but direct evidence like Capt. Von Papan's banking documents deserves to make a great impression. If fears of the last mask as far as the former military attaché is concerned and convicts him by the proof of his own papers. It seems impossible, says the Daily News, to make German opinion realize how the outside world looks up cruel pedantry, which substitutes shifty adherence to the letter of the law for any kind of respect for its spirit. But Belgium, Poland, Serbia and Rumania are permanent examples of the operation of international law as made in Germany. The diplomatic action in neutral countries. The newspapers add that while the letters seized from James F. Archibald do not contain anything that member of Austrian or German Embassies was directly concerned in the promotion of outrages, the evidence of a direct connection would seem to be afforded by the Von Papan document. The Times concludes: "Von Papan's unlimited contempt for 'Idiotic Yankees' was proclaimed in the Archibald papers. The present documents show how widely it was shared and how openly it was expressed by his colleagues."

THE DOLLAR.

By GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Sivas."

It is impossible to speak of the kindly, hard-working dollar in anything but terms of affection. Whatever may be our contempt for twenty dollar bills and $1,000 bills we can only admit that the plain and capable dollar is a friend of humanity and is full of good works.

There are two kinds of dollars, hard and soft. The East prefers the soft dollar, which can be folded up and placed in a pocket book in the hip pocket, from which it can easily be extracted by removing the glove and turning the contents of the pocket-book upside down into a hat. The hurried West prefers the hard dollar, which is durable, convenient and cannot be mistaken in the dark for a laundry bill and cast laughily into the fire.

However, hard and soft dollars are equally potent in producing pleasure and joy. The amount of sunshine and effort and internal comfort which a dollar, even an old and dog-eared one, can produce, is little short of marvelous. A dollar will set 'em up from ten to forty times to cigars. It will carry us fifty miles by railroad and support a man for several days. A dollar will buy enough printed wisdom to last some men forty years, or it will purchase three hundred laughs in the balcony of any theatre. A dollar will commit twenty acts of charity. With the 200th part of a dollar, a poor woman purchased a reputation for charity almost two thousand years ago which even now makes John D. Rockefeller look like a tight wad. With a dollar a man can buy a year's good government, and with a dollar he can buy much trouble that he will still be dodging ten years hence. Everyone loves the dollar and it is hospitable to it. We may be charming and lovable, ingenious and aesthetically-minded, but unless we can induce a certain number of dollars per week to gather beneath our humble roof, we are going to make a failure out of life. No other visitor is as welcome as the dollar. The man who will grumble if he has to get out of his chair at 7 p.m. and welcome his mother-in-law, will slide down the banisters at 2 a.m. with a glad shriek and welcome a dollar with both hands. Some men, however, do not seem able to entertain the dollar when they have it. They will start the week with fifty of them and those dollars will make the most ridiculous excuses to leave him and stay gone. Other men, who have never entertained a human being in their lives, are so fascinated to dollars that the little creatures will not only make their permanent homes with them, but will go out and grab other dollars by the neck and haul them in. The taste of the dollar in choosing its friends, however, cannot always be commended. Many times a dollar will leave a splendid, upright man and cling to a usurer until Death do them part. Dollars delight to work for men, but some men are very poor bosses. They have to use a hundred dollars to get the results which other men can accomplish with five. Dollar training is one of the most beneficial exercises, and if you persist in it you can, in time, persuade the faithful creatures to do all your work for you.

On Street Fighting.

By RUTH CAMERON.

A letter friend has put a problem up to me which (strange as it may seem) I do not feel capable of solving.

"Is it right or just to always step in and stop a fight between two boys?"

"No particular instance has influenced me, but I have always stepped and listened and tried to find out something about them before 'butting in', and so far I have never found occasion to stop a fight. I have many times been rebuked for this conclusion, and as I could not convince my rebukers nor they me, I wish you would tell me what you think."

He Had Evidently Been Taught Not To Fight.

"Recently I overheard one boy call another (of apparently much finer character) an unprintable name. The finer looking boy looked as if he wanted to punish the other good and hard, but did not, only flushed. If he had started and got the worst of it I should certainly have helped him give the four-mouthed one what I thought he deserved."

"Again, recently, about fifty boys were following a running fight in the alley behind my house between a fine-looking white boy and a very coarse and tough-looking colored boy. I went near to see what it was about, and stood waiting to manage the affair my own way, when a neighbour came running in and stopped them without asking a word, and it looked to me like mere brute force stopping a well-deserved punishment. (For the sake of bringing out my point we pretend that the matter was afterwards investigated and it was found out that one did actually deserve punishment of some kind.)

Such Boys Need Some Kind Of A Lesson.

"Names are used now, commonly that our fathers or our grandfathers would have committed murder rather than pass unchallenged. I would like to have every boy understand early in life that he cannot use such terms when they are not true without a speedy punishment and that public sentiment will stand back of the boy who punishes him, and that the needful look for protection to a lot of molly-coddles who act as if fighting for a principle or a clean name were the most heinous crime at all."

"I would not write you, only so far as I know, I stand alone in my theory and would like to know, if I am wrong, wherein the wrong lies."

What do you think about it, reader friends?

Part Of The Bigger Problem.

I don't know just what I think, because it is part of a larger problem on which my mind hasn't yet crystallized. Of course, you can easily recognize the larger problem.

That boys should be permitted to go about using offensive language, unprovoked, does not seem right.

Education is, of course, the ultimate solution of this, as of most of the problems of crime and poverty. But in the meantime, what?

It does seem as if there ought to be some other way to rebuke a boy besides punching him.

On the other hand, "to fight for a principle" has a ringing sound—it strikes some pretty fine chords.

What do you think, reader friends? Will you solve this problem for me? I'd like to hear from any who are interested, and we'll have a symposium some day.

Father Rawlins Leaves Cape Broyle.

Sunday, January 9th, was Father Rawlins' last Sunday at Cape Broyle, where he laboured as Curate for Rev. Father Vereker for six years. The occasion was marked by many evidences of the affection and esteem in which the whole-souled and warm-hearted people of the Parish held their Curate and of the unfeigned love the Priest bore the people, especially the lambs of the flock. Before his departure the entire congregation assembled and presented Father Rawlins with a purse and a complimentary address expressing the very great esteem in which he was held by the members of the congregation and the great sorrow felt at his departure from amongst them. The Ladies of the Altar Society whose zeal for the beauty of God's house Father Rawlins always appreciated and often commended, also presented him with a beautiful address; also the Promoters of the League of the Sacred Heart. In his reply Father Rawlins warmly thanked the people for their generous cooperation in all the work, spiritual and temporal, that had been accomplished during the past six years, their generous offering was valued a thousand fold more because it was the spontaneous outcome of that spirit of filial affection which always animated the good people of Cape Broyle. He congratulated the people on being so attentive to their spiritual duties and exhorted them to increased love for Jesus in the Sacrament of His love, to steadfast loyalty to Holy Church and to always remain true and zealous members in the League of the Sacred Heart.

CAPE BROYLE ADDRESS
On Behalf of the Congregation.

Rev. Father Rawlins—
On behalf of the people of Cape Broyle, Brigus and Admiral's Cove we tender to you our deep regret upon your departure from this part of the Ferryland Parish. We must say that during your short stay of six years amongst us you have by your holy, pious and energetic ways won the cordiality of each one of us. Words are fruitless to convey to you our heartfelt sorrow in having to part with you. With your kind permission we would call attention to the good work you have accomplished since you came here; the improvements around the church grounds which have been surrounded by a substantial concrete wall and a beautiful fence, the building of three school houses, namely, Cape Broyle, Brigus and Admiral's

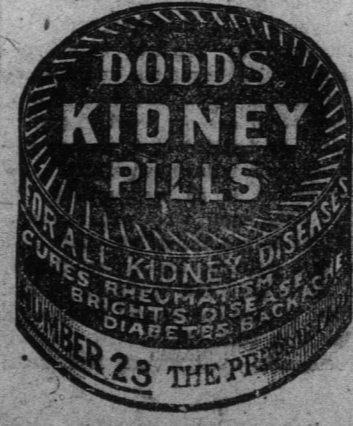

Cove, and the erection of the wire fence around our cemetery stands to prove how energetically you have laboured and how gloriously you have accomplished the work of the Little Church has been recently adorned with a beautiful set of Stations of the Cross, two graceful Statues and a handsome Sanctuary Lamp and various other costly articles, all due to your ardent zeal and unswerving perseverance. It must please our dearly beloved venerable Parish Priest, Rev. Father Vereker, to witness the many extensive improvements that have been accomplished during the short stay of his estimable Curate. But though all these articles may fade and vanish with time, you leave one Spiritual work which will never fade: the establishing of the League of the Sacred Heart, as it will be always fresh in our minds. We are deeply sensible that there could be no Priest more eager to promote our welfare, both Spiritual and temporal, than you have been since you came amongst us; you have so endeared yourself to us that greater harmony between Priest and people could not exist anywhere. To-day then on your departure from this Parish with hearts filled with sentiments of loyalty, esteem and veneration we express our regret on your leaving and as a token of our lasting esteem, friendship and love we could not consent to part with you without leaving in your hands some memorial, however trifling, of deep and abiding gratitude for your unceasing efforts to benefit us. We ask you to accept his purse and when in future days you look upon this memento let it be a pleasant token of the deepest love and reverence of our hearers.

Signed on behalf of the congregation:
John J. O'Brien, Thomas Walsh, William O'Brien, L. V. Cashin, John Dalton, J. J. O'Brien, L. V. Cashin, Patrick Harvey, John Hawkins, Thomas J. Battcock, Stephen Battcock.

ADDRESS FROM THE LEAGUE.

Rev. Father Rawlins—
We, the Promoters of the League of the Sacred Heart, on behalf of its members, deeply express our sincere sorrow upon your departure from us. We thank you for all your endeavours to do us good, and may the good work of the League which you established amongst us increase as years go by. We know we shall miss your kind words in trying to promote devotions to the Sacred Heart. Knowing then that we have to part with you, kindly accept our congratulations on your promotion as Parish Priest at Salmonier and we hope that you will be received there with as much joy as the sorrow we feel in parting with you. We trust that the day is not far distant when you will be with us again. Allow us, dear Father, to present to you this little souvenir as a token of our love and gratitude. Again assuring you of our heartfelt sorrow we trust that our kind words spare you to promote this devotion. We feel sure that you will be always remembered by us, and asking you to kindly remember us in your holy prayers to keep us in union with the Sacred Heart.

Signed by the Promoters on behalf of the members of the League of the Sacred Heart.

A Cavell Monument.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Sir,—Allow one who has seen a woman voluntarily on the battlefield and between the firing lines in action, to bring to the attention of your readers, the following proposed most appropriate memorial to a brave woman:

"Mount Robinson, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies, will be renamed Mt. Cavell, as an eternal monument to the memory of Edith Cavell, the English Army Nurse, who was recently executed by order of German Military Officials."

In this connection may I ask you, Mr. Editor, to advocate or recommend through your well-known journal, that Newfoundland adopt something like the above strikingly appropriate and enduring mountain peak memorial in the oldest English Colony in America, to perpetuate the name and memory of the martyrdom of Edith Cavell, the English Army Nurse, who was executed by German soldiers in Brussels, within the lines of the German Army of occupation.

If it is possible to do so, the location should be conspicuous for its natural attractiveness, or exceptional height and proximity to a large settlement or line of constant travel between important points on the Island of Newfoundland.

Trusting that this request will seem worthy of space in your valued publication,

I remain,
Sincerely yours,
ALFRED KING,

You catch a little cold to-day, and by to-morrow it has reached the throat, next day the lungs are affected and you wish you had used "Catarhazone" which kills colds in five minutes. It enables the blood to retain a natural supply of oxygen, lung-food, and vitality. In any cough, bronchitis or Catarrh, it's guaranteed to positively cure. Beware of dangerous substitutes offered under misleading names for genuine Catarhazone which is sold everywhere, large size containing two months treatment costs $1.00, small size, 50c.; trial size, 25c.

EVERYDAY ETIQUETTE

"Will you please tell me if it is proper to enclose a stamp when writing to a person for information, who is merely an acquaintance?" Inquired Julia.

"You should most certainly enclose a stamp under such circumstances," answered her father.

The woman with a classical profile will find the Grecian knot at the back of the head very much in fashion.

LIGHT, HEAT, COMFORT!

The proprietor of one of the best known multiple shopping systems is credited with saying, "Give me any old shop, in any old street, and I'll guarantee to make it in twelve months the most widely known and best frequented shop in the district."

He was asked to explain. Holding up three fingers he said, "I believe in the trinity of LIGHT, WARMTH, COMFORT. I should dazzle the moths until the candle drew them, I should bring them into a warm, comfortable shop, filled with a soft, pleasing radiance, and the rest is—well, mere child's play."

Mixed metaphors, perhaps, but expressive. Now we can more than imagine the kind of shop this well-known individual would open, for we pass it in almost every town—always a landmark to the street. No one fails to notice it. There is an indefinable air of welcome and invitation as one stands for a moment on the pathway and lets one's gaze travel inside it. The subdued, restful lighting effect that so charms because of its very unobtrusiveness, the absence of dark corners, the intangible feeling that if one would step inside one would be sure of experiencing a delicious sense of warmth and comfort and cheerfulness—all these are part of its appeal. Truly a shop with an individuality.

We cordially invite all progressive business men to visit our showroom and see our latest Lighting and Heating Appliances, by the adoption of which the ideal outline in the above extract from a London paper may be easily secured. Our new RADIO X. Lamp and GASTREAM Radiators fill all light and heat requirements.

BONAR LAW.
PALL MALL GAZETTE DISCUSSES AMERICAN PRESS REPORTS.

LONDON, Jan. 15.
 The Pall Mall Gazette, discussing American press reports regarding the attitude which the United States may adopt with regard to the blockade question, says if Count Von Bernstorff succeeds in obtaining a quiet pro quo for the outward recognition of Germany of her acts of piracy, and succeeds in enlightening the United States as one of Germany's allies in her efforts to rule the world, we may expect fresh attacks upon our interpretation of international law. If President Wilson should elect to walk the road so obligingly constructed for him by Berlin, it is well he should realize where it is going to lead him. The British Empire which is shedding blood, and not ink, for the vindication of neutral rights, has reached a stage in conflict where technicalities will not be allowed to restrain legitimate weapons of warfare. Our right to prevent supplies from reaching the enemy is absolute, and if the process assumes fresh disguises, it is the business of international law to strip them off and not to be fettered by the wording of its former rescripts. No British Government would dare to relax its grip on Germany now in deference to unrest and threats of outsiders who are chiefly interested in what profit they can make out of the world's agony. The blockade in the future must be tighter instead of looser and nothing will impart to it a sterner temper than any external interference.

STEAMERS COLLIDE IN BRISTOL CHANNEL.
NEW YORK, Jan. 17.
 A News Agency despatch from London to-day says that the British steamers Argus and Larchwood collided in the Bristol Channel to-day. Several persons were drowned. The Argus landed some of the Larchwood survivors. The Larchwood was 689 tons. She was owned and registered at Middlesborough. There are two British steamers named Argus, one displacing 1,238 tons, registered at Belfast, and one of 704 tons from the Port of Goole.

SERIOUS FIRE.
CHRISTIANIA, Norway, Jan. 17.
 A third of the city of Bergen, a thriving Norway maritime city, with a population of 90,000, was destroyed last night by fire. The damage is estimated at 15 million dollars. Two lives were lost. The conflagration is said to have been the worst ever recorded in Norway.

C. M. B. C.—The regular weekly session of the Cathedral Men's Bible Class was held in the Synod Hall yesterday afternoon, Rev. J. Britton presiding. An address on the Turkish Empire was given by Mr. George House and was thoroughly enjoyed by the large gathering present. At the close, a vote of thanks moved by Mr. Goodland and seconded by Mr. Ryall was accorded the lecturer by acclamation.

Stamped Cheques.

(From the Brockville Recorder.)
 In Ottawa recently a man was fined $20 for giving a cheque and neglecting to affix the stamp. This is the first case that actually came into court, but there is not a day but dozens of people forget this war time requisite, the stamp having to be affixed in many cases by the receiver. Why should not the Minister of Finance arrange with the banks for the issue of stamped cheque books as in England, and similar to the method in use by express companies in Canada? The matter is important.

The Eastern Trust Company.

A few reasons why an estate can be better administered by the Eastern Trust Company than by a personal executor or administrator:—
1. The Company affords the estate absolute security; it has a paid-up capital of $301,000.00, and a reserve fund of $225,300.00.
2. It has a long experience in the work of administering estates; it is incorporated for this business of acting as a trustee, and, unlike many other trust companies, it does no other.
3. Its existence is perpetual. Your estate, in the event of the death of a personal executor or administrator, must look around for a substitute, and the work of administration is impeded during that time, and the new executor is unfamiliar with the policy of his predecessor, and confusion results. This company's existence is perpetual, and there is a continuity of policy in its administration that the death of its officers does not break.
4. It possesses the confidence of governments, universities and prominent charities and administers their funds.
5. A number of other advantages which will appear in due course.

Something SPECIAL IN BOOKS!

We have a new book at 45c. It contains a better collection of short stories than any 45c. book we have ever sold. The stories have been contributed by eighteen famous English novelists now serving at the front with His Majesty's Forces.

There is a story by A. E. W. Mason of the "Four Feathers"; W. B. Maxwell, who has written "The Devil's Garden"; Ian Hay, Cosmo Hamilton, Barry Pain, Albert Kinross, Quiller Couch, Theodore Goodridge Roberts, who lived here once, and one by Charles G. D. Roberts.

A very rare collection of good stories. The price is 45c; postage will be 4c. extra.

We have twenty-three copies left out of a shipment of sixty by the last boat. Come or send early for your copy, for they cannot last long.

If there is any boy or girl who you specially like, and who you are particularly fond of, please give him or her a copy of "Edmund Dalac's Picture Book," that is just out. It is a beauty. It contains:—
"The Story of the Bird Feng"—a Fairy Tale from China.
"Young Rousseau"—a French Song of the Olden Time.
"Laila and Majnun"—a Persian Love Story.

"The Nightingale"—after a Fairy Tale by Hans Andersen.
"Three Kings of Orient"—a Carol.
"Sindbad the Sailor"—a Tale from the Thousand and One Nights.

"The Little Seamstress"—a French Song of the Olden Time.
"The Real Princess"—after a Fairy Tale by Hans Andersen.

"My Lilies"—An Old French Song.
"Cinderella"—a Fairy Tale from the French.

"The Chilly Lover"—a Song from the French.
"The Story of Aucassin and Nicolette"—an Old World Idyll.

"Blue Beard"—an Old Tale from the French.
"Cerbus, the Black Dog of Hades."
"The Lady Badoura"—a Tale from the Thousand and One Nights.

"The Sleeper Awakened"—a Tale from the Thousand and One Nights.
"Josef and Asenath"—a Love Story of Egypt.

And each story is beautifully illustrated in color. A book to delight the heart of a boy or girl. The price is 90c. and we have only seven copies.
